

Startling Facts Are Brought Out In Trial Of Injunction Suit

Examination Of Many Witnesses Reveals That Forrest Lake Was Complete Master Of City Administration, Funds, And Seminole Bank

Counsel for the five taxpayers seeking to prevent the City Commission from paying the Hutton Construction company $210,946.54 representing warrants held by the saving concern, today established the complete domination of city affairs by Forrest Lake, former mayor and president of the Seminole County bank, during the period when he served as mayor of the city under the commission form of government.

Evidence of Lake's mastery over the municipal government and particularly his command of the city finances was furnished by the testimony of Commissioner O. C. Chase and Mayor E. F. Housholder, both of whom recounted instances purporting to show that other officials of the city government were mere figureheads in the actual management of the municipality.

The former mayor had himself selected both chairman and secretary of the bond trustees, the testimony showed, transferred the bond trustees' books to the Seminole County Bank and gave such information as he chose to impart relative to the standing of the various bond accounts from time to time. Warrants were issued at commission meetings and other officials signed them without further inquiry, relying as they testified absolutely on the word of Lake.

Under direct examination, both Mayor Housholder and Commissioner Chase said they always took Lake's word for reports on condition of the bond funds. Such reports made by Lake, each admitted, were verbal and couched in general terms or figures. As early as last April, Commissioner Chase testified that Lake represented to his colleagues that the bond accounts were overdrawn some $700,000 or $800,000.

On the stand yesterday afternoon Commissioner Chase stated that at one time Lake was given authority to negotiate at private sale a million dollar bond sale for the city. This morning, however, under cross examination by City Attorney George A. De Cottes, he qualified his testimony, stating that such authority was given with the understanding that negotiations should be approved by the City Attorney and that before any negotiations were completed the other two commissioners must be apprised and furnish their approval.

During the direct examination of Commissioner Chase that official, apparently growing weary at a question asked by Attorney Cary D. Landis and turned loose a tirade against E. A. Douglass, one of the complainants in the action.

While acting as president of the Sanford Bank & Trust Company, Mr. Douglass came to him, the commissioner testified, and told him that his bank did not have a dime of city funds on deposit and that unless $20,000 were deposited with his bank it would not be able to open the following morning, December 6, 1926. Commissioner Chase said Douglass came to his house at night, accompanied by Lake, and that he (Douglass) said his bank was entitled to a portion of the funds.

In answer to this statement, Mr. Chase said he told Douglass that the condition of the Sanford Bank & Trust Company was such that he would not agree to it because if he did "he would be criminally liable for such action."

The Commissioner also said he told Lake that he too would be liable if he (Lake) acquiesced in placing the money in such a bank.

The witness testified that subsequent absorption of the Sanford Bank & Trust Company by the First National Bank and Seminole County Bank revealed that at the time Douglass came to see him that the bank already had on deposit $28,269.54, having received $20,000 of that amount less than a month previous to that time. The witness said the money had been placed there without his knowledge and consent. Under examination he said Lake had authorized transfer of the funds.

Under cross examination of Commissioner Chase by Mr. Patterson, methods pursued by the city in the street paving program were explained in detail. The attorney established that funds for meeting of paving work were secured by authorizing bonds representing the cost of 10 per cent of the work as estimated by the City Engineer. The other 30 per cent would not be paid until the work was completed and final estimates filed, the witness said.

Under such plans, the commissioner explained that often it was necessary to finance work which was completed but for which no final estimates had been prepared. Mr. Patterson drew from the witness admissions that it was possible for considerable work to be done and financed before funds were actually forthcoming from the sale of bonds representing the 30 per cent due as a result of completed work.

Mayor Housholder made guarded answers to questions directed to him, declaring some times that he "was under the impression" while at others that it "was his understanding" that certain things were true or not true. He did not know how the bond funds were distributed but that Mr. Lake had charge of allotting bond funds as they were received.

The Mayor said he knew little or nothing about the warrants drawn in favor of Hutton, suggesting that he was absent from most of the meetings in April and May and those he attended he heard nothing about the warrants. The Mayor was asked if he knew that funds were in the bank to meet the warrant drawn and he testified that he did not know and made no inquiry.

Mayor Housholder admitted that all bond funds were placed in one account and made a kind of "revolving fund" all claims against the bond accounts being taken out of one account. The witness was asked whether he remembered if Seminole Bank was required to give a security for large city deposits and he replied that he never heard of any discussion of any kind on this subject.

The witness said he knew nothing of Hutton's claims until shortly before the bank closed and that at the time the contractor approached him with a scheme to obtain his money from the city. The Mayor said no reference was made to any warrants held by Hutton but that it was his impression that Hutton was referring to them when by spoke of the City's indebtedness to the paving company. He said Hutton made demands for his money after the bank closed.

Mayor Housholder was excused just before noon when the court took a recess until 2 o'clock.

Yesterday afternoon's session came to a close with Commissioner Chase on the stand. Attorney Landis drew some startling admissions from the Commissioner relative to the management of the City's finances, the most important of which was that the City Commission at one time gave that Mayor Lake authority to negotiate at private sale a million dollars worth of city bonds.

