CHURCH

John is thinking about "what he wants to be." No, he doesn't want to be a jet pilot, nor a nuclear physicist, nor a lawyer, nor an actor, nor a doctor, nor yet a banker, baker, or chemist. John has decided. He wants to be a MINISTER.

I wondered if his father or his uncle or anyone else in the family is a minister? Strangely enough, no! He won't make a lot of money, and knowing John, he certainly won't particularly like the idea of getting up to "preach" to people. Definitely he won't have a big shiny car to make his calls. I wondered why John had decided to devote a lifetime to service in the Church.

I asked John for a frank answer and he told me many small accumulative experiences which boiled down to this: A strong Christian influence from family, friends, and church kindled a spirit of awareness and devotion which seems to be latent in every human heart. Of course, we can't all be like John. Few of us have received the stimulus to devote our entire life to the Church. But some of John's spirit does dwell in all of us. Too often we are unaware that we possess this miraculous gift from God. Rekindle your spirit by going to church this Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
 The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Clock stopped late last week. Did you notice? The big time-temperature clock at the Sanford Atlantic National Bank developed internal trouble. And a team of clock consultants were summoned to fix it. They did and we're back in business Around The Clock.

Complaint: Why do our bills have to have so much advertising in them. Haven't finished paying the current account and we're being lured into more and more. Quite a cycle.

People looked a lot calmer this morning than they did last Monday, what with the Fourth of July celebrations and such. The haggard looks were infrequent. Nice to have a quiet weekend for a change, eh?

Mrs. Ida B. Wilson, publicist for the Seminole Swim Association reminds parents of the association members that the organization's monthly business meeting will be held at 8 tonight at the Civic Center.

Speaker for Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Sanford Lions Club will be The Herald's sports editor, Julian Stenstrom. He'll talk about sports in the early day of Sanford.

Mike Thomas, a former AT1 in the Navy, is on the unemployed list — since last Thursday. Mike retired after putting 20 years in the Navy during ceremonies at the Sanford Naval Air Station. He's been a legal resident of Sanford for the past 11 years. Mike's a native of Pittsburgh but he plans to make his home here.

When interested parties appear before the County Commission and most of the council of most of the towns in Seminole County, the presiding officer asks these individuals to state their names. We wish those who preside at the meetings of the County School Board would do the same.

Mrs. Harriet Boyd, 317 West Third, reports that her little dog, 12-year-old "Sonny Boy" was missing for three days before he was found on Country Club Road. But "Sonny Boy" was in a critical condition. Apparently somebody hit him across the back with a heavy object and the little dog's hindquarters are now paralyzed. It's believed some boys struck "Sonny Boy" with a board, picked him up and dumped him alongside the road.

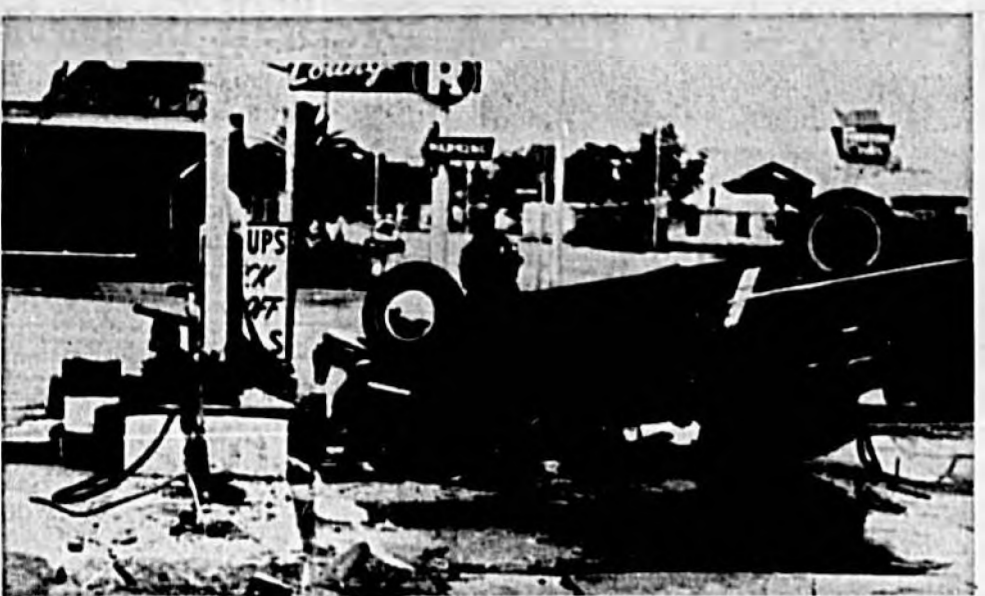

Miss Carol Luderhaus of DeBary has received a tuition scholarship at the University of Florida and a student assistantship in the psychology department. In her junior year, she is a dean's list student and was winner of the DeBary Business and Professional Woman's Club award for high scholastic ability while a student at DeLand High School.

Some of the most outstanding "art work" we've seen around here is the work of several local medical men's wives who have a great deal of talent. They have used that talent to make the new pediatric wing at the hospital as charming and delightful as a hospital could be. More about this later.

Council To Meet
The Board of Alderman of the Town of Casselberry will convene at 7:30 p. m. today at the Town Hall for the council's monthly meeting.

A TOPSY-TURVY WEEKEND — T. C. Lewis, 17, of Orlando caused $1,700 damages to this Spar Station at 1001 French Avenue when he lost control of his car and knocked down both gas pumps early Sunday a.m.

TRUCK-DRIVER WAYNE Phillips, 25, of Orlando lost control and ended up in the ditch on SR 46, losing his load of building sand at 5:30 a.m. Saturday.

ANOTHER VW DRIVER, Gregory LaFon, 20 of Orlando, charged with DWI in this wreck at Rands crossing on SR 45. His passenger, Bill Kosman Jr., 20, also of Orlando was charged with public intoxication.

Orlando Drivers 'Wreck' Havoc In Sanford During The Weekend

Orlando drivers wreaked havoc on themselves and property in Sanford over the weekend.

Three drivers, all from Orlando, lost control of their cars doing a total of close to $3,000 in damages to cars and property.

Two other Orlando youngsters were involved as passengers.

Saturday about 5:30 a.m. Wayne Phillips, 25, of Orlando, driving a truck loaded with building sand for Mid-State Hauling Company, going east on SR 46 reported he swerved to avoid another car, lost control and ended up on his side in a ditch, dumping his entire load of sand in the front yard of a resident. He was not injured. State Trooper John McConnell investigated.

Gregory LaFon, 20, Orlando, driving a Volkswagen east on SR 46 at 11:30 p.m. Saturday, lost control, knocked down a stop sign, and turned over twice. He was charged with DWI by State Trooper Bill Stringfield, and a passenger in the car, Richard Kosman Jr., 20, also of Orlando was charged with public intoxication. Both men suffered cuts, bruises and abrasions, and damage to the compact car was estimated at approximately $500.

Another Volkswagen was also involved in an accident on South Sanford Ave., at 2:30 a.m. Sunday when Henry Knowles, NAS, of 403 Tucker Drive, Sunland, traveling south, lost control and turned his car upside-down. He was taken to the NAS dispensary for treatment of injuries. Charges are pending, Trooper Bill Stringfield said.

More than $1,700 damages were caused to the Spar Service Station at 1001 French Ave. early Sunday morning when Thomas Carl Lewis, 17, of Orlando, driving south on French lost control of his 1963 Ford, skidded 147 feet, hit a power pole, bounced into the abutment of the pump island and turned upside down, knocking down both gas pumps.

Lewis and his passenger, Ted Johnson, also of Orlando suffered cuts and abrasions, and the car was judged a total loss.

Lewis was lodged in city jail, charged with failure to have his vehicle under control and defacing private property.

Patrolmen Dodson and Rotunda, of the City Police Department investigated.

Local Doctor's Home Vandalized

Hearing For 8 Youngsters Set Tomorrow

The alertness of Sanford Policeman Lt. Ben Butler paid off in the quick apprehension of eight youngsters aged eight to 16 years old, Sunday, for vandalizing the home of Dr. Leonard Munson at 120 Scott Ave. over the weekend. The family is on an extended vacation.

Hearing has been set by Judge C. Vernon Mize for 2:30 p. m. Wednesday in Juvenile Court.

Three of the five boys who were lodged in detention were released in their parents' custody with two boys to remain in jail until the hearing. Judge Mize told the Herald at noon today that the case is "complicated" since one of the children is a deaf-mute and one a retarded child who is awaiting admission to Sunland Training Center.

Lt. Butler spotted three of the youngsters carrying bundles of their bicycles, stopped them and questioned them. They subsequently confessed and implicated three other boys and two girls, aged nine and 11 in the breaking and entering, vandalism and theft. All are white.

The youngsters gained entry by removing glass jalousies from the kitchen door, entered the house and went on a wild spree of breaking, smashing and defacing everything they could lay their hands on, police reported.

