Glenn asks 'Final 4;' Feather says 'No'

By J. MARK SANFORD Herald staff writer

SANFORD - Sandra Glenn says she'd like to be your Seminole County District 4 commissioner - one more time.

Glenn, 52, says 16 years would be long enough for anyone to serve residents and says she will not seek re-election if elected to a fourth term on the commission. After that, Glenn says she doesn't know what she'll do, although her experience in government might lend itself to a consulting career, she says.

Republican challenger Bud Feather says 12 years of Glenn is enough. A former county commissioner himself, Feather, 45, says if he isn't elected Glenn's cronies in the development industry will destroy the quality of life that makes Seminole County a desirable place to live.

Trustees ask Lake Mary to take cemetery

By ARY WALTON Herald intern

LAKE MARY - The Lake Mary Cemetery Association has owned and managed the city's only cemetery for almost 100 years, and it's tired.

Since its founding in 1894 the cemetery, located on Greenleaf Lane, has been taken care of by a series of trustees. In 1985 one of these trustees stole $23,000 from the association, so for the past five years this group of retired men and women have managed the historic site on their own time, and with their own lawyers. Three slain women found

GAINESVILLE — The body of a third young woman was found Monday in her apartment about two miles from where two other young women were found brutally slain eight hours earlier, authorities said.

An Alachua County deputy discovered the third woman lying on the floor of her apartment about 11 a.m. after she failed to report to work at midnight, when her shift began, said sheriff's spokesman Spencer Mann.

Mann would not release the woman's name or the apparent cause of death, except to say that she had suffered trauma.

There was no word on whether her death was linked to those of two young women whose nude bodies were found in their apartment about two miles away Sunday afternoon, however, sheriff's employees said deputies were comparing information with Gainesville police investigating those killings.

The victims were all in their late teens or early 20s.

The bodies of the first two victims were found Sunday about 4 p.m. in their apartment after the parents of one of the victims called police to say they could not contact their daughter.

One of those victims was a freshman from Jacksonville. She was to begin her first day of classes Monday at the University of Florida.

Autopsies were scheduled Monday.

Gustav winds strengthen

MIAMI — Hurricane Gustav's winds strengthened to 100 mph Monday, peaking a threat for the Leeward Islands, while Tropical Storm Hortense trailed 1,000 miles away in the Atlantic.

As of 6 a.m. EDT, Gustav about 310 miles east of Guadeloupe, centered near latitude 16.3 north and longitude 88.0 west and moving toward the northwest at about 10 mph. The storm was expected to continue in that direction for the next 12 to 24 hours and to strengthen.

Hurricane force winds of more than 74 mph extended outward up to 55 miles from the hurricane's center, with tropical storm force winds extending up to 175 miles.

The system's direction loosened the threat to the lower part of the Lesser Antilles island chain but warnings were still in effect for the islands of Guadeloupe, Antigua, Barbuda, Montserrat, Nevis and St. Kitts. A hurricane watch continued from Sunday for Dominica, Martinique, St. Martin, Anguilla and the surrounding islands.

Gustav, which was upgraded from a tropical storm to a hurricane Sunday, was about 1,800 miles from Miami.

Autopsies were scheduled Monday.

Chronology

The following is a listing of key dates in the Persian Gulf crisis, along with a more detailed chronology of the events of the past week:

Thursday, Aug. 2: In a blitzkrieg-style raid, Iraqi soldiers cross into Kuwait, expelling the government and taking control of the oil-rich state.

Friday, Aug. 3: Iraq begins to mass forces on Kuwait's southern border with Saudi Arabia, the world's leading oil supplier.

Sunday, Aug. 5: New intelligence information shows Iraqi movements near the Saudi border. Bush calls on the United Nations to impose harsh economic sanctions on Iraq. He sends Defense Secretary Dick Cheney to Saudi Arabia to discuss placing U.S. troops there in defensive positions.

Monday, Aug. 6: The U.N. Security Council votes overwhelmingly to impose a worldwide embargo on trade with Iraq and Kuwait.

Tuesday, Aug. 7: The Saudi government tells Cheney it will allow U.S. troops in the country and Bush immediately begins sending air and ground forces to join Navy ships already in the region.

Friday, Aug. 10: Arab leaders meeting in Cairo call for the creation of a pan-Arab peacekeeping force to be deployed on the Saudi-Kuwait border. Saddam calls on "Arabs, Moslems and believers in God" to wage "holy war" against Western intruders.

Thursday, Aug. 16: Iraq orders 2,500 Americans and 4,000 Britons in Kuwait to assemble at two hotels, raising fears they will be moved to Iraq. Bush meets with King Hussein of Jordan and makes little progress on easing crisis.

