Cabinet Nips $20 Per Cent From Budgets

Florida Faces Near Financial Crisis, Warren Says After Commission Meet

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 14.—(AP)—The Cabinet nipped at least 20 percent of the budget increase request of every state agency today, and put squarely up to the Legislature the responsibility to supply $15,000,000 extra for the school program.

The action brought total budget reductions to some $30,000,000, which would still leave the state up against the proposition of finding about $70,000,000 in new tax money for the next biennium.

Governor Warren and Cabinet members came out of an hour closed conference to make the cuts with little discussion.

Warren said the state is "faced with a new financial crisis" because the 1917 legislature adjourned without providing enough income to meet appropriations it had voted and "required the state government to do deficit operating."

Specifically, the Cabinet Budget Commission:

Adopted a resolution reducing all requested increases in operating budgets over the 1917 appropriations by 20 percent, or by any lesser amount that already had been cut off by the Cabinet.

Reconsidered its recommendation that $90,000,000 be appropriated for the school system during the next two years and substituted $84,000,000. It said even the lower amount cannot be paid unless the Legislature provides new revenue.

The Budget Commission fully recognized the needs of the county schools for additional revenues to meet the formula prescribed for the maintenance of the public school system by the 1917 Legislature, but believes it is futile to recommend the increase requested of $90,000,000 for the biennium unless additional revenues are provided by the 1919 Legislature.

Extradition Of Sassard Held Up By Gov. Talmadge

Release To Be Made After Settlement Of Georgia Charge

ATLANTA, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Extradition of Jack Sassard, wanted in Florida for killing a deer, was held up today because he is wanted in Georgia for reckless driving and killing a hog.

Governor Herman Talmadge granted the extradition but Sassard, formerly of Sanford and now of Athens, Ga., was not delivered because of the Georgia warrant.

Sassard is charged in Florida with unlawfully killing and possessing a deer in the Ocala National Forest Aug. 14. He was charged with violating the motor vehicle law in Swainsboro, Ga., Feb. 12.

Talmadge said Sassard would be turned over to Florida authorities after settlement of the charge in Georgia.

Hayes Lewis, Jr., attorney for the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission of Florida, said Sassard and H. R. Odham were charged with possessing and killing a deer at night and out of season.

Florida investigators located Sassard in Athens, Odam a brother of Florida State Rep. Bradley Odham, was fined $100 and sentenced to 30 days in jail in connection with the deer hunt. The Florida Pardon Board remitted the jail sentence but increased the fine to $200.

John Houston, assistant attorney general, assigned to Talmadge's office, said the Swainsboro warrant charged reckless driving and killing a hog.

Truck Damages Water System South Of City

Vehicle Careens Off Orlando Highway; Pipe, Fittings Hit

A truck with a semi-trailer careened off the Orlando highway four miles south of Sanford at 3:00 o'clock yesterday afternoon and knocked the fittings off a pipe leading to one of the City wells, causing damage to the system estimated at about $100, according to J. T. Hardy, city water department maintenance man.

Mr. Hardy, with a crew of city workers, hastened to the scene and plugged the broken pipe to prevent wastage of water. The accident had little effect on the city water supply due to the fact that five other wells are in operation.

Had the truck hit the small building housing an electrical pump 10 feet away, the situation would have been far more serious, City Manager Clifford McKibbin declared this morning.

Garner Returns To Tampa To Tie Up Velasco Case Ends

TAMPA, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Ed A. Garner, special investigator for Governor Warren, was back here today tying up loose ends on the Velasco murder case.

Garner was sent to Ormond Beach last week to investigate the "moonlight murders" of Gregory Board, 23, of Lexington, Ky., and Mary Burke, 23, of West Point, Ga. The couple was killed Aug. 14, 1918.

The governor's office at Tallahassee said he had requested Garner to return here briefly to "tie up" minor details in the Velasco case.

Joe H. Provenzano, an unemployed Tampa carpenter, has been indicted for the slaying of Jimmy Velasco, Tampa gambler-politician.

Governor Warren said "as a result of things that were said to me while I was in Tampa for governor's day at the fair, it appeared there might be further use" for Garner in the Velasco case (Continued on Page Four)

Henry Wallace Offers Abundance Budget Of $54 Billions To U. S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace offered America today a $54,000,000,000 "budget for abundance," based on less spending for military items and more for public welfare.

The 1948 candidate for President called a news conference to explain Truman's views on government in coming months, and his own.

President Truman's policy doesn't take into account that "the way to peace is open," that "the head of the Russian government, for the third time in two years, has offered to negotiate a treaty of peace and mutual disarmament," Wallace said he would cut in half the approximately $14,000,000,000 military expenditure proposed by the President.

"If we plan now for abundance, we can prevent depression, abolish poverty and give security to all American families," Wallace advocated spending $27,000,000,000 for "better living for all Americans." A salient feature would be a housing program to build 2,000,000 homes a year for the next eight years.

Court Orders Argument On Tideland Case

Federal Control Of Coasts Is Fought In Suits Filed In Texas, Louisiana

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(AP)—The Supreme Court today ordered argument on whether it should let the Justice Department file suits seeking to establish federal control over submerged lands off the coasts of Texas and Louisiana.

