LONGWOOD, Dec. 30.—Operations at the mutual plant at the Sanford-Orlando kennel are speeded up to a normal pace now, and the crowd of patrons who played 10 great races last night were able to collect quinella bets and get home in bed before midnight.

My Valentine, Jr., winner of the inaugural handicap on opening night over the long 5-16ths of a mile course, comes back tonight for the first time in a fast futurity field.

Although the Gus Males greyhound will be the favorite he will have plenty of trouble for Denny Gog, Donna Lue, Dirty Omen, Big Ick, Sibilla, Gay Hop and Myles Swift will supply the opposition.

Acquitted her second consecutive victory of the season last night with a scorching finish that nipped Gay Daze at the wire in the feature event.

IN THE FIELD OF SPORTS

By JULIAN STENSTROM

Zinn Beck, scout for the Detroit Tigers, rolled into town yesterday for a short visit and made only one statement concerning the Tigers—Beck said that they should have a good club this year—no more and no less.

According to arrangements being made, the schedule for the Florida State League may be somewhat different than usual as Peter Schaal has been asked to draw up a slate which would carry a team out of town for two or three days instead of returning each night following a ball game.

For instance, Sanford may travel to St. Augustine for a game, to Palatka the next day and Gainesville the next, completing the circuit in the northern group. It doesn't mean that the teams will spend the night in Leesburg or DeLand since it is no trouble to make these trips.

Pioneer Night Draws Crowd To Lake Mary

22 States, 6 Foreign Nations Represented By 78 Pioneers Who Attend Meeting

Novel Program Is Presented

Prominent Speakers Pay High Tribute To Sturdy Pioneers

Pioneers gathered from all over Seminole County last night at the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce for the thirteenth annual "Pioneer Night" which included addresses of welcome and tributes to the pioneers by notable speakers and was followed by a dance given by the girls of Lake Mary.

There were 78 pioneers past 60 years of age who attended the entertainment, representing six foreign countries and 22 states of the United States. For the first time since the "Pioneer Nights" have been held, Florida carried off the honors for having the largest number of representatives present. There were 15 from this state.

A quartette, composed of County Commissioners O. J. Pope, W. B. Ballard, W. G. Kilbee and Representative John Leonard, brought down the house with their interpretation of "Sweet Adeline" while Ed Lane, impersonating a negro preacher, and led by Mrs. Ella Kretzer and John D. Evans in a wedding ceremony, also drew enthusiastic applause.

An outstanding feature of the program was the introduction of Mrs. Jane Hilliard who claims to be the oldest pioneer in the county and her youngest son who is 77. Mrs. Hilliard boasts a career of 108 years. She attributed her longevity to the fact that she got angry, but never ate too much. She has never smoked nor drunk liquor, and she sleeps about 12 hours every night.

Young Mr. Hilliard admitted that he is not quite as robust as his mother but attributed the fact to fishing in cold water. He said he had not only drunk liquor, but he had made it, and didn't believe it had ever done him any harm. He added, however, he had been arrested five times.

Frank Evans acted as master of ceremonies, introduced the speakers and other numbers on the program and extended a special welcome to the pioneers present. He also received the warm thanks of the various speakers who thanked him for making the entertainment possible and for his interest in the welfare of the county.

Prominent speakers on the program, who paid tribute to the pioneers and vied with each other for honors as pioneers themselves, were: James G. Sharon, Joe D. Jinkins, Herbert Messer, Osborn Herndon, Jesse Parrish, T. W. Lawton, B. F. Wheeler, J. Lehman, G. W. Spencer, Fred R. Wilson and Judge Ware.

Short talks were also made by O. J. Pope, W. B. Ballard, W. G. Kilbee, John Leonard, E. E. Brady and Ben Higgins, president of Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Others introduced to the pioneers included Sanford Doudney, Walter L. Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Ballard L. Dorn.

The rest of the program was as follows:

Frank Fields, 18 years old, Sanford boy—plans solo.

Mrs. Rowlett accompanied the Barkley sisters on their airplane, her two daughters, Margaret Jane and Rose Mary of Sanford.

Selden Evans from Tampa—solo, accompanied by Ruth Anderson.

