Harbco quits Riverwalk project

By Dan Ping Editor

SANFORD — Construction of the Sanford Riverwalk has been delayed indefinitely after the contractor withdrew its bid for the project.

The contractor, Harboo Construction Inc., withdrew after city officials disqualified a member of the Harboo subcontractor team.

City Manager Tony VanDerworp on Monday notified Harboo that South Cees, a seawall construction company based in Contractor withdraws after city bars unlicensed seawall builder

Medco, was not a qualified subcontractor because the company was not licensed in the United States. In addition, the city was able to verify only one of South Cees' refer-

Harbco and city officials were scheduled to meet Tuesday to discuss options, but the company never showed up.

"We just heard from Harboo saying they withdrew their bid," said Jay Marder, director of engineering and planning for the city, 40 minutes after the meeting was suppose to Four companies submitted bids for the Riverwalk project. Each company had to prequalify to submit a bid by providing a list case, the company listed CMA Concept Marine Associates of Oakland, Calif., as its seawall contractor.

"Harbco changed their subcontractor after the request for qualifications," said Chris Smith, Riverwalk project manager for the city of Sanford.

Attempts to contact company officials about the change in subcontractors were unsuccessful. Repeated phone calls to

Rain brings some relief to Sanford's 'tree man'

By Michelle Jeria Managing Editor

SANFORD — Bill Moore doesn't mind the rain. In fact, when a few additional inches of water fall from the sky, it makes his job a little easier.

Moore works for Sanford's Ground Maintenance Department. His job for the past 13 years has been to make sure the more than 600 trees located on city property grow to their fullest potential.
"There is more to my job than just watering trees," Moore said. "That's only part of it. Trees require a lot of TLC to grow."

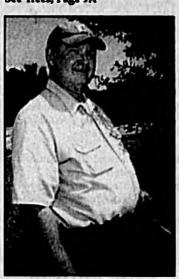

Moore's job is most critical when the area is experiencing a long period of drought. That's when he can spend up to seven days a week checking and rechecking the trees to make sure

You gotta keep up with them," he said. "When we are in a drought, sometimes I have to check a tree two or more times each day. They really want their water when it's dry.

During the dry season, Moore uses more than 2,500 gallons of water each day on the city's trees. Sometimes an additional water Senford.

Evening thunderstorm soaks Sanford

By Dan Ping

SANFORD -Afternoon rush-hour motorists may have wanted to trade their automobiles for boats during

Monday's thunderstorms. The storm flooded city streets, making driving difficult and creating detours around high-water areas. Officially the 90minute downpour registered 2.5 inches. City officials estimate it was at least twice that.

"I feel confident that it was much more than that, more like 4 to 6 inches," said Tom George, project manager for the city of Sanford's public works department.

Sanford's stormwater system struggled to keep up with the rain. An aging system is partly to blame, but George stressed that extremely heavy rains can tax even the best stormwater systems.

"There are some areas in town where the pipes are well considering the amount of water. A couple of hours after the rain, most of the water was gone, and by this

Interstate 4 construction planned for next 10 years

By Nick Pfelfauf Staff Writer

The Seminole County Commission got an earful regarding the status and upcoming plans regarding improvements on Interstate-4.

It appears as though there will be construction under way at one point or another for possibly the next decade.

The presentation for both Orange and improvements, with construction to begin in 2006.

• 1-4 widening to six lanes, from Lake Mary Boulevard to west of US 17-92 with construction to begin in early September of

• SR-417 interchange is expected to be completed and open by the end of September.

Woodberry said work on the St. Johns River Bridge was, "moving ahead right on schedule." She said, "One of the spans will be open in the middle of 2003 with the other lanes by the end of next year."

Completion is scheduled by the summer of 2004.

She explained that several interchanges, including SR-46 and US 17-92 can expect loop ramps and collector roadways. "The collector roadways will allow persons to drive to entrance ramps easier, and give smoother access to 1-4," she explained.

Also, along the collectors and I-4 itself, in some residential areas, noise walls are to be built.

Northward on I-4, the highway is to be widened to six lanes from the bridge to Saxon Boulevard in one project, from Saxon to SR-427 in another, and eventually to the end of the Interstate at Daytona.

Mica proposes interstate safety plan

U.S. Rep. John L. Mica (R-Winter Park) this week proposed a Seven-Point Action Plan to address the recent rash of serious, deadly truck and tanker crashes that have occurred on interstates.

The state's senior member of the U.S. House Transportation and Infrastructure Committee has formally requested that Florida Department of Transportation Secretary Tom Barry and FDOT District 5 Secretary Mike Snyder take seven action steps dealing with tractor trailer, tanker and hazardous material transports.

The seven suggestions includ-lowering the speed limit - at a minimum during bad weather.

 Restricting trucks and tankers to one or two lanes. Diverting to other routes during rush hour peak periods.

