The Great McIntyre Pitches Nine Hit Ball To Secure 12 Inning Tilt Over Locals

Barty Wynn Leads Ten Innings For Locals Before Being Yanked By Rodgers In Favor Of "The Earl Of Crisfield"

Local Lookouts played their ninth game tonight at the home of the Deland Reds at Conrad Park by a score of 2 to 1 in a contest which lasted 12 innings.

In the stand for the Lookouts was Barty Wynn who had been injured before he played over the duties to Al Deland with the score still tied 1 and 1. Wynn gave up his duties during the ninth and tenth innings as he saw action on the mound and he was replaced by the Reds while Deland took over the duties in the tenth with two outs and two on.

Wynn's time on the mound was also given credit for the team. Crisfield was the lone hitter fanning one of the nine.

In the ninth inning for the victory, Deland hit the only run of the game. The Great McIntyre allowed the home run while Wynn pitched out of the Lookouts and Wynn pitched out of the Reds.

The fielding honors in the tilt were George Phillips and Wynn which were made a wonderful play on the field.

Deland's home run came in the ninth with one away runner on first and second.

Deland came back home in the ninth with the score tied 1 and 1. Wynn pitched out of the Reds and Wynn pitched out of the Lookouts.

Max Schmeling Pays Champ Joe A Visit At Camp

Louis Goes Through His Last Workouts Before Farr Fight

POMPTON LAKE, N. J., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Joe Louis, the king, played second harmonics to the pretender, Max Schmeling, right in his camp yesterday as the Teuton sceler visited Pompton Lake for his first good sleep since he smashed him into that surprising knockout defeat at Yankee stadium a year ago last June.

Max, looking much younger than his almost 28 years, rolled into the champion's camp just before the Brown Bomber engaged in his six round semi-final workout for his title match against Tommy (No Chance) Farr Thursday night. As flash lights popped and photographers had a field day, Max and Joe posed together with expressionless faces.

"Hello, Joe," said Max. "How you feeling?"

"Hello, Max," said Joe. "How you feeling?"

There wasn't much news in that, so the reporters looked on as the photographers had Max, Joe and promoter Mike Jacobs line up for practice shots around the camp pool table. Later, Joe was seated in an overstuffed chair with Max in the edge, leaning over as if to whisper something in Joe's ear. The truth is neither said a word. They were either too excited or bored. It was plain to see there isn't much love lost between Max and Joe.

After Joe had boxed in leisurely fashion, sports writers asked Max what he thought of Louis yesterday.

"I see something," said Max. "I am more eager than ever to fight him. I can lick him again."

"What did you see?" he was asked.

"Something. I tell you better after Thursday night's fight."

The crowd at the ring-side, some 2000 who didn't mind a slight drizzle, cheered Schmeling as he was introduced. The negro section of the crowd was quite silent, most of them gazing in awe at the Teuton. Some of them kept staring at Max even when Louis knocked down Tiger Harlow, human punching bag No. 3 from Wheeling, W. Va.

Farr And Former Champ Max Baer Nearly Stage Non-Title Bout At Farr's Camp

Farr Nearly Brings One From The Floor Of The Camp Ring When The Welshman's Manager Steps Between Fighters

LONG BEACH, N. J., Aug. 22.—(AP)—They had to pull Tommy Farr off of Max Baer in the training ring here, yesterday. Only quick intervention of Ted Broadribb, manager of the hot-tempered Welshman, averted what might have been the most spectacular scrap of the summer.

Hisling with anger because of a recent interview in which Max was quoted as saying that Farr "couldn't kill a fly," the hard guy from Tommypan did his best to take a crack at his former tormentor. He still was sore today because they stopped it.

The eruption occurred when Max, clad in fighting trunks, climbed into the ring in the midst of Farr's workout before about 500 fans. He and his brothers, Buddy Haer, were going to workout later, Farr walked until his handlers had removed his gloves, then went up to Max ruffling like a fighting cock.

"What do you mean, making remarks like that about me in the paper?" he demanded, thrusting his perspiring face about six inches from Baer's chin.

"Don't believe everything you read in the papers, little boy," Max rejoined. "When they quit writing about you, that will be the time to worry."

That was enough for Tommy. He started to bring one from the floor, and failed to land it only because Broadribb dived between them. It took Farr's manager and two others to force him back into his corner. He was livid, and the things he called Max wouldn't bear repetition here.

For his part, Baer got right out of the ring and stayed there until Farr had completed his workout. He was magnanimous about the whole thing.

"Good thing I've got a sense of humor," he confided to the ring-side, caressing his right cheek. "I could have hit him on that cheek and copped that fight Thursday night with Louie."

Farr gradually consented to shake hands with Max when he left the ring, but he didn't mean it. His still was Luffing in the "grazing" run. He says neither spirit nor vacillate when he's worked up properly, dear Tommy.

