DR. A. F. CARR, Preacher

THE WEATHER

For Florida: Local thundershowers this afternoon or tonight; somewhat cooler tonight; Thursday fair.

LOCALS

Mr. V. Bradford, of Quitman, Ga., spent Tuesday here with his brother, S. W. Bradford.

Hear the Men's Chorus in the old songs at the Presbyterian church. You will enjoy singing with them.

Robert Knight of the Knight Bros. Paper Company of Jacksonville was in the city today calling on the local trade.

The Presbyterian church wants you to visit with them during the week and hear Dr. Carr who is conducting a series of meetings.

You are invited to attend the services at the Presbyterian church every evening. Come out and enjoy a good sermon, good music, and the spirit of brotherly love.

Ed Higgins, Earl Ginn, R. W. Pearman, R. C. Bower and several others went to Leesburg this morning to inspect the plant of the Grass Fibre Pulp and Paper Company.

A. P. Porcher and T. G. Ronald of Cocoa arrived here today for the big shoot at the Gun Club tomorrow and will test out our links in a game of golf this afternoon with some of the local players.

The city will be filled with good sports tomorrow coming over to attend the Florida State Championship Trap Shooting tournament that will draw the shooters from every part of the state.

The Milan Theater is floating a fine flag from the top of the new building and the roof is on and the big ventilators for the fans completed. The ne whetater is getting along in fine shape and old man "Tom" says that he hopes of seeing a play there long before Thanksgiving.

FLOOD AND FIRE RAM-PANT IN HOT SPRINGS

pavement was tossed to the sidewalks, through windows and doors. Eye-witnesses and those engaged rescue work said, many persons were swept with the flood for several blocks only to be rescued by a squad station at a point where the water, having run its course, receded. Others drawn into the torrent were caught by persons along the waterline as they swept by. Approximately one hundred automobiles were damaged or destroyed.

Shortly after 6 o'clock, when the crest of the flood had been reached, the fire alarm sounded. Fire broke out first in the Grand Rapids furniture store at a point where the waters reached a height of several feet. From there it spread rapidly to a filling station. The Oliver-Finnie grocery, the American Express office, the Rosenthal shoe store, the Dixie Cafe, and finally the Marquette hotel, were a roaring mass of flames. Darkness fell and the rushing waters, heavy rains and the red glare of the fire over it all, caused onlookers to fear that the entire city was doomed.

All public utilities, including light, water and gas service, soon were out of commission. At the most critical moment the waters were found to have broken off two fire plugs, and the water pressure was gone. Remedies were applied later and the fire fighters, battling the elements and the fire, again went to work.

The Commercial building, in which the various stores and establishments were located and the Marquette hotel were a smouldering mass of ruins last night.

Less than the flood, which virtually washed out a section nearly a mile in length, was almost complete, it was said here tonight, only two concerns having flood insurance.

A substantial portion of the fire loss was reported to be covered by insurance. The fire was thought to have been started from lightning striking a wire in the furniture store.

The first train to reach Hot Springs crept in at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon over the Missouri Pacific tracks.

That the storm extended over considerable territory was indicated by trees uprooted, heavy stands of water in fields, and swollen creeks and streams between Little Rock and Hot Springs.

HOT SPRINGS, May 16.—The first of two airplanes carrying representatives of the Associated Press landed here early last night. The plane which started from Muskogee, Okla., with representatives of the Muskogee Phoenix and the Associated Press member, made the trip in one hour and twenty minutes. Another plane was en route from Kansas City with a staff correspondent of the Associated Press.

The second airplane bringing an Associated Press representative from Kansas City landed about an hour later.

CHANGE OF LIFE
Florida Lady Was in a Miserable Condition, But Says She Found Cardui Helpful, and Got Well.

Altha, Fla.—In explaining how she found Cardui so helpful during change of life, Mrs. Ella M. Bailey, of Route 2, this place, said:
"I became so weakened it was an effort for me to get around. I knew what was the matter, but I felt like I couldn't give up."
"I just dragged, and I certainly was nervous. I was so restless I could not sit down long—yet so weak I couldn't get about. It is a most miserable and such a helpless feeling. I knew what was the matter, but I felt like I couldn't give up."
"I began to feel, after awhile, there was no use to try to get well. This is all wrong, for it makes a person worse."
"I had heard of Cardui, and thought it might strengthen me. A neighbor had used it with good results."
"I took one bottle (of Cardui), then I saw I wasn't so nervous, so kept it up. Gradually the nervousness left me. I began to eat and sleep better. Was soon well, and all right. Cardui did what I needed it."
Thousands of other women have written, to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others.

