presented to the grand jurors included murder and robberies

Staley said last week the slaying of Edward Adamkiewicz would go to the grand jury. Two suspects are being held without bond in county jail in the case. Charged with murder are Edward Meinert, 24, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Donald Eugene Jones, 40, Largo, Fla.

Adamkiewicz's bullet-riddled body was found by deputies at the rear door of his Adams Inn, on U.S. 441 last Thursday. He had been shot five times. Investigators said robbery was the apparent motive for the slaying. Sources said today that the robbery cases before the grand jury are believed to involve juveniles. If the youths are indicted they will be tried as adults in circuit court.

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) - Khmer Rouge gunners shelled a Mekong River convoy loaded with refagees from besieged Neak Luong, killing 26 persons and wounding 42, Cambodian navy sources reported today. The convoy was carrying more than 250 civilians, most of them women and children, from the naval base and ferry crossing 32 miles southeast of Phnom Penh which has been under siege for two weeks.

Heavy Fighting Rages

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) - Heavy fighting continued along the Cambodian border west of Saigon and on South Vietnam's central coastal plain near Bong Son, the South Vietnamese command reported today. The command said 151 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong have been killed and three armored personnel carriers destroyed by South Vietnamese infantry, air strikes and artillery since an attack before dawn Monday on a government border post 55 miles west of Saigon. Six government troops have been killed and 35 wounded, the command said.

Lane Convicted Of Rape

A circuit court jury convicted Rayfield Lane Jr., 24, of Eatonville on four counts of rape and one charge of aggravated assault, after a two-day trial. Lane allegedly raped a teenage girl hitchhike and held her male companion at gunpoint Oct. 29 in an orange grove near Spring Valley in south Seminole.

The defendant testified the boy offered the girl in exchange for money or drugs. Assistant State Attorney Bill Heffernan said the case is the first conviction in Seminole under Florida's new sexual battery laws.

Lane was ordered held in county jail pending a presentence investigation. He faces a maximum sentence of 30 years to life in prison on the conviction.

State Sues Massage

Parlors In Miami

MIAMI (AP) - The state has filed civil suits against five Miami masssage parlors in what officials hope will be a more effective way of halting prostitution.

Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin said Monday that past attempts to halt prostitution through criminal prosecution were ineffective because the persons charged could post bend and be back in business within hours.

The suit, filed in Dade County Circuit Court by Shevin on behalf of the Florida Board of Massage and the state. alleges that nude or seminude women employed by the parlors performed lewd and lascivious acts upon male patrons.

The action also charges that none of the parlors or their 10 employes have state massage licenses. It seeks in junctions against the establishments' continued operations.

Defendants in the suit are Top Hat Health Studio Goddess of Love, Dadeland Therapy Studio, Hawaiian Goddess and 441 Health Studio Inc.

Innocent Plea Entered

TITUSVILLE, Fla. (AP) - A Davie man has pleaded innocent in circuit court to charges of conspiring to commit grand larceny in a fishing tournament.

Attorney Wendell Harris also moved to dismiss the charges against Logan Harry Fischer, 35, who is free on $5,000 bend.

Trial was set for Feb. 17 in Titusville, but Circuit Judge Joe A. Cowart Jr. did not set a hearing date on the motion to dismiss.

Fischer was one of three men accused of rigging a bass fishing tournament in which prizes allegedly went to entrants who had caught fish before the contest started. Circuit Judge Tom Waddell Jr. dismissed similar charges earlier this month against George Oates, president of American Bass Fishermen, and Bernard Keene, both of Cocoa Beach.

New Paper Begins

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) - A new, more conserative student newspaper, The Seminole, has begun publication to compete with Florida State University's existing daily publication, the Flambeau.

Editor Lance G. Pakewich said in a statement Monday that the Seminole was created because the Flambeau no longer represented "the diverse interest of the entire student body."

"It is not our intention to replace our established counterpart, but merely to provide students with an alternative," an editorial in the 20-page first edition of the tabloid said.

Penal Theories Twist Justice

The new surge in the national crime rate - up 16 per cent in the first nine months of 1974 - could be the straw that breaks the back of a penal reform movement that has all but destroyed the relationship between crime and punishment in our society.

