Art Federation Plans 'Paintnik' Picnic Sunday

The Florida Federation of Art is sponsoring a "paintnik" in DeBary Sunday, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. A "paintnik" is a picnic for painters, where they can picnic and paint and also be observed by curious spectators.

This "paintnik" will be held on the lawn and grounds of the historic Count DeBary Mansion, which is the state headquarters for the Art Federation.

The Federation has announced that spectators are welcome. Admission will be 30 cents and beverage and cake are included in the admission. Anyone who is really hungry is advised to bring his own lunch. Artists from all over Florida will be painting. If you have never seen an artist at work here is the chance.

Summit Blow-Up Causing Some Americans To Cancel Red Trips

NEW YORK (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's summit blow-up has caused "some, but not many" American tourists to cancel summer trips to Eastern Europe and Russia, a quick survey of travel agencies showed today. Marvin Deutsch, managing editor of the trade publication Travel Weekly, said his quick check showed agencies were receiving numerous inquiries but that most travelers were apparently taking a "wait and see attitude."

Some agents are advising clients to cancel their trips, either because they believe Americans may be subjected to uncomfortable hostility or because they feel that "if the trip is not good enough for them, no one should go."

Nikita May Have Missed The Boat

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)—The president of a firm which built a boat for President Eisenhower to give to Nikita S. Khrushchev said today the Russian Premier may have missed the boat, literally, when he torpedoed the summit conference.

The 140-ton boat, an 18-foot jet cruiser bearing a silver plaque, "to Nikita S. Khrushchev from Dwight D. Eisenhower," was loaded into an Air Force plane about four weeks ago and taken to Washington.

Jack Wisniewski, president of American Tourist Bureau, a "wholesale" agency which handles arrangements with Russia's Intourist and others for other agencies, said he felt that "if they don't want President Eisenhower, why should we give them 10 million dollars in tourist money?"

He said he also felt things might be "thoroughly unpleasant" although not dangerous for Americans in Russia this summer.

Retail prices of farm foods decreased generally in 1960 for the first time during the past four years.

Atlas Zooms To Record In Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — America today fired an Atlas missile with a dummy warhead on a 9,000-mile flight to a point off the tip of South Africa.

The 85-foot Atlas took 35 minutes to make a trip that, aimed at the northeast, would have penetrated deep into the heart of the Soviet Union.

The Atlas soared 1,600 miles to the edge of space with the dummy warhead plus 1,000 pounds of "normal research and development" instruments.

The nose cone hit the water just north of Prince Edward Island, off the southern tip of Africa.

The shot exceeded the previous long distance missile mark set by Russia, —7,767 miles over the Pacific Ocean last January with a so-called "super rocket."

The Air Force said the purpose of the test "was to obtain data on re-entry at increased velocities resulting from longer range flights."

The Atlas passed between South America and Africa but did not cross any land masses, the Air Force said.

Two ships and an airplane were stationed downrange to track the missile's nose cone.

The longest previous shot by an Atlas was 6,325 miles over the Atlantic.

As it pulled from its pad and disappeared high into a hazy sky toward the southeast, the Atlas appeared well on its way to an historic flight that would overshadow the best that Russia has offered publicly in the way of long distance shots.

Soviet missiles fired a multi-stage ballistic missile last January that sent its nose cone into the Pacific Ocean 800 miles from Pearl Harbor and within two miles of its target. That shot covered 7,767 miles.

TWO LYMAN High School students, Mary Lynn McCanna and James Henry Beusee, have been awarded $400 a year general scholarships to be used in preparation for careers as teachers. The two students were selected in a competitive examination taken by more than 1,000 students in the state. Another Seminole County student was also named recipient of the award. She is Dian Alken of Seminole High School. (Herald Photo)

Tornado Levels Kansas Town

By United Press International

Tornadoes swept death and destruction through the plains states and the Midwest during the night, virtually leveling the small town of Meriden, Kan.

Authorities said almost all the homes and business establishments in Meriden, a town of 388 persons, were demolished by the twister. One person was killed and at least 50 injured.

The body of Mrs. Mildred Hundley was found in the wreckage of the safe she operated in Meriden.

Tornadoes also struck Topeka and Leavenworth and swept away homes in farm areas of northeastern Kansas.

Authorities reported that a southwest tornado caused considerable damage. Houses and barns just disappeared and we're trying to find out if anyone is missing.

The American Red Cross sent a disaster unit to Topeka and Silver Lake, near Topeka, Kan., after a tornado swooped through the farm area. Nine homes were destroyed and several persons injured.

The twister skimmed across northeastern Topeka before hitting the Silver Lake area. It smashed through a trucking company lot, destroyed a concrete block building and overturned several semi-trailers.

The wind was so strong it picked up one of the trailers and hurled it 100 feet.

High winds blew over the radio tower of the Missouri Highway Patrol station at Macon in the northeast part of the state. No one was injured, although part of the tower fell on a nearby building.

Winds of 85 miles an hour rushed across Oklahoma City, overturning an oil well.

Witnesses said the wind lifted a big steel roof off a theater for 20 seconds and then dropped it back in place.

Fern Park Rally Scheduled Tonight

Candidates will be waging a last minute appeal for votes for the forthcoming second primary at the first of two political rallies scheduled at the Fern Park Legion hall at 8 p. m. today.

The primary will be held next Tuesday and a heavy vote turnout is expected.

The final rally will be held at 7:30 p. m. Saturday at Sanford's Municipal Stadium prior to the Sanford Greyhound-St. Petersburg baseball game.

Admission price to the rally at the stadium will be a voting registration card.

Three commission races will be at stake in the primary, and a considerable post in District 4 and Peace Justice post in District 6.

Races include: District 2 County Commissioner; J. D. Cordell and Ted Williams; District 3, James Avery and incumbent Leverage Swafford; District 5, incumbent Homer Little and John Fitzpatrick.

In the constable's race, Bob Carroll will face O. G. Owen and Elmer Ashley and Homer Sewell will square off in the peace justice race.

Both rallies are sponsored by the County Democratic Executive committee.

Fish Catch Off
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 10th largest fish catch in the United States commercial fishery in 1958 totaled 5,100,000 pounds, slightly below the record catch in 1954. The average price paid fishermen was 6.71 cents per pound, the lowest in 14 years.

Mail Rate Hike Asked
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U. S. Chamber of Commerce urged Congress today to streamline the nation's mail handling and raise postal rates to make the Post Office Department self-supporting. The chamber called for postal rate increases on first, second and third class mail to wipe out the expected $244 million Post Office Department deficit in the next fiscal year.

Merger Vote Asked
NEW YORK (UPI) — Stockholders of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and Seaboard Air Line Railroad will be asked to vote approval later this year of a merger of the two lines. Terms of the proposed ACL-Seaboard merger call for the creation of a new company to be known as Seaboard Coastline Railroad Co.

Collins Still Trying
TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. LeRoy Collins said today he has written new letters to three presidential hopefuls asking them to meet with the Florida Democratic convention delegation to discuss the issues. The governor said he met the letters of Senators John Kennedy, Lyndon Johnson and Stuart Symington.

Hate Rally Staged
TOKYO (UPI) — Millions of Chinese Communist staged a "hate America" rally in Peiping and its suburbs today and a leader likened the U. S. position at the summit conference to a murderer being the law court. Teng Hsiao-ping, general secretary of the Chinese Communist Party, led what the Communist New China News Agency called an "unprecedented mammoth rally" in Peiping to back Nikita Khrushchev and condemn what he called "U. S. aggression and provocation."

Search Continues For NAS Crewman

Navy search planes today continued to comb the Banana River area west of Patrick Air Force Base, for the third victim of a Sanford based Navy jet that crashed Wednesday and took the lives of its three-man crew.

Still missing was Aviation Mechanic 2C Glen Lambert of 1700 1/2 Magnolia Ave., Sanford.

The other victims were Lt. Harry A. Lackey II of 115 Oakland Dr., the pilot and instructor pilot Lt. (jg) Louis M. Beverly of 615 Briar Cliff.

Funeral services for Lt. Beverly will be conducted at 9 a. m. Tuesday, Gramkow Funeral Home reported.

The Navy will open a court of inquiry into the cause of the crash next week.

Art Show, Auction Starts Sunday

The Sanford Art Assn. will present a broad new selection of pictures to the public at its second show on the Civic Center public Sunday and Monday.

The works will be on display from noon to 6 p. m. Sunday. The association's auction, with the Navy's Jack Frost as auctioneer, will be held at 7 p. m. Monday. The display will be open to the public from noon Monday through the auction.

"We hope there will be the same good response to the show and auction that we had to our first show last November," Mrs. Helma DeWitt, president of the association, said.

Mrs. J. O. Gregory is the show chairman and the members will exhibit works that haven't been shown before, she said.

Pastor In Charge Of Beverly Aadland

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The late Errol Flynn's teenage playmate, Beverly Aadland, has been given permission by a judge to move out of Juvenile Hall and into the home of an actor-turned-evangelist.

Superior Judge Allen Miller, finding Beverly to be "a bad girl but not a real bad," snubbed the 17-year-old blonde's mother and awarded custody to the Rev. Leonard Eller and his wife.

"I'm very happy," sobbed Beverly, who was schooled by her mother, Mrs. Florence Aadland, 53, who added she thought Beverly would be better off living with the Ellers than with her. She was given visitation rights.

Eller, a costume cowboy hit actor, is an ordained Baptist minister who now is chaplain with the non-denominational Hollywood Christian Group. It is restricted to show business people interested in religion and meets once weekly in a filmland hotel.

Queen Mother's Romance Denied

LONDON (UPI) — Buckingham Palace today emphatically denied a report appearing in a New York newspaper that Queen Mother Elizabeth, 59, wants to marry Sir Arthur Pass, the treasurer to her household.

"It is bogus," a palace spokesman said. Lawyers for Sir Arthur, 74, also declared the report was "wholly without foundation."