Bottles of catsup, fruit juices, sauces, smashed and strewn all over the kitchen drawers were pulled out and their contents flung out, creating a mess that City Police estimated will result in "an enormous cleaning job."

Total damages of the contents of the house, plus theft of many articles, which the youngsters made several trips to carry away, are estimated at "$3,000 or $4,000."

Friends of the Munsons told The Herald today that Dr. and Mrs. Munson are taking an extended vacation this summer and are at the present time in Mexico. They said they did not plan to notify the "Munsons of the vandalism of their home as it would upset them and spoil their vacation." They are not expected home until about Labor Day, friends said.

Police Chief Roy Williams said that neighbors of the Munson's later became aware of "something going on" and notified police, but the first youngsters had already been apprehended.

Judge Vernon Mize viewed the damages Sunday and set a preliminary Juvenile Court hearing for 9 a. m. today with parents of the eight youngsters.

Five of the youngsters were lodged in the Juvenile Detention room of the county jail Sunday pending the hearing today.

Churches Burn

NATCHEZ, Miss (UPI)—Two Negro churches were destroyed by fire here early today in what fire officials said was "definitely arson."

NAS MAN, Henry Knowles lost control of his VW on Sanford Avenue and turned turtle.

Charter Election Off Once Again

By Julian Stenstrom and Judy Wells

Efforts to hold the on-again, off-again charter election in the Village of North Orlando, originally scheduled for today, encountered additional difficulties this morning when the polls were not opened in accordance with an announcement distributed throughout the community Sunday.

The election was to have been held on proposed changes in the village charter as suggested by the five members of the elected charter board. They are Chairman Bob Dean, Charles Tresler, Robert Derum, Mrs. Ella Harville and Mrs. Mary Rowell.

At last Tuesday night's regular council session there was a vote of the four councilmen present that the election be set aside on the grounds that legal notice of the election was not published in the newspaper within time limits set by Florida law and that public notice within the village was not posted as called for in the local ordinance governing elections.

Some of the plans have already received some closed session study from commissioners and tonight's meeting will see all plans set forth, with the possibility of combining or coordinating two or more of them.

Other items listed on the long agenda for consideration include the controversial proposed lease with the county school board for the use of the stadium.

First reading of an ordinance to rezone plots in Seminole Park and Town of Sanford from R-2 to R-3; Consideration of bids for a pneumatic roller; Consideration of an appointment to the Civil Service board; Request for a beer and wine licenses for consumption off the premises at 713 West Ninth St.;

Consideration of a possible consulting service for specialized work during construction in the water improvement program; A request for payment from Reynolds, Smith and Hills for the port study contract; Several inquiries into the sale of city-owned property; A reading of a resolution for traffic lights at Third and Ninth Streets on French Ave.

Barry Hopes Wallace Will Withdraw

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Sen. Barry Goldwater has expressed hope that Gov. George Wallace of Alabama will cancel plans to run for president.

The Arizona senator said in an appearance before the Florida Republican delegation Sunday he hoped Wallace would realize that his candidacy would "add chaos to the chaos that already exists, and withdraw."

Republicans fear that Wallace would split the conservative vote and reduce Goldwater's chances in the South.

County Home To Close Shortly

The County Home is being closed as soon as possible according to an announcement late Friday afternoon by the Seminole County Board of Commissioners.

The Commissioners took the action while drafting the 1964-65 county budget when it decided that it could accomplish for about $8,000 annually for what it is currently spending $25,000.

The Commission revealed that residents, which number six, will be placed in what it termed suitable private facilities.

Plans for the use of the facility by other agencies of the county are now being studied.

Legion Post 53 Installation Rites Held

The American Legion and Auxiliary, Campbell - Lossing Post 53 of Sanford recently held installation ceremonies for both units at the Legion Hall.

Installing officers for the Legionnaires was Cdr. Carolyn Frid, first woman ever elected a District Commander who performed the ceremonies; and Mrs. John Henry of Eustis, who installed the new Auxiliary officers.

The new auxiliary president is Mrs. Minnie Pezold, with Mrs. Roy Tillis as senior vice president; Mrs. Helen Constantine as junior vice president; Mrs. Russell Tench, secretary; Mrs. C. E. Hunter, treasurer and Mrs. John Pierro, historian and Mrs. T. N. Dillard and Mrs. Jerry Farrella, sergeant at arms.

Mrs. W. J. King, outgoing president, received a pearl encrusted past president's pin from the unit.

Mrs. Henry told members that the president's slogan for 1964-65 is "Not Less Than Your Best." In adopting this idea, Mrs. Henry expressed her hope that each unit would follow through and participate wholeheartedly in the calendar of activities outlined by the national organization.

She recalled that during her early years in the auxiliary she had worked closely with Sanford members and made many friends here.

Assisting with the installation were Mrs. Alvin Marsh acting chaplain and also president of Orlando Unit 19 and Mrs. Maude Young, Sixth District sergeant at arms, from Tavares.

New Legionnaire officials are Thomas A. Best, commander; James T. Talmadge, first vice commander; C. D. Donaldson, second vice commander; Karlyle Housholder, service officer; Victor Jencks, chaplain; W. F. Yeackle, finance officer; A. L. Walter, sergeant at arms and Eugene K. Stovall, historian-adjutant.

Cdr. Frid urged all Legionnaires to be enthusiastic in their duties and said that enthusiasm is the key to the success of each post.

She recently conducted the first school of instruction for the delegates to the American Legion Boys State held in Orlando at Post 19. She reported all Sanford candidates had attended and had expressed their appreciation of the course.

Boy's State members from Sanford included Joe Farries, sponsored by Kiwanis; Ronald Rimer, sponsored by Rotary; John Horner, Civilians; David Lanier, Jaycees and Jeff Williams, Elks.

The idea of the training school was instigated by Cdr. Frid and has proved so successful that it is expected it will become an annual event.

U. S. Concerned About Food Supplements

The Food and Drug Administration is especially concerned today about the food supplements which are being promoted as cures for conditions which require medical attention, says Myrtyle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent for Seminole County.

"The damage caused for this can be great when patients with diseases of the nerves, blood, liver, kidneys, heart or digestive tract neglect proper medical treatment in the hopes they can find a cure in a capsule," says Miss Wilson. "Americans must be cautioned against so-called nutritional advisers who offer door-step diagnosis along with the sales talk, she added."

"When unknowing or unscrupulous promoters distort the truth and claim benefits against diseases or symptoms which are not caused by a dietary deficiency at all, the results can be tragic, she claimed. "People who have serious medical problems are being misled by these false claims to rely on products which do not actually help them. Such persons," she said, "may fall to get proper medical attention until it is too late. Others cannot afford such products which are priced far beyond their actual value."

Fire District Steps Outlined For Westside

County Attorney Harold Johnson spoke Thursday night for members of the newly organized Westside Volunteer Fire Department to explain steps that must be taken in the area to establish a fire district.

Referring to Chapter 61-3879 of a local bill, he pointed out the necessity of petitioning County Commissioners for approval and of conducting a special election for vote of residents within boundaries of the proposed district area. Tax methods for support of the district also were explained.

Next meeting of the group will be held Thursday evening at the Lake Monroe Community House. Petitions will be ready at this time for signing and distribution to members who will contact all residents of Precinct 2, District 5.

"LET'S TALK DRY CLEANING"

By - WOODROW CASH
The term we regularly use for our cleaning method is "dry cleaning." Yet quite often your dry cleaner must also be an expert in "wet cleaning." Many of the stains which soil clothes require wet cleaning or even washing to remove. Such common summertime stains as those from alcoholic beverages and soft drinks are examples. Ice cream and many food stains are water soluble and are best removed by water or moisture.

Perspiration is another staining in those areas where it has left the heaviest deposits and caused stiffening of fabric. This problem occurs most often during the hot weather months as the result of repeated perspiration.

In addition, dry cleaners sometimes turn to moisture spotting where soil is deeply imbedded in a fabric to such an extent that water is needed to loosen it. In all such cases, wet cleaning is a supplement to dry cleaning.

Whatever is needed to restore your fine garments to like-new condition, clean and fresh and wrinkle-free, you can be sure of the finest cleaning when you call on our experience. Call for quick pickup and delivery.

Americans Ahead Of Europeans In Interior Design

CHICAGO (UPI) — Americans need not take a back seat to Europeans when it comes to residential design, says Jay Dorf, interior designer.

Americans have moved well ahead of Europe in contemporary design and have closed the gap in the traditional category, he maintains.

"This last decade has been one of dramatic progress in designs for living in the United States," he said.

"Our contemporary furniture, accessories and textiles surpass European counterparts. And even though Europeans gave the initial push to contemporary design, Americans added to and refined it for practical living."

"A chair or a light fixture can certainly be a work of art, as many original European designs were."

