City considers increase in water, sewer rates

By Dan Ping
Editor

SANFORD — City Commissioners will consider raising rates and fees for water, sewer and reclaimed water services during their Monday night meeting.

If approved, the new rate and fee schedules will begin in January and continue through the end of the fiscal year, September 2002.

In general, most residential customers will see no increase in their monthly service charge or their water usage rate up to 6,000 gallons per month.

Sewer rates will remain the same at $2.20 per 100 gallons, but the monthly service charge will increase 96 cents.

Reclaimed water service charges will increase 25 cents to $3.50 per month.

First rate hike in eight years will cost average consumer about $12 annually

Usage fees will double to 50 cents per 100 gallons from 25 cents.

After September 2002, the city will increase water and sewer charges 1 percent every year.

Rate changes were proposed by Public Resources Management Group Inc. (PRMG) conducted a rate study for the city. The study noted that the city had not increased water or sewer rates since 1993. The study also determined that the existing rates will not cover the system's capital expenses through 2006.

In particular, PRMG recommends the rate changes for capital improvements to:

- Meet customer growth requirements.
- Replace or upgrade existing facilities.
- Comply with increased regulations.
- Address environmental and water quality issues.

Henry Thomas, vice president of PRMG, said restructuring the rate schedules and implementing the 1 percent annual increase helps prevent substantial rates changes later.

"It makes good sense," Thomas said. "It helps you to avoid rate shock for large capital projects."

Thomas said Volusia County currently increases its water and sewer rates 4.5 percent each year. Volusia officials are expected to lower that rate to 3.5 percent.

The proposed rates rank at about the midpoint for surrounding communities. Under the new rates, Sanford residents who use 6,000 gallons of water and sewer will have a total bill of $34.65. That's $1.59 more than Casselberry residents and $3.42 more than Winter Springs customers pay. However, it's $2.74 cheaper than Seminole County residents pay, $2.12 less than DeLand and $4.93 less than Oviedo.

The changes will be outlined in a first reading of Ordinance 3685.

Don Ping can be reached at dping@seminoleherald.com or 407-322-2611.

Store bells ring

Patty Darnell and her 7-year-old daughter Jamie Baston survey the early morning crowd at the Target in Lake Mary before taking their place in line. Store officials said more than 1,000 people were at the store when the doors opened at 7 a.m. Customers appeared to be in a buying mood as 568 transactions were completed in the first hour, that's almost 10 transactions per minute.

High-tech, past favorites top holiday shoppers' lists

By Christopher Patton
Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — Despite exceptionally high video game sales so far this holiday season, initial customer purchases also reflect a renewed interest in older games and toys, according to one local department store manager.

A new wave of technically advanced toys are more than ever present on youngsters' wish lists, but classic holiday gifts such as the Easy Bake Oven, Magna Doodle and Milton Bradley's board games have a new interest with customers, said Julie Milanovich, Lake Mary Target manager.

A couple of the unique electronic holiday toys selling briskly other than video games include; Air Snare, a pair of drumsticks that play simulated rhythm sounds; e-Kara, a microphone that turns any normal television into a karaoke machine; and Leap Pad, an interactive book that helps children read a story.

Shayna Harris of Lake Mary did some holiday shopping with two of her grandchildren Wednesday said the e-Kara "is very hard to find," but was happy to see plenty at Target.

"We're just making a list today," said Harris who is preparing for eight days of Hanukkah and present shopping for her nine grandchild-

With seven to nine tractor-trailers arriving every night to restock the toy shelves, Target has many of the holiday's hottest gifts in stock, but simi-

Students donate to Eagle Fund

By Michelle Jerla
Managing Editor

SANFORD — Goldsboro Elementary School students spent a little more time with their chores during the past few weeks in order to raise money for the Eagles in Washington, D.C.

The students raised more than $800 for the Eagle Scholarship Fund, which was established in memory of three students and three teachers from Bertie Backus Middle School who died in the hijacked jet that crashed into the Pentagon. The Washington, D.C., group was headed to California on a field trip when terrorists hijacked American Airlines Flight 77 on Sept. 11.

"After Sept. 11, everyone wanted to do something meaningful for the children affected by the tragedy," Goldsboro Assistant Principal Jeanette Malone said. "The children wanted to participate more than just giving money, so we decided to do change for chores."

The students also wanted to help a school directly affected by the tragedy, Malone said. The students decided to send the money to Bertie Backus Middle School after reading about the Eagle Scholarship Fund in the newspaper.

"It was actually ironic," Malone said. "We found out they were also the Eagles after we started raising the money. It seemed like it was meant to be."

For several weeks, the students earned pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters for doing their chores. Fourth-grader Alexandria Rouse cleaned her church to raise money, while first-grader Collin Chandler earned $5 for cleaning his room and doing other chores around the house.

On Tuesday, Malone needed the assistance of a grocery cart to carry all the change the students collected to the local Albertson's store. Since sending

Farmers Market offers unique choices

By Michelle Jerla
Managing Editor

SANFORD — People seeking an alternative this year to the traditional holiday shopping experience may want to stop by downtown's Farmers Market.

During the past two years, shoppers venturing to Magnolia Square have seen numerous changes at the market, including an increase in vendors and products. No longer is it a place just to find food and beverages. Today's offerings include crafts, plants, flowers, produce and an array of homemade gift items.

"The market has changed a lot," Market Manager Lyn Hunter said. "When it first started, we had a lot of hot dog, drink and refreshment vendors. They helped get the market started; but, they've fallen by the wayside. We now have a more diverse offering."

The Tuesday Farmers Market began two years ago to help attract people to the downtown area and to give local merchants a place to sell their wares. From 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. each Tuesday, vendors set up shop while a loyal patronage of shoppers — along with visitors to downtown — enjoy the outdoor market and live entertainment.

Patrick Smith of J & P Nursery has been with the Sanford Farmers Market since its beginning. He remembers the first few weeks when Main Street tried to get the Tuesday Farmers Market started.

"The first week, there was a hurricane and the second week, there was a tropical storm," Smith said. "It could finally open during the third week."

Smith, who sells an array of indoor and outdoor plants at his booth, is one of the few vendors who has experienced all of the changes at the market.

"It has slowly gotten better," he said. "Although the last two months have been slow, the locals still support this market."

The market's loyal following and small town atmosphere are the reasons why Smith, who sells his plants at various markets throughout the area, said the Sanford event is his favorite.

"The people are really great at this market," he said. "They are supportive and very neighborly."

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Woman isn't inclined to share man who spreads his love

DEAR ABBY: I am a 61-year-old widow in love with a 64-year-old man who is twice divorced. I'll call him Earl. I have always had a crush on Earl. We grew up in the same little town, but I thought — and so did he — that we were cousins. We're now retired and have returned to the small town where we were born.

Dear Abby

We went out for the first time to do some research into our roots and were thrilled to discover that we weren't related after all. Earl made it clear at the time that he wanted to date me, but didn't want to get married. He said he was seeing a woman named "Lucy" from the state he'd lived in before he retired. They had dated for 15 years and he enjoyed her visits from time to time. I was getting over a 15-year relationship and wanted some attention. I didn't want to get married either, so I thought I could handle the arrangement. Well, Abby, four years have gone by. I love Earl very much. We spend at least five out of seven nights at his house and dine out together nearly every night. We have great fun. We socialize as a couple and go to the market, the beach and the flea market together. But when it's time for a visit from Lucy, Earl says, "I'm having company for the weekend. I'll call you when she leaves."

I can't handle it anymore. I almost lose my mind. I'm lost for things to do. I stay home and cry and obsess about whether he's making love to her the way he makes love to me.

Well, one weekend I lost it. I went to his house, rang the bell, and when he opened the door I walked in. Did I ever get a shock. I have met Lucy, and the woman sitting at the breakfast table wasn't Lucy. She introduced herself as Sybil. I turned around and left in tears. As I passed Earl at the door, he asked what that was all about. I told him to go to hell.

Three weeks went by. Earl never called so, of course, I called him and we got back together. Lucy still comes to visit — and so does Sybil. In fact, Lucy is here for the weekend. That's why I'm writing to you.

Earl told me he's not in love with me. He says I'm the best sex partner he has ever had. He's also the best sex partner I have ever had. Is there any help for me? I love him. I have tried dating others. The entire time I'm out with them, I'm miserable and thinking of Earl. Right now, I can't wait for Lucy to leave so I can see him.

CRAZY OLD LADY IN LOVE

DEAR IN LOVE: Come back to reality. What you are describing is not "love"; it's an exercise in masochism. Love is supposed to make you feel terrific, not jealous and miserable. Earl has been nothing but honest with you from the beginning. Variety is his spice of life. He's not going to change. Now you must decide whether or not the pleasure is worth the pain.

DEAR ABBY: My husband, "John," was married before. His former wife, "Jane," still wears her wedding rings on her left hand. She also signs her name "Mrs." when she writes letters to the editor of our local newspaper. Even though he has asked her not to, she kept John's last name — out of spite. This has caused a lot of problems because we live in the same town and go to the same church.

Abby, can you still use "Mrs." after you are divorced?