FROM OTHER SANCTUAMS

CALIFORNIA "AS IS."

A resident of California—and Southern California at that—has written a letter to Willis Powell, of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce, which is eloquent with inter-linear "cuss-words."

Powell slips the letter to the Tribune and we can't help glancing over it.

Far be it from us to throw any lemons or cabbages or more or less override henfruit at a sister. Florida loves all her sisters. Mer great affection reaches out clear across the continent and embraces, in its tenderest regard, even California. Although this particular sister has shown her reciprocal regard by refusing to allow Florida fruit to be delivered at her front-door, we harbor no ill-will. Florida and California are sisters—Mr. Forbes, for one, says so. He gives to both of them the pre-eminence preference of his publicity. Entirely forgetting the existence of Jacksonville or Miami or St. Petersburg, and also of forty-six other states and ninety-four half-states, not to mention other towns and cities, he boldly proclaimed, by syndicated, authenticated and copyrighted "copy" to several hundred newspapers (yes, including the Jacksonville Journal) that "Southern Florida and Southern California are the two most rapidly growing places in the United States," with the additional and correlative statement that they have "the finest winter climate" in the selfsame United States.

Naturally, this makes Florida feel kindly toward her sister, on the Pacific or, rather, the lower part of the said sister.

So, it grieves us extremely to offer testimony tending to prove that Mr. Forbes, with all our respect and regard for his opinion, should have left California out of his picture. That being eliminated, we are the "whole cheese." But listen to this man who writes Willis Powell:

"I have been in California for four years and have made up my mind to move." (Took him a long time to arrive at this unavoidably logical conclusion—almost at long, no far as we have learned, as it took John Taylor, of Largo and Tallahassee, to decide whether or not Wisconsin corporations should be allowed to continue having North Dakota boys beaten to death in Florida.) "It's dust here all the time—clouds of it—mossoms of it—you can taste it in your food—everything in the house is covered with it." (If that were "Florida sand" it would inspire affection and desire to remain or return, rather than resentment.) "There has been six inches of snow about twenty miles east of here last week." (Winter resort stuff—comforts of your bleak, blizzardly, snowy northern home right along.) "If there is any land in the world that is worthless it is in this part of the country." (A broad statement, covering lots of territory, and including the arid deserts of Arizona and the impenetrable rocks of Wyoming.) "I have been comparing the temperature here with Tampa and find that Tampa has been from 15 to 20 degrees warmer than San Diego all winter." (It seems that somewhere, somehow, we've heard that before—now that we recollect, it was told us by the United States Weather Bureau.) "As to the summers here they are hot enough—I have worked out in the sun when it was 120 degrees and it jus about took the sap out of me." (Produce an authentic record of a temperature of 120 degrees in South Florida and take the Tribune and all its rights, appurtenances and hereditaments.)

This awakened dreamer of California has our sympathies. He has wasted four perfectly good years. If he had spent those four years at any place in Florida—well, say, Lake county for instance—he would have saved the labor of changing his mind, kept the dust out of his eyes and soup, seen snow only in the news-films, picked oranges and grapefruit or strawberries or tomatoes from his own back-yard and retained every jot and tittle of his "sap."—Tampa Tribune.

The county road gang are now at work on the new road which will, when completed, connect Indialantic with Cocoa Beach. The road as laid out runs north from Indialantic parallel with the ocean, and will be about twenty miles in length. When finished Brevard county will be in the same class with Palm Beach and Dade counties who have been making capital out of their "Ocean Boulevard" for several years.

But why should there be a home for worn-out chorus girls? There's always vaudeville.

GETTING RIGHT

One of our Northern newspaper editorial friends makes this comment: "The government of the state of Florida is indicted by what has taken place in these camps. High and low, state as well as county officials, are arraigned to answer charges of barbarism. It is distinctly 'up to' officials of Florida to wipe this stain out."

Yes, Florida has been "on trial" for several months. It pleads guilty to all the charges, filing the extenuating affidavit that the particular crime which brought out the other charges was committed by a northern corporation, acting, however, under the permission granted by the laws of Florida.

