Cough Cure.
 If you can stand the odor, a bad cough can often be cured by five drops of kerosene taken on a lump of sugar. If this sounds too horrible, the same effect is achieved by swallowing gasoline.

Orange Growers to Meet

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 17, 1911.

To the Citrus Growers of Florida:
 In view of the libelous course pursued by the Florida Citrus Exchange in stigmatizing Florida oranges when shipped at this time as poisonous, and in view of the injury that the industry is likely to suffer from the gross misrepresentations and misstatements that have been spread throughout the United States, a convention of citrus fruit growers is called to meet in Orlando, Florida, on Saturday, Nov. 4th, to consider the matter and present the true facts to the people of the United States, so that the false impressions created by the libelous publications referred to may be removed from the minds of consumers of citrus fruits.

Dr. Bruce

Dr. Jerome Bruce formerly of Newberry N. C., a practicing physician fifty years, eighteen of these in Sanford, died in Jacksonville after some months of ill health, Sept., 28th, 1911.

In the death of Dr. Bruce our city lost one of its best and noblest citizens. Though modest as a gentle woman, he was indeed a southern gentleman of the old school with distinguished men and characterized always by elegant courtesy to every one he met, even in the humbler walk of life. In the practice of his profession among us we were fortunate in enjoying the benefit of his long experience and unusual skill. Always ready to respond to the call of the poor, he "scattered seeds of kindness" and dispersed good deeds along his way, and now leaves a memory respected and beloved by all.

A devoted wife and several children mourn sadly in their great bereavement. Farewell Dr. Bruce, physician, friend, counsellor—farewell! We shall meet again in a "land that is fairer than day."

A FRIEND.

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here the Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurried Readers

It is announced with evident authority that the name of Gov. Simeon E. Baldwin of Connecticut would be presented to the national democratic convention for president. Recently it was stated that there was a movement on foot to have Governor Baldwin accept second place on the national ticket and when questioned on the matter Governor Baldwin said that he would regard it as honor to any man to be named as vice-president.

Edgar H. Farrar, Jr., son of the president of the American Bar association and one of the best known young men of New Orleans, was shot and killed Wednesday morning by two highwaymen, who held him up at the corner of Peniston and Magnolia streets. The highwaymen escaped.

An even hundred fighting ships, grouped for the first formal maneuvers and inspection by Secretary Meyer, swung at anchor in the Hudson river yesterday morning in a gray line seven miles long. The fleet as it stood included every battleship now in commission in the United States Navy, twenty-four in all, every one in fighting trim.

Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeon, pastor of Immanuel Baptist church, Cambridge, was indicted on five counts charging murder in the first degree by the Suffolk county grand jury Tuesday for the alleged poisoning of Avis Linnell, of Hyannis, October 14. The grand jury reported their finding to Judge George A. Haugherston in the Superior Criminal Court after hearing more than thirty witnesses during four days.

Declaring that President Taft admits that there is danger of republican defeat at the national election of 1912, because he knows the entire country resents the failure of the republican party to reduce the Payne-Aldrich tariff schedules, Governor Foss says Senators Lodge and Crane of Massachusetts also know that the republican machine of the state of Massachusetts is doomed and they are therefore keeping out of the limelight.

Socialism showed remarkable strength in the municipal primary held in Los Angeles on Tuesday, as a result of which Job B. Harriman, the socialist candidate for mayor, will contest with Mayor W. George Alexander, who seeks re-election for the next two years, at the coming city election. Practically complete returns give Harriman 17,874, Alexander 13,483. Harriman got the great bulk of the labor vote.

A great poultry show is one of the big features planned for the Interstate fair, which opens soon at Pensacola.

"THE MAN ON THE BOX"

A Good Fuss Stopper, Maybe? At the Imperial Tonight

Mr. Bert Leigh the comedian, who is starring in "The Man on the Box," which will be the attraction at the Imperial Theatre tonight, tells a good one on himself, while enroute from his hotel to the theatre this afternoon he passed a man and woman in a heated discussion, thinking he might be the means of bringing about peace. He stopped and asked in his happy way, "what is the argument?" when he was given this reply by the man in question, "My wife here, thinks she isn't going to get a new fall hat, and I know very well she isn't, so there is no argument to it." Mr. Leigh says he is still thinking it over.

Stung With Bees

While a negro was driving a team of mules on the Howard-Packard place just east of the city a swarm of bees alighted on them and drove the mules nearly frantic with pain. The negro with his usual bravery took to his heels and Mr. Rice working in the same field came to the rescue and succeeded in unhitching the mules but not before he was stung badly. He was brought to town by Messrs. Sykes and Howard and placed under a physicians care where he is now recovering. The sudden descent of the swarm of the bees from a neighboring hive and without any apparent reason attacking the teams is something new in bee annals.

Safe Was Not Safe

While W. J. Hill was enjoying his prime rib roast at luncheon last Tuesday some light fingered gent who evidently understood the lay of the land walked into his private office, took down the key to the safe and quietly lifted all the money and a check contained therein.

Up to now the thief has not been apprehended but if Mr. Hill will leave the key in the same place and fill the safe again he will probably return and take another chance at it. Or if Uncle Bill does forget and locks the safe by mistake he might leave the money on his desk where it would be more convenient.

Wants Business Location

Charles M. Davis recently of Atlanta is in the city today looking for a location to start in business. As no vacant stores can now be secured he will be forced to build one.

Metropolis Winners

Two Orlando ladies and one each from Sanford, Pine Castle and Chuluota are winners in the popularity contest conducted by the Jacksonville Metropolis. There are Misses Calla Lily Jenkins and Evelyn Odlin of Orlando, Mrs. J. A. Wilkes of Pine Castle, Miss May Long of Chuluota and Miss Pearl Gresham of Sanford. While none of them are winners of grand prizes, still each won a snug sum and got a large complimentary vote. Considerable interest was manifested in the contest by Orange county people and as usual they were very successful.

NEW-BUSINESS BLOCKS

Besides Many New Residences To Be Erected

BUSINESS TAKES NEW IMPETUS

Crop Prospects and Faith in Sanford's Future Brings Out Many New Investments

Within the next six months there will be two new business blocks added to Sanford and both of them will be on Magnolia avenue, which is destined to become one of the business streets of Sanford and in time will rival First street for a share of the business. While it is not officially known the nature of the business to be transacted in the new buildings it has been stated that the four new stores that will fill up the vacant lot between The Herald building and the Opera House have already been leased. Office rooms and apartments will occupy the upper floors.

The architect has already drawn the plans but will not divulge the names of the men who will occupy the stores. Herald Square in time will be one of the busiest thoroughfares in the city.

The new McCrory five and ten cent store in the M. G. T. Block is assuming shape and will be one of the finest fronts in the city, being finished in the flaming red color that distinguishes the McCrory stores the world over.

There are also persistent rumors of a new bank and another drug store to be opened in Sanford soon, both to occupy buildings of their own, which will mean plenty of work in the building line later on.

The Geneva Bridge

Work on this great improvement has been finished, all except the draw, which is being put in now. The contractor Mr. McLain has certainly made it a job, that will be an everlasting credit to him and to all those, that have helped to accomplish it by their liberal subscriptions to the necessary funds. A number of the subscribers to the fund have paid in amounts as stated below, but there will be more money needed at once to reimburse the contractor for work done, and I wish to ask of anyone, that is interested in this great improvement for the good of our city and county to send their contribution to either H. C. Dulose or myself. Whether you have subscribed to the fund or not your help is needed and will be thankfully acknowledged.

Those having paid to this fund are:

Holden and suggests to me the idea, that if every one interested in this great improvement will go out and try to show their friends and acquaintances the importance of it, it will not take long to get up the balance of the money needed.

Send in your contribution, no matter how small, and send it soon.

