New Hurricane To Hit Tampa-St Petersburg Section During Night

Week's 2nd Hurricane Bears Down On West Coast Areas With Winds Up To 90 MPH

MIAMI, Oct. 20 (AP)—Storm warnings were hoisted over the entire Florida peninsula today because of a disturbance of near hurricane force in the Gulf of Mexico.

The gulf storm was moving 15 miles an hour to the east-northeast and was centered 300 miles due west of Fort Myers at this hour.

Winds will begin to gain in strength late today. Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster at Miami, said no hurricane alert has been sounded, but all interests should stand by for further advisories. Top winds at present were 90 miles an hour.

The second hurricane of the week was bearing down on Florida, this one from the Gulf of Mexico. It contained winds of about 90 miles an hour with higher gusts. A violent hurricane swept from the Atlantic over Miami late Tuesday and early Wednesday with 125-mile winds. It killed three persons, injured about 100, inflicted damage of $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 and left about 250 persons homeless, mostly in the Miami-Fort Lauderdale areas.

The new storm approaching the state will affect the entire Florida peninsula with gales, with the dangerous hurricane winds pointed toward the Tampa Bay area. The center was expected to reach the Tampa-St. Petersburg section tonight.

Two possibilities—one good, the other bad,—lay ahead of the hurricane.

On the good side of the ledger is the fact that hurricane approaching the middle west coast of Florida often draw in dry continental air. This air kills a hurricane faster than St. George.

Opponents In Hot N. Y. Campaign

Minister's Group Plans Campaign On Value Of Religion

The Sanford Ministerial Association today announced plans for a community-wide campaign throughout November to impress upon the people of the community the importance of religion in personal and community life. The Rev. E. M. Kiley, chairman, announced today.

The campaign is non-sectarian, is called "Religion In American Life," and is an annual movement to urge everyone to attend and support the church or synagogue of his individual choice.

"Both nationally and locally," he pointed out, "the goal of the campaign will be to deepen our spiritual values in this period of great national crisis and call upon all people to look to religion and religious institutions for guidance and strength."

Nationally, the program is supported by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, the Synagogue Council of America and 19 other national religious bodies.

The Religion In American Life program is sponsored also by the National Laymen's Committee headed by Charles E. Wilson, president of the General Electric Co.

Former Mayor Of Chicago Ed Kelly Dies At Age 74

CHICAGO, Oct. 20 (AP)—Edward J. Kelly, 74, mayor of Chicago from 1933 to 1947 and long a national political figure, died today.

He collapsed and died of a heart ailment in a doctor's office shortly after telling the doctor: "I never felt better in my life."

Kelly was Democratic national committeeman from Illinois. He had been active politically since retiring after 14 years as mayor—a record tenure—despite occasional illnesses.

He had gone today from his suite in the Ambassador East Hotel to the Michigan Avenue office of Dr. Vincent O'Connor for another in a series of periodic checkups since his release from a hospital in 1948.

U. S. Offers To Participate In Five Power Talk

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—The United States announced today it was prepared to take part in a five-power meeting on problems threatening world peace.

This announcement was made in the U. N. Assembly's political committee by John Foster Dulles, Republican policy adviser to the State Department. He warned, however, against underestimating the complexities of the problems involved and said the United States would not be able to attend.

Red Cross Agencies Are Alerted Here

All Red Cross agencies and personnel here were alerted this morning by E. J. Moughtin, Jr., county disaster chairman, in preparation for the storm approaching from the Gulf region.

With about 15 families in Seminole County in dire need of shelter and assistance as the result of the storm Wednesday, Mr. Moughtin this morning telephoned the Atlanta office of the Red Cross and obtained assurance that a Red Cross worker will be sent here immediately.

He also requested financial assistance in coping with the emergency as funds of the local Chapter have been seriously depleted by assistance given to veterans and to families of soldiers serving in Korea.

One family, which appealed for aid here was without food and was living in a tent, he declared. In emergency, the South Side Primary School and the Seminole High School and the Crooms and Hopper Academies have been designated again as emergency shelters.

Rubber Firms Restricted To 1949-50 Quota

Rubber Official Says Tire Production Will Not Decrease Because Of Rule

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—The National Production Authority today tightened up its limitations on rubber to restrict tire and rubber companies to approximately what they used before fighting broke out in Korea.

The new order limits natural rubber usage to 75 per cent and total consumption (including synthetic) to 84 per cent of the new rubber used in the year preceding June 30.

However, because of adjustments granted to the rubber companies in special appeals cases, NPA officials said the result will be to limit the concerns to approximately their average monthly usage in the base year.

Earl W. Glen, chief of the NPA rubber division, said the proportion of synthetic rubber in tires will increase without "any particular quality deterioration and the number of tires produced should be approximately the same as in the year ended last June 30. Officials have said previously that they expected no shortage of tires.

The order directs that no plant shall use in its assembly more than 75 per cent of the tonnage of natural rubber consumed in the base year. In December a limit of 65 percent on natural is provided.

The aim is to make available natural rubber for the defense stockpile. But because of the annual machinery, the rubber companies will get about 100,000 tons of natural rubber in November and 15,000 in December. Figures which are fairly close to the situation face a month average in the base period.

A deeper cut, to 62 percent of the earlier period, would have been required in the regulation, issued by the National Production Authority.

The order also:

1. Limits the use of total natural rubber, both natural and synthetic, to 84 percent of the monthly average in the base year to June 30.
2. Restricts the use of latex in this quarter, October, November and December to one fourth of the consumption in the same quarter. This, in effect, restricts the current usage to the average of the base year.
3. Requires importers of substitute to offer to bear 40 percent of the shipment to the consumer's general services, although transportation for federal stockpile purchases at current market prices.

Paratroops Land North Of Pyongyang To Cut Off Reds; G.I.s Tell Of Death March

3 Rescued Prisoners Say Captives Died Like Fleas During Pyongyang March

By TOM LAMBERT
PYONGYANG, Korea, Oct. 20 (AP)—Three newly rescued American prisoners today told a closely held tale of a "death march" from Seoul to Pyongyang by 283 U. S. soldiers.

