Such a subject is that of the "sunlighters!" We would suggest that a little time be stolen from the pyrotechnics of the Democratic convention, the Soviet show-down in Europe, the continuing battling in Vietnam to pay this a little heed. This word is coined by Prof. Dale Owen Cloninger of the University of South Florida and can be discovered in a recent issue of the University of Florida's Economic Magazine.

Who is a "sunlighter?" Probably some of your friends or neighbors qualify. Certainly there are many and skilled people whose only handicap is their age.

Somehow or other when an almost complete ab- in the state of Florida with a sizeable grouping of Mr. Cloninger dubbed the retirees, those 65 years or older who are still "working" as "sunlighters," In Florida the U. S. Census reports 776,000 over 65 years old and retired in 1967. This is a 12.9 per cent of the total state population, a percentage which is the highest in the United States.

This comparatively high percentage was hailed as a great "untapped labor resource." Wrote Mr. Cloninger: "The richest strike of this resource still lies hidden among the palms and shuffleboard courts." In the Sanford area there are many sunlighters who fit right into this Cloninger picture. "The employer in Florida is far more fortunate than he may realize. The Florida population has many experienced

And, the professor continues in true professorial language: "This vast, almost undiscovered or at least ignored, resource remains untapped not only because of the short-sightedness of some, but also because of the general reluctance of this resource to become involved again."

Even a cursory contemplation of this "sunlighter" theory is intriguing. For many of our senior citizens who live in our city or our county are here because of their proficiency in the profession or business which they followed before coming south.

Our area is in the beginning of a growth which will require the skills, energies and abilities of every age class, employment class and some that cannot be put into any rigid classificacion.

Manpower, however, has always been a human resource which was hard to define. Now with the lighters!"

Interpretive Report

many changes taking place almost daily in our business, industrial and production structure it would be almost inconceivable that much of the "sunlighter" resource could not be used with advantages to all con-

Whether or not this article by a respected professor in a ressponsible publication of a leading Florida institution of higher learning receives the attention it logically deserves is not predicted here.

What is predicted and what this comment is saying in the broadesss terms is simple, basic and practical: Everywhere and in every area of human endeavor there are positive, helpful and useful outcroppings of thoughts and deeds which go un-noticed. We would not make "moonlighters" out of our "sun-

Ice That Cake!

Labor Day week-end should be a stellar date for all Sanfordites to lend their support to the lakefront regatta which has been prepared by the Rotary Club's hard-working members. Here is an opportunity for residents to enlist their hospitality, neighborliness and good-will to flesh out the splendid program of events which will attract thousands. We can be confident that every possible effort will be made to handle the crowds which last year swamped the lakefront and adjacent areas with the marina yet to be completed. Now it is a finished fact. The fame of Holiday Isle is widespread. The beauty that nature has bestowed on our city is beginning to be amplified by the hand of man. Publicity through the mass media has been early and attractive. Our news columns have carried the detailed story. More than this has been the word-of-mouth which the Rotarians and their families and friends (of which there is a legion) have broadcast. But these "best laid plans of mice and men" could be marred if we-ourselves and our fellowtownsmen-do not act the host in spirit as well as world. Traffic will be heavy, Will we remember to be considerate? The week-end does, of course, mark a sort of ending and a beginning. Rotary is to be congratulated that they saw this opportunity and grabbed it as a pioneer venture a year ago and now have decided to do it again. The event-packed schedule from the fireworks which will blast off the start at ten o'clock through the water-ski show, the "Falling Angels," the antique car judging, the "pirate invasion, the beauty contest and the crowning of

"Miss Central Florida" is most attractive. We congratulate those who have done the behind-the-scenes work and planned the regatta. Now it is up to the Sanfordites to put the icing of hospitality and good-will on this multi-layered rake of the lakefront show so tastily baked in

KEVIN AND JOHN SPOLSKI

We always knew and respected the tales of how ferocious the South American Piranha fish is, but we weren't aware of one which is also most pugnacious right here in Florida. It's called the ribbon fish, due to its length and slim body.

While dropping the line, down in Port Canaveral over the weekend, the Spolski family tangled with a mess of these battlers, each of which has a set of teeth well over 1/4 inch. According to the local gentry, if there are a school of these fighters in the water and a human happens to be around, they will make an attack.

Proof of that statement lies in the second ribbon fish which we hooked. While pulling it in (it was about six inches above the water)) one of its mates cleared the water and bit off about six inches of the stringed battler's tail. And can you imagine, there were some vaders about a
