Lawmen, Others Under Suspicion In Missing Coke Case

A drug dealer's refusal to buy low quality cocaine from undercover agents has cast suspicion on two Brevard County police departments and alerted Seminole County investigators — who had loaned "pure" cocaine to the agents — that the drug had been cut.

The question is: Who cut the drug, when, and what happened to the portion of the coke that was not returned to the Seminole County Sheriff's Department?

Before the illicit drug was loaned to Indian Harbour Beach and Satellite Beach police for investigative work in November, 1982, the cocaine had been tested in the Sanford Crime Lab and was certified as "pure," according to sheriff's spokesman John Spolski.

But when the Brevard County agents attempted to sell the cocaine, Indian Harbour Beach police chief Fred Fernandez said, "our client tested the drug and refused to buy because he said the drug was 'low quality.'"

The drug had been in the hands of police officers since it was turned over to Brevard lawmen and this, Fernandez said, "is disappointing." The kilo of cocaine, which has a current street value of about $30,000, was borrowed from Seminole County because Indian Harbour Beach and Satellite Beach authorities did not have a bulk quantity of the drug on hand, Fernandez said.

The loaning of drugs among law enforcement agencies "is common practice," Spolski said. The cocaine in question had been taken as evidence in a Seminole County case, which had been closed, so the loss of a portion of the drug does not jeopardize that case, he said.

When drugs are borrowed by another agency, Spolski said, they are tested for purity both before they are sent out and when they return, so even if the drug dealer hadn't discovered that the cocaine had been cut, crime lab technicians would have discovered the loss when the drug was returned to Seminole authorities in December, 1983, Spolski said.

He would not say, however, what the cocaine was diluted with or how much of the drug is missing.

The Florida Department of Law Enforcement and Brevard-Seminole State Attorney Douglas Cheshire are investigating the loss of the cocaine.

"There are suspects in this case other than police officers," Cheshire said. "I can only rely on hearsay, but the cocaine may have been in the hands of informants or dealers who were out of the immediate presence of an officer. That is to say that they could have been in a different area of the same room.

"If probable cause can be determined by investigation that the parties substituted or 'stepped on' the cocaine, they will be prosecuted. If police officers are determined to be involved, they will of course also lose their certification. But that is not to say that police officers are involved," Cheshire said.

"This is not the first time this type of thing has happened," Cheshire said, "but hopefully it will be the last. This should make officials upgrade their safeguards in reverse drug buys."

Industry Seekers Defend Job Done For Seminole

At Least 2 Commissioners Favor IDC Results Probe

"The record speaks for itself," said Mid-Florida Industrial Development Commission president Roy Harris today, to criticisms leveled against the industry-seeking firm by a Sanford developer Thursday.

A.K. Shoemaker Jr., as a member of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce's Industrial Action Committee, said the Orlando-based firm is not giving Seminole County its money's worth for the thousands of dollars the county pays annually for it to attract industry here.

This year the county has allocated $70,000 to the IDC, down from last year's allocation of $85,000.

Shoemaker said the IDC favors Orlando and Orange County and leads industrial prospects as a matter of course first to Orlando Central Park and channels the lion's share of industrial revenue bonding to one specific bank in Orlando.

Harris today denied the charges. "We don't make decisions about where a company goes," he said. "Firms give us their requirements and we find a place that meets their needs, wherever it is in central Florida."

Harris said the Mid-Florida Industrial Development Commission is a private entity, not a political organization, and it does not favor one political jurisdiction over another. He said the commission's national advertising campaigns promote mid-Florida, not individual cities or counties.

Harris pointed to a list the IDC prepared for the Herald naming 17 firms planning to locate or expand in Seminole in 1983. He said IDC could take credit for a "majority" of those, but said he could not be more specific. Some of the firms, he said, may have decided to come to Central Florida on their own, or some may have been influenced by IDC advertising without the commission's knowledge.

'Firms give us their requirements and we find a place that meets their needs, wherever it is in central Florida.'

In any case, he said, "there isn't a file in this office separated by county. That's why a list like that is so hard to compile."

He added it wouldn't be good for the commission's reputation to twist the arm of new firms toward one location or another.

"We show them the entire area," he said, adding he feels criticism from certain chamber of commerce members could get "blown out of proportion."

Shoemaker Thursday suggested the chamber committee or another group like it might be able to get all or at least a part of the money the county will pay IDC this year and would do a better job.

Harris, at first refusing comment, said, "Everyone has a right to his own opinion." He also denied that the IDC channels industrial revenue bonds to a specific bank, saying, "We don't send prospects to any bank. They make their own choice."

Thursday County Commission Chairman Sandra Glenn said, "anytime business people are concerned and express that concern to us about the way county funds are being spent, my personal feeling is we should investigate those concerns."

Funding for the organization for the 84-85 period will be discussed by the commission during budget hearings in the summertime, she said.

"So there is a period of time to do that investigation and see," Mrs. Glenn said.

Commissioner Bob Sturm said he read Shoemaker's opinion.

"Now I'm ready for him to present some facts to substantiate that opinion. My personal opinion is that overall the IDC is doing the job here," Sturm said.

Commissioners Barbara Christensen and Robert G. "Bud" Feather agreed.

But Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff said he has never favored county funding for the IDC.

"I don't think we are getting a fair share of the activity," he said, adding he supports Shoemaker's comments about bringing the money back into Seminole County.

"I support a look at the whole thing and want to sit down with SCIDA (Seminole County Industrial Development Authority) to hear what kind of suggestions it has."

Shoemaker, who served on the SCIDA board for the past four years, said Thursday that it had become little more than "an arm to review industrial revenue bonds" and to channel information to the IDC of Mid-Florida. Before money was allocated to the IDC in late 1982, SCIDA had an executive director that sought out industry for the county.

"As far as I'm concerned, I'm open to suggestions on how to make this situation (with IDC and SCIDA) better, or some way to make it more efficient. If it is the consensus that IDC is doing a good job, I'm interested in why proponents think it is," Kirchhoff said.

The county commission has set a workshop for Feb. 14 to discuss the role of SCIDA and where it is going, said Assistant County Administrator Jim Easton. Easton is the county's liaison assistant to both SCIDA and the IDC.

Sanford To Weigh DER Offer; Altamonte Water Free Of EDB

The Sanford City Commission at its 7 p.m. meeting Monday will consider a proposed contract from the state Department of Environmental Regulation to pay up to $40,000 of the city's cost of providing emergency water.

Meanwhile, in Altamonte Springs, testing for EDB in nine of the city's 12 wells has turned up no contamination.

The emergency water for Sanford was necessary to forestall a shortage over the New Year's weekend because EDB contamination had required a shutdown of six city wells.

Sanford personnel at that time entered into an agreement with Frank and Patricia Stenstrom and their children for the city's temporary use of two irrigation wells to boost the city's water supply. Charges for use of the wells were to be considered later.

The DER contract offers to pay up to $40,000 of the costs of using the wells and the machinery to operate those wells.

Another project to boost its water supply — the drilling of four wells in the Hidden Lake area — ran into a snag this morning, said City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles.

The Meredith Corp. of Orlando, in its second attempt to drill the third well at the park, was stopped by a cavity of water and mud at 80 to 85 feet, Knowles said. The firm today was trying to stop up the cavity and set new casing.

Two of Sanford's wells at the Mayfair Country Club were found contaminated on Nov. 15 with EDB — ethylene dibromide, a pesticide which has caused cancer in laboratory animals. Those wells were immediately shut down and four more wells at the same well field have been found to be contaminated since and were also shut down.

In Altamonte, City Manager Phil Penland said samples of the remaining three untested wells are being taken today for analysis.

"We had the testing done to allay fears of 40 to 50 people who contacted city hall and members of the city commission about possible contamination," said Penland.

"We wanted to put the minds of our 6,500 water customers at ease," Penland said. "We didn't believe we would find any contamination."

"We no longer have any golf courses and very few orange groves in the city where EDB might have been used," Penland said.

Healthiest Expansion Since 1978

GNP Grows Moderate 4.5% In Late '83

By Denis G. Gullion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Less housing investment, exports and government crop purchases held the nation's broadest measure of economic progress — gross national product — to a moderate 4.5 percent annual growth rate in the fourth quarter, the government said Thursday.

But the slowdown from two previous quarters of much more rapid economic expansion did not prevent 1983 as a whole from seeing the healthiest expansion of the economy since 1978, growing 3.3 percent, the Commerce Department said.

The GNP number measures how much the value of all the nation's goods and services increased after the effect of inflation is subtracted.

The economic pace of the October-through-December quarter was the same as earlier projected by the department on the basis of partial data.

The strongest fourth quarter performance by consumers in 10 years kept the economic expansion from slowing even more.

Although a disappointment for the most optimistic of administration officials and well below Treasury Secretary Donald Regan's forecast of as much as 7 percent, the slowdown was in line with the deceleration typical of maturing economic recoveries.

The broad measure of inflation throughout the economy, not just for consumers, was 3.9 percent in the fourth quarter, slightly higher than the government's "implicit price deflator" in the third quarter, the report showed.

Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige told a news conference he considered the deterioration in exports the biggest negative factor. "We are importing increasing amounts" which are not counted in the GNP, he said, adding that since August "the dollar has moved even higher" so no improvement in export sales is expected in the near future.

"That same strong dollar is helping curb inflation," he said.

Lake Mary Clears Way For Road Improvement

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

The Lake Mary City Commission cleared the way Thursday night for work to progress on proposed improvements to East Road, an arterial to Seminole Community College from U.S. Highway 17-92.

The commission's action was needed to keep moneys allotted by the legislature for improvements from reverting to the state.

The road to the college, which serves 20,000 students, faculty members and residents, belongs to Lake Mary even though the college is in the city of Sanford and the road connects to a federal highway. It is tentatively planned to be expanded by the state Department of Transportation to a four-lane boulevard with accompanying north-south sidewalk and an improved intersection at 17-92.

Seminole County Engineer Bill Bush told the commission they had to make a "decision of urgency." He said when plans were formulated to improve the road and money allotted, it was not known that Lake Mary owned the thoroughfare's right of way, land the city has a right to use and claim on either side of the road. As time passed and the plans for improvement continued county personnel realized that Lake Mary's right of way had to be released and quickly or the improvements could not be made.

Bush said the allotted funds, $475,000, will revert to state coffers if all of the rights of way, those of the city and private land-owners, are not legally resolved by July 1. To shorten the amount of time needed for the city to condemn the right of way, turn over control of the right of way, and allow the planned improvements to proceed, the city commission was asked to allow the county attorney to act on the city's behalf and expedite the proceedings.

Bush asked the commission to adopt two resolutions to that effect.

City Commissioner Colin Keogh said he was concerned about ownership of the road if the city releases up its right of way and who will maintain it after it is improved. He said he wanted to know why the county came to the city asking for a release rather than the county taking it. He also questioned why the land-needed-easements to accommodate the widened road were taken more from residents on the south side of the road rather than the north side which is owned by Florida Power and Light.

Bush said the county chose not to take the road from Lake Mary because their attorney advised that it would be quicker and less "confusing to the court" if the city granted the request. He said if the city retains the road as its property, it should be maintenance-free for 10 to 15

'You're Under Arrest!'

You're walking down the street when you see a crook snatch a woman's purse and run. He's heading right for you! Quick, should you grab him and place him under arrest? In Sunday's Herald, staff writer Deane Jordan explores the dangers in Florida's citizen's arrest laws.

IN BRIEF

High Court Says No To Hospital Suicide

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The California Supreme Court, ruling the Constitution does not grant the right to commit suicide, has denied a quadriplegic woman's request to be allowed to starve to death under the care of doctors and nurses at a hospital.

The court's one-line order Thursday agreed with Riverside County authorities, who had fought Elizabeth Bouvia's wish to die at Riverside General Hospital.

Mrs. Bouvia's attorneys can still appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court or go back to the state courts for another appeal.

Mrs. Bouvia, 26, who is paralyzed with cerebral palsy, had argued that force feeding by nurses and doctors at Riverside General Hospital violated her constitutional right to privacy.

She has maintained that she no longer wants to live in a "useless" body.

Ex-Senator Enters Prison

MONTGOMERY, Pa. (UPI) — Former New Jersey Sen. Harrison Williams Jr., "fighting mad" at losing a last-minute appeal to delay the start of his three-year sentence, spent his first day in prison today for bribery in the FBI Abscam operation.