Yuma, Ariz., Nov. 3.—Aviator C. P. Rodgers in his coast-to-coast flight was compelled to alight on the Arizona desert sixty miles east of here this afternoon because he ran out of gasoline.

RECEPTION TO REV. MCKINNON.

Beloved Minister Shown Appreciation of His Service.

Rev. J. F. McKinnon is deservedly one of the most popular ministers that ever resided in Sanford and while his many friends rejoiced at his good fortune in being appointed Superintendent of Public Instruction there will be genuine sorrow at the thought of his departure from the field where he has endeared himself, not only to the members of the Presbyterian church but to every one regardless of creed or religion.

Rev. McKinnon and his sister, Mrs. Sharpe leave in a few days for Orlando and in order to show their appreciation of these good people and to bid them God speed a reception was held last night at the home of Mrs. Frank Woodruff in honor of Mr. McKinnon and Mrs. Sharpe.

Despite the inclement weather a large number of people attended and the rooms were filled. A general round of entertainment interspersed with music and games and friendly chat was broken by the serving of choice refreshments.

As a token of their esteem the congregation presented Rev. McKinnon with a pair of beautiful gold cuff buttons, embellished with his monogram and a fine lodge seal and charm and Mrs. Sharpe with a silver service.

The presentation speech was made by Hon. D. L. Thrasher who is always at his best in this role and in a few well chosen words he outlined the splendid work accomplished here by the retiring minister and the high regard in which he and his family were held by all classes.

Rev. McKinnon felt deeply these tokens of esteem and replied in a few remarks. Rev. McKinnon and family leave Sanford followed by the good wishes of all and the only reconciliation of their many friends at parting is the thought that they are not far away and maybe at some future date these good people will again rejoice among us where they will always be warmly welcomed.

Mistrial Predicted

Opeleusa, La., Nov. 3.—The jury in the McKee murder trial was locked up at 6 o'clock tonight with instructions to report to the court at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning when, it is expected, the court will order a mistrial.

Downcast, and with sore disappointment, Mrs. McKee was led back to her cell in the St. Andry Parish Jail where she has been held without bail since the day in September, seven weeks ago today, when she killed Allan Garland.

Noted Actor Dead

Kyrie Bellew, one of the foremost actors of the English speaking stage, author and explorer, died at Salt Lake City shortly after 3 o'clock this morning of pneumonia.

Beach Lots Increased Value.

The people who wisely invested in Coronado Beach lots will be pleased to learn that the new bridge will soon be built and that all of the lots recently sold have doubled in value. The back lots that do not touch the ocean are bringing as high as $150 apiece.

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

While waiting for the appearance of a henhawk whose depredations have seriously annoyed the family, Francis Lyman Wing, Jr., the twelve year-old son of former Mayor Frank L. Wing, of Tampa was instantly killed Wednesday morning by a load of birdshot as the result of an accidental discharge of his shotgun.

Charged with participating in the lynching of six negroes at Lake City May 21 last, the Columbia county grand jury Wednesday indicted Samuel Ward and John Atkinson, residents of Tallahassee for murder. A reward of $5,000 had been offered by the state for the apprehension of the persons who took part in the lynching.

Arrangements are practically completed for starting the much talked of Farmers Institute train from Gainesville, November 15th. Letters to the Experiment Station from various sections of the state indicate wide-spread interest in the matter of University workings in the minds of the people who are land owners in Florida. This special train is arranged to meet the needs of every one engaged in agricultural pursuits.

Tampa is to have another canning factory and within the next few weeks a representative of the Peru (Ind.) Canning company will be in the city for the purpose of selecting a location for the factory. When this has been done arrangements will be made for the building of the structure.

A big timber deal has recently been closed in this state whereby 225,000,000 feet of cypress and 240,000,000 feet of long leaf pine, located in Brevard and Ocala counties, were sold to parties from Louisiana.

The high flood tide in St. Augustine has been driving the marsh hens from the marshes, hence the hunters have been meeting with good luck.

If plans for organizing the Florida Metal Products Company are carried through, Jacksonville will have three, and possibly four, new concerns for the manufacture of metal cornices and like products.

J. C. Crawford has been made director of Jacksonville detective force, thus facilitating the work of department of the city's police.

The government has completed the staking of the channel from Fort Myers to the gulf.

The nursing home at 8th and Elm Ave. is prepared to care for a limited number of surgical cases. Mr. Wright's nurse in charge. 33-1f

IMPULSE FOR CIVIC BEAUTY

World-Wide Movement to Make Our Cities Attractive as Well as Comfortable.

The "new birth" of cities is world-wide. It is for beauty as well as for convenience and comfort. The poetic outcry from old Venice for the material conveniences of a new age is equalled by the materialistic cry from new cities for the artistic overlaying of their modern fabrics. In London there has lately been held an international town planning congress.

The Right Honorable John Burns, one of the presiding officers, declared that "the mean street produces the mean man," and that "the East end means the West-end."

There were notable exhibits by the Civic League of St. Louis, the Philadelphia City Parks association, Kelsey & Olmstead of Boston, Charles Mulford Robinson of Rochester, the Boston Society of Architects, and the Fine Arts Society of Chicago. Germany contributed remarkable plans, new or real-ized; England showed her new Kings-way and the garden cities of Letchworth and Port Sunlight.

"Nothing has been undertaken in England in town planning on the scale reached in the United States, but in the way of a garden city there is nothing in the world to surpass Port Sunlight," remarked Dr. Burnham of Chicago. "It is not only beautiful, but satisfactory from every point of view, and it was laid out as a matter of good business by business men—a firm of soap makers."

J. Horace McFarland, president of the American Civic Association, declares: "There is a distinct and immediate effect on values in pleasant factory surroundings. There is a further effect on the minds and hearts of the men who do the work in industrial establishments. Some years ago the surroundings of the plant of the Carlisle Manufacturing company were exceedingly bad. That concern makes frogs, switches and other railroad signal apparatus, and as the stranger passed through Carlisle he could readily discern the disorder and unpleasantness of the place.

"It fell into the possession of Col. John Hays who, with other ideals, spent considerable money in removing the disorder and placing a lawn with attractive flower beds where there had been nothing but dumps, scrap heaps and cinder piles.

"I wrote him," congratulating him upon the improvement, and received a letter which was in effect a protest against any consideration on my part of the proposition as an esthetic one. He said he had done the work as an investment and that, after years of experience, it had proved to be a most valuable investment."—Franklin Clark in Success Magazine.

TO MEMORY OF CLEVELAND

Native Town Is to Build $50,000
Memorial Despite Disparagement of Gospel.

Caldwell, N. J.—The proposition of influential citizens to erect a memorial to Grover Cleveland in Caldwell, his birthplace, by expending $5,000 of the municipal fund, and $45,000 to be collected elsewhere, promises to be a success, since Mrs. Cleveland has come forward with the assurance that recent gossip to the effect that the late president despised his native city is absolutely untrue.

Mrs. Cleveland wrote to the friends of the memorial project assuring them that her husband always spoke kindly of Caldwell, and her declaration is supported by a letter Mr. Cleveland wrote several years ago in which he referred to the town as a place dear to him.

Governor Woodrow Wilson has given his indorsement to the project.

More Evidence.
"Here is more evidence of feminine superiority," said Mrs. Parling Danners. "What is it?"

"A hen hatches only when she has laid an egg and a rooster crows merely to attract idle attention."

The KITCHEN CABINET

THE pessimist keeps grumbling at everything he sees. If he has roses, there's the thorns; if honey, there's the bees. Like the smiling optimist with his more cheerful view. Come rain, there's the rainbow; come night and morning, too.
—Florence M. Day.

A FEW NICE CAKES.

Cake is an article of food that seems to be indispensable, as no house-keeper considers her menu complete for a day without some form of cake. Those that keep well are the kind one likes to have ready, as stale cake is never palatable.