"I wish they hadn't stopped it," he said fiercely. "I cut that guy to ribbons in London and I wouldn't mind doing it again. Making belittling remarks like that about me. If I can't hit what happened to him in London, I'd like to fight him again for nothing."

Titular Bout Will Be Broadcast Over N. B. C. By Buick

It was announced this morning by Dwight Smith of the Sanford Buick Company that the makers of Buick would sponsor the broadcast of the Tommy Farr-Joe Louis fight which will be held in New York Thursday evening. Mr. Smith also stated that the fight will be over the waves of both networks of the National Broadcasting Company.

Strolling Man Is Killed In Holdup

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Robert Francis Burns, 40, part owner of a suburban Evanston meat market was found by police fatally shot early yesterday in Grant Park near Michigan boulevard. Capt. John Pendergast, chief of uniformed police, said Burns was in the arms of an attractively and stylishly dressed blonde woman.

Burns died in a hospital half an hour later. Pendergast said he believed the man had been shot by "a couple of young punks who got nervous during an intended holdup."

He said Burns had made a tour of near north side taverns with the woman before the slaying. The woman, the captain said, told him two men accosted her and Burns as they walked in the park "to cool off," one of them slapped her and then she heard "one or two shots."

"Good thing I've got a sense of humor," he confided to the ring-side, caressing his right cheek. "I could have hit him on that cheek and copped that fight Thursday night with Louie."

Roosevelt Has Conference On Fall Session

Barkley And Rayburn Invited To White House Luncheon To Discuss Situation

Talk Grows Of New Alignment

Senator Says South Ready To Consider Break With Party

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(AP)—President Roosevelt called in his leaders in Congress for luncheon today for what officials said was a conference on calling a special session of Congress in the autumn. Senator Barkley, Kentucky, Democrat, and Representative Rayburn, Texas Democratic leader in the Senate and House were invited to the White House luncheon.

New talk of a political realignment has arisen out of the deep division in the ranks of congressmen. Democrats—a division emphasized by their bitter adjournment day squabble on the Senate floor.

The Democratic dissension and the recent veiled threat by John L. Lewis, C. I. O. chieftain, to look for a new political vehicle if Democratic "discipline" is not restored provided the background for the speculation.

Many of the Democrats lingering at the Capitol for a few days before returning home discomfited by a permanent loss of their party, but would not say who the breach could be closed.

A general view, held by many, was that the future of the party depended largely upon President Roosevelt's course—that if he pursued a middle-of-the-road program without attempts at retaliation, the party difficulties could be smoothed over, but that if he headed "left" regardless of consequences, the split was bound to widen.

In some quarters it was held that the President had not definitely charted his course—that he was considering both the "center" and the "left" policies. Democratic Chairman Farley and the "get out of the party" policy suggested by Senator Guffey (D Pa.), to dis-sending Democrats almost simultaneously.

One acute senator, who did not want to be quoted by name, held that conditions are at last ripe for the long-discussed party realignment. He contended that the solid South's fealty to the Democratic Party has been the stumbling block to such developments in the past, but that it is longer such an obstacle.

With the South decidedly skeptical of the wage-hour bill, advised by the administration, and hostile to the anti-lynching bill favored by Democratic members of Congress, he said it would not take much to sever Dixie's old political ties.

The senator did not suggest that the South was ready, but that a new movement under the name, for instance, of Jeffersonian democracy, might make great headway.

City Authorizes Interest Payment On Issue Of Bonds

A sum of $3985 was authorized to be paid to the Central Trust Bank in New York City, in a short meeting of the City Commissioners in the City Hall last night, for payment of interest falling due on Sept. 1 on new refunding bonds exchanged outside the shareholders protective committee.

This payment covers interest on 477 of the bonds at an interest rate on the series B bonds. The September coupons on the refunding bonds exchanged within the committee were detached when exchanged.

The Commissioners also voted to decline the application of the Sinclair Oil Company for permission to erect a service station at the corner of Park Avenue and Eighth Street due to the fact that a number of residents in the vicinity vigorously opposed the building of a station in the heart of Sanford's residential section.

City Councilors also adopted a resolution offered by the Florida Power and Light Company authorizing the removal of a white way light on French Avenue and Fifteenth Street and the installation of a similar light in an alley on Sanford Avenue.

Considerable discussion was also heard of various projects sponsored at the present time by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. However, no definite commitment of the course the city plans to follow relative to these projects was made other than the fact that the city would aid in their development to the fullest extent of its ability.

The meeting was adjourned until tonight when the body will meet as a Delinquent Tax Adjustment Board.

Tonight the Commissioners are expected to discuss the course they plan to follow regarding the adjustment of delinquent city taxes.