• Reducing tolls in federal and state diversions to alternative toll

 Strict enforcement of truck speed limits. Expanding the consideration of truck safety issues at the Planning Metropolitan Organization Level. Strengthening state and federal truck licensing requirements. Mica said, "Last year, Florida had more than 300 large vehicles and semi-tractor trailer deaths • A review and evaluation of and constant disruptions of our vital interstate highways involving vehicles and these behemoths.

"While I am a strong advocate for commercial transportation," he continued, "we must take action especially during the next seven years as I-4 and I-95 undergo extensive construction projects. I will take action at the federal level to aid with a toll diversion project, truck licensing requirements and, if the state does not act, look for federal options to ensure motorist safe-

Mica's comments came as yet another interstate truck crash took place on I-95 Monday morning, which blocked traffic for more than four miles.

An unidentified man was pulled out of Lake Monroe, across from Fort Meion Park Monday. Members of the Sanford Fire Department and Sanford police assisted in the rescue. Grandmother's murder sparks ongoing strife

DEAR ABBY: My widowed grandmother was recently murdered in a home invasion. My father (her son) wanted my family and me (my children are 5 and 9) to come immediately. I wanted to leave the kids at home because we live in another state and it's a six-hour drive.

....... Dad insisted their presence would be helpful.
We made the decision not to take the children with us.

out that we hadn't brought the kids, they became very angry with me and have not • • • • • • spoken to me since the memorial service. Was I wrong not to take the kids to Grandma's home for what became a three-day gathering before the funeral?

I confess it upset me considerably when I arrived at my grandmother's home two days after the tragedy and saw the bullet holes, the closed door to her bedroom where she was murdered, and heard the constant discussion about the police investigation. However, if you think I should, I will beg for my parents' forgiveness.

DONNA IN ATLANTA

DEAR DONNA: You do not owe anyone an apology. I see nothing positive that could have been gained by exposing a 5-year-old and 9-year-old to the horror of the crime scene. Had they expressed a desire to attend their greatgrandmother's funeral, they should have been allowed to do so. However, that's a far cry from seeing the reality of how she died. Something like that could scar a child for a

What should I do?

IN LOVE WITH A PUSHER

DEAR IN LOVE WITH A PUSHER: Leave him. Run. It's only a matter of time before he gets caught and you wind up in prison as an accessory. There are worse things than a broken heart. Two of them are: having everything you own confiscated by the government because you were busted for selling and abetting the sale of drugs - and serving time in prison. Trust me.

DEAR ABBY: It was a special delight for me to read your July 4 column concerning the Cub Scout activity called the Pinewood Derby.

I invented the derby in the early 1950s for the purpose of fostering a father-and-son project for the Cub Scouts. The first derby was held in a small scout house in Manhattan Beach, Calif., on May 15, 1953. We will celebrate our 50th anniversary next year! Since its inception, millions of Cub Scouts and parents worldwide have participated.

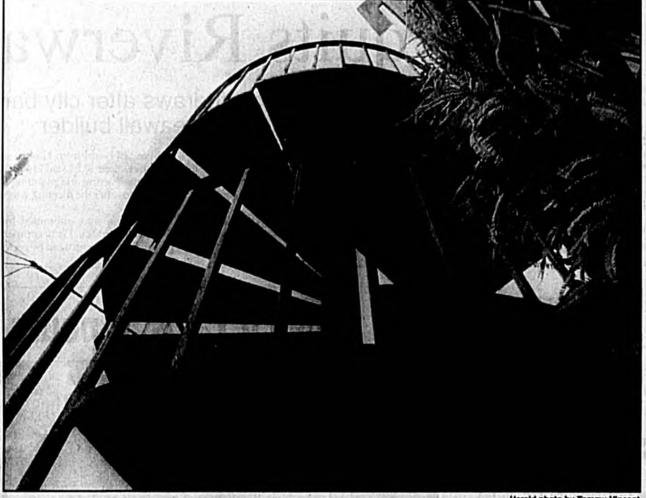

I would like to express thanks to all the parents and grandparents for their dedicated involvement in the derby over the years. A second round of applause to the moms who have participated with and encouraged their children. DON MURPHY, TORRANCE, CALIF.

Kuhn elected as president of Southern Glass Association

Southern Glass Associations held its annual conference at the Mission Inn in Howey-in-the-Hills on Aug. 9 - 11. During the annual meeting, Sanford glass and glazing contractor Bob Kuhn was elected incoming president.

The association is comprised of glass and glazing contractors throughout the Southeast United States and has as a major focus the monitoring of legislation regarding idustry standards.

"The general public is often unaware of safety and code issues involving glass and its installation," said Kuhn, of and has locations in Atlanta and Diamond Glass Company Inc. "Many counties in Florida have no licensing requirements for a glass and glazing contractor.

