Diocese inks contract for land

By Dan Ping
Editor

SANFORD — Officials with the Catholic Diocese of Orlando have signed a contract to purchase 58 acres of land along State Road 46 near Rand Yard Road that may be the site for a new Catholic high school.

"It's official," said property owner Tom Ball. "We've got a deal with the diocese."

Ball said the two parties had reached an agreement two weeks ago, but a contract was not signed until Friday when

No official word from Bishop, but property considered for high school Bishop Norbert M. Dorsey returned from a trip to the Vatican.

The diocese has 120 days to complete its due diligence on the property.

"The next phase is to perform due diligence to determine if the site fits the needs of the diocese," said Carol Brinati, spokesperson for the diocese. "If all goes as expected with the due diligence, then there will be another 30 days to file the deed. March 1, 2001, is when we would be expected to take possession of the property."

Brinati said a new high school for the diocese is just one of many possible uses of the property. She referred specific questions about those uses to Bishop Dorsey, who was attending a priest's funeral and unavailable for comment.

"I can say this: Before any other high school is built by the diocese, all of the renovations that are planned at Bishop Moore High School in Orlando must be completed," Brinati said.

Sanford City Commission tabled an appeal of a site plan for Florida Recycling Services until the diocese reveals its plans for its new purchase. Commissioners are concerned access to the company's new facility might conflict with the diocese's plans for a school.

Millennium teachers named to USA Today's All USA Teacher Team

By Joe DeSantis
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Choosing not to rest on their laurels, Millennium Middle School teachers Margaret "Chris" Collier and Mary "Terry" Cook headed right back to their classroom this week, more fired up and excited than ever according to principle Walt Griffin.

Not bad considering the dynamic teaching duo spent the weekend coming back down to earth following their selection as First Team members of USA Today's 3rd Annual All-USA Teacher Team.

"I couldn't think of two people more deserving and more dedicated," Griffin said. "They are two special people and so is the award. They were chosen from thousands and thousands of teachers around the country. They were among 60 finalist that were named to USA Today's first, second, or third teams."

Collier and Cook were the only two Florida educators named to the first team, comprised of 13 women and 11 men. The duo was nominated for the award by a former student, Marian Hillery. In total, 24 teachers representing nine high schools, one middle-high school, three middle schools, six elementary schools, and one alternative high school from around the nation were selected to the first team.

Sanford city park going to the dogs

By Joe DeSantis

SANFORD — If you're going to run with the big dogs, you've got to get off the porch. Or, more precisely in Sanford's case, you've got to get to the park. Paw Park, that is.

Sparked by the interest and efforts of a local organization called "Friends of Our Paw Park," a fund raiser has been scheduled for Oct. 28 at the former Jaycee Park at 427 French Avenue to raise cash for canines. The goal is to generate additional funds necessary for phase one of an "off-leash" doggie romper room — a place where people and their pooches can play together, socialize, and offer dogs of all sizes a safe environment to roam and romp to their hearts content.

Organized in May, Friends of Our Paw Park has been working with city officials to see the project through, gaining a commitment from Sanford city commissioners for $15,000 of the anticipated $25,000 needed to open and complete the first phase of the project.

"This is a well organized group of citizens with a good plan," said District 1 commissioner Brady Lessard. "It's an excellent example of citizen groups brokering with the city to get projects done."

Historic district resident and multiple dog owner Mike Knipfer has served as the group's chairman and said thus far, support for the project has been universally strong.

Pumpkin peddlers raise money for mission trip

Funds got to First United Methodist Youth Group

By Michelle Jeris
Managing Editor

SANFORD — Adventurers looking for the Great Pumpkin this Halloween might want to check out the pumpkin patch located on West 1st Street.

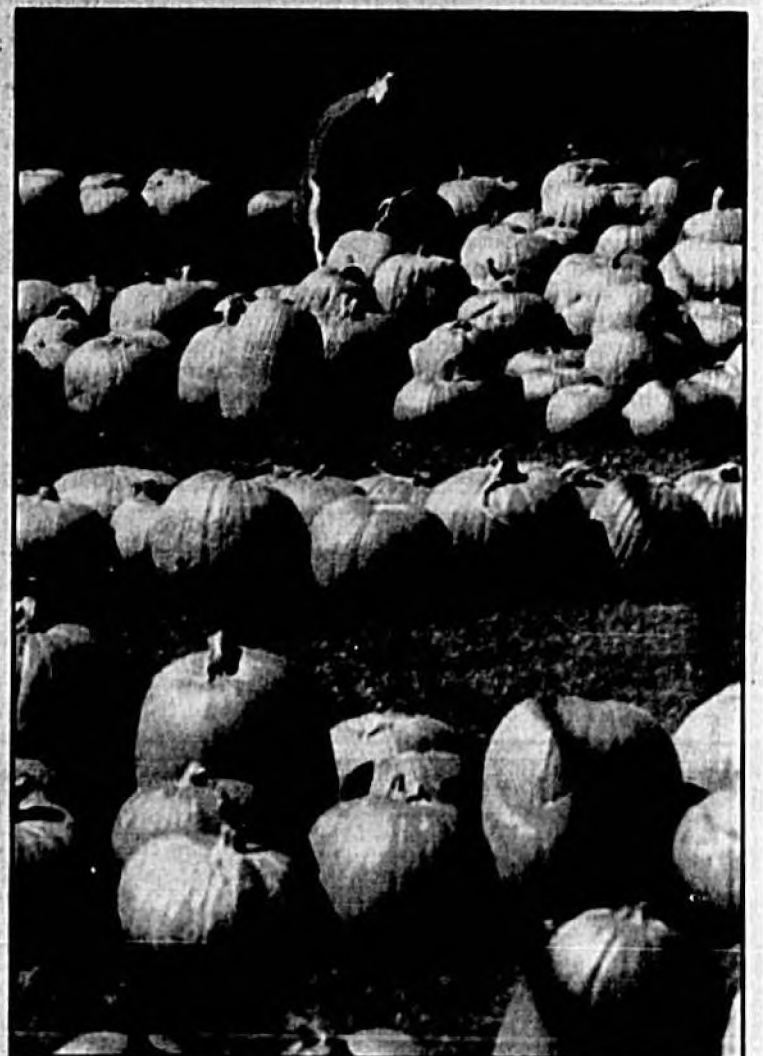

The large crop of orange fruit has turned Kathryn White's front yard into the "Great Pumpkin Patch." And even though there hasn't been any sightings yet of Linus' Halloween apparition, Kit Bedell said every other type of pumpkin can be spotted at the Sanford site.