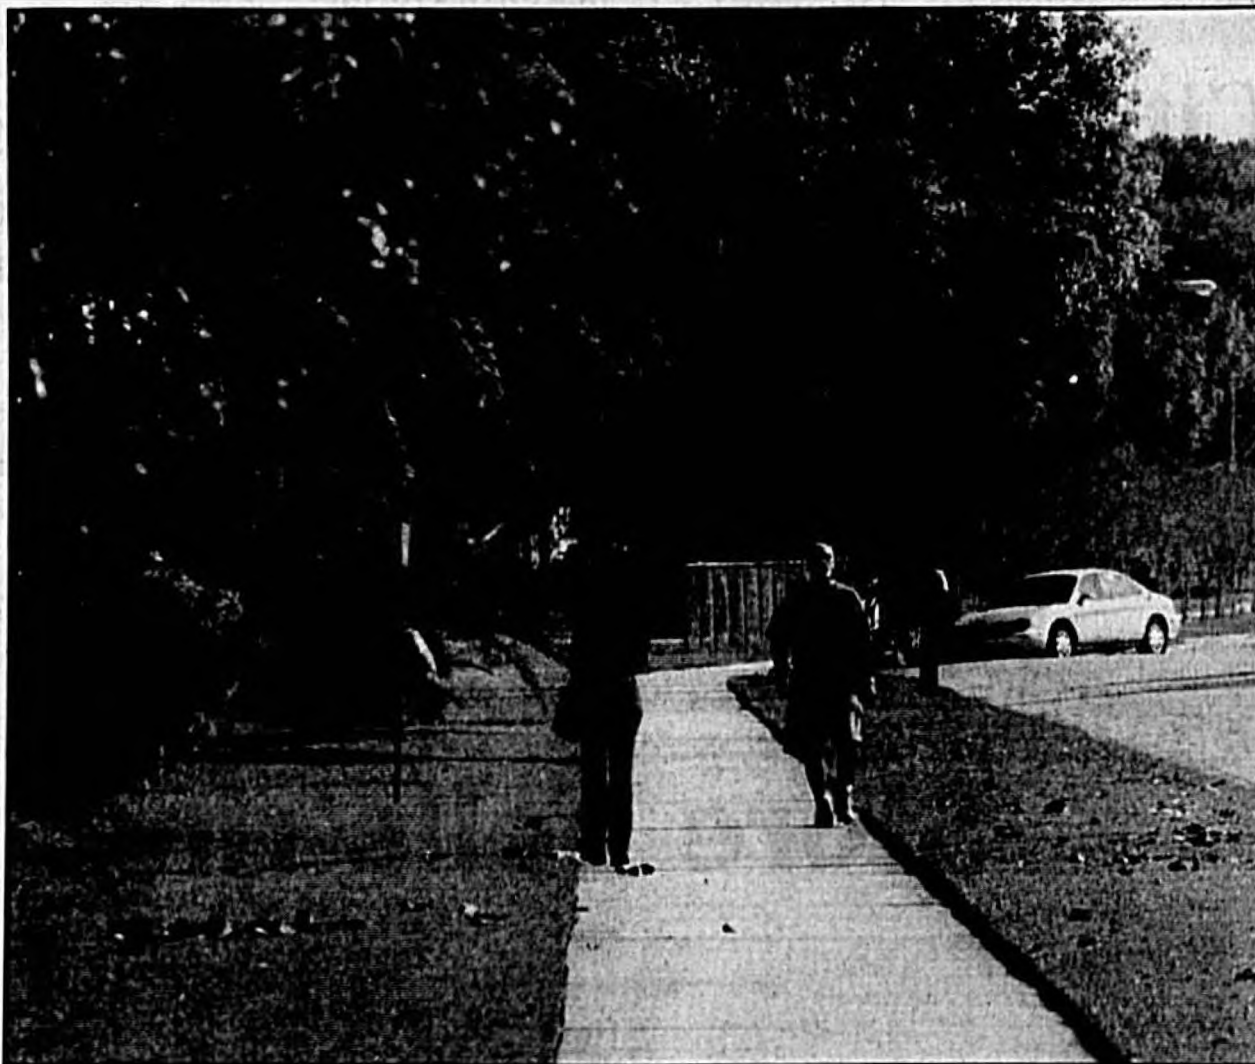

THE REAL MRS. JOHN SMITH

DEAR MRS. SMITH: It all depends on how you use it. Your husband's former wife can call herself Mrs. Jane Smith if she wishes. But for her to call herself Mrs. JOHN Smith is improper and misleading because it implies she's still married to her former husband. Legally, you are the only Mrs. John Smith.

Dear Abby is written by Pauline Phillips and daughter Jeanne Phillips.

Williams honored during scholarship gala

The 2001 Florida Classic President's Millennium Award Scholarship Gala was hosted by Bethune Cookman College and Florida A&M University. I was presented by Walt Disney World Resort.

The event was held Thursday, Nov. 15, in the Fantasia Ballroom/Contemporary Resort in Lake Buena Vista, Sanford District 3

City Commissioner Velma H. Williams was one of the award recipients honored for her outstanding service and commitment to the success of Florida A&M University, where she is an alumni. She was also recognized for her service to Sanford, Seminole County and the greater Central Florida community in an effort to provide educational opportunities for deserving students who aspire to attend FAMU.

Williams has created a highly successful public/private partnership. She assists students through making college choices and through financial aid grants and scholarships.

Her yearly tours for juniors and seniors from local high schools gives them an opportunity to visit FAMU, the campus and view the various educational opportunities offered at the college. After the visit, many students from the area have decided to attend FAMU because of the impression received from the outstanding hands-on visit with the president, faculty and college students while on campus during the weekend tour.

The honorees were thanked by the college's president, Frederick S. Humphries, for having advanced the cause of education through their support of the Florida Classic.

Other 2001 President's Millennium Award recipients from Sanford and Seminole County included Calvin Collins, Thomas Flewellyn, Rudy Maxwell, Shirley Capers Rivers and Royce Walden.

Buy stuff

But, give it to someone in need

The official start of the holiday shopping season finds me more than mildly confused.

I thought everything was supposed to be different. I thought the atrocities of Sept. 11 had made us less selfish and more generous, less superficial and more thoughtful, less consumerist and more purposeful. Naively, perhaps, I expected less of the constant drumbeat to buy more! Pay later! Order online! Shop the sales!

Cynthia Tucker

Yet, because of the economic downturn, spending has become equated with patriotism. The residual anxiety from the terrorist attacks had the effect of applying no-skid brakes to the already-slumping economy; Americans too scared or grief-stricken or stunned to fly or eat out or shop contributed to rising unemployment, weaker retail sales and less consumer confidence.

In an effort to lift the faltering economy, politicians have defined a return to "normalcy" as a return to shopping; economists say more spending is the only sure cure for the economy's ailments.

"As an economist, I really hope people get out there and start spending — whether it's small- or large-ticket items — because that's the recipe we need to get out of these doldrums," Kevin Deravi, of Auburn University at Montgomery, said recently. So what's a good American to do?

Wander the malls, pondering the latest mark-down on that pashmina shawl from two seasons ago? Buy Great Aunt Ethel Mae that silver-plated salad bowl, when you know perfectly well she'll just put it on a closet shelf and give it to someone else as a gift next season? Give in to the kids' demands for the latest Harry Potter-related game or gadget?

There is no doubt that the great American consumer dynamo is the eighth wonder of the modern world. Any grocery store reveals a bounty that dazzles — or befuddles — any immigrant from a poor country: scores of brands of toothpaste; countless kinds of shampoo (dry hair? curly hair? oily hair? purple hair?); dozens of brands of dog food.

And shopping malls during Christmas season are portraits of excess. If you don't believe it, walk into those upscale hardware stores that sell silver-plated hammers, or those electronic gadgetry stores that sell 143 different kinds of appliances for self-massage. This is stuff you'd never even have known you needed — or couldn't even imagine existed — until you saw an entire chain of stores devoted to selling it.

I'll admit that there is something therapeutic about such purchases — perhaps the less necessary, the more therapeutic. I am no less easily seduced by stuff than any other typical American shopper. I've never met a shoe sale I didn't like. In a time of high anxiety, perhaps a good shopping spree is just what we all need.

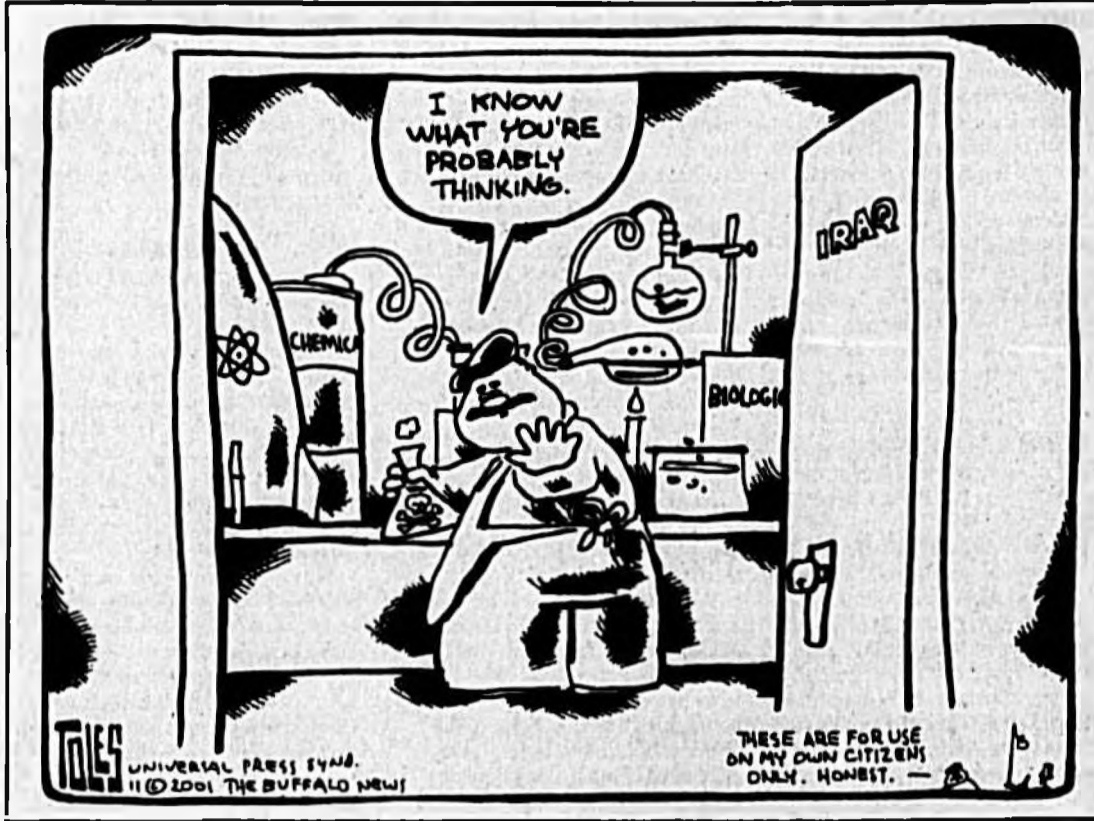

Maybe, just maybe, there is a way to combine the old ethic — consumerist and acquisitive — with the new — generous and purposeful. We can buy without being selfish, boost the economy without being superficial. There is shopping to be done for those who have little; there are gifts to be purchased for nursing homes, homeless shelters, schools in poor neighborhoods.

