Larry Strickler (right), Southern Bell Telephone Co. manager in Sanford, presents Sanford Mayor Lee P. Moore with copies of the new 1982 telephone directory. Southern Bell customers have been receiving their directories in the last few days. However, if you have not received a copy by next Friday, Jan. 22, call the delivery office at 323-2141 after Jan. 26.

New Phone Books Being Delivered

The 1982 edition of the Southern Bell Telephone Co. directory is being delivered this week to homes and businesses in portions of Seminole and Volusia counties.

With a scene of a palm tree at sunset on the cover, the directory has 64 more white pages than the 1981 edition. The Yellow Pages have added 42 pages from last year.

"The printing of the directory is an enormous undertaking which many people just take for granted," said Larry Strickler, Southern Bell manager in Sanford. "The 1982 Sanford white pages took 112,304 pounds of paper, 973 pounds of glue and 2080 pounds of ink. The directory covers required 5069 pounds of paper."

This year's book features the community-services phone number pages, the customer guide pages that help make telephone service easier to use.

For the first time, the Yellow Pages feature optional red ink for customers who want to highlight their listings and ads.

The customer guide pages consist of four sections. Each section is designed to answer customers' questions about using their telephone. Subjects ranging from how to make an international call to money-saving tips are addressed in this easy-to-use set of instructions.

"The telephone directory can provide the answer to almost any question a person may have about his phone. Yet many people take it for granted. This 1982 directory, like its predecessors, emphasizes making the telephone more convenient to our customers," said Strickler.

Guilty Of Arson

Woman Enters Plea In Jones Case

By LEE DANCY
Herald Staff Writer

A Sanford woman charged with arson in connection with a fire that destroyed a suspended Sanford policeman's home has pleaded guilty to the charge.

Patricia Williams, 34, of 176 E. Wilbur Ave., is one of three persons charged with arson in connection with the blaze that destroyed the home of Sanford Police Officer Walter Jones, 46, of 1404 Lake Ave., Sanford.

Last Oct. 14, Jones was suspended from active duty with pay. The Sanford

Police Department, Seminole County Sheriff's Department and the Seminole-Brevard state attorney's office are currently investigating his possible connection with the arson.

The two others charged with arson are Sharon Lee Meeker, 31, of 606 Park Ave., Apartment 1, Sanford, and James Michael Williams, 35, of Orlando. All three were arrested Oct. 9.

On Dec. 30, 1980, a fire destroyed a house belonging to Jones at 839 Jerry St. in the Goldsboro section. According to two sources, Jones valued the home at between $30,000 and $40,000.

The Seminole County Sheriff's Department values the property at $40,000, and court records at $30,000. Both figures, according to those two departments, were furnished by Jones himself.

Ms. Meeker is scheduled for trial either this week or next, said Chief Assistant State Attorney Chris Ray. James Williams, who was charged with arson some time after Ms. Meeker and Patricia Williams, has not been scheduled for trial yet, Ray said.

Ms. Meeker and Ms. Williams previously pleaded not guilty to the arson charges in a court appearance before Judge Robert McGregor on Jan. 4. When Ms. Williams appeared for a second court hearing Thursday to answer to amended charges, however, she pleaded guilty, Ray said.

No charges have been filed against Jones, an 11-year veteran with the Sanford Police Department.

Ray said earlier, however, that once the investigation involving Jones is completed either he will be reinstated or the matter will go before a grand jury.

Hookup Payment Alternatives Eyed

When a builder applies for a sewage-treatment hookup permit in Seminole County, at least $450 must be laid on the line with that application.

That was the only conclusion agreed upon at a meeting Thursday morning between county officials and representatives of home builders in the county. The meeting was scheduled to try and work out a payment arrangement between the county and builders on sewage hookup fees.

Late last year the County Commission decided to levy a $525 charge on each sewage-treatment hookup application received.

A $450 portion of each of those fees must be paid to the former owners of the county's Consumer Utilities Treatment Plant to pay off the county's $764,000 debt. Any payment agreement decided upon between county builders and the commission must consequently include at least one whole payment of $450, said County Environmental Services Director Ken Hooper.

When the commission decided to require the $525 per-hookup fee, it did so to encourage developers to either use hookup permits they have been granted or return them. The Consumers Utilities plant is currently tapped out on its million-gallon-per day capacity, Hooper said.

The commission hoped to free up some of the approximately 300,000 gallons of currently unused capacity by requiring developers to either pay the fee or return their unused hookup permits.

Developers have been reticent to return the permits, and there are some questions about whether the county can legally demand their return before they expire, said County Administrator Roger Neiswender.

County officials and builders have until Feb. 8 to work out some kind of payment agreement on the hookup fees, Hooper said.

Two weeks ago representatives of the home builders made a proposal that one-third of the $525 be paid during the first year the permit is granted, with the other two-thirds paid in the following two years.

The commission essentially rejected this proposal and directed the builders and county officials to meet and work out another alternative.

Three alternatives were considered at the Thursday meeting, Hooper said.

The first option would have developers paying $450 when they make their application for the permit. Two years after the permit is granted, developers would be required to pay the final $75, he said.

On top of this first payment arrangement considered, developers would be required to pay at least $8 each month as a basic flow fee, whether the hookup was made or not. This $8 payment would begin the day the permit is granted.

Alternative No. 2 would require a full $525 payment at the time of application. Also included in this proposal is a requirement for a $7 minimum monthly flow fee beginning one year after the permit is granted, Hooper said.

The third alternative would require a $450 initial payment when the application is made and dividing the final $75 payment over a monthly payment for 12 months. Developers would be required to pay $6.25 per month on each of their hookup permits for a year, he said.

Power Outages Hit Area

Cold Wave Returns To Seminole

By JANE CASSELBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

The temperature dipped into the 20s again this morning after a cold wave moved into Seminole County in the wake of Thursday's heavy rains and damaging 50-mph winds.

A total of 548 Florida Power & Light Co. customers experienced power outages as the result of the high winds in the Sanford district, which includes Sanford, Deltona, Osteen, Geneva and Chuluota, district manager Bruce Berger said today. The day shift was held over and crews worked through the night to restore power, he reported late this morning.

"There were 12 large groups of customers involved, as well as other miscellaneous outages," he explained. "We had 14 individual transformers out, nine locations where wires were blown down, five poles down, and 11 locations where limbs had fallen onto the lines."

He said most of the problems were in the south Sanford area, extending all the way to Seminole Community College.

The Sanford Fire Department responded to four reports of power lines blown down Thursday between 1 and 6 p.m. One of these, at Sanford Airport at the end of Mellonville Avenue, caused a brush fire, extinguished in five minutes by the firefighters.

Other locations were at 511 Myrtle Ave., 18th Street and French Avenue, and 1301 W. 16th St.

Florida Power Corp. spokesman Tracey Smith reported 10,000 of its customers were without power Thursday between 7:30 and 10 a.m. as the result of wind damage and fallen trees.

Of those, 3000 in the Casselberry-Altamonte area lost their electricity at 7:30 a.m. during the violent thunderstorm that passed through. In the Casselberry area, Smith said, a tree fell, taking down one of the main power lines feeding the area, but the power was restored by 9:30. Power was restored to most customers by about 10:40 a.m. There were three different main power lines downed by trees as well as smaller isolated problems, he said.

As far as this morning's cold weather, Smith said, "We're in good shape this morning, with only a few isolated outages. Even on Jan. 12, when we hit a new winter peak for energy use, we were able to serve all our customers."

Seminole County Agricultural Extension Agent Frank Jann said the three inches of rain that drenched Seminole over a 36-hour period replenished soil moisture and prevented more wind damage to crops, trees, pastures and plants dehydrated by the freezing temperatures earlier this week. There was some flooding in spots, but it drained off without causing damage.

Jann said the overnight low at the Agri-Center came at 4 a.m., when the thermometer registered 37 degrees, and after that it began to get warmer. The high humidity caused the heavy frost, he said.

State Gets Snow, Storms, Tomado

United Press International
Following Tuesday's record freeze, a new cold front sliced through Florida on Thursday, bringing snow flurries to Pensacola, thunderstorms to central Florida and a small tornado to Lehigh Acres, near Fort Myers.

The tornado cut an intermittent path about 100 yards wide through the community, about 10 miles east of Fort Myers, stopping just short of the Lehigh Acres Elementary School.

No one was injured, but the small twister that hit shortly after 9 a.m. caused an estimated $250,000 damage, authorities said. It tore the roofs off two homes, uprooted trees, ripped down power lines, damaged a handful of out-buildings and porches, caused a small brush fire and a leak in a propane gas line that was repaired quickly.

Some traffic signals were blown down in the Tampa Bay area and about 19,000 Tampa Electric Co. customers were without power for awhile. Power outages also were reported in Apopka and the Rosemont subdivision in Orlando.

NATION IN BRIEF

Drivers Resume Search, For Bodies, Crash Clues

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Search operations resumed today for bodies and crash clues from a sunken Air Florida Boeing 737 amid reports the jet may have been inadequately de-iced.