Uncle Sam's Debt Reaches New Peak

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(AP)—The public debt, increasing steadily since 1930, rose above the $37,000,000,000 level to a new high yesterday.

Exact figures were unavailable, pending compliance of fiscal records, but treasury officials said the sale of $50,000,000 in discount bills lifted the gross debt above $37,000,000,000.

This figure compared with $33,400,000,000 a year ago, $16,183,000,000 in 1930, and $25,500,000,000, the war peak, in 1918.

Present federal obligations represent a debt of about $285 for every person in the country, compared with a per capita debt of $257 a year ago.

Since this fiscal period started July 1, the treasury has spent $326,000,000 more than it has taken in. This compares with a $200,000,000 deficit in the corresponding period a year ago and a predicted $400,000,000 excess of expenditures for this entire year.

New Processes Found To Remove Odor From Water

Activated Carbon Is Used To Make City Water Palatable

Although water is the cheapest commodity in the United States and a few cents will bring a large amount of it into your home, it must be put through many processes in order that it may be palatable and free from disease-bearing bacteria, according to the American Institute of Sanitation.

Comparatively few municipal water supplies are free from pollution and contamination, and for that reason, most cities chlorinate the water to remove disease germs that may possibly be in it.

The purity of water can never be determined by its taste or smell, for dangerous bacteria are odorless and may be seen only under a microscope. Off-tastes and bad odors are the result of microscopic plants which are found in virtually all waters. Large numbers of plants in rivers and lakes.

Franco Declares Santander Fight Virtually Over

HENDAYE, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Continued advances by five converging columns of insurgent troops today made it "apparent," said General Francisco Franco, that "fighting in Santander province is virtually ended."

The insurgent chieftain's Salamanca headquarters predicted in a statement today that the rate of his army's advance would permit the capture of the provincial capital "before the end of the week."

Government reports, admitting in part the insurgent claims reported fierce infantry attacks supported by fleets of tanks and large masses of artillery and aviation on the tightening semi-circle centered on the Spanish government's last important Basquean seaport.

Los Corrales southwest of the beleaguered city was heavily shelled by Franco's Palencia road column, the government communique said.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Japanese planes, naval guns and landing parties smashed at Shanghai today in the promised "big offensive" against stubborn Chinese resistance. Two Japanese airplane carriers, anchored at the mouth of the Yangtze River catapulted plane after plane into the air to bomb Chinese machine gun positions near the Wusong shore.

In the midst of exploding bombs and artillery shells 115 Americans were evacuated aboard the liner President Pierce for Manila. The battle raged down the Whangpoo and along the Yangtze.

The Japanese landed thousands of reinforcements. They were led by the suicide detachment "The White Band of Death."

The Japanese were driving in from the north to assault the Chinese left flank. Flames were sweeping vast areas of Shanghai and the Wusong vicinity where the Whangpoo meets the Yangtze to form the great estuary of the China Sea.

TIENTSIN, Aug. 24.—(AP)

Crack Chinese advance guards swept around both flanks of the Japanese army southwest of Peiping today and struck simultaneously in an effort to pinch off 30,000 Japanese troops immobilized there by torrid heat.

A major battle with at least a quarter of a million men engaged was developing along a 150-mile front. China's modernized army was attacking from four directions to thrust the Japanese army out of the conquered northeast China.

The Japanese front 30 miles southwest of Peiping was in danger of being snapped off by the surprise Chinese strategy and grave apprehension was apparent in all Japanese areas south and west of Peiping.

All Japanese troops were hurriedly withdrawn from their extended positions west of Peiping, and concentrated on the east bank of the Yungting River in the suburbs of Peiping and in Peiping proper. Japanese warplanes were bombing the entire area from Mentokou 20 miles west of Peiping to a point 40 miles to the southeast on the Peiping-Tientsin railroad.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

CHOSEN OF GOD: Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ: according as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love.—Ephesians 1:2-4.

SONGS

I find so many songs to sing
 I scarce know what to do;
 Though I keep starting ever
 I'm never, never through.
 Sometimes I think my songs are Done,
 And then some lovely thing
 Puts music in my silly heart,
 And I must sing and sing.
 I sing of waving daffodils
 And daisies white and sweet,
 Of violets nodding in a field
 And clovers at my feet.
 I sing of dancing leaves in fall
 And yellow goldenrod,
 And sometimes in the twilight
 I sing a song to God.

Wonder if the people of Alabama think they will get full time service out of Gov. Graves, now that his wife is the new senator from Alabama.

The adjournment of Congress, leaving much of the President's "must" legislation uncompleted, gives encouragement to business that the dictatorship is about to come to an end. Until a special session is called, the country can breathe easier, secure in the knowledge that the Supreme Court cannot be destroyed, or wages and hours arbitrarily fixed by Washington, or other disastrous laws enacted by the executive department of the government alone. And the spunk of the Congressmen in turning down the attempt of the President to pack the court indicates that they are no longer willing to serve as rubber stamps.