The people of Florida have desired, all along, to accompany this plea of guilty with the abolition of the evils responsible for the charges and a promise to abstain from such practices in future.

Up to last Saturday, a "little group of wilful men" in the State Senate had thwarted the will of the people and made it doubtful if Florida could carry out its desire to abolish the system and give its promise to do better. Under the lash of public opinion, welded by a practically unanimous press, by resolutions of every civic body in the state, by mass meetings held and projected, two of this group changed their votes on Saturday and the Senate voted to abolish the lash, permanently for county convicts, and for two years for state convicts. This action, while still tainted with compromise, effected the result desired. When both houses concur in a measure of absolute abolition, and the Governor does the necessary signing, Florida will then be able to say to the world that it has "come clean."

Florida, as a state, has shown the world in this unfortunate situation, that it is overwhelmingly for the right. When its lawmaking body puts into its statutes the abolition of the lash and, when the men who are primarily responsible for these abuses are punished, Florida will have made amends to its own conscience and to the shocked sensibilities of the outside world—and Martin Tabert and the other victims of brutality will not have died in vain.—Tampa Tribune.

Two Paramount Stars Won Fame in Crook Roles

Betty Compson, Bert Lytell and May McAvoy Are Crooks in "Kick In."

Crook roles made 'em famous—and now they're doing them again! Betty Compson sprang from obscurity to fame and stardom by her appearance as the little pickpocket "Rose" in "The Miracle Man." Bert Lytell was just a successful stock leading man until he scored a big hit in a crook role in "The Lone Wolf" and followed it up with his portrayal in "Alias Jimmy Valentine," which has long been rated one of the greatest box office attractions ever made.

Now, for the first time, these two great "crook" players are joined in a great "crook" play. They, with May McAvoy, are featured in "Kick In," a new George Fitzmaurice Paramount picture which Ouida Bergere adapted from the Willard Mack stage triumph and which comes to the Princess theater next Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Lytell is seen in the role of Chic Hewes, a crook who tries to go straight, while Miss Compson is seen as a District Attorney's daughter whose growing love for Chic starts a series of dramatic situations culminating in a climax of remarkable power.

The excellence of the cast of "Kick In" does not stop, however, with the fortunate coupling of Miss Compson and Mr. Lytell in roles of similar appeal to those of their greatest individual successes. Playing the sympathetic, pathos-filled roles of Myrtle and Bennie are May McAvoy and Gareth Hughes, who rose to screen stardom by their work in Paramount's "Sentimental Tommy." The remainder of the cast includes Kathleen Clifford, Maym Kelso, John Milner, Walter Long, Robert Agnew, Jed Prouty, Carlton King and Charles Ogle.

The Fee System is responsible for a lot of the trouble we are now having with the convict lease system and with every other part of the state business. Read what Telfair Stockton says on this page about the fee system.

The hold-up and robberies now being practiced by the Chinese bandits in various parts of China lead us to believe that in former years these gentlemen must have been laundry-men in America, or waiters in some big hotels. Their work shows some very fine training—in fact they may have been employed by some of the big corporations over here.

KENNERLY MAY MAKE THE RACE AGAINST McRAE

TALLAHASSEE, May 17.—Representative C. H. Kennerly, of Palatka, has under consideration numerous requests from all parts of Florida that he enter the race for commissioner of agriculture in the forthcoming campaign.

The gentleman from Putnam declined to state what he will do in response to the requests, but admitted that he is very seriously considering the matter.

"I have been so occupied with my work as a member of the joint legislative committee investigating conditions in convict camps," said Representative Kennerly, "that I haven't been able to devote as much attention as I would like to many matters pending in the legislature. I have felt and yet feel that the interests of the state were paramount in the abolition of the lease system and the use of the lash, and, notwithstanding my own deep personal interest in agriculture, I have given all the time necessary to furthering this investigation.

"When the committee has reported and the investigation is behind me, I will take stock and let my friends know what I will do about entering the race. I appreciate deeply their interest, and will always cherish their friendship, whatever my decision may be."

Representative Kennerly is author of a bill to regulate commission merchants, which the house passed, and which is pending in the senate. He also is given credit for a bill from the committee on agriculture, introduced as a committee bill, having for its object to give the farmers of Florida a better grade of fertilizer. Mr. Kennerly came to Tallahassee with a bill to this effect, and asked the committee to use that as a basis for writing a bill that would embody the sentiment of the committee as a whole.

