

OWNER OF RANCH BRANDISHES GUN TO DEFY AUCTION

Zack Miller, Showman Of 101-Ranch, Fires Gun At Attorneys

MARYLAND, Okla., Mar. 25.—(A.P.)—Col. Zack Miller, rancher and showman, used a shotgun in a gesture of defiance yesterday as the personal properties of the famed 101 ranch went under the auctioneer's hammer.

After firing a shot which routed two attorneys, and barricading himself in the palatial ranch house, the elderly plainman cooled off and went back to his sick bed. The auction sale to satisfy the claims of creditors proceeded.

For several hours Colonel Miller, who founded the ranch with his two brothers, refused to permit anyone to enter the ranch headquarters, known as the "White House." Later he laid the shotgun aside and permitted Bruce Potter, Kay county attorney, and some of his friends admittance.

Miller explained the shot he fired while arguing with attorneys for Receiver Fred C. Clarke, in charge of the sale, was merely to scare them.

The shotgun charge was fired into the floor and neither attorney was wounded. Miller, who has been seriously ill and worried by business reverses resulting in foreclosure proceedings for the ranch and the closing of the 101 Ranch Wild West Show, had left his bed to confer with the attorneys.

Potter said Colonel Miller would accompany him to Ponca City "as soon as he is physically able."

"There are not enough men in Kay county to get me out of here," Miller declared after barricading himself in the mansion. "I have plenty of dynamite and will use it to prevent this sale."

Colonel Miller termed the auction "legal robbery." He told his attorney he had sufficient funds to prevent the sale with the exception of about $8,000.

Shortly before the auction got under way, Miller sent for Receiver Clarke. Busy selling saddles, buffalo and the other properties of the ranch, Clarke sent Attorney Neal Sullivan and R. O. Wilson to the "White House." The former showman complained to the lawyers that the receiver was selling not only ranch property but his own personal belongings. A three-cornered argument ensued.

Miller left the room and returned with the shotgun. The potter barricaded himself in the house with Zelma, "the elephant girl," former trouper in the 101 Ranch Wild West Show, who has nursed Miller, during his long illness.

A cordon of officers was thrown around the stately residence, but no attempt was made to arrest Miller.

"The White House" and homestead site are claimed by Miller and his divorced wife, while the ranch lands, comprising 110,000 acres, have been leased for a year upon court order.

City Will Have Team This Year In Ball League

president, business manager, secretary and treasurer and groups will be designated as teams to canvas the city in the interests of the club.

The selection of a manager will also be decided at the meeting, open to every baseball fan, and it is expected that the first practice will be held at the Municipal Park on Tuesday afternoon.

When it was decided that Sanford would enter a club in the league, R. A. Williams was appointed to represent the club at the first scheduled meeting of league directors and managers held at New Smyrna last night with nearly 30 men present.

At that meeting, which was one of the most enthusiastic of any since the league was organized, President J. T. Hogan, of Orange City, drew expressions from representatives from Winter Park, DeLand, Daytona, New Smyrna, Cocoa, and Sanford, which indicated that the league will operate as economically as possible and that clean-cut young players will be used as much as possible.

The advancement of baseball, the hope to gain publicity for Central Florida, and the general desire to promote a better spirit between the towns in the league, were the keynote of the meeting.

Peter Schaal, Sports Editor of The Sanford Herald, was elected secretary-treasurer of the league, succeeding Lawton Carver, Daytona sportswriter who will be out of the state a major portion of the summer. Mr. Schaal was also employed as publicity director of the league, a position he held semi-officially last year.

Several amendments were made to the league constitution, which is modeled after that used by Class D leagues in America. Important changes are: reduction of eligible players list from 20 to 18 men; adoption of Spalding baseballs and National League playing rules; increase in monthly club dues to $3.50, and decision to allow each club to decide what admission charge shall be asked in each town.

The league was tentatively divided into two halves of 20 and 25 games, with the first half to open Thursday, Apr. 17 and close on Thursday, June 23; the second half to open on Sunday, June 24, and close on Thursday, Sept. 15. The two winners will meet in a series to decide the championship of the league.

Opening day games will be played at Sanford, New Smyrna, and Winter Park, with DeLand meeting Sanford, Daytona meeting New Smyrna, and Cocoa meeting Winter Park.

