The Nikita Meeting Sought By Russians

LONDON (UPI)—Communist spokesmen said today Anastas Mikoyan will try to promote a personal meeting between Premier Nikita Khrushchev and President Eisenhower next spring.

Mikoyan, one of the Kremlin's top trouble-shooters, is visiting Washington this month ostensibly on a private mission. But the sources here said the trip also was designed to sound out prospects of a head-of-state meeting early in the new year.

If he fails to promote the Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks, Mikoyan—Khrushchev's closest collaborator—will explore alternative means of Soviet-American talks and a possible summit conference soon, the Communist diplomats said.

Mikoyan expects to leave next week for his two-week visit to the United States during which he will participate with top-ranking Communist diplomats in the Soviet envoy would take with him an unofficial omnibus peace plan that would reach beyond the immediate East-West feud over Berlin.

Brush Fires Rage; 80 Homes Burned Near Movie Colony

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Two wind-lashed brush fires raged out of control today in the Santa Monica Mountains.

An estimated 80 homes have been destroyed in Topanga and Benedict canyons and many expensive mansions belonging to such celebrities as Boris Duke, Marion Davies, Harry Sullivan, Peter Lorre and Cameron Mitchell were for a time threatened.

The fires were the third and fourth to ravage southern California this month.

Many residents refused to join the thousands of homeowners ordered by the Fire Department to evacuate. They showed their properties with water hoses in a fight against towering flames that flashed as much as 150 feet into the sky.

Started by Armand Keith Klinger, county fire chief, said the Topanga blaze was definitely started by an arsonist. Cause of the Benedict Canyon blaze was undetermined.

Topanga Canyon, about 20 miles west of downtown Los Angeles, was hardest hit and burning out of control on a 25-mile perimeter. An estimated 11,000 acres already have been blackened in the area along with 70 of the 80 structures reported destroyed.

Some 1,300 firemen battled the two blazes while a squadron of planes "bombed" hot spots with water-bombing solution in a desperate effort to halt the fire's relentless march.

At least eight firemen were hospitalized with injuries. Scores of others were treated for smoke inhalation.

President Batista Flees Cuba

HAVANA (UPI)—The government of President Fulgencio Batista fell today and a military junta pledged to end Cuba's bloody and costly civil war took its place. Both junta and rebel sources indicated peace negotiations would start immediately.

Rebel sources said rebel leader Fidel Castro and Judge Manuel C. Urrutia, rebel choice for president, would arrive in Havana at 2 p. m.

The rebel sources said that a "civil mediation committee" has been formed to try to work out a formula for ending the civil strife.

A representative of former President Prío Socarras also was expected in Havana today.

The Batista government fell apart with dramatic swiftness before dawn. Shortly after 3 a. m., it was disclosed that Batista and practically all high civil and military authorities had fled Cuba in three military airplanes.

Batista headed for Ciudad Trujillo in the Dominican Republic. Others, including members of his family, flew to Jacksonville, Fla., arriving there this morning. The ultimate destination of the Batista family was believed to be Daytona Beach, Fla., where Batista long has had a summer home.

Gen. Eugenio Canillo took over leadership of the military junta which announced that senior Supreme Court Justice Carlos M. Piedra would be the stop-gap president.

Canillo said Batista had called his army officers in to Camp Columbia, army general headquarters, before taking off this morning and announced he was resigning because he did not want further bloodshed.

At 2:30 a. m., Justice Piedra was awakened at home by two men, one in army dress, the other a civilian. They told him he was to become provisional president. Shortly after 3 a. m., he took the oath of office.

Meanwhile, Canillo informed an emergency meeting of army officers that he was taking command to "save the country by ending the fratricide war, which has cost us many lives."

Hoffa Backs Down On Organization Of Law Officers

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Teamsters Union appeared to be staging a general retreat today from its plan to unionize the nation's police. The reversal came in the face of vigorous opposition from many groups, including other unions and the police themselves.

Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa had announced the plan to enroll the nation's police at a meeting of his executive board in Miami three weeks ago. In the first step in putting the plan into effect, Hoffa's lawyer official has announced Monday that picketing of the New York Police Department would begin Jan. 12.

Probably the bitterest reaction came from Mayor Robert F. Wagner, a normally mild man whose late father sponsored the Wagner Labor Relations Act in a table-thumping attack at a news conference Wednesday, the mayor denounced the plan and hinted disciplinary action against Henry Feinstein, the local teamster official who also is on the city payroll.

In other developments Wednesday, the chairman of the monitors appointed by a federal court to clean up Hoffa's scandal-strewn union said the plan was atrocious and they would order Hoffa to drop it; a group representing 3,000 officers of the New York Police Department issued a statement saying "the Police Department and unions just don't mix"; and members of the AFL-CIO Labor Federation in this area termed the move "outrageous."

Fireman's Fireman Rescued By People Watching Big Fire

ATLANTA (UPI)—No one welcomed in the new year this morning with a more profound sense of gratitude than a 33-year-old Atlanta fireman named Ralph Cowan.

Cowan is a fireman's fireman—a smoke eater—who has spent years helping frantic, trapped people escape the flames of burning houses and buildings. And Wednesday when flames lit up the pre-dawn darkness of downtown Atlanta, people who stood watching made a down payment on the debt they owe Ralph Cowan.