The New York Daily News carried the report in a copyrighted dispatch from London.

Collins Endorses Carlton In Governor Race

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. LeRoy Collins today endorsed Doyle E. Carlton Jr. for governor in the May 24 run-off primary.

Collins, who made the announcement at his weekly news conference, said he thought Carlton was the candidate "best qualified and equipped to make this state the best governor."

"I shall vote for him on election day," the governor said.

Collins said Carlton had "clearly indicated" he wants to keep the state on its present course in racial matters. And Collins said he was proud of the course the state had been following for the past years.

He said, "where is there another state that has done a better job in this area than Florida." In the campaign debate Thursday night, Carlton said he would do everything lawfully he could to maintain school segregation, but would never order school closed.

Bryant reiterated his stand for segregation, but added, "I will never close the schools of Florida."

Both said they favor raises for teachers and a minimum wage law.

Collins' announcement he would support Carlton came as a long-awaited indication of his choice in the governor's race.

Collins said he has no present plans to make a speech on behalf of the Wauchula rancher "but I never close the door."

Collins apparently broke his long silence as a result of much pressure from Carlton supporters. It also was believed that recent endorsements of Bryant by former Gov. Millard Caldwell and Mrs. Dan McCarty helped force Collins' hand.

He refused to endorse a candidate in the first primary and had indicated until his announcement today that he would keep mum until election day.

The outright attack on Collins' policy toward the tough race problem by Caldwell Thursday night also played a part in the surprise Collins announcement.

The governor had said earlier that he would stay out of the campaign unless forced to defend his administration.

Caldwell said in a statewide broadcast Thursday night endorsing Bryant that the Collins administration was "soft toward integration."

Collins' endorsement of Carlton brought a stream of questions from newsmen on the race angle of the campaign.

But the governor refused to comment on whether the election of Bryant would, in his opinion, be a repudiation of the racial course taken by the Collins administration.

Carlton and Bryant indicated in their Pensacola debate Thursday night they hold doubts about the wisdom of capital punishment.

The heavily-populated areas of the Southeast Florida coast drew both men from the Florida page-handle today as they stumped through Dade and Broward counties.

Carlton said in the television debate he favors modification of the capital punishment law. He said there is a definite distinction between a man who kills with premeditation and one who kills on impulse.

"It has been proved that capital punishment is not a deterrent to crime," he said.

Bryant said he would have to be faced as governor with the problem of allowing a man to be put to death. He said he feels that if capital punishment were abolished, persons who commit capital crimes should be put in prison permanently.

The debate failed to produce clashes such as occurred at similar appearances in Tallahassee and Miami.

Khrushchev Delays Berlin Action; Says He'll Wait To Negotiate

BERLIN (UPI) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today he will wait until the next summit meeting in six or eight months before he takes any action against West Berlin.

Khrushchev spoke before a roaring crowd at a "hate Eisenhower" rally in an East Berlin hall. Above him was a banner proclaiming "An end to the provocations of Eisenhower and Adenauer."

He officially made President Eisenhower one of the three men most condemned by the East German Reds. The other is Adolf Hitler.

Khrushchev told the crowd he thought there could be a summit meeting in six or eight months, but said Eisenhower had failed under the influence of the Pentagon's "cold war circles" and would not be there.

"We will wait for negotiations," Khrushchev said. "If the next president will not negotiate, then we will wait for the next one after that.

"But for a solution of the problem of the remnants of World War II, a German peace treaty and the resolution of the Berlin problem, we will not wait very long."

Khrushchev said if the Western powers are not soon ready to solve these problems the Soviets and East Germany will have to meet with their friends to decide how they should be resolved.

This sounded like a call for an all-Communist peace conference. Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told the House of Commons today there may be grave implications, new threats and new dangers as a result of the collapse of the summit conference.

Macmillan, first of the western leaders to report publicly on the summit, said, "There is no doubt that what has happened is a serious setback."

"We must be prepared for the international outlook to become more stern."

He praised President Eisenhower for wisdom and courage in announcing an end to U. S. flights and declined to predict what Khrushchev has in store for Berlin.

Macmillan said Khrushchev gave no suggestion shortly before the summit meeting was to have started that he intended to wreck it.

He said Khrushchev mentioned the spy plane incident in a letter eight days before the conference and expressed belief the conference would achieve little. But he did not indicate his own course, Macmillan said.

Macmillan said Khrushchev stated in the letter he would not negotiate under threats, but that Britain believed those "threats" ended when Eisenhower said the spy plane had been suspended.

Khrushchev said today Khrushchev has come under the influence of American "cold war circles" who have no interest in reaching a settlement with Russia.

Khrushchev, frowning darkly while a German interpreter read his speech to 5,000 Communist functionaries in East Berlin, said he admitted that "President Eisenhower has a tougher position than I do."

He told the Communists that Penzance was opposed to the full negotiations at the summit and arranged the dispatch of an intelligence plane over the Soviet Union on May Day in order to sabotage the efforts of government meetings.

East Berlin communists rounded up tens of thousands of persons to cheer Khrushchev when he the streets of East Berlin to greet under heavy guard through the city.

The Reds originally planned an outdoor rally but after Khrushchev was booted in Paris they announced he would speak instead in the Werner Seelenbinder Hall where the audience of 10,000 could be carefully screened.

President Charles DeGaulle of France indicated in his cabinet today he will steer a more independent course in world affairs following the summit flaccid.

DeGaulle called the cabinet into a special session to discuss the effects of the summit collapse. He will report to the nation in a broadcast next Tuesday.

Eisenhower returned home today to a scheduled fanfare of trumpets and warm bipartisan welcomes designed to show national unity in the face of Russian insults and threats.

The president, returning from the scuttled summit conference in Paris and a hero's reception in Lisbon, was scheduled to land at Andrews Air Force Base at 3 p. m.

Mail Service Kept By North Orlando

North Orlando has scored a point with the U. S. Post Office Department.

Last week, postal officials informed the North Orlando Town Council that rural delivery from the Mailland Post Office would be discontinued and that mail carriers would handle the North Orlando mail service.

North Orlando Mayor Roy Liddick and the council got a petition of approximately 225 names protesting the change and sent the petition to Sen. George Smathers.

Early this week, Smathers wrote the regional Post Office Department in Atlanta explaining that since North Orlando was established with its rural delivery service he saw no reason for any change.

Today, Liddick received a letter from postal officials saying that they will not change the mail service.

"We feel satisfied with the mail service from Mailland until we get our own post office," Liddick said. "It won't be long before we have our own," he added.

Final School Day For SHS Graduates

The culmination of 12 long years of school will come to a climax today for the 1960 graduating class at Seminole High School.

A "Fun After Graduation" event will take place at New Smyrna Beach Monday under the supervision of Mrs. Harry Robson, chairman of the all-day picnic.

The event is being sponsored by the Rotary Club with the assistance of local merchants.

Those donating to the affair were Ralph Wight, William Shook, Earl Toney and the Winn Dixie Store and Heller Motors.

The mothers participating in the annual event are Mrs. William Shook; Mrs. R. E. Osterholm; Mrs. Ned Julian; Mrs. Fred Williams; Mrs. Earl Toney; Mrs. H. L. Osborne; Mrs. William Stempier; Mrs. E. H. Alexander; Mrs. R. C. Wood; Mrs. S. D. Allred; Mrs. J. G. Osborn and Mrs. J. V. Stowell Jr.

The members of the Sanford Elks donated the chairs and Hugh Carlton, principal of Pinecrest school, loaned the use of the school's speaker.

Helicopter Fails In Rescue Attempt

SUMMIT, Alaska (UPI) — A ski-equipped helicopter failed today in its attempt to rescue an injured woman and four injured men who have been stranded since Tuesday on Mt. McKinley, North America's highest mountain.

The helicopter was forced to return to Ft. Greely for repairs.

Paul Crews, leader of the stranded group, reported that "all five persons are in worsening condition."

Marines To Stage 'Mock' Armed Forces Day Attack

The Marine Barracks of the Sanford Naval Air Station will spotlight the Armed Forces Day activities Saturday with a make believe attack on a fortified "pillbox" similar to those used on the battlefields of Tarawa and Iwo Jima.

A rifle squad composed of 13 Marines, armed with machine guns, flame throwers and a bazooka, will be used to capture the two foot high pill box, located at the northeast side of the airfield.

The Air Station will open its gates at 11 a. m., following the parade which will start at 9:30 a. m.

J. G. Galloway, grand marshal of the event, said the parade will form promptly at 9 a. m. on Oak Ave. at the Fourth St. intersection.

At 9:30, the parade will begin its jaunt along Oak Ave. to First St., turn east and move along First to San Carlos Ave.

4,000 Marchers Say 'Ban The Bomb'

NEW YORK (UPI) About 4,000 men, women and children, chanting and singing "ban the bomb" marched through the heart of Manhattan early today to demonstrate in front of United Nations headquarters against nuclear tests.

They marched down Broadway and through Times Square after hearing speeches by 1954 Republican presidential candidate Alf M. Landon, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, and labor leader Walter Reuther at a rally in Madison Square Garden.

About 17,000 persons were present at the Garden rally, sponsored by the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy.

Carrying signs reading "ban the bomb," "fallout kills," and "sign nuclear bomb pact," the marchers spread out in half-way across the city as they walked along 42nd St. They walked in a leisurely fashion along the sidewalk, chatting with one another, stopping for red lights, and breaking out now and then into disorganized songs and chants.

The members of the Sanford Elks donated the chairs and Hugh Carlton, principal of Pinecrest school, loaned the use of the school's speaker.

Marines To Stage 'Mock' Armed Forces Day Attack

The Marine Barracks of the Sanford Naval Air Station will spotlight the Armed Forces Day activities Saturday with a make believe attack on a fortified "pillbox" similar to those used on the battlefields of Tarawa and Iwo Jima.