"We've got a little bit of everything," Bedell said. "The kids have been intrigued by the unusual gourds. We even had some that looked like white swans."

Bedell is a volunteer at the "Great Pumpkin Patch," a fund-raising project for Sanford First United Methodist Church's youth group. During the day, parents and volunteers take turns at three-hour shifts to oversee the pumpkin patch while the children are at school.

During the evening and weekends, members of the youth group converge on the pumpkin patch to raise money for next summer's mission trip.

After a three-year hiatus from the pumpkin patch business, the youth group decided once again

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Happy Birthday, Alaska!

Wednesday, Oct. 18, is the anniversary of the transfer of Alaska from Russia to the United States in 1867. This is an official holiday in Alaska. Although it was many years before it became our 49th State (1959).

I've been there. For people from Florida, a visit to Alaska is one of the most ..... impressive vacations possible. (And they speak English, which always helps). Naturally, they are well aware of the economy from tourism, and there are hundreds of sights and attractions to be seen. One of the most interesting points for me was the vegetable growth. Alaska's summer, when vegetables are grown, lasts only a few months, at the most. Yet I saw cabbages, lettuce, radishes and others that were twice, even three times the size of what we grow. Because the usable ground is only a few inches deep before it reaches the frozen earth beneath, they have to gather dirt from the surrounding area and plant veggies in the dirt piles.

Why do they grow so large and in such a rapid time? They have sunlight 24 hours a day in their growing season, and what little there is, the soil is excellent.

Similar to other areas, Alaska has an Experimental Extension Service sponsored by colleges and universities, which test growing of various crops.

Living conditions in the summertime in Alaska are much like ours. But in the winter, watch Out! There is no sun. It's dark 24 hours a day (not to mention the below-freezing temperatures).

We encountered a husband and wife with two small girls, who had relatives in Sanford, who lived in Alaska. They lived 14 miles from what might be considered a main road. They had no electricity and no running water. Drinking, cooking and bathing water was obtained through drainage from the roof of their house (snow mostly — at times rain) which was collected and boiled. Heat was always by wood fires. Lighting was either kerosene or candles. Their only complaint was that moose, which are protected, were breaking into their garden eating vegetables they were growing.

They loved it — even with what we might consider difficulties.

Many people here in Florida are proud of where we live. Many may say they wouldn't live anywhere else. Believe me, the same holds true for Alaska. It's a wonderful state and a wonder to visit.

Happy 133rd Birthday, Alaska.

Homecoming court

Trapped with only your brother-in-law

You're strapped into competition water skis, sitting on the dock, staring down 75 feet of snarled line at a 200-horsepower water-ski boat, where your deranged brother-in-law is at the wheel, goosing the throttle. You shouldn't be within 100 miles of that dock, behind that boat, with that idiot driving.

You're out of shape. You're out of excuses. You're out of aspirin. And you're too proud to chicken out. But unless you think of something quick, you're fish food. It's hard to believe this all started with one beer. But the kids were all yelling for you to "go for it," and your pushy brother-in-law was making sarcastic comments about body fat percentages, so you just had to show them that you still had the moves of a 20-year-old.

And now you're going to die. You can't bail without humiliating yourself. This is where 25 years of marriage is going to save your bacon. Call your wife over for a kiss, look her in the eye and say, "I love you, honey." And then add, "I just wish I had more life insurance to provide for you and the kids." Then look real brave. Look like you're going to go for it. If she's any kind of woman, and she is, she'll have you out of those skis before your bathing suit gets wet. Outside or inside. Your brother-in-law is not going to argue with your wife. Especially if he's married to her sister.

THE 500 CHANNEL UNIVERSE

For the last few years, we've been hearing that our television sets will soon be getting 500 channels. As that day approaches, is anyone ever going to ask if this is something we want? Or do they just go ahead and do it with risk money and government grants and then when it falls we all get a tax increase?

Personally, I'm against having 500 channels. That will confuse me. I only have five buttons on my car radio, and of them I don't even use. Why would I want 500 television channels? I'd have to do four hours of research to watch 30 minutes of television. The TV guide will probably come with a truss.

I think I know who's behind this plan — the company that makes batteries for the remote. This is another one of those situations where they take something good and then wreck it trying to make it better. I don't want 500 channels. Nobody needs that many options.

I'm from a small town so I don't like choice. If a company hires you, you have a career. If a girl says yes, you have a marriage. If she says yes again, you have a family. Keep it simple. If there'd been 500 girls in my town, I'd still be flipping through the catalogue.

BEWARE OF TOO MUCH COUPLING

I've been in Florida a few times and have seen a lot of older couples there who have gotten into a weird togetherness thing. They do everything together and dress in matching shirts and the whole nine yards. This strikes me as very dangerous.

I don't find myself anxious to strike up a conversation with couples like that. I feel like I've snuck into a private cult meeting and I forgot to wear my official shirt. I want to blurt out "Do you people realize you're not on television?" And they send off this vibe of endless compatibility, which I find unnerving.

But the worst risk they run is from Mother Nature. Nature hates waste, and as soon as she sees two people dressing and acting exactly the same, that means at least one of them is expendable.

School vouchers Many children will be left behind

After two presidential debates, Texas Gov. George W. Bush has not mentioned vouchers once. That's curious, since his support for vouchers is a fundamental plank in his education platform.

Vouchers remain controversial, and neither Bush nor Vice President Al Gore wants to utter anything that might alienate those hard-to-please swing voters. So Bush sticks to his poll-tested "leave no child behind." Who can argue with that?

Vouchers, on the other hand, present plenty to argue about. They would take public money away from overburdened public schools, already struggling with large classes, deteriorating buildings and, in many cases, troubled students. Vouchers would leave some children behind — those whose parents are either too disengaged from their children's lives to enroll them in private schools or too poor to make up the difference in tuition costs. And they would further segregate America, not only along lines of race but also of class and religion.

For some supporters of vouchers, that's the appeal. The broadening of the American public school experience since the 1950s — the inclusion of students of color, students who do not speak English, students who are handicapped — has not been a welcome development in some quarters.