Mr. Kennerly has been identified with farming interests of Florida for the last twenty years, and is acquainted with practically every farmer in the state.

"Facts and Figures, or the A. B. C. of Florida Trucking," a book written by Mr. Kennerly some years ago, is still being used as a text book on trucking at the University of Florida. More than 25,000 copies of it have been sold to farmers in the state and the work is being used by them as a guide.

The gentleman from Putnam gained his acquaintance with farmers during seven years spent as a traveling salesman, when he was selling seed. He has operated a farm himself in Putnam county, being engaged in the poultry business.

Mr. Kennerly is president of the Putnam County Poultry association, and vice president of the Putnam County Fair association. He formerly was secretary of the Florida branch of the American Poultry association. He has been a member of the city council of Palatka and for two terms was city judge there, resigning that office to become a member of the legislature from his county. He was born in Palatka and reared there.

Presbyterian Church Crowded Last Night to Hear Dr. Carr

The Presbyterian Church was crowded again last night to hear Dr. Carr and his excellent sermon was greatly enjoyed by all present. Dr. Carr has a wonderful way of getting right down into the hearts of his hearers and driving the facts home to them. The Men's Chorus is also bringing the crowds to the Presbyterian Church and their rendition of the old songs is said to be the best ever heard in this city. And then the joy of singing the old songs by the choir and the congregation goes a long way toward warming the hearts of the people toward the services and all those who have been attending the meetings at the Presbyterian church have been well repaid.

As several of the visitors last night remarked: "There is an atmosphere of good fellowship in the Presbyterian church that makes everyone feel, at home—that friendly feeling—that makes the stranger think he is among home folks."

Come out tonight and hear Dr. Carr and hear the Men's Chorus. They have a message for you and you will enjoy an hour such as you have never enjoyed one before.

Senate to Hold Two Sessions Every Day

TALLAHASSEE, May 17.—The senate will hold two daily sessions until the end of the legislative term on June 1, under a resolution passed Tuesday. Debate on all questions will be limited to 15 minutes except The Herald delivered six times a week for 16c.

Divided Her Time Between Driving Truck, Fighting and Jail Sentences—Sex Revealed by Fight With Gangster.

Philadelphia.—Florence Gray, known for the last eight years as "Battling Kid" McConnell, and "Whistling Jack," is an out-and-out, self-confessed seeker of publicity in order that she may enter the "movies" and thus gratify a life-long ambition. For eight years she masqueraded in man's clothing and was "as tough as they make them."

When Charlie Weaver, a member of her "gang," broke her nose during a fight, he didn't dream that he was "spilling the beans" for Florence. But when, on her complaint, Weaver was arrested, Florence was taken to the police station also and there her sex was discovered, although it had been known to some police officials and Justice Brown for the last two years.

"Skirts for Life." Left motherless soon after her birth, Florence went to live with her grandfather, James Gray, who, she claims, is a retired lawyer. Because he found it hard to travel around with a little girl he dressed her in boy's clothing. She liked them so well she has worn them ever since, until Judge Brown sentenced her to "skirts for life." She is now twenty-one years old.

As John McConnell she was the leader of the "iron gang," and spent her spare time in pool rooms, or in jail, as she was sent there frequently for fighting. In fact, she gained a reputation as a boxer, gave exhibition bouts, and enjoyed many vicarious battles in which she was usually victorious.

John McConnell could break hearts as well as jaws. Three times she wooed and won the flowers of the tenderloin district, each time to break the engagement. She was engaged "for keeps" to twenty-one-year-old Lottie Harrison when the demagogue came and shattered her last romance. Let the blemish of the loss of her lover, but has been consoled by the sale of her photographs to various papers, a practice which has also netted "Jack" considerable money.

Judge Kept Secret. Judge Brown was holding court two years ago when a woman appeared and charged "John McConnell" with being the father of a child recently born to her young daughter. She said the girl and "John" had been keeping company and that the pair had been away on several over-night trips.

"As Tough as They Made Them."

"John" was about to be sentenced on circumstantial evidence when the grandfather told the judge of the prisoner's sex.