Williams, 64, once a powerful figure in the U.S. Senate, entered the minimum security Allenwood Federal Prison camp at 11:41 p.m. Thursday. His arrival, 19 minutes before a midnight deadline followed a day of last-ditch appeals in two federal courts in New York.

Williams was convicted 2½ years ago of offering to use his influence to obtain government contracts for Arab sheiks, who actually were undercover FBI agents, in return for shares in a mining venture.

Earlier Thursday, U.S. District Judge George Pratt in Uniondale, N.Y., rejected Williams' request for another stay of the jail sentence, saying there was nothing new in Williams' claim that he was a victim of entrapment.

Army Rape Victim Sues

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A female ex-soldier who was raped and then told that rape was "incident" to military service has filed suit against the government.

Betty Ann Buckmiller, 26, Seattle, was attacked by two soldiers on Nov. 21, 1982 while she was sleeping alone in an unguarded barracks at Fort Ord, Calif., where she was held after being Absent Without Leave from the Army for nine months.

Ms. Buckmiller filed an $80,000 claim against the Army for humiliation, a back injury, cut hand, bruises, broken nose, chipped tooth and other injuries.

The Army rejected her claim. Joseph Rouse, chief of the Army's general claims service, said the military cannot pay claims for injuries "incident to service."

State Of Black America

It's A 'Disaster' And Government Isn't Helping

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The economic recovery is bypassing minorities in America, and poor blacks "are buried in a depression of crushing dimensions," the National Urban League said.

Neither the Reagan administration — especially the Justice Department — nor the Congress are doing anything to turn things around either, the league said.

"The state of black Americans is a disaster," John Jacob, league president, told a news conference Thursday. "The plain ugly fact is that there is no recovery for black Americans."

Jacob made his remarks in releasing the league's annual report, The State of Black America, with chapters on blacks in the economy and "high tech" jobs, a profile of the single-female household, the potential of the black vote and the state of urban education.

"While white Americans celebrate a long-overdue economic recovery and a falling unemployment rate, black America is buried in a depression of crushing dimensions," Jacob said.

"Poor people are caught between a rock and a hard place," Jacob said. "They are squeezed out of the job market at the same time that federal employment and social service programs have been cut to the bone."

Jacob said black unemployment remains around 18 percent level, a third of black workers aged 20 to 24 are out of work, and half of all black children live in households below the poverty line.

"The black poor have been relegated to an out-of-sight, out-of-mind status in American life," he said. "Their position is worsening; their poverty is growing deeper; their desperation more intense."

Jacob sharply criticized the Justice Department and the re-created U.S. Commission on Civil Rights.

"The Justice Department, which is supposed to protect civil rights, is waging an all-out war against affirmative action, which is an important tool in creating equal opportunities," he said.

"And the civil rights commission, which is supposed to oversee federal civil rights policies, has become the captive of activists dedicated to diluting its positive impact on policies like affirmative action," he added.

But both Jacob and the report saw some hope in blacks' increasing use of the political process, particularly the candidacy of Jesse Jackson.

"Black voting power is a political reality that should force all parties and candidates to display greater sensitivity to issues that concern black people — issues like jobs, hunger, education and fairness," he said.

He also said Jackson's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination will "force to the forefront many of the issues" of concern to blacks.

States Hope To Force Cleanup

EPA Faces Suit Over Acid Rain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Five states and three environmental groups, fearful the administration will take little or no action, are threatening to sue the Environmental Protection Agency to force a cleanup of air pollution that causes acid rain.

The states — Rhode Island, Maine, New York, Minnesota and Vermont — gave the EPA formal notice this week they intend to ask a federal judge to order an emissions cleanup under the Clean Air Act.

Also involved in the case are the Sierra Club, the National Wildlife Federation and the Natural Resources Defense Council.

Under law, they must give the agency 60 days notice before filing such a lawsuit.

The action comes as President Reagan holds a White House meeting today with governors of several states especially concerned about the issue. Among those expected to attend are Illinois Gov. James Thompson, New Hampshire Gov. John Sununu and Rhode Island Gov. Joseph Garrahy. EPA Administrator William Ruckelshaus also will be there.

"People were willing to give Ruckelshaus a little breathing room, but as time goes on and it's more and more obvious the administration isn't doing anything to resolve the acid rain problem, they now want to take action," said David Gardner, spokesman for the coalition pushing the acid rain case.

Gardner, a Sierra Club official, said Thursday the states and environmental groups contend the Clean Air Act requires that when pollution from one state or group of states causes environmental damage elsewhere, the EPA must "give notice to governors of the pollution states."

EPA spokesman Rusty Brashear said the agency's lawyers were studying the case "to figure out what we have to do."

He said Ruckelshaus "still feels it would be more proper to address this issue through the legislative process, rather than through the courts."

Gardner said the coalition does not intend the lawsuit to be a substitute for congressional action to cut back sulfur dioxide emissions from coal-burning power plants and industries.

Scientific reports identify sulfur dioxide emissions as the principal cause of acid rain damage to surface waters, forests and man-made structures in the northeastern United States and southeastern Canada.

Gardner acknowledged that any court-ordered effort by EPA to force an emissions reduction would likely be tied up in federal courts for years. But he said the states and environmentalists intend to proceed with the lawsuit "as soon as possible" after the 60-day notice period ends in mid-March.

Administration officials and congressional sources said this week an air pollution cleanup program to fight acid rain is unlikely to come out of the administration this year.

Congressional sources said, however, the administration is considering a small-scale cleanup, essentially experimental in nature, that would cost no more than $1 billion.

Reagan is expected to ask Congress for about $120 million in fiscal 1985 for further research on the problem and possible ways to reduce sulfur dioxide emissions.

Family Disputes Suicide Ruling In General's Death

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (UPI) — Relatives of Maj. Gen. Robert G. Ownby say they do not believe a medical examiner's report that the general hanged himself in his Army Reserve headquarters and arranged his death to look like a terrorist execution.

Bejar County Medical Examiner Dr. Vincent Di Malo ruled Thursday that Ownby's death was a suicide, basing his decision on an investigation of the death scene, autopsy results, and an "extremely thorough" investigation by the FBI and the Army Criminal Investigation Division.

Di Malo said the FBI's investigation found evidence that Ownby was deeply in debt and could have been troubled by his financial difficulties.

But Ownby's brother, Dr. Ralph Ownby of Children's Hospital in Richmond, Va., said his family did not accept Di Malo's report.

"The total picture of Robert, his life and accomplishments, does not add up to suicide," Ownby said. "No one in the family believes it was a suicide."

"We will do everything we feel is necessary and appropriate to protect my brother's history," he said.

Ownby, 48, commander of the 90th Army Reserve Command, was found hanging in a stairwell early Jan. 11 at reserve command headquarters at Fort Sam Houston. His hands were bound behind his back with a webbed military belt.

A typed note pinned to his sweater read: "Captured, tried, convicted for crimes by the U.S. Army against the people of the world, sentenced and executed."

Death Sentence Upheld In Altamonte Murder

The Florida Supreme Court has upheld the death sentence of a Forest City man convicted in 1981 for the 1978 throat-slashing death of an Altamonte Springs convenience store clerk.

Robert Anthony Preston, 28, had appealed the sentence in the slaying of 46-year-old Earline Walker on four counts.

He was convicted of taking her from the Lil Champ store on Springs Oak Boulevard where she worked after robbing the store, cutting her throat from ear to ear, carving an "X" in her forehead and stabbing her at least 20 times.

Preston appealed, claiming that evidence used in his trial was seized in violation of his rights, the crime was not premeditated, that he was suffering from drug-induced insanity, and that the court did not take aggravating and mitigating factors into consideration during his sentencing.

The court ruled Thursday, in an opinion written by Justice James Adkins, that the evidence was not gathered in a fashion that violated Preston's rights, a substantial amount of evidence indicated premeditation on his part, and that Preston had not proved he was induced to insanity by drugs. The court also rejected the notion that Mrs. Walker did not die a cruel death because, as Preston's lawyers had claimed, she was unconscious shortly after her throat was cut.

The court said the fact that the woman had to walk several hundred feet at knife point contemplating her fate was sufficient evidence to prove anguish, terror and fear on her part.

BURGLARIES

George E. Hill, 45, of 1225 McNorton Road, Altamonte Springs, reported that someone broke into his house and took a stereo, television, video recorder, two tapes, and frozen food, valued at $1,700.

The theft occurred between 12:01 a.m. and 5:33 p.m. Wednesday, according to a Seminole County sheriff's report.

Thomas J. Burns, 35, of 6235 Bear Lake Terrace, Apopka, reported that someone entered his home through a rear bedroom window and took six football jerseys, a portable radio, an answering machine and a piggy bank full of change, valued at $270.

The break-in occurred around 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, a sheriff's report said.

David Carlyle Godwin, 36, of 757 Kyle Court, Chuluota, reported that someone broke his kitchen window, entered his house and took a semi-automatic handgun, 14 rounds of ammunition and a telephone, valued at $850.

The break-in occurred between 7:35 a.m. and 6:15 p.m. Wednesday, a sheriff's report said.

Someone entered the unlocked garage of a house under construction at 601 Tollgate Branch, Longwood, and took building materials valued at $245. Property owner Michael F. Miller said the theft occurred Tuesday or Wednesday, a sheriff's report said.

Sheran M. Turner, 26, of Altamonte Springs, reported that someone broke into her vacant mobile home on Miller Road, broke a window, damaged a fire alarm and carpet, and took a $100 drill.

The burglary occurred between Sunday and Wednesday, a sheriff's report said.

Gerald W. Brown, 51, of 8929 Via Hermosa, Sanford, reported that fans, carpet, a microwave oven and other items valued at $2,920 were taken from his unoccupied house at 800 Murray Court, Sanford, Monday or Tuesday. The thief entered the house through a bedroom window and did an estimated $400 damage to the home, a sheriff's report said.

A thief broke the rear window of a construction site trailer at Fernbrook Avenue and Howell Branch Road, Casselberry, between 4:35 p.m. Monday and 7:30 a.m. Tuesday. William R. Schrader, 53, of Deltona, reported that a calculator, a crowbar and door hardware, which are the property of Overland Real Estate, Altamonte Springs, were taken.

Tools and a stereo equalizer valued at $300 were reported missing from the unlocked car of Charles D. Carter, 33, of 1930 W. 15th St., Sanford. James A. Stephens, 42, of 2340 Broadway, Sanford, reported to sheriff's deputies that the theft occurred at his house around 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Dolores Terrell, 29, of 2501 Bird Road, Sanford, reported that someone entered her house through the kitchen door Monday or Tuesday and took video games valued at $234 from her kitchen table, a sheriff's report said.

Joseph P. Bellino, 39, of 102 Romney Marsh Road, Longwood, reported that someone entered his garage sometime Sunday and took tools valued at $210. The garage door was unlocked, a sheriff's report said.

POT BUST

A Winter Springs man and a Maitland man, arrested by undercover drug agents, are being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $5,000 bond each.

Members of the sheriff's drug task force said they made contact with the suspects at the 7-11 store on Winter Springs Boulevard, Winter Springs, around 5 p.m. Wednesday.

One of the suspects allegedly offered to sell the agents two bags of marijuana, one for $20 and one for $35. After the officers bought the $20 bag from one of the men, who turned the cash and the remaining marijuana over to his partner, the first suspect was arrested.

David Lowell Osburn, 21, of 1155 Duncan Drive, Winter Springs, was charged with possession of a controlled substance, sale of a controlled substance, and possession with intent to sell a controlled substance.

The second suspect, Jeb Scott Martin, 19, of 144 Roann Drive, Maitland, reportedly tried to flee but was captured at the scene and faces the same charges as Osburn. The officers found two additional bags of marijuana in Martin's possession when he was searched, a sheriff's report said.

FUME SNIFFER

An 18-year-old Apopka man, who fled from and fought a sheriff's deputy who spotted him allegedly sniffing paint fumes from a plastic bread bag is being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Deputy Rafael Toledo reported that a juvenile who had allegedly been beaten by the suspect who took his bicycle Monday, tipped the deputy off to the suspect's location in the woods behind Publix in Hunt Club Corners, State Road 436, Longwood, at about 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Toledo approached the suspect, who according to the deputy's report, was sitting beneath a tree holding a plastic bag to his face. When the officer approached, the man ran and tried to hide.

Toledo said he ordered the suspect to "freeze," and when the man continued to run he drew his gun and chased him through the woods. Toledo found the man hiding behind a tree and arrested him. But after he was handcuffed, the suspect allegedly kicked the deputy in the shin several times and tried to escape. The deputy forced the suspect to the ground and held him there until other officers arrived to help transport the suspect to jail, the deputy's report said.