The Commissioner also revealed that the Commission at times had issued warrants against bond accounts when it was known that there were not sufficient funds in the particular accounts to take care of the warrants. Commissioner Chase admitted that in some instances when warrants were issued to the Hutton Construction Company that he made some inquiry as to whether there were any funds available to meet them while on other occasions he "did not know what the condition of the bond account was."

In preliminary questions Attorney Landis obtained from the witness a short history of the commission form of government, when it was established and who had served as commissioners since its inception. The Commissioner did not know exactly when the bond trustees were first organized but thought it was in the spring of 1922. He remarked that he was every one at the time of the organization and when he returned found that such organization had been perfected.

"Who was elected chairman of the bond trustees?" asked Mr. Landis.

"Forest Lake,"

Q. And who was elected secretary?

A. Forrest Lake, I believe.

Q. Then while you were Mayor, Forrest Lake called a meeting of the bond trustees and elected them?

A. Yes.

Commissioner Chase testified that the bond trustees' books were kept in the Seminole County Bank and that Mr. Key kept them. He further testified in answer to a question that he made no participation of paving work were secured

DIGHTON GIVES STATEMENT ON L. K. D. INC. SUIT

Receiver's Attorney Insists DeCottes Held Power Of Attorney And Didn't Have To Get Signatures Of Wives

Dighton Willing To Leave It To Courts

DeCottes Is Said Not To Be Involved Personally In De Funct Bank's Suit O. L. K. D.

Replying to a statement of George A. De Cottes denying fraud in connection with the formation of the L. K. D. Inc., published in Thursday's Herald, Samuel R. Dighton, local attorney, stated today that it was unnecessary for Mr. De Cottes to secure the signatures of Mr. Lake and Mr. Key and their wives whenever a lot was sold, inasmuch as he held the power of attorney and could sign for them.

Replying in full to Mr. De Cottes' statement which concluded his statement with the comment that he was willing to leave it to the courts to decide whether his bill of complaint was well founded and would not allow Mr. De Cottes' opinion to induce him to withdraw the case, Mr. Dighton's statement in full follows:

"Personalities at no time are beneficial, and now particularly they should be forgotten if Sanford is to be rehabilitated. But, in justice to myself and on account of the duty I owe Mr. Ashcraft in the L. K. D. suit, and to the depositors of the Seminole County Bank whom I both represent, I state that I will be excused, in replying to the statement of Mr. DeCottes appearing in yesterday's Herald.

"The essence of this case is simply this: Forrest Lake and A. R. Key were indebted to the Seminole County Bank in large amounts at the date of the execution of their conveyance to the L. K. D. Inc., the effect of which was, in our opinion, to delay, hinder and defraud the depositors of the bank. The sole object of this action is to set aside this conveyance so that the Receiver can subject the property conveyed for the benefit of the depositors of the Seminole County Bank. Mr. DeCottes was not made a party to this suit. There is no allegation in the bill which would reflect in the least upon the integrity of my former partner. His interests, I am glad to say, are in no wise affected. It is therefore difficult to understand his agitation in the matter, unless it is because his former close association with Forrest Lake and A. R. Key are necessarily but incidentally indicated in this proceeding.

"Mr. DeCottes states that the L. K. D. corporation was formed for convenience and "to obviate the necessity of securing the signatures of all the owners (Lake, Key and DeCottes) and their wives" in executing deeds to the Sanford Heights property owned by them in common. To prove that this could not have been the real intention of Forrest Lake and A. R. Key, I have only to say that Mr. DeCottes has long held a power of attorney signed by Mr. Lake and Mrs. Lake and Mr. Key and Mrs. Key giving him full power to sign such conveyances for them. This instrument is recorded in Deed Book 28, page 308. His signature alone was therefore sufficient. This statement by Mr. DeCottes does not improve the appearance of the transaction under attack.

"Mr. DeCottes further states that the Receiver has an adequate remedy at law since the capital stock issued to Lake and Key can now be reached by a levy of execution, and that therefore a Court of Equity will not grant the Receiver the relief he prayed. Mr. DeCottes neglects to state that the books of this corporation kept by him in his own office show that both Forrest Lake and A. R. Key have transferred their stock in this corporation to Mr. Hutton since the closing of the Seminole County Bank.

"I also wish to take this occasion to say that while a member of Mr. DeCottes' law firm I knew absolutely nothing of the proceeding to incorporate the L. K. D. incorporation as Mr. DeCottes would make believe, and even if I did, it would have been none of my affair, especially as I could not then have known of the real effect of this transaction. I do understand that the people of Sanford are interested in this transaction. I understand why I am no longer associated with Mr. DeCottes. The receiver's declaration of events will assist them in deciding whether I was wrong in not agreeing with the professional and political policies of Mr. DeCottes.