Many of them comrades, the captives said, were beaten and neglected by their Communist captors. The Reds dug their shoulders and said a few more stragglers against them did not matter.

The few survivors, said the liberated prisoners, boosted the American POWs held in Pyongyang to 373. Most of the 373 were moved to the north to an unknown fate as Pyongyang began to totter.

The three said they saw no other Americans in Pyongyang except those they marched with from Seoul.

They said they were told in Seoul that Major General William J. Dean, commander of the U. S. 24th Infantry Division, who disappeared when Japan fell last July, was in Pyongyang.

But when they arrived here they were told General Dean had died in Seoul. There was no confirmation of this report.

United Nations losses in dead, 45,000 in Korea, included about the 25,000 figure.

Swinging down Stalin street, the Russian named main street of Pyongyang, the liberated and long-haired soldiers were found by a group of correspondents as the prisoners marched arm in arm with their North Korean captors, who had handcuffed them. The Americans told of hardships being "beaten and murdered" on a tortuous march from Seoul.

The three Americans had hidden under a school and had been fed by the three students.

They came out today as the city fell to American and South Korean troops.

The two said the Red Koreans told them they were being moved from Seoul to Pyongyang by "air."

Capt. William Leake, who is held with North Koreans, said he did not know the exact date of his capture.

Tells Of Shipments To Red China

Air Force Officer French Must Have Is Punished Over U. S. Help To Win Straying Incident Indochinese War

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Col. Stanton S. Smith, U. S. Air Force, has been relieved of the command of the 47th Fighter Wing and is being sent to the stranding of a Russian air field near Shikou Reckka Oct. 8.

The Air Force, announcing this today, said also that the two pilots believed to have taken part in the attack had been grounded by the Far East Air Command pending the filing of charges against them.

Names of these two officers were not immediately available but were Smith's home address.

U. S. Delegate Warren Austin stated at United Nations headquarters yesterday that two U. S. planes crashed the Russian border north of Korea, and mistakenly strafed planes on the ground. He said that the United States had offered to pay for damages and that steps were being taken to discipline the officers involved.

Records show that Colonel Smith is the son of Col. and Mrs. Stanton T. Smith, St. Paul, Minn.

General MacArthur Directs Airborne Troops From Plane Over Battle Field

By ROBERT BRINEN
TOKYO, Oct. 20 (AP)—General MacArthur today directed airborne troops leaping deep into Red Korea to clean up the war today.

They had two missions: to finish the U. N. war against Communist-occupied Korea; to finish the U. N. war against Communist-occupied Korea.

General MacArthur himself directed the spectacular aerial assault, the first paratroop offensive of the Korean war, from his plane over Seoul.

After a 15-hour flight to the area north of the captured Communist capital of Pyongyang, he said:

"The war is very definitely coming to an end today."

The airborne troops, floating down 80 miles north of the Manchurian border, claimed that the Red garrisons north of Pyongyang.

They sought to cut across American prisoners, scheduled out of liberated Seoul and to seize the North Korean industry.

But up until a late hour today there was no word whether the American paratroopers, some of them held in a death march from Seoul, had been rescued.

Some prisoners liberated in Pyongyang said many died.

The said these included Maj. General William J. Dean, commander of the U. S. 24th Infantry Division, who disappeared in the battle for Incheon in July early in the United Nations defense of the South Korean Republic. There was no confirmation of the report about general Dean.

The air drop was a symphony of precision.

Rifle planes were scattered as

Sanford Business Woman Of 1950 To Be Honored At B. & P. W. Dinner

By WILLARD CONNOLLY

The woman selected by popular vote as the "Sanford Business Woman of 1950" will be honored at the dinner of the Business and Professional Women's Club tonight at the Longwood Hotel. Mrs. P. M. Gingles, club president, announced today.

The winner will also be saluted on the "Roses for a Lady Program" over Station WTRR.

Mrs. John Van Acker, second vice-president of the state organization of B. and P. W. Clubs, is given much of the credit for getting the organization off to a good start in Sanford.

She ignored the advice of other state officers to "save time and skip Sanford because the women here could not be organized," and after tramping the streets all day here in a pouring rain, secured the nucleus of a club.

On Dec. 1, 1948, an organization meeting was called and 22 women attended, all signing up that night as charter members.

In a letter from the local organization telling of the next meeting 15 days later, Mrs. Van Acker was surprised to read that not only had a club been organized in Sanford, but that it had 60 charter members, the largest number ever gathered together in the State. The regular membership throughout the year was 121 members.

With Mrs. Sally Mero Williams as the first president of the B. and P. W. Club has been widely recognized by its fellow civic organizations in Sanford. During its first two years it sent two girls to Girls' State, and one girl the second year. During Christmas times it sent Christmas baskets to the poor. It sponsored the Polk Drive, and collected some $2,000.

Women were encouraged by the club to volunteer to serve on juries, and a member, Mrs. Harry Huffman, was the first to sign up for this duty. Mrs. J. E. Graddock, another club member, was the first woman to serve here on a jury and was elected foreman.

Mrs. Mayme Hodgin, a member, served as jury foreman on a murder case.

Mrs. Williams was called upon to speak at meetings of the organization throughout Central Florida. High praise for the local club and its work was voiced by Mrs. Van Acker.

With Mrs. P. M. Gingles as president, the club continues to progress and is taking part in the civic affairs of the City for better understanding of citizenship and better citizens among the women of the town.

Local Power Lines Are Reported Back In Full Operation

With more than 50 power line workers seeking to restore electrical circuits broken during the storm, Wednesday, transmission back 100 percent in the north central division of the Florida Power and Light Co., and Manager H. H. Coleman predicted that all local circuits, including street lighting, will be restored tonight.

Mr. Coleman today paid high tribute to the courage and ability of the linemen who worked from dawn to midnight on both Wednesday and Thursday to restore the current in the totally disrupted power system.

"The men worked wonderfully well," he declared, "trying to get everything as quickly as possible."

Some of the most difficult to repair breaks were in the lines on Celery Avenue and in Paola and Lake Monroe, he declared.