They dug him out—brick-by-scorching-brick—from a fiery tomb where he had been buried. Cowan and another fire fighter battling a four-alarm fire, were descending the backstairs of a blazing building when the walls suddenly collapsed.

Cowan was hurled to the ground and buried under an avalanche of over-heated bricks and concrete. Onlookers thought he was killed instantly, but then from beneath the smoldering debris came a muffled cry: "Help me! Get me out of here!"

Singed and blistered hands went to work on a few minutes later. Cowan was freed as in "fair" condition today at Henry Grady Hospital, suffering from a fractured pelvis, a dislocated hip and possible internal injuries.

1958 Traffic Toll In Florida 1,107

MIAMI (UPI)—State safety officials have reported that 1,107 persons died on Florida highways in traffic deaths in 1958, but that did not include the holiday weekend.

Delayed reports from the New Year's period, which officially began at 6 p. m. Wednesday, were expected to push it much higher.

Building Blows Up; Two Die, Two Hurt

INDIAN HEAD, Md. (UPI)—A Navy plant that processes powder for solid rocket fuel blew up Wednesday night killing two men and injuring two others severely.

Only four employees were in the 30 by 75 foot brick building at the time of the evening blast. The Navy said the process under way at the time was glazing and screening of a base powder grain used in solid propellants for large-type rockets.

One of the dead was identified as Alfred Charles Clark, 46, of Indian Head, who is survived by a wife and three children.

Name of the other victim was withheld pending notification of his family.

Taken to Providence Hospital in nearby Washington, D.C., were Robert B. Bowman, Indian Head, and Isaac Johnson, La Plata, Md. Both suffered third degree burns and Bowman had a possible leg fracture.

New Year's Quiet In City, County

New Year's Eve was observed quietly in Sanford and Seminole County. Law enforcement agencies reported no incidents during the hours of holiday gaiety.

The Sanford Fire Department answered one call at 12:45 p. m. yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Whittan, 812 East Second St. Minor damage was reported from a fire in the Whitten kitchen, when hot holders over the stove ignited and scorched the wall.

Seminole County Views New Year With Optimism

By Virginia Cook, Herald Staff Writer

This is the day when everyone takes one last glance at the past and steps into the unknown future.

In Seminole County people view the future with optimism. Backyard glances are not too full of gloom. Many feel that for the county, 1958 was one of the most influential years of all time.

While no specific predictions were made in a spot poll of businessmen and civic leaders, the New Year already looks like the realization of many dreams. There is much work to be done, but the groundwork has been laid and the county can begin to build.

Sanford Mayor Merle Warner took the opportunity to wish everyone a "happy, healthy and prosperous New Year," adding, "This was one of Sanford's banner years. Everything is running at full tilt. We have completed the capital improvement program and have operated in the black all year. There is no unemployment problem in the county. The new year looks even better."

O. P. Herndon, county clerk: "Great leadership is coming to the foreground. There will be plenty of excitement in '59, and maybe even a new courthouse. (Herndon and a Herald reporter went on to plan a courthouse 19 stories high, ten feet square, with a roof garden on top.)"

John Krider, chairman county commissioners, a 2nd manager Chamber of Commerce: "In 1959, we hope to see a planned development of Seminole County, lawwise and economically, with comprehensive zoning in the early part of the year. We already are making plans for the replacement of antiquated buildings and need an analysis of what we are going to do in the next few years. I think things will happen in 1959 that we didn't anticipate. Everything points to the area becoming one of the most vital in the state."

Francis Roumillat, chairman.

Weather Tops List Of '58 Local News

By JAMES W. SMITH, Herald Managing Editor

The weather, calm and warm, facts the weather had on Seminole in the year which bowed out last night.

By virtue of this, and the effect the weather had on Seminole County, this day-in, day-out topic of conversation found itself atop the list of the big local stories of 1958.

Late-winter freezes cut off flow of tourists, damaged citrus and vegetables and brought about a state-wide Junior Chamber of Commerce "Spread Our Sunshine" campaign. In short, Seminole County, and Florida, suffered.

In December, Sanford was "on the map" with the highest temperature in the nation—the warmest spot of all. This brought national attention to the friendly city by the St. Johns.

The Sanford Herald, gleaming its files for a "refresher" course, also came up with these "big" stories:

Successful fight to obtain property reevaluation in the county; home and business construction; the Sixth Bombing Derby and second Navy Appreciation Day; Robert Stone's courageous action in flying an airplane that he didn't know how to fly, for which he was awarded the Air Medal.

The decision of the Episcopal Church to cancel its meeting here after the segregation issue was raised; Seminole High's first Orange Bowl, Christmas football game and subsequent team; the first in the Cary Bowl; hearings on the Sanford-Tallahassee Canal; Sanford's selection as Florida's "Most Courteous City," and the November general election, with all of its ramifications.

Following closely behind these top ten were the state amateur golf tournaments for men and women, the annual Mayor's Ten Four tournament, the formation of a Committee of 100 by the Chamber of Commerce, announced plans of Heavy Attack Squadron One to move to Sanford, the airport zoning debate of last April, approval of school bonds.

The French Ave. First St. wreck which took three lives, the Seminole High FFA's sweep of ribbons at the annual Southeastern Fat Stock and Poultry Show, completion of the city's capital improvement program and the Lake Mary drive for a building to house its fire engine.