The following cake is good as long as it lasts; but doesn't last long, in most families.

Boston Favorite.—Cream two-thirds of a cup of butter, add two cups of sugar gradually, four eggs beaten until light, a cup of milk and three and a half cups of flour; three is sufficient if bread flour is used, sifted with five teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Flavor and bake in two loaves.

Whipped Cream Cake.—This is a cake to be eaten the same day it is made. It is a delicious dessert and may be served for a luncheon or supper cake. Bake any good cake mixture in two layer tins, not too thick. When cold add the filling of sweetened and flavored whipped cream and cover the top and sides with a generous layer of the cream. Garnish with a row of candied cherries or make roses of the cream by pressing it through a paper cornucopia.

Velvet Cake.—Cream half a cup of butter, add one and a half cups of sugar, the yolks of four eggs well beaten and a half a cup of cold water. Mix and sift together a cup and a half of flour, a cup of cornstarch and four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, and add to the first mixture; then add the whites of four eggs beaten stiff and turn into a large shallow pan. Sprinkle with shredded almonds and powdered sugar just before putting into the oven. Bake 40 minutes in a moderate oven.

Nellie Maxwell.

Long and Dreary.

"Think well before you marry him. Remember that marriage is a thing which cannot be set aside in a day."
"Oh, I know. I have thought of it."
"I speak from experience. I thought the six months I spent in Reno never would end."

TREES GROWING ON A TOWER

Lefty Dome of Indiana Court House Surmounted by Trees Which Birds Planted.

Greensburg, Ind.—Trees are growing on the tower of the court house, 175 feet above the ground. Many years ago, seeds dropped by birds and which fell into crevices of the slate roof of the lofty dome of the tower, germinated, and each year, the young trees become larger. Of the present group, the principal tree is about twelve feet in height and is as full of leaves, and as healthy, apparently as its fellows growing far below with mother earth to nourish them.

The growth of the trees on the roof, has loosened the slate as the roots extended along the rafters. It is feared that there will be considerable damage to the building in the course of time. Some of the authorities believe that the trees should be removed and the roof repaired. Others oppose the idea on the ground that the trees growing from the court house dome, furnish the most effective advertisement that the town possesses and attracts many tourists.

It is regarded as extraordinary that the trees should thrive with apparently but a trifle of earth.

FARMERS ATTENTION

No Freight—No Express Charges to Pay

FARMERS AND GROWERS OF ORANGES, GRAPE FRUIT AND EARLY VEGETABLES

Come and see me at once and let me explain personally to you, the best, safest, surest method of disposing of your fruit and truck.

I have solid contracts with retail merchants to supply them at once with Oranges, Grape Fruit and Early Vegetables. I can handle hundreds of boxes of oranges, grapefruit and vegetables weekly at first-class prices, and protect you so you know exactly what you will get for your fruit and truck; I don't offer the benefit of the market I give you the market and guarantee the returns. By my method you are absolutely safe and you will know exactly what you will receive for your fruit and vegetables before it leaves Sanford. Don't delay in seeing me early as I only contract for what I can use—my business is done on as safe a basis as possible in fact nothing could be safer—all my customers are well rated reliable merchants no small or unreliable men on my list. I am willing to give you the benefit of these customers and charge you only a moderate fee for my service, practically turning these customers over to you—the farmer.

I can refer you to farmers who did business with me last season who will tell you I never broke a single contract on this same basis obtaining for them higher prices than they could have received from any other method of disposal. This is not a consignment method nor a benefit of market method, it is a safe and absolutely sure contract you have no heavy freight or express charges to be deducted from your ACCOUNT. You get it all except the small commission you pay me for my SERVICE. This advertisement does not refer to CONSIGNING to COMMISSION HOUSES or JOBBERS, it refers only to supplying the RETAILER with the fruit and vegetables he requires, direct from the farmer, giving the farmer all the profit without dividing it up with the Jobbers and Transportation Company.

IT STANDS FOR PROGRESS AND PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS

Mr. Spencer has done no more hard labor than I have. I work as much each day as he does, with this difference, however, that while his time is devoted to his private business much of mine is devoted to public affairs for the promotions of the city's interest. Mr. Spencer asserts his friendship for laboring men. He cannot and will not attempt to prove in public print that he is more their friend than I am.

Why does not Mr. Spencer reveal the nefarious schemes which he claims are being concocted to make you vote against your convictions.

It is his duty to expose these schemes and publicly denounce the promoters. Such traitors to good government deserve public exposure.

Talk is cheap and cheap talk is the cheapest thing on earth.

THE SANFORD HERALD

Published Every Tuesday and Friday Morning By THE HERALD PRINTING COMPANY

R. J. HOLLY, Editor W. M. MAYNER, Business Manager

Subscription Price, $2.00 a Year in Advance

Printed as second-class mail matter August 22nd 1908, at the Postoffice at Sanford, Florida, under Act of March 3rd, 1879.

Office in Herald Building Telephone No. 148

If Tampa is the gateway to Panama what relation is the Seven Southerland Sisters to T. J. L. Brown?

If Sanford doesn't look out Orlando will sue the town for infringement of copyright. They are talking country club up there.—Reporter-Star.

"I am in favor of a Great White Way for Sanford."—Sanford Herald. Mr. Holly doesn't want to wait for a reunion, apparently.—Reporter-Star.

A dead rat has laid in the street near The Herald office for three days without being disturbed which would indicate that the street gang is not attending to the job.

The Sheriff of Duval county has offered a reward of $1000 for the arrest and conviction of the murderer of Henry Deane, Jr. Part of this money spent on an extra policeman in Riverdale might have saved the young man's life.

If the Sanford merchants would invest a small sum in the Sanford Building & Loan Association there would be twenty more homes started and the money would come back like bread scattered upon the waters.

Thanksgiving Day comes late this year. The calendar makers designated the 23rd day of November, but President Taft has named Thursday November 30th, as the day and this will be the official Thanksgiving Day for 1911.

News items that are true will be published in The Herald and no amount of persuasion will keep them out. The Herald is a newspaper and as such will publish facts regardless of the wishes of the person who is anxious to keep his name out of print.

The illustrated special edition of the Orlando Reporter-Star is out and consists of 34 pages containing descriptive matter embellished with fine cuts. This special edition shows great enterprise on the part of the Reporter-Star and the merchants of that enterprising city showed their appreciation by taking liberal space in the edition. Congratulations.

The Evening Telegram came in on time this week and while we expected something good in Lakeland's first daily the real article fairly took our breath away. It is a six column, eight page, well edited and well printed daily and here's hoping Bepther Hetherington can not only keep up the pace but will get more business and he deserves it all.

Editor Holly of the Sanford Herald was in town on Reunion Day and expressed astonishment at the great number of new residences and business houses going up and the wonderful activity everywhere manifested. Holly lived a whole round year in Orlando and though he loves his newly adopted home and has worked his curly hair straight in the upbuilding of Sanford, still he will tell, out of print, that he hasn't lost faith in his county town.—Citizen.

To Mayor Lake and the members of the council are due the thanks of the people for the removal of the coal chute and the switching of freight cars especially the shifting of cars at night.

The Herald is not remiss in it's duty to public servants at any time and we intend to pass out compliments to the living when they deserve them. Not being in the "present unpleasantness" The Herald can with no political intent or malice beforehand commend these gentlemen for the good that they have accomplished. The Herald never failed to condemn them when they were wrong and pursuing our policy of a square deal we take pleasure in handing out praise when praise is due.

The coal chute has been removed and the freight yards so far changed that they will no longer be the nuisance to the public that this shifting has been. The Herald hands it to you, Mr. Lake, and to every one of you, Mr. Aldermen.

