Kroll Slaps Rezoning Plan In Letter To Feds

By Paul Schaefer
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County School Board member Bill Kroll has complained to the Justice Department that the district's tentatively approved plans for middle school rezoning are not viable.

The Justice Department review of school attendance zones is required to assure the 1970 federal court desegregation order requirements for racial mixture are met. If the department would reject the proposed plan, there is not enough time before school opens in the fall for an entirely new plan to be drawn. That leaves the possibility that the new Greenwood Lakes Middle School in Lake Mary — the reason new attendance zones are needed — could not open.

The Justice Department is reviewing the county's proposed new middle school attendance zones, and a decision is expected on the plan within two weeks, an official in Washington said.

In a letter to Justice Department Deputy Chief Joseph D. Rich in Washington Kroll listed "some brief reasons why I do not believe the proposed middle school re-zoning plan for Seminole County to be a viable one."

The greatest injustice occurs at Lakeview Middle School.'

—Bill Kroll

Among Kroll's reasons: the middle school plan fails to relieve overcrowding at Jackson Heights and Tusawilla middle schools and they would too soon need to be rezoned again: Lakeview middle school will go from a 3 or 4 white to 1 black student ratio to a 2 white to 1 black ratio; Lakeview's principal has been assigned to Greenwood Lakes and would "probably take 25 to 40 percent of the staff with him." Kroll, however, did not explain what the problem is with the change of white-black ratio at Lakeview.

A copy of the letter obtained by the Evening Herald Tuesday shows it is dated March 19, a week to the day after the board approved the new attendance zone plan, and sent it to the Justice Department for review.

It asks Justice Department officials to visit Seminole County. That is "the only way I think you could get a proper perspective of our needs and problems is to make an in person visit to Seminole County, which I would greatly encourage," Kroll wrote.

Superintendent of Schools Robert Hughes is in Tallahassee attending a meeting of Florida superintendents, and could not be reached for comment.

Kroll was the only board member to vote against Hughes' recommendation to accept the plan, known as "Plan I Modified" March 12. Board members Jean Bryant, Joe Williams, and Chairman Nancy Warren voted to approve the plan. Member Pat Telson was absent.

"We are reviewing Seminole County's plan to see if the court order requirements are met, and taking into consideration any comments," Rich told the Evening Herald Tuesday. He said he had spoken with Kroll on the telephone recently, but had not yet seen his letter. He would not respond directly to any items in the letter.

Rich would not speak specifically to Seminole County's middle school zone proposal, but said hypothetically, "If we were to object to a plan, I don't expect it to delay the opening of a school. A modification to the plan could be made, or the district could get the court's approval over our objection."

Plan I Modified took six months to develop, and final school board approval following anticipated Justice Department approval is set for April 23.

"If the (proposed) zoning plan is rejected by the Justice Department or the federal court, to my knowledge, the (new) school could not be opened until a reviewed plan was adopted that would carry the Justice Department and federal court approval," Kroll said Tuesday afternoon.

"I feel there is a chance that might happen," he continued. If the Justice Department finds "that there are flaws in the plan, there could be possible rejection," Kroll said.

"I did inform them in writing how I based my rejection of the recommended zoning plan," Kroll continued.

Games Volunteers Honored By State

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

The Golden Age Games volunteers have received recognition by the Florida Governor's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports.

A certificate of Outstanding Achievement in promoting senior fitness and a letter from Gov. Bob Graham were shown to members of the Games Executive Committee by General Chairman Jim Jernigan at a meeting Tuesday at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

The governor commended the volunteers for their dedication to encouraging Floridians to become more physically fit and develop healthier lifestyles.

Jernigan announced that a 2 1/2-hour Sports Medicine Clinic for Seniors will be conducted on Tuesday night of the Games by the staff of Central Florida Regional Hospital. He said the senior athletes attending will be given advice on how to condition themselves and avoid serious sports injuries.

The 12th annual Golden Age Games will be held Nov. 10-15. Co-sponsored by the Sanford Chamber, the city and Post Cereals, the Games originally were held for the most part in the downtown area of the city. This year more events than ever will be spread around the city and county and various other sites.

Canoeing will be moved this year from the Sanford Landing Apartments to Katie's Wekiva Landing. Swimming competition will be at the Parnell Pool on State Road 434, west of Longwood. Diving and synchronized swimming will be held at Lyman High School pool on County Road 437, Longwood.

Howell Place on Airport Boulevard will host checkers, dominoes, croquet, and pinocle competitions, formerly held at the civic center and Fort Mellon Park.

The tennis tournament will again be held at the Bayhead

For Sanford Yankee Lake Legal Fees Near $80,000

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford City Commissioners have authorized payment of almost $80,000 in Yankee Lake condemnation suit attorney's fees, although they have also taken issue with one of their attorneys' having billed the city for time he spent discussing the litigation with an Evening Herald reporter.

Thursday, city attorneys will travel to Melbourne to argue for a re-evaluation of the final order that was issued following last month's dismissal of the city's condemnation suit. Their arguments will be rebutted by counsel representing Paulucci and Seminole County.

Before approving Miami attorney Thomas Julin's $12,975.57 billing on Monday night, commissioners voiced dissatisfaction that he charged the city for three phone conversations he had with an Evening Herald reporter regarding the Yankee Lake suit. They also expressed displeasure that Julin charged his Evening Herald subscription to the city.

During conversations with the Herald, Julin never mentioned they would be billed to the city. Julin charges the city $115 an hour for his services; the phone conversations with the Herald took approximately 45 minutes.

City Attorney William Colbert said today he has heard of lawfirms charging clients for conversations with the press, but that he didn't believe the practice was a common one.

Throughout the last five months, the Herald has engaged in countless phone calls and numerous meetings with the battery of attorneys involved in the Yankee Lake land dispute. Julin's charges represent the first time any of the litigants have been billed for these sessions.

When Julin's $12,975.57 billing is added to the $66,480.30 paid to the city's legal contingent since the condemnation effort was filed in November, Sanford's attorney's fees come to $79,455.87.

Commissioners on Monday night also approved payment of a separate $713 voucher Julin submitted for costs related to the city's defense of the $28 million civil claim former Yankee Lake owner Jeno Paulucci filed against Sanford, its commissioners and city manager in January. The suit stemmed from the city's condemnation effort, which Paulucci attorneys contend interfered with contractual obligations Seminole County assumed when it purchased the Yankee Lake property. Sanford attorneys will argue for dismissal of the Paulucci suit April 30.

The Sanford condemnation attempt was instituted on Nov. 8, two days after Seminole County contracted to purchase the 2,967 acre Yankee Lake parcel from Paulucci. Both governments had targeted the property for their respective wastewater management programs.

Anderson Tapped For Osceola Administrator

By Sarah Fischer
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County Management and Budget Director Eleanor Anderson has been tapped by Osceola County to be its first-ever county administrator.

Mrs. Anderson, who received word Monday that she had been offered the top position, said she will meet with Osceola County officials Friday to negotiate a salary in conjunction with the job offer.

She was one of seven candidates interviewed Monday morning and one of 111 to apply for the job.

Mrs. Anderson said she feels confident she and Osceola officials will "come to some kind of an agreement" on a salary. She said her starting point for negotiations will be her $52,000 salary as Seminole's budget director. Osceola has started at $48,000 a year for the county administrator position, Mrs. Anderson said.

Eleanor Anderson

"I will be pleased to be the first county administrator in Osceola County if I am lucky enough to get it," she said. "But I will be sad to leave Seminole County. It will always be home to me."

Mrs. Anderson has held a variety of positions during her more than 20 years of service to Seminole County government.

She began in October 1962 in the public works department, overseeing the operation of the county's sanitary landfill and county facilities' maintenance.

Then she worked for Clerk of the Circuit

New Kind Of 'Beer Chaser'

BEND, Ore. (UPI) — Suspects in a holdup at a beer company escaped police by bombarding three pursuing patrol cars with dozens of cans of the brew.

About five cases of beer cans bounced off the hoods and windshields of the dented patrol cars during the Tuesday chase, police said.

The four suspects in the burglary then abandoned their own auto and fled into the woods.

They successfully eluded a manhunt by police and Deschutes County sheriff's deputies.

The chase started when the car carrying the suspects was involved in a traffic violation.

Two passengers in the rear seat hurled the beer at the patrol cars.

Honduras Confirms, Nicaragua Denies Invasion

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (UPI) — Honduras confirmed U.S. reports that Nicaraguan troops crossed into eastern Honduras and a U.S. Embassy spokesman said the head of the U.S. Southern Command had arrived to evaluate the military situation.

But in Managua, Army Chief of Staff Joaquin Cuadra, reiterating other denials from the government, labeled reports of a Nicaraguan invasion of neighboring Honduras "absolutely false."

The Reagan administration "is trying to create an artificial climate of tension between Honduras and Nicaragua" to win support of a $100 million aid package to Contra rebels fighting to overthrow the leftist Managua government, Cuadra told a news conference Tuesday.

Honduras' confirmation of the incursion Tuesday came just minutes after a government spokesman repeated charges that U.S. reports of the Nicaraguan movement were trumped up to win congressional support for $100 million in aid to Nicaraguan Contra rebels.

The about-face followed a White House announcement that President Reagan authorized $20 million in emergency aid to Honduras.

"The Honduran government has information confirming that in the eastern border sector, in the province of Olancho, there have been new incursions by the Sandinista People's Army on Honduran territory," the government said in a statement read by spokesman Lisandro Quezada.

It said U.S. aircraft were transporting Honduran troops to the isolated, sparsely populated area where Nicaraguan troops reportedly crossed the border. The statement gave no information on how many Honduran and Nicaraguan troops were

U.S. Planes Defy Khadafy Threats

Libya Promises To Attack Americans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. embassies have increased security precautions against terrorism while concern mounts over Libya's latest threat to attack Americans overseas in the wake of this week's military clash between the two countries.

And in the United States, authorities said Tuesday increased security has been in place for some time at government facilities and airports because of continuing threats of state-sponsored terrorism on Main Street from Libya's leader Col. Moammar Khadafy.

U.S. planes, meanwhile, defied Khadafy's threat and roamed unchallenged today in the Gulf of Sidra, where the lack of any Libyan military activity signaled an apparent end to the battle, Pentagon officials said.

As relative calm returned to disputed gulf waters, Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger and other Pentagon officials hinted that U.S. flight operations may be ended there sooner than the scheduled April 1.

One Pentagon source said they may be over by Thursday.

In its latest update, the Pentagon said that as of 5 a.m. EST, "The U.S. naval exercise in the Mediterranean Sea continues as scheduled," with both surface and air units operating within the disputed Gulf of Sidra.

The United States considers the gulf part of the Mediterranean and open to international traffic to within 12 miles of the Libyan coast, Khadafy claims sovereignty over the entire gulf.

Libya has promised revenge for the U.S. airstrikes along Khadafy's "line of death" in the Gulf of Sidra Monday and Tuesday and called for the "execution" of American experts and consultants throughout the Arab world.

It was intelligence reports of Libyan plans to "pinpoint" American diplomats abroad for possible terrorist attacks that prompted President Reagan to approve current U.S. naval maneuvers in the Gulf of Sidra. The New York Times said today.

Key White House officials said the reports came from intelligence sources in the British Isles and southern Europe.

IN BRIEF

Marcos Settles In Home While Protesters Demonstrate

HONOLULU (UPI) — Deposed Philippines President Ferdinand Marcos settled in his new beachfront home for an indefinite stay as the State Department sought a permanent foreign haven for him and the Swiss government froze his bank assets.

Police dispersed about two dozen anti-Marcos demonstrators Tuesday night outside the $1.5 million Niu Valley estate where Marcos and his wife Imelda took up residence the night before after spending 27 days at Hickam Air Force Base.

The protesters, watched by police and Secret Service agents, carried signs saying, "No Aloha for Marcos," and "U.S. out of the Philippines; Marcos out of Niu Valley."

The demonstration along busy Kalaniana'ole Highway prompted commute-hour motorists to slow down and watch, causing a miles-long traffic jam.

Oscar Snub Attacked By NAACP

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The local NAACP says it is appalled that the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences snubbed "The Color Purple," a movie that ironically was denounced by other blacks for its portrayal of black men.

The attack by NAACP's Beverly Hills-Hollywood chapter came Tuesday, the day after Steven Spielberg's "The Color Purple" emerged from the 58th annual Academy Awards wearing an embarrassed shade of red, winning not one of the 11 Oscars for which it was nominated.

"The Beverly Hills-Hollywood chapter of the NAACP is appalled at the results of the Academy Awards," the civil rights group said in a statement that accused the Academy of "hindering black projects."

The NAACP said the snub smacked of politics and plotting against the makers of "The Color Purple," the story of a black woman's courage in regaining her dignity in the face of formidable odds.

Academy President Robert Wise denied there was any attempt to hinder black projects.

Hunger Study Response Expected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional leaders promised to investigate a new study that says nutritional health of poor, rural Americans has deteriorated in recent years and that the rural poor are worse off than the urban poor.

The study, issued Tuesday, said the rural poor had lower intakes of 11 of 13 key nutrients than other poor Americans and were 65 percent more likely to consume inadequate diets than all other Americans.

Senate Republican leader Robert Dole of Kansas, who retained his chairmanship of the Senate nutrition subcommittee when he took the leadership position, promised hearings.

"I'd like to think we could even this disparity between rural and urban America," Dole told a news conference where the report was released.

He said there may be a need for more outreach to get food stamps to the rural poor or for more spending on food stamps.

IN BRIEF

Florida Teacher Shortage Possible, Report Says

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A dwindling supply of teachers and an increasing number of students will leave Florida facing a shortage of qualified instructors unless the state takes action, a state commission warns.

