Neo-Fascists Vow To Protect Like To The Death On Jap Tour

TOKYO (UPI) — Neo-fascists vowed today to "fight to the death" to protect President Eisenhower from leftist demonstrators in Japan. The pledge made it almost certain there would be a battle at Tokyo International Airport when Eisenhower arrives June 18.

Police officials, already deep in plans on how to deal with the left-wing demonstrations against the President and the U. S.-Japan security treaty, were faced with the possibility they feared most. Clashes between leftists and rightists would be much harder to control than one-sided demonstrations.

Bin Akao, leader of the "Great Japan Patriotic Party" and an admirer of Hitler, said he would mobilize 2,000 members to greet the President, and other tough rightist groups promised to help. "I want to assure Eisenhower that the patriotic Japanese will fight to the death in order to protect the great leader," he said.

Akao, who caused an incident on the arrival of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer by waving a swastika flag, did not say how his forces hoped to deal with the overwhelming numbers of leftists. The fanatical Zengakuren student organization has threatened to call out 60,000 demonstrators at the airport. Its members have threatened physical violence against the president and Emperor Hirohito during their 12-mile ride from the airport to the palace.

The 3,500-member Sohyo labor union confederation plans to stage an anti-Eisenhower demonstration with each member wearing a black armband of mourning.

In the middle was the great mass of Japanese, who welcome the visit and the defense alliance with the United States.

The demonstration leaders planned several "rump" meetings including a protest at the airport Friday when White House Press Secretary James Hagerty arrives to make arrangements for the Eisenhower visit.

Meanwhile the president won new support in Congress for his decision to go ahead with his trip to Japan.

Several senators, including some Democrats who had questioned the advisability of the June 19 visit, endorsed the trip after hearing an explanation Tuesday from Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Among those convinced by Herter's statements at a closed-door session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) who earlier had suggested that it might be wise to postpone the trip until next fall.

Senators who heard Herter's testimony said they got the impression that Eisenhower considered the Far East trip his toughest diplomatic mission but well worth the risk.

They said Herter told them that cancellation of the President's visit in the face of left-wing Japanese opposition could mean the collapse of Japan's alignment with the West.

Phone Survey Results Aired

North Orlando residents jeered Tuesday that it would be more expensive to transfer from a Fairfax telephone exchange to a Winter Park Midway exchange system.

Al Bigelow told the town fathers at their council meeting, that results of the telephone survey being conducted show a four party line on the Midway exchange is almost $3 a month more than the present Fairfax system.

"Although the Winter Park telephone office is 12-quarter miles from our area as compared to 11-quarter miles for the Southern Bell Sanford office, the four party cost is $4.62 per month from Sanford and $7.05 per month from Winter Park for the same service," Bigelow, who is conducting the survey, added.

Nixon Best Bet For Nomination, Rockefeller Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said after a breakfast conference with President Eisenhower today he thought that, as things now stand, the chances were that Vice President Richard M. Nixon would win the Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller, who spent an hour and a half with the President at the special meeting requested by the Air Force, also said that as a draft possibility for the Republican nod.

Oviedo Council Plans Equalization Meeting

The Oviedo Town Council will sit as a board of equalization July 8 to make adjustments on city taxes.

The council Tuesday night asked that any resident who has a complaint on his taxes should file a written complaint to City Clerk Mrs. John Courier before the July 8 meeting.

The council also agreed to enforce an old city ordinance requiring trailer occupants to obtain a permit from the clerk.

The council authorized Police Chief George Kelsey to deal "harshly with any violators."

Supervised Arms Need Stressed

GENEVA (UPI)—Britain declared today that unsupervised nuclear disarmament, even if sincerely carried out, would be a "false illusion" which could lead to war within a year.

British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore declared at the 10-nation disarmament conference that the destruction of nuclear weapons would not destroy the knowledge needed to make them.

Ormsby-Gore said mere agreement to destroy nuclear weapons and the means of delivering them, as proposed by Russia, would "build false hopes and give false illusions."

"War could start within a year if someone could make a nuclear bomb," he said.

Before Ormsby-Gore spoke, Poland's Marian Naszkowski had endorsed Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's new disarmament plan.

Naszkowski emphasized Khrushchev's insistence that nuclear powers should not pass on their knowledge to other countries.

Publix Sells 30 Acre Tract

A 30 acre tract of land was purchased on Hwy. 17-92 near SR 436 by the Eastern Shopping Centers Inc., from Publix Super Markets chain for $315,000.

The large tract, purchased last week, had been originally purchased by the Publix chain in April from Frank Russell.

Sources disclosed a huge shopping center would be constructed on the land, but no time or details were released.

The tract of land has already been zoned for commercial use.

Ordinance Out

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The Supreme Court today threw out a city of Sarasota ordinance which prohibited the use of standard size billboard in certain locations.

The high court ruled the ordinance was "unreasonable and arbitrary."

Road Work

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Four-laning of about seven miles of U. S. Highway 1 in Brevard County will be finished in August, the State Road Department says.

The department said the $1,306,633 project is now 55 per cent complete. The portion runs from the south city limits of Rockledge to the north city limits of Cocoa.

Emergency Chile Quake Aid Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Key lawmakers in both parties called today for a stepped-up program of emergency aid for earthquake-torn Chile with special emphasis on housing.

They urged President Eisenhower to take all possible steps to back up the recent airlift of medical personnel and supplies with additional aid programs.

Sen. John F. Sparkman (D-Ala.), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he could not "think of a better use" for President Eisenhower's foreign aid contingency fund than aiding Chile to rehouse its homeless quake victims.

"Rebuilding after the earthquake would be a wonderful opportunity to demonstrate what can be done," Sparkman said in an interview.

Time Change

The County Commission meeting will start at 10:30 a. m. instead of 9:30 next Tuesday. The commissioners are scheduled to attend a change of command ceremony at the Sanford Naval Air Station at 9 a. m.

Bill Nears Okay

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A bill to prevent the scheduled July 1 reductions in taxes on automobiles, cigarettes, telephone calls, liquor, airline, train and bus tickets and corporation profits was expected to be approved today by the House. The measure would grant President Eisenhower's request that these taxes be extended at present rates for another year. The government would lose four billion dollars a year in revenue if the tax rates were allowed to drop.

Sanford Boat Club Sets Shrimp Boil

Anyone interested in attending is asked to call FA 2-8107 or NO 8-4983 before Thursday evening. Admission price is $1.25 for adults and .65 for children.

FSL President To Quit

ORLANDO (UPI) — Julian Jackson, president of the Florida State League, announced today he will resign effective Sunday.

No explanation was given. Last January Jackson had resigned after criticism from league director George Pfister but changed his mind when Pfister apologized.

Earlier this week, R. L. Weaver, Daytona Beach league director since 1937, resigned as vice president of a club which has been in the league cellar for weeks and whose attendance is the worst in club history.

PICKETS OF the striking International Association of Machinists continue their picket line for the third day here at Cape Canaveral Missile Test Center, Cape Canaveral, Convaer officials said that the strike has halted the testing of the Atlas ICBM missile. Construction workers and truck drivers have refused to cross the picket lines.

Cape Strike Break Dims

By United Press International

There was little hope today of an early settlement in the machinists' strike against Convaer installations at four key Atlas missile bases and selected plants.

Other strikes began in the nation's aircraft-missile industry. Negotiations broke down Tuesday night between the International Association of Machinists and Convaer division of General Dynamics.

At Cape Canaveral the Air Force reversed itself and left the strike of Convaer machinists where it started—three pickets on each gate and no Atlas missile tests since they took up positions.

The union had agreed to an "urgent request" from Maj. Gen. Leighton I. Davis, commander of the Atlantic missile test range, to move the pickets inside the gates, so that employees of other contractors could report to work.

Davis announced at a subsequent press conference that an administrative decision had been made in Washington that the agreement was not an acceptable solution to the work stoppage.

The Air Force also issued two statements on the question of whether the strike forced postponement of two Atlas missile test launchings.

In Washington, the Air Force said the firings were canceled "as a result of the strike." A second statement blamed the cancellations on "technical difficulties" instead.

Nearly 8,000 aircraft workers were on strike today against two divisions of the United Aircraft Corp. State and federal mediators sought to avert a bigger walkout.

Four Killed As Navy Jet Slams Into Helicopter

FATUXENT, Md. (UPI)—Four servicemen were killed Tuesday when a Navy jet plowed into an Air Force helicopter following an air rescue after another plane accident.

The dead included two Air Force men aboard the helicopter and two Navy men who were standing near the crash scene. Two other Navy men were injured.

The victims aboard the helicopter were 1st Lt. Frank A. Williams of Hampton, Va., and 5th Sgt. Clyde A. Chatham of Poquoson, Va.

The Navy personnel killed were hospitalman Lawrence H. Priest of Downer's Grove, Ill., and aviation boatswain's mate Flavin G. Arnold of East Greenwich, R. I.

The injured were identified as Capt. Francis M. Parson of Euclid, Ohio, and machinist's mate Robert Traub of Richboro, Pa.

The helicopter had been flown to Patuxent from Langley Air Force Base in Virginia to assist in the rescue of two Federal Aviation Agency men who had bailed out of a crippled B-57 jet.

The crash at Patuxent occurred just after the Crusader jet was launched from a steam catapult. Witnesses said it went off with one wing low, and hit the helicopter, which was preparing to take off.

The B-70, with North American Aviation as prime contractor, is planned as a supersonic bomber for the Strategic Air Command.

Like the B-57, it could ultimately become the model for a new generation of commercial airliners and, perhaps, become the prototype for the first nuclear-powered aircraft.

Earlier this year, the administration cut back the B-70 program to a 75 million dollar development effort for the coming year. The scaled-down program would have produced only two prototype B-70 planes at a later date than previously scheduled and without the weapons and flight components to make them fully operational.