Sunday, Aug. 19: Iraq orders thousands of Westerners in Iraq and Kuwait to move to strategic military and border areas to be used as "shields" against attack.

The Iraq News Agency gives all foreign embassies in Kuwait five days' warning to close their missions. Cheney says the United Arab Emirates agree to allow U.S. military cargo planes to use its bases to provide American troops with greater logistical support.

Monday, Aug. 20: Bush, in a speech to veterans in Baltimore, declares that Americans and other foreigners being held by Iraq are "hostages" and he warns he will hold Iraq responsible for them.

Tuesday, Aug. 21: Iraq expresses a willingness to talk to the United States about a peaceful solution to the crisis, but insists on staying in Kuwait.

Wednesday, Aug. 22: Bush announces that 45,000 military reservists to supplement the U.S. troops now stationed in the Persian Gulf. U.S. officials say the reservists are to be used mostly to fill in for the ground forces in the Middle East and would almost all remain in the United States.

U.N. envoys arrive in Iraq to push for the release of the thousands of foreign nationals detained in Iraq and Kuwait.

The Soviet Union concedes almost 200 Soviet experts on Iraq's training troops on the use of Soviet weapons.

Thursday, Aug. 23: Iraq televises a meeting between Saddam and a group of British hostages.

Friday, Aug. 24: Iraqi troops surround several embassies in Kuwait, preventing people from entering and leaving some missions. Iraq also tells U.S. diplomats in Baghdad they will not be allowed to leave Iraq as long as the United States insists upon its embassy in Kuwait.

Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev warns Saddam, his former close ally, to remove troops from Kuwait or face an international response.

Saturday, Aug. 25: The United Nations approves a resolution for enforcing the economic embargo against Iraq. Iraq accuses Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev of being an instrument of Washington for his support of the U.N. resolution.

World feels impact of Iraq embargo

United Press International

Although the antagonists in the Persian Gulf crisis have not come to blows since the invasion of Kuwait, they have triggered economic shocks around the world, analysts say.

Jordan, India and Ireland already are feeling the economic impact of the crisis, and other nations expect to within weeks.

The United Nations imposed an economic embargo against Iraq and Kuwait shortly after Iraq's Aug. 3 invasion of the tiny oil-rich country, a punitive measure that has deeply affected the two countries' major trading partners.

Jordan especially has felt the crunch. Iraq had been the kingdom's major trading partner and the embargo has effectively put a stop to the most crucial activities in the bay Jordanian Red Sea port of Aqaba, which used to be a main transit point of Iraqi imports and exports.

Jordan could lose $3.5 billion in the next year, an amount equivalent to the country's gross national product, says Dr. Jawad Anani, a senior government economist.

"The cost to Jordan is going to be horrendous," Anani said. Some analysts say the economy could completely collapse.

Jordan receives 80 percent of its oil from Iraq, and many Jordanians who were employed in trucking oil supplies from Iraq and moving other goods to the besieged country are now out of work, Anani said.

The U.N. Security Council has developed a special plan to compensate Jordan for the economic hardships it is suffering, but Anani said the kingdom will probably have to renegotiate an already harsh economic recovery plan with the International Monetary Fund.

India, which gets about 40 percent of its crude oil from Iraq and Kuwait, has only a 35-day oil reserve and is being forced to shop for fresh supplies on the spot oil market with a budget that is nowhere near adequate.

Petroleum Minister S. Gurupadaswamy says the impact of the Gulf crisis on India will be enormous because all sectors of the nation's economy are dependent on oil.

The crisis has cost the Irish beef industry, Europe's largest exporter of beef to the Middle East, about $76.5 million in trade with Iraq so far. Sales to Iraq, Iran and Libya account for one-third of the industry's market.

France buying on the Dublin stock exchange as a result of the Gulf crisis last week wiped more than $500 million off the value of the market.

And Iraq still owes Ireland $103 million for beef shipped before the embargo, officials say.

Pakistan is likely to be severely affected by the Iraq embargo because 70 percent of its oil comes from Kuwait. But at this point analysts expect the government, which has a two-month oil reserve, to delay taking actions that could immediately pinch the public until after Oct. 24 elections.

The Soviet Union also expects losses. About 9 percent, or $2.04 billion, of the nation's foreign trade is with Iraq, most of it military supplies and oil.

But Moscow will forgo this trade to support the U.N. economic sanctions.

In the United States, some analysts are expecting a recession that will be made worse by the public's postponing of car and home purchases as a result of economic uncertainty fueled by the crisis. Interest rates are already headed up in the United States, and in Europe as well, they said.

Navy arranges mail delivery to Desert Shield sailors

United Press International

WASHINGTON — The Navy said Friday it has made arrangements to get letters to sailors from anyone who wants to drop them a morale-boosting letter, a program over and above regular mail service.