The Supreme Court refused to review the conviction of Bennett E. Meyers, retired Air Force major general, on a charge that he had secured another man to be made coadjutor.

Meyers had been in jail here since May 17, 1943—receiving a sentence of 18 months to five years. A district court jury convicted him of inducing Hon. H. L. Lamar to testify falsely before a Senate investigating subcommittee.

Lamar was writing president of a Dayton, Ohio, company. He first told the subcommittee that Meyers and the company were connected with the company, which got war contracts at a time when Meyers was the Army Air Force's No. 2 purchasing officer. Later Lamar said Meyers was the real owner of the concern.

Meyers' conviction was upheld by a U. S. court of appeals here by a 2-1 vote.

In appealing for a Supreme Court review, the ex-general said his trial was "a subtle mockery, a fraud and a sham." He said the court of appeals decision upholding his conviction was "a fitting and hypocritical climax to these disgraced proceedings."

Attorney General Clark has asked the high court for permission to bring the suits against Texas and Louisiana as original actions, that is, without a federal grand jury. He has asked the Supreme Court copies of the suits. In them he has asked the tribunal to declare federal rights over "lands, minerals and other things underlying the Gulf of Mexico" adjacent to Texas and Louisiana.

The Supreme Court did not indicate whether it would hear arguments on the question of permitting the government to file the cases. Presumably the court will set a date convenient for attorneys of the two states.

The Supreme Court ruled in June, 1915, that the federal government has "paramount rights in, and full dominion and power over," submerged lands off the California coast. Clark contended the same rule is applicable to Texas and Louisiana.

U.S. Unemployment Should Be Watched, Sec. Tobin Asserts

Mindszenty Trial Is Attacked As Unjust By Pope

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(AP)—The Senate's top-ranking foreign policy leaders today said they are opposed to continuing this country to any "moral obligation" to go to war. The declarations came in Senate debate from Chairman Connally, 60, and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, the past chairman.

They were discussing the proposed North Atlantic Security Alliance. Details of the proposed alliance study have not been disclosed, but the Connally and Vandenberg statements served notice, in effect, that the Senate is unlikely to approve any treaty which would bind the United States automatically to go to war under any circumstances.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Harold P. Hooper today said that steps must be taken to deal with a recession should it begin to threaten.

Tobin told the Senate House Economic Committee that the number of public works projects that the federal government proposes to have started.

Connally needed the Secretary and with the nation still in its period of full postwar readjustment. The committee is holding hearings on the general economic outlook.

Other developments on Capitol Hill:

The Senate Labor Committee renewed hearings on the Fair Labor Law. There are signs the struggle over President Truman's demand for repeal of the act and passage of a new act would be beyond the annual session. The management and labor side of the steel industry.

Co-operation Of GOP Asked By State Demos

ORLANDO, Feb. 14.—(AP)—A Democratic offer was made to Republicans in Florida today of co-operation in a state-wide educational program in state and local problems.

The offer was made by Richard H. Cooper, chairman of the Speakers Bureau of the State Democratic Executive Committee, in a letter to Emory Akerman, chairman of the State Republican Executive Committee.

Cooper suggested that Democrats and Republicans jointly present discussions in major Florida cities on "overall state and national problems such as taxation, social welfare, labor-management relations, veterans affairs, education and governmental reform."

Cities listed for the discussions included Miami, Jacksonville, Orlando, Tampa, St. Petersburg, West Palm Beach and Pensacola.

Jacksonville Women Have 'Hose' Trouble

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Hose appeared in the nylon hose of hundreds of women here today and the wearers were puzzled as city authorities about what caused it.

City Health Officer W. W. Rogers said he believed solids in the smoke from incompletely burned fuel oil might have caused a chemical reaction in the stockings.

But Jacksonville has been having heavy weather for days past with little need for excessive fuel oil burning, other observers pointed out.

In one downtown department store, 50 women congregated after reporting for work today and showed one another their disintegrating hose. In a downtown office building, several women reported they were troubled by smarting eyes and headaches.

As the mystery heightened, stocking counters reported heavy sales.

Hints To Housewives

IRONING AROUND BUTTONS
What features for convenience and performance do women want in electric irons? In the latest answers, women consumers give top preference to irons with lots for ironing around buttons. These irons are made with the edge of the soleplate or the pressing surface of the iron—indented near the front point in a small semi-circle and are already on the market.

Votes of these women consumers have just been tallied for 1947-48 under a project entitled "The Consumer Speaks," initiated three years ago under the sponsorship of the American Home Economics Association. Nearly 10,000 women reported this year, 78 percent of them from farm homes.

Considered most essential in this year's voting on irons were these features: a light-weight iron—four pounds or less; power rating of at least 1,000 watts for fast heating—necessary in ironing large pieces such as tablecloths; thermostatic control; heat-resistant handle and enough distance between the handle and iron to protect the hand against heat.

Some features, which were rated farther down the list, also were considered essential or desirable. These include: a soleplate with narrow point for ironing ruffles and a beveled or slanted edge; back or side rest for the iron; thumb rest on the handle; and a handle that is durable.

