our Senators Receive Clean Bill Of Health From Special Investigating Committee

roup Discloses Finding In Report Investigators Reveal That Articles Were Spuriously Forged

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(INS)—The four Senators named in the Mexican documents published in the Hearst Newspapers were given a clean bill of health today in a partial report submitted to the Senate by the special committee which investigated the documents.

The four Senators were Norris, Nebraska; Heflin, of Alabama; Borah, of Idaho; and La Follette, of Wisconsin.

The committee found that the documents were spurious and that signatures purporting to be of President Calles, who allegedly ordered the payment of $1,215,000 to the senators, were forged.

The committee reported it was not able to learn who manufactured the spurious documents and said it would go more fully into the question.

The special committee created by Senate resolution 7, to investigate alleged ordering of payments to United States Senators by representatives of foreign governments, makes this partial report setting forth the proceedings of the committee up to the present time.

The committee first summoned William R. Hearst, owner and publisher of the group of newspapers which printed facsimiles and translations of documents purporting to show that representatives of the Mexican Government had paid large sums of money to four United States Senators, for the purpose of influencing their actions toward Mexican-American Affairs. Mr. Hearst had before the committee 71 documents, some but not all of which had been published in his newspapers. He testified that he had no evidence, and knew of none, which would tend to show that any senator had received any such payments, and he testified that any senator did not believe that any senator had received any.

Aviators Take-Off On Endurance Hop

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Jan. 11.—(INS)—In an attempt to reclaim the world's endurance record now held by Germany, Clarence Chamberlin, trans-Atlantic flier and Roger Williams, commercial aviator, took to the air at 12:11 P. M. T. this afternoon with sufficient fuel to remain aloft 60 hours. The present record is 52 hours and 22 minutes, established in Germany last Aug. when the old mark set by Chamberlin and Lord Astoria was broken. Although the Chamberlins have only a fuel capacity of 50 gallons, only 440 were carried today, owing to the weight of the runway and the danger of taking off with the heavy load. Carl A. Shovey, secretary of the contest committee of the National Aeronautical Association, sealed the barricade just before the take-off.

HEADS OF FIRST NATIONAL DEFECT BETTER BUSINESS

Stockholders Hold Annual Session Tuesday When Two New Directors Are Named; Institution Shows Healthy Report

Following the annual stockholders' meeting of the First National Bank, officers and directors of that institution today voiced a general forecast of improved business conditions for Sanford and Seminole County during the present year. An optimistic view was expressed on the financial trend in the state and southeast in general and an even brighter outlook for prosperity in this community.

The First National Bank, it was revealed, begins the new year showing an unusually healthy condition. A comparison of the published statements of the close of the years 1926 and 1927 shows the cash resources of the institution to have increased more than $100,000. Other indications of the bank's progress during the past year were seen in the statement that quarterly dividends, amounting to 10 per cent on the capital stock, were paid and in addition a substantial sum was carried to the undivided profits account.

Announcement was made of the retirement of two members of the board of directors and the election of two new ones. Personal business interests, it was stated, prompted W. W. C. Smith and B. E. Squires, members for a number of years, to resign their places. W. A. Laffler, general sales manager of Chase & Company, and C. S. Lee, prominent Oviedo resident were elected to fill the vacancies. The retirement of Mr. Smith and Mr. Squires was the subject of general regret expressed by the other stockholders and a committee was appointed to draft resolutions bespeaking appreciation for their helpful counsel and moral support while serving on the board.

WILBUR URGES NAVY INCREASE BEFORE HOUSE

Declares Program Based On The Absolute Needs Of The Country And Not On Plans Of Rival Maritime Powers

Avers Move Is In No Sense Competitive

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Wilbur urged that the program based upon the absolute needs of the nation rather than upon the plans of rival maritime powers, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur vigorously advocated a congressional approval of the Navy's $754,000,000 building program today before the House Naval Affairs Committee.

The program calls for the following craft, to be constructed over a five year period: 25 cruisers of 10,000 tons displacement; 4 aircraft carriers; 2 large type destroyer leaders; 32 submarines. "It is true," Wilbur asserted, "that in determining this need the general board at all times has taken into consideration the condition of other navies, and their construction and replacement programs so far as they are known to us. But the program we are now presenting to Congress is in no sense competitive. It is based upon the need of our Navy as it is determined by the Secretary upon the technical advice of the general board."

Herald Begins Fund For Youth Who Lost His Arm In Accidental Shooting

Few people could endure what Robert Hall has suffered and still smile. Fewer still is the number who could face life with his handicap and be cheerful and optimistic about the outlook. Yet this Luke Mary youngster, he is only 11 years old—who had the misfortune recently to lose his left arm as the result of an accidental discharge of a gun, is the picture of happiness as he makes ready for life's battles.