A spokesman said that letters addressed "Any Serviceman" and sent to a special fleet post office number would be sent in bulk to the aircraft carriers in the region and then divided up amongst the ships in the area. The letters will be delivered to servicemen at random by the postal operations on each ship.

The mailing address is: Any Serviceman, Operation Desert Shield, FPO New York 0955-0005.

The mail must be sent first class, cannot weigh over 13 ounces and no packages of foodstuffs or other goods are permitted.

Regular letters to crewmen from family and friends should be sent in the normal fashion, the spokesman said.

The Army earlier this week set up special APO numbers to speed the delivery of mail to soldiers in Saudi Arabia.

Despite the new numbers, items addressed to soldiers' home stations will be sent out to Saudi Arabia but could be delayed. Generally, it will take about 10 days for a letter to reach Saudi Arabia from the United States, the Army said.

There are some temporary restrictions on mail to aid delivery. The major limit is that personal mail is limited to first class, but can be up to 13 ounces and include audio cassettes. Local Postal Service offices can provide details on other restrictions.

The numbers, units and military postal abbreviations: 101st ABN Div (AA) 09509 82nd ABN Div 09555 34 Inf Div (M) 09315 1st COSCOM Ft Bragg 09557 (125th Postal Co/Non Div) 197th INF BDE 09315 11th ADA BDE 09556 3rd ACROSS 09

Soldiers and correspondents should address letters this way: Rank, full name, Social Security number, Operation Desert Shield APO New York, 09XXX

Phone National Guard, Reserves

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon advised Friday that members of the Army National Guard and Army Reserves wanting information about units that may be called to active duty should call their units.

Units and their members will be alerted or called up through their chain of command. Family members of Guardsmen or reservists needing information about family support programs should call:

— Army National Guard at 1-800-356-8784
— Army Reserve Personnel Center at 1-800-874-6481.

Four Florida reserve units called up for active duty

CLEARWATER — Four U.S. Navy Reserve units in Florida are included in the list of 137 Navy units nationwide being called up for active duty in the Persian Gulf crisis.

The Florida units are the Naval Reserve dental clinic Number 109 and the mine sweeper unit Number 449, both based in Jacksonville; the Naval Reserve hospital unit Number 410 in Pensacola; and the Mobile Inshore Undersea Warfare unit Number 208 in Miami.

About 2,400 of the 3,100 Navy Reservists involved in the nationwide call-up are doctors, dentists and medical specialists, said a Pentagon spokesman. They will be assigned to civilian hospitals in the United States.

Others are harbor and port guards, mine workers, shipping and cargo handlers, search and rescue personnel, intelligence units and support units. Navy spokeswoman Lt. Suzi Breston said Friday it is not yet decided how many of the units, if any, would be sent to Saudi Arabia.

Almost 80,000 military reservists are expected to be called to active duty by Oct. 1. President Bush issued the call-up Wednesday to support the U.S. effort in the Middle East.

Florida has about 7,843 Navy Reserve members.

So far, no activation orders have been issued for Army, Marine, Air Force or Coast Guard reserves or National Guard units.

Here is a roundup of the latest events in the Persian Gulf crisis stemming from the Aug. 3 Iraqi invasion of the oil-rich emirate of Kuwait:

Fifty-two dependents of U.S. Embassy workers arrived Monday in Turkey in good condition and looking "very, very happy," but Iraqi border guards detained three young men at the border. The group, which had left the U.S. Embassy in Kuwait for Baghdad, gained permission from Iraq to leave the country. Iraq meanwhile rounded up foreigners from Britain, France and Japan and turned off power in several embassies.

TOKYO — Stocks rebounded in Tokyo Monday with the Nikkei Average gaining 4 percent, but light trading kept investors away and led to speculation the rally might not be sustainable. In Australia, bank shares led prices higher on the Sydney Stock Exchange Monday as traders reacted to the weekend upturn in world markets. Wall Street's 50-point rebound on Friday gave heart to investors in Sydney after the Middle East-driven selloff of the past three weeks.

Diplomatic efforts to end the crisis proliferated as U.N. Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar planned to meet with Iraqi Foreign Minister Tariq Aziz in Amman, Jordan, to try to ease "in all its aspects the critical situation in Iraq and Kuwait." Egypt's foreign minister was heading to Moscow and King Hussein of Jordan to Libya, but British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher's prognosis was that a negotiated settlement was "most unlikely."

DHAMRAN, Saudi Arabia — U.S. military leaders said Sunday one of their largest logistical operations since World War II was proceeding on schedule as ships bearing hundreds of M-1 Abrams tanks headed Saudi Arabia. The tanks, named for a U.S. commander in Vietnam, will be the crucial backbone of the U.S. ground force now assembling to confront Iraq.