That's clear from a conservative group's TV commercial supporting a voucher initiative in Kansas City, Mo. The ad, sponsored by an organization called the Republican Ideas Political Committee, features a white mother who says she pulled her son out of public school and placed him in private school because the public school offered "a bit more diversity than he could handle." That's hardly subtle.

Of course, not all voucher supporters are looking for a way to withdraw from an increasingly diverse America. Some are simply looking for better educational opportunities, especially for those working-class and impoverished children stuck in failing inner-city schools. That includes well-known civil rights activists such as former Atlanta Mayor Andrew Young. Indeed, some of the most surprising support for vouchers has come from black activists who understand that educational underachievement is responsible for many of the problems that continue to plague black America. They cast their campaign for better educational opportunities for black children as the civil rights crusade of the 21st century.

While their concern for raising the educational achievement of black children is admirable, they ought to think twice about using vouchers to accomplish that goal. If vouchers become widespread, they will not be limited to impoverished children.

Like the voucher initiative in Kansas City, the current voucher proposal in California does not demand a means test. It would offer tax-paid tuition vouchers of $4,000 a year to all families — from Latino migrant workers to wealthy dot-com executives.

While supported by Bush and Gore, charter schools are a largely untested experiment; they should not be expected to magically overcome the gap between poor and wealthy children. (KIPP attempts to do it by extending school from 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.) And charter schools would never satisfy those who are simply looking to escape into a comfortably homogeneous environment. Since charters are public schools, they would have to serve all children.

Charter school experiments do at least offer the opportunity for educational activists to see if they can improve on traditional public schools without undermining public education, which has been vital to the American experience. Vouchers, by contrast, abandon the American ideal.

Trespassing issue questioned and resolved

Editor's Note: The following letter was sent to Seminole County Sheriff Don Eslinger and forwarded to the Seminole Herald as a letter to the editor.

Dear Sheriff Eslinger:

Tonight my 16-year-old son called me at 11 at night to say he was under arrest for trespassing while sitting around a campfire within the Big Little Econ State Forest. He was with eight of his high school friends. The arresting officer rode up to them on an ATV and told them he had been watching them for at least an hour with night vision goggles.

They were told they were trespassing and were under arrest. They were not given a warning to leave, or any opportunity to abide by any such information as required by Florida Statute. The arresting officer, M.A. Hamilton told me if they had even asked why, he would have tacked on "resisting arrest."

What these kids were doing, in my opinion, was the best, most non-offending conduct possible for high school kids to do on a crisp, full moon Friday night. They were sitting around a small campfire talking. There was no booze, no drugs, no smoking, no weapons. At no time would I ever expect to see a nicer bunch of kids behaving in a more civilized manner.

In my wildest dreams I could not hope for my kid to be doing anything better at that time. Since the forest opened, our family members have been entering at that point, many times have camped in the same area with a campfire. I don't know when the rules changed, but they are not well known.

I have disagreed with you in the past with your stance on juvenile crime, but I really, really disagree with your administration now. While our kids are being arrested for being good kids, and trying to find good clean recreation, the political machine in Seminole County has gotten away with the misappropriation of 3,500 acres of pristine riverside recreational lands purchased by us for public recreation. Where are your priorities?

I believe you owe all the families involved in this fiasco, a personal apology, and suggest you owe the community a dedicated effort to change your policies.

Sincerely yours,
William R. Daniel

(NOTE: This follow-up was received subsequent to the above letter)

To Whom it May Concern:
Re: A fax to Sheriff Don Eslinger of 10/14/2000 regarding trespass arrest of kids in State Forest.

As a follow up to that issue, I wish to acknowledge prompt and appropriate action of Sheriff Don Eslinger and Senior Forester Mike Martin to correct inappropriate action against the kids, which took place in the forest Friday night.

Thank you
William R. Daniel

Two applicants, and you're the judge

They are two kids applying to the same college. Al has high test scores but performs badly in interviews. George has a mixed record on paper but shines in person.

Chris Matthews

OK, you're the admissions director. Who gets in? Let's look at Al's file. A quarter century of Washington experience capped by eight years as vice president. A hard-working student on issues both domestic and foreign. A spirited White House loyalist. Decided early that this is where he wants to go.

George is a different kettle of fish. While his grades and SAT scores are hardly Ivy League, he's done well in "activities", both as a Major League Baseball team owner and as Texas governor.

This applicant possesses two attractive intangibles: Luck and popularity. He has been impressive in his interviews, especially the second.

A deeper look at the two young men reveals even finer differences.

Despite his solid preparation, Al lacks spontaneity. He seems to say only what he thinks the admissions officers want to hear, adjusting his presentation with each meeting. He also displays a troubling tendency to exaggerate his achievements and to embellish his personal experiences.

George's file raises different concerns. While attending excellent schools, he has failed to exploit the opportunities they have offered. In conversation, he appears to lack a passion for learning. His working vocabulary is extremely limited, his familiarity with some words highly fragile. His record is that of a pupil who masters only what he has to, when he has to.

That said, George has shown a steep learning curve. Perhaps he is a late bloomer, maturing a bit behind schedule for someone given so many breaks at birth.

Choosing between the two applicants, Al and George, creates an apples-and-oranges conflict.

Does the admissions director — that's you — prefer Al, the grade-getter, who seems to have manufactured his entire being for this very process, buffing his biography to gain our approval? Or do you take George, the lax student who has succeeded through a mix of subliminal effort and serendipity?

It's your choice. There's just one slot. You fill it.

LIFE STYLE

Man strains to see beyond wife's long-ago infidelity

DEAR ABBY: A year and a half ago, my wife of 18 years confessed to an infidelity I had feared in the back of my mind all along. In our second year together, I was in the military. We were stationed overseas. We had a small group of friends — couples and singles — who partied three or four nights a week. We never allowed the parties to get too crazy, but occasionally someone would sleep overnight on our couch if they weren't sober enough to drive home.

Dear Abby

One evening I returned from work very tired, and after a few beers, I retired early. A few friends were still hanging around, but were leaving soon. It happened in the adjacent room with one of my best friends, while our 2-year-old and I slept.