Actually we do not need the FBI crime reports to tell us that the burglar, holdup man, auto thief, mugger and rapist are multiplying as menaces to our saftey and property. We know it from our own experience or that of our neighbors or from what we read in our local paper.

It is gratifying at last to hear some sociologists and correctional experts come around to a point of view that a large segment of the public has held all along during more than a decade of experimentation with rehabilitation of criminals. The evidence is accumulating that no one really knows how to reform a lawbreaker.

Robert Martinson, a sociologist who has been studing the results of various approaches to criminal rehabilitation since 1967, has summarized his findings in a massive report concluding that none of them work. There is no appreciable difference in the later behavior of convicted offenders who are made the object of rehabilitation programs and those who are not.

It is impossible to explain away the parellel between the rising crime rate and the decline of the old theory that the main purpose of jails and prisons is to punish criminals. In 1960 the FBI reported there were 3,353,000 serious crimes committed in our country. At the time there were 213,000 convicts in state and federal prisons. In 1972, there were 8,173,000 serious crimes - more than twice the 1960 figure - and the prison population had declined to 197,000. When those figures are coupled with the fact that two-thirds of the lawbreakers now being arrested are "repeaters," the justification for current policies of easy probation and swift parole begins to evaporate.

Some ideas widely accepted a decade ago now must be called into serious question. One is that criminal behavior is a "disease" that will respond to a prescribed therapy. Another is that a criminal has more chance of reforming outside of prison than inside.

To face the facts about crime and punishment does not mean society must abandon faith in the possibilities of redemption. Research shows that most criminals eventually do reform - but through personality changes that seldom can be linked to any parole or probation program.

What we are left with is a situation where far too many offenders are enjoying freedom on the mistaken assumption that their chances for rehabilitation have been increased by excusing them from pinishment for breaking the law. This is corrupting the meaning of our laws and perverting a principle of justice. Now it is the law-abiding citizen who is behind locked doors - protecting himself from the criminal in the streets.

ROGERSVILLE, Tenn. - (NEA) - Back in the hill areas of America, where economic crisis is a tradition rather than a fad, there are brassy individuals who believe the nation's financial plight may have at least one ironically enlightening benefit. They say the middle class, which has been complaining about "welfare luxury" for years, may now get a first hand chance to see that public assistance, i.e. the handout, is not all flowers and sweets. Two local cases should illustrate.

One is Ann Opal Trent, a 45-year-old longtime member of the nation's comfortable rank. is now desperately battling a seemingly unconcerned system of fools for the right to continued survival. Miss Trent, a divorcee, lives like a lonely, sick, neglected animal in a trailer house outside town - without income, without hope, seemingly without government care. Repeated and frantic attempts to rescue her from the depression have failed at the bureaucratic doorstep.

The woman's need is obvious. She has cirrhosis of the liver, she cannot control the use doctor told her she had the body of a 68-year-old woman; now physicians have upped it to 72. Sometimes her condition deteriorates to a point where she cannot walk at all, and must slide on her rump around the trailer; at least once, she confesses her outlook fell so low that she ate three cartons of sleeping pills in a try at suicide. Despite this, she has been unable to pry anything but $45 a month worth of food stamps from city, state and federal aid agencies. "All I get is a runaround."

When she first began applying for assistance, early in the year, she wasted several weeks until a welfare department clerk finally told her she was in the wrong place; new laws last January transferred all adult aid to the Social Security WILLIAM RUSHER Administration

But S.S. too has been neglectful and obstinate. When Trent tried to get her late ex-husband's social security she was told she hadn't been married long enough (13 years versus the 16 required in such instances). When she thereafter tried for supplementary security income (an emergency fund for special cases) she was bandied back and forth, from clerk to clerk, form to form, "like a damn rubber ball." Often appointments with S.S. officials ended in failure because stairs could not be negotiated or authorities would not show.

End result: nothing. "I've got a suitcase full of papers, but nothing else. I can eat on the $45 food stamps, but that's it. I been borrowing from neighbors to pay lights and heat, and when that runs out, it's all over. I'm tired of the whole damn thing."

