Premiums force surgeons out of hospital

By Dan Ping Editor

SANFORD - Unable to pay soaring malpractice insurance rates, four emergency room surgeons suspended their practices. The surgeons, all associated with Central Florida Regional Hospital, were informed by their carriers that premiums, to be paid up front and in cash, would quadruple to about $600,000 for the year.

"Occasionally carriers will let you split the premium into two installments, but usually they want most if not all of the money before they issue any coverage," said Dr. Larry Alexander, the hospital's emergency department medical director.

The situation has created two problems for the hospital: one, Central Florida Regional Hospital (CFRH) has lost the services of four of its five general emergency room surgeons; and two, news of the doctors' decision has generated fear in the community about a potential loss of medical service. Those fears have translated into a drop in the number of people going to CFRH. Emergency room doctors routinely see 90 patients per day. Since the story broke, the hospital is averaging 74 patients.

The rumors have been outrageous," Alexander said. "We've had people call and say they heard we shut the ER down, that we closed the hospital, that we were turning people away, that the doors were chained up. None of that has happened. "We are open for business," he empha-sized. "We're still taking care of people and we will continue to take care of people. We will not let our community down."

Winter Park firm chosen to design new station

By Michelle Jerla Managing Editor

LAKE MARY — A Winter Park firm Thursday was chosen to oversee the design and con-struction of City Hall's expansion and the new Rinehart Road fire station.

Following presentations by nee area design firms, three area Architects Design Group (ADG) Inc., was ranked No. 1 by City Commission to provide design professional services for the two projects. The city will now enter into negotiations with the firm for design, cost and other construction elements for the new facilities.

Of the three design groups, which also included Spillis Candela and The Scott Partnership Architecture, cominissioners were most impressed with Architects Design Group's commitment to public and employee input while working on a project. Other elements, which tipped the scales in favor of the Winter Park firm, included its pledge to help the city find alternative funding sources and raise public awareness for the projects.

"I want to see our employees involved in this process," Commissioner Gary Brender said. "I want them to take ownership of this project." Earlier this year, Commission opted to use the design/build method, rather than the traditional bid method, for the two proposed facilities. Since the state legislature now allows for more flexibility when it cames to constructing large capital project, cities have an alterna-tive to the traditional low bid, one contractor choice. In the design/build method, cities select a team of professionals, including architects, builders and cost-control specialists. In May, Lake Mary sent out a request for qualifications (RPQ) in order to obtain a list of possible design firms to work on the City Hall expansion and fire station. Eight companies responded to the request, and a selection committee comprised of City Manager John Litton, Finance Director Jackie Sova, Fire Chief

Man arrested after trying to steal bike from deputy

By Nick Pfelfauf Staff Writer

Last Sunday, a man attempted to steal a Sheriff's Issue Mountain Bike off a Seminole County sheriff's patrol car. Now, he is facing another charge, giv-ing a false identity.

After the man ran from the area, the deputy gave chase and eventually apprehended him in the woods alongside Howell Creek. Pliers, wire cutters, a cable lock and dish towel were found and taken into evidence. The towel was assumed to have been used to hide fingerprints.

At the Seminole County Jail, the man refused to provide officers with his address, work, next of kin, or other information. He, at one point, told an officer his name was John Serra, 38 years of Members of the local chapter of Mothers & More Wednesday delivered hundreds of school supplies to the school, which will be distributed to students and teachers throughout the year. The supplies are from donations collected in June and July from Target and SAMS Club stores to help Seminole's elementary school students.

"As mothers, we know how expensive it is to buy school supplies," said Judy Froehlich, a member of the group. "We were going to do a project, so we thought collecting school supplies would be a good idea."

The supplies included notebooks, index cards, paper, crayons, pencils and other school items. The group also collected other essential items, including boxes of tissues, sandwich bags, napkins and cups. Wicklow Principal Beverly Perrault said the school supplies will be very helpful throughout the year, especially during the first few days of school when some students do not have all the needed items. Instead of going without, teachers can distribute the donated supplies without causing disruption to the class or upsetting the students.

"We are very appreciative of the donation of supplies," Perrault said. "There is a need for them, and it is nice when the community and schools work together."

Wicklow was chosen as the recipient of the supplies through the recommendation of Kathleen Dilella, who worked as a speech therapist at the school. The Mothers & More member told Perrault her organization was working on the service project, and the principals informed

Later, after checking the state of Florida's live scan system and checking Serra's fingerprints, information was received that his true name is Bruce Palmer Johnson, 37.

Initially, charges were, burglary of an unoccupied conveyance, larceny of more than $300, possession of burglary tools, and resisting an officer without violence. Now, because of giving the false information, he has been charged with resisting/obstructing an officer by a disguised person.

In a court appearance, the judge determined he is to be held without bond.

Authorities say he is also wanted on an outstanding warrant issued in Orange County for violation of probation on a conviction of petit theft, and has an unspecified case pending in Seminole County.

Sheriff's office aviation team receives national award for infrared operation

By Michelle Jerie Managing Editor

SANFORD - In December, two suspects wanted on stolen vehicle and drug charges tried to outrun officers from the Sanford Police Department after bailing out of a stolen car. They managed to elude capture — at least for a short time — by hiding in some underbrush. The pair, however, didn't realize their nighttime escape attempt would be thwarted by two men from the Seminole County Sheriff's Office hovering hundreds of feet above them in the air.

Last month, Pilot Steve Farris and Flight Officer Patrick Rice received national recognition for their efforts in apprehending the two fleeing criminals. The aviation team's video of the event surpassed hundreds of other entries in this year's FLIR Vision Award Contest to win second place.

"Our unit submitted several entries, and we hoped to win something," Rice said. "But, we knew there was a lot of tough competition. You just never know."

FLIR Systems Inc., sponsors the annual contest. It honors law enforcement personnel who use the Forward Looking Infra Red (FLIR) System - a device that focuses on body heat - in their operations.

Last December, Farris and Rice were on Delta shift when they received a Signal 10 bailout call from the Sanford Police Department. After the helicopter arrived at the scene, it didn't take long for the aviation team and the FLIR System — attached to the bottom of the helicopter — to locate a heat source. They immediately contacted the ground unit, who went into the wooded area at the corner of Persimmon Avenue

SEMINOLE SUMMARY A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Mea culpa, redux: I know, I'm mixing my Latin and French, but last week's correction was so nice, I'm doing it twice.

In trying to correct an earlier mistake, I compounded it. Let's play it straight this time and just stick with the basics: Bill Daniel is running for Seminole County Around the Clock Commission, District 2 against incumbent Randy Morris. Bill Davis wrote a letter to the editor criticizing Bob Goff's polling activities at centralfloridapolling.com. Daniel didn't criticize Goff and Davis isn't running against Morris. Why I continue to confuse these two gentlemen is a mystery to me. Fortunately, there's only one candidate for Bonchead of the Month — me.

Daniel said my blunders generated more publicity for his campaign. If that's the case, I'm sending Goff a bill for the advertising The Herald has been providing his company.

On target: The national retailer with the big red bull's-eye may be expanding its current Lake Mary store.

A few months ago, the word Around The Clock had Target looking for land on Rinehart Road to build a Super Target facility. Those plans may change according to people in the know.

One scenario Target may pursue is to work a deal with grocery store chain Winn Dixle to expand into their facility. Winn Dixie now operates a store in the old Goodings grocery store on the Heathrow side of Interstate 4, just a couple of miles down Lake Mary Boulevard from the company's store next door to Target. If a deal is reached, Winn Dixle can consolidate its operations into the Heathrow site, leaving Target enough room to create a mega store at its current location.

No plans are final, and Target may ultimately build a new facility on Rinehart. The retailer has a strong interest in north Seminole County, sources say, and wants to increase its presence in the area.

R.I.P.: I'm in a state of mourning this week because of the passing of a beloved family member: my 1986 Dodge Diplomat.