A rifle squad composed of 13 Marines, armed with machine guns, flame throwers and a bazooka, will be used to capture the two foot high pill box, located at the northeast side of the airfield.

The Air Station will open its gates at 11 a. m., following the parade which will start at 9:30 a. m.

J. G. Galloway, grand marshal of the event, said the parade will form promptly at 9 a. m. on Oak Ave. at the Fourth St. intersection.

At 9:30, the parade will begin its jaunt along Oak Ave. to First St., turn east and move along First to San Carlos Ave.

4,000 Marchers Say 'Ban The Bomb'

NEW YORK (UPI) About 4,000 men, women and children, chanting and singing "ban the bomb" marched through the heart of Manhattan early today to demonstrate in front of United Nations headquarters against nuclear tests.

They marched down Broadway and through Times Square after hearing speeches by 1954 Republican presidential candidate Alf M. Landon, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, and labor leader Walter Reuther at a rally in Madison Square Garden.

About 17,000 persons were present at the Garden rally, sponsored by the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy.

Carrying signs reading "ban the bomb," "fallout kills," and "sign nuclear bomb pact," the marchers spread out in half-way across the city as they walked along 42nd St. They walked in a leisurely fashion along the sidewalk, chatting with one another, stopping for red lights, and breaking out now and then into disorganized songs and chants.

Art Show, Auction Starts Sunday

The Sanford Art Assn. will present a broad new selection of pictures to the public at its second show on the Civic Center public Sunday and Monday.

The works will be on display from noon to 6 p. m. Sunday. The association's auction, with the Navy's Jack Frost as auctioneer, will be held at 7 p. m. Monday. The display will be open to the public from noon Monday through the auction.

"We hope there will be the same good response to the show and auction that we had to our first show last November," Mrs. Helma DeWitt, president of the association, said.

Mrs. J. O. Gregory is the show chairman and the members will exhibit works that haven't been shown before, she said.

Helicopter Fails In Rescue Attempt

SUMMIT, Alaska (UPI) — A ski-equipped helicopter failed today in its attempt to rescue an injured woman and four injured men who have been stranded since Tuesday on Mt. McKinley, North America's highest mountain.

The helicopter was forced to return to Ft. Greely for repairs.

Paul Crews, leader of the stranded group, reported that "all five persons are in worsening condition."

Queen Mother's Romance Denied

LONDON (UPI) — Buckingham Palace today emphatically denied a report appearing in a New York newspaper that Queen Mother Elizabeth, 59, wants to marry Sir Arthur Pass, the treasurer to her household.

"It is bogus," a palace spokesman said. Lawyers for Sir Arthur, 74, also declared the report was "wholly without foundation."

The New York Daily News carried the report in a copyrighted dispatch from London.

Search Continues For NAS Crewman

Navy search planes today continued to comb the Banana River area west of Patrick Air Force Base, for the third victim of a Sanford based Navy jet that crashed Wednesday and took the lives of its three-man crew.

Still missing was Aviation Mechanic 2C Glen Lambert of 1700 1/2 Magnolia Ave., Sanford.

The other victims were Lt. Harry A. Lackey II of 115 Oakland Dr., the pilot and instructor pilot Lt. (jg) Louis M. Beverly of 615 Briar Cliff.

Funeral services for Lt. Beverly will be conducted at 9 a. m. Tuesday, Gramkow Funeral Home reported.

The Navy will open a court of inquiry into the cause of the crash next week.

Final School Day For SHS Graduates

The culmination of 12 long years of school will come to a climax today for the 1960 graduating class at Seminole High School.

A "Fun After Graduation" event will take place at New Smyrna Beach Monday under the supervision of Mrs. Harry Robson, chairman of the all-day picnic.

The event is being sponsored by the Rotary Club with the assistance of local merchants.

Those donating to the affair were Ralph Wight, William Shook, Earl Toney and the Winn Dixie Store and Heller Motors.

The mothers participating in the annual event are Mrs. William Shook; Mrs. R. E. Osterholm; Mrs. Ned Julian; Mrs. Fred Williams; Mrs. Earl Toney; Mrs. H. L. Osborne; Mrs. William Stempier; Mrs. E. H. Alexander; Mrs. R. C. Wood; Mrs. S. D. Allred; Mrs. J. G. Osborn and Mrs. J. V. Stowell Jr.

REV. ROBERT SPEAR

Nazarene Pastor Leaving Post

The Rev. Robert H. Spear, Jr., pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene will be leaving Sanford after five and a half years of service.
Rev. Spear's resignation will be effective on Sunday. He will soon be leaving for the First Church of the Nazarene in Miami.
Since Rev. Spear has been the minister of the Nazarene in Sanford, the church has built a sanctuary and educational building. The membership, church giving and the church school have been doubled under the leadership of Spear.

Family Fellowship Night Planned

Family Fellowship night will be celebrated Sunday at the Grace Methodist Church.
A covered dish supper will begin at 6:30 p. m. After the supper, a program has been planned to include the different age groups of children. Melvin J. Williams, professor of sociology and director of social work at Stetson, will speak to the adults.
Professor Williams has published articles in books and magazines on sociology. He will speak on "Problems of a Pleasure of School Age Children."
Mr. Wight Kirley is general chairman of the event, assisted by Rev. W. T. Parsons, Jr., pastor of the Grace Church.
Everyone is invited to the program.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Galatians	5	1
Monday	Psalm	119	41-43
Tuesday	I Peter	2	12-20
Wednesday	Romans	8	61-69
Thursday	Romans	12	1-3
Friday	Romans	12	10-21
Saturday	Romans	15	1-7

Our future problems and pains arising from what spiritual heritage shall they arise?
The ultimate gifts of science and technology what shall they produce?
The fathers and mothers of our grandchildren and great-grandchildren - what convictions will be taught in their homes?
All this we are deciding today ... in our churches with our families.
For one generation can begeth only to the next that which it, itself, possesses.
Our own religious life, our own determination to provide our children with thorough spiritual training, our own faithfulness in filling our churches with families - these positive purposes, expressed Sunday after Sunday, will mold TOMORROW'S LEADERS.

DO YOU NEED A PICTURE to brighten the dark corner of your living room? If so, why not try to find one at the art auction to be held Monday night in the patio of the Civic Center. The auction is the first to be held by the Sanford Art Assn. and a large percentage of the sales will go toward a scholarship for some talented high school student.

The Art Assn., with Helen DeWit as president, is to be congratulated for organizing a group to actively participate in cultural and creative activities and their beginning purposes to be an enriching and enlightening study of the arts for both the professional and amateur. And we especially welcome them since their creative self-fulfillment brings worthwhile pleasures to others!

HELEN DEWIT is among the professionals. A native of Illinois, she attended McMurray College in Jacksonville, Ill., the Chicago Art Institute and the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts, and then began a career in the commercial art field. She says all this was before she became a "Mama" because following that title her interest in art tapered and laid dormant for 30 years. But a few years ago in Coral Gables she joined an Art Club and resumed her hobby of water-coloring—and most recently she has explored the medium taking instructions she will exhibit two paintings in the show. And if you are wondering how you would find time to do any art work you might remember that Donny is the adoring mother of six little Browns!

MEG URQUHART, originator of the Scholarship Idea, is not one to squander leisure moments. She is a talented musician and has found that she has artistic ability too.

ANOTHER SANFORD WOMAN not content to join the ranks of ordinary spectators is June Anderson, mother of four children, who says "painting is the best diversion from housework". Two months ago June, a former professional dancer, bought her first palette and has been so busy ever since. She will have three paintings to exhibit.

AMONG OTHERS TO EXHIBIT their work will be Catherine Dodson, Marjorie Howard, Pat Campbell of Oviedo, Marguerite Pope, Gretchen Lewis Crowell, Mildred Babcock, Thelma Sikes and Sid Schirard.

NOW IF YOU HAVE BEEN insufficiently inspired there is a new book at our city library that will give added encouragement to the person who wants to paint. It is titled, "Get In There And Paint" and in simple, lucid terms the author tells one where and how to put this and that "glob of paint"—all of which is likely to shock the professional—but which is, at least, a beginning to greater things.

A BRIDGE-LUNCHEON yesterday afternoon given by Rose (Mrs. Alperston) Speer and Genevieve (Mrs. Harry) Woodruff at the Speer camp on the St. Johns River honored Ann (Mrs. Al) Wallace and her sister, Mrs. Robert O'Neill, a visitor from Detroit. Guests were the honoree's mother, Mrs. W. A. Adams, Mrs. E. C. Widdowson, Mrs. C. F. Cooper and Mrs. G. Behman of Oviedo, Mrs. Robert Walling of Leesburg, Mrs. Robert Crumley, Mrs. John Diebey, Mrs. Kirby Fite Jr., Mrs. Woodell Springfield, Mrs. Robert

Helen will have several paintings on exhibit at the Civic Center Sunday and Monday and you can bet that at least one or two of them will be of flowers since they are her favorite topic. She says, "I love to grow them and paint them, too!"

BETH GREGORY, vice-president of the Assn., and also chairman of the show, has enjoyed art since childhood days. Before her marriage to an Air Force career man, she did commercial work along with fashion drawings. It was not too long ago, after years of water coloring, she became interested in oil painting. Mrs. Mitchell Gives Program At Club Meeting

Mrs. Robert Mitchell was guest speaker at the final meeting of the club year for the American Home Department of the Sanford Woman's Club. She gave a demonstration on "Liquid Embroidery."

After explaining how the work is done with a ball point tube of colored paint that writes, paints and decorates without a brush, she gave each member a piece of cloth and let them experiment for themselves.

Mrs. Donald Flamm, chairman, presided at a short business meeting when plans were made for a bake sale, with Mrs. Alfred Childs and Mrs. E. W. Christensen in charge of arrangements.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Christensen, Mrs. Gordon Sweeney, Mrs. A. C. McReynolds and Mrs. N. V. Farmer.

