Hearing Of 14 Men
Set For Tomorrow

Fourteen men charged with illegal mining this morning had their case continued before Justice of the Peace M. W. Lovell until tomorrow morning, at 10 o'clock.

They are to have a preliminary hearing following their arrest last week and subsequent dismissal of certain charges of mining.

Following their dismissal, warrants were sworn out against them for taking fish from the water which had not yet reached lawfu-

Senate Committee Likely To Limit Probe Of Federal "Job Selling" To Georgia

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(INS)—The Senate's investigation into the alleged sale of federal patronage in southern states probably will be limited to the charges leveled at Republican leaders in Georgia, it was learned today.

Although Senator Norris (D) of Nebraska, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, proposed an unlimited inquiry into the patronage situation in all southern states, a majority of the committee were reported ready to vote down the plan and limit the investigation solely to Georgia.

The limitation was suggested on the ground that the only specific charges of job-selling, so far presented to the Senate, were those of Senator Harris (D) of Ga.

W. H. TUNNICLIFFE HEAD OF MEXICAN ELECTED HEAD OF GOVERNMENT IS BANK IN DAYTONA CALLED 'RED RAT'

Sanford Man Now Holds Two Of State Most Important Banking Positions; In Business Here For Years

W. H. Tunnicliffe, of Sanford, formerly president of the Sanford Bank and Trust Company and now receiver of the Commercial Bank and Trust Company, of West Palm Beach, was elected to the presidency of the American Bank and Trust Company, in Daytona Beach, at a meeting of the directors of that institution last Friday night, it became known yesterday.

Mr. Tunnicliffe, who resigned the post as head of the local bank several months ago, with the intention of retiring, was offered the place of receiver for the West Palm Beach institution last month by Ernest Atoms, state comptroller. He accepted the position and has since been in charge of one of the largest financial houses in the state. He will continue to hold this post.

The Daytona Beach bank was one of the first of the larger banks in the state to close its doors following the wave of depression which struck some sections of the state last summer. It was re-opened a few months ago and upon the recommendation of Mr. Atoms and officials of the Barnett National Bank of Jacksonville, the Sanford banker was elected to the directorate and then to the presidency last Friday.

Mr. Tunnicliffe, who is a former New York lawyer, has made Florida his home for the past 12 years. He headed the People's Bank in this city in 1922, later rehabilitating the affairs of that institution to organize the Sanford Bank and Trust Company. He was succeeded by E. A. Douglass, who, in turn, gave up the office which H. C. Duane now occupies.

Taking charge of the Daytona bank last Saturday, Mr. Tunnicliffe will devote half of his time to affairs in that city and the rest of the time in West Palm Beach. His many business interests in Sanford are looked after during periodical visits here.

The directors of the Daytona bank, many of whom are well-known here, are: J. C. Lyle, R. L. Keeler, W. J. Gardner, H. S. Wilder, Gordon C. Lewis, George Morgan, H. G. Putnam, L. W. Fuller, F. J. Webster and Mr. Tunnicliffe.

Sports Editor For Tampa Newspaper Laid At Rest Today

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 24.—(INS)—Funeral services were held here today for Ray Farley, 24, sports editor of the Tampa Times, who died yesterday from injuries received in an automobile accident more than two weeks ago in which J. Watson Morris, staff photographer of the same newspaper, was killed.

The services were held from the Bayshore Baptist Church, in which he was buried.

Farley was born at Waverly, Kansas, and after his discharge from the army following the termination of the World War, he came to Florida to enter into newspaper work at Lakeland, later coming to Tampa. At one time he was athletic coach at Hillsborough High School here.

Police Double Efforts In Search For Killer Of Wealthy Spinster

CAPE MAY, N. J., Jan. 24.—(INS)—Police doubled their efforts today in their hunt for a middle-aged woman who was last seen with Miss Mary K. Clarke, wealthy spinster of Philadelphia, who was murdered here and whose body was recovered here and there.

According to the police the woman sought is described as well-dressed, and of apparent refinement, and said to have accompanied Miss Clarke to this city on Friday night, the night before the woman's frozen body was found on the beach here.

Details show that Miss Clarke was last seen late last night from Corcoran William H. Thomas, who, according to the police, discovered for the first time that the wealthy woman's arm and hand were horribly bruised, indicating that a struggle had taken place.

Two patrols are to arrive in Sanford late this afternoon with the body and arrangements are expected to be made for the funeral, which is planned for Tuesday afternoon.

ARGUMENTS OF COUNSEL BEGIN IN NORRIS CASE

Both Sides Complete Their Testimony Early In Day And Judge Hamilton Gives His Charge To Twelve Men

State Recalls One Witness This Morning

Defense Springs A Surprise By Demanding That Skin Man's Clothes Be Shown

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 24.—(INS)—The case of Rev. J. Frank Norris, pastor of the Fort Worth First Baptist church, on trial here for murder, was ready for the jury this morning, when both sides closed their testimony.

Rev. Norris is charged with murder in the shooting to death of D. W. Chipps, wealthy lumberman, in the study of the Fort Worth church last July 17. The minister claims he killed in defense after Chipps had threatened his life and made a move as if

to draw a pistol.

Judge J. R. Hamilton, hearing

the trial, began reading his charge to the jury but stopped and announced they had presented all their evidence.

The jury was charged on the law concerning murder, which carries a penalty of death by electrocution, or a mandatory sentence of from five years to life.

To warrant a conviction for murder, the jury must be satisfied

by the evidence beyond a reasonable doubt, that the defendant, in the commission of the homicide, was actuated by malice aforethought.

"Malice is voluntary homicide committed under the immediate influence of sudden passion, arising from an adequate cause, but neither justified nor excused by law."