While British diplomats have been noticeably unsuccessful in finding a solution for the Sino-Japanese affair, their scientists have been active in confirming the general theory of relativity. And that in itself is relatively important. It seems that if you compare the period of vibration of a quartz rod maintained under constant conditions with a similar oscillator placed successively in a series of different positions so that its axis rotates through 360 degrees, you will prove that it is not possible by physical measurement to detect the motion of the earth through the ether of space, or something like that.

The prevalence of sex crimes throughout the nation during the past few weeks and the assertion of one charged with such a crime that he had just been reading a newspaper account of a similar crime, gave rise to the thought that publication of crime stories of this character should be banned. However, this criminal might also have just attended a movie, or one of our prominent bathhouse bookies, and there is no more reason to believe that the one who is responsible for his act than the other. Evidence exists to indicate that sex crimes were common in the days of Christ, but that is not the point.

Florida Construction

During the first six months of 1937 the State of Florida led the nation in the percentage of new construction involved in mortgages selected for appraisal by the Federal Housing Administration, according to State Director M. M. Parrish who says that 68 percent of all mortgages selected in Florida for appraisal during that period were for new construction.

"With the country as a whole averaging slightly over 40 percent of the total mortgages on homes inspected during construction," Mr. Parrish said, "five of the ten leading states report a considerably higher proportion. Florida led with 68 percent, followed by New York with 59 percent, Texas with 57 percent, New Jersey with 48 percent and Michigan with 46 percent of its mortgages covering newly built dwellings inspected for FHA acceptance before or during construction.

Slightly higher proportions would be reported in each state if mortgages accepted for insurance on homes constructed within one year prior to date of acceptance, which are classed as refinanced, were included with the former. For the United States the proportion under this grouping is currently around 55 percent and, on a cumulative basis to date represents 47 percent of the total.

"On this cumulative basis Florida again takes the lead with 72 percent, Texas and New York, 69 percent; Michigan 63 percent; California, 50 percent; New Jersey 46 percent; Illinois 36 percent; Pennsylvania 35 percent; Ohio 33 percent and Indiana 29 percent."

Wildlife Restoration

One of the most important bills to bird lovers passed by the recent session of Congress was the Pittman-Robertson Federal Aid to Wildlife Bill approved unanimously by the House of Representatives in the final hours of the session. This bill, which is the most outstanding wildlife measure introduced in Congress in recent years, was passed, also unanimously by the Senate on August 10.

When the bill is signed by the President, approximately four million dollars will be made available to the various states for wildlife restoration projects under the same type of arrangement which governs the Federal Aid to Highways Law. The Pittman-Robertson Bill, pushed through the House in the closing hours of the last day by Congressman Robertson, sets aside the excise tax on sporting arms and ammunition from the General Fund of the United States Treasury to a special "Wildlife Restoration Fund."

This fund, amounting to approximately $2,760,000, will be made available to the various states under the terms of the act, which, in effect, means that the government will put up three dollars to each dollar the states supply for approved wildlife restoration projects.

The allocations are made on the basis of comparative area and number of hunting licenses in each state with the total area and number in the United States. No state, however, may receive more than $150,000 nor less than $15,000 under the terms of the act. With $920,000 provided by the states, the total for wildlife restoration amounts to approximately $3,680,000.

IT IS EXTREMELY significant that the President sets up a British historian, Lord Macaulay, as the target at which to aim his darts. He represents Lord Macaulay as a British Tory, advocating class rule. This is in itself an historical perversion. Lord Macaulay was not a Tory but a leader of the Whigs, the great liberal British party of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. He was not a feudal baron, but the son of a poor civil servant, ennobled late in life for his literary eminence. He made his first public speech in favor of the abolition of slavery. He made his first speech in the House of Commons in favor of the removal of Jewish disabilities. He was so strong an abolitionist that he resigned his office rather than vote for modified slavery. He was the great vindicator of the liberty of the press, and maintained the equality of Europeans and natives before the law. He believed, as Mr. Roosevelt professes to do, in private property as a basis of individual liberty. And he also believed that unchecked majority rule would lead to the expropriation of all private property by fiat.—Dorothy Thompson.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—No body could accuse President Roosevelt of buying a pig-fa-poke when he named Hugo L. Black to the Supreme Court. Black's opinions as a senator have been recorded on miles of white paper. And they're all been on the Rooseveltian side. His maiden speech in the Senate was a battle for Mescal Shoes. He wanted cheaper alternate rates for farmers. That was in the Republican era when a young Democrat from Alabama was nothing but a voice crying in the wilderness. But Black started to see TVA become a fact in 1932.