Tired also is Linda Arnold, a young mother of four, also of Rogersville, also without a husband, who lives in a gloomy dwelling that is heated with wood cut from nearby forests and lit with a coal oil lantern. She walks around town in bedroom slippers and a second-hand coat. When bills fall due, she says, she begs like a burn.

The Arnold situation is similar to Ann Trent's in that neither woman has received the benefits she is entitled to under state and federal Indeed, it seems to many needy Americans that nobody does care. Not true, of course: 15 million citizens are presently aided by a variety of welfare programs. But numbers mean nothing to individuals in trouble. When one is in need, quick and easy help is the only solution.

> DON OAKLEY Really! It's Not So Bad

If you can keep your head when others about you are losing theirs, then you just don't understand the situation. Or so goes the cynic's version of a famous Kipling line. Herbert Hoover, of course, is a classic example of a man who kept his head a little too well, insisting that the economy was "fundamentally sound" even as it was crashing down around his administration.

Yet while there is abundant cause for concern in the face of the dilemma the nation today finds itself in, impaled as it is on the twin horns of inflation and recession, there is a case to be made that things are not as unrelievedly bleak as they may appear to be.

Consider unemployment, whose rolls now number some six million Americans and, say some forecasts, may swell by another one or two million in the corning year. But according to the U.S. Department of Labor, about 1.8 million of those currently unemployed are teen-agers, 1.5 million are women and 1.2 million are part-time workers.

This is not to minimize the plight of people in those categories, many of whom are the sole supports of themselves or their families. Further Labor Department figures show, however, that only 386,000 people have been out of work for 27 weeks or longer, which is 176,000 fewer "hardcore" unemployed than two years ago. All but 7 per cent find new jobs within 26 weeks.

Specifically, the average length of unemployment in 1974 was 9.6 weeks, compared with 10 weeks in 1973 and 12.1 weeks in 1972.

The statistics have not yet caught up with the near-catastrophic situation in the automobile industry, the full impact of which is still to be felt throughout the economy. Even so, there is and there has been a tremendous turnover in the unemployment rolls, and while many people are going through extremely difficult times, for the overwhelming majority it is a temporary thing and it is cushioned by jobless and other benefits that did not exist for an earlier generation.

In other words, there are jobs available. This would not be true if the nation were really in the midst of a general depression,

Another cause for gloom is the news that the cost of living went up another nine-tenths of 1 per cent in November, bringing the year's total to and the prospects of spending one's golden years So Reagan has arranged not only to go on date to 12 per cent. Yet there are exceptions to on a sumptuous ranch near Santa Barbara with a serving as a conservative spokesman but to the steady upward spiral of prices. Thursday night at Lake Brantley High School. And there just isn't enough time before the match to chip enough from that sculpture to make the match anything less than THE match of the season. Lake Brantley, after the tie with Evans last night, is 6-0-1.

Of the Lyman match, Brantley Wrestling Coach David Crawford said, "We'll beat them. It will be a good match, maybe decided by five points, but we'll beat them.

"Actually, it all depends on how we match the weight groups . . who will be wrestling who. A single pin could decide the match ne way or the other. Going into the match with Evans last night, Lake Brantley ad four undefeated wrestlers. Alpha Franklin was 9-0 in the 158-pound group including victories in the Christmas tournament at Lyman. Lee Barrett was 7-0 in the 140-pound class, Craig Davis was 6-0 in the 187-pound class and heavyweight Andy Abramson was 1-0. Abramson, a junior, injured his shoulder Pt practice before Christmas after winning his first four matches of the season. Crawford said Abramson probably will be in action Thursday against Lyman. Brantley's Vernon Prevatt was 8-1 in the 121-pound class,

Max Buffkin was 6-1 in the 170-pound division and Jeff Davis was 7-3 in the 128-pound group. Early in the season Lake Brantley ventured to Jacksonville for a match with Orange Park, which was riding a 34-match win string. Brantley won 30-26, "and we knew then we had a good team," Crawford said. "That sort of made our season. We knew if we could beat Orange Park we could beat almost anyone." Lyman fell to 7-1 after the setback to Cocoa, a team Brantley defeated 26-21 last week. Cocoa knocked off Lyman 28-23. Lyman wrestled Daytona Beach Mainland last night.