By his family and close friends, he is the victim of a gun which discharged unexpectedly as he played in a boat preparatory to going on a little hunting excursion. In some unexplainable way the gun slipped from his grasp, firing as the trigger struck the edge of the boat. The youth's arm was almost shot away.

JOURNAL EDITOR OF JACKSONVILLE PRAISES SANFORD

John Temple Graves II Writes Interestingly Of This City In Column Appearing In Tuesday's Issue Of Publication

Praise of Sanford, its people and its possibilities, is contained in remarks of John Temple Graves II, editor of the Jacksonville Journal, who in his column in the front page of Tuesday's edition has the following to say about the city of ten times the size of Jacksonville.

In Sanford, Fla., the amarantine flower is a celery stalk. No one who attended the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner there last Friday evening can doubt the faith and fervor that have come to Sanford. Four hundred and seventy people attended the dinner and the program was held in an ordinary city of ten times the size of Sanford. But Sanford is an ordinary city. It is extraordinary not only because it is producing one-third of all the celery produced in the United States today and is in the richest county in per capita production in Florida but also because its people are entering the new year with a sort of faith that can move mountains.

Gator Basketball Team Loses Two To Georgians But Makes Fine Showing

UNIVERSITY of FLORIDA, GAINESVILLE, Jan. 10. (Athletic News Bureau)—Scoring a total of 63 points in their pair of engagements with Georgia, the 1928 edition of Florida varsity hoppen, while meeting with defeats in both games, won the commendation of the university student body, and the plaudits of all who witnessed the contests.

A sophomore team played a big portion of the entire first game with Georgia, and the newcomers to Florida varsity colors turned in a rare exhibition of pluck. With the exception of Captain Ion Walker, the other six athletes who saw service, Yogue, Crabtree, Smith, Woods Carruthers, and Vassick, are all sophomores, though they staged a last minute rally to capture the verdict 37 to 35—one of the most thrilling court battles ever seen.

Dr. H. O. Enwall, professor of philosophy, in delivering the dedication address, paid magnificent tributes to the late beloved president, Dr. A. A. Murphree, and to Athletic Director Yon, under whose present administration the new $50,000 gymnasium and basketball court was completed after standing a frame-work of raw steel for almost three years.

Saturday night the Georgia Bulldogs romped here in front for the second time, winning 10 to 20. Nine of the eleven players who were Florida players are sophomores, and for the able manager they performed against the experienced machine from Athens staid at this stage of the 1928 campaign a fine tribute to the little Napoleon of Florida Athletics, Warren "Brady" Cowell.

"Cannonball" Clyde Crabtree, employing the art of goal-hoisting as he did his football duties. Just a short time ago, would be a high-point man for the team, getting 14 markers, Friday and 9 Saturday for a total of 23.

Fans Speculate On Tunney's Opponent For Next Summer

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Although he has lined up Tommy Loughran, light heavyweight champion, as a possible opponent for Gene Tunney next summer, promoter Tex Rickard apparently has a hunch that Jack Sharkey will beat Tunney here Friday night and thus become eligible for a crack at the heavyweight title.

Johnny Buckley, Sharkey's manager, is expected to confer with Rickard following his arrival here.

Concerning a Sharkey-Tunney scrap next summer, Rickard told Buckley over long distance telephone that he "wanted to discuss the chances of such a fight."

These developments were made by the true apparently declared between Tunney and Rickard. The champion recently defied the promoter by declaring that he would fight twice this year, but only once for Rickard, the promoter now declares, however, that "everything between Gene Tunney and myself is all right."

Loughran, who signed a contract giving Rickard an exclusive option on his services until next year, is now engaged at the chance that he might be matched with Tunney. He is not yet in a position to be weighed in, but he is expected to weigh in at 175 pounds.

The boxing men's cashflow now today was that Tunney will engage in two bouts this summer; that Jack Dempsey will be one opponent; and that Sharkey, provided he eliminates Heenev, will be the other.

RATS MAY OFFER CURE FOR CANCER IS NEWEST CLAIM

Dr. Thomas Lumsden Has Given Considerable Effort To Experiment And His Results Are Hailed With Enthusiasm

LONDON, Jan. 10. (INS)—Important cures of cancer in rats, which may lead to further knowledge of the treatment of the dread disease in humans, have been effected by Dr. Thomas Lumsden, the well-known British cancer researcher.