"The new hurricane building codes are a good example of legislation that is designed to protect the general public," Kuhn added. "Although it does cause the cost of construction to rise, it is important and a good mechanism to assure that property and people are protected in the impact area.

Do you have the traits to be an entreprenuer?

Q. What are some of the essential personal traits that someone should possess to be a successful entrepreneur?

A. A number of traits have been identified that are typically important for someone to be considered as having an "entrepreneurial personality." However, many other operational and economic factors will also contribute to the success or failure of a particular business. Therefore, possessing some or all of certain personality traits will not guarantee success nor will the lack of these factors automatically result in failure.

Examples of favorable entrepreneurial traits include:

 Motivation – to set and stay focused on accomplishing clearly defined goals; to make decisions and solve problems quickly, efficiently and creatively; to become a leader.

 Calculated risk taker – to be prepared to take acceptable levels of risk based on research and planning; to be prepared for the unexpected; to handle rejection and opposition flexible minded; capable of selecting, motivating and working with a competent team of employees, consultants and board members; to be willing to share the credit and the

• Global-thinking – seeing economic, legal and industry trends in a "big-picture" environment; being future oriented and not being consumed by day-to-day problems; being able to "tell your story" and share your vision with colleagues, investors, suppliers, employees and the press.

 Bottom-line oriented – not losing sight of the details of the business including recordkeeping and cash management; being financially astute and understanding that a business must make money, profits, and an ade-

• Technical knowledge - having/acquiring the education, skills and experience to be successful in your business; building a team with skills that complement yours; staying in control of the functional areas of the business

• People oriented - to be customer focused; including inventory and distribution and personnel functions; staying ahead of the technology development curve; excel at what you do.

· Socially responsible - serving and networking in the community to complement the vision for your company; recognizing that today's business and social climates are integrally related; giving something back and making a commitment to preserve the envi-

If you think of each trait as represented by a bar graph with the most ideal characteristics on one side and the less favorable toward the other side, then you can create a picture of your own personal strengths and weaknesses.

Obviously, the greater the number of traits that you have that are favorable, the greater is the likelihood that your personality will be compatible with the challenges of being an entrepreneur.

Seminole teachers win $26,500 from Walt Disney World nized fifty-three Seminole County teachers on Saturday, August 17, 2002, at the Coronado Springs Resort Convention Center. After being treated to a breakfast and entertainment, teachers from Lake, Orange, Osceola, Polk, and Seminole Counties were honored for creatively expanding the boundaries of their classrooms beyond four walls into boundless realms of the educated mind.

Greenwood Lakes Middle School teacher, Lucille Case, won a $5,000 Special Judges Award with "The Phoenix Project: Students Rebuild New York City". The school will also receive $750. As a way of dealing with the stress and anxiety from the September 11th attacks on America, students researched, designed, and constructed 3-D model skyscrapers to replace the ones that were lost in New York City. These projects, many taller than the students who built them, had anti-terrorist defense mechanisms and escape routes. Project photos and essays were sent to numerous U.S. politicians with the hope they would use some of the ideas to make America a safer place in which to live.

English Estates Elementary School teachers, Judith Dearolf, Elisha Harper, Sue Mathewson-Price, Jeri McDaniel, and Evelyn Ruckstuhl won a $2,500 Outstanding Program Award for "Exploring Exciting Experiments." Hamilton Elementary

Students at Hamilton Elementary Cluster Magnet School for Communications through Advanced Technology/SFA began the 2002-2003 school year with a Before School Open House on Friday, Aug. 2. The purpose of this Open House was to encourage students and their families to meet teachers and find classrooms before the first day of school.

On Tuesday, Aug. 13th, the Hamilton PTA sponsored another Open House from 6 to 8 p.m. Stuff the Magic Basketball Team's mascot as well as Magic Dancers and Sanford Police Explorers welcomed all of our visitors. Parents and families had the opportunity to hear about their student's curriculum and special opportunities offered at Hamilton. Mrs. Parker, our principal, explained important information related to staff, attendance and school rules. Many families bought Hamilton sweatshirts, tee shirts, socks, etc. and paid their PTA membership dues.

Our students are doing a wonderful job of reading before school in their holding areas. In fact, on Wednesday, Aug. 7, just two days after the first day of school, Hamilton had 100 percent of the students reading before school. Mrs. Parker rewarded everyone with ice cream sundaes, and we all enjoyed seeing our 100 percent Reading flag flying in front of the school. We are now working on 100 percent Attendance and 100 percent Homework, so that we can fly these flags as well.

This school year promises to be a great one with our students Soaring Toward Bright Tomorrows!

South Semingle Middle

South Seminole Middle School SECME (Science, Engineering, Communications, Math, Enrichment) Club took 2nd place in the nation for their engineering and running of a mousetrap car at the 2002 National Student Competition sponsored by Semiconductor Industry Association.