BETTER NEWSPAPER SERVICE Starting on December 1st, The Twice-a-week Herald will be delivered to subscribers every Tuesday and Friday evening by carrier boys. All of those who are not regular subscribers can take the paper by the month paying the carrier boys 20 cents per month. This will give the winter visitors a chance to take the paper while they are spending a few months in the city.

The average business man who has a box at the postoffice will get his Herald as usual at the office or it can be delivered at his place of business.

The ladies especially will appreciate this quick service and the new Herald will cater more to the wants of the dear ladies this season than ever before. In Mrs. Bowler we have a valuable addition to the staff and all of the ladies should assist her in the hunt for social topics and local items.

We want every one in this section to feel that The Herald is your paper and in the making of a better paper all of you have a part. Few people realize the difficulties of getting out a real newspaper and yet The Herald expects to get bigger and better with each issue and a daily paper will be the next improvement.

Weather Report

Shows in southern and central portions today. Cooler weather Saturday. Light frost in northern portions Saturday.

Did You Notice It?

The Herald gives you 12 pages today making 30 pages of reading matter for the week, which is going some. Probably you hadn't thought about it but you are not taking the Herald maybe and if such is the case better get on the big list today, for you can't afford to miss it.

Best Show of Season

To The Imperial Theatre, Sanford: The Man on The Box played here Wednesday night was one of the best attractions ever put on in Daytona.

Hanson is Up To Date

M. Hanson, proprietor of the Shoe Fixery has just installed electric power machines for the rapid repairing of shoes and now has one of the most complete shoe repair shops in the south. This enterprising young man deserves great credit for his up to date methods and has built up a fine trade here.

After Ship Canal

Jacksonville will make a powerful showing for the eastern terminus of the ship canal which is to be constructed across the Florida peninsula before a meeting of the board of district engineers of the war department which is to meet there Nov. 8th to consider the several routes proposed.

Want The Job.

Twelve of Sanford's citizens are willing to serve that city in the capacity of aldermen. Two are announced for each of the offices of mayor, clerk and assessor and treasurer and collector. The Celery City must pay its official family well to induce so many to want to help run the town.—Reporter-Star.

Fortune Under Sidewalk

Westminster, B. C., Nov. 2.—Twenty-five thousand dollars in gold and bank notes, identified as part of the loot stolen from the local branch of the Bank of Montreal Sept. 18, was found by workmen today under a sidewalk a few blocks from the scene of the robbery. This is the first of the $335,000 loot recovered.

None of the bank robbers have been captured.

Deeply Religious.

"Deeply religious is he?" "Yes, indeed. If he dines out on Friday, he tells nothing but fish stories."—Puck.

Lesson of Chivalry.

The lesson of chivalry, quite as important in the lad as in his father, in different degrees of course, may be taught in little attentions to mother and younger sister—helping about the house, making provisions which will save mother many steps during his absence and escorting sister to and from school.

Speaker Clark's Review of The Work of Congress

Criticises President Taft For Vetoes of Tariff Reform Bills

Proud of the Democracy's Record--Praise For the Insurgents

Speaker Champ Clark, the first Democrat to preside over a house of representatives in sixteen years, is decidedly of the opinion that his party has made a good record in the first session of the Sixty-second congress. For the first time in sixteen years the Democrats have been in control of one branch of the national government. For the first time the Democrats have had an opportunity to initiate legislation and control the action of one branch of the national legislature.

Clark occupies the position which by everybody familiar with legislative procedure is conceded to be the second place of importance in the official scale of the United States government.

In the following signed article, written for the American Press Association, he expresses his views of the work of the first session of the American congress in which the Democratic party has controlled the house of representatives for sixteen years. Mr. Clark does not hesitate to criticize the president nor to bestow praise upon those insurgent Republicans who have tried to assist the Democrats in carrying out a tariff revision program. This utterance of Speaker Clark, not only on account of the official position he occupies, but also because he is one of the most prominent possibilities in the next presidential campaign, is both interesting and important.

By CHAMP CLARK, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

THE extraordinary session of congress called by President Taft, which convened on April 4, has been a long one. The labors of the house have been arduous. It has made a magnificent record, on which we can very well afford to go to the country. We tried our best to give the people some relief from the tariff barons and trusts, but President Taft blocked our efforts. More's the pity!

Veto of the wool schedule contrasted with President Taft's speech at Winona.

The people will decide in November, 1912, which is the better cause, that of the Democrats or that of the president. How he could veto the wool bill, especially in the face of his Winona speech, it is difficult to discern. I am inclined to the opinion that he will never have cause to regret his veto messages but once, and that will be as long as he lives. Not withstanding the power of the administration both in patronage and personal solicitation, we came very nearly getting the two-thirds vote necessary to pass the bills over his veto, notwithstanding the fact that we have only sixty-three majority in the house. Twenty-two insurgents stood by their guns manfully and courageously. Every Democrat did his duty.

New members discharged their duty with fidelity, industry, punctuality and capacity.

One of the most pleasing features to me of the extra session was the way the new members comported themselves. They discharged their duty with fidelity, industry, punctuality and capacity. Some of them made extraordinary records for new members. Notwithstanding the dire prophecies of evil of the stand pat press and the fears of timorous Democrats as to the results of the extra session, it is now cheerfully admitted on all hands that we have strengthened ourselves. Every Democratic paper in America without exception, nearly all the independent press and some fair minded Republican newspapers indorse our course.

Democrats did not put Taft in a hole. He saved them the trouble.

Some ill advised friends of President Taft have been claiming that we have tried to put him in a hole, but I said Friday, Aug. 18, in my speech closing the debate on the wool veto that instead of our trying to put him in a hole he had saved us the trouble and had put himself in a hole.

It was claimed by the standpatters and by the president himself that the wool bill was not duly considered. It is not true, as I demonstrated in my speech by giving the dates. The Democratic members of the ways and means committee gave nearly as much time to the consideration of the wool schedule alone as the Republican members of the ways and means committee in the Sixtieth and Sixty-first congresses gave to the wool schedule and the thirteen other schedules. So that assertion of the president and his stand pat cohorts goes where the woodbine twine. It is simply preposterous and is a feeble effort to find a reason for the wool veto, for which there was no reason except the demand of the standpatters. They, and they only, indorse the vetoes.

Democrats made an honest effort to reduce the tariff on necessities of life.

I believe that three-fourths of the American people, without regard to politics, believe that the rates of the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill ought to be reduced, especially on the necessities of life. The Democrats in both house and senate and the Republican insurgents in both house and senate tried honestly to reduce them, but the president would have none of it, notwithstanding his solemn and frequently quoted declaration in his Winona speech that the rates of the wool schedule are too high and ought to be reduced.

The only politics we played was to discharge our duty honestly and keep our promises.

The people are not fools and they will have no difficulty in deciding that we have stood their friends in all things at this session, and I feel absolutely certain that they will stand by us. The stand pat organs charge us with having played politics. The only politics we played was to discharge our duty honestly and courageously and to religiously keep our promises to the people, which, according to my way of thinking, is the only honest and honorable way to play politics. That is the only sort of politics that I know how to play—the only kind I am willing to play.

Investigating Committees. Several of the inquiries will be continued during the interval between the adjournment of the extra session of congress and the convening of the regular session in December. Other committees that have practically completed their work will make up their reports.

Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Robson, celebrated the seventh birthday of their little son Jamie, at their charming home on Sanford Heights, October 25th. About twenty-five of his little friends were invited to help him enjoy the happy occasion. The lawn which surrounds this home, presented quite an animated scene, as the little folks were entertained with various games by Miss Nita Moore. When tired of playing refreshing fruit was served to them on the lawn.

The amusement which afforded most pleasure to the young guests, was riding on the "Irish mail," a handsome gift to little Jamie from his parents. Later in the afternoon, the children were seated on the front porch and served delicious ice cream and cake.

The afternoon's pleasure was thoroughly enjoyed by the young guests who with one accord, wish that Jamie's birthdays came oftener.