John Hampton Meatols Jr. of 2204 Deanna Drive, is charged with inhalation of a harmful chemical, resisting an officer with violence and resisting arrest with violence.

A Winter Springs man who was stopped for running a red light on State Road 434 in Longwood posted $500 bond and was released from jail after being charged with possession of a firearm, in addition to the traffic charge.

A Longwood officer said that after stopping the man, he spotted a semi-automatic Walther PPK handgun on the front seat of the car. The officer confiscated the weapon which was loaded and had a live round in the chamber, a police report said.

Joey Vito Huddleston, 38, of 624 Silver Creek Drive, was arrested at 1:06 a.m. Thursday in the parking lot of The Cellar on State Road 434, Longwood.

BOAT BURGLARY

A Lakeland man had his boat burglarized while it was at the Sanford Marina.

Aaron B. Curts, of 5120 Lakeview Blve, Lakeland, told police that between 6:45 p.m. Jan. 11 and 10:15 p.m. Wednesday, someone burglarized his boat and removed $345 worth of items.

According to the police report, taken was a pair of binoculars, a .22-caliber rifle, a flashlight, and a bottle of banana liqueur. Also, the cabin door and lock was damaged, the report said.

CONSTRUCTION THEFT

Albert S. Mair, 40, of 616 E. Orange Ave., Altamonte Springs, reported that someone took $880 worth of building materials from the driveway of a house he is building at 1721 Overlook Drive, Longwood. The theft occurred Tuesday of Wednesday, a sheriff's report said.

EQUIPMENT THEFT

Doug Presly, 57, of 2209 Cordova Drive, Sanford, reported that someone removed two cables, four 6-volt batteries, a water keg and a coat, with a total value of $197, from a Seminole County road grader which was parked at Midway Elementary School, Sanford, Tuesday or Wednesday, a sheriff's report said.

MOTORS MISSING

Robert A. Firth Jr., 57, of 400 Raymond Ave., Sanford, reported that three outboard boat motors valued at $2,840 were removed from a shed in his yard Tuesday or Wednesday, a sheriff's report said.

DUI ARRESTS

The following person has been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence: —John Allen Shrewsbury, 18, of 2517 Yale Ave., Sanford, was arrested at 1:40 a.m. Thursday on State Road 436 in Casselberry, after witnesses traced him from the scene of a hit-and-run traffic accident on State Road 436 at Howell Branch Road. He was arrested in a parking lot about two miles from the scene of the accident, according to a Florida Highway Patrol report. The suspect was arrested by a Casselberry policeman who spotted his car after hearing about the accident, the FHP report said.

Shrewsbury is being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $500 bond.

FIRE CALLS

The Sanford Fire Department responded to the following fire calls:

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Deadly arctic air spread sub-zero temperatures from the Rockies to New York today, prompting operators of shelters for the homeless to grimly proclaim a "second winter for poor people." Grain aboard barges stuck in the frozen Mississippi River appeared lost until spring and ice jams flooded Ohio. The second major cold wave of the winter of 1983-84 has been blamed for at least 22 deaths, including four in Utah and Delaware, three in Pennsylvania, two in Maine, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Wisconsin and one each in Missouri, Illinois and Nebraska. Warroad and International Falls, Minn. were minus 31 degrees today and 30-mph winds around the Great Lakes made it feel just as cold to the south. Low temperature records were set in 11 cities Thursday, with readings bottoming out at 42 below in Gunnison, Colo.

AREA READINGS (9 a.m.): temperature: 46; overnight low: 46; Thursday's high: 71; barometric pressure: 30.12; relative humidity: 97 percent; winds: north at 12 mph; rain: .78 inch; sunrise: 7:18 a.m., sunset: 5:55 p.m.

SATURDAY TIDES: Daytona Beach: highs, 10:12 p.m., 10:44 p.m.; lows, 3:37 a.m., 4:19 p.m.; Port Canaveral: highs, 10:13 a.m., 10:36 p.m.; lows, 3:28 a.m., 4:10 p.m.; Baysport: highs, 2:31 a.m., 4:04 p.m.; lows, 9:41 a.m., 9:43 p.m.

AREA FORECAST: Mostly cloudy, breezy and quite cool today with a high in upper 50s to mid 60s. Wind northerly 15 to 20 mph. Tonight cloudy, breezy and cold with a 40 percent chance of rain. Low upper 40s to mid 50s. Wind northerly 15 to 20 mph. Saturday cloudy, breezy and cold with a 70 percent chance of rain. High mid 50s to low 60s.

BOATING FORECAST: St. Augustine to Jupiter Inlet out 50 miles — A small craft advisory remains in effect. Wind northerly 20 to 25 knots through Saturday. Seas 6 to 10 feet. Cloudy with a chance of rain.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Aquino Panel To Call First Lady Imelda Marcos

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — First Lady Imelda Marcos will be called by the panel probing the slaying of Benigno Aquino to testify on reports she warned the opposition political leader of death threats a month before he was shot, an official said today.

"There is no way we can avoid to have the First Lady testify," said Andres Narvasa, special prosecutor with the commission named by President Ferdinand Marcos to review all aspects of the Aug. 21 assassination of Aquino.

Mrs. Marcos, effectively the most powerful woman in the Philippines, was reported to have met with Aquino three times in New York over the past year, the last time in July.

Published reports said Mrs. Marcos warned Aquino, her husband's chief political rival, not to return to Manila because of threats against his life by administration loyalists over whom the regime had no control.

U.S. Denies Copter Claim

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (UPI) — A U.S. military spokesman denied a Honduran colonel's statement that an American helicopter shot down by Sandinista soldiers last week was flying to a town 200 yards from the Nicaraguan border.

The pilot, Chief Warrant Officer Jeffrey Schwab, was killed Jan. 11 in a hail of bullets from soldiers of Nicaragua's leftist Sandinista government who had forced the OH-58 observation craft to land 200 yards inside Honduras near Cifuentes, 84 miles east of Tegucigalpa.

Two U.S. Army engineers aboard the helicopter escaped unharmed.

The statement by the colonel contradicted the U.S. version that the helicopter was flying to an airstrip at El Aguacate, 25 miles from the border, when it inadvertently strayed into Nicaraguan territory.

'Corrupt' Officials Held

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI) — Nigeria's new military rulers arrested some 400 public officials suspected of corruption, including 14 state governors, and seized millions of dollars from their residences, officials said.

Lagos radio reported Thursday that 462 officials of the overthrown civilian government of President Shehu Shagari were rounded up under a decree allowing detention of those suspected of economic sabotage or security offenses for three months without being charged.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

24 Indian Nationals Enter Florida Illegally

MIAMI (UPI) — Twenty-four Indian nationals who paid smugglers $1,000 each for passage to Florida in a speedboat built for eight are in a refugee detention camp today where authorities say they will be questioned.

An immigration official said the aliens may be only the first of many Indian nationals planning try to enter the United States illegally through the Bahamas.

The 24 Indians, believed from Bombay, and two Bahamian men who operated the boat are being held at Miami's Krome Processing Center, which also houses 408 other illegal aliens, an Immigration and Naturalization Service spokesman said.

Immigration and Naturalization Service spokesman George Waldroup said 74 other Indian nationals who tried illegal entry are being held at Krome.

Unitary Tax Debated

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Opponents of Florida's new unitary system for corporate taxes say the state will fall far short in collecting the anticipated $95 million from it.

Business representatives also told a special state commission Wednesday that the unitary approach is unfair and will hamper Florida's economic growth.

On the other side of the issue, a tax specialist representing several other states said the unitary system is a good tool for Florida to ensure corporations are not shielding profits from state taxes by transferring them to out-of-state or overseas parent firms.

'Get Married Or Go To Jail'

TAVARES (UPI) — A man on probation on a cattle rustling charge was told he could go to prison for breaking a Florida law barring unmarried men and women from living together.

Officials of the Florida Department of Corrections Thursday told Scott Glenn Auckland, 20, he must marry his live-in girlfriend, move out of the home they share or go to prison for violating his probation.

Probation officer John Peach said he intends to carry out the law that has been on state lawbooks since 1888.

Sanford Workers To Take Defensive Driving Course

Sixty Sanford city employees, who operate city vehicles, will participate in a defensive driving course Feb. 6-14 at either the city hall or the police department.

The eight-hour workbook, lecture and film course will be taught by the Central Florida Safety Council, Personnel Officer Francie Wynaidsa said.

"It's a mandatory course and an insurance requirement," Ms. Wynaidsa said, to encourage safe driving habits and defensive driving.

Against Terrorist Attacks

U.S. Ships, Diplomats On 'High Alert'

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — American diplomats stepped up measures to protect themselves today from a new wave of terrorist killings in Beirut and U.S. warships off Lebanon reportedly went on higher alert against possible suicide attacks.

The assassination of Malcolm Kerr, president of the American University of Beirut, caused the already-cautious U.S. Embassy staff to strictly observe security measures, an American diplomat said Thursday.

Kerr, 52, was slain near his campus office Wednesday by two unidentified killers using silencer-equipped pistols. The university planned to receive mourners today and Saturday.

Islamic Jihad, or Holy War, claimed it killed Kerr and said in a telephone call that Hussein Farraj, the Saudi Arabian consul kidnapped Tuesday, would be executed after an Islamic trial.

In a related development, U.S. Middle East envoy Donald Rumsfeld was to arrive in Beirut today from Rome, where he met with Prime Minister Bettino Craxi and senior Italian officials.

Rumsfeld reportedly was briefed on Italy's plan to withdraw 620 troops from the multinational peace-keeping force by the end of the month, leaving 1,500 Italian troops in Beirut.

American diplomats have been following tight security since a suicide driver rammed an explosives-packed truck into the Embassy in Beirut last April, killing 63 people. Islamic Jihad took responsibility for that attack and other bombings of U.S. and French targets in the Middle East.

"We are more conscious than we have been previously of the need to follow measures prescribed by security people for personal safety," a U.S. diplomat, who requested anonymity, said.

No official warning, however, was given to the estimated 5,000 U.S. citizens in Lebanon.

American diplomats are instructed to avoid public places, stay indoors at night, vary their routes and watch for anyone tailing them.

In Tel Aviv, Israel television reported Thursday night that 6th Fleet warships off Lebanon had gone on "high alert" against kamikaze air attacks. Israel TV's correspondent, who monitors radio broadcasts, gave no details on what prompted the alert.

In Washington, officials refused comment on the report.

American officials have said the Navy maintains a 24-hour radar scan to guard the 6th Fleet, following threats against the ships by Islamic militants.

The U.S. Marines, victims of an October suicide bombing attack by the Islamic Jihad group, fired on a jeep Thursday that ignored warnings as it approached their airport base, disabling the vehicle but not harming the two Lebanese technicians inside, an American spokesman said.

South and east of the Marine base, Lebanese army units came under brief artillery and rocket attack from Druze Moslem rebels in the Shouf mountains, state-run Beirut radio said. No casualties were reported.

...Lake Mary Clears Way For East Road Improvements

years. Bush said it was also possible for the county to want to take the road after it has been improved with the state money.

"There is no clear answer on that," Bush said.

Bush also said that it was "regrettable" the proposed easement for the improved road ran close to the residences on the road, in one case within 15 feet of a home, than the property used for a high-power line. He said it was easier to get the necessary easement approvals from the private homeowners than from the utility company.

The commission approved both requests with 4-1 votes. Keogh said he voted against the resolutions because the county decided to take the easement land from the private homeowners in Lake Mary rather than the power company because that was the easier way to get the needed space.

The commission also decided to tighten its ordinance regarding who must have bonds to build within the city and who can waive the bonds.

In the past, according to Mayor Walter Sorenson, the city's building official had the authority to waive "performance" and "maintenance" bond asked of subdivision builders to guarantee they would finish a project and maintain its roads and utility services for two years.

While the building official had waived such bonds in the past, the council never exercised the provision, Sorenson said. The commission voted 4-1 to remove that authority from the building official, place it exclusively with the council, and to enforce the ordinance equally. City commissioner Harry Terry voted against the motion because he said there was no proof the council ever issued a waiver to a developer to forgo a bond.

On another issue, the commission did a step forward and then an about face regarding the issuance of an exclusive right of a business to collect garbage in the city.

As the commission discussed the issue, already deciding that if approved the exclusive franchise would be for one year only and just pertain to residential areas, the city's current refuse collector, Better Garbage of Lake Mary, citing that other companies had become interested in garbage collection in Lake Mary, asked that his request for the exclusive franchise be withdrawn. The commission, divided on the issue, agreed and discontinued deliberation leaving the issue at status quo — one company collecting without an exclusive franchise.

