

ANOTHER CUT IN INCOME TAX APPEARS NEAR

Possibility Of Reduction Is Increased As Revenues To Government Become Bigger

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—(INS)—Another substantial slash in federal income taxes at the December congress, to be effective Mar. 15, appeared in sight today.

From sources close to Secretary Mellon it was learned that the Treasury would agree to a "substantial cut" which may run from $200,000,000 to $300,000,000.

Within a week tax experts will begin the preparations of the Treasury's plan for income tax reduction for the approval of Secretary Mellon.

In the 1928 revenue act this maximum was boosted from $20,000 to $30,000, but strong pressure has been brought forth for placing the figure still higher and broadening the scope as fixed in the 1928 law.

If taxes can be reduced by $300,000,000 it will mean that since 1921 the burden of the assessment on the American taxpayer will have been reduced by $2,028,000,000.

The net result of these decreases in the tax rates has been an actual increase in revenue to the government.

The new tax cut may take several forms, in addition to earned income.

Another Hurricane Headed Toward U.S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—(INS)—Tropical disturbances of probably increasing intensity are entering at about latitude 26 North, longitude 75 West, east of the Bahamas.

"Strong winds" are predicted for that area tomorrow as the tropical disturbance moves up out of the Bahamas.

YOUNG COOLIDGE TO GET $50,000 FROM HIS FATHER

John Trumbull Also Is Expected To Settle Sum Upon Daughter

(Copyright, 1929, By International News Service)

PLAINVILLE, Conn., Sept. 24.—When Florence Trumbull and John Coolidge, newlyweds, return from their honeymoon they will find $50,000 awaiting them, the gift of Calvin Coolidge, father of the bridegroom.

A close friend of the Trumbull family disclosed to International News Service today that the former president had established a trust fund for the amount above stated.

John Trumbull, father of the bride, was reported as planning to settle a large sum on his daughter.

Looking edgewise square in the face, nobody has ever imagined, in a Connecticut house, and the son of a former president, both reared in comparative comfort, could subsist on a 30-odd dollar a week.

LINDY MAKES READY FOR HIS RETURN FLIGHT

Colonel Finishes Trail Blazing Hop To Para- maribo And Will De- part On Wednesday

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 24.—(INS)—With his trail-blazing tropical mail flight completed, (Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was resting today at Paramaribo, Dutch Guiana, in preparation for a start tomorrow on another trip which will describe a long circle over the Western Caribbean country.

According to word received here by officials of the Pan-American Airways, for whom Col. Lindbergh's flight was made, the Colonel, his wife and companions on the route-charting flight were being feted today by municipal authorities of Paramaribo.

Present plans call for the Lindberghs to take off early tomorrow on their return to Port of Spain, Trinidad. From that point, the Colonel will start on his long circle over the Caribbean territory.

High days will be spent resting and sight-seeing at Cristobal, Panama Canal Zone, before the aviators return here on Oct. 10. Completing the long southern flight with the same unflinching regularity which has characterized each hop of the voyage, the Lindbergh plane arrived at Paramaribo at 4:20 P. M. yesterday, according to aviators here.

From San Juan, Porto Rico, the former southern terminus of the airline, the flight took Col. Lindbergh over the Leeward and Windward Islands and down along the South American coast for a total distance of 1,920 miles.

Officials of Pan-American Airways were enthusiastic over the successful completion of the inaugural flight, and paid generous tribute to Col. Lindbergh's skill and determination to carry out the trip according to time-table schedule in spite of occasionally unfavorable weather forecasts.

Williams And Dodson Are In Perfect Trim As Hour For Racing Classic Nears

BY GORDON DEAN Racing Editor

All roads lead to Sanford! In trains, automobiles, motor buses, airplanes, in fact, in every conceivable means of transportation, great throngs of racing fans are converging upon Sanford today to attend the most stupendous, the most death defying and the century's most spectacular automobile race, which, taking place tomorrow afternoon as the sun is setting somewhere west of Chulueta, will crown in Sanford's second After Supper Sale.

From the prairies of Kilminey to the flowery hills, from the clam shell cliffs of New Smyrna to the sand dunes of Dunedin, an interminable caravan of humanity is working its way through the State in an effort to reach here before every available space is taken and before the last chance of witnessing the classic event has departed.