Judge Brown had the girl examined by physicians, who found that she was not feeble-minded, but of subnormal mind. The judge took pity on her and sent her to her father and step-mother in Baltimore, N. C., hoping that, away from Philadelphia's tenderloin, she would regain her womanhood. It was but a few weeks, however, until she was back in Philadelphia working as a tea-stainer, and soon arrested for fighting.

Airman Dazed by Lightning in Air. Montreal, Can.—While flying 4,000 feet above mountains near here, Capt. J. H. Tudhope, of the Canadian air force, was struck by lightning and knocked unconscious. The plane glided swiftly down to earth while the airman was unconscious. Tudhope awoke when the machine was 300 feet from the ground and alighted safely.

Stuck in Laundry Chute. Chicago.—Nine-year-old Ruth Wicker tried to shoot the chutes in her home, and it took Capt. George Carlson and his men of engine company No. 3 to rescue her. The little girl fell through a clothes chute, lodging midway between floors. She was pulled out, unharmed, by the fire captain.

American Red Cross Refugee Aid In Greece Helps One Million Homeless; Emergency Program Nears Completion

A mud settlement in Athens is shown in the pictures above. The Acropolis is seen in the background. It is in this and other historic sections of Greece that the American Red Cross is completing its big task of aiding thousands of refugees. Portable spray tanks are being used by the American Red Cross workers in Greece to expedite this campaign of the organization to check and prevent epidemics. By use of these tanks, the heads of refugees are sprayed with a disinfecting solution to kill disease spreading vermin.

The American Red Cross plans to withdraw its forces from Greece and terminate its emergency disaster relief program for the Asia Minor refugees on June 30th. Col. William N. Haskell, Red Cross Commissioner in Greece has been cabled to notify the Greek government of the Red Cross' intention to arrange transfer to local authorities and charities of the work now conducted and financed by the Red Cross. Judge John Barton Payne, National chairman of the Red Cross, in discussing the situation, said: "The American Red Cross in materials already shipped and in other expenses incurred to date, has expended $2,694,448.21 from its disaster emergency relief funds to succor 1,000,000 refugees who were transhipped to Greece with little warning as an incident of the Greco-Turkish war. A daily feeding program is now reaching 500,000 of the most needy of these refugees. A sanitary and medical effort of wide scope and intensive nature has warded off epidemics which threatened, American charity has prevented the refugees and the population which received them from experiencing disaster in the fullest sense of the word." The Red Cross has been operating in Greece for six months and Col. Haskell reports from the field agree that the situation cannot attain permanent solution through outside charity. The situation is no longer regarded as an emergency by Red Cross officials and ample time is being given the Greek government to decide for itself how it will arrange for the permanent care of the refugees. The highest Greek officials have praised the work of the American Red Cross in Greece. King George of Greece said: "It was a great work, well carried out in an admirably organized manner."

HAS RULED FROM BEGINNING

That Japanese Royal Family Has No Name Is Proof of Assertion Long Put Forward. In the peaceful and isolated community it is probable that at first no family had any special line of occupation to follow. It was when the community had made some progress that division of labor was introduced.

HEARD FROM BEGINNING

Japan furnishes the solitary instance where the ruling family has no family name. In England, Italy, Holland and other countries those who already had family names required influence and ascended to the throne. That the Japanese ruling family has no name is a clear proof of the contention that Japan has been ruled by the same family from the beginning.

Hostilities on! And the shootin' begins! High School baseball championship tournament begins today, State Trap Shooting contest starts and last but not least the DeMolay plays the Oviedo Scouts here today.

And so this Thursday's half holiday is a red letter one in sports. Shooting, baseball and golfing tournaments all in one day. And a baseball game one the home lot!

In looking over the sporting page of the Florida Times-Union we find that Jacksonville has quite a few city baseball leagues, semi-pro, amateur, boys', etc. Isn't Sanford large enough to have a Junior City League for the boys of this town?

There are enough boys in Sanford between the ages of ten and seventeen to form a pretty good four club league. What we lack now is a good live fellow to work up the idea. Where is he?

Last night at the DeMolay baseball meeting, Victor McLaulin was elected captain of the team. Vic was captain of the High School team this year so he has had quite a bit of experience as a captain. Great things will be expected of the team since he is to be captain.

This afternoon the following fellows will be seen in the DeMolay line-up: Meade Baker, Pitcher; Lewis Shipp, catcher; Vic McLaulin, first base; Harry Woodruff, second base; Ralph Woodruff, shortstop; John Wilson, third base; with Culver Etheridge, John Brumley, Robert Jenkins, George Smith and others taking turns about in the outfield.