VIENNA — Iraq and Libya slipped the start of emergency OPEC talks held to consider ways to offset losses in crude oil production and restore balance to global markets that have been jolted by the Persian Gulf crisis. Representatives of the 11 other cartel members held private, informal "consultations" into early Monday amid predictions they would convene a formal conference at which temporary increases in oil output quotas could be approved.

LONDON — British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher reacted angrily to a televised meeting between Saddam and his hostages. "You are dealing with a dictator who is an absolute tyrant, who had a callous charade on television with children," Thatcher said. "We know full well that he hasn't hesitated to use the chemical weapon against innocent people. This man is a despot and a tyrant and must be stopped."

Like most hotly disputed topics in Alaska, Tuesday's primary election comes down to the perennial debate between promoting economic development, especially oil drilling, and protecting the wild Alaska landscape.

Kitty Dukakis drank household products

BOSTON — Kitty Dukakis, wife of 1988 Democratic presidential candidate Gov. Michael Dukakis, drank hair spray, after-shave, and other household products to induce "oblivion" and fight depression before seeking treatment earlier this year, a published report said Sunday.

The Massachusetts first lady wrote in her new book that she ingested mouthwash, after-shave, vanilla extract, nail-polish remover, and Tylenol laced with codeine before entering an Alabama clinic in April to combat her substance-abuse problem, the Boston Sunday Globe reported.

Two killed aiding victims

NEW YORK — Two men who came to the aid of victims in separate robberies in the Bronx early today were killed by the suspects, police said.

In the first incident, Victor Roman, 28, chased a 17-year-old thief he saw steal a watch and a gold chain and was shot to death at 12:10 a.m., police spokeswoman Mary Wrensen said.

Shortly after, police arrested Rafael Lopes, 17, at his home. Police recovered one gun in the vacant lot and a .387 Magnum on the roof of a building adjacent to the suspect's apartment, Wrensen said.

About an hour after Roman was killed and just blocks away, a 25-year-old gypsy cab driver tried to help another driver being robbed by a man and a woman. He was clubbed with a two-by-four and died of cardiac arrest, Wrensen said.

Fall League meeting Tuesday

SANFORD — Today is the last day to register a team before tomorrow's organizational meeting for the Sanford Recreation Department's Men's Fall Softball Leagues which will be starting play the week of Sept. 10.

The organizational meeting will be held Tuesday, Aug. 28, at 7 p.m. at the Downtown Youth Center, located on the first floor of Sanford City Hall.

The cost for the league will be $240 per team (non-City residents will have to pay an additional $10 fee before playing).

Games will be played at Pinehurst and Chase Parks. The deadline for entry is Aug. 31 for returning teams and Sept. 7 for new teams.

Returning teams that wish to play in Sanford but do not meet the Aug. 31 deadline will be considered a new team.

The Recreation Department currently runs four leagues (consisting of 18 teams), but would like to expand to nine, with two leagues on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights and one on Tuesday. No league will start if it does not have six entries. This means a minimum of 54 teams is needed.

A win shy of perfection

Seko Air Freight hands Thermocarbon only loss

Faye Kennedy (sliding) keyed Seko Air Freight's 11-run sixth inning Saturday with a three-run double. She also added a single and three runs scored as Seko handed Thermocarbon its only loss of the season.

From staff reports

SANFORD — Thermocarbon's hopes of an undefeated season were crushed Saturday when Seko Air Freight took advantage of 18 walks to defeat the league champions 18-8 in Sanford Recreation Department Women's Slowpitch Softball action at Chase Park.

Despite the loss, Thermocarbon still ended the season with a five-game advantage over the rest of the league with a final record of 14-1. Following Thermocarbon were Seko Air Freight and Ensey Inc. (Seminole High School's summer team), both with 9-6 marks, Harcar Aluminum Products (6-9), In Home Medical (4-11) and the Honey Bees (1-14).

Thermocarbon was bidding to become the first undefeated women's champion in several seasons but Seko Air Freight showed up ready to play and scored early and late to end the dream.

Seko Air Freight made the most out of a little as it scored the 18 runs with only six hits. In addition to giving the free passes to Seko, Thermocarbon also committed an unusual five errors.

After Thermocarbon stranded two base runners in the top of the first inning, Seko Air Freight set the tone for the game with three runs in the bottom of the first inning.

Sally Foust, Faye Kennedy and Denise Levinson walked to load the bases with no one out. Peggie Pulliam lifted a sacrifice fly to center field that scored Foust. Janet Morris reached on an error to plate Kennedy before Cathy Giacchi scored Levinson with a sacrifice fly to left field.