"But their first requisites are to fulfill certain living functions, such as seating a person correctly and comfortably or providing proper illumination for a room or an area."

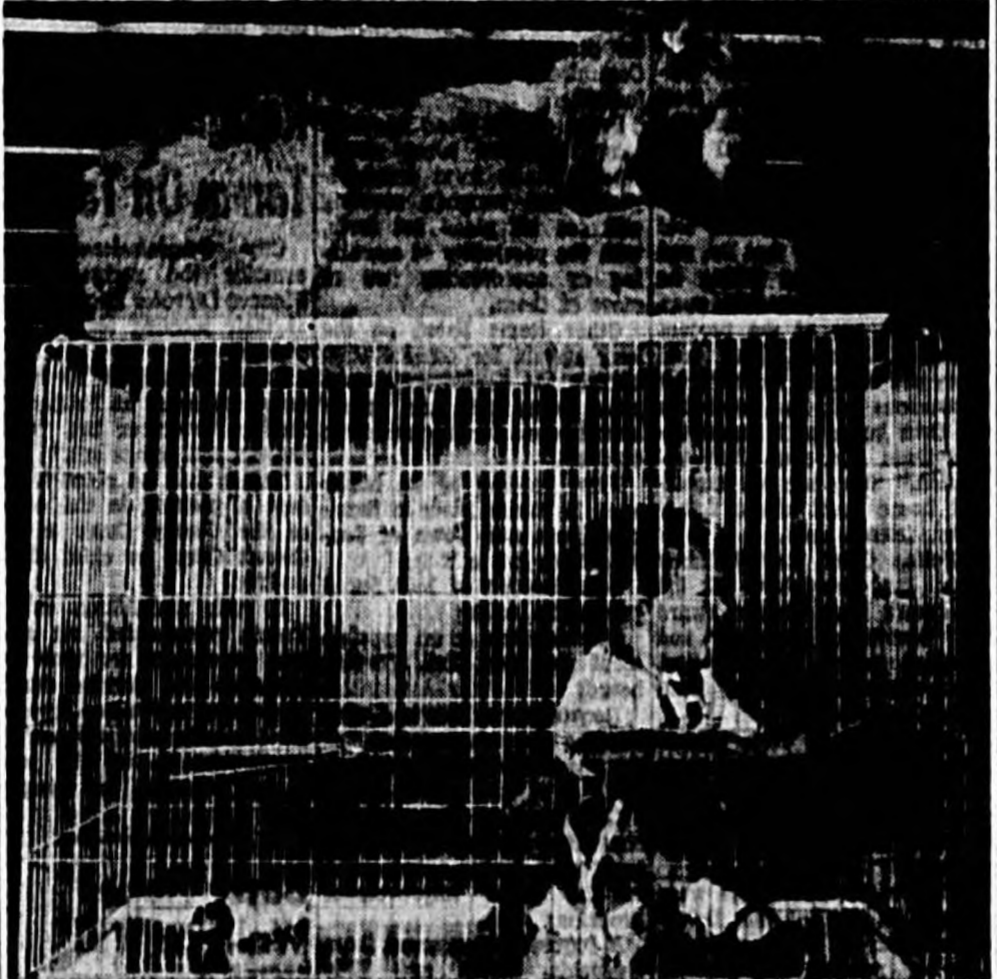

"American contemporary design now is fulfilling these functions with little or no sacrifice of the artistic aspect."

He also cited superior use of man-made materials such as plastics and synthetic textiles plus modern technology as means to combine beauty and function.

American designed appliances, television and stereo, air conditioners and dozens of other products now look as though they actually belong in homes, rather than factories.

Harding Love Letters Found

NEW YORK (UPI)—A historian has uncovered a cache of more than 250 love letters written by the late President Warren G. Harding to a Marion, Ohio, woman while both were married to separate spouses, the New York Times reported today.

The Times quotes historian Francis Russell as having read the letters Harding penned to Mrs. James Phillips, wife of a Marion Department store owner, between 1909 and 1920. Harding was elected to the White House in 1920.

One letter indicates Mrs. Phillips asked Harding for money to keep their romance quiet after he became the Republican nominee for president, Russell told the Times. Harding was reported to have offered $5,000 a year to her during his term of office.

Times Reporter R. W. Apple Jr. quoted Russell, who is preparing a biography of Harding, as saying the letters constitute the first documentation of assertions that the late president was carrying on affairs with two women while married.

Community Accord Needed

Almost from the time North Orlando came into existence as one of Seminole County's six municipalities there have been sharp differences of opinion among the residents concerning nearly every phase of the village's politics.

The situation has become rapidly worse during the past few months. Charges and counter charges have been so numerous that recently one resident swore out a warrant against another and charged violation of a state statute.

A new low in the community's attitude and moral conduct was struck when an Independence Day celebration culminated in a brawl which started as an argument — of all things — over the Little League baseball program.

During a hearing which was the result of the fistcuffs at the July Fourth festivities, Justice of the Peace L. L. Cox of Longwood was confronted with a difficult decision.

After the justice wisely encouraged a dozen or more witnesses to say anything on their minds regarding the incident — obviously hoping that if they talked long enough they would talk themselves together — he spoke to them in a rather blunt but yet a kindly manner.

"You folks in North Orlando," he counseled, "have a wonderful opportunity to build a very nice town. But when you act like this," he shamed them, "you're hurting yourselves and defeating your own purposes. Controversies such as this thing, get noised around, particularly in small towns and in a small county."

Judge Cox continued, "I regret this incident very much. But more than that, I'm tremendously concerned about the fact that I've heard these witnesses testify that teenagers were present, heard the arguments, listened to the foul and vulgar language that paraded, and actually saw the fight. It was indeed a sorry example to set for the sons and daughters of North Orlando parents."

With a concerned expression still on his face, the justice declared, "I know for a fact that there are some people in North Orlando who are putting forth every possible effort to carry out a fine program of recreation and entertainment for the young people of the village. Yet, I also know that these people are not only being ridiculed but also cursed. I imagine this is but another example of the old adage that people who try to do something must suffer ridicule and the derision usually comes from those who aren't doing anything at all."

Then the magistrate leaned forward and emphatically declared, "It's a downright disgrace for people who are trying to do the right thing to be crucified."

He called the language used during the argument and ensuing brawl both "vulgar and unforgivable" and cited this instance as one of the reasons that today delinquency among juveniles is traceable in most cases directly to parents."

The magistrate, as his eyes swept the hearing room, pleaded for a spirit of understanding among the North Orlando factions and called for their acceptance of responsibilities for the furtherance of the community.

The Sanford Herald has refrained from becoming involved in the differences of opinion among North Orlando's citizens, except to make an honest effort to report the news events — political and otherwise — in a factual manner.

But The Herald does believe that the citizens of North Orlando ought to heed the wise counsel of Justice Cox. One glance at the survey of building permits issued in Seminole County during the first six months of 1964 reveals the effect the long list of controversies has had on the growth and development of the village. In a county where over 500 permits were issued amounting to more than $3 million, North Orlando's records indicate only one permit for only $2,000.

Further evidence that the magistrate's advice should be taken is indicated in the fact that approximately one-third of the homes in North Orlando are vacant. If ever factions in a community needed to bury the proverbial hatchet it should be done in North Orlando.

The Herald — vitally interested in the economic and moral growth of the entire county, joins Justice Cox in an appeal that there be no repetition of what happened on Independence Day in North Orlando. Another incident could actually endanger the lives and property of its residents.

The Convention Will Please Come to Order . .

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Washington bureaucrats have already established a Gestapo type of inquisition by which children are actually rewarded in cash for spying on their own parents. So be grateful to patriots like Eddie Rickenbacker. And send for the booklet below so you can prevent the invasion of family privacy, as Senator Goldwater ably points out.

CASE T-419: Eddie Rickenbacker has long been the dynamic head of Eastern Airlines. But he recently resigned from the company in order to devote his remaining years to helping arouse Americans to the bureaucratic invasion of our basic freedoms.

He was our top "ace" in World War I, and has been a staunch patriot all his life. In case you might wonder about the need for volunteer patriots or try to brush off such fears as mere "witch hunting," please consider the following psychological undermining of our liberties.

Under Hitler, children were actually taught to spy on their own parents and turn them in to the Gestapo. Here in America our bureaucrats do the very same thing! For if the son of a wealthy father grows disgruntled because he isn't getting a new sports car or a big increase in his allowance, do you know how our government entices such a boy?

All the boy needs to do is report his father to the Collector of Internal Revenue as probably having evaded some item in his income tax return.

And that isn't all, for Senator Harry Goldwater has properly objected to the provision in the National Defense Education Act which encourages teachers to pry and snoop in private family affairs of their pupils.

Says Senator Goldwater: "Under this heading, students have been made to tell their inquisitors whether they have had sexual relations, have ever broken into warehouses, have stolen money, or have fought physically with their own parents."

"They also have been asked to tell which of their parents is fairer in meeting out punishment, etc."