His last battle in the Senate was his own bill which he says would put a bottom in American living standards; the wages and hours bill.

No what can be expected of him in the oak-lined room where the nine justices finally sit down to iron out a decision. First it's expected that Black will go right to work. He'll face that little court nifty that says a politician should eliminate himself when a controversy comes up in which he is personally interested.

But Black's been a senator ten years. He's had his finger in hundreds of laws. If he were to become salty about the game he should or should not pass upon he would truly become a phantom justice, appearing on the bench only now and then.

Besides he's roasted by service artists dozens of times. Half his pleas for the wages and hours bill have been pleas to act and act now.

As a judge, he'll have general New Deal laws on which to act. The banking company bill is on the way up through the lower courts. And when that bill was dying of anemia in committee Black was the hypochondriac that shoved it through to enactment. Just as the fight over the act was on Black opened his lobby investigation in a handful of days he had programs flooding Congress opposing the bill, had been paid for by the power companies in a type of self-righteousness Congress played the ball.

Through action or inertia perhaps Black has lost the drum of the rights of people to against the theft of property. He's striven with figures of people working long hours while others were out of work. He's investigated against business built from state strings when he was investigating the stock and the air-fuel controls. He has insisted that big business has jumped state lines, and must be controlled by national law.

He's probably be sitting on the bench when the Securities and Exchange commission comes up for review. He'll be there when the bill of FRA to bond money to cities for power plants comes up. He'll be there when the bill to set up the Federal Reserve Bank is introduced.

He'll be there when the bill to set up the Federal Reserve Bank is introduced.

He'll be there when the bill to set up the Federal Reserve Bank is introduced.

He'll be there when the bill to set up the Federal Reserve Bank is introduced.

New Processes Found To Remove Odor From Water

The Institute points out that the advancement of living standards in public cities to supply water to its customers that is not only pure and clear but also palatable.

A new purifier has been introduced in the past decade which keeps water supplies sweet and palatable under all conditions. The palatable is activated carbon and is now being used by more than 1,000 cities.

One pound of activated carbon will purify approximately 100,000 gallons of water costing to the consumer and the cost for the treatment per year is only about three cents per person.

The use of chlorine in the sterilization of public water supplies has reduced infection from that source to a minimum. It has been studied by medical experts that 50,000 lives are saved annually from typhoid and that the disease may finally disappear.

The City of Sanford obtains its water from wells near the Sanford-Orlando highway. Pipes have been driven more than 100 feet into the ground to connect with the Ocala strata.

Upon its arrival in the city reservoir, the water is chlorinated to eliminate from it dangerous bacteria, and then treated to improve its palatability. The latter process was added several years ago in order to remove a once-present objectionable taste.

The water in Sanford is much softer than that in many other cities in the State, according to statistics on file with the City Clerk.

Chicago Has $161,000 Cowpath In Its Loop

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—(P)—Chicago has a $161,000 cowpath in the heart of its Loop but cows can't see it.

In 1924 Farmer Willard Jones pastured his herd of cows on land now the site of a 26-story building at Clark and Monroe Streets.

During subsequent selling and leasing unfavorable provisions were made to keep an open pathway so that cows and hay wagons could get to the cow barn from the Monroe street side.

The barn has long ceased to exist, but the path remains a narrow passage 19 feet wide, 18 feet high and 33 feet long.

When architects designed the present building in 1925 they forgot the cowpath provision and had to alter their plans later to include it. The elevators and entrance had to be shifted because of it.

Owners of the building estimate the cowpath's land value at $161,000 and that they lose more than $12,000 annual rent on the space.

Rodgers, Martin And Clary Named On State League All-Star Group.

Clary Gets Unanimous Choice For Shortstop Position While Martin Has Little Opposition

Gainesville Leads With Four Men On Outfit Including The Hurling Staff Patterson Is Only Rodgers' Opponent

Saints, Gondollers And Gulls Fail To Place Man On Team

Three Sanford Lookouts again brought honor to Sanford this morning when it was announced that Edwin "Buddy" Martin, Ed "Breeches" Clary and Bill "Raw Meat" Rodgers were selected on the Florida State League All-Star team that was selected by the newspapers in the circuit and compiled by the National Association press bureau.

The Gainesville G-Men dominated the all-star team with four players, two of whom made up the team's hurling staff, Ed Herbert Padgett and Andy Sierra. Wilkey McMullen was chosen as the first baseman while Bob Pittman got the utility post.

The scribes and writers, who did the voting, had little trouble in finding their man for first base. He was Walton (Whitey) McMullen of Gainesville, who gathered all but two of the first-choice votes. As second, Shaw Buck of Palatka was a repeater from the 1936 team, but he was pushed by Russ Weis of Daytona and the Livingston of the G-Men.