"The combination of these two factors, fewer teachers and more students, is predicted to result in a substantial teacher shortage unless more persons can be recruited to become teachers," the Education Standards Commission report released Tuesday states.

Florida is producing only half the teachers it needs, and faces growing competition for out-of-state teachers from other Sun Belt states, the report notes.

Students Fight Tuition Hikes

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Board of Regents was scheduled to vote today on whether to raise public university tuition by 15 percent next year as part of a five-year plan to bring students' share of the cost of their own educations to 25 percent.

Student leaders have compared the proposal to a horror movie, and claim the task force that developed the proposal did not adequately consider what cost business should bear to ensure a supply of college graduates.

Gov. Bob Graham has asked the Legislature for a 12 percent hike, but lawmakers cut a similar proposal last year to 5 percent. The regents voted last year to cap tuition hikes at 5 percent annually.

Accident Victim Identified

One man killed in a two-car accident Monday night west of Sanford has been identified while another person killed in the crash is tagged John Doe in the county morgue.

Dead is Vanon Bowling, 43, of Sorrento, according to Florida Highway Patrol. Troopers are trying to determine the identity of the other person.

Three people were also injured in the 10:33 p.m. accident on State Road 46, according to hospital officials. An FHP report on the accident does not state if anyone was injured. Treated at Central Florida Regional Hospital and released were Van Luangamath, 18, of Seville, Fla., and Bounceank Thongsamut, residence unknown. Admitted to the hospital was Photoug Inthirathongy, residence also unknown.

According to a Florida Highway Patrol press release, a 1980 Chevy, reportedly a Camaro, was eastbound on State Road 46 in the 3900 block when it attempted to turn left across the highway into a residence, about one-half mile east of Upsala Road. The turning Chevy with its four passengers collided with a westbound 1976 Ford Granada, driven by Bowling. The other fatality was a passenger in the Camaro, according to the report.

A FHP official in Tallahassee, Lt. B.J. Thomas, said he did not know why the local accident report was incomplete and if there was a reporting problem headquarters officials were not going to look into it as it was a local problem. The report, besides not mentioning anyone injured, did not indicate if charges were filed, if alcohol was involved, if the occupants were wearing seatbelts or the estimate speeds of the vehicles involved.

The deaths bring the total of traffic fatalities this year in Seminole County to 10.

'You Need An Expert'

Longwood Seeks Financing Advice

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Confused over the various loan proposals received, the Longwood City Commissioners have decided to seek the opinion of an expert. They will meet at 7 p.m. today in city hall to discuss hiring a financial consultant to advise the city on the best way to finance $6.3 million in capital improvements.

The money would be used for the following improvements: $2.5 million for expansion of the sewer system; $2.8 million for street paving and stormwater drainage; and $1 million to build a new police station.

The new city administrator Ronald Waller is scheduled to report to work in Longwood on April 21, but the commission decided not to wait until then to seek financial advice. Waller, 47-year-old manager of the borough of Schuylkill Haven, Pa., hired March 2, is fulfilling his contract to that city.

Being considered as consultants are Warren "Pete Knowles," former Sanford City Manager; Jeff Etzberger, who has had administrative experience with Seminole County and the city of Altamonte Springs; and Duncan Rose, former Seminole County administrator.

Mayor Larry Goldberg said Tuesday he has a couple of persons in mind who have had experience in county and municipal government and are now with financial consulting firms.

Goldberg told the commission at the special meeting Monday night to discuss proposals by Barnett, Freedom and Sun Bank and Southeastern Municipal Bonds. "I am not prepared to make a final decision this evening. Everyday I'm getting some new information."

After City Finance Director Barry Weeks went over the various proposals already received, the commission voted to advertise for bids from financial institutions.

"I want the cheapest dollar we can get and I think we should pursue all possible avenues," City Commissioner Ed Myers said Monday night.

Myers said, "Pave all the streets whether they like it or not."

Commissioner June Lormann said it would be "unfair" to consider Rose, because he is associated with Dyer, Mills, Riddle and Precourt, the city's consultant engineering firm.

Commissioner Perry Faulkner, however, felt the fact Rose is with Dyer, Riddle, is a plus. "He's already on the staff looking at our needs and doing our computer print out," he said.

A motion Monday night by Faulkner to have Acting City Administrator Greg Manning contact the three men suggested lost out in a 2-2 vote (Commissioner Harvey Smerlison was absent because of illness).

Bernard Linton, a member of the Land Planning Agency, was critical of proposed consultants and told the commission, "If you're going to talk about borrowing a lot of money, get some one familiar with M-O-N-E-Y. Hire experts who deal in money. If you want an engineer you don't hire a dogcatcher."

Basil Craddock, a city resident and retired mathematician who was asked to analyze the proposals by Sun Bank, Barnett, Freedom and Southeast Municipal Bonds, said, "It was a wise decision to go out for bids (for loan proposals from financial institutions).

But as for hiring a financial advisor, he commented, "You don't need someone connected with the county or a city. They are useless as ticks on a boar hog. You need a financial expert connected with banking."

Researcher Says Some Cancer Patients May Die Needlessly

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI) — The director of the National Cancer Institute says as many as 9,000 cancer patients may die needlessly each year in the United States because doctors are giving them inadequate doses of anti-cancer drugs.

Dr. Vincent T. DeVita Jr. said small reductions in the intensity of chemotherapy significantly reduce the effectiveness of the treatment.

"If the patients knew what they were giving up ... there would be a move underfoot to get what they paid for," he said Monday at an American Cancer Society seminar.

Dr. William Hryniuk of McMaster University in Ontario, Canada said physicians apparently are reducing the intensity of chemotherapy they give their patients because of adverse side effects and fears of malpractice lawsuits.

He said a review of chemotherapy given to breast cancer victims found that patients often received far below the recommended drug intensity. The remission rates were also often below what was expected, he said.

About 200,000 patients receive chemotherapy annually in the United States, including about 50,000 who could be cured, DeVita said. He estimated as many as 9,000 die each year because they receive doses of chemotherapy that are too low to be effective.

In a related report, Dr. Robert R. Klevetz of the Beckman Research Institute in Duarte, Calif., said chemotherapy appears to work better during certain hours of the day.

He said there appear to be "windows" of several hours each day when malignant cells are most vulnerable to anti-cancer agents.

A study of women suffering from ovarian cancer found that cancer cells appear to reproduce at their highest rates in 12-hour cycles, Klevetz said. Normal body tissues follow 24-hour cycles.

By administering chemotherapy just before the cancer cell reproduction peak begins, doctors can kill more cancer cells while harming the fewest number of healthy cells.

"There's a best time to deliver a drug and there's a worst time to deliver a drug," Klevetz said.

Klevetz's study, which monitored the level of reproduction of cellular genetic material, found that 6 a.m. appears to be the best time to administer chemotherapy.

Court OKs School Prayer Meetings

By Henry J. Reske

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court, ducking one of the toughest issues it faced this term, said Tuesday Williamsport, Pa., high school students can hold prayer meetings at schools, but refused to give its blessing to the practice.

The court, in a 5-4 decision, decided the case on narrow legal grounds. The justices did not rule on the basic constitutional question in the religious freedom dispute.

In another major religion case, the justices ruled 5-4 that the military can prohibit an Orthodox Jew from wearing a yarmulke, a skull cap, on duty.

In the Pennsylvania school case, the court simply ruled that the lone member of the school board who appealed a court decision allowing the students to hold the prayer meetings in the public school building did not have legal standing to bring the suit.

The high court's action does not rule out future suits on the same issue, but has the effect of leaving intact a federal district court's decision permitting the prayer meetings.

Writing for the majority, Justice John Paul Stevens said that Williamsport School Board member John Youngman, who fought to block the prayer meetings, had no personal stake in the dispute and "therefore did not have standing" to take the case to the appeals court that eventually banned the meetings.

However, Chief Justice Warren Burger, in a dissent, said

Youngman had standing as a parent of a student and chided the majority for avoiding the heart of the dispute.

"I would reach the issue the court granted (a hearing) to address: whether the Establishment Clause (of the First Amendment) requires a public high school to prevent a student-initiated, student-led group from meeting during an extracurricular activity period," Burger said.

He concluded it did, saying, "The Establishment Clause mandates state neutrality, not hostility, toward religion."

In other actions today, the court:

—Ruled local governments can be held liable for damages for a single act if that act was taken deliberately by officials responsible for setting policy. The decision means a Cincinnati doctor may sue county officials for a May 1977 incident in which police battered down a door at his clinic.

—Sidestepped a mother's challenge to a six-year statute of limitations for filing paternity suits. The court, in an unsigned opinion, returned the case to a lower court in Pennsylvania in light of the state legislature's recent decision to give children born out of wedlock 18 years, instead of six, to begin paternity actions.

In the yarmulke case, Justice William Rehnquist said for the majority that the military's need to have a uniform dress code outweighs the right of Dr. S. Simcha Goldman to practice his faith as he sees fit.

"The desirability of dress regulations in the military is decided by the appropriate military officials, and they are under no constitutional mandate to abandon their considered professional judgment," the opinion said.

In May 1981, three years after Goldman joined the Air Force, a superior told him he was violating the military's dress code by wearing his yarmulke while on duty.

Less than two months later, Goldman received a formal letter of reprimand and was threatened with additional penalties, including a court-martial, if he did not stop the practice.

Goldman, now on inactive reserve status, filed suit against the Air Force on First Amendment grounds, arguing that the dress code infringed on his right to exercise his religion. The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia eventually ruled against Goldman, a decision the high court affirmed.

The Pennsylvania school prayer case was appealed to the high court by a Christian student group called Petros. The group asked in 1981 that it be allowed to meet to study the Bible and pray during the half-hour student activity period Williamsport High School set aside two mornings a week for student clubs.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Six cities basked in record heat on a sunny day across most of the United States but the balmy weather encircled a torrent of thunderstorms focused on the nation's heartland, battering the four central states with hail and rain. Except for scattered showers in southern Florida and rainfall on the Pacific Northwest, where gale warnings were posted off Washington state, skies were clear or partly cloudy from coast to coast. But Tuesday brought troubling news to some Southern peach growers who may have thought their crops had survived spring frost. Peach growers in Louisiana announced that damage from a weekend freeze ruined their entire crop. Agriculture officials said unseasonably warm weather caused the trees to flower early, then the freeze swept through and struck the blossoms dead. "We're not going to have a peach crop — period," said Willie Neblett, president of the Feliciana Peach Growers Association. The storms centered on Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and Iowa howled through the prairie midsection Tuesday with winds gusting faster than 50 mph, the National Weather Service said. Nighttime storms spat hail on Abilene, Kan., and neighboring towns. Blustery winds across the Plains were clocked at 57 mph in Laramie, Wyo.; 58 mph in Ottumwa, Iowa; and 55 mph at Janesville, Wis. Chicago winds hit 52 mph, and gale warnings were posted for Lake Michigan. High-temperature records were set in Paducah, Ky., which marked 78-degree heat; South Bend, Ind., and Mansfield, Ohio, with 74-degree readings.

AREA READINGS (9 a.m.): temperature: 72; overnight low: 61; Tuesday's high: 77; barometric pressure: 30.33; relative humidity: 64 percent; winds: NE at 12 mph; rain: None; sunrise: 6:23 a.m.; sunset: 6:40 p.m.

THURSDAY TIDES: Daytona Beach: highs, 8:51 a.m., 9:12 p.m.; lows, 2:23 a.m., 2:27 p.m.; Fort Cammerall: highs, 9:11 a.m., 9:32 p.m.;

EXTENDED FORECAST: Partly cloudy through the period. A chance of showers mostly near the Atlantic coast. Highs in the 70s. Lows near 50 north to the low and mid 60s south.

AREA FORECAST: Today...partly cloudy with a 20 percent chance of showers. High in the upper 70s. Wind east 10 to 15 mph. Tonight...partly cloudy. Low in the upper 50s to lower 60s. Wind east 10 mph. Thursday...partly cloudy with a 20 percent chance of showers. High in the upper 70s. Wind east 10 mph.

BOATING FORECAST: St. Augustine to Jupiter Inlet 0-50 miles — Small craft should exercise caution. Wind east 15 to 20 knots today decreasing to 10 to 15 knots tonight and Thursday. Sea 4 to 6 feet today subsiding to 3 to 4 feet tonight. Bay and inland waters choppy today with a moderate chop tonight. Widely scattered showers.

Iron Bridge Now Open

A portion of the repairs to Iron Bridge on Alafaya Trail near the University of Central Florida have been completed and the bridge reopened Tuesday, according to a Department of Transportation spokesman.

Jack Morse, DOT engineering technician, said that the bridge was closed late last Thursday because the structure "was in need of immediate repairs." He said the department had been monitoring the bridge for about a month, and it was closed so the wood piling of the structure could be braced with steel.

He said the bridge has been heavily used by university traffic.

"There is still pavement work needed which we intend to do on a Saturday," Morse said, "and we will continue repairs underneath the deck."

Russian Bear In The Pacific

A Russian tuna fishing fleet conducting operations in the southwestern Pacific is of concern to Australia, the United States and many independent island groups in the area.

The Soviet fisheries agency, Sovrybflot, signed an agreement last June with the Republic of Kiribati. It paid $1.6 million for a year's fishing rights. It now has a fleet of 16 trawlers operating in Kiribati waters, which cover vast stretches of the Pacific.

Kiribati consists of 33 Micronesian atolls and islands within the Gilbert, Line and Phoenix groups, located near where the international dateline crosses the equator.

The Russians attempted to make similar agreements with several other independent island nations in the same area, but all the others refused to deal.