Guests were Mayor and Mrs. Earl Higginbotham, Mrs. Ty Ramage, Mrs. Audrey Brownlee, Mrs. Ellis Austin, Mrs. Pat Moore, Mrs. Robert Ramey, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Scott, Mrs. Andrew Carraway, Cdr. and Mrs. Paul Spitz, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Peterson Sr., and their niece, Beatrice, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Peterson Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Roy Symes, Bill Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. John Ivey, R. Adm. (ret.) and Mrs. Robert Jackson, Captain F. G. Edwards and Cdr. and Mrs. George Koen.

MARY AND BART PETERSON also entertained with a small, but charming, dinner party for the Blackburns.

SUNDAY IS THE LAST DAY for dinner to be served to "outside strays" at the MQ ranch, says Boss Lady, Gladys Morris. After this weekend the MQ will be getting ready for the boys and girls summer "round-up".

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moore celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary with a family dinner in the western atmosphere of the cook-house.

Mrs. Volle Williams Jr. was hostess to the monthly meeting of the Golden Circle Sunday School Class of the Pinecrest Baptist Church at her home on Washington Drive. Mrs. Cliff Ables gave the devotion and plans were discussed for next month's meeting. A picnic is being planned for this meeting. Mrs. S. L. Wiggins and Mrs. Jean Bostwick were appointed to serve as new secretary and treasurer, respectively.

each were corsages of tiny pink rosebuds and gardenias. Games were played and prizes awarded to Mrs. Howard Rollins and Mrs. Maurice Corbett. Serving as hostesses were Mrs. Owen Meredith and Mrs. Max Coberly assisted by Mrs. Earl Moxley.

Other guests included, Mrs. Bonner Carter, Mrs. Merrill Robinson, Mrs. Maude Anderson, Mrs. Herbert Thurston, Mrs. Emma Bell, Mrs. Lawrence Tinsley, Mrs. Ralph Hammond, Mrs. Dorothy Heath, Mrs. Olliff Nordgren, Mrs. Ernest Benedict, Mrs. Edward Simpson, Mrs. George Chabot, Mrs. Judy Bedenbaugh, Mrs. W. Women's Fellowship Hears Reports Of Recent Projects

Mrs. V. H. Grantham presented the program at the Christian Women's Fellowship meeting at the church this week. She spoke on ways to eliminate family tensions in our daily life. She suggested that one good way to start the day was for the whole family to have breakfast together and include family devotion at this time.

Miss Flo Bishop, president, presided at the business session when reports were given. The service chairman, Mrs. Lester Tharp, reported that two boxes of cancelled stamps had been collected and sent to the national office.

Mrs. O. T. Pearson made a box of hospital gowns from old shirts to be sent to the Switzer Hospital. A dedication service was held for the boxes of clothes that are being sent to Thailand. Rev. J. N. Barnett gave a report from the state convention held in Jacksonville, last week.

Hostesses were Mrs. R. L. Dooms and Mrs. M. J. Robles. Others attending were Mrs. W. H. Young, Mrs. J. L. Horton Jr., Mrs. J. L. Horton Sr., Mrs. B. S. Hinton Jr., Mrs. Grace Armstrong, Mrs. A. R. Siroop, Mrs. A. B. Huntley, Mrs. W. F. Vesley, Mrs. H. K. Ring, and Mrs. J. N. Barnett.

Shark Attacks 16-Year-Old Girl At Beach Picnic

The victim, Suzanne Theriot, was attending the picnic with her sophomore class, which had been given a half-day holiday for selling the most yearbooks at Mora Catholic High School in Watsonville.

Miss Theriot and 37 other sophomores went to Hidden Beach about six miles southeast of here. She was holding onto an inner tube with three friends inside the breakers, about 80 feet offshore. With her were Nick Bauk, 18, Larry Cronin, 15, and Tessie Lettunich, 15.

"Larry and Suzanne were swimming around the tube and Nick and I were on it," Miss Lettunich said. "Suzanne screamed that something was on her leg, Larry grabbed her arm, and Nick told me to pull my feet up onto the tube."

"I saw blood and the fin sticking out of the water," she said. "The shark was dark grey, maybe six feet long. We started kicking and Larry, holding Suzanne, clung to the tube."

Their screams attracted Edward Cassel, 17, who swam out to help bring the injured girl to safety. Two youths who witnessed the attack through field glasses called from a nearby home for an ambulance.

Girl Scout Banquet Slated Saturday

A mother and daughter banquet will be held at the Pinecrest School Saturday for Girl Scouts of Neighborhood 2 and their mothers. Dinner will be served at 6 p. m. in the cafeteria followed by the program in the auditorium.

Taking part on the program will be girls from Broward Troops 382, 248, 81, 14 and 378. Following the entertainment, the court of awards will be held. This is the part of the program that the Intermediate Girl Scouts have been working for all year. They will receive the awards and badges earned during the past year of scouting.

Approximately one-third of all fresh tomatoes marketed in the U. S. are grown in Florida.

Award Winning Home Developer Opens 'Coronado' Model Homes

Perry Willis, builder of award winning homes in Florida has developed 1,000 acres in North Orlando and has opened five "Coronado" model homes.

The homes will be on view Sunday. These homes feature complete subdivision facilities including city sewers, city water, paved streets with curbs and gutters, as well as underground storm drainage.

Selling price for the homes will range from $8,250 to $9,350. Thirty homes in addition to the models are now under construction. Charles L. Wilson has been named general superintendent for the development while Leo Louisa has been named general sales manager.

Wilson is a graduate of the University of Louisville and has a long and varied background in the construction industry. Louisa has been active in school and church affairs in the Seminole County area and is a veteran of World War II. He has more than 12 years experience in selling "quality" homes.

Liquor And Laws Mix In House To Disgust Of Most

TALLAHASSEE — Had the voters of Florida watched members of the House of Representatives in session last Tuesday night, it's a good bet they would have retired some of them from further public service.

It's a good bet, too, that some of those gentlemen don't set out to do the very thing they were elected to do: legislate for the people.

Another long-time representative resumed the chamber carrying his paper cup loaded with ice and whisky while more public-spirited members debated the affairs of the day.

A younger member of the House who appears to be the opposite of the rest of the pack under his desk and thoughtfully invited his colleagues to join in the fun.

Wary House Grinds On

Finally, just a couple of hours before those gentlemen were to have their last session, the House passed a bill which would have taken away from the State the right to sue for libel and slander.

Though these great violations of official conduct were apparent to everyone in attendance, Speaker Doyle Conner, determined to build a record for clearing the House calendar, kept the weary and a few wary law makers in session to pass laws, bad or good.

DRINKING INCREASES

It is reported that the number of members of the House who were seen drinking in the House chamber during the session was the highest since the 1950s.

The speakers were not involved. They have confined their drinking to places away from the Capitol.

Usain Calls It 'A Disgrace'

ONE NIGHT LAST WEEK, Rep. Charles Usain, R. Augustine, one of the most able and conscientious members allowed no hint of bad enough of the behavior of the lower house.

"It's a shame and a disgrace," Usain said in a speech during a particularly heated night session. "The worst I've seen in my 14 years in the House. We are making a collective sin of ourselves."

This reporter has covered only two sessions, but it there was ever a worse legislature than this, it's a wonder the state has survived.

'Worst In Recent Years'

BEHAVIOR OF HOUSE MEMBERS at night sessions is just one isolated reason voters observers here are calling the present session the worst in recent years if not in history.

Steve Tremblay of the Miami Herald last week called it the "worst in a decade" and was chastised on the floor for his observation, which many of his colleagues considered conservative.

This reporter has covered only two sessions, but it there was ever a worse legislature than this, it's a wonder the state has survived.

Florida needs firm leadership at the head of the Department of Agriculture.

Elect W. R. (Buster) Hancock, Commissioner of Agriculture.

IT'S TIME TO KNOW - NOT GUESS!

You know that Bryant will save $50,000,000 for the people of Florida

Long recognized as "Mr. Economy", Farris Bryant has proven that he can bring economy to our state government. In 1958 as Speaker of the House, he saved 40% in the operation of the Legislature. Bryant will save over Fifty million dollars for the state with his common sense, business-like administration. Bryant will slash public "fat" from Florida's budget.

It's time to elect Farris Bryant.

Sanders Hurls Greyhound Victory Over Palatka

By JERRY COVINGTON
Navy pitcher Ken Sanders pitched and led the Sanford Greyhounds to a 7-3 victory over second place Palatka here Thursday night before a slim crowd of 115. It was his fifth win against two clubs in the still young Florida State League season.

with a line single to center scoring Harrelson. The next two men were retired and then Sanders came through with a sharp double to center scoring Green.

Navy Defeats Perfection, 18-6

The Navy kept its hold on first place in the Little League by beating Perfection 18-6 in play Thursday.

BOSTON (UPI)—The Massachusetts Boxing Commission will decide here today whether Sugar Ray Robinson's brand new suspension will prevent his return to the ring.

Preakness Field Set For Saturday

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—Sunny Blue Farm's Venetian Way, the Kentucky Derby winner, heads a probable field of six expected to be entered today for Saturday's 84th running of the $150,000 added Preakness Stakes at Pimlico.

Two of the colts, Llangollen Farm's Divine Comedy and Green Dune's Stable's Celtic Ash, beat the gun and were entered for the middle jewel in racing's triple crown on Thursday. Turfman's Bally Ache, Windfields Farm's Victoria Park, and C. R. Mac Stables' T. V. Lark complete the smallest Preakness field since Hill Gall won in 1950.

Shonta Signs

BOSTON (UPI)—Charles (Chuck) Shonta, 22, an end from Eastern Michigan College, has signed a 1960 contract with the Boston Patriots of the American Football League.

Locals At Home This Weekend

Tonight the Sanford Greyhounds travel to Palatka where they will face the Reds in a battle for second place in the Florida State League.

The Reds have given the nod to Mike Matlack, the 18-year-old rookie who has thrown two consecutive no-hitters, to go against Robbie Robertson's hard hitting Greyhounds. Right-hander Bob Geelick will probably start for the locals. He has a record of 5-1.

