Is Culture Going Begging?

A few years ago people in Sanford complained that "there just isn't anything doing in this town at night."

"Why, we have to go to Orlando or Daytona Beach to see an opera or concert. How can this town grow without any culture?" they wanted to know.

Well, something was done about it. An organization called the Sanford-DeBary Entertainment Association was formed with the prime goal of bringing talented musicians to the area to perform at the Civic Center.

And now that we have this organization what happens? It gets insufficient support and could very well be put out of business.

With every organizational drive we get in Sanford it seems there are just a few who do all the work.

But as far as the entertainment association is concerned it needs much more than a few hard working "go-getters."

It needs everyone's support if it is to continue.

As a matter of fact it has now reached the stage where the scheduled program for this fall may have to be revised.

Association officials reported today that at the present time there are just not enough funds available for the programs contracted for.

This means that there is a possibility that Rise Stevens may not be here as scheduled or the first production of the season, Carmen, scheduled Nov. 17 may have to be canceled.

Now, if you care for culture in this town, back a group that is trying to give our citizens the best in entertainment.

They need your support now. Tickets are available at the Chamber of Commerce.

If you put this off . . . then just forget about any entertainment association here.

And let's hear no more of "you know, there just isn't anything doing in this town . . . let's go to Orlando, I hear Carmen is coming there."

16 Die In Traffic

MIAMI (UPI)—The State Patrol today counted at least 16 persons dead from traffic crashes between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday in one of the year's bloodiest and most tragic weekends.

Goldfine Aide Guilty

BOSTON (UPI)—Miss Mildred Paperman, secretary-partner to industrialist Bernard Goldfine, pleaded guilty today at the outset of her trial on income tax evasion charges. She was given a suspended four month jail term and fined $2,300 on each of five counts.

Bryant Spends $4,994

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Farris Bryant, Democratic nominee for governor, said today he spent $4,994 and collected $3,400 in his campaign last week. His GOP opponent, George Peterson of Port Lauderdale, said he spent $2,289 and collected $1,157 in the same period.

Outhouse In Again

HALLANDALE (UPI)—They did it again. For the 19th consecutive year, pranksters perched an outhouse in front of the Hallandale post office on the eve of Halloween. And there were added touches this year: An old chicken coop, an assortment of traffic signs and barricades, and a toilet seat balanced on the ransop over the post office entrance.

Reds Pour It On

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—Soviet propaganda outlets poured abuse on the United States today in advance of a General Assembly debate on Cuban charges that a U. S.-supported invasion of the Caribbean island was imminent. The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda said in Moscow that "North American ruling circles are now openly preparing armed aggression against Cuba."

Army Reassigning Unit In City

A U. S. Army mobile recruiting station is visiting here today through Wednesday to give information on opportunities in the regular Army or the Army Reserve. The unit will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and is manned by Sgt. Carl Boon and Sgt. Glen Crosby. The recruiters will give information on the Fla. National Guard and the Women's Army Corps.

Longwood Church Sets Holy Days

The Christ Church Episcopal Longwood, will celebrate two holy days this week. All Saints Day will be celebrated Tuesday with Holy Communion at 8 p.m. Wednesday, All Souls Day will be recognized with Holy Communion at 8 p.m. All Souls Day is to remember members who have died recently.

Art Entries Closing

Entry blanks for pictures in the 33rd convention of the Florida Federation of Art must be submitted by Wednesday. Entry blanks and a $3 entry fee must be sent to Mrs. Lawrence Thomas, 1106 W. Hampshire, Orlando by the deadline. Blanks may be picked up at the Recreation Dept. office in the Civic Center.

Joint Project Meet Set Tuesday

County Engineer Carlton Bliss will meet with county commissioners Tuesday morning on the California Polytechnic College football players injured or killed in the crash of a chartered airliner bringing them home from Saturday's game.

Castro Halts Fleeing Cubans

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro's revolutionary government started cracking down on the exodus of Cubans today and two foreign airlines decided to quit because of lack of business. The government was reported ready to nationalize travel agencies to tighten its control over the swarm of nationals fleeing to the United States and other foreign countries.

Tens of thousands already have left and, with the government whipping up fears of a U. S. supported invasion, the outgoing stream increased. The revolutionary regime circulated a long list of names of bank executive shareholders and executives of nationalized businesses and industries with instructions to airport and harbor officials not to let them leave the country. Immigration authorities were told to lift their passports.

The foreign counter-revolutionary Swan Island radio broadcast names on the list telling them to seek asylum in foreign embassies. The Dutch KLM airlines and the Venezuelan national airline LAV served notice they would pull out this week. LAV closed its ticket office today. KLM told passengers booked on flights to Miami Tuesday to leave today as "there may be no more flights from Havana."

The "Show of Shows," one of the most popular television programs in Cuba, announced Sunday night it was going off the air to make room for "Television Revolution," a government sponsored day long propaganda program. Television has been totally nationalized in Cuba and purged of almost all U. S. programs except Perry Mason and Huckleberry Hound with Spanish sound tracks. Some U. S. newscasts are used but slanted for government purposes.

Invasion talk simmered down somewhat Sunday when militiamen, who had been alerted for duty after 1,450 U. S. Marines landed at Guantanamo naval base for weekend liberty, were released from duty in the afternoon.

However, all doctors and nurses were kept on duty at hospitals through the weekend in conjunction with the alert.

The U. S. Navy attack transport Boxer sailed from Guantanamo Base early today carrying out the Marines whose Saturday arrival for a liberty week-end raised Cuban cries of "provocation."

A base spokesman said the Marines' weekend stay was "quiet and normal." It was their first shore leave in a month of maneuver.

Presidential Politics

Kennedy Stresses Strength . . . Nixon Plans One-Two

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Sen. John F. Kennedy derided Vice President Richard M. Nixon's strategy for peace today by insisting "there is no push-button magic for averting war."

The Democratic presidential candidate said he is "convinced that peace can be obtained only through a stronger America—an America in which a strong economy, supporting a strong defensive posture, is manned by a citizenry striving in their sense of purpose. . . ."

But he said Nixon's "grand strategy is to create a series of committees, conferences, councils and good will tours."

"The next war may be started and won by merely pushing a button—but there is no push-button magic for winning the peace," Kennedy said.

The Democratic Standard-bearer spoke out in a speech while motor-boating through Philadelphia in his fourth consecutive day of holding for Pennsylvania's important 32 electoral votes.

He had a busy day of campaigning scheduled in Pennsylvania's largest city, a Democratic stronghold whose voters must offset areas if Kennedy is to carry the Keystone State.

Kennedy concentrated on the issue of unemployment at Leavitttown, where a number of workers at the U. S. Steel Corporation's nearby Fairless Works reside. But he failed actually to utter the major campaign pledge set forth in a prepared text released to newsmen.

This pledge, which aides stressed that he stands by, was to set a "full employment" goal of 82 million jobs by 1968 if he is elected president eight days from now.

The current number of jobs is something in excess of 68 million and Kennedy's target figure would mean leaving only a bare minimum of two to three per cent of the working force unemployed.

"I have no doubt that the men of little faith who lead the Republican party will criticize this goal as Utopian and unrealistic," Kennedy declared in his unspoken Leavitttown text.

Such criticism comes easily to a party whose candidate has said that "unemployment is inevitable."

A party which has allowed the unemployment rate to soar to 5.7 per cent—a party which has presided over a continual decline in our rate of economic growth," Kennedy said.

At a television studio in the city, Kennedy appeared before a panel of interviewers and suggested that one "economic judgment" he might make if a recession developed would be to propose "a tax cut for a period of four or five months."

Nixon plans a powerful one-two punch at the Democrats during this final week of the presidential campaign. The other half of his fighting team is President Eisenhower.

Finals plays may be worked out today between Eisenhower and the vice president, who swings back out on the campaign trail tonight with appearances in Ridgewood and Newark, N. J., and Philadelphia. Nixon also planned to work here during the earlier part of the day on television speeches which will be shown to the voters nationally later in the week.

The Republican candidate announced today he would make a 2,000-mile jet flight from Los Angeles to Anchorage, Alaska, next Sunday to carry out a pledge to campaign in all 50 states. His office said he would be the first presidential candidate of this century to visit all states.

From Anchorage, Nixon will fly 4,000 miles overnight to Detroit to appear at a final rally there next Monday. Then he will return to Washington for a nationally televised election eve appeal with Henry Cabot Lodge, his running mate. He will spend election day in Washington.

Eisenhower and Nixon will make their biggest splash together in New York Wednesday. They will appear that night on nationwide television with Lodge. Preceding the program they will drive down Broadway together in a festive ticker-tape welcome.

There are other aspects of the New York visit. The president has agreed to stump the suburbs with Nixon by helicopter Wednesday.

This is more than Eisenhower undertook for his own presidential candidacy during his second term race in 1956. This is more than most of his friends and political associates, including Nixon, expected from the president a month or six weeks ago.

Four Sanford chiropractors will attend the annual convention of the Florida Chiropractic Assn., at Hollywood Wednesday through Friday. Drs. Luther T. Boss, Leo Keran, Harold K. Rutz, and A. W. Woodall will attend.

There were no fatalities, the Navy here said.

The plane, a special RIV Constellation, was taking part in "Project Magnet" there were 23 persons aboard.

The Navy said the aircraft's landing gear collapsed while landing at 1:31 a.m. EST. The plane veered to the left and the left wing and engine were sheared off. The fuselage broke off all of the wing section.

Volunteers Stop Giant Fire Spread At Food Plant

A possible half-million-dollar fire was prevented Saturday afternoon when the Lake Mary, NAS and the Forestry Service fire departments answered a call at the American National Foods Corp. on Grapeville and McCracken Rd.