Three other companies besides the current collector expressed an interest in obtaining an exclusive franchise to collect the garbage.

In other action the commission decided to lift its mandatory water use restrictions, listened to the sixth installment of the city's plan to build its own water treatment plant, and changed the time the council will meet in the future from 8 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. with workshop meetings beginning at 7 p.m. when needed.

The commission also voted to pay themselves on the last payday of each month rather than on the first day of each month. The move was to accommodate the city's computerized payment system. The mayor receives $200 a month and the commissioners $125.

Dirtball Castro's Dream

Fidel Castro — or bolla de churre: "dirtball," as he used to be known, harangued Communists, government officials and veterans at Santiago for the 25th anniversary of his Cuban revolution.

He told them Latin American revolution is "inevitable" and the United States cannot prevent it.

Good!

If a wave of real revolution rolls across Latin America, it will sweep Castro into history's trashbin.

Castro has been running Cuba as a Communist dictatorship all this time.

The country has a critical housing shortage and a critical food shortage.

It is rationing meat, rice and other staples. Here is a mostly agricultural country and it can barely feed its own people.

The outlook is not favorable. Other Communist countries including the Soviet Union, Poland and China have the same problem.

The Soviet Union pours some $4 billion a year of aid into Cuba. In return, Castro supplies young Cubans as cannon fodder for Communist military expansion overseas, in Africa and the Middle East, in Nicaragua and El Salvador.

Castro also exports revolution wherever he can in the Americas.

His henchmen train terrorists, spies, agitators, subverters, military base construction crews, advisors and troops.

Not many of Castro's supporters of the days when he seized control of Cuba from the ruling dictator, Fulgencio Batista, are still around.

Many fled the country when he turned Communist.

It's possible no one will ever know how many Cubans were killed by Castro forces in mass executions or how many were imprisoned, or how many are still in prison.

It is estimated that more than 700,000 persons escaped from Cuba in the years after Castro took control.

That is about one-twelfth of the population.

You might think with that many fewer mouths to feed and people to house, there would be enough necessities to provide for the rest.

But there were not and there are not.

When you realize what kind of people, for the most part, left, then you realize what kind of people, for the most part, stayed.

Those who left were independent-minded, freedom-loving, individualistic, ambitious, go-getters, people with too much gumption to live under a dictatorship.

Castro wound up with mostly docile, controllable, submissive types — plus, of course, their keepers, the police and military, officials and indoctrinators.

He did ship cargoes of criminal scum — rapists, gangsters, dope traffickers — to the United States in the last wave of emigration.

No doubt revolutions will continue to sweep Latin America as they have during the last and present centuries.

There will be many major changes — redistribution of land and growth of self-government.

Castro-types will strive, as they are now, to shape the revolutions and control them so that the countries end up like Cuba, especially animal farms, nation-size company towns badly run by a self-appointed elite, the masses conditioned to play the role of human livestock in the ruler's fantasies come true.

But there are always the freedom-fighters. When they decide that they can no longer risk delay, they will fight. That will be the day of reckoning. That will be the real revolution.

BERRY'S WORLD

"We recommend adopting a traditional liberal policy toward Central America — 'THROW MONEY AT IT!'"

By Deane Jordan

The League of Women Voters of Seminole County has produced a pamphlet called the Newcomer's Guide to Seminole County.

It is a synopsis of the services available within the county and their locations, such as libraries, parks, and fire stations.

Public school information includes admission requirements, such as immunization.

The new-to-the-area will find in the folded one-sheet publication where to get a driver's license and license plates. A small section also explains where to find other service organizations, such as the mental health center and the Central Florida Migrant and Community Health Center. There's even a section for those unaccustomed to the commissioner type of government to learn how the county's governing structure is organized.

For the long-time Seminole County resident, the pamphlet provides a convenient list of emergency and often-called telephone numbers from Animal Control to Welfare and all of the emergency numbers for the county and various cities' fire and police units.

For more information, the League of Women Voters of Seminole County can be contacted at 869-5881, or 899-6586.

Former State Representative Dick Batchelor testified Thursday before a Florida House Committee considering the issue of child abuse.

Batchelor spoke on behalf of the Child Abuse Task Force of Greater Orlando, which has a large membership from Seminole County, according to Cynthia Gross, director of community relations for the Greater Orlando Crime Prevention Association. Batchelor presented some recommendations made during the task force's Child Abuse Think Tanks I and II sessions.

Think tank participants, area leaders in the child abuse intervention system, recommended stronger child abuse legislation, streamlined interviewing procedures for abused children and increased funding for their psychological services and more training for the judges, prosecutors, and law enforcement officers who deal with child abuse cases.

While the cause is admirable — and Seminole County is handling the problem well, Gross said — the headline on the news release about the speech must have been written with a wry smile. It reads:

Batchelor to testify before select committee on children and youth.

The recent word from the Better Business Bureau of Central Florida is, don't get swept under the rug when buying carpeting.

Winter, according to the bureau, is the traditional time to buy carpeting which goes on sale, and they have issued several plush hints on how to get the best for your dollar.

The bureau suggests that high-traffic areas in your home be carpeted with a material that is easy to clean and durable. They recommend a quality wool, acrylic or nylon fiber for those well-used spots. For other areas, such as the bedroom which bears less traffic, a less durable and inexpensive carpeting such as rayon can be used.

If you are buying on price alone, they say consider the future use of your home. For example, if you plan on living in your home for many years, wall-to-wall carpeting often is the best buy. However, if you plan on moving during the next three to five years, area rugs or room-size rugs are less expensive and probably can be moved to your next home.

According to the bureau, carpet fibers are important to the life of the floor covering.

Wool is the most expensive but it offers qualities such as ease of cleaning, long wear and resistance to soiling. Acrylics are similar to wool in appearance and they wear and clean well. Rayon is inexpensive but not as durable. Nylon is easy to clean and wears well but it can generate static electricity if a metallic fiber is not included in the pile.

As always, the bureau suggests you get all agreements in writing before you buy.

Election Year Basics

As the nation enters an election year, public attention will be focused on the elements in political decision-making. The major media, one can be sure, will discuss in detail the amount of money being raised by the candidates. This is understandable, for the money devoted to political causes makes for interesting stories. However, money is not the principal determinant of political success.

Liberals understand this better than conservatives. While money is an ingredient of success, especially in an age of television campaigning, it isn't the most important factor. Indeed, conservatives could make a politically fatal mistake this year if they judge their campaigns on the basis of the amount of money raised.

The real key to political success at any level is the identification and registration of sympathetic voters. Money, after all, doesn't vote; people vote. Unions are very aware of this. And while the leaders of unions have had a hard time in recent years in getting members to vote as the leadership wishes, they are correct in focusing on registration and on getting people to the polls. This year, white collar unions such as the National Education Association, the teacher's union, will be busy registering voters. A wide variety of special interest political groups will be similarly involved. Proponents of a nuclear freeze have decided to shift from applying pressure to incumbent members of Congress to helping elect new members of Congress who will do their bidding and vote for one or another version of unilateral disarmament. Fringe groups also plan to be politically active.

The liberals are expert at harnessing the special interest groups that have a single issue focus, enlisting the support of zealots for their cause.

Historically, conservative voters haven't turned out in force. Many prospective conservatives don't bother to register, or they leave the voting to others. If they had turned out in the past, much of the liberal-left legislation now on the books would not have been enacted into law. Many conservative voters also think they have done their duty when they have written a check for a conservative candidate. Businessmen are especially guilty of this. No one is elected by means of a check, however. For conservatives to win in 1984, it will be necessary for sympathetic voters to devote time to basic political work — to identifying conservative voters, to persuading them to register and getting them to the polls.

His Sin: Save Taxpayers Money

WASHINGTON — Robert Reilly was a top official at the U.S. Information Agency until he committed an unpardonable sin: He tried to save the taxpayers some money.

This seemed to offend a congressional aide who handles the USIA's budget. Reilly's superior, Charles Wick, feared that antagonizing the aide might imperil the budget that provides USIA with daily manna. To placate the aide, Wick banished poor Reilly to a lowly outpost. Discouraged, the taxpayers' hero left.

The whole byzantine affair centered on a junket to Australia; such things are important in Washington. Here are the dreary details:

The man who wanted to go to Australia was Spencer Oliver, who earned a footnote in history as the politico whose phone at the Democratic Party headquarters was tapped by the Watergate burglars.

Oliver also had a telephone set up at the American Council of Young Political

How Much Hunger?

NEW YORK (NEA) — Ham is forever associated with eggs; robins are inextricably linked to spring; and "hunger" settles like a vast fog over America — during Republican administrations — as Election Day approaches.

To a Democratic Party largely deprived of the economic issues on which it had hoped to run in 1984, and uneasily aware that foreign policy is an extremely risky substitute, "hunger" is a positive godsend. Simply by raising the subject, the Democrats can put the administration on the defensive and force it to attempt the near-impossibility of proving a negative: that "there is no hunger in America."

The only thing any administration can honestly say on that subject is that, on the basis of the welfare programs that have been in place for many years, there ought to be no hunger in America. Every person at or below the poverty level in this country, and many others well above it, qualify for all sorts of federally financed assistance: food stamps, Medicaid, legal advice and out-and-out welfare checks, not to mention more broadly available benefits, such as extended unemployment compensation.

Despite which, in a nation of 226 million people, there are, of course, a good many individual instances of serious undernourishment. In cities like New York, a sizable proportion of those qualified for federal aid are either alcoholics (like the famous Bowery bums) who aren't interested unless the aid is readily convertible into booze, or ex-mental patients incapable of complying with the relatively simple bureaucratic steps necessary to claim their handouts.

It is in helping such people that private charities move in and take up an important part of the slack. Federal aid programs are rightly required by law to make reasonably sure that the aid goes to qualified recipients. That requires at least a modicum of cooperation from the individual in question: answering questions about his income, perhaps even making a legitimate effort to find work, etc. A far-gone alcoholic or a borderline schizophrenic may not be able, and certainly isn't often inclined, to go through that sort of hassle if he knows of a church-supported soup kitchen nearby that will feed him without asking any questions whatever. Without the efforts of such private groups, there is no question that a certain number of Americans would die of undernourishment and/or exposure, despite everything a solicitous federal government could reasonably be expected to do for them.

That is why President Reagan, knowing of all the federal programs in place and yet aware of the Democratic charges about "hunger in America," appointed a blue-ribbon commission to look into the matter and try to get at the facts. The commission has now reported, treating the matter with the seriousness it deserves and stressing how difficult it is to nail down a charge so nebulous. It condemns the government — including this administration — of any imputation of callousness or indifference, but acknowledges that we have, as a society, nonetheless not yet succeeded in eradicating hunger altogether.

That hardly served the purposes of the Democratic Party.

Raw Milk Bad News For Kids

By United Press International
Raw milk, considered by some to be a health food, can be contaminated by bacteria that are particularly dangerous to young children who have less resistance to infection than adults.

The American Academy of Pediatrics says there is increasing evidence of illness and death associated with unpasteurized milk products. The doctors' organization has asked the federal government to prohibit interstate shipment and marketing of raw milk.

The academy said the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta reports cases of salmonellosis associated with drinking raw milk in Vermont, California, Colorado, Arizona, Georgia, Kansas, Maine and Oregon.

An incident in Vermont involved eight people, age 10 months to 60 years, who suffered diarrhea, cramps and fever after drinking unpasteurized milk.

James Bond is a major folk hero of our time, a Canadian anthropologist says.

Lee Drummond, associate professor at McGill University in Montreal, said James Bond movies are part of an "American Dreamtime" — a mythological epoch in which everyday life yields to the secret appeal of a dream life of final causes and questions.

Although the movie character possesses enough aggressiveness and pride to make him a permanent outcast, he oddly places his deadly talents at the service of the state, Drummond said in presenting a cultural analysis of Bond to a recent American Anthropological Association annual meeting.

"Much of the appeal of Bond movies lies in Bond successfully eluding, or short-circuiting, machines that are lethal killers which often succeed in destroying his friends," Drummond said.

But Bond is a winner — not beated at his own game, he said.

People with mild high blood pressure may be able to avoid taking pills by merely placing adhesive patches containing a week's supply of a drug to their chest or upper arm.

A study of 20 patients at the Veterans Administration Medical Center in Long Beach, Calif., showed that the drug clonidine, which passes slowly through the skin, was able to control high blood pressure in 12 patients.