Since I found out the truth, I have experienced all of the emotions — betrayal, sadness, shock, hatred, anxiety, denial, etc. After talking to two family counselors, three preachers, a psychiatrist, my parents, God, reading tons of books, fishing, taking countless long walks trying to reason why — and finally attempting to talk to her alone — what else can I do? (She refuses to discuss it further.) It still bothers me every single day. There has to be some relief from this continuous bad feeling I am trying desperately to get rid of.

Nothing has worked so far. I don't want to say divorce is the answer, because this happened so long ago. However, at times, it seems like it happened yesterday. Once again, what else can I do?

LIVING IN A GRAY WORLD

DEAR LIVING: Learning that your wife committed adultery once, 18 years ago, must have come as a terrible blow — even though you had your suspicions. It is not surprising you have experienced all the emotions that come with the death of your illusions.

However, if you want your marriage to heal, it's time to stop concentrating on the past and devote your energies toward rebuilding. This may include accepting some of the responsibility for having made your home "party central" while you were stationed abroad. It's the quickest way I can think of to stop viewing yourself as a victim, and that, I suspect, is what is prolonging your depression.

By now, you've gathered a lot of advice from two family counselors, three preachers, a psychiatrist, your parents, God and self-help books. (You may have even written to more than one advice columnist!) Consider this: Marriages take work on the part of both spouses. You and your wife have nearly two decades invested in each other. Unless you're willing to forgive your wife her long past indiscretion and allow some joy back in your lives, your marriage is already finished, and you might as well move on. Which is more important to you — hanging onto your anger and disappointment or your marriage?

DEAR ABBY: My fiance and I are being married on a four-day cruise to Mexico. We would like to invite many of our friends, but are unable to purchase all those tickets.

Is there an appropriate way to invite them to join us — at their expense?

EXCITED IN IOWA

DEAR EXCITED: Write your prospective guests a short note giving them the news of your upcoming nuptials. Explain that you would love to have them join you, but your budget does not permit you to pick up the tab. Include the name of your travel agent and the cruise line. If enough people are interested in booking passage, perhaps they can get a reduced rate.

P.S. Those who choose to attend will probably regard their presence as your wedding gift — so forewarned is forearmed. Bon voyage! And I hope your marriage is smooth sailing.

For everything you need to know about wedding planning, order "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." Send a business-sized, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Wedding Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, IL 61054-0447. (Postage is included.)

Duke Talent Search under way

The Duke University Talent Identification Program's 21st annual Talent Search is under way. The Talent Search is intended for bright students who want to learn more about their abilities and about programs and services available to students like themselves.

With the school year in full swing, parents and educators alike are searching for ways to challenge students and engage them in their studies. TIP is a non-profit educational organization designed to identify and develop the academic talent of bright students.

"The Talent Search provides an opportunity for highly able students to pursue an out-of-level testing experience which is diagnostic in nature," said Patricia Hege, TIP's coordinator for identification and support services. "When compared to their grade peers, most of these students consistently rank in the highest percentile ranges. However, SAT and ACT testing provides a unique tool of measuring aptitude and abilities which far exceed grade level expectations."

Interested students apply to TIP's Talent Search and TIP registers them for their choice of the SAT I: Reasoning Test or the American College Testing Assessment (ACT). Talent Search participants take one of these tests along with high school students at selected sites nationwide in December, January and February. About one-fourth of the Talent Search participants score as well or better than the average college-bound student on at least one of the scales of the tests. High scoring students are invited to recognition ceremonies in their home states and at Duke University.

To apply to the Talent Search, students must be in the seventh grade attending school in TIP's Talent Search region and have scored in the upper five percent on sections of a nationally formed achievement test. The Talent Search region covers 16 states in the south, southeast, midwest and southwest. Application deadline is Nov. 1.

Talent Search participants receive a variety of educational materials and publications. A results summary and counseling guide help students interpret their scores and provide suggestions for using their ability more effectively. TIP's publications help students find out more about academic opportunities and the needs and interests of people like themselves.

These publications include a guide of educational opportunities, newsletters and a magazine on college choices mailed to TIP students in the tenth grade. TIP sponsors challenging educational opportunities for the students who qualify by their SAT or ACT score; summer residential programs which offer fast-paced courses across the liberal arts curriculum and weekend educational programs throughout the academic year.

For qualified fourth and fifth grade students in TIP's sixteen-state region, TIP offers the Motivation for Academic Performance (MAP) program that provides younger students with information on educational resources. To qualify for MAP information will be mailed to schools in January with an early March registration deadline. Home schools that have eligible students for either MAP or the Talent Search may call the TIP office for application materials or visit TIP's website at www.tip.duke.edu.

TIP is one of the largest of four programs of its kind in the nation. Since 1980, more than one million students from all parts of the world have taken part in a TIP program.

Diet and liposuction for troublesome cellulite

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 20-year-old athletic, slim, non-smoking woman with cellulite on my thighs. What's the quickest way to make this disappear?

DEAR READER: Cellulite, a non-medical term, refers to fat deposits commonly seen on buttocks, thighs and legs. To a large degree, the distribution and extent of body fat is genetically governed. Some people have fatty thighs and buttocks (pear shape), whereas other people inherit a tendency to abdominal adipose tissue (apple shape).

If you are overweight, you could reduce the size of your thighs by dieting. With appropriate calorie restriction, in conjunction with a sensible exercise program, you should be able to trim down, thighs included.

On the other hand, if your thighs are out of proportion to the rest of you, you may wish to consider plastic surgery, certainly a quick solution, to get rid of cellulite. Liposuction, a technique by which specialists remove unwanted subcutaneous fat through a suction device, may be an option to consider. This method is safe — but expensive. Ask your doctor to refer you to a plastic surgeon for further advice. Let me add a warning. The various devices and skin preparations that are often advertised for the "revolutionary" treatment of cellulite are totally ineffective for this purpose. They're a scam, a snake-oil pitch to separate the sucker from his dollar.

Thus, my recommendation is: Try dieting, followed by liposuction if necessary. To give you related information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Winning the Battle of the Bulge." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I take hydrochlorothiazide for hypertension. Can the drug cause high blood sugar?

DEAR READER: Yes. Hydrochlorothiazide is a mild diuretic (kidney stimulant used to treat hypertension and fluid accumulation). It is available by prescription, has been in use for many years, is reasonably priced and is popular among doctors, because it is safe even when combined with other diuretics and anti-hypertensive compounds.