Kennedy Plans Florida Visit

MIAMI (UPI) — One of Sen. John Kennedy's principal political supporters said Tuesday night the senator plans to fly to Florida this month to make an in-person pitch to Florida's 29-vote Democratic national convention delegation.

Miami realtor Grant Stockdale said Kennedy plans the visit for the weekend of June 24th.

Stockdale added that Kennedy is sending his brother Robert to represent him Sunday at a delegation pow-wow in Orlando. A television commitment will prevent an appearance by John Stockdale said.

Kennedy, as well as other presidential aspirants Stuart Symington and Lyndon Johnson, had been invited to the meeting. Symington has accepted.

The Florida delegation is pledged to the first ballot to Sen. George Smathers as a favorite son.

Former Police Officer Ends Tour

John Wolf Jr., former assistant chief of police for Altamonte Springs, returned home late Thursday following a recent tour of duty in the U.S. Army.

Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wolf, was a member of the Florida Highway Patrol before entering the service and will resume his duties as a patrolman today.

The 23-year-old veteran's father was the fireman injured during the fire that raged the school here last February.

Senate Committee OK's Development Of B-70 Bomber

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate military appropriations subcommittee voted today in the face of increased world tensions, to provide for full development of the Air Force's 2,000-mile-an-hour B-70 bomber.

The subcommittee voted to add 285 million dollars to the giant defense money bill for the B-70 system. That total to about 993 million. The total increase made the subcommittee under the spur of the U-2 incident and the subsequent summit collapse.

The B-70, with North American Aviation as prime contractor, is planned as a supersonic bomber for the Strategic Air Command.

Like the B-57, it could ultimately become the model for a new generation of commercial airliners and, perhaps, become the prototype for the first nuclear-powered aircraft.

Earlier this year, the administration cut back the B-70 program to a 75 million dollar development effort for the coming year. The scaled-down program would have produced only two prototype B-70 planes at a later date than previously scheduled and without the weapons and flight components to make them fully operational.

Warhead Blast Causes Little Panic

MCQUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N. J. (UPI) — The explosion and fire in a Bomarc interceptor missile shed here and reports of atomic radiation danger caused less panic Tuesday than a supposed Martian invasion 20 years ago.

The 47-foot Bomarc caught fire on its launching pad at a missile site east of this base Tuesday and an explosion occurred in the concrete shelter that housed the missile. Despite false reports that an atomic warhead exploded there was little panic in the New York area.

In contrast, thousands of terror-stricken residents fled their homes on the night of Oct. 30, 1958, when Orson Welles described a Martian landing at Grover's Mill, N. J. in a radio adaptation of H. G. Wells, "War of the Worlds."

The panicked populace flooded police, radio and news media switchboards with calls despite an announcement at the program's beginning that the "invasion" was fiction.

The Bomarc 90-A, a ground to air missile, caught fire inside a closed concrete shelter and spread a small amount of radiation in a limited area of the military base. No casualties were reported.

The Air Force emphasized that a nuclear explosion had not occurred and that there was no radiation danger to the public and no significant health hazard from contamination.

The fire was confined to the shelter and was extinguished 45 minutes later with water, but extensive precautions had been taken.

Military personnel were evacuated from the area immediately. State police and soldiers blocked off both ends of the Plehurst-New Egypt Road for 10 miles on either side of the missile base.

The 54-missile pad base, in isolated pine barrens east of McQuire, is 30 miles southwest of New York, southeast of Trenton and Philadelphia, northeast of Wilmington, Del., and northwest of Atlantic City.

Capt. John A. Loozer, maintenance officer of the 48th Air Defense Missile Squadron, which mans the site, said the radiation was caused when theriated magnesium, a radioactive metal which is part of the missile, burned.

The Air Force said the odds were "10 million to one" against a nuclear explosion in the missile's nuclear warhead.

A CERTIFICATE of meritorious service from the Department of Public Safety was presented to Wesley E. Giles, right, program specialist at the Sanford Naval Air Station. The presentation was made by Florida Highway Patrol Trooper V. Smallwood, left. NAS commanding officer Capt. Robert Slye, center, beams his approval. Giles was presented the award for promoting safety education and training at the base.

Shooting Victim's Truck Recovered

DADE CITY (UPI) — Police have found the truck belonging to shooting victim Howard Clifford Arnold, 31, abandoned in a Tampa Negro section.

Pasco County Sheriff F. Leslie Beesinger said Arnold had come to Florida from Mount Washington, Ky., to buy a truck load of watermelons.

He said Arnold, originally from Carter County, Tenn., was reportedly carrying $175 with him, and his department was working on the theory he was shot by a hitch-hiker while being robbed of his money.

Arnold was found by a truck driver May 31, unconscious in an orange grove. He died the following day in a Tampa hospital without ever regaining consciousness. His identification remained a mystery for almost a week.

Crime lab technicians went to Tampa to check the truck for possible clues and fingerprints. It will be a few days before the prints are determined to be of any value to the case.

ATLANTA (UPI) — Striking pilots of Southern Airways said Tuesday that they have stripped their demands "to the bone" in an effort to reach agreement with the airline.

"We're to a point where if we made any other concessions we'd have a substandard contract," Capt. Harry Susemihl, master chairman of the Southern Airways branch of the Air Line Pilots Assn., said.

Susemihl said his union was willing to continue negotiations with the company, but it would be necessary for the company to make the first move.

The company announced Tuesday that it had hired seven or eight new pilots to begin learning the routes of the airline. Executives have kept a few routes operating.

The line was struck Sunday when 27 pilots walked out. Another 50, probationary pilots, joined the strike Monday.

Southern Vice President Graydon Hall said the company was hiring qualified pilots, laid off as surplus by other airlines, on a regular basis.

Happiness Through Health Pain Is A Warning!

(By DR. F. LEO KERWIN)

Pain is always a friend to begeth with, because it is a warning of serious consequences to follow, unless certain conditions are complied with. Like other warnings this one is seldom heeded.

If people would heed this warning and live sanely, they would live much longer. In ignoring such warnings, we shorten the course that leads to the place where freedom ends and suffering begins. It was never intended that man should suffer in body. There is a way to prove healthy mind and body possible. You do your part—consult a Chiropractor and let him do his part; the results will follow.

He releases nerve interference by an adjustment. The vital force of nerve energy is returned to the organs or tissues which it formerly supplied and health is the result.

Pain is a warning of trouble. Have the cause of the pain located and corrected before it becomes chronic.

Contractor, Inspector Blamed For Fire Which Felled Hundreds

NEW YORK (UPI) — Transit Authority Chairman Charles L. Patterson blamed his own inspectors and a subcontracting firm today for a subway rubbish fire that filled tunnels with smoke, trapped thousands of riders underground and injured hundreds of persons.

Patterson said after an emergency meeting at City Hall Tuesday that the fire broke out in a "mass" of old signal cable left lying beside the track by the firm of L. I. Waldman & Co., Inc.

"We told the contractor to clean it up," Patterson said. "Our inspectors were supposed to see that the job was done." He said the rubbish pile had been found two weeks ago.

Scores of persons, coughing and grimy from the acrid smoke, were given emergency first aid for smoke poisoning or shock at emergency aid centers on the sidewalks and street. Ambulances rushed 148 persons to hospitals, but most were treated and released.

Fire Commissioner Edward P. Cavanagh Jr., called the one-ton pile of rubbish "poor housekeeping" that would not have happened on "a well-run railroad." The rubbish apparently was set afire by a spark from the third rail, Cavanagh said.

Flames set operating signal cables afire, and acrid smoke billowed through the tunnels. It was so thick firemen had to hunt more than an hour to find the blaze in the Lexington Avenue line tunnel at about 28th Street, near the Grand Central Station subway hub. They put it out in 15 minutes.

Cavanagh said parts of the tunnel were cluttered with removed cable, wooden parts that looked like crates, and paper trash.

Power lines in the stricken tunnels were not affected by the fire at the close of the morning rush, but shortly after 10 a. m. the Fire Department asked that power be cut off. Transit officials waited a few minutes to give 14 trains carrying 3,000 persons a chance to reach stations. Then they pulled the switch.

Most trains made it to stations, but more than 2,000 persons were trapped underground for two hours. They were finally led up two flights of steps and along narrow catwalks to the surface, and fresh air.

More than 1,000 police and firemen and 20 ambulances were mobilized for rescue and first aid work.

Quotable Quotes

By United Press International
LONDON — Negro entertainer Sammy Davis Jr., weeping over a racist demonstration by about 20 British fascists against his plans to marry Swedish actress May Britt:

"This could never happen in the U. S. — except maybe in the South, like Mississippi."

ST. LOUIS — Garage operator and quarter horse racer Louis Arma, explaining why he bought St. Louis's last three Missouri mules — two of which are more than 20 years old — for $130:

"I like mules."

LONDON — A royal source, expressing doubts the Duke of Windsor, who abdicated in 1936 to marry "the woman I love", would return to live in England:

"Quite beyond the question of royal precedence he seems to feel she may be shunned socially — and it is quite possible this might be so."

ACQUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N. J. — Maj. Chester Miltenberger, of the Fort Dix, N. J., Army Medical Corps, stating that radiation was slight at the site of an explosion and fire that damaged a B-57 bomber:

"They're walking all over the place up there."

Humphrey Appears To Be Aiming For Demo VP Slot

BY LYLE C. WELSON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — If you believe Sen. Hubert Horatio Humphrey really branched himself after that presidential primary in West Virginia, take another look.

Humphrey appears still to be running. If so, it is the vice presidency after which he is running, not the Democratic presidential nomination.

The evidence that Humphrey now seeks the vice presidential nomination is simple: He is aggressively ambitious and has believed for some years that he should be promoted from the U. S. Senate.