Mrs. Keelor Entertains

Mrs. R. S. Keelor entertained at Bridge Tuesday afternoon, in the tea room, which was made most attractive in its picturesque Hallowe'en decorations of pumpkins lanterns, yellow and black drapery, ornamented with black cats, owls, witches and bats. The punch bowl, was artistically decorated with yellow and black. There were five tables of bridge played. The talley cards were pumpkins decorated with black cats.

The favors were also miniature pumpkins filled with salted almonds.

Mrs. Robt. Newman, made the highest score and won the first prize, a beautiful hand painted white china and silver lustre brush and comb tray. The booby prize, a motto placque, on which was the reminder that, "There is no such good, in the worst of us, and so much bad, in the best of us," was received by Mrs. Deane Turner. Punch was served during the afternoon. At the conclusion of the cards, delicious blanc mange, cake and coffee were served.

Hallowe'en Birthday Party

Miss Lucile Richards delightfully entertained the faculty of the High School, the teachers in the Grammar School and Primary Department, Supt. J. F. McKinnon and several other guests, in the charming home of Mrs. Ernest Tolar Tuesday evening at a Hallowe'en and birthday party. The rooms were very bright and attractive, with the usual Hallowe'en decorations of pumpkin lanterns, black cats, owls, witches and bats on a deep yellow background. The color scheme was red and black. A horse shoe was suspended over the parlor door, each arrival was requested by either hostess, Miss Richards or Mrs. Tolar to repeat the mystic words, "Bread and butter" or whistle before they could enter the room. True to nature it must have been, but "Bread and butter" was more popular than the whistle. Cats, witches and spooks formed the basis of a very amusing guessing contest. The special feature of the entertainment was the poetical ambition of each guest to excel the other when then were given only two words and requested to write a verse of four lines to rhyme with the words given. Some of the impromptu results achieved were very creditable and apropos. A very pretty fortune teller's tent was arranged in the back parlor, with white and yellow drapery ornamented with black cats, owls, bats and witches. In this tent, dressed as a gypsy fortune teller, Miss Mabel Bowler presided over the destinies of Miss Richards' guests who were in turn tempted to know what fate had in store for them by the mysteriously whispered invitation of a cute little witch, with a pretty new broom. This was charmingly personated by little Macey Newlan, Miss Richards' niece.

When all the fortunes had been told, the guests were invited into the strikingly decorated refreshment room. Wide red and black streamers were fastened to the ceiling over the center of the table and secured to the corners of the room. Suspended also from the ceiling was a large doll, dressed as a witch in red and black, with four smaller and similar witches presiding over the four corners of the table. A large hoop covered with black and red was just beneath the suspended witch, from which hung a number of lighted pumpkin lanterns. Red candles in white trays were placed in front of each cover; these also held in place long red ribbons, extending from the sides of a beautiful red basket in the center of the table, which was further ornamented with dainty trailing green vines, interspersed with red roses.

After the delicious salad and ice course was served Miss Richards requested the guests to pull the ribbon in front of their plate and see what would come out of the basket. Complying with the request each guest pulled out a miniature pumpkin with a grotesque face painted on it and tied to the ribbon, which on being opened was found to contain candy. Prof. Wildman found a thimble in his pumpkin, conveying to him the promise of a busy life if he used it often. Miss Richards drew the pumpkin containing a penny, the promise of which was riches for the finder. Mr. Phillip secured the ring in his pumpkin, guaranteeing of course that he would be married within the year.

When this pleasant entertainment was over it was suggested that the light be lowered and the party tempt the further mysteries of the night and hour by telling ghost stories, but as it was already late it was decided to postpone that part of the entertainment to a future occasion. Miss Richards received a number of pretty and useful birthday gifts.

Several of the expected guests were unable to be present on account of the rain. Those who braved the elements had a delightful evening, for which they were indebted to their charming hostess, Miss Lucile Richards and her equally charming assistant, Mrs. Ernest Tolar.

Miss Richards' invited guests were: Mesdames Brotherson, Bowler, M. C. Tolar, Mr. and Mrs. Dickenson, Mr. and Mrs. Polk, Mr. and Mrs. Luke, Mr. and Mrs. Dunn, Misses Mabel Bowler, Clara Louise Guild, Alice Tetherly, Flora Johnson, Flora Walker, Gertie Spear, Nellie Furen, Mary

LETTER FROM COL. THRASHER

Writes Interesting Letter About Wonders of Switzerland

The First National Bank of Sanford, Sanford, Fla. Gentlemen—Many thanks for your last remittance and for your last report made Aug. 10th. I do not know how I could get along or remain abroad if it was not for your continued kindness and attention. How shall I reward you for it all?

First, I wish to express my sincere thanks for congratulations on my attaining my seventy-first birthday and your kind wishes for many returns. Since I am feeling younger than when you last saw me, and since I cannot reasonably hope to do so, wouldn't it be very delightful for me to return the congratulations to some of you when you reach the age of seventy-one? According to the mortuary tables I may, barring railroad and steamboat wrecks, and avalanche and snow mountain climbing accidents, reasonably expect to reach the age of seventy-five—and yet, I may not see you all again. I do hope to see you, and I am so anxious about you, lest some of you may not be there to meet me at the station when I return.

I have been quite fortunate thus far, have had no accident, have been well every minute, sleep well every night, often dreaming about you all, and then eating the three square meals every day and an afternoon ice. I ought to be and am very thankful for all these blessings.

Whether the rosebuds while you may—I am hearing this beautiful gem in mind, and since I may become too old or too poor, or physically unable to make a second visit to this old world, I have decided to remain a while longer and pluck some of the rosebuds before I say goodbye to antiquity and re-cross the briny deep. There are so many wondrously beautiful things to be seen and enjoyed over here; and there are lots of things there in "The land of the brave and home of the Free," and I have seen and enjoyed the most of them, but these seem to be different; the charm of antiquity and the frosts and snows of many rolling centuries seem to add a halo and a glory indescribable and undefinable. The question of patriotism—no pride of country is involved. I am prouder of my own Florida and dear old Sanford since I have seen something of those old, old countries, their customs and habits, their pictures and paintings, their castles, grand cathedrals, majestic ruins, and snow covered mountains, all of which are intimately connected with human association, running way back and away down the corridors of Time to, or almost to the dawn of creation. And then there is the something within us that craves change, novelty; something newer, grander, more beautiful, more attractive than the things and places to which we have been accustomed.

While I write a band is discouraging the most delightful Swiss music, and I glance outside and there stands that grand, rugged, monarch of the Alps, The Matterhorn, all buried in snow around its base and away up for that 12,000 feet to where the steepness is so great that the snow cannot hold (about 3,000 feet) and it seems to look down with contempt upon a thousand other snow capped peaks and the glaciers from 800 to 2,000 feet deep, three to five miles across, and from ten miles to twenty in length.

This place is a small village 6,000 feet above sea level, made up of hotels, eight or twelve of them, all of which are crowded, and is reached by a cog-wheel and regular railroad combined, which branches off from the railroad running between Montreux on Lake Geneva to Milan, Italy, through a grand, wild, rugged pass, and along beside the most furiously and madly, wildly rushing stream of water to be seen anywhere, while high, rough granite mountains run up almost perpendicular on either side to the height of 1,500, and in some places 3,000 feet.

These things and these sights are exhilarating, deeply interesting and awe inspiring; and one seldom gets tired viewing them and never ceases giving heartfelt thanks for it all to Him, who made it. But I weary you. Enclosed you will find something about glaciers. I have seen them, and in wonder and astonishment gazed upon those vast frozen rivers of ice and snow which never melt. The New York papers are likely to copy items like this, but they may escape the eyes of some of you.