However, HCTZ does have several recognized side effects that sometimes cause problems. First, it can cause excess loss of potassium from the body, leading to weakness and heart irregularities. This is usually treated with oral potassium supplements. Second, the medicine is dangerous when used in patients with kidney failure or liver disease, because it can worsen these conditions.

Third, HCTZ has, in rare instances, been reported to be related to stomach irritation, pancreatic inflammation, gout, low blood count, dizziness, restlessness, blurred vision and rash.

Finally, it can worsen diabetes. Although the manufacturer states the HCTZ can occasionally lower blood sugar, in my experience it is much more likely to raise it. This means that diabetics taking HCTZ may have to increase their insulin or make other adjustments in their medication.

Most frequently, the diuretic unmasks a diabetic condition that was unrecognized. That is, a patient may have very mild, unsuspected diabetes that becomes evident (as a high sugar level) when HCTZ is administered. Therefore, the medicine does not technically "cause" elevated blood sugar, but it may appear to do so in patients with diabetes or a diabetic tendency.

Incidentally, this is not a major concern necessitating discontinuance of the drug. The situation can usually be successfully addressed by making appropriate adjustments in diabetes medicine or by placing patients on low-sugar diets.

Red Cross offers lucky 13 tricks for a safer Halloween

As ghosts, pirates and princesses prepare to descend on neighborhoods across Central Florida on Halloween, the American Red Cross of Central Florida offers parents some safety tips to help prepare their children for a safe and enjoyable trick-or-treat holiday.

By following a few simple safety tips, parents can make this Halloween a safe and fun time for their trick-or-treaters, said Jim Ledbetter, health and safety director for the American Red Cross of Central Florida. Most Halloween injuries are preventable by taking some simple precautions.

The American Red Cross has released the following 13 safety tips for parents to share with their children to help reduce the risk of accidents and injuries:

- Plan your route and share it with your family. If possible, have an adult go with you.
- Wear light-colored or reflective clothing so that you are more visible to passing motorists. (Be sure to put reflective tape on bikes and skateboards, too)

- Use face paints rather than masks or things that will cover your eyes.
- Cross the street only at corners.

- Look both ways before crossing the street to check for cars, trucks and low-flying brooms.
- Don't hide or cross the street between parked cars.

- Walk on sidewalks; not in the street.
- Carry a flashlight to light your way.
- Visit homes that have the porch light on.

- Keep away from open fires and candles. (Many costumes can be extremely flammable.)
- Be cautious of strangers and animals.

- Accept treats at the door and never go into a stranger's home.
- Have an adult inspect your treats before eating. And don't eat candy if the package is already opened. Small, hard pieces of candy are a choking hazard for young children.

The American Red Cross, a humanitarian organization led by volunteers and guided by its Congressional Charter and the Fundamental Principles of the International Red Cross Movement, will provide relief to victims of disasters and help people prevent, prepare for and respond to disasters. The local Red Cross is a Heart of Florida United Way agency.

For more information, call the American Red Cross of Central Florida, (407) 894-4141, or the chapter or service center in your county. For more information on local Red Cross activities and preparedness, visit our local web site at www.centralfl-red-cross.org.

Park

$3,000 toward our goal," Knipfer said. "Response from individuals and the business community has been tremendous."

Knipfer has done a significant amount of Internet research on the subject of other paw parks around the country and earlier this year took a trip to Sarasota with his Chesapeake Bay retriever and black Labrador to visit one of that city's three canine retreats.

"Folks in Sarasota were extremely helpful in educating our effort and helping address concerns about maintenance and liability before we brought our plan to the Sanford City Commission," said Knipfer.

He pointed out that the ultimate success of the park will be placed directly in the hands of dog owners to use the facility.

"Peer pressure about cleaning up your own dog's poop works wonders," he said.

Knipfer also said that users of the facility must adhere to and support the rules and regulations of the park that include no aggressive dogs, no dogs in heat, leashing dogs upon entry and exit to the facility, and supervising dogs when small children are present at the park.

If next weekend's fund raiser is successful, Knipfer said he envisions the park to operational by the first of the year. The biggest park renovation expense will come in the purchase of six-foot fencing that will feature ornamental decoration along the side of the park that fronts 17-92, and black-coated fencing around the park's three remaining sides.

Sanford's former Jaycee Park matches the criteria necessary that has made similar facilities in other cities successful. The size of the park is perfect, just over two acres, it is well shaded, and landscaping is conducive to a fenced facility where dogs and moving vehicles won't encounter each other.

Planned features would include a separately fenced area for smaller breeds, a time out area, bag dispensers that double as pooper scoopers, benches, covered shelters, self watering bowls, park benches, a doggie shower area, and a community informational bulletin board for information on available dogs for adoption from local shelters. The facility would also be handicapped accessible with a double-gated entry for safety purposes. Future goals would include lighting, the purchase of dog agility equipment and the construction of restroom facilities.

The Oct. 28th fund raiser is scheduled to run from 10 a.m. until noon and will feature Seminole County Sheriff Don Eslinger, Mix 105.1's co-morning host Erica Lee, Disco Scotty from WINZ 740, and WFTV's Patty Souza as celebrity judges for the dog costume contest. Food, entertainment and prizes are also on the agenda, including awards for the prettiest dog, ugliest, scariest, and dog-owner look alikes.

The contest entry fee is $15.00 per pooch. Interested dog owners, as well as potential corporate and individual sponsors, are invited to call 407-330-7955 or e-mail PawParkSanford@aol.com for more information about the park and the fund raiser.

She holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Economics from Stetson University. Chandler will officially begin her duties on Oct. 25 following formal confirmation of her appointment by the Board of County Commissions at the next regular commission meeting October 24.

In announcing the appointment, Grace said, "Frances has been a valued and vital part of the County's management team for several years. She is extremely bright and talented and is very deserving of this promotion."

Teachers

Cook and Collier said they were collectively stunned to hear news they had been singled out and honored for their collaborative effort in designing cross-curriculum, hands-on approaches that focus heavily on visual and art-based teaching strategies designed to assist students in learning math, science, social studies and art.

"I was in shock, a total state of disbelief," Collier said Monday following a weekend trip to Virginia for the awards ceremony and trophy presentation.