PARlez Vous Francais? The scene—the book department of one of Chicago's large stores. The actors—a salesgirl and a woman intent on purchasing literature entertaining but, alas, wicked—there are such women!

"Have you something a little risqué?" "No, ma'am, we have nothing by that author." "No, no. Don't you understand? I don't mean the author. It's the book. It's risqué."

"Just a moment—I'll see." Much searching ensued and a bewildered girl reappeared. "I'm sorry, ma'am, but we haven't a book by that name."

"Stupid, I mean a book that's a little off color." "Well, why didn't you say that right away?"

"When a Feller Needs a Friend." Carlin, four years old, is the son of a candidate for a county office on the Democratic ticket. The son, to be sure, is the father's most ardent supporter, and not only of his father, but of all things Democratic.

"Hello, Republican!" "The other day, after the little fellow's sly, defiant look of denial, one asked: 'Well, you are a Republican, are you not?'"

Carlin, indignant denial revealed in every line of his sturdy little white linen-clad figure, as he walked away, clutched determinedly at his father's hand, as he demanded: "I am a Democrat, ain't I dad?"—Indianapolis News.

BRAVES TRIM CARDS; GIANTS AND ROBINS WIN

BOSTON, May 17.—Southworth's home run set the man up in the last of the fourteenth enabled Boston to defeat St. Louis, 7 to 6 yesterday. In the thirteenth his diving catch of Bottomley's drive resulted in a double play. Boston had the bases full, with none out in the eleventh when Boeckel's drive was speared by Freigau, who threw to Bottomley, doubling Southworth. Bottomley then threw to Stock at third before Cruise, running for Fillingim could return, to completing a triple play. Boston made six runs in the seventh off Donk. The score: St. Louis 001 000 023 000 00—6 15 5. Boston 000 000 000 000 01—7 15 3.

Donk, Barfoot and Clemons, McCurdy, Marquard, Fillingim, Benton and O'Neill.

NEW YORK, May 17.—The New York Giants took the odd game from Pittsburg yesterday, 6 to 2. Jack Pirt was in great form and let the Pirates down with four hits, which he kept well scattered. Score: Pittsburg 000 020 000—2 4 1. New York 000 000 202 20x—6 10 1.

Morrison, Kunz and Gooch; Scott and Snyder.

BROOKLYN, May 17.—Brooklyn made it three out of four with Chicago yesterday, winning 8 to 2. The Dodgers hunched two doubles with a batter hit, a pass, a wild pitch and a sacrifice fly off Dumovitch in the first inning, driving the Cub pitcher out of the box. Two more singles off Osborne in the same inning netted the Dodgers four runs all told. Neis led the assault on two Chicago pitchers with a home run, a double and a single, scoring three runs. The score: Chicago 000 200 000—2 7 1. Brooklyn 410 009 21x—8 13 2.

Sea Lions Inmate a Lighthouse.

The keeper of 'Bride's' island light, below Cape Flattery, has appealed to the federal authorities in Tacoma for weapons and help. No sooner does he open his door than sea lions force their way into the house and make free with his possessions. At night they surround the place, barking for admittance, until sleep is impossible. One big fellow amuses himself by climbing the exterior steps to the light, to plunge headlong into the sea. To kill one would only attract more, for the smell of putrefying meat is an irresistible attraction.—Scientific American.

Invents "Ideal" Explosive.

A Minnesota inventor has compounded an explosive which has demonstrated remarkable qualities in recent experiments. Whiles appearing to have great disruptive powers if closely confined, as in a shell or drill hole, it can be exploded only by means of a blasting cap or electric detonator. It is reported to give off no noxious fumes, that it will not explode when heated to 212 degrees Fahrenheit, that it will not freeze, and that it cannot be accidentally exploded by shock.

Early Crusaders Used Stim.

Few prohibitionists, says the Scientific American, are aware of the stock long fact that the vogue of the still in Europe was due to the original Crusaders, who took kindly to this eastern recreation and brought back with them recipes and methods that made the still as popular an institution as the royal fester—and doubtless helped along democracy by making it hard at times to distinguish the king from the clown.

Sequence and Consequence.