I've been ridiculed endlessly, primarily because of the big dent in the right rear quarter panel and the lack of a rear bumper, evidence of a minor wreck Lhad just one week before 1 moved to Florida. Because of the body damage, one Sanford official called it the Dodge Dent. Police Chief Brian Tooley threatened to attach yellow tape to the car because he said it was a moving crime scene.

I'm not sure why I grew so attached to the Dodge. Though the motor still purrs, I've had more than my share of problems. Its been stolen and recovered twice. Both times officers found it abandoned in a ditch with moderate damage.

The air conditioning went out years ago, the

BB Gun Incidents

Alexander Michiel Oostenbrink, 18, of Shady Oaks Circle, Lake Mary, and Christopher Dietzel, 16, were arrested Wednesday in connection with the BB Gun shooting of windows in residences and vehicles.

Tuesday, Longwood police investigated three separate incidents involving the pelloting of occupied vehicles and a residence. Lake Mary police investigated the shooting of a vehicle by a passing SUV on Interstate-4 near the Lake Mary Blvd. exit. The vehicle's driver supplied officers with the license number and the vehicle was located at the Oostenbrink home.

Following an investigation it was determined that both youths had been involved in the incidents placed under arrest. Dietzel was located at his residence and was also arrested. Lake Mary police charged Dietzel with shooting into an occu-pied vehicle, criminal mischief and conspiracy. Lake Mary charged Oostenbrink with principal, first degree, shooting into a vehicle, conspiracy and accessory after the fact.

The Missing Mast

A DeBary man had parked his sailboat in a yard on Monroe Road. When he checked the craft on July 25, he discovered the 30 foot mast was missing from the boat. A neighbor told sheriff's deputies she saw a man take the mast from the boat and cut it into pieces, to sell for scrap aluminum. Following an investigation, Okey Ray Garrett, 33, of Kingsport, Tenn., was stopped by Sanford police Tuesday at 25th Street and French Avenue. He was charged with DUI alcohol/drugs, failure to exhibit a vehicle registration and no proof of insurance.

Other Arrests

Angela Hampton Drumm, 30, of Mount Plymouth, was arrested by sheriff's deputies at a motel on West SR-46 Monday. She was charged with possession of cocaine, possession of under 20 grams of marijuana, and posses-sion of drug paraphernalia.

John Francis McGowan, 38, of Sunnyside Avenue, Sanford, was arrested by sheriff's deputies Monday at his residence. Deputies were called regarding loud music being played at the residence. McGowan reportedly refused to exit from the house when asked to do so by the officer. He was subsequently charged with resisting an officer without violence, disorderly intoxication, and operation of an indoor sound amplification device.

radio a couple of years back. The power locks are no longer powered, and the interior driver's side door handle fell off.

The key ignition switch stopped working a year ago, so I utilized my vast inexperience to rewire it. How I kept from turning the driver's seat into my own personal electric chair I'll never know. You start the car by sticking your hand under the dash into a handful of wires to flip a switch and push a button. At least you used to start it that way before the starter motor began to fail. For a couple of days I hit it with a hammer (the starter, that is) before engaging the switches and buttons.

Finally on Sunday the starter failed completely. I contemplated changing it out, but I guess I had already accepted reality that I had to buy a new car. A week before the starter conked out, the right rear went flat. I cruised by car lots with the "doughnut" spare tire on the right rear eyeing the inventory and dreading the process.

The replacement? A 1999 Chevy Lumina. Teddy Walker, The Herald's classified salesman, describes the color as Florida State garnet. I prefer to call it Alabama crimson. The newest car I've ever owned was seven years old, so the Lumina is brand new compared to my other vehicles.

The car handles and rides wonderfully, the air conditioning is great, it's much more dependable, gets good gas mileage and there's plenty of room. To top it all off, it looks pretty good, too. There's only one thing I like better about the Dodge.

Our View Make your choice

With the dog days of summer just beginning, it seems appro-priate to kick-off the silly season — Election 2002.

This year's election cycle will be considerably more low key, on the local scene at least, than 2000. That doesn't mean the issues are any less serious. In the coming days and weeks, two candidates for Seminole County School Board - Jeannie Morris the incumbent, and Oscar Pendleton the challenger - will begin knocking on doors, mailing literature and greeting strangers in public places to convince voters to elect them as their school board representative. Bill Daniel, the challenger, and Randy Morris, the incumbent, will be engaged in the same activity in their bids to represent District 2 on the Seminole County Commission.

This is a particularly good year to learn where the candidates stand on issues important to you. An uncluttered local election slate will provide candidates will plenty of opportunities to tout their platforms without getting lost in the noise of a presidential election. There are, of course, other primary races occurring, most notably for governor and congress. We don't dismiss this offices. Voters should carefully consider each candidate. But local politics is where the rubber meets the pavement. Roads, schools, public safety and quality of life issues top most people's list of concerns. Those elected to local offices have the greatest impact in these areas, so their campaigns deserve more than cursory consideration. Talk to the candidates, question their positions and make an informed choice.

One other thing: don't forget to vote for your candidate on Sept. 10. What better way to demonstrate the greatness of America than to exercise your right to vote, especially on the eve of the one-year anniversary of the worst terrorist attack in the nation's history.

U.S.Army nurses have come a long way since 1861

Aug. 3 is the anniversary of U.S. Army nurses getting a pay raise, so today, let's discuss not only the army nurses, but all service and civilian nurses.

I feel certain not everyone will agree with this, but nurses I have encountered at the Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford, and the Florida Hospital Fish Memorial in Orange City, (the only two I've been at in the past years), deserve the best pay their employers can give. Talk about TLC (Tender Loving Care), these ladies, and the few male nurses, go all-out in helping the patients. They calm you if you're frightened, help alleviate pain if you're hurting, and take care of most of your needs They are TOPS, and many of them cut their teeth as military nurses first. Of course, YOU have to treat nurses with respect in order to have their respect of you as a patient. Get over-demanding and you may not feel they are serving you properly. Now, let's talk about the nurses who are and were in the U.S. Army. The Army Nurse Corps was started by Gen. George Washington and authorized by Congress on June 14, 1775.

Can you guess the pay they received? It was $2 PER MONTH plus one meal (or ration) per

Huskey suggests items important to city's growth Dear Mayor Lessard:

I continue to read good things about the work you are doing for all of us in Sanford -I am on your team and wish to help in any way that I can.

There are a few items that I think are extremely important on the ongoing growth of our great city. 1. I am enclosing a couple of snapshots of large Canary Island palms on the corner of Plumosa Drive and Sanford Avenue that are gradually dying. You can see from the enclosed pictures that they haven't been trimmed in many years. They need to be trimmed, the base cleaned out and fertilized. I had written letters before to the County Manager who turned them over to the Parks Department, but as you can see, nothing has been done sine I brought this to the County's attention over two years ago. I know somehow the City could deploy a couple of men who could trim the trees, haul everything off and do some fertilization in a day's time. We both know it is very difficult for homeowners who take care of their lawns and take pride in their homes when they see this type of thing being neglected by the City. All of these palms are between the sidewalk and the curb, within the City of Sanford's right of way. 2. The second problem is a huge one. Downtown Sanford will never move forward one inch - in fact, it is going to decline - with the present lighting situation. Downtown is almost pitch black at night. Lights are few and far between and it really is unsafe. Unfortunately, the City of Apopka has put the City of Sanford to shame. You should go to Apopka in the evening and look at their lighting.

the new river walk section. I think it is going to do more than anything done in the last 50 years to improve the image of downtown Sanford. In conjunction with this, if the sabal palms along Lakeshore Drive on 17-92 towards I-4 are trimmed, it would add significantly to the beauty of the waterfront, which in many ways is one of Sanford's great assets. As an old Central Floridian, I have known for years that Sanford possesses many nat-ural attributes that other cities such as Orlando do not have. Sanford needs to be brought back to what it was many years ago. Over the years, Sanford has done less with more, but I am confident that under your leadership things will continue to get better. 4. For many years I have said that Sanford needs to prepare a brochure about the City, stressing the marina, and encouraging winter residents who traverse to Florida via yacht and the Inland Waterway to come up the beautiful St. Johns River, view "Old Florida" and visit Sanford. This should be sent to major yacht clubs on the eastern seaboard from Georgia to Maine.