The score remained 3-0 until the bottom of the third inning, when Seko Air Freight scored four runs with only one hit. Levinson reached on an error before Pulliam, Morris, Giacchi and Sandy Reid drew consecutive walks to score two runs.

Rene Carter followed with the only hit of the inning, a single, to score a run and Sue McRae reached on an error to score the fourth run.

The Thermocarbon bats woke up in the top of the fifth inning as the league leaders exploded for five runs. Theresa Walburger and Michelle Widener led off the inning with singles before Sharon Paulk forced Walburger at third. Betty Divens followed with a double to score two runs and Mini Raub reached on an error.

Jackie Suggs singled to score the third run and Sue Sojka singled in the other two runs and the score was 7-5 Seko Air Freight.

Thermocarbon continued the comeback with three more runs in the top of sixth inning to take an 8-7 lead. With one out, Roberta Johnson and Walburger both singled and Widener walked to load the bases. Paulk hit into a fielder's choice with Johnson scoring. Divens then singled to tie the score and Raub singled to put Thermocarbon ahead.

But any thoughts Thermocarbon may have had of remaining undefeated vanished in the bottom of

Preseason win an important one for Dolphins

United Press International

MIAMI — Must-win games before the regular season starts almost never happen. The preseason is a time for evaluating personnel, not for worrying about wins and losses.

But Saturday night's 17-16 victory over the Denver Broncos came as close to an important win as it gets before the NFL regular season starts on Sept. 9.

"This is one of the most important games since I've been here. We needed some momentum after losing seven games," third-year defensive end Jeff Cross said.

Coach Don Shula wouldn't go that far, but he conceded it was important.

"It was a preseason game, but it was still one we felt that we wanted to win, not had to win, but it was a good one to win for," Shula said.

The Dolphins are trying to come back from two straight 8-8 seasons and four years without a playoff berth. They also went into the game with a seven-game preseason losing streak. The last team they had defeated in the preseason was Denver, 16-13 in overtime on Aug. 19, 1988.

Then on Thursday, the Dolphins took two more hits.

The NFL suspended starting nose tackle Brian Sochia for two preseason games and three regular season games for testing positive for steroids.

The news broke as veteran safety Liffort Hobley's 5-year-old daughter Lyrick was drowning in a neighbor's swimming pool.

"We've been down a little bit this week because of all the things that have happened,"

A learning experience
 Lake Howell, described in the Street and Smith prep football annual as one of the nation's 25 programs to keep an eye on, held its Blue and Silver Scrimmage on Friday. It afforded the Silver Hawk coaches a chance to see their team in game situations and to work on specifics like receivers coach Gene Grace had the chance to do with slotback Scott Golden.

Some prep football coaches have it and some don't

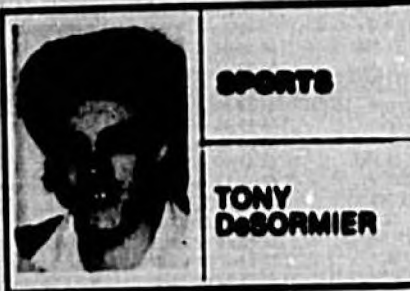

Some thoughts while waiting for the high school athletic season to start...

● Seminole County's six high school football coaches can be divided into two categories: The Haves and The Have Nots. And we're not talking talented athletes here, but hair.

On The Haves are Oviedo's Jack Blanton, Lake Howell's Mike Blacchia and Lake Mary's Doug Peters. Then there are The Have Nots — Seminole's Emory Blake, Lyman's Bill Scott and Lake Brantley's Fred Almon.

At Seminole High School's photo day this past Saturday, Blake was kiddingly asked if he wanted wear a hat while taking his photo. "There's no point in trying to hide it," he said with a smile.

● It appears that the high school swim teams are a little behind the other fall sports in getting started. A quick check of a couple local coaches showed that most teams won't hit the water until today at the earliest.

SPORTS

TONY DESORMIER

One reason that it's not quite as imperative for swimmers to start practice on the first available day (which is Aug. 15 for fall sports) is that a lot of local swimmers are involved in other swim programs when not competing intercollegiate.

Also, there are some facility problems that needed to be worked out. Even Lyman, the only Seminole County high school with an on-campus pool, has had to find another place to work out because of construction at the school.

● At the Florida Sports Writers

Association's college football meeting in Daytona Beach a couple of weeks ago, University of Central Florida head coach Gene McDowell told the assembled media that UCF wouldn't try to go head-to-head with the big schools in the recruiting of top high school prospects.

But afterward, in an interview with the Sanford Herald, McDowell was asked about UCF possibly going after Lake Howell's Marquette Smith, who lives just minutes from the school but certainly fits into that category of top prospects. McDowell smiled and said, "There are always exceptions."