Like the slots for buttons, these other characteristics are not necessarily lacking on irons now on the market. Actually, women have many of the preferred features on irons which they own, explains Dr. Emil Bator, household equipment specialist of the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture, and a member of the AHEA consumer interest committee. The voting results, however, are a valuable guide to manufacturers.

The women also reported on cooking utensils, refrigerators, washing machines and ironing boards, says Dr. Bator. But more women reported on irons than the other items, indicating greater interest in them.

EASTER LILIES
Sebring, Fla. — After several years of fighting "fleck" disease in their plantings, several Highlands County growers have planted Easter lilies in isolated fields which have planted the crop in the past, and they are counting on the new land, clean seed, and rigid pest control to bring them good crops this year, according to County Agent V. Anne R. Anderson Began Comic Roles In Flower Show

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Anne Renee Anderson could scarcely have failed to note, as she ogled the laughing crowds swarming around the flower show in Grand Central Palace, how exciting it was to be the center of a billed attraction.

Lazily swinging on the front door at 42nd street and Lexington ave., where she was born and where she had just turned four, she spent many happy hours watching the crowds at the flower show, the automobile show, the motorboat show, and all the other shows that came to that wonder barn on Lexington Avenue.

"That's when I knew I wanted to be where people could see me and I them," says Miss Anderson, a star comedienne in Broadway's white hot musical revue, "Lend an Ear."

Works Out Routine

She sentenced herself to bringing this about.

She worked out a dance routine to her favorite phonograph record, "Dance of the Hours." Her mother, who knew nothing about show business, made a costume that represented her as a rose bud, or maybe it was a west wind, and she entered a performance that featured only children.

"But they couldn't play the music," Miss Anderson remembers. "They thought they would swing into any simple waltz."

"That's not my music," I said. I stomped my foot and walked off the stage. Eventually one old violin player remembered the music and played it for me, and I danced. That was my first show of temperment."

At 14 Miss Anderson was a veteran of six years of ballet which she learned off with a year's service with the Metropolitan Opera ballet, where she learned all the operas, and added to the authenticity of her classical dancing.

"Then I took in tap. Ballet has commercial limitations, but it helps your tap," Paul Draper and Fred Astaire are ballet-tap dancers.

At 15, our Annie began the study of voice and was tabbed as a lyric soprano, "which I have lost," she says. "I am a comedienne who sings loud enough to hit the much lines, and I knew something about voice placement. A lot of comedians go hoarse because they never learn voice placement."

One day Miss Anderson became obsessed with the idea of talking to "masses of people." She joined a stock company to learn dramatic acting. While working with the company she met and fell in love with the comedian Jules Munshin, later marrying him.

"When the season ended we formed a comedy team but it wasn't too good. Then the war took Jules for four years. I did well enough in a single comedy act. But it was too lonesome, and I went abroad five times with U. S. O. shows, once spending six months in Africa."

Charles Gaynor, who wrote every word of every sketch and every song in "Lend an Ear," found Miss Anderson at the Tullin-shout theatre, Los Angeles, where she had gone to be near her husband, who had a picture contract.

He awarded her a feature contract and she opened in New York. "My name isn't really Anne Renee Anderson," admitted Miss Anderson. "There's an Renee to it. But Equity has a rule that two actresses cannot use the same name. There already was an actress named Anne Anderson. So I added the Renee. And I don't like it." Anne Renee Anderson says emphatically.

Television, though coming fast to all the people of the United States, will not hurt the newspaper business, says Roger Babson.

The problem of locating the swimming pool raises its ugly head as John Ivey and his committee call for expressions of public opinion.

We have acquired such a callow disregard for the taxpayers' pocket-book in this country, that we accept as natural and inevitable the acquiescence by public officials to every demand by special interests for a government handout.

Senator Vandenberg in almost his first public statement since the election says he will not run for re-election in 1952 and pays this tribute to President Truman: "I present my compliments to the unpredictable gentleman from Missouri... the most famous one man tornado in the history of political hurricanes".

The plight of privately endowed institutions, whether health, scientific, or educational, as a result of the current drains upon private capital from government tax authorities, is indicated by the loss of Vanderbilt's football coach and staff to the University of California at Los Angeles.

AGNES E. MEYERS, writing in the Atlantic Monthly for February, says: "The specific problem of the public school and its curriculum is to bridge the gap between our immense resources of knowledge and the social maladjustment that stares us in the face whether in our great cities or in our rural areas."

Duty Of Education

Mrs. Meyers goes on to say that the need of the world for international stability and peace cannot be met until we have stable social conditions in our own country.

Another factor in the situation is the frequent lack of sufficient funds for enlarged and better teaching staffs and for improved methods of integrating school and community life.

An experiment was carried out in an underprivileged neighborhood in a large industrial city. The elementary school in the district was thrown open several evenings a week for the benefit of old and young.

This was a matter of using the school facilities to cope with problems of the adult community.

Wall Street New Dealer

A Democratic president does not often pick for office a former head of the New York Stock Exchange. But these are unusual days, and this was an unusual head of the Exchange.