Chuck Allen, a first-year rookie, who has been doing sensational hitting, stepped in at third base to give the DeLand Reds one of their two berths. He was an outstanding favorite, although Bob Pittman, last year's third sacker, still had some backers. The Gainesville hot corner man, while losing at third, kept up his all-star record by landing the utility berth from 14 others who were mentioned for the job.

Pete Hughes of DeLand, the Mexican rookie from California, recovered from an early season injury in time to get the call over all rivals in right field. Charles (Pepper) Martin of Daytona, got only a smattering of competition from Dace Davis of Leesburg and Jack Owens of St. Augustine, and romped off handily with the catcher's job.

It was not so easy for Ed Herbert Padgett of Gainesville to land the right-handed pitching post. The youngster, who has been sold to Pittsburgh, was hard-pressed by Jake Bunch of Leesburg.

Selection of Andy Sierra for southpaw duty gave the G-Men the team's pitching staff. Sierra, also sold to the Pirates, had a narrow margin of a second choice ballot over Eddie Harper of DeLand.

"Raw Meat" Bill Rodgers, the colorful Sanford leader, was chosen to manage the mythical nine, with Pat Patterson of DeLand, the 1936 pilot, running in second place.

Rodgers' Outfit Drops 5 To 2 Tilt To DeLand Reds

Harper Credited With His 20 Win Of 1937 Season

Dazy Mote Suffers During Early Part Of Last Red Game

Bill "Raw Meat" Rodgers and his erratic playing Lookouts tasted a 5 to 2 defeat again last evening at the Sanford Municipal Athletic Field at the hands of Pat Patterson and his third place DeLand Reds. It was the seventh straight win for the DeLand outfit while Eddie Harper, 18 year old southpaw, was credited with his 20th win of the season.

On the hill for the losers was Dazy Mote who was unable to get a good start until the fourth frame when he mowed down the winners with great ease. However, the local club was unable to get to Eddie Harper to back up Mote's performance as they secured only five bingles off the left-hander while Mote was shelled for five pairs.

At last Henry L. Gray, proxy of the Florida State League, has decided to call a league meeting of the directors of the loop and discuss the Sanford case in which Sanford was fined $100 and a ball game forfeited to the Leesburg club.

President Gray was determined to let such a decision be made last week stand but he was not familiar with the case as he should have been and much comment has been written about him and his hasty decision in not only this newspaper but in the Florida Times Union, the St. Augustine Record, the DeLand News, the Daytona Beach Sun Record, the Daytona Beach Evening News, and the Palatka Daily News.

In Mr. Gray's decision he must have forgotten that it would affect the standings of the league clubs to such an extent and Bill Page, business manager of the DeLand club, made such a big fuss that the meeting is to be called.

During the meeting it is expected that the clubs will take a vote on the matter but Leesburg and Sanford will not be permitted to vote. The six remaining clubs, Gainesville, DeLand, Orlando, Daytona Beach, St. Augustine and Palatka will be the six clubs which have votes.

Santander Falls To Motorized Troops Of Insurgents; Only Northwest City

Insurgent Officials Reveal Surrender

50,000 Soldiers Are Believed Trapped By Rebel Columns

HENDAYE, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Insurgent officials announced today the surrender of Santander, the last remaining government stronghold on the northwest Spanish coast. Advice from the insurgent field headquarters said government authorities in the city had officially handed over the notice of surrender.

Then the insurgent motorized troops casually drove ahead to enter the outskirts. Late this afternoon a strong detachment of only three miles from Santander proper. The fall of the city was hastened by street fighting.

Santander's civil guard part of the police and some of the government troops demanded immediate capitulation in the insurgents. So swift was the insurgent advance that 5,000 government militiamen were believed caught in a pocket formed on the southeast of the city by the insurgent troops.

The insurgent commanders announced that all 50,000 of the government troops remaining in Santander submitted to the demands of the rebels.

Letter From Bank Acknowledges Posting $1,500 Reward

A letter received today by Chief of Police Roy G. Williams advised the fact that payment of a $1,500 reward awaited any party or parties who divulged information leading to the arrest and conviction of assistant responsible for the death of Chandler H. Nelson. The letter addressed to Chief Williams from the Fidelity Bank and Trust Company of Baton Rouge reads as follows:

Messrs Nelson Brothers have deposited with us an additional $500, making the reward now in our hands $1,500 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the death of their brother, Chandler Nelson.

In the meantime, City officers are far from abandoning the case. In fact there is more optimism regarding the apprehension of Chandler Nelson's attackers than has been at any time since the crime was committed.

At the present time, Chief Williams reported his department is awaiting a report from the Bureau of investigation regarding the chemical analysis of the paint found on Nelson's car.

From this report, Chief Williams said he hoped not only to verify the color of the car which was revealed in tests here but also to determine the make and model of the car since the various types of paints used on the different makes are different in different years.

