

Lookouts Sell Buddy Lake, Sanford Pitcher, To Scranton

Earlier Bought Of Albany, N.Y. Club Goes Back North

Buddy Believes Arm Is O. K. Again And Plans Hard Work

Buddy Lake has been sold by the Lookouts to Scranton, Pa., and will start for the northern club last evening for the northern club. The Scranton club sent him transportation, including Pullman, and Buddy left looking forward to regaining lost percentage among the pitchers.

When Lake was bought by the Lookouts from the Albany, N. Y., club of the International League last April he found after a few games that his arm had not recovered from a strain during the previous season, and he was unable to hurl the ball in his usual style. After being forced out of several games he was rejected by the Sanford Baseball Association and was released back to Albany. The New York Club then took the case to the baseball court but, as reported several days ago, Judge Brannan ruled that Lake was Sanford's property and that the purchase price of $200 plus a player's cost be paid.

The Association made a slight profit on the sale of Lake to the Scranton club. The Lookouts were to pay Albany $200, and they sold the pitcher to Scranton for $250. In addition to the $200 Albany got first baseman McNally, but McNally was returned from Albany's southern farm in a few weeks and was then traded by the Lookouts to Shortstop Clary.

Buddy Lake started his baseball career on sandlot in Sanford, and since leaving high school has made quite a record as a pitcher with different Class A teams in the north.

Errors Lose Thursday's Game In Daytona Beach To Lookouts

G-Men Victorious Over The Saints; Gunthrap Pitches

Neither Team Scores For Seven Innings, Final Count 12-1

ST. AUGUSTINE, June 5.—Gainesville downed St. Augustine, 2 to 1, Thursday in the Florida State League, set the Gunthrap set the Saints down with six hits.

Bill Rutland, on the mound for the St. Augustine nine, left the game in favor of a pinch hitter in the eighth after giving up eight hits and two runs. Medler finished the game.

Singles by Adair and McMullen, aided by Zepanic's error at first gave the G-Men two runs in the eighth. The Saints came back on singles by Zepanic and Bonner and a double steal to tally in their half of the eighth.

Adair with two singles and Hampton with a double and a single, led the Gainesville offense. Zepanic rendered two of St. Augustine's slim hits. The G-Men gave Gunthrap errorless support, and twice pulled double plays to kill Saint rallies.

First Baseman Arnold Said To Have Realized Ambition In Managing Daytona Club

Thwarted last season in his effort to launch a managerial career, First Baseman Arnold Anderson has taken a new lease on life in piloting the Daytona Beach Islanders through the Florida State's initial campaign.

Anderson was assigned to manage Greensburg of the Tennessee League last season, but a few days of a bad cold kept him out of the office.

After a trial with a new outfit in 1935, Anderson returned to the office of the Daytona Beach club. He finished out the year here, but in 1935 he was hit by a great clip of 431 when the St. Louis Cardinals purchased him and sent him to their Greensboro farm. ## Dean Hurls 1-Hit Ball And DeLand Defeats Palatka

Azaleas Manage To Get 2 Scores In Last Half Of 9th

PALATKA, June 5.—Limited to a single hit for the first eight innings by Dopey Dean, DeLand ace right-hander, the Azaleas dropped their second game in as many days yesterday when the Rock copped a 7-2 verdict.

Both local markers came in the last of the ninth when a pair of doubles and brace of singles gave the Azaleas their only runs.

Sy Slaalain, Palatka's pitcher, took his ninth win in the Florida State circuit, was picked for an even dozen blows with Robinson and Rubeling collecting three each off his delivery.

Dopey plays, engineered by McFarlane, Didrikson, and Halling quelled Azalea uprisings in the second and fifth stanzas and prevented more than one Palatka player to proceed as far as second base up to the ninth.

Rubeling drove in three DeLand runs with his two doubles and single. He also tallied twice.

Bubba Didrikson, DeLand second sacker, contributed the fielding feat of the day when he raced back on the grass in right to rob Masale of a seemingly sure hit in the third.

Innings: 0 2 2 0 1 0 0—7 DeLand; 0 0 0 0 0 0 2—2 Palatka.