The competition was held at Howard University in Washington D.C. The competition was judged on a design drawing, a technical report, a team interview, and a running of the car. The car had to be fashioned from a standard Victor Mouse Trap. The goal was to design a car to follow a formula to make the shortest, lightest car that would travel the longest distance.

The team members are Ross Chuchla, Poonam Khatri, and Kenneth McClendon. Their teacher sponsors, Mary Chavers and Dan Chisholm, accompanied them. The University of Central Florida sponsored the team. For the last three years South Seminole Middle School has sent teams to the Nationals. This is the first time South Seminole has placed in the top three positions.

Harbco's corporate headquarters went unanswered Tuesday afternoon. Smith speculates that money may have been the primary issue for the change.

Harbco, which has never been involved in a seawall reconstruction on the scale of the Sanford project, submitted a bid of $9.1 million. That was $2.2 million less than Wharton-Smith Inc.'s $11.3 million bid, the next lowest bidder.

"I think they felt like they left a lot of money on the table," Smith said of Harbco.

The city now has two options: rebid the project or enter contract negotiations with Wharton-Smith.

Each has drawbacks. Rebidding could delay the project by six to eight weeks, maybe longer. Negotiating with Wharton-Smith could be done quickly without dramatically altering the construction schedule. But Wharton-Smith's bid is $1.2 million more than the city has set aside for the

"We'll have to go to reserves," said Mayor Brady Lessard. "It's a negative to do that, but the city will still be in good financial Lessard said he will recommend city commissioners approve the Wharton-Smith bid during Monday's commission meeting. Waiting is not an option in my opinion," Lessard said. "We need to get this project underway. We're going to set aside the $11.3 million, and hopefully Wharton-Smith can trim it's costs."

Under state law, the city can not change the project specifications once companies have submitted bids. Therefore, during contract negotiations with a winning bidder, the city can not change its specifications to reduce the costs. That doesn't mean, however, that "value engineering" opportunities are ignored during construc-

Bill Moore gets ready to water a tree in front of the Sanford Historical Stadium. Moore has been taking care of the city's trees for 13 years.

Sanford, however, the water needed to sustain the trees dwindies to only 300 to 400 gallons each day. The additional rain gives the Sanford native more time to plant, trim and weed around the trees.

"I've got to make sure the trees are beautiful," he said.

When disaster strikes in the form of small, six-legged creatures, Moore calls in Elizabeth Vanlandingham. She uses her "buggy" expertise to rid most pests from the trees. There's one nuisance, however, Moore and Vanlandingham have a problem stopping — vandals.

"We've lost a few trees that way," he said. "We'll plant new trees, and they'll come and pull them out. I don't know why they do it. It's probably just out of meanness.

Although Moore finds the vandals' actions discouraging, it doesn't stop him from taking pride in his work. He can often be found showing his wife and grandchildren the newest green additions in the city.

"I like to go back and look at all of them," Moore said. "I enjoy looking at them. And, it always thrills me when someone tells me one of the trees really look nice."

As for his leisure time at home, Moore doesn't spend it taking care of trees.

"I don't have a lot of trees at home," he said. "I'll do that when I retire."

After a four year drought, a rainy summer has saturated the ground, contributing to drainage problems, George said. At Fort Mellon Park, Lake Corolla crested and the ground was unable to soak up all of the rain.

"The water sheet flowed across Fort Mellon Park like it was a paved surface," George said. "Instead of staying in the park, it flowed across the ground and over Seminole Boulevard."

George said the city is in the process of hiring a consultant to develop a master plan for stormwater and identify funding sources.

"It will be very expensive. The Cloud Branch draining basin behind the State Farmers' Market alone is $1.2 million," George said. "We'll just have to take it a bite at a time."

One of the best ways residents can help alleviate some drainage problems is to keep gutters and drainage areas clear of debris. Sticks and branches in particular can block drainage grates or ditches, as can mounds of leaves and grass.

"We run the street sweeper everyday, not so much for the aesthetics, but to pick up that debris that might clog a drainage area," George said.

George also reminds resi-

The event included various activities for dogs, refreshments for the canines and their owners, and the chance for single dog owners to find their perfect human match. Pictured above, event assistant Shane Ferrell, left, scans Bill Trimpy's name tag. Answers to a short questionaire were used to match single dog owners looking for a bit of romance. Is end of the road near for Raines?

By Dean Smith Sports Editor

MIAMI — Is he or isn't he? Depending on who you believe, Tim Raines Sr. may be ready to call it a career for good this time.

In a story published in the Sunday edition of the Miami Herald, the veteran outfielder from Sanford strongly intimated . that this is definitely his final season as a professional baseball player.