Tuvalu, which is adjacent to Kiribati, turned down the Russians, despite the fact the money involved was $1.5 million — a quarter of the tiny nation's entire budget. The Russians also have been denied fishing rights by Fiji and the Solomons.

Even though Russian fishing fleets span the world, this is the first time they have established themselves in the mid-Pacific. Concerned nations fear the Russian presence won't end with fishing. Already the Russians are offering to trade with and assist local populations.

In voicing concern, Australia, New Zealand and many of the island nations criticized President Jeremiah Tabai of Kiribati for activating the fishing agreement and allowing the Russians to gain a foothold in the area.

Tabai said he understood their concern but the deal was purely a commercial arrangement. He said the Russians will not have shore access or be allowed to enter Kiribati ports for supplies or repairs — that they must not approach any closer than 12 miles to land. Kiribati is a poor nation, Tabai said. The $1.7 million deal with Sovrybflot is important to Kiribati's economy — and provides a strong incentive for renewing the agreement in future years.

Nevertheless, the Soviet Union has moved into a new area for a small price — an area that includes the Marshall Islands republic, which encompasses the vital U.S. missile-testing base situated on Kwajalein atoll.

American tuna boats, on the other hand, have fished throughout the Kiribati and the Tuvalu seas without permission. About 40 U.S. boats currently are operating in the area, delivering their catches to American Samoa. The independent island nations regard the unlicensed vessels as poachers, the U.S. regards them as legally in pursuit of tuna, which the U.S. officially defines as a highly migratory fish that belongs to no government. We are the only nation that takes such a position. At least one U.S. vessel was seized for illegal fishing in the Solomons. It was released after fines were paid.

Congress, in 1954, passed the Fisherman's Protective Act, which provides for reimbursement to the owners of fishing craft for fines imposed by a state that has seized a vessel on the basis of jurisdictional claims not recognized by the United States. In the past 30 years this position has cost our government millions of dollars and has promoted ill will towards us from many friendly countries.

Revision of this country's fishing regulations in Congress would be difficult if not impossible. Fortunately, there is another route.

The United States is negotiating with 16 independent Pacific nations in an attempt to reach a regional fisheries agreement that would cover the licensing of vessels and offer protection against overfishing.

If such an agreement can be ratified, the punitive provisions of the Magnuson Act no longer would apply. Thus the United States could escape from its bully-boy status and the Soviet thrust into the mid-Pacific could be turned back as the United States reestablishes old friendships.

Democrats Stifle Cure For Economic Growth

WASHINGTON — Somewhere, deep inside the Democratic-controlled House Ways and Means Committee, President Reagan's enterprise-zone bill gathers dust — a victim of politics over common sense.

Ironically, however, while this important bill has been imprisoned in committee by Chairman Daniel Rostenkowski of Illinois, more than 1,300 job-producing enterprise zones have sprung up across the country anyway — largely in Democratic communities.

More important, they work. According to the most recent figures from the Department of Housing and Urban Development, some 50,000 jobs have been created in 500 cities since 1982 through state and local enterprise-zone programs. These zones have generated $2 billion in investment capital in the past three years alone.

The enterprise-zone idea — spurring economic growth in poor urban ghettos through tax and regulatory incentives — got off to a strong start when Reagan endorsed it in his 1980 campaign. That led to a bipartisan push for the bill by its chief sponsors, Reps. Jack Kemp, R-N.Y., and Robert Garcia, D-N.Y. Garcia's district includes the poverty-stricken South Bronx — a needy candidate for enterprise-zone development.

The bill has twice passed the Republican-controlled Senate, but can't even get on the House legislative calendar because of opposition from Rostenkowski and Speaker Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill of Massachusetts. Both deride it as another example of Republican "trickle-down" economics.

"To call this 'trickle-down theory,'" Kemp replies, "is to stain the American dream. Enterprise zones are nothing more than socially responsible, market-oriented economics. It is a basic truth that people want to work. Give them that opportunity and you'll see them moving off the welfare rolls. Enterprise zones provide that opportunity."

Consider these examples:

— When the Spiegel mail-order company outgrew its Chicago plant, the firm considered leaving its trademark city. But through the creation of an enterprise zone, the state and Spiegel worked out a sales- and property-tax-abatement plan that made a $20 million plant renovation possible. That kept 2,000 jobs in Chicago.

All told, Chicago's five enterprise zones have helped stem the loss of jobs that resulted from the steel industry's decline. In fiscal 1984 and 1985, zone incentives were credited with creating 2,000 jobs and saving an additional 5,000. "We're developing several tools to help business expand," says Lynn Cunningham, executive director of the South Chicago Economic Development Commission. "Enterprise zones provide a framework for those tools."

— Suffering an industrial decline similar to that felt in the "Rust Belt," Louisville was the first of Kentucky's seven designated zones. The zone helped Louisville keep and produce 2,145 jobs as a result of several small businesses that moved into the designated area.

Significantly, one-third of the jobs went to the unemployed and to people on welfare. Unique among incentives offered to Louisville businesses is a 20-year no-strike agreement with labor unions, ensuring that building construction is completed on schedule.

Hoarding Practice Studied

By Rob Stein
UPI Science Writer

BOSTON (UPI) — Some people collect rubber bands in their desks at work. Others stack old newspapers so high at home there's barely enough room to squeeze through a narrow path to their bed.

Just about everyone collects things to some degree. But some people take hoarding to an extreme, and some researchers are beginning to believe the tendency to act like a squirrel could be genetic.

"We've seen families where there are four generations of hoarders," said Dr. Steven Rasmussen, a psychiatrist at Butler Hospital, Providence, R.I., studying the behavior.

"There's been a fair amount of animal work to show that certain types of rodents tend to hoard things," said Rasmussen. "There may be an inherited or genetic pattern in this."

Rasmussen and an associate are studying hoarders as part of their work with obsessive-compulsives — people who exhibit extreme forms of behavior such as the irrational urge to wash their hands.

"We noticed that many of our obsessive-compulsive patients are hoarders," said Rasmussen.

"Everyone has a variance in this. There's a certain amount of normal behavior. Everyone has certain things that are special to them that don't have any meaning to anyone else," he said.

"But some people go way overboard. Many people collect things because they think it's going to come in handy sometimes. But it can get to the proportions where you can barely get into the house," said Rasmussen.

The researchers have visited patients whose homes are overrun with piles of newspapers, magazines, boxes of coupons and other items they can't seem to part with.

"It just seems to be passed down from one generation to the next," said Rasmussen.

He pointed out, however, more studies are needed, possibly with identical twins, to prove or disprove the genetic theory about hoarding.

Previous studies traced the hoarding instinct in animals to a part of the brain located in the center near the top. If this part of the brain is cut, the hoarding behavior disappears.

Researchers also suspect hoarding may be closely associated with maternal instincts, since the tendency to build nests or feed the young also disappears when this part of the brain is cut.

Jets Could Be Faster Than Stealth

By Jack Anderson
And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — Could American taxpayers save billions of dollars if the Pentagon modified commercial jetliners instead of buying Stealth bombers? Analysis of a 1978 Air Force study suggests this is indeed possible.

The chief virtue of Stealth, if it ever gets off the ground and does what it's supposed to do, is that it will be invisible to Soviet radar. As we have warned, however, the Stealth bomber will be detectable to old-fashioned radars, which the frugal Soviets still have deployed.

Small cruise missiles would be much more effective; they could zip past Soviet radar fast as a flash. The radar would have more time to focus on the slower Stealth bomber. Cruise missiles are also less expensive.

That's what makes the Air Force report so interesting. The secret,

Dodging The Reaper

I am forever being amazed at the sensitivity people display toward the general subject of death, and in particular toward any information on how they might possibly avoid it. Shakespeare has Jullius Caesar express a rather similar surprise:

"Of all the wonders that I yet have heard, / It seems to me most strange that men should fear / Seeing that death, a necessary end, / Will come when it will come."

Yet millions of Americans are out there jogging, eating more fiber, avoiding the Rome airport and taking all sorts of other odd precautions in a desperate effort to prolong their stay on this highly controversial old planet. It seems almost cruel to point out to them that, as the saying goes, life is a disease whose mortality rate is exactly 100 percent.

The latest news item from the battle front concerns a study of 17,000 Harvard alumni whose living habits have been observed over a period of many years. According to a story that rated a two-column headline on page one of The New York Times recently, "Men who participated in activities such as walking, stair-climbing and sports that used 2,000 calories or more a week had death rates one-quarter to one-third lower than those in the study who were least active."

Now, on first reading that sounds like spectacularly good news. But what, precisely, does it mean? Does the study intend to imply that active men have from a quarter to a third less chance of dying than more sedentary types? Presumably not; we are all going to die sooner or later — all you, me and Arnold Schwarzenegger.

The study, then, is apparently trying to tell us something about longevity rather than mortality. But what is it, exactly, that is "one-quarter to one-third lower" in the case of energetic Harvard alumni? According to the sentence I quoted it is their "death rates."

However, that is far from saying, as a casual reader might suppose, that they live from a quarter to a third longer than their indolent classmates. My dictionary defines "death rate" as the number of deaths among members of a given group over a specified period of time. It is this number which, according to the Times, is "lower" among active men than among "those in the study who were least active." Even this, however, must refer to the number of deaths in the earlier age brackets, since ultimately all 17,000 must die. To put it the other way around, the number of active men who die will be relatively higher in the later age brackets.

But just what length of time are we haggling over? At the very end of the Times article, "way over on page 28 of section B, we are told that, in terms of years, the study reveals "that physical activity could increase life expectancy by one or two years at the age of 80."

Once, many years ago, I wrote a piece of doggerel which I entitled "Ode to a Physical Training Instructor." It was a crude parody of Kipling's "If," and it concluded with a mordant little reminder:

"Race on, and fill the unforgiving minute / With sixty seconds' worth of hurdes run. / Yours is the earth, and all the muscles in it, / And every hurdle but the Final One."

Racing Builds Art Center

By Frederick M. Winship
UPI Senior Editor

HONG KONG (UPI) — Hong Kong's splendid new Academy for the Performing Arts, the most modern teaching facility in the Orient, is truly a house that horse racing built.

The non-profit Royal Hong Kong Jockey Club, which controls racing and betting at two tracks, provided $40 million for the construction of the academy complex on a Victoria Island harbor-front site provided by the crown colony government.

P.J. Williamson, Hong Kong's commissioner for recreation and culture, described the Hong Kong's symbiosis of sports and the arts as "like nothing else in the worlunes their policy of pursuing both Western and Chinese artistic traditions.

There currently are 260 students to the tune of some $220 million since racing went professional in 1971. The academy is its largest philanthropic project to date.

"The academy was built under budget in four years and was finished last November," said Williamson. "There is about $1.25 million of Jockey Club money left over which we will use to sponsor visits by special artists and music organizations from abroad such as the recent visit of the Glyndebourne Opera from England."

The relationship between government and the arts is also exemplary. The Hong Kong legislative council took the responsibility of equipping the academy, at a cost of $8.75 million, and has assumed the cost of running it.

The academy consists of four schools teaching music, drama, dance and technical arts. It has absorbed the Hong Kong Conservatory of Music and Hong Kong Academy of Ballet and continues their policy of pursuing both Western and Chinese artistic traditions.

There currently are 260 students, most of them from Hong Kong, and instruction is given in English, Cantonese and Mandarin. Dr. Basil Deane, director of the academy, said that the student body will eventually number 600, the capacity for which the building was constructed.

"The role of the academy is to provide professionally trained performers for existing performing arts companies in Hong Kong and for the teaching profession," said Deane.

Commission Recommends Manned-Missions To Moon, Mars

By AL Rosseter Jr.
UPI Science Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The president's National Commission on Space says the United States should return people to the moon by 2005 and send men to Mars a decade later, an aerospace magazine reports.

Aviation Week and Space

Technology said Monday that a final draft of a 200-page report scheduled to go to the White House in mid-April also will call for a new generation of space transports to create a "highway to space" to be flying around the turn of the century.

The commission, named by President Reagan last March, envisions an evolution of modular space bases beginning with the currently planned space station in 1994 and progressing to an Earth orbiting spaceport before the end of the decade, the magazine said.

"Eventually there will be a network of spaceports between Earth, moon and Mars with permanent bases on the moon and Mars," according to the draft obtained by Aviation Week.

The United States should resume lunar flights with robotic missions between 2000 and 2005 followed by establishment of a permanent outpost on the moon to support astronaut operations, the report said. It called for construction of a pilot plant to derive rocket pro-pellants from moon soil around 2007 with a full-scale propellant plant beginning operation before 2115.

Aviation Week said the plan envisions a human settlement on the moon by 2017.

Mars operations should follow a similar plan, the report said, beginning with detailed robotic exploration followed by a manned outpost around 2015 and a full settlement on the planet by 2027.

The magazine said the report will be dedicated to the crew of the space shuttle Challenger killed eight weeks ago. It is titled: "Pioneering the Space Frontier. Our Next 50 Years in Space."

Cross-Gender Dressed Suspect Busted On Drugs

When Seminole County sheriff's deputy Craig Magee spotted a woman lifting her skirt behind Club Juana on U.S. Highway 17-92, Casselberry, he took a second look and decided "That ain't no girl."

Magee confronted the suspect, whose beige skirt and blouse was set off with silver colored earrings, a metal mesh choker, blue eyeshadow and open-toed high heel shoes.

The suspect, with medium length, blond-frosted brown hair, when asked for identification, produced from a purse a small piece of paper with the name Miria McNaligusky written on it. Then the suspect reportedly said the name should be "Mirian Janet Walligursky." But Magee doubted that and asked to see the suspect's vehicle registration, which didn't match the tag on the car from which it was taken, he reported.