Lyman's Jim Howarth defeated Cocoa's Jeff Hess, last year's defending district champ who was undefeated entering the match with Howarth, in the Saturday night matches. Howarth won an 8-7 decision.

Lyman's Mark Schuster defeated his opponent in the 108pound class - also a defending district champion. Lou Payas won his match for Lyman in the 101-pound class, Doug Peters won with a pin in the 115-pound group and Guy

Campbell won in the 140-pound division.

Going into the match with Daytona Beach Mainland last night, Peters and Howarth were both 8-0. Campbell and Jeff Clayton, who lost a 10-8 decision against Cocoa in the 170-pound class, were both 7-1 and Payas was 6-2.

Lyman Assistant Coach Bill Hoffman said Jerry Human, who suffered a shoulder injury early in December, would wrestle for the first time against Daytona Beach last night. "We figure the way he (Human) looks," Hoffman said

"nobody around can touch him in the 188-pound class." Although the focus this week is on the Lyman-Lake Brantley match, wrestling at Seminole High School never has been better. Seminole won its third match in a row - in fact, it third match ever - by defeating Florida Air Academy of Melbourne 42-24 last night.

After stumbling through their first wrestling season at the school last year without a win and beginning this season with three setbacks, the Seminoles of Sanford have rattled off wins over Orlando Edgewater, Oviedo and Florida Air Academy.

"Now that we've got three victories under our belt maybe we can do something," Seminole Coach Roger Bethard said. "Winning has come and the boys know now what it feels like to win. You just couldn't believe how much practice has changed. They know now that they can win."

Seminole's Fred Cass pinned his Florida Air Academy foe in the 101-pound class, Mark West won by forfeit in the 115-pound division, Rick Bryson won in the 129-pound group, Tony Davis won in the 148-pound class, Mike Hartwig won with a pin in the 158-pound group, Ken Adams won by forfeit in the 188-pound class and Benny Mills pinned his opponent in the unlimited division. Mills, the 250-pound human strong as a bull, is now 9-1 with eight pins. His only setback was a 5-2 decision to Abramson of Lake Brantley. Hartwig is 8-1-1 with five pins and Bill Sanders is now 6-4. Sanders and Bryson have not lost a match since the Christmas tournament at Lyman.

Oviedo, in its first year on the mats, fell to DeLand 45-18 last night. Oviedo is now 1-6. Oviedo's Jerry Zayas earned a 5-3 decision over his opponent

State Of Union' Address Nothing But Bad News

By FRANK CORMIER Associated Press Writer

claring "I've got bad news, and governments. I don't expect any applause,' President Ford outlined for Congress today his blueprint for rescuing the slumping economy through tax cuts and higher fuel prices.

Virtually all Ford's specific proposals were disclosed in his television-radio address to the nation Monday or by White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen at a news briefing Tues-

The major elements of the President's program include: -A one-time tax cut of 12 per cent in last year's taxes, to be accomplished through rebates to individual taxpayers of up to $1,000.

-A long-term tax reduction starting this year, with the largest reductions going to the poorest taxpayers. -Proposals to cut corporate income taxes and increase tax credits for businesses that spend money on their plants and equipment.

Oviedo Volunteer Rescue Grand Jury Indicts Three Squad 'Out Of Business' In Robbery, Murder Cases

OVIEDO - The senseless theft and burning of the Oviedo Volunteer Fire Department's rescue van last night "puts us out of the first aid and rescue business," Fire Chief Charlie Beasley said this morning.

He estimated that 75 to 80 per cent of the department's calls were rescue calls some 20 to 24 calls monthly. The destruction of the van and equip-

Room rates at Seminole Memorial Hospital have been coested $5 across the board, upping the cost of one day's stay in a private room from $55 to $60.

At a meeting Tuesday, hospital trustees approved the third rate hike in 12 months and painted a bleak picture of additional increases in the near future unless economic conditions improve. Costs for one days stay in intensive care jumped from $100 to

Board member Andrew Carraway called the intensive care increase a "modest charge for round-the-clock care." "I don't know what else we can do. It boils down to the fact the people just can't pay their bills," Carraway noted. He also said it

Carraway said the move will increase hospital revenue by $200,000 a year. But, he said, "We may be faced with the same situation in a short time."