Most of the stories are self-explanatory. They were rated by The Herald staff on the same basis as in national polls.

Honorable mention went to two "negative" stories: the lack of a major accident at the Naval Air Station, coupled with VAIL-5 winning the safety award, and the low vote in the City Commission race (1,100 and run-off 800).

The reevaluation of property looked second place because it will touch every Seminole property owner, will be a far-reaching factor in solution of the financial woes of the county and city.

Building permits in the county totaled some 200 million, more than twice the amount permitted last January. During the recession, construction was the backbone of the local economy.

Plane Brings 53 Refugees To State

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—A Cuban airliner with 53 Cuban political refugees, including three children of ousted President Fulgencio Batista, arrived here today in a hasty flight from Havana, Cuba.

They arrived with the barest personal possessions aboard a four-engine DC4 after Batista's sudden decision to quit the island republic early today. None predicted the ex-time Cuban strongman would ever return to power in his homeland.

About the plane were Ruben Batista, 25-year-old Princeton graduate in economics recently elected to the Cuban House of Representatives, and two of the ex-president's daughters, Mirba and Elisa.

There were also 31 civilian men and 34 women and children, all relatives of officials of the Batista regime.

U. S. Hopes War In Cuba Is Ended

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. officials expressed hope today that the civil war in Cuba can now be brought to an end quickly. Observers believed the United States would move fast behind the scenes to help settle the situation.

There was no immediate formal State Department reaction to the fall of the Batista government and the takeover by a military junta. The State Department only Wednesday reaffirmed its hands-off policy toward the Cuban situation.

But officials privately welcomed the indicated peace offer made by the junta and said they hoped some way of negotiating with the military leaders who took over from Batista.

They were well aware, however, that Castro has made it clear he will not accept a "hand-me-down" junta from Batista.

Appetizin' Morsch

The morsch is a small fish, about 10 centimeters long, and is found in streams and rivers in the county. It is a new species and has not been recorded before in England.

Baseball In Sanford? Your Opinion Needed

A guarantee of $1,000 is all that is needed to assure Sanford of organized baseball again. This announcement was made yesterday by officials of the Florida State League.

Under the new major-minor league aid program, Sanford could obtain $7,500 toward salaries of players; the manager's salary would be paid entirely by the parent club. All of the screening and training expenses would be paid by the major league team.

Two full working agreements now are available, officials said. These are with Pittsburgh and Washington. Advertising space on the fence would bring the club an estimated $6,000, maybe $2,000.

Officials said an average of 350 fans at each of the 70 home games would insure financial success of the club.

The problem, it seems, is that a $1,000 guarantee must be posted with the league when it meets Sunday in Orlando. Baseball wasn't paying its way here when Sanford dropped out of the league. The city and county have experienced tremendous growth since those days and should be able to support baseball.

Sanford once was a red-hot baseball town. The pennant-winning 1939 team, headed by such stars as Sid Hudson, Early Wynn and Dale Alexander, still is recognized as the greatest team in Florida State League history.

The natural rivalries with Daytona Beach and Orlando could fill the baseball park. Baseball would be a valuable asset to Sanford and Seminole County. It would enhance, greatly, the all-around recreation program; it would provide another attraction for senior citizens and tourists.

Two men have volunteered their services in an effort to determine if Sanford and Seminole County want to return to baseball. They are John Krider, Chamber of Commerce manager, and Jerry Covington. These men want to know how the public feels about the return of baseball.

Pittsburgh also is awaiting an answer to this question. The Pirates have offered Sanford a working agreement.

If no one person is willing to post the $1,000 guarantee, the public might subscribe the amount in the form of season's tickets, stock or in some other manner.

The Florida State League must have its answer, too, Krider and Covington need your opinion. Why not give them a call?

Big Bands Available

Sanford residents will have an opportunity to see and hear "name" bands, if this venture proves to be popular.

The City Commission has approved a band performance for the Civic Center for Feb. 6. Providing the music will be Bobby Hackett's orchestra.

Ronald Perry, recreation department director, told officials that Sanford could be included in band tours to and from larger cities. The one-night stands here would be available at reasonable rates.

This addition to the city's facilities for residents and tourists could be very popular. The suggested per-couple price for the Hackett performance Feb. 6 is $3. That seems reasonable enough for those who like to dance. Any profits made on band performances here would go to the recreation department.

Be Prepared, Reds Tell Armed Forces

BERLIN (UPI) — East German Defense Minister Gen. Willy Stoph and Interior Minister Karl Maron today ordered Communist armed forces to be ready to go into action against "any imperialist aggression."

They told the East German army, navy and air force they must oppose all Western provocations aimed at blocking the Soviet plan to undermine the Western position here and promised that the first months of the new year would see the plan carried out.

They also said the "intolerable situation in Berlin" must be restored to normal and the dangerous sources of international tension in West Berlin eradicated.

Inez Robb Says

BY INEZ ROBB

It is real tough to be in the prophecy business now a days. There's too much competition from fact—plain, cold, hard facts. The scientists and technicians are running the prophets ragged with new marvels every other minute.