With both racing automobile declared ready down to the last nail, attention is being concentrated upon obtaining perfect physical condition for the two drivers who will participate in the grueling test. Volie Williams has been placed upon a strict diet of whole wheat and Mellin's food while Bob Dodson's trainers have prescribed spaghetti and Pilsner beer.

The writer was granted the privilege of witnessing the workout yesterday of the speed artists, and he was amazed to learn that such strenuous exercise was a part of a racing driver's training. After an hour of rope skipping and shadow boxing and a little road work, the men were brought to their dressing room where a tub-down was administered. Dodson appeared to be in better trim, his face drawn muscles standing out as overwhelming proof of a strict adherence to training rules.

This afternoon's issue of The Herald carries a series of advertisements devoted to the announcement of the many business houses operating in the city-wide event. They list in full the outstanding bargains to be offered and contain in general a cordial invitation to out-of-town shoppers to come here for an inspection of the low values.

Posters, heralding the sale event, have been circulated throughout Seminole County and in parts of Orange, Lake and Volusia counties. A copy of tonight's paper also will give a wide distribution. As a result, it is believed that several thousand persons will be drawn to Sanford by the sale, and it attendant attractions.

Planned on a larger scale than the first sale, tomorrow night's affair will be featured by a number of side attractions, chief of which will be a race between a 1908 Hupmobile and a 1909 Buick. Considerable interest has been aroused in the race and prospects are that it will attract a record throng when the gun sends the competitors over the course at 6 o'clock.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

PRAYER—Hasten this day of victory, Lord, and use us as Thy servants.

Everyone has his own idea about how to get into the limelight, including the fellow who drives his car into a freight train.

And another unfair thing is that a golf ball gets teed up on all eighteen holes, while the player must wait for the nineteenth.

This seems to be the age of bare legs—bare heads, bare backs, bald heads, bare hands, block heads and saxophone players.—Inverness Chronicle.

Not many people in Sanford have invested in New York stocks recently, a fact which is just another cause for local vigilance. When the market breaks, there won't be any few here, Kansas here.

The old Mendenhall case is expected to come before the pardon board again at its next meeting. It wouldn't surprise us to see Mendenhall pardoned just as the board wouldn't have to be bothered with his case any more.

An English woman, who apparently goes in for poetry, has written a poem eight volumes in length. The poem is so long that it is said to be almost daily at the top of this column, will probably not interest in this information.

People read The Sanford Herald because it prints the news, all the news, and nothing but the news. It doesn't print anything more sensational than it did in 1921, and it wouldn't print anything to the contrary to the community either.

An exchange points out that the amount of money stolen by all the thieves in New York averages less than ten dollars each. We would like to see the amount in New York of hitting your wagon to a star. Don't be a jockey, but go on for the big game. It's the little fellows who go to jail.

The editor of the Charlotte Post says that he does not like the looks of a hotel-keeper woman in public. He says that he would like to see a man in a hotel-keeper's uniform. That's only because he doesn't know what the editor of the Post is, or any of our poor hotel-keeper men, but that matter can be about it.

The Florida Trustball, well known and beautiful daughter of the Florida Trustball, has been named John. The name was accepted by the Florida Trustball Association. The idea was to give it the name of a year, which is the name of the year, which is the name of the year, which is the name of the year.

A former public official in Duval county was recently caught when he was found with a large sum of money. He was found with a large sum of money, which was found in his possession. He was found with a large sum of money, which was found in his possession.

Various improvements have been made by the Florida Public Service Company to its plant at Sanford. The improvements include the installation of new equipment, which will improve the service to the community.

Don't blame the newspaper if there's crime in the news. Front page headlines in a recent issue of the Columbia Examiner-Sun said: "Mooseburger Held in $500,000 Robbery," "Night Club Fire," "Planned Murder," "New Wife Deteriorates Torture at Orangeburg," "Labor Group Will Not Be Women's Death," "Murder and Body Left on River," "Hunt for Chase Fugitive from Convict Camp," "Parents Hunt for Missing Girl," "Woman Convicted of Killing Husband." Not pleasant word pictures, to be sure, but events of the day.