● There's been a change in Cablevision's schedule of high school football games it will cablecast this fall. In its revised schedule, the Winter Park at Lake Howell game will be shown on Sept. 10.

Other games to be telecast involving Seminole County teams are Lake Brantley at Lake Mary on Sept. 17, Lyman at Lake Howell on Oct. 8, Seminole at Lake Brantley on Nov. 5 and Trinity Prep at Lake Highland on Nov. 16.

● Just an idle thought: Will Sanford AM radio station WTRR (formerly WNSI) go back to broadcasting local high school football games or abandon the much-needed and appreciated programming to stay on the Orlando Magic bandwagon.

● Spring football, Summer basketball, Fall baseball. There's something personally unappealing to playing a sport in an unnatural season. Granted, the Florida climate and air-conditioned gyms allow us to play any given sport at just about any time of the year we choose. But just because we can doesn't mean we should.

Professional athletics demand year-round dedication, as any job would. That has seeped down into the college level and now can be seen at the high school and youth levels. It's sad in a way.

the sixth inning when their pitcher lost the strike zone and walked 13 batters as Soho Air Freight scored 11 runs. Foust, Kennedy and Levinson walked to lead the bases. After a strike out, Morris drove in a pair of runs with a single. The next six batters walked with Reid, Carter, McRae, Holly Puchett and Foust getting one RBI each. Kennedy followed with a base-clearing double and three more walks. Giacchi getting the RBI that scored Kennedy with the final run.

Providing the offense for Soho Air Freight were Kennedy (double, single, three runs scored and three RBI), Morris (two singles, two runs scored), Carter (single, run scored, two RBI) and Foust (single, three runs scored, RBI).

Also contributing were Levinson (three runs scored), Giacchi (two runs scored, three RBI), Reid and McRae (one run scored and two RBI each), Puchett (run scored, RBI) and Foust (run scored).

Doing the damage for Thermocarbon were Divens (double, two singles, run scored, three RBI), Walburger and Widener (two singles and one run scored each), Raub and Suggs (one single, one run scored and one RBI each), Johnson (single, run scored) and Paulk (two runs scored, RBI).

While the women's league is over for the summer softball, it is not in Sanford. On Wednesday night at Pinetree Park, the "C" League will close out its regular season with the Beachwreckers playing the Wildcats at 6:30 p.m. and HD Realty facing Hall's Stucco at 7:30 p.m. The Wildcats have already clinched the league title.

Also on Wednesday night at Chase Park, there will be a pair of "D" League games. At 6:30 p.m., the Killer Bees will take on RMC. If RMC wins the game, they will tie Crazy Wings for the regular season title and the two teams will play a one game playoff at 7:30 p.m. If the Killer Bees win, they will tie RMC for second place. So at 7:30 p.m. the two will have a playoff to decide the league runners-up.

Dolphins

The drive in the second quarter covered 65 yards in 10 plays and took more than six minutes, unusual for pass-minded Miami.

The winning drive in the fourth quarter was different. It covered 79 yards in only 5:41 under the direction of backup quarterback Scott Soles.

"I've had confidence in myself all along," Soles said. "The other guys on this team have to believe in me and my abilities. If by chance Darby (Harmon) were ever to go down, they still have someone they can believe in and win with."

Webworms invade, feast on lawn

Those small, dingy brown moths flying around your shrubbery and lawn, especially after mowing, herald the arrival of our annual invasion of sod webworms. They have the knack of seeking out the greenest, most succulent grass and therefore are most likely to show up in well fertilized, lush lawns preferring Bermuda and St. Augustine grasses to Bahia grass.

CELESTE WHITE
GARDENING

Although there are several kinds of caterpillars which cause damage to turf, the most damaging caterpillar in the tropical sod webworm. The larvae are greenish with many black spots. Adults are dingy brown moths with a wingspread of about 1/2 inch. Eggs are deposited on the grass blades and hatch in about a week. The larvae feed on the grass and cause noticeable injury within two weeks. There may be extensive damage within the next two weeks until pupation. The adult moth appears about a week later. They complete their life cycle in 5-8 weeks and have several generations each year. In Central Florida, sod webworms are usually not present in sufficient numbers to damage grass before July or August but reach their peak in September and October.

The webworms feed primarily at night and remain in a curled position on or near the soil surface during the day. This habit makes them difficult to find. Newly hatched caterpillars cause little visible damage to grass. But when they are almost full grown, their feeding becomes noticeable and it seems like their damage appears to show up almost overnight. This, in conjunction with their nocturnal feeding habits, explains how extensive damage can occur before the webworms are noticed.