League directors were announced as follows: J. R. Jackson, Winter Park; Buck Sawyer, Cocoa; T. K. Aggar, Daytona Beach; Wm. Page, DeLand; Asa Langford, New Smyrna.

League managers will be as follows: Joe Gufford, Winter Park; W. E. Brown, Cocoa; Police Chief J. B. White, New Smyrna; R. N. Sessions, DeLand; Mike Holsch, Daytona Beach.

League secretaries will be: Taylor Langford, New Smyrna; L. E. Fenner, Cocoa; E. F. Bellows, Winter Park; Lawton Carver, Daytona; Curtis Lindstrom, DeLand, and Peter Schaal, Sanford.

The next meeting of the league will be one for directors, managers and secretaries, to be held at New Smyrna, Tuesday night, Apr. 12, at 7:30 o'clock, in the City Hall.

That new faces will predominate in the league this year, and that the league should be stronger and better financed than ever before, with prominent civic leaders from each city taking an active part, is indicated in facts gathered at the meeting.

New Smyrna, which will take the place of St. Augustine this year, is entering in a genuinely civic-minded fashion. Mayor Swoope, is president of the club, Police Chief J. B. White, will act as manager, and Asa Langford, a trade body official is secretary-treasurer. Every civic organization in New Smyrna is back of the club. County Commissioner, T. K. Aggar, is a director and backer of the Daytona entry, Buck Sawyer, secretary of the Cocoa Chapter of Commerce, is managing direc-

Tension Between Windy City Tailors England, Ireland Tell How To Dress Increases Gloom For Easter Parade

London, Mar. 25.—(A.P.)—Growing tension between England and Ireland has cast gloom, in political circles at any rate, over the first great public holiday of the year which began last night and for many will last until Tuesday morning.

Partly on account of the Irish situation Prime Minister MacDonald will not go to Loughborough for Easter, but will remain close to London in case of sudden developments.

President de Valera's cabinet in Dublin considered the position yesterday and its reply to the British government may be published at the end of the week. The text of the British communication has not been published but it is assumed the note follows the lines of Wednesday's statement in the House of Commons by J. H. Thomas, secretary for dominions, who affirmed the mandatory nature of the oath of allegiance to the crown and payment of the Irish land annuities, both of which de Valera has said he will abolish.

The land annuities are collected from Irish farmers in repayment of loans made for their account so they could buy out their tenements. Heretofore they have been remitted to England at the rate of 3,000,000 pounds a year.

ment in the world, has considered manufacturing economies resulting from a greatly increased volume of business."

According to word received from Dayton, the Frigidaire plants have already taken place upon a larger production schedule, necessitated by the great increase in volume business which immediately followed the resumption of production.

Frigidaire Company Effects Reductions

The spotlight of the electric refrigeration industry rests upon Frigidaire, following its recent announcement of sweeping price reductions, according to Hill Hardware Co., local dealer.

"For the first time in the history of electric refrigeration it is possible to buy a household refrigerator of known value, backed by General Motors at very low prices," he said.

"Already we have received scores of inquiries from people who were amazed to learn that a genuine Frigidaire with all its known value, dependability and superiority can be had at present prices. This is possible only because the company, the largest manufacturer of electric refrigerating equip-

Hoover Sees Relief Far Distant Unless Budget Is Balanced

gress in sound efforts to reduce expenditures and adjust taxation.

"I have received many hundred inquiries from different parts of the country as to the prospects of balancing the budget and for other information connected therewith. I am confident that the undertaking of the representatives of both political parties to balance the budget remains and will be fulfilled. It is the very keystone of recovery. It must be done. Without it the several measures for restoration of public confidence and reconstruction which we have already undertaken will be incomplete and the depression prolonged indefinitely.

"For a clear view of the situation our people should understand that the deficit for the next fiscal year, excluding further reduction of the national debt during that year, is estimated at about $1,250,000,000. This follows a deficit of $500,000,000 last year and a deficit of over $2,000,000,000 this year, likewise calculated without reduction of the debt. These deficiencies are almost wholly due to decrease in tax receipts.

"We must eliminate this deficit for next year by the further reduction of governmental expenditures budgeted for the next fiscal year as sent to Congress amounting to about $4,000,000,000 after a reduction by the administration of $365,000,000 under the total for the current year.

"In considering possible further economies in expenditures we must not forget that of this total about $2,100,000,000 is of such character that it cannot be reduced; it is largely an inheritance of the great war through increase of payment on government obligations and the care of veterans and their families.