"Mr. DeCottes further intimates that I am incompetent because I issued the title to a certain lot in Sanford Heights which (Continued on page 8)

Kresge, Millionaire Owner Of Dime Stores, Gives Huge Sum To Prohibition Cause

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(INS) Sebastian S. Kresge, who built up a fortune of many millions from the nickels and dimes of shoppers in his five-and-ten stores, and who has since been the Anti-Saloon League's chief financial "angel," explained today to International News Service his reasons for making a new gift of $5,000,000 to the dry organization's educational drive.

"I gave it," he said, because "I believe the work of the league is going to make a better country. If the so-called good people of this country will stop drinking the bootlegger, the run-runner and corollary evils will disappear. Education is the only means of eradicating the bootleg traffic. Young people of today have not completely rid themselves of the belief that drinking is smart or cute. Our campaign will show them that this belief is erroneous."

Liquor, Kresge said, is the greatest curse in the country. It is responsible, he said, for the present laxity in morals, and for many preventable accidents.

"Why," he said, "if a man wants to seduce a girl, he tries to get liquor into her so that she loses her senses and self-respect." It is no new thing for Kresge to play angel to the dry cause, but this new donation is the largest single gift he has made. "I will give not only money, but time and effort as well," he said. "I've been in this work for twenty years. I have made prohibition effective to the degree it has now reached."

REMUS MAY REST WORK IS STARTED FAMOUS MURDER ON SUGAR MILLS CASE LATE TODAY

Defense Plans To Place Two Character Witnesses, Democratic Leader Of Illinois And Former Judge On Stand

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Dec. 9.—(INS) George Remus, on trial for killing his wife Imogene, probably will rest his case late today. The defense plans to place two character witnesses, Michael L. Igoe of Chicago, Democratic leader in the Illinois House of Representatives, and former Judge Joseph L. Bay, also of Chicago, on the stand, read excerpts from two depositions taken since the shooting of Mrs. Remus in Eden Park on Oct. 6 last, and then rest.

Prosecutor Charles P. Taft will immediately launch his final drive to send Remus to the electric chair. He has a dozen or more rebuttal witnesses whose testimony will require fully a week to present.

The jury is not expected to retire for a verdict for fully ten days. One of the two depositions to be read before the defense closes its case will be that of John W. Snook, warden of the Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta. The deposition related to the last meeting of Remus and Mrs. Remus who told the warden that during their conversation Mr. Remus had threatened her. Two days later Remus received notice of divorce.

Ramola sat at her father's side at counsel table. She showed him correspondence she had received and they held hands and chatted in whispers. Remus seemed tired and when asked how he felt remarked: "Not so good. The doctors have been giving me a bromide that makes me dopey. I feel a little nervous too."

Michael Igoe, Chicago attorney was recalled for cross examination by assistant Prosecutor Carl Basler.

Lindbergh To Make Long Hop To Mexico From Capital City

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(INS) A flight from Washington to Mexico City will be Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's next venture.

It will be made on personal invitation of President Callas of Mexico. No date for the start has been set, and Lindbergh has not decided whether he will attempt a non-stop flight. He will use the plane Spirit of St. Louis which successfully carried him over the Atlantic.

The State Department will cooperate by giving Lindbergh all possible assistance, although a general ban has been placed on flights over the Mexican border.

Lindbergh plans to follow an all-land route. The distance is about 2,000 miles. His plane has been completely overhauled and is ready for the flight.

America's Arch-Fakir Arrested For Fraud

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(INS) Sterling C. Wyman, America's most astonishing fakir, stepped into the limelight—and into jail—again today.

Wyman, who assiduously succeeded in duping such notables as the late President Harding, Dr. Adolph Loring, the Austrian bloodless surgeon, and also two potentates, as well as taking a leading part in the Valentino funeral arrangements, was arrested on a bench warrant from the general session court, based on two indictments.

The arch-fakir, who is known to "fakir" authorities and police under several different names, is accused of duping national-known insurance company by selling a list of customers to a rival firm.

Wyman fooled President Harding when he posed as a Lieutenant Commander of the Navy and introduced the Priocess, Fatima of Afghanistan to the President.

HOOVER HAS NO DESIRE TO QUIT CAL'S CABINET

Rumor That He Would Resign In Order To Advance Ambitions For Presidential Candidacy, Said To Be Untrue

Generally Regarded As Coolidge Favorite

Hoover Only One Of Republican Heads Likely To Secure President's Endorsement

By George R. Holmes
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Herbert Hoover has no intention of resigning from the cabinet in order to devote his time to the furthering of his presidential candidacy. That much was made clear today in a most authoritative way. So far as Mr. Hoover is concerned, he is going to continue his serene course as a member of the cabinet refraining from discussing politics, at least for publication, and permit his friends to do whatever they like so long as they do not embarrass him.

It is a course to Mr. Hoover's personal liking, and one upon which his friends are agreed to meet at this early stage of the game. Three or four months hence when the primary fights get warm it may be a different story but for the time being there will be no change in the status of the cabinet candidate.

The Hoover backers believe their candidate is "sitting on the world." Inevitably, they say, the country will come to accept the secretary of commerce as the Coolidge candidate, even though the President never utters a word in his behalf. They say the very logic of the situation will force this upon the country—Mr. Hoover remaining at Mr. Coolidge's side, an intimate and trusted advisor, while all the other front-rank candidates are more or less on the outside with the White House.