"To know how many thousands of teachers they choose from and to know how hard all teachers work, is just amazing."

"I didn't have a clue," added Cook. "There were 5,000 original applications then we survived two rounds of preliminary eliminations. One of the most rewarding things about this whole experience is that while most other teachers were nominated by their principals, or school administrators, we were nominated by a former student (Hillary) who is now at Seminole High School."

Cook and Collier have 44 years' teaching experience between them and began collaborating their instructional techniques four years ago first at Midway and then what was Lakeview Middle School, now Millennium.

"We share like goals and commonalities as well as a real friendship," said Collier of their team work.

Their national recognition comes at a time when the educational community is feeling great pressure from external forces and great internal turmoil, a subject they agreed was a major topic of conversation at the awards presentation.

"I know about the complaints and criticisms of the educational establishment," acknowledged Cook. "If I agreed with those complaints and criticisms I would have left teaching years ago. Is teaching difficult? Yes. Is it tiring? Yes, but it is also more gratifying than you'll ever know."

"It's not about a paycheck but more about how you define yourself," Collier added. "We try hard to give our students experiences they might normally not get in a classroom environment."

Both agreed the national award serves as inspiration to accomplish even more in the future.

In addition to their national recognition, Millennium will receive a $2,500 cash award from USA Today, which Griffin said will be earmarked for Collier and Cook to fund additional teaching projects for their students.

"They have dedicated their lives to helping children. They do so many special things for the kids," Griffin added.

Pumpkins

Director Mike Bedell said.

The group's goal is to raise $3,000, which will help send 25 people on this summer's trip. In previous years, the group traveled to rural Tennessee, but this summer the group's destination may be to another country.

There's definitely enough pumpkins at the Sanford patch to raise the money. According to Bedell, sales are good for the first batch of 1,000 pumpkins from New Mexico, and another shipment is expected by the end of the week. The youth group is also selling chrysanthemums, gourds, Indian Corn and other seasonal items at the patch.

Pumpkin prices range from $1 to $20 depending on the fruit's size. And for local chefs, the group is selling baking pumpkins to be used in pies and breads.

This Friday, the youth group is sponsoring a fun day for local pre-school and elementary-age children. From 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., members of the group will organize games, face-painting and other activities at no cost.

"Since there isn't school on Friday, the students wanted to do something fun at the pumpkin patch," Bedell said. "And, it should be a fun day for everyone that comes out."

Block Party

Magnolia Avenue

The weekend weather was perfect for neighbors in the 1100 block of Magnolia Avenue who held their annual block party Saturday. Each person brought a covered dish, a lawn chair, and a smile. The event was organized by Claudia Webber and Mary Larson. About 100 people showed up for the party, which hopes to create a positive community spirit, allow residents to meet their neighbors and to form new friendships.

Neighbors dig in to some of the home-made goodies available in the buffet line.

Aida Lashinsky crawls through a tunnel in a Play Hut that was setup by Mary Larson for neighborhood children to play in.

Prep fall tournament season begins

Conference golf, VolleyFest, crucial district football games on slate

By Dean Smith
 Sports Editor

SANFORD — The exciting part of any season begins this week as the boys and girls golf teams will be holding their Seminole Athletic Conference matches through Thursday, the boys volleyball teams hold their unofficial state tournament at Lake Mary on Friday and Saturday, and two crucial district football contests are set to be played on another split night schedule.

Things really heat up next week as the girls volleyball teams will begin district play next Tuesday and the swimming and cross country teams will be holding their SAC meets.

A new star appeared on the scene for Winter Springs this past Friday night as the Bears wrapped up split of the week's games for Seminole Athletic Conference football teams with a come-from-behind, 29-14, victory over Deltona at A. W. Epps Stadium.

Winter Springs trailed 14-13 at halftime, but rallied behind sophomore back-up quarterback Carl Harris, who ran for 192 of the Bears' 325 rushing yards, and a stingy defense that held the Wolves to only 46 yards rushing, minus-17 in the second half.

Harris, who threw a touchdown pass and ran for two other scores, was forced into action when starter Adam Abitbol was lost for the season when he broke both wrists on the final play of a tough loss to Pine Ridge last week.

Deltona (0-6) took a 7-0 lead after one period on a 7-yard pass from Mike Vogt to Matt Trumbley.

Winter Springs came back to take the lead on a 15-yard touchdown pass from Harris to Chad Hunter and a 60-yard touchdown jaunt by Harris.

But a missed extra point after the second touchdown allowed the Wolves to regain the lead before halftime when Vogt ran in from the two, and Mike Crovo hit the extra point.

Raiders, Steelers closing in on Minors, Majors division titles

By Dean Smith
 Sports Editor

SANFORD — The titles in both divisions of the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department 2000 Youth Flag Football League will be on the line this Saturday when the league plays its second to the last week of the schedule on the field across from Sanford Middle School this Saturday.

In the Minor Division, the Raiders stayed unbeaten by edging the Bengals, 6-0, on October 7th, then cruised past the Jaguars, 18-6, this past Saturday.

The Gators bounced back from their loss to the Raiders by thumping the Jaguars, 21-6, on October 7th, and nipping the Bengals, 13-6, last week to set up a rematch with the Raiders this week.

In the Major Division, this week's don't have quite as much bearing on the standings as the Minor's, but are

The Steelers kept their record unblemished by blanking the previously undefeated Jaguars, 7-0, on October 7th, then crushed the Rattlers, 26-0, last week.

The Jaguars rebounded from the loss to the Steelers with a 13-6 triumph over the Redskins last week to keep their hopes alive.

In the Minor Division, the Raiders are 4-0 and lead the Gators (3-1), the Bengals (1-3) and the Jaguars (0-4).

SANFORD — The City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Fall Co-Ed Volleyball League reached the mid-point of the season with both leading teams suffering losses in the Dan Pelham Gynatorium at Sanford Middle School Monday night.

The Shoestrings finally suffered a loss and nearly had a disastrous night as the competition in the A League made the leaders work hard.

LAKE MARY — Nice & Easy put a stop to the Blue Haven Pools express, using a pair of seven run innings to hand the league leaders their first loss of the season and taking over leadership in the City of Lake Mary Parks and Recreation Department Men's Fall Friday Night Slow Pitch Softball League at the Lake Mary Sports Complex.