"In addition, our army and navy cost about $700,000,000. We should not further reduce the strength of our defense. Thus we must make our further economies mainly out of this balance of $1,900,000,000 remaining from the total of $4,100,000,000. Together with economies in the postoffice, as to which only the net operations are included in these figures.

"Out of this sum of $1,900,000,000 the many other vital services of the government must be carried on. Every reduction that can be made without serious injury to these services and injurious to our people should be effected.

"Further economies can be made, and I am confident will be made, through authority of the Congress to eliminate unnecessary functions of the government or of important non-essential activities together with business-like reorganization and consolidation of government activities.

"The appropriation and economy committees of the Congress are now earnestly engaged on all these problems. But when all this is done the balancing of the budget must be attained by an increase in taxation, which will rest on government revenues.

"Economics in expenditures or increase in taxes calls for sacrifices—sacrifices which are a part of the country's war on depression. The government's inability to pay its bills is the result of this depression. The government's inability to pay its bills is the result of this depression. The government's inability to pay its bills is the result of this depression.

"To continue to live on borrowed money only postpones the difficulty and in the meantime begets all manner of new evils and dangers, which create costs and losses to every workman, every farmer and every business man far in excess of the cost of budget.

"The American people are no less courageous and no less wise than the people of other nations. All other great nations of the world have been faced with even greater necessity during the past year in order to preserve their national credit. Their countries have increased their taxes far more severely than our deficit demands of the American people.

"One of the first requirements to the accomplishment of the absolute necessity of a balanced budget is that the people and all their organizations should support our part of the government to take the necessary steps to both reduce expenditures and

Murray Pleads For People In Tampa Address

ernor Murray threw away his cigar stub, brushed back his silver gray hair, thrust his right hand in his trousers pocket and stepped to the amplifier microphone.

"Prohibition is a congressional question, and a candidate for the presidency should address his time and efforts to matters in the sphere of influence of the executive office," he said. "The Eighteenth Amendment will be changed when the people elect representatives to Congress who will vote to change it, and it will not be changed as long as Congress votes not to change it.

"It is more important at present to delve into issues that touch the people's pocketbooks and solve the problems of where to get the price of a drink before we decide whether they shall get their liquor from a saloon or a bootlegger. The real question of the hour involves the nation's economic problems and the financial welfare of the people."

Governor Murray struck the keynote of his address when he said: "The most important duty of the government today is to preserve the great middle class, the farmer, merchant, mechanic, the professional man—except the professional man who is hired body and soul and doesn't even own his own conscience or his own conduct.

"We have had the greatest middle class the world ever knew, under a government made for the middle classes, and that is why the poorest of the poor, at ways could rise under this government—that is why we had an Abraham Lincoln.

"The way to bring prosperity back to the middle classes and to the whole nation, the way to make everybody prosperous, is to give everybody a job that will allow him to feed and take care of his family, and to give the farmer a market for his products.

"You can't bankrupt the farmer without bankrupting the little towns, and you can't bankrupt the little towns without bankrupting the whole country."

Governor Murray does not see an early end of the depression. "This isn't the last winter," he said. "Next winter will find even more unemployed, and 1933 and 1934 will be still worse. But this year and will be the last of the people's elect that party to get into power Mar. 4 that knows what to do and has got the cloutings to do."

The governor expressed opposition to a New York presidential ticket, spoke strongly and at length in favor of a merchant marine to develop world trade, pleaded for a return to the fundamental principles of constitutional government, deplored the power of political patronage as an influence upon elected candidates, expressing an independence from that influence, and told of his attack upon the proposed federal sales tax. He advocates separation of religion and government.

ATHLETICS MAY WRITE NEW PAGE IN BALL HISTORY

Enter 1932 Season in Shape To Capture 4th Straight Flag

By BRYAN BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer.
LOS ANGELES, Mar. 26.—(A.P.)—Philadelphia's Athletics face the new season with a chance to write a new page in baseball history in the American League. With three consecutive championships behind them, if the White Elephants can make it four in a row they will do something no other American League club has been able to accomplish in the 31 years of its circuit's existence.

Twice the New York Yankees under the late Miller Huggins ran up a string of three consecutive pennants, but each time they stumbled on the threshold of the record-breaking performance. Detroit too had its chance in 1910 but the Athletics blasted the Tigers home.