All such personal data is certainly no business of outsiders, including the "inquisitors" or teachers who administer these tests.

If the 5th Amendment is so often invoked in our courtrooms, then maybe our school children need similar protection.

The boy's identity is kept secret, but he gets a "cut" on any or all additional taxes that can be drummed up against his own dad!

For Hitler's Gestapo "inquisitors" apparently had nothing on the same breed that have now crept into our government.

So salute staunch patriots like Eddie Rickenbacker and don't get the false notion that "all's right with the U. S. A."

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican moderates might as well face it — they've lost the battle.

Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania now has little prospect of doing more in the Republican convention than give his party's moderate cause a "respectable presence" in the face of an overwhelming Barry Goldwater tide.

This reporter has just completed a recheck of 20 states with sufficient delegate fluidity to have offered Scranton some hope of a breakthrough. There is no breakthrough.

Senator Goldwater's California primary victory June 2 was the great divide. Once that result was in, the still stout resistance to his candidacy crumbled in many crucial quarters.

With each passing day Goldwater's delegate position seems more impregnable. Barring some tremendous emotional explosion that could shake the whole delegate structure, Goldwater will win going away at San Francisco.

This means that for his one busy month of campaigning Scranton may be honored only for conducting a caretaker operation for the Republican moderates. He may roll up a presentable 400 to 450 votes in the convention, just enough to permit the moderates to persuade themselves Goldwater did not win by default.

BUT THE BLUNT FACT IS, without taking anything away from Goldwater and his hard-working delegate rustlers, that the moderates in 1964 did default.

Scranton's late entry into the battle does not absolve them of this charge. More than a few observers believe that his entry is explained in considerable part by his wish to escape the personal damage done him by the indecision he exhibited at the Cleveland Governors' Conference.

But the portrait of indecision which embraced not just Scranton but all the moderate leaders at Cleveland was merely the dramatic exposure of a condition with deep and distant roots.

As leaders, the moderates do not necessarily constitute a majority of the Republican party. Yet they think of themselves as leading a clear majority of the party faithful.

THIS IS HOW they "led": After John F. Kennedy's assassination they failed to take Goldwater's conservative candidacy seriously. A quick glance, however, would have shown them he still stood to capture at least 250 Old South delegates, the bulk of the mountain area's 108, at least a third of the Midwest's whopping 324.

Knowing full well they had no rival horse, these moderate chieftains rarely if ever talked among themselves, never co-ordinated their ideas, never planned, never realistically appraised possible alternative candidates.

They dreamed fancifully of lucking it through. They counted on Goldwater to beat him in June or fall before New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, whom they all demeaned. They spoke of nomination for Scranton or Richard Nixon with a certainty which bore no relation to reality.

At nearly all times, they were ill-informed. Much of the time they behaved and thought unprofessionally. Some kept excusing their rudeness, desultory performance on the ground a GOP nomination in 1964 "would not be worth much" against a soaring President Johnson.

No true professional in a major party thinks — at least not on company time — of giving away the presidency. But this year the GOP moderates have acted, except for this last frantic dash by Scranton, as if both the presidency and their own cause were worthless.

Barry Goldwater may not be to their taste. Nevertheless, his backers have played the game as if it were worth winning. If the moderates are to be no more than a "presence" at San Francisco, they have no one but themselves to blame.

To The Editor

Editor, The Herald: Since you were kind enough to say I "was right as rain" that the canal traffic could produce equal to a payroll of $1,366,000, would you also agree that the Sanford shad fishing would produce equal to a payroll of $3,650,000.

The present fishing has expended on it 35,000 fisherman days. Say a quarter of these are tourists, that would be 8,750 divided by 24 equals 365 times 100,000 equals $3,650,000 payroll that the fishing is worth to this area.

Don't you think that even a third of this would be worth advertising with a sign someplace saying "Try Our Shad Fishing Jan. 1st-April 15th."

The Door Was Closed

That brooding, dark figure which seems to hover over the Kennedy family has for now been forced to retreat. The skilled hands of doctors and that master physician named Chance have driven him into the mist.

Not seven months after an assassin's bullet struck down his brother, the President, Sen. Edward Kennedy came within a breath of meeting the same fate which befell his sister, Kathleen, and another brother, Joseph Jr.—death by plane crash.

From the crumpled shambles of the twin-engine aircraft he emerged severely injured but alive. Two men with him died.

Now, as his slow but steady recovery seems assured, Edward Kennedy may well be reflecting on those several doors for men to take their lives from the poet John Webster: "I know death hath ten thousand exit."

A nation which recently grieved so deeply now is relieved that those doors—this time—were closed.

Thought For Today

If God hath made this world so fair
Where sin and death abound,
How beautiful beyond compare
Will paradise be found.

Southern GOPs Accept Party Plank On Civil Rights

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Southern Republicans went into the 1964 GOP convention today voicing acceptance of the party's civil rights plank and virtual agreement of Sen. Barry Goldwater as the presidential candidate. "It's a big step in the conservative direction," said Miss

Mississippi's Wirt Yerger of the civil rights plank. "The entire platform is a big victory for conservatism. "The liberals were beaten down on the platform committee and a big factor was Southern leadership," said Yerger, Mississippi state GOP chairman and head of the Southern Association of Republican Party Chairmen.

Florida's 31-man delegation continued to be the only weak link in the Goldwater chain across 11 southern states.

The Floridians went into the convention still torn by an intra-party feud that began earlier this year.

Temper seethed Sunday during the state caucus and the shouting delegates adjourned still heatedly debating the Goldwater-Scranton nomination fight.

Three bodyguards ringed Goldwater when more than 2,000 Southern delegates surged toward the Arizona conservative and pressed him against a wall as he tried to leave the plush Mark Hopkins ballroom after a brief address. "I don't care who the nominee is," said Goldwater. "If he can't get his foot in the door in the South, he's not going any place."

"I hope to see the day when any Republican can get elected in the South and we're going to win that end," he said.

Goldwater, who has never had much trouble piling up Republican strength in the South, also had a word for dissident southern Democrats whom he called "our friends with no place to go better than that devastated house of the new frontier."

the Arizona 270 of 279 delegates in 11 southern states.

A top source in the Alabama GOP confirmed that the state would yield its number one place on the convention roll call balloting and yield the nomination of Goldwater to Illinois.

This source pointed out that Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., has already said he will make the nominating speech for the Arizona senator.

Forest City Drive On

By Maryann Miles

The Forest City Community Association is currently conducting a $5,000 building fund drive to construct a Club House and Recreation Center on a three-and-one-half acre tract of land located at the northeast corner of Lake Harriet Estates in Forest City which was acquired through cooperation of the Seminola County Commission.

Major part of the fund, when collected, will be used for materials since most of the labor will be donated by skilled men from various building trades in the area. The building will give the community a place to vote and to hold social gatherings and other approved functions. Grounds will be developed for recreational activities.

The association is a non-profit organization which was chartered with general purposes and objects to render leadership and assistance in the economic, spiritual and political growth of the community and to promote harmony, good fellowship and a spirit of good will among the citizens.

John B. Bethea is president of the group and Adolph Juhl is finance chairman. Either officer may be contacted for

Between Us Fans

By Sandy Padwe
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — From the way Hayes Jones spoke, it seemed that someone would have to carry him to the starting line and give him a push so he could run in the 110 meter hurdles.

"I'm tired of running," he said. "I'm 25, in pitiful shape and I'm ready to retire."

A few minutes later, this self-proclaimed relic took just 13.4 seconds to gain a spot on the 1964 U. S. Olympic team.

"Well, that's Hayes for you," said Blaine Lindgren who finished second to Jones in both the Olympic trials and the AAU meet. "He knows how to beat you off the track as well as on it. He's a master at psychological warfare."

"What I mean is that he'll come up to you before a race and casually say 'I feel great today' or he might tell you something about being in bad shape. The next thing you know, you're really wondering."

"It took me a while to figure him out. I used to really be nervous and tense around him because he has so much experience and has been around so long. But now I just try and accept it because everyone knows he'll be the favorite any place or any time."

Jones' 13.4 in the Olympic trials equaled his best previous time for the event and was just two-tenths of a second off the world record of 12.2 held jointly by Martin Lauer of Germany and Lee Calhoun of the United States. It also bettered the existing Olympic mark of 13.5, and established him as the favorite for the upcoming Tokyo games.

This means Jones will be the favorite in the Olympic 110 for the second straight time, but he vows there will be no repeat of 1960 when Calhoun upset him in Rome.

"I learned from that," Jones said, "and I have been waiting for nothing else since. This is for me. I'm retiring after the Olympics and right now that gold medal is the most important thing in my life. It is my last chance to prove that I'm the best in the world."

"I was ranked the best in Rome in 1960, but I wasn't ready to be a champion then. I walked into the stadium and saw 100,000 people and lost my composure. Then I lost everything I had worked for. I cannot forget that experience."