Sanford Romance

A romance involving a daughter of one of the oldest families on Long Island and a scion of ancient New Orleans, a famous sportsman and athlete, especially when that romance developed far from the accustomed haunts of the loving couple, far away in the wildest depths of Abyssinia, is enough to arouse interest anywhere, but when one of the principals is none other than the granddaughter of the founder of the town in which you live, you are likely to sit up and take more than ordinary notice.

The announcement was made recently in the New York newspapers of the approaching marriage of Miss Gertrude Sanford to Mr. Sidney Legendre. Miss Sanford is what might properly be called an American, her forebears dating back to long before the revolutionary period. The founder of the family in this country was Robert Sanford who came here from England where the family had long before been transplanted from Normandy by William the Conqueror. Her grandfather was General Henry S. Sanford, famous not only as the founder of Sanford but also as United States minister to Belgium during the Lincoln administration.

Many of her family have been noted in sports and athletics, in which none is more famous than her brother, Stephen ("Laddie") Sanford, international polo player, a member of last year's team which defeated the Argentinians on Long Island, and owner of prize winning race horses such as Sergeant Murphy which captured the English Grand National in 1924. Mr. Legendre, to whom she is engaged, is an explorer of note, having invaded the wilds of Indo-China as an agent of the Field Museum, and having upon another occasion spent seven months traversing the South Seas.

It was in 1871 that General Sanford formed a partnership with J. Wofford Tucker and the two immediately made plans to found a town on the southern bank of Lake Monroe. Mr. Tucker had acquired from General Finnegan a tract that had been given the General in recognition of his distinguished services in the Seminoles War. General Sanford obtained title to what was known as the Valdez Grant under Spanish dominion. Upon these lands the town was laid out and a settlement founded. First called Tuckeraville, the village's name was changed to Sanford upon the suggestion of General Sanford's daughter, Louisa. Sanford was incorporated in 1877.

These historical facts, recalled by the romance of Miss Sanford, are interesting to all who live in Sanford, more especially to that small group of pioneers who remain to tell a story of perseverance in the building of a community through strife and stress, through freeze and fire, and through epidemics and other disasters.

The Point Of View

Avitation has recently been life in some sections against the great English sport of coursing which has been found to find favor in certain places in the United States. Quite different from the well known dog racing with its mechanical rabbit and its absence of any physical encounter, coursing requires that a dog chase a rabbit around a field until it is exhausted and falls victim to the knife-like incisors of the hound.

The humane society declares that this form of diversion is cruel, that it appeals to the lower instincts in man and that it is detrimental to the moral fiber of youth. While it is true that we would not wish to see a dog's head stretched at full length, bringing every muscle of its body into proper co-ordination and striving with all its energy to overtake the fleeing and doubtlessly scared rabbit, we must admit that we believe the humane society is right in its crusade against the practice.

It is interesting to note that in England where coursing is so popular there is found the greatest sentiment against bull fighting, the national sport of Spain. Englishmen, being great lovers of horseflesh, revolt at the spectacle of a maddened bull poring an innocent horse whose eyes are covered so that it cannot anticipate the furious charge. And, too, the quantity of blood spilt in the bullring is greater than that shed by a little rabbit and this probably militates much against the sport of the red cape. Nevertheless there is essentially little difference between the two sports in so far as the suffering of the participants is concerned.

The chief difference is in the point of view. The Spaniard, in whose hot blood surges the passion for brilliant personality and a zest for mortal combat comparable to the American youth's enthusiasm for football, is blinded to the suffering of the sport to which he has become injured since he is by no means more than the glare of the hunter's lamp or the yelp of a pack at full cry, looks upon the rabbit and the fox as the legitimate prey of a country gentleman. Neither race can be condemned too severely for choosing the pastimes which the centuries have left them as legacies.

WAS JESUS AN IMPOSTER?

SARASOTA HERALD

There are certain statements which have been made by Jesus which have caused some people to question His divinity. It is true that He was a man, and that He was crucified, but He was also the Son of God. He was not an imposter, but He was a man who was crucified for the sins of the world. He was not an imposter, but He was a man who was crucified for the sins of the world. He was not an imposter, but He was a man who was crucified for the sins of the world.