Martin was president of the Stock Exchange from 1938 to 1941. He had fought the old guard administration of Richard Whitney, Jr. When Whitney went to prison for embezzlement, it was recognized that something had to be done to bring the Exchange back into public esteem.

Martin was the first and perhaps the only Exchange head to describe himself mildly as "not a New Dealer all the way." Conservative brokers may perhaps now be saying of his appointment, "I knew he was one of those fellows."

Rights Of Artists

An artist has no rights over his work after he has sold it, a New York City court decision holds. John D. Crimi had sold a mural painting in 1938 to the Rutgers Presbyterian Church.

If he had won, authors might have felt entitled to bring suit against libraries which bought their books, and weeded them out a few years later.

The Crimi doctrine is far-reaching. The court decision seems wise.

Wallace's Budget

strengthen the economy of the European nations, and develop the industrially backward and colonial countries." For this, he would spend $6,700,000,000 instead of to at least $45,300,000,000—and economic aid.

On civil rights, Wallace said: "Discrimination cannot be fought with token forces. We would take the $20 million that Truman has set aside for the FBI and the Civil Service Commission's loyalty investigations with their star-chamber proceedings, proscription and blacklisting features, and use this sum of money, together with any additional sums raised, to bring to an end the system of discrimination and segregation which has made the negro and other national groups second class citizens."

Simple and Serious Causes of Backache

Rare is the adult who has never suffered from backache. Heavy lifting, over exercising, heels that are too high or too low are some of the simple causes of back pains. Backache is also a symptom of serious disorder such as kidney disease, gall-bladder trouble, rheumatism, arthritis, or the flu.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The Russian writer David Zaslavsky says in the Moscow Literary Gazette that it's impossible to be genuinely educated without knowledge of the Russian language.

Well, I'm afraid we can't take it for granted that there is a widespread thirst for Russian in America merely because "The Voice of America" employs it in some broadcasts.

After all, we should be more than stupid if we didn't acquaint ourselves so far as possible with the nation which has declared that our form of government and our way of life and our religion must be destroyed.

Should a hot war grow out of the present cold war (which heaven forbid), we should look mighty sick if we didn't have plenty of citizens who knew Russian—and a lot of other things pertaining to the land of Bolshevism.

There has been in America a tendency—now happily disappearing—to play ostrich towards the evils of Communism. We have tried to avoid discussing the facts about Communism, hoping thus (1) to avoid friction with Russia and (2) to prevent the spread of this ism among our people.

This tendency has been responsible for the heated argument over whether Communism and the affairs of the Soviet Union should be discussed in the class rooms of our universities and high schools.

Many institutions have continued to put the facts before their students, and there is a growing feeling that this is no time to play ostrich with the subject.

There is recognition that the only way to combat a great evil is to learn all there is to know about it.

Of course in permitting Communism to be aired in the class room, there is always the danger that sometimes it may be presented by an instructor who is a Red sympathizer. There is the danger that it may be advocated to the students, whereas Washington has condemned it as subversive and as aimed at the overthrow of our government by force.

Still, my observation has been that Red sympathizers always will find ways of getting their propaganda across in the class room, even where discussion of Communism is taboo. Many educators feel that the best way to combat this sly spreading of Red propaganda among students is to come out with the real facts. But where are we to get the real facts, in view of the Iron Curtain? Naturally we aren't going to get them from sources controlled by Moscow.

Washington is steadily and increasingly giving the inside facts to the public.

American correspondents who are working behind the Iron Curtain also are doing a grand job of objective reporting. Naturally they are up against a tough censorship, but daily they are adding to our knowledge of how Bolshevism works, and our information about the lives of the peoples who are under Red Moscow's rule.

The way it looks from here, a realistic education about Communism is our greatest defense against the undoubted evils of that ism. Sure, learn to speak Russian if you want to. If a lot of us know the language we shall be prepared to cooperate with Russia one day when Bolshevism is as dead as old Marley.

I suppose they'll call it "one world" then.

Only six counties were missing after today's tabulation. Governor Warren has made still other colonel appointments since the first list and some of these have been made public.

HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Seasonal observers weren't surprised to find that a recent fracas against Teresa Wright and Eric Johnston. They just added two more battle stars to the producer's long combat record.

Goldwyn fired actress Wright with the comment: "I am sick and tired of seeing what is going on in this town—where people have no respect for their contracts and no respect for the money they receive and refuse to perform and cooperate."

He resigned from the Producers' Association, whose head, Eric Johnston, then commented: "Good. That set Sam off. He unleashed a rebuke accusing Johnston of using the Association for his own publicity."

Goldwyn offers a refreshing note in a town too often marked by staid official announcements. Fiercely independent, he's not afraid to tangle with anyone. This has been going on since the earliest days of the movies.

Soon after he merged his interests into the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, he left the big firm to retain his independence. Nothing makes him madder than the mistaken notion that he still has connections with MGM, one of the big studios he has often condemned.

In his long battle history, we find Sam resigning from the producers' group the first time in 1933, accusing one of its members, Jack Warner, of "bootlegging talent."