M. J. Bridges, living near-by, spotted the fire and called the Lake Mary and NAS departments. Both arrived shortly after and extinguished flames on the loading ramp bordering the ACL Railroad Line.

At 11:45 p. m. the fire again flared up and the Naval base answered the call. The Lake Mary Fire Dept. was unable to come due to a break-down in the equipment. Causes of the fire is yet undetermined.

The fire damage spread over 100-feet of the ramp. Damage was also done to an electric motor, some crosses of the ACL Railroad and minor damage to the railroad line itself.

Soviets Demand Lumumba Support

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—Top Communist delegates attacked Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld for withholding information on the Congo today and demanded steps to end Belgian activities there and restore the government of leftist Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin and Bohdan Lewandowski, 31-year-old Polish ambassador who in this month's Security Council session both authorized letters critical of Hammarskjöld. Hammarskjöld promised a new report toward the middle of the week "now that a stage has been reached in the Congo when some meaningful information can be made available."

The new attack on Hammarskjöld's Congo policy coincided with an outpouring of abuse on the United States by Soviet propaganda outlets in advance of a General Assembly debate on Cuba's charge that a U. S. invasion of the Caribbean island is imminent.

Negro Drowns Near Motel

A 10-year-old Sanford Negro drowned in a 15 foot murky pond behind the Lakeside Motel Saturday morning.

The man was identified as A. C. Parrot. Police reported that the man fell into the pond while trying to retrieve a small craft. He fell in about 4:15 a. m. and the body was recovered five hours later. Coroner Hugh Duncan reported.

Merle Warner Has Heart Attack

Former City Commissioner Merle Warner suffered a heart attack Friday morning and is reported in "fair" condition at Seminole Memorial Hospital today.

DAV Meets Tuesday

A joint meeting of the DAV Unit 70 and the Ladies Auxiliary will be held at the DAV home on Hwy. 17-52, Tuesday at 8 p. m. Cdr. George W. Swann Sr. urges all members to attend as important business will be discussed by the two groups.

GROUND-BREAKING CEREMONIES started a new building at Second St. and French Ave. which has been leased to the state to house the Sanford office of the Florida State Employment Service. Turning the first spadeful of dirt was Dan Hahn, manager of the employment office, who was assisted by Virginia Garraw, left, and Mrs. Elaine Clark. Boosters Postpone Tuesday Meeting

The Seminole High Boosters Club has postponed the meeting set for Tuesday night at the high school because of the Junior High P-F-O meeting that same night.

The Boosters will meet Nov. 8 at 8 p. m. in the high school music room. Program for the evening will be open discussions on the Life of the Seminole High Boosters and the project for the year. A film will be shown on the Seminole-Leesburg game after the meeting.

400 Club

Plans were announced today for a United Fund kick-off breakfast for the 400 Club Thursday at 8 a. m. A committee of 35 men and women has been formed to call on 250 prospective businessmen contributors for the 400 Club.

Purpose of the breakfast is to outline the work of the 400 Club, explain the United Fund and give a report on donations that have come in so far.

Relatives Claim Bodies Of Plane Crash Victims

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI)—Stunned relatives were arising today to visit or claim the bodies of the California Polytechnic College football players injured or killed in the crash of a chartered airliner bringing them home from Saturday's game.

Twenty-two persons, including 17 players, were killed when their two-engine C-16 crashed, broke apart and burst into flames moments after taking off in a thick fog Saturday night.

Twenty-six persons survived, but all had injuries ranging from minor to critical. A Civil Aeronautics Board investigator indicated it would be at least several days before a report on the crash is issued.

The crash of the Arctic Pacific chartered airlines was the first in history involving a major American sports team.

Planes from the front section of the plane shot 300 feet high. Survivors from the tail section heroically did their best to rescue their teammates but they never had a chance. Some of the survivors were found wandering 300 feet away, stunned.

James Fahy, 24, Gilroy, Calif., one of the survivors, said he heard the left engine give out.

"I ducked my head and saw flames shoot out," he said. "Then the bottom went over the top. The front hit and then the back seemed to snap off. With all the flames it seemed just like a paper kite on fire."

Fahy said he unfastened his safety belt, jumped out and with Don Adams, a guard on the team, started dragging out all the people they could.

Coach Leroy Hughes, 31, known as the Sly Gray Fox because his teams had scored in all but two games during his 10 years as coach of the Mustangs, was pinned in the wreckage.

Deputies Kept Busy With Accidents

Sheriff's office deputies were kept busy this past weekend with four accidents in the area. All the accidents were considered minor although in one of them, a pedestrian ran in front of a car and suffered some facial cuts.

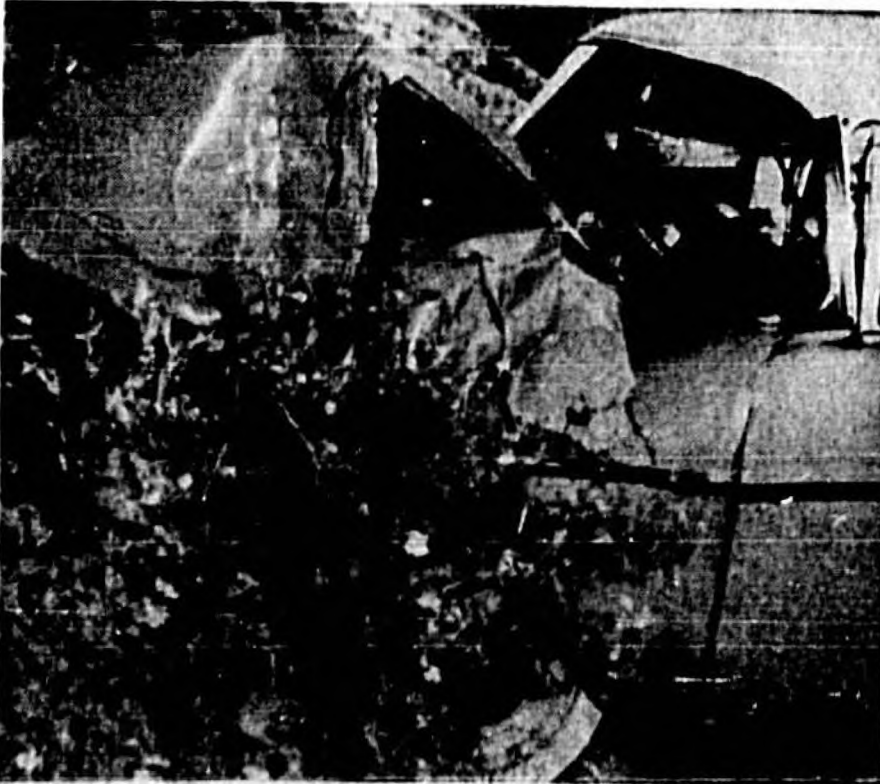

At 2 p. m. Friday on the Lake Howell Road, Missy Williams of Altamonte Springs ran in front of a car operated by George Willis Holmes of Altamonte Springs. Williams was treated at Seminole Memorial Hospital and released shortly after the accident. No charges were filed on the driver. Investigating the mishap was Deputy Robert Norwood.

An hour later that same afternoon, a two-car collision occurred on SR 46 and Riverview Drive. Investigating officer J. G. Galloway said that Johnnie Johnson of Oliver Ave., Sanford violated a right of way and hit a car operated by Jane Diggers Titson. Damage to both cars was estimated at $350.

On Sunday afternoon on Silver Lake Rd. a car driven by Marion Moretz ran into a parked car owned by Dean Fisher. Moretz, who lives at 183 Ross St., Sanford was charged with reckless driving by investigating officer Mike Conner.

Friday afternoon, a Naval Air Station sailor was charged with running a stop light on Lake Mary and Country Club Road.

Halloween Activity Slated By Schools

Big Halloween entertainment is in store for residents and their young goblins today. At the Southside School Carnival, beginning at 5:30 p. m., one of the largest schedules ever offered will include foods, all kinds of rides and games, a number of booths with various articles for sale and a roving photographer who will photograph the costumed youngsters and produce their picture in a matter of minutes.

Youngsters from Lake Mary, Loch Arbor, Little Venice and Sunland will meet at the Scout Hut in Lake Mary at 6:15 p. m. to "trick or treat" the areas for UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund.

Lake Mary churches sponsor the program and each student will be identified by an orange and black badge. Parties to follow are for grades four through six at the Lake Mary School; grades seven and eight at the Scout Hut and grades nine through 12 at the Fire House.

Goldboro stages its annual carnival at the school from 5 p. m. to 8 p. m. All students and parents have worked on this event to make it the biggest ever held at the school.

Rush Operation Saves Champ's Life

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — An emergency operation on one-time swimming champion Eleanor Holm, was credited today with saving her life after she had taken an overdose of sleeping pills. Miss Holm, 43-year-old ex-wife of showman Billy Rose, was reported resting comfortably at St. Francis Hospital. Physicians said she probably would remain there the rest of the week.

An ambulance company spokesman said Thomas J. Whalen, 42, telephoned them late Thursday night and shouted, "There's a woman here who has taken too many sleeping pills."

Ambulance attendants raced to the scene and took Miss Holm to the hospital. Surgeons in the emergency room cut into her chest and inserted a breathing tube. The former showgirl was reported out of danger 24 hours later.

Whalen, indicted for first degree murder in 1941, said he and Miss Holm were occupying separate bedrooms in his luxurious $300-a-month apartment at fashionable North Bay Village. Police said they had been watching Whalen for two years.