Divers zeroed in on sunken "black boxes" that may help explain why the plane clipped a commuter-packed bridge Wednesday and slammed into the Potomac River, killing 79 persons, seconds after taking off in a snowstorm from Washington National Airport.

Economic Upswing Forecast

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation faces a few more months of bad economic news before entering a "vigorous recovery," Reagan administration officials say.

The Federal Reserve Board was to report on the country's industrial production in December today, figures likely to reflect the slide into recession. Production has been falling since July.

Ford Has A 'Better Idea'

DETROIT (UPI) — The Ford Motor Co. has rejected a plan by the United Auto Workers, already accepted by General Motors, and says it will propose a "better idea" for pulling automakers out of financial disaster.

Ford negotiators — said by the union to be scared off the UAW-GM plan by possible antitrust violations — were set to present a full-blown contract proposal to the UAW today. General Motors bargainers were scheduled to continue informal discussions with their union counterparts.

Kmart Becomes Drive-In

WARMINSTER, Pa. (UPI) A Kmart employee who had just been fired walked to the parking lot, got into his Toyota and drove it through the front of the store, injuring six people, police said.

The sedan shattered outer and inner sets of double glass doors and knocked over racks of clothing and stands of merchandise. The car came to rest about 60 feet inside the store in this suburban Philadelphia community.

Estranged Husband Was Gunned Down

Midway Woman Indicted In Murder

A 29-year-old Midway woman has been indicted by the Seminole County grand jury on a charge of murder in connection with the Dec. 26 shooting of her estranged husband.

Gloria Jean Harrison Neal of 2301 Dollar Way also was indicted on a charge of aggravated battery in the wounding of Bernice Golden, 46, of 2291 Broadway St., Sanford.

Mrs. Neal is being held in the county jail under $10,000 bond. According to the statements of witnesses on file in circuit court, Mrs. Neal and an unidentified man entered the Club Two Spot on State Road 46 and Brissan Avenue about 6:40 p.m. and got into an argument with her husband, Ronald "Doc" Neal of Midway.

Mrs. Neal's companion entered the argument and was told by Neal to mind his own business. He didn't and Neal punched him, knocking him unconscious, witnesses said.

Mrs. Neal left the bar and returned 15 minutes later with a .38-caliber revolver. Neal grabbed Ms. Golden and tried to use her as a shield, witnesses said.

A shot was fired and Ms. Golden fell, wounded in the left hand and hip. Neal tried to run, but fell and was shot in the left thigh, witnesses said. He got up and made a dash for the door, but was shot in the back. He died a short time later.

CHECKS, CASSETTE TAPES RECORDS STOLEN

Burglars broke into a Sanford man's home at about 12:30 p.m. Tuesday and stole several bank checks, cassette tapes and record albums from the home.

Philip I. Bishop, 33, of 111 Wildwood Drive, said the burglars entered the home through an unlocked side garage door, ransacked the bedrooms and stole the items valued at about $30, Sanford police said.

CARS ROBBED AT D.A.V.

Two vehicles parked at the Disabled American Veterans (D.A.V.) building off Orlando Drive in Sanford were broken into at about 6 p.m. Wednesday and batteries from both cars were stolen.

Lucille Stoval, of 413 Willow Ave., Sanford, and Carol Hamann, of 358 DeCarlo Drive, Deltona, said thieves cut the cables on their car batteries and stole them while the vehicles were parked in the parking lot at the D.A.V. building. The batteries were valued at about $70 and $80 respectively, Sanford police said.

CONFIDENTIAL PAPERS STOLEN

A file cabinet containing confidential government contracts and security clearances for employees of the Florida Electrical and Transformer Company (FETCO) was stolen from the firm's Maitland office some time Wednesday evening.

According to sheriff's reports, burglars shattered a front window of the FETCO office at 109 Candace Drive between 5:30 p.m. Wednesday and 6:30 a.m. Thursday.

Burglars rifled file cabinets, but left a cash box containing $200 untouched, reports said.

Numerous expensive items in the office were not taken. Only the file cabinet with the confidential documents was removed, the reports said.

ROBBERY SENTENCING

A 21-year-old Maitland man who admitted being the gunman who held two Altamonte Springs undercover officers at bay while two accomplices robbed them of $18,000 being used in a drug deal has been sentenced to 26 weekends in the Seminole County jail.

Richard M. Singler also was ordered by Circuit Judge Robert McGregor not to own or carry firearms during a 10-year-probationary term which will begin after Singler serves his time behind bars.

Singler was arrested with two other men July 3 after they allegedly robbed two Altamonte Springs policemen at gunpoint during negotiations to purchase cocaine. The $18,000 was later recovered.

The case against one of the men, Craig J. DeMange, 27, of Maitland, was dismissed last week because he was not prosecuted with 180 days of arrest as required by state law. The state attorney's office dropped the charges against the second co-defendant, Robert J. Catledge, 24, of Casselberry.

Martin Luther King's 53rd Birthday Observed

ATLANTA (UPI) — Entertainers, politicians and civil rights activists gathered to celebrate the 53rd birthday of the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. today and an NAACP leader worked to have the day declared a national holiday.

Today's birthday observance, including a service at Ebenezer Baptist Church where King preached and another at his gravesite near the church, marked the end of a weeklong remembrance of King, who was assassinated in Memphis, Tenn., April 4, 1968.

Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., the Rev. Jesse Jackson, head of the Chicago-based PUSH organization, and a host of Hollywood stars and civil rights workers were scheduled to join King's widow, Coretta Scott King, during the festivities.

Mrs. King, Atlanta Mayor Andrew Young and Bahamian Prime Minister Lynden O. Pindling planned to participate in the ecumenical service at the church.

Delegate Walter Fauntroy, D.D.C., chairman of the Congressional Black Caucus, was scheduled to deliver an address at King's gravesite.

Boston NAACP President Joseph D. Feaster said he hoped to gather 50,000 signatures in a petition drive to have Congress declare King's birthday a national holiday.

A "Cultural Night Gala" was held Thursday night and emceed by actor Harry Belafonte — who earlier was awarded the Nonviolent Peace Prize named in King's honor. Among those attending were singers Stevie Wonder, Tony Bennett, Roberta Flack and activist Dick Gregory.

Kennedy spoke Wednesday night, praising King and his slain brothers, President John F. Kennedy and Robert Kennedy, for their work toward equal rights.

"Martin, Jack and Bobby had the highest ideals for this country," he said.

Observances also were planned today in Memphis where King had gone to support striking sanitation workers and was shot on the balcony of a motel.

James Earl Ray pleaded guilty to assassinating King and is serving a 99-year prison sentence in Tennessee. He has since denied he fired the bullet that struck King down at the age of 39.

Special Education Program Scheduled For Wednesday

The Seminole County Council for Exceptional Children and the county school district's Special Education Department, will co-sponsor a program on medical and educational diagnosis at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Winter Springs Elementary School.

Drs. Michael Pollack, pediatric neurologist, Stephen Albert, pediatrician, Stanley Hand, ophthalmologist, and Gail Davis, clinical psychologist, will discuss their roles in the education of children. There will be an opportunity for parents and interested citizens to ask questions of the experts.

A CEC general membership meeting will precede the program at 7 p.m.

The Council for Exceptional Children is composed of teachers, principals, psychologists, coordinators, parents and educators interested in the welfare and development of special education students visually impaired, emotionally handicapped, learning disabled, mentally retarded, physically handicapped, hearing impaired, speech and language handicapped and gifted.

Prices Up Slightly

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Wholesale price inflation climbed a moderate 0.3 percent last month, keeping the overall rise in dealers' prices for 1981 at the lowest level in four years, the government reported today.

The Labor Department's Producer Price Index for December showed only food and energy rose in price at the wholesale level. Other products generally stayed even or became cheaper.

The December increase held the inflation rate for dealers to 7 percent in 1981, the lowest rate since 1977's 6.9 percent rise.

It was a considerable improvement over 1980's 11.8 percent jump in prices at the wholesale level.

The Labor Department said energy prices ended the year by advancing moderately — driven upward by natural gas prices — but the rise was still in sharp contrast to the dramatic increases that marked the beginning of 1981.

Consumer food prices at the wholesale level rose only 1.5 percent last year, a significant improvement over the 7.5 percent advance the previous year.

November's price index climbed 0.5 percent and October's was up 0.6 percent. All figures were seasonally adjusted.

The Producer Price Index for December was set at 275.3, which means it cost dealers $275.30 to buy the same goods that cost $100 in 1967.

The department said the index for consumer food edged up 0.1 percent following three months of modest declines. Leading the upward trend were prices for fresh and dried vegetables, which soared nearly 22 percent after falling for the previous three months.

Beef and veal prices were virtually unchanged in December, the department said. They had decreased sharply in both October and November.

Price for pork, eggs, poultry and rice continued to decline.

Energy costs went up 0.7 percent despite cheaper gasoline during December.

Should The CIA Have Cried Wolf?

The Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation says his agency "never confirmed" that a Libyan assassination team actually entered the U.S. In an interview with ABC television, FBI Chief William Webster said: "The only confirmation we've been able to give is the existence of certain information and threats coming from various parts of the world and derived from U.S. and abroad sources." He added, "We certainly had enough information and continue to receive enough information to require us to take appropriate investigative steps, and we will continue to do that."

Columnist Jack Anderson says that the "credibility of the reported threat" is diminishing, and that a 40-page CIA report which outlined the Khadafy threat was full of holes.

President Reagan recalled U.S. employees from Libya, halted travel to Libya, and stepped up security measures after the hit squad reports surfaced. Khadafy denies the assassination plot, but his credibility is questionable.

Was President Reagan misled by his security advisers?

We agree with the FBI chief that any assassination threats must be taken seriously. America has been wrenched by assassinations.

But the public handling of the threat is cause for concern. The Secret Service receives hundreds of threats against the president, but keeps them secret. But when the CIA got into the act, the Libyan threat was leaked, and then confirmed by administration sources. The Congress reacted with concern touched with fear, while our allies were skeptical, and the world looked on with wonder.

It is possible that the hullabaloo forced Khadafy to call off the killers.

It is also possible that Khadafy duped the U.S. into looking like a fool.

The affair shows the danger of allowing the international CIA domestic powers. Even with the best intentions, the CIA depends on information from questionable sources, and plays by rules abroad that would violate the U.S. Constitution.

Perhaps there was reason to cry wolf. Khadafy is certainly dangerous and wily. But each time danger is cried by the CIA, and the presence of assassins is not confirmed by the FBI, the credibility of the CIA, and of America, is diminished.

Dangerous Games

The North Koreans were playing with fire when they launched large-scale war games without advance warning Dec. 7.

It turns out U.S. troops and naval vessels went on a full-scale alert. Warships of the 7th Fleet in the Sea of Japan steamed toward the Korean peninsula.

The matter was brought to the attention of the North Koreans recently at a meeting in the Korean truce village of Panmunjon. The U.S. representative, Rear Adm. James G. Storms, proposed that the North Koreans provide prior notice in the future, and they chose to ignore the advice.

The North Koreans are making a mistake. The United States and most all European countries including East Germany and the Soviet Union agreed at Helsinki in 1975 that 21 days' advance notice must be given for large military maneuvers. This agreement is of great importance to the countries of Europe.

The North Korean maneuvers included joint air, ground and naval operations. There were parachute drops and amphibious landings. The maneuvers were picked up by satellite and monitored by AWACS reconnaissance planes based in Okinawa.

Adm. Storms said the war games dramatically increased tension throughout the Korean peninsula. "As a result, our side naturally became seriously concerned about your side's intentions."

BERRY'S WORLD

"Super Moms' pull sleds MUCH faster!"

By LEE DANCY

Organized athletics are great for teaching youngsters how to coordinate their efforts with other people and forcing them to compromise on certain occasions.

Not all youth participate in team sports for one reason or another, however. I was one of those teen-agers who never attempted to join a single organized sports program.

You may say to yourself, "Gee, that's not too healthy." You're probably right. From the age of 14 until I turned 18 I "hung out" a lot.

The neighborhood teen center was a good place to kill time. Every so often, however, the city police would drive up and tell us to either go inside the club or leave the area.

In fact, we often found ourselves being chased away by the cops. When we asked city officials why there weren't more activities for us, we were told about the many sports programs available.

Most of us weren't athletes, though. If we didn't want to go to a movie or bowling, we usually found ourselves "hanging out."

Providing constructive activities for young people is expensive. A city or community-sponsored youth activity requires supervision, planning and the money necessary to make the event interesting to the young people it is designed to attract.

Now that I'm 25, I realize that entertainment is up to the individual. If you want to just sit around, that's fine. But an interesting use of leisure time requires effort to make plans and carry them out.

Whether you are young or old, you make your own fun. Young people between the ages of 12 and 16 are at somewhat of a disadvantage, however, because they do not drive.

Even youth who carry a coveted driver's license do not always have access to a car. When the weekend rolls around, the majority of young people must rely on either their parents, feet or bicycles for transportation.

Rather than make the plans to go to a movie, bowling, putt-putt, roller skating, surfing, boating, water skiing or some other constructive use of leisure time, many young people simply sit at home and watch television, or hang out as I did.

As a reporter and former kid, I'm interested to know how Seminole County's youth CONSTRUCTIVELY uses its leisure time. Are you a good planner for fun things to do, or do you wait for things to happen around you?

I am sort of running a survey here. What I want to know is how you put free time to GOOD use.

As I said before, I know athletics is good use of free time, but adults do most of the organizing for youth. I want to know how clever the youth of Seminole County are at making their own fun. A few guidelines—spending time at the local pin ball arcade may be fun, but you can only pump so many quarters into those machines. So playing electronic games and pinball that costs a quarter a game is out.

A variation which might be acceptable, however, is an electronic game tournament held at someone's home. Whatever.

Hanging out is definitely excluded as something constructive to do with your free time.

I am sure you folks find ways of entertaining yourselves in many different ways. If you are between 12 and 17, write to me:

DON GRAFF NATO'S New Year

The North Atlantic alliance enters the new year as both a winner and a potential loser.

In the latter case, it is the problem of Greece, which for reasons having nothing to do with collective security but everything with its ancient feud with Turkey is distancing itself from NATO's integrated commands.

The issue is air and sea jurisdiction in the Aegean, which the new Greek government refused to share with the Turks. Premier Andreas Papandreu has not gone as far as he seemed to be promising left-wing supporters in last year's elections, nor as far as the right-wing army junta went in 1974, when NATO declined to take action to counter the Turkish invasion of Cyprus.

Greece is not withdrawing outright from all NATO military involvement, merely letting it be known that it will be sitting on its hands henceforth.

The loss is more apparent than real. The Greek-Turkish antagonism has always taken precedence in the policies of both countries over the obligations of their paper alliance. Its southeast flank has thus always been more of a problem than a strength for NATO. That situation is unlikely to change much whatever Greece does short of going Communist, which some of his more vehement opponents think it has already come close to doing in turning to Papandreu.

In any case, NATO's partial loss of Greece has been offset by the gain of Spain. That development has a significance beyond the limited purpose of mutual defense that is NATO's ostensible justification for being.

It marks, if not the beginning of a new era in Western Europe, certainly the delayed closing out of an old one.

Spain, so long as Francisco Franco lived—and when he finally went, his influence lingered—was the last vestige of the pre-World War II order in Europe. Most Americans probably have forgotten, if they were ever very clearly aware, how deeply loathed Franco's Spain was in the immediate post-war years. A creation in large part of Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy, it was a constant reminder of what the rest of Europe had suffered from those two regimes.

Any suggestion that Spain be brought into the Western alliance could raise some of its members to a fighting pitch faster than anything the Soviet common enemy might do. Never mind Spain's strategically advantageous location. Never mind that neighboring Portugal, a founding member in good standing, was at that time no more familiar than Spain with the meaning and practices of democracy.

Spain was special, and when the United States acquired base facilities in the '50s and '60s, the arrangement had to be handled on a strictly bilateral basis.

That Spain now has made the NATO grade speaks volumes as to the extent of the political transformation of the country in the past six years.

Militarily, the alliance is not gaining much that wasn't available before. The major sea and air bases continue under shared Spanish-American control.

A Touch Of Purple Prose Divinity

WASHINGTON — Not since the late Evita Peron has the world seen a first lady like Imelda Marcos. The beautiful onetime song pluggler and beauty-contest winner has always been unabashedly ambitious. Some regard her as the relentless genius behind her husband's dictatorship in the Philippines.

Imelda's ambition extended to her daughter, Imee; she wanted the girl to marry someone suitable. Imelda's first choice was England's Prince Charles, who—to Imelda's disappointment—did not choose Imee as his queen.

Instead, Imee eloped with Tommy Manotoc, a handsome athlete who did not come up to Imelda's giddy social standards. The young couple's "Romeo and Juliet" story stirred worldwide interest when Tommy vanished on Dec. 29, after dining with Imee in a cozy Manila restaurant.

The Manotoc family—longtime political foes of President Marcos—suggested he had his daughter's lover kidnapped. But some members of the Manotoc family really suspect that Imelda was behind Tommy's

"That's funny — I didn't even know I was sick!"

ROBERT WALTERS

Almost High Comedy

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Hey, has anybody here seen a five-man Libyan hit squad?

Then again, it could be a six- or seven-man assassination team. Or perhaps two hit squads of five men each. We think they're trying to sneak into this country through Canada — or maybe Mexico.

Did we say Libyans? Well, they were dispatched by Libya, but this fiendish plot might actually involve three Syrians, two Iranians, a Palestinian, a Lebanese, an East German — and "Carlos," the world's most infamous terrorist.

The purpose of this evil scheme is to kill President Reagan. But, then again, they might be forced to settle for less — members of his family, the Cabinet or the White House staff.

Well, maybe there aren't any Libyan hit squads in this country after all. It's possible that Libya's despotic leader, Col. Muammar Khadafy, concocted the plan but never got around to actually implementing it.