Warner had hired William Powell, Bob Hope and Kay Francis away from other employers.

In 1936, Goldwyn himself was the object of a $5,000,000 suit by Paramount for allegedly snatching away Gary Cooper. It was settled by a friendly agreement.

In 1938, Sam returned from Europe and took on all of Hollywood, "There are too many infelicitous people in the film business," he declared. He said the public was on strike against bad pictures and the villains were the actors, writers and directors.

In 1946, he accused Hollywood of "fat cat complacency" and said the industry had "run dry of ideas."

Goldwyn sued to break his United Artists contract in 1940 claiming the firm "maliciously attacked to drive Mr. Goldwyn out of business." He has carried on long-range wars against theater chains and double features. I once heard him drop a Goldwynism: "The double feature is as dead as a doughnut."

At some time or other, Goldwyn has barged with all Hollywood columnists about something they have written about him. I am expecting a phone call any moment.

Goldwyn offers a refreshing note in a town too often marked by staid official announcements. Fiercely independent, he's not afraid to tangle with anyone. This has been going on since the earliest days of the movies.

Soon after he merged his interests into the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, he left the big firm to retain his independence. Nothing makes him madder than the mistaken notion that he still has connections with MGM, one of the big studios he has often condemned.

In his long battle history, we find Sam resigning from the producers' group the first time in 1933, accusing one of its members, Jack Warner, of "bootlegging talent."

Warner had hired William Powell, Bob Hope and Kay Francis away from other employers.

In 1936, Goldwyn himself was the object of a $5,000,000 suit by Paramount for allegedly snatching away Gary Cooper. It was settled by a friendly agreement.

In 1938, Sam returned from Europe and took on all of Hollywood, "There are too many infelicitous people in the film business," he declared. He said the public was on strike against bad pictures and the villains were the actors, writers and directors.

In 1946, he accused Hollywood of "fat cat complacency" and said the industry had "run dry of ideas."

Goldwyn sued to break his United Artists contract in 1940 claiming the firm "maliciously attacked to drive Mr. Goldwyn out of business." He has carried on long-range wars against theater chains and double features. I once heard him drop a Goldwynism: "The double feature is as dead as a doughnut."

At some time or other, Goldwyn has barged with all Hollywood columnists about something they have written about him. I am expecting a phone call any moment.

National Invitational Tourney To Try To Get Top Cage Teams

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—(AP)—The nation's three top basketball teams will wind up under one roof next month if the National Invitational tournament gets its way.

The NIT hopes to crown not only Kentucky and St. Louis but also Oklahoma A. and M. These three clubs rank 1-2-3 in the Associated Press poll.

St. Louis (16-1) is the defending champion. Kentucky Wildcats (29-1) have shown every sign of wanting revenge for their only loss and St. Louis is the team that beat them. The Aggies (15-3) hold the only decision over St. Louis.

The NIT opens in Madison Square Garden here Mar. 12. Although nothing official has been forthcoming from the invitation committee, it's known that St. Louis is expected back. And the Aggies' return is figured to bring Kentucky, the defending C. A. A. champion, into the fold.

The Aggies are another problem. They will be asked, all right, but whether they will come remains in doubt. They took a whirl at the N. C. A. A. last year and found themselves on the sidelines before the regular firing began.

In the Midwest the Missouri Valley champion and the Big Seven champion usually play a single game for the right to represent the region in the N. C. A. A. Oklahoma A. and M. was upset by Kansas State in that playoff a year ago. This season the University of Oklahoma, a good bet to win the Big Seven, holds one of the three decisions over the Aggies.

With the cream skimmed off the rest of the field is wide open for both the NIT and the NCAA tournaments. Both pick eight teams.

Tulane (10-2), beaten only by Kentucky, and San Francisco (10-1) are sure to be high on the NIT list.

The Southern Conference winner, probably North Carolina State (17-8), and the Big Seven winner, either Oklahoma (10-6) or Nebraska (11-9) appear headed for the NCAA.

Other possibilities for one or the other of the post season tournaments are:

- Yale (16-4), Butler (15-3), C. C. Y. Y. (13-4), Illinois (10-2), Hamline (17-1), Arkansas (9-9), Wyoming (19-6), Utah (18-5), Rice (9-9), Washington State (20-4), LaSalle (Philadelphia) (10-4), Villanova (16-3), Duquesne (14-3), Texas (14-5), Western Kentucky (19-3), and Chicago Loyola (16-4).
- The NCAA usually sticks with winners of the 10 major conferences. Its eastern playoff will be

Giants Cut 180 Men From Roster Of Baseball Camp

The New York Giants have cut 180 men from their baseball school roster, it was announced today by Carl Hubbell, director of the New York Giants farm system.

"We returned 115 men to their homes through yesterday and 65 more are scheduled to leave today," he reported this morning.

The school continues to be nearly as large as it was last year at the start of the camp, according to Charles Marian, Giants executive reported.

"Several men have been signed to contracts and told to report to the spring training camp, which will open here early next month," Marian declared.

Yesterday afternoon George Barr's umpires were entertained at the Elks Club with a fish fry, complete with all the trimmings.