Still, this is the season of the year when it is customary, if not compulsory, for the prophets to rub up the crystal balls and predict all sorts of magic just ahead in the brave, new world. The advent of the new year affects prophets as the full moon does psychics. They just gotta go, go go.

The mail is filled these days with glittering predictions of scientific wonders awaiting man, just around the corner. I should live so long! No, the prophet to whose annual forecast I look forward impatiently every year is Hugo Gernsbach, a redoubtable seer and editor of Radio-Electronics Magazine.

Certainly, the Gernsbach "1939 Forecast" was written and at the printer's some time before the 8,750-pound Atlas satellite was put in orbit. But, by golly, here is Gernsbach describing, with a diagram, too, wide-spread television and radio broadcasts by earth satellites.

Mr. Gernsbach had it all down on paper before the Atlas had broadcast President Eisenhower's Christmas message. Naturally, I am interested in my seer's prediction of and diagram for a television space observatory that would tidy up the weather here on earth, and put astronomy in its place, too.

He also has a plan for illuminating satellites and for recording or storing teevie programs that you and I might want to see at a later date. But these aren't the marvels that send me right out into space and speculation.

The Gernsbach predictor that has me jumping for joy is his assurance that if I just live long enough I won't ever, ever, NEVER have to dust the house no more. Woman and girlie, I have had to do this dusting more years than even the census taker can wing from my hide. And the prospect of a dustless day will do a lot more for me than stored teevie programs or weather control.

Future homes will be built with absolutely airtight floors and windows. Mr. Gernsbach says, "Near the ceiling in all rooms there will run an insulated electrical conductor wire or rod with sharp points," he explains. "By means of a high-tension transformer and rectifier this conductor will electrify the air in the room, attracting to it all loose dust particles."

"Simultaneously, a vacuum suction pump will create a powerful draft, sucking the dust laden air out from outlets near the ceiling, while fresh filtered air flows in from the bottom. Thus all dust will be lifted from surfaces, rugs, walls and other places, to be sucked into a disposal tank and hence flushed away into the sewer."

"As the action is automatic, the dust eliminator can be operated during its normal run of 15-20 minutes by an electrical clock set by the householder to go on while she or he is out shopping, or gone to the movies. Offices will be automated at night."

Dear Mr. Gernsbach, don't keep me in suspense! When will this magnificent aid to gracious living be on the market? Surely, if man can lose 8,750 pounds into the void and set it spinning around the earth, he can turn out the automatic dust eliminator on any rainy Sunday.

Ashe to ashes, and dust to dust, Mr. Gernsbach, get me one of these dusters before I bust!

Too Late To Classify

By RUSSELL KAY

Alcoholism has become a major health problem in the United States. Here in Florida authorities estimate there are more than 100,000 suffering from this destructive disease.

An alcoholic may be described as a person who feels that his very existence depends on alcohol. The drinking of an alcoholic beverage becomes a definite need rather than a habit.

In recent years the subject of alcohol has been probed by thousands of researchers, doctors, psychologists, social workers, chemists, educators and clergymen. And they are still probing.

They generally agree that an alcoholic is a dangerously ill man rather than a drunken bum. He is not so much weak-willed as he is helpless, and he sorely needs sympathetic understanding and treatment.

His illness is a tragic one for it endangers the lives and welfare of others as well as his own. Law enforcement officers and insurance agencies can tell you how closely alcoholism is related to the crime rate and accident rate.

The same society that condemns the alcoholic is largely responsible for his predicament for it has advanced the social custom of drinking to a point where no meeting, convention or party is considered a success unless it is spiced with a cocktail party and sustained by the whisky bottle.

Thanks in the "office party" Christmas has become a night mare in countless homes. Most alcoholics begin as social drinkers and while there may be some who can "take it or leave it alone" a large percentage cannot and that is one of the reasons we find our nation facing the problem of four million men and women who are classified as true alcoholics.

Florida is using a number of other progressive states is trying to do something about the problem through its Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program. Clinics have been established at Jacksonville, Miami, Pensacola and Tampa for out patients and inpatients are cared for at the Avon Park Rehabilitation Center.

At the same time Alcohols Anonymous is accomplishing splendid results but much more needs to be done. At best we are only scratching the surface. Treatments may include medication, psychotherapy, case work, group therapy, limited hospitalization or referral to other appropriate agencies.

The Sobered Center at Avon Park offers both men and women patients limited medical care, individual therapy, group therapy, residential living, religious and occupational guidance. Following treatment at the Center patients are referred to the several clinics and to A-A groups.

Ernest A. Sheperd is administrator of the program. He is directly responsible to the Governor and his Cabinet and an Advisory Council. To be treated at one of the clinics or the Center a person must have been a resident of Florida for at least one year and must voluntarily express a desire for treatment.

Ticket Tax Ends; Costs To Be Same

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A 10 per cent federal tax on tickets to movies, theaters and sports events ended today but most patrons will continue to pay the same admission price.

Spot checks by the United Press International showed that management in most areas planned to pocket the tax savings rather than pass them on to customers.

Congress last August repealed the 10 per cent tax on the first $1 of an admission charge to all forms of entertainment, effective Jan. 1. It will cost the government about $1 million dollars a year in revenue.

The change does not affect any admission charge of 90 cents or less. These tickets have been exempt from the federal levy for some years.