First Nuclear Fighting Sub To Be Ready Soon

SAN DIEGO, Calif., (UPI)—The George Washington will be fully operational Nov. 18, making it America's first submarine ready to prow the world's oceans with 26 nuclear-tipped Polaris missiles capable of answering an enemy attack.

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke said in making the announcement Thursday that deployment of the nuclear-powered submarine would be the most significant event in naval warfare history.

The Polaris — carrying George Washington will combine with America's other weapons systems to give the nation such retaliatory might that the Soviet Union "will never dare launch a general nuclear attack," Burke said.

Burke, speaking at a meeting celebrating Navy Day, said the George Washington will be the first of a fleet of subs comprising "our nation's first virtually invulnerable retaliatory weapons system."

Mild Recession Is Forecast

NEW YORK (UPI)—A sizable majority of the nation's leading economists foresee a mild recession between now and the end of 1961, a survey showed today.

At least two-thirds of 327 economists canvassed said they expect a downturn in business activity in the next six to nine months with a majority of these seeing a rebound late in 1961.

The other economists polled look for the economy to hold its own through next year.

The annual survey was made by F. W. Dodge Corp., a construction and marketing statistical agency.

Catholic Meeting Set At Lake Mary

The Catholic Church of Lake Mary will hold a meeting of the parish women Tuesday in the Chamber Hall at 8 p. m.

The purpose of the meeting is to form an Altar Society and a Catholic Women's Club. All Catholic women in the South Seminole area are invited to join the meeting and attend the newly formed church in Lake Mary.

Nosey Nellie Poll Indicates Voting Will Result In A Scoreless Tie

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Most of the political polls I have seen recently indicate that the presidential contest is so close it could be a landslide either way.

This, I must say, conflicts with the soundings I have taken as founder and sole proprietor of the Nosey Nellie Public Opinion Polling and Sampling Co.

My own findings lead me to predict that the election will end in a scoreless tie.

I base this prediction on a questionnaire I sent out recently asking my readers to designate their choice for president. The response to this request was so overwhelmingly apathetic that I was forced to conclude that nobody is going to vote this year. As far as I know, I am the only pollster who has detected this groundswell of ennui. So if both candidates chalk up a big round zero next month, remember that I had it exclusively.

But regardless of the outcome, I intend to retire from the polling business, which is at best a precarious occupation. From now on, I plan to devote my attention to my early bird Christmas shopping service.

I take the position that Santa Claus is more reliable than politicians.

A few days ago, in an effort to get this new venture off the ground, I passed along some gift suggestions I had gleaned from gift shoppe mail order catalogs. And now I am ready with a new report aimed at solving that perennial problem of what to give "the man who has everything."

The ideal Xmas gift for "the man who has everything" would be something that hasn't been invented yet. I realize, however, that this suggestion isn't entirely practical.

As the new best thing, I stopped by the U.S. Patent Office and purchased a copy of its "Official Gazette," which lists things that have been invented but aren't on the market yet.

Since you can't buy them, it's safe to assume that your "man who" doesn't have one. This ought to make your shopping easier.

I'll bet, for instance, that he doesn't have a toothbrush with a water tank and faucet on the handle. Here's how it would work: When he finished brushing, he would press the handle and water would squirt into his mouth, thus combining brushing and rinsing in one operation.

Or how about an electric eraser and suction machine for his desk? It not only erases but vacuum cleans the paper afterwards.

For the man who has everything, including children, I would suggest a "baby walker." It looks like a piece of horseshoe-shaped plywood with two slots at the top and bottom. When each hold the slots, father can walk baby around without either falling down.

Finally, I would recommend a "filtered pillow," which is stuffed with a porous material that lets the air through. It seems particularly appropriate for the man who sleeps face down.

Mediators Meet On Threatened New York News Strike

NEW YORK (UPI)—Representatives of the American Newspaper Guild and New York's seven major newspapers meet with federal mediators today in an attempt to head off a threatened guild strike at midnight.

Guild officers said the strike will take place if a $3-a-week wage increase is the papers' final offer. They indicated a walk-out would be called against one or more newspapers.

The papers said they would continue publication in the event of a strike unless other unions refuse to cross guild picket lines, in which case they would cease publication.

This left the possibility a strike might leave the city without its major newspapers during the last week preceding the presidential election.

The newspapers affected in the contract dispute are the New York Times, Herald Tribune, Daily News Mirror, Journal-American, World-Telegram & Sun and Post. The guild represents 6,000 editorial and commercial employes on the papers.

In separate negotiating sessions with the papers Sunday, the guild turned down a $3-a-week package increase offer consisting of $1 allocated to welfare benefits and $2 to minimum wages and general increase.

After the last of these sessions ended early today, M. Michael Potok, secretary-treasurer of the New York guild, said the $3 increase represented the Herald Tribune's last offer and that further negotiations would be futile. He predicted, "There will be a strike."

Negotiators for the publishers said they were offering a contract to run from Nov. 1, 1960, to Dec. 7, 1962, with a wage re-opening clause for the second year with provision for arbitration if no agreement is reached by the beginning of the second year.

Nothing More Exciting Than Quest For Better Salt Shaker For Man

Business Briefs

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Few things in recorded history are more stirring than man's increasing quest for a better salt shaker. In some ways, I think, it is even more thrilling than the quest for a better mousetrap. Certainly it is more dramatic than the quest for a better pepper shaker. The struggle to make salt flow freely has challenged our Yankee ingenuity for more than a century, particularly on rainy days. It has been marked by triumphs and failures, heartbreaks and heartburn. I learned all of this, and more, from Dr. Arthur G. Peterson, a local citizen who makes a hobby of collecting salt shakers. He is so wrapped up in his hobby he has written a book about it. As little as we might think about it, and I personally think about it very little, Abraham Lincoln may never have seen a salt shaker. Dr. Peterson tells us that salt dispensers with perforated tops were practically unknown before 1885.

The trouble was that salt absorbed too much moisture for use in shakers. Lincoln probably had to make do with a salt dish, but I doubt that he worried much about it. He had a lot of other things on his mind. Improved methods of refining salt changed the method of dispensing it. The early dispensers were variously known as sprinklers, dusties, boxes and dregs. The term "shaker" did not come into use until the 1890's. Some folks persisted for a while in calling a shaker a "cellar," but they were generally looked upon as being old stick-in-the-mud. Despite additives, coatings and other improvements, salt still had a nasty habit of clumping to the shakers in damp weather. People had to unscrew the cap and sprinkle the stuff around with their fingers. By that time, the eggs were cold. In the space of a decade or two, the U.S. Patent Office issued more than 1,000 patents to inventors who thought they had found a way to overcome this difficulty.

Grace Nelson, known throughout the area simply by her first name of "Grace," will again be in charge of the Club Diamond dining room starting Tuesday, November 1. Herself an outstanding cook and pastry baker, Grace will be assisted in her return to the Diamond by another well known area chef, Melba St. John, whose specialty is Italian foods, particularly Pizza and Spaghetti. The bar and lounge at the renovated Club Diamond is in charge of Mixologist Bonnie Clark, and will be open from 5 p. m. until 2 a. m., seven days a week. The dining room will serve until midnight every day but Monday. It will be closed all day Monday.

Church Meet

The WSS of First Methodist Church will meet in McKinley Hall, at 9:15 a. m. Tuesday for the monthly business and program meeting. The executive board will meet at 9 a. m.

Sanford Civitans Praised By Florida Clubs

The Sanford Civitan Club is only two years old, but it already has made the impact of its activity felt among its statewide organization.

The local Civitans were hosts to about 850 Florida members and the district governor told the club that he did not recall any time that a district meeting had been as well handled as the one here.

Wyatt Johnson, the Florida District governor of Civitan, wrote praising the cordiality afforded those who attended the meeting. Another letter from international president Roy Simmons to A. K. Shoemaker Jr., president of the Sanford club, praised the efforts of the local organization.

These are the things that make cities out of towns the size of ours and we congratulate the Sanford Civitans for becoming a real force for good in the community.

WASHINGTON CALLING

By Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — While most of organized labor is for Sen. John F. Kennedy and is performing an important function in the registration drive and in getting out the vote a segment, including the largest union in the country, the Teamsters, is violently opposed to the Democratic candidate.

James R. Hoffa, the president of that union with complete and total power over its membership of more than a million and a half, has stopped short of endorsing Vice-President Richard M. Nixon. But he is doing everything he can to defeat Kennedy who challenged his power through the Senate committee investigating unfair labor practices for which the candidate's brother, Robert, served as counsel.

In one of America's largest cities the taxi driver, having first established that this reporter was not an agent either for the union or the taxi company, passed back to him a copy of the October issue of the International Teamster, the official magazine of the union published at the Teamster's handsome headquarters here. I'll let you have it, the driver said, if you fear my name off the cover so nobody can know that I gave it to you.

"Can you beat it?" He was full of a wry, half-humorous indignation. "Four bucks a month, $48 a year, that's what I pay in dues."

And they put it into that kind of stuff."

The October issue of the union's official publication is devoted almost entirely to an attack on Kennedy, his brother Bobbie, and the Kennedy family. The lead-off is an editorial signed by Hoffa headed, "Will you keep what you have fought for?"

"If there was ever any doubt about the 'police-state-mentality' of Jack Kennedy and his brother, Bobbie," the editorial begins, "those doubts were laid to rest in the first national debate between Kennedy and Nixon last month."

"Speaking on major domestic issues facing our country, Kennedy showed his deep-seated hatred for this union and his utter disregard for this country's heritage of civil liberties and personal freedom when he blurted out: 'I'm not satisfied when I see men like Jimmy Hoffa, in charge of the largest union in the United States, still free. . . . Kennedy's 'police-state mentality' raises the image of Khrushchev, Hitler, Mussolini and others who took freedom away from those who dared to disagree.'"