Dr. Lumsden works at the famous Lister Institute in London, with a semi-State grant, and his results during the past few years are claimed to have been more encouraging than those of any other cancer researcher.

Dr. Lumsden works at the famous Lister Institute in London, with a semi-State grant, and his results during the past few years are claimed to have been more encouraging than those of any other cancer researcher.

He has found that the blood of a rat which has a cancerous growth contains a substance actively hostile to that growth, and his object has been to discover how this substance can be increased and the forces of defense reinforced.

When the growth is not very big, Dr. Lumsden believes that the forces of the body can fight and win their own battle if they are alive to the danger and angry enough against the intruder. Usually the development of cancer is insidious and gradual, so that the body never becomes angry until it is too late, and Dr. Lumsden's idea is to give the enemy to show its true colors early in the struggle.

Jack Sharkey And Heenev Will Battle For Chance To Fight Champion Tunney

NEW YORK, Jan. 10. (INS)—Jack Sharkey was threatening to turn up absent today when commuted to go under the anaesthetic so that the state Athletic commission could diagnose him right into or out of the portrait for Friday night, up rose a circumstance upon its rear legs to indicate that a large time might be had by all on the occasion in question.

Heenev, among other things, has featured an unresponsive chin during his brief career in America. He was hit full upon the beard many times and oft in the Paulino and Risko fights, so that it was with vast disbelief that I was informed that, strictly with the aid of his frontispiece, he had halted an official but none the less influential punch for several minutes. He boxed in this land.

All of them got that way at least once, of course, and only the fact that the punching was said to have been done by Tommy Loughran serves to leave one slightly aggrieved. According to some accounts, Loughran couldn't break an egg because he can't afford to take a chance like that with his hands.

Some color, too, was lent the tale today when Eddie Harvey, associated with the Heenev management, admitted that all had gone none too well in the Loughran work out.

"Heenev got hit plenty," was Harvey's comment on the story, which coming from a fight manager, was tantamount to conceding the worst. However, no fight manager ever has submitted to a four-word interview and Harvey isn't any great hand of innovations.

"But," said he calling upon the exaltable qualification with rare presence of mind, "you must remember that Heenev developed in this country. He was away off balance with his punches when we first got him and, while we were changing his style, he was easy to hit."

He didn't say anything about being easy to hurt and the writer didn't press the point, since it may be true, anyhow, and if it is that is Sharkey's business, not mine. I am always in favor of Brannigans, provided my role is strictly that of an innocent bystander. I dearly love to see big, strong men writhe in agony upon the floor and, if all that strength isn't concentrated in the chin and torso, my chances of being injured are all the better. It may be recalled that Sharkey himself was tough but not to the point of irritation against Dempsey.

Rebels Of Sandino Remain Inactive As Marines Await Aid

MANAGUA, Jan. 10. (INS)—Although General Sandino's rebels, entrenched in the El Chipore area, are reported to have been receiving recruits during the past week, the situation is still quiet, with the Marines and Nicaraguan constabulary better prepared to give battle because of their own reinforcements.

In the hinterland there has been some enthusiasm among Sandino supporters, owing to the battle a week ago, it is reported and this has resulted in additional men joining the General's forces.

There are indications that the Marines are not planning to attack Sandino, until they may be certain of victory without large losses. It is even reported that some new efforts may be made at making peace with Sandino. Sandino's snipers are still active, but their efforts are proving more or less ineffective.

Rebels Of Sandino Remain Inactive As Marines Await Aid

MANAGUA, Jan. 10. (INS)—Although General Sandino's rebels, entrenched in the El Chipore area, are reported to have been receiving recruits during the past week, the situation is still quiet, with the Marines and Nicaraguan constabulary better prepared to give battle because of their own reinforcements.

In the hinterland there has been some enthusiasm among Sandino supporters, owing to the battle a week ago, it is reported and this has resulted in additional men joining the General's forces.

There are indications that the Marines are not planning to attack Sandino, until they may be certain of victory without large losses. It is even reported that some new efforts may be made at making peace with Sandino. Sandino's snipers are still active, but their efforts are proving more or less ineffective.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10. (INS)—Two desperate highwaymen lay dead here today as a tribute to the courage and deadly marksmanship of Sergeant Andrew Barry of the Chicago Detective Bureau.

In a scene that resembled a cross section of a western movie thriller, Barry last night dropped the two bandits with slugs from a sawed-off shotgun as they attempted a holdup at eighteen Street and Western Avenue.

A third bandit, was wounded after a chase. He escaped. He is believed surrounded in a lumber yard near the scene of the attempted holdup.

The shooting started after a jilted sweetheart of one of the highwaymen tipped authorities that the holdup would take place.