Islanders Return For Game Here If Weather Permits

Krider, New Pitcher, Gives Up 10 Hits To 6 By Daytonan

Errors cost the Lookouts their game in Daytona Beach against the Islanders yesterday, and the loop leaders won, 7 to 2. John Krider, new pitcher from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., hurled throughout the game and allowed 10 hits to 6 by Moose Fralick, Daytona pitcher. The Islanders will play on Sanford Field today if weather permits.

Sanford drew first blood in the third when Bistrup tripled and scored on Clary's sacrifice. The Islanders scored twice in the third, four times in the fourth and once in the eighth.

The Islanders pulled an unusual double play in the seventh. McNally, centerfielder, caught Krider's fly and made a fine throw to second to retire Bistrup.

Bartusch, new Daytona Beach right fielder, led the Islanders with a triple and two singles in four trips to the plate.

Secrecy Helping 'Stop Landon' In G.O.P. Campaign

Origin Of Movement Against Governor Of Kansas Unknown

By BYRON PRICE WASHINGTON, June 6.—(AP)—The sudden public outcropping of assertions and denials about a "stop Landon" movement have enlivened the Republican convention preliminaries, but it is questionable how far they reflect the true situation in the Republican party.

Partly this "public confusion" is due to the character of the Landon campaign, which has been built around a policy of comparative silence. Partly it is due to the manifest inability of ranking old guard leaders to make up their minds, and their consequent unwillingness to make commitments in advance.

When two groups of such importance in the party both are keeping their own counsel, it is no wonder a great deal of guessing is indulged in elsewhere.

The "stop" device is a familiar recourse, and its employment does not necessarily indicate personal antagonism toward the candidate selected as the victim. Often, rather than that, it is a routine and wholly impersonal part of the calculating and cold-blooded game of politics.

In every convention, two sets of men are important. One is the group of active and receptive candidates, each of whom hopes to be nominated. The other is the numerous school of organization leaders, each of whom hopes to control the nomination.

When these gentlemen see, or think they see, one candidate getting out ahead of the pack, their natural reaction is to dispose of him. Sometimes tacitly, sometimes openly, they band themselves together, regardless of the disagreements among them and try to hold out enough votes to destroy the leading aspirant's hope of victory.

There was an open "stop Hoover" movement in 1928, but it collapsed when Governor Lowden refused to go along with it and released his delegates. The "stop Roosevelt" movement in 1932 was less frankly spoken of, but it was no less real. It fell apart when the Garner delegates, chiefly William G. McAdoe, pulled out and went over to Roosevelt.

In some other years, "stop" movements have been entirely successful. McAdoe himself was stopped both in 1920 and in 1924 after he became leading man. Lowden helped stop General Wood in 1920, and then himself fell victim to the stop system.

One thing which is happening now is that a considerable number of prominent Republicans are beginning to wonder where they will be left if the quiet-working and somewhat mysterious Landon boom turns out to be all that is claimed for it.

Even Governor Landon's best friends do not dispute that this is a natural impulse. Most of the old leaders of the party, and some of the younger ones, know little about the governor personally. They appear to have no faintest notion what he might do, if nominated, to the party organization.

If a formidable "stop Landon" movement develops at Cleveland, this consideration undoubtedly will have much to do with it. There may be other causes, to be sure, but from the viewpoint of many of the prominent Republicans aforesaid, it will be essentially a "stop, look and listen" movement.

Sheriff James Davis of Osborne county, Kas., dug up a nearly full 10-gallon keg of whiskey, believed to have been buried before the eighteenth amendment was passed.

To My Friends in Seminole County:

I am deeply grateful to you for your confidence and support in my race for Congress.

Although defeated, I feel that sticking to the principle I deemed right, brings some satisfaction in this hour of failure.

My service to you in the past has always been an honor and a pleasure.

Jas. G. Sharon

It is with pleasure that I choose this method of extending my deepest appreciation for the vote of confidence given me in Tuesday's primary and I hope the voters of this county will see fit to return me to office in the run-off primary of June 23rd.