Circuit Judge Resignation Of Rules Against Homer Cummings Wage, Hour Law Effective Monday

Retiring Michigan Governor Mentioned As Successor

ITHACA, Mich., Dec. 31.—(AP)—Circuit Judge Kelly S. Searl ruled today that if new wage and hour laws for them under a contract is an "independent contract" and, therefore, not subject to the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938.

His ruling was in a suit on behalf of Mac Myers, 13, who delivers copies of the Lansing State Journal in Ithaca.

The boy's contract was terminated by the State Journal with the intention of abiding by the child labor provisions of the federal act.

Judge Searl granted the injunction restraining the Journal from terminating the contract.

Scout Review Board Will Meet On Jan. 9

The regular board of review for Seminole County Boy Scouts will be held in the Junior High School auditorium Monday night Jan. 9 at 7:30 o'clock. The review was regularly scheduled for next Monday night but because of the holidays the date was postponed a week.

It was pointed out that all Scouts who plan to seek advancement or merit badges at the court of honor the following week must be present for the review.

A. W. Barkley Re-elected By Senate Demos

Kentucky Senator Is Given Unanimous Vote For Majority Leader At Caucus

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Senate Democrats unanimously re-elected Senator Barkley (D-Kent) majority leader at a caucus on Monday.

The caucus lasted only 20 minutes. There were general expressions of friendship and good will among the caucus members who differed widely on legislative action in the past.

Barkley was re-elected by a vote of 100 to 0. Senator E. A. Tamm (D-Va.) was elected as temporary chairman of the caucus. It was Harrison whom Barkley defeated for leadership by a single vote last year.

The caucus unanimously re-elected Senator Lewis (D-Ill.) as party whip and Senator Minton (D-Ind.) as assistant whip.

Senator Lee (D-Calif.) was designated secretary of the Democratic conference, a post which has been vacant since Hugo Black resigned from the Senate to become associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Vice President Garner, stepping out as a leading and dominant figure of the caucus, started what looked like a high-powered drive to swing the New Deal to the right.

Four days before the opening of the session, his caucus suite in the senate office building was the center of all congressional activity, the scene of continuing conferences dealing with the moment's lively subjects of legislation.

And the word went around that "Garner Jack" was arguing among other things, that the brakes be applied to government expenditures and that local communities be given more control over spending of relief funds.

Just around the corner from Garner's suite, the office of Senator Barkley, the Democratic leader, was barren of subjects. Barkley wearily worked away at a revision of the caucus program committee suggestions, trying to evolve a list that would suit the conflicting ambitions of all the senators of his party.

Garner, in whose behalf an influential Texas group recently elected a presidential nominee, was in high spirits. Many a resounding vice-presidential laugh could be heard in adjoining rooms as he received the following cables:

Secretary Wallace, whose crop control bill of last year has had enough shelving due to the year's unusual yields of wheat, corn and the refusal of tobacco and rice farmers to accept marketing quotas proposed by its department.

Secretary Hopkins, just appointed to the head office of the commerce department, after taking a critical nonhardship as head of the Works Progress Administration. Work relief is a hotly contested congressional topic, and in addition Hopkins' nomination must be passed on by the senate.

Mayor LaGuardia of New York, here to see that his city gets substantial recognition when relief funds are apportioned.

And Representative Rayburn, the Democratic leader in the house.

"It looks," said one veteran observer of congressional affairs, "as though Jack's the man to see this year."

Monday Will Be Observed As Holiday By Merchants

Monday, Jan. 2 will be observed as a holiday throughout Seminole County.

All offices in both the Court House and the City Hall will remain closed throughout the day with the exception of the Police Department and the Sheriff's Office.

At the Post Office, all windows will be closed and no services will be rendered of either city or rural mail on all day. However, special delivery and perishable mail will be delivered as usual. Mail will be deposited the same as on other days and collections from designated letter boxes will be made between the hours of 1:30 and 5:30 P. M.

Seminole merchants will also observe Jan. 2 as a holiday according to an announcement made by officials of the Business and Professional Men's Association. They will observe Sunday hours.

Because of the holiday activities, the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club has been discontinued.

The Sanford Herald will also observe Monday as a holiday and, in accordance with past custom, no paper will be published on that day.