He cited Henry C. Moore, district supervisor, and his men on crews for outstanding work, and stated that members of the office force had stood by the telephones during the storm.

Jack R. Mason of Miami, a veteran supervisor, was here today to check the entire system of the Power Company and admitted this morning that he had been "gone day and night." He was outspoken in his praise of the local repair crew.

Floyd C. Glisson Dies In St. Petersburg

Floyd C. Glisson, father of Mrs. Ralph Stevens, formerly of Sanford, died at his home in St. Petersburg yesterday.

Following funeral services there tomorrow, grave services will be held here at 1:00 P. M. at Evergreen Cemetery with Rev. A. G. Melton officiating.

Survivors include Mrs. Stevens, the widow, and two grand-children, Dorothy and Edwin Stevens, all of St. Petersburg.

FARM BUREAU

The Seminole County Farm Bureau will meet at the Seminole High School Farm Building Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock when officers will be elected, Bonner Carter, secretary, announced today.

Three Farm Bureau members will also be elected to represent the organization on the local advisory board of the Sanford State Farmers Market.

Hunting Licenses Are Placed On Sale

Hunting licenses for 1950-51 are now on sale at the office of County Judge Douglas Stenstrom, he announced this morning.

The following game licenses may be obtained: county resident $2.00; state resident, $7.50; resident other than home county, $4.50; non resident, State, $25.50; non resident State for 1 boys, $11.50.

Licenses to trap animals for fur are: resident State, $23.00; resident county, $3.25; non resident county, $25.50; resident for trapping in an additional county such as Volusia, $10.50.

DESTRUCTIVE CHILDREN

MANSFIELD, O., Oct. 20 (AP)—Deputies at the Stark county sheriff's office said today a 10-year-old boy and his cousin, an eight-year-old girl, had caused damage estimated at $2,500 on two visits to a house at nearby Newton.

While no one was at the home last Sunday, the youngsters entered it, painted doors with shoe and fingernail polish, smeared clothing with jelly and peanut and smashed windows and 200 jars of fruit and vegetables.

CAR SERVICE

The Yellow Cab Company has added a four door Chevrolet to its fleet of cabs in order to increase the efficiency of its transportation service. It was reported this morning by S. A. Allen, owner of the company, who added that the new car is also equipped with two-way radio.

SCHOOLS CLOSE

School children throughout Seminole County today took their second holiday of the week as schools were closed in order to permit teachers to attend the district meeting of the Florida Education Association at Daytona Beach. Supt. T. W. Lawton and other school officials are likewise attending the meeting.

The Golden Text is: "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation for when he is tried he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him" (James 1:12).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding shall remain in the congregation of the deadness and mercy (death) life (righteousness, and honour)" (Prov. 21:16, 21).

FORD MOTOR COMPANY'S New Automatic Drive Makes its Bow in the new 1951 MERCURY

You're looking at Arrow's latest ARROW "TELETONES" ENSEMBLES

They're so handsome, so varied, yet blend together with such perfect taste you'll wonder how Arrow does it.
The "Teletones" shirt is a fine, long-wearing broadcloth with narrow candy stripes, end-and-end weaves and very fine check patterns. It is topped off with the perfect-fitting Arrow collar—has the tailored-to-your-taste Mitoga design. Sanitized labeled, it's guaranteed never to shrink more than 1%.
The ties and handkerchiefs come in colors specifically designed to play up to the shirt's good looks.
Come in, take a look at Arrow "Teletones" and it's a cinch you'll take at least one home.

Yowell's

"Smoother, simpler, more efficient" —that's how engineers hail this amazing new automatic drive that's coming soon in the new 1951 MERCURY.

MAYBE you've read about it. Surely you've heard about it. It's the amazing new automatic transmission developed by Ford Motor Company. Now you're going to see it, thrill to it, for the first time in any car, in the new 1951 Mercury.

Called Merc-O-Matic
Merc-O-Matic is the name. And of this you can be sure: there'll be nothing like it on the road! The thrilling new 1951 Mercury will be making a debut in our showrooms in a very few days. And once you see it, we think you'll agree:
For "the drive of your life," it's the new 1951 Mercury with Merc-O-Matic Drive!
What is Merc-O-Matic Drive? It's a completely new, completely automatic drive developed under the direction of Ford Motor Company and Borg-Warner transmission engineers, and made to order for Mercury's great, V-type, 8-cylinder engine. It's 8-2-0-0-4-1-1, simpler, more efficient!

Makes every driver an expert
Naturally, there's no clutch or gearshift. But there the resemblance to other drives ends. For this new Merc-O-Matic Drive is different. Even the easier-to-read indicator panel is different. The drive selector is so arranged that a person accustomed to a standard shift will feel... factly at home. And if you're familiar with other drives, you'll notice immediately the big difference in the way this new 1951 Mercury with Merc-O-Matic performs.

There's no "mushiness." With Merc-O-Matic Drive you get instant, certain response. You start in one smooth sweep of power. No tugging as gears change. There's a "down-shift" for extra hill-climbing and passing power; just press the accelerator smartly to the floor. And Merc-O-Matic is cool operating—no uncomfortable heat in the passenger compartment.
There's no "runaway" downhill. You are in control all the time with the engine's compression at work to save your brakes.
There's no stalling in traffic. Park on a hill if you like. You're safe. Merc-O-Matic Drive locks when in Parking position.
Yes, Merc-O-Matic is going to make you forget all you ever knew about automatic transmissions. This is it—the easy, sure, calm, 8-2-0-0-4-1-1 "drive of your life." And—it's extremely thrifty.

Dozens of New Features in 1951 Mercury
But Merc-O-Matic is only part of the great new Mercury for 1951. There's a new look from end to end... beautiful new styling... rich, new fabrics and colors to make Mercury for 1951 one of the smartest cars on the road.
New safety, too—the new rear window alone gives you more than 3,000 square inches of safe viewing area. Greater comfort in a new, improved ventilating system which brings you just the amount of fresh air you want, when you want it, and where you want it.
It's the plus car of the year—plus on beauty, plus on comfort, plus on safety, plus on economy—plus on everything but price!
All that and the great new Merc-O-Matic Drive, too. Yes, you'll want to see these new Mercurys. So watch Mercury showrooms for the new 1951 Mercury with Merc-O-Matic for "the drive of your life"—for "the bug of your life."