In fact, it's possible that those clever devils never even intended to send any hit squads to the United States but instead engaged in a devious "disinformation" operation to make us look like fools while chasing the rumor.

That stylized chronology suggests that the Reagan administration's handling of the Libyan hit squad contretemps in recent months would have qualified as high comedy if it wasn't such a deadly serious matter.

The delicate situation demanded discretion and security, but the White House turned the affair into a sordid propaganda operation that produced embarrassment for everyone involved.

A trio of the federal government's premier intelligence and law-enforcement agencies — the Central Intelligence Agency, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Secret Service — emerged looking like Keystone Kop organizations.

The White House looks equally foolish after several weeks of countenancing — if not orchestrating — a publicity campaign of daily news leaks about purported new terrorist dangers.

The high (or low) points of that campaign were statements from Reagan himself: "Our information on this entire matter has come from not one but several widespread sources. We have complete confidence in it... We have the evidence."

Anti-sniper squads were ostentatiously posted on the White House roof. Added to the presidential motorcade were decoy limousines and a "war wagon" — a small truck supposedly loaded with munitions necessary to subdue terrorists.

Government officials leaked word that the assassination teams were equipped with bazookas, grenade launchers and portable ground-to-air missiles capable of shooting down the president's plane.

The president, we were told, was so terrified that he decided not to venture onto the south lawn of the White House — probably the most heavily protected piece of property in the country — to light the National Christmas Tree.

But 10 days later, he had no qualms about wandering around a sprawling golf course in Palm Springs, Calif.

His wife, we were told, was so fearful that she abandoned plans to do the family's Christmas shopping and instead dispatched surrogates to buy gifts at local stores.

But 10 days later, Vice President George Bush — who, unlike Mrs. Reagan, is in the direct line of succession to the presidency — had no qualms about busting into the local Brooks Brothers outlet during its post-Christmas sale.

The White House claims that all of the hoopla may have deterred the assassination plot, but there is a more efficient, less gaudy method of achieving that goal — an unmistakably firm diplomatic message from Washington to Tripoli.

That message should have informed Khadafy that the United States was well aware of his intentions.

EDUCATION WORLD

Move Over, Preppies

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
UPI Education Editor

Move over, preppies. Here come the "ruggies."

The word comes from Frank Persico, dean of students at Catholic University in Washington, D. C., to describe a new type student emerging on college campus. Persico and his associate dean, James Brooks, claim to have identified the new species.

Ruggies wear their collars down, hate shirts bearing status animal symbols, prefer rimless or wire-rim glasses, wear non-designer jeans or cords, wear athletic shoes with socks, stash a modest wallet in backpack, favor an open smile, don't consider overshirt or jacket a must for campus wear. Persico and Brooks claim "ruggies" can be identified other ways.

The new breed, they say, is characterized by mental ruggedness, on one hand, and a non-extremism, on the other. They are both career-oriented and concerned about upholding social justice.

"In essence, today's college students have been able to benefit from the successes and failures of their counterparts of the last two decades, and have adopted what they view as being the best of both," he said. They are, in other words, a synthesis of hippie and prep.

A little history about campus types: —The late '60s spawned hippies, many of whom fought for social and political causes. —The late '70s bred preppies, known for their concern for image, self and career success.

Persico and Brooks claim the ruggie's non-extremism comes out in attitudes in a number of areas outside academics. Examples:

—Ruggies realize material luxuries are not the be-all and end-all. "Today's students are saying there are other things, too. They are beginning to ask again how they can better society."

—"Students still feel the need to escape but they're not choosing hard drugs." Persico says ruggies are more informed about the dangers of drugs and are paying heed to that information. They steer clear of hard drugs due to the danger of damage to career success.

—Ruggies borrow some aspects of sexual attitudes of students of the last two decades and reject others in favor of a synthesis of their own. "The onus of not being married seems not to exist in premarital sexual relationships," says Persico. "But none the less students want to feel some kind of long-term emotional commitment to each other. The casual one-night stand is not common among today's students."

—Ruggies, unlike preppies, do not narrow in on someone to "marry right." Ruggies go for informal dating. Groups of ruggie couples go out together. Social mixing in groups is big.

—Ruggies enjoy dressing formally a few times a year. Homecoming. Once or twice a year for big dances.

—Ruggies are very aware politically, a part of their mental ruggedness.

Imee, who dearly loves her father but quarrels with her mother, confronted the president with the news of her secret marriage. Tommy later told his family that Marcos had given the star-crossed lovers his blessing. When Imee expressed concern over her mother's reaction, the president reassured them, saying, "I'll handle her," sources told my associate Lucette Lagnado.

Imelda's latest project, meanwhile, suggests nothing less than divine status for Marcos and herself. It is a lavishly illustrated book she arranged for her husband on his 64th birthday. At a reported cost of several hundred thousand dollars, Imelda commissioned prominent Filipino writers to do the purple text and an artist to paint the full-page color plates for the book.

Ostensibly, the volume is the legend of Malakas and Maganda, "the strong and the beautiful" mythological figures who were the parents of the Filipino race, according to Tagalog folklore.

But as the story unfolds, a not-so-subtle change occurs in the text and illustrations: The legend of Malakas and Maganda becomes intertwined with the equally legendary exploits of Ferdinand and Imelda. The illustrations show the president as clearly re-creating the mythic strength and wisdom of Malakas, while the first lady becomes indistinguishable from the divine Maganda.

In royal prose, the birthday book has this to say of Marcos: "He was born with the seeds of leadership; molded on righteous since infancy; prepared to be better than the ordinary man; purified so that he might travel the path to nobility — to greatness."

Imelda's hired hacks were even more sycophantic in their treatment of the provincial girl who clawed her way up from poverty to the presidential palace. "She was taller than the ordinary child, long-limbed, with a well-proportioned body that was rounded, not bony," the authors rhapsodized. The girl's bearing "even then was noticeably aristocratic," they wrote.

"She was tall, with the bearing of a princess, but not haughty; product of a blue blooded mold yet without arrogance," the book declares. "She displayed humility but was self-assured and confident. She was tender and affectionate, yet strong-willed and principled."

This paragon of all virtue is scarcely recognizable to those who have dared to challenge Imelda's ruthless climb to power and wealth. Such a shameless attempt to transform a onetime beauty contestant into a goddess would be embarrassing if it did not reflect the coldblooded ambition that has always driven Imelda Marcos. Divinity is just another tool for Imelda's singleminded construction of worldly power and wealth.

Footnote: Imelda charms foreign leaders with her beauty and grace. She is popular in America among the conservative high and mighty. She is a favorite, for example, of Richard Nixon, whom she persuaded to dance a Filipino fandango at an elegant soiree in her Waldorf Towers hotel suite.

Citizens Group Opposes Power Tower Corridor Issue

There was a hot time in the old town of Geneva Monday night.

The Geneva Citizens Association's regularly scheduled monthly meeting at the community hall was opened by the president, Arthur H. Vaughn, at 8:00 p.m. Mr. Holtzer delivered a prayer of thanksgiving to God that America still affords its citizens the freedom to assemble.

Mrs. Lorraine Whiting, secretary, read the minutes of the November meeting, followed by a financial report given by the treasurer, Mr. Bill Myers. When the preliminaries were over,

Mrs. Margaret Cammack, president of the Owners of Seminole County, Inc., gave an update on the progress of this organization's efforts to make its voice heard at the State of Florida's Department of Administrative Services hearing on the "power tower issue." The hearing over the controversial Florida Power and Light tower route from Georgia to south Florida began Monday at the Chateau Brevarian Resort, Daytona Beach.

Mrs. Cammack's group has the backing of many civic organizations such as the Geneva Citizens Assn. and a similar group in Christmas, Fl. She has also met with county and state officials throughout Florida prior to the hearing.

The citizens of Geneva are concerned that over 389 pieces of property in the community stand a chance to be touched by the proposed F P & L corridor. Mrs. Cammack and her researchers have developed what they call a "preferred corridor," and they plan to recommend using the "existing corridor of towers near I-95 for the new lines."

Mrs. Cammack stressed that in Florida Power & Light's Application for Corridor Certification, Geneva had been referred to as an area including "Lake Geneva, Lake Cochran, other small lakes and creeks, and the town of Geneva."

She strongly emphasized that Lake Harney had been omitted as well as the Lake Harney Water Well, Southerland's air strip, the unusual flora in Geneva, including the oak hammock, hardwood forests, cypress dome property and the "Geneva Bubble, a fresh water spring that might be affected if the proposed lines follow F P & L's route through Geneva.

Most of the 44 citizens present at the meeting expressed their concern, and many stated they would be attending the Daytona Beach hearings to register their concern.

Jim Post, the new director of the Lighthouse Youth Ranch, was the second party to address the GCA.

Jim explained the ranch's operations and goals, stating that it was owned and operated by the Youth for Christ, a national organization.

Many questions were thrown out from the floor to Mr. Post, and for over an hour he calmly attested to the Lighthouse's organizational structure and operational guidelines.

Mr. Post affirmed that the young people ranging in age from 12 to 19 who come to the ranch for help are in distressing family situations, usually divorcing parents, and are not juvenile delinquents.