As showing how the combination of drink and driver works out, we give the terse report of Ben Quinn, an Indian of Kansas. He said: "First mile too slow took drink of booze; next mile faster, took another drink, last mile very fast, took another drink; then saw bridge in road, turned out for it."

Ben is now in the hospital with a broken arm.—Boston Evening Transcript.

Following the sale of the Avon Park improvement bonds for 104.38 plus $4,500 accrued interest, the city council has insured the stretching of the paving project possible by threefold. The way this is done is by passing a resolution that the property holders must pay two-thirds and the city one-third for paving. This is the plan followed in many places, and is always considered fair and right. The money from the bonds will be available soon, and it is now expected that a large amount of paving will be undertaken.

The Lakeland Star-Telegram is urging that Polk county have an orange festival. The Star-Telegram says that several cities in Florida have a sort of fixed celebration of some nature appropriate to the locality, either through certain favorable surroundings or conditions, or because of historic tradition, and it points out that an orange festival would be appropriate to Polk.

CANNED GRAPEFRUIT TO REPRESENT FLORIDA AT "ALL-AMERICAN MEAL"

TAMPA, May 17.—Canned grapefruit will be Florida's only food product at the "All-American Meal" at Sacramento, Calif., next June 4, when foods from all parts of the United States will be served in one gigantic feast to show the contributions of the various sections of the country to the American table.

Arrangements have been made by the Tampa Board of Trade with the Florida Citrus Exchange to deliver several cases of its Sealheart canned grapefruit, packed at Eagle Lake, to the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce, in time to be entered in the feast. Tampa was originally placed on the menu for oranges, but found it was barred from shipping citrus to California because of quarantine laws. No other part of Florida, according to Sacramento authorities, has entered products for the great feast.

DOW ON SHIPPERS ADVISORY BOARD

TAMPA, May 17.—Representing all South Florida and the entire citrus industry of the state, E. D. Dow, traffic manager of the Florida Citrus Exchange has been appointed to the Southeastern Shippers' Advisory Board, a group of 27 shippers who will work with the railroads for the betterment of the car supply situation. This board affords shippers their first voice in car distribution matters, and Manager Dow believes it will help Florida shippers to get relief in their transportation problems. The board will study production, markets and trend of distribution, and assist carriers in the supervision of freight in the southeastern states. Mr. Dow spent part of this week in Atlanta, attending an organization meeting of the board.

Senate Passes Bill Passed by House Abolish Lease

(By The Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, May 16.—The senate passed a bill already passed by the house to "abolish" state convict lease system. The bill was merely to clarify status as to practice as it was really abolished in 1919. The measure now goes to the governor.

WHY IS THE SENATE?

Dispatches say that Representative Van Roy has a plan maturing for the abolishment of the senate, sometimes called the "upper house" of the legislature, and would amend the constitution in such a way as to make the plan feasible. The idea is worthy of careful consideration. Why is the senate, anyway? What use has a democratic state for an "upper" house? It is a throwback to the old English house of lords, which was designed to perpetuate and safeguard the privilege of the aristocracy. It has no rightful place in a modern democracy, and all indications point to the conclusion that it will eventually be abolished in democratic England. It has already been shorn of much of its power, and its ending is only a matter of time.

There was a reason for its adoption in the constitution of the United States. The states, former colonies, were separate entities, differing in laws, powers and population. They would never have joined the union without some guarantee in the constitution that their rights should be respected, that the smaller states should never be endangered by the larger. So the senate was devised to guard against this possible danger, and every state, great and small, was given the same number of senators. Without that guarantee, a union of states at that time would have been impossible.

In the organization of the individual states the same model was followed, but the same reason did not exist. The different counties were to have their senators to guard their rights. But the counties are integral parts of the state. It makes them or unmake them at its pleasure. None of them have any special rights or against another, and no one has any need of a guardian in the legislature. The people are the ones whose rights must be looked after, and the lower house, as it is called, being the nearest to the people, is their special representative. The senate, with its longer term of office, is more independent of the people, and is apt to become an obstruction and a hindrance to needed legislation. That is evident in the present fight over the abolishment of the infamous lease and lash system. The senate has a group of "wulf men" who stand stubbornly for a system which has brought disgrace and dishonor to the state, and has been shown by the experience of all civilized countries to be unnecessary and barbarous and savage. Mr. Van Roy's plan might be worthy of adoption.—Tampa Times.