I can buy a pair of hip leather boots for a teenager living with her family in a shelter. I can buy a pashmina shawl for an elderly lady in a nursing home. I can buy Harry Potter games for a Head Start class.

And that way, I don't have to end up cleaning out a closet and donating stuff I've hardly used to the Salvation Army a year from now.

Couple questions sheriff's silence during funeral of fallen comrade

To the editor:
On Nov. 10, 2001, Investigator Mark Kilgore of Seminole County Sheriff's Office unexpectedly died at the very young age of 39. We have lost a friend, husband, father, son and brother. The citizens of Seminole County have lost a man who served his county with pride for over 14 years. I am a former criminal investigative supervisor of the Seminole County Sheriff's Office. I had the pleasure of supervising and working with both Mark and his wife, Helen, of whom is also a Seminole County deputy. They started their relationship while working for me in the investigative section of the department. I considered both Mark and Helen to be excellent deputies who were well on their way to becoming exceptional investigators. Mark was the type of individual who strived for excellence and expected nothing but the best from himself. It was no surprise to learn he had furthered his career to become part of the FBI Task Force on crimes involving children. As hundreds of others, we attended his funeral on Nov. 13 to say good bye to an old friend and to pay our respects to

Helen and their families. The funeral was conducted with full police honors, as it should have been for a fallen comrade. During the service, the Rev. John Mitcham extended an opportunity for any friends or co-workers who would like to say a few words about their fallen friend. Mark's partner, an FBI agent, got up and reflected upon his one year friendship with Mark and his excellent abilities as an investigator. He expressed some very kind and comforting words to the family. Some of Mark's closest friends were overcome with grief that they could not bring themselves to speak publicly, of which is certainly understandable. The one thing that I will never understand is that Sheriff

Donald Eslinger, who was in attendance at the funeral, never made an attempt to get up and say a few kind words about his employee and speak to the family. I was shocked and embarrassed for Mark's family. This was the most pathetic display of disrespect that I have ever experienced. Sheriff, it was your duty and responsibility as the leader of the Seminole County Sheriff's Office to address the family and those in attendance at the funeral. I wonder how many other deputies who attended this funeral are wondering if their families will receive the same treatment, should an unforeseen tragedy befall them.

The world's love-hate relationship with the U.S.A.

Both my wife and I have lived in Pakistan and worked in Afghanistan and Afghan refugee camps. I wrote a book about that part of our lives in the early 1980s, titled "Passage to Peshawar." Because of that, a couple of friends, one an Afghan-American woman, the other a writer and former government minister in Pakistan, sent letters about the new world in which we are now joined. Both have stories and ideas Americans should hear. Nasrine Gross, founder of NEGAR (Support of Women in Afghanistan), tells the story of what she saw in a guesthouse in Khoja Bahauddin on Sept. 9, in the room next to where Ahmed Shah Massoud, the leader of the Northern Alliance, was murdered by terrorists posing as a television news crew. Mushahid Hussain, a graduate of Georgetown University who was minister of information in the government of Nawaz Sharif, wrote insightfully about why his people love and hate the United States. "One of the terrorists was dead, split from the waist by the explosion in his belt, the top part of his body badly burnt and stuck to the wall ..." wrote Nasrine after running into the room where Massoud was killed, almost certainly by agents of Osama Bin Laden as a "favor" to the Taliban. Then she went to Massoud's home, among the women comforting his wife and children. She described a library that included Freud and Sartre, innumerable interpretations of the Holy Quran, and videos of Western films, "Gandhi" and "Mission: Impossible" among them. What was most striking and significant in her account was her description of Massoud's oldest son, 12-year-old Ahmad. Dressed in a khaki suit, the boy said: "My father's killing was unjust and despicable. Now the world knows his struggle was just and his words true. ... We will continue with more fervor. I will not rest but work to realize his dream." That was not what his father wanted. When Ahmad once told his father he intended to be a soldier, Massoud had said: "Don't, because then you will become like me, away from home all the time. Be a medical doctor." My friend Mushahid — his wife and mine were classmates at Columbia University's Graduate School of International Relations — is working as a journalist again after spending a year under house arrest and in prison, put there by Gen. Pervez Musharraf after his troops overthrew the Sharif government. He wrote a column titled "America's Goodness Doesn't Extend Overseas," which should be recommended reading for most Americans. "For any foreign visitor to America," he began, "the virtues of the average American coupled with the fact that immigrants get freedoms and opportunities that are denied to them at home, are key ingredients that make the United States the world's most popular destination ... empathy, candor, humor and hard work endear Americans to all those who interact with them. ... "How does this 'good guy' at home become the 'ugly American' overseas? Because American liberty, rule of law, democracy and justice are alien to American foreign policy. ... "What did a diverse group of Third World leaders — Mao Tse-tung of China, Ho Chi Minh of Vietnam, Gamel Abdel Nasser of Egypt, Fidel Castro of Cuba and Sukarno of Indonesia — have in common? They were admirers of the American Revolution. ... So inspired was Ho that when he declared Vietnam's independence from France, he borrowed words from the Declaration about the rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. ... "But what happened? Coming to power these leaders became implacable American foes after finding that the United States they idolized was different in real life. ... During the 1991 Gulf War, President Bush's father aptly summed it all up: 'What we say goes.' ... Not many Americans are aware of the adverse impact of U.S. foreign policy on millions of lives overseas because what happens over there never affected their lives back home. All that changed on Sept. 11." Hussain, a Shiite Muslim, also added: "Muslims feel that they are being made to pay for crimes committed during the Holocaust by the Christians of Europe against the Jews of Europe." You do not have to agree with everything said by people in places that once seemed so far away to most Americans. But it would be foolish not to finally spend more of our time and energy in trying to see ourselves as others see us.

On the Street

The Herald asks people what they think ...

The day after Thanksgiving marks the traditional beginning of the holiday shopping season. This year, economists and stores alike are telling people to spend lots of money to help the faltering economy. To see if people are adhering to the advice, we asked, "this year, will you spend more or less money for Christmas than you did last year?"

I'll probably spend more. We want to try to keep the economy going. That's the main reason. It's nice seeing the mall full. We need to spend.
Gary O'Brien
Orlando

I'm going to spend less, but I am going to buy bigger stuff. It's going to be a little bit different than last year. I'll buy stuff like a scooter or a remote control car.
Richard B. Taylor
Sanford

I'm going to spend more because we've just had a baby.
Karen Giraldez
Sanford

I'm going to spend more to help the economy. That, and this year I have more money to spend for Christmas.

all the coins to Washington, D.C., would have been almost impossible, the assistant principal decided to convert them into money orders.

"I wanted to count how many pennies, nickels and so fourth the students collected before I took the change to the store, but there were just too many," Malone said. "They did a really great job."

Teaching Assistant Joy Bush expanded on the fund-raising program by coming up with the idea of delivering the money via an eagle. Every child, teacher and staff member at the school signed their names on more than 800 paper feathers used by Bush to create a huge eagle.

"This eagle is held together by prayer," Bush said.

The paper bird, carrying the money for the scholarship fund under its beak, will be sent to Washington, D.C., next week. A letter from the Goldsboro students will be sent with the eagle.

"The eagle represents strength and courage," the letter states. "We want you all to be strong and courageous like the eagles. We will pray for peace and love for you and all people."

Market

During its first year, the market closed down during the summer months. However, as growth and attendance increased, the decision was made to keep the market going during this year's summer season.

Sanford Main Street Inc., the market's sponsor, also decided earlier this year to expand the downtown bazaar. The first Saturday Farmers Market was held in June and is slowly growing in popularity alongside its Tuesday predecessor.

"Saturday can be hit or miss," Hunter said. "Right now, there are fewer vendors than Tuesday's market because many already have markets to go to. But, it's also growing."

The Saturday market is open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Currently, Hunter said Main Street is looking for produce vendors for the weekend event, but vendors of all kinds are welcome.

Rent for a 10 foot-by-10 foot space is $10. The revenue raised is used in part to offset the market's cost, including insurance fees, Hunter said. The remaining money goes to Main Street's General Fund.

During the holiday season, Hunter is encouraging people to visit the Sanford Farmers Market. Many of the vendors have holiday items in stock, including Christmas flags and poinsettias.

"We want people to come down, visit the market and enjoy the live music," Hunter said. "It's a great place to get produce and Christmas gifts."