According to the story about the possible forthcoming strike, Raines said this was it for him whether the players strike

Raines, who the story said was not planning on announcing his retirement until after the final game on Sept. 29th, said he strongly supports the Players' Union and would do whatever the

Veteran hints at retirement; Bellhorn injured in collision

But in a Sunday story on the Florida Marlins' website on MLB.com (Batting Around With Tim Raines), Raines made no mention of an imminent retirmeent and only said that he would know when the time had come for him to retire.

He said the time to retire was when it wasn't fun to come to the ballpark anymore and that right now he was still gaving fun playing.

He did say, however, that he has been disappointed with not getting to play in the outfield more and with his role as strictly a pinchhitter.

Raines also said that he has no intention of leaving the game for good as he expects to stay in the game as a coach of some kind.

SOSA, BELLHORN OK AFTER COLLISION

CHICAGO — Chicago Cubs right fielder Sammy Sosa and second baseman Mark Bellhorn both have contusions and nasty headaches after they collided chasing a fly ball Sunday. Their status was day to day according to a stroy by Carrie Muskat of MLB.com.

Both remained conscious throughout and neither required X-rays.

Arizona's Damian Miller lofted a fly ball to shallow right field near the foul line leading off the sixth inning. Oviedo's Bellhorn and Sosa both ran full steam toward the ball.

Bellhorn, who recently became the Cubs' all-time leader for home runs by a switch-hitter in a season, barely got his glove on the ball, which fell and the two players collided head-first just across the foul line. Both slammed onto the ground as Miller rounded the bases with his 10th home run.

Sosa stayed in the game to bat in the sixth and popped up on the first pitch. He and Bellhorn were removed from the game in the seventh.

Sosa was hit on the back of his right ear and was sore and bruised there. Bellhorn had a cut above his left eye.

Sosa also has a sore right shoulder and Bellhorn's left knee is tender. The two hit each other hard, then hit the ground

Former Winter Springs High School star Amy Glies is expected to become a mainstay for the powerful University of Central Florida women's cross country team this season.

UCF women's cross country rebuilding for more success

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO — Scanning the 2002 University of Central Florida women's cross country roster, one name is conspicuously missing. Two-time Atlantic Sun Runner of Year Sonja Shedden exhausted her eligibility last season leaving the Golden Knights with some very large shoes to fill.

"I don't know that we can replace Sonja," says head coach Marcia Mansur-Wentworth.
"We may have a bit of a down year this year, which happens.

"We have a good group of athletes," she explains. "It's just going to take a year or so of seasoning before they are ready to make that jump to becoming highly competitive."
Junior Sara Dillman is the matriarch of the Golden Knights. After sitting out in 2000 with a knee injury, she made an impressive return last season taking second at the UCF Invitational. With further training, she is looking to harness the potential she showed as a freshman when she was named the A-Sun's Freshman of the Year.

If last year was any indication, sophomores Amy Giles and Valery Martinez are poised to make even greater contributions. Giles, from Winter Springs High School, was consistently one of the top rookie runners for UCF and continued to improve throughout her first season with the team. She capped off the season with a 14th place showing at the conference championship. Among those runners returning, she boasts the best times in both the 5K (18:54) and 6K

"Amy is ready to step up but she is about a year away from going big time," says Mansur-Wentworth. "She runs well as the

WSBL stars tie for 17th

LAKE BUENA VISTA — It was not what they were hoping for, but it was a good finish nonetheless.

The All-Stars from the Winter Springs Basketball League entered the recent AAU 10-and-Under (Fourth Grade) Boys National Basketball Championships at Disney's Wide World of Sports Complex with high hopes of claiming a National title.

But the All-Stars were placed in one of the toughest bracket's in Pool play and were forced to go the 42-Team Single Elimination Classic Tournament.

The two teams that did get out of the Pool, the Arkansas Wings and TG Express out of Texas, went on to finish in the top half of the National Tournament, with the TG Express finishing third overall.

The FBVA Orlando Dream Team, led by Orlando Magic Head Coach Doc Rivers' son, Austin, won the National Championship, getting past the Cincinnati Royals Blue, 37-30, in the Championship Game. The WSBL squad, meanwhile, was once again placed in the toughest bracket in the tournament and won its first game before losing a heartbreaker to finish in a tie for 17th place. How tough was the All-Stars' bracket?.

The eventual Classic Champions, the Minnesota Magic Gold, came from the same bracket.

The Classic Tournament started with a shootout for the All-Stars as they outscored the Kentucky Jazz, 69-57.

The game was extremely tight for the first half, with the All-Stars leading 20-19 after one period and 32-29 at halftime.

But the Winter Springs five took over the game in the third period behind Austin Keel, who scored 12 of his game-high 33 points in the third quarter as the All-Stars outscored the Jazz, 19-11, in the stanza to take a 51-40 lead into the final seven minutes of the game.

Keel added nine more points in the last period as the All-Stars held on for the victory. In addition to Keel, Joseph Ferro was also in double fig-ures for Winter Springs with 15 points.