Sincerely,

Appreciation To The Voters

I desire to convey to the voters of Seminole County genuine appreciation and thanks for the splendid vote of faith and confidence given me in Tuesday's election and solicit their continued support in the June 23rd primary, assuring them,

BULLETINS FOR BRIDES

Unless this year is very different from other years, grocers' sales of rice will pick up during the next six weeks. Church organists will suffer occupational fatigue. Tin cans will rattle behind dignified automobiles. And a great many young couples, emerging starry-eyed from the middle aisle, will face Life together and find it full of New Problems.

They have so many things to buy, so much shopping to do, so many choices to make. Furniture, silverware, rugs and blankets... towels and toasters... soap and soup and cereals.

Fortunately, for them, they go forth, budget in hand, into a world of standard values, recognized trade-marks, dependable merchandise. Familiar names, advertised names, will pass their lips naturally as they buy. They will read the advertisements more than ever now—selecting, rejecting, hudgeting, buying with a minimum of wasted effort and a definite assurance of value received.

The pages of this paper are full of bulletins for brides, news of the world of goods and services, short cuts to efficient housekeeping. Whether you're a 1936 bride or a 1906 bride, make it a habit to read the advertisements regularly. For the sake of time, economy and convenience, be familiar with standard values when you start out to shop.

Lookouts-Azaleas To Play Double Header Here Monday

Best Players In State League Are To Be Selected

Weather permitting, the first double header of the season will be played on Sanford Field next Monday afternoon between the Sanford Lookouts and the Palatka Azaleas. A double-header was that means there will be six to have been played with the Gainesville G-Men a week ago, but it was rained out. If it doesn't rain Monday, the first game will be called at 2 o'clock and the second game immediately following. There will be no advance in the price of admission.

Sweeney Pitches Lookouts To Win By 2 To 1 Score

Former Lookout Bats In Lone Tally For Visiting Islanders

The Lookouts got the breaks yesterday and, with Red Sweeney pitching, defeated the Daytona Beach Islanders, leaders in the Florida State League, 2 to 1. It was Sanford's third victory over Daytona this season.

Sanford's two runs were made in the sixth inning. Clary started that canto by a single to left field, Maltby sacrificed and Clary went to second, and Boris drew a base on balls. Cates hit to short and Boris was out at second, while Clary went to third. But Hosinski, second baseman for the Isles, who received the throw, tried for a double play, threw wild and Cates was safe at second, and Clary scored. Overstreet got a hit and when third baseman Dillingham threw the ball away Cates crossed the plate for the second score.

Daytona's lone score was made in the last inning when McVally, former Lookout now on the Islanders' line-up, smashed out a triple and Ba'icki scored.

Saints Will Meet Panthers Defeat Lookouts Sunday On Sanford Field

Stuffy Says Locals Are Keyed To Win, Game Time 3 P. M.

Cherokees 4 To 3 In Legion League

Higgs Fans Five Men And Dyson Scored 4 Runs On 2 Hits

Freddie Francis brings his Saints over from St. Augustine tomorrow for a Sunday game with Stuffy McCross's Lookouts. Stuffy says his gang is keyed up to win, feeling more confident since yesterday's victory over Daytona, the club that has repeatedly defeated all others in the league and has held the leadership for weeks. The Lookouts are playing in St. Augustine this afternoon.

Stuffy was undetermined this morning as to who would pitch tomorrow. It will depend on the result of today's contest, he said. Jack Krider might be sent to the mound again, but he played only two days ago. Overstreet has not pitched a game for some time, but he is doing such excellent work in the field that users in hesitancy on the part of the management about weakening that position by sending Bob in to pitch. Sweeney pitched yesterday, so he cannot be considered for tomorrow's game. That leaves Doc Harren and Veale, one of whom was expected to hurl for today's game.

After about a week's rest because of rain every day a game was scheduled, two teams of the Legion Junior League met on the Ninth Street diamond yesterday, and played a 4 to 3 contest. It was between the Panthers and the Cherokees, and the Panthers won. The score:

Cherokees	3
Panthers	4

Captain Ferguson pitched for the Panthers and performed in his usual grand style, allowing only three hits and striking out eight men. Dyson was behind the plate for the winning club. Hays and Higgs hurled for the Cherokees, and the latter struck out five men in the last four innings. Beckwith caught for the losing team.

Dyson was the star hitter for the Panthers, making four runs on only two safe hits.