5. I know the Department of Transportation is in the process of re-doing the I-4/46 interchange to some degree. I am sure the City has already petitioned the DOT to do some landscaping at the entranceway, but installing lights like those at the other interchanges and continuing the streetlights from I-4 to downtown is needed. Again, I love Sanford. It is my Home, and I want to see it become the great city it has the potential to become. Please let me know if there is anything I can do to assist. I am 100 percent on your team. I am not trying to be redundant, but just passing on some of the old sayings I coined many years ago. a. Nothing turns up in this world until somebody turns it up. In other words, things don't happen accidentally; you have to make them happen.

it and the tenth one will try to steal it from you.

c. In PR and advertising, if you tell somebody something long enough, but the time they figure out you ain't, you are.

Cordially, E. Everett Huskey President, Huskey Development Co. Inc.

Proposed revision on used car lots is a 'poison pill'

To the editor:

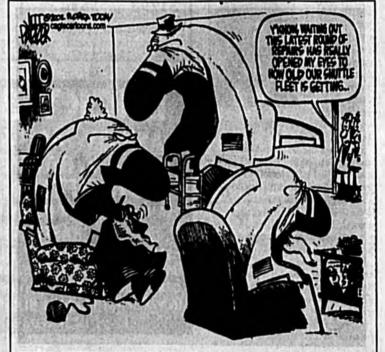

The proposed ordinance revi-sion Schedule F is a poison pill to get rid of used car lots. It reminds me of ant bait (auto dealers) when they get it on them, they go back to the rest (support companies) and it kills the others. We need to make a stand and have a say in our industry and our community. As you review Schedule F, please realize that to open a small car lot will cost at least $1,000,000 under these revisions and drive the small support companies out of business in time.

After reading the revisions, a dealer told me that at first he thought he would be one of the only ones around after this and would make a lot of money. He then remembered, after 25 years in business when he lost his lease a few month ago, that if these revisions were in effect, he would have to leave town to afford another lot.

Dealers would be required to also have three service bays directly affecting auto repair shops that repair dealer cars. Some shops get 25 to 35 percent of their business from car dealers. None of us can afford this.

I am providing a petition so that we may have a chance to have a voice in this matter. Please sign the petition and have as many people (customers) and friends as you can sign it. We will pick up the petition before the 12th of August. The next workshop will be at 4 p.m. on August 12, and the meeting will be that " night at 7 p.m. at City Hall. So please get as many signatures as possible as soon as you can in the next week.

Jim Dunn CMC Automotive Group Sanford

day. You can bet the women who took on those tasks weren't in it for the money. Within two years, their pay was increased to $8 per month, but still with only one ration (meal) per day.

August 3, 1861 is considered the Army Nurse Pay Raise Anniversary. It took another 84 years before congress authorized the Surgeon General to employ women as nurses for army hospitals at a salary of $12 per month, (with the same one ration per day).

Now we know that money went much further back in the late 1800s. A loaf of bread was five cents. Most meat sold for about two cents per pound. So the $12 per month wasn't that bad. But it's still shocking that salaries were so low even back then, for people who often held the lives of individuals in their hands.

For the sake of this article, I attempted to find out what the starting base pay would be today for an Army nurse. I called the local Army recruiting office who gave me a Tampa recruiting office number, who, in turn gave me two Army Specialist Office numbers, only to get no answer on either number. So, we won't even hazard a guess, but it's probably more than $12 per month.

Army nurses, those with degrees in nursing, become officers, and as such, earn much better salaries than enlisted personnel. They also have better perks such as housing, uniforms, travel, and rather than one ration, three square meals per day.

From what I have heard, military nursing is an excellent pro-fession. You do what you have been trained and educated to do, and get to see the world while you're at it.

Give it some thought, but don't think you'll only earn $12 per month.

3. I read with great interest and congratulate you and the City of Sanford for starting to work on

The Way We Were: Early railroads in Seminole County

The Seminole County Historical Commission recently published a new expanded 2002 edition of "Early Days of Seminole County History." It contains brief histories of each incorporated city in the county

include

There is information on agriculture, commercial fishing, cattle raising, timber and turpentine, all early industries. There is information on early leisure activities and a large section on transportation.

Since I can't remember writing much about early railroads, I will do so today. All of the information comes from "Early Days of Seminole County History" which can be obtained at the Museum of Seminole County History, 300 Bush Blvd. It is free, as is the admission to the museum.

George C. Brantley's Dream It is possible that the first railroad in the area was in the mind of George C. Brantley who had a place in Mellonville with Michael Doyle. (A picture of Doyle's store will be in the 2003 Historic Sanford Calendar to be published soon by the Sanford Historical Society).

/United a serie and an extend added

Brantley also had a store at the end of Tuscawilla Road to Lake Jesup where the railroad idea was probably originated. His business entailed hauling by oxcart, goods deposited by steamboats at Mellonville for destinations to the south. Rather than oxcarts, his idea was to build a railroad from Lake Monroe to his Tuscawilla Road store and beyond.

In 11878 Brantley went to New York to buy rails and rolling stock for his railroad, but his sudden death there ended the dream.

Thankfully, others took up the dream and by the end of the 19th century, what is no Seminole County was well connected by rails.

The South Florida Railroad A charter was issued in 1875 for the Lake Monroe and Orlando railroad, but no progress was made until 1879. At that time, E.W. Hereck of Longwood, Dr. C.C. Haskell of Maitland, Fredric H. Rand of Sanford and Longwood, procured the articles of incorporation and changed the name to the South Florida Railroad.

In spike of jeers from railroad magnates in Jacksonville, these men proceeded with bonds bought mainly by the owners of the Boston Daily Herald. One of its owners was the brother of Dr. Haskell. This road is often noted as the first and only one built, owned and run by a newspaper. The road was to run from the St. Johns River in Sanford to Charlotte Harbor on the Gulf of Mexico. To highlight the endeavor, there was a ground breaking ceremony in Sanford on Saturday, June 10, 1880 when the first spade of earth was turned by former president Ulysses S. Grant who, at the time, was taking a tour of Florida. The shovel used is on display in the Sanford Museum. There is an historical marker at the site of the ground breaking ceremony on East First Street.

By Oct. 1, 1880, the line was completed to Orlando by way of Longwood and Maitland, a distance of 23 miles. The following day, an excursion from Sanford was run mainly on flat cars fitted with wooden benches. A cannon was mounted on the last car, wadded with Spanish moss which saluted the occasion enroute. The Orlando residents entertained with a barbeque.

According to Mr. J.B. Clouser of Longwood, "The rolling stock consisted of one coach, one flat car, a diminutive little engine called "the Seminole".

This was the first railroad south of latitude 29 degrees north. In 1884, it was advertised as "The DeSoto Line Through Florida" and in 1897 it was billed as the "Gate City Route".

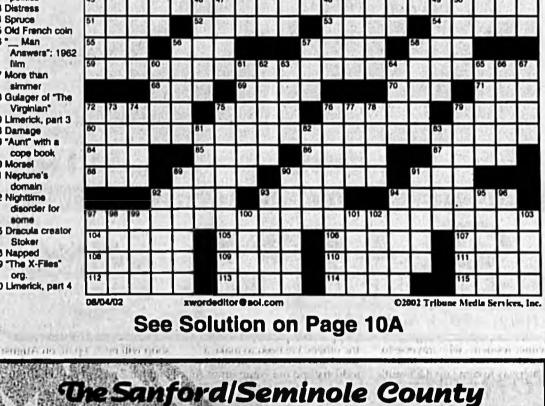

Three Mason-improved engines were owned by the line; R.M. Pulsafer #7, H.B. Plant #8 and H.S. Haines #9.