Humphrey has made a long shot bet on the democratic presidential nomination, so long that it seems to involve a calculated risk. No one could be more aware than Humphrey that long shots are hazardous. Long shot betting involves taking a long chance. Humphrey's long shot bet is that Adlai E. Stevenson will be nominated for president next month by the Democratic national convention.

Humphrey is estimated to have more or less control over 50 to 60 delegate votes, although it is not at all certain that he can deliver them. However that may be, a mere effort to deliver that bloc of votes to the current front runner would assure for Humphrey a star in Sen. John F. Kennedy's record book. Such an effort would be obvious, but on the favorite.

Stevenson, however, is Humphrey's man. The senator last week telegraphed Stevenson a cheer for a speech just delivered before the textile workers. The telegram included this enthusiastic query: "When are you going to make a direct move for the nomination? Many people are waiting." It will occur to any practical politician that Stevenson is the only person with any chance of having a place for him on the national ticket. That is a very long shot, indeed. Stevenson's chance of being nominated for president is no better than fair. Humphrey's chance of being nominated for vice president is less than that.

The principal opposition to Humphrey would come from the states' rights South. The state's rights South had not and has not now any affection for Stevenson. The 1952-56 presidential elections sufficiently proved that.

Court Action Looms On Wet, Dry Referendum

BARTOW (UPI) — The president of the Polk County Progressive Assn., has said the organization will take to court the county commission's decision to throw out a petition calling for a wet-dry referendum.

Malcom Pope said Tuesday he felt the petition which was filed in April, was not treated fairly.

The petition was submitted with 12,854 signatures, well over the minimum requirement, but Hugh Carlton, supervisor of registration, ruled more than 4,000 invalid.

This brought the valid list to 15,364, some 2,000 short of the required number.

The commission, acting under Carlton's findings, decided to kill the petition. By law, two years must lapse before another petition may be put up for referendum.

The Rev. Dr. Clare N. Cotton, pastor of the First Methodist Church here and one of the leaders of the Polk County Christian Action League, said he was "very gratified and happy there was not going to be a referendum."

The last time the wet-dry referendum came up for a vote was in 1937 and the wets lost by 1,400 votes.

Mississippi Okays Right To Work

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — Mississippi voters overwhelmingly approved a "right-to-work" amendment to the state's Constitution Tuesday over opposition from organized labor.

Unofficial returns from two-thirds of the state's 1,828 precincts showed a two-to-one vote in favor of writing the state's 1854 law barring the closed shop into the Constitution. Only industrial areas such as Pascagoula, Laurel and Meridian voted against the amendment.

Fathers Honored By Eastern Star

A short program honoring fathers was presented at the meeting of Seminola Chapter 2, Order of Eastern Star, at the Masonic Hall in Sanford.

Fathers at the receiving end of this courtesy were J. T. McLain, associate worthy patron; R. E. Peurifoy, sentinel; Robert H. Williams and J. E. Blackman.

Mrs. Marjorie Shepard, worthy matron, saluted them in verse. The five star points brought in a strange assortment of mementoes. Adah carried a small kerosene lamp, which she said had a tendency to go out like dad; Ruth had an old wallet and checkbook; Esther carried a newspaper, socks and ties that dad had left scattered about the house; Martha carried a tie, handkerchief and socks, representing gifts for dad and Electa proudly bore a pie, the way to dad's heart.

As each item was displayed, with appropriate comment, Elizabeth Thompson, summed it up in song. Mrs. Ethel Peurifoy and Mrs. Essie Cole recited short verses in honor of father and the program was concluded with a final tribute from the worthy matron.

E. J. Still, worthy patron, explained the Knights Templar eye foundation and how to go about donating eyes to this cause. Mrs. Marian Jones, chairman, thanked everyone who helped make the covered dish supper, preceding the meeting, a success. Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Mosler, who were celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary, were honored at the dinner, lending a festive air to the proceedings.

Plans were discussed for the Robert Morris picnic, scheduled for sometime in August.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I fell in love with a young dentist. He is married but I've seen his wife and she's not so hot. I am much cuter.

Well, I wanted to get to know him better so I made an appointment. There was absolutely nothing wrong with my teeth because I had just been to my own dentist and he said so. But this young dentist took a full mouth X-ray for which he charged me $80. Then he cleaned my teeth for $10. Now he tells me I have four impacted wisdom teeth that must be extracted. He says that will cost $150.

All this time he gave me no encouragement. My girlfriend says I should report him to the Dental Society for unethical practices. Should I?

GYPPED

DEAR GYPPE: For a girl who deliberately made an appointment with a married dentist for the purpose of "getting to know him better"—you have a lot of nerve complaining about "ethics." If you question his professional judgment, see another dentist for strictly professional reasons.

DEAR ABBY: We bought this house four years ago and never had the money to put in a lawn, so we had just about 2/3 of an acre of bare dirt to the side and back.

We have three boys—6, 10 and 12—and they like to play outside. All the kids in the neighborhood come to play in our yard. I have put up with yelling and screaming for four years, and our yard is the worst looking yard on the block.

Now that we can afford it, I told my husband to dig up the dirt and plant grass and some shrubs. The boys put up a fight, saying it would spoil their play place. I say they can play on the school grounds five blocks away, but they say the bigger boys chase them away. Am I wrong to want a decent-looking yard for once in my life.

LIKES GRASS

DEAR LIKES GRASS: The years when you can look out your kitchen window and see children playing are too few and fly by too swiftly. When the boys go off to college—or to their Uncle Sam—you'll have plenty of time to admire the grass. Dirt can be beautiful!

DEAR ABBY: My husband has the world's worst taste when it comes to buying me a gift of clothing. When I open one of these packages I can hardly keep a straight face. How does a wife go about telling her husband she appreciates the "thought" but she'd rather have the money? Or at least let her go shopping with him to make sure some unscrupulous sales person doesn't stick him with something she wanted to get rid of?

STUCK WITH JUNK

DEAR STUCK: Now is the time for some diplomatic frankness. Tell hubby you know how hard he works for his money and, as his partner and helpmate, you want to be sure he gets his money's worth, so you want to go along to be sure he does. Now what husband in his right mind could refuse that kind of an offer?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FULL OF PRIDE:" You are full of prunes. Pride has caused more divorces than adultery. Take him back.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Abby's best-selling book, "Dear Teenager," is on sale at all bookstores.

Wear Something Pretty, Please

Dear Edyth: I am to be married at City Hall. There will be no fuss and the ceremony will be simple. I am 65 and the groom is 70. We are two lonely people lucky enough to have met. We have a bit of money and lots of good health. I want to wear a black wool suit with a white blouse and

'Queen For Day' Show Proves That It Isn't Easy To Stage

By FRED DANZIG NEW YORK (UPI) — "Queen For a Day" brought its TV cameras to New York City for the first time Monday.

The occasion found me heading for NBC-TV's Ziegfeld Theater hours before air time to see, close-up, what goes on at this national institution. About 1,000 women, most of them gray or white-haired, were inside and outside, all hopeful of going home with the title and the truckload of prizes.

MISS WEST PALM BEACH Sandee Noel will represent that city in the Miss Florida Beauty Pageant to be held in Sarasota June 23. Sandee is a student at West Palm Beach Junior College and plans to make modeling her career.

Now You Can't Escape TV At Sea

LONDON (UPI) — Passengers on the new British liner Oriana won't even be able to escape television by going to sea. TV will go right along.

The new 40,000-ton luxury liner is said to be the first in the world equipped with a completely coordinated television system to pick up television in any port and broadcast through a closed circuit at sea.

A unique electronic gimmick will allow sets on the ship to pick up broadcasts on the 408-line system used in Britain, the 625-line system in most of Europe and the 525-line system used in the United States, South America and Japan.

A roadside sign in Florida proclaims "Always Tell The Truth And You Don't Have To Remember Anything."

'Queen For Day' Show Proves That It Isn't Easy To Stage

On stage, near the refrigerator, bikes, washers and the velvet and gold-painted throne — all shipped from the Hollywood base — four men and one woman busied themselves screening "wish cards," passports to TV exposure and sudden wealth that each woman in the audience had submitted upon entering.

In the pre-show warmup, Jolly Jack Bailey instructed the audience: "When you applaud, hold your hands up in front of your face. I want it to sound like a crack of thunder...when you laugh, laugh from the heart."

When 21 "wish cards" were selected, Jeanne Cagney called out the stub numbers. The calm, untroubled-looking women were escorted to the stage by leggy, nervous, troubled-looking models wearing red velvet flouncy outfits.

After chatting with each of the 21 would-be contestants — and "Harrigan and Son," O'Brien has little to do with their ages—Bailey advised them, if they happen to be chosen, to please speak loudly and clearly.

"Remember, it is a show," he said. "And if you're elected queen, the experience has a way of shaking you up. But try to remember to smile and wave, as a queen would. It's a show. And," he added with a twinkle and a clenched fist, "the first one who cries gets it. . . . Pow, right on the nose."

One woman on the show told Bailey she wished her daughter and grandson could visit her from Russia and backstage, Burch told Lutz, "make it clear that we'll give her the money if she gets the visas. Make it a big if and when. We don't want to get involved with the visa."

Finally, the applause, a crack of thunder, made wisecracker No. 4, pony-tailed Mrs. Frances Calabria of Jersey City, N.J., "Queen For a Day."

She ignored Bailey's advice about speaking up, smiling and waving and not crying. She wept. "Tears of joy," a program aide advised me. After nearly collapsing with joy, Mrs. Calabria won many valuable prizes, plus the thing she wished for — an air purifier for an asthmatic son, two suits for her husband, recently sick with rheumatic fever, and for a daughter with a kidney ailment, 300 bananas.

The Channel Swim: Favorable audience reaction to "Sing Along with Mitch," the NBC-TV "Star-time" special for May 24, has led to a flurry of network offers to Mitch Miller for a weekly music series. However, the bearded record company executive is reported to be holding out for a monthly full-hour songfest format.