Saints Get Into Rubeling's Homer Second Place By Helping DeLand To Defeating G-Men Shut Out Palatka

GAINESVILLE, June 6.—The St. Augustine Saints downed the Gainesville G-Men, 6-4, Friday afternoon, the contest going 14 innings. Schneider, the Ancient City moundsman and McNamara, Gainesville pitcher, went the entire route. Schneider was touched for 15 base hits while McNamara gave up 14.

McGowan, the first batter for the Saints in the fourteenth, blasted a double to deep left field. He scored when Fitzgerald gathered in his fourth hit of the game, a single to right. Fitzgerald took second on a wild throw by McNamara to first and scored on Owens' fourth base hit.

The Saints started the scoring in the first when they scored three times as Zopanic rifled one of McNamara's deliveries far over the right field wall. Two runners were on the bases at the time.

The G-Men scored twice in the initial frame and added two more in the fourth to take a 4-3 lead. The Saints tied the score at 4-4 in the ninth. After two batters were out in that inning McGowan singled to third and Bradley trying to get him threw wild at first. McGowan taking third and scoring on Fitzgerald's blow to center.

Two fast double plays in the extra innings of the game cut off potential G-Men scoring efforts.

6 Florida Amateur Golfers To Enter Micky Cochrane Is Out Of Game For Time Being

WASHINGTON, June 6.—(P)—The strain of the American League pennant race and of battling against a succession of bad "breaks"—injuries, particularly to Hank Greenberg, and spotty pitching—has put fiery Micky Cochrane on the sidelines for the time being.

The pilot of the world champions collapsed Thursday at Philadelphia after a hard run to score on a four-base slout hit within the park. Yesterday he revealed he had had several similar "fainting spells" during the last month.

His collapse Thursday, Cochrane said physicians explained, was due to the strain, the heat and his long run.

His previous "spells," some serious and all of short duration, were due he said, to worry and excitement, to the suspense of many record chase games and to the poor record the Tigers have made in the last fortnight.

James Stewart, while waiting for his first picture role—he was under contract—whiled away his time by taking flying lessons.

Ballots Will Be Sent To Sports Writers And Club Managers

Following the custom in vogue in most of the minor leagues of the country, the press bureau of the National Association is planning to conduct a ballot to select a 1934 all-star team for the Florida State League. Writers and managers of the circuit have been asked to bear this in mind, so that when the ballots are distributed later in the season they will be able to make their choice.

There will be 12 places on the all-star team. These include the eight regular positions, a right and left-handed pitcher, a utility man and a manager.

While playing ability, of course, is paramount in the selection of any all-star team, the voters are also requested to take other matters into consideration. Hustle, team spirit and other points that are included in the make-up of the outstanding player should be given due consideration in naming the player.

The scribes and pilots will be furnished blanks calling for first and second choice for each of the 12 positions, enabling a tie to be settled in compiling the team.

The placing of each player on one of these all-star teams is entered on his record at press headquarters and the honor will follow him through his entire baseball career.

Members of the all-star teams are published annually in the Reach and Spalding baseball guides, and it is a signal honor to win one of the berths on the mythical nine. Competition and fan interest is keen in many of the leagues where the teams have been picked for several years.

The race is on and it's open to all. May the best men win!

Reds Get 7 Runs In Friday's Game On Their Home Field

DELAND, June 6.—With Jake Bunch limping Palatka to four scattered hits, the DeLand Reds shut out the Azaleas in a Florida State League game here yesterday, 7 to 0. The Reds drove Lefty Larsen, Palatka ace, from the mound in the third inning with a barrage of four hits, after nicking him for two in the second.

Rubeling's homer in the second scored DeLand's first run, and Kinard, who walked, scored in the same frame. Singles by Robertson and Rubeling, a double by Kinard and a hit batsman, followed by Ho'atock's homer over the left field wall, brought about Larsen's downfall and scored four runs.

Although Henry gave up six hits to the Reds, he was able to hold them in check, except in the seventh when they pushed across another run.

Golf Championship Play Next Year To Be In Portland, Ore.

SPRINGFIELD, N. J., June 6.—(P)—The United States Golf Association announced the 1937 national amateur golf championship will be played at the Alderwood Country Club, Portland, Ore., marking the second time in history that this title event has gone to the Far West. It was played at Pebble Beach, Calif., in 1935.