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

No rule of thumb can describe the activities of any day. We must be in harmony with the spirit of the day, and of all the days. For the son of man is lord even of the sabbath day. Matt. 12:8.

Don't be too disappointed if you don't get as much free publicity in the paper as you think you ought to have. The price of newspaper is going up $10 a ton.

The government is suggesting that farmers cut their 1951 potato crop by 15 percent. The government is already stocked up with $500,000,000 worth of potatoes and doesn't want to have to buy anymore.

Out in Dallas, Tex. police raided the headquarters of a football handicapping ring where four men were arrested, at least one of them a member of the old Capone gang. Two thoughts are suggested: first, that international racketeers will step at nothing, even to invading the football world; second, that professionalism in football is liable to attract gamblers.

The Kefauver committee discovers out in Chicago a cop on a $2,700 a year salary amassed a fortune of $165,000. He made it, he said, speculating on the grain market. It's funny how the average guy always loses money on such speculations. But then it was also disclosed that a Capone gangster who operated on the same beat made a $2,000,000 fortune in a liquor racket.

Tuesday's hurricane was probably the most destructive locally of any blow hitting this city since 1926. And it was the first winds coming in over the ocean from the northeast while the center was near Oklawaha City that did the most damage. By the time the center arrived the wind velocity had been greatly reduced by the long trip overland. As a result, by the time everyone realized a hurricane was really coming and went home to do something about it, the worst was over.

The Supreme Court rules that the Freedom of the Press clause of the U. S. Constitution does not extend to the moving picture industry. Congress may pass no law which abridges the freedom of the press to print whatever its editors choose to print, but that does not go for moving picture writers. They can be controlled and regulated by Congress in any way it sees fit. And you do not find the Supreme Court rendering any decisions which limit the power of the federal government in this day and time.

"Oh, that mine enemy had written a letter", someone is quoted as having said. And so the old letter files are being ransacked in New York state these days in an effort to prove something unavailing about the opposition. Governor Dewey stands accused by a letter written by his own Lieutenant Governor Joe Hanley, now a candidate for the U. S. Senate, of offering to play off Hanley's debts. And the Republicans come back by offering in evidence a letter written by Senator Lehman defending Alger Hiss, later found guilty of lying under oath during a spy trial.

Former President Hoover speaks over language when he says that other democratic nations of the world will have to bear their share of the cost of stopping Russian aggression or this country should withdraw behind the Atlantic and Pacific oceans and let the Russians have them. We have already dumped 20 billion dollars in Europe since the war ended, and it looks as if the Europeans are less disposed to defend themselves than ever. It is becoming increasingly apparent that they want us to do it all, provide both the money and men. It would be a heap easier for us to draw the Russians in the Atlantic than to destroy their armies in Europe.

Back To Religion

That rank materialism has brought the world to its present chaotic condition is the belief of many educational leaders. In an effort to provide an antidote, some colleges which did not previously have them are instituting religious courses as an important part of the curriculum.

Columbia University, one of the number, has made 25 courses in religion available not only to the undergraduate body but to adult students of its community. These courses are a departure from the conventional study of the Bible as literature or philosophy, in that all significant religious systems are included. An officer of the university considers these courses "important for the maintenance and understanding of Western culture and its democratic institutions."

We often lose sight of the fact that the founders of this country were religious men. While they may have committed some sins in the way of intolerance, their integrity in most cases has not been assailed. Basic tenets of religion, chiefly of Christianity, were woven into our national life from the time of its inception onward. In our present-day point verging on indifference to spiritual matters, perhaps we need more study of religion.

Less Noise

Not the least of the factors producing the tenseness and nervous strain which seem to be so characteristic of modern life is noise. We have become so accustomed to its continual impact that it is taken for granted. A period of silence, such as that observed on Armistice Day, is more impressive than fireworks or bells.

The Army Signal Corps is working on the suppression of noise in radio and television sets caused by the operation of electric razors, refrigerators, electric sweepers and so forth. Before these can be stopped, they must be accurately located, and new mechanism for this purpose is being developed. Its ultimate military use would be in battle areas, to improve communications and suppress noises which could give information to the enemy.

It may be hoped that these developments, like so many others brought about by war's emergencies, may be broadened and applied in ways which will lessen the noise connected with everyday living. While waiting, we can always turn the radio off.

Notre Dame's Defeat

Notre Dame's defeat for the first time in five years must be regarded as a good thing for intercollegiate football even though it brought grief to the thousands of Notre Dame admirers the country over. The ancient Athenian voted to exile the virtuous Aristides because he was tired of hearing him called "The Just". Many sport lovers, not out of partiality to some other college, think that Notre Dame has been at the top of the heap long enough.

Intercollegiate football surprises the layman in many ways. To take Notre Dame, not that it is different from many others, its schedules have included trips to New York, New Orleans and Los Angeles and many points short of these but all considerably distant from the university's home town, South Bend, Indiana. How do the players on such traveling teams manage to do any studying, or was not that their purpose in going to college?

Court Rules Bars Don't Have To Use Lie Detector

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 20.—The Florida Supreme Court today said a barholder of a cocktail lounge is not required to use a lie detector to determine if his patrons are 21 years old. The court, in a unanimous decision, reversed an order of the State Beverage Department which suspended the license of the Martini Hotel in Miami Beach for 15 days in 1948 on charges of selling alcoholic beverages to minors.

The court said the burden of responsibility to determine who is under the age of 21 is on the operator but "there must be some reasonable standard of diligence to avoid his inquiry."

Justice Glenn Terrell, in writing the court's opinion, said "Men and women may be required to procure a permit or enlist in the Army but the law prescribes no such requirement to be admitted to a cocktail lounge."

"Neither does it require the proprietor to arm himself with a lie detector to check the veracity of his patrons. We think it too harsh to revoke one's license because the patron lied to him."