CONVENTION TO DISCUSS LUTHERAN CHURCH UNION

ST. PAUL, May 17.—Ranking as the outstanding Norwegian church convention of the country, the triennial gathering of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America will be held here June 7 to 15, with the local committee planning for 10,000 visitors.

One of the important issues to come before the convention is the proposed union of the church with the three other Lutheran churches—the Lutheran Free church, the Icelandic Lutheran Synod, and the United Danish Lutheran church. Missionaries from China, India, Africa and Madagascar will address the convention.

VALUES ONE CENT AT $10,000.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Junius Guttig, of this city, has a cent that he values at $10,000. "It is the first coin to bear the letters U. S.," says Mr. Guttig, "the first coin upon which the decimal system was based. The date of it is 1783. It is the size of a dime and is made of silver, worth about three cents."

Howland Wood, curator of the American Numismatic Society confirms Mr. Guttig's opinion of the rarity of the coin.

STATE ROAD DEPARTMENT WILL GET TWO MILL TAX—COUNTIES WILL GET ONE

Road Department Has Hard Sledding in Both Houses of the Legislature

(By The Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 16.—The State Road Department was treated badly in the matter of additional money by the house yesterday and was saved from a death thrust only by the mastery handling of its chief supporters who got reconsideration from a vote that would levy a gasoline tax of 2c, but would give one of these to the counties. The road department under this plan would get no increase at all, as it receives the one cent tax now levied for gasoline. And when its supporters got the consent for reconsideration they spoke against time so that the matter would go over until today, in the hope they could strengthen their forces.

In the meantime, the senate passed 20 to 1 a bill by Senator Colson, which as amended would levy a three cent tax, two of which would go to the department, and one would be distributed equally between the 63 counties. The house passed with little trouble a bill by Representative Miller that would set out the program of work to be undertaken by the department.

At the first its provision for state roads number one to five seemed to be in for a hard row.

The house gasoline tax bill by Mr. Miller would provide for a straight 2c tax, all of it to go to the road department. A vigorous fight centered over a proposed amendment by Representative Hale to have the amount three cents, and give the counties one. He was supported by Representative Weeks, but the amendment was given a strong fight by Representative Milam no the ground that 3c was too much, and secondly the distribution was beyond all sense of fairness.

FROM OTHER SANCTUMS

FLORIDA'S BIGGEST ASSET, HER NEWSPAPERS.

As the general intelligence of a people is usually computed by what and how much they read, it may be interesting to know how the newspapers of Florida compare with the number of newspapers of other states, and how they compare in other respects.

Every issue of every newspaper in Florida may be likened to a board of trade or a chamber of commerce as to the information given out concerning its locality.

Every issue tells in a fascinating and attractive manner of its resources and possibilities of its particular section and of the activities that are constantly transpiring.

Florida has 23 daily newspapers, or 3 more than Georgia, 6 more than Alabama, 19 more than in Louisiana, 17 more than in Mississippi, 17 more than in South Carolina and 1 more than in Virginia. The weekly papers in Florida number 140. Besides, there are fine publications at St. Petersburg, West Palm Beach, Miami and other tourist points, making a feature of social events. The Florida Real Estate Journal and Industrial Record, at Miami is a model. The Fraternal Record at Jacksonville is one of the best secret society monthlies in the country. The Florida Fisherman, published at Eustis by Rube Allen, makes a specialty of Florida's fishing interests. The Florida Grower, at Tampa, specializes in the citrus fruit industry. Jacksonville has two fine agricultural papers. The School for the Deaf and Blind, at St. Augustine, has its paper, The Florida School Herald, and it is a good one, and so is the Light, printed at the Industrial School for Boys at Marianna. The colleges and various high schools, too, have papers. The first newspaper published in Florida was the Pensacola Gazette and West Florida Advertiser, the initial number appearing March 13, 1824, by W. Hazel Hunt. Later in the same year the Florida Intelligencer appeared at Tallahassee, which in that year had been designated as the capital of the territory. The editors and publishers were Gordon, Crane and Co. Florida, at that time had been a territory for three years, and statehood was still twenty years away.

With these 33 daily newspapers and her 140 weeklies besides the number devoted to special interests and all engaged in placing Florida before the world in the most fascinating and alluring manner, accounts for the wonderful and rapid development of our state.—Lakeland Star-Telegram.