For more information about the Farmers Market, call 407-322-5600.

Shoppers

Last week with two separate release dates of the Microsoft X-Box and the Nintendo GameCube the local store posted sales in excess of $20,000 in the electronics department on those days. In the first 30 minutes of the release dates, Target sold out of the 22 X-Box and 40 GameCube systems, said sales associate Wendell Springfield.

"It's limited supply, we don't know how much and when we're getting them," Milanovich said about the new video games. The video game software and accessories are available and more systems are expected in the next few weeks. Milanovich's advice to parents: just keep on calling the store to check if the systems have arrived.

Other popular gifts recently flying off the shelves coincide with the two of the season's box office smashes, Monsters Inc. and Harry Potter.

"Some of this stuff doesn't break until late in the fall quarter just like Tickle Me Elmo," said Milanovich about the silver screen-associated toys. "It drives the parents crazy."

Target added a new service for holiday customers this year by placing red cards next to the season's top 50 holiday gifts according to nationwide store sales. It may just help a weary shopper make a choice between the traditional Barbie doll, the new flashy Diva Stars doll with a large head for makeup and hair designing or the What's Her Face? doll with interchangeable face parts.

SCSO needs victim advocate volunteers

From Staff Reports

The Seminole County Sheriff's Office Victim Advocate Unit is seeking volunteers who are willing to assist crime victims in times of need.

Volunteers would receive training and mentoring from the sheriff's office. Additionally, training would be offered through the state attorney's office. After the training, and when volunteers feel comfortable with policies, procedures and their new duties, the volunteers will respond to crime scenes to assist victims as needed.

Their services will be utilized in the incorporated areas of the county and they would primarily work nights, weekends and holidays.

Ideally, the Victim Advocate Unit would like to add six volunteers to its staff. Those interested may call the SCSO at 407-665-6600 and ask for the Victim Advocate Section.

Applicants for the voluntary positions will be required to undergo a background check.

Holiday Home Lighting Contest deadline is Nov. 26

Get in the holiday spirit by decorating your home's exterior and participating in the Holiday Home Lighting Contest sponsored by the Sanford Historical Trust Inc. The contest is part of the 13th Annual Holiday Tour of Homes Friday, Nov. 30 through Sunday, Dec. 2.

The lighting contest is open to all city of Sanford residents and five prizes will be awarded:

- Best Overall Display will receive a Waterford Crystal piece (Over $100.00 value)

- Most Unusual Display will receive a Mikasa Lead Crystal Vase

- Best Traditional Display will receive a $50.00 Dillard's Gift Certificate

- Most Number Of Lights will receive a Mikasa Lead Crystal Candy Bowl

- Best Block — each household will receive a bottle of Tommy Hilfiger Cologne.

Judging will be held Nov. 26 through Dec. 3 after 6 p.m. Remember to submit your entry form and have your Holiday Lights on during those evenings. Winners will be notified by Dec. 8.

There is no entry fee, just submit a form with your name, address, phone number and whether you are entering as a single residence or as a block. Entry forms can be mailed to The Sanford Historic Trust at P.O. Box 536, Sanford, FL 32772, dropped off at The Seminole Herald Office or Faxed to (407) 444-7508. All entries must be received by Wednesday, Nov. 26, 2001 to be eligible.

A property may only win once in a three year period in order to allow others the opportunity to be recognized for their efforts. You may be a "block" winner one year and "resident" winner a different year.

For ticket information on the Sanford Historic Trust's Holiday Tour of Homes, call 407-263-4488.

Throw an Elaborate Holiday Party That Won't Break The Bank

The holidays are time for gathering with friends and having fun. Yet, by the time the holiday party season rolls around, most folks have already blown their budgets on cards, gifts and other holiday cheer. But that doesn't mean you can't throw a great party!

Sure, you could spend hundreds (or even thousands) of dollars on invitations, food and decorations...but why? With a little planning and creativity (and not a lot of money), you can throw a holiday celebration your guests will remember long into the New Year. Following are some tips to help you get started:

INVITATIONS

Clever invitations don't have to be expensive. Send e-mail invitations (Evite.com has lots of great ones), or make your own. Use a gold paint pen to write your party details on anything from mini pumpkins to plain glass ornaments. Or buy some inexpensive paper from an art store and print out homemade invitations on your color printer.

Instead of hiring musicians, borrow a CD burner and make a HOLIDAY ENTERTAINING is more festive when you serve Louis Roederer Champagne and sparkling wines at your next party. Buy a few compilation discs to play at the party. If you can't make your own, Cdnow.com can mix you a custom disc for about $20.

Remember, the important thing is to make sure your guests have fun - no matter how much money you spend on the party.

This year my true love thought it would be romantic to give me the 12 days of Christmas. What would I do with a swimsuit and a maid's milk? What I need is a cleaner my house! "No problem" said my true love. "You'll get what you want and I'll still give you the twelve days of Christmas". I couldn't understand what he was going to do. You can imagine how surprised I was when he changed the final verse of my favorite song to:

A+ VOLLEYBALL 2002
GIRLS CLUB LEAGUE

A+ Volleyball will be holding tryouts for its 2002 Girls Club league on Thursday, November 29 at the South Brantley Gymnasium in Altamonte Springs.

Try-outs for the U-15 division will be held from 6 p.m.-to-8 p.m., and try-outs for the 16-to-18 year old division will be held from 8 p.m.-to-10 p.m.

For additional information, please contact Yvonne Devlin at 407-523-5048 or view the website at www.orlandovolleyball.com.

A+ VOLLEYBALL TO HOST OPEN HOUSE

A+ Volleyball will be hosting its first-ever open house on Thursday, November 29. The event takes place at the South Brantley Gymnasium from 6 p.m.-to-10 p.m. and is open to all youth and adults interested in the sport of volleyball.

A+ is a non-profit organization designed to promote the sport of volleyball and offers classes for players at all skills levels. There are programs available for everyone, from the beginner to the advanced player.

For additional information, please contact Yvonne Devlin at 407-523-5048 or view the website at www.orlandovolleyball.com.

GOLF TOURNEY WILL AID MADD

Sponsorships, players and volunteers are being sought for the 2nd Annual Mothers Against Drunk Driving Golf Tournament.

The event, which will be a fund-raiser for the Central Florida Chapter of MADD, will be held on December 7, 2001 at Alqua Country Club in Longwood.

Sponsor packages range in price from $150 to $2,000 while the entry fee is $125.

The entry fee includes greens fee, cart, range balls, golf clinic, breakfast, lunch, prizes, awards, T-shirt, goodie bag and much, much more. There will be on-course contests for the challenged golfer as well as a bountiful silent auction table.

The tournament will have a morning shotgun start and mulligans will be available. The tournament will be played as a four-person scramble.

All proceeds from this event remain with MADD's Central Florida chapter. This support allows them to focus stronger on the area's victims of drunk driving crashes.

If you are a victim of a drunk driver and wish to contribute or participate in this event, or for more tournament information, to sign-up as a sponsor, player or volunteer, please contact Betsy Nein, Tournament Director, at 407-831-9991.

Soccer sweep for Seminole

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — The Seminole High School soccer program got a shot in the arm earlier this week when both the boys and girls teams picked up victories over highly respected Lyman.

The boys posted their first victory of the season on Tuesday as four different players scored in a 4-2 win over the previously undefeated Greyhounds.

Jairo Minotta, Timothy Schwallie, Adam Horwath and Navi Jimenez scored one goal each for the Tribe, to offset another big night for Lyman star Fabio Pedraza, who scored both goals for the Greyhounds (2-1-2).

Pedraza has scored 11 goals in the last four games.

Minotta, Ricardo Perez and Jason Fowler had assists for the Fighting Seminoles, who improved to 1-2 on the season.

What made the victory even more impressive was the fact that Seminole was coming off a 10-2 loss to Lake

Howell on Monday, while Lyman had gotten two goals from Pedraza and Steve Spangler had five saves in goal in a 3-2 upset of Oviedo.

Nix had three goals for the Silver Hawks, while Leason had two assists and Chapman stopped eight shots in goal.

On Wednesday, the SHS girls got a pair of goals from Jeanette Curtis as the Tribe topped Lyman, 3-1.

Lauren Koascik added the other goal for Seminole, while Meagan Martin and Kimmy German had assists. Katie Weber was the winning goalkeeper.

The Tribe will travel to Lake Mary on Monday to take on the Rams at Don T. Reynolds Stadium starting at 7 p.m.

In other girls games:

Lake Mary picked up a huge win as the Rams shutout Lake Howell 2-0 on Monday with Claessens scoring both goals on assists from Wenaas and Murray, and Haerens stopping two shots to get the win in goal.

PANAMA CITY — Yelena Leuchanka scored 25 points and pulled down 19 rebounds as the Seminole Community College women's basketball team claimed its first road victory of the year, 77-64, over Chipola Community College in the Gulf Coast Classic at Panama City last Friday night.

Leuchanka, a 6-foot-5 freshman center from Gomel, Belarus, hit 9-of-15 shots from the free throw line, and also blocked five shots as the Raiders made their second trip to the Panhandle a much more successful venture than the first one.

Things did not go as well on the second night, however, as host Gulf Coast Community College used its tremendous team quickness to pound SCC on the boards and rolled to an 84-61 victory.

The Raiders are now 3-3 on the season and are currently in the Panhandle for the third

Freshman center Yelena Leuchanka (white uniform, right) controls a jump ball for Seminole Community College in a recent game. The 6-foot-9 center had another big road weekend this past week, scoring 25 points, pulling down 15 rebounds and blocking five shots in a 77-64 victory over Chipola on Friday and scoring 15 points and straight weekend for a rematch of the first weekend, taking on Pensacola Community College and host Okaloosa-Walton Community College in the O-WCC Classic at Ft. Walton Beach.