According to a report in the British medical journal Lancet, when similar patches not containing the drug were tried later on those 12 patients, blood pressure slowly rose to its pre-treatment level.

an escort to accompany the delegates and so notified ACYPL.

If the delegates had needed a translator and Oliver could have fulfilled that function, Reilly indicated, USIA might have approved the expense. But Reilly solemnly noted that English is spoken in Australia.

Since Oliver was a Democrat, his travel wishes should have been of small consequence to the Reagan administration. But Washington is a city of interlocking connections. Rep. Dante Fascell, D-Fla., is chairman of the Helsinki Commission, where Oliver works. He is also chairman of the subcommittee that oversees USIA's budget.

Fascell was the model of propriety in this whole sideshow. But a busy congressman doesn't always know what is done in his name.

The subcommittee aide who handles USIA matters for Fascell is Virginia Schlundt. She placed a call to the deputy director of USIA and, according to one account, "chewed him out for half an hour." The substance of her complaint was that Reilly had made a serious mistake, that Oliver should go to Australia and that Reilly should be fired.

In the end, Oliver went to Australia but used ACYPL's funds. Wick grouched that Reilly had used bad judgment when he rejected Oliver's trip request. "I need Dante Fascell," the USIA director later confessed to a group of congressional aides. "He's too important to our budget."

After a brief period in the USIA's doghouse, Reilly left the agency. But the final chapter was written in a highly sensitive USIA memo, which my associate Dale Van Aita has obtained.

The memo charges that most of the Democrats sent abroad by ACYPL from 1978 to 1982 were from "a definable clique that was active in Democratic Party affairs in the 1960s (who served as the core of the Young Democrats."

Don't Kill Plants With Kindness

Frank J. Jasa

County Extension Director
323-2500
Ext. 112

Since there isn't much that can be done with outdoor plants for the next few weeks, we can turn our attention to the indoors. If you were the lucky recipient of a dish garden, potted flower or foliage plant this Christmas, you are probably wondering how you should care for your "living" gift.

Most "indoor growers" have the tendency to literally kill their plants with kindness. Then there is the minority who will not give adequate care and the plants will gradually lose their original attractive appearance.

Over-watering and over-fertilization often cause more problems than a lack of those essentials for plant growth. Keep the following ideas in mind and your plants can be with you for many years.

First of all, there is no such thing as a house plant that is a plant intended to grow inside a home, office or other building. When plants are grown indoors, several restrictions are imposed upon them. Lack of sufficient light and low humidity are probably the most severe restrictions, but temperatures can also be a problem.

Many foliage plants prefer a relatively strong, filtered or diffused light. Places near windows or light fixtures are usually suitable, but avoid direct sunlight or very dark areas of the home.

Flowering plants such as mums and poinsettias require more light than foliage plants and should be placed in bright areas.

Improper watering is one of the chief causes of failure with plants in the home, especially for containers which do not have drainage holes. Generally speaking, once a week. Water only when necessary and don't let the pots stand in saucers of water unless the plants are very tolerant to excess water. Over-watering can kill the plant roots and increase chance of disease and eventually kill the entire plant.

Most plants grow well in temperatures of 60 to 70 degrees. Don't place the plants in drafty location where sudden changes in temperature occur. Do not place plants close to radiators and keep them away from air conditioner vents.

Proper fertilization is another important part of growing healthy plants. Follow all the directions on the container so that you don't over fertilize your plants. Too much fertilizer may eventually kill your plants.

Watch for the common symptoms of foliage plant troubles which are as follows: Brown tips or burned margin of leaves — caused by too much fertilizer, plants dried out temporarily, or windburn if plants are outside the house. Yellowing and dropping of leaves — can be caused by gas fumes, chilling, over-watering, or poor drainage and poor aeration. Weak growth or light green or yellow leaves — indicate too intense light, lack of fertilizer or a poor root system. Wilting — too much heat, lack of water, or root injury. Spindly growth and small leaves — too little light or too high temperatures.

Follow the above tips and give your plants some "tender loving care" and they should stay with you a long time.

All Extension Programs are open to anyone regardless of race, color, sex or national origin.

Sanford Fashions Debut As 'First' Aboard 'Star'

By Doris Dietrich
PEOPLE Editor

Light and airy spring fashions made a big splash and waves, too, Wednesday during the Star of Sanford's luncheon cruise.

A "first" for the luxury cruise ship since it docked at its home port on Lake Monore in Sanford waters in November, the fashion show will not be the last.

Under the direction of fashion expert Gilda Chacey of Sanford, formerly of Syracuse, N.Y., the luncheon-fashion shows will be an added attraction every Wednesday aboard the ship. Boutiques throughout Central Florida will take their turns showing off their collections in future shows.

Although fashion today reflects the world with its bewildering diversity and offbeat styles including London's "punk look," long capes, suspenders over T-shirts, black boots, white sneakers, 1940s men's hair styles and bizarre makeup, this influence was left in some faraway place Wednesday.

Mary-Esther's of Sanford made history as the first shoppe to present a floating parade of fashions on "The Star."

Store manager Betty Stokes selected the elegance of traditional modes, mainly, to the delight of more than 200 passengers as vivacious and well-dressed models, Jean Clontz, Bill Gielow, Bonnie Schumacher and Diddle Weber, talked about their lovely attire while they floated from table to table.

The applause, sparked with a shrill whistle or two, was loud and lively. The passengers loved it.

Daytime dresses stole the show with a few casual outfits adding to the total look of the fashion picture. Bonnie Schumacher received an extra round of applause when she appeared in a short print nightshirt clutching a big stuffed Teddy Bear.

And a pretty girl is not without a melody. The band struck up a medley of appropriate musical numbers that brought about a lot of singing, dancing and toe-tapping from the happy-go-lucky cruisers.

The passenger list included two busloads from out-of-town and Minnie Kane said she had about 80 in her party from the Sanford Wednesday afternoon dance group.

Ann and Guy Allen from Donnybrook, N.D., were among the luncheon passengers who appeared to be genuinely enjoying themselves. Guy is a former postmaster of Sanford, and Ann is a retired Sanford school teacher.

Just about everybody aboard the ship got into the fun act including 79-year-old Peter J. Bukur of Sanford who performed some mighty fancy legwork on the dance floor.

And the fashion show-luncheon cruise even took on shades of "Love Boat." Two senior citizens probably didn't catch much of the show. They were too carried away holding hands and seemed to have eyes only for each other.

All eyes are on Diddle Weber in a silky pink daytime dress — perfect for the warm weather ahead.

Give Lonely Kids A Lift

DEAR ABBY: I was touched by the letter from "Childless and Hurting," the young woman who was unable to bear children and whose husband refused to adopt.

I have a suggestion for her. While it may not fully satisfy her longing for motherhood, she could become a "Big Sister" to a young girl who needs a one-to-one relationship with an emotionally mature and stable woman.

The Big Brothers/Big Sisters of America is an agency that presently serves some 100,000 children from one-parent homes. Through a careful screening process, children who need positive role models are matched with responsible adults who agree to spend from 3 to 6 hours a week with them for at least a year.

With nearly 12 million children in the United States growing up in one-parent homes, the number of children in need of a positive role model far exceeds the number of adult volun-

I noticed he was wearing a tiny gold earring in his left ear, so I asked, "What's with the earring?"

He told me that as a very young man he had been in the Merchant Marines. During that time he crossed the equator, making him eligible to join a club exclusively for sailors who had crossed the equator.

He said as part of the initiation ceremony, every man had his left earlobe pierced so he could wear a tiny gold earring to identify him as a member of that club.

How true is that story? Or is there a chance that he is gay?

Pringle Provides Lift As Tribe Slams Rams

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Lake Mary coach Bill Moore said if his team held Dieldre Hillery under 10 points and if the Lady Rams had a little luck they had a good chance of upsetting Sanford's Lady Seminoles.

The Lady Rams did hold Hillery under 10 points, but if it wasn't for bad luck, the Rams wouldn't have had any at all Thursday night as Seminole went on a 27-12 second half blitz en route to a 59-39 rout of Lake Mary in Five Star Conference basketball action at Seminole High.

Seminole, which snapped a two-game losing streak, improved to 16-4 for the season and remains on top of the conference with a 10-1 mark. Lake Mary fell to 11-6 overall and 6-5 in the conference. Seminole is back in action Monday at Daytona Beach Mainland while Lake Mary returns to action Tuesday as it hosts Lake Howell.

"We didn't have any luck with us tonight," Moore said after the loss. "You have to be a little lucky against Seminole. We also made a lot of mistakes tonight and you can't do that against Seminole."

Lake Mary looked in good shape in the second quarter as it built a seven-point lead, 25-18, with three minutes left thanks to some good work on the boards and good shooting. However, the Lady Rams hit a cold spell after that and were outscored, 41-14, the remainder of the game.

"We worked hard tonight," Seminole coach Ron Merthie said. "That's something we were lacking the last few games."

Maxine Campbell led the way for Seminole with 16 points followed by Mona Benton with 10. Hillery tossed in nine points and pulled down nine rebounds while Geneene Stallworth tossed in seven points.

Lake Mary didn't have a player in double figures Thursday night. Laura Glass, despite being under the weather, led Lake Mary with nine points and eight rebounds. Peggy Glass and Andrea Fenning added eight points apiece.

Rams. Seminole rode its quick start to a four-point lead, 15-11, at the end of the first quarter.

The Lady Rams came out hustling in the second quarter and reeled off 10 straight points to take a six-point lead, 21-15. Seminole came back to cut it to three, 21-18, but the Lady Rams scored four unanswered points to take its biggest lead, seven points, 25-18.

The Lady Tribe then scored 12 straight points to take a 30-25 lead and the Seminoles held on to their five-point lead, 32-27, at halftime.

Neither team set the nets on fire in the third quarter, but Seminole managed to outscore the cold-shooting Rams, 10-4, to take an 11-point lead, 42-31, going into the fourth.

Lake Mary cut the lead under 10, 44-35, early in the fourth quarter on a layup by Peggy Glass, but Seminole then went on a 12-2 scoring surge to sew up the victory. Tammy Pringle's layup with 2:25 left gave Seminole a 16-point lead and both teams started flooding the floor with reserves after that.

"Everyone played consistently for us tonight," Merthie said. "And Pringle (six points, five rebounds) did a fantastic job off the bench. She was just what we needed."

Nunez poured in a game-high 17 points for the Lady Patriots and Asplen, who missed the last game due to illness, came back with a fine performance as she tossed in a season-high 13 points. Michelle Brown added nine points and Kim Wald led the Patriots underneath with six rebounds. Brown, Nunez and Kim Lubenow came up with four steals apiece.

"Apopka just passed it around outside," Lake Brantley assistant coach Cindy Frank said. "Basically, we just stole the ball a lot. Linda Nunez got a lot of layups."

10 in a row Monday as they host Lake Howell at 6:15 at Lake Mary High.

Cynthia Patterson led the way for Lake Mary as she poured in a game-high 23 points and added seven rebounds. Tonya Lawson added 16 points and eight rebounds for the Rams and Karen DeShetter funneled in 15 and handed out a game-high 10 assists.

Temika Alexander led Seminole with 16 points, but most of those came with Lake Mary's starters on the bench. Revonda Wallace added 12 points for the JV Lady Tribe and pulled down a game-high 11 rebounds.

Lake Mary showed no time in taking charge of the game as it reeled off the first nine points, seven by Patterson. Seminole missed its first eight shots, including one at Lake Mary's basket, but Wallace finally broke the scoring drought as she popped in a short jumper. Wallace came back to hit one of two free throws late in the quarter to cut the Rams' lead to eight, 11-3, going into the second.

The Lady Rams continued to sizzle in the second quarter as they scored 14 straight points to take a commanding 25-3 lead. Alexander, who had missed her first 10 shots from the floor, finally connected to end the Rams scoring string, but Lake Mary kept up its devastating offensive attack to take a 29-10 lead at halftime.

While Lake Mary's offense clicked in the first half, the defense also did a good job. DeShetter was given the difficult task of guarding Alexander, who had scored 39 points in a game early in the season, and she held Alexander to just two points in the opening half. DeShetter scored only six of her 16 points with Alexander guarding her and she hit just 8 of 32 shots for the game.

Lake Mary opened the second half by scoring six straight points, all by Patterson, to take a 35-10 lead and the Lady Rams went up by 29, 49-20, by the end of the third quarter.