The Crosby brothers — Dennis, Philip and Lindsay — will be among the guests on ABC-TV's "Dick Clark Show" for Saturday, June 18, when the program originates in Hollywood.

A full day of color TV programming is being planned by NBC for sometime in November. Sen. John F. Kennedy, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, is scheduled to visit "The Jack Paar Show" on Thursday, June 16.

The white-haired actor, a classic, Navy buddy and lifelong pal of Spencer Tracy, frankly admitted that before "Harrigan and Son" he made three "bum" pilots (test films) for hopeful TV series. "Ah, lad, they were real angel cakes, and you know how many eggs there are in an angel cake," he said. "In one I would have been a private eye, in another a parole chief and in another a commentator on police records all over the United States. The trouble with the last one is that every police chief in the country wanted to okay it."

O'Brien, star of such movies as "The Front Page," "Katie Rockswold," "The Iron Major" and "Angels With Dirty Faces," said he feels close to "Harrigan" because he studied law as a youth.

"And I like it further," he said, "because there's no violence as in the private eye shows. I'm wearying of those private eye fellows, because every week, right on schedule, they walk a few steps into a room, get balled and wind up with nothing more than a piece of adhesive tape on their brave heads."

"And the westerns — I never saw a cowboy here lose his hat, have his horse shot or release his gun. They shoot about three million shots."

"The fact is, O'Brien said, he is a softy at heart. "I'm a crier," he said. "Frank McHugh once said I cry at card tricks."

"Whatever the reason, it's part of my philosophy. In all my years, I never, from a public rostrum, told a rough story that I wouldn't tell my own family — and I think that's the way it should be on TV. Anyone can give you a story about a few million dollars."

"I was in Dublin last St. Patrick's Day," he said, "and that ain't carryin' coals to Newcastle. I don't know what is. And I got news for you — the pubs are closed on St. Pat's Day."

The Channel Swim: "Exposition," a filmed adventure-education series that starts on ABC-TV Tuesday, Sept. 20, is seeking a permanent host in the Lowell Thomas-John Gember mold. Every third week the half-hour show will be pre-empted so that the network's local outlets can present local public affairs programming.

Teenage idol Fabian has pulled out of Pat Boone's June 27 special on ABC-TV. The singer says his Hollywood film commitments prevent him from keeping the date.

Pat O'Brien Still Stagestruck After 40 Years Of Acting

BY RICK DUBROW HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Pat O'Brien, a chip off the old sod, is plunging headlong into the tough grind of a weekly TV series because, at 60, "I'm still stage-struck."

The ABC series, which will go on the air this fall, is entitled "Harrigan and Son," and O'Brien plays a widower-lawyer who takes on his Harvard-educated off-spring as an associate.

"It shows the difference between our generations — he has an old hatchet-faced dame for a secretary and I have me a beautiful chick," said the affable Milwaukee Irishman, downing a mug of beer at a restaurant.

Asked why he is subjecting himself to the rigors of a weekly TV show when he doesn't need the money, O'Brien said: "I've been at it for 40 years. And what am I going to do now? Sure it's tough to be on every week — but it keeps you active, and it keeps you out of trouble. That one-eyed monster, the TV camera, doesn't tell any lies. You can't play around on the night shift and get away with it."

"And, let's face it, I'm stage-struck. After all, I'm just a kid. I still smoke 12 to 16 cigars a day."

TV Tonight

ABC's "Music For a Summer Night" has something quiet special this time—a one-hour modern dress version of the opera "Tosca," set in Rome's Mussolini period. Heidi Krall and Walter Cassel head a first-rate cast.

"Reckoning" is the title of the CBS drama series that replaces "Be Our Guest." The first of these suspense-adventure dramas is "Ticket To Tahiti" with Franchot Tone, Kim Hunter and James MacArthur. This play anthology will draw on material seen in past seasons on such programs as "Climax," "Studio One" and "Purault."

Com's own film produced the two half-hour series that replace his variety show for the summer. "Happy," a situation comedy affair, has Ronnie Burns and Yvonne Line playing parents of a baby named Happy. Lloyd Corrigan plays the baby's uncle. The other half-hour is filled by "Tale," a new period Western starring David McLean as a one-eyed gunfighter.

"Armstrong Circle Theater" on CBS dramatizes the racket of smuggling aliens into the United States in "Illegal Entry." Heavyweights Eddie Machen and Alonzo Johnson meet in 10 rounds on ABC's "Wednesday Night Fights."

Actor Strike Talk Ends In Bitterness

NEW YORK (UPI) — Negotiations aimed at ending a five-day Broadway blackout broke up in bitterness Monday night and spokesmen for both actors and producers predicted an immediate shutdown of Broadway theaters.

No further bargaining talks were scheduled between Actors Equity and the League of New York Theaters, but City Labor Commissioner Harold A. Felix said he would try to bring both sides together soon. The dispute has closed down all Broadway theaters for the first time in 41 years.

Officials of both the actors' union and the theaters were stunned by Monday night's collapse of negotiations, which eliminated a day of bargaining that started on an optimistic note.

Producer Robert Griffith, a member of the league's negotiating team, said the new turn in the dispute meant "the ruination of the theater as an industry."

Lost His Marbles

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Patrolman Warren Jones discovered the youngster who called police on his "uncle's" car didn't have all his marbles. The 18-year-old boy told Jones he had summoned police help because an older boy had won all of his marbles and refused to give him a chance to win them back.

Lakeland Blanks Sanford; Schamp Hurls Shutout

By JERRY COVINGTON
Lakeland's Jim Schamp completely shut the door on the Sanford Greyhounds here Tuesday night by pitching a five hit 4-0 shutout.

It was the big righthander's eighth victory against a single defeat.
A fine crowd was on hand to watch the first place Indians increase their lead in the Florida State League to eight games over the third place Greyhounds. In the eight meetings this season between these two clubs, Lakeland has taken seven of them and this is the only club in the league that holds the edge over the tough Greyhounds.

Although starter Ron Banovic was touched for 13 hits he pitched very effectively throughout the game. However, the Indians were able to push across the run when the chance existed. The only extra base blow off Banovic was a home run by Walt Dobryskowski in the fifth inning with the bases empty. The rest of the 13 were just over the infield. He walked by two and fanned seven Indians. This was Banovic's fourth loss against six victories. Three of the Sanford five hits were doubles by Pat Sisk, Ken Harrelson, and Bill Duke.

Tonight the Greyhounds play host to the Daytona Beach Islanders and Manager Robbie Robertson will probably go with hard throwing Ken Sanders on the mound.

Greyhounds Face Big Test Tonight Meeting 'Hotdogs'

Tonight at 7:30 the Sanford Greyhounds face their biggest test.

They will take on the Sanford 'Hotdogs' in a three inning exhibition before the regular game with the Daytona Beach Islanders.

The Hotdogs, managed by Lonnie Padron, have no record at present as they have not found any competition keen enough to warrant a game.

Machen, Johnson Battle Tonight

CHICAGO (UPI) — Eddie Machen is a heavy favorite to beat Alonzo Johnson in a televised 10 round bout tonight to strengthen his campaign to regain the No. 1 rating among the heavyweight challengers.

Machen, who has lost only to champion Ingemar Johansson and Zora Folley in 36 pro bouts, believes he can climb back from his current No. 4 rating by beating every other contender in the top ten.

Then, he said, either Johansson or former champion Floyd Patterson, who meet for the title again on June 20, would have to give him a little chance.

Machen allegedly had a signed contract for a rematch with Johansson when the Swedish scrapper knocked him out in the first round of their match 18 months ago. But the agreement was set aside on grounds that it was obtained under duress, and Johansson knocked out Patterson to win the championship.

of this lineup won't get it then nothing will. Plan now to bring the whole family out for some good laughs before a fine ball game between Daytona and Sanford. Action gets underway at 7:30.

Boxer Continues Battle For Life

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tommy Pacheco, young Puerto Rican lightweight boxer, continued to battle for his life today following surgery for removal of a blood clot on his brain.

Pacheco was officially listed in critical condition at Roosevelt Hospital, where he lay unconscious for more than 24 hours as a result of the injury suffered in a Monday bout at St. Nicholas arena.

He was knocked out in the 10th round of his 13th professional bout by Bennie Gordon of New York and underwent surgery early Tuesday morning. Dr. Howard Dunbar, who performed the operation, said Pacheco was able to move his toes, indicating the boxer was not paralyzed.

Braves Making Push Thanks To Vets

United Press International
Charlie Dressen's had his say and now the old Braves are having their way.

Dressen told the world last spring how Milwaukee's young pitchers would carry a greater load this year but here are the Braves making their first real push of the season — and it's the tried and true veterans of the staff who are sparking it.

The Braves have won six of their last seven games and Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette and Bob Buhl, the "big three" of the Tribe under Fred Haney, have accounted for five of the victories.

It was Buhl's turn Tuesday night and the hatchet-faced right-hander indulged in his favorite form of amusement by gaining credit for a 6-4 win over the Los Angeles Dodgers. Buhl has scored two of his five victories this year over the Dodgers and stands 22-9 for a 71.0 percentage against them for his career.

The victory moved the Braves to within 3 1/2 games of the first place Pittsburgh Pirates, who were routed, 13-2, by the Chicago Cubs. The Cincinnati Reds beat the San Francisco Giants, 5-1, and the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-3 in other National League games.

The Cleveland Indians routed the Boston Red Sox, 12-3, and moved to within 1 1/2 games of first place when the Detroit Tigers beat the Baltimore Orioles, 5-2. The New York Yankees topped the Chicago White Sox, 5-2, and the Washington Senators beat the Kansas City A's, 7-2, in the American League.