"People thought I was crazy to put together this schedule," said SCC head coach Ken Patrick. "But I think it's great. We're becoming real road warriors and should make us strong heading into a tough conference schedule, and hopefully, another trip to state and beyond." Charnesia Bailey, a sophomore transfer from Gulf Coast Community College, scored all 13 of her points and Leuchanka chipped in with 10 points as the Raiders built a 41-35 halftime lead against Chipola, which got 14 points from K. Collins.

But in the second half SCC, which hit four three-point shots in the first half, pounded the ball inside and took the Indians out of the game. Leuchanka poured in 15 points, while returning sophomore stars Gabrielle Blankenfeld and Yo Johnson dropped in nine and seven points, respectively, in the final 20 minutes.

In addition to Leuchanka and Bailey, Blankenfeld (12) and K.K. Thompson (10) also finished in double figures.

Collins had 22 for Chipola, while N Bliss added 10.

LAKE MARY — It was a big night for the "Lakes" as Lake Mary, Lake Brantley and Lake Howell all won on the opening night of the regular season for high school girls basketball teams on Monday.

Junior Alexa Kane scored 21 points as the Rams hammered Titusville, 73-35.

Senior Viviana Stewart and junior Michelle Smith scored 12 points each as the Patriots rolled over Mount Dora High School, 50-36.

And Desflippo scored 11 points and Lentzo pulled down eight rebounds as the Silver Hawks crushed Forest Lake Academy, 66-23.

Oviedo, which only lost one player from last year's squad, also opened its season with a monster win on Tuesday as sophomore Whitney Tossie scored 16 points and pulled down eight rebounds as the Lions smacked Seabreeze, 72-42.

Irimar Hernandez and Justin Elfrink had three assists each for Oviedo.

Things did not go as well for Seminole as host Mainland jumped out to a 22-5 lead after one period and never looked back in thumping the Fighting Seminoles, 78-45.

UCF to end football season today

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO — The University of Central Florida football team wrapped up its week of preparation for today's (Saturday) Louisiana-Lafayette game with a 90-minute practice session Thursday morning. It was also the last practice for 14 seniors who will play their final game for UCF when the game kicks off at 1 p.m. in the Florida Citrus Bowl.

The game is the one rescheduled from September 15th.

"Overall, the execution was good and I think the focus is where it needs to be," UCF coach Mike Kruczek said. "It was much better than earlier in the week."

At the end of practice, the returning players lined up and shook hands of all the departing seniors.

"It's always a sad thing," Kruczek said when the seniors left the field. "You spend a lot of time with them and most of the time it's a very positive experience. They've been instrumental in bringing this program a long way."

The seniors playing their final game for the Golden Knights are Javier Beorlegui, Willie Comerford, Tavarus Davis, Willie Davis, Steve Edwards, Boma Ekiyor, Travis Fisher, Ricot Joseph, Josh McKibben, Tito Rodriguez, Elliot Shorter, Albert Snyder, Thad Ward, and Terrance Williams.

UCF will lose 15 seniors from this team, but only 14 practiced and will have the opportunity to play today. Long snapper Mike Hedge had surgery on Monday to insert a screw in his scaphoid bone in his wrist to repair a fracture that happened earlier in the season and will miss the game. He had been playing with his wrist heavily wrapped.

Junior Bobby Brevin will make his first start in place of Hedge against the Ragin' Cajuns.

In his next to last opportunity, Snyder was given the "Big Stick" award for delivering the biggest hit in the Arkansas game. It was the first "Big Stick" award of the year for Snyder.

Meanwhile, middle linebacker Rodriguez moved up to seventh in total tackles per game with an average of 13.4 in the latest release of defensive statistics from the NCAA. He is third in the nation in solo tackles with an average of 9.2 per game.

Rodriguez has recorded 134 total tackles in 10 games this year and tied a school record against Arkansas with 23 tackles. He will enter today's game 16 tackles shy of the single season record set by Darrell Rudd in 1983.

After practice the players were permitted to spend Thanksgiving with their families and did not have to report back to campus until Friday evening.

UCF WOMEN SPLIT IN
GOLDEN KNIGHTS CLASSIC

Senior Laura Echols scored 26 points en route to a 77-74 Western Carolina University win over the University of Central Florida women's basketball team in the second round of the UCF Golden Knights Classic at the UCF Arena last Saturday.

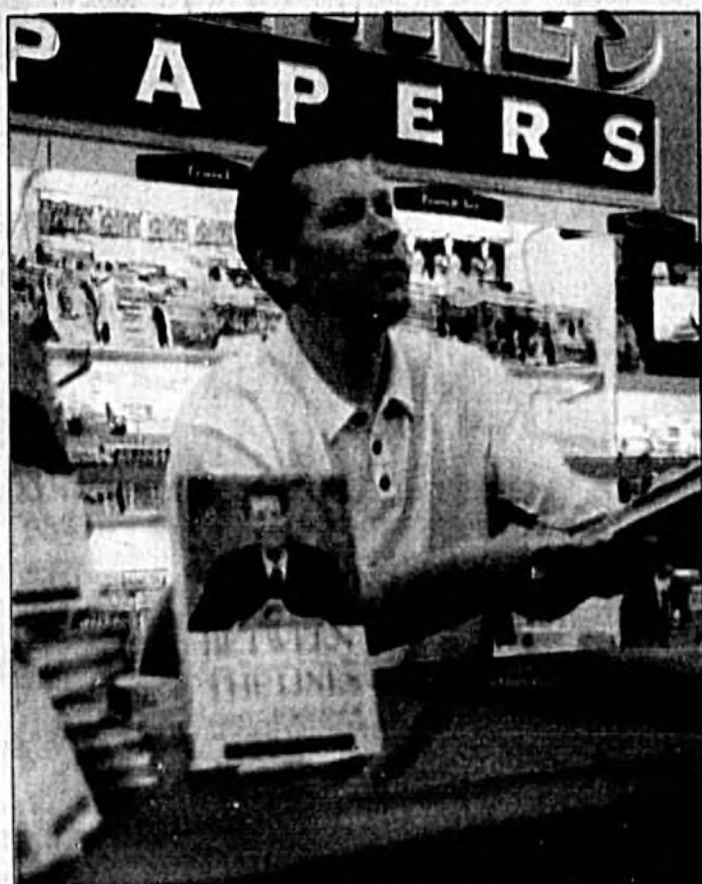

UCF led 36-29 at halftime and was up 44-32 with 17 minutes left to play.

But the WCU chipped away at the lead and took the lead for good with 2:32 to play on a Ki-Ki Glass three-pointer.

Sophomore forward Erin Paige recorded the fourth double-double of her career with 20 points

MONTGOMERY, AL. — Spending time outdoors in cold weather can be a lot of fun. Or it can make you miserable. Jackie Bushman, the host of the Buckmasters television series, knows that all too well. He loves the outdoors and hunts in all types of winter weather throughout North America. Over the years, he's developed a system for staying warm regardless of the location or the weather. "I'm one of the coldest natured people around," Bushman says, "and while I spend as much time outdoors as I possibly can, I have to stay warm in order to enjoy it and concentrate on what I'm doing. For the TV series, concentration is especially important. When I'm hunting for pleasure, I can go back to the cabin if I get cold.

But, if we're taping a hunt, I have to stay put until we finish shooting." Bushman's TV hunts can last from before sun-up until after sundown. On some of the hunts in northern states and Canada, it can be dangerously cold. On hunts in warmer climates, he may be hunting where it's not very cold, but where, over the long hours, the cold can seep into muscles and bones making them stiff and accident prone. "I probably wear more clothes than most people when I go hunting," Bushman says, "but I've worked out a system that allows me to hunt comfortably regardless of the weather. Some of the stuff I wear might not look very 'cool' but I'd rather dress for warmth than for looks. "I buy clothing in sizes bigger than I ordinarily wear so I can wear layers and still be comfortable and have freedom of movement," the founder and CEO of Buckmasters says. I often wear three pairs of thermal underwear. One pair is large, the next is X-large and the third is XX-large. And I always wear a Scent-Lok suit. My jacket size will be XX-large so I can get extra clothes under it. My pants will be a 38 waist instead of my normal 36. The outer layer will be 6-pocket pants or bib overalls at least a size larger than my other clothes. "Keeping my hands warm is important, but for safety reasons, when I take a shot, whether it's with a bow, rifle or shotgun, I want to touch my trigger or my release with the flesh of my hand," he says. "I wear finger mittens that can be worn as a complete mitten or folded back to expose the fingers." Bushman wears rubber-soled boots with different insulation value, depending on the temperature. "Rubber-soled boots don't leave as much scent where I walk, and they're ideal for walking in water. "The main thing," he emphasizes, "is to wear clothes that are comfortable and allow you to move comfortably or sit still in any kind of weather. It's better to have too many clothes than not enough. You can always take a layer off if you get hot. "When I'm hunting in bitter cold, I have chemical heat packs stuck everywhere. They make a real difference when it's bitter cold. I wear a muff-style hand warmer around my waist. It has zippered pockets for my knife and other hunting items. I keep a heat pack in there to warm my hands. I can also put a heat pack in the pouch of the mittens that covers my fingers." He wears a hunting brace belt for lower back support that has pockets to hold heat packs against his kidneys. "One of the most important things I do to stay warm," Bushman says, "is to wrap a heat pack in a bandana and tie that around my neck. I lose body heat if my neck is exposed, so I layer it using the bandana with a heat pack, a turtleneck shirt, and a skiing dickey. The heat pack also helps keep my neck from getting stiff so I can turn my head and keep a sharp watch for deer. I learned a long time ago that I can't expose my skin, particularly my neck, to severe cold and sit still for 8 hours." For headgear in cold weather, Bushman wears a reversible toboggan—camouflage on one side and blaze orange on the other. When picking out a backpack for hunting, Bushman suggests considering one made of the newer fleece materials that won't make a lot of noise when you brush up against a limb while walking through the woods.