A spokesman for the Motion Picture Association pointed out that relatively few moviegoers throughout the country are likely to benefit because most tickets are less than $1.

But he predicted that even those movies which charge $1 or more won't reduce their admission price, he said. "Many theaters are hard hit by TV competition and the added revenue may make it possible for them to stay open."

About 13 million Americans have moved to the suburbs during the past 10 years — the largest migration in United States history.

Washington Calling

BY WILLIAM B. WHITE

WASHINGTON — The Senate Republicans are in extraordinary disarray, as in anxiety and almost in panic they await the opening of the new Congress.

At every hand are evidences of division between the orthodox, old-line Republicans and the liberal or modern Republicans — who by and large have significantly stopped calling themselves "Eisenhower Republicans."

The liberals are demanding a louder voice in the Senate Republican leadership, where they have not had any real voice at all in half a generation. There is a good deal of matching and countermarching in this campaign of rebellion, and its total hopes and intentions are hardly clear yet.

At minimum, however, it seems to involve a fairly determined challenge to Senator Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois, the prospective Senate GOP leader in succession to former Senator William Knowland of California. It does not, however, seem to contemplate any challenge at all to the GOP powerhouse on the Old Guard side, Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire.

To put in an attack on Republican Old Guard direction of the party without firing a shot at Bridges is like attacking an enemy division while carefully avoiding any hostile action against an enemy army.

If, in short, the liberals were able to push Dirksen aside — and this is most unlikely — they would have accomplished little in any practical way. For Bridges, as chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, will be the real Republican leader next time, no matter who holds that title and no matter how successful may seem any liberal "revolt."

This is so because the essential power in what is left of the Republican party in the Senate is in the hands of orthodox Republicans, of whom Bridges is an unchallenged leader. And it is so because a strong chairman of "policy" can always dominate a nominal floor leader, as the late Senator Robert A. Taft so well proved a decade ago.

The moderns thus have much the stronger case in logic for the lesson of the November Congressional election returns could not have been plainer. This was that the Republican party will win no contests by returning to yesterday.

And it is orthodox Republicanism that stands at the cash register — stands, that is, at the point of ultimate decision over Republican policy. Thus the Republican liberals will not save their party or themselves by gallant stories for or against individuals in the lesser Senate leadership posts. They will save themselves, if at all, by joining the Democrats in a massive push to take the budget away from the President and the orthodox Republicans. This is the crisis — and not whether Smith or Jones or Brown is to be called a floor leader, or an assistant floor leader, or whatnot.

Five Bowl Spectaculars Set

By FRED DOWN
United Press International
College football rings in the New Year today with five bowl "spectaculars" which will attract more than 300,000 live customers and a national radio and television audience.

California, Louisiana State, Oklahoma and Texas Christian are solid favorites in the four major bowls but there is strong sentiment in some quarters that Syracuse can upset Oklahoma and beat Texas Christian.

The Rose Bowl, Daddy of all the bowls, is expected to be the least competitive. Iowa, champion of the rugged Big Ten Conference, is an 18 1/2-point choice over California and will be the victim of one of the biggest upsets in bowl history if it fails to win.

100,000 At Rose Bowl
Iowa has a powerful running game and fine passing headed by All-America Randy Duncan. A crowd of about 100,000 is expected to see the Big Ten score its 12th victory in 13 meetings with the Pacific Coast representative. Iowa had a 7-1-1 record and California was 7-3 during the regular season.

Louisiana State, the only major unbeaten and untied team in the country, pits its unblemished record and national championship, against a Clemson team which had an 8-2 season record but is listed as a 15-point underdog in the Sugar Bowl. A crowd of about 82,000 will be on hand.

Orange Bowl Sees Speed vs. Power

Miami (UPI)—Oklahoma throws its dazzling speed attack at a power-minded Syracuse today in the Orange Bowl. The Orange Bowl game before a sell-out crowd of more than 76,500.

The kickoff is at 1 p. m. and the game will be carried nationwide on CBS radio and television.

No excuses on the outcome were available for either team. Both were pronounced in peak physical condition. The weather promised to be a cool 70 at kickoff time with only a slight possibility of a brief shower.

The oddsmakers favored Oklahoma, tutored by the winningest coach, Bud Wilkinson, by 13 points. But the battle could well develop into a defensive struggle. Oklahoma yielded only 4.9 points per game in a 10-game season and Syracuse allowed only a 6.3 average to nine foes.

Comparative Records
Each lost to only one opponent during the regular season, and by only one point. Texas beat Oklahoma 13-14 and Holy Cross topped Syracuse 14-13. Both were early season games.

Oklahoma beat West Virginia 47-14 to start the season, while Syracuse closed out the year against the Mountaineers with a 15-12 victory. Syracuse caught Nebraska first by 30, then Oklahoma downed the Cornhuskers 40-7.

Prestige demands weighed heavily on the backs of Syracuse's Orange Bowl players. They hoped not only to upset the odds against the nation's fifth-ranked team, but to erase the memory of a 61-6 Orange Bowl debacle suffered at the hands of Alabama in 1953.

Playing with third-string quarterback Bob Cornell replacing star David Baker, bounced because of falling grades, Oklahoma promised to stick mostly to the ground with its rapid shoots off the split-T.