IF IT'S SPEED YOU WANT - WE'LL GIVE IT TO YOU
...and a lot more besides!

If you crave the excitement of zipping speed—you can't blame you. It's a nerve-tingling sensation to climb right out of your element and literally skim the surface. But a boat is not meant to be airborne, nor are friends or family meant to endure the hazards of a racing shell. Speed is fun when it's under complete control. It's a thrill when combined with a comfortable ride—and that means high thrust to drive a big, able boat as fast as you'll care to go. Kennedy, Morse Contest In Oregon Primary Today; Johnson Gets Boost

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy and Wayne Morse contested today for Oregon's 17 Democratic convention votes while Lyndon B. Johnson is unopposed in the Republican presidential primary in Oregon. The Oregon balloting provided a last major clash of the 1960 presidential primaries. Kennedy has entered six other state primaries this year and won each of them with a big vote. If the Massachusetts senator can defeat Morse in the latter's home state today, it will give the Kennedy bandwagon another big push toward the Democratic presidential nomination.

Special Services Set By Church

The Longwood Christ Church Episcopal will hold special services consisting of Evening Prayer and Litany, at 4 p. m. Sunday. A procession of the Priest and people around the church grounds with the planting of and blessing of ornaments in the church yard will be included. The service is held following an ancient church custom on Rogation Sunday.

Catholic Women's Club Schedules Bake Sale Sunday

The Catholic Women's Club and the Holy Names Society have planned various activities for the next two Sundays at the All Souls' Catholic Church. The Catholic Women's Club will hold a bake sale this Sunday. Cakes, pies, cookies and pastry will be sold after each Mass. This is to supplement the summer fund of the club. The Holy Names Society will have a breakfast on May 29 in the new social hall. This will be served between each Mass. Anyone donating blood to the All Souls Parish Blood Bank will receive a free breakfast. Everyone is invited to participate in both of the club's activities.

CARL DISTELHORST
Banking Expert To Address Rotary

The Rotary club will have as its guest speaker at noon Monday at the Civic Center the executive vice president of the Florida Savings and Loan League, Carl F. Distelhorst, who will discuss the topic "Interest Rates—Too High?" Recently made a Ben Franklin Fellow in the Royal Society of Arts and Commerce, London, England, the visitor earned the recognition in this leading society of the British Isles through his eminence as an educator and author. For 10 years, Distelhorst taught finance and banking at the Universities of Tennessee and Pittsburgh. Later, he became executive vice president of the American S&L Institute—the higher education branch of the U.S. S&L League. Currently, he is visiting professor at Indiana University.

Local Custom Rule, Woolworth Says

WATERTOWN, N. Y. (UPI) — The president of the F. W. Woolworth Co. said Wednesday the firm will continue to abide by local customs in determining its lunch counter seating policies. Robert C. Kirkwood told a stockholders' meeting that anti-segregation picketing or boycotting of Woolworth stores was "unjustified and misconceived" because no individual company could resolve "local customs," established by the local people for the conduct of business in their community. "Dealing as we are with the deep-rooted convictions of the people in the South, it is hardly realistic to suppose that any one company is influential enough to suddenly change their thinking on this subject," he said. Five stockholders and a proxy-bearing Negro coed pleaded with the firm to take the lead in lunch counter integration. The annual Woolworth meeting was picketed by about 20 persons.

He Liked The Mural
DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Movie actor Russ Tamblyn is taking home to Hollywood an expensive Dallas memory — a 600 pound wall. Tamblyn's wall has a mural by Bill McCauley on it. The wall has been a part of the Eighth Day Coffee House, but owner Don Jackson decided to enlarge the room, so Tamblyn asked him to ship the entire wall to his home.

4 Counties In Line For New Plant

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — State Development Commission Director B. R. Fuller Jr. said Wednesday four Florida counties are under consideration as the possible site of a proposed 12 to 20 million dollar chemical plant. Escambia, Bay, Leon and Gadsden counties are prospects for the plant, which will reprocess fuel elements for privately-owned nuclear power plants, extracting uranium from spent elements for re-use. Fuller said a report is due in about a month from a nuclear engineering firm hired to study the plant to see if it is safe.

Park Ridge Homes Grand Opening Set
The Homemaster Corporation of Florida, developers of Park Ridge, will hold a grand opening Sunday at their new lakefront community. Park Ridge is located on the shores of Lake Minnie, two and one half miles south of Sanford off Hwy. 17-92. There are five furnished models on display set amid attractive landscaping on curbed and paved streets. The models range from a two bedroom, one bath home to a spacious four-bedroom, two bath model. The community has a playground and large bathing beach with heat launching and docking facilities. It also features a community water system and city sewers. Vance Douglas and Associates of Sanford, the exclusive sales agents, estimated that over 500 persons inspected the homes during the preview last Sunday. Nicaragua has had nine constitutions since 1820. The present constitution, in force since 1960, set up a system similar to the United States with legislative, executive and judicial branches. The legislature, unlike most in Central America, has an upper and lower house.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Irma is my second wife. I was a widower for 14 years and she had left well enough alone. We've been wed for two years and all I hear out of her is, "Henry, put your hat on!"

I was bald when she married me and after all, Abby, I am 75 years of age. Did she expect me to start growing hair at my age? She never complained about my bald head when I courted her. Now, we are sitting at the home of friends and she will run and get my hat. Everyone laughs, and she does, too, but she sees to it that I keep my hat on. I am getting tired of this treatment. If I am not too old for advice, please send some my way.

BALD AND NOT ASHAMED OF IT

DEAR BALD: Take your hat off, Henry. And keep it off—unless you are out of doors. And tell Irma to cut out the foolishness.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I live in a housing development, so you know how close neighbors are. One evening last fall my husband had to work late and I was sitting out in the yard enjoying the peace and quiet. One of the neighbors, whose wife was out of town, came to the edge of my yard and asked me if I cared to join him in a game of chess. We sat on my porch until dark playing chess, and then we just talked. We didn't put the porch light on as it would have attracted bugs. He stayed until my husband came home at 10 p. m. Months later I hear that the neighbors are still talking about it. Did I commit any sort of crime?

FRIENDLY NEIGHBOR

DEAR FRIENDLY: You committed no "crime" but you were indiscreet. Better to have attracted a few bugs than all that attention.

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago my wife's sister agreed to pay us $75 for our dining room set. I hauled it over there and she gave me $10 on it. Time went on. Nothing was said and nothing more was paid. I wrote her a letter asking for the balance but it was ignored.

Her daughter was recently married. She gave her the dining room set as a wedding gift. Should we ask the daughter and her husband for what is owed on the furniture?

GYPPED

DEAR GYPPED: You should NOT ask the daughter and her husband for what is owed. Your wife's sister made the deal with you; SHE still owes you the money.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WORSHIPPED HIM" Now that you are wiser, ask him to park his clay feet under somebody else's sofa every night.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Teenagers Want To Know," send 25c and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper.

It Takes Two To Tango!

Dear Edith:

"My husband will not go to dance with me and even though we are all over forty in this club, my husband won't go anywhere. I have to attend my husband's class reunion dinner in July. I have a dark red satin dress and black satin pumps. Would this be proper? He will wear a white coat, a cummerbund and black trousers, a soft shirt and no hat.—Mrs. Y."

This time "he" will look properly dressed but you won't if you wear the red satin. It will be heavy looking for July. Can't you manage a black chiffon, a black lace or black organza for a dinner dress? And do have the black satin pumps dyed red to match the dress, which will be you, it might be wise to find something to do which pleases your husband and do that. Perhaps he would go dancing then. Try it. "I have to attend my husband's class reunion dinner in July. I have a dark red satin dress and black satin pumps. Would this be proper? He will wear a white coat, a cummerbund and black trousers, a soft shirt and no hat.—Mrs. Y."

This time "he" will look properly dressed but you won't if you wear the red satin. It will be heavy looking for July. Can't you manage a black chiffon, a black lace or black organza for a dinner dress? And do have the black satin pumps dyed red to match the dress, which will be nice in the fall. Red pumps would be smart with the black outfit, also.

"I have a wide streak of yellowish gray in the front of my hair. What should I do about this?—Greta S. D."

Color rinse it or spray it with silver powder, but never dye it. The streak is attractive and "smart."

If, as your letter states, you are so in need of hair help and styling, why not send for my booklet, "Your Hairline for Beauty After Forty?" Send me a long self-addressed RIGHT—CENT stamped envelope and TWENTY-FIVE cents in coin for your copy. I will also send you directions for making the "Hairdo" while they last.

Brigitte Coming To Drive-In Sunday

"The Girl In The Bikini," starring Brigitte Bardot will open a two night run at the Movieland Drive-In Sunday.

The other feature on the program is "Five Bold Women" starring Irish McCalla.

"The Girl In The Bikini" was the second film Brigitte made. When her father learned the title of the film he tried to get a court order to impound the prints. Various governmental agencies have tried to do the same.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, "Ten Tall Men" and "Pal Joey" will play.

TV Tonight

NBC has the Jerry Lewis variety special set for 8:30-9:30. "Eyewitness to History," from 9 to 10 is CBS appraisal of the summit conference.

"Perfect Setup" on ABC's "77 Sunset Strip" at 9 has operative Jeff Spencer posing as a beach boy in Hawaii while trailing a fugitive. The principals of that other ABC series, "Hawaiian Eye," also are involved in this. Heavyweights Eddie Machen and Alex Mihail fight 10 rounds on NBC's "Cavalade of Sports" at 10.

Film On Military Life At The Ritz

The funniest story on military life to hit the screen since "No Time for Sergeants" and "Mister Roberts" will arrive at the Ritz Theater Sunday.

"Wake Me When It's Over," starring Ernie Kovacs, Margo Moore and Jack Warden will open at the Ritz and critics have hailed this show as one of the funniest "pictures since fun was born."