U. S. Rejects Japan's New Order In China

Stern Note Is Direct Challenge To Nipponese Effort For Chinese Hegemony

Closed Door Will Not Be Tolerated

Assent Will Not Be Given To Impairment Of U.S. Rights

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Bluntly rejecting Japan's "new order" program in the Far East, the United States today told the Japanese government today it reserved all American rights in China.

The note, delivered to the Japanese Foreign Office by Ambassador Joseph C. Grew, stated in plain but friendly terms that the United States "does not admit" any "need or warrant for the power" Japan to "constitute itself the repository of authority and the agent of destiny" in areas not under its sovereignty.

This government announced simultaneously that it was prepared to enter into negotiations for changing the treaties affecting China. But it added emphatically it would not tolerate Japan's efforts to supersede the principles of equal opportunity and the open door which have long been maintained in China.

"This government reserves all rights of the United States as they exist and does not give assent to the impairment of any of these rights," the note said.

It was in reply to Japan's note of Nov. 18 announcing the "new order" program for eastern Asia which Japan said was the key-stone for enduring peace and stability in eastern Asia.

The step today constituted the first direct and complete challenge to Japan's efforts to establish her hegemony throughout China by means of a "new order" program.

The year of 1938 came today to a concluding and a crescendo of actual and potential conflict among nations in keeping with the troubled and tragic road it had travelled.

The United States and Japan, the United States and Germany, France and Italy exchanged strong words and looked to more difficult relations in 1939. The war in Spain and China raged on.

The American government delivered in Tokyo a note telling Japan it could not recognize the "new order" founded on the Japanese conquests in China which would abrogate the principle of the "open door" there.

German newspapers lashed at the United States in an extension of the controversy arising from Secretary Ickes' speech against dictator Chancellor Hitler himself pointed out to Nazi Germany its "total of destiny" for 1939 and declared the army must become even more powerful.

He also made known plans for greatly increasing the German submarine fleet, putting fresh strain on relations with Great Britain.

France continued military preparations against any possibility that Italy's clamor for French territory in the Mediterranean-African zone might develop into action. With the wings of the Catalonian offensive stalled, insurgent Generalissimo Franco concentrated his blows against the center of the Spanish government's lines, striking against the vital communications between government territory and France.

Great Britain took urgent steps to prevent Nazi Germany from carrying out formally announced plans to build a submarine fleet equal to Britain's and far more powerful than the (Continued on Page Three)

'The Dawn Patrol' At Ritz Sunday

Right up on top of your "must-be-seen" list goes "Dawn Patrol," Warner Bros. thrilling document of British wartime aviation, which opens Sunday. The great cast headed by Errol Flynn and including David Niven, Basil Rathbone and Donald Crisp, promise of the most breath-taking aerial combat scenes ever taken, all serve to make "The Dawn Patrol" one of the important offerings of the season.

Errol Flynn, playing the dashing Courtney, who together with Niven, flying from a pair of hell-for-leather flying corps, continue day after day, night after night, to wreak havoc with the enemy, while death takes its toll regularly among their less experienced comrades.

When finally Flynn is grounded after being promoted to command of the 59th Squadron, and is forced soon after to send Niven's green kid brother to his death in the air, Niven turns on his old buddy and renounces him. How Flynn, in a great sequence, takes over Niven's death sentence assignment in a great lone foray in enemy territory, creates a climactic moment which for sheer pulse-pounding drama, has yet to be equalled.

Scenes which attain greatness are when Flynn flies alone through the night to bomb the enemy pursuit planes and anti-aircraft swarm about him, and another is the closing scene when Flynn's helmet and goggles are dropped into the squadron's headquarters as tribute by an enemy flyer.

Here is the sort of story that strikes home. The right tone has been captured by the producers, and the cast has done its part perfectly. The insecure feeling of here today—gone tomorrow—permeates throughout. The frolicking flier who night after night before they take off on their death-dealing "dawn patrol," join in mad fun, are real men whose spirit it is easy to understand.

Fate Of Refugee Millions Told By New March Of Time At Ritz Sunday

"The Refugee—Today and Tomorrow," the first screen story of the appalling problem which has stunned the civilized world—opens at the Ritz Theatre, on Sunday, in the new MARCH OF TIME.