George Johnston, district representative from the office of George Trautman, czar of the minor leagues, has been in Sanford visiting the George Barr School, and President W. T. Anderson of the Georgia-Florida League has arrived to look over several prospective umpires for his circuit.

"We have over 100 jobs for umpires this year, but we will not be able to fill near that many," Barr declared yesterday.

Fed Cagers Cop Twin Bill From Palatka Maroons

The Sanford High School College Fed cagers copped a twin attraction from the Palatka Maroons at the high school court Friday night. The varsity five won by 57 to 23 scoring and the jayvees emerged victorious by a 30 to 28 count.

Coch Fred Ganas' Varsity combine piled up a 21 to 4 score at the end of the first quarter, and early in the second period he sent in his second team. By the end of the first half the Feds enjoyed a 35 to 9 lead.

The Baby Feds and the Baby Maroons tangled in one of the most exciting contests seen on the local court this year. Two minutes before the final whistle Hurst batted a field goal to tie the game at 25 to 25, but Watkins and Brown flipped in two field goals to put the game on ice for the locals.

Floyd Cooper was high point man for the Fed varsity. He tallied 12 points. Bill Thomas with 11 was second high man for the Feds. Cole and Burt each scored five for the invaders.

Smith was high point man for the Fed "B" squad.

Outfielders Roy Huff and Tom Burgess and Pitcher Alex Patterson won nine and lost seven last season for Columbus, Ohio, and Allentown, Pa.

The prize rookie group is made up of Outfielder Gene Faszholt and his brother, Pitcher John Faszholt; Outfielder Ray Jablonski; Catchers Jim Curran, Bob Jaraway and Mike Curran; and Pitchers Ralph Beard, Dennis Reeder and Don Stephens.

Gene Faszholt hit .308 for Fresno, Calif., last season and his brother won nine and lost five for Roanoke, Va. their home is Berkeley, Calif.

Jablonski is one of Columbus' best hitting prospects in years. The big righthander hit .354 for Milford, Del., of the Eastern Shore League.

The rookie pitchers and their last year club records are: Beard, Pocatello, Idaho, 12-7; Reeder, Hazard, Ky., 15-4; Stephens, Albany, Ga., 17-14.

Manager Kemp Wicker will begin his fourth year in Columbus. This will be the first time in 23 years his name has not been on the active list of a club.

During his active pitching days Wicker hurled for the New York Yankees, Brooklyn Dodgers, Rochester, N. Y., Newark, N. J., Montreal, Canada, and Sacramento, Calif., of the Pacific Coast League.

Wicker will have more new men when the squad reports in March than he has had in three years. Only three hold-overs from last year are back—Burgess, Pete Wright and Johnny Holkey.

Columbus will train in Albany, Ga., with 12 other teams in the St. Louis Cardinal system. After a 16 game exhibition series the Cardinals open the season at home against the Macon Peaches Apr. 20 at night.

Wildcats Are 4 Victories Away From Year Of SEC Cage Leadership

ATLANTA, Feb. 14.—(AP)—The Kentucky Wildcats are only four victories away from another year of dominating Dixie basketball as no other team ever dominated any other sport in the South.

If Kentucky wins four of five remaining games—all against South-eastern conference team—the Wildcats will win their ninth South-eastern championship in 17 years.

There's a chance that Kentucky won't win this year and that either Tulane, LSU, Tennessee or Vanderbilt will overtake the Wildcats. But such an occurrence would call for a complete breakdown of a team made up of such players as Alex Groza, Wallace Jones, Cliff Barker, Dale Barnstable, Ralph Beard, etc.

Of the four challengers only Tulane has much of a chance to upset the Kentucky basketball derby and even the Greenies are a weak second.

Twice Tulane has been beaten this year, both times by Kentucky. Their record of ten victories and two defeats is a poor second to Kentucky's eight triumphs and no losses.

During the remainder of the season the Wildcats meet Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia Tech, Georgia and Vanderbilt, and they will be the big pick in all of those games.

Meanwhile, Tulane will be playing Alabama, Vanderbilt and LSU. Kentucky took its largest remaining step toward another Southeastern championship last week with the 71-55 runaway against Tennessee. Saturday night the Wildcats ran up one of the largest scores in the history of the Southeastern, 90-50 over Xavier.

While Kentucky gave no hint of letting up Tulane could do nothing but hang on and hope. The Greenies easily won their only Southeastern game of the week from Mississippi 74-34.

A third-place tie was created between LSU and Tennessee. Tennessee lost to Kentucky and won from Mississippi Tech 63-58. LSU won from Georgia Tech 72-63 and from Mississippi 49-39.

Vanderbilt got ahead of Georgia in the standings with the 64-52 victory over Mississippi and a 68-42 workout over Alabama. The State of Mississippi's miserable week was complete when Mississippi State lost to Alabama 50-45.

After nearly a three weeks' lay-off the Florida Gators rejoined the schedule and broke even during a four-game week. The Gators won from Lawrence Tech 64-58, lost to Georgia Tech 57-40, and then split a two-game series with Georgia. Florida lost the opener 63-39 but the next night made Georgia look just as bad with a 55-49 victory.