Based on Howard Singer's best seller by the same name, "Wake Me When It's Over" tells the madcap tale of a Manhattan bar-keep and World War II vet who through a mix-up in Air Force serial numbers is re-drafted and shipped to a radar base on Shima, a tiny speck of an island in the Pacific.

Writers Showing Males As Sissies

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — John Wayne, who can drink, and brawl with the best of 'em, deplored today the psychotic weaklings depicted as heroes in modern down-beat movies.

"Ten or 15 years ago audiences went to pictures to see men behaving like men," he said. "Today there are too many neurotic roles."

"It's the Tennessee Williams effect both on Broadway and in movies."

Wayne is a towering man who might be dismissed by so-called intellectuals as a nice guy, but no ball of fire in I.Q. department. The big guy fools them, however. The wheels are clicking along all the time.

"Williams and a lot of other writers go far afield to find American men who are extreme cases," he said. "They aren't representative of the average man in this country, but they give the impression that we are a nation of weaklings who can't keep up with the pressures of modern living."

Wayne is disqualified automatically — by his very appearance — from playing such roles as those given Tony Perkins, Anthony Franciosa, Rod Steiger, Paul Newman and other positive types.

He wouldn't accept the trembling, torn T-shirt types they were offered him.

Wayne's latest pictures, "Go North" for 20th Century-Fox and "The Alamo" for his own Balzac Productions, are he-man epics of Alaska and Texas, respectively.

"Action is the keynote of my pictures," he explained. "It's an added advantage in every respect. I try to combine an intimate story with people you can root for. The more audience identification with the characters the better off you are."

"Then after an intimate scene there should be a shot of some scenery to give audiences a chance to breathe a little."

'In The Presence Of Mine Enemies' Gets A For Effort On Playhouse 90

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — "In the presence of Mine Enemies," the Rod Serling play about life and death in — and out — of the West, saw ghetto, promised more than it delivered Wednesday night on CBS-TV's "Playhouse 90."

Serling chose to place from this World War II "sea of insanity" — his phrase — a set of characters whose words and actions could be formed into a parable of sorts and whose experiences could be related with a romanticism that the perspective of history has given them.

Serling's dialogue, as usual, was eloquent, sharp and rolled forth with great smoothness. Yet, the overall effect, dramatically speaking, was to create a debating society atmosphere where raw, desperate human feelings were called for.

Of course, the play was unusual for prime time television and I give everyone a big "A" for effort. It was worth doing it only for the brief scene in which Oscar Homolka, a Christian, decided to sacrifice his life in order to postpone another slaughter of ghetto Jews by the Nazis. Homolka had steadfastly refused to accept responsibility for the anti-Semitism and the murders of others. But, in his final scene, he recognized that mankind's great sin is in standing by, saying and doing nothing while evil is committed.

BOSTON (UPI)—Judges should write brief opinions in deciding cases, according to Chief Justice J. Edgar Murdock of the Tax Court of the United States. To illustrate his point, he told the Massachusetts Bar Association a taxpayer came into court and testified, "As God is my judge, I do not owe this tax."

This, said Murdock, was the judge's written decision: "He's not. I am. You do."

Virginia City To Close Libraries

To Get Around Mixing Court Order

By United Press International
The public libraries of Danville, Va., will be closed after the last reader leaves tonight to get around a federal court order, effective Saturday, to desegregate library facilities.

The City Council voted unanimously to shut the public libraries, including the Negro branch library and a mobile library, rather than comply with the desegregation ruling obtained by five Negro high school students. Residents of the city will vote on permanent closing in an advisory referendum June 14.

A similar suit involving the public library of Petersburg, Va., will be heard in Richmond today by a federal district judge. It was brought by 18 Negroes arrested for staging a demonstration at the library last month.

City Recorder John Jester of Greenville, S. C., hears a motion to throw out disorderly conduct charges against seven Negroes arrested for an anti-segregation demonstration at the county library.

There were new—but quiet—Negro demonstrations Thursday at Chattanooga, Tenn., protesting segregation of lunch counters in dime and department stores. The Negroes, complying with a city ruling forbidding large gatherings, entered stores in groups of six or less. Negro pickets marched in front of stores at Memphis.

At Greensboro, N. C., the State Civil Rights Advisory Committee received sworn complaints from seven Negroes charging that Berne County commissioners denied them the right to register as voters.

Senate Migratory Hearing Over

CLEWISTON (UPI)—A U. S. Senate subcommittee on migratory labor wound up three days of hearings in South Florida Wednesday and its chairman said it had received some support of pending migratory legislation.

Sen. Harrison Williams (D-N. J.) said the committee had found general support "for our education and housing measures among the enlightened and dedicated people who have been closest to the situation."

Four Killed In Plane Crash

WEST END, Grand Bahama Island (UPI)—One of four persons killed in the crash of a light plane was identified as New York playwright: Dixie Dean.

Miss Dean died along with a West Palm Beach businessman and a couple who operated a beauty shop here when their light plane crashed into the sea shortly after takeoff Tuesday night.

The other victims were Clarence Costen, 54, owner and pilot of the plane and owner of a West Palm Beach plumbing firm; Jerry Brodner, 29, and his wife, Phyllis, 30, operators of the beauty shop at the Grand Bahama Club.

Florida peanut yield last year averaged 1,120 pounds per acre, an increase over the year before.

Southside P-TO Installs Officers

An installation of officers for the Southside School P-TO was held at the final meeting Tuesday night.

H. W. (Buddy) Rawls is the new president and Ernest Southward is the incoming vice president. The secretary is Mrs. Walter Cooke and the joint treasurers are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Sweeney.

The P-TO has purchased 15 pedestal fans for the school classrooms. Dr. J. F. Darby, project chairman said. In addition, the organization has given the library $400 for books. Because numerous children from the Pinecrest area have come into Southside, an appropriation of $500 was given to the Pinecrest School for contributing to fund raising projects.

Elect DOYLE CONNER Commissioner of Agriculture

THE JOB: No post in the State Cabinet has such impact upon public welfare as that of the Commissioner of Agriculture. The duties of this office go far beyond the State's agricultural pursuits—into intimate corners of everybody's life: the car you drive, the lipstick you use, the food you eat, the welfare of your child in school, the taxes you pay, your health, the economic stability of your job.

EXPERIENCE: 10 YEARS OF LEGISLATIVE SERVICE: Five terms, Florida House of Representatives, House Speaker in 1957-1958, Chairman of Agriculture Committee (two sessions), Chairman of Committee on Rules, Member Health, Finance and Taxation, Safety, Citrus Committees, Constitutional Advisory Commission, Legislative Council.

All outstanding legislative record, wide agricultural experience, complete freedom from special-interest ties and devotion to the public welfare qualify Doyle Conner for Commissioner of Agriculture.

HE pledges to:

1. promote the general welfare of Florida, and as a Member of the State Cabinet to promote increased efficiency and economy in government;
2. promote the development of markets for Florida products through the establishment of a Marketing Institute;
3. plan for better usage of Florida lands;
4. promote conservation, drainage, and development of the State's water resources;
5. promote Florida's vast citrus industry, and assure uniform inspection;
6. protect farmers and the public, by rigid inspection and control of weights, measures, and analyses of consumer products;
7. assure honest and impartial enforcement of laws, regulating feeds, seed, fertilizers, insecticides, and fungicides;
8. advance the school system of Florida;
9. foster adequate care of the aged and of dependent children;
10. protect our bays, beaches, and waterways against indiscriminate filling;
11. assure job stability based on efficiency in Department of Agriculture employees;
12. work for adequate prisons and mental institutions;
13. implement reorganization of the Agriculture Department.

Who owns America?

- Not the politicians. They are public servants, paid to serve the people.
• Not the rich. The corporations of America are owned by more than twelve million people.
• Not the labor unions even though some of their leaders act as though they did.
It is the savers who own America. By doing without things—by self-denial—they built homes and started stores, bought government bonds, invested money

In American industry—money which buys machines and provides jobs. Most of what their savings earn is taken away from them in taxes, but because it is in their character never to waste, they still save. If they ever stopped, there would be no new capital to create new jobs, no new machinery to make better jobs, no profitable enterprise whose taxes help keep America going. Spy Plane Incident Not Total Loss To America

By HOLMES ALEXANDER
WASHINGTON — In a second sober thinking about the miserable spy plane episode, it may turn out that nothing is lost except our honor. Our secretary of state has been caught in a lie, which is bad enough. Our president has looked very sheepish, which is worse. But if we can, for once, rise above the pummeling to which the nuclear age has conditioned so much of our thinking, it is possible to find a silver lining here.

In wartime, hot or cold, the purpose is not to arrange a meeting with the enemy. The purpose is to force our will upon him. The loss of our U-2 spy plane and the capture by the Russians of its pilot did not make it easier for the summit principals to talk about friendship and accommodation between the USA and USSR, but such talk was nonsense anyhow.

On the other hand, this episode has put the USA in a position to force one of President Eisenhower's major policies upon Russia. If we treat our relationships with Russia truthfully and admit that we are engaging with an implacable enemy, it is now within our capability to score a clear victory and to impose the will of the president upon a sulking Khrushchev.

At his pre-summit press conference, Mr. Eisenhower told us of this policy, this will. It is his open sky proposal which he made in Geneva at the 1955 summit meeting, in these words:

"To give to each other a complete blueprint of our military establishments, from beginning to end, from one end of our countries to the other; lay out the establishments and provide the blueprints to each other.

"Next, to provide within our country a blueprint of the other country . . . you can make all the pictures you choose and take them to your country to study, you to provide exactly the same facilities for us . . ."

The Russian leaders, Bulganin and Khrushchev did not choose to accept — but this time we can, if we dare, make a very good effect by attempting to force their acceptance. This is true because, in the limited but significant science of aerial reconnaissance, we occupy a position of strength. We are better at aerial spying than the enemy is. The president can say to Khrushchev — either accept my open sky proposal or we will continue with the successful penetration of your air space and will take photographs of all your military operations.