From Zermatt a regular cog-wheel railroad runs up and up, winding higher and still higher to near the top of Governor Great Mountain, and from that point the Matterhorn, Monte Ross, Castor and Pollux and hundreds of other snow covered mountains are to be seen plainly, as well as snow fields and immense glaciers, and is said to be one of the most beautiful, grand and charming spots on the earth. We were all up there for four hours on last Sunday, together with several thousand. The trip takes one and one-half hours up, and there were six to eight trains. On Sept. 15th the hotels close for the winter. It then gets very cold. During August and every night here we have been sleeping under blankets and feather beds.

This leaves me well and hungry—now 11:30 a. m. (I pause for a minute to go to the telescope and look at four men now on top of the Matterhorn, 15,000 feet above sea level). The day is perfect—not a cloud in the sky and Nature smiles. Much love to each and all, and I beg you not to forget me.

Truly,
A. M. THRASHER.

SEA ELEPHANTS REAL
Explorers Found One That Was 21 Feet Long

Los Angeles, Cal.—The recent American Museum of Natural History expedition to Lower California aboard the U. S. S. Albatross was the most fruitful and interesting scientific trip ever made in the southwest, and its discoveries are of inestimable value, according to P. I. Osburn of Pasadena, who acted as guide for the party. The cruise covered practically all the islands in the Gulf of California.

By far the most important find was made in a large hidden cove on Guadalupe Island, where the scientists came upon three herds of sea elephants, about the present existence of which there has been serious doubt, many believing them to be extinct.

The first sea elephant seen was a gigantic bull lying prone on the sand under a towering cliff. As soon as he sighted the explorers he made for the water, but before he reached the edge he was shot by one of the naturalists in the boat, it being impossible to take him alive. This animal was the largest seen and measured about 21 feet in length. The weight was enormous.

The party managed to round up five live young sea elephants, and these were taken aboard. They did not show the well-developed elephant-like snout or trunk of the adults and resembled the California sea lion. They all showed fight and wallowed about the deck unceasingly. Their call, hard to describe, is a concert of sharp cries and barkings.

The largest herd of these water elephants comprise about fifty, of all ages and sizes, and they were lying high on the beach. They were so sluggish and inactive that the naturalists walked among them and made photographs and sketches. The fighting bulls let out hollow roars much like the terrifying ones of caged lions. At times they emitted from their mouths small clouds of white vapor and rolled their large black eyes. The eyes of the bulls were more than three inches in diameter.

At Pichilnque Island Osburn shot a black hare, found nowhere else in the world except on another island near by. These hares, coal black on top, inhabit the sea caves and the rocks of the cliffs and mesas. Hundreds of immense lizards, rare birds, fishes never before seen and an unclassified deer were taken.

BLOODHOUNDS AS TRACKERS

Conviction in a Kansas Murder Case Is Affirmed on Circumstantial Evidence.

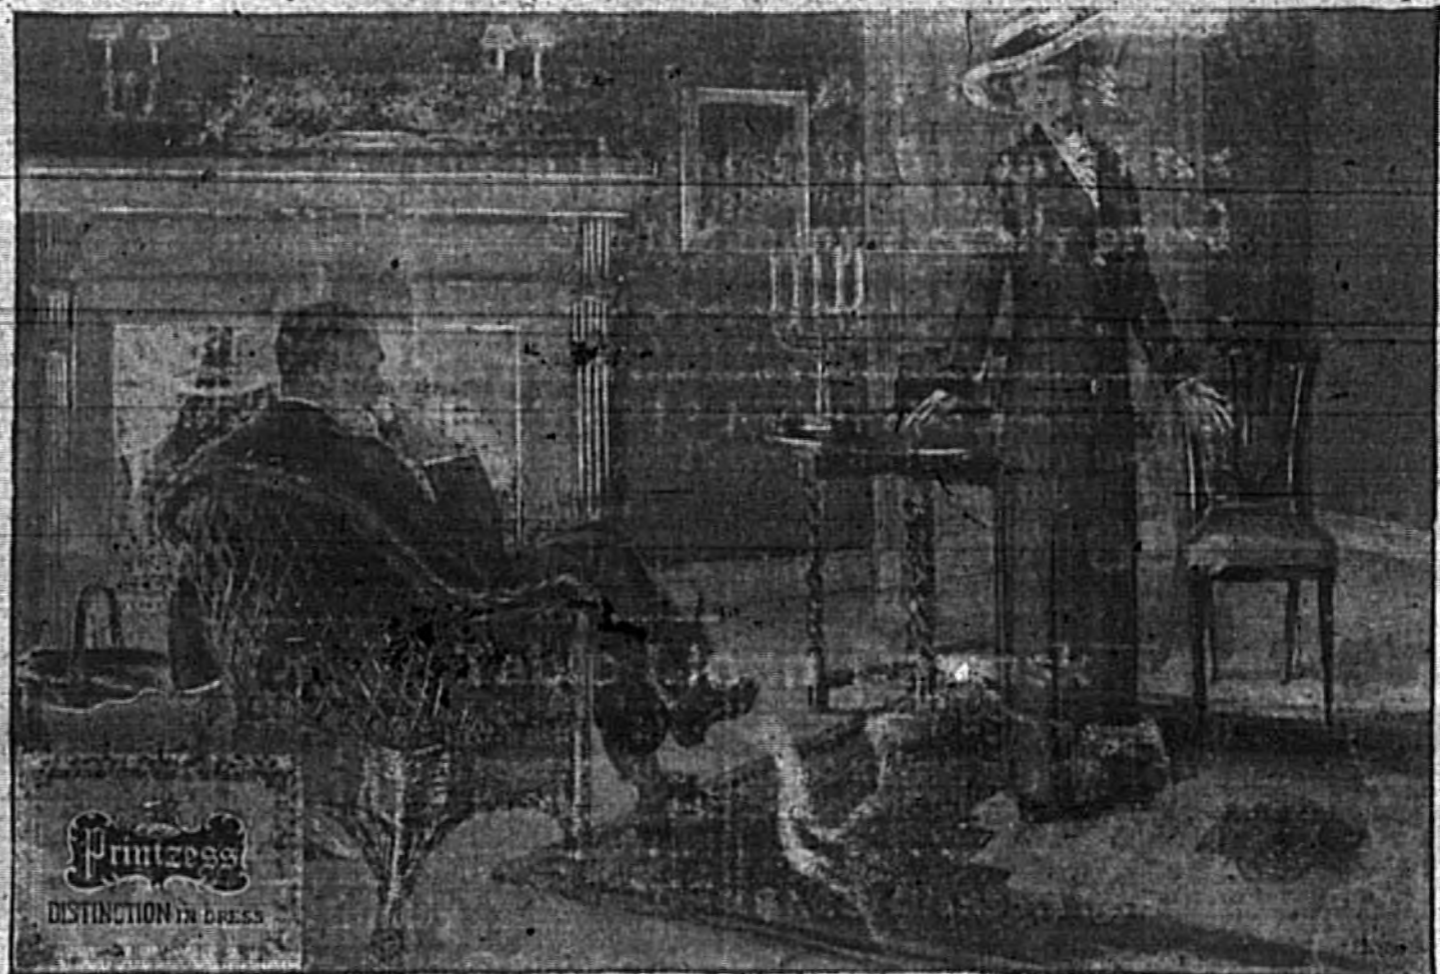

Topeka, Kan.—Is the evidence obtained from the action of bloodhounds and the tracks of shoes sufficient to hold, where a man is convicted of murder? The Kansas supreme court has decided that it is, where the dogs have been proved to be accurate and reliable in following the trail of human footsteps.

In November, 1910, Joseph Anderson was shot and killed at his home in Graham county. Glen Adams lived six miles away, but he was known to have left his home early on the evening of the murder, returning early the next morning. Tracks about the home of Anderson gave the bloodhounds a good trail and they followed it to the Adams house. Shoe tracks at the Adams home and around Anderson's body corresponded with the shoes which Adams wore. The shoes and the bloodhounds afforded the only evidence adduced against Adams except some conflicting statements he made at the time of his arrest.