McGraw's New York Giants won four straight years in the National League from '23 through '26, but the record is theirs for the American League championships if they are equal to this task.

Another team of Yankees will be the entry to beat if the stars have been yoked right by the base-ball muck-slinger.

The team led by Connie Mack is as good as it was last year but probably no better. The Yankees, with the ambitious Joe McCarthy at the helm, seem definitely favored.

Only the playing of the schedule will say whether the offensive led by Al Simmons, Mickey Cochrane and Jimmy Fox and the defense of Lefty Grove, George Earnshaw, Rube Walberg and others can be overcome by a brilliant array of younger stars, including Frank Crossfit, a great short-stop, the perennial Babe Ruth and pitching which may prove spotty.

The early railbirds seem agreed that New York and Philadelphia carry most of the championship chances, with Washington rated no better than third. If Walter Johnson's Senators uncover some extraordinary pitching they will have to be considered. Carl Reynolds, a fast outfielder who can hit, has been added to the lineup, and should prove a great help. Washington, however, seems weak in infield reserves, a condition in which it is not alone.

Cleveland, Detroit and St. Louis should make the fur fly in a race for the other first division berth and the Red Sox of Boston and White Sox of Chicago may take a hand in the same struggle. It would not be surprising to see a sanguinary battle right down to the wire by the five clubs.

The Indians and Tigers face uncertainties in their infields, both having strong outfields and should get good pitching. If Cleveland develops a shortstop who can approach manager Kogor Peckinpaugh when he was at his best and Detroit should uncover a capable third baseman, some revised calculations will have to be made. Detroit seems willing to go the extreme limit in giving younger players their big chances.

The Red Sox finished strong last year and promise to pick up approximately where they left off.

ST. PETERSBURG, Mar. 26.—(A.P.)—The Cincinnati Reds fell on Bruce Cunningham like a ton of bricks yesterday to gain a 7-5 exhibition victory over the Boston Braves. Cunningham gave Dan Howley's sluggers 10 hits in five innings, including a homer by Leo Durocher with a man on base.

Fred Lewis, who joined the Braves Thursday, played in the outfield for three innings and managed to get a double off Larry Benton.

PORT MYERS, Mar. 26.—(A.P.)—With activities at the Philadelphia Athletics training camp held in check by rain, Connie Mack's players devoted themselves yesterday mostly to resting and discussing the ill-fortunes of their team mate, Mickey Cochrane.

The star batsman was resting comfortably yesterday in the hospital at Lakeland and hoped to be on his way to Philadelphia Sunday.

Much depends here, too, on the class displayed under fire by the younger baseball generation.

Under a new manager, Lew Fonseca, still a capable player and the only pilot in the league participating as an active name in the lineup, the White Sox must eperthent. If the Chicago pitchers who were stars just a little while ago, come back and Smead Jolley's catching will permit him to use his big bat, the club may fool the experts who have picked it to finish last.

ATLANTA, Mar. 26.—(A.P.)—The Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League defeated Atlanta of the Southern Association 5 to 4 in an exhibition game yesterday.

WINTER HAVEN, Mar. 26.—(A.P.)—The Philadelphia Nationalist, in the opinion of Manager But Shotton, are in better condition for this time of the wintering season than they have been in recent years, but several players are at present handicapped by minor ailments.

George Davis, outfield star of the American Association last year, has a painful charley horse. Hal Lee, another flycatcher, also has a charley horse, but is recovering.

A sore arm and swollen ankles are Chuck Klein's complaint. Frank Watt has a stiff arm, Ray Bengie is complaining about a soreness in his shoulder, Jim Elliott has a painful case of sciatica.

BRADENTON, Mar. 26.—(A.P.)—With Sylvester Johnson and Jim Lindsey combining to hold the Dodgers to one hit, the world champion St. Louis Cardinals defeated Brooklyn 7 to 3 yesterday.

Coatsville connected with the Dodgers' only hit—a single off Johnson in the fifth. He was the only Brooklyn player to reach first base during the five innings Johnson pitched.

The Dodgers were saved from a shutout with getting a hit when Lindsey walked Boone and Frederick in the ninth. Both advanced on an infield out and Boone scored while Adams was throwing out Shipp.

The Cards pounded Clark for four runs and nine hits in the first six innings and continued their attack off Moore in the seventh.
