A Call To The Nation To a National Thanksgiving

By the President of the United States of America.

We approach that season of the year when it has been the custom for the American people to give thanks for the good fortune which the bounty of Providence through the generosity of nature, has visited upon them. It is altogether a good custom. It has the sanction of antiquity and the approbation of our religious convictions. In acknowledging the receipt of Divine favor, in contemplating the blessings which have been bestowed upon us, we reveal the spiritual strength of the nation.

This year has been marked by a continuation of peace whereby our country has entered into a relationship of better understanding with all the other nations of the earth. Ways have been revealed to us by which we could perform great service, through the giving of friendly counsel, through the extension of financial assistance, and through the exercise of a spirit of neighborly kindness to less favored people. We should give thanks for the power which has been given into our keeping, with which we have been able to render these services to the rest of mankind. At home we have continually had an improving state of the public health. The production of our industries has been large and our harvests have been bountiful. We have been remarkably free from disorder and remarkably successful in all those pursuits which flourish during a state of domestic peace. An abundant prosperity has overspread the land. We shall do well to accept all these favors and bounties with a becoming humanity and dedicate them to the service of the righteous cause of the Giver of all good and perfect gifts. As the nation has prospered, let all the people show that they are worthy to prosper by rededicating America to the service of God and man.

Therefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States of America, hereby proclaim and fix Thursday, the twenty-seventh day of November, as a day of national thanksgiving. I recommend that the people gather in their places of worship and at the family altars and offer up their thanks for the goodness which has been shown to them in such a multitude of ways. Especially I urge them to supplicate the Throne of Grace that they may gather strength from their tribulations, that they may gain humility from their victories, that they may bear without complaining the burdens that shall be placed upon them and that they may be increasingly worthy in all ways of the blessings that shall come to them. In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the United States.

Done at the City of Washington this fifth day of November, in the year of our Lord, 1924, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and forty-ninth.

By the President CALVIN COOLIDGE.
CHARLES E. HUGHES,
Secretary of State.

Tried and Tested Recipes for the Thanksgiving Table

As the 27th of November approaches, the Thanksgiving Dinner becomes a matter of paramount importance in the mind of the housewife who is always alert for new ideas in the culinary art. Here are some tried and tested recipes for the Thanksgiving table, prepared by a home economics expert of long experience, which are sure to make the occasion double cause for rejoicing.

Chicken Pie (Southern Style)

Cook chicken until tender. Remove meat from the bones. Thicken the gravy. Line a deep baking dish with the following pastry, leaving enough to cover the top:

- 2 cups Flour 1 Egg beaten 1/2 cup Crisco 1 tablespoon ice water Lemon Juice 1/2 teaspoon Salt

Sift flour and salt; cut Crisco in with two knives. Add gradually the lemon juice and egg mixed together. Add enough ice water to hold the mixture together for rolling. When the baking dish is lined with the pastry put in a layer of chicken, then a layer of sliced boiled carrots and small boiled white onions. Season to taste; add another layer of chicken and so on until the dish is filled. Cover with gravy. Roll the rest of the pastry; cover, pressing edges together closely and make a few slits in the top to allow steam to escape. Bake in hot oven, 450 degrees, until done.

Fluffy Biscuits

- 2 cups Flour 1/2 teaspoon Salt 1 teaspoon Baking Powder 2 tablespoons Crisco 3/4 cup Milk

Sift together four times, flour, baking powder and salt. Mix Crisco in very lightly with fork. Add milk slowly; roll out or pat with hands on floured board to about one inch thickness. Handle as little as possible. Cut with biscuit cutter first dipped in flour. Bake in hot oven, 175 degrees, twelve or fifteen minutes.

Sift flour and salt together. Cut Crisco in with two knives until the mixture is about the consistency of coarse meal. Add enough water—four to six tablespoons—to make a paste which clears the bowl. Form lightly into dough. Divide; roll out on slightly floured board about 1/4 inch thick.

THESE ARE OCCASIONS FOR THANKSGIVING

That we have bread enough and to spare for the hungry of the earth. That our ancient order of obedience and orderly change stands fast. For the hope of better social understanding and just-dealings. That our great opportunities of worldlike helpfulness remain. That the idea of brotherhood among the nations has taken root. For the true men and women who are giving lives of service. For leaders raised up and the opportunity of following them. For the open door of knowledge and the desire for truth awake in men. For joy of smile living and the unspoiled saints. For work and rest, the nation that continues, the ideas that soar. For the love of home in all of us and its satisfaction when it comes. That the world is bigger than we, and the joy of adventure which it brings.

THANKSGIVING

Gradually over the border. That shadows night from day. The sun had dropped and as quietly. As on its ceaseless way. But in the west those fingers of red light were and far. A light which awakened. A light which led to prayer. God's benediction shown me. The sunrise, the crimson and the gold. The dawn of the advent of evening. And all of departing day. For clouds edged with gold and silver. For heaven's lanterns fair. For all of earth and its wonders. I offer this, my prayer. I thank thee for friends who are loyal. For dear ones, for love that is true. For home and comfort it brings me. When day and my labors are through. For victories won over the tempter. For strength of my body of clay. For peace in our land of freedom. And hope for the coming day.