Injured grass has notches chewed along the sides of grass blades. Grass blades are also eaten back unevenly. The foliage may be almost completely stripped off in patches, and these close cropped areas soon become yellowish first, then brown. In addition, the sod webworms produce fine webs across the surface of the grass where they feed. This webbing can be very obvious in the morning when the dew is still present.

Healthy grass that is not under stress can usually recover from even a large population of sod webworms. An application of a pesticide is recommended. Products like Diazinon or Durban are effective if used properly. Always follow the directions on the label. If you choose a spray, it is important to apply the insecticide in a large amount of water. Remember, the webworms are at the soil surface and the spray must penetrate the grass and thatch. If granular materials are used, irrigate after applying with 1/2 inch of water. The sod webworm may re-

Inferiority complex explains why his ladies are tramps

DEAR ABBY: A woman wrote to you a few years back asking why a married man would pick up some tramp and treat her like a lady, then turn around and treat his wife (who is a lady) like a tramp. Please try to help me because your answer was one of the best things I've ever read, and I desperately need it now.

SANE BOAT WALLSTOWN
DEAR SANE: A sharp-eyed secretary with a mind like a steel trap found it, and here it is:

DEAR ABBY: Why will a married man pick up some tramp and treat her like a lady, then turn around and treat his wife (who is a lady) like a tramp?

DEAR MERRILL: A man picks up a tramp because he wants a female companion who is no better than he is. In her company he doesn't feel inferior. He rewards her by treating her like a lady.

He treats his wife (who is a lady) like a tramp because he feels that by degrading her he will bring her down to his level. This makes him feel guilty, so to get even with his wife for making him feel guilty, he keeps right on punishing her.

DEAR ABBY: My husband owns his own business and travels over a large territory, which means he must be away from home over the weekend quite often. He keeps asking me to meet him out of town for the weekend, as he gets lonesome for me.

ABBY, we have three children, 8, 11 and 13, and although I can always get someone to take care of the children, I have mixed emotions about running off and leaving them just to keep my husband company. What would you do?

TRAVELER'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: I would join my husband as often as common sense and practicality allowed. I would rather have someone taking care of my CHILDREN than my HUSBAND.

DEAR ABBY: How would you define old age?

GETTING THERE
DEAR GETTING: To recycle an old cliché, old age, like beauty, lies in the mind of the beholder.

But I would say that you've reached it when:

You need your glasses to find your glasses.

You walk into another room and wonder what you went there for.

People start telling you you're looking good, but no one says you're good-looking.

You pass up a romantic encounter because you're worried about your heart.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young man about to get married for a second time. (My first wife and I were divorced.)

My question: Can I use the same wedding ring twice? The ring belonged to my mother, who passed away. My father gave it to me, and I used it for my first marriage. After the divorce, she gave it back to me. My ex-wife and my fiance are good friends. Please advise.

WEDDING RING
DEAR WEDDING RING: It's more than just a wedding "ring" — it's a family heirloom. Tell your fiance the history of the ring, and ask her how she feels about it. The decision should be hers.

Don't get all writing thank-you notes, letters of remorse, etc., because you don't know what to say. Say Abby's name, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions," send a long, business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $2.95 ($4.95 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 60, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. (Postage is included.)

Neurological disease is rare and progressive

DEAR DR. GOTT: Our 20-year-old daughter has been plagued for a number of years with headaches, back pain, weakness when climbing stairs and muscle-tic spells during the night. She's been diagnosed with olivopontocerebellar atrophy, and her doctor says there is no treatment. Is this an hereditary disorder, and what can you tell us about it?

DEAR READER: The olivopontocerebellar atrophies include a rare group of inherited neurological diseases marked by progressive nerve malfunction: difficulty walking (ataxia), tight muscles (spasticity), visual difficulties (optic atrophy and retinal disease), problems with circulation and sweating (autonomic dysfunction) and dementia.

The damage involves large areas of the central nervous system and, like all hereditary diseases, is incurable. Symptoms are treated as they occur: for example, circulatory problems, such as low blood pressure, can be helped by salt supplements and cortisone (to raise blood pressure); muscle relaxants often relieve spasticity.

Because your daughter has been diagnosed with an unusual and serious disease of nerves, she should be under the care of a neurologist who can coordinate the many resources she will eventually need, including medication, physical therapy and help at home.