As a possible motive for the crime, it was brought out at the trial that Anderson had accused Adams and some other young men of breaking into a schoolhouse some time before. The boys had damaged the furniture and building considerably and were prosecuted by Anderson.

Prefers Prison to Chicago.

"No—Only the Idea Is Imported"

WOULDNT you like to be able to answer your husband in this way—when he expresses his approval of your new outfit?

Wouldn't you like to tell him that you had obtained that elusive something called "Distinction in Dress" and that the cost was no greater than you had previously paid for ordinary garments?

If you would—let your next garment be a PRINTZESS.

There's a delicacy of line—and grace of style to a PRINTZESS that proves that PRINTZESS designs are close to foreign inspiration and also that they know how to create.

The materials are of true wool quality—tested and retested before they are judged worthy of bearing the PRINTZESS label—there's reason in such testing—in such extreme caution—for the PRINTZESS label is a guarantee that each garment must give you two seasons of satisfactory wear.

The curving lines of PRINTZESS fit are more accurate than the "custom-made fit" of your tailor—never a wrinkle at collar, shoulder, front and hips—and it's logical that they should be so, for PRINTZESS tailoring is the result of a perfected process—38 years of knowing how—that eliminates faulty work at these four proof points, where most garments fail.

PRINTZESS garments hold their shape. After months of wear they have the same dainty freshness that they possessed the day you purchased.

PRINTZESS Plio Canvas, the new shape-retaining fabric, is responsible for this—it's a new fabric, moist-proof—wear-proof—that is owned and controlled by the makers of PRINTZESS and can only be found in PRINTZESS garments.

It molds the wool materials of the garment to your figure—and holds them there. This shape-holding insurance costs you nothing extra.

The price of PRINTZESS garments represents unusual value; better materials than a custom tailor could afford to use; workmanship that never slights; fit that satisfies at the first try-on; and shapeliness without constant pressing expense and trouble.

GREAT BELLS OF THE WORLD

Tsar Kolokol the Largest, but "Liberty Bell" is Dearest to Hearts of Americans.

Philadelphia.—In the great drama of history bells have played a very prominent role. The bell most historical and most dear to all Americans is the "Liberty Bell" now in Philadelphia. The other nations of the world have bells as famous and dear to them in historic memory as our "Liberty Bell."

In Belfast, Ireland, there is a bell reputed to be 1,352 years old. It is said that the bell was bequeathed to a church in that city by St. Patrick. It is carefully preserved and ornate.

World's Largest Bell.

mented with precious stones and filigree of gold and silver.

The largest bell in the world is known as the Tsar Kolokol. There is an interesting history surrounding it.

When it had been cast, attempt was made to hang it so that it might be rung, but, by an unhappy chance, it broke from its supports and fell to the ground, wherein it made a great hole into which it sank and lay for many years. Finally, after more than a hundred years of oblivion, it was raised and placed in a public square in Moscow, where it now stands. This bell weighs more than 440,000 pounds, and is more than 19 feet in height and 60 feet in circumference.

There is a bell in northern China which has been ringing without intermission for 100 years. The natives believe that at every stroke of the bell a devil is exorcised from their midst. A special tax has been levied to support those who make a business of ringing this bell. It is rung by a system of relay teams that keep replacing one another.

The history of bells is very interesting. They are usually connected with important periods in a nation's existence. They have inspired much of the world's best poetry. One of the most harmonious lyrics, "The Bells," by Edgar Allan Poe, was inspired by the ringing of church bells near his home. Father Prout's beautiful lyric, "The Bells of Shandon," was inspired by the bells near Cork, Ireland. Bells that ring at scheduled periods in certain communities become, as it were, a living part of the community.

It is a white star of Bethlehem, producing a compact spike of flowers on a stiff, erect stalk 18 inches or two feet long. The flowers are of a thin, and papery tissue, all white except the yellow anthers. It can be sent over as a cut flower from South Africa to England, and then lasts for weeks in water.

GET READY FOR THE TRAIN

Farmer's Institute On Wheels Will Spend Night Here

The Herald has already mentioned the fact that the Experimental Station at Gainesville will send out a special train in Florida loaded with live stock fruits and vegetables, stopping at all the principal cities and demonstrating the crops and facts about soil and fertilizers. Only a few hours stop will be made at many cities, but Sanford is lucky in having the experimental train stop here one night. The train will arrive here on the night of November 17th at 7:40 and leave on Saturday November 18th, at 10 o'clock, thus giving our people ample opportunity to inspect the contents of this train, and listen to the instructive lectures. Sanford should get busy and show the visitors a bit of our country while they are here and the growers should try and arrange to take a half holiday, and come in to the city on that day and make it a success. Prof. Rolfs who has been here upon several occasions, will have charge of the train. These experimental trains have proved very successful in other states and in Sanford especially the train will prove of great value to every trucker and business man. Be ready to give them the glad hand and let every one attend the meeting.

Had His Foot Injured

W. S. Price, foreman of the planing mill department of the W. P. Carter Lumber Co., had an accident yesterday that almost cost him his foot. While operating the moulting machine the piece of moulding stuck in the machine at the end of the piece of timber and to stop it Mr. Price gave it a push with his foot with the result that the foot went too far and the knife cut into his shoe and sliced off a piece of the foot. He was given medical attention at once and will recover with the use of his foot providing no complications arise. Mr. Price had a very narrow escape and it was a miracle that he did not lose his foot.

New Real Estate Firm

The Swope Land & Investment Co., of Wichita, Kas., have opened branch offices in the Herald building and are prepared to handle real and personal investments of all kinds. Their specialty will be celery and farming lands of all kinds and also some special bargains to offer in both city and country property. The Swope Co. recently came to Sanford from Wichita, and expect to locate a number of new residents here this season. If you want to buy any land or if you want to sell your property see the Swope Co. for their facilities are ample and they can get you the best results. Look for the sign of the Swope Land and Investment Co. on Magnolia avenue in the Herald Bldg.

Need of Good Companions.

We want one or two companions of intelligence, probity and sense, to wear out life with; persons by whom we can measure ourselves and who shall hold us fast to good sense and virtue.—Emerson.

THE CO-OPERATIVE FARMER

WHOSE ORGANIZATION GIVES HIM THE BEST MARKETS TO SELL IN AND SAVES HIM FIFTEEN OR TWENTY PER CENT. IN BUYING—DEFINITE EXPERIENCE.

By JOHN LEE COULTER

(Himself a Minnesota Farmer, of Mallory, Minn., Member of the Faculty of the University of Minnesota, and Supervisor of Agricultural Statistics of the Census Bureau)

I have several hundred letters, some from every state in the Union, asking about cooperation by farmers.

Scarcely a day passes without one such letter or more coming to me. Some are from professors and other teachers; more are from people in the cities who connect the subject with the price of high living; many are from newspaper editors; but most are from farmers or managers of farmers' societies. Some writers are anxious to know what has been done in this and other countries; others write to tell of their experiences; others are anxious to tell why cooperation will always fail, or why it will prove to be a panacea of all ills economic, social and political; but most of the writers want information telling how they may improve the conditions of their immediate vicinity. Many of these people tell not only of the need of cooperation, but they give in detail the weaknesses of the present industrial system.

Anyone who does not follow the subject will be surprised at the extent of successful cooperation among the farmers of the United States and the rapidity with which it spreads. The producers are finding out in every section of the country that it is necessary; and in every part of the country they are probing by it. In what follows I give a very hasty glance at the extent and kind of rural cooperative effort.