JFF used a nine-run fourth inning to move into second place by opening the night's action with a split, 12-10, victory over Polo's.

Nice & Easy got home runs from Jamie Pitzer, Skip Bowen and Dean Farmer as it humbled Blue Haven Pools, 18-8, by the run rule in the middle game.

In the late game, M.T. Muggs appeared headed to its first win of the season, but Hill's Gang rallied with a 10-run fourth inning to pull out a 16-11 triumph.

After three weeks, Blue Haven Pools is 2-1 and leads Nice & Easy (2-0), Dalli's Pizzeria (1-1), J.F.F. (2-1) and Polo's (1-2), Hill's Gang (1-1) and M.T. Muggs (0-3).

But the Bears were not about to lose at home to a non-district squad, taking the second half kick-off and marching 72 yards on an eight-play drive capped by a 3-yard run by Chauncey Hampton to take the lead for good.

Winter Springs pulled away in the fourth period as Andrew Barch hit a 22-yard field goal with 6:26 left in the game and Harris added a final 2-yard TD run with 0:46 left.

The Bears are now 2-3 on the season and will be looking for their first Class 5A-District 4 victory when they travel to Casselberry on Thursday to face neighborhood rival Lake Howell (1-5 overall, 1-2 in 5A-4) at Richard L. Evans Field beginning at 7:30 p.m.

While that game is the only one that matches two SAC teams, it is a step below the two big games this week.

On Thursday, Seminole (5-2 overall, 3-1 in district play) hosts undefeated Spruce Creek (6-0 overall, 3-0 in 5A-4) in a huge 5A-District 4 game at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium.

The Fighting Seminoles need a win over the Hawks to virtually guarantee themselves a return to the playoffs, while a loss would force the Tribe to hope for an AT Large bid.

Seminole also would like to win because it will be the annual Homecoming game. A parade is planned for downtown Sanford on Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. on First Street.

Also on Thursday, Lyman (0-6 overall, 0-4 in district) hosts Pine Ridge (3-4 overall, 1-2 in 5A-4) at Carlton D. Henley Stadium.

The other monster game on the schedule is Friday's Class 6A-District 2 matchup between Lake Mary (4-2 overall, 4-0 in district) and unbeaten Apopka (6-0 overall, 3-0 in 6A-2) at Larry Payne Field beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The Rams, the defending district champions, have won three games in a row and can clinch a repeat with a victory, while the Blue Darters are coming off a big victory over Lake Brantley last Friday.

The only other game this week finds Oviedo (3-3 overall, 1-2 in district) returning from the bye week and looking for a victory to keep its playoff hopes alive when it travels down Alataia Trail to take on University (2-5 overall, 1-3 in 6A-2) at 7:30 p.m.

into VolleyFest.

The remainder of the field was not decided at press time as some teams had not completed their regular seasons.

The tournament begins Friday with games at 5 p.m., 6:30 p.m., and 8 p.m. and concludes on Saturday with games at 9 a.m., 10:30 a.m., noon and 1:30 p.m. with the Championship Match set for 3:15 p.m.

In other prep action from the weekend: Oviedo and Lake Brantley suffered losses on Monday as they prepare for next week's Class 6A-District 2 Volleyball Tournament that will be held at DeLand's new 2,000-seat gym that opened Tuesday evening.

The Lions (13-9) fell to University (20-6), 15-11, 11-5, and 15-4, while the Patriots (6-18) were bested by Oak Ridge (18-7), 15-4 and 15-13.

In girls volleyball tournament action from the weekend, Lake Brantley finished fourth in the Lady Pioneer Tournament at Oak Ridge High School, going 2-2, beating Ft. Pierce Central, 15-4 and 15-3, and Jacksonville-Ribault, 15-10, 11-15, and 18-16, and losing to Oak Ridge, 15-9 and 15-7, in Pool play, then dropping a semifinal decision to Astronaut, 15-9 and 15-7.

Winter Springs came home second in its own invitational, falling to Lake Highland Prep in the finals.

RAMS ROLL INTO VOLLEYFEST

The host Lake Mary boys volleyball team will be the heavy favorites when the annual VolleyFest is held starting Friday.

The Rams of coach Jeannie Fisher won their 31st straight match Monday night, whipping Osceola, 15-6 and 15-6.

Lake Mary lost its opening match of the season and has not lost since, and will carry a 31-1 record

SHUPE'S SCOOP

It can be very cold on the water in the winter when the wind is blowing. Many "old timers" will wear raingear over their warm clothing to stop the wind and to trap body heat. It may look a little funny, but it sure works!

FISHING FORECAST

Now is the time to catch the bass of your dreams. Most bass over 10 pounds are caught from now through February. Beyond a doubt, the best bait for such a lunker is a large shiner. Fish shiners tight to floating mats of water hyacinths in 3-5 feet of water for good action. Shiners can also be "freelined" around deep bends, sand bars, slough mouths, and other forms of structure.

Sebastian Inlet has good snook action, and fair action with redfish and trout. Large live shrimp or small baitfish are hard to beat.

Captain Jack at Port Canaveral reports that high seas have kept boats in Port Inade

The Port snook are beginning to become active, and can be caught around the jetty and the nearby banks. Trout and redfish are still as fair in the Banana and Indian rivers.

Sheepshead, drum, redfish, jack crevalle and small bluefish are ready and waiting at Ponce Inlet. Heavyweight sheepshead will soon be making their annual winter appearance. Live shrimp or fiddler crabs can't be beat for sheepshead. Trout and redfish are rated as good in Mosquito Lagoon.

Steelers are 4-0 and are being trailed by the Jaguars (3-1), the Rattlers (1-3) and the Redskins (0-4).

This Saturday (October 21) at Sanford Middle School, the Minor Division champion will be decided if the Raiders can beat the Gators for a second time at 9 a.m., making next week's final games moot. But a Gators victory would very likely force a playoff on November 4th.

The other game has the Jaguars taking on the Bengals at 10:15 a.m.

In the Major Division, the Steelers and Jaguars both need to win their games to force a big head-to-head matchup next week.

This week's schedule has the Jaguars facing the Rattlers at 11:30 a.m. and the Steelers squaring off with the Redskins at 12:45 p.m.