The relations between Mr. Coolidge and Vice President Dawes are notably cool and have been for two years. Gov. Frank O. Lowden has not endeavored himself to the White House by his activities in whipping up opposition to the administration in the great grain belt; and Senator Curtis of Kansas, was kept out of the vice presidency at Cleveland in 1924 because Mr. Coolidge said "no very emphatically" over the telephone from Washington to Cleveland.

Therefore, now that Charles E. Hughes has eliminated himself, the Hoover backers in Washington merely answer all questions with one: "Where is Mr. Coolidge going to put Mr. Hoover?"

Secretary of the Interior Work, who is in the open for Mr. Hoover, expressed the opinion today that there is no need for his colleague to announce his candidacy.

"The country already has accepted him as a candidate," he said. "No announcement is necessary." "If we cannot have Mr. Coolidge we want the closest man to him. That is Secretary Hoover."

Papers Stolen From Premier Valdemas

WARSAW, Dec. 9.—(INS) Thieves, supposedly politically inspired, broke into the villa of Premier Valdemas of Lithuania while he was in Geneva attending to the Lithuanian-Polish dispute, and stole many important papers concerning this dispute, it was reported from Kovno today.

More than a hundred persons were reported to have been arrested in connection with the theft. It was supposed that the thieves were inspired by leaders of the anti-Valdemas faction in Lithuanian politics, who may plan to use the confidential papers so obtained to achieve political ends—supposedly Valdemas' retirement from office. Several unsuccessful attempts already have been made to force the Lithuanian Premier out of office.

Man Pleas He Was Hypnotized To Kill

EUREKA, Kan., Dec. 9.—(INS)—Dominating by a woman who feared motherhood to such a degree that she hypnotized him to murder her, was the plea of Ivan M. Hart, 32, former bank teller, his attorneys indicated today. Hart has confessed he slashed the throat of his wife in an automobile in "Lovers' Lane." "She craved death," Hart told authorities following his arrest. "She begged me for days and weeks to kill her if she ever became an expectant mother. I tried to resist her but I couldn't." The former bank employee told of an existence of a love pact between him and his wife before they were married. She married him, he said, only with the understanding he would play her if she became pregnant.

POULTRY FARMER MAY COME TO AID OF LILLIENDAHL

Widow, Liable To Ten Years In Prison, May Be Saved By New Trial And Testimony Of Her Lover-Conspirator

MAYS LANDING, N.J., Dec. 9.—(INS)—Mrs. Lilliendahl, habbeshaired widow of Dr. William Lilliendahl, for whose murder she was convicted, may escape a prison sentence.

It was learned on good authority today that Willis Beach, the under-sized poultry farmer who was found guilty with her of voluntary manslaughter, may make a chivalrous attempt to absolve the widow of all blame in the crime.

The couple, whose love affair, the jury believed, led to the killing of Dr. Lilliendahl in a patch of woods near Hightstown during September, were to face Supreme Court Justice Luther A. Campbell for sentence tomorrow. The maximum sentence that can be imposed is 10 years in prison and $1,000 fine. There is no minimum, hence a jail term of one day could be given.

Justice Campbell was prepared to pass sentence late yesterday when the verdict was returned by a jury which deliberated more than 24 hours. Robert H. McCarter, chief of defense counsel, told the court he was waiting for evidence warranting a new trial had been unearthed since the jury began its deliberations, and he was given until tomorrow to prepare a brief.

This new evidence is alleged to be based on the assurance that Beach will come to the widow's rescue. He is said to be anxious to obtain for her a new trial.

The verdict of voluntary manslaughter came as a distinct blow to Mrs. Lilliendahl and Beach, both of whom expressed fully confidence in an acquittal almost up to the last. They spent a restless night in their cells.

Marauding Pirates Attack Fishermen Stranded In Floes

MOSCOW, Dec. 9.—(INS)—Fierce battles between hundreds of fishermen marooned on ice-floes in the Caspian Sea and bands of marauding pirates seeking to plunder the helpless, half-starved fishermen were reported today.

One pirate was reported killed and several others wounded. Seven hundred fishing smacks have been stranded amid the ice following the storm of Nov. 29.

Rescuers attempting to aid the marooned men are in constant peril from pirates and ice. The pirates are using motorboats, riding the ice-floes in order to approach their victims and plunder the boats of all valuables.

The exact number of occupants of the 700 fishing boats was unknown but it was believed that at least 200 of them have died of exposure and starvation. Four hundred and sixty have been rescued. The property loss was estimated at six million rubles.

Trial For Contempt Halts Over Week-End

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(INS)—The criminal contempt trial of Harry P. Sinclair and William J. Burns was halted today over the week-end because of illness of George Hoover, attorney for the defense lawyers participating.

Justice Frederick L. Siddons granted the adjournment when Martin W. Littleton, also member of Sinclair's counsel, explained that Hoover was expected to cross-examine all government witnesses.