Gardening

Grow Herbs Year-Round In Florida

Planting a herb garden is one of the best ways to enjoy year-round gardening in Florida. Herbs are easy to grow, they require very little care, and they don't take up much room. Even if you don't have a large backyard you can grow herbs successfully. A small garden bed, a window box, or even a few clay pots can give you a plentiful supply of aromatic herbs throughout the year.

Urban Horticulturist

Herbs are rapid growers, and they have a wide variety of uses in the home. They can be used fresh or dried, and when dried, they'll keep for a long time. A good garden soil that's free of weeds and close to a water supply will keep your herbs healthy and growing rapidly. If you can, plant herbs on a narrow strip of land, preferably at the border of your vegetable garden. This will keep your herbs easy to reach.

If you scatter them across a wide garden plot, you'll end up having to walk over the plants to reach and tatter them unless you can provide some pathways within your garden. Of course, if you're growing herbs in window boxes or clay pots, this won't be a problem.

Herbs vary considerably in their needs for sunlight and cool or warm temperatures. For specific information you'll need to check in an herb culture book you can find at almost any bookstore, or on the backs of seed packages. I'll describe a few of the most common and popular herbs for you.

DILL is probably the easiest and the hardest herb you can grow. It's usually planted in late fall and early winter because of its ability to withstand cool temperatures. It may also be planted in the spring.

Dill isn't particularly fussy about its soil — any all purpose soil that's suitable for your regular garden vegetables is fine for dill. And, another plus, dill is rarely bothered by any diseases or insects. Fresh dill leaves add excellent flavor to salads and cream sauces, and as a dried herb, dill is well known for the distinct flavor it gives to pickles.

Another popular herb enjoyed by Florida gardeners is SWEET BASIL. This herb is an annual, and it can be replanted in the same area year after year. Basil is also used fresh and dried. It is widely used as a flavoring for soups, meats and fish. One word of caution: Don't over-plant this one. A few basil plants will usually provide more leaves and flowers than an entire family can use in a year.

SWEET MARJORAM is also easy to grow and quite popular. It adds unique flavor to soups and salad dressings, but the overwhelming characteristic of sweet marjoram is its fragrance. When the herb is dried, it is often used as a sachet to sweeten linen closets, and clothes storage chests.

Obviously, the list of herbs that grow very well in Florida is quite lengthy, so I won't be able to go into all of them here. If you can keep in mind just a few points about herb gardens, maybe you can find out the virtues of some of these other herbs yourself.

Remember that herbs are generally very easy to grow, and can be adapted to either outdoor gardens or indoor container growing conditions.

And for just a small amount of effort, growing herbs can provide you with year-round gardening satisfaction.

MRS. MITCHELL SCHACTER

Miss Hampton, M. Schacter Exchange Vows

Teresa Hampton and Mitchell Schacter were united in Holy Matrimony on Dec. 26, 1981, at 4 p.m., at the Geneva Church of Christ. The Rev. Ralph Brewer performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Bonnie Hampton, Geneva. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Schacter, 756 Gretna Court, Winter Springs.

Given in marriage by Robert J. Brady, U.S. Army, the bride chose for her vows a white tulle gown fashioned along the bouffant silhouette. The lace-trimmed basque bodice featured off-the-shoulder puff sleeves. A lace and pearl headpiece held her lace trimmed fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a silk keepsake cascade of red roses interspersed with baby's breath.

Susan Tyler attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a burgundy gown with a matching lace capelet. Her nosegay featured white snowflake pompons surrounding a red rose. She wore a halo of the same flowers in her hair.

Bridesmaids were Linda Hamman, Christina Creech and Peggy Hill. Rachel Harrison was flower girl. Bridesmaids wore gowns identical to the honor attendant's and each carried a single red rose.

Ivan Schacter served his brother as best man. Ushers were Jeff Cruz, Brad Morley and Bill Montcrieff.

Following a reception in the home, the newlyweds departed on a wedding trip to Lake Buena Vista Royal Plaza.

The couple are temporarily at home in Altamonte Springs before moving to Fort Carson, Col., where the bridegroom will be stationed with the U.S. Army, Military Police Corps. The bride is employed in Central Bookkeeping Inc., Flagship Bank of Seminole.

'Perfect' Son Too Picky For Ma

DEAR ABBY: I'm a widow with a 36-year-old son, and he's my problem. All his life he's been a perfectionist. Picky, picky, picky!

He buys a house he thinks is perfect, then he tears it up and remodels it. He remodeled the same house twice. Nothing ever suits him. His jeans have to fit perfect. He went to the tailor's twice because he wasn't satisfied the first time.

His nose went twice, too. He had his father's nose. (I fell madly in love with that man. All the girls went crazy for him, even if he did have a big nose.) My son thought he would never get a girl because of his nose, so he had it done over by a plastic surgeon. It didn't suit him, so he went back and had it done again.

He finally got a girl, but she didn't marry him for his nose — she married him for his money, and now they're divorced. (I had to pay for the divorce, too.)

Do you think he will ever support himself? I love my son, Abby, but I'm sick of hearing, "What's wrong with me, Ma?" Please tell me, who's nuts? Him or me?

HAD IT IN FLORIDA
DEAR HAD IT: Neither one of you is nuts, lady. You're a soft touch for a son who's hard to please and knows how to get what he wants. He may never support himself. And why should he as long as he has you?

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "Nameless in Maine" could have been written by me a few years ago. My husband never took an interest in our sons when they were little. Like "Nameless," I knew he loved us and was a good man, but knowing how hard he worked to support us, I counted my blessings and kept quiet.

Your advice to "Nameless" was terrific. I hope she tells her husband that she needs his help in raising their children, and they both should get counseling from professionals.

When our oldest was 15, he rebelled and defied all authority, and because he and his father had no relationship, all the responsibility fell on me. I sought help from school counselors and the Family Service Counseling people, who all said the same thing: "Get your husband involved!" So I finally revealed my true feelings to my husband and told him that deep down I was bitter and resentful because he was always "too busy" to spend time with our sons. Abby, it was the smartest thing I ever did.

My husband said his mother had always handled the children, and he was brought up to believe raising children was the mother's job. He said he thought I wanted it that way because I never complained or asked for his help.

Today our sons are fine Christian young men who have a good relationship with their father. Much bitterness and many problems could have been avoided if I had been honest with my husband from the beginning, instead of trying to do it all myself. Please print this for other parents to see.

Brantley Matmen Try To Simulate JV's Win

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

Usually one looks for the older athlete to set the example for the younger one.

That was not the case, however, at Seminole High Thursday night during the Seminole County Junior Varsity Third Annual Wrestling Tournament. The Lake Brantley Patriots placed grapplers in 12-of-13 weight classes to up end perennial champion Lyman, 146 1/2-132.

Captain Doug Peters' first-year Lake Mary team was third with 113 1/2 points, while Lake Howell (90), Seminole (78 1/2) and Oviedo (64) completed the list.

Tonight, Lake Brantley coach Ken Carpenter hopes his varsity Patriots will follow the example set by the junior varsity and bring home a Five Star Conference Championship at home in Altamonte Springs at 7.

Conference action continues Saturday morning with the semifinal round beginning at 10. Wrestlebacks start at 12 noon and the consolation finals are at 6 p.m. The championship finals begin at 8 p.m. Admission is $2.

Thursday, during the six-hour marathon, the Patriots junior varsity made use of third and fourth places finishes to end Lyman's two-year reign.

"Lyman didn't have a 220 or a heavyweight and that may have made a difference," said Tournament Manager Scott Sherman, who also coaches the Seminoles.

The Greyhounds of coach Paul Thoman had five firsts and two seconds, but the Patriots made up the difference with thirds and fourths.

Brantley had three firsts, three seconds, four thirds and two fourths. The

Prop Wrestling

Greyhounds failed to place any wrestlers in third or fourth place.

In addition to the 'Hounds' five firsts and Lake Brantley's three, Lake Howell added three and Lake Mary grabbed the final two championships.

Although Sanford didn't have any first place finishes, Sherman's crew did grab three seconds. At 141 pounds, the Tribe's Ira Jackson lost a tough 8-7 decision to Lyman's Donny Lockwood.

At 148 pounds, Seminole's Vince Williams fell victim to another Greyhound—Robert "Tootie" Quisenberry—when the sophomore Williams locked his hands four times and was disqualified. Quisenberry was ahead on points when it occurred.

At 220 pounds, sophomore Ed Rinkavage was pinned by Lake Brantley's Bob Wittick in the final period.

Other Seminole wrestlers to place included Eric Urena (115, fourth), Kent Troutman (122, third), Paul Mock (158, fourth), James Morgan (170, fourth) and Eric Branch (188, fourth).

Lake Mary's two championships were clutched by Bob Olson at 129 pounds and monstrous Robert Rawls at unlimited. Olson defeated Lyman's Kris Capes, 17-9, while the 320-pound Rawls flattened Lake Brantley's Rich Schumann quickly in the first period.