"What do you know about that?" the driver said. "But I'll tell you something. There's 55 day drivers in my garage and I took a poll of them the other day, and another fellow. And you know how it came out? There's 53 for Kennedy and two for Nixon."

"That's right, that's how it came out. And I'll just bet you that if we took a poll of the night drivers, there's about 48 or 50 of them. So where does this stuff get you?"

Besides the signed editorial, there is a three-page attack on Bobbie Kennedy's role in the conflict over the Board of Monitors appointed after the McCellan committee's disclosures of the dictatorial way Hoffa ran his union and used union funds. The article charges that Kennedy "rigged" the naming of Terrance McShane, a former FBI man who participated in the Department of Justice investigation into the Teamsters, to be monitor chairman.

"While Nixon's record leaves much to be desired," Hoffa is quoted as telling Teamster delegates from 12 states at a regional meeting in Chicago, "at least he has never introduced legislation designed to destroy the American labor movement."

A lengthy article is devoted to "The face that Jack built," purporting to show from the record that, contrary to the belief of many, the Democratic candidate is not a liberal in civil rights, labor or farm policy. And there is a dig at the Kennedy sisters who, it is suggested, loll about their respective swimming pools thinking up ways to put Hoffa in jail and destroy his union.

But if one highly articulate member of Hoffa's union proves anything it is that you can tell people how they should vote but there is no guarantee they will follow your advice when it happens to go against their own convictions. His company, the talkative taxi driver said, forbids drivers to wear buttons or put signs on the cabs they drive. But he slipped over his lapel and on the under side was a Kennedy button.

And he has a plan to come to the garage very early on the day before Election Day when nobody's around and put a Kennedy sticker on every cab. Just the thought of this plot obviously gave him a chuckling satisfaction.

Twenty years ago to tell John L. Lewis undertook to grant his miners how to vote. There was no evidence in November that he followed his command. And it would seem that today the "union bosses" have rather less power than the extreme right ascribes to them.

Not enough RED seasoning!

CROSSROADS OF THE WORLD

By William Drury

DEAR MOM, I have a problem, which is this. I dare not go out without a chaperone because a certain girl keeps chasing me. She is very good-looking, Mom, and I like her a lot. But I am too young to go out with girls. Besides, I cannot afford her.

Her name is Ava Gardner. She has been chasing me for years, all over the world.

We first met in London long ago. It was at a big reception, Mom. In the Navy Hotel, I think. Somebody introduced us, and that's how it all began.

She was very interested in me. I mean, you could tell that by the way she masked her feelings. She never batted an eyelid. Just shook my hand, and smiled, and said, "Pleased to meet you." She is a wonderful actress, Mom.

A few years later, we met again. This time in Singapore. At a party given by a Chinese millionaire, Runme Shaw.

When Runme took me by the hand and led me to Miss Gardner, she was quite taken back. Never expected to see me in Singapore, I suppose. That old feeling welled up inside her and it was obvious that she was having a hard time hiding her emotions. I knew this because, when I talked to her, her face looked strained and her eyes glazed over. It was love, Mom.

Of course, since we were surrounded by people, she had to make believe that we had never met before. Every time she introduced me to somebody, she pretended to forget my name. Boy, what an actress!

I think you will agree that a girl is quite definitely interested in a certain person when she goes to such great lengths to pretend she isn't.

Well, anyway, not long ago I was in a bistro in Honolulu, minding my own business, when she walked in with some people. You could have knocked me down with a baseball bat.

She was clever. The way she sat eyeing me, staring right through me, as though she did not even know I was there.

I got out fast.

A couple of evenings later, I was dining at Le Coq d'Or, a French restaurant in Waikiki, when I happened to look up and there she was, daintily chomping Canard à l'Orange. I almost dropped my Brochette de Boeuf à la Turque. And Monsieur Alphonse Batz, the proprietor, had to revive me with intravenous injections of Beaujolais.

As usual, she played it cool.

Pretended she didn't know me. Ah, what it must have cost her to play such a role!

I blew her a kiss and fled.

The next night, thinking to outsmart her, I drove to the other side of the island on Oahu for Chianti Antinori and lasagna at Florence's in Kailua. Surely, I thought, the very last place Miss Gardner would think of would be a cozy Italian ristorante in a little town like Kailua.

Well, guess who walked in? Oh, she didn't fool me. Staring at me like that, without a flicker of recognition. Behind that cool facade, unrequited love was eating out her foolish heart.

Stom. I need your advice. Please tell me what to do. This is Leap Year. I mean, a fellow just dare not relax.

Sales Approach

NEW YORK (UPI)—The business magazine Purchasing found in a poll of 1,000 selected industrial purchasing agents that 72 per cent asserted sales calls have increased in the past few years and 65 per cent felt that the men calling on them were of a higher caliber.

The led is the monetary unit of Romania.

WASHINGTON by Ed Koterba

IN OHIO WITH NIXON— Now, some old-timers aboard maintain these whistle-stops are repetitious. That isn't true.

At each stop, the Vice-President manages to find a brand-new relative, or a special new local touch for a folksy introduction to his speech.

And Pat Nixon varies the scenery, too. At Marietta she carried blazing red chrysanthemums to the speaker's platform. At Parkersburg, W. Va., it was a bouquet of red roses. In Athens the crowd traveling with the Vice-President noticed that Pat was carrying a bunch of pink roses, and then in Hamden it was yellow roses.

At the very first stop on this too through the East and Midwest—this was in York, Pa.—Nixon found a family tie to toss at the cheering crowd and he's been riding on his kin's coattails ever since.

"My family used to have a farm at Menges Mills down the way," he said, "and Dad used to travel along the dusty road."

In Lewistown, Pa.: "My father's younger brother was a professor at Penn State. . . . He used to say this was the finest part of the country. . . ."

Then in Altoona, Pa., he again ascended his family tree: "Incidentally, in this audience is my uncle, Ernest Nixon. He's over 75 years of age, but he's the best potato grower in all of Pennsylvania."

In the chill morning of his second day, the Vice-President wasted little time in Marietta, Ohio, falling upon that golden-tongued denominator. . . . I certainly feel very much at home in what was, as you know, my father's home state, and I was just talking to John Stricker a moment ago, and asked him how far was it my father lived from here. He said about 70 miles. . . . This was staple fare, rich family chit-chat good for the entire Buckeye State.

But in Hamden, a hamlet of 1,000 where 6,000 people were drawn to train-side, Nixon hit the jackpot.

When he finished off his speech, several persons came forward out of the bright sun, and the Vice-President glad-handed one in particular.

"That," he said into the mike, "was my cousin, Roy Nixon. And do you know what he gave me? Four buckeyes—a souvenir for good luck."

The crowd—including a beautiful young matron, dressed in leopard fur, hanging from the handhold of an old boxcar—screamed their approval of this great common denominator of this final political whistle-stop of 1960.

For awhile it began to look like Nixon could win this election—if he didn't run out of home towns and relatives.

And he was able to improvise, too. In Pittsburgh, for example, the common touch was best expressed by the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates.

"Another reason I'm glad to be in Pittsburgh," so went his spiel— "it's the home of the Pirates!"

And the ceiling of the Syrian Mosque almost fell in from the thunder.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

CASE G-411: Lucy L., aged 18, entered college last term.

"But, Dr. Crane," she protested, "I am not making good grades."

"In high school, I was a 'B' student, but here in college I am lucky to raise a 'C' average."

"Do you think I am low in I, Q, or what else could be wrong? Maybe I need a memory course, for I can't remember all I read."

"Lucy doesn't need an I, Q. test. For if you have graduated from any reasonably large high school, your I, Q. is O. K."

"What millions of high schoolers fail to realize is the fact that the competition gets tougher the farther you go in school."

"For example, maybe 60% of your high school graduates don't go on to college."

"And this 60% usually includes the dullards and poor students. The 40% who do enter college comprise the cream of the crop as regards I, Q. and good study habits."

"So when you reach college, it is much like a try-out for the New York Yankee ball team."

"(1) William James first translated the Binet Test into English. (P. 3)

"(2) Dr. Goddard coined the word 'moron.' (P. 8) mighty crude against the big league competition of the Yankees. Same is true of high school vs. college."

College students must buckle down to a much stiffer form of competition, which requires swift, facile reading, plus better study habits."

Memory improvement involves using "horse sense," plus repetition.

"Don't wait till you get into class and bump into a weekly exam to find out how much or how little you know of the textbook."

Instead, be your own prof every day and quiz yourself over every day's assignment.

It's easy to do so if you simply make a true-false or "multiple choice" exam as you read the daily assignment.

Whenever you see a significant fact, such as a date or a listing of 3 or 4 rules, or a definition, phrase a true-false statement on it, such as:

"Well, well, it seems I've arrived at an opportune time!"

Make Your Vote Count! Re-elect J. Edwin Larson—Florida Democratic Candidate for State Treasurer

"I HAVE SERVED FOR 20 YEARS AS YOUR STATE TREASURER. MY RECORD IS PROOF OF ABILITY AND INTEGRITY"

"In the 20 years during which I have served as your State Treasurer, the annual reports of the independent state auditors attest to the fact that your state funds have been handled with utmost wisdom. Good fiscal management has also put your money to work with sound investments earning the maximum rate of interest. As State Treasurer, I have been a member of the State Cabinet and of 21 state boards through which your government is administered. I have participated in solving many perplexing problems during my 20 years of service. There are still greater challenges and opportunities ahead of us. Florida will need stable, experienced leadership in the next four years to meet the complexities that go with a continued population growth and industrial development. Assure the teamwork so vital to Florida's progress. Vote for all of the Florida Democratic Candidates for state office."