The minimum temperature at Orlando last night was 38 degrees. Gradually rising temperatures were forecast for tonight with much warmer weather by Sunday.

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—(INS)—A late-up in the record December cold wave, which during the past 24 hours had paralyzed Chicago and the middle west with its own grip, was promised for today by the local weather bureau.

Eight Deaths In Chicago And Scores More In Other Sections Of Affected Area, Were Caused Indirectly By The Blizzard

The frigid wave caused more deaths than usual because it caught so many people unprepared and followed quickly on weather that had been mild and spring-like.

Cattle and live stock over the middle west were trapped by the suddenness of the blizzard, which rode in with mountainous banks of snow and sent temperatures down to zero and in some sections 10 and 20 degrees below.

Farmers will suffer heavy losses in live stock and considerable damage to property from the tornado-like winds. Cities in Indiana reported plate glass windows broken by the force of the gale.

Today the frigid blast, which swept in from the Canadian north, west had spread farther to all sections of the United States. The cold wave reached its climax here early today and was traveling eastward.

Dixie Poultry Exhibit Is Opened In Orlando With Assurances Of Big Success

ORLANDO Fla., December 9—From the number, variety and extent of the entries received the Southern National Poultry Show, which opened in Orlando today, promises to be the greatest exhibition of poultry ever held in the South. Displays have been received from all sections of the country besides many cities in Florida.

The distance record for entries was established yesterday when a request was received via air mail from William T. West of Tacoma, Washington. The previous farthest point of any entry was the display of White Rocks which were shipped December 1, by Thomas Robinson of Don Luis, Ariz.

Among the distant entries, also, is the display of White Rocks entered by Adam F. Pate of Hartford Wis., the display of buff leghorns by Harry Kundsen of Omaha, Neb., and the exhibit of White Wyandottes entered by H. H. Byers also of Omaha. Seventeen entries alone have been received from various points in Georgia.

Commanding unusual interest is the entry of M. L. Chapman of Trenton Junction, N. J., who is bringing from 30 to 40 White Leghorns and Wyandottes, all of which are prize winners in the National Poultry Show held at Madison Square Garden, New York City. Mr. Chapman has been selected as one of the prize judges and for this reason his birds will not be entered in the competitions.

Florida will be well represented with a number of unusual exhibi-

its. E. W. Brown, mayor of DeLand, and president of the Southern Show has entered 14 pheasants of which there are six different varieties. F. J. Gormican of Apopka will have 8 pheasants on display in addition to nearly 300 other birds. J. I. Gist of McIntosh has entered 70 wild Florida ducks, said to be the finest and most complete collection of ducks in existence. A special booth was constructed to house the wild birds of which there are twelve different varieties.

Other entries received from the state include sixty White Leghorns by Ben Hargis of Umatilla, twenty-two prize White Leghorns by J. P. Entenza of Jacksonville, eighty white and buff Minorcas by W. R. Paetzner of Isachata, seventy-seven Rhode Island Reds by O. P. Wells of Gainesville and a display of rabbits by J. F. Almon of Miami and F. F. Finzel of Tampa. Elmer Duff of Kathleen and J. A. Bistline of Longwood each have entered strings of prize birds.

The Show opens officially at the municipal Auditorium at 10 A. M. Wednesday and extends throughout the remainder of the week. The exhibition rooms will be open daily from 10 A. M. until 10 P. M. All school children of Orange County will be admitted free of charge the first day, Wednesday between the hours of 3 and 6 if accompanied by their teachers. Boy Scouts in uniform will be admitted without cost during the entire period of the show.

California Takes Lead In Movement To Spread Gospel Of Conserving The Forests

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 7—(INS)—To spread the gospel of conservation and reforestation, California's state government soon will go into the business of "making two trees grow where one grew before."

A great state forest of more than 8,000 acres, in the virgin hills of Shasta County, now is being plotted for the demonstration and probably will come under state ownership by act of the next Legislature.

The first state forest, it was revealed today by State Forester M. B. Pratt, will be acquired without cost and will be utilized as a great public hunting and fishing preserve in addition to opening the way for practical demonstration in reforestation.

Scattered state school lands, of little value due to the fact that the tracts are isolated and not adapted to school use, will be exchanged under an agreement with the federal government for the Shasta County acres desired for the forest experiment station, Frattsaid. The school lands total about 8,400 acres and it is hoped the same acreage will be obtained for the state forest.

Practical application of reforestation methods are essential in California, asserted the state forester, if the state is to avert loss of its great timber belt. More than one percent of the standing timber is being cut or destroyed by fire annually, he pointed out, and within one hundred years the state's mountains would be practically denuded unless extensive replanting, coupled with adequate protection for young timber, is assured.

California's present stand of timber totals 208,325,000,000 board feet, or some 16,200,000 acres. Pratt said about more than 7,600,000 acres already have been cut over.

CONVICTS' PAPER GIVES PRAISE TO HUMANE METHOD

Old Forms Of Torture Are In Discard in West Virginia Institutions; Ball And Chain Methods Are Also Dropped

WHEELING, W. Va., Dec. 9.—(INS)—Horrid forms of torture once practiced in the West Virginia penitentiary, are described in "Work and Hope," a prison publication, in comparing the present humane methods to the punishment inflicted on prisoners year ago.