Other Rams' places were recorded by Billy Caughell (158, second) and Ned Kolbjornsen (188, second).

The 'Hounds' top spots were recorded by Robert Wragg (108), Donny Lockwood (141), Quisenberry (148), Arthur Simpson (158) and Eric Ayles (170).

Scott Roth (101), David Stacey (122) and Wittick (220) had the first place finishes for the Patriots.

"The competition on the JV squads has really improved since last year," Sherman said about the three-year event.

"There weren't near as many pins and the caliber is getting better."

The caliber won't come much better tonight than the Patriots' awesome foursome in the lower weights. Jack Likens (100, 9-1), Jamie Offenberger (115, 7-3), Jeff Horn (112, 10-0) and Rich Farmer (135, 9-0) make up the fabulous four.

"Those four are just about unbeatable," raved Sherman. "It should come down to Lake Brantley and Lyman, just like tonight. Seabreeze may challenge too."

The Greyhounds will try to offset Brantley's foursome with Mike Hill (223), Curt Schuster (148), Cory Stanley (141), sophomore Jay Hunziker (115) and unlimited Jeff Brannen. All five are seasoned veterans in tournament competition.

The Greyhounds received a shock when senior Todd Andrew found out he won't wrestle again. Andrew, a second place state finisher last year, broke his hand in football and it hasn't responded to treatment.

"It just won't heal, something to do with the calcium in the bone. It's really a shame. He was an outstanding wrestler," lamented Sherman.

Sherman sees Ronnie Watson (108),

Seminole's Vince Williams (top) on his way to a first-round victory.

Vince Clark (129) and Mike Thormann (159) are the best Seminole chances for a conference championship.

"Ronnie should have a real good chance," Sherman said about his 108-pounder. "Clark should do pretty well too and Thormann has an outside shot."

Mat action begins at 7 p.m. at the Brantley gym.

Panthers Pound Rams For 14th

By GEOFFREY GIORDANO
Herald Sports Writer

Finishing their big week, the Crooms Panthers defeated the Lake Mary Rams 81-36, racking up their 14th straight victory without a loss Thursday at Lake Mary.

Crooms tossed in 25 fourth-period points to seal their tremendous victory. James House was the game's leading scorer, as he piled up 15 Panther points. Teammates Jo Jo McCloud and Donald Grayson each hit 10, and Rod Alexander and Sam Redding, eight each.

This week, Crooms defeated St. Cloud, Oviedo, and Lake Mary, all away games, to remain unbeaten. And according to coach Chris Marlette, "This has been the toughest week for us. I had trouble getting them (Crooms) up for Vanguard, then Lake Mary. Lake Mary's a good team, well coached."

It appeared at the onset that the Rams would give Crooms a tough time, as they had when they last played the Panthers and lost by only five points. Rouse broke the ice for the game's first basket with 6:38 left in the first period.

Just before the shot, the Rams had a chance to score first, but missed three seemingly easy shots from close range. Sticky guard Scott Underwood scored for the Rams nearly a minute later after some extremely tense playing.

McCloud threw in a two-pointer, then Lake Mary's Rod Metz hit a long, high jumper, tying the score at four. Shortly thereafter, Grayson hit two baskets, and House one, to put Crooms on top, 10-4. Another Lake Mary basket made it 10-6, then, with five seconds left in the first, Ken Gordon nailed a shot for Crooms for a 12-6 first period advantage.

Prop Basketball

Midway through the second period, with Crooms ahead 14-8, Sam Redding was called for a foul, giving the Rams a chance for two points. But Kent Alloway missed both of them, and the Rams came out empty.

Later on, with the score up to 18-10, Crooms, a fluke play at mid court ended up in two points for Lake Mary when Grayson tipped a long throw by Lake Mary, which sailed directly into the basket.

Still, Crooms ran the score to 28-16, before Alloway made up for his missed charity shots with an excellent last second jump shot on the halftime buzzer, to put Lake Mary behind by 10, 28-18.

The third period ended in a deadlock, with both teams scoring eight points, for a 36-26 score. Both teams appeared to be shooting nervously under tremendous pressure, as shots rolled over the basket, bounced off the basket, or just completely missed the basket.

Crooms then came up with its "score 20 or more points in the last period" trick, hammering in 25 points, and holding the Rams to a mere 10 to nail down the game.

"Our press came on in the final quarter. Grayson was unbelievable in the second half," said Marlette. "He played well on the boards and came through for us. He was the difference in the second half for us — he made everything happen by playing aggressively."

The Crooms reserves did their usual good job in the final minutes, and newcomer Sean Glenn hit Crooms' final basket to round out the night's scoring and drop the Rams to 6-3.

Crooms will face Oviedo next week on Monday at Crooms at 6:30 p.m.

Thursday's results
Lake Brantley 81, Father Lopez 64

By JEFF KERR
Herald Sports Writer

Lake Brantley's Patriots reeled off 20 unanswered points including nine by seldom-used Mitch Gelb in the second half Thursday night to knock off Daytona Beach Father Lopez, 81-64, at Altamonte Springs.

The foul-marred affair saw 51 infractions whistled on both teams including three technical fouls on Lopez coach Jay Gordine who seemed to have trouble locating his place on the bench.

The Patriots of Bob Peterson raised their record to 4-9, while the Green Wave fell to 5-7. Brantley travels to Oviedo Saturday to take on the Lions.

Brantley, taking advantage of its good press and an ineffective one on Lopez's part, used a good running game to take a 22-11 first-period advantage.

Sixth man Fred Baber and left-handed guard Bill Powers paced the effort. Baber finished the night with 12 points plus a healthy nipper underneath the boards. Powers chipped in 19.

In the second quarter, Father Lopez took advantage of some sloppy Patriot passing and the fine shooting of Kenny Dudley, who finished with 18 points, to pull within eight, 44-36, at halftime.

Despite some cold shooting and foul trouble in the third quarter, the Pats raised their bulge to 10 points. They carried a 58-48 lead going into the fourth period.

Father Lopez immediately cut the Brantley lead in half when Mike Hughes hit two 20-footers for a 62-57 score. Gordine, however, picked up his third technical with 5:59 remaining in the contest and that, plus some unorthodox shooting by the Green Wave led to its demise and the Patriots run of 20 points. Gelb contributed his nine points during the surge, but the real marksman of the game was senior Tim Heath. The 6-3 center, who is the county's best free throw shooter at 84 percent, connected on an incredible 17-of-18 shots. He also hit three buckets from the paint for a game-high 23 points.

Bob Lynch threw in seven points and some fine ball handling to the Brantley victory. The Pats hit 35-of-52 free tosses. In the junior varsity tilt, the Patriots swarmed a smaller Father Lopez team, 77-56, as Dennis Groseclose tossed in 13 points. The JV Patriots are 5-5.

While the Patriots have tonight off, there is a full slate of action involving the rest of the county teams.

Bill Payne's Fighting Seminoles, coming from a 15-point victory over Lake Brantley on Monday, travel to Apopka to take on the Blue Darters.

The lone undefeated team in the Five Star Conference — Spruce Creek — comes to once-beaten Lyman for a showdown of conference powers. Both teams are loaded with quickness.

The Hawks' Jimmy Payton bewildered Sanford last Friday and he should match up well against Antoine "Pop" Lemon and William Scott, the 'Hounds' premier guards. Center Eric French is coming off a 23-point game.

Elsewhere, Greg Robinson's 0-10 Silver Hawks of Lake Howell are still searching for their elusive first win. They entertain Daytona Beach Mainland.

Oviedo, loser of four straight, tries to get turned around against Bishop Moore. The Hornets are led by 6-7 all-stater Greg Mullee.

Willie Richardson's Lake Mary crew had a week off, but tonight it goes to Montverde for a varsity encounter.

Tribe, Patriot Girls Cage Victories

Seminole's girls basketball team used an 18-2 streak in the third period Thursday night at Apopka to blow away the Darters, 55-34, in Five Star Conference basketball action.

The 'Noles improved to 7-1 in the conference and 11-3 overall.

Senior Robin Riggins threw in seven points during the decisive third quarter which allowed Sanford to boost its one-point halftime lead to 43-26 at the end of three periods.

"We pressed the third quarter which hurt them," said coach Ron Merthie. "We also rebounded pretty good that quarter."

Riggins and Tony Hardy each collected eight boards each, while Maxine Campbell handed out five assists.

Sharpshooting Cathy Jones led the scoring parade with 16 points. Riggins tossed in 13 and Hardy, 12. Evelyn Rivera had a game-high 18 points for Apopka. Merthie's squad hosts Daytona Beach Seabreeze Tuesday beginning at 4:45 in the Seminole High gym.

Closer to home, the Lake Brantley girls used a third quarter surge of their own to subdue scrappy Lake Mary, 55-44, in varsity basketball action at Lake Mary.

Lady Patriots' Rhonda Vazquez and Linda Trimble combined for 29 points Thursday night as Brantley ran off a 19-11 spurt in the pivotal third quarter. The Pats are 6-4.

"We didn't run our offense which helped them," said Rams' coach Bill Moore, whose squad fell to 7-3. "And, our shooting was atrocious. We shot 23 percent. We usually shoot 36."