BROWNIE TROOP 104
A special treat was in store for these Brownies at their last meeting, when their leaders, Mrs. Olan Boutwell and Mrs. Milton Sorokowsky, took them to skate city. There the girls enjoyed refreshments of cookies and Cokes and skating instructions. In spite of numerous tumbles, all had a wonderful time and are eagerly anticipating a return visit. Making the trip were Theresa Anglin, Ella Boutwell, Cheryl Cavitt, Karen Chapman.

INTERMEDIATE GIRL SCOUT TROOP 14
At the first meeting of the season, this troop made plans for the coming year and elected patrol leaders and officers. They divided into two patrols and chose Dixie Holmes and Janet Little as patrol leaders with Julie Rankes and Donna Lee Merritt as assistants.

Other officers elected were acribe, Elizabeth Vice and treasurer Janice Clark. Mothers serving on the troop committee are; chairman, Mrs. L. B. Williams, cookie chairman, Mrs. R. W. Yarm, transportation, Mrs. Barney Miller and publicity, Mrs. Advon Clark.

Mrs. Melvin Jones is the leader and Mrs. George H. Bramburger is co-leader. The First Christian Church is the sponsor. Other girls in the troop are Debbie Clark, Karen De Yarm, Karea Williams, Jackie Freeman, Sherian Miller, Kathy Avenel, Patricia Jones, Dale Bromberger, and Karen Gilbo.

They are planning an all-day outdoor trip to Silver Lake in the near future, including a cook-out.

BROWNIE TROOP 81
These Brownies became goblins, spooks, and ghosts when they had their Halloween party Saturday night at the home of their leader, Mrs. Clas Schoonover on Coleman Circle.

There were prizes, games, and refreshments for the gay ghosts. Co-leader, Mrs. Richard M. Gordon helped with the party.

1st GRADE BROWNIE TROOP
These busy Brownies meet at the Presbyterian Youth Building on Tuesdays with Miss Nancy Robb as their leader and Mrs. Richard Andrus as the assistant. Last week they had their investiture at Silver Lake with their mothers watching. They formed a circle of the "old Brownies" and opened up their group and welcomed the new members in repeating the Brownie promise.

New Brownies were Mary Louise Andrus, Sandy Bartholomew, Luanell Johnson, Mary Ellen Milner, Debbie Taylor, Patsy Thompson, and Jeanette Wolfe. The rest of the troop consists of Cindy Brown, Jean Carter, Susie Dangleman, Joanne Fletcher, Patsy Fletcher, Kay Ferguson, Pam Hunt, Debbie McLain, Martha Milner, Susan Rowland, and Henri Anne Osborne. Senior scouts, Gay Hunt and Andrea Miller acted as program aides.

Kenneth McIntosh was guest speaker at the recent meeting of Xi Beta Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Mrs. Alfred Green was hostess to the group. The speaker presented an interesting talk on "What We Want and How to Get What We Want." Mrs. Vernon Harlin introduced the speaker and members participated in the discussion. Mrs. Harold Chapman presided at the business session when reports were given from various committees. The social committee announced that a progressive dinner would be held at the next meeting. Mrs. G. Andrew Speer gave a short refresher course on the Beta Sigma Phi manual. Following the program a "lasty bit" sale was conducted and a card party enjoyed, during the social hour. Mrs. Speer and Mrs. Harlin won the prizes at bridge and Mrs. Lloyd Swain won the canasta award. Others attending were Mrs. Gordon Frederick, Mrs. E. C. Harper Jr., Mrs. Carleton Bliss, Mrs. J. L. Horton Jr., Mrs. Frank Weststrom and Miss Jeanette Weller.

Garden Gate

By SADIE B. GUT
Hibiscus Circle
October is an ideal month to work in the garden, planting or moving bulbs and perennials. Amaryllis, for instance, may be dug and replanted in prepared beds, enriched with peat and a little bonemeal. Place the bulb just below ground level, as any portion of the bulb left above the surface is exposed to grasshoppers, Chlordane powder, sprinkled around the surface and on them, is a good remedy for, keeping off pests. Daylilies may be moved now also. When dug, prune severely, leaving only six inches or so of the tops and the same of the roots. Plants may be divided into individual fans or larger sections of two or more fans. Westonias (a gladiolus like bulb) should be moved when crowded as they multiply rather fast. The best time to move them is after they die back, following the blooming time in summer. They may be moved now if care is taken not to disturb the new growth. It is simpler to plant the dry bulbs if available. Stokesias, with pretty aster-like lavender flowers, may be moved now. They are a low growing plant that makes a pretty border but may be planted in beds for a mass of color. Chrysanthemums which were tip pruned all summer should be nice bushy plants by now. If they are long and lanky they will require staking to keep the flowers out of the dirt. Many bulbs are available in the stores now, including glads, narcissus and tulips. If you wish to try tulips, which are not too satisfactory in Florida, do buy pretreated bulbs or if these are not available, get the best bulbs available and put them in the fresh vegetable bin of your refrigerator for about six weeks. Around the first of December is a good planting time in this area. Fall is a good time to take cuttings or make air-layers of many shrubs and trees. Dormant plants, especially, respond well to cuttings as they form their roots during the cold months and are ready to put out leaves in the spring. Shrubs and trees do well to be fertilized with a formula low in nitrogen and high in potash now. This strengthens the plant without forcing new growth which could be caught by the first frost. Slow up on watering Christmas Cactus this month, giving just enough to keep the plant from withering. This treatment forces the flower buds, at which time watering may be resumed. Be sure to save all your autumn leaves as they fall to mulch flower beds, to nourish the plant, keep down weeds, and keep out frost. They are especially helpful around azaleas, dogwood trees and other acid loving plants.

Luncheon Honors
Mrs. Earl Tyler

Mrs. Earl Tyler was guest of honor at a luncheon in celebration of her birthday at the home of Mrs. Rachael Hopper, in North Monroe, last week. Others enjoying the celebration were Mrs. Wesley Tyler, Mrs. John E. Padgett, Mrs. Wilbur Bruce, Mrs. Casper Matthews and Mrs. Cecil Sellers.

During the social hour, a game of Bible-10 was enjoyed by members with Mrs. Vernon Davis in charge. Mrs. Britt showed several interesting movies of Yellowstone National Park that were made while they were on vacation. The hostess served refreshments of cake, coffee, and nuts to those present. Others attending were Mrs. Irving Pryor, Mrs. J. W. Koke, Christine Woodruff, Mary Lou Harris, Mrs. H. S. Duggar, Mrs. John Malloy and Mrs. J. N. Murphy.

McKibbin Scored, But Penalty Canceled Six Points

Offside Penalty Turns Win Into Tie For SHS

Sanford crossed the goal for the only touchdown of the game but still wound up in a scoreless tie with Leesburg Friday night as an offside penalty canceled the score.

Alex McKibbin broke away from the Leesburg line and ran along the sideline to score in the first quarter, but had to go back and the Seminoles couldn't do it again. Bruising defensive play, with an occasional offensive burst, filled the rest of the game.

House Of Beauty Holds Kegler Lead

Leland House of Beauty is still in first place in the Jet Bowlerettes League this week after taking on four more points.

Frank Mackey and Lis Horton were high bowlers for Leland. Sweeneys took three points to hold second place. Marilyn Bailey topped the most pins for her team.

Duke and Duchess made a clean sweep to bring them up to third place with the help of June Anderson.

Mary Eathers lost one point to House of Rahija which brought them down from third to fourth place. Celest Smith bowled high game for Mary Eather's while Marge Lyons was high for the portrait studio, House of Rahija is competing for fifth place along with Lowe's, Nell's and Yowells.

Arlene Dederling rolled high game for Howe's, Camille Mortland was high for Neils Beauty Salon and Lucy Mayer turned in high game for Yowells.

Ivey's kept her stand in sixth place. Fat Tournay was the high scorer.

Lovely Lady is holding on tight to seventh place. Celia De Palma helped by rolling high score for her team.

Camille Moreland holds high handicap series this week with a 559. Banks Golden picked up the 5-10 split while Marge Lyons topped the 5-7.

Iowa, Gophers Top Grid Slate

United Press International A three-ple issue may be at stake when Iowa and Minnesota clash Saturday — the national collegiate football championship the Big Ten Conference title and a possible trip to the Rose Bowl.

The top-ranked Hawkeyes and the No. 4 Gophers have come down to their most important game this season with identical 6-0 records.

Iowa holds a slim conference lead over Minnesota, having beaten an league foe in four encounters. The Gophers have won all three of their circuit clashes.

Both prepped for this "turning" game by beating teams from Kansas during the weekend lows, using a strong ground attack, topped the University of Kansas, 21-7, as quarterback Wilburn Hollis went over for two touchdowns. Fourthstring full back Jerry Jones and quarterback Larry Johnson each scored twice in Minnesota's 48-7 pasting of Kansas State.

Navy and Missouri were the only other teams in the top 10 ratings to retain perfect status as Mississippi was held to a 6-6 tie by LSU and Syracuse and Baylor went down to defeat.

Big Car Race SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — A. J. Foyt, 25, of Houston, Tex., the youngest driver at the last three Indianapolis 500-mile races, won the U. S. Automobile Club's 100-mile national championship big car race Sunday, finishing 20 seconds one-half lap ahead of Parnelli Jones of Torrance, Calif.

Michigan can provide the United States with salt at its present consumption for a million years.

Rolling a 613 scratch series put John Wright up on top of the individual bowlers. Ellen Reits had high series for the women, bringing up a $70.

Dot deYarmin, Ann Conklin, Clarence Smith and Ed Callan all made the 5-10 split, with Mike Accardi, Jim Carmichael and Smith making the 5-6.