In 1883 a three-fifths interest in the railroad was sold to the Plant Investment Company (PICO) making it part of the Plant system which then extended the line to Tampa. Since there was no railroad south of Jacksonville at that time, the South Florida

Commercial Street. Sanford was also the carliest Florida City with an integrated rail system of its own.

Orange Belt Railway In 1885, Peter A. Demans of Longwood bought the charter of a railroad which had been incorporated as the Orange Belt Railway. It was to be built from the town of Monroe (now Lake Monroe) to Lake Apopka, a distance of 35 miles. It was completed to Oakland on the shore of Lake Apopka in November 1886, and despite his financial difficulties, Demans extended the line to Pinellas Point on the gulf which was accomplished in 1888.

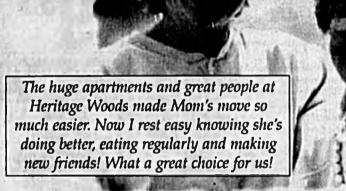

Demans wanted the town of Oakland to change its name to St. Petersburg in honor of his native city in Russia, but they declined. Instead, the name was given to Pinellas Point, which has become the city of St. Petersburg that we know today.

When the 117.68 miles of 25 pound rails were completed, the road became the country's longest narrow gauge railroad. This status lasted until 1897.

In 1893, it had become part of the Plant System as the Sanford and St. Petersburg Railway.

The stations listed in 1892 within the bounds of present day Seminole County were Monroe, Sylvan Lake, Island Lake, Paola, Glen Ethel, Groveland, Palm Springs, Granada, Forest City and Toronto, a total o 18 miles.

Next week will be a continuation of early Seminole County railroads.

underlying issues are a growing concern in the medical community, Alexander said emergency room patients should not see a drastic change in procedures. Patients who come into the emergency room with abdominal pain and require surgery but do not have a surgeon of their own are treated by general surgeons on "back-up call." Appendectomies, bleeding ulcers, gall bladder complications, and bowel obstructions are typical of the operations these doctors treat. Many patients come in with abdominal pains, Alexander said, but only a small percentage require the emergency noom surgery.

In July, for example, 259 patients came into the emergency room with pains in their abdomen. Of those, 211 were treated and released, 38 were admitted but did not require surgery, four were transferred to other hospitals at the patients' request, and six required surgery. It would be possible in many cases to cover emergency surgeries with the hospital's one remaining general surgeon.

"It's obviously not the preferred situation," Alexander said. "If we have a patient who needs a general surgeon and we can not provide that service, our protocol will be to call the closest hospital to find a surgeon who can treat the patient."

Malpractice carriers have pulled out of the Florida market, citing the volume of malpractice cases filed in the state combined with punitive damage awards that can climb to hundreds of millions of dollars. Craig Bair, director of marketing for CFRH, said two years ago 35 different companies offered malpractice insurance. Now only two provide coverage.

"There is no competition in the market, so the carriers can name their price," Bair said. "We're not talking about a bad group of doctors here. This group has an excellent record with an extremely small percentage of complaints."

The group, General and Vascular Surgical Associates, has closed its offices for two weeks, or until affordable insurance can be purchased. Until then, the principals, Dr. John Robertson, Dr. Bill Huether, Dr. Brian Cameron and Dr. Winkle are on sabbatical. So is there staff.

"It's more than just the doctors. These guys have employees nurses, medical assistants, records technicians, receptionists," Alexander said. "If the doctors can't practice, they can't pay their employees."

SANFORD - No doubt now. Matt's Team and Sanford Church of God proved that their regular season league championships were no fluke as they also claimed the titles in the postseason tournament for the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Spring Recreational Volleyball League at the Salvation Army Gymnasium.

Neither team cruised to the championships however as the other teams in the league continued to improve as the season progressed and it made for an interesting tournament.

In fact, the A League Tournament had to go to a tie-breaker with Matt's Team surviving over the Shoestrings, 15-12.

Further proof of the improvement of the other squads was evident on the final week of the regular season as both champions suffered a loss.

Both teams appeared poised to stampede into the tournament as they easily went undefeated in Week 8.

In the A League, Matt's Team went 4-0, knocking off S&S Fence twice by identical 11-5 scores and also dealing a double defeat to the Shoestrings, by a relatively easy 11-7 score and a tough, 12-10, extra point battle.

The other two teams split with each other for the week, S&S winning, 11-6, and the Shoestrings winning 11-7.

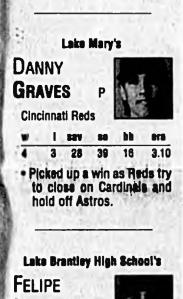

In the B League, Sanford Church of God had a very easy time of it in going 3-0, disposing of the Hawks (15-3), the Unknowns (15-5) and Westview Baptist Church (15-6).

The Unknowns went 2-1 for the week, topping the Hawks (15-9) and Westview (15-8). The Hawks picked up the other See Volleyball, Page 2B

ORLANDO - University of Central Florida junior starting weakside linebacker Antoine Poe (Lakeland/Kathleen HS) broke his left ankle Wednesday evening and is expected to miss the entire 2002 season. Poe fractured his left fibula when he fell awkwardly during a voluntary workout at the UCF practice field. He is scheduled to have a metal plate inserted in that ankle during surgery Friday. "It's unfortunate," UCF defensive coordinator and linebackers coach Bill D'Ottavio said. "We need everybody we can to go to battle and Antoine is a guy we think very highly of and we were looking for a big year from him."

Poe, who has not redshirted, won the vacant starting job in the spring, despite missing time with a knee injury. He saw limited time last season due to various ailments and played in one game at Kathleen High School as a senior before suffering a knee injury that delayed his Sophomore Stanford Rhule (Fort Lauderdale/Dillard HS) came out of spring drills as the backup to Poe and is expected to assume the starting role when fall camp begins Aug. 8. He recorded 25 tackles as a true freshman last year. "Poe will be back at some point, but the other guys will have to step up," D'Ottavio said, "Stanford Rhule did a great job in the spring and we have a lot of confidence in him."

"Antoine could have been one of the best linebackers we've ever had here, athletically," head coach Mike Kruczek said. "He has great speed and a nose for the football as well as a tenacious attitude, but he's been an injury-prone guy. "He will be sorely missed

Last weekend baseball fans got to see the game as it was meant to be played as the 2002 American Legion A Area Tournament was held at Seminole High School's Alumni Field. The kids were playing for the love of the game under the sun and having a ball as they tried to win a spot in the State Tournament, which began Friday and continues through Monday in Bradenton. Eventual Area champion Sanford Post 53 kicked up a little dirt on the base paths in the tourney as evidenced by Mike Brady sliding safety back into first (top) as a pickoff throw skips past the Oviedo first baseman and Jason Louwsma (above, right) sliding safety into third on a double by Austin Pride. Oviedo also gave a good showing for itself; coming back from an opening game loss to face Sanford in the final on the strength of pitcher's like Corey Bevis (above, left).

JUPITER — The Orlando Scorpions recently returned from Roger Dean Stadium in Jupiter where they were once again victorious in the 16-and-Under category at the USA Junior Olympic Baseball Championships.

Two years ago the Scorpions had also won the AAU Jr. Olympic Nationals 16 & under title.

The team was made up of local young men (none of which were on the 2000 Championship team) who fought through a few early round losses to get themselves into the finals on Saturday against the very strong Apopka team.

Yes, Central Florida baseball was once again very well represented.