When the suspect reached into the car to get the registration, Magee reported seeing a spoon and a syringe and what appeared to be a handgun inside the vehicle.

The suspect was detained, and reportedly admitted that he is a man, but, "just wanted to fool somebody," Magee said.

In the suspect's purse a knife was reportedly found. A weighing scale with white residue on it was also reportedly in the suspect's possession, Magee reported. A test showed the residue to be cocaine.

The suspect was charged with possession of cocaine and drug paraphernalia, two counts of carrying a concealed weapon, resisting arrest without violence and having an unassigned tag attached to his car.

A strip search at the Seminole County jail revealed the suspect was also wearing women's undergarments, Magee said. Cross-gender dressing is not illegal in Florida, so no charges were filed in connection with the suspect's reputed mode of dress.

Douglas Thomas Walligursky, 23, of 810 1/2 W. Ninth St., Sanford, was being held in lieu of $2,000, after having been arrested at 1:55 a.m. Tuesday.

TABLED COCAINE
Three Sanford men spotted standing around a butcher block table, on which Sanford police reported seeing cocaine, drug paraphernalia and cash have been arrested.

The arrests were made in the 1500 block of 13th Street at about 5 p.m. Monday.

Action Reports

- ★ Fires
- ★ Courts
- ★ Police

In addition to the cocaine on the table, police reported finding 11 foil packets of cocaine in the pants pocket of one of the suspects. That man, Curtis Eugene Campbell, 37, of #21 William Clark Court was charged with possession with the intent to distribute cocaine.

Reggie Steel, 21, of 1825 Coolidge Drive also faces a cocaine distribution charge. All three men, including Michael John Clark, of 1312 W. 13th Place, have been charged with possession of cocaine and drug paraphernalia. Bond was $2,000 for each suspect.

VCR THEFT ARREST
A 19-year-old Oviedo man has been arrested along with a boy in connection with the alleged theft and sale of a $936 video recorder stolen from an Oviedo home on Feb. 28.

The recorder was reportedly sold in Apopka.

Mark King of 649 Ave. B., Oviedo, was arrested at the Seminole County Sheriff's Department at 2:30 p.m. Monday, after both he and his alleged accomplice had been questioned by sheriff's deputies. He was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

NO RESPECT
A Seminole County sheriff's deputy who responded to a disturbance call at home at 2500 Howell Branch Road #179, Winter Park, was confronted there by a woman who reportedly said, "I have no...respect for cops."

The woman allegedly became verbally abusive and uncooperative. She reportedly refused to produce identification and allegedly gave a false name.

Linda S. Davis, 24, of the above address, was arrested at 8:50 p.m. Monday on charges of resisting arrest without violence and disorderly intoxication. She was being held in lieu of $500 bond.

DUI ARRESTS
The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:
—James Mathews Demastus, 49, of 1045 Lucerne Way, Apopka.

was arrested at 9:55 a.m. Monday, on Orange Ave., west of Sanford, after his vehicle which was westbound on State Road 46, reportedly forced an eastbound Florida Highway Patrol car off the road. He was also charged with careless driving.

—Roger Glenn Elam, 34, at 10:53 p.m. Monday, on State Road 46A, west of Sanford, after Lake Mary police clocked his truck traveling 77 mph in a 50 mph zone on Reinhart Road. He was also charged with speeding and possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and drug paraphernalia, which were reportedly found in his vehicle.

PELLET GUN ACCIDENT
A 12-year-old Longwood boy, who says he didn't think the gun was loaded, reportedly shot a 4-year-old playmate in the eye with a pellet from an air gun.

Joshua Lyell of 90 Hickory Road, Longwood, who was injured at about 2:15 p.m. Monday, was in satisfactory condition Tuesday in Winter Park Memorial Hospital in Winter Park. He was wounded in the right eye, but did not lose that eye, a hospital spokesman said.

The shooting occurred at the home of Cary Robert Jones of 130 Des Pinar, Longwood, who told Seminole County sheriff's deputies he didn't think the gun was loaded when he pointed it at Joshua's face and fired.

The pellet gun was confiscated by sheriff's deputies.
Deputies reported Joshua is the son of Carolyn J. Lyell and Cary is the son of Anita B. Jones, each of the same address as their son's.

PISTOL TAKEN
A .22 calibre pistol, valued at $200, and approximately $3 in change were taken from the 2012 Cordova Drive home of Noel Urich between 3:40 p.m. Friday and 12:05 a.m. Saturday, according to a Sanford police report. Entry was gained by the removal of an air conditioner from a living room window, the report said.

TRAVELERS CHECKS TAKEN
Someone used a key to gain entry through the door of a room at the Lake Monroe Holiday Inn and made off with $1,000 in travelers checks and $300 in cash a vacationing Michigan couple had left in the room when they stepped out for an hour, a Sanford police report said. The couple told police the theft occurred between 1 and 2 p.m. on Thursday.

RING THEFT
Rings and earrings valued at $2,881 were taken from the 2800 South French Avenue home of Merle Luzier between 6:20 a.m. and 3:20 p.m. on Saturday, a Sanford police report said. One of pieces of jewelry, a gold and diamond ring, was worth $2,500. Ms. Luzier told police.

Entry was gained through a bathroom window, the report said.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS
A $399 lawnmower was stolen from an open garage at the home of Matt McRay Lines, of 2053 Houndslake Drive, Winter Park, on Sunday or Monday, a sheriff's report said.

The 1984 Volvo of Jackie Gordon, 45, of Orlando, was stolen while parked at Floral Creations, 484 Hunt Club Blvd., Apopka, Monday. Also missing along with the $18,475 car are a $350 table and a $125 car mask, deputies reported.

About $1,000 worth of jewelry was stolen from the home of Emmett O. Davis, 26, and Timothy Hall, 19, of 3049 Bungalow Blvd., Sanford, on Monday, a sheriff's report said.

Cheryl E. Martin, of 1807 Dixie Way, Sanford, reported to sheriff's deputies that a $131 television was stolen from her home Monday.

A motor worth $700 was stolen from the boat of Arthur Bagley Jr., 58, of 2441 Church St., Sanford, while parked at a home at 213 Reed Road, Oviedo, between March 10 and 18, a sheriff's report said.

DUI ARRESTS
The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Mark Alan Spicer, 21, of Orlando, arrested 4:28 a.m. Sunday at San Sebastian Square after his vehicle was seen crossing the lanes and median of State Road 436 in Altamonte Springs.

—Joe Melvin House, 48, of 273 Kerry Court, Altamonte Springs, arrested at 12:52 a.m. Thursday in the parking lot of a restaurant after his car was seen weaving on State Road 436 in Altamonte Springs.

—Pamela Annice Bass, 35, of 280 Coachman Ct., Sanford, arrested at 12:30 a.m. Monday on U.S. Highway 17-92 south of General Hutcheson Parkway after her vehicle failed to maintain a single lane.

SCHOOL BUILDING VANDALIZED

Three windows were broken at the Seminole County School Board maintenance building, 1613 South Lake Avenue, on Monday, between 2 and 3:55 a.m., a Sanford police report said. Damage was estimated at $100, the report said.

COINS TAKEN
Assorted coins valued at $800 and three gold chains, valued at $50 each, were removed from the bedroom footlocker of Avon Bouie's 1014 Avocado Avenue home on Sunday, between 1:30 and 3:10 p.m., a Sanford police report said.

Entry was reportedly gained through a bedroom window

FIRE CALLS

The Sanford Fire Department responded to a record number of 19 calls during a 24 hour period that began at 12:01 a.m. Monday and concluded at 12:01 a.m. Tuesday, Sanford Fire Lt. Mike Hoenig said today. The response record excludes 24 hour periods during which weather conditions such as hurricanes and hail storms exist, he said.

Hoenig said the influx of emergencies was predominantly due to spring break traffic increases. He also said when local schools close for spring vacation, which began Monday, the department notes an increase of brush fires.

MONDAY
—1:22 p.m., County Home Road and U.S. Highway 17-92, fire. A 1972 Volkswagon was gutted after a fire started from a snapped fan belt that overheated the auto.
—1:51 p.m., 156 Country Club Circle, A kerosene spill on the roadway was hoed down by firemen.
—2:31 p.m., State Road 46A and Country Club Road, auto accident. Mina Palmer, 48, of Sanford, suffered back and head injuries and was experiencing difficulty breathing and Mary Sheppard, 77, of Cleveland, received a head laceration and a cut lip. Both were placed on backboards and transported to the hospital.
—2:57 p.m., 2905 Orlando Drive, brush fire. Extinguished by firemen; no damage reported.
—8:19 N. Palmetto Avenue, assault. A 74-year-old East Fourth Street woman told firemen she had been assaulted on Palmetto Avenue. After being treated at the scene for a small bump above her right eye, the woman declined hospital transport.

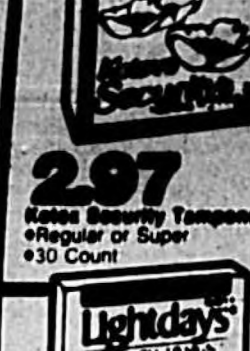

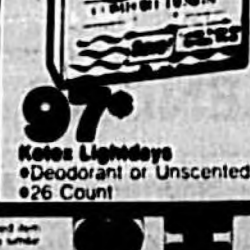

—5:34 p.m., 223 Lock Low Drive, brush fire. Extinguished by firemen; no damage reported.
—6:14 p.m., Celery and Douglas Avenues, brush fire. A resident with a permit for a controlled burn was advised by firemen to extinguish it by nightfall.
—10:56 p.m., 1901 Adams Avenue, smoke alarm. A television shorted out and produced smoke, but no fire, at the residence.

TUESDAY
—12:19 a.m., 110 N. Poplar Avenue, false alarm. A fire alarm malfunction was reported.
—12:24 a.m., 3202 Orlando Drive, gas leak. The owner of a Chevy pickup that was leaking gas was advised by firemen to remove the vehicle from the lot it was parked in and seek service for it.
—4:41 a.m., 1305 Olive Avenue, rescue. A seven-month-old infant having difficulty breathing was transported to the hospital.
—9:29 a.m., 711 East First Street, Town and Lake Garden Apartments, possible fatality. A 65-year-old man with no vital signs. Firemen turned the incident over to Sanford Police.
—9:45 a.m., 815 Park Avenue, Apt. C, rescue. A 62-year-old woman experiencing difficulty breathing was transported to the hospital.

The Lake Mary Fire Department has responded to the following calls:
— 6:59 p.m., 308 North Forest, injury. A 78-year-old man fell in his kitchen, and suffered a three-inch laceration on his head. He was transported to the hospital.
— 7:16 p.m., Rinehart Road, investigated reported brush fire. Found controlled burning for land clearing on the Stenstrom property. No fire spread.

When ruling against the city's suit on Feb. 3, Seminole Circuit Judge Thomas Waddell based his decision on a procedural technicality involving prior notice for the special commission meeting at which the condemnation effort was sanctioned.

Thursday Sanford attorneys hope to persuade Waddell to "rehear, reconsider or clarify" the final order he signed a week after his Feb. 3 verbal dismissal of the suit.

As per routine court procedure, the suit's final dismissal order was drafted by counsel for the prevailing side. In this case county attorney Howard Marsee.

Colbert said the hearing's optimum result for Sanford would be Waddell's reversing the final order, which would give city commissioners the option to reinstate the condemnation suit.

Since the suit's invalidation, the commission, although authorizing the motion for re-evaluation, has yet to address whether it would be acted upon if successful.

Chess May Gain 'King' For Single Woman

DEAR ABBY: You have often been asked a question like this: I am a 26-year-old female who would like to meet a decent, eligible man. I've tried the bar scene, but most men are after a one-night stand. I've tried church groups, but the few men who are present came because their wives made them go. So where do I go from here?

If you print this, some women will probably write in and say, "I married a chess player, and you can have him!"
I realize that not every chess player is necessarily an ideal prospect for marriage, but it's a good way to meet eligible men.

The moves in chess have often been compared with those made by two opposing generals on a battlefield. A chess game resembles a war in that it consists of attack and defense, whose object is making the "king" surrender. On second thought, it could be a good training ground for marriage.

DEE-fense, DEE-fense, DEE-fense?

Lyman Fumbles Way Past Bungling Howell

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

You won't hear anybody shouting "DEE-fense, DEE-fense" at a Lyman-Lake Howell baseball game. The way routine fly balls were falling in, grounders were being booted and throws were sailing wildly, Lyman High's field looked more like a pinball machine than a diamond.

Eight of the 10 runs scored Tuesday night were unearned which overshadowed solid pitching performances by Lyman's Byron Overstreet and Lake Howell's Damon Marlette.

When the final ball had come to rest, it was Lyman's Greyhounds who came out on top as they took advantage of seven Lake Howell errors to claim a 6-4 victory in the Greater Greyhound Invitational Tournament at Lyman High.

Lyman, which has won two of its last three, now stands at 7-9 on the season while Lake Howell's Silver Hawks lost their second straight after a six-game win streak and now stand at 11-7. The Greyhounds play the late game again tonight as they go up against Lake Highland at 7.

"Both teams were a little shaky on defense," McCullough said. "I don't mind the physical mistakes, but it's the mental errors that we can't have. And we've been making too many of them."

The Greyhounds picked up a pair of unearned runs in the top of the first after it appeared Marlette was out of the inning. Darren Boyesen drew a walk to lead off the inning and then stole second. Marlette got the next two hitters out and got John Burton to hit a high fly to shallow left field. Lake Howell's leftfielder had no problem getting under the ball, but he couldn't find the handle and Boyesen scored for a 1-0 lead. Bill Henley followed with a base hit up the middle to make it, 2-0.