Strong Backfields
With All-America center Bob Harrison breaking the path, the most feared runners in the Sooners' attack are halfbacks Jackie Sanderfer and Brewster Hibby and fullback Prentice Gault. Oklahoma's first Negro player.

Quarterback Chuck Zimmerman carries the offensive hopes of Syracuse. He operates a T-formation backfield, behind an unbalanced line that has averaged four yards a run per play. It is composed of halfbacks Gerhard Schwedes and Tom Stephens and fullback Ed Keiffer.

When the going gets tricky, Zimmerman has passed with better than 40 per cent accuracy.

Coach Ben Schwartz said Zimmerman is the most underrated quarterback in the nation.

Lane's Resolution Is Winning Title

Miami Beach (UPI)—Southpaw Kenny Lane, who became a stand-by challenger on a split decision over Carlos Ortiz, said today, "my New Year's resolution is to win the lightweight title in 1959."

Brown-haired Kenny of Muskegon, Mich., who failed to wrest the 135-pound crown from Joe Brown last July 23, will get another shot at it here in Miami Beach in April, if Brown defends successfully against Johnny Buzza at Houston, Tex., Feb. 11.

Lane, 26, earned another probable title chance Wednesday night by his strong finish against dark-haired Ortiz of New York in their 10-rounder at the Miami Beach Auditorium. From a 1-2-1 Chris Dundee announced the probable April match at the ring-side.

The Michigan mauler, weighing 137 pounds to 137 1/2 for Puerto Rico born Ortiz, came on in the ninth and 10th rounds to wrap up the decision before an estimated 2,000.

Former Manager, John Doyle, Dies

HOLYOKE, Mass. (UPI)—John Doyle, a prominent figure in baseball before the turn of the century, died Wednesday night at the age of 89 after suffering a heart attack earlier in the day.

Doyle, former manager of the New York Giants and the Washington Senators, is survived by his sister, Miss Nora Doyle.

He managed the Giants in 1905 and the Senators in 1908 after 17 years as a major league baseball player. For the past 28 years Doyle has been a scout for the Chicago Cubs.

City Cage League To Resume Jan. 5

Sugar Bowl Battle Could Be Decided On Basis Of Rain

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Louisiana State and Clemson, who battle for the Sugar Bowl title today, move into massive stadium with a wary eye on the weather that could be critical.

A sell-out crowd of 82,000 is expected for the contest between the national champion Tigers of LSU and the 1-1-1 team Atlantic Coast Conference champs.

The weatherman's forecast of light rain for the 25th annual game gave Clemson fans fresh upset hopes in the face of prevailing 15-point odds.

Despite those odds, Clemson enters the test with an important psychological advantage—they have everything to gain. LSU has everything to lose.

Clemson Criticized
Newspaper stories critical of the South Carolinians' record and choice as a Sugar Bowl opponent have provided extra incentive for Coach Frank Howard's visiting coach.

LSU, picked to finish near the bottom of the 12-team Southeastern Conference, came through with its first perfect football season in 50 years and the national collegiate football championship.

Four days in New Orleans, the Bengals have yet to show the honorfame a win. They must win today if their brilliant season is not to sour.

Coach Paul Dietzel broke his Baton Rouge training camp earlier today and pronounced his team ready for the challenge. He had hoped for sunny skies.

Lightweight LSU ripped through 16 regular season opponents with a baffling wing-T offense reared around player and coach Bill Cannon and his halfback running mate, Johnny Robinson.

Need Firm Turf
With halfbacks whistling about the offensive backfield bent on end sweeps and double reverses, the Bengal formation works best on a firm turf. Their closest competitor in a U.S. win over Mississippi State, came in the rain.

Clemson, anchored by a pair of 240-pound tackles, figures to hold the Bengals with much less difficulty if the field is soggy.

The South Carolina Tiger is working from an unbalanced T, a straight-ahead power team with few fancy tricks in their offense.

Quarterback Harvey White, who turned up with a bad ankle Tuesday but is expected at full speed today, is the man who makes the Clemson offense move. Reserves are adequate but not as deep as LSU's; their starters bigger but less fast.

All-America Billy Cannon heads a swift, versatile LSU attack. The Baton Rouge Tigers alternate two attacking units and use a third unit on defense. Clemson appears out-gunned but is burning with desire to upset LSU because of all the criticism of the match.

Sooners' Baker Out
Oklahoma (9-1) meets Syracuse (8-1) in the Orange Bowl which could turn out to be the top game of the day. Oklahoma is a 15-point choice but will be without the services of regular quarterback Dave Baker, dropped because of low grades, and will be facing a team of considerable size and depth.

Syracuse, like Clemson has a special mission. The Orange is out to wipe out the memory of their last visit to the Orange Bowl when they were crushed 61-6 by Alabama in 1953.

There may be traces of snow ringing the field at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, Tex., where Texas Christian is an Apunt choice. The Air Force Academy won nine games and played a 12-13 tie with Iowa but has failed to impress the gamblers who say they are moving out of their class against the Southwest Conference champions.

Running Duel Looms
A crowd of 75,000 can expect to see a running duel between fullback Jack Spike of Texas Christian and Steve Gallos of the Air Force.

Prairie View AAM (7-2) opposes Langston, Okla. (4-3) in the Prairie View Bowl game which will not be televised or broadcast.