In a hard fought game by both teams the Orlando Scorpions prevailed 8-6 to take the Championship. Pitcher Kyle Ramsey (Osceola High in Kissimmee) was chosen to go to Tucson, Arizona to compete amongst 36 other players for a final roster spot on the USA Youth National Team who will play in the International Championships to be held in August in Venezuela.

B League _ Sanford Church of God (3-0), the Unknowns (2-1), the Hawks (1-2) and Westview Baptist Church (0-3).

But the final week of the regular season proved interesting as Matt's Team was whipped, 11-2, by the Shoestrings. Matt's Team did bounce back later to avenge the loss with an 11-4 thumping, but a statement had been made in the A League.

Matt's Team and the Shoestrings both got past S&S Fence twice, Matt's winning 11-6 and 11-2, and the Strings winning 11-5 and 11-4.

The upset bug also bit Sanford Church of God on the final night as the Unknowns went a perfect 3-0.

Magic make moves to retool for new season

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - The Orlando Magic have been busy in the past few days, with General Manager John Gabriel announcing the signing of ree agent forward-center Olumide Oyedeji (oh-LOOM-uhday oi-yah-DAY-gee) and free agent guard Jacque Vaughn, the re-signing of free agent forward Pat Garrity, the trading of Don Reid to Denver for a future draft pick and the waiving of guard-forward Jud Buechler.

"Olumide has impressed us during summer league play," said Gabriel. "He brings a lot of energy and addresses some of our needs in the frontcourt. We look forward to his contributions." Added head coach Doc Rivers, "He's active.

He's big. He's strong and he's a heck of a rebounder. I'm excited he is joining our team." Said Oyedeji, "This is a great opportunity. I'm 21 years old and just want to keep learning and playing. I feel I have the energy and intensity that can change a game."

Oyedeji (6'10", 255, 5/11/81) played in 36 regular season games with Seattle last season, averaging 1.5 ppg. and 2.2 rpg. in 6.1 minpg. He made his second career NBA start on Nov. 9 @ Boston. Oyedeji pulled down a season-high nine rebounds on Nov. 21 @ San Antonio. He also appeared in three playoff outings with the Sonics, recording nine points and six rebounds in 17 total minutes.

In the Orlando Professional Summer League (July 9-13, 2002), Oyedeji averaged 7.8 ppg. and 7.2 rpg. in 24.8 minpg. for the Magic. He averaged 15.1 ppg. and 13.9 rpg. per 48 minutes played during OPSL action.

Born in Ibadan, Nigeria, Oyedeji was originally selected in the second round (42nd overall) of the 2000 NBA Draft by Seattle. He has played in 66 games during his NBA career, all with the Sonics, and averaged 1.5 ppg. and 2.2 rpg. in 6.7 minpg.

Oyedeji played two seasons in Germany for DJK Wurzburg, the same team that once featured All-Star forward Dirk Nowitzki. He was also a member of the Nigerian National Team in 1999.

Vaughn (6'1", 190, 2/11/75) played in all 82 regular season games for Atlanta during the 2001-02 season, averaging 6.6 ppg., 4.3 apg. and 2.0 rpg. in 22.6 minpg. He also made 16 starts, averaging 7.4 ppg., 7.1 apg. and 2.5 rpg. during that span. Vaughn ranked second on the team and 31st in the NBA in assists. He also tied for 14th in the league in assist-to-turnover ratio (3.12, 349/112). Vaughn led (or tied) the Hawks in assists 27 times and in scoring twice.

"We feel Jacque has the ability and experience to deliver the ball and be a team leader on the floor." said Gabriel. "He has earned this right and we look forward to his contributions."

"What impresses me about Jacque is his speed and ability to run a team," said head coach Doc Rivers. "He is young, but has gained some valuable experience in his five years in the league. His ability, experience and this opportunity should lead to an outstanding season.

Said Vaughn, "It's a great day for me. It's a great time in my life. What more could a person ask? You get to play for a coach, who not only had a successful career, but he played the point guard position. In addition, you get to play with a group of guys that everytime they step on the court their objective is to win and play together. For me, this is a perfect situation.

"I think I bring a lot of things to the table; a whole lot of intensity, intangibles also that show up in the locker room and out on the court and I have a knack of getting to know each guy on an individual basis, knowing what they like to do on and off the court," added Vaughn. "As a point guard that's my job and I bring that asset to the table."

Vaughn has appeared in 200 consecutive games, dating back to the 1999-2000 season when he was with Utah. His streak is the eighth-longest active streak in the NBA. In 2001-02, Vaughn poured in a career-high 20 points on Mar. 31 vs. Sacramento and set a new career-high with five steals against the L.A. Lakers on Jan. 29.

Originally selected in the first round (28th overall) of the 1997 NBA Draft by Utah, Vaughn signed with Atlanta as a free agent on July 30, 2001. He has appeared in 306 regular season games during his NBA career with Utah and Atlanta, averaging 4.9 ppg., 2.9 apg. and 1.4 rpg. in 15.9 minpg. Vaughn has also played in 21 career playoff games, averaging 2.0 ppg. and 1.2 apg. in 7.3 minpg. A four-year letterwinner at Kansas, Vaughn averaged 9.6 ppg., 6.4 apg. and 3.0 rpg. in 126 career games with the Jayhawks. He was named Second Team All-America during both his junior and senior campaigns by The Associated Press. He concluded his collegiate career as the school's all-time leader in assists (804), finished third in starts (125) and fifth in minutes played (3,807). He was named the Big Eight Conference Player of the Year in 1996 and the Newcomer of the Year in 1994

Garrity (6'9", 238, 8/23/76) has spent the last three seasons with Orlando. He appeared in 80 regular season games with the Magic last season, averaging a career-high 11.1 ppg., 4.2 rpg. and 1.2 rpg. in 30.1 minpg. He also made 43 starts, aver-aging 12.4 ppg., 5.2 rpg. and 1.5 apg. in 34.8 minpg. during that span. Garrity started all four playoff games vs. Charlotte, averaging 8.5 ppg.,

7.5 rpg. and 2.3 apg. in 36.8 minpg. During the 2001-02 campaign, Garrity led the Magic and ranked 11th in the NBA with a .427 three-point field goal percentage, connecting on 169-of-396 trifectas. He scored in double figures 45 times, including a season-best 29 points vs. New York on Feb. 12. Garrity led (or tied) the Magic in scoring five times and in rebounding nine times, including a career-high 11 boards on Apr. 4 vs. Cleveland.

Garrity has led the Magic in three-point field goal percentage for three straight seasons, shooting .422 (345-817) from beyond the arc in a Magic uniform. He was originally selected by Milwaukee in the first round (19th pick overall) of the 1998 NBA Draft, and was acquired by the Magic on Aug. 4, 1999, along with Danny Manning and two future first round draft picks, in exchange for Anfernee Hardaway.

Garrity has played in 277 career NBA games with Phoenix and Orlando, averaging 8.7 ppg. and 3.0 rpg. in 21.7 minpg. He has shot .422 (352-835) from three-point range during his career. Just this past Thursday, the Magic obtained a future second round draft selection from the Nuggets for Reid and future draft considerations.

This maneuver allows us to address our recent draft selections, while creating additional flexibility in regard to our current roster," said Gabriel. 'Don Reid is a true team player and fulfilled every role we asked of him, but obviously with the number of players at his position, playing time for the coming season would be at a premium.

Reid (6'8", 250, 12/30/73) played in 68 games for the Magic in 2001-02, averaging 3.3 points, 2.6 rebounds and 0.65 blocks. Originally signed as a free-agent by Orlando in August of 2000, Reid has seen action in 402 NBA games with Orlando, Detroit and Washington, averaging 3.6 points and 2.9 rebounds. The Georgetown graduate entered the NBA as the 58th and last pick of the 1995 Draft.