Since his upset at Rome, Jones has matured into the best short hurdler in the United States, winning every major championship available. His biggest feat, though, is his indoor winning streak which stood at 58 when the 1964 season ended. It began in 1959.

The streak, however, has had a strange effect on this scholarly fellow from Detroit and Eastern Michigan College.

"It's not easy to keep up that kind of pace," he said. "Actually, I'm tired or racing and I'm losing my interest. I feel I have to divorce myself physically from racing since I was a freshman. When you're No. 1, like that, everyone is aiming at you all the time and you don't have time to breathe."

"But since the indoor season, I've been taking it easier and plan to work myself into shape gradually. I'm still not in true form yet, but I will be by October. Last time I got ready too soon and everyone knows what happened."

"I know it will be a long road to the medal, but I am among the best and have the potential to win."

There are very few track and field people who would disagree with Jones' evaluation because they saw his 13.4 when he wasn't really in peak form and they know what he might do when he is completely ready.

By October, it's possible that he won't even have to use psychological warfare.

Longfellow's "Song of Hiawatha" is considered by some to be the great folk epic of the United States.

SHS Boosters Kick Off 1964 Membership Drive

Harris States Club's Goal Is 1,000 Members

The Seminole High School Boosters Club will kick off its 1964-65 membership campaign Tuesday morning in an effort to enlist the support of 1,000 Sanford sports fans and parents of Seminole students.

The program of the Boosters Club is fairly well known throughout the area but President Roger Harris said today that he wanted to remind residents here that the organization's aim is to support the six organized sports programs at the school plus the work of the school's cheer leaders.

"Memberships," said Harris, "are only $1 per year. Last year there 312 members of the organization and this year we're going to go all out to triple that number."

Harris said he felt that the goal of 1,000 could be reached through promotion and personal contact and that the organization's membership committee was geared to do exactly that.

Chairman of this year's membership committee is Jim Grant, 552 Valencia Dr., Sanford.

"We also have individual committees," said Harris, "who will enlist the aid and support of the parents of youngsters who will participate in the various sports at the school." He listed them as follows: Football—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gray; Basketball—Mrs. Fred Murray; Baseball—Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kuykendall; Track, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Giffith; Golf—Mr. and Mrs. John H. Williams; Swimming—Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Winn; Cheer Leaders—Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wiggins.

In addition to Harris being president of the organization, Julian Stenstrom of the Sanford Herald is vice president, Mrs. Irene Laney is the secretary and Al Lyons is treasurer. Mr. and Mrs. David H. MacGillis are the historians, Mrs. Orville Barke and Mrs. Roger Harris are the hospitality chairman and the executive committee is comprised of the officers plus Principal Andrew Bracken and SHS Athletic Director Fred Ganas.

The chairman of the various sports as listed above comprise an advisory group headed by immediate past president, Dr. Orville Barke.

Harris stated that in addition to the individual memberships at $1 there are family memberships for $2.

Coble Defeats The 'Rebel, Too'

Milo Coble of St. Petersburg, driving a Fairlane Ford, defeated Col. Beecher Wyatt and "The Rebel, Too" in a best three out of five races Saturday night at the Occoala drag strip.

In a Seminole Timing Association affair, Wyatt in his Plymouth won the first event, Coble grabbed the second, Wyatt took the third, but Coble bounced right back to take the fourth and fifth events.

The best time was turned in by Coble and his Ford, 10.27 second for the quarter-mile.

Stage Set For Cage Clinic

DELAND, Fla.—Basketball coaches from throughout the South will convene here Thursday morning when the second annual Stetson University Basketball Coaching Clinic gets underway. Some 150-200 coaches are expected to be in attendance with registrations already received from coaches as far away as California and Texas.

A field of eight basketball experts selected from all levels of play will spend three days lecturing and demonstrating to the attending coaches.

Headlining the talent-laden clinic staff are Babe McCarthy of Mississippi State, Charles "Lefty" Drissell of Davidson, and former Los Angeles Laker star Rod "Hot Rod" Hundley.

While his mates were racking up 10 hits and 13 runs, Sheffield mowed down the Casselberry's Post's would-be hitters one after the other to enter baseball's charmed circle.

Not a single Casselberry player was able to reach first safely as Sheffield and his mates posted the 10 to 0 decision—Sanford's 12th win of the season.

Manager Frank Thomas' boys recorded their 18th Saturday night when they went to New Smyrna Beach and won a 11 to 0 affair. Red Jansen hurled for Sanford during the first four innings.

Angels Are Not Angels In Twin Win Over Twins

By Curt Black
UPI Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Angels are giving Bill Rigney fits and Sam Mele nightmares.

The Angels, along with skipper Rigney, were on top of the baseball world when they jumped on American League rivals for 11 consecutive victories in mid-June for the major's longest winning streak of the season. Then they did an about face and dropped nine of their next 12.

But another reversal of form was in order this weekend for Mele and his visiting Minnesota Twins.

Right-hander Dean Chance blanked the Twins on four hits Saturday while the Angels scored a 1-0 win.

Sunday the Angels took two sudden death decisions from Minnesota, winning 2-1 on Jimmy Piersall's one-out double in the last of the ninth in the opener and 3-2 on Bob Rodgers' two-out 10th inning single in the nightcap.

Angel pitchers limited the Twins' sluggers to one home run during the weekend series. That one was hit in the seventh inning of Sunday's nightcap by rookie catcher Ron Henry, who connected for his first in the majors.

In other American League games, Chicago took two from Kansas City, 3-1 and 11-4. Baltimore won the opener of a doubleheader from Detroit, 4-2 and lost the nightcap, 4-3 in 10 innings. Boston beat Washington, 5-1, in the first game and lost the nightcap 10-3 and the Yankees and Indians were tied 2-2 when the first game of their scheduled doubleheader was rained out.

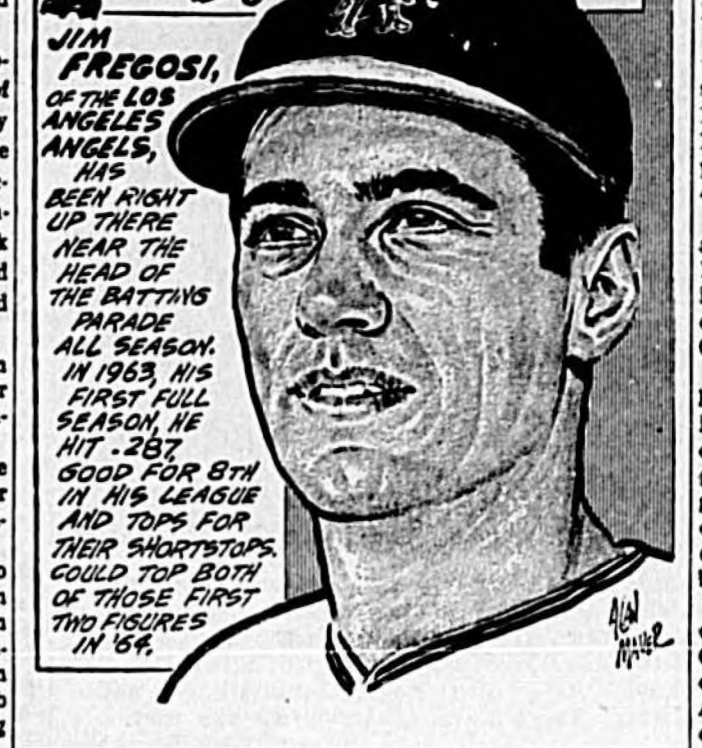

The Orioles clung to a 2 1/2 game lead as Brooks Robinson belted his 11th of the season with a man aboard to break a 2-2 tie in the opener. Luis Aparicio provided an insurance run by singling, stealing on an infield out.

After Baltimore took a 3-2 lead in the top of the 10th of the second game, the Tigers put together a walk, a fielder's choice, a passed ball and two singles to hand reliever Stu Miller his third defeat in seven decisions. Tiger catcher Mike Roarke's two-run single was the winning blow.

Elks Trim Shriners For Tourney Title

The Elks turned the tables on the Shriners last Friday night in the Junior Boys League tournament finals and took the title with a 3 to 1 decision over the league champions.

Dudley was tagged with the loss despite the fact he whiffed 16 and walked seven.

The score by innings:
Shrine 000 001-1-3 2
Elks 000 300-3-1 1
WP—Maples, LP—Dudley.

After giving up a pair of hits to the Shriners in the first frame, Maples allowed on one other during the last six innings and issued but three walks in hurling the Elks to the tourney title.

The Elks did all their scoring in the fourth stanza. Two costly Shrine miscues plus a ball and four walks provided

The Philadelphia Phillies are getting the same diet as the New York Yankees, plus Hank Aaron.

Milwaukee fed the Phils two more lefthanders Sunday in the person of rookie Wade Blasingame and veteran Billy Hoft and dropped Philadelphia out of first place with 4-3 and 6-2 setbacks.