First intimation that the trial still has several kicks in it, besides the arguments made this morning in the state, though it had rested from rebuttal, recalled another witness and introduced another to testify that a bullet, one found outside the door of the accused preacher's private study, had caused an fatal internal injury.

From this, it was indicated that, though both sides have stated, this morning, that the state, though it had rested from rebuttal, recalled another witness and introduced another to testify that a bullet, one found outside the door of the accused preacher's private study, had caused an fatal internal injury.

The defense's demand for the plain man's clothes came as a surprise. State's attorneys said they were taken away by an unsworn witness and that an effort would be made to return them before the argument ends.

DOG RACES TO OPEN TONIGHT AT LONGWOOD

Eight Races Carded For The Initial Offering Of Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club; 250 Hounds Are At Track

Hundreds Of Lights To Brighten Track

Final Details Are Completed By President Joe Tinker And Manager Ed McPadden

Greyhound racing in central Florida is to be inaugurated at 8 o'clock tonight in the plant of the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club, Longwood, and the fans of sporting inclination throughout the district will have the opportunity of watching the long lean hounds race around the new oval in the wake of the electric rabbit.

Some 250 hounds are awaiting the call of the bugle. They have been on the grounds now for a matter of several days and the exercise boys have been making a promenade out of the Longwood-Seminary Boulevard.

Eight races are on the initial card and entered in them are some of the fastest hounds now racing in this country, according to officials of the club, who announced today that every kennel was in readiness for the opening.

Hundreds of electric lights have made the track bright all day and the grandstand is ablaze with varicolored globes. The holiday atmosphere is expected to be prevalent among the decorations of this.

Officials who will actually operate all the business of racing are on hand, starter, secretary, judges and all. President Joe Tinker and General Manager Eddie McPadden have been busy completing final details for the past week.

Eight entries have been designated for each of the events on tonight's card. Favorites and selections have been made by an expert follower of greyhound racing and are carried in the Herald.

LA BARBA WINS FROM E. CLARK BY BIG MARGIN

Champion Of Flyweight Group Scores Five Knockouts Against English Challenger

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
News Service Sports Editors

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—The world included England today for the first time as far as the flyweight situation is concerned. For last night in Miami, Spain's Gordon Smith, the British champion, to everyone's satisfaction except the English, gave Elky Clark, the British challenger, a sincere going over in twelve one-way rounds.

It was called a championship match and maybe it was but Clark contributed nothing except his countenance.

Of this, he gave until it hurt and at the end he still was contributing the lashing generosity in spite of the fact that La Barba had scored five knock downs leaving the invader all out but in the first, third, an eight round.

The bitter, six-year-old feud between Landis and Johnson reached new crisis with the bursting of the Cobb-Schmeling scandal. After Johnson criticised the commissioner for his handling of the case, and pointing that all of the story had not been told, Landis summoned this special hearing, ostensibly to deliver further into the Cobb-Schmeling affair. In reality, the Monday hearing appears to be nothing more than a setting for a test of strength between Landis and Johnson.

It was such a disconcerting affair that the intelligentsia turned against Fidel, maintaining that a champion with a real punch shouldn't need more than five attempts to render an opponent hors de combat. However, the writer's reaction is that punch and Elky's countenance.

SportsWorld Marks Time As Baseball's Leaders Convene

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—(INS)—The sports world marked its time to day as leaders in whose hands repose the destiny of baseball were gathering in Chicago to attend the Spaniard to prevent Smith from absorbing further punishment. The Spaniard had things all his own way.

The sports world marked its time to day as leaders in whose hands repose the destiny of baseball were gathering in Chicago to attend the Spaniard to prevent Smith from absorbing further punishment. The Spaniard had things all his own way.

The first meeting tomorrow will be a round-table conference of directors of the American league, at which President Ban Johnson will learn what answer, if any, he will be equipped when he and his American league cohorts sit down in the "show-down" arena of Commissioner Landis on the following day.

The bitter, six-year-old feud between Landis and Johnson reached new crisis with the bursting of the Cobb-Schmeling scandal. After Johnson criticised the commissioner for his handling of the case, and pointing that all of the story had not been told, Landis summoned this special hearing, ostensibly to deliver further into the Cobb-Schmeling affair. In reality, the Monday hearing appears to be nothing more than a setting for a test of strength between Landis and Johnson.

It was such a disconcerting affair that the intelligentsia turned against Fidel, maintaining that a champion with a real punch shouldn't need more than five attempts to render an opponent hors de combat. However, the writer's reaction is that punch and Elky's countenance.

I'm still a trifle mystified as to just what manner of man this they have summoned both La Barba and Johnson may be. He rolled over on his back from that first knock-down in the third, giving every indication of being all washed up. Yet when they lifted him to his feet, he walked to his corner without undue difficulty and came out for the fourth round with all the dash of a song and dance man.

He came from every known down leaving the impression that he either had a nonconformist power of regeneration or that he was a natural born canvas-back. Either way, he was just a sap for a man like La Barba. I doubt if the British landed more than one clean punch per pound while the left handing he took was a cruse.

Hundreds Get Favors At Stewart Reception

Hundreds of visitors have swarmed to the Stewart Floral Shop in the McLanders Arcade building for the purpose of inspecting the newly decorated establishment. Throughout the morning hours children were given golfish and visiting women were favored with small bouquets of flowers.

This afternoon and evening, produce supply holds out, goldfish will be given only to girls, accompanied by their parents, according to R. M. Babcock, manager, under whose direction the formal opening of the shop is being held.

The decorations throughout the interior were planned and arranged by Mr. Babcock, who has had many years experience in the management of florist shops.

A full line of carafes and parrots have been ordered, and are to be carried in stock regularly.