Final Thrust Sinks Lyman

Dunnellon came to life in the fourth period to nip a fighting Lyman team 13-12 Friday night.

Although outplayed through the first three quarters, Dunnellon scored two quick touchdowns in the final five minutes to hand the Grayhounds their second defeat of the campaign.

Lyman broke into the scoring column in the second quarter on a 40 yard march with Paul Blackford going over for the TD from the one.

A few plays later, Carl Presley took a pass from quarterback Mike Brown and scored from the 12 yard marker.

In the final period, Bob Davis of Dunnellon passed to Ralph Heath for five yards and a score, and Steve Otting went over a few plays later for another Dunnellon marker.

Lyman led Dunnellon in first downs, 10 to eight and in yards rushing, 172 to 134.

Builders Hold Mixed Loop Lead

R. Edwards Builders Supplies managed to hold their slight lead of The Thursday Nite Mixed League by just one point after last week's play, as Edwards ended with 21 wins, and DeHary Pharmacy kept second spot with 20.

A three way tie exists in third as Steinmeyer Roofing, Appleby's Restaurant and Town & Country TV Service all came up with 14 each. Powell's Office Supply holds fourth followed by Sanford Mfg. Co., Food Fair, Dynatronics, CWA Walkers, Pryor's State Farm Ins. and CWA Talkers.

Unbeaten Ranks Begin To Slim NEW YORK (UPI)—Only seven major league teams among the nation's 33 schools with perfect college football records today.

Eleven schools fell from the perfect record ranks during the weekend, among them Syracuse, Mississippi and Baylor. Syracuse bowed to Pittsburgh, 10-0. Mississippi was held to a 6-6 tie by Louisiana State, and Texas Christian clipped Baylor, 14-0.

Bobby Bowen Defends Against Leesburg Pass

SEC Race Tightens Down The Wire

ATLANTA (UPI)—If the down-bearded Mississippi Rebels see you can bet the pumpkin money they'll be costumed like the Bengals of Louisiana State.

For the third consecutive year, the Rebels carried dreams of their first-ever perfect season into their meeting with the Bengals. And for the third time, they were rudely awakened by a rugged LSU defense.

The second-ranked Rebels did escape with a 6-6 tie to remain unbeaten. But K took a 41-yard field goal by center Allen Green with 13 seconds remaining to save them from their third straight loss to LSU.

The 1958 and 1959 losses came during the heyday of Billy Cannon and weren't unexpected. But Saturday was supposed to be different. LSU went into that game with a 1-4 record and was a 15-point underdog. Instead of sticking to the script, LSU outplayed the Rebels and missed winning only because usually accurate Wendell Harris couldn't find the range on two field goals and a conversion try.

Watch Out For Those Packers In Pro Grid Loop

By United Press International You might call the Green Bay Packers the "Pittsburgh Pirates" of pro football.

The Packers don't often overwhelm an opponent. They chip chip away, come from behind and have a knack of coming through with the big play.

In case you've forgotten, those were the tactics the Pirates used to win the baseball world championship.

The Packers, seeking their first National Football League crown since 1944, took over sole possession of first place in the Western Division Sunday when they rallied for a 10-13 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers — and right in the Pirates' ballpark, at that.

Paul Hornung chipped away with four field goals — two of 35 yards and others of 47 and 17 — to give Green Bay an early 12-0 lead before a crowd of 30,153. Bobby Layne, playing with a still-sore thumb, put the Steelers ahead with touchdown passes of 37 yards to Tom Tracy and 48 yards to Buddy Dial.

But the Packers struck back for the winning touchdown with only 63 seconds remaining. They gained possession on their own 34 by Jarring the Steelers for their Colts in Baltimore.

Quarterback Bart Starr set up the score by passing 15 and 14 yards to Boyd Dawber and fullback Jim Taylor plunged over from the one.

This was Green Bay's fourth victory in five games, with a one coming up next Sunday against the defending champion Colts in Baltimore.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a very cute and vivacious friend (I don't really consider her a "friend," but if I called her what I think she is you wouldn't use my letter).

without getting him in trouble? SCARED

DEAR SCARED: Maybe this boy needs to get into a "little trouble" now in order to stay out of a lot of trouble later.

DEAR ABBY: Our community has just engaged a new clergyman. He is 33 and a family man. His wife and children will follow as soon as we get their house fixed up.

This young clergyman carries a snip-shot of his wife in his wallet, and has been showing it proudly to me and all. The snip must be about ten years old and it shows her in a very tight bathing suit leaning against a fence. I don't want this young man to start off on the wrong foot here because he seems so nice. Would I be out of line to tell him to get a new picture?

DEAR WANTING: Find the most diplomatic words in your vocabulary and tell him.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HEARTSICK MRS. J.: Insisting that your husband give up his traveling job will solve nothing. If he is going to cheat, he'll cheat on his lunch hour. See a marriage counselor.

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers ALL letters.

Stacks Of Money Highlight TV Program On Presidents

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Talk about sensational, eye-popping TV programming: they rifled stacks and stacks of money past our eyes on CBS-TV Thursday night.

Those beloved, all-American, all-time stars, Ben Franklin ($100 bill), George Washington ($1 bill) and Abe Lincoln ($5 bill) stopped by for guest shots on the "CBS Reports" special called, "Money and the Next President."

The special also touched on gross national product, inflation, trade balances and the gold rush of 1960, and the manufacture of money. Like Wednesday night's show about another difficult subject, computers, this one tied its material together graphically and sometimes dramatically.

I remember Debbie Reynolds doing a wonderful, wacky, free-form dance to "Dunegare Dull" a few years ago on, pardon the expression, Eddie Fisher's old TV show. I also remember mama, er, Debbie, rolling around on Jack Paar's nighttime agglomeration.

In each of these brief TV encounters, she was a doll. But Thursday night, Debbie stayed around for a whole hour. Indeed, it was her own show, "A Date With Debbie," on ABC-TV and I discovered that a little Debbie goes a long way. Her talents are as numerous as her hairdos. It seems, but they aren't so fully developed as I withstand prolonged exposure. I also detected a more sophisticated lady on the stage and, frankly, I thought the campfire girl Debbie was more effective.

Debbie's takeoffs on Zsa Zsa Gabor, Anna Magnani and Brigitte Bardot were well done, with more than average bite, but the sketch lasted a few beats too long. Her dance with Walter

$10,000 Offered For Capture Of Century-Old 'Leeds Devil'

By JAMES F. AHEARN TRENTON, N. J. (UPI)—If you see a big white beast with a horse face, kangaroo body, cloven hooves and bat wings on Halloween night, grab it. It's worth $10,000.

Camden merchants have pooh-poohed the beast. Their Broadway Improvement Association promised this week to pay $10,000 for the devil, provided it's captured alive.

Other South Jerseyans aren't so flip. Residents of the Mays Landing area have reported strange screams in the woods. They found widely-spaced animal tracks too.

It was in the mid-19th century that a Mrs. Leeds of Estelville, in Atlantic County, found she was an expectant mother. She was unenthusiastic, and cried out that just as soon as the stork brought a devil.

In time the stork landed in the Leeds cabbage patch, bearing a little imp swaddled in a diaper. The stork flapped off, and the little devil bounced off to the swamps, where he spent childhood and adolescence. When he attained maturity, he started stepping out nights, mostly in So. Jersey.

His appearance was chronicled with regularity for many years. The rustle of wings in the night and the imprint of cloven hooves have been reported in Batston, Woodstown, Pitman Grove and Trenton.

Local AF Man Wins Award

Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan A. Moretz, Ross St., Sanford, have been notified by the director of technical training at Goodfellow AFB, Tex., that their son, Aubrey, has been selected as the outstanding student in the Analytical Training Division for the month of October.

In order to receive the award, young Moretz, who was a 1959 graduate of Seminole High, had to maintain the highest standards in academic proficiency, military appearance and conduct.

The Moretz's have two older sons, Marion, who joined the Air Force three years ago and is presently stationed at McGuire AFB, and Boyce, who plans to enter the Air Force in November.

SHS Party Line

By PAT TAYLOR

One organization at SHS that is not letting anything keep it behind in the Future Teachers of America.

Members began the year with a chapel program at Lyman High School to help that group get organized.

Then 18 new members were taken into the club through applications sent out and an initiation party was held at the home of Rheda Epstein. The members are Maryanne Humphrey, Regina Clark, Mary Anne Watson, Reville Finn, Linda Mills, Linda Sue Williams, Ethel Lee Riser, Sandra Wood, Carol Wheeler, Theresa Baker, Ginger Jackson, Louise Higginbotham, Bonnie Lee, Rosie Dodson, Susan Halback, Barbara Miller, Barbara Bradley and Linda Williams.

The committees and projects have been formed in hopes that the FTA can have one of its greatest years.

Projects include helping a needy family during Christmas, sending four members to the FTA convention in Clearwater, presenting a program during National Education Week, helping the Teacher's Aid Program in February and several others.

The demand for male teachers forever is increasing. The present SHS teachers organization is composed primarily of girls. It is their hope, however, to assist in forming a chapter for boys which will stimulate desire among them to enter the teaching field.

The senior class will sponsor a Senior Play this year. A committee has been appointed to select a play and a sponsor has been found.

Cliff Ables, Doug Gordon, Debbie Lake Mary Parents Told Of Need For Good Reading

Parents of children attending the Lake Mary Elementary School, meeting Tuesday at the school, heard Floyd Richards, principal, explain the rudiments of "The Three R's."

Emphasizing the need for children to acquire reading ability early in their school life, he conducted an actual first grade class in order that parents could see how present day teaching methods are applied.