Jesus was not an imposter, but He was a man who was crucified for the sins of the world. He was not an imposter, but He was a man who was crucified for the sins of the world. THERE'S NO STOPPING FLORIDA INDUSTRIAL INDEX

Florida has just been through another season of cleaning house. This time it was the banks. About 50 of them closed doors and are now in process of liquidation. Numbers of them will reopen.

Florida, an important state, with much wealth and with potentialities nothing short of marvelous, will of course, have adequate banking facilities, and arrangements already are under way to strengthen and extend its present financial machinery. Banks are operated primarily for profit to their stockholders, and Florida offers a financial field with the promise and possibilities of profit which will not be neglected by bankers.

The Florida bank troubles were the climax to a rather lengthy list of misfortunes and unhappy happenings in that state. The prime misfortune, the thing responsible for most of the state's troubles, was inflation. This period of madness was followed by deflation, which, while necessary and in a sense desirable, yet was painful.

About this time came two or three of the worst storms in the whole history of Florida. The state may not have such a visitation again in a century. The storms could hardly have picked a worse time in that we have twenty centuries of the marvelous tower of the Jews to save unto the uttermost all who draw near to God through Him. Were Jesus not the Son of God, He would not today be the light of the world.

Now for the bright side of the picture. There's simply no stopping Florida. It has peculiar assets, advantages and natural conditions possessed by no other state in the eastern section of America. It is going to continue to grow, to develop and to prosper, and its material wealth is otherwise will continue to rank among the important states of the American Union. When there is concentrated on just one peninsula sunshine, climate, tourists, a thousand miles of coast, thousands of lakes, culture in its most smiling and generous mood; thousands upon thousands of winter homes, many of them palatial; paved roads, bridges, schools, hotels, modern

WITNESSING DAWN OF THE NEW DAY SARASOTA TIMES

The St. Augustine Record's editor after a trip through the East has returned to his home fully convinced that this state is today witnessing the dawn of a new day, but he sees the necessity of the state advancing in Northern papers in order to offset the propaganda that the state's opportunities have been exhausted.

The St. Augustine paper says: "We heard no joking about Florida. The boom is a thing of the past as far as the mind of the North is concerned. There is much genuine interest in Florida and more than a little sincere sympathy for the people of this state because of what they have suffered from the fruit fly and the closing of certain banks."

"The one outstanding impression gained from our interviews with men of affairs in the nation's metropolis was that Florida people are more worried about themselves and their future than anybody else. We need to take inventory of ourselves and readjust our view point. We need to get more hope into our hearts. We have become blue-minded, and nobody wants to come to a state or invest in a state where the people are not optimistic. True, we have been through with enough to discourage us, but that is water over the dam. Yesterday was one day, tomorrow will be another, and the morrow will be a brighter day than yesterday or even today."

Work on the bridge over the West Palm Beach canal at the College Park-West Palm Beach intersection of the Federal highway, got under way this week by the Powell Brothers' Construction Company. Two large loads of lumber, together with derricks, concrete mixing machines and other equipment were brought in early in the week and preliminary work is well under way. The Powell company will be in charge of the concrete work, while the Nashville Bridge Company will install all steel and iron work. The total cost of the span is placed at $81,126, and is being financed by the State Road Department.—Lake World Herald.

The Old Sock is out of Date! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED. That ancient prejudice which hoarded gold with the fanatical zeal of the miser has vanished. Under the sheltering wing of AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE flourish thousands of banking institutions to which the individual safely entrusts his wealth. "toasting did it"—Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos. YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted." "TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way. Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful, corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette making by men and by women. "It's toasted" — the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture. FOUR THOUSAND GIRLS DISAPPEAR YEARLY IN PARIS

French Publications Praise Menjou, For European Contract

PARIS, Sept. 24.—(INS)—About four thousand women are lost in Paris every year and only fifty per cent of them turn up again in one way or another. This is the startling report of Henri Montbrun who has recently made an exhaustive study of police and hospital records for the past ten years.