Other scorers for the winner's were Craig Roberts (eight), Kadron Boone (six), Cass LeBlanc (three) and Kijuan Mays and Michael McClosky (two points each).

Grubbs tried to match Keel's heroics and finished with 26 points for the Kentucky quintet. Pill, Bardo and

The game remained close through the last seven minutes and was tied at 31-31 when the Royals' Robinson was fouled making a layup with just a few seconds left on the clock.

Robinson missed the subsequent free throw attempt and an All-Star rebounder slapped the ball out to Keel, who got a good look at a three-pointer for the win, but with the horn sounding the ball went in and came out, ending the week for the All-Stars. Grayson was the high scorer for season goes on and she is big meet performer.

Those things are really important to us."

An accomplished middle distance runner at Orlando's University High School, Martinez proved that she also had potential on cross country trails with her impressive 19th place finish at the A-Sun Championship. The coaching staff has increasingly high expectations of her this season.

"Middle distance runners traditionally don't make your strongest cross country runners," says Mansur-Wentworth. "Valery could go out and prove me wrong this year. I hope she does."

Jockeying for the other positions on the roster are senior Ashley Overby and sophomores Jaclyn Baron and Jackie Magee and redshirt freshman Anna Stachow from Lyman High School. With the graduation of Shedden, Lyman grad GeAna Rivera and Shar Lammers, Overby could slide into UCF's No. 4 or 5 position while Baron will also likely move into the top five. Both will need to improve their times in order to contribute significant points.

"We have a lot of tough competitors that are looking to have their breakthrough years," says Mansur-Wentworth.

Four newcomers will also be vying for spots in the lineup. A regional competitor for St. Thomas Aquinas High School, Michelle Bruillet already has tremendous experience in cross country. Joining her is local star Astrid Claessens, who showed her potential as an excellent competitor at the state level during her career at Lake Mary High. She tends to run better under pressure.

Out of Lake Weir High School, Amanda Peters will use her incredible work ethic to try to break into the UCF lineup and Andrea Morrow from Bartram Trail High School brings great range.

The women's cross country team opens its season at home on Sept. 6 with the UCF Invitational. Start time is 6 p.m.

MOTHER NATURE SLAMS THE DOOR ON AFTERNOON WORKOUT

The members of the UCF football squad returned to the classroom on Monday, but were unable to take the field for practice as torrential rains washed out practice and forced the team inside for film sessions and chalk talk.

This deluge brings the total to three (and a half) the number of practices the Knights have had altered by inclement weather.

We tried to get a jump on things by getting out a little early, (3 p.m. instead of 4 p.m.), to try and get something done on the field knowing that bad weather was coming in," said head coach Mike Kruczek. "Obviously it didn't work, we got hit

On this, the first day of classes on the UCF campus, the team spent additional time in the classroom going over scouting reports. The team then broke down into groups by position to go over strategies and specific assignments, as well as film breakdown, for the season-opener against Penn State.

After facing a similar situation last year at this time Kruczek is able to make the most of the

"It hasn't started out the best, but we will make it turn out right," added Kruczek. "We will make the most of a bad situation."

Kruczek and his staff, as well as the players, have shown great resolve with the disjointed

"My staff and myself are very organized," stated Kruczek. "We have a schedule for everything, not one of them held up for the summer, except for the 7:30 a.m. practices, which we wound up bumping back to 7:20 anyway."

UCF conducted its final set of practices for twoa-day camp on Saturday highlighted by a fullscale scrimmage in the morning and a focus on special teams in the afternoon.

The scrimmage did have a fairly balanced supply of the offense being able to move the ball, but the defense forcing a turnover or slamming the door. The UCF offense was held to three field goals on the day, all coming off the foot of freshman Matt Prater (Estero). The one positive that did emerge from the offense being held out of the end zone was that head coach Mike Kruczek was able to put his place-kickers to the test helping to resolve a neck-and-neck race during camp.

between kickers Ryan Feely and Prater. "They have both had a pretty good camp, and when you put them under the gun they have got to be able to perform," said Kruczek. "This is the . only criteria we can use to make an evaluation. I would have preferred to score some touchdowns, but it was nice to be able to kick some field goals and put those guys under the gun so there was some positives to come out of it." Prater finished the scrimmage 3-for-3 hitting from 38, 42 and 43 yards, while Feely missed on his three attempts hitting the upright from 25 yards and later missing from both 43 and 46

In a limited role offensively starting quarterback Ryan Schneider was 15-of-17 for 85 yards, while starting tailback Alex Haynes carried the ball five times for 55 yards. Defensively the Knights put a substantial amount of pressure on the quarterbacks and were able to force a pair of interceptions. Passes were picked off by Jordan Schneiger and Patrick Holland Bringing the heat for the Knights was Mike Lynche and DeMarcus Johnson who each had a pair of sacks.