The publication stresses on the improvement in prison management and the reformatory methods brought about in the past 25 years. How prisoners were allowed out of the penitentiary only with "a ball and chain," is vividly described in the recent edition of "Work and Hope," as compared with the way they are now trusted outside the prison gates alone.

No Ball and Chains "To this little building (penitentiary) at one time," the magazine states, "all men convicted of felony in the state were sent, and more than a hundred men were therein confined; and when worked outside they were only allowed out in stripes, ball and chains and strongly guarded. We now have many men, life-termers included, working on the outside, coming and going almost at will and it is very seldom that one of them causes any trouble, proving that the more trust placed in a man and the more like a human being he is treated the better he becomes and the further he can be trusted."

Speaking of the punishment in "old days" the prison magazine says:

No doubt it is hard for citizens of West Virginia to realize that a man have been beaten to death or otherwise slaughtered, while undergoing brutal punishment in their state prison yet such are the facts. "Since prisons were built, flogging has been a recognized form of punishment for refractory prisoners. An instrument of torture which was once used in this prison, was a big strap about two inches wide, made of pieces of harness leather sewed together. When soaked in water overnight, dipped in sand and vigorously applied to the bare flesh, caused most excruciating pain."

Abandon Dungeons "It is recorded here that women were padded in this manner, also. The only difference being that the woman was dressed in a very thin gown before the padding was administered."

Other forms of punishment are grotesquely depicted such as the "water-cure," "gagging and freezing."

"Underground dungeons in which men were alternately frozen and suffocated, mere also employed," the magazine asserts. "Bucking and gagging was another dreadful punishment which has likewise been used. This torture was inflicted usually by handcuffing the prisoner, his hands alighted over the front of his knees, his mouth forced open and filled with a large piece of cork or wood and left in this position until life was almost extinct."

Motormen Connive With Stickup Men To Fleece Company

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 9.—(INS)—Sensational charges in which street car motormen were alleged to be in connivance with holdup men who have robbed a number of street cars here recently, were contained in alleged confessions obtained by police from three men now being held in the city jail.

Although a few of the large numbers of robberies that have occurred recently are believed to be genuine, most have been faked, according to police, and as result of their investigation, one operator J. A. Hunter, is being held without bond. Police declare that following a series of holdups by negroes, that two white youths, Jim Geiger and Resnie Egidon, conceived the idea of obtaining agreements from friends in the employ of the traction company to be robbed without resistance and to report to police that they had been robbed by two negroes. Sentencing something "phony" about the epidemic of street car stickups, police officials, together with agents of a private detective agency placed private detectives on the street cars in the role of motormen and trapped the two youthful holdup men. Police intimated that arrests of others are to follow.

Mrs. Pierce advanced to the final match by eliminating Mrs. John D. Chapman, Greenwich, Conn., medalist and defending champion, 2 up and one to play, while Mrs. French defeated Miss Carolyn Jamison, Greensburg, Pa., 3 and 1 in the semi-finals.

DIXIE TITLE AT STAKE

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 9.—(INS)—Paul Shoar, of Memphis, Tenn., champion of the Dixie weight title, will meet Ed Jones, of Phoenix here today in the main event. Jones, a former champion, is a former champion.

Poland Strives To Wipe Out The Footprints Of Russian Invasion

WARSAW, Dec. 9.—(INS)—visit to post-war Poland leaves one with the thought that a new Poland has sprung up in Europe, which although filled with the spirit of modernity, is fully conscious of the Poland of mediaeval times, and so far as possible, is making great pains to recreate the glory of the past.

This new nation is striving industriously to wipe away the footprints of the Russian invasion and restore the places and historical landmarks which were partly or wholly destroyed by the armies of the Russian Czar.

Fully aware that they cannot sacrifice the advancement of their country in order to fulfill their desire, the Polish people have picked out one of their oldest cities and are virtually turning it into a museum.

In An Ancient Capital This is the city of Cracow, once the capital of the Polish Kingdom. Here architects and archaeologists, artists and artisans, are rapidly progressing in the restoration of ancient and glorious palaces, the residences of royalty in the 14th and 15th centuries; and which, when Poland was divided were used as citadels of alien despotism, or as quarters for the "troops of occupation."

From early in the fourteenth century until the seventeenth Cracow was the capital of Poland and the residence of a long line of Polish kings, who dwelt in a wonderful palace on a hill dominating the city.

In the course of Poland's three-repeated agony of conquest and partition the castle was stripped of its treasures in stone and marble, petal and paint. During Austrian rule Hapsburg soldiers were quartered there.

The castle is now being partly restored to its original condition—a task whose completion will take many years. Officials of the Polish Government have spent three years in Russia, where they have been searching for carvings, statues, and pictures belonging to the castle.

Where once this Cathedral stood is now a beautiful colonnade, with trees and flowers, and in the center of which is buried Poland's Unknown Soldier, a flame of living fire, burning day and night beside the tomb. To this spot the Polish people come to pray, in greater numbers than the Cathedral ever held.