The greatest activity in the United States is shown by the farmers in the states of the Northern Mississippi valley. In Michigan the grape growers have very efficient associations. In the grain growing states the farmers own approximately 1,600 grain elevators. These range in value from $4,000 to $10,000, and every one looks after the marketing of approximately 150,000 bushels of grain. The average number of members is about 125. There are, therefore in this region about 200,000 cooperating farmers; they have invested about $15,000,000, and they control the sale of nearly 250,000,000 bushels of grain. Many of these same societies look after the selling of other farm products and act as live stock shipping associations. They also purchase such things as fuel, fertilizers, and feed as the farmers need.

In these northern states too, where dairying is important there are now probably 2,000 cooperative creameries. Minnesota has nearly 700. There are in the United States probably 4,000 creameries. These should be owned by the farmers, and many more should be established. Little Denmark with fewer cows than Minnesota has 1485 cooperative dairies, according to the last report at hand.

The farmers in these northern states own more than 150 cooperative stores; and practically all these have sprung up during the last five years. I have visited many of them which are thoroughly successful. These same farmers have hundreds of cooperative telephone companies and farmers' mutual fire insurance companies. The spirit of cooperation is spreading very rapidly. There is room, however, for many times as many organizations as now exist, and there is room for much improvement in the conduct of many of the societies that have already been organized. But we are safe in attributing a large amount of the prosperity of these states to these intelligent organizations. Certainly most of the progressive, democratic legislation of the last few years is the result of intelligent agitation among the farmers.

States farther west have heard of the movement, and cooperative organization there is well under way. In Colorado the Grand Junction fruit growers and those in neighboring districts are well organized. In Idaho there are a number of successful, though small and local fruit growers marketing societies. In Washington and Oregon there are a number of local cooperative marketing associations. A large number of these local societies are now making the first strong effort to establish a central marketing exchange.

No statement of cooperation among farmers would be complete without referring to the success in California. In that state the fruit growers' exchange controls the marketing of probably three-fourths of the citrus fruits produced. Other smaller organizations control most of the remainder. The California Fruit Growers' Exchange is looked upon as the most successful farmers' organization in the United States. It is, perhaps the largest organization at the present time, and yet in its present form it is only about six years old. The 10,000 members have about 800 packing houses and produce 50,000 carloads of fruit every year.

The California Fruit Exchange, which is very much like the fruit growers' exchange, looks after the marketing of the deciduous fruits. It is newer and much less important, but it is rapidly demonstrating that organization is possible and necessary. The recently organized Almond Growers' Exchange, with a dozen local societies, controls the marketing of considerably more than half the almonds produced in the United States. The Walnut Growers' Association, with eighteen local societies, controls the marketing of 15,000,000 pounds of walnuts which is probably eighty per cent of the walnuts grown in the United States. In California, too, there are about fifty cooperative creameries, and many local societies of less importance.

Turning to the southern states, we find one of the strongest and most successful farmers' societies in the United States. Some ten years ago, farmers residing in the two counties on the east shore of Virginia formed a produce exchange which now markets nearly all that the farmers in these two counties produce. Last year that society handled more than 1,000,000 barrels of Irish potatoes and 800,000 barrels of sweet potatoes in addition to thousands of crates of berries and other products. The capitalization is only $50,000, divided into shares of $5 each. It does a business of approximately $2,500,000 a year. Yet it represents probably less than 5,000 farmers. Many of our states have 200,000 farmers and there would be room for forty such societies in the average state. Yet not a dozen organizations like the produce exchange of the eastern shore of Virginia can be found in the whole of the United States.

The apple growers of Virginia are organizing and the peach growers of Georgia are struggling with their problem. They have not yet succeeded in perfecting as successful a series of organizations as is necessary; and they could learn many valuable lessons from the experiences of other farmers' organizations. Last year the people in the City of Washington were paying exorbitant prices for Georgia peaches. I found it difficult to get such fruit as I wanted one day in that city, but the next day I found, while passing through Georgia, that the farmers were hauling decayed fruit away from the stations. A successful fruit exchange would know almost exactly how much fruit could be shipped from day to day, how many cars would be needed, what the freight rates would be to the different markets, how many cars of peaches the people in the different cities would need from day to day, what outside competition would have to be met, and practically what prices should be received. That same organization could purchase at wholesale the crates, the spraying materials and the like, for the members and make a considerable saving.

The citrus fruit producers of Florida have studied their problem in the right way. The leaders have carefully investigated the California methods of marketing, and during the last two years have been trying to apply the same principles. They cannot expect to succeed in a day. Many mistakes will be made. But following the system which they found in use in California, they are on the right track. Fruit growers should stick to the organizations and increase their membership. It is to the interest of all the people of Florida, and indeed of all consumers of good fruit to help in every way possible to reduce the cost of fruit by better marketing methods, to carry better fruit to the consumers, and at the same time to make the growers more prosperous by giving them a larger share of what the consumer pays.

There are other smaller societies in the eastern and southern states, but probably not more than one-farmer in a thousand is yet a member of a successful cooperative society. If the farmers in these states are to become prosperous they must organize. They have now before them many good illustrations of what is possible. And if they do not become more prosperous they cannot hope to buy land, build roads, build churches and schools, hire efficient teachers, and pay fair salaries, and they cannot expect to have the facilities in their homes which are found in the homes of people living in the cities. I am not now speaking of the southern planters with their broad acres of land, I am speaking of the average farmers.

COMING IN ALL ITS ENTIRETY

John H. Sparks World's Famous Shows to Visit Sanford for One Day Only Two Exhibitions

Four hundred people employed and carrying over two hundred foreign and domestic animals, is the statement made by Mr. C. S. Clark agent for the Sparks Shows, who was in town last Monday making arrangements for the appearance of this big show on Thursday, December 7th.

The strange colony of people, handsome horses, rare wild animals and the golden caravans are scheduled to arrive here during the early hours of the morning, of the above date in their own special trains of specially built railway cars from Orlando, where they will exhibit the day before.

Show day will begin with a big street parade at 12 o'clock noon, and two performances will be given, the first starting at 2 o'clock and the other at 8 o'clock. It is said that the Sparks Shows have $75,000 tied up in chariots, tableaux, floats, musical vehicles, fanciful and historic costumes, and expensive and odd things of distinctive parade use.

The Sparks Shows have improved and grown remarkably during the last few years, and to those of us who remember its former visits comes the thought that it was always a clean, moral and entertaining show, and one we never hesitated in having our families visit. It is said that the show still retains these features that made it such a welcome visitor in the years gone by, and that its methods of doing business with the public are still of that same high order.

McCullers New Delivery Auto

L. P. McCuller wins the medal for being the most progressive business man in the city, the first to install an up to date auto delivery wagon. Mr. McCuller has a large trade and for some time has been planning to cover more territory in shorter time, and has come to the conclusion that the auto had precedence over the horse. He has a Schacht or words to that effect, and will be able to make a tour of the city and suburbs in record time.

Lend A Hand Society

The Lend A Hand Society, will meet Friday afternoon November 18th, in the Welaka Club rooms at 3 o'clock. A full attendance of the members is desired, and every young lady in the city is most urgently requested to be present. A very interesting program has been arranged for the afternoon. Miss Linda Leffler will give a Biographical sketch of Edward Everett Hale; from whose ideas the Lend A Hand Society was modeled.

Miss Igera Stout will give a sketch of "The Man Without A Country".

A Loan In Fancy.

"You won't run any risk in lending me a thousand francs. I am writing a novel that is sure to go. You know what an imagination I have." "Well, you'd better imagine that I have lent you the money then."

I Stand for a Square Deal for all the People

I stand for a decent water supply thereby lowering our present high rate of fire insurance.

I have no ill will for any man in Sanford and therefore have no mud to sling.

Friends your franchise is your personal property and the man who would seek to rule or control your vote is an enemy to good government. Vote your convictions.

Remember I am not the candidate of the politicians, but I am the Peoples' candidate.