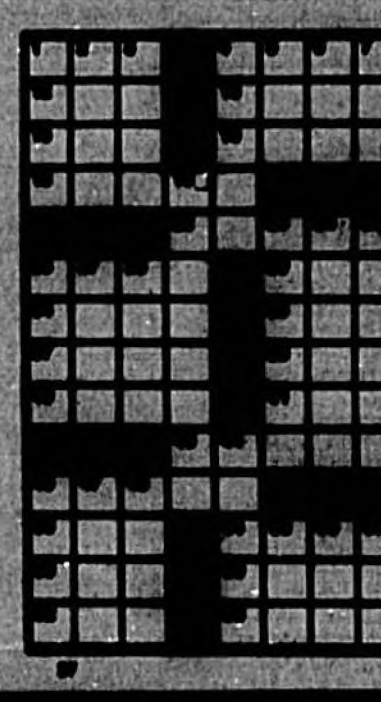

DEAR DR. GOTT: Would you please explain CMV (cytomegalovirus)? I understand it is a combination of hepatitis and mononucleosis.

DEAR READER: Cytomegalovirus infection can be unsuspected in adults. The virus, which is related to herpes, initially causes flu-like symptoms (fever, sore throat and aches) that usually disappear within a few days. The virus may then lie dormant in the system for years, periodically reactivating to cause fatigue, fever, malaise and rash.

Although CMV is ubiquitous as a parasite because a doubled grand slam made. Do you see the previous error committed by West? Of course it's too late that he led a heart rather than other black suit, but that can be excused. Nevertheless, West should expect his partner to be void of diamonds. (What else could explain the opening six-heart bid?) And he should realize that declarer South knows this as well. So a cursory examination of the diamond spots in his own hand and the dummy should make him realize that on the lead of the diamond three from South, he must rise with the queen, saving the deuce.

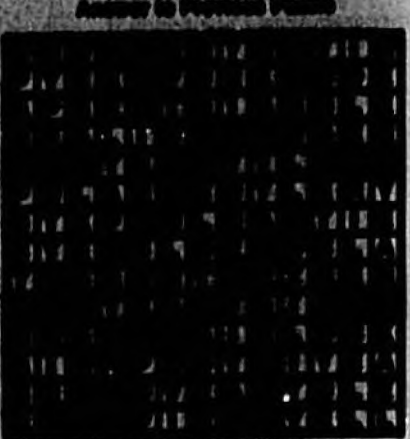

This deprives declarer of the additional entry needed to dummy and results in the doubled slam being set three tricks.

Florida expert Russ Arnold pulled off a remarkable coup a few months ago. He thought he was sacrificing against a vulnerable six hearts, but watch what happened. West led a heart. Declarer won the ace in dummy, pitching his last spade. Next came dummy's queen of spades. East played the king, and declarer ruffed with the five-spot. South continued with the three of diamonds. West following innocently with the deuce. Declarer called for the four from dummy. When that held the trick, East showing out, the 10 of spades was continued from the North hand. East covers with the ace, and declarer ruffed. Back to dummy's ace of diamonds, and the spade suit was run, declarer pitching all his club losers. So what started out as a sacrifice became a doubled grand slam made. Do you see the previous error committed by West? Of course it's too late that he led a heart rather than other black suit, but that can be excused. Nevertheless, West should expect his partner to be void of diamonds. (What else could explain the opening six-heart bid?) And he should realize that declarer South knows this as well. YOUR FORTUNES

Aug. 28, 1980

Trends and conditions that have an effect upon your work or career should take a turn for the better in the year ahead. At last you'll be able to live with the life instead of hunking it.

VERSO (Aug. 22-Sept. 22)
Domestically oriented activities are the ones likely to prove the most satisfying for you today. You might want to putter around the house or perhaps help your mate weed the garden. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail 68 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland OH 44101-3428.

LEELA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
This might be the time to do something about that brief holiday you've been considering. Today and tomorrow you may be able to find fun objectives at not too great a distance.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
More than one channel offers opportunities for personal gains at this time. Be alert so that you can capitalize on any profitable developments that allow you to get a foot in a door.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
Take the initiative today in an arrangement where you are involved with others who have been unable to take action on a mutual interest.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
If there is something creative you've been working on, continue to be closed mouth about it even though you might be extremely eager to tell your friends what you have up your sleeve.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
Be extremely attentive today if someone talks about a new endeavor in your process that is similar to something new on which you've been working. You may learn something of value.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
You are likely to be more successful today if you rely less on others and depend more on yourself. You can do whatever needs doing, all it takes is faith.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

Things in general should go rather smoothly for you today, because you're likely to view life from a philosophical perspective. That which commonly rattles you will be taken in stride.

TAUROS (April 20-May 20)
An interesting joint venture might develop for you either today or tomorrow. If there is something of this nature you're contemplating, try to do a little ground work in advance.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
There is a chance you will be a better decision maker today than you will be tomorrow, so if you have to make some important judgments, it's best not to postpone them.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Be logical and methodical regarding your plans today, but also be resourceful. If you apply yourself, you should be able to figure out ways to lighten your burdens.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Be careful both today and tomorrow that you do not let personal bias creep in. You should be able to manage something you should be handling.