The Hawks got the two runs back in the bottom of the first with help from Lyman's defense. With two outs and Marlette on first, Ed Taubensee lofted a high fly to shallow center field and it dropped in for a double which scored Marlette. Taubensee then scored when Eric Martinez' pop up behind first base was dropped. Another Lyman error put runners on first and second but they were stranded when the hardest hit ball of the inning, a line drive off the bat of Mark Schnitker, was caught by Marty Martin in center field.

Both pitchers breezed through the second inning but Lyman picked up two more unearned runs in the top of the third. Boyesen led it off with a single to right center and Overstreet then reached on a two-base error to put runners on second and third. Boyesen scored when Chris Brock reached on an error and Overstreet scored to make it, 4-2, when Burton hit into a double play.

Lake Howell came back with one run in the bottom of the fourth but left two runners on. Ernest Martinez smacked a single to right to lead off and Marlette ripped a shot toward right field on which first baseman Sandy Hovis made a superb diving stop. After the spectacular stop, though, Hovis uncorked a wild throw to second, allowing Martinez to go to third. Martinez then scored when Taubensee's lazy looper to center fell in for a single.

Overstreet then got Eric

Barrett's Relief Job Dissolves Seminole

By Sam Cook

LONGWOOD — Relief pitchers are like antacids. They are expected to provide an immediate cure for the upset at hand.

Oviedo's six-game winning streak was suffering from a bit of queasiness on its way to seven consecutive Tuesday, so coach Howard Mable called upon Jimmy Barrett to relieve the burn.

Barrett, who spends most of his time gobbling up grounders between first and second base, received a rude reception from the first batter but he didn't do much wrong thereafter.

The senior righthander blanked Seminole for four innings before giving up an unearned run in the seventh as the Lions dissolved the 'Noles, 8-3, in the Greater Greyhound Invitational at Lyman High School.

Oviedo, ranked No. 3 in the Florida Sports Writers Class 3A Prep Baseball Poll, improved to 10-1 with its seventh consecutive victory. The Lions send Scott "Near Perfect" Bowers at Lake Howell in today's 1 o'clock game. The Lions take on IA power Lake Highland Thursday at 4 p.m.

Seminole, meanwhile, dropped to 7-10. Coach Mike Ferrell's club tries to regroup behind righthander Mike Edwards today at 4 against Lake Brantley. The Patriots were upended by Lake Highland, 9-7, Tuesday. Brantley fell to 6-11. Lake Highland, ranked No. 9 in the Class 1A poll, improved to 12-4.

"We didn't play that well," Mable said about his streaking Lions. "But Barrett did a good job of staying ahead of the batters."

Barrett picked up his first win to go with a save when he bailed out sophomore Alan Greene in the third. Greene tossed a few wild ones while walking leadoff hitter Alonzo Galney and Mable called for Barrett to protect a precarious 4-2 Oviedo lead.

Ron Blake greeted Barrett with a single to left and Brian Sheffield dropped a bunt to move both along. Gary Derr followed with a ground ball to third and when Galney tried to score, Bobby Bradley gunned him down. Barrett hit Greg Pond with a pitch to reload the bases but he struck out Joey Corral to squeeze out of the mess.

Barrett said the ground ball to Bradley was the key to getting off the hook. "I just yelled at him to go home with it," Barrett said. "We always help each other out. This is a real close team. That's why we've done so well."

Oviedo was real close to scoring in the first against loser Jeff Blake but ran itself out of the rally. Since the Lions have swiped an amazing 71 bases in 77 attempts (92 percent), it was one of the few times the wheels didn't reach their destination.

Mark Merchant, the most successful wheel, was nabbed for the first time this spring by Seminole backstop Roy Jensen when he tried to steal third. Merchant, who was intentionally walked twice, did pick up his 17th and 18th steals but was caught again in the seventh by Jensen.

Oviedo sent five batters to the plate in the first and four of them reached base. Blake somehow wiggled out of danger, though, by serving up a fielder's choice and whiffing Greene.

Oviedo took a 1-0 lead in the second when Barrett rapped a one-out single and stole second. Randy Ferguson chased him home with a sharp base rap through the left side.

Seminole pulled ahead in its half as Derr walked and moved to third on an errant pickoff attempt by Greene. Pond fanned but Corral singled to center for the run. Corral stole second and scored when Bradley double-pumped and threw the ball past first base for an error.

The lead didn't last long, though. Glenn Reichle, younger

Favorites Haven't Fared Well At Final Four

Duke Is 2-Point Pick Over Kansas

DALLAS (UPI) — The 1985-86 NCAA basketball season started without a clear favorite to claim the Tournament championship. Paring the field to four has failed to help matters.

Obvious favorites in the Final Four has been in vogue in recent years, although being the likely choice for the title has not always done those teams any good.

Georgetown was as one-sided a pick as could be found going into last year's Final Four. Unheralded Villanova beat the Hoyas in the championship game to post one of the biggest upsets in the NCAA Tournament.

The year before that Georgetown managed to live up to the favorite's role, but in 1983 Houston was upset by North Carolina State in the finals.

Oddsmakers have set the No. 1 Duke Blue Devils as a 2-point choice Saturday in their semifinal against No. 2 Kansas. Louisville is a 5-point selection over the LSU Tigers, who despite being the underdog have earned the right to be at Reunion Arena this weekend by knocking off the top three seeds in their region.

Things, therefore, have developed just like a Final Four should. There are three teams which appear very even and there is the obligatory upset.

Kansas forward Ron Kellogg applies the pressure to Iowa State's Sam Hill during the Big 8 Tournament final. Kansas takes on Duke in one of Saturday's NCAA semifinals.

No one is considered a runaway favorite, least of all in the minds of the coaches who will guide the teams.

"Believe me when I say we are not a great team," said Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski. "What we've accomplished is great. But I don't want to come out saying we're so great because I know we have our weaknesses. It just seems that some teams have not been able to adjust to them.

"We don't have players that look great in warmups. But maybe I'm being too critical. Maybe after the Final Four I will look at it differently."

Fans always look at things differently than the coaches, and the fans of Kansas fully expected their team to be in Dallas as March drew to a close.

Like other big-time basketball programs, Kansas makes quite a

LSU-Louisville: Defense Is Key

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Defense will be the key when seventh-ranked Louisville and upstart Louisiana State meet in Saturday's NCAA Final Four semifinal. Cardinals guard and playmaker Jeff Hall said Tuesday.

"We do feel like the team that plays the best defense will win the game," Hall, a 6-foot-4 senior, said in a conference call previewing what will be only the third meeting of the schools. Louisville won the first two games.

"We compare the (LSU) team to Memphis State as far as having to contain (guard Derrick) Taylor," Hall said. "Plus, we'll have to do a good job on (6-8 forward) John Williams."

Hall cited the postseason play of Don Redden as "another guy we can't slide by."

The game at Reunion Arena in Dallas will mark the second Final Four appearance for Hall and fellow seniors Milt Wagner, the Cardinals' star guard, and Robbie Valentine, a little-used sub.

Asked to compare the two Final Four entries, Hall said the 1982 Cardinals, who lost to Georgetown 50-46 in New Orleans, were confident because of

Tennis Trivia: What's The Fastest Serve Ever Measured?

I came across a list of all-time tennis records recently and found them quite interesting. If nothing else you can use them in tennis trivia games.

●Fastest serve — the fastest serves ever measured with scientific accuracy were ones of 138 mph hit by Mark Littrell of Oceanide, Calif. in 1984 and by Ken Klein of Ormond Beach in July 1985. Both came at the National Fast Serve Contest held each year throughout the U.S.

●Most double faults in a row — this dubious honor is held by Miss M.H. de Amorin of Brazil. In a second round match at Wimbledon in 1957, Ms. de Amorin served 17 successive double faults against Ms. B.E. Thung of Holland. Ms. de Amorin lost the match 6-3, 4-6, 6-1.

●Longest point — Two 11-year-olds, Carl Hagey and Collette Kavanagh, played a point that lasted 5 1/4 minutes. These two California girls were playing in at Anaheim Junior Championships. Hagey finally netted a shot after the call had crossed the net 1,029 times. Hagey went on to win the match 2-6, 6-4, 6-2. The match lasted 3 1/2 hours.

●Longest game — Tony Fawcett of Rhodesia and Keith Glass of Great Britain played a game that extended for 37 deuces or 80 points. This match was played in the Surrey Grass Court Tournament in Surbiton England. The game lasted 31 minutes. Glass won the match.

●Longest tiebreakers — In doubles, Jan Gunnarsson of Sweden and

Larry Castle
TENNIS

Michael Mortensen of Denmark outlasted John Frawley of Australia and Victor Pecci of Paraguay, 26-24, in a fourth set tiebreaker. Gunnarsson and Mortensen won the match 6-2, 6-4, 3-6, 7-5.

●Longest tiebreaker in singles — Bjorn Borg of Sweden won over Premjit Lal of India, 20-18, in the second set of their first round match at Wimbledon in 1973. Borg won the match 6-3, 7-6, 6-4.

●Longest match in games — In 1967 in the Hall of Fame Tournament Dick Leach and Dick Dell beat Len Schloss and Tom Moor 3-6, 49-47, 22-20. The total number of games was 147 and the playing time was an astonishing six hours and 10 minutes.

●Longest match in duration — Vicki Nelson defeated Jean Hepner 6-4, 7-8 in a first round match at Richmond Virginia in Sept. 1984. The match lasted six hours and 31 minutes (this excludes interruptions and intermissions). Needless to say these girls were playing on clay and had many, many long rallies. One of the rallies lasted 48 minutes and the ball was hit over 1,000 times.

●Shortest set — Ron Casey of the U.S. beat Pat Wheatley of Great Britain in just nine minutes in the Eastbourne, England Tournament.

●Longest winning streak — Helen Wills won 229 straight matches during the seven years between August 1903 and August 1933.

●Youngest pro tourney winner — Tracy Austin was 14 years, one month when she won the Avon Futures in Portland in 1977.

●Most major crowns — Margaret Court of Australia heads the women's list with 66 grand slam championships between 1960 and 1976.

●Roy Emerson heads the men's list with 26 titles from 1959 to 1971.

Oak Ridge Honor Roll Would Win State Meet

Since the beginning of the season, Seminole High's Lady Seminoles have been chasing Oak Ridge's Lady Pioneers for the top spot in Central Florida. The way the current 4A State Honor Roll stacks up, the rest of the state as well is chasing Oak Ridge.

With the strength of Michelle Lee and Michelle Spear in the field events, and two top-notch relays, the Lady Pioneers are the team to beat. If the state honor roll was scored as a meet, Oak Ridge would win going away with 48½ points on the current rankings.

Second would be Fort Lauderdale Dillard at 36 and third Belle Glade Glades Central, led by Heptathlon champion Yvette Lyman, at 32. Seminole would have 23 points with Lake Howell at 22½.

Of course, a lot of things can and probably will happen between now and the state meet. Seminole is still looking for its best combinations in the relays and figures to be right in the running in those events come district, region and state time.

Sophomore Shownda Martin is the top Lady Seminole in the state ratings as she leads in the 880 run and is second in the 440 dash. Dorehelle Webster, also a sophomore, ranks third in the 330 hurdles and sixth in the 220 dash. Webster is also a key ingredient on the relays.

Another sophomore, Ramona Jamison has the state's fourth best time in the 220 and is not far behind the leaders in the 100 meters.

Lake Howell's strength is in the distance events as it has at least two of the state's top six in the mile, two mile and 880. Junior Martha Fonseca has the state's top time in the two mile with junior Lisa Samocki fourth and junior Mary Fonseca sixth. Samocki is also second in the mile with Martha Fonseca fifth while Samocki ranks fifth in the 880 and senior Angie Smith is sixth.

Lake Howell's Kim Hammontree is tied for fifth in the state in the high jump at 5-2. Lake Brantley's Susan Asplen is also ...tied for fifth in the high jump.

Most Seminole County girls track teams will either take this weekend off or send its athletes to the Florida Relays in Gainesville on Saturday.

Lake Mary's Lady Rams are the exception as they will compete in the West Orange Relays Thursday night in Winter Garden. Among the Lady Rams top performers are sprinter-long jumper Tonya Lawson, multi-purpose person Anquetette Whack, hurdlers Jodie McCurdy and Oneyke Berry and high jumper Jennifer Caputo.

Whack, a senior, did everything put sell popcorn in the rain-shortened Lake Mary Invitational this past Thursday. The meet was called after eight events were completed and Whack competed in five of those events and placed in all five including the shot put, discus, long jump, 100 meter dash and 440 relays.

Since the Lake Mary meet was cut short, there were few changes in the Seminole County Honor Roll. Only two of the first place times or distances were changed.

One runner who moved up in a hurry is Lyman's Sheila Mandy who ran a 13.0 in the 100 meters on Thursday and moved into a tie for second in the county. Mandy had not been on the honor roll prior to Thursday.

Seminole's Dorehelle Webster, back on the team after a week's absence, ran her top time in the 330 low hurdles in Saturday's Bob Hayes Invitational in

Lake Brantley's Julie Burrows strides toward a win in the hurdles.

Jacksonville, Webster ran a 46.3 to take over first place in the county.

Seminole's Shownda Martin, despite feeling under the weather, ran her season's best in the open quarter at 57.3 which was two-tenths better than her previous county-leading time.

The recent NCAA Indoor Championships were replayed on ESPN last week and a couple of former Central Florida grads got into the action. Lyman High graduate Schowonda Williams, now a sophomore at Louisiana State University, ran in the open 400 and on a relay team. Her specialty is the hurdles but the only hurdles run indoors are the 55 meter highs.