"We had a pretty good go," said defensive coordinator Bill D'Ottavio. "I was proud of our effort, I was glad it was hot and our guys had to push through it. I saw some things I liked, but I am sure I will look at film and see some things I didn't like, but overall it was a good effort."

Post 12, which avenged a loss at the hands of Post 53 in the finals of the DeLand Firecracker Tournament, got vengeance again, blanking Post 82, 6-0, in the finale. Shelby, which ends the season 30-22, had roughed up Dothan, 14-6, in a Pool game on Friday.

Post 12, which now stands 60-10 on the season, will now advance to the American Legion World Series in Danville, Virginia. Post 53 nearly found itself eliminated on Friday as it trailed Post 68, 4-1, entering the sixth inning.

Finally the Sanford offense, which had scored two runs over the first 14 innings of the tournament, erupted in the bottom of the sixth inning.

Chris Louwsma led off with a single and that started a chain reaction as the next four hitters, Austin Pride, Chris Krall, Christian Rosado and Shane Larson, also singled.

After an out, Mike Brady, Matt Fraysier and Dominic Petracca also singled, giving Post 53 eight hits in nine batters, plating

Larson and Petracca had the big blows of the inning as both drove in a pair of runs.

The big inning proved to be just enough as the South Carolina nine came back with two runs in the top of the eighth inning before Petracca came on to retire all four batters he faced to get the save and make a winner of Paul Cinder

Post 53 had 14 singles in the game with Krall leading the way with a 3-for-4, two runs scored effort.

Also contributing were Larson (2-for-3, run, two RBI), Petracca (2-for-4, two RBI), Pride (2-for-4, run), Rosado (1-for-3, run, RBI), Brady (1-for-4, run, RBI), Fraysier (1-for-5, run, RBI), Louwsma (1-for-5, run) and Robby Rotunno (1-for-4).

Brian Grubbs went 4-for-5 with a double, run scored and Tabor and Richard Kellahan added two hits each, while John Stewart hit a long home run.

What proved to be Sanford's last game was typical of the season for Post 53 pitcher Victor Gilbert, who once again threw a great game but got very little run support.

Shelby got to Gilbert for two runs in the top of the first inning, one earned, but would not score again off Gilbert and reliever Petracca, who came on in the eighth inning, until the

But the pitching performance of Post 82's Greg Davis, who came on in relief of starter Jeff Deaton in the fifth inning, was the catalyst that drove Shelby to the victory. Davis gave up only one hit in the final five innings.

Post 53's best chance to score came in the sixth inning when three walks to the lower end of the line-up loaded the bases with two out. But a force at second ended the threat.

Sanford's runs came in the third inning. Brady led off with. a single and went to second an out later on a single by Petracca.

With two outs, Pride singled to score Brady and move Petracca to second, from where he scored on a single by Krall.

Post 82's ninth started with a single and a hit batter. After a force at third, Adam McSwain singled in what proved to be the winning run and Brandon Powell followed with a run-scoring double. The final two runs came plateward on a wild pitch and an McSwain was the only Shelby batter with two hits, going 2for-4 with a run scored and two RBI. Powell also drove in a pair of runs.

Pride and Krall both went 2for-4 with an RBI, while Bryan Ward was 2-for-3 for Post 53.

Also contributing to an eighthit attack were Brady (1-for-3, run) and Petracca (1-for-4, run). Rod Fergerson managed the Sanford squad, which ends the while Ralph LaRosa and Mike Powers served as coaches. Members of the Post 53 team, made up entirely of players from Lake Mary and Seminole high schools, were D.J. Ackley, Bryan Armstrong, Mike Brady, Paul Cinder, Greg Courcy, Matt Fraysler, Victor Gilbert, Chris Krall, Shane Larson, Jason Louwsma, Dominic Petracca, Brandon Pharis, Austin Pride, Christian Rosado, Robby Rotunno, Tim Thomas, Kris Vigue and Brian Ward.

Fielding nominated for Presidential Award

By Michelle Jerla Managing Editor

SANFORD — Adele Fielding was surprised Wednesday morning when Seminole High School Principal Karen Coleman said she had an announcement to make has taught honors geometry, during the math teacher's morning class.

The Seminole High teacher was even more surprised when she was told state judges nominated Mathematics and Science Teaching (PAEMST).

"I feel shaky in the face," Fielding said immediately after the announcement. "This is such a great honor."

For the past five years, Fielding advance placement calculus, and IB calculus at Seminole High School. Although relatively new to Seminole High, her teaching career began more than two decades ago her for the prestigious Presidential in Australia after receiving her Award for Excellence in graduate and bachelor's degrees from Macquarie and Queensland universities.

She arrived in Seminole after her husband's job led the Fielding family to Central Florida. It was the International Baccalaureate program that attracted her to the Sanford school five years ago, but it's her students that make her stay.

"I like working with youth and mathematics," she said. "And, the kids at Seminole High are great. And, the school's great."