Vazquez, though, didn't have any trouble putting the ball in the hole or anything else for that matter. She popped in 13 points, snatched 13 rebounds, handed out five assists and made three steals for an outstanding all-around evening. Her running mate Trimble fired in 14 points and grabbed 11 boards.

Lisa Gregory topped the Rams with 15 points and Peggy Glass yanked down seven rebounds. Michelle Schwartz, averaging in double-figures, mustered just four points.

In other girls basketball action Thursday, the Lake Brantley junior varsity hit 11-of-18 free throws in the fourth quarter to outlast Lake Mary, 36-34, at Lake Mary.

Michelle Brown, who converted four free tosses in the final three minutes, and Michelle Campbell, who knocked three free ones, led the Patriot JV with 14 and eight points respectively.

Perry Hits 36 Points

Perez Perry scored 36 points Wednesday to lead McCoy's Cleaners to their sixth win without a loss, 87-44 over Sanford Electric, in the Sanford Junior Boys Basketball League.

In Wednesday's other game, Tip Top edged Joe's Variety 42-38.

McCoy's Cleaners led 17-10 at the end of the first period, but Sanford Electric pulled to within one point before McCoy's stretched its lead to 38-25 at the half.

But McCoy's out-scored the Electric Company 24-11 in the third period and 25-8 in the second period to post its sixth straight win and remain unbeaten.

Perry was one of three players who finished in double-figures for the winners. Reginald Bellamy scored 20 and George Gordon added 14 for McCoy's, while Mike Burke and Bernard Burke just missed twin figures with nine and eight points, respectively.

Steve Hathaway paced Sanford Electric with 20 points, Ondraus Redding scored 16 and Patrick Dougherty added eight.

Although Joe's Variety out-scored Tip Top 25-14 in the second half, it was not enough to overcome a 17-point first half deficit.

JIM THORPE TROPHY

PLAYER OF THE YEAR:

KEN ANDERSON, CINCINNATI BENGALS

Anderson Has Everything, Except Super Bowl Ring

NEW YORK (UPI) — Life could hardly be much rosier for Ken Anderson.

He's the man who has everything. Well, practically everything, anyway. He has gotten all kinds of awards as the NFL's Player of the Year and Quarterback of the Year, added money for being in the playoffs and unimaginable satisfaction from landing on his feet this way after having been benched for ineffectiveness in the first game of the season.

And the best is yet to come for the Cincinnati Bengals' 32-year-old, 11-year veteran on Jan. 24 when he'll play in his first Super Bowl game against the San Francisco 49ers in the Silverdome at Pontiac, Mich.

"I think you get to appreciate all this more when you're older," he says. Ken Anderson doesn't always wear a hat, but then he doesn't have a big head. Nor is he likely to develop one despite all the accolades he's receiving.

He got his latest one Tuesday when the Professional Football Writers of America announced they had voted him the Most Valuable Player in the NFL for 1981. Anderson was presented with the Schick Trophy by Larry Fox of the New York Daily News, a past president of the writers' group, who had just flown in from San Francisco to make the award.

Fox, pinch hitting for Dick Connor of the Denver Post, the writers' current president who had to remain out West on assignment, explained he wasn't quite sure what to say in his presentation speech and had mentioned that to 49ers coach Bill Walsh in San Francisco Monday. Walsh was one of the Bengals' assistant coaches and worked with Anderson before leaving Cincinnati.

Milton Richman

When Fox asked Walsh for some information on Anderson, he said, "Bill Walsh told me 'I've felt all along Ken is the greatest forward passer in the NFL in recent years. Ahead of (Terry) Bradshaw, Brian Sipe and all the others. Joe Montana deserves to be thrown in there too, but I believe Ken's performance was the best in the league and he should be the MVP.'"

Anderson flew to New York especially to receive his award from the writers, then returned to Cincinnati where he and the rest of the Bengals will get ready Wednesday for their meeting with the 49ers.

Anderson couldn't help smiling when he heard that. "It's amazing," he said, still grinning. "The game hasn't even been played yet and Bill is giving me a snow job already."

The fact is Anderson and Walsh are good friends and respect for each other. The 49ers already have been installed slight favorites for Super Bowl XVI and at least part of the reason for that is Walsh. He devised a way to cope with the Dallas double coverage and the odds-makers now feel he'll come up with the key to open up the Bengals' secondary.

"He's a great motivator," Anderson said of Walsh. "He's always looking for new ways to get the job done. But as fine a coach as he is, I wouldn't say it's going to make that much difference in the outcome. He's not going to get there on the field."

Anderson flew to New York especially to receive his award from the writers, then returned to Cincinnati where he and the rest of the Bengals will get ready Wednesday for their meeting with the 49ers.

"Tomorrow morning we start," he said, looking happy about it. "San Francisco is a tough team. They beat us before (21-3 on Dec. 6) and we're going to have to play better to beat them this time. They're very physical. They cause a lotta turnovers. That was what they did with us."

Everywhere he goes, Anderson gets the same question thrown at him: How does he feel now over the fact Bengals' Coach Forrest Gregg jerked him back in September in the season's first game with Seattle after he had been intercepted twice? He answered the question again Tuesday without showing the slightest exasperation or impatience.

"I played poorly," he said. "I deserved to be taken out of the game the way I played. I think any quarterback is going to have one or two bad days over a 16-game schedule. I was just lucky to get mine over with quickly. After that first game, we went to New York the following week, the defense played very well and we came from behind to win. Things just took off from there."

So did Ken Anderson and he hasn't stopped going yet.

Breuer Burns Payne, Gophers Upset Iowa

United Press International

Minnesota won its Big Ten showdown with Iowa Thursday night.

The No. 9 Gophers, with 7-foot-3 Handy Breuer burning Iowa freshman Michael Payne for 22 points, posted a 61-56 victory at Minneapolis in a lesson that was not lost on Lute Olson.

"Our freshman got a real education from Breuer tonight," said Olson, coach of No. 5 Iowa. "Michael played like a freshman tonight and that's going to happen, especially against a player like Breuer, but I think the next time he'll do better."

Minnesota, switching from its customary zone to a relatively unfamiliar man-to-man defense, broke it open in the second half, with Breuer scoring 8 points in the burst. The Gophers trailed, 29-27, at halftime but moved in front, 53-40, before the Hawkeyes narrowed it at the finish.

The victory was particularly satisfying for Minnesota, which had lost its previous three games at home to Iowa. To accomplish the task, the Gophers relied on Iowa's specialty — defense.

"I thought we played great defense in the second half," said Minnesota Coach Jim Dutcher. "I thought we pretty well shut them down offensively in the second half."

Iowa, like Minnesota, is 10-2 overall and 2-1 in the league. In other Top 20 games, No. 2 Virginia pounded Wagner, 99-67; No. 17 Wichita State defeated Creighton, 69-56; and No. 19 Tulsa beat Drake, 71-54.

At Charlottesville, Va., Craig Robinson scored a career-high 24 points as Virginia rolled over Wagner and raised its record to 14-1.

Sanford Dominates SYSA Play

SYSA

South Seminole and Lakeview jumped out quickly in the Seminole Youth Sports Association's Basketball league as both schools went undefeated in opening weekend action. A total of 27 games played and 38 teams participating, shot the lid off the SYSA's fourth season of play.

South Seminole's 4th grade boys caught and passed Tuskwilla in an overtime thriller, 41-33. Three baskets by Hayward Beasley in the overtime period paced the Hurricanes. Beasley finished with 19, Jim Felter added 15 and Phil Florence pulled down a whopping 23 rebounds. Mark Schnitzer had 13 points for Tusky.

The SS seventh grade boys took Tuskwilla 48-18; the sixth grade also topped Tusky 25-18 and the eighth grade girls made it a clean sweep over the Warriors, 30-9. Darryl Relford and Darryn Crist led SS seventh with 13 each. Bryan McKnight had 10 for Tuskwilla. The Bolton boys, Garth and Brad, had six each for the SS sixth, John Flath and Gene Rivers added four apiece. Clay Walton led Tusky with six. Bea Miranda scored nine, Denise Stevens and Kristy Kaiser eight each for the SS eighth girls and Ava Gardner hauled down 25 rebounds — a girls' school record for SYSA at South Seminole. Tracey Coffin had four. Mary Kay Scott three for Tuskwilla.

Lakeview's wins were split between Rock Lake and Teague. The eighth grade boys topped Rock Lake 78-37. Chris Jackson had 16, Darryl Williams and Robert Hill 12 each, Ray Hartsheld eight. Matt Newby scored 15 for the losers.

The seventh grade boys won a pair: 69-9 over Teague and 50-18 against Rock Lake. Rod Henderson had 16, Oscar Merthle 11, Sam Hill 10 and Anthony Hartsheld eight in the first game. Morris had five for Teague.

Henderson had 13, Terry Miller nine and Merthle eight in the second game. Steve Shaker led Rock Lake with eight.