Court records show the hotel's license was suspended for selling beverages to two University of Miami students who told the license officers they were 21 years old. They later admitted they were only 19.

"In a collection of memorabilia of early western history, there was discovered the record of the trial of a man for stealing a pair of boots. The boots were indicated as exhibit A. The verdict of the jury was not guilty—but with the boots."

Cotton States Fight Export Limitations

AP Special Washington Service WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Cotton state members of Congress and growers kept battling today against the Agriculture Department's order limiting cotton exports.

They continued fighting despite a statement by President Truman that there is no justification to relax the order.

Cotton is needed at home, he told his news conference yesterday. The order limits cotton exports to 2,000,000 bales in the eight-month August-March period.

Chairman Johnson (D-Tex.) of the Senate Defense Investigating Committee called on the munitions board to give him an estimate on military cotton needs between now and June 30.

New Hurricane

Estimated from Fax News titled the dragon. On the good side of the ledger fact that Tampa and St. Petersburg have never had a full scale hurricane in all their history.

They aren't too well prepared, and the thousands of great trees add to the danger if great winds begin to topple them.

Storm forecasters, in assessing the hurricane situation in the past, have predicted that a full-scale blow in the Tampa-St. Petersburg section would inflict heavy damage.

The new storm, born out of the backlash of Florida's earlier hurricane, is approaching the coast from a central position 300 miles west of Fort Myers. It is moving northeastward about 15 miles an hour.

Norton summarized the situation thusly as of midday: "From present indications, the disturbance will cross the coastline in the Tampa Bay area late tonight. It contains dangerous gales over a wide area which will involve the entire Florida peninsula."

"Gales extend 150 miles out from the center in all directions with strongest wind on the south side. Therefore the area of gale only 150 miles offshore."

"Sixty mile gales are dangerous to small boats and longing waterfront areas. A moderate amount of precautionary measures must be taken for the protection of property against rough seas, high winds and unusually high tides."

"There is not much rain in the disturbance, an indication that it will not gain rapidly in force in the next few hours. But it is entirely possible—and all inter-recommendation that the defendant return the boots. "We are convinced that these primitive forms had a very disorienting sense of justice that has fast been replaced in the limbs of the law by technical niceties. I am often made to feel that a better branch of justice would follow if we cultivated it more," Justice Terrell said.

ELKS CLUB of SANFORD

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Much of the might wave of unrest which is sweeping Asia has its basis in a factor which a lot of people overlook—hatred and fear of imperialism.

The Asiatic countries either have an overpowering urge to be free of the apron-strings which bind them to an imperial "mother country" or, in having cut the strings, they are afraid they again will become enmeshed in colonialism.

Communism naturally finds this unrest a fruitful field for operations, and is going all out to inspire and stir revolutions. However, the fact remains that broadly speaking many—perhaps the majority—of the rebels are impelled by their desire for independence rather than by any urge they see in Bolshevism.

This, I take it, is the background of America's effort to persuade France to give a greater aid to the governments of the three new Indochinese states—Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia.

These states are aiding the French in battling the Communists led by General Ho Chi Minh, who got his training from Moscow—and things have been going very badly for the states.

As a matter of fact, the Communists are making a big play with the charge that the French are bent on reimposing colonial rule. In order to counter this, Secretary of State Acheson has been urging that the French raise the three states to the status of equal allies.

Moreover, the Secretary has insisted that a large part of the American arms which are to be shipped to Indochina must be delivered directly to the state forces.

The French had wanted most of these weapons to go to their Army in the field, but are said to be altering their plans to fall in with Washington's views.

There is no point in trying to bolster up any lingering colonialism in Asia. The day is past when a "mother country" can impose her will on the people of an entirely different race.

That naturally is a hard truth for a "mother country" to swallow, but by and large the imperial governments have faced up to it. In proof of this we have such great new nations as India, Pakistan, Burma and Indonesia.

Still, fear of a recrudescence of imperialism is always in the minds of the Asiatic peoples. We have a specific example of this in the rebellion in French Indochina. That is Communist inspired, to be sure, but it gets its impetus largely from the propaganda that France is trying to restore her colonial hold.

Paradoxical though it seems, this fear of imperialism may in the long run be an aid to the democracies in keeping Asia from succumbing to Communism. For Communism is the last word in imperialism. It demands that its satellites surrender their sovereignty to Moscow. It calls for totalitarian regimentation of all populations.

The Asiatic countries are strongly nationalistic. This feeling is more intense in many instances because the countries have just emerged into stardom. They are jealous of their new found rights.

So I believe we may expect the charge of imperialism to be one of the chief weapons used by both the democracies and the Communists in the swelling battle for Asia.

sets bear this strongly in mind—that some gain in intensity is possible and the storm may have hurricane strength of 75 miles an hour by the time its center crosses the coastline."

The Miami Weather Bureau issued this bulletin on the Gulf Hurricane at 2:30 P. M. EST. today.

The hurricane in the Gulf of Mexico is still moving east-northeastward towards the west coast of Florida at about 15 to 18 miles an hour.

The center is now located about 270 miles west of Fort Myers. Strongest winds have been estimated by planes at 60 miles per hour, with gusts over 100 miles per hour just east of the center.

Winds will slowly increase over the Florida peninsula during the afternoon. Tides will become abnormally high on the west coast particularly in the area from Cedar Keys southward.

All interests in the west Florida counties from Citrus southward to Lee should make immediate preparation for hurricane winds and all counties eastward across the state north of Lake Okechobee in Volusia and Alachua should make preparation for heavy, dangerous gales and possibly winds of hurricane force.

Bulletins or advisories will be issued at two hour intervals.

Dog Steps On Gas And Is Blamed For Wreck

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 20.—(AP)—A dog who stepped on the gas was blamed for an automobile collision yesterday. The driver of a truck involved in the accident told the state highway patrol the dog, riding in the cab with him, pushed on the accelerator as the vehicle rounded a curve.

Three Act Comedy Scheduled At SHS

The three-act comedy "Mother is a Freshman" which is to be presented by the members of the Theban Troupe 358 of Seminole High School is to take place in the school auditorium on Tuesday.