The defeats were the third and fourth in a row for the Phils, the previous two being inflicted by Cincinnati hurlers Joe Nuxhall and Jim O'Toole, both southpaws.

Aaron collected a pair of hits in both games and drove in a total of three runs as he extended his consecutive game hitting streak to 16 games and increased his career hit total to 2,000 with a second game fourth inning double.

Houston nipped San Francisco, 5-4, the Mets topped Cincinnati, 1-0 and 5-1, Chicago took the first 'om Los Angeles, 6-3, then lost the second game, 6-2, and St. Louis was rained out at Pittsburgh in the National League action.

Role Of Convention Delegate Is Rugged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — How does someone get to be a delegate to a national political convention?

Milton W. King, one of nine District of Columbia delegates to this year's Republican National Convention in San Francisco isn't quite sure himself. "To tell you the truth I don't really know how I was chosen," he said.

AND HOW!—The legend of Hiawatha is bigger than life-size in northern Michigan, and the 50-foot statue of the legendary Indian immortalized by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow in "The Song of Hiawatha" fits the image well. It has just been placed in Ironwood, Mich., by the Chamber of Commerce to boost promotion of scenic attractions in the area.

Duncan Named Coordinator

James T. Duncan, Orlando, has been named convention coordinator for the 21st Annual Convention of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association.

Duncan, manager of the FFVA's transportation and communication division, will have charge of all arrangements for the September 21-24 meeting in Miami Beach.

The annual convention attracts some 1,500 members and guests from all parts of the United States and several foreign countries.

Meeting Delayed

The RVIII-5 enlisted Men's Wives Club meeting, originally scheduled for tonight, will be held instead at 7:30 p.m., next Monday, in the Acey-Deucey Club.

The Gregorian calendar was made up by Pope Gregory XIII in 1582, to correct the Julian calendar of Julius Caesar.

Actually, it's not all that mysterious.

After making a couple of telephone calls to party headquarters, King found out that he and the other eight delegates had been picked to run in the primary by a nominating committee of the District of Columbia Republican Central Committee. The nine nominees were unopposed in the primary although anyone else could have been on the ballot by collecting 100 signatures.

Aside from the mechanics, King, as are many delegates, was selected as a sort of reward for his work, support and financial contributions to the party.

King is a 73-year-old lawyer via Princeton and Georgetown. He has long been active in Republican circles, although he says he "doesn't take politics very seriously." He also is a vice president and general counsel of the Washington Redskins of the National Football League.

He was elected an alternate delegate to the 1960 Republican Convention in Chicago. He found himself a delegate three days before the convention when a delegate fell ill. As King points it, being a delegate isn't all sunshine and roses.

"As a delegate, I have the 'privilege' of working for the party, contributing money to it, and paying my own way to the convention," he said. "Quite a privilege, wouldn't you say?"

But King does take his job seriously. He said he has, ever since his wife lectured him on the importance of being a delegate in 1960.

The District of Columbia delegation has voted to go uncommitted. But five of the delegates say they like Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, two favor Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, and two, including King say they haven't made up their minds. "I don't see any reason to be committed before the convention if you don't have to be," King said. "Too much can happen before we all leave for San Francisco."

King had been a Goldwater man but recently has been taking a second look. He said he had been deluged with telegrams urging him to vote for Scranton but that he was not going to be easily swayed.

Mrs. King won't be making the trip. One of the reasons, King said, is that she has been doing a lot of traveling recently and "doesn't want to look at another suitcase for a while."

Another reason could be that King had just received a letter giving him the "privilege" of contributing $500 to help elect Republican senators and representatives in November.

WITH ... Dottie

DEAR FRIENDS:

What are y'all doin' out there in reader-land? What ever it is, we're getting left out. We've been out of circulation too long — lost touch with so many of you who used to keep us informed.

Don't mean who went over to visit the folks last weekend, or so and so went shopping in Orlando, or so and so is visiting for a weekend. That's country village kind of stuff.

Tell me about the people who are doing something important. Something for others. Something to make the world a better place in which to live.

The unusual things — the interesting sidelights. The human interest story — the unsung heroes and heroines. These are the people we want to know about.

WE'RE DISAPPOINTED that we didn't get to tell you about a charming and lovely lady we know who does so many nice things for others — who is always smiling, helpful, kind and interested. Some most peculiar circumstances prevented using her story. But when I tell you that the governor of her home state once named her an honorary Ambassador of Good Will you'll get an idea of what an interesting personality she is.

Maybe later, we hope.

SIDELIGHTS ON INDEPENDENCE DAY: July 4th was Labor Day for the Lions Club. To a man, they all worked hard to make their Fun Fair a big success ... and it was.

The bell on the old fire engine never ceased to clang as children clambered over it all day long, and all the swings in Fort Mellon swung briskly to and fro, the seesaws went up and down and in between the rides on the horses and the train, happy youngsters munched hot dogs, slipped snow cones and soft drinks.

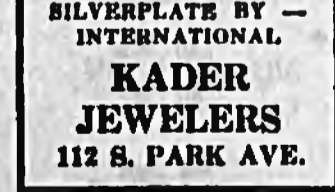

A feeling of excitement filled the air, shouts of merriment, the aroma of popcorn and hot dogs, the screams and laughter of children on a holiday.

A show-stopper occurred when Princess Vijaya and her husband, Bill Boutwell strolled through the park late in the afternoon, to see how small town America celebrates Independence Day.

The crowds stopped what they were doing to watch the Princess and your reporter watched the crowds watching her.

One excited man said to his wife, "I've got to see who this is," as he edged closer for a better look.

He came back and exclaimed, "She's a real Indian!"

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We live in a project. In summer we keep all our windows open and so do the neighbors. There is a kid next door who takes violin lessons. He's about 11, and he practices all the time, but he doesn't seem to improve any. I always thought the teacher gave the kids a new piece every week. Well, something is wrong here because this kid has been playing HUPFRESQUE all summer. I saw his father on the street and said, "Your Marvin sure practices a lot. I hear him night and day." His father said, "Don't complain. It's free. Some day you'll have to buy a ticket to hear him play." I don't want to file a complaint, Abby, but that kid is really disturbing my peace. Any suggestions?

A NEIGHBOR DEAR NEIGHBOR: If Mother Love is "blind," Father Love is "deaf." Buy Marvin mute, or buy yourself some ear plugs until it's time to buy the "ticket."

DEAR ABBY: I have a very dear friend whose feelings are easily hurt. It seems that anything I buy, be it furniture, toys for the children or clothes, she always ends up with one like it. This has been going on for a long time. Our husbands work together and we go around in the same crowd. I suppose I should be flattered that she likes my taste so much, but people are beginning to call us "THE GOLD DUST TWINS." How can I solve this problem without ruining our friendship?

A "GOLD DUST TWIN" DEAR GOLD: You cannot possibly tell your friend that you resent her copying you without hurting her feelings. Either do your shopping out of the city, or tell her how you feel about this "Kate and Duplicate" routine and be prepared to write off the friendship.

DEAR ABBY: The woman who boasted that she taught her children to inquire (on the telephone), "WHOM is calling, please?" needs to go back and study her elementary grammar. Doesn't she know that WHOM is objective, and it should be "WHO is calling, please?" Did she tell you what the response to their "WHOM is calling, please?" was? CURIOUS DEAR CURIOUS: No, but it was probably, "It's ME!" DEAR ABBY: I am not asking for advice, I just want to cry on your shoulder, and hope that the right people read this and do something about it. I am living with my oldest married daughter, and a married son, but this daughter is the only one who knows she has a mother. I make my home with her as I am a widow. I realize every family needs to be alone once in a while, but I have nowhere to go. I wish some of my other children would invite me for a weekend, or even a night, but they don't. I am not independent. I am not able to earn my own living. I have nothing. Sign me—

Reds Bolster AA Defenses

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Communist Pathet Lao forces are busily reinforcing their anti-aircraft defenses as a result of recent hammering from royal air force F-4 fighter-bomber attacks, informed sources said today.

Neutralist military sources reported the sighting of a new battery of four 37 millimeter anti-aircraft guns that have been moved into the Phou Kout area on the western edge of the Plain des Jarres.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

"Always cover an honor with an honor," is a pretty good rule, provided you change the word "always" to "most of the time."

One time when you should not cover is when your honor will be sacrificed when you do and when the honor may turn out to be of value to you if retained.

If South covers the queen of spades with dummy's king, he may win that trick. Once every year or two, someone leads the queen from ace-queen against a four-heart contract. This isn't one of those once a year occasions and the ace is sitting back of dummy's king. If you cover, you will lose that first spade trick and assuming the defense doesn't fall apart you

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

News item with a London dateline: "British doctors and psychiatrists are combating an ailment reported spreading among housewives—wom-on who find themselves mentally unable to leave their homes without suffering attacks of the weeps and the shakes."