Remaining games were outside the conference and the Southeastern won three and lost one. The lone defeat was Duke of the Southern over Tech 53-42. Auburn and Georgia played minor opponents. The Plainsmen won 69-44 from Troy (Ala.) Teachers and 49-44 from Livingston (Ala.) Teachers, and Georgia from Erskine (S. C.) 53-38.

This week's 14-game schedule is the weakest this month. No game is a standout. The better games on the mediocre schedule should be Alabama-Kentucky, Tech-Georgia, Tech-Kentucky, LSU-Vanderbilt and Tulane-Alabama.

The LSU-Vanderbilt game in Nashville Saturday has the best chance of jumbling the standings.

Candidates for the Seminole High School Celery Fed baseball team reported to Coach Carl Kettles at Lawton Field this afternoon.

"We will have to wait a few days to see who turns out for the practice before we can say much about the team," Coach Kettles asserted this morning.

With the addition of baseball activity at the school, three sports are in progress. Basketball practices are being held daily in the school gym, while football sessions are held on the practice field behind the school, and baseball drills are being conducted on Lawton Field.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Barney Lebowitz, who held the world's light heavyweight title under the ring name Battling Levinsky 31 years ago, was buried yesterday.

Lebowitz died Saturday at the age of 69 after an automobile accident aggravated a previous illness. He won the light heavyweight crown in 1918 from Jack D'Elon, and lost it four years later to Frank's Georges Carpentier.

The St. Louis Cardinals will conduct a camp at Albany, Ga., with 400 players from 12 teams in action.

House Group Okays Pension Plan For Vets

Proposed Bill Would Give $90-A-Month To All Veterans Upon Reaching 65

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—Several members of the House Veterans Committee today walked out of a stormy session at which the committee approved a veterans pension bill.

The bill would give $90-a-month pensions to all veterans of World Wars I and II at the age of 65.

The story of the squabbling came after the closed-door meeting broke up. The fight later spread to the House floor where cries of "hate-tatooing" were raised against Chairman Rankin (D-Miss.).

Some committee members told reporters after the meeting they did not see the final draft of the measure until today's meeting.

One member, who asked that his name not be used, said Rankin was defeated on one issue by a vote of 14 to 5, but demanded a roll call.

The committee's measure was a compromise of a proposal by Chairman Rankin (D-Miss.) to start $100-a-month pensions at the age of 60.

The bill also sets up pensions for non-service-connected disabilities ranging from $20 a month to $30 for total disability, and $120 where an attendant is required.

The Truman administration previously had indicated it opposed the pension moves. Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray, Jr., told the committee the bills "could not be considered in accord with the program of the President."

Gray estimated that the cost would be around $2,000,000,000 the first year and said costs would go up annually thereafter.

Protesting landings went to Capitol Hill and awaited reentry of a "confidentiality of property" and "anti-American."

Some carried threats of mass evictions of their tenants—if Congress grants. The bill would also request for continued rent controls. Earlier at a downtown rally they applauded speakers calling for such evictions.

Mr. Truman has asked for strengthening, broadening and a two-year extension of rent controls.

The property owners opened their fight before the House Banking Committee. Housing expert (Continued on Page Eight)

Farmers Are Asked To File ACA Papers

Farmers, citrus growers or ranchers wishing to participate in the Seminole County Agricultural Conservation Association Program for 1949, were today advised by Leo Hutter, local committee chairman for the ACA, that they must file the "application" in the program before Apr. 15 in order to receive benefits.

Assistance in filing will be given growers by Orle R. Mathieu, county administration officer, and Mrs. Belle Grantham, clerk, at the County Agent's office.

The County allocation of funds for payments for soil conservation practices has been increased about 68% over the amount allocated in 1948. This increase will be a help in the farmers who participate in the 1949 program, said Mr. Hutter.

ORANGE BOWL HEAD MIAMI, Feb. 15 (AP)—Daniel J. Mahoney, vice president and general manager of the Miami Daily News, today took over as president of the Orange Bowl committee. He succeeds Will M. Preston.

"I'm not going to rush into anything," Mahoney said when asked about policies of his administration, following the election yesterday.

"We are all going to continue to do the best possible work for the Orange Bowl," within a few days I will appoint the various standing committees and we will start planning our 1950 program."

C. of C. Launches Annual Membership Drive With Appeal For More Funds

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce launched its annual membership drive today with an appeal to the business and professional men of the county for additional contributions amounting to a total over $3,000.

With a goal of $12,000 this year as compared with $8,827 actually raised from memberships last year, President John Ivey revealed that the directors have approved an increase in individual membership dues from $5 to $10, but pointed out that a number of contributions greatly exceed this amount.

The need for more funds to carry on the wide range of activities already initiated or planned by the trade body for this year was emphasized by Mr. Ivey who said that it costs money to send representatives to Tallahassee or Washington seeking approval of various local projects and that unless the county is represented at these important meetings, the interests of Seminole County will be neglected and all local projects will suffer.

He also called attention to the extensive advertising program carried on by the Chamber of Commerce which has resulted in bringing to this community the largest number of tourists ever seen in Sanford, and to plans for a greatly expanded advertising program for the coming year.