Former Oak Ridge High great Michelle Finn took second place in the 55 meter dash after winning that event a year ago. Another name Central Florida track fans may remember is Brausch, as in the Brausch twins, Sandra and Sonja. Both were part of the first place 4x800 meter relay team along with Chris Crowther and Susan Nash.

SCC's Bats Bail Out Arms, 11-8

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

It's getting to the point where you need a calculator to tabulate the number of times the bats have bailed out the arms for Seminole Community College's Raiders.

Once again, the starting pitching struggled for the Raiders Tuesday as Sanford's James Hersey was pounded for eight runs in four innings but the offense continued to produce as the Raiders rode the hot bats of Leonard Thigpen, Jeff Greene, Robert Tucker and Jeff Morgan to an 11-8 victory over Valencia's Matadors in Mid-Florida Conference action at SCC.

The Raiders improved to 17-12 overall and 5-3 in the conference while Valencia fell to 16-13-2 overall and 4-5 in the league. SCC hosts Lakeland (Ill.) College today at 3 before returning to conference play Thursday at home against league-leader Santa Fe.

SCC jumped out to a 4-0 lead in the bottom of the first on an RBI single by Oviedo's Greene and a two-run double off the bat of Lake Howell High graduate Tucker.

Valencia got to Hersey for three runs in the top of the second, then rallied for five more in the fourth for an 8-4 lead. Lake Mary High grad Kevin Hill relieved Hersey in the fourth and went on to shut the Matadors out for the rest of the way.

The Raiders came back within 8-6 in the bottom of the fifth when John Moore singled and Thigpen followed with a two-run homer over the left field fence.

SCC took the lead with three runs in the seventh. Morgan drew a walk and Thigpen then stepped up and clouted another two-run shot to left to tie the score at 8-8. Tucker then followed with a single which put designated runner (runs for the catcher) Tico Martinez on first.

Martinez promptly stole second, took third on a wild pitch and scored on another wild pitch for a 9-8 SCC lead.

The Raiders added a pair of insurance runs in the eighth when Greene singled and Morgan unloaded a two-run homer to left to make the final 11-8.

For the game, Thigpen was 3 for 3 with a pair of homers, Greene was 3 for 5 and Moore and Tucker had two hits each.

Loss To Lakers Can't Distress Moe; Sampson To Miss 2

United Press International

Denver coach Doug Moe, despite a 121-115 loss to the Los Angeles Lakers Tuesday night, was satisfied with the Nuggets' performance.

Denver, on an off night, was able to keep pace with the defending champion Lakers.

"If you can't put the ball in the hole when you're playing one of the two best teams in the league and you still have a chance to win, you've done a pretty good job," Moe said. "I can't believe they (the Lakers) can play much better than that. It took about a perfect game on their part to beat us. I was happy with the way we played. We just couldn't get the ball to drop."

The Nuggets, battling with the Houston Rockets for first place in the Midwest Division, shot 43 of 98 from the field for 45 percent, while the Lakers hit 50 of 86 for 58 percent. The Nuggets received only 2 points from NBA scoring leader Alex English in the fourth quarter, yet they traded by just 3 points with 4:02 to play.

"They (the Lakers) were outstanding, but even with that they still couldn't put us away," Denver center Wayne Cooper said. "We had spots where we couldn't buy a basket. That really killed us."

James Worthy, who scored 11 of his game-high 30 points in the fourth quarter, had 4 points down the stretch and Magic Johnson scored on a driving layup to seal the victory.

The loss dropped the Nuggets 1 1/2 games behind the Rockets in the Midwest.

Elsewhere, Atlanta defeated Cleveland 97-91, Milwaukee downed New Jersey 118-105, Chicago beat New York 111-98, Golden State edged Detroit 125-121 and Sacramento pounded Portland 116-99.

In another development, Houston Rockets forward Ralph Sampson, who narrowly escaped serious injury in a backwards fall Monday in Boston, returned home to Virginia yesterday to rest and will miss tonight's game in Indiana, as well as Friday's in Detroit. He is expected to rejoin the Rockets Saturday in Washington.

thing about the first workout of the season. And when that workout was held in Lawrence, Kan., the Jayhawk fans showed up wearing t-shirts that read "Destination Dallas."

"I thought that put a little too much pressure on the players," said Kansas coach Larry Brown.

"I felt that we couldn't lose," said 7-foot-1 center Greg Dreiling. "What would they do with those shirts?"

The Kansas entourage flies to Dallas today, the first of the four teams to arrive.

And when the Jayhawks get their first glimpse of Reunion Arena they will see a huge banner along one side of the building that boasts the same words found on their fans' T-shirts — "Destination Dallas."

Workmen scurried all around the arena Tuesday, painting most everything that did not move, putting the finishing touches on the new playing surface and installing the long banners which proclaim the 26 different schools that have won the NCAA title.

The hotel in which the Duke Blue Devils will be staying has a large ice rink in the middle of it and workmen labored through the night to paint the names of the four schools on the ice — in the schools' colors.

But as the city worked to put on a fresh face for its second major basketball event of the season (after hosting the NBA all-star game last month), many of those holding tickets to the Final Four were trying to make a quick dollar or two.

Welp To Remain

SEATTLE (UPI) — University of Washington junior center Chris Welp, the Pacific 10 Conference player of the year, said Tuesday he will remain at school to complete his senior year.

"I like it here," said Welp, who could have applied to play in the NBA as a hardship case.

their experience. This year's Final Four entry has "the same situation," Hall said. "We feel very confident. We feel that as long as we do what Louisville does well, we'll have a good shot."

The team's confidence — including reliance on the solid play of 6-foot-10 center Purvis Ellison, Metro Conference freshman of the year — has helped the Cardinals stay in contention, Hall said.

"Any time you get into the last four minutes of the game (still in contention), it's a crucial point," he said. "We feel we have a good, experienced background."

While defense will be the key to the game, Hall said the Cardinals have been more consistent running their fast-tempo offense than defense.

"Definitely we play good (defensively) in spurts, but I don't think we've played well for a whole game. Offensively, we seem to have scored enough points to keep us in the game."

On offense, the Cardinals — who beat Drexel, Bradley, North Carolina and Auburn to make it to the Final Four — have improved during the season by reducing turnovers, Hall said.

"We got better offensively as far as not turning the ball over as much," he said. "We probably learned throughout the season to go to the offensive and defensive boards a little better."

IN BRIEF

Pants USA, Raines Connection Look To Stay Unbeaten Tonight

Pants USA and the Tim Raines Connection look to keep their unbeaten strings going tonight in Sanford Men's Spring Softball League action at Pinhurst Field.

In tonight's first game, at 6:30, Six Flags Nursery takes on Central Florida Regional Hospital while The Connection battles Bill Knapp's at 7:30 and Pants USA faces McKee Development at 8:30.

Pants USA ran its record to 2-0 Monday with a 17-0 rout of Prestige Imports in which Tom Gracey pitched a no-hitter. Joe Benton smacked a pair of triples and drove in five runs to lead the offense while John Boggs rapped a pair of inside-the-park homers.

In other action Monday, AJ's ripped McKee Development, 17-2, and Brown Boveri Company outslugged Bill Knapp's, 17-13.

For AJ's, Mike Clark led the way with four hits including a pair of triples while Mike Ferrell, Mark Martin, Tom Atkins and Bobby Neufeld added three hits each. McKee Development, which was 1-0 going into the game, managed only six hits including two each by Willie Harrison and Mark Dowell.

Brown Boveri and Bill Knapp's fought to a 13-13 tie after seven innings but Boveri broke it open with four runs in the top of the eighth. Manny Silvini's three-run double highlighted the eighth-inning rally.

Bob Kuenkele had four hits to lead Brown Boveri while Doug Oliver added three. Harry McCarty had three hits including a solo homer for Bill Knapp's while Jim Olger, Mike Nieman and Jim Gault all added three hits.

Battle Royal Won't Faze 'Fridge'

CHICAGO (UPI) — William "The Refrigerator" Perry and Jimbo Covert of the Chicago Bears, who will participate April 7 in a professional wrestling event, both denied Tuesday they are concerned about possible injuries from the 20-man battle royal in which they will be featured.

Four other players from the National Football League — tight end Russ Francis of San Francisco, offensive lineman Bill Fralic of Atlanta, defensive end Ed "Too Tall" Jones of Dallas and former Cowboy Harvey Martin — will join the Bear pair in a ring along with 14 professional wrestlers. The event rules call for wrestlers to be eliminated only by being thrown over the top rope and to the floor, a drop of 15 to 18 feet. World Wrestling Federation officials said.

The event will take place at the Rosemont Horizon in suburban Chicago.

Chicago Bears' officials have urged Perry and Covert not to participate, but both men said they are in the event to stay.

Oilers Too Slick For Red Wings

In a game the Edmonton Oilers hardly needed to win, they displayed the hunger and depth that may allow them to grow into a dynasty.

After beating the Detroit Red Wings 7-2 Tuesday night, the Oilers are one point away from clinching a share of the NHL regular-season championship, which will mean home-ice advantage throughout the playoffs.

Edmonton, 53-15-6, leads Washington by 11 points and Philadelphia by 10 with six games remaining for all three teams.

In other games, the New York Rangers edged New Jersey 5-4, St. Louis shut out the New York Islanders 2-0, and Washington beat Boston 6-3.

Mayotte, Becker Not Victories

CHICAGO (UPI) — Tim Mayotte, one ranking position shy of a tournament seed, defeated fourth-seeded Brad Gilbert 7-6 (7-4), 6-7 (10-8), 6-3 Tuesday in a first-round match of the $315,000 Chicago Grand Prix tennis tournament.

In a later match, Wimbledon champion Boris Becker defeated Mike Leach 6-3, 6-1 to advance to a second-round match Wednesday against John Sadri of Charlotte, N.C.

Sadri defeated Ricardo Acana of Chile 7-6 (7-4), 6-3 in his first-round match.

Top seed Ivan Lendl and No. 2 seed Jimmy Connors play their first singles matches Wednesday night. The tournament is held at the University of Illinois-Chicago Pavilion.

Talks Stall, MISL May Strike

MEDINA, Ohio (UPI) — The head of the Players Association for the Major Indoor Soccer League said negotiations for a new collective bargaining agreement are stalled and he expects members to strike midnight Thursday.

Player representatives last week set midnight Thursday as the deadline for a new agreement to be ratified or a substantial progress shown with the league's Executive Committee. The league is currently under an agreement drawn up during the 1982-83 season.

John Kerr, head of the Players Association, told the Medina County Gazette Tuesday a strike is imminent.

Wyoming To Need Its Best

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wyoming coach Jim Brandenburg says his Cowboys play their best basketball when they realize they're in trouble.

Against Ohio State in Wednesday night's final of the National Invitation Tournament, they should begin playing well very early.

The Buckeyes, 18-14, demonstrated their ability to start strong in their 79-66 semifinal victory Monday night over Louisiana Tech. "After the first five minutes, it was over," Bulldogs head coach Tommy Joe Eagles said.

Against Florida in the first semifinal, Wyoming, 24-11, quickly fell behind but turned around the game in the second half for a 87-58 victory. The Gators shot well over the Cowboys' zone defense to take a lead that went as high as 12 in the first half, then Wyoming went to a man-to-man, and Florida went cold.

"We play pretty good defense when we have to," said Brandenburg, six of whose first seven players are sophomores. "We don't seem to play it from start to finish. We've got to get our backs to the wall."

Much has been made of Ohio State coach Eldon Miller's situation, much to Miller's dismay. In February, the school announced Miller would not be given a contract for next season, then Miller secured a new job at Northern Iowa for next year. Boston College's Gary Williams will take over at Ohio State.

"I think the real story is what the kids are doing," Miller said Tuesday. "I don't think my job change is a story. That happens every day in America."

Miller also tried to dispel the stereotype most associated with the Big Ten Conference. Brandenburg described the Buckeyes as a very physical team, in keeping with the conference's image. Miller took exception.

"The Big Ten isn't as physical as it's supposed to be," he said. "I don't like those generalizations. Compare our scores to the Big East. They play a lot of 54-52 games; we average 75 points a game. There are a lot of physical players."

"I think Wyoming is a physical team. We're going to go after Wyoming man to man. That's the way we play. I can't change that. I think the fans will enjoy it."

The key players in semifinal victories were Ohio State's Brad Sellers and Wyoming's Fennis Dembo. Sellers, a 7-foot, 208-pound senior, scored 23 points, 18 in the second half, grabbed 13 rebounds and equaled Ralph Sampson's 1980 NIT record with 9 blocked shots. Dembo, a 6-4, 210 sophomore, scored 23 points.

"He's very active and rejects well around the basket," said Brandenburg of Sellers, who should match up against Cowboys Eric Leckner, who scored 19 points and had 13 rebounds Monday. "It should be quite a contest inside."

Sellers suffered a slight back injury Monday, but Miller expects him to be fully recovered for the championship game. Wyoming starting guard Turk Boyd sustained a sprained ankle in the semifinal and is questionable.

Incaviglia Gets Nod, Belts 2 More Homers

United Press International One day after being named Texas' opening-day right fielder, Pete Incaviglia convinced any remaining skeptics he does belong in the major leagues.

Incaviglia, the former NCAA home run king, belted two homers in two at-bats Tuesday to help the Rangers to a 14-5 Grapefruit League victory over the Cincinnati Reds at Pompano Beach.

One of Incaviglia's home runs cleared a wire hung about 75 feet over the left-center field fence. The 6-foot-1, 220-pound bruiser from Oklahoma State, who has five homers in 13 exhibition games, hit two of Texas' four homers against the Reds.

Larry Parrish, coming off knee surgery last season, belted a three-run homer off Mario Soto to highlight a seven-run fifth inning. Curtis Wilkerson also homered for the Rangers.