The Braves took advantage of three errors to score five unearned runs in the fifth inning and give Buhl a 6-1 cushion. Buhl weakened in the seventh but Don McMahon shut out the Dodgers for the final 2 1/2 innings.

Ernie Banks drove in four runs with two doubles and a single to lead the Cubs' 16-hit attack that kayoed Vern Law and tagged him with his second defeat against eight victories.

The Reds kayoed Johnny Antonelli with three runs in the second inning and went on to deal the Giants their sixth defeat in 10 games.

Dick Farrell pitched out of a ninth-inning jam to preserve Robin Roberts' second win of the season for the Phillies. Roberts and Bobby Del Greco knocked in two runs each and Harry Anderson homered for the Phillies.

Jim Grant yielded eight hits, including homers by Bobby Thomson and Marty Kaough, to win his fourth decision for the Indians who were aided by six Boston errors.

Don Moss pitched a six-hitter and Charlie Maxwell and Steve Rilko hit homers for the Tigers who reached the 500-mark. The Tigers scored all their runs and made seven of their nine hits against Hoyt Wilhelm.

The Yankees celebrated Casey Stengel's return to command by beating the White Sox for the first time in five tries. Jim Coates pitched a nine-hitter for his sixth straight win of this season and his 10th straight over a two-season period.

The Senators replaced the Athletics in sixth place with a 15-hit attack that earned Camilo Pascual his sixth victory.

Wall Leads U. S. Open Title Golf Qualifiers

United Press International
Art Wall is back on the ball.

Unable to defend his Masters title earlier this year because of a kidney disorder, the lean Pennsylvanian fired a record-breaking, eight-under-par 65 at Oklahoma City Tuesday to lead all qualifiers for the National Open golf championship.

Wall wasn't even listed among the top 25 money-winners in the most recent PGA standings but he is almost certain to wind up as one of the top choices when the 128 qualifiers join 21 exempt players for the Open at Denver June 18-19.

The veteran shotmaker from Pocomo Manor, Pa., turned out at the Twin Hills Country Club course at Oklahoma City with most of the touring pros Tuesday to battle for 34 available berths in that section.

Wall showed the way with an impressive 65 in the morning round and then added that record 63 after lunch for a nifty 34-hole total of 128. He bogeyed only one hole for the double round, turning in 15 birdies and matching par on the remaining 20 holes.

Jimmy Clark of Saticoy, Calif., finished second behind Wall in the 67-man field at Oklahoma City with a 132.

Triple Play Gives Lake Mary First BRL Win

It took Lake Mary a long time to win a game in the Babe Ruth League, but when they finally broke into the win column after seven straight losses, they did it in a manner that any big league team would be happy to imitate.

In their game against Civilian Lake Mary took the field for the last inning holding a 16 to 9 lead. Civilian loaded the bases with nobody out. The next batter hit a screaming liner toward left field. Ronnie Ryan, Lake Mary's classy third baseman, speared the ball, stopped on third and tossed to second for a game-ending triple play.

Disabled Hurler Paces Palatka Win

By United Press International
The return of a disabled pitcher and the clutch performance of a batter with the bases loaded in the last inning highlighted Tuesday night's Florida State League games.

Palatka hurler Harvey Alex returned to action after being out for a month with a shoulder injury and picked up the victory as the Redlegs beat Orlando 6-1.

He gave up only two hits in the seven innings he worked and helped out at bat with a home run and a single.

Leesburg's John Griffin delivered a long 57 with the bases full in the sixth to bring home the winning run as the Orioles edged St. Petersburg 6-5.

Tampa pitcher Bob Hellmer struck out 11 and coasted to an easy win as the Tarpons pasted Daytona Beach 17-5. John Upham had a triple and a double to lead Tampa's 16-hit attack.

FAA May Have Won Pilots Squabble

MIAMI (UPI) — The Federal Aviation Agency—aided by Eastern Air Lines—appeared today to have won at least the first round in its squabble with jet pilots over where federal inspectors should sit.

The pilots, represented by the Air Line Pilots Assn., don't like the idea of an inspector sitting in the pilot's compartment's third seat—the "jump seat."

Tuesday three of them refused to fly a DC-8 jet flight from Miami to New York with an inspector in such position. Eastern canceled the flight.

Tuesday night Eastern went to federal court and got a temporary restraining order from Judge Joseph Lieb prohibiting Eastern's ALPA pilots from similar future action. Eastern resumed jet service after getting the order.

FAA inspectors prefer to set in the jump seat so they can look over the shoulder of the command pilot during jet flights.

Edmund P. Rordam, regional vice president of ALPA, said, "Since we feel it is unsafe to fly jets with less than three pilots, the displacing of the third pilot by the FAA inspector reduces the safety of operation."

Daytona Beach is the only place in the United States with summer jai alai. Many of the stars of the winter frontons will compete with new talent, recruited from Spain, Mexico and Cuba.

'Shy' Multimillionaire Works Undercover To Aid Sightless

NEW YORK (UPI) — This man who in his youth worked hard to become a scientist but got diverted and became a multimillionaire, has given up something precious in order to let you know the cause of a long-felt pain.

He is pained by your passion for eye-wash. Think of it! Americans spend 6 million dollars a year for boric acid solutions in fancy bottles! And when the eye provides it own wash, in the form of tears!

But only 4 million dollars is spent annually on scientific research that could lead to new ways of preventing blindness. It is this contrast which pains Jules C. Siein and for that reason he is permitting you to know him.

He is giving up his carefully guarded obscurity so far as the public is concerned because if enough people get interested, blindness will never befall a high percentage of the millions who are born blind or go blind.

Even in his own world, where he is a powerful figure, he is obscure since (as he told this reporter) he dreads the limelight. But he is the founder, the principal owner, and the boss of the Music Corporation of America and its 30 wholly owned subsidiaries which play a dominant role in the entertainment industry, particularly television.

"I've been told that if I'm going to put this thing over, I'll have to expose myself to people like you," he said to this reporter.

"This thing" is research to Prevent Blindness, Inc. He has created it in the last few months, enlisting the help of such well-known philanthropists as Mrs. Albert D. Lasker, James S. Adams, the Wall Street Banker, and Robert E. McCormick, industrialist.

It is yet another volunteer public health organization, but quite different, it will have no local chapters and no appeals to the public for contributions. Its one interest is to prevent blindness and this it will do by picking its spots, as it were, rather than with "crash programs."

The spots it has in mind are these: Eye science is skipped over rather lightly in medical colleges which need to be encouraged to get more of it into the basic course. Young doctors interested in eye research are stymied by lack of funds. Established scientists with definite research projects can't find the money for needed instruments and help.

Siein feels that half a million spent annually at well-chosen spots would quickly start paying off handsomely. This money he hopes to get from charitable foundations, philanthropic individuals and his words "business enterprise."

Asphalt in its liquid, semi-solid and solid forms has some 4,000 uses.

President Hopes To Rally Support For American Policies In Far East

By STEWART HENSLEY
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower hopes during his Far East trip to rally more support for American policies in the face of a stepped-up Chinese Communist campaign of infiltration and subversion in Asia.

He knows that he has his work cut out for him. In three of the four countries Eisenhower will visit — Japan, South Korea and the Philippines — the United States is having its troubles. Only on the Chinese Nationalist stronghold of Formosa will he find serene relations. And even there the booming of Red artillery across the Formosa Strait is a constant reminder of the military as well as ideological threat to freedom in the Far East.

The Chinese Communists are jubilant in the wake of the summit crash. The Paris debacle brought to an end Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's efforts to woo the West — a campaign which Beijing bitterly resented.

The Chinese Reds are not expected, however, to undertake any open military adventures in the foreseeable future, despite intensified sabre-rattling. Top American officials say things are going well enough for the Reds anyway. Chaos, upon which Communism feeds, has hit Japan and Korea in recent months. In the Philippines, ultra-nationalistic sentiment among some congressmen has troubled U.S. relations and defense arrangements.

In Southeast Asia, which Eisenhower will skip on this trip, the Communists inroads continue. The Reds are gaining strength daily in tiny but strategic Laos. In South Viet Nam the pro-American government of President Ngo Dinh Diem still is unable to halt depredations of Communist guerrillas. Indonesian tecters between disorder and totalitarianism.

American officials hope Eisenhower's visit to Japan will strengthen the hand of pro-American Premier Nobusuke Kishi and his conservative government against the rising Communists, Socialists and left-wing student and labor groups.

Continuing demonstrations against the new Japanese-American security pact, due to be ratified the day Eisenhower arrives in Japan, have been going on for days. They have taken on an "Ike stay home" character which has caused some officials to wonder whether the President should make the visit.

But Eisenhower and his top aides apparently feel that this is no time to back down in the face of Communist inspired pressure tactics aimed at the overthrow of a staunchly pro-American government in keystone Japan.

The United States has no intention of letting Kishi and his government, which commands support of more than 60 per cent of parliament, down at this critical juncture.

In South Korea, Eisenhower may be expected to urge intensification of the ouster of Syngman Rhee, to hasten democratic reforms and the holding of new elections.

Despite Rhee's overthrow as a result of public clamor, unrest and dissatisfaction still are rife in South Korea. Some American officials feel that Huh and his associates are moving too slowly and new trouble may erupt.

In the Philippines Eisenhower faces a different situation. The government of President Carlos P. Garcia is stable, if not universally admired.

But many Filipinos are convinced that the United States is to blame for many of their economic ills. They think that they were short-changed on war-damage payments after independence. Some also believe the arrangement for U.S. military bases in the islands violates their sovereignty. Still others believe the United States is discriminating against their commerce and development.

Eisenhower's task is to confront the Japanese extremists, spur the South Koreans to greater democratic progress and persuade the Filipinos that the United States is not doing them wrong. The job, in the opinion of some high officials here, is a formidable if not impossible one. But Eisenhower feels that it must be attempted in the interest of solidifying the free world against continued Communist pressure at all points.