A noble building that closes one of the main thoroughfares in Cracow and which was built in 1820 in Italian classic style, by a Polish patriot for the Society of Science was also badly damaged by the Russians who altered it in accordance with their own architectural tastes. Its lawful owners, remaining possession, have now altered the alterations, so to speak, and restored to the palace its pristine beauty.

Side by side with this work of restoration there goes on a process of obliteration. Until recently, one of the sights of the city of Warsaw was the Russian Cathedral, an enormous, five-domed building, filling a vast square, with a tall campanile at its side.

Today not one stone is left upon another. In the eyes of the Poles, this building which they pulled down, was founded on oppression and built of blood and tears. It was to them the visible witness to an alien tyranny, the symbol of foreign domination.

Sport Writer Anticipates Vulgar Business At Meet Of Big Leagues Next Week

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service
Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Having done nothing at Dallas except swallow their knives in public, the major leagues simply stop themselves out and indulge in some vulgar business at their own annual meeting next week, this reasoning being based on the understanding that a pair of trays either are improved before the draw or you go into the ash tray with the rest of the dead ones. The New York Yankees won 111 games in the American League last year. The Pittsburgh Pirates, 1927 National League champions, already have bettered their hands for 1928.

These two facts tell the story of what must be done by fourteen other managers before the bell rings or they may take the consequences and some of them, indeed, the air.

Incidentally, the disposal of Cobb and Speaker, if at all, will be a moot question as the boys lean gratefully upon their own apples. It seems to be pretty generally agreed that neither will be with an American League Club next season and the League Club, the National League thus far has been almost denouncing. Still, there are a lot of clubs that could use either or both; the restraining influence being found in the fact that the clubs in question have never discovered what they are going to use for money.

Meanwhile, there are other questions to be answered, including that hardly annual act to chortle, the Yankees will trade Bob Meusel to the Chicago White Sox. Another is the future destination of George Sisler; it being the general understanding that George and the Browns have reached an impasse. Will the Pirates call it a ball club or will they try to get the left hand pitcher they need. Possibly from Philadelphia or one of the other weaker clubs? That one also will come down to a decision, as will the question of what Joe McCarthy, of the Cubs, intends to do about his infield.

Then there is that old story, probably long deceased, whereby McGraw was to trade Lindstrom and a pitcher to St. Louis for Rhett and Bell. The understanding is that he still is interested in Rhett, whose interest in Alexander's deorum seems to have faded. Sam Houston, the latter probably is willing to go in these gambling again, which may be all for the best. The Cards were a fighting second last year but the outfit gave indications of becoming passe.

Negro Bandit Shoots Man Who Resists Him

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 9. (INS)—Refusing to submit to the command of a negro bandit to "put 'em up" Thomas A. Hamilton, was shot through the chest and is today fighting for his life in a local hospital.

Hamilton and a woman companion were seated in a parked automobile on the outskirts of the city when they were approached by the negro, who flourished a revolver and demanded their valuables. Instead of complying with the bandit's demand, Hamilton leaped from the car after him. As Hamilton came towards him the negro fired twice and fled. One of the bullets lodged in Hamilton's chest and physicians pronounced his condition as critical.

Chief Of Biologic Survey Explains The Desirability Of Ejecting Politics Out Of Affairs Of Game Protection

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. Addressing the 14th National Game Conference in session at the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York City, December 6 and 7, under the auspices of the American Game Protective Association, Paul G. Redington, chief of the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture covered the field of relations between sportsmen and game protectors and the government agency concerned in the regulation of wild life. As leading considerations, Mr. Redington mentioned the desirability of keeping politics out of the administration of game affairs; of the need for research as a base for wise regulation; of the progress of the "waterfowl census" now under way; of the imperative need for prompt action in providing game refuges. He discussed the purposes of some animals and birds that may follow a protective policy, and suggested the creation of public shooting grounds as one method of controlling surplus; mentioned the need of antelope reservations similar to those for elk; referred to the value of wild life for food and sport in Alaska; and to the need for more interest on the part of American sportsmen in the game problem of the territory; and urged organizations of sportsmen to give active and loyal support to the game warden everywhere. Mr. Redington also referred to work that is now under way in the Biological Survey program, and emphasized the perils to various species of game and to man which exist in the recently discovered typhemia, a bacterial disease carried by rabbits, squirrels and other animals, and transmissible to man.

"I realize," said Mr. Redington, "that many organizations have sounded their tocsin in favor of the elimination of politics from game administration and while many States by enactment have given

1928 WILL BRING BIG EPIDEMIC OF HOPS OVER OCEAN

Next Year's Attempts Will Be Better Prepared, Says Expert; Big Capital To Be Used To Develop The Trade

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 9. (INS)—Glen L. Martin, Cleveland aircraft manufacturer, has voiced the belief that the world will see an epidemic of long distance and trans-oceanic flights next year.