Pete O'Brien, Don Slaught and

Scott Fletcher joined Incaviglia with two hits for the Rangers. Eric Davis, who hit his fourth homer of the spring, and Dave Concepcion had two hits for the Reds.

"There is no doubt I can play," Incaviglia said. "But I didn't want to come in and step on anybody's toes."

The Rangers were dealt a major blow Tuesday when right-hander Charlie Hough, who was scheduled to open the season April 8 against Toronto, broke the little finger on his pitching hand while shaking hands. The knuckleballer, 14-16 last season, will miss at least three weeks. Rookie Jose Guzman will open the season in place of Hough, manager Bobby Valentine said.

brother of ex-Oviedo standout Darrin, blooped a single to center and Green followed with a base hit to left center. Bradley struck out but Barrett plated Reiche with a single to tie the game.

The Lions pulled ahead when Greene scored on consecutive wild pitches by Blake and Merchant pulled a single into right field to chase home Barrett for a 4-2 advantage.

Oviedo chased Blake in the fourth when Frank Torres drew a walk. Edwards relieved but Torres came all the way around on a stolen base, poor pickoff attempt and a wild pitch.

Belflower's two-run double and Torres' RBI single pushed the bulge to 8-3 in the fifth.

Barrett breezed through the fifth before two-out singles by Jensen and Jeff Blake started a mini rally but Barrett induced Galney to ground out to ease out of the trouble.

Seminole scored in the seventh on Ron Blake's single and two errors.

"Barrett is throwing a lot harder than he used to," Seminole pitching coach Mike Powers said. "Oviedo has a good team. They can make all the plays and they take advantage of your mistakes."

Helming's Power Display Pelts Pats

Lake Brantley, meanwhile, found out Lake Highland was a pretty good team, too, regardless of its Class 1A status.

The Highlanders spotted the Pats a 2-0 lead when Mark Coffey followed Andy Dunn's double with a two-run, first-inning homer but bounced back behind an awesome power display from senior Rob Helming.

Helming, a product of the Matland Little League, crushed a three-run homer in the fifth for a 7-6 lead and delivered a two-run blast in the sixth to snap a 7-7 deadlock for the victory.

"It's always a challenge to play bigger schools," Helming said. "That's why we got in this tournament. It's a big help to us later in the season."

Helming, a strong-armed catcher who hopes to play major-college baseball, didn't need much help offensively. Although he hit .466 last spring, he said he had been "struggling" at .300 this year.

"I hope I'm finally coming out of it," he said.

The second homer, which followed a game-tying sacrifice fly by Mike Beams in the top of the inning, was the more impressive of the pair. Helming, a righthanded slugger, drove it over the center field wall against a 15 mile-per-hour wind.

Brantley sophomore Randy Green, just recalled from the junior varsity, socked a two-run double, his third of the year in just 18 at-bats.

Martinez for the first out, but Mariette and Taubenae then pulled off a double steal. The runners were sent back, however, when batter Chris Norton was called out for interference because the umpire said he obstructed the catcher's throw. Overstreet then got Schnitker to pop up to second for the third out.

Mariette set the Greyhounds down in order in the top of the fourth and Overstreet got out of the bottom half with the help of a 4-6-3 double play.

The Greyhounds upped their lead to 5-3 with another earned run in the top of the fifth when Brock reached on a two-base error and scored on another Lake Howell miscue.

The Silver-Hawks pulled within 5-4 in the bottom of the fifth when Mariette reached on an infield single, took third when Eric Martinez drilled a ground-rule double, and scored on a passed ball.

Lyman picked up its first earned run of the game in the top of the seventh. With two outs, Brock slapped a single to left, stole second and scored on Burton's single to right center.

Overstreet showed signs of tiring in the bottom of the seventh when he walked Taubenae on four pitches and ran the count to 2-0 on Eric Martinez. Whittington then came in on relief but he walked Martinez. Whittington, nevertheless, came back to catch the next two hitters looking at third strikes and, on a 3-2 count, struck out the next hitter to end the game.

"Byron (Overstreet) pitched a good game but he had thrown over 100 pitches and was tired in the seventh," McCullough said. "Mark (Whittington) was a little wild but he did the job in relief."

Cook Of The Week

Sanford Cook Irons Grilled Cheese Sandwiches, Despite Teasing

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent

When was the last time you ironed your grilled cheese sandwiches? Well, it works for Kitty West, our Cook Of The Week, and, although she takes some good-natured teasing from her family for her unorthodox method, she says it's a simple, no muss, no fuss way to do it. "Just butter both sides of the bread, put your cheese in the middle, and wrap it in aluminum foil," says Kitty. "Put your iron on high and iron one side, then turn it over and iron the other side. It will be as toasty as if you just took it off the grill, and you can just throw the foil away." Kitty admits, with a laugh, that her husband, Sonny, has said, "I'd hate to explain to someone that my wife is in there ironing our lunch!"

Actually, Kitty is a fantastic, down-to-earth Southern gal with a contagious smile who has been cooking for most of her life and enjoying every minute of it. "I started cooking when I was five," she said. "I'd take leftover dough and make cookies with it. My mother was an exceptional cook. She could give you a peanut butter sandwich and make you think you'd had a banquet," Kitty remembered. "My grandmother had a boarding house in Arcadia, and I used to spend the summers with her. I'll never forget the year when I was 12 years old, I wanted to cook for all the boarders, and so she turned the entire kitchen over to me. She had about 80 boarders, and that's the most people I had ever cooked for at that age." Pork chops, baked beans, potato salad, biscuits and several more items were on the menu for Kitty's first major culinary effort, which was a great success.

Many of her most pleasant memories as a child growing up in Clewiston, Florida, with her brother, are those of her very close-knit family. "Daddy used to farm," said Kitty, "and we also had a grocery store for years with a butcher shop in it. That's where I learned about cuts of meat." Referring to one of her husband's favorite meals, short ribs with gravy, Kitty explained, "If you don't cook them a long time, they're going to be tough. If you cook them long and slow, they're very flavorful and tender. You just put an envelope of dry onion soup mix in with it and it will make its own gravy." She lets it simmer a long time, then uses cornstarch to thicken the gravy a little and serves her short ribs dinner with rice. You couldn't ask for a simpler method.

Kitty graduated from Clewiston High School and went on to the University of Tampa for two years to earn a secretarial science degree. Her skills were put to good use while working in the executive department of the U.S. Sugar Corp., then for almost 10 years on the Cattle Project, where many breeds of cattle were bred for show and sale. "and I loved that," Kitty said. After moving to Sanford in 1970, Kitty became involved in the legal field, working for several attorneys in town.

Kitty is presently a successful businesswoman who owns and operates the Sanford Trophy Shop on East First Street and puts in some long hours turning out fine quality trophies and plaques for are leagues, teams, clubs, and civic organizations. At times, it's a family affair at the trophy shop, when big orders come in and a helping hand is needed. That's when Kitty enlists the aid of her daughter,

Joetta, and friends "for a minimal fee" which usually means a big night out for dinner at a favorite spot. "Most of the kids help out with the understanding that I'll take them out for a big bash when it's over," says Kitty.

While Kitty toils away at her work in Sanford, her husband, Sonny, is busy at his job as a locomotive engineer. "He is truly my best friend," said Kitty, "and he is so easy to please. I've got the world's easiest husband to feed. If I give him a tomato sandwich, he tells me how good it was when he gets up from the table, and that makes a difference, you know. No matter what it is, he always compliments me." Most of Kitty's meals are Southern style. "I don't do a lot of fancy dishes," she said, "just black-eyed peas, swamp cabbage, lima beans and things like that. I guess they call it soul food now."

The rest of Kitty's family is made up of two sons, Pete and Scott, and Scott's wife, Carol, all of whom live nearby. Joetta, who is 19 and still lives at home, is largely responsible for keeping Kitty young at heart and in tune with the "now" generation. Jennifer, a close friend of Joetta's, also shares the West household, which Kitty laughingly refers to as "Kitty's Compound." Add a sleek black cat who goes by various names, and the family circle is complete.

Kitty's extracurricular activities include bowling, fishing and camping. "I love to bowl, but Joetta's a much better bowler than I am," she commented. Joetta's team has won two state titles in the Junior-Senior League, and she also won a state title for her age group in the Miller Pro-Am match, which pits the amateurs against the professionals.

Camping is another favorite pastime for Kitty and her family, although busy schedules do not always allow time to get away from it all. "But," she said, "we spend a lot of time fishing. I hear women complain about their husbands' going fishing or going to play golf. Well, honey, get yourself a fishing pole or a gold club and go with him! Every few minutes we've got together, we spend fishing on the St. Johns, Persimmon Hammock, Puzzle Lake or any place we can find

SCC Offers Leisure Time April Classes

Seminole Community College is offering 14 classes in its Leisure Time Program beginning in April.

Wu Shu Kung Fu, a martial art, stresses physical and mental discipline, as well as self-defense. Advanced Wu Shu Kung Fu is also offered, for those who have completed the beginner's course.

A class in calligraphy and lettering features individualized instruction for both beginners and advanced students.

Color and Style Workshop teaches personal color analysis and makeup selection. The Color, Style and Wardrobe Workshop for women covers these topics plus wardrobe selection. The Wardrobe Workshop for Women focuses on assembling the wardrobe, and is for those who have been color analyzed.

Beginning and advanced painters may enjoy Oil and Acrylic Painting, which includes portrait, figure, still life and landscape painting. Folk Art Acrylic Painting is also offered. This course turns ordinary household objects into decorative art.

Flower Arrangement teaches students to work with fresh, silk and dried flowers. Flower Arrangement/Specialty Floral Design emphasizes arrangements for weddings and proms.

Gardeners will enjoy Home Landscape Gardening, which teaches fundamentals of planning and maintenance.

The Quilting course is for beginners through advanced students and includes such patterns as Cathedral Window, Log Cabin and Grandmother's Flower Garden.

Relaxation Methods Through Biofeedback teaches health and stress management techniques.

Business owners can take Advertising for Small Businesses to learn how to make the best use of their advertising dollars.

All of the above Leisure Time offerings are night classes except Folk Art Acrylic Painting and Flower Arrangement/Specialty Floral Design, which are held mornings. Both morning and evening classes are taught in Oil and Acrylic Painting and Flower Arrangement.

Registrations are being accepted. For more information, contact Fay C. Brake at SCC, 323-1480.

Spring leg of lamb is traditionally the entree for Easter dinner in many homes. In some areas it is possible to get the whole baby lamb, which can be anywhere from 12-14 pounds. Here, leg of lamb is readily available. A 5-7 pound leg is the best size to microwave. Remove excess fat, make slits over the entire surface of the lamb every three inches, and insert small pieces of garlic. Paint the leg with a combination of 1 teaspoon of oil and 1 tablespoon of bottled browning sauce. Sprinkle with rosemary. Place lamb on a roasting rack. Cover loosely with wax paper. Microwave on 50% power for 10 minutes per pound for rare, or 11 minutes per pound for medium. Turn meat over halfway through cooking. Allow to stand 10 minutes before carving. If using temperature probe, insert in thickest portion of meat. Do not touch bone. Microcook 145 F. for med.-rare and 160 F. for medium-well. Serve with mint jelly.

Serve asparagus and carrots as a side dish with the leg of lamb.

LEMON ANGEL FLUFF
12 servings

Combine 1 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons cornstarch and dash of salt in a "batter bowl". Gradually stir in 1 cup water until smooth. Microwave on 100% power, 4-5 minutes or until mixture boils and thickens, stirring once or twice.

Beat 1 egg, blend part of hot mixture into egg, and return to hot mixture. Mix well. Microwave on 100% 30-60 seconds or until mixture begins to boil. Stir in 2 tablespoons butter and 1/4 cup lemon pieces, refrigerate until cool.

Cut a 10 inch angel food cake in half horizontally. Spoon about 1 cup lemon mixture over cut side of bottom piece of cake, replace top of cake. Mix remaining lemon mixture with 1 1/4 cups frozen whipped topping, thawed. Frost sides and top of cake. Refrigerate until served.

Since strawberries are in season, a fresh strawberry pie would be a refreshing dessert also.

FRESH STRAWBERRY PIE
Serves 8

5 cups fresh strawberries
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
Several drops of red food coloring

Baked pastry shell or crumb crust

Whipped cream

Puree 2 cups berries in blender. Combine sugar and cornstarch, stir into pureed berries. Microwave on 100% power 2-3 minutes or until mixture starts to boil. Stir. Microwave 70% power 5 minutes or until sauce is smooth and thickened, stirring several times. Add food coloring. Cool. Arrange remaining 3 cups berries in pastry. Spoon cooled sauce over fresh strawberries. Chill, and garnish with whipped cream.

water big enough to put a pole in."
Kitty is an avid collector of depression glassware and cherishes an almost-complete set of fine, clear-English hobnail. "When I started collecting my set," explained Kitty, "I don't think anybody in Central Florida was collecting this design, but the day I started. I think everybody started collecting it. I started out with 4 dinner plates and it took me 11 years to find the other 4 plates." Such is a collector's dilemma! Among her other collectibles, she also has accumulated a variety of Fiesta Ware, a colorful crockery-type service. Joetta's collection of honey jars and pitchers shares the spotlight with her mother's, and both keep a sharp eye open for new additions.

"I do needlepoint and I love to sew," said Kitty. "I used to sew a lot, but I don't seem to have the time for it anymore." There are still many signs of Kitty's beautiful handiwork around the house, which she hopes to get back to someday. Right now, her priorities lie in running a successful business and tending to her family's needs.