This Is As Grim A Period As USA Ever Has Known

BY HOLMES ALEXANDER
WASHINGTON—On Memorial Day the president did not lay the traditional wreaths upon the honored American war dead either at the National Cemetery at Arlington or at the sanctified battle ground at Gettysburg. The president was not around town that rainy weekend to talk things over with the visiting emissaries of the SEATO powers. Only a few senators (but none of those running to succeed Mr. Eisenhower) were available for comment on Marshal Malinovsky's threat to shoot his missiles into any allied base that permitted a reconnaissance flight over Communist territory anywhere on earth.

But out on the highways Americans were killing themselves in the high numbers of about 375. A scaffolding at the Indianapolis Speedway crashed, killing two and injuring 70 of the 200,000 spectators who had gathered to see the death-defying 500-mile race. In eyewitness to the tragedy, said people not ten feet on either side were interested in the race and not in the screams and moans of the injured. In Chicago the Cleveland Indian centerfielder, Jimmy Piersall, put on a temper tantrum for no particular reason. And in New York, a mob of admirers went off their heads and with celebrity-dementia attacked outfielder Mickey Mantle so that he and several assailants were seriously roughed up.

Meanwhile, as the news developed during last week, it appeared that the two leading candidates to become 35th president and Free World leader were squaring off on an issue that is about as incon-quential as the color of their eyes. How much money did Senator Kennedy spend in winning the West Virginia primary? Was it under $100,000 as his spokesmen claim? Was it up to $500,000 or more as Vice President Nixon would like to show?

How the outcome will prove either Kennedy or Nixon to be fit for the White House job is not yet clear. But political experts were still writing the strongest possible Republican candidate, Governor Nelson Rockefeller, couldn't get his party's nomination, and that the most conspicuous leader in the Democratic party, Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, was in the same fix. The American political system seemed to be controlled by a lock-in device to insure that nobody better than second-choice candidates be at our disposal in the 1960's.

It is on everybody's tongue we would get at the summit. All the while, Democratic liberals were trying to get more money for welfare even if it meant less money for defense, while Republicans in general were still playing leave-it-to-like. Somewhat unnoticed the Kefauver subcommittee was still chipping away at national confidence in private enterprise, exposing gaudy profits in the drug business and, by inference, in the entire business structure. This might be more injurious than generally supposed, since Big Business is producing the weapons systems that are vital in staying off a Russian attack.

After the U-2 fiasco and the summer floppiness, congressional action went underground. The Democrats do not approve the Eisenhower handling of foreign policy, but cannot very well initiate a policy of their own. The Republicans hope for little else than to end the session without a major catastrophe—having little confidence that Ike could cope with it. Here, then, was the image which the USA gave in the early summer of 1960—as grim a period as the republic ever knew.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

CASE E-481: Lois L., aged 16, is an attractive high schooler.

"Dr. Crane, do modern psychologists believe in dreams?" she asked during a forum at her big high school.

"For example, last night I dreamed I was shipwrecked in the South Sea. But I didn't drown. Instead, I swam until the waves carried me upon a wide beach of what appeared to be an island.

"Everything seemed beautiful and the weather was like summer. I wondered if the island was inhabited.

"Suddenly, some savages rushed out of the trees and started chasing me.

"I was frightened and ran as fast as I could, but they chased me and kept hurling spears at me.

"The leader, who was a handsome, bronze-colored young man, finally almost overtook me. His spear hit me and I wondered if I would die.

"But it didn't seem to hurt—and then I woke up! Dr. Crane, what causes such weird dreams?"

Dreams used to be regarded as prophetic. You Bible scholars will thus remember how Joseph interpreted Pharaoh's famous dreams about the forthcoming big harvests that were to be followed by famine.

The ancient oracles and wise men devoted a great deal of time to dreams.

But scientists in the last century finally discarded dreams, much as hypnosis was ridiculed by scientists till recently.

Then Dr. Freud launched his theories of psychoanalysis in 1891 and restored dreams to a scientific status, saying they often furnish valuable data about subconscious hatreds and complexes, fears and secret desires.

"Yes, Dr. Crane," you may exclaim, "but didn't Dr. Freud say all dreams deal with repressed sexual urges?"

No, Dr. Freud did not hold such a naive belief, namely, that giving banquets, hamburgers, etc. In like manner, if you kick off the bed covers on a cold night and a frigid breeze strikes your feet, you will be likely to dream about walking on snow or ice in your bare feet as you vainly seek warmth.

But Dr. Freud realized that most people go to bed with plenty of food and liquid in their system. And they have well heated homes. So what are likely to be the basic, unsatisfied cravings of modern Americans?

Romantic! Indeed, young folks go on a date and the girl may kiss her escort goodnight at 2 a. m. Her erotic appetite is vaguely stimulated. So she climbs into bed with no craving for hamburgers oriced drinks but with a natural urge for more affection.

If, however, she has been reared in a proper, religious home where crass sexual affairs are taboo prior to marriage, she does not even let herself think about such blunt affairs, but they appear in disguised form.

"I always refer to the Mrs. as my first wife—it keeps her on her toes"

Three Minutes A Day

By JAMES KELLER
 "When people grow about their crooked politicians, I ask them if they voted last time. If a workman screams about a strike, I ask him how active he is in his union. You would be surprised at the excuses and stammering."

This brief message was sent by a lady in Baltimore, Md., who picked up the Christopher idea of "lighting a candle instead of cursing the darkness."

Shortly after we published it, a woman in suburban Maryland made me sit up and take notice. She said her husband—a union member—never went to a meeting. She began urging him to go and see what was happening. When he found only a handful present, he was so shocked by the negligence of good members that he started to build up attendance. After months of hard work, he had nearly a 100% turnout.

As one woman changed a union from her home, so can you, with God's help, do something to change the world for the better!

"He who has looked carefully into the harlot, law of liberty and has remained in it, not becoming a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work shall be blessed."

(James 1:25)

Women's Press Club Members Give War Whoops Of Another Uprising

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Any one who thinks the battle of the sexes ended with the ratification of the 19th Amendment is guilty of creeping ostrichism.

I raised my own head out of the sand the other day when I heard a roundelay of blood-curdling war whoops emanating from the Women's Press Club here.

(Don't ask how I could hear something with my head in the sand. You mind your metaphors and I'll tend to mine.)

War whoops emanating from the Women's Press Club could mean one thing—another uprising by our lady journalists. It was a chilling sound to peaceloving newspapermen, who thought they had reached a "détente" with the opposite sex.

Not wishing to be victims of another Pearl Harbor, the men quickly acquired a U-2, which the government for some reason had declared surplus.

An overnight produced intelligence indicating that the women were preparing to storm the bastions of the National Press Club, which is the last stronghold of male journalists in the capital.

I should explain here that the club's policy of excluding women has long been a source of contention in the local press corps. Female journalists have made repeated efforts to break down the bars, claiming they were entitled to professional equality.

There is a strong male suspicion, however, that the real reason they want to break down the bars is to get into the clubhouse.

At one point, the women went off and formed their own club, but they have never been content with segregation. Now they are on the warpath again and the town is leaping with ink-stained Susan B. Anthony's.

This time they are attacking the tradition under which foreign bigwigs who come here on state visits make an appearance before the National Press Club.

Women correspondents contend that they have a vested, or at least a watered, right to cover such proceedings, even though they are not members of the club.

Club officials, on the other hand, insist that a private men's organization has no obligation to admit outsiders to any of its

ANNUAL JUNE GRADUATE

POSTCARDS by Stan Delaplane

As it must to all men, we come face to face with a most important subject this cool Tahiti morning.

It comes as it must to all men—but particularly to the South Seas writer. (The others just come home and lie like crazy about it.)

The South Seas writer of earlier years was made of stone. Temptation only made him flincher.

"Chief Tararahaaha then approached me, followed by his lovely daughter, whose Polynesian name means when-it's-Roundup time-im-riatea-I'll-Be-Around-With you."

The Chief then explained to the South Seas writer how Boy Meets Girl, etc., etc.

"I thanked him profusely," wrote the master of bellies letters, "but explained that according to the customs of my land, etc., etc."

In other words, the writer of those days took a look at all this deep-dish coconut pie. And he said, "I don't believe a word of it."

This kind of propaganda has made it appear that Tahiti is a man's island. A Paradise of languorous tropical ladies with hibiscus in their hair.

Nobody has touched on the opportunity for the foreign female. Fortunately, we were able to contact an American tourist lady whose name is withheld, pending notification of next kin.

"The Tahitian man is certainly an improvement after you've looked over those shop-worn Walkie-beach boys," she said.

"At first, I thought to myself, 'Harriet, you're an absolute fool to spend your money flying all the way to Tahiti. The competition is probably worse than a cruise ship during the schoolteacher months.'"

"But do you know? It didn't turn out like that at all. These boys are simply wild about blondes. I suppose it's the change of scenery. Why, even those cute French sailors in the read pompom hats came over and asked for a dance."

The lady said she sat around Bar Lea—it is a small, crowded dance floor on a sandy street in Papeete.

"Not a Tahitian boy came by. Finally, this French sailor came over and said, 'Voulez vous something—so I supposed he must be asking me to dance. That is how I met Edouard.'"

"The French sailor?"

"No; the French sailor's name is Jean. He explained that Tahitian boys are very shy. He introduced me to Edouard, who is a chief's son from the Tuamotus. Do you know what he did for me?"

"I can't imagine. What?"

"He got me a coconut. Wasn't that sweet? He went right up a coconut tree. Just like you see it in the travelogues. He got this coconut and split it open—they split it on a sharp iron stake. He let me drink it."

"He did this at the dance?"

"Oh, no. That was when we were driving around the island the next day. I rented a little Renault Dauphine. Edouard loves to ride."