Mr. Martin, back from Washington where he had been conferring with government authorities concerning construction of many planes declared that if the number of inquiries being received by the meteorological department and other branches of government service were any indication, there would be at least 50 long distance flights attempted next year.

"Next year's flight will receive more preparation than the ones made or attempted this year," Martin said. "The pilots are getting set now. This is a hopeful sign."

PARIS TO CLEVELAND
In this connection it was recalled that the $25,000 offer of the Clevel and Chamber of Commerce for the first non-stop flight from Paris to Cleveland still stands. An attempt to win this prize will undoubtedly be made next summer, as European flyers are just as anxious to make new records as American flyers.

There are also indications, Martin said, that large amounts of capital will be invested next year both in the manufacture and commercial operation of aircraft.

"The manufacture of aircraft appeals to many as a very attractive, both as an art and as a business," he said. "Unfortunately a great number of those who are planning to manufacture aircraft do not realize, perhaps, that it requires very exact and hard work and a tremendous amount of attention to details."

New Navy Planes
"A realization of these things may cause some prospective manufacturers of aircraft to change their minds about the attractive ness of the business, and some of them may lose money at it before they get through, but nothing can stop the manufacture of aircraft from becoming one of the great industries of the country."

greater liberality to their appointive or elective officers in the handling of game matters, there is still, as you acknowledge, some distance to travel along this line before we can conclude that game administrators have a free hand to carry out their ideas.

Statistics Show That Scotch Play More Golf At Much Less Cost

LONDON, Dec. 9. (INS)—The old game "Golf" born and bred among the Scotch has turned on the land that fed it and threatens now to change the very essence of Scotch nature. For golf in Britain takes annually between $150 and $250 out of the pocket of the man who plays it.

Figures recently compiled show that 500,000 golfers in Britain pay $400,000,000 a year for playing the game.

Nevertheless, the game's most loyal supporters are still the Scotch. They play more golf and do it less expensive than either the English or the Irish. Glasgow and its suburbs, and the Edinburgh district, too, each have a greater number of golf clubs than the larger sized vicinity of London.

But in club finances the Edinburgh Burgess Society of Scotland stands unapproachable in "thrifty rules." Such rules as these show in their books: One boy engaged as caddie, messenger, and waiter. A uniform provided him "to be worn on Saturday and Sundays only." Payment to be "six shillings the quarter"—about six cents a week in American money. But this society is the oldest golf club in the world. These rules were put on its books in 1774.

Lee County Sheriff Has Record Of Capturing 500 Aliens In Past 4 Years

Fort Myers, Fla., Dec. 9.—(By International News Service)—Credit by Federal agents with having bagged more than 500 aliens during the past four years, Sheriff Frank B. Tippins, of Lee County, now holds the distinction of having frustrated more alien smuggling plans than any other sheriff in the state of Florida.

While it is impossible to determine the number of aliens who elude the sheriff's net, veteran government men estimate that the Lee county officer has captured 97 per cent of the foreigners who tried to enter the United States illegally through Lee county. The immigration men further point out that with Sanibel Island being a part of Lee county, the sheriff has encountered considerable difficulty in taking the aliens in custody due to the vast wilderness of the tropical island, a favorite landing place for smugglers.

"It's easy enough to catch them," Sheriff Tippins pointed out today. "It simply means that you find out where the aliens are going to be landed and then be there to meet them," he added.

Working on the theory that the aliens are to be pitted in view of the fact that in most cases they have been robbed by the smugglers, Sheriff Tippins shuns "hard boiled" tactics in dealing with the smuggled foreigners, he said.

"In majority of cases, they have been swindled in the first place, and there's no use rubbing it in," he said.

In questioning aliens, Sheriff Tippins has found most of them

"It's easy enough to catch them," Sheriff Tippins pointed out today. "It simply means that you find out where the aliens are going to be landed and then be there to meet them," he added.

Working on the theory that the aliens are to be pitted in view of the fact that in most cases they have been robbed by the smugglers, Sheriff Tippins shuns "hard boiled" tactics in dealing with the smuggled foreigners, he said.

"In majority of cases, they have been swindled in the first place, and there's no use rubbing it in," he said.

In questioning aliens, Sheriff Tippins has found most of them

Lee County Sheriff Has Record Of Capturing 500 Aliens In Past 4 Years

Fort Myers, Fla., Dec. 9.—(By International News Service)—Credit by Federal agents with having bagged more than 500 aliens during the past four years, Sheriff Frank B. Tippins, of Lee County, now holds the distinction of having frustrated more alien smuggling plans than any other sheriff in the state of Florida.

While it is impossible to determine the number of aliens who elude the sheriff's net, veteran government men estimate that the Lee county officer has captured 97 per cent of the foreigners who tried to enter the United States illegally through Lee county. The immigration men further point out that with Sanibel Island being a part of Lee county, the sheriff has encountered considerable difficulty in taking the aliens in custody due to the vast wilderness of the tropical island, a favorite landing place for smugglers.

"It's easy enough to catch them," Sheriff Tippins pointed out today. "It simply means that you find out where the aliens are going to be landed and then be there to meet them," he added.