Buechler (6'6", 228, 6/19/68) played in 66 games for both Phoenix and Orlando last season, averaging 1.7 ppg. and 1.8 rpg. in 10.4 minpg. He led (or tied) the Magic in rebounding twice, including a career-high 12 rebounds on Nov. 29 vs. Boston. Buechler was acquired from the Suns on Nov. 16 in exchange for Bo Outlaw and a future first round draft pick.

Scorpions

Continued from page 1B when they needed to. In the first rounds they went 3-2 to be seeded number 17 overall and a safe place in the final 32-team tournament.

The championship then begins a single elimination tournament for the march to the

In the first game of the Championship bracket (32 teams) the Scorpions matched up against the Greensboro (North Carolina) Colts (#16 seed) and defeated them 7-0 behind the masterful pitching of Ramsey who hurled a no-hitter, throwing just 68 pitches in the seven inning contest. Next up was No. 1 seeded Team Tampa, but they proved to be no match for the Scorpions as the locals stung the tourney favorites, 10-2, to end any gold medal hopes for the top seed. In the Quarterfinal round the Scorpions were matched up with another central Florida team the Red Raiders (#8 seed) who they disposed of 9-4. In the Semifinals the Scorpions erupted for 11 runs in the fifth inning to cruise past No. 5 seeded Dallas (Texas) Panthers, 16-4.

Orlando sent 17 batters to the plate in the big inning, collecting six hits while taking advantage of three Panther errors. John Alonso and Luke Selph each amassed three hits and drove in three runs to pace . Orlando, which had 12 hits in the contest.

The Scorpions led 5-0 after four innings before taking a commanding 16-0 advantage after its uprising. Dallas tallied its four runs in the fifth inning. In the Championship Game, David Waltrip drove in three runs and Ramsey scattered 16 hits in a route-going performance to lead the Scorpions over previously unbeaten Apopka Baseball to earn the gold medal in the Seventh Annual USA Junior Olympic Baseball Championships at the

Roger Dean Stadium complex. Waltrip had a two-run single in a four-run Scorpion third inning that gave Orlando (8-2) an early 5-1 lead. Seeded No. 2, Apopka (9-1) rallied with three runs in the bottom of the inning on RBI hits by Luke Greinke, Dennis Guinn and Dustin Bamberg to close to 5-4.

Waltrip then drove in his third run of the day and also scored in the Scorpions' three-run seventh that gave Orlando a seemingly comfortable 8-4 advantage in the scheduled seven-inning contest.

Ramsey finished with eight strikeouts, including 'whiffing'" the side in the sixth inning. Besides Waltrip, James Rowe RECRUITING CLASS The UCF women's soccer team will not officially start the 2002 season until August 12, when the players hit the field shortly after midnight for their first practice. However, pre-season chatter has already begun for the Golden Knights. Soccerbuzz.com, the "home of women's college soccer on the web," has ranked UCF's 2002 recruiting class as the ninth best in the Southeast Region. According to Soccerbuzz, UCF out-recruited Florida, Georgia, North Carolina State and South Carolina.

UCF's rookie attack will assist an already strong squad return-ing to the field after a successful 2001 season. The Golden Knights won the Atlantic Sun regular season by winning nine of its 10 A-Sun games. As an encore, UCF won the Atlantic Sun Championship, bringing their title total to seven. UCF has won three of the last four A-Sun Championships, and again, the Golden Knights advanced to the NCAA even bigger things out of her squad this year. The players decided what our goals for the year should be," Cromwell said. "Those goals are to physically and mentally commit to every practice and game, repeat as A-Sun regular season and tournament champions, and go past the second round in the NCAA Tournament. Those are my expectations as well."

With nine seniors leading the 2002 squad, UCF has stacked its non-conference schedule. With games against Duke, Syracuse, Florida State and Miami, UCF should be prepared for the strong competition in the Atlantic Sun. Cromwell wisely recruited a large class (nine total) to replace the seniors that will be lost after this season, giving the rookies a chance to learn from a veteran class that has twice advanced to the NCAA Tournament.

"I think we can repeat as conference champions," said Cromwell. "We need to get off to a good start this year and be consistent throughout. It seems we are always the team to beat in the A-Sun and our opponents always seem to play their best against us. I expect we will be deeper than any other team in the conference, and we will need to use that to our advantage."

Animal C.A.R.E. respect

Florida creatures of all sizes visit library

From Staff Reports

Things recently got a little hairy and scaly at the Seminole County Public Library in Sanford. Members of The C.A.R.E. (Creating

Members of The C.A.R.E. (Creating Animal Respect Education) Foundation and their animals stopped at the library during the Summer Specials program. Children had the opportunity to learn about and touch various creatures found in Florida, including possums, raccoons, turtles, alligators and a Florida panther. The C.A.R.E Foundation, located in Christmas, was created to provide a safe and permanent home for animals in need; to educate the public about current environmental situations concerning endangered, threatened or species of special concern and their habitats; and to help dispel common myths about some of the wondrous creatures that inhabit the earth.

The non-profit foundation is made up of volunteers concerned about the environment and conservation. In addition to daily maintenance, the volunteers also conduct wildlife educational programs, such as the recent event at the library. Currently, there are approximately 70 animals on the property. A few are chosen, and specially hand raised, for the specific purpose of education in schools and other public arenas. Many were abandoned, unwanted, as well as abused and neglected ex-pets. The recent Florida Native Program at the library is centered around a variety of hand-raised animals that were specially chosen to be ambassadors for their species.

The reptile ambassadors included Jake the snake and the American alligators Smiley and Brutus. Others attending included Paco the Opossum and Florida panthers Itora, Kacha and Kesha.

The C.A.R.E. Foundation is always in need of volunteers. In addition to the facility's weekly cleaning on Sundays, the organization needs people to interact with the public. Those interested in becoming a volunteer, contact Deborah Simpson at 407-482-4092.

For more information, visit the group's website at www.thecarefoundation.org

Foundation's Florida Native Program, which made a recent visit to the Seminole County Public Library in Sanford. Other visitors included Tommy the gopher tortoise, Baby Brutus the alligator and Kacha, the 130-pound adult male Florida panther, pictured above.

Mergos explore scenic, 'awesome'

Most travelers to Alaska will tell you in no uncertain terms that "you should see this magnificent state." Peggy and Nicholas (Nick) Mergo expressed these sentiments recently after returning from the vast, scenic landmark. "It was awesome," Peggy said. "It was wonderful."

wonderful." Dietrich The Mergos flew to Anchorage and took a bus to Seward orc where they boarded their tior ship, Royal Caribbean's Legend of the Seas for an inland passage cruise that took them to four ports. They were impressed with the museum at Anchorage and the gorgeous flowers growing in the beautiful, modern city.

Glacier Bay was totally fascinating to the Mergos. They couldn't get too close to the huge ice mass that was calving, or breaking off icebergs. They visited Juno, Sitka, Ketchikan and Skagway.

Skagway . At Sitka, the Mergos were overwhelmed by an old Russian church that was destroyed in the 1960s. Peggy said residents risked their lives to save icons and other artifacts from the burning building and these pieces adorn the present church that was rebuilt. Ansong Shierthings. Alaske has its share of wildlife. The Mergos enjoyed whale watching which Peggy said was "exciting. She added that a humped-back whale is the size of "a Greyhound bus."

They encountered other wildlife including bear, moose, lots of eagles and other birds and seals. Everything was an adventure for the Florida tourists.

of Sanford and John Michael Giroux Jr., of Peggy and Nick thoroughly enjoyed their life aboard ship although most nights they were so worn out from a busy day of sightseeing and marveling at the wonders. There were lots of good shows and they thoroughly enjoyed a piano concert by the ship's music director who also played in and directed the ship's orchestra. Peggy mentioned the midnight chocolate buffet that they missed as well as the final night midnight buffet and said the food "was wonderful - just wonderful." The Mergos disembarked their luxury ship at Vancouver, British Columbia where they spent two more days absorbing the beautiful scenery and countryside. Peggy said the scenery was the nighlight of the trip.