MINOR DIVISION

OCTOBER 7

RAIDERS 6, BENGALS 0

The first half was all defense as Ronald Sentell had an interception to thwart a Bengals drive, and the Bengals defense held strong to keep the Raiders off the board.

The only score in the game came when the Raiders' Lenny Grace hauled in an 11-yard touchdown pass from Roby Williams and the defense held the Bengals at bay the rest of the way.

GATORS 21, JAGUARS 6

This Jaguars had the first opportunity to score, driving to the Gators 12-yard line before the Gators defense stiffened.

Darrell Spencer then gave the Gators a 7-0 lead at halftime by racing in from 15-yard out and Dennis Proulx added the extra point.

The Gators increased the lead to 14-0 early in the second half as Luis Carasas ran 20 yards to set up a 10-yard touchdown run by Clay Wyma.

Carasas added the extra point. The Jaguars immediately got back into the game as Becarie Grayson returned the ensuing kickoff 35-yards for touchdown, cutting the lead to 14-6.

But that was as close as the score would get as Carasas put the game out of reach with a 35-yard touchdown run, followed by a Wyma extra point run, that finished the scoring.

OCTOBER 14

RAIDERS 18, JAGUARS 6
The Jaguars played tough defense to keep the game close, but Lenny Grace gave the Raiders a 6-0 halftime lead with a 15-yard touchdown run.

The league-leaders then widened the lead when Roby Williams scored on a 22-yard run, but the score remained 12-0 as Mike Keller intercepted the extra point try.

Keller then helped get the Jaguars back in the game when he caught a 25-yard touchdown pass from Kris Johnson to set up an 11-yard touchdown run by Jared Evans to cut the lead in half, 12-6.

But Grace put a caper on the game, scoring on a 12-yard run.

GATORS 19, BENGALS 6

The Bengals almost handed the title to the Raiders as the defense stopped a long drive by the Gators and Richard Grey raced in from 22-yards out to give the Bengals a 6-0 lead at halftime.

The Gators took the lead for good when Dennis Proulx returned the second half kickoff 45-yards to set up a 2-yard touchdown run by Rolando Ramos to tie the game at 6-6 and Luis Carasas added the extra point run, making the score 7-6, Gators.

Ramos then picked off a Bengals pass and returned it 30 yards for a touchdown to give the Gators a 13-6 lead.

The Bengals had one final shot to pull off the upset, but a final drive stalled.

MAJOR DIVISION

OCTOBER 7

RATTLERS 22, REDSKINS 0
Jose Menendez started the Rattlers on the way to the rout when he sprinted in from 40-yards and Walter Gaines followed with the extra point to make the score 7-0.

Bruce Hipsher and Gaines combined to make the score 14-0 as Hipsher ran in from 6-yards out and Gaines added another extra point run.

Patrick Turner then made the score 16-0, when he pulled a Redskins flag in the end zone for a safety.

The final score of the game came on a 40-yard run by Travares McGill.

The day was extremely tough for the Redskins as they could not find a play that would keep a drive going.

STEELERS 7, JAGUARS 0
Myler Neal saved the Steelers, scoring on a 22-yard pass from Glen Lee for the only touchdown of the game.

Davie Purdie added the extra point.

The Jaguars played tough the entire game, but could not get anything going on offense.

OCTOBER 14

STEELERS 26, RATTLERS 0
The game was not quite as one-sided as the score would indicate as the Rattlers made Lorimel Rivera (with ball) threw a touch down pass to Michael Lowrey and an extra point pass to Kevin Williams in the Jaguars' 13 to 6 win over the Redskins.

the Steelers work for all of their touchdowns.

Glen Lee was the star in the first half for the Steelers, scoring a pair of touchdowns on a 24-yard run and a five-yard quarterback sneak.

Davie Purdie added the first extra point and Myler Neal added the second as the Steelers took a 14-0 lead at halftime.

George Easley had a 15-yard run in the second half to set up a 1-yard sneak by Purdie to make the score 20-0 and Easley returned the first of his two second half interceptions six-yards for a touchdown to complete the scoring.

The Rattlers were also hurt by the absence of their regular quarterback.

JAGUARS 13, REDSKINS 6
The Jaguars took a 7-0 lead at halftime when Kevin Williams returned an interception 25-yards for a touchdown and then caught an extra point pass from Lorimel Rivera.

The Redskins got on the board in the second half on a Zach Richards center sneak, but the Jaguars put the victory away on a 10-yard scoring pass from Rivera to Michael Lowrey.

COWBOY ROPES IN A BIG ONE

Cowboy Jackson, 69, of Sanford holds a monster Blue Catfish he caught recently in the St. Johns River near the Osteen Bridge.

The big cat was 30-inches long and weighed around 25 pounds and was taken on 8-pound test line with a live worm.

Jackson, a retired Seminole County bus driver, said this was the biggest one he had ever caught and when asked what he was going to do with his prize catch said..."I'm going to eat him."

their first two games easily.

But then came a match against second place Sanford Church of God and the Guppies came up short, seeing their lead shrink to just two games.

The Guppies waited past the Saints 15-3 and Idylwildie, 15-1, but then got handed their hats by Sanford Church of God, 15-10, to finish the week 2-1.

Sanford Church of God, meanwhile, had tuned up for the upset by edging the Saints, 15-12, and whipping Idylwildie, 15-5, to record its second perfect 3-0 week of the season.

The other win on the night went to the Saints (1-2), who nipped Idylwildie (0-3), 15-9.

The standings after five weeks in the B League are: the Guppies (14-3), Sanford Church of God (12-5), the Saints (9-8), and Idylwildie (3-14).

The Shoestrings looked very vulnerable as they topped winless Nation's Fence by only 15-10, and then dropped their first game of the season, 16-14, to Beer :30.

Shoestrings then had to win in extra points, 16-14, over MJ's to finish the week 2-1 and maintain a five-game lead in the A Division.

Beer :30 also went 2-1 on the week, beating Nation's Fence, 15-5, but falling to MJ's, 15-11.

MJ's also defeated Nation's Fence, 15-8, to become the third team to go 2-1 this week.

After five weeks of the 10 week season in the A League, the Shoestrings are 16-1, and lead Beer :30 at 11-6, MJ's at 8-9, and Nation's Fence at 0-17.

The league will play every Monday night at Sanford Middle School starting at 6:30 p.m. and admission is free of charge.