The Lady Rams went up by 40, 62-22, early in the fourth quarter as Lawson connected on three straight layups. It isn't very often that any Seminole team gets blown out by that much, so as the JV Lady Seminoles started to crumble

4 Great Places To Be Tonight — Rose 'Moves' Raines Right

There are four places I'd like to be tonight, so I'm sure the local sports scene has something to offer you.

Let's take a look:
●World War III commences at 8 p.m. at Seminole High School's gym when coach Willie Richardson invades with his Lake Mary Rams for the third battle with coach Chris Marlette's Fighting Seminoles.

Lake Mary won the first game, the Tribe won the second. It's winner-take-all time unless they met again in the district. Regardless of whom takes this third battle royal, expect topnotch, high-intensity basketball. These two teams — many of the players grew up together — have put on two super performances already this year and tonight should be no different.

"If Fred Miller is on his game, we can play with anybody," said Richardson, who will depart the hardwood sidelines for a couple weeks after tonight to have a disc problem corrected in his back. "The way Fred plays usually dictates how we play."

Rebounding has been the key in the first two meetings. The Rams boarded with Seminole while winning the first game. Darryl Merthie made a two free throws after a correctable error with 17 seconds left to provide the difference.

In the Sanford win, Willie Mitchell, Jimmy Gilchrist and Kenny Gordon outrebounded the Rams 3-1 to post the victory.

●Wrestling shares one-fourth of the prep spotlight tonight when the Five Star Conference holds it meet at Lake Mary High School. First match is at 7 p.m. Rounds 1 and 2 will be completed tonight.

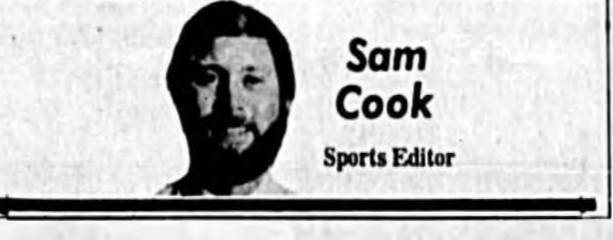

Coach Frank Schwartz' Rams should walk away with the team title, but that's pretty irrelevant since wrestling is geared so much to the individual. The 158-pound class is so tough that three wrestlers — Lyman's Derek Smith, Lake Brantley's Joe Warsak or Seminole's Troy Turner — could take the top spot. Look for all three to make the state tournament, too.

The heavyweight (unlimited) division also has three studs. It's so competitive that Lake Mary's Robert Rawls — who made it to the final four in last year's 3A state tournament — is seeded third behind DeLand's Robert Brown and Seabreeze's "Tiny" Gary.

If not tonight, you can catch the better tournament action Saturday morning at 10 with the semifinals. The finals will be at 8 p.m. Saturday night.

●Basketball at Oviedo is always fun. Coach Dale Phillips runs a class program and the press box (the only one in the county) is a great place to watch the game.

Oviedo hosts defending state 3A champion Kissimmee Osceola tonight at 8 and although three all-stars — ex-Lion Ronnie Murphy and former Kowboys' Frank

Sam Cook

Ford and Jimmy McCrimon — are missing, this rivalry is one of the best.

Oviedo has a bonafide standout in 21.7 ppg scorer Mike Schwab. Darrin Reichie, a 6-5 center has also been coming along for the Lions. Kissimmee boasts Tom Chase, a fine 6-5 shooter who missed last season with a broken leg.

Phillips and Osceola's Ed Kershner are two of the brighter strategists around, which adds another dimension to the game.

●Lake Howell and Lyman have won just four basketball games between them, but the competition rivals a Seminole-Lake Mary game so you can throw the won-loss records out of the quaint little Milwee Middle School gym tonight.

Silver Hawk Efrem Brooks is one of the most exciting players in the county. The 5-9 guard is a great shooter and a good passer. Lyman couldn't handle him in the Oviedo Outlook Tournament, and the Hawks won big.

Look for coach Tom Lawrence to come up with something tonight to keep the elusive Brooks in check. Greg Pilot, Lyman's only senior starter, is the mainstay for the Greyhounds.

The girls game should also be great. Coach Dick Copeland's Lady Greyhounds are the hottest item around. They are battling for the final host playoff spot in the district tournament. Lake Howell is just one game behind conference leader Seminole.

The guard matchups will be great with Lyman's Valerie "Pam" Jackson and Kim Goroum taking on Howell's dynamic duo of Tammy and Mary Johnson.

Tim Raines will also have a few things on his mind tonight, but it won't be basketball or wrestling. The former three-spot Seminole standout will probably have to make the move to right field.

Montreal had a press conference scheduled for 1 p.m. today to announce the signing of Pete Rose for one year. Pete can't play anywhere too well, so Raines will probably give up his left-field spot for the aging veteran. It will be Raines' third position switch in four years.

Tim is also close to signing a contract. He indicated in November that he would ask for around $800,000.

Lyman's Don Lockwood, top, maneuvers Ram Mark Lindquist.

All Eyes Spy 158 As 5 Star Opens

By Sam Cook

All eyes will be on the 158-pound weight class tonight when the Five Star Conference Wrestling Tournament opens at Lake Mary High School. Round 1 begins at 7 p.m. with round 2 following immediately.

Not only does the 158-pound class contain three of the best wrestlers in the conference, it also boasts three of the best in Central Florida, and, maybe the state.

Lyman's Derek Smith, whose brother Dirk was a terror last year, is the No. 1 seed. Smith is 13-0-1. He has had two close calls. Coincidentally, they were against the No. 2 and No. 3 seeds.

Smith, senior, nipped No. 3 Troy Turner in the finals of the Lyman Christmas Tournament. It was a controversial decision. The referee admitted he made a mistake in awarding points on a takedown after the match. Smith claimed a one-point victory and the title.

Turner, a freshman from Seminole, has been pointing for a rematch since the tournament. His record is an impressive 13-1 and he has demolished every thing in his path the past three weeks. The rematch would take place in Saturday's semifinal round at 10 a.m.

The No. 2 seed, Lake Brantley's Joe Warsak, came even closer to beating Smith. The tenacious Patriot senior battled Smith to a draw and was handcapped by four penalty points. Warsak is 3-0-1 at 158 and 10-0-1 overall.

Tribe Frosh Shear Rams

The streak grew to 63 Thursday. Sixty-three times during the regular season the Seminole High freshman, formerly the Crooms Panthers, have taken the basketball floor and walked off as winners over the last four years.

It was the same story Thursday at Seminole High School. Jerry Parker, Rod Henderson and Sean Fulce combined for 49 points as the frosh rang up number 15 for this year with a 63-40 blitz of the Lake Mary Rams.

Seminole sprinted to a 15-6 first-quarter lead as Fulce tossed in six points. The Rams, though, slipped into a man-to-man defense in the second quarter to play the Tribe even and go into the intermission just nine down.

"We decided to change a few things at halftime," said Seminole coach Bill Klein. "We just cleared the side out for Rod (Henderson) and let him work. Then it was bang, bang, bang, bang."

Henderson went one-on-one for eight points as the Seminoles outscored the Rams, 18-13, and put the game out of reach.

Henderson, a muscular 6-2 forward, finished with 17 points and seven boards. Parker, a 6-1 swingman, tossed in 16 points and pulled down a game-high 11 rebounds. Fulce, a smooth 5-8 guard, popped for 16 and handed out four assists. Mike Edwards doled out five assists.

Klein pointed to the continued improvement of sixth-man James Dennard as helping the Seminoles dominate the glass. "James is our most improved player," said Klein. "He has come a long way since the beginning of the year."

Dennard tossed in three points and yanked down 17 rebounds. Antoine Cockerhan, a 6-2 center, added five points while Freddie Grooms chippin in three and Edwards two.

Lake Mary's Oscar Merthie led all scorers with 19 points. "Oscar's a real good ball player," said Merthie. "He works hard for his points, plays good defense and behaves himself on the floor."

"Could you imagine how awesome we'd be if we had him?"

Seminole tries to wrap up an unbeaten season with two games next week at Lake Brantley on Monday and at Osceola on Wednesday.

Hoop Shoot Next

Sanford's Doug Saunders fires up a shot in the Knights of Columbus-Father Lyons Council Free-Throw Contest at All Souls gym. Seminole County youngsters get another chance for cage compellion when the Elks holds its Hoop Shoot at Seminole High School Saturday. Boys and girls ages 8 to 13 should be at the high school at 1 p.m. Local winners advance to district and then to state.

You Wanna Own A Greyhound? Be Careful And Have Some Cash

Win, Place and Show

Glenn Laney Sanford Orlando Kennel Club

"So you wanna own a greyhound, eh? I gotta real bargain for ya. She's real well bred, even though her mom never made the track she has real good blood lines."

"She's a little short, but boy does she pop the box. I've had her back on the farm getting her ready to go. The other guy sent her back to me too thin — but I've got her up to a good racing weight now."

Translated — that means the guy is trying to unload a fat, slow greyhound on you that nobody has ever heard or seen of her mother or father.

The second most often asked question of me is "how can I get into the greyhound business? I would really like to own a greyhound or two."

It's a lot of fun to own greyhounds. There is a lot of pride involved when you can turn to the person sitting next to you and show them your name on the program next to the greyhound that just ran a good race.

But be careful. It can prove to be a disappointing adventure if you go about it the wrong way.

Some don'ts on buying a greyhound: 1. Don't buy a greyhound from a stranger; 2. Don't buy a greyhound that has already been tried at one track and failed; 3. Don't buy a greyhound with bad breeding (if in doubt there are several books on the subject, or ask someone you trust in the greyhound business); 4. Don't buy a greyhound from someone who has never raised a litter before, especially if they raised them in their back yard; 5. Don't ever buy a greyhound you have not seen run against other greyhounds that you know the quality of.

A well bred greyhound pup that's ready to go to the track, but has never raced can go anywhere from $2,500 to $5,000. Once he reaches the track and wins even his first race his price doubles.

Grade A greyhounds are almost unbuyable. But to get a good one be prepared to fork out anywhere from $30,000 to $50,000. Prices depend on what track the greyhounds run grade A at and whether he just runs grade A or wins grade A.

Tell him you'll take the bitch and breed her to a good stud, pay for the stud fee and pay for the raising of the litter and a good farm. In return you will give him one of the pups at a certain age. Usually you have the litter track ready and then give him a choice.

Picking out the pup to be given is usually done in two ways. You get first pick of the litter — the owner of the bitch gets second. Or you can do it strictly by chance, usually picking out an ear tattoo letter from a group of letters written on small pieces of paper.

It is going to cost you $500 to $1,000 for a good stud at breeding time. It costs about $60 to $75 a month to raise a pup. So by the time you get a litter of six pups track ready you have spent about $1,200 a greyhound.

If they all stay healthy you now have five of them ready to start returning the money you have spent over the last year-and-a-half. Now comes the question of who is going to run them for you.

As an individual you cannot just walk into a track with your greyhounds and enter them in races. At Sanford-Orlando, like most tracks, we contract with a certain number of kennel operators to provide us with a list of track ready greyhounds.

Usually, when you lease a bitch from a kennel operator he asks you for first chance to run the litter. Once he gets the litter from the farmer all of the expenses become his. You pay nothing for their housing, feeding or vet bills.

In return the kennel operator gets to keep 65 per cent of what your greyhound wins. You get 35 per cent — usually 50 per cent of grade A and stakes purses.

How much could your greyhounds earn you? The sky is the limit. The breeding could turn out super and you could have yourself a world champion who runs out $200,000 in their career.

Of course — they all could be grade D pluggers or worse. Then you will be lucky to get your money back. The happy medium is usually about half of them being usable greyhounds, with maybe a grade A or two tossed in for spice.

If you have the average litter you usually double or triple your investment. But be ready to lose it all. It can and does happen — even in the best of situations.

Kittens Take 2nd Straight — Eastmonte, Tomcats Winter Park Roll On

The South Seminole Kittens won their second straight game in the girls division of the Inter-County Basketball Association, using a stifling defense to defeat the Jackson Heights Blue Bandits, 16-6.

Gail Veal and Erika Cain took turns pursuing Bandit ace Bridget Jenerette and limited her to just one point.

Shannon Freeman and Bobbie Kelley controlled the boards for the Kittens. Tamara Lewis and Shari Siegrist the ballhandling. Kelley, Cain and Cindy Galarza led the SS scoring with four points each. Betsy Hughes and Vonya Hamilton had the Bandit baskets.

In JV (6-7th grade) boys action, the big three continued undefeated as the Milwee (Eastmonte) Greyhounds won twice, South Seminole Tomcats and Winter Park once each.