UCF

Continued from page 1B and 10 rebounds to pace four Golden Knights into double figures. Marvelous Washington hit for 14, 10 in the first half, while All Roberts and Jessica Scala added 10 points each. In action earlier on Saturday, the University of Texas at Arlington defeated Bethune-Cookman College, 66-56, despite junior guard Janice Hayes scoring a game-high 17 points for the Lady Cats. In the first round on Friday, Tiffany Hamm had scored 20 points to lead Western Carolina (2-0) to a 65-52 victory over Bethune-Cookman. Nikki Mason led the Lady Cats with 15 points. UCF, meanwhile, got 16 points from Roberts in her college debut as the hosts whipped Texas-Arlington, 69-55. Washington chipped in with 14 and Scala 11. The Golden Knights, who are playing in the San Juan Shootout in Puerto Rico this weekend, are now 1-1 on the season.

Soccer

Continued from page 1B major wins in as many games as No. 2 state-ranked DeLand (3-0) rallied with three second half goals to hand the hosts their first loss of the season, 3-1, at Don T. Reynolds Stadium on Wednesday. Allison Tradd scored in the first half for Lake Mary (3-1), but Sarah Stock tied the game early in the second half and Courtney Evans put the Bulldogs ahead to stay with just over 18 minutes left in the contest. Stock added an insurance goal late, with Rachel Ross assisting on the final two goals. Lake Howell bounced back from the loss to Lake Mary to hammer Titusville, 6-0, on Tuesday. Helenie Gonzalez had a pair of goals and an assist for the Silver Hawks, while Jenny Mulvihill had two goals for the two-time defending state champions. No. 6 state-ranked Winter Springs edged Oviedo 2-1 in a game on Tuesday. Affolter and Crooks got the goals on assists from Snowden and Bowen, and Silvera had eight saves in getting victory in goal. In other boys games from Tuesday: Alfredo Charry and Graham Zusi had two goals each as Lake Brantley (3-1) edged Deltona, 4-3. Fothero had an assist for the Patriots and Singer had nine saves in goal. Lake Mary (2-0) got a pair of goals from Jerry Girard and one from Kris Kessler in handing DeLand (3-1) its first loss, 3-1. Rusty Robinette had three saves in goal. On Wednesday, Belson scored the goal on an assist from Blodgett and Sasso had six saves as Oviedo nipped Winter Springs 1-0.

SCC

Continued from page 1B Coast, but the undefeated Commodores (5-0) got off 20 more shots as they outbounded SCC 40-21. Leuchanka again had a big game with 15 points and eight rebounds, but only scored four points in the first half as GCCC built a 41-33 halftime lead as Shere' Cunningham hit four three-pointers for 12 points and Tasha Morehead added 11 points. The second half was even worse for SCC despite 11 points from Leuchanka as no other Raider scored more than six points in the final 20 minutes. Morehead, meanwhile, was scoring 16 of her game-high 27 points in the second half, while Taneshea Thompson and Mandisha Stevenson were both scoring nine points for the Indians. Joining Leuchanka in double figures for SCC were Bailey, who scored 12 against her former teammates, and Johnson, who scored 10.

Marty Pierce grabs Goodyear Challenge warm-up at NSS

Special to the Herald

SAMSULA — Randy Dye qualified the #43 Dodge on the pole, but his draw put Marty Pierce's #75 up front where he stayed to clinch the $1,500 victory in the warm-up for the Goodyear Late Model Challenge, a new series that will run in 2002, at New Smyrna Speedway last Saturday night.

Past Mini Stock Champ Pierce drove a smooth, clean, race and came home ahead of #15 Jason Boyd who was sent to the rear for rough driving after tangling with Wayne Morris.

The #63 of Chris Lawrence had a strong run for third, Jerry Symons and Randy Dye rounded out the top five.

Veteran and 2001 Orlando Speedworld Champ Tim McPhail drove the Missile #7 to a popular win in the Mini stock feature. He beat some tough cars as Conrad Grenier's #01 was second, and Charlie Brown's #11 was third.

Jason Boyd put his #2x Modified into Victory Lane in the Mod feature. Wayne Southard #00 ran second, and Joe Middleton was third in the five car field.

Lake Mary's Mike Good drove the best race of his career as he put the Briar Construction #27 T-Bird in Victory Lane in the Super Late Main Event.

Good led the first few laps, dropped back with a bad ignition, then stormed back to destroy the field. Bruce Lawrence ran second in the #16, Ron Dicandido was paid for third. Tom Root and George Murphy were the top five.

The Super Stock win went to Desota Speedway Champ Rich Clouser driving the #17 Chevrolet. Bill Stacy in the yellow #32 was the runner up, #38 Randy Jones was third.

Donnie Williams made short work of the Sportsman field as he cruised to an easy win. Randy Hecker's #54 was second, Robert Glover's #74 was third.

"The Pride of Sanford" Bob Trombly won the strictly stock event with Barry Parks #27 right behind. Third was Scott Rees in the #61.

Tonight (Saturday) New Smyrna Speedway will be holding the Classic Car Nationals as well as features in all of the regular FASCAR divisions of Super Late Model, Late Model, Modified, Sportsman, Super Stock, Mini-Stock, and Strictly Stock.

Gates open at 6 p.m. and racing begins at 7:30 p.m. every Saturday night at the track located at the corner of SR. 44 and CR 419, between New Smyrna, DeLand and Daytona.

For more information on any local short track action, call the FASCAR offices at (407) 568-1367 (Orlando) or (386) 427-4129 (New Smyrna), or check the internet site at WWW.NEWSMYRNASPEEDWAY.COM, or E-Mail at FASCARNOW@AOL.COM.

Also you are invited to tune in to Daytona's WND-AM 1150 "The new VOICE of Stock Car Racing!" every Monday night from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m. following the Benny Parsons Show.

This is a radio show that is devoted to Short Track Stock Car Racing and is sponsored by New Smyrna Speedway and hosted by Randy Dye of Speedway Dodge and Don Nerone and Terry Roberts from New Smyrna Speedway. They will take your calls and answer questions at 386-239-0033.

 was also featured. The young performer of Tajiri Arts held the audience with his rendition of "Go Down Moses," with William Tillman Jr., a talented musician from Sanford, at the console.

The highlight of the evening was the keynote speaker, the "premier image maker," Willie E. Gary, esquire, of Stuart.

A migrant worker whose dream came true, Gary is a son of a sharecropper who has traveled a rough and bumpy road to overcome obstacles and become recognized as one of the nation's best trial lawyers. He is a multimillionaire and philanthropist.

Gary hasn't forgotten those who helped him on his way to the top. He said he has accomplished more than many would dream, and he uses his life as an example to encourage others.

Gary is a humble person. He reminded the young people not to forget the bridge that brought them across. He encouraged them to stifle and go out and be the best. He also encouraged parents to talk to children and be mentors so they can help change the bad that is happening to our children.

As a child, Gary was taught to go out and be the best — that God was a lawyer that has never lost a case. He said without God, he would never win a case. He said it is not the size of the dog, but the size of the fight that's in the dog.

The Young Torch Bearers of the Millennium were showcased. They pierced the darkness of indifference by being the first — making what was monotone now diverse. We congratulate Shamyah Mishaun Gibson, the first black homecoming queen at Deltona High School; Lauren Alena Hill, the first black homecoming queen and senior class president at Olympia High School; and Derius Jackson, the first black homecoming king at Lake Mary High School.

African-American leaders of Orange and Seminole counties were honored. The Seminole leaders included Raymond Gaines, executive director of secondary education; Geraldine Wright, executive director of elementary education; Judge James E.C. Perry; Sanford Deputy Manger Roger Dixon; and Sally Sherman, Seminole County deputy manager.

Special thanks to the sponsors, including Bethune Cookman College, Edward Waters College, Florida A&M University and Florida Memorial College.

Many students were awarded scholarships from these various colleges during the conference and classic weekend.

Attorney and major broadcasting network CEO and chairman Willie E. Gary of Stuart announced that the Gary Foundation has awarded $100,000 in college scholarships to five children of flight attendant Cee Cee Lyles, who was aboard Flight 93 that went down in rural Pennsylvania on Sept. 11.

Gary brought Lorne Lyles and four of the five children to Atlanta to appear on the set of Mr. Gary's MBC talk show, "Spiritual Impact," and he made the surprise announcement about the scholarships.

Harvest Meditation, an evening of praise, worship, meditative scriptures, poems, soloists, musical renditions and dance, will be held 4:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 25, at St. Paul Missionary Baptist Church, located at 813 Pine Ave. Come meditate, give thanks and praise to our Lord and savior.

Salute to Freedom, the Century

Bike Ride, 10K, 25K, 50K and 100K, will be held Saturday, Dec. 1, at Fort Mellon Park in Sanford. Registration is 6:45 a.m., and the ride begins at 8 a.m. The event benefits the Seminole County branches of the Boys and Girls Clubs of Central Florida.

On-line registration and information is available at www.active.com

The bike ride will honor our heroes and veterans who serve our country. Our youth look up to them, said club area director, Sandra Brown. A major sponsor of the event is Marketplace Bank.