Well, that's one ailment we don't have to worry about crossing the Atlantic and attacking the women of America.

If there's one thing that housewives in this country do at every opportunity it's GET OUT OF THE HOUSE.

The American woman's dread of being housebound has resulted in the second car's becoming a modern day necessity; in the cult of togetherness that takes mama along wherever papa goes; in the spread of women's clubs and organizations that keep housewives on the go.

The American woman is so bent on avoiding cabin fever that she much prefers to meet with a group of women to hear a book review than to stay at home and read a book. She would rather go to a meeting of her garden club than weed her flower bed. She can't resist helping to form a ladies' auxiliary to any organization her husband belongs to, or a mother's club to any organization that interests one of her children.

It's not having to leave her house that gives the American housewife an attack of the weeps and the shakes. It's being forced by cruel circumstances — to remain housebound for a week or two that gets her down.

There are probably husbands in this country who wouldn't mind if their wives did get a mild case of stay-at-homeitis. But they shouldn't get their hopes up. It can't happen here.

Horoscope Forecast

TUESDAY, JULY 14, 1964
GENERAL TENDENCIES:
 A day to sit back and consider what you can do to improve your relationships with everyone by being more cooperative and thoughtful and by doing the little things which will bring pleasure and enjoyment to all. Your sense of neat touch and artistic ability can now be expressed easily.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Contacting partners and showing that you will cooperate fully in practical affairs is wise. Success follows such a course. Hobbies are best relegated to the evening.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Getting all duties at hand done in a way that co-workers approve brings fine help from them. Later, get small gifts that they will like. Show gratitude and you advance.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Perfecting any particular talents you may have will bring increased profits soon. Practical ideas are yours. Joining with the right people brings an early upsurge, too.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Getting into the most fundamental aspects of your affairs quickly reveals if all is in the order you want it to be. Make plans far into the future. Long talks with allies bring cooperation.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) It would be a good idea to show your affection for those you truly like in some tangible way. Reconcile if there have been any altercations in the past. Plan a happier, more profitable future.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) Elevating your consciousness to bigger things soon makes your success more palpable. Meet persons who are successful, stimulating. They can help much with your aims.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Better take inventory now and see who is helpful, who is not, what is needed, what is superfluous. Make needed changes. Beautify surroundings. Be sociable in PM.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) If you use diplomacy with others, they will come through with vital data you need at this time. Don't alarm anyone. Look forward to a romantic evening with mate.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Good friends can be relied upon to assist you with your legitimate goals now. Be sure to get out socially and make new contacts. Fine business arrangements can be in the offing.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) Be open to the fine opportunities in the active world about you and others quickly help you to capitalize on them. Be loyal to higher-ups. They then give further support.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) A novel approach toward present goals is required and then you can act with swiftness tomorrow. Find new source of helpful information. Travel if necessary to get it.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) By willingly offering to do difficult work, you find that others appreciate you more. New and better associations are formed. Be truly devoted with husband or wife in PM.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be one of those individuals who likes whatever is artistic, charming, not too difficult to understand or execute, and there is an underlying sense of humor that is very infectious. Cultural attainments are the all-important things in this life, so give every advantage possible.

"The Stars Impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Republican Ranks Split Over Platform

By William J. Eaton
 United Press International
 SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Republican Convention was split today over a Goldwater-dominated party platform that promised a new cold war militancy but lacked enough muscle on home-front issues to satisfy Scranton backers.

As expected, the document emerged as a symbol of the broader power struggle between the forces of Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. William W. Scranton for, what one Republican termed, "the soul" of the party.

Anti-Goldwater forces promised a floor fight Tuesday night, to insert into the platform stronger language on civil rights, "extremist" political action groups, and presidential control of nuclear weapons.

The preliminary draft of the platform was written by the GOP Resolutions Committee during two week-end sessions wracked with conflict. It left these dominant impressions:

—The committee draft was a total victory for the Goldwaterites which the Scranton supporters seemed unlikely to reverse in a convention floor showdown.

—The most prominent theme was the new non-nonsense attitude toward dealing with the Communist bloc nations—a much tougher statement than the 1960 platform pronouncement on the subject.

—The platform endorsed the 1964 civil rights law, but devoted less space to the civil rights struggle than the document adopted by the GOP convention four years ago.

—The committee draft turned down Scranton's request to reaffirm the constitutionality of the civil rights law, but instead pledged:

"Full implementation and faithful execution of the civil rights act of 1964, and all other civil rights statutes, to assure equal rights and opportunities guaranteed by the constitution to every citizen."

Scranton's backers focused their attack in this area because Goldwater voted against the civil rights bill. They probably will seek to insert into the document a stronger commitment than "full implementation and faithful execution" of the statute.

On the question of political extremism, the 8,500-word platform was silent except for a gibe at the Democrats it accused of being "federal extremists." Pro-Goldwater forces beat back attempts by the Scranton-led bloc to place the GOP on record against extremist groups on the right and left, particularly the John Birch Society.

The platform committee also spurned efforts by the Scranton group to assert the GOP's belief that the president should control the use of all nuclear weapons. Goldwater has contended that the NATO commander should be given greater supervision over use of tactical nuclear arms in case of a surprise attack.

The conservative forces which dominated the platform drafting did not adhere strictly to the Goldwater handbook on all domestic issues, but on foreign policy it was the senator's viewpoint all the way.

It preached "victory for freedom and stressed the finality of the current cold war struggle. "There can be no peace, there can be no security, until this goal is won," the platform said.

"As long as Communist leaders remain ideologically fixed upon ruling the world, there can be no lesser goal," it added. "This is the supreme test of America's foreign policy. It must not be defaulted."

The accomplish "total victory" the pro-Goldwater platform cited:

—The threat of withdrawing diplomatic recognition from the Soviet Union in order to get Communist concessions.

—Establishment of sensible, continuing reviews of the nuclear test ban treaty. This section contained the same lingering doubt that the treaty is a tactical disadvantage that was expressed by Goldwater in voting against it.

A cold war strategy emphasizing the attack. It advocated pressing more "decisively" for victory in South Viet Nam, recognition of a Cuban government in exile and reorganization of the United Nations.

TONIGHT YOU'LL SEE this place, the Cow Palace in San Francisco, filled with delegates to the Republican national convention. Some lively action is expected over the party platform. A workman in the picture is preparing the state flag of New York to be hoisted as a decoration.

Scranton forces evidently were hoping that they could point up what they consider deficiencies in the platform during a convention floor debate viewed by a nationwide television audience.

There were reports that they were prepared to use their "biggest names" in such a fight, including New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, and Michigan Gov. George Romney.

However, the big fight may very well shrink to the status of a minor skirmish that will end almost before it starts. Goldwater forces who control the convention were expected to have the parliamentary authority to determine how long the debate will continue.

The Scranton camp was reported pressing for at least three hours of talk. However, those in the seat of convention power were disposed to allow only one hour debate for all proposed platform changes—30 minutes for each side.

Ike Holds To Convention Neutrality

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower persisted in his convention neutrality today but was "grateful" to Gov. William W. Scranton for sparking a Republican platform debate.

Bowing Sunday night as a GOP convention commentator for the American Broadcasting Co., Eisenhower refused to take sides in Scranton's seemingly futile battle with Sen. Barry Goldwater for the party's presidential nomination.

The general confessed that "things didn't develop the way I hoped they would" in

Slayer's Girl Asks Release

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—Attorneys for Caril Ann Fugate, who as a teen-ager made the homicidal rounds with mass-killer Charles Starkweather, were seeking her freedom today under a recent U. S. Supreme Court ruling that could open prison doors across the nation.

Miss Fugate is currently serving a life term in the Nebraska Women's Reformatory at York. After her conviction on a first degree murder charge, Starkweather was executed for one of 11 slayings he was involved in.

Miss Fugate, who is now 20, argued in a petition filed in U. S. district court at Lincoln Thursday that her constitutional rights were violated after her capture and during her 1958 trial. She was 14 at the time.

She was found guilty of helping slay Robert Jensen, 17, Bennet, Neb., Jensen's girl-friend Carol King, 17, Bennet, was also found dead, and originally the prosecution announced it intended to try Caril on a charge involving the girl's death.

Miss Hicks 4th In Contest

By Jane Casselberry
 Miss Paula Hicks of Altamonte Springs, Florida's entry in the "Miss Smile, U.S.A." contest held this weekend at Cypress Gardens, was third runner-up for the national title.

Winner was 17 year old Joe-Ann Sedars of Clear Lake, Iowa. First runner-up was Jane Olmstead of the University of Kentucky and second runner-up was Jan Phelps of Colorado Springs, Colo.

A total of 25 girls representing 19 states participated in the contest.

Tshombe Sworn As Premier

LEOPOLDBVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Moise Tshombe began his first week as premier of the Congo which he once fought in a vain two-year war of secession.