The Greyhounds rolled over the Jackson Heights Bruins and the Westmonte Warriors, scoring a total of 108 points to the oppositions 20. Mike Whittington and Frank Dixon led the way against the Bruins with 14 and 12. Dixon had 20, Marvin Reed 16, Jarvis Watkins 15 and Whitt 14 against

ICBA Basketball

Westmonte, Chris Kewley was high for the Bruins with six. McBride led the Warriors with four.

Winter Park bopped the Eatonville Lakers, 56-32, behind Terry Dixon's 33. Billy Jackson added eight. Daryl Gallagher led the Lakers with 16. Howard had 12.

South Seminole beat Tuskawilla, 55-15, as all nine Tomcats scored. Delmon

Simpson led with 12. J.J. Miller had 10, Willy Daunic nine, Brad Bolton eight. Robbie Crager six, Chris Carney, Paul Crowley and Mark Clifford all scored four for Tuskay.

In varsity (8th grade) boys play, Winter Park topped Eatonville, 37-30. Terano Walker (a 6'3" 7th grader) led WP with nine. Rodney Taylor and Terry Dixon (who does double-duty on two WP teams) had 8 each. Gallagher led Eatonville with 15 and Shawn Beauford added eight.

The Jackson Heights Knights held on to top the Tuskawilla Warriors, 28-25. Robbie Bowers and Frank Sanchez led the Knights with nine each. Aaron Gammons had nine. Alan Greene eight for Tuskawilla.

"Player-of-the-Week" honors for the Inter-County Basketball Association's opening week of play went to Garth Bolton of the South Seminole Bobcats and Bobbie Kelley of the South Seminole Kittens.

Bolton captured the award for the boys with an outstanding duo of games totaling 41 points. He scored 28 of them against the Jackson Heights Angels and added four assists, nine steals, six rebounds and a blocked shot.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

West Seminole Baseball Holds 1st Registration

The newly formed West Seminole Pony Baseball organization will hold its initial registration for Pinto, Mustang, Bronco and Pony leagues Saturday, Jan. 28 and Saturday, Feb. 4 at four elementary schools.

The two signups will be held at Wekiva, Bear Lake, Spring Lake and Forest City elementary schools for players from six years old to 13 years old. Registration time is between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Players should bring a birth certificate and a $35 registration fee for Pintos and $40 for Mustangs, Broncos and Ponies.

Glass, Miller Win Burgers

Lake Mary seniors Laura Glass and Fred Miller were selected Burger King Players of the Week Tuesday for their basketball accomplishments of the prior week.

Glass, a 6-3 senior, averaged 17 points, pulled down 42 rebounds, handed out six assists and made six steals as Lake Mary won three games.

Miller, a 6-1 senior, averaged 13.3 points, grabbed 12 rebounds, doles out 10 assists and came up with six steals. He also had two slam dunks as the Rams captured three games.

Glass beat out Oviedo's Stephanie Nelson and Mary Lokers. Lake Howell's Janene Brown, Seminole's Deidre Hillery and Mona Benton along with Lyman's Pam Jackson.

Miller bested Seminole's Willie Mitchell and Jimmy Gilchrist, Lyman's Reggie Douglas, Oviedo's Darrin Reichle, Lake Brantley's Austin Hodges and Greg Courtney and teammates Billy Dunn and Darryl Merthie.

All coaches reported nominees.

Jax Outlasts W. Kentucky

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (UPI) — Andrew Hinton hit two free throws with two seconds remaining in the third overtime to give Jacksonville a 76-74 Sun Belt victory over Western Kentucky Thursday night.

Oviedo's Ronnie Murphy had 14 points before fouling out.

Simple Sunday Key: Stop Riggins On 1st

TAMPA (UPI) — Los Angeles Raiders linebacker Rod Martin says the key to beating Washington in Sunday's Super Bowl XVIII is simple — just stop John Riggins on first down.

"The No. 1 thing on defense will be to stop the run," Martin said Thursday as the Raiders began winding down preparations for their fourth Super Bowl.

"We want them to have 2nd-and-10 and 2nd-and-9 where they have to go to the passing game."

Martin, the AFC defensive player of the year, admitted containing Riggins will be no easy task. But he said the Raiders are playing "a lot better" overall than they were when they bowed to Washington 37-35 on Oct. 2.

"The addition of Mike Haynes on the corner gives us added strength to our defensive backfield," said Martin. "That has to be one of your strengths in this day of wide-open football."

He also noted tailback Marcus Allen missed the first game with a hip pointer, wide receiver Cliff Branch "played only one series," and linebacker Matt Millen was hurt.

"We should win the title with the type of team we have now," said Martin. "The strength of our team is back now."

The Raiders concentrated on offense during a 2 1/2-hour workout and Coach Tom Flores said linebacker Ted Hendricks and guard Charley Hannah would start against the Redskins. Rookie wide receiver Dokie Williams was upgraded from questionable to probable.

"We've finished the bulk of the work now," said Flores. "We'll now just have to polish. We'll do that to our offense and defense Friday. We'll also work on special teams."

"Saturday, we will just review and polish a bit more at the stadium and then that's it."

Flores, still stinging a little over publicity generated by the firing of seven players for being late to a meeting Tuesday, said things were so quiet the biggest news to report was that strong safety Mike Davis' wife had a baby boy.

"We're happy for Mike and happy he has that behind him so he can concentrate on getting ready for the game."

"As the week goes along, the excitement grows," said Flores. "The key thing now is to keep the players from peaking too soon."

Flores has the Raiders on an 11 p.m. curfew for the rest of the week, explaining, "We don't do that when we are at home, but this town is different. There is a lot going on and we don't want our players involved in all the hoopla."

round, and then loses in the second, he doesn't receive any team points.
Schwartz expects Lyman, Seabreeze and DeLand to give the Rams a run, although he Lake Mary has handled two of the three easily in dual meets.
The county should fair pretty well

In its take of championships, Lyman's Jay Hunziker should be hard to beat at 135. The four-year Greyhound veteran won a Christmas title earlier this year.
Lake Howell's Steve Cina, a defending conference, district and region champ, is one of the classiest grapplers in the tournament and shouldn't have much trouble taking David Collyer is the No. 1 man to beat at 129 pounds.

The battle of the behemoths (unlimited) should also be a great show. Rawls, a final four participant in last year's 3A state tournament, is looking for revenge against Seabreeze's "Tiny" Gary, who handed Rawls his only loss in a dual meet this year.
Both Gary and Rawls, however, have to worry about DeLand's No. 1-seed Robert Brown, who pinned Gary in just 53 seconds earlier this year.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY JANUARY 21, 1984
Forego becoming involved in new enterprises this coming year until you have harvested the seeds from that which you previously planted. Your crop needs a bit more time to grow.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't be too hasty at this time about writing off a venture that hasn't produced instant profit. Rewards will require a bit more doing. Want to find out who is best for you romantically? The NEW Matchmaker wheel and booklet reveals romantic compatibilities for all signs, tells how to get along with others, finds rising signs, hidden qualities, plus more. Send $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Send for your Aquarius Astro-Graph predictions by mailing an additional $1 and your zodiac sign.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) In partnership situations today, both you and your cohort must proceed at a cautious pace in order to avoid mistakes. Discuss every move.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) This is one of those days when unexpected disruptions could put you in a dither. A coolheaded helpmate will keep you on track.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Avoid mixing commercial matters with persons you know socially. Friendships could be jeopardized if the results are disappointing.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) In important family matters today, your mate's judgment might not be as practical as yours. Point out the error of his or her views.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Keep a close watch on those who are performing delicate tasks for you today. There's a chance they might make mistakes you'll have to rectify.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's best to avoid expensive specialty stores today. You might be more attracted by the glitter than the practicality of the merchandise.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Proceed cautiously when tackling difficult problems today. Your first solution may not be your best, and could even worsen matters.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Be prepared to pay your own way today instead of looking for favors. You'll come out OK, but you'll have to earn what you get.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) In dealing with friends today there is a possibility you might not be treated as fairly as others. Speak up if you feel this is true.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) At the first sign of resistance you encounter today, you may be tempted to back off. However, if you persist, your objectives will be achieved.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Before accepting a social invitation today, be sure it's with persons with whom you share things in common. Strangers might make you uncomfortable.

Medical Ill Often Cause Of Impotence

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — I really appreciate your column. I'd been struggling for a year to learn the name of the medicine that could inhibit prolactin, which I thought could be a factor in my impotence. You named the substance as bromocriptine; since then I've been on my way to a happy recovery. Before that, I was insulted by a urologist who wrote my physician to say that I was threatened by my wife, who is 18 years younger than I. Another doctor said I had mental or emotional problems. Another asked if I had financial problems or had had a fight with my wife. My "treatment" was malpractice.

Is there nothing that can be done about the abuse of men by impotent doctors? DEAR READER — I hope your experience was unusual. Old ideas die hard, but there have been a number of good articles in medical literature in recent years concerning impotence. The overwhelming thrust to these studies is that at least three-fourths of experienced men who are impotent probably have a medical problem.

In some instances, it could be mental depression, which might require medical treatment. In other instances, it may be diabetes, alcoholism or, in a small number of cases, an undetectable tumor in the pituitary gland that produces an excess amount of prolactin hormone.

Prolactin is a hormone that causes lactation in women. It may be elevated even though the testosterone (male hormone) level is normal or, in other instances, the increased amount of prolactin may depress the testosterone level. Enough has been shown to justify the idea that impotence usually is caused by medical problems that a man being evaluated for impotence should at least have a blood glucose evaluation to determine if he has diabetes. He also should have his testosterone level measured and a test for his prolactin level. But these aren't the only tests that need to be done.

Furthermore, to these tests, I would add that no one should be considered impotent because of psychological problems unless it's established that he has normal, full erections. A man can be tested with a cuff placed around his penis during sleep. If it can be demonstrated that normal erections occur on a regular basis during the sleep cycle, then it's more likely the impotence is related to psychological factors.

There is a device out now to measure adequate erection at home during sleep. For physicians who want more information, it is manufactured by Dacomed Corporation, 1701 E. 79th St., Minneapolis, Minn. 55420.

To round out your understanding of impotence, I'm sending you The Health Letter 18-B, Help for Impotence. Others who would like this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

For those who have permanent impotence that can't be cured by medication or other measures, there are a number of surgical procedures, particularly the implanted cylinders.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

start with, so he saw no point in a mere three-spade call. He jumped right to game, and there was Byron flying at 20,000 feet with practically no gas in his tanks.

He won the first heart and studied the hand carefully. He was looking at a sure trump loser, a heart loser and almost two certain diamond losers. Still, the hand would make if he could collect four club tricks.

There is a simple way to play that club suit. Just finesse against the queen. If West holds it, things will really look up.

Then Byron did some point-counting. He held 13. Dummy held 10, and West had led the jack of hearts. That left just 16 more points, and East needed all of them for his no-trump opening.

So at trick two Byron led dummy's jack of clubs. East's queen was a dead lay. East could cover or duck. Either way, Byron was going to get his four club tricks and score his game.

Working Class Houses Once Ignored, They're Gaining New Stature

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

Your next new house might very well be an old house.

In Sanford, as in most cities and towns across the country, a renewed interest in older homes that have been neglected over the years is bringing new life to of these usually wood-frame residences in a sort of do-it-yourself urban renewal.

People who in the past might have chosen a flashy new house in the suburbs are opting instead for these used and often abused houses that usually populate downtown areas and once housed large families and made up the areas' working class neighborhoods.

There are three classes of these houses — those that have already been renovated, ones in the process of renovation, and the challenging ones that require a lot of work and devotion to bring them up to livable standards.

When 22-year-old David Moore bought his prairie-style, clapboard, two-story house at 711 S. Park Avenue, Sanford, in Feb. 1981, it fell into the latter category.

"You've got to be 200 percent dedicated to get involved with restoring an old house," Moore said. "This house was a mess. The wall paper was hanging from the wall in places, there were big holes in the plaster, it had wall-to-wall carpet that looked like it had never been cleaned. There had been a makeshift shower installed near the back porch and the people who installed it just cut a hole in the floor and let the water drain onto the ground. They had also run the drain from an upstairs washer out a hole and down the side of the house. I had to replace a lot of rotted wood and some of the ceilings. Everything that I could rip out I did."

Moore stripped the floors down and they're now gleaming hardwood, except in the first-floor den where the floor, which had been covered with a coat of glue topped by vinyl, was beyond salvage. He hid the damage with plush pile carpet.