Any parent wishing to discuss their child's report card for the first six weeks period, Richards said, can do so by appointment.

Following the meeting, parents adjourned to home rooms for a visitation period and to return the recently issued report cards.

OCTOBER 27

Admissions
Betty Tate, Sanford; Alice Getman, Sanford; Margaret O'Neal, Sanford; Deborah Lawrence, Enterprise; Mary McIntyre, Sanford; Elsie Farina, Longwood; Erna Martin, Sanford; Michael Michael, DeLand.

Births
Mr. and Mrs. Earl McIntyre, Sanford, a son; Mr. and Mrs. Richard O'Neal, Sanford, a daughter.

Dismisals
Valton Williams, Sanford; Minnie Fryer, Sanford; Mrs. Robert McNab and baby, Sanford; Mary Horenstein, Sanford; Thelma Hodge, Merritt Island; Helen Fitzrandolph, DeBary; Mrs. Willie Bedwell and baby, Sanford.

Bruce, Joy Wester and Bonnie Steinruck make up the committee. About 35 seniors have shown interest in working on the project, Mrs. Boyd Coleman, Latin teacher and sponsor reported.

The play has been scheduled for the last of February. It is good to see the return of the program. Last year there was no play due to limited space, time and facilities, but this year, upon moving into the new school, many of the long gone activities the school once enjoyed may return.

The Junior Sophomore Team for the Powder Puff Football games has been announced. Playing in the quarterback position is Debbie Scott and Bonnie Gielow. Halfbacks are Allyson Blake, Linda Williams-Vida Sue Smith, Merritt Phillips, Pat Bruce, Louise Higginbotham and Dianna Beasley. Fullbacks are Ann Schumacher, Loretta Fore and Jeanne Langford. Ends are Grace Middleton and Vada Stoffer. Cookie Benham, Susan Tammy and Virginia Warfel make up the tackles. Guards are Betsy Schuenemann, Carole Sue Higginbotham, Babs Odham, Diana Toney and Dianna Young.

The Senior-Freshman Team has not been announced yet. The girls were around to sell tickets door-to-door Saturday. A parade will be held Friday in downtown Sanford during the afternoon.

At that time tickets also will be on sale.

The Latin Club has been selling candy this past week and are continuing sales this week. Club officers are Jeanne Langford, president; Johnny Phillips, vice president; Jane Harward, secretary and Rosemary Southward, treasurer.

This candy sale is to raise money for the annual banquet.

Queen Of Iran Gives Birth To Boy

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — The queen of Iran gave birth to a boy today, presenting the shah and a joyous nation with an heir to the Peacock Throne.

The birth occurred at 11:50 a.m. It touched off a wild celebration among the Iranian people.

The shah told reporters that Queen Farah and the baby both were doing fine.

"I am very happy," he beamed. Throughout the country big guns boomed 41-salvo salutes. Giant crowds which had been assembling since the queen entered the hospital in labor this morning cheered so loudly the doctors had to ask for quiet.

The birth ended years of disappointment and frustration for Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi and his subjects when two previous marriages had failed to produce a son.

His first marriage, to Princess Fawzia of Egypt, produced a daughter, now 21. He divorced her and married Soraya, a half-German half-Persian girl. The shah divorced her after seven years of marriage when there were no children.

After a whirlwind courtship, the Shah married Farah Diba, his present queen. She is 22, he is 41. A doctor told United Press International that when the shah was told the news "he danced a jig of joy."

The palace proclaimed a three-day holiday effective today, explaining in a communique that "by the grace of God Iran now has a royal heir to the throne."

A doctor said Farah, with tears in her eyes, kept saying, "I've done it, I've done it."

The baby will be named Reza after the shah's father.

Baby Contest Set By Savagettes

The Savagettes of VAH-5 are sponsoring a station wide contest to pick "Little Miss and Master Sanford Naval Air Station."

All children, five years old or younger, of Sanford based parents, squadron or station, are eligible. A photo or snapshot of each candidate with the child's name and the daddy's outfit written on back should be mailed to Baby Contest, route 1, box 38-D, Sanford, no later than Nov. 5.

Judges will choose one boy and girl from each unit to complete its finals. The final winner will be chosen by penny vote made in containers topped with pictures of semi-final winners.

Voting deadline will be Dec. 5.

Sanford Garden Club To Be Host To State Flower Show

The Sanford Garden Club, in cooperation with the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs, will present the eighth annual Florida State Flower Show in Sanford, Dec. 1 through Dec. 3 at the Civic Center.

Mrs. Fred R. Ganser, general chairman, has announced that the theme, "This Is Our Life," will prevail throughout all sections of the show in an effort to illustrate in flowers and plants the things which affect and inspire daily living.

Focal point of the show will be a full scale garden depicted on the Civic Center stage and dedicated to Mrs. C. R. Mayas, Jr., president of the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs. This garden will stress the conservation of particular native Florida plants.

An innovation this year will be the creation of competitive gardens along the eastern arcade of the building. Entries for this class have been accepted from clubs in Titusville, Orlando, Daytona Beach, Mt. Dora and Apopka. The Sanford Garden Club will award a silver trophy to the winner in this section.

Outstanding advanced designers from throughout the state will display arrangements in the invitational class, "We Believe in Education", saluting a number of Florida's colleges and universities. The remaining 26 classes in the division will be judged by a panel of more than 80 accredited judges.

In addition to competitive sections in artistic design and horticulture for adult, high school and junior gardeners, there will be educational, commercial and special plant society exhibits. Local garden club members will operate a hobby shop for the sale of gardening and flower arranging materials, and a sidewalk cafe for snacks and coffee. A souvenir booklet, containing gardening articles and information about the show, has been published and will be given away free to each adult purchasing admission to the Civic Center.

Kennedy Says Nixon In 'Escape Act' . . . GOP Plans Blitz

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sen. John F. Kennedy scoffed at Vice President Richard M. Nixon's proposal for expansion of the Social Security system today as "the greatest escape act since Houdini."

The Democratic presidential candidate kept up a taunting attack against his Republican rival as he flew here to begin a final 30-day bid for California's 32 key electoral votes.

Kennedy headed into California following an arduous four days of plugging for the same number of electoral votes in Pennsylvania, one of the major industrial states where Kennedy and Nixon both concentrated their efforts in the final weeks of the campaign for the presidency.

Kennedy's staff announced that today's California swing starts a 17-state tour which "will cover more states in the final week of the campaign than any other presidential candidate in history."

In a speech at a clothing workers rally here, Kennedy said that Nixon's "position paper" two days ago calling for Social Security improvements "reversed the consistent policies of 25 years of Republican leadership."

"Mr. Nixon has taken every program which he and his party voted and fought against — and placed them in his position paper — and adopted them for his own," Kennedy said.

Cruelty

LONDON (UPI)—The Evening Standard reported today that a Swedish fisherman was fined for beating his wife with an oar.

The charge, the Standard said, was cruelty to animals.

News Briefs

Strike Averted

NEW YORK (UPI)—A New York newspaper strike was averted early today by a general wage agreement between the American Newspaper Guild and the New York Publishers Association, but contract settlements were reached at only six of the city's seven major dailies.

More School Tension

DETROIT (UPI)—Some 314 Negro pupils returned to their new schools for the second time today in a tension-ridden atmosphere. Attendance at the Guist, Noble and Monnier schools remained cut in half, however, by protesting white parents who kept children home in an effort to prevent "integration."

Road Jobs Increase

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Road construction projects in Florida for September amounted to $216 million, the Road Department said Monday.

It was the 15th month in a row the total has exceeded $200 million. High was in August of this year, $221 million. The Department received bids in September for $6 million in new projects.

Strike At Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—A strike of 700 union workers at Merrill-Stevens Dry Dock and Repair Co. went into its second day here today after failure to settle a contract dispute. The workers are members of Local 32, Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America AFL-CIO. They voted during the weekend to strike Monday if the four-year contract was not renegotiated.

400 Getting Aid

MIAMI (UPI)—About 400 Florida families are still receiving Red Cross disaster aid and four disaster officers are still open because of Hurricane Donna, which swept across the state two months ago. State Director W. D. Durrell said Monday night. He also said aid to victims of the hurricane has reached $1,111,314 for 4,932 families. The disaster offices are at Islamorada, Marathon, Orlando and Fort Myers.

Equalization Board Meets Wednesday

The County Commission will meet as a board of equalization at 10 a. m. Wednesday to listen to complaints on the 1960-61 tax roll.

The assessment roll, which totals about $174 million has been opened for inspection for the past two weeks.

Complaint blanks can be secured at the clerk's office in the courthouse.

Seminole Blvd. Still Closed To Traffic

The city isn't taking any chances of damage to water-soaked Seminole Blvd. and is still maintaining barricades along the boulevard. Public Works Director Sid Richard reported today.

Richard added there is a small possibility that some of the barricades may be removed sometime Wednesday.

"It just depends on how long this rain continues," Richard said. Richard said the level of the lake, which reached its crest several weeks ago, has gone down. "However, we still don't want to take any chances of any of the boulevard or roads in the area being torn up by automobile traffic," he added.

North Orlando Meeting Nov. 8

North Orlando residents were advised today that the town council meeting will be held Nov. 8 and not today as has been incorrectly publicized.

Meetings are held on the first Tuesday following the first Monday of each month at the North Orlando Co. office, Mayor Frank Fasula said this morning.

Blood Bank Visit

The Mobile Blood Bank will be in Lake Mary Wednesday from 4 p. m. to 7 p. m. at the Fire House. All residents wishing to donate to the Lake Mary Blood Bank are urged to do so at this time. Refreshments will be served to all donors.