She said Edouard was the very soul of politeness and gentility—"and the handsomest person you ever saw."

It is very difficult to get an explanation of the social customs from Americans who live in Tahiti.

"Writers come down here and put too much emphasis on the boy and girl things," said Jack Lynch, Jack Lynch runs the Grand hotel, he is an agent for South Pacific Air Lines, who fly weekly from Honolulu.

He thought there ought to be more writing about the scenic attractions.

I asked the American tourist lady about that. She said she had toured the island's 120-mile drive with Edouard. The scenery, she said, was grand.

Dramas Wanted
RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—The Virginia Civil War Commission has invited submission of one-act and three-act plays dealing with the Civil War period in Virginia for possible performances during the 1961-62 centennial year.

I have a hunch that the male ramparts might crumble before this assault. At any rate, it will be hard to resist. Some of those women work on the theory that the way to gather news is to take it up with their fingernails.

Mr. Bilopp

Intelligent persons recognize poison ivy when they see it. They know what suffering it can cause. Countless times they have been victims of it.

Yet they buy property on which poison ivy grows. They plant seeds in the vicinity of the poison ivy, assuming that the seeds will sprout and produce plants that have to be weeded, with every probability that their hands will come into contact with the poison ivy.

They are aware that there is less danger from the poison ivy if their hands are gloved. Yet they fail to take this precaution on the ground that the gloves give them less freedom of action. They trust to their eyes to detect the poison ivy before they touch it even though time and again they have failed to see the poison ivy before it has touched them.

They know that the skin is more susceptible to poison ivy when the day is hot and their hands and arms are wet with perspiration. But they do not wait for a nice cool day to do their work.

No doubt many opportunities have been offered them to live in the center of a city where people are free from the danger of contact with poison ivy. Yet they turn the opportunities down.

WASHINGTON by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON—For the 15,000 men and women who'll be attending the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles next month, here's a suggestion:

Take along a big wad of spending money. You may have to take out a second mortgage on your home, but you'll need it. This past week several of us who attended the convention preview on the West Coast got an inkling of what's in store.

Example: One young lady stopped in at a hotel beauty salon to have her hair combed. Three dollars.

The six pretty "Ladies for Lyndon" from Texas, together with Lady Bird Johnson and the senator's secretary, had their coiffures washed and set in the same parlor. The total bill came to more than $100 for a job that would have cost about $35 here.

If you're in the convention city go there unwarned, they may starve. At one hotel, a simple average-size steak sandwich, which costs about $1.50 in Washington, comes to $8.50. Coffee is extra.

And taxis? In L. A. only 1,800 are available (compared with almost 12,000 in the other convention city, Chicago). And because of the vast distances one must travel in the sprawling metropolis, the meters tick a loud, painful tune. An Eastern reporter visited the homes of several delegates and spent $10 in taxi fare within a few hours.

When Paul Butler, national Democratic chairman, chose the Los Angeles Sports Arena for the convention site July 11 to 15, he knocked over a hornet's nest of grumblers.

And this past week in Los Angeles, the people who will participate in the convention were still griping. A representative of one broadcasting company revealed how much it's costing to build a temporary plywood booth, not much larger than a couple of phone booths—and not even bolted to the floor.

"The price is ridiculous," he said, "$1,200." The same structure at the Republican convention cost only $800.

There's also some low grumbling in high levels about the afterthought "discovery" that the law prohibits the serving of alcoholic beverages at the Sports Arena. Some fancy cocktail parties had to be canceled.

Housing arrangements are snafued. Not only is the cost of hotel rooms—what there are available—nearly double in the average rate, but distances from the Sports Arena range as far as two hours' travel time. That's about half the time it takes to fly by jet across the entire United States.

Not only that, but with the convention only a few weeks away, there have been my confirmations received by correspondents in Washington. By contrast, hotel rooms in Chicago for the Republican convention, which comes two weeks later, have been confirmed for more than a month.

There's talk around here that some of the convention delegates in the parks or hotel lobbies out there.

One Washington correspondent has a sure-fire solution to the convention housing problem. This writer is going to take his room received by correspondents in Los Angeles. Our rent there I will be hauling our horse trailer will be $4 a day. And Doty can serve me a steak sandwich for 50 cents.

Venetian Gondola Does Swan Song

VENICE, Italy (UPI)—The swan-like gondola, almost a trademark in this city of canals, is fading from the Venetian scene, giving way to motorboats and the modern desire to go places in a hurry.

About 10,000 gondolas cruised the canals of Venice in 1950. By the start of World War II, this number had dwindled to 600, and today there are only 433.

The only thing that keeps the gondolas going is the tourist season when some 800,000 visitors come to Venice, almost all of them with a desire to ride in a gondola. The Venetian takes a former, or a motorboat, the "taxi" of Venice.

County - Granted Added School Aid

Seminole County has been granted two additional vocational agricultural units by the State Department of Education, E. S. Douglas, director of vocational education reported today.

Douglas said that a recent survey conducted by the University of Florida revealed that because of the extensive growth of the county and that agriculture was still the leading industry, two more agriculture teachers were needed.

DONALD FARRENS

A new department will be organized at Sanford Junior High School next year. The instructor will be Donald H. Farrens, a recent graduate of the University of Florida and a native of DeLand.

Farrens has been active in the Future Farmers of America organization and will report here July 1.

Another teacher to be added to the county agricultural staff will be assigned to Crooms Academy. The appointment is expected to be announced in the near future. Douglas also reported that William B. West will continue as vocational agriculture teacher at the new Seminole High School. The school board is acquiring 10 acres of land for the high school program.

Rockefeller's Rap Of Nixon Challenged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — GOP congressional leaders said after a White House conference today that President Eisenhower joined with them in challenging Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's charge that national defenses are inadequate.

Eisenhower and his leaders in the House and Senate devoted part of their weekly legislative conference to the New York governor's statement and his demand that Vice President Richard M. Nixon discuss national issues prior to the Republican national convention.

Nixon will answer Rockefeller's attack at a news conference in Camden, N. J. late today, his office announced.

Nixon's press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, declined to comment directly on Rockefeller's challenge of Nixon and other GOP leaders—criticism which started many Republicans and angered some here.

But Klein maintained that, with today's news conference, Nixon will have discussed "almost every subject" in some 50 news conferences, question-and-answer appearances and radio-television programs.

Rockefeller had listed a series of areas in which he thought national defense needed "great strengthening" particularly in the fields of missiles and appropriations.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said it was inaccurate to say that the President was "upset" by the Rockefeller statement. But he said Eisenhower was firmly convinced as were the leaders that the people in the Pentagon and on Capitol Hill "are doing a good job for our security."

"President believes as he has all along that the provisions we are making for national defense are reasonably adequate for the present times," said House Leader Charles A. Halleck.

Nixon was present in the leadership meeting. According to Halleck and Dirksen he did not participate directly in the discussion of the Rockefeller statement but did join in talking about the defense appropriations bill pending in the Senate.

News Briefs Influences Blamed

LONDON (UPI) — Lenin Prize-winner industrialist Cyrus Eaton, on his way home from a red carpet tour of the Iron Curtain countries, blamed "powerful government influences in the United States" today for failure of the summit.

VFW Conclave

ORLANDO (UPI) — Florida Veterans of Foreign Wars and their wives register today for the three-day VFW state convention. Three to four thousand veterans are expected. T. C. Connell of Killeen, Texas, VFW National Senior Vice Commander, will address them at a banquet Saturday night.

Top Speller

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Henry Friedman, 13, of Oak Ridge, Tenn., a previous two-time loser, today won the 33rd National Spelling Contest.

Henry won over Betty Jean Allsuhl, 12, of Norfolk, Va., by correctly spelling the Greek-derived word "vallety." He then went on to spell "championship" correctly.

Revamping Need

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Harold Cole, executive vice president of the State Chamber of Commerce, said Wednesday Florida may need to revamp its advertising and promotion in order to retain its tourist trade. Cole called for a detailed study to determine if "our tourist programs have become antiquated and should be updated and modernized."

Quake Aid

VALDIVIA, Chile (UPI) — Ships, planes and helicopters had joined the race today to clear residents out of low-lying areas of this earthquake-wrecked city before potentially-disastrous floods strike. By nightfall Wednesday, an estimated 24,500 persons had left Valdivia to seek safety on higher ground. Hundreds more were preparing to leave.

Aid To Aged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) today introduced a program of medical care for the aged designed to give low income families full deductions for medical expenses. Smathers said under his bill persons over 65 would get health insurance policies through private insurance firms on a voluntary basis with a maximum premium of six dollars per month.

Voter Approval

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Approval by voters is needed before $1,400,000 worth of New Smyrna Beach waterworks and electric revenue bonds can be validated, the Supreme Court ruled Wednesday. The court refused to validate the bonds. The city called the bonds "certificates" and contended that a city law requiring a freeholders election for bonds did not apply to them.

Threat To Castro

MIAMI (UPI) — A call for armed uprising against Premier Fidel Castro brought into the open today an underground organization which may be the strongest seeking to overthrow the Cuban revolutionary government. The movement of Revolutionary Recovery (MRR) charged Castro with betraying the revolution he led and with attempting "to convert democratic, Christian Cuba into a cog in the Sino-Soviet machinery for world domination."

Guest Speaker

Taylor Briggs, Winter Park's commissioner of parks, will be the guest speaker at the monthly North Orlando Garden Club meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m. today at the home of Mrs. George Bradford, 21 Deane Ave.

Argentina Demands Eichmann's Return

BUEENOS AIRES, Argentina (UPI) — An Argentine demand that Israel return ex-Nazi Adolf Eichmann within one week placed the two nations on the verge of a complete break in diplomatic relations today.