Summer Conventions

It has been a summer of conventions and leisure with a little history thrown in for Ruth and Fred Gaines. The Sanford couple drove 6,000 miles that started with an International Pilot Club Convention in Toronto. Joining them at the Pilot convention were Marian Sanford. Following the convention, the two couples went their merry way.

While the Gaineses were riding along the shores of Lake Huron, they discovered the nearby Neil Armstrong Museum which they found outstanding. Ruth said one of the highlights of the trip was seeing David Eckstein play baseball in St. Louis. The Sanford baseball star is the brother of their son Frederic's wife.

Ruth attended the General Federation of Women's Clubs Convention at Kansas City, Mo. A past president of the Sanford Woman's Club, she is on the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs Arts and Crafts Committee and has spent the past four years as senior advisor to the FFWC Juniorettes.

"It was a special time," Ruth said. She was privileged to witness the installation of a Florida woman, Judy Lutz, as the international president of the GFWC.

Before venturing back south, Ruth and Fred saw the sites at Hanibal, Mo. and took in some shows at Branson.

In Nashville, Fred

attended the national convention of Sons of the American Revolution. He is president of the Central Florida Chapter of SAR.

Another point of interest the couple visited was the area where Andrew Johnson grew up. They also visited their daughter, Elizabeth, and her family at Dandridge, Tenn.

Ruth said they had expected to escape the summer heat, but the temperature was in the 90s while away. Ah, the memories of home.

Couple Visits West

Helen and Paul Polgar dream of a mountain vacation to escape the summer heat.

In the meantime, they have had several nice trips. In Los Angeles, they were united with her two daughters and grandson whom she had not seen for too long. They hit the attractions in L.A. and explored the Pacific coastline. They also visited San Diego and points south.

At Albuquerque, they visited with a former Navy buddy of Paul when he celebrated his 80th birthday. There was also another Navy buddy in attendance. "It was very, very nice," Helen said.

The Polgars have an annual pass to Walt Disney World which they enjoy quite frequently.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Robert Berry. She wore a full-length white satin gown of handmade lace with seed pearls and a long train of lace and pearls. Her shoulder-length veil was made of lace, and her headpiece was a halo of silk flowers and pearls.

The bridesmaids, Janet Dufault and her sister Robin Gill, wore off-white floor-length gowns.

The bride and bridesmaids all carried bouquets of natural flowers in white

Preparation makes for children's smooth transition to new state

OUESTION: We're moving to another state in a few months. I know it's going to be tough for our two children who have so many friends at school. How can I get them ready for life in a new city?

town can be an unpleasant

experience for children, but

easier for them.

DR. DOBSON: Going to a are the keys. Educator Cheri Fuller recommends that those new school or moving to a new who are about to relocate call a family meeting to talk about there are some ways to make it what's going to happen. Begin to lay plans together. It's sad to Preparation and forethought say goodbye to good friends and it's hard to make new ones. Try establishing pen pals for your children in the new school long before the move is to occur. Relationships can blossom through the mail so that the kids are not entirely unknown in the new location.

It's also helpful to create curiosity about the new city or neighborhood you're moving to. write to the state tourist bureau or to the chamber of commerce and ask for brochures and maps. When your children begin to understand the adventure of moving, they may develop a more positive attitude toward leaving. A bit of preparation and a healthy dose of communication can help clear the way for a smoother journey to a new home.

QUESTION: When my wife left me for another man, I felt like the whole thing was my fault. I still feel that way. I had never even looked at another woman, yet here I am taking the blame for her affair. Rationally, I know I'm being very unfair to myself, but I can't help it. Or can 1?

DR. DOBSON: It is the typical reaction of a rejected spouse, like yourself, to take full responsibility for the behavior of an unfaithful spouse. The wounded partner - the person who was clearly the victim - is the one who suffers the greatest pangs of guilt and feelings of inferiority.

The blame for marital disintegration is seldom the fault of the husband or wife alone. It takes two to tango, as they say, and there is always some measure of shared blame for a divorce. However, when one marriage partner — in this case, a wife - makes up her mind to behave irresponsibly, to become involved extramaritally, or to run from her family commitments and obligations, she usually seeks to justify her behavior by magnifying the failures of her spouse. "You didn't meet my needs, so I had to satisfy them somewhere else," is the familiar accusation.

You must resist the temptation to take all the blame. I'm not recommending that you sit around hating the memory of your wife. Bittemess and resentment are emotional cancers that rot us from within. However, I would encourage you to examine the facts carefully. Ask yourself these questions: "Despite my many mis-takes and tailures in my marriage, did I value my family and try to preserve it? Did my wife decide to destroy it and then seek justification for her actions? Was I given a fair chance to resolve the areas of greatest irritation?

If you examine objectively what has occurred, you might begin to see yourself as a victim of your wife's irresponsibility rather than a worthless failure at the game of love.

Country Joe Rosier spends eight days on Amtrak trains

Lake Mary lawyer Joe Rosier is well known in Seminole County. And not just for his skills as a lawyer. For years, Rosier has been a staple at many city and county festivals. Each December, Country Joe Rosier, the storyteller, visits Lake Mary's Holiday in the Park to tell Mary "The Night Before Rowell Christmas." He has also performed at Olde Lake Mary Days. He is a writer as well as a lawyer and a storyteller, and a play written and performed by Rosier was well received at last year's Fringe Festival.

Rosier is now off on a new adventure. "Around the USA in Eight Days" could be the title of this jaunt. Joe embarked on a whirlwind tour of America by train! Rosier's odd vacation tested his sitting and sleeping habits in the Amtrak reclining coach seats as he put Amtrak's long distance trains to the test before the whistle blows on their extinction.

When Rosier showed his itinerary to his wife Sarabecca, the only thing she could say was "my back hurts." Others consider him a little touched in the head for planning this trip. Rosier's breakneck tour started on Thursday, July 25, at 2:30 p.m. when he left Sanford and headed West on the "Sunset Limited." Brief stops in New Orleans, Houston, San Antonio, El Paso and Tucson followed, and Rosier arrived in Los Angeles on Sunday, July 28. After stretching his legs, Rosier hopped aboard the "Coast Starlight" at 10 a.m. This train skirted the California shoreline, and at Oakland headed inland to view the Northern California and Oregon forests with arrival in Portland, Ore., on Monday, July 29, at 3:40 p.m.. At 4:40 p.m., Rosier made a fast dash to board the historic "Empire Builder," which left Portland for Spokane, Wash. From there, Amtrak's long distance train traveled through Idaho, Montana and North Dakota. At times, the train was only a few miles from the Canadian border. Brief stops were made at Minneapolis and Milwaukee before arriving in Chicago on Wednesday, July 31 at 4:20 p.m.

Rosier's swift tour of America continued with an early dinner in Chicago's Union Station. He then boarded the "Capitol Limited" at 7 p.m. Short stops were made in Cleveland and Pittsburgh with arrival in Washington, DC, at 1:45 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 1. Following a late lunch and a quick walk or jog around Union Station, Rosier headed out on the last leg of his "train marathon" when Amtrak's "Silver Service" departed for Florida at 4:45 p.m.

The train South passed through Richmond, North and South Carolina, Savannah and Jacksonville to arrive back in Sanford at 10:43 a.m. on Friday, Aug. 2. Rosier promised to take as many pictures as he can.

Rosier's eight-day journey covered 24 states and the District of Columbia, 7,850 miles, and almost 188 hours of continuous railroading. The hard part with Rosier's trip was the tight connections.