"We hope to make Sanford a tourist resort second only to Orlando in Central Florida," Mr. Ivey said, "and we know only too well that we have to have a good representation at these important meetings, the interests of Seminole County will be neglected and all local projects will suffer."

3 Bandits Steal $30,000 From Baltimore Bank

BALTIMORE, Feb. 15 (AP)—Three bandits held up a Union Trust Company branch bank in a daring daylight raid today that netted more than $30,000.

A gunman, wearing a mask, hurled an eight-foot partition to the inside of the cashier's cage and forced head teller Karl Yost to empty the cash drawers into a shopping bag.

A search by more than three dozen police cars shifted into county areas adjacent to the city after reports the escape auto had sped westward.

As one of the gunmen stood lookout and the second worked inside the cashier's compartment, a third went into the office of Shephard S. Pearson, Jr., holding him and a customer at bay with his gun.

Pearson, manager of the bank, said the exact amount of the loss would not be known until later but that several cash drawers had been overlooked by the gunmen. Still, more than $30,000 was gone.

Six women tellers were ordered to stand back at gun point. Several of the women, including Yost, the robber's revolver against him, marched from drawer to drawer and emptied them.

Howard Singleton, 62, of Baltimore, who was making a deposit, slipped his wallet which he said contained $400, under a writing shelf. When the men fled, he went outside to get the license (Continued on Page Eight)

Wreck Averted By Quick Work Of Youth

BALINBURY, Conn., Feb. 15 (AP)—Quick thinking by nine-year-old Dick Kenney was credited with averting disaster when the driver of a school bus with 30 children aboard.

The driver, George Dodge, 33, suddenly collapsed in a faint. His body, in falling, brushed against the wheel, and the vehicle headed toward a ditch and public utility poles.

Dick, a fourth grader, remembering what his father had taught him about driving, grabbed the wheel. He headed the bus straight down the road for about 400 yards, and then deliberately swerved it into a snowbank.

The boy said he knew the engine would stall when it hit the snow, and, sure enough, it did. No one was injured.

Reds Arrest U. S. Writer On Spy Charge

Anna Louise Strong, Representative Of Allied Labor News, Will Be Deported

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. The Russians have arrested another American correspondent on spy charges—the second within a year.

The Moscow press announced that Anna Louise Strong, well known American author and correspondent for the Soviet Union, they arrested and will be deported.

Miss Strong, who has been in Russia most of the time since 1921, wrote books and articles which reflected a strongly pro-Soviet viewpoint. She was a member of the Communist Party in the United States.

The Soviet newspaper disclosed the arrest in the following announcement:

"The well-known intelligence operator, the American woman journalist, A. L. Strong, who got into the U. S. S. R. in a conspiracy of the kind in which our foreign relations officials yesterday were concerned by the security organs."

"Miss Strong is accused of espionage and undermining activities against the Soviet Union. They require that in the next few days she will be sent outside the boundaries of the Soviet Union."

The deportation of the 63-year-old writer leaves the following American correspondents in Moscow: Edith Ellmore and Thomas P. Whitney for the Associated Press; Henry Shapiro for the United Press; Joseph Newman, New York Herald Tribune; Edmund Stevens, Christian Science Monitor; and Andrew Stenger, Overseas News Agency.

A visit for a seventh correspondent, Harrison E. Salisbury, who will represent the New York Times, was authorized by Soviet authorities about three weeks ago. He has not been seen since the spring of 1947 when Drew Middleton left on home leave and was not granted a re-entry permit.

Miss Strong, who married in Moscow in 1932 but continued to live her maiden name, is the second American correspondent in a year to be charged with spy activities.

Robert Magidoff was ordered to leave Russia in April 1948 when Pravda published a letter from his secretary, Cecelia Nelson of Michigan, accusing him of spying.

The letter said Magidoff, correspondent for NBC, Exchange Telegraph and McGraw-Hill Publishing Company, had received instructions (Continued on Page Eight)

Winn-Lovett Co. Plans To Build Supermart Here

Quit Claim Deed To Third Street Lots Approved For Firm

The City Commission today authorized Mayor Andrew Grayway and City Clerk H. N. Sayer to execute a quit claim deed for the city's $12,000 share of lots 7, 8, 9 and 10 at Third Street and Palm Avenue to the Winn-Lovett Co. grocery chain store owners.

The Winn-Lovett Co. operators of the Finch Grocery and Ladd Supply Groceries here, are expected to be purchasing the lot with the intention of erecting a supermart on the property.

Several months ago the city was forewarned by court action from desiring the property, formerly owned by a partner in the Winn-Lovett group, to be sold at the Court House on Feb. 11. Following the court action, the City Commission authorized the Mayor to execute a quit claim deed for the city's share of the lot.

The City had owned the lot subject to the tax certificate. Before the building project in the making, the City had been notified by the Winn-Lovett group, to be sold at the Court House on Feb. 11.

Spencer, attorney representing the Winn-Lovett Co. group, requested the closing of East Street between Cross and Cypress Street for removal of a sanitary sewer on East Street. This was done by the City Commission.