A large majority of these cases are girls from 15 to 18 years of age, he says, girls who have probably been too often to the American movies and have decided they want to lead their own lives. Many of these regret it and afterward return to the family roof.

Many who leave home do it for love and many of these girls also go back to mother. Others end up by joining the ranks of street-walkers and some become victims of the white slave traffic.

Unhappy young wives make up a large percentage of the number who are lost, very often women with children they cannot support disappear into thin air. Other cases show temporary insanity in its various forms. Many of these go to the Seine to end their lives. There are also women who were arrested and ashamed to go home. Others are hiding from blackmailers.

A special bureau at the police headquarters for handling these cases is crowded with families waiting for news of the lost one. One may see a real tragedy here every day in the week.

Hailing Adolphe Menjou as "one of the greatest actors of our people" the French publications are expressing "joyous surprise" at the news that this Adolphe has signed up with the French Pathé Cinema for a series of talks.

Although Adolphe is a native of the City of Pittsburgh, the City of Light is claiming him as their own.

"We are joyously surprised," says Cine-Come-See, a trade publication, "by this news. M. Menjou is one of the greatest actors of our people with his versatile talent, his delicacy, tact and taste."

"This universally known artist is the best means of making French films famous throughout the world."

Is Paris becoming Puritanical? For the first time in so many years that the oldest inhabitant can not remember, the facts, the Paris censors, by order of popular, pink-faced Prefect of Police, Monsieur Chippie, have halted the performance of a new play, "Les Desertes de Paris" which had been run at the Theatre de la Renaissance.

A few fortunate ones, however, had the luck to see the curious production before the ban was put on and there was one evening of great hooting and hissing, particularly by military and naval officers who happened to be in the audience and objected strongly to the scene where a sailor takes the part of a barman in the underworld.

The new play resembles in some "The Drug" and "The Pleasure Man" which were banned from New York billboards several years ago.

FAMED TURFMAN DIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (INS)—Samuel Clay Hilditch, 67, leading trainer on the American turf for many years, died today in Fifth Avenue Hospital following an abdominal operation. Hilditch, who directed the Ran on racing stables, owned by Harry F. Sinclair, complained of intestinal trouble a few weeks ago and refused to consult a doctor. He continued his work until he was stricken during the Saturday night when he was rushed to New York for the operation.

Williams, Dodson In Perfect Trim As Race Classic Nears

(Continued From Page One) thing campaign upon the testimonial of Mr. Dodson provided he lead the way home. An embarrassing situation may arise in regard to a Lucky Strike testimonial in case Mr. Dodson wins. It is pointed out by those close to the speed king that he has frequently made it known through his actions that he would rather reach for a sweet instead of a Lucky. However, no difficulty is expected in the case of a beer testimonial.

Racing garbs for the two contestants are being furnished through the courtesy of Sadye's Specialty Shop. Mr. Williams will be attired in a no-front ensemble consisting of blue silk shorts with uppers to match. Shoes and socks and other accessories, harmonizing with the adopted color scheme, will complete his habilliment. Mr. Dodson will be dressed in a gown of turquoise blue chiffon with the skirt featuring the uneven hem line, being near knee length at one side, and to the floor on the other. A large bow of grosgrain ribbon in a lighter shade will be arranged at the waistline on one side, falling in scalloped effect to the floor. The neck will be cut to a point at one side and gardenias of a blue shade will extend from the left shoulder diagonally to the waistline at the back.

A holiday spirit and tense excitement is permeating the atmosphere as the hour approaches for the starter's gun to boom forth its resounding crash, which will send the two racers hurtling through the air and along the pavement on their quest of the most coveted prize in motordom, whatever that is.

At 10 o'clock a free street dance will be staged on Magnolia Avenue. A portion of the sidewalk will be roped off and music will be furnished by the Seminole Syncopators.

Beginning at 11:30 a midnight show will be staged, by the Millane Theater. The program will include a feature picture, "Her Private Life," starring Billie Dove, and other attractions. The automobile race will start from the band shell and will end at the railroad tracks on First Street. Bob Dodson will pilot the Hupmobile and Volie Williams will be at the helm of the Buick. Each expects victory on the eve of the event, declared the most unique race of its kind staged