Jacobs announces bid for congress

By Dan Ping

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Harry Jacobs officially kicked off his campaign for congress Wednesday outside his law offices pledging to improve public schools, preserve social security and implement a prescription drug benefit for Medicare recipi-

About 75 people turned out to for the ceremony, including U.S. Sen. Bill Nelson and Bob Poe, the director of the Florida Democratic Party. Jacobs will face Republican Tom Feeney, outgoing Speaker of the Florida House, in the race for the newly created 24th Congressional District.

Borrowing a phrase from President, Jacobs charged that, "If we are to leave no child behind, then we should leave no achool behind."

Nine out of 10 children in America attend public school, Jacobs said, and he promised to provide more capital for technology improvements.

Une-truing of our schools are not wired for computers and the internet," Jacobs said.

He pointed to states like Georgia that offer better teacher salaries and Pre-Kindergarten classes, saying both are keys to improving public education. Jacobs deriding efforts to privatize Social Security and said monies designated for the fund should not be used for political "Social Security is a promise," Jacobs said. "It is a promise that as your congressman, I'll do everything to see it is upheld."

In a similar vein, Jacobs promised to include a prescription drug benefit as part of Medicare and advocate a more flexible managed care system that "allows doctors to practice medicine," not dicker with insurance companies over service.

"If a managed care provider denies service, and it is later determined that service is detrimental to the patient, those managed care providers should be held responsible," Jacobs said. See Jacobs, Page 10A

Hole appears after drainage pipe collapses

By Dan Ping

SANFORD — Parishioners at Victory Temple of God will have to use the back door of the church to get to Sunday services, and then only if the city determines the structure is safe.

The front steps of the church hang precariously over a hole big enough to swallow a semitruck. The hole appeared Wednesday at the corner of 6th Street and Pine Avenue when an underground metal drainage pipe collapsed, consuming the ground above it. The cave-in of the 84-inch wide pipe snapped a water line, causing additional dirt to be washed away.

"We're suppose to have a baptism and communion on Sunday," said the Rev. R.L. Hillery, pastor of Victory Temple of God. "We've been planning this for some time. Hopefully we can get permission to have the service if we have someone stand by the front door to make sure no one goes out that door."

Sanford's Public Works Director Jerry Herman said Friday that work to repair the

"It's a difficult job because we don't want to cause any more damage as we try to shore up the side closest to the church," Herman said.

Crews are ramming 90-foot sheet pilings into the ground. When dirt is compacted behind the pilings, it will stabilize the front of the church. The city will then fix the

Sanford principal receives top honor

From Staff Reports

SANFORD — Walt Griffin, principal of Millennium Middle School, has been selected Florida's Middle School Principal of the Year by the Florida Association of Secondary School Principals. Dr. Paul

Hagerty,

superinten-

Seminole County Public Schools, said "Mr. Griffin enthusiastically embraces his work with a diverse student population, models high expectations for students and staff members, demonstrates an unwavering commitment to the goals of excellence and equity, and constantly seeks alternative strategies to increase student achievement. These qualities, coupled with a keen sense of humor and a tireless work ethic, have firmly established him as one of the most innovative, caring, and accountable administrators one could hope to find at any level of schooling."

Hagerty added, "Mr. Griffin's ability to rally all the stakeholders associated with the school around the mission of the school is also a quality that sets him apart from other principals. The comfortable and effective manner with which he involves students, parents, faculty, and staff members in the governance of the school has produced a positive school climate that is readily discernable from the moment you step on the campus of Millennium Middle School."

Griffin is in his fourth year as principal of Millennium Middle School with more than 13 years in school administration.

Dr. Tina Calderone, parent of Millennium Middle School student, said, "He "lived" the concept of "No Child Left Behind" well before our nation embraced the vision He implemented curriculum innovations, providing a

Graham fights Oregon fires

By Jim Hughs Special to the Herald

When the son of a Sanford couple joined the Army, he knew he'd eventually be called upon to defend his fellow Americans. That time has come, but for Army Spec. Tramayne D. Graham, son of Eddie Luster and Mae Siplin of Bethune Circle in Sanford, Homeland Defense has taken on a whole new meaning in the hilly terrain of eastern Oregon. Graham is one of more than 500 soldiers from Fort Riley, Kan. called to protect Americans and their homes, not from the evils of terrorism, but from Mother Nature's wrath in the form of a 20,000 acre wildfire caused by a lightning strike hear a tiny farming and ranching community.

Graham is a supply specialist with an artillery unit with the 1st Infantry Division - The Big Red One. For the next 30 days, he's a firefighter as well.

Fire damages duplex in Sanford

A company of firefighters responded to a fire that caused substantial damage to a duplex at 516 E. 5th Street in Sanford. The fire began about 11:30 a.m. Friday. James estimates at least 30 percent of the building was damaged