This would not be empty boasting on the president's part. The Air Force is organized with reconnaissance groups in both the Tactical Air Command and Strategic Air Command. The units are provided with RF-101's, RF-66's and RB-47's. These swift, high-flying fighter-type and bomber-type planes need not operate from foreign bases. Two of them in their Navy equivalents can be carrier-launched, and the third is today being operationally refueled at high altitude.

All these and other planes, as well as our space vehicles, are equipped with automatic cameras of amazing reach and fidelity. Some of the highest performance figures are not yet released for publication, but even the available, outdated information is impressive enough.

On an actual four-hour flight from Los Angeles to New York at 40,000 feet, a strip of land 2,700 miles long and 490 miles wide was filmed. Pictures from a seven-camera battery of this type will show what type of lawnmower was used to cut the grass at particular homes, what laundry hangs out to dry and what material is used in the separate houses. Altitude and night are no longer conditions of any importance in aerial photography. Cloud cover and camouflage do not baffle the airborne camera. Unless the Russians are willing to fight a war about it, they cannot prevent our looking down their chimneys. And if we are willing to lose an occasional plane, we can have just about all the pictures of Russian military sites that we desire. There is no evidence that they can match us in this field. And even if they did, they would derive less profit since we are far less secretive.

It is an imposing position of strength which we hold in aerial reconnaissance. Within another few years, we will have space satellites to do the same job. This is one time when our advantage over the cold war enemy is clear, and present. Leaving aside, for the moment, the merits of the open sky proposal, it is a policy which Mr. Eisenhower now has the power to force upon Khrushchev.

And to force one's will upon the enemy—that is the very essence and definition of military victory.

Dangerous Encampment

POSTCARDS by Stan Delaplane

Like Art and Culture, the lively spiritual side of California has been watered down by the cascade of new people pouring into the Golden State.

The original settlers of the boom-time Eighties brought the old-time religion with them.

This was not (as it is today) the land of electronics, missiles and golden real estate. It was the State to retire in. And once retired, to find the State of Grace.

Churches of all denominations sprang up under the smog-less blue skies.

Along with the retired population came an adequate number of preachers, evangelists and assorted ex-pilots of splinter groups.

Nearly all were successful.

Our most famous Lady of the Light was the late Almee Semple McPherson. She had been converted by a young Holy Ruler pastor. And her Angelus Temple of the Four-Square Gospel always had a flavor of the brick background.

Sister Almee's Temple in Los Angeles grew on a slither of voluntary gifts from a wholly satisfied congregation.

It was no dry service. When the Gospel Lighthouse sang, "Throw Out the Lifeline," the ladies of the choir were dressed like American sailors. (The Navy protested in a court action. But they lost.)

In this spectacle of salvation, a number of volunteer ladies clung to a papier-mache Rock of Ages. Stage lighting flashed. Loudspeaker thunder roared.

Sister Almee in an Admiral's uniform directed the rescue—the Navy-clad choir and a life-saving crew of young men tossed an actual line. And all were saved from the stormy seas of sin to the shores of salvation.

There was a brief interlude in 1926 when Sister disappeared in a green bathing suit into the Pacific and turned up in Agua Prieta, Mexico.

She had been kidnaped, she said, by a trio of fiends named Sieve and Jake and Mexican Red.

It was a story that roused for all the faith of the faithful though sister had been held prisoner and across the Sonora desert, her shoes and clothing were not scratched at all. That was the miracle!

There was some talk that sister had taken sabbatical leave with a young radio announcer from the Temple. In Carmel, California, you can find plenty of people who saw the green bathing suit hanging on the line—a taxi driver will show you the house.

But nobody could prove it. And Sister put on one of the greatest shows of all time at the Temple: The choir this time was dressed with horns, tails and pitchforks. They were introduced as Sister's detractors—the reporters, the Grand Jury, and the politicians.

They were defeated by a flock of winged angels. Hallelujah!

The off-beat religions of today's California are pale beside those angelic days.

We have a few robed and sandaled desert preachers. And a few years ago, Nature Boy wandered up and down Hollywood boulevard. There was a handful of saint followers of the fiery Anne Besant.

But most of the cults that sought to vitally have gone under—one of them literally when the State built a dam in front of the holy city.

The spiritual guidance has been surrendered to more orthodox leaders, more sedate temples.

They are not nearly as crowded

Visit To Patent Office Shows Inventors 'Glowing' With Ideas

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A small household disaster sent me down to the U.S. Patent Office to scrutinize the latest list of inventions.

I wanted to see if anyone had invented a way to keep cats from having kittens in the linings of box spring beds.

I may have found what I was looking for in patent number 2,929,077 issued to Lars Magnus Ericsson of Nykoping, Sweden. I am not certain, however, that this was what Ericsson had in mind when he invented "a furniture spring connection device."

The official Gazette of the Patent Office describes the device at some length but doesn't make clear how it works or what it is used for.

A drawing of the gadget, however, indicates that it might make box springs unsuitable for feline maternity wards and, if so, Ericsson has performed a public service.

At any rate, I can afford to wait a few weeks for a fuller explanation. The crisis that occasioned my visit to the Patent Office has passed, the tabby nursery having now been moved to a closet and the bed temporarily reclaimed for human slumber.

While I was browsing through the Gazette, I looked over some of the other new patents to see if our inventors are responding to other needs of our times.

According to the National Inventors Council, the armed forces alone are in the market for more than 300 new products, some of which would be almost as useful as a cat-proof bed.

The Army, for instance, is interested in acquiring a long-lasting trouser patch, a better gray base for irradiated meat and something that would make GI instant bread mix, taste and smell like yeast-leavened loaves.

I saw nothing in the Gazette that might fill these requirements, but that doesn't mean our inventors aren't in there thinking. The Gazette was fairly glowing with bright ideas for providing us with a better tomorrow.

A New Jersey florist has been granted a patent for a "shaggy" chrysanthemum plant which certainly would be right at home in my garden. I have been growing shaggy flowers for years without realizing there might be some money in it.

Two California women have come up with a headband which is supposed to keep water out of bathing caps. I never thought it would be possible to keep water out of bathing caps without keeping bathing caps out of water.

I wouldn't be surprised if someone eventually invents a way to teach cats birth control.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

Hal is a smart man except when it comes to judging women. That's why a Scientific Marriage Foundation has long been needed in America. Idealists of both sexes can easily be duped or deceived in romance so they need a reputable organization to serve as their combined chaperone and press agent.

CASE #465: Hal G., aged 38, owns an electrical shop.

"Dr. Crane, I served during the war and saw a lot of my buddies lose their wives by divorce.

"So I figured I'd be doubly careful when I got back to the States. "In six months I married a girl who seemed my type. Later, I found out that she had been married before. She never told me she was a divorcee till after the wedding.

"Soon she began running to taverns and started going out with married men. One night she and a half drunken companion smashed into another car and my wife was killed.

"Maybe I am just peculiar for I can't seem to find a girl with similar interests.

"I belong to the Presbyterian church and attend Sunday school. I like classical music and enjoy going on hikes with a camera to photograph birds, which is my main hobby.

"Sometimes I think I must have been born about 25 years too late for the women I meet are chiefly interested in taverns, cigarettes and night clubs. Aren't there any good women left in America?"

A lot of idealistic young people, both women and men, are duck soup for scoundrels and Dan Junos.

A siren can often wrap a smart man around her little finger, as Hal's wife did, and he will not show enough gumption even to find out if she has ever been married before.

Indeed, a lot of professional men, whose wives have died, will marry on the rebound. And they often pick women who are so obviously unsuitable that all their family or friends can see that fact at once.

But these romantic simpletons are rushing into matrimony or salesmanship put on by the designing females.

No, there are so captivated that they rush into matrimony with a woman who will divorce them within a year or two.

So a Scientific Marriage Foundation has long been needed in America to put eyes into blind Cupid's head.

If Hal, for example, had consulted this marriage foundation, he would have been introduced to a suitable woman, of the same religion and ideals.

In fact, we'd have tried to find a girl who also liked outdoor life, hiking and birds, so their recreation would have welded them closer together through the years.

And don't get the idea that a Scientific Marriage Foundation is only for teenagers or isolated folks. We find that our best rosters and often the most frequent type of applicant is a professional man who knows it is smart nowadays to be matched with somebody of the same ideals, religion, race, hobbies, etc., BEFORE letting yourself get romantic.

For then you can safely fall in love, knowing your companion is a certified person, attested to by three local chaperone references.

Hal was soon introduced to a girl with all the assets he wished, including a classy chassis, too, for our applicants are usually above average in their physical charms.

But when the offer came about writing, so our women applicants outnumber the men. The men want to telephone for they hate to fill out a questionnaire!

That's normal, for the average husband doesn't ever write to his own parents after marriage, but makes his wife do his secretarial work!

Three Minutes A Day

By JAMES KELLER
Reading his own death notice was the rare experience of a retired Army sergeant in New Mexico.

His wife received two letters from the U. S. Army one morning. One offered condolences on the death of her husband and the other suggested that she start processing insurance claims.

Since her husband had been very much alive when he had left for work three hours before, she phoned him to come home immediately and personally disprove the disturbing notices.

"I couldn't help feeling funny," the confused man said after seeing the letters. "It was like reading my own death warrant. It said I am officially dead, but I am not."

No one relies the idea of being classified as dead while still living. But avoid the danger of drifting through life as if you were "half alive."

Think of your comparatively short stay on earth as a preparation for life everlasting and you will live life to the fullest.

"I have fought the good fight. I have kept the faith. For the rest, there is laid up for me a crown of justice." (2 Timothy 4:7, 8)

Inspire me, O Holy Spirit, to make my life count from the point of view of eternity.