Radio and TV time for the four major games (all times e-s-t.) are: Orange, 1:45 p.m. on CBS TV radio; Sugar, 4:45 p.m. on NBC TV radio; Cotton, about 3:30 p.m. also on CBS TV radio; Rose, 4:45 p.m. on NBC TV radio.

Marlene Bauer Hagge, the all-time money winner for our year in the Ladies Professional Golf Association, will be one of the chief attractions at the Mayfair Inn Open tournament next week.

She also will be one of the chief attractions at the Mayfair Inn Open tournament next week.

The tournament will draw Marlene's sister, Alice, Mary Ruth Jessen, both of whom will take part in the Friday clinic and such outstanding performers as Hety Rawls, Patsy Berg, Mickey Wright and Louise Suggs.

The 54-hole tournament will be played over the sprawling Mayfair Inn Country Club course, beginning with an 18-hole round Jan. 8. Finals will take place Sunday, Jan. 11.

Marlene Bauer Hagge turned professional in 1950. In her sixth year as a pro, she won $20,253, an all-time, one-year record, in 1956. In the past three seasons, she has won a total of $31,461.82.

Although she won't be 25 years old until Feb. 16, she has an almost unbelievable total of 32 years of golf in her background. Started at the age of 3 1/2 by her father, the late golf professional Dave Bauer, Marlene won her first championship at eight the fourth title of the Western Open.

At the age of 13, she hit the national limelight at Indio, Calif., where she won the Women's Invitational. The victory came on her birthday and her 34th hole total of 210 still stands as a record.

Later that same year, she added the Western Junior and National Junior championships to her trophy room and was a semi-finalist in the U. S. Amateur.

In 1952, she had eight victories. The first coming at Sea Island. From there, she went on to win the LPGA title and six other tournaments. In her greatest year, she was runner-up in the Vare Trophy and runner-up for the Babe Zaharias Trophy.

Consistency has been the mark of Marlene's play in 1958. She finished in the money in every tournament in which she competed.

She was in the top 10 on 21 occasions. She won twice, finished second or tied for second on four other occasions.

Senior Bowl Plans Big Aerial Battle

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—Passing backs limbered up today for what could be the biggest aerial battle in the nine-year history of the Senior Bowl.

There was a likelihood passes would be thrown to such an extent the record of 54 for one game set in 1950 might be surpassed in the fifth game here Saturday.

Baylor quarterback back Buddy Humphrey was doing most of the passing for Coach Paul Brown's halfback squad. Brown coach of the professional Cleveland Browns, is seeking revenge for a 13-13 defeat last year.

On the receiving end of the Humphrey passes are Billy Stary of Mississippi State, a converted quarterback in the Senior Bowl.

TV's Cage Contest

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Philadelphia Warriors will meet the Minneapolis Lakers at the Veterans Hall Sunday, Jan. 4, in the National Basketball Association's nationally televised (NBC) game of the week, beginning at 2 p. m. e-s-t.

Seminoles Travel To Bishop Moore

By JERRY COVINGTON
The Sanford Seminoles will resume their 1958-59 cage schedule in Orlando Saturday night as they go against Bishop Moore in a doubleheader.

The Seminoles go into the contest with a 4-2 record. The only losses have been New Smyrna and Edgewater.

The contest with Bishop Moore should prove a real test for the Seminoles with high scoring Jimmy Ellis pacing the Hornet attack. The slender forward is sporting a 20-plus average per game and if the Seminoles are able to climb his style, they should be able to come out on top. Ellis is one of the top scorers in the state.

While Ellis is tough, the Seminoles have several top-notch players that are not to be overlooked. Forward Jimmy Gracey goes into the contest as the leading Seminole scorer and has hit in double figures in every contest thus far in the season. He has also handled the bulk of the rebounding chores for the locals.

What the Seminoles lack in size they make up with their fast guards. Junior Ray Lundquist and Senior Carl Lindridge possess plenty of point making talent and are also fine playmakers and ball-handlers. They steal the ball at any time and have made it rough for the opponents with their lay-up shots. Lundquist has the single high for one contest this year with 21 points against Deland. These two are set to start at the guards for the locals.

Coach Dick Silvers' undefeated JV's will take on the Hornet JV's in a preliminary contest. Sophomore forward Mike Roberts has shown plenty of talent and is the best bet to keep the winning streak going. The big Sophomore dropped in 19 points against Deland two weeks ago to pace the Holy Seminoles to their fourth win of the season.

It promises to be a fine night of basketball with Ellis and company going against a smaller, but faster, Seminole team. It should be a high scoring contest with plenty of fast breaking and rebounding.

Wyoming Defeats Hardin-Simmons In Sun Bowl, 14-6

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—Wyoming Coach Bob Devaney knew what he was talking about when he said the Sun Bowl football game "very well" could be decided Wednesday.

That's exactly what happened Wednesday.

Wyoming beat Hardin-Simmons 14-6 on a pass interception and a recovered fumble—both by linemen and fought off threat after threat by Hardin-Simmons.

Hardin-Simmons was famed for its passing attack, but the smaller but speedier Wyoming line repeatedly rushed the passers, forcing the Texans to complete only 11 of 21 passes for only 82 yards.