This is an engaging and humorous story of an extremely attractive young mother who is forced to attend college with a daughter who regards her as a "has been". The reason for attending is that she has used up her husband's money and she has no other means of support. The only way she could keep daughter Susan in school was to take advantage of a most unusual scholarship.

Mrs. Abigail Abbot, the widow, is portrayed by Rachael Johnson, Susan, her daughter, is played by Ellen Driggers. Arlene Jacobson is the house mother and Ronnie Garner will portray the professor of Zoology, who falls in love with the mother.

World Community

The United Council of Church Women's committee met with their chairman, Mrs. Ralph Lawson, at the First Baptist Church on Tuesday afternoon.

Plans were made for the program of "World Community Day" which will be Nov. 3 at 2:30 P. M. at the First Baptist Church. Women from all Protestant churches belonging to the council are expected to take part in the program.

Following an extended stay

Grier and Ralph Williams served refreshments consisting of coffee and tea, open faced sandwiches, mints and nuts.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Reaves are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Virginia Anne to Cpl. Harold H. Heath on Oct. 8. The single ring ceremony was performed in the presence of a few friends Sunday afternoon in the Elias Evangelical Lutheran Church, Emmitsburg, Md. Rev. Philip Brower, pastor officiated. John R. Reaves, brother of the bride, acted as best man and his wife was the only attendant. Mrs. Heath chose for the occasion, a navy suit with matching blue accessories and a white corsage.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Reaves held a small, informal reception at their home in Gettysburg, Pa. During the afternoon, Cpl. and Mrs. Heath left for Camp Lee, Va., where she is stationed.

In June of 1917, Mrs. Heath graduated from Seminole High School and in September of the same year entered nurses' training. This past September, she was graduated from the Germantown Dispensary and Hospital, Germantown, Pa. At that time, she was presented with the Col. Frank R. Hustad award for reliability, competence and scholarship. She has made her home with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Reaves, Jr., since her graduation. Cpl. Heath is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Heath of Newport, N. H. He graduated from the Springfield Vermont High School in 1917 and entered the Army that same year.

Bonus Rule May Be On Way Out At League Meeting

Major League Execs Want TV Money To Go To Pension Fund

By JOE REICHER
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Baseball's bonus rule appears on the way out.

At a major league executive meeting last night, the World Series' radio-television money will go to players' pension fund.

That's the majority opinion of the moguls who replied to an Associated Press questionnaire on the two subjects.

Both probably will be among the major topics discussed at a special meeting among the big league owners called by commissioner A. B. Chandler for Nov. 16 in Cincinnati.

The bonus rule has been a headache to owners and players alike since its inception four years ago. An attempt to repeal it last year failed when only 32 of the 59 minor league teams backed the move. That fell 13 short of the required three-fourths vote needed.

The bonus rule now provides that players signed by major or high minor league teams for more than a $5,000 bonus can be traded out for only a year and then must be recalled or become subject to a baseball draft.

Jimmy Gallagher, general manager of the Chicago Cubs, a strong advocate of the bonus law, finally has joined the other forces. So has Warren Giles, president of the Cincinnati Reds, another staunch bonus booster.

"The bonus rule is a good rule," Gallagher said. "But it is not enforced and should be dropped. At least one-third and maybe one-half of the clubs are cheating on it and without enforcement it is a farce."

Giles, who campaigned vigorously for the bonus retention last year, said:

"The international situation has changed the whole thing. I believe the bonus rule should be thrown out entirely for a year and then revised."

Other comments against the bonus rule:

Dan Topping, New York Yankees president: "We are in favor of dropping the bonus rule."

Billy Evans, Detroit general manager: "The Detroit club always has been against the bonus rule."

Bob Carpenter, Philadelphia Phils president: "I feel strongly against the bonus rule."

Bill DeWitt, St. Louis Browns president: "If they will abolish the high school rule at the same time they abolish the bonus rule, I will vote to abolish both at the same time."

Joe Cronin, Boston Red Sox general manager: "The Red Sox have been against the bonus rule since its inception."

Elli Ryan, Cleveland president: "I don't think the bonus rule will be missed if it is abolished."

Fred Balguy, St. Louis Cardinals president: "We're taking a neutral attitude on the bonus law."

Joe Mullen, St. Paul Saints president: "The Saints have been against the bonus rule since its inception."

Joe Mullen, St. Paul Saints president: "The Saints have been against the bonus rule since its inception."

Stetson Hatters To Play Spartans At Phillips Field

DELAND, Oct. 20.—(Special)—Following a string of four consecutive victories this year, the Stetson University Hatters travel to Tampa's Phillips Field tonight to take on the Tampa Spartans.

The Deland University club, under the direction of 26-year-old Coach Joe McMullen and leading the nation's undefeated teams in scoring with 154 points, has turned its offense for the first time during the first of the week due to the hurricane. But as the result of the first time, the Hatters' offense will not be as well oiled as it has been in the past few games.

Stetson will be counting heavily on the accurate passing of Bill Johnson, who is being touted as Little All-America timber. Johnson kept up his passing machine even in the confines of Hatter's gym during the week and Thursday and Friday he carried his duties out on the practice field.

Commenting on the game, Coach Joe McMullen declared that the Spartans would probably be favored at gametime.

"These Tampa boys are big and rugged. They outweigh us 20 pounds to the men in the line and nearly that much in the backfield. The only way we will be able to beat them is to be fast and kick it all the time when you are

Segura Says He'll Take Jack Kramer In Tennis Tourney

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Francisco Segura is sure he'll knock over Jack Kramer in their professional tennis quarter next Thursday, but Gussy Moran's in a different—she doesn't know what in the world she'll do.

"I think I take this Kramer," Francis, the 29-year-old pride of Ecuador said last night as Bobby Riggs' troupe gathered to launch another swing.

"I beat Jack Tom of the last two times we played in Nationals and at Paris. I think I got his number."

"In this you win quick or get beat quick. The man in condition since Tom in last condition. This is my best opportunity. I want to get it done, to get it done, to get it done."