The Salute to Freedom event underscores the clubs core programs: building character and leadership, education and career development, health and life skills, the arts, sports and fitness. For information, call 407-841-9839, ext. 31, or the Seminole County Boys and Girls Clubs at 407-330-2456. Deadline to register is Nov. 28.

World AIDS Day is Dec. 1. The event will take place at Shiloh Missionary Baptist Church, located at 604 W. Jackson St., in Orlando. The Saturday event will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., with a gospel music workshop and a concert at 6 p.m. It is a free event.

This year's World AIDS Day's theme is "I Care, Do You? Youth and AIDS in the 21st Century." A focus on youth is vital because half of the people newly infected with HIV in the United States are under the age of 25.

Get involved with education and training of Multicultural Church Choirs in HIV/AIDS education and choir workshop.

For information, call Joan Estival or Gay Delaughter at 407-650-1696 or Kitty Ellison at 407-291-3426.

 after her husband died in 1916. The county used the building as a hospital until 1955, when a new medical facility was built on 2nd Street.

3. The Gwynn/Witt House (520 Oak Avenue) — Also known as the Woodruff House because the Woodruff family owned it from 1903 to 1961. It was originally purchased by Walter and Mattie Gwynn in 1886 for $2,500. The house is 4,000 square feet and has 13 rooms and three bathrooms.

4. The Hill Home (607 Oak Avenue) — Built in 1894, this home features 11.5 foot ceilings, original pine floors, most of the original woodwork and two fireplaces.

5. The Hart/Gopsill Home (618 Oak Avenue) — This home is believed to have been a wedding gift to Annie Merriweather. Built in 1873 by L.L. Elkins, this home features a wrap-around porch, high ceilings and four fireplaces.

The yard features a courtyard, rose garden and the original goldfish pond.

6. The Eaton Home (708 Oak Avenue) — This home traces its lineage to Sanford's founding father, Henry Shelton Sanford. The property was part of a larger parcel deeded to three trustees of Sanford's Florida Land and Colonization Company. Bill Eaton has owned the home since 1997. It features four bedrooms and a bath upstairs, and a living room, dining room, sun porch, butler pantry, kitchen entrance hall and a bath downstairs.

7. The Hickey Home (714 Oak Avenue) — Built in 1887, this house has been home to the Hickey family since 1973. The house was originally purchased by Thomas and Annie Tutweiler. The kitchen was originally a separate building and was later attached to the main structure.

 expected normal. Under La Nina conditions, more hurricanes are likely to develop and potentially strike the United States coast. Using climate data, the probability for at least two hurricanes hitting the United States coast in a normal or neutral year is 48 percent.

Forest Fires

The records indicate that the wet El Nino winters seem to suppress forest fires. The lack of rainfall associated with La Nina winters are responsible for an increase in the number of acres of forest burned during the year. Acres burned during La Nina years are 2.5 times greater than those occurring during normal or neutral years.

Predictions For The Year

An examination of minimum temperatures from weather stations all over the state of Florida from the past 50 years shows that freezing temperatures are more likely to occur in Neutral years, than during El Nino or La Nina. The year 2001-

2002 will be a neutral year. Based on this system of climatic interpretation, the forecast for Florida indicates that, damaging freezes are up to three times more likely to occur in central and northeast Florida this winter.

Homes for the Holidays

The 13th Annual Holiday Tour of Homes features some of Sanford's historic gems.

The Sanford Historic Trust is sponsoring its annual Holiday Tour of Homes Friday, Nov. 30 through Sunday, Dec. 2.

Friday night's event is the traditional candlelight tour of homes featuring seven locations. All of the locations are on Oak Avenue this year. The luminary walking tour begins at 5:45 p.m. and the tour headquarters is the Bettye Smith Cultural Arts Center.

The Saturday and Sunday event is a 15-stop tour of homes, churches and other interesting sites. Participants may walk the tour, but some may want to drive to certain locations because of the distance.

Tickets for the candlelight tour can be purchased for $20 in advance, $25 the day of the event.

Home tour tickets are $12 in advance, $15 the day of the event.

For more information about either event, call 407-263-4488.

A brief description of the sites on the candlelight tour include:

1. Bettye Smith Cultural Arts Center/Centennial Park (Corner of Oak Avenue and 5th Street) —

The tour begins here in the old Sanford Public Library. Built in 1923 and 1924, the building housed the library until 1967. It was renovated in 1989 and now serves as a community building.

The park is one of six laid out by city founder Henry Sanford in the 1870s. During the city's 100th anniversary in 1977, it was renamed Centennial Park.

2. Florida Hotel (500 Oak Street) —

Hardware owner George Fernald built the home in 1910. Mabel Laughton Fernald donated the house to the county

Seminole teachers earn prestigious national certification

Fifteen more Seminole County teachers join the ranks to make 56 who have successfully completed the rigorous and time-intensive program of The National Board for Professional Teaching Standards to achieve the highly esteemed National Certification.

Nationally certified teachers must demonstrate their knowledge and skills through a series of performance-based assessments that include portfolios, student work samples, videotapes, and rigorous analyses of classroom teaching and student learning. Written exercises probe the depth of their subject matter, knowledge, and ability to teach those subjects to students.

The purpose of the Excellent Teaching Programs is to reward teaching excellence by providing incentives, including salary and mentoring bonuses, for the Florida Teachers who achieve certification through the National Board of Professional Teaching Standards.

The Excellent Teaching Program incentives and bonuses include:

- A NBPTS application fee subsidy of $2,070
- A $150 portfolio preparation cost reimbursement
- An annual salary bonus of $4,323

Recipients include:

- Christy Bryce — Lyman High

- Linda Tanner — Idyllwild Elementary
- Mary Sardo — Casselberry Elementary
- Frances Guest — Casselberry Elementary
- Karen Gundal — South Seminole Middle
- Taru Joshi — Keeth Elementary
- Melissa Laudani • Chiles Middle

Understanding the difference between El Nino and La Nina

Climate vs. Weather
First, lets define these words.

Al Ferrer

Climate refers to the average conditions of the weather at a place, usually over a period of years as exhibited by temperature, precipitation, and wind velocity. Weather is the day-to-day variations in temperature and precipitation. In this article we will talk about climate.

El Nino, La Nina and Neutral Years

A few years back, scientists realized that changes in temperatures in the waters of the Pacific Ocean had a great influence in the climate of other regions of the globe. This is especially true for the United States and the state of Florida. Temperature measurements of the ocean temperatures at the Equator off the coast of Peru well out into the central Pacific are used to predict seasonal temperature and precipitation trends up to 12 months in advance. This is accomplished by using satellite measurements and moored buoys.

Warmer temperatures than normal give rise to the climatic changes known as El Nino. Because this condition originates usually around Christmas, it received the name of El Nino for the Christ Child. The name La Nina is less clear but obviously refers to the opposite trend.

The normal condition is called Neutral and its influence in our climate is very discrete. Neutral years outnumber El Nino or La Nina years over 2 to 1.

Rainfall

During a typical El Nino year, the average winter rain increases over 30 percent of the normal season total. During La Nina year, the opposite effect is true, the rain decreases by 10 percent to 30 percent from the normal amount of precipitation during the fall, winter and spring. To say it simple, El Nino brings a wet winter and La Nina a dry winter.

Temperature

year, the average daily maximum temperatures in the winter and spring months are lower than normal. The opposite is true for La Nina year, the average daily maximum temperatures are higher than normal for the same period of time. This effect is not very strong but the effect of La Nina on winter temperatures generally increases as we move toward the northern part of the state.

Hurricanes

When El Nino conditions are present, the upper level atmospheric winds over the Atlantic Equator tend to disrupt hurricane development during the year. This results in a decrease in the formation of hurricanes from the

Hundreds attend conference on education

The fourth Educational Conference of Blacks in Florida was held Nov. 14 through Nov. 16, at the Sheraton Orlando North in Maitland.

Marva Hawkins

The theme of the event was "Knowledge is Power ... Seize the Opportunity." The conference attracted more than 250 students, adults and educators from Florida.

The firsts session was presided over by Dr. Eva C. Wanton of Florida

A&M University. Showcasing the youth of the Seminole/Orange counties area began with DeKywan Debose, a young performer from Tajiri Arts, who sang the Lord's Prayer.

Avery Woods of Park Maitland School led the Pledge of Allegiance. Tajiri Seminole Hope Jubilee Singers and the audience sang the National Negro Anthem, "Lift Every Voice and Sing," under the direction of Tajiri's founder Patricia Merritt Whatley.

Welcome was extended to the attendees by Dr. Roy Brooks, Orange County superintendent of public schools; Sanford Deputy City Manager Roger Dixon; Geraldine D. Wright, Seminole executive director of elementary education; Daisy Lynum, Orlando city commissioner; and Anthony Grant, Eatonville mayor.

The officials gave words of wisdom to the youth. They encouraged them to have a desire to succeed, reach higher, keep their eyes on the prize, don't stop, value their teachers and education and love people. We salute the educators who give so much in helping to guide our children's lives.

The attendees were treated to an interpretive dance by the very talented Tina Flewellyn of Tajiri Arts, Jack and Jill of America Inc., Southeastern Region Teen Conference, 2001 Talent Winner and Seminole County student. She dance gracefully to the rendition of "I Can Fly."

The audience was again treated to the never ending talent of the youth of Tajiri Arts of Sanford as Jamelia Jarrella gave the dynamic oratorical rendition of "We Are The Future." The talented voice of the up and coming baritone, Christopher Peterson,

Worried about budget cuts, Foley donates wages

A Seminole County student is giving back to her school system.