This picture is a complete camera record obtained by the MARCH OF TIME's own news cameramen of the vast and almost insoluble problem growing out of today's wars and persecutions. The six million defenseless and pitiable victims of terrorism and intolerance—uprooted from work and homes—are brought to the screen in a memorable MARCH OF TIME documentary film.

In bringing "The Refugee—Today and Tomorrow" to the screen, MARCH OF TIME lays the blame for the world refugee problem at the doors of Berlin, Rome and Tokyo. Its cameramen have been at work for the past two years recording the appalling but true story of world refugees. In Spain and China, they have caught the story of millions left homeless and destitute by aggression and civil war. European production units in Holland, Belgium, England, France and Switzerland have translated to film the even more horrible plight of the refugees from peaceful persecution—those forced to flee the fanatical intolerance of the Nazi State.

"The Refugee—Today and Tomorrow" reveals how in Germany the Nazi Party, as a national secret police, has singled out for attack all those whose politics, race or religion are not in harmony with the Nazi theory. The film pictures the Nazis' constant and extensive propaganda campaign to whip up hatred. It shows how many against whom this program has been directed have fled Germany only after having suffered the most barbarous of Nazi punishments—confinement in a concentration camp.

Exclusive MARCH OF TIME film from Palestine portrays how 500,000 Jewish refugees have been through hard work and limited financial support—turned vast acres of once-desolate countryside in Palestine into fertile farmlands.

In its pictorial journalism MARCH OF TIME discusses the immensity of the refugee problem. And in the light of the world's reaction, "The Refugee—

Ken Murray Tops Swing Film Cast

Youthful romance in modern tempo will be the keynote as the first of 1939's motion picture musical comedies, Universal's "Swing, Sister, Swing," opens Thursday at the Ritz theatre.

Wire-cracking comedy by Ken Murray, fast stepping by Johnny Downs, Kathryn Kane and Edna Sedgwick, new music played by Ted Weems and his famous orchestra, and the antics of a talented cast including Eddie Quillan, Ernest Truex, Nana Bryant and others are colorfully combined in the novel story.

Dover, Miss Kane and Quillan enact a small-town trio that introduces a dance sensation, the "Baltimore Bubble," which sweeps the country and places them on the crest of fame. Murray portrays a Broadway pretentious who promotes a harassed dance instructor, played by Truex, for money to finance the "Bubble."

Two new songs, "Wasn't It You?" and "Baltimore Bubble," the latter accompanying the dance, were provided by Frank Skinner and Charles Henderson for the musical moments. Making their first screen appearance, Weems and his band are prominently featured.

Joseph Bentley, veteran director of many stage and screen musical hits, directed, with Matty King in charge of the dances. Burt Kelly, writer of the original story, also acted as associate producer and Charles Grayson wrote the screenplay.

Rosierucians Predict Arab-Jew Alliance

The year 1939 may see the unity of a race of people separated since 2500 B. C. when as nomads tribes they roamed the fertile crescent of southwestern Asia. According to an annual booklet of predictions issued by the Rosierucian Order, AMORC, the Arabs and Jews, of the same racial origin, will, by persecution and oppression be again united in 1939 into a strong Semitic power.

J. A. Renaud, who is the district commissioner of the philosophy order, states that in a booklet, "propagandizing events of the new year," issued from the Rosierucian Secretary in St. Louis, Mo., the declaration of the two oppressed peoples, the Arabs and Jews, will be accompanied by a common accord, and agitation and propaganda will be directed to the free from the interference and influence of other races and powers." The booklet, it is stated, further prognostics that: "Not long after 1939, the Asiatic powers, such as Japan and sections of the new China, will make overtures to the Semites to support them in a united racial war against the rest of the world. The Semitic peoples will refuse to collaborate."

These prediction booklets, says Mr. Renaud, are one of a series which have been issued for years, annually, by the Rosierucians, and which are founded upon graphic charts of economic and human tendencies, and not upon any superstitious method or practice.

For the United States there is predicted an increase in exports of copper, steel and iron, a general improvement in business, and a definite drop in unemployment of motor pictures. Opposition to the Federal Housing Administration legislation, proposed by private promoters in home and