"Now, Joetta is going to be a terrific cook," observed Kitty, "because she is not afraid to experiment with her cooking. One of her best dishes is stuffed Manicotti shells." Compliments are exchanged quite readily between mother and daughter and this makes for an enjoyable relationship. "The reason they think I'm a good cook," laughs Kitty, "is because I make all the things they like!"

The Wests enjoy their home and quiet times together. Said Kitty, "We're kind of homebodies, and whatever we do, we do together." Both are members of the Elks, and Sonny is a past master of the Sanford Masonic Lodge. Time out with "the girls" is a pleasant respite for Kitty on Thursdays when she and two close friends meet for lunch.

Kitty never hesitates to voice her admiration of her mother-in-law, Dorothy (Mrs. A. C.) McReynolds, who is "an exceptionally good cook," she said. "She bakes all her own breads, and she makes, without a doubt, the best pie crust I have ever put in my mouth. Her recipe for yeast biscuits is a treasured family favorite."

A tasty collection of Kitty's best recipes is listed below:

DEVILED STEAK MARINADE
1/4 cup bottled lemon juice
1/4 cup catsup
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 tsp. crushed rosemary (optional)
1/2 tsp. dry mustard
1 or 2 cloves garlic, minced
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1/4 cup oil
Mix above ingredients. Use to marinate any cut of steak — especially good with chuck steak. Marinate meat for 4 hours, turning several times. Broil steak over hot coals, turning once. Baste with marinade sauce while cooking.

FORE CHOPS NEW ORLEANS
4 thick pork chops
2 large tomatoes, sliced
1 large onion, sliced
1 green bell pepper, chopped
1/4 tsp. thyme
Salt and pepper to taste
1/2 cup raw rice
1 cup chicken bouillon (made with bouillon cube)
1/2 cup white wine
1/4 tsp. sage
Brown chops on both sides in skillet and place in buttered casserole. Arrange tomatoes, onions and green peppers on top of chops and season with salt, pepper, thyme and sage. Heat broth and wine together in separate pan. Sprinkle raw rice into casserole and pour hot broth/wine mixture in. Cover and bake 45 minutes at 350 degrees, or until liquid is gone and rice is tender. Serves 4.

TOMATO RABBIT
(Quick and easy)
1 pint cooked tomatoes
1 1/2 tps. salt
1 tbslp. sugar
1 pkg. grated cheese, or 1/2 cup diced cheese, preferably sharp
1 small onion, chopped

2 tbslp. chopped green pepper
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 tbslp. butter
1 egg, beaten
3 tbslp. flour
Heat tomatoes, seasonings, sugar, flour, onion and green pepper together. When hot, add cheese slowly, stirring until melted and smooth. Add beaten egg and butter and cook 2 minutes more. Serve over toast. Also serve with salad, beverage and fruit for dessert.

FRESH APPLE POUND CAKE
1 1/4 cups Wesson oil
2 cups sugar
Combine and beat 3 minutes at medium speed; set aside
3 eggs
3 cups plain flour
1 tsp. baking powder (scent)
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. baking soda
1 tsp. almond extract
2 tps. vanilla extract
1 cup chopped nuts
2 cups apples, pared and cubed in small pieces
To oil and sugar mixture, add eggs, flour, baking powder, salt, soda and extracts. Blend well. Fold in apples and nuts. Bake in greased and floured tube pan at 325 degrees for approximately 1 hour and 20 minutes. Cool.

GLAZE
1/4 stick melted margarine
1/2 cup brown sugar
2 tps. milk
Combine ingredients and bring to boil over low heat. Boil no more than 3 minutes; let cool. Add 1/2 tsp. vanilla. Pour over cake.

DOROTHY McREYNOLDS YEAST BISCUITS
5 cups self-rising flour
1 cup shortening
1 pkg. yeast, dissolved in 1/2 cup lukewarm water
2 cups buttermilk (warm)
1/4 cup sugar
Sift flour and sugar together. Cut in shortening. Add yeast mixture and buttermilk. Knead on floured board about 15-20 times. Roll to about 1/4 to 1/2 inch thick. Cut in desired shape. Dip in melted butter. Bake 10-12 minutes at 450 degrees. There is no need to let these biscuits rise.

Cut only amount needed for one meal, then store remainder, covered, in refrigerator. Can be refrigerated 4 to 6 days.

BEER CHEESE
1 lb. naturally aged Cheddar cheese
1 lb. naturally aged Swiss cheese
1 garlic clove, minced
1 tsp. dry mustard
1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce

1 cup beer (app.)
Grate cheese finely. Mix cheese with garlic, dry mustard, and Worcestershire sauce. Gradually beat in enough beer until mixture is well-blended and of spreading consistency. Store in covered container in refrigerator. Serve at room temperature with party rye breaat or wheat thin crackers.

Somnambulism Often Indicates Nervousness

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT -- We have a grandson, 12, who walks in his sleep. Is there anything we or his parents can do to overcome this problem?

...DEAR READER -- Although sleepwalking can be caused by seizure disorders, infection and head injury, it is most commonly seen in boys who are fearful, nervous and under stress. Are there unusual tensions in your grandson's family? If so, they might be addressed. Perhaps a pediatrician, who is more familiar than you are with your grandson's health, could give you some concrete suggestions.

DEAR DR. GOTT -- You and other doctors keep saying that hypoglycemia is a rare disease. My symptoms are blackouts with my eyes open, terrible mood changes, always being sleepy and down. When I had a five-hour glucose tolerance test, I literally went crazy, vomited and my legs were jerking. I had to get IVs and two shots to bring me around, and my blood sugar was 37. I was put on a hypoglycemic diet, and now I feel great. I see the evidence in my own body, but you "professionals" tell me my problem doesn't exist. Who do I believe?

DEAR READER -- Hypoglycemia certainly does exist and, from the sound of your letter, you seem to have the disease. I am glad that your doctor was able to establish the diagnosis and is giving you proper treatment.

Most experts contend that true hypoglycemic illness is far less common than many people believe. Getting dizzy or nervous between meals is not sufficient documentation to substantiate the diagnosis.

I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report on Hypoglycemia. Others readers who would like a copy should send 75 cents plus a long self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2597, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to ask for the Health Report on HYPOGLYCEMIA.

DEAR DR. GOTT -- What is a parathyroid and what is its function in the body?

DEAR READER -- The parathyroid glands -- usually four in number -- are small structures that lie close to the thyroid gland in the neck. Parathyroid hormone is secreted by the glands; it helps maintain a normal level of blood calcium.

Parathyroid deficiency is serious and causes excess muscle contractions (tetany), seizures and death. Bovine parathyroid hormone can be injected to correct deficiency; it is a potent drug and can cause allergic reactions.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

If there is one bit of bridge advice that qualifies as the gospel truth, it is this: When you have a good fit for your partner's pre-emptive bid, take away as much of the opponents' bidding room as possible without taking leave of your senses. Today West knew that North would surely raise South's three-heart overall to four, and he also knew that he would bid four spades when North-South arrived at four hearts. So why in the world didn't he jump to four spades right away? I can't answer that for you, but I can point out that, given enough room, North-South were able to get to a good slam.

It's easy to see that West has a good save in six spades, probably down only one -- two at the most -- but a player who wouldn't bid four spades over three hearts is consistent in not bidding six spades over six hearts. And there was some slight chance that declarer might be defeated in his slam. Not this time!

South ruffed the opening lead. Since the only danger was a 4-0 trump split, and since he could never handle that division if the four trumps were with West, declarer played correctly by first leading to dummy's heart ace. He could now easily pick up the trumps by getting back to dummy with the club ace to come through East a second time.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Today you'll tune in on a good idea that can benefit you in the future. It will come in two parts from two sources, yet it will have a singular use.

Don Adams Returns In New Series Next Month

By Vernon Scott
UPI Hollywood Reporter
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Don Adams, he of the nasal delivery and beady eye, returns to primetime TV next month in a new series playing a supermarket manager.

half-hour sitcom spoofing the enormously successful James Bond movies of the 1960s. The series ran five years as Adams' whining voice, like fingernails on a blackboard, was heard across the land. Adams employed a similar persona in "The Partners" in 1971. It survived only a single season. But his high-pitched vocal delivery continued to be heard as the voice of a penguin in "Tennessee Tuxedo," a cartoon series. Currently the Smart voice carries on as "Inspector Gadget," another hit cartoon show. Those with practiced ears can also pick up Adams' dulcet tones in voice-over TV commercials. The small, compact Adams, dapper in a three-piece gray flannel suit and natty necktie at lunch at the Polo Lounge the other day, said he has dropped the familiar vocal twang for his role as Howard Bannister in "Check It Out."

"Howard is a different sort of character for me," he said. "He doesn't have Maxwell Smart's voice for one thing. He's more real. Max was a fantasy, a caricature of James Bond, like a bus driver in the secret service."

"Howard is the harassed boss of the checkers, cashiers, bag boys and other supermarket employees who bring him nothing but grief. "If the employees aren't giving him trouble, the customers are. "Howard really doesn't want to run a supermarket. He had fantasies about being something more romantic, more adventurous. His function in life is to take a bad situation and make it worse. He's also not too bright."

Adams is bright. He is also independently wealthy, a fact that has influenced his decision not to appear in just any TV role.

Don't let brownies get overdone. They're ready when a wooden pick, inserted about an inch from the center, comes out a little moist.

Is the "bird" too big for your roasting pan? Fill the spaces with crumpled foil to hold it in place.

Make a whole meal in a baked potato—split and season the flesh, then top with 1/4 cup tuna, plain yogurt, and a little mustard. Add grated cheddar cheese to taste. Wrap the whole thing in plastic and zap it in the microwave for 2 minutes.

Strain soup through a coffee filter. You'll get clear broth—and easy cleanup, too.

Feeding the menu: "Prevented" means the dish is seasoned with olive oil, garlic, tomatoes, and pepper.

It's fun to eat out...and you deserve it! Treat the cook in YOUR family to a delicious meal at the COLONIAL ROOM RESTAURANT.

Katya Visits U.N.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Katya Lycheva, the 11-year-old peacemaker from Russia, was greeted as an "envoy of peace" by U.N. officials Tuesday and given a tour of U.N. world headquarters where she chatted with ambassadors of the superpowers.

Lycheva, who appeared intimidated by photographers and security guards following her inside U.N. headquarters, received a U.N. medal from Virenda Dayal, the chief of Cabinet of Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar.

"We are happy to receive you as the envoy of peace," Dayal told Lycheva, reading a message from Perez de Cuellar, who is visiting California.

"This house is dedicated to peace and it is for the future of the children of the world, the Soviet Union and children everywhere that the United Nations was created," he said.

Present during the short welcoming ceremony in Perez de Cuellar's office was Undersecretary General Viacheslav Ustinov, the highest ranking Soviet U.N. official, in charge of Security Council affairs.

"I want to come here to express the desire of Soviet children for peace," Lycheva told reporters following her tour at U.N. headquarters.

"I want the International Year of Peace to last forever and I would stop the arms race," she said through an interpreter.

The blond-haired, green-eyed girl, wearing a dark blue dress and a red winter coat, shivered in the cold wind outside U.N. headquarters and asked photographers to hurry.

She went to McDonald's restaurants several times since she arrived last week and told a Soviet official that, except for french fries, she does not like American food, the official told UPI.

Accompanied by her mother, Marina, and officials of the "Children as the peacemakers," Lycheva sat in the Soviet Union seat in the horse-shaped table of the Security Council and talked with Soviet Ambassador Yuri Dubinin.

She later moved around the table to read the 15 names of country-members of the council and shook hands with U.S. Ambassador Vernon Walters. She went into the large chamber of the Trusteeship Council to view the meeting place.

Lycheva walked hand-in-hand with Star Rowe, a San Francisco girl student, who won a scholarship to accompany Lycheva's visit to five American cities.

An official of the "children as the peacemakers" foundation said the organization sponsored Lycheva's trip in the United States while the Soviet Peace Committee arranged for her journey from the Soviet Union.

Lycheva was to end her visit to New York City with a Broadway musical, "The Big River."

She visited P.S. 276 in Brooklyn Monday and told 6th grade students there that "I feel that kids here must be the same as the kids back home."

She said she was "very, very sad for a long time" after the death of Samantha Smith, the Maine schoolgirl who visited the Soviet Union on a similar peace mission in 1983 and was killed in a plane crash last year with her father.

"I couldn't understand what really happened," she said.

Lycheva is the daughter of a research scientist and a commercial artist and was selected for the peace mission by the Soviet Peace Committee and the International Friendship Club, a children's peace organization she helped found.

Seminole Should Preserve History

Seminole County should preserve its heritage, said Lorraine Whiting, curator of the Seminole County Historical Museum, at the March meeting of the Epsilon Sigma Omicron Chapter of the Women's Club of Sanford.

Mrs. Whiting said the 73-year-old county has, unfortunately, lost many historic buildings and landmarks to modern progress, but that remaining objects can be restored and preserved. The County Commission, realizing this, in 1983 designated a county home built in 1926 as a museum. Seminole County was, at the time, one of the few Florida counties that did not have its own museum. The home selected is well-constructed and needed little restoration. It has a basement and plenty of room for future expansion.

A great amount of effort has gone into turning the large, rambling building into an interesting and informative museum. Mrs. Whiting said children's groups frequently tour and enjoy the museum, which she feels is very important to their understanding of how growth changes things.

The museum will hold a planning meeting at 7:30 p.m., April 14, to organize an historical society. Another meeting, at 7:30 p.m., April 29, is open to members of the public who would like to become involved in the society.

An open house will be held at the museum from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., May 4, at which local doll collectors will display fascinating antique dolls. Traditional maypole dances are also scheduled.

Epsilon Sigma Omicron hostesses for the meeting were Pat Foster, Jean Marcel and Kate Nash.