"I don't think I can do it. I don't think I can do it. I don't think I can do it."

"I don't think I can do it. I don't think I can do it. I don't think I can do it."

Tennessee Is Favored To Defeat Alabama In South's Top Battle

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Alabama and Tennessee, two of Dixie's keenest football rivals, clash here tomorrow in one of the big games in the nation.

If you call the tackle a sneak preview for one of the bigger and better bowls, you'll hit it right on the button.

The game is expected to be a tie with Vandy, Georgia and Kentucky. However, the Jackets have lost twice and are considerably below par. They outrank Auburn as a pick by three touchdowns. To whip Mississippi the Tulane Green Wave must be straight high for the second straight week. After a great game against Notre Dame last Saturday Tulane can't afford to relax against Mississippi's ground power.

Both squads are at virtual full strength. Tennessee's first string fullback, Dick Krause, is the only key player of either team injured by an injury.

Coach Harold Bell Drew of Alabama personally recruited the Volunteers' single-wing maneuver last Saturday in the game with hapless Chattanooga he got a splash of an iron line and a flashy running backfield.

And Coach Bob Neyland is expecting plenty of trouble from the air from the Crimson Tide. He's drilled the Vols through fair weather and foul in pass defense tactics readying for Alabama's highly publicized pass catcher, Al Lary, and passer Ed Salem and Butch Avinger.

While Alabama and Tennessee faces rehearsal for a team which will be busy trying to wreck each other's bowl ambitions, undefeated Vanderbilt will play a strong sophomore team in Nashville. The Florida Gators are the prime contenders and they're strong enough for Vandy to take seriously.

Tennessee still unwhipped Georgia tied to Baton Rouge for another conference game against Louisiana State tomorrow night. Louisiana State tomorrow night. Both teams are in bad health but Georgia is still the pick to win. LSU has whipped Georgia in three games and Georgia hasn't whipped state except in their last two meetings.

Mississippi and Tulane square off in New Orleans and Auburn and Georgia Tech in Atlanta tomorrow afternoon. Technically Tech ranks in a first place SEC

DeWitt Says Radio And TV Kill Minor League Baseball

DALLAS, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Charles DeWitt, vice-president of the St. Louis Browns, says minor league baseball will be killed if major league broadcasts continue.

He told baseball leaders from nine minor leagues, meeting here yesterday to discuss realignment in the southwest, that "major league broadcasts are making the minor league fans—the fans of your hometown clubs."

The representatives of the 16 states, east Texas, west Texas, New Mexico, Sonora State, Arizona, Texas, Rio Grande Valley, Gulf Coast and Longhorn leagues all most unanimously supported DeWitt in his view that major league broadcasts and television are making the deep inroads in minor league attendance.

Jack Zeller, chief scout for the Boston Braves, asked what could be done to stop the inroads in view of FCC and Justice Department rulings.

DeWitt said all baseball could do was to compile statistics to show how the broadcasts and television were hurting the game and actually were in restraint of trade in attempting to control radio and television broadcasts.

He said this would be one of the biggest subjects at the annual convention of the minor and major leagues at St. Petersburg, in December.

General MacArthur

moment while green-clad men moved in skirmish formation across the fields. Their tense caution was apparent through field glasses in MacArthur's plane 2,000 feet above. At Suncheon the first flight of 17 C-119s, each carrying 35 paratroopers with full gear, cut low across the Taedong River which winds upward from Pyongyang. Their wings glinted in the afternoon sunlight framed against rust red hills thrusting into the fields. From the swollen bellies of the transports, a handful of confetti seemed to drift downward. Then it became a snowfall of white and yellow circles growing in the wind and supporting beneath them little black dots that would become tense and efficient combat men. For a moment the parachutes hung suspended while the mothering planes hurried back to their seats. Then they drifted gently toward the earth. Heavier, slower and bigger parachutes settled to the ground with guns. And soon they were trained on a rugged hill to the eastward of Suncheon, which seemed to be slumbering in the distance. Spurts of flame began growing amid the scrub foliage of the hill side about a mile and one half away. A skirmish line of troops moved toward it. The hill which dominates Suncheon was the first objective in the attack on that town, believe to be a Red army headquarters. Jet fighters and F-51 Mustangs dived and wheeled over the advancing troops like protective hawks. But there was no challenge from the sky and none originally from the ground. The troopers driving toward Suncheon landed about two miles north of the town and pushed southward. Navy carrier planes and light bombers threw a flank protection 11 miles northward, pounding the main junction town of Sinsaju where the Reds were believed to have a garrison and some aircraft. The capture of Suncheon would cut the main highway and railroad running through Sinsaju toward Antung on the Manchurian border. From Suncheon another main road and railway curve northward to the border. MacArthur watched the show intently. As it became apparent that the operation was successful, a wry little smile of satisfaction grew on his face. But through the looping, darting aircraft a midjet observation plane darted. Lieutenant General Walton H. Walker, 8th Army Commander, and Major General Earle E. Partridge, commander of the U. S. Fifth Air Force, were watching from this perch. Only the battle area seemed alive in the expanse of rusty hills and the mosaic of ricefields stretching below as MacArthur turned back toward Pyongyang and Tokyo. Nothing moved on the roads—except in Allied areas. Villages were drab and silent, fields grew untended. The clouds which had postponed what may be the final chess move of the campaign hung over much of Korea like day-old snow. But the clouds lifted above Pyongyang, a city of smoldering grey, and MacArthur spotted Allied aircraft on the airstrip in its center. "Our planes are on the field," he said. "Let's go in." He had been impatient to land at the fallen capital, but this morning his sides still were not sure the field was secure. When Lt. Col. Anthony Story of St. Louis wheeled the big and Marine Pfc. Charles E. Thomas, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Thomas of Rural Route 2, Sanford, was promoted to his present rank when he completed recruit training with the First Recruit Training Battalion here recently. Thomas fired a score of 211x250 with the Garand rifle to qualify as a rifle sharpshooter. He also fired other infantry weapons such as the .45 calibre pistol, the carbine, and the Browning automatic rifle, as well as witnessing demonstrations of the machine gun, mortar, and flame thrower. A graduate of Seminole High School in Sanford, and a recent employee of H. P. Ganes of this City, he enlisted in the Marines in June of this year at Jacksonville.