W. W. Nelson, brother of Chandler and a resident of Longwood is following the case closely and is expending efforts which might lead to the arrest of the unknown attackers. Mr. Nelson is in Sanford every day and reported that he would be more than glad to hear any communication relative to his brother's death.

Sanford Airmail Cachet Available At Post Office

Measuring Three By Three, It Commemorates Air Week

First day covers of the first all-Florida air mail flight tomorrow may be obtained by legal stamp collecting enthusiasts from the Sanford Post Office, according to Postmaster H. J. Holly.

They will be stamped on the left-hand side of the letter with a cachet made especially for this city.

The cachet commemorates the flight made during Florida Air Mail Week, Aug. 23 to 30, by a ship of the great Silver Fleet by the Eastern Air Lines. It measures approximately 3 by 3 inches. Postmaster Holly has had green ink for the impressions of the cachet to honor Postmaster General Farley "whose Irish blood makes him particularly fond of the color."

Philatelists may obtain these first covers by sending an air mail letter tomorrow which will be picked up by a plane flown by Ben Singsel in the afternoon. It has been stated that they should become very valuable because of the improbability of another similar flight.

Other flights will be made to cities not on the regular air mail route in addition to the regularly scheduled 11 air mail stops made daily throughout the state of Florida. Landings have been arranged for DeFuniak Springs, Marianna, Tallahassee, Madison, Lake City, Lake City, St. Augustine, Gainesville, Ocala, Palatka, New Smyrna, Deland, and cities along the lower East Coast.

The Florida Air Mail Week observance has been arranged under the direction of Postmaster William D. Jones, president of the Florida Chapter, National Association of Postmasters.

Court Battle To Be Resumed By Roosevelt

President Decides To Continue Fight On Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—President Roosevelt served notice today that some reorganization of the Supreme Court remains the objective of his administration.

He made his first public statement on the Court situation since Congress shifted his demand to enlarge the high tribunal by one new member for each present justice over 70 who did not retire.

The statement came with the White House announcement that Mr. Roosevelt had signed the measure providing for changes in judicial procedure in the lower courts. Out of the long and bitter fight over the Court bill, these proposals also were retained, and enacted.

The President said the lower court bill "registers a moderate and limited advance into a field which calls for further and more complete exploration."

But he said the bill "leaves entirely untouched any method of relieving the burden now imposed on the Supreme Court."

This he then included as one of the objectives which he said "are of a necessity a part of any complete and well rounded plan for the reform of judicial procedure."

Discussion Is Held By Commissioners On City Problems

Informal discussion of various matters which are to be considered in the near future were discussed at an adjourned session of the City Commissioners last night.

Ways and means of exchanging the City's remaining outstanding bonds for new refunding bonds were discussed but no definite action was taken by the Commissioners.

The formation of a plan for the adjustment of delinquent City taxes which would be equitable to all taxpayers was discussed and although many ideas were offered by the Commissioners, they refrained from taking any definite action. The disposal of property to be taken over by the City in lieu of payment of delinquent taxes also presented a problem which caused considerable discussion among the Commissioners.

The meeting adjourned early without taking definite action on any of the discussed matters.

Market Pact For Celery Is Okeyed By U.S.

Wallace Signs Plan Subject To Referendum By Florida Celery Growers

The Secretary of Agriculture has tentatively approved a celery marketing agreement which will regulate the handling of celery grown in the State of Florida, subject, however, to the approval of the growers and shippers of celery in the state, as provided for in the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, County Agent C. R. Dawson reported today.

The proposed pact will regulate the shipment in interstate commerce of celery grown in this state; providing for production periods, the organization of a control committee with members and alternates from each district, assessments for operating expenses, termination and other provisions common to such orders.

In order to comply with the provisions of the recently enacted Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act, it is necessary to submit the question to the growers and shippers in a special referendum, the date for which has been set as of Sept. 9-10, and will be held under the supervision of the County Agent.

Mr. Dawson reported that September 11 had been set as a deadline and that any grower or shipper who wished to vote at the present time might do so. He also designated Mr. C. R. Dawson and Niblack's Drug Store in Ocala as the balloting places for those connected with the celery industry here.

Mr. Dawson further stated that he had been provided with copies of the tentative marketing agreement and said persons not familiar with the provisions of the agreement to see him in order to thoroughly acquaint themselves with the pact before the referendum, the purpose of which is to accept or reject the issuance of an order regulating the movement of celery in interstate commerce is favored by the producers.

This marketing agreement is submitted on the recommendation of the Secretary of Agriculture and it affects primarily the counties of Seminole, Palm Beach, Manatee, Sarasota, and to a lesser extent other counties where the acreage and number of growers is less.