Try the Extra Measure of a Wide-Track Drive

Any tape measure will tell you this: Pontiac's stance (not the body) is wider than any other car. But driving a new Pontiac will tell you more. That's when you feel the extra measure of balance, control and sure-footed roadability of Wide-Track Wheels. The difference is so dramatic it's hard to imagine; yet it's easy to discover. Just ask for a Wide-Track Drive.

Death Ray

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Scientists in both the United States and Russia are working on a neutron "death ray" bomb that could destroy an enemy troop concentration without contaminating friendly forces, it was reported today.

The magazine U. S. News & World Report said in a copyrighted article that the U. S. neutron bomb project was so hush-hush that even the code name has been labeled "top secret."

Torrential Rains Follow Chile Earthquake

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI)—Torrential rains hit earthquake-devastated Chile today, flooding stricken areas and crippling rescue operations in towns where 20-foot tidal waves wrought havoc in the wake of the tremors.

Official reports listed at least 205 persons dead and more than 100 missing but communications were broken and authorities feared the toll would rise. More than 1,000 persons were injured. At least 200 were in critical condition.

The Interior Ministry said the devastation stretched 500 miles from Concepcion to Ancub over an area of thousands of square miles containing 1,500,000 persons. Property damage was in the untold millions.

The rains inflicted new hardships on persons who have been sleeping in the open in fear of new quakes, and hampered United States, Argentine and Peruvian efforts to assist the Chilean armed forces in rescue and relief operations.

Surging tides caused by earthquakes and tidal waves in Chile today ripped loose moorings and scattered some 80 yachts in anchorages of Long Beach-Los Angeles harbor.

The Coast Guard said a strong current was going in with ease that brought harbor waters up several feet before falling back. The surging began at dawn.

Small finger piers of main anchorages were pulled loose with the surge of the craft that drifted back and forth in the channels. Coast Guard crews and boat owners were gathering up lines and securing the drifting boats. There are several thousand small boats and yachts anchored in the harbor.

No injuries were reported although some small pleasure craft foundered.

Mixing Issue Is Debated In State, County Contests

Name calling and the racial issue erupted at the first of two final political rallies in the county Friday night, but at the final rally Saturday, the candidates involved quieted down and spent their three minutes in a last ditch attempt to get votes before the second primary Tuesday.

At the first rally at Ferr Park, a small crowd heard District 3 County Commission candidates hurl charges at each other and continued bitter words after they left the speaking stand.

James Avery, first to speak, said that his opponent had "resorted to half truths and lies in an attempt to assassinate my character."

"He has brought the race issue into the election. I am for total segregation and do not have a Negro campaign manager. I would like to see my opponent make a public stand on this issue," Avery said.

District 3 incumbent commissioner Lawrence Swafford said, "It was not me who met in a Negro lodge and said I will lead your people to their rightful place in society. It was not me who is destroying relations with Negroes here by meeting with Negroes and making promises. It was not me who took Negroes that you will never get in our schools unless you get rid of Milwood and the pupil placement law."

After Swafford and Avery left the speaker's stand, Avery kept up a verbal barrage at Swafford shouting, "You are a liar Mr. Swafford. You are a liar."

However, at the final rally Saturday night at Memorial Stadium, Avery kept to his platform and segregation was not mentioned.

"I would like to see my opponent make a public stand on this issue," Avery said.

Be Independent

The voters have been subjected lately to several dart throwing contests instead of political campaigns. Some aspirants seek to ease into office by being against most anything in the way of a program and through being against some political personality on the county scene.

This makes their efforts distasteful and hardly in the public interest.

The Herald has said before, and repeats, that it is not interested in political personalities but has been plugging for the progress of the county and the good of the many citizens who just want their business handled right no matter who handles it.

We are urging again that voters think independently and consider carefully what the candidates are offering in the way of a realistic program and, most of all, their qualifications, if any, for public service.

It's time for voters to realize that leadership cannot come from opportunists who have votes to offer. It's time for the voters to stop voting against people who have provided leadership when it was needed and now become the targets of one and all who take the line of least resistance and stoop to vilifying them.

Every voter should search his mind for recollection of how much good of these personalities have done for the public good while the "agains" and all their ilk staidly by reaping the benefits.

Every voter has the responsibility of letting the public good, not any private or factional axe grinder influence the way he votes.

If this is the basis of the voting, Seminole County will continue the progress it has started in spite of those who had only criticism and nothing else to offer.

MIAMI (UPI)—Doyle E. Carlton Jr. said today the architect of Ferris Bryant's gubernatorial campaign is former governor Millard Caldwell, "a reactionary dedicated to fight against any form of progress for Florida."

Bryant charged Carlton with "hypocrisy" on the racial question.

As the two candidates swapped charges, Gov. LeRoy Collins announced he would go on television tonight to make a speech on behalf of Carlton. Bryant said he was "amused" at Collins' "clever violation of the spirit of the Constitution."

Carlton said Caldwell had been quoted as saying Florida must avoid extracting any more industry.

"This closes the ring of anti-labor and anti-industry supported in the opposition camp," Carlton said.

"Now we know where they got their reluctance to talk about specific plans for directing new industry of Florida."

Bryant, in Miami, said, "My opponent's comments follow a pattern of hypocrisy that has characterized his campaign. He was far in opposition and he wrote a letter to prove it, but he was accusing me. He was far in opposition and he wrote a letter to prove it, but he was accusing me. He was far in opposition and he wrote a letter to prove it, but he was accusing me."

Bryant pointed out there is a Florida law allowing parents to move their children from integrated schools. He said one of the choices open to the parents would be to place his child in a private school. Bryant would not say whether he would take any such action if his child were to be placed in a private school.

"I would be very careful about doing anything to affect adversely our public school system," he said.

The candidates met face-to-face on a televised debate in Miami Sunday night.

Bryant said that Carlton voted for a bill which would close schools if National Guard troops were used to force integration.

Carlton denied the measure mentioned the National Guard. He said it specified only intervention by federal troops.

Bryant read from what he said was a copy of the bill and said the words "National Guard" appeared in the text.

Both Carlton and Bryant spent today in Miami in a last minute appeal for the city's heavy vote. They were to debate again over WFTS-TV from 10 to 11 p. m.

Bryant and Carlton affirmed their support of the Pupil Assignment Law during the debate. Both said they would keep schools segregated if possible.

Carlton suggested there is a need for local authorities to be armed with more power to handle their racial problems.

"I will seek to give it to them if I am governor," he said.

Bryant said "The Pupil Assignment Law is the best defense that we had. If integration fails, we will devise new way to achieve our aims."

Bryant said he thinks reappointment can be effected through the present Constitution. Carlton maintained the growing areas of the state can get no help in law legislature through this method. He advocated changing the Constitution to create a 44-member Senate and a 104-member House.

Crash Victim's Body Found

Navy search planes recovered the third victim of the Sanford based Navy Jet that crashed in the Banana River Wednesday and took the lives of its three man crew.

Aviation Mechanic Glen Lambert was found over the weekend. The bodies of the other two victims, Lt. Harry Lackey II and Louis M. Beverly were found shortly after the search started.

Funeral services for Lt. Beverly will be conducted at 9 a. m. Tuesday at the NAS chapel with Chaplain W. Leonard Dugger officiating. Burial will be in Oaklawn Cemetery, Grandview Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Ceylon Working To Stop U. S., Red Blowup In UN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—Ceylon was reported working behind the scenes today to prevent a major Security Council blowup between the United States and the Soviet Union over U.S. spy plane flights.

Informed sources said Mr. Claude Corea of Ceylon, president of the Security Council for May, was considering a compromise resolution that would express disapproval of intelligence flights by planes of one nation over territory of another.

Such a resolution, if it avoided direct condemnation of the United States for the '54 spy plane downed in Russia, might stand a chance of gaining the necessary seven votes of the 11-member council without a veto by any of the five permanent members.

Art Show Crowded; Auction Tonight

More than 200 persons crowded onto the Civic Center public Sunday to look over approximately 100 paintings at the Sanford Art Assn. show.

The association's auction will be held at 7 p. m. today with Jack Frost acting as auctioneer.

The auction is held to help defray expenses for some Seminole County youngsters to attend the annual summer camp for art students.

Wage Dispute

CHICAGO (UPI)—The national railroad and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers today handed their wage dispute to government arbitrators for a final, binding decision.

The speech will originate from the president's White House office. It will be carried from 7 to 7:30 p. m. on the CBS and ABC networks.

The NBC network will carry a delayed telecast of the report at 9 p. m.

Assessor Issues Statement on Roll
Tax Assessor Mrs. Mary Walker today issued a statement concerning requests for adjustments on the 1959 tax roll.

Following is Mrs. Walker's statement: "Since my return to office, many taxpayers have requested the assessor's office to make adjustments on tax assessments on the 1959 tax roll.

For the convenience of the taxpayers, I wish to make the following statement. The Attorney General's opinion on this question is as follows:

Neither the tax assessor making the assessment, nor his successor, may change a valuation of real or personal property for tax purposes after the final adjournment of the equalization meeting, and especially after the delivery of the tax roll to the tax collector."

Here's A Switch — Gas Prevents Fire

Fortunately for a gas station in Casselberry, the storage tanks filled the day before prevented what may have been a tragic explosion.

An automobile came "barrelling in" to Ernie Thompson's Colonial service station and failed to stop until it had rammed one of the gas pumps, knocking off its hinges.

"A sudden spark from the damaged electrical wiring caused flames to shoot out from the tank," Pete Perry, attendant at the time of the mishap, related.

"I ran out cut the system off, but the flames continued until the fire department came and snuffed them out. Having a charged pump and a crispy hose," Perry added.

He explained the reason the tanks didn't explode was that they had been filled to capacity, which prevented an air-pocket from forming.

"A near empty tank would have really caused an explosion," he said.

Fare Boosts Blocked
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Civil Aeronautics Board blocked temporarily today fare boosts proposed by four major airlines and announced it would deal with higher passenger fares on an industry-wide basis.