The aviator said the North Koreans replied: "We already got enough atrocities listed against us so a few more won't make any difference." Capt. Locke said that during the death march Americans "died like flies from starvation, cold, pneumonia and dysentery." Seventeen in the group were wounded when an American plane strafed their column, obviously mistaking them for Reds. The three survivors because they had hidden under the school. They said others of the group were marched north as the United Nations forces approached Pyongyang. Their fate was not known. On the bridge from Seoul to Pyongyang, the trio said the Reds shot those Americans who could not walk. Said one: "Some of the men were carrying their buddies on their backs. Guys who fell down were beaten and bayoneted by the Reds." Capt. Locke said the guards killed those Americans who could not continue marching. Kumdal said the North Koreans told him earlier the Americans were to be taken to Mamp'o, which is located along the Yalu River on the Korean-Manchurian border. The three survivors seemed to be in fair physical condition. They said they were in better shape than any of the Americans who were

Gov. Warren Goes To N. Y. To Sign Huge Bond Issue

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 20.—Gov. Governor Fuller Warren is going to New York tomorrow (just) to sign his name 1,550 times to the latest batch of bonds in Florida history. He will lead a delegation of Florida officials who will deliver the $28,000,000 in bonds issued last month to help finance Jacksonville's $42,000,000 bridge and expressway project. The bonds—a ton of them—will be taken up unsigned. When they get there, the Governor, Improvement Commission Secretary Walter Keyes and Duval County Clerk L. W. Thomas will have to sign each of the $1,000 bonds. There are 28,000 of them, but the officials will use a multiple signature machine that can sign 18 at a time. There is no such signature machine in Florida, and it would take the Governor about 70 hours of constant signing at his usual rate of 100 signatures per hour to do them one at a time at home. He can do it in about four hours with the machine. Besides, it would cost about $5,000 for postage and insurance to send the signed bonds to New York. The delegation can travel less expensively than that. October 26 is the date set for delivery of the bonds to the New York bank which represents the syndicate that purchased them. To take care of any last-minute hitch that might delay the transaction—with interest running at the rate of $3,000 a day—the whole State Improvement Commission, its attorney, and representatives of the State Treasurer and State Board of Administration will go along. The Governor will return the middle of next week. He will just stay long enough to finish signing his name, then come back without waiting for the actual delivery. He marched out of here Saturday.

Former Mayor

(Continued From Page One) June. His death was a shock to his friends. He had been active, and during recent weeks had appeared at several Democratic rallies. He was Chicago's mayor from 1933 to 1947, longer than any other mayor, and one of the leading political forces contributing to the elections of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt as president. Kelly called himself "boss" of Chicago politics and never made any bones about having a powerful "machine."

26 New VA Hospitals Soon To Be Finished

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The Veterans Administration said today it expects that 26 of 66 new VA hospitals planned for the postwar period will be completed by the end of this year. Twenty of the 26 are already finished, the VA said. The original program called for the construction of 91 new hospitals. But in January, 1949, President Truman ordered this program cut back to 67. And this year he ordered the Army's 611st General Hospital in Georgia transferred to the VA, at the same time cancelling construction of a new VA hospital in Atlanta. Thus, the number of new buildings was reduced to 66. In addition, the VA said, new facilities added to existing hospitals have provided 11,501 beds; facilities for 1,461 more beds are under construction, and additions for 500 beds are in the planning stage. The total cut-back—including elimination of 24 buildings and reductions in 14 others—reduced the VA hospital program 16,000 beds. But congressional pressure for restoration of the cut-back beds probably will continue. Many congressmen and veteran organizations say that veterans with non-service-connected ailments are entitled to prompt hospitalization too.

DENTISTS SMILE SEATTLE, Oct. 20.—(AP)—And now the University of Washington's Department of Pedodontics comes up with some advice for the dentist. It's: "Smile wider, please." The department, which has to do with dental problems of children, just made a survey of Seattle public school children as to why they did or did not like their dentists. And almost unanimously, those who liked their dentists, chorused that it was "because he smiles." Some liked his color comic books, too.

overloaded plane into the relative safety of a crowd of American and British soldiers immediately gathered. The war was written over them in fatigue and layers of dust blending with their green uniforms. But they, too, were optimistic and confident. Half a dozen tanks were drawn up to the edge of the runway where bomb craters had been filled somewhat unevenly. Four transport planes and a number of observation craft squatted on one side of the field and the city rose ahead silently. MacArthur put his hands on Walker's shoulders and greeted him cordially. Speaking of Pyongyang's capture he asked: "Did you get any bigwigs?" Walker said no. After a brief conference during which MacArthur ordered South Korean forces hurried to the Manchurian border, the two walked down the strip. MacArthur had congratulations for all of his field commanders. And he awarded the Distinguished Service Cross on the spot to two of them: Maj. General William Tunner, commander of the gigantic airlift supplying advanced Allied forces, and Col. William S. Howen, commander of the paratroop regiment which jumped. Then MacArthur got an award. Lt. General George E. Stratemeyer, commander of the Far East Air Force, gave him the Distinguished Flying Cross for "outstanding heroism while participating" in four wartime flights to the combat zone. On each of these, Stratemeyer's citation said, the General's unarmed plane risked attack and "this risk was multiplied a hundred-fold in view of his personal stature and his position as commander in chief." These flights began June 29 with a hurried and yak-barraged flight to Suwon. He flew also to Taegu, to Seoul and today to North Korea in a series of battle visits that graphed the progress of the campaign.

But through the looping, darting aircraft a midjet observation plane darted. Lieutenant General Walton H. Walker, 8th Army Commander, and Major General Earle E. Partridge, commander of the U. S. Fifth Air Force, were watching from this perch. Only the battle area seemed alive in the expanse of rusty hills and the mosaic of ricefields stretching below as MacArthur turned back toward Pyongyang and Tokyo.