Before the agreement can go into effect there must be a ratification of the referendum and a proclamation of the Secretary of Agriculture; therefore it is necessary to conduct the referendum at an early date, giving time for the completion of procedure required to put the agreement into effect before the next shipping season.

Mr. Dawson today earnestly requested every celery grower in this vicinity to acquaint himself with the terms of the agreement and to vote on the pact at the referendum to be held in the near future.

This morning a number of prominent growers in the vicinity were summoned to Mr. Dawson's office and ballots were distributed for the purpose of securing the vote of farmers in the outlying sections of the county.

Mewing Advocates Advertising For Celery Increase

Walter Mewing, sales manager of the Sanford-Oviedo Truck Growers, recently returned from an extensive western trip on which he discussed with many growers and shippers of California, Washington, and Oregon, the possibilities of making celery a more universally eaten vegetable.

Mr. Mewing has observed that a great many persons consider that celery should be eaten only at Thanksgiving, Christmas, and other holiday periods, and care little for it at other times. He would remedy this by devoting efforts to making it a regular household food.

He includes radio, newspaper, and other forms of advertising among the methods of accomplishing his aim.

"Celery is a very good and healthful food all the year around because it is produced in various parts of the country and comes into maturity at many periods," he declared.

Mr. Mewing stated that he found business conditions very good in the West.

Report On Current Activities Finished By Future Farmers

The local Chapter of Future Farmers of America today completed their compiled report of the organization's activities for the past year which they plan to send to the National Convention in an effort to achieve national honors for their outstanding work.

The report, which is made into a book containing over 300 pages, was sent today to the organization's State headquarters in Gainesville, where Alex R. Johnson, advisor of the group, said, undoubtedly the report will rank first among the reports of the State.

After the State contest the report will be forwarded to Washington, D. C. to enter competition for regional honors and the cash prize of $100; it will then be sent to Kansas City to compete for the national prize of $250 which will be awarded to the National Convention to be held there in October.

Mr. Johnson stated that the statistical report for the local organization this year is far better than that of the first and second national prize winners last year and it is his belief that his club will win national recognition this year.

This is the first time the organization has ever compiled such an extensive report in competition for national honors, heretofore the club has been satisfied with statewide recognition.

Employers Warned By Revenue Bureau

A warning to employers who have not made Social Security returns or made application for identification numbers was issued today by J. L. Hurt, deputy collector of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, who was in the Chamber of Commerce building this morning.

"In reference to Social Security Returns, it is developing that employees applying for account numbers are revealing the fact that they are working for employers who have failed to make proper returns and pay no tax. In other cases, employers have not made application for identification numbers," he said.

"The Social Security Board in Orlando has advised that they are now in a position to accept all registrations from employers and employees and to issue numbers."

The Orlando office is located in the Exchange building opposite the City Hall.

Chinese Meet Landing Party With Machine Guns And Keep 42,000 From Shore

500 Japanese Are Drowned

U. S. Destroyer Is Forced To Move By Heavy Shelling

SHANGHAI, Aug. 25.—(AP)—The lives of hundreds of Japanese soldiers were sacrificed today in a mass effort to land desperately needed reinforcements and wipe out the Chinese attack on Shanghai.

The City's wily defenders took a heavy toll of Japanese landing parties thwarting the Japanese plan to land 50,000 troops near Woosung and storm Shanghai's defenses from the rear.

Woosung is at the confluence of the Whangpoo and Yangtze down the river 12 miles from the heart of Shanghai. An estimated 42,000 Japanese soldiers were on their ships and the ranks of troops that reached the shore were thinned.

The Chinese allowed that Japanese to rush what seemed to be their second defense line then exploded hidden mines and virtually wiped out the invaders with sheets of fire from erect machine gun nests. Both sides admitted that casualties in the Woosung sector were extremely heavy.

One late report suggested, unconfirmed, said that the Chinese destroyers were withdrawing to the land in the face of Japan's big guns.

Foreign residents of the heart of Shanghai were surrounded by the devastation of 13 days of war—$125,000,000 worth of ruined property and at least 10,000 men were dead and wounded.

The Chinese asserted that two Japanese warships were sunk today off Taungming Island in the Yangtze River and that 500 of the Japanese landing party were drowned at one point alone.

Chinese artillery bombardment on the waterfront north of Shanghai rero the United States destroyer Parrott from its location where it was protecting the Texas Oil Company plants off though Island.

Russians Are Making Play Of Lewis' Novel

MOSCOW, Aug. 25.—(AP)—The dramatization of Sinclair Lewis' novel, "It Can't Happen Here," has been picked by the newspaper, "Soviet Art," as a worthy of production in Russia, with changes to make it conform with soviet political philosophy.

"The fault," the newspaper said, "is that the hero of the play does not realize the only real force able to guarantee victory in the anti-fascist struggle is the workers' class and the communist party."