The sixth grade boys did the same — beating Teague 48-30 and Rock Lake 42-31. Jeff Blake was high with 19, Champ Davis had 10. Chad Groseclose led Teague with 11, Arnold had 10. Davis was the leader against Rock Lake with 10, Erwin Edwards had 12. Wes Weger topped Rock Lake with 11, Mandeville had nine.

The eighth grade girls bumped Rock Lake, 40-27. Temira Alexander was high with 19, Catherine Anderson added 10. Angie May led Rock Lake with 14.

In other action, Teague topped Milwee eighth grade boys, 33-48. Gene Hinkle was the top Tiger with 14, Mike Morris added 10, Rob Wiebe and Jim Jogerat six each. T.J. Scaletta was the Milwee big gun with 26.

In sixth grade boys games, Milwee won a pair beating Teague 38-21 and Tuskwilla 38-17. John Luce led Milwee in their first game with 12. Jason Arnold and Jack Campbell had six each for Teague. Mark Dubin was high in the second game with 10, Luce and Mike Whittington had eight each. Gary Peterson led Tusky with six.

Rock Lake 7th grade boys defeated Jackson Hts. 46-22. Kelly McClinnon led the way with 12, Eric Czerniejewski had 10, Danny Gibbs eight. Reichle and Merchart had six each for JH.

Teague eighth grade girls nipped Rock Lake, 37-38. Sherry Asplen was the leading scorer with 19. Jenny Dierker added nine and Kim Waln eight. Cindy Herman and Margaret Conroy topped Rock Lake with seven each.

In seventh grade girls action Rock Lake defeated Teague 35-3 and Tuskwilla beat Jackson Hts. 20-9.

Marcie Dabiel and Michelle Lloyd had eight each for Rock Lake, Sue Kingsbury five. Rackard scored two for Teague. Joyce Shaw led Tusky with 10.

Rock Lake sixth grade girls beat Jackson Hts. as Monica Frakes scored 18 and Triah Noel 12.

In County League action Seminole Red beat Seminole Gold 18-14 and Seminole White topped Seminole Maroon 16-11. Dan Streetman led the Red with six, John Lorden had five. Mike Ledbetter topped the Gold. Don Dabney was high for the White with eight and Bryan Lynch added six. Darren Lena scored four for the Maroon.

These were the only games reported — missing are four Milwee-Teague games, Rock Lake-Lakeview seventh grade girls; Rock Lake-JH sixth boys; Tuskwilla-Milwee seventh boys; and Jackson Hts.-Sanford eighth boys.

Nets Roast Bulls, 130-104

By United Press International
Chicago Coach Jerry Sloan knows better than to take any National Basketball Association team lightly. But his club seems to take a different view.

"I don't look at them (the Nets) as a weak team — who are we to look at anyone like that?" Sloan said after the Bulls were defeated by the Nets, 130-104, at the Meadowlands Arena. "You've got to come out and perform every night. You get paid to perform every night."

The Bulls dropped to 15-21, a full 10 games behind the Central Division-leading Milwaukee Bucks. They seemed to have trouble concentrating against New Jersey. New Jersey was led by reserve guard Darwin Cook's season-high 29 points and Mike O'Koren added 23.

The Nets led, 101-73, after three quarters, committing only two turnovers during the second and third quarters. Chicago was blown out by a 25-13 surge in the third quarter with O'Koren scoring 13 points.

Bullets 121, Pistons 114
At Pontiac, Mich., Jeff Ruland and Greg Ballard each scored 24 points and Kevin Grevey added 23 to pace Washington, which posted its fourth win in the last five road games and the third victory in four meetings

this season with Detroit. Trail Blazers 111, Rockets 100
At Houston, Mychal Thompson, Kevin Ransey and Jim Paxson scored 22 points apiece to spark Portland, which outscored Houston 24-14 in the final six minutes of the third period to lead, 83-80.

Suns 99, Knicks 89
At Phoenix, Ariz., Walter Davis sank two free throws with four seconds remaining to give the Suns the victory. Davis, still getting in shape after fracturing an elbow in the preseason, scored half of his eight points in the last 1:35, laying a Phoenix comeback from a four-point deficit with two minutes left.

Trail Blazers 111, Rockets 100

HOROSCOPE
By BERNICE BEDLOSCH

For Saturday, January 13, 1982

January 16, 1982

This coming year you might get off to a rather slow start, but don't let this discourage you. Once you get in track, your progress will be consistent and begin to speed up before your next birthday.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Steer clear of situations today where you know, going in, the odds tend to favor your opposition. Your line will come later. Predictions of what's in store for you in each season following your birth date and where your luck and opportunities lie are in your new Astro-Graph, Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Sometimes your hunches are dead on the mark, but today your intuition could play tricks on you, so be careful. Rely on your logic, not your inner voice.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Though a friend may not do things to your liking today, don't try to make that person over in your own image. Accept his or her faults, along with the virtues.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Teaming up with the wrong type of associates today could seriously impede your progress toward an important goal. Cohorts' aims must harmonize with yours.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Beware of tendencies today to make hard work out of something which should be rather easy. A sour or negative attitude is your worst enemy.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Complications could result today if you make unreasonable demands. Try not to dictate what others must do. Also, avoid being too possessive.

CANCER (June 21-July 21) This is not a good day to try to resolve an issue which could trigger an argument between you and your mate. Neither is likely to appreciate the other's views.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're very analytical and observant today. It will be easy to spot the faults in co-workers. However, it's best you won't bring these up.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your normal caution and prudence could desert you today. You may be tempted to take unwise risks against your better judgment. Think twice.

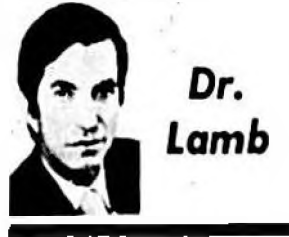

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) For one who is a master of diplomacy, you could do things today that are completely out of character and needlessly alienate allies.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Challenges tend to bring out your better qualities, but today the opposite might be true. You could bend under pressure because of a defeatist attitude.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Try to avoid activities today where you have to spend a lot of money in order to have a good time. Chances are you won't receive value for your dollars.

Cataracts May Not Require Surgery

DEAR DR. LAMB — I had my eyes examined recently as I knew I needed my glasses changed. The doctor told me I have cataracts. I'm now concerned about having the cataracts removed. I've heard that a new method permits them to be removed at an early stage rather than waiting until they are ripe. Also there is one way called an implant which is fairly new.

Dr. Lamb

Would you please tell me if it is possible to have them removed at an early stage and what the operation is called? DEAR READER — Before you start worrying about which operation to have you need to know if you even need an operation. The decision on whether cataracts should be removed or not is based mostly on two points. How good is your vision? Are cataracts your only problem or do you have other defects that may affect your vision? Many people have small cataracts that are not in the line of sight through the lens and really do not interfere with vision. These don't need to be removed. You will need to depend upon your eye doctor's evaluation of your eyes to get an answer that applies to your particular condition.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I read in your column about the little girl who developed rheumatoid arthritis. My grandson, also 12 years old, was diagnosed as having rheumatoid arthritis. However, when the treatment did not help he was referred to another doctor. He actually had rheumatic fever. His treatment was changed and he is doing fine now after about a year. I wondered if the little girl could also have the wrong diagnosis.

DEAR READER — Rheumatic fever is sometimes hard to differentiate from rheumatoid arthritis. Rheumatic fever can, and in some regions often does, cause red hot swollen joints, and inflammatory reaction. It is caused by a complication of streptococcal infections (strep throat, for example).

The cause of rheumatoid arthritis is not known, although there are encouraging leads in some cases, related to infections, too. With laboratory tests, such as those that measure the immune reaction to streptococcal infections, it is usually possible to separate the two conditions. And, of course, most cases of rheumatic fever can be prevented if streptococcal infections are diagnosed and treated soon enough.

If you need surgery the choice of the type of operation also depends upon the characteristics of your own eyes. You are asking me about the phacoemulsification technique. It is described briefly in The Health Letter number 13-6, Your Cataracts Are Coming, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. The phacoemulsification technique uses ultra sound and a small incision. Yes, you can literally have the lens of the eye removed at any stage of a cataract if it is advisable to do so. Yes, the cataract lens can

When France held the East-West cards they played in five clubs doubled, down two North led ace and king of hearts and queen of diamonds. South took the diamond ace and gave North a heart ruff for down two.

The bidding in the box took place with Great Britain East and West.

Rose of Great Britain led his singleton diamond against the four spade contract. South won in dummy and led the four of spades. Sheehan of Great Britain discarded the 10 of clubs.

This signal clearly showed the nine. It could not be from a short suit since Sheehan had raised clubs so it clearly marked him with the nine spot.

Therefore, after Rose took South's king of trumps with the ace he was able to underlead the A-K-Q-J of clubs to put East in with the nine. East led a second diamond and West was able to score the setting trick with his 10 of spades.

We are not sure if we would have let South play in four spades, but Rose certainly made the winning decision and then set the hand with the help of Hob Sheehan who was able to put his 10-9 of clubs to work.

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

Here is the hand that decided the match between Great Britain and France in the European championships.