New Club Starts at GLMS Greenwood Lakes Middle School has a brand new club this year. The school will be hosting a Bible Club! The club will hold its first meeting Aug. 6 after school in the Art Room, Room No. 2001. The club will continue to meet every Tuesday after school. This club is designed for those students seeking to know the Word of God through student-led

Blueberries add a little flavor to Central Florida gardens

Two types of blueberries grow well in Florida, rab-bileye and southern high-bush. However, only the low-chill cultivars of each are adapted to Florida. The southern highbush cultivars that are commonly grown in Florida are best adapted to areas south of Ocala and north of Sebring.

Varieties

If you want to grow blueberries in central Florida, southern highbush are preferred to rabbiteyes. Most blueberry cultivars that are grown in Florida are selfunfruitful; they require cross pollination from other varieties.

Bees are required for good fruit set. With good pollination, berry yields of 2 to 5 pounds per plant may be expected by the third or fourth year. "Sharpblue," the mos monly grown southern highbush cultivar, can be harvested very early. "Gulf Coast" is an early variety with good fruit quality. "Misty" has become established as the primary pollenizer for 'Sharpblue'.

Also, pine bark mulch will eventually decompose and add to the soil organic matter. Blueberries require a soil pH of 4.0 to 5.5. At higher soil pH values, tissue levels of micro-elements such as iron and zinc become deficient. Blueberries require a well-drained soil. Blueberry roots exposed to water-saturated soil for more than a few days could be infected from root rot.

Planting

The best time to plant blueberries is from mid-December to mid-February. Either bare-root or container-grown plants can be used. Plants about 2 fee tall with well developed root systems that are not pot-bound are best. Keep the roots of bare-rooted plants moist but not wet prior to and during planting. The root balls of potted plants should be broken up slightly and the roots of bare-rooted plants should be spread out evenly in the planting hole. In most situations, dooryard blueberry plants benefit from the incorporation of 1/4 to 1/2 cubic foot of acid sphagnum peat moss into the planting hole. Dig the hole large enough to accommodate the roots and peat moss

The plants should be set at the same height as they grew in the nursery. A layer of pine bark 3 inches deep extending about 2 feet out from the plants in all directions, or a pine bark strip about 4 feet wide extending down the row will provide a good substrate for surface feeder roots.

Fertilization

Blueberries respond best to frequent, light fertiliza-tion. A special formulation called "blueberry special" is available in Florida and meets the plant requirements.

A "camellia-azalea" fertilizer can also be used. Spread fertilizer evenly over a circle 2 feet in diameter with the plant in the center. Repeat this procedure in April, June, August and October. If plants are mulched heavily, use 1.5 ounces per plant per application rather than one ounce. During the second year, use 2 ounces of 12-4-8 per plant per application and spread it evenly over a 3 foot diameter circle. In year three and later, use 3 ounces of fertilizer perplant per application spread evenly over a 4 foot diameter circle, or broadcast in a continuous band 3 to 4 feet wide, centered on the plant row.

development of new canes which are more productive than older canes. A general rule is to remove about 1/4 to 1/5 of the oldest canes each year. Most pruning is usually done immediately after harvest during the early summer.

Irrigation

Mature blueberry plants need about 40 inches of water annually. The most critical period for irrigation of blueberry plants in Florida is from early fruit set until the end of harvest. For most cultivars, this corresponds with a period of high water use by the plants and low rainfall.

During March, mature blueberry plants will require about 0.6 inches of water per week. 1.0 to 1.2 inches of water per week will be needed throughout the late spring and summer months.

Soil Requirements

Both rabbiteye and southern highbush thrive on acid soils which contain more organic matter than is usually found in Florida's soils. Southern highbush blueberries are not recommended for soils with less than 3 percent organic matter and

The Revolutionary Lions Youth Pep Rally of Calvary Temple of Praise was held Saturday, July 27. The Boys and Girls Club was the site of the "War Zone," and the weapons were Bibles.

The mission was to tear down strongholds, casting down imaginations that attempt to dethrone the commander-in-chief, and ultimately destroy the kingdom of Satan.

More than 200 recruits and troops marched into the spiritual warfare. It was an afternoon of boot campers wearing Christian ID dog tags and war fatigues. Terri Richardson and Eunice Nelson served as boot camp leaders for the Revolutionary Youth Group with scripture, prayer and praise.

Praise Dancers and Pantomime gave the selection "The Storm is Over Now." Minister Andre Neal presented the praise and worship with "Lord, I Lift

Your Name on High," "Rejoice," and "You are Awesome." He also spoke from Jeremiah 1. He reminded the troops that they have a purpose and they have the power. Troops encounter all forms of warfare. They can deal with ••• strife, stubbornness, oppression, gossip, lies, anger, greed, manipulation, chaos, worry, idolatry, rejection, fornication, low self-esteem, disobedience, evil, fear, theft, hate, envy, rebellion, bitterness, and unforgiveness.

Elder Norma Green Howard reminded us that God wants His soldiers to be administered to. He invites His children to lift His name.

FOOD

Compliment brunch with the perfect drink

When entertaining, brunch offers a wide variety of possibilities. Nestled between the hours of late morning and mid afternoon, you can cater to those who enjoy sleeping in and those who need a light snack before dinner. With a host of foods to serve, guests can choose among tasty omelettes, savory hors d'oevres, fruits, cheeses or smoked meats.

The perfect complement to a brunch is a refreshing mimosa. The combination of invigorating bubbles and light, clean, crisp taste of fine sparkling wine like Martini & Rossi Asti and fresh orange juice is perfect to serve while entertaining guests.

The Italian sparkler from the Piedmont region is made from 100 percent Muscat grapes from the most wellregarded regions in Italy. Light, sweet and fruity with full luscious taste, Martini & Rossi uses only the finest grapes that are gently crushed and pressed to extract the most delicate Muscat flavor leaving behind any trace of tannin or bitterness. It's just right to sip while enjoying good conversation.

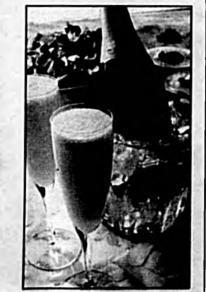

Mimosas are also quite easy to make, which gives any host or hostess plenty of time to spend with guests.

Try this easy Mimosa recipe at your next brunch, courtesy of Martini & Rossi Asti. For more recipes, visit www.bacardi.com.

To other fruit is as evocative of light, sweet, summer fun and freshness as the peach. From stock phrases like "peaches-andcream" to "peach fuzz" haircuts and "feeling peachy," we use the fruit to no other fruit conjures up more warm, happy emotions. Perhaps that is because the peach is so closely related to summer fun, because it's the season when this mouthwatering fruit is so prevalent.

Many people have a peach-loving palate, and peach flavoring has popped up in several foods and beverages, including teas, coffees, liqueurs, candies and naturally ... desserts. Yet peach coobler is not the only way to savor this tasty fruit. Indulge in this sweet blend of peaches, cream and macaroons for a decadent treat, courtesy of "Two Fat Ladies Obsessions" (Clarkson Potter), by Clarissa Dickson Wright and Jennifer Paterson.

Grilled Peaches

and Cream • 4 medium-sized fresh, ripe peaches

 3 to four macaroons, crushed • 1 tablespoon demerara or light brown sugar • 1 to 2 tablespoons Cointreau

Topping:

 11/4 cups heavy cream 3/4 cup demerara or light brown sugar

Pour boiling water over the peaches and leave for a minute or two, then pour off the water and cover them with cold water. The skins should then be easily removed. Halve the peaches, discarding pits, and place in a single layer in an ovenproof dish, cut sides up Mix the macamons with, the sugar and enough of the Cointreau to taske a paste. Fill the peach cavities with the paste. If necessary, the peach cavities can be made a little larger by removing some of the flesh, which should be minced and added to the paste.

Whip the cream and spread over the peaches. Put the peaches to chill in the refrigerator. When ready to serve, sprinkle demerara sugar over the cream and place under a preheated hot broiler until sugar melts.