Foley, a junior from Lake Brantley High School, is a member of the Debate Club, National Honor Society, Beta Club, Science Honorary Club, English Honorary Club, and the band. She was concerned because the Seminole County Public School's budget has been cut.

As a result of her concern, she donated part of her earnings from working weekends at Village on the Green in the amount of $122 each to Wekiva Elementary and Lake Brantley High along with a letter sharing her concern. Teague Middle will also receive $122. Foley has attended all three schools.

When asked why she sent the letters she explained, "I didn't have many expenses and wanted to help make a difference."

Mr. Darvin Booth, principal of Lake Brantley High School, said, "She is an outstanding young lady."

Foley will be recognized during the Dec. 11 School Board meeting for being one of "Seminole County's finest."

The qualities exhibited by Foley tie in with Seminole County's "Keys to Your Character" program's featured characters for November and December. November's featured character is gratitude and December's is generosity.

Family night Nov. 29

Students from the University of Central Florida will entertain students and their families from Goldsboro Elementary School Thursday, Nov. 29, starting at 6:30 p.m. with stories during the annual "Reading Is A Family Thing."

Every child will be given a book to take home. Ice cream will be served by the PTA and door prizes will be given.

Community leaders visit Center

By Marva Hawkins
Herald Correspondent

Hopper Center celebrated American Education Week — Nov. 12 through Nov. 16 — recently with a Teach-In Day.

Various community and city leaders were guests and spoke to the students and staff at the Hopper Center, where Barbara Kirby-Bentley is principal. Sharing their knowledge of life with the students were Hortense Evans, Patricia Whatley of Tajiri Performing Arts, Vernon McQueen and Britt Henderson of the Grove Counseling Center, and Lynn Deese of Sanford Housing. Also attending were Attorney Griffith Winthrop and Sanford City Manager Tony VanderWorp.

Judges Robert and Donna McIntosh added more real-life experiences to help the students, who waited eagerly to ask questions. The students were taught life lessons, useful skills and determination. They were told to reach for the stars and shine.

side sources for their participation in the annual fund-raiser for education. She said, "The event would not have been the same without each and every one of you. We want you to know that your participation is very greatly appreciated."

Congrats, Jaclynn

Congratulations are in order to Jaclynn Michelle Foster, a senior at the University of Florida and a 1998 graduate of Seminole High School.

Jaclynn has been accepted into the School of Occupational Therapists. This program includes extensive classroom and laboratory training as well as internships in out-of-state training.

A member of the professional organization SOTA (Students of Occupational Therapists Association), Jaclynn was also inducted into the National Honor Society in her freshman year at UCF and remains on the Dean's List.

Jaclynn is the daughter of Dianna and Matthew West of Sanford, and John and Sharon Foster of Orlando. Her maternal grandparents are Betty Jack of Sanford and Bill Jack of North Carolina. Paternal grandparents are William and Patricia Foster of Sanford.

Parade of fashions heralds holiday season

The rainy weather outside didn't slow down a bevy of stylishly dressed women from parading to the Sanford Woman's Club's annual fashion show and luncheon on Nov. 14. The prestigious fund-raising event for scholarships, labeled Food and Fashions for Education, scored a full house.

Doria Dietrich

An array of ferns and other greenery adorned the quaint clubhouse. Tiny lights twinkled in shrubs arranged at each side of the models' runway. The ferns, as well as bromeliads that decorated the dining tables, were sold after the show ended.

The guests seemed to enjoy a luncheon of turkey slices with cucumber and sour cream sauce piled high on a croissant, potato salad, deviled egg, assorted fruit and cheesecake topped with fruit sauce.

The show got under way with Betty Jack, 2001-2002 president of the Woman's Club of Sanford, welcoming the guests, followed by Mindy Tooley presenting words of inspiration. The Pledge of Allegiance was repeated by the entire group who also sang "God Bless America."

Peggy Mergo, chair of the Education Department and chair of the event, made introductory remarks. She told the guests that the fashion show was under the direction of Dillard's at Seminole Towne Center with Dianne Moore, sales manager for Ladies Ready-To-Wear, as the commentator. Laura Holt, assistant area sales manager in Ladies Ready-To-Wear at Dillard's, assisted Dianne.

Adding to the elegance of the gathering were Sanford Mayor Brady Lessard and Sanford Police Chief Brian Tooley, both resplendent in tuxedos, escorting the models. Betty Smith, former club president and former mayor of Sanford, provided lively background piano music during the fashion show.

Sanford businesses and individuals providing door prizes were: two luncheon cruises on the Rivership Romance, a massage by Val Davis Salon and Spa, Glass Addicts, Sanford Flower Shop, Faye Siler, Central Florida Zoological Park, Kirchoff and Associates, Porzig Realty, Arts and Ends, Alicia Clarke, three performances at Helen Stairs Theatre and dinner for two at DaVinci's - A Dining Place.

Also a LEAF drawing for about 40 donated gifts took place for those who cared to participate in this event. Lucy Layer was excited over winning three gifts. Assisting Peggy Mergo distribute these gifts were: Viola Frank, co-chair of the event, Linda Keeling and DeLores Lash.

Before the fashion show got under way, Model Peggie Fetzer was a tad tense that somehow one of the outfits she was to model was forgotten when the showcase of fashions from Dillard's arrived at the club. However, one quick phone call was all it took to have the outfit shuttled to the club so that Peggie could strut her stuff in style.

Dianne Moore had the show divided into three segments: casual, career and formal. Each of the 15 models showed three fashions each, for a total of 45 lovely creations. In the casual segment Mary Beth Mergo modeled a striking black leather pants and jacket ensemble, while Kathryn Alexander showed a spiffy red twin sweater set featuring a new knee-length cardigan and Janice Springfield chose what a banker wears in her spare time — jeans and a comfy shirt.

In the career segment, Linda Sparrow modeled a chic plum-colored suit and Donna Frank chose a Christmas red suit. The formal wear was outstanding. Lisa Finnerty drew a round of applause in a glitzy backless gown, fashioned along the slim silhouette, with side slits while Roberta Zittrower was a knockout in a black velvet gown with the dropped shoulders outlined in faux fur.

Other models: were Dr. Charaline Luna, Cathy Bossert, Dr. Beverly Boothe, Karen Hittell, Paula Jack, Theresa Fraasa and Collette Colegrove.

In summing up the event, President Betty Jack said, "It was a great success."

Church Notes

Messiah

Dr. Burt Perinchief, retired director of choral music activities at Seminole Community College and current director of music ministries at Markham Woods Presbyterian Church in Lake Mary, invites the community to join a sing-along performance of George Frederick Handel's "Messiah", Part I (Prophecy and Nativity) at the church 3p.m. Sunday, Dec. 2.

The Coopersmith edition of "Messiah" will be used, and singers not presently having this version may purchase a copy at the church for a nominal charge of $8.

A preparatory rehearsal was held at Markham Woods Church 3, but absence from the rehearsal will not preclude anyone from participating in the event.

For information, call the church at 407-333-2030.

Pastor's Anniversary

Victory Temple of God will be celebrating its Honorable Bishop's 18th Pastor's Anniversary Dec. 3 through Dec. 9, beginning 7:30 p.m. nightly and 11 a.m. Sunday.

The theme for the occasion is "The Shepherd God Placed Over His Flock."

The following churches will be rendering services in honor of Bishop Robert L. Hillery's anniversary:

- Monday, Dec. 3: Elder Nathaniel Hillery, Refuge Church of our Lord.

- Tuesday, Dec. 4: Elder Marcus McCoy, Greater Refuge Memorial Church.

- Wednesday, Dec. 5: The Rev. Emory Blake, Progress Missionary Baptist Church.

- Thursday, Dec. 6: Elder Maurice Bennett, Grace Apostolic Temple.

- Friday, Dec. 7: Elder Frank Southerland, First Born Church Titusville.

- Saturday, Dec. 8: The Rev. Daniel Poole, New Jerusalem Missionary Baptist Church.

- Sunday, Dec. 9: Jr. Bishop Jasper Bailey, First Born Church.

House of Refuge

The House of Refuge Ministries Inc., will host Evangelist Sigi Oblander 11 a.m. Dec. 9. The theme will be "A Voice For the Nations." The church is located at 12001 Celery Ave., in Sanford. For more information about the upcoming events, call 407-324-4711.

Messiah Choral Society

For the 29th consecutive year, the Messiah Choral Society proudly presents the annual performance of Handel's "Messiah". The 170 member choir will perform with an orchestra Sunday, Nov. 25, at 3 p.m. at the Bob Carr Performing Arts Centre in Orlando. As always, the concert is free to the community.

Persons with questions are asked to call Publicity Chairperson Pamela McColloch at 407-540-4907.

Baroque Holiday

St. Luke's Lutheran Church, located at 2021 W. State Route 426 in Oviedo, will host a Baroque Holiday 7 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 1, presented by an ensemble of the Orlando Philharmonic Orchestra and featuring Hal France on harpsichord, Lisa Ferrigno on violin, Aaron Goldman on flute and Lyman Brodie on trumpet.

The concert is free, and free nursery care will be provided for small children and treats for school children who attend the concert.

For more information, contact the church office at 407-365-3408.

Gospel Duo

Nicholas and Rhonda Walmer will be appearing at Sanford Christian Church 10:15 a.m. Sunday, Dec. 2.

From contemporary to inspirational to toe-tapping Southern gospel and country, the Walmer's musical selections are church-friendly. Their sole desire is to magnify the Lord and to see people drawn to him.

Admission is free and a free-will offering will be received to further the ministry of the Walmers.