Another challenge Moore faced was to strip asbestos shingles from the house to reveal the original clapboards, some of which had to be replaced.

A major problem with Moore's house, one that can be expected with most older homes, was in the plumbing system. The drainage pipes, which were made of pressed paper and clogged with roots, had to be replaced. But Moore was lucky in one major respect, the electrical wiring in his home had been redone and needed no major repair.

With the help of his handyman ex-wife, a few sub-contractors and an additional $20,000 investment above the $28,100 he paid for the house, Moore ended up with a federal blue home that any sentimentalist with an eye for treasures from the past would appreciate.

And he turned a profit of about $9,000 when he recently sold his 10-room, 1,500-square-foot house.

Renovation costs ended up being more than Moore intended. "You go in with an open mind," he said. "But as things go along, unexpected expenses come up and you end up investing 25 to 30 percent more on repairs than you thought."

The price tag on Moore's home was a major reason he located in Sanford, which is his hometown. "I priced houses in Orlando and Winter Park, and something old that needed to be redone was $80,000 to $90,000 there," he said.

Moore, who recently retired after 10 years as a detective for the Orange County sheriff's department, has accepted a job with the federal government and will be relocating. Although he doesn't know his destination, he hopes to move into another old house. But this time, he said, things will be different.

"If I buy another old house, I will probably pay someone to come in and redo it. As much as I enjoyed doing this one it's an awful lot of trouble."

David Moore spent $20,000 renovating this old house at 711 S. Park Ave., Sanford.

Moore's neighbors, two doors down, Kathy and Bob Hoekstra and their three daughters, did things the easy way. They found a home they liked, a three-story, peaked-roof, Victorian house on the corner of 8th Street and Park Avenue, Sanford, that had already been renovated, paid $80,000 for it and moved right in.

"Some people are very handy and they enjoy working on old homes, but we don't really," Mrs. Hoekstra said. "We never saw this house before it was renovated, but we really enjoy living here."

"We always liked old houses," she said. "This one was within our reach and we were very happy about that. Before we found this house we had figured it would be too expensive to buy a renovated home or it would take too much time and money to renovate one ourselves."

Both Moore and Mrs. Hoekstra said they feel as secure living in an urban area as they would living in the suburbs. They have taken the same security precautions and installed the same security systems that they would use in any other area. But being secure doesn't mean that living in an old house will be trouble free.

"We have run into some problems with the house," Mrs. Hoekstra said. "Because it is almost 80 years old you never can tell. You might come downstairs and see a big drip in the ceiling. The plumbing and everything is not up to date, but you've got to expect that. It's not a modern house. But there are compensations."

Among those are being able to buy a piece of history. Along with that history come people who knock on your front door now and then to share with you their childhood memories of living in your house.

"Our house was built in 1907, by William Thigpen," Mrs. Hoekstra said. "The first summer we were here, in '81, I think, a lady came to our door and said she was the Thigpens' younger daughter. She asked to see the house and it was really nice. She was delighted to see the changes and I was delighted to hear about the history of the house."

Moore's house, which was built in 1906, also attracts former residents who want to reminisce. And he said other owners of old houses come by to offer advice and to help when you are in the process of restoration.

Based on his experience, Moore said if you plan on restoring an old home you will need all of the advice and assistance you can get.

"Do some research before you get started," he said. "If you have to spend a couple of hundred dollars on how-to books and hire a contractor to check out the house, it's worth it."

"There are no guarantees with an old house," Mrs. Hoekstra said. "You really do take a chance with one and there are a lot of little things that you have to be careful about. This house was under a termite bond, which we did have to use."

An old house will probably be a cold house. "With the high ceilings we have a problem heating the first floor," Mrs. Hoekstra said. "When it's really cold we just wear sweaters and use a space heater. But it isn't that cold here. If this house were in the North I probably wouldn't come downstairs for six months out of the year."

Despite the cold and other inconveniences inherent in owning an old house, Mrs. Hoekstra, who like Moore, also expects to move from Sanford soon, hates to think about leaving her home behind.

"I'd love to just put it on a trailer and take it wherever we go. I definitely will want another old house. I don't know where we will be moving to, but I hope we will find another house like this one."

Meryl Going Uptown

By Cindy Adams

NEW YORK — Meryl Streep is going up-scale and uptown. It's bye-bye to the Village and hello to nine rooms with a park view... Singer Billy Daniels, the fellow who made "Old Black Magic" famous, is flashing a new black mink that's so lush it makes Nancy Reagan's look like weasel... Faberge boss George Barrie produced Elizabeth Taylor and Cary Grant for the last two Friars dinners. The 1984 guest of honor for the Friars' giant blacktie gala, held annually at the G and Ballroom of the Waldorf, is tentatively Dean Martin.

Paul Newman sold his Carlyle Hotel co-op in one day and bought a seven-room penthouse on upper Fifth for $1.5 million... The once-upona-time Mr. and Mrs. Neil Simon have set up separate households. Marsha Mason grabbed five rooms plus a terrace on the 17th floor of Calvin Klein's classy West side building. Simon left his Ritz Towers hotel for a duplex on Park, where he'll lay his head and scripts.

Raquel Welch walked into furrier Robert Beaulieu's joint and seven minutes later walked out with a full-length raccoon. She paid $5,500... When Morey Amsterdam returned to his Truesdale Estates home after a successful heart bypass at Cedars Sinai Hospital, it was the day his brand new three-car garage was finished. The garage was $50,000. Says Amsterdam: "I don't know what cost me more — my heart or my garage."

Getting The Grip On Gaffers And Best Boys

DEAR DICK: Following the credits on many TV programs and motion pictures are individuals listed as key grip, gaffer and best boy. What do these people do? — D.P., Portage, Mich.

Just when you learn what these people do, you will have to become familiar with new words. The old terms you mention are being phased out, because so many women are now handling those jobs and they do not want to be known as "best boys."

Anyhow, the gaffer is the head set electrician, who's in charge of setting up all the lights. In the future, according to union rules, a gaffer will be called chief lighting technician. The best boy is the gaffer's chief assistant. That name, incidentally, goes way back in Hollywood lore. In the days before unions, job applicants would hang around outside the studio gates. The gaffer would come out looking for an assistant, and ask, "Who's the best boy here?" and so the name for the job was born. Henceforth, the best boy will be known as assistant chief lighting technician.

Grips are the people who move things — like the camera dollies — around and hand the gels (colored slides that fit over the lights) to the gaffers and best boys. The person in charge of the grips is the key grip. Grips will still be called grips; it is a unisex term.

DEAR DICK: Did Victoria Principal of Dallas ever appear in an issue of Playboy Magazine about a year ago? She wasn't the centerfold. — S.S., North Miami Beach

Back in 1971, when she was younger and hungrier, Miss Principal did do a layout for Playboy.

Ask Dick Kleiner

It was in connection with a movie she did called The Naked Ape. The Playboy people know a good picture when they shoot it, so they have hung on to that layout and drag it out from time to time.

DEAR DICK: I saw a movie within the past five years with Jack Nicholson. There were others in it and it was one of the funniest shows I've ever seen. I think it was something about a mousetrap. The woman was inheriting her father's company. Can you help find the name of the movie, please? — D.C., Ventura, Calif.

I can't be sure, but it sounds like perhaps you are thinking of The Fortune, which starred Nicholson, Warren Beatty and Stockard Channing in 1975. Nothing mousetrappy, however.

DEAR DICK: Since watching the recent Garfield cartoon special I have been looking for the words to a song sung by Garfield to Odie about friendship. It was just before Odie was supposed to have been put to sleep. Believe it or not, it was quite poignant and truthful. I would appreciate any help you can give me. — H.R., Saginaw, Mich.

You can hear that song again if you buy the record

Here Comes Garfield. And I believe the song is poignant and truthful; after all, so is Garfield, isn't he?

DEAR DICK: In a recent answer, you said that Darlene Carr played Leisl in The Sound Of Music. My wife's memory and the album cover and show booklet all say that it was Charmian Carr and not Darlene. Who actually played Leisl? Who is Charmian Carr in relation to Darlene? Where and how did you get your apparently erroneous information? — P.H.S., Kitchener, Ontario

To start at the back end, I got my information from Darlene, but she apparently misunderstood me. Charmian and Darlene are sisters and they both played various roles in The Sound Of Music on stage and film as they were growing up. In the movie, however, Charmian was Leisl — but Darlene, who has a better voice, sang for her sister and that was the misunderstanding.

DEAR DICK: A friend and I have a $10 bet going. He says that the voice of Shaggy on Scooby-Doo is Casey Kasem. I say it is someone else. Who's right? — D.G., Warsaw, Ind.

Pay up. Kasem is the voice of Shaggy.

DEAR DICK: Years past, there was a TV show that starred Ann Sothern and Jesse White. He called her "Foxie." What did she call him and what show was it? — L.T.S., Pueblo, Colo.

The only show they did together was Private Secretary, which ran from 1953 to 1957. Ann's character's name was Susie, but perhaps White — who played Cagey — liked to call her Foxie.

Cary Grant, Hollywood's Debonair Legend, Turns 80

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Cary Grant, who epitomized elegance and swept leading ladies off their feet in more than three decades of film, quietly celebrated his 80th birthday Wednesday feeling "pretty good for an old character."

"I'm happy I made it this far, but wasn't any special celebration," Grant told UPI in a rare interview.

Grant, who starred in 70 movies until his retirement in 1966, spent his birthday at his 4-acre estate with his fifth wife, Barbara, and his only child, 17-year-old Jennifer (by actress Dyan Cannon).

"As for my 80th birthday, I ducked everyone and kept a low profile," he said. "I avoided all telephone calls, as well-meaning as they may have been. I had a nice quiet and relaxing day at home."

Grant, who was born Archibald Leach in Bristol, England, starred with some of the screen's most beautiful actresses in such hits as She Done Him Wrong, with Mae West, Notorious, with Ingrid Bergman, The Philadelphia Story, with Katharine Hepburn, To Catch a Thief, with Grace Kelly, and North by Northwest, with Eva Marie Saint.

Some of his other films included Topper, Gunga Din, An Affair to Remember, His Girl Friday, The Awful Truth and Bringing Up Baby.

Since his retirement from films, the last of which was Walk, Don't Run, Grant has remained active as a board member of MGM-United Artists, Faberge, the MGM-Grand Hotel in Las Vegas and Hollywood Park race track. He also is a trustee of the Kennedy Center and the Princess Grace Foundation.

In 1969, he was honored with a special Academy Award in recognition of his long film career.

"I feel pretty good for an old character," the tanned and fit actor said. "But I don't know how I am physically compared to other people my age."

Grant travels frequently to New York and Europe, but except on rare occasions, such as the recent salute to Frank Sinatra, he avoids television appearances.

"I keep reasonably busy," he said. "But I take life easy, too."

Grant remains unsentimental about his screen career and prefers not to discuss the movies in which he starred. He has no regrets about retiring.

"I don't consider movies an art," he said. "They are a business. I graduated to a point where I made my own films. I hired the director and producer."

Variety And Price Make It Nice

Try Dining In Sanford: You'll Like It

Sanford is fortunate in having a variety of restaurants available, most of which offer substantial fare at moderate, if not downright, reasonable prices.

Anything from "down home country cookin'" to dishes with a touch of the international can be found in this community. Chicken and pizza are popular favorites, according to most restaurant owners interviewed, but so are steaks, seafood and other upscale dinners.

Breakfast seems to be a big deal at a small price here with many restaurants serving up platters of sausage gravy on biscuits or the more customary eggs, bacon and...

Restaurants which have been featured in this space during the past eight months exhibit a menu aimed at pleasing the local clientele. Keep it simple, as the expression goes, although simple does not mean without planning, care, thought and, of course, much hard work.

The results of the restaurant features in this space have been surprising to the dining place owners in many instances, bringing many new faces through their doors to try their tempting feasts.

A restaurant advertising on this page for 13 consecutive weeks is entitled to a feature article at least once during this period of the contract. No extra charge is made for this promotional story, which is usually handled through an interview with the owner or restaurant manager.

Multiply this by the average response to consistent advertising, and it is not difficult to understand the excellent reception to the whole program.

Cost of the program is minimal, based on a $4.45 per column inch rate for the weekly ad only. The feature appears Thursday in the Herald Advertiser and, again, on Friday in the Evening Herald's Leisure Magazine...in time for the weekend.

People everywhere enjoy going out and Sanford residents are no exception and, more than that, they like reading about their favorite restaurant, or one they have not visited in some time, or, perhaps, the "new eatery on the block."