Developer Threatens Suit For Plat Okay

A developer today threatened to bring a mandamus suit against the County Commission if they continue to reject his plat for a subdivision in South Seminole County.

For the ninth time in six months the commission this morning tabled action on recording a plat for Oakland Estates near Lake Orlinda.

The board tabled the action until they could hear testimony from County Engineer Carlton

Bliss on whether the land is subject to periodic flooding.

Leading the protests against the plat was District 3 Commissioner Lawrence Swofford who said that "I've lived with this problem for 30 years and am still living with it. This land is just not suitable to be developed."

The developer, Lee Cohn said that he plans a 300-home development on the 116 acres and is doing everything possible to comply with plat regulations.

Cohn told The Herald after the meeting that if the plat is rejected he will have his attorney file a mandamus action.

He added that this was the ninth time this plat had been tabled.

After lengthy discussion on the plat, Cohn promised to give a drainage easement to the county but Swofford still was not satisfied.

Swofford pointed out that runoff from this area would cause flooding in other areas in Lake Orlinda and "they are having enough problems now."

Cohn promised commissioners that actual work on the project would not start for at least eight months which would be enough time for an engineering survey of the Lake Orlinda area.

Swofford said he would probably vote against the plat whether Bliss gave his okay or not. Commissioner Homer Little finally said "we have no recourse but to approve the plat" and made a motion, which died for lack of a second.

Crew To Shoot Circus Film Here

A crew from the National Broadcasting Co. in Hollywood, Calif., will be in Sanford Wednesday to prepare for filming of footage for a television series, "The Big Tent."

Members of the Cristiani Bros. Circus troupe now at temporary winter quarters at the Farmer's Market, will perform and background shots for the pilot film of the series will be shot Sunday, Jim Woods, head of the NBC crew said today.

The camera crew will be working here several days getting film with the circus' background, Woods said. Paul Cristiani, business manager of the circus, affirmed that the circus acts will be open to the public while the NBC crew is filming.

In fact, Sanford kids of all ages in the audience will find themselves in background scenes of the TV series which is scheduled to be shot in February.

Filming of the circus scenes here was worked out by Cristiani and other officials of Circusland.

Canadian Urges Small Nation Bloc On Disarmament

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Canada's Nobel Peace Prize winner Lester B. Pearson called Monday night for establishment of a committee of smaller nations to end the disarmament deadlock between the East and West.

The Canadian delegation was scheduled to speak today before the General Assembly's Main Political Committee. Diplomatic sources said Howard C. Green, Canadian secretary of state for external affairs, might formally introduce the proposal.

Pearson proposed changes in the United Nations to counter attempts by the Soviet Union to wreck the world organization.

Pearson urged establishment of a disarmament committee of smaller powers consisting of those members who have already shown a sense of responsibility and objectivity at the United Nations.

Pearson, who won the Nobel award in 1957 for suggesting creation of the UN emergency force that went into action in 1956 during the Middle East crisis, said such a body could draw up a draft disarmament convention which would be difficult for bigger powers to reject.

"It would smoke out— for all the world to see—the real intentions of the great powers in respect to disarmament," he added.

Castro Rushing Troops Around

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro's government has rushed 2,000 "militiamen" to central and eastern Cuba, areas which the regime insists are threatened by "invasion."

One thousand armed unionists from Havana went to Las Villas Province in central Cuba. Another 1,000 went to Oriente Province at Cuba's eastern tip, where Castro staged his own "hit-run" revolution.

Many Cubans said privately they believe the troop movement was "just a show" intended to bolster the "invasion" charge Cuba has submitted to the United Nations.

There has been insistent speculation in the past week or so that Castro was preparing a ploy for attack on the U. S. naval base at Guantanamo.

It was reported last week that U. S. markings had been painted on five Cuban planes which apparently were to be used in connection with the invasion. Under-ground sources in New York said today the false markings had been replaced with the insignia of Guatemala, where the Castro press says "mercenaries" are in training for an attack on Cuba.

Even though they were skeptical about the invasion the government has been calling "imminent" for the past nine days, Cubans were laying in stocks of candles and canned goods just in case.

Soviets, Chinese Reds Seek Unity

LONDON (UPI)—A temporary truce is in the making between Moscow and Peking in their bitter ideological conflict, diplomatic sources reported today.

Russia and Red China were said to have failed thus far to reach a settlement of their differences, and the indications were that prolonged discussions within the Communist camp will be required to bridge the ideological gap.

The two giant Red allies, the reports said, fearful of the effect of their quarrel on the unity of the Red camp were therefore trying at least a temporary truce.

Pronouncements from Moscow and Peking in the past few days have sought to clear the air and narrow down the Sino-Russian war of words.

Both sides were setting the scene for the Red summit due to open in Moscow next week, the sources said.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was said to be personally handling the issue in preparation for the summit. He was understood to have been devoting his major attention to it since his return from the United Nations General Assembly.

Countess Tells Rotarians Of Life In African Bush

Countess Elizabeth van der Stegen of Winter Park, spoke to the Rotary and Rotary Annex Monday at the club's luncheon meeting.

The countess told of her life in Kenya, British Africa, for 10 years. She lived there with her husband who was a guide for big game hunters.

"One rule," she said, "always prevails in the bush. That is, if you wound an animal, he must be killed."

This is usually the job of the "white hunter" or guide. Most animals are not dangerous until wounded or ambushed, she said.

The countess went into details describing a normal safari of persons hunting lions. She explained that the procedure for hunting lions is the same as any other big game but the location is a little different.

One point that she made was that on a safari almost all the comforts of home are taken along including most comfortable beds and even hot baths.

Two mistaken ideas that the countess cleared up were the terms "jungles" and "ligers." Both are found in parts of India and Asia.

It's More Tricks Than Treats At This House

HONOLULU (UPI)—Only the brave got a Halloween "treat" Monday night at the door of Ed Wright—because he's a man full of "tricks."

Neighborhood small fry who approached the front of Wright's house first were confronted by a shrieking giant of a paper mache bird which swooped down a wire from the top of his garage.

That eliminated the traffic in youngsters considerably—but there was more to come for the braver ones.

At a spotlight signal, a monster named "Heard" sprang down Wright's driveway, waving his 10 foot high tail. There were great roars, snorts and blood-curdling yells, as a pour soul in the latter days of a much-clawed man fought to hold "hearcat" on a rope.

Wright, a quiet-mannered salesman of tape recorders, is known for his annual counterattacks against Halloween's trick or treat-ers.

Last year, there was a "200 pound cave-man" caged on Wright's darkened driveway. At a timely moment, a spotlight shone down on the cave-man and the pile of bones lying in front of him—and the neighborhood was rocked by violent growls.

Wright supplied the ideas and a neighbor friend supplied the growls, shrieks, whoops and screams, which are amplified by a sound system. The neighbor also served as the "munch-ehawed man" Monday night.

But, the youngsters look forward to Wright's annual Halloween antics.

"Some of the kids are braver than the adults," he said. "Many adults don't even come down the block."

He admits, however, that the Halloween visitors — big and small—leave more candy scattered on his driveway than they collect at his door.

Storm Sweeps Man To Death In Gulf

MIAMI (UPI)—One man was killed Monday when a "deep winter type" storm spawned a small tornado or waterspout on Sanibel Island.

Fred E. Parnell, 71, was standing on a marine dock when he was swept into San Carlos Bay, Marina owner William Way and Bud Slate of Sanibel recovered his body, but efforts to revive him were futile.

The storm also brought the season's coldest temperatures to the state and squalls with heavy winds raked the west coast area.

$5½ Million Left To Charities

CHICAGO (UPI)—Mrs. Marjorie Montgomery Ward Baker, heiress to the A. Montgomery Ward fortune, has willed almost $5.6 million to charity. It was announced here Monday.

Mrs. Baker died in 1956. Her estate was placed at more than $6 million.

Quake Shakes Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI)—An earthquake of strong intensity shook southern Chile today, terrifying citizens but injuring no one. The shock was felt in the area around Concepcion and Puerto Mont which last May were devastated by serious earthquakes.

Goblins Fly Quietly In Sanford Area

Sanford donned its traditional Halloween false face Monday night as thousands of youngsters turned "trick or treating" into a fund raising drive for United Nations' children's work, and some grownups used children's Halloween bags to carry election year messages.

In one area of the city, one Democrat passed out apples and several hundred Kennedy-Johnson buttons to trick or treaters.

Police and the Sheriff's office report a quiet Halloween with no extensive damage reported.

Geneva Gardeners To Hear Speaker

Mrs. S. C. Dickerson of the Gray Soudowa Nursery in Sanford will address members of the Geneva Garden Club at their meeting Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. William A. Yung and Miss Doris A. Cline.

Mrs. Dickerson, an honorary member of the Geneva Club, is chairman of the Civic Beautification Committee of the Sanford Club and has recently completed the floor plans for the state flower show which opens in Sanford's Civic Center Dec. 1.

C Of C To Meet In Lake Mary

Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce members will hold their November meeting Thursday, 8 p. m. at the chamber building, Earl Toney, who assumes the duties of president due to the resignation of Don Coleman in October, will preside.

Action is expected on the appointment of a roads survey committee for the area which will work on a monthly basis with county commissioners. Motion for the naming of such a committee was made at the September meeting by Jim Avery.

A report from the membership committee, headed by Mrs. Al Case, will be made. Mrs. Case has announced that dues will be acceptable at this meeting.

Industrial Park Zoning Approved

The County Commission today approved a request for industrial park zoning for 35 acres on Hwy. 17-92, a quarter of a mile north of the Seminole Orange County line.

The zoning board already had approved the request. The area is expected to be developed by J. Herbert Sapp of Orlando for small industry there.