The 1937 national open was awarded to the Oakland Hills Country Club, Birmingham, Mich. This was the scene of the 1934 event.

Al Rubeling, Reds' Latest Sensation, Plays Various And Sundry Positions

Al Rubeling, a new sensation added to the roster of the DeLand Reds, isn't sure just where his defensive spot in baseball is, for he has taken a whirl at various and sundry posts. So long as he continues to hit as he has started for the Reds, the fans won't care where he plays.

Building reported to Jennings of the Palm State League in 1934, and Manager Ray Ryan first used him at second base, but later moved him to first, where he spent most of the season, working a few games in the outfield. He put a .250 average on the record for his entry in professional ball.

TURK CAPTURES BEAR

ISTANBUL, June 6.—(P)—The theory that wild bears do not attack naked men, one of Turkey's popular beliefs, has reportedly been verified by a laborer at Bartin, Anatolia, who disrobed, entered the bear's den and brought it out into the open where it was killed.

The state population department at Ede de Janeiro released figures showing that of 374,780 rural properties in Sao Paulo state, 23,500 are owned by Italians, 14,810 by Spaniards and 18,945 by Japanese.

From the Sidelines

Just the Lookouts may be about to defend the title, except that they have a certain amount of doubt as to whether they can hold the title in the fifth inning. Lookouts' club is taken into consideration. The hope that the team may be able to hold the title in the fifth inning is not a fact that the two teams will meet tomorrow, and the fact that the team are in the habit of winning. Sunday games, even if they are on any other day, tomorrow's game is to be played on Sanford Field.

Prades led the Lookouts on Monday, and they won from Daytona Beach bunch at that victory sets the Lookouts to be planning to the home, runner-up in the loop. Sanford has now won 18 and lost 11 games. Maybe 13 will prove to be a lucky number and the team will now go on with upward. The season is not half over. There is time for the Lookouts to get to the top of the percentage column.

Yesterday's game was the first between the Lookouts and the Islanders, and the third victory for Sanford over the League leaders. The third game of the season (Apr. 21) was won by Sanford from Daytona Beach, 10 to 7. Then the Lookouts won that thrilling 17-inning game on May 24 from the Islanders, 2 to 0. The other Sanford-Daytona games and the scores by which the opposition won were Apr. 22, 10-9; May 2, 4-0; May 3, 4-3; May 12, 2-9 (13 innings); May 13, 10-9; May 25, 10-3; June 4, 6-4.

Herbert Moses is a baseball player, but the Sanford club has been treating him as though he were a football. He was signed up at the beginning of the season, put in to pitch in one scarp after it had been lost by another pitcher and it was too late to save the day, and was released. Then he was signed up again a couple of weeks ago, again allowed to pitch the last three innings of a game that was lost before he was sent to the mound, and again released. Hardly a fair way to treat a player. He should at least have been given a chance.

Frank McNally, who played last base on the Sanford team the first of the season, is now with the Daytona Beach club. He was traded off in the first Lake deal, returned when that deal blew up and sent to Palatka in trade for Ellis Clary, shortstop, and has now landed with the Isles. He doesn't like the uniform for the first time that Thursday and helped the Islanders defeat the Lookouts, his first loss. It was McNally's base-base hit in the last inning that scored Baller for Daytona's lone tally in yesterday's game.

They say that Jack Krider, the hurler for the Lookouts, is the wisest (not wisest) of all. Charley Wert, president of the club, swears that between the pitcher's box and the home plate ball that Krider sometimes pitches, swerves fully to the left out of line, but that it always gets back over the plate to confuse the batter.

Happy Cole, former St. Augustine pitcher, is substituting umpire on bases during the game of Umpire "Pop" Lehr. Announcement has been made whether Happy will work bases here tomorrow when the Saints play the Lookouts. It is the usual Lookouts' trick to keep the fans guessing.

American Legion Juniors have played baseball for a season open on Sanford Field. The team is just the stage set for a League in the American Legion. The organization of a League in the Legion is the more interesting part of the story for the district. The last players of the team in the Legion is Sanford will play on Saturday night in their home game at Sanford Field.