Argentina already had recalled its ambassador in Israel and warned it would take the case to the United Nations if the Israelis rejected the ultimatum.

A sternly worded note handed to Israeli Ambassador Arie Levtari Wednesday night demanded not only that Eichmann be brought back here but that the "Jewish volunteers" who spirited him out of Argentina be punished.

The Argentine note was sharply critical of Israel's explanation of the incident, rejecting particularly its "gratuitous affirmation that numerous Nazis live in Argentina voluntarily with a group of Jewish volunteers who tracked him down without telling Israel's government."

Argentina said Israel in effect "has been grossly irresponsible" in Eichmann's capture by applying "offer of reparations which are the inevitable consequence of such a recognition of responsibility."

Once Eichmann has been returned to Argentina, the note said, Israel would be free to seek his extradition in accordance with the regular procedures of international law.

Kishi Guarantees Safety Of Ike

TOKYO (UPI) — Premier Nobusuke Kishi said tonight he would guarantee the personal safety of President Eisenhower during his June 15-22 visit despite threats of physical violence by leftwing, anti-American extremists.

Kishi stressed before a nationwide television audience to "welcome foreign heads of state like gentlemen" and to answer growing suggestions that the visit be postponed until Japan solves its constitutional crisis.

"We guarantee President Eisenhower's personal safety during his visit here, but I am ashamed that there will be some unpatriotic demonstrators who will be waving flags other than the Stars and Stripes and the Rising Sun," Kishi said.

Kishi denied that Eisenhower's visit had any connection with Japanese domestic political affairs.

Kishi's opponents have charged he wants to use the visit to boost his political prestige but Kishi said the visit was connected only with the centennial celebrations of U.S.-Japanese relations.

Reds To Return Glider Pilot

COLOGNE, Germany (UPI) — The East German Communist Party admitted an American team to pick up glider pilot Richard E. Schreder, who landed in the Soviet zone by accident Wednesday while competing in the world gliding championships.

It appeared the Communists were preparing to release Schreder, of Toledo, Ohio, in record time. His wife was waiting near a border post in expectation he would cross the Iron Curtain this afternoon.

An East German radio station reported that Schreder had landed his home-made glider near Grevenmuehlen, just outside the Iron Curtain and only a few miles from the spot where nine Americans were forced down recently in a C-47 transport.

Pershing Missile Fired By Army

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — The Army fired its new Pershing ballistic missile on a short hop over the Atlantic today in a "leaver" test of the rocket's systems.

The 28-foot Pershing, which had racked up three successes in as many tries earlier this year, apparently stood up well under the stress and strain.

Missile Strike Spreads

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — The machinists union, already on strike against Convair, broke off negotiations with another missile-making firm, Lockheed, and threatened to give five-day notice Friday of contract termination.

The termination notice would allow about 10,000 international Assn. of Machinists (IAM) members to walk out on strike anytime after Wednesday at Lockheed plants in Van Nuys, Sunnyvale and Santa Cruz, Calif.

An estimated 3,000 Convair machinists remained off their jobs for the fourth straight day today at Convair installations at four key Atlas Air Force bases at Vandenberg, Calif.; Cape Canaveral, Fla.; Offutt, Neb., and Warren, Wyo.

Selected small groups of about 22,000 other Convair machinists conducted "hit-run" strikes at Convair's three plants here and at Pantano, Calif. The "hit-run" strike strategy was aimed at slowing down production at Convair plants, yet still allowing most union members to remain on the job to help finance the strike of fellow union members.

Military Junta Builds Up Case Against Menderes

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI) — Turkey's ruling military junta built up its case against former Premier Adnan Menderes today with charges that the regime had planned before it was ousted to kill 1,500 military college students.

MRS. D. R. FEMSTER, president of the Florida Federation of Art, stands beside the points of instructors who will conduct classes at the state headquarters in Debary starting June 13. She added that plans are now underway for the coming state art convention to be held at the Langford Hotel in Winter Park, Nov. 17-19. (Herald Photo)

Gen. Cemal Gursel, provisional chief of state, made the charges in an address to his officers earlier this week but they were not made public until Wednesday night.

He said Menderes planned to wipe out the cadets in order to break the power of the army. Gursel said it was not just a "rumor" but a concrete plan of which the military junta had evicted Menderes.

The former prime minister and his cabinet are under arrest. They will be tried for violating the constitution.

In Istanbul, an estimated 300,000 citizens, students and cadets carrying flags and placards claiming "two enemy martyrs" staged a demonstration of support for Gursel's rule.

At Beyazit Square, where students clashed with police of the old Menderes regime on April 28, a university coed presented flowers to First Army Commander Gen. Fahri Ozdilmez.

It was the student demonstrations that brought simmering discontent into the open and led to the military coup.

Plains States Hit Hard By Tornadoes, Storms

The plains states reeled Wednesday night under violent storms packing tornadoes, hail, damaging winds, torrential rains and flash floods.

At least one man was killed and six persons injured. More than six inches of rain drenched Jetmore, Kans., near Dodge City, and sparked flash flooding which washed down a highway near town and swept a car from the road.

At least four tornadoes were spotted in Texas, but only one touched ground.

The twister smashed several farm buildings near Clarendon, Tex., before picking up a stalled car carrying four young men and a woman and slamming it to the ground. All five were hurt.

Tom Shaver, 72, died of a heart attack after fleeing to his back yard storm cellar during a tornado here at Paducah, Tex.

Two other funnel clouds were sighted near Turkey, Tex., and a third was spotted flying near Dyess Air Force Base, Abilene.

Seven-year-old Virginia Colene Marshall, of Paducah, was plucked from her parents' stalled car by a flash flood and carried 400 yards down swollen Buck Creek, where she clung to a protruding root for 45 minutes. She suffered minor injuries.

The storm hand stretched from Texas to North Dakota and over the northern Rockies, with scattered thunderstorms reported over Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

The Weather Bureau predicted more thunderstorms today along the Gulf Coast into Georgia and Florida. Elsewhere, warm, sunny weather was forecast.

Plane Giving Aid Criticized

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional testimony disclosed today that the United States gave 421 jet planes to an unidentified Far East ally which had only 186 qualified jet pilots.

The two-planes-per-pilot case was cited by Comptroller General Joseph Campbell in closed-door testimony published by a House appropriation subcommittee considering President Eisenhower's $4,175,000,000 foreign aid program.

A Defense Department official also told the subcommittee the United States had shipped more P-54F jet planes to Germany than there are pilots in that country. He said this was done because storage charges are cheaper in Germany than in the United States.

Campbell, whose agency is Congress' financial watchdog, charged that the two billion dollars a year in military aid which this country sends its allies "is supervised closely enough."

Longwood C Of C To Hear Broth

Dr. Clyde Brothers, county health director, will be the guest speaker at the Longwood Chamber of Commerce monthly meeting at 8 p. m. today at the Civic League building.

Also on the agenda will be the annual election of the organization's directors. Mrs. Dorothy Heath, C of C secretary said the meeting is open to all residents living in the area.

Judd Is Named GOP Keynoter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minnesota today was named keynoter for the Republican national convention and House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana was named permanent chairman.

Bid Opening

Bids will be accepted for a new police car at the Casselberry Town Council meeting to be held at 8 p. m. Monday, Mayor W. M. Benson said.

Tax Break Bill Action Nears

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) said today his Senate Finance Committee expected to complete action by nightfall on a House-passed bill to give a tax break to self-employed persons saving for retirement.

He said the committee had to act on remaining amendments to the measure, which would change the federal income tax law, before it was sent to the floor.

High Reds Question Nikita's Policies

LONDON (UPI) — An intense policy battle is going on inside the Kremlin and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev is under fire from conflicting groups in the highest councils of the Soviet Union, informed sources reported today.

Several changes already have been made in the bill, it was reported. They included Treasury Department recommendations designed to make the bill at least acceptable to the administration. The Treasury originally opposed the entire measure.

The reports said his supreme leadership does not appear to be threatened immediately but he is fighting a rear-guard action in an apparent attempt to justify his policies before and after the recent summit conference.

The reports came from neutral diplomats who are in a position to know what is going on inside the high walls of the Kremlin. They refused to permit identification. The sources said some Kremlin policymakers have been and still are critical of Khrushchev's foreign policy and his recent furious verbal attacks on President Eisenhower.

On the other side, the diplomats said, is a group opposed to too close relations with the West.

Wayward Chick Hatches Family In Oak Tree

There is a chicken that must think she's an eagle. The little hen has built a nest about 30-feet up in an oak tree to hatch her brood.

The hen belongs to 16-year-old Frank Davis of 256 New Upsala Rd.

Monday the family discovered some biddies behind the shed where the chickens roost. Tuesday some more baby chicks were found. So far six of the biddies have dropped out unhurt. By the clucking still going on in the nest, more are expected.

"We can't tell what kind of hen it is," Mrs. Davis said. The nest is too hidden to tell if it is one of Frank's Cornish game or Rhode Island Red hens.

"She will have to come down sometime," Mrs. Davis reported. The hen has no way of getting food or water.

Club Hears Space Progress Report

Are the Russians really ahead of us in the missile race? Col. Russell Gray, deputy chief of staff for materials at Patrick AFB, told members of the Sanford Kiwanis at a luncheon meeting Wednesday. "It was strictly a matter of one's own decision."

The only separation between a 90-foot missile used for the military and that used for space is the five-foot nose cone, Col. Gray said.

In explaining recent failures of the missiles, Col. Gray told the assemblage that "from these so-called failures almost always evolved something that benefits us for future launchings."

He cited the heralded Vanguard failure and said "out of that failure, scientists brought forth the real use of the telemetry, a device that has greatly aided the space program as a radio transmitter and receiver."

He defended what he termed as "unexpected and unexplained failures" by pointing out that there are more than 200,000 parts that must be checked before each launching, each of which could cause a failure.