Tshombe, former president of Katanga, pulled that province out of the newly-independent Congo just four years ago. United Nations forces eventually ended the secessionist movement and Tshombe went into exile in Europe.

He returned only two weeks ago when President Joseph Kasavubu asked him to form a new central government for the rebellion-ridden country.

Spotlight Turned On Sanford Waterfront Possibilities

WEATHER: Sunny and warm today and Wednesday with widely scattered showers; high today 90-95; low tonight in 70s.
 VOL. 56 United Press Lensed Wire Established 1908 TUESDAY, JULY 14, 1964 SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 233

Three Development Proposals Placed Before City

WATERFRONT DEVELOPMENT PLAN, as developed by Architect John Burton IV is shown above. In the upper left hand corner is the present bandshell and breakwater. To the right is the proposed yacht basin, showing a centered landfill area, which would be constructed from dredging, on which would be constructed a yacht club, marine service facilities and driveways. The entrance to this is at Sanford Ave. To the right of this is the proposed 25 acre landfill area, also filled by dredging, on which could be constructed a motel restaurant and night club, with ample parking, and garden park area. In the right foreground is another yacht club boat-basin area, proposed in the long range development plan. Entrance to this would be on the east side of the Mayfair Inn, (which is the large building seen in the photo.)

Council Calls Study Session

After years of being ignored, Sanford's undeveloped waterfront was suddenly the focus of attention at Monday's City Commission meeting as three different groups presented proposals for doing something about it.

Commissioners took no action after hearing all the proposals. Mayor A. L. Wilson set a closed session meeting to mull over the proposals at 8 p. m. Thursday.

George Touhy, spokesman for the "Banker's group" pointed out that it was entirely possible that all three proposals could be dovetailed in such a way that all could be used.

"But," he pleaded with commissioners, "we urge that you not consider leasing any portion of the waterfront to any private parties, until you have decided on a comprehensive, over-all, long range development plan which will make all plans a part of the whole."

(It was pointed out that members of the "banker's group," including George Touhy, T. E. Tucker, Howard Hodges and John Burton had put up more than $6,000 to develop the plan which they presented to the commissioners Monday. Burton's offices were not "hired" but participated on an equal basis with the others.) Francis Roumillat, former president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and John Krider, executive director, were instrumental in the formulation of the plan.)

Commissioner Joe Baker insisted that he could not see how leasing to one of the smaller groups would be detrimental but this aroused a storm of protest from the packed auditorium.

Members of the commission floor agreed that the waterfront development program as presented by the "banker's group" was a "tremendous plan" and all said that they were "in favor of it."

John Krider, Seminole County Chamber of Commerce manager pointed out to commissioners,

"The only guarantee you have from these private groups is a rental of $1 a year for three years. They may never show any profit—and you have tied up the waterfront for 40 years for $3!"

"Our group, (the banker's) are not proposing this plan with the idea of any financial profit to ourselves. We want to see Sanford put on the 'map' in a big way; we want to create an entirely new image of the city; we don't want to see the city lose control of the greatest asset we have, our waterfront, by chopping it up and parceling it out to small private investors, who are interested in personal gain," he pointed out.

Spokesman for one of the other "group," (which were never identified by names) James Chapman protested (Continued on Page Three)

A Page Of Facts

A waterfront development program, aimed at "creating an entirely new image of Sanford" was presented for the first time in public at the meeting of City Commissioners Monday.

This long-range plan is of such scope and magnitude that the Herald is devoting an entire page to attempting to present it as fully as possible to our readers.

This is the so-called "Banker's Plan," because it was originated by three local bank executives, George Touhy, T. E. Tucker and Howard Hodges, working in conjunction with John Krider, Seminole Chamber of Commerce manager, and John Burton, IV, architect.

This plan involves an over-all development program for the entire waterfront from Park Avenue to Melonville Avenue, involving half a million dollars and remaining under municipal control.

Two other plans which were presented to the City Commission involve only the present boat basin area and the old bandshell pier with a financial outlay from private capital of about $25,000 each.

One of these plans was presented by the "Chapman group," headed by James Chapman, architect, and the other by Ansel Snow and Grover Todd.

These proposals will also be defined separately in other stories on this page.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Think Big

They thought BIG! Nearly every one of Florida's major cities has grown and developed around some major feature or well known attraction.

Only a few of them have become great economic centers such as Jacksonville, Tampa and Orlando.

The majority of them have some other feature of attraction which keeps them in the limelight and draws their share of the valuable tourism dollar that means so much to the basic economy of the area.

Sarasota, for example, has the Ringling Museum, Ocala has Silver Springs, Daytona its world famed beaches, Miami Beach its resort hotels and top flight entertainment plus its thoroughbred racing.

Sanford has tried everything that's come along without success — mainly because it's never thought BIG enough to develop its one and only major asset, the St. Johns River.

After 100 years of toying with one idea after another concerning the river, after 100 years of talk, the moment of truth has arrived.

Sanford's banking institutions—coincidentally Sanford's critical downtown situation—have "engineered" a plan which will accomplish a host of things.

The marina and lakefront center will provide Sanford with a major attraction, it will develop one major aspect of the river, it will revitalize the downtown economy, and it will enable Sanford eventually to become the inland boating capital of Florida, a new phase of tourism.

It's BIG. There's no doubt about that. But if Sanford wants to be BIG in this day and time it must THINK BIG and do BIG things.

The development of Sanford's lakefront is the answer!

Waterfront Locations Attract Industries

Development of industrial waterfront facilities on waterside sites boomed in the second quarter of 1964. The American Waterways Operators, Inc., reported today.

The inland water carrier association attributed the surge of plant construction along navigable waters, in part at least, to the desire of management to take advantage of low-cost barge transportation for handling bulk-loading commodities.

Production industries constructed or announced plans to construct or expand 137 plant facilities along navigable waterways during the second quarter of 1964. This compares with 95 such facilities in the first quarter of 1964.

Layout Of Lakefront Project Described

A group of Sanford businessmen, headed by three local bankers, endorsed by the manager of the Chamber of Commerce and several other of the most progressive and forward-looking citizens have presented to the City of Sanford Commissioners a plan, the magnitude of which has never been proposed in the history of the City.

Their aim is to prevent the Sanford business area from slipping into obscurity and halting the economy in the city's future. The project, as presented, proposes construction of lake front facilities extending from the former location of the band shell eastward to a point approximately in line with Melonville Ave.

It is proposed that facilities would be developed to accommodate yachts from a size of approximately 30 feet and up, in a yacht basin.

Small boat anchorage would be provided in connection with the present area, bounded by the former bandshell bulkhead and the newly created breakwater constructed by the City.

The plan envisions the accommodation of approximately 150 yachts in the new basin.

At the same time, it is proposed that a new land-fill project in the basin will provide area for service buildings to provide for the requirements of the boats therein as well as a small private club for the use of the yacht owners and local interested parties.

Cost Estimated At $500,000

How much is it going to cost?

This is the first and major question to be asked of the proposers the waterfront development presented to the City Commissioners.

Briefly, it is estimated at about $500,000.

The figures were derived from inquiries and investigations made by the office of John A. Burton IV, architect, who designed the waterfront development project.

Burton's offices retained the services of an engineer who was responsible for the design and construction of the Daytona Beach Yacht Basin, along with various other facilities of a similar nature in the state.

The half million dollars would be spent by the City to constitute the original yacht basin and the land fill area. It includes such items as water service, electric service, sewage service, construction of bulkheads, pumped in land areas, construction of docks and piers.

The actual design of the piers and docks has already been formulated, and the figures are prepared to be well within reason.

Bankers' Letter To Council Backs Plan

Three Sanford bankers, concerned over the future of the city's business area, searching for a way to stop the downward trend, stem the flow of business away from the city and bolster a sagging economy, put their heads together and came up with an idea.

They feel that the greatest untapped resource of the City of Sanford is in the waterfront, which is not just another lake, but a waterway, leading all the way to Jacksonville and on up to Jacksonville and on up to Jacksonville.

They have come up with a feasible, financially possible plan to develop that waterfront—and do it in big way—a way that will put Sanford on the map—will draw people and money from everywhere.

Here, in its entirety is their co-signed letter to the City Commissioners which accompanied the presentation of their plan:

Gentlemen:
The Sanford Atlantic National Bank, Florida State Bank and First Federal Savings and Loan Association, as a further indicator of intense interest in municipal development of Lake Monroe facilities, have carefully investigated the financing feasibility of the project.

We feel that such development is financially feasible and that necessary financing can be obtained by utilization of a pledge of the revenues derived from the Florida Power and Light Company franchise. The anticipated revenues and the life of the franchise would appear to be sufficient, if economic conditions remain unchanged, to make the sale of the $500,000 certificate issue a bankable transaction.

We would like to impress you with the vital interest of all three organizations in this project and to assure you of our wholehearted cooperation in planning, design and financing.

Very truly yours,
George Touhy, executive vice president, First Federal