Hardin-Simmons sent plenty of power into its line plays, featuring fullback Pete Hart and halfbacks Joe Allen and Dewey Bohling. But none broke away with any consistency and the team got only 133 yards on the ground.

In the Wyoming win, the team of Devaney and Norman McInnis won the finals by default over Shelden and Art Harris. There were 11 double teams entered in the tournament with the finals played on the Mayfair Inn courts.

But Summerfield, winter pro of the hotel's empire, with Charlie Morrison acting as referee, Ronald Perry, director of the city's recreation department, presented the trophies to the winners and runners-up.

Bob Shelden Wins Net Singles Title

Bob Shelden, local manager of the Southern Bell, has won the city tennis singles championship.

He defeated Larry Dorr 6-3, 6-3, in the 2out of 3 match. Over 25 players entered the singles division of the tournament.

In the doubles division of the tournament, the team of Dorr and Norman McInnis won the finals by default over Shelden and Art Harris. There were 11 double teams entered in the tournament with the finals played on the Mayfair Inn courts.

But Summerfield, winter pro of the hotel's empire, with Charlie Morrison acting as referee, Ronald Perry, director of the city's recreation department, presented the trophies to the winners and runners-up.

Rademacher Considering Bout 'To Keep Hand In'

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)—Ex-Olympic champ Pete Rademacher, the super salesman who talked his way into 10 rounds of professional boxing and got knocked down 11 times for his trouble, has had several offers to fight again recently and "might just take one to stay in the business."

He had offers from Texas oil man to fight Ray Harris in Dallas, from promoter Tommy Meyer to meet Harris or Irish Pat McLutry in Portland, Ore., and from a group of Tacoma, Wash., businessmen to go against Mr. Murty in either Tacoma or Seattle.

Rademacher said he is "not going to reveal the amount of the guarantees because too many people would think them fantastic and untrue. Just remember, I'm like a new automobile, I don't come cheap."

Rademacher, who returned to his home state to attend a sports banquet here, is best remembered for his gift of gab rather than his ability as a fighter.

After winning the Olympic heavyweight crown in 1924, he started a campaign to meet professional champion Floyd Patterson. He succeeded, and in 1957 went six rounds with the champ before $242,000 worth of customers bore a loss. Rademacher was knocked down seven times before the bout was stopped, but he also had the title holder on the deck and it is generally conceded that he won the first two rounds.

He took out after Zora Folley, the number one contender for Patterson's crown, seat, and after a few months of negotiating the fight was signed and Rademacher was guaranteed $35,000 for the bout.

The holding, 20 pounder didn't fare too well against Folley either, however. He was knocked down four times before the bout was stopped in the fourth round.

Bearded Man Took Sports Guys Along

By OSCAR FRALEY
NEW YORK (UPI)—The old man with the beard bowed out last night and he took a lot of the sports guys with him.

Particularly our guys.

Sports writing isn't regarded by those in it as a business but more as a way of life. Rivals live, eat, sleep and relax together and, quite frequently, help each other.

They are, as one once described it, the underpaid and the over privileged.

That's why we in the business will miss them so much. The guys like Walter Stewart of Memphis ... Whitley Lewis of Cleveland ... Lane McCurdy of Philadelphia ... Fred Olman of Washington ... Ned Cronin of Los Angeles ... H. G. Salsinger of Detroit ... Bill Curran, Ben Epstein and Roland Mike Gavin of New York.

A lot of others in the sports racket went with them: good friends, too.

Baseball Ranks Out
Baseball lost quiet, little Mel Ott; fast-speaking Tris Speaker and burly Mort Cooper. And who is to blame you for remembering that day, your first World Series, when Mort and his brother, Walter, went out and "won one for the old man" the day their father died.

They went in good company. Along with joke-cracking Jack LaVelle and powerful Herman Hickman, two of the brightest after-dinner lights in football. How do you forget those Hickman stories about his "knifin'" down in Tennessee?

There also went two fellows who laughed at the man with the beard every day. It was their business as they wheeled their cars at Indianapolis, Darlington or Daytona. Pat O'Connor told the ball for North Carolina's Joe Kuhath, Iowa Brown of Houston, along with ends Bob Pepe of North Carolina State and Jim Wood of Oklahoma State.

Snow, Rain Greet North, East Today

United Press International
The northeast and central parts of the nation started the new year today faced with cold and freezing rain.

Weather forecasters said the cold would continue.

Trajectory road conditions were forecast for Illinois, Indiana, lower Michigan and eastward into most of Pennsylvania.

Westward from Indiana, cold air moving southward from Canada brought low temperatures and snow squalls into the Dakotas, Montana and parts of Nebraska, with mixed snow and rain in the Pacific Northwest.

Mainfall was reported at nearly every point east of the Mississippi River and at scattered points throughout the Midwest and West, some of it freezing quickly in a widespread area from the Ohio Valley southward.

In Chicago, factories closed down early to allow workers time to reach home before dark. In Dallas, Texas, and Oklahoma City, clogged streets and traffic jams delayed homeward-bound drivers by as much as 12 hours.

Despite scattered showers, it was considerably warmer west of the Mississippi, into the Rockies and along the Pacific Coast.

San Francisco basked under record high December readings. About 200 sunbathers and swimmers gathered on the city's beaches in 53 degree temperature.
