Hamilton To Open Unfinished

Although construction of half of the new Hamilton Elementary School in Sanford is not completed, the $4.5 million facility will open Monday on schedule for 714 kindergarten through fifth graders.

The Seminole County School Board, Wednesday night, in line with architect Larry Deryberry's recommendation, declared two of the school's wings "substantially completed" to permit the school to open for students on schedule.

School attorney Ned Julian Jr. said the declaration of "substantial completion" means that the school district is responsible for insuring the safety of the children in the completed buildings.

School Superintendent Robert Hughes said two of the three wings at the school will house all the students initially and the third wing should be ready for use before Sept. 12.

The "core area" — the administrative offices, media center, multi-purpose room, food service, dining area and computer room — is expected to be completed construction by Oct. 1.

The contractor, Graham Construction Co. of Orlando, said the construction was not finished by the Aug. 1 deadline because of a labor shortage and because of the rainy weather, said schools spokesman Karen Coleman.

The ultra-modern school plant of concrete block with brick exterior and sloped metal roof, is located immediately behind the school administration office at 1211 Mellonville Ave.

While bus traffic on opening day is to enter the school grounds from the Celery Avenue side, driving parents may enter from Eighth Street, Mrs. Coleman said.

Carem Gager, Seminole County educator for more than 20 years, most recently principal of Pinecrest Elementary, said Hamilton will be the first new school he has opened as principal.

He said he expects the opening to go "beautifully. We're ready," he said.

Auto Train To Go Daily

After a year of thrice weekly Auto Train service between Sanford and Lorton Va., Amtrak announced today it will begin daily arrival and departure service between the cities starting Nov. 1.

Oble R. Moore III, manager of Auto Train planning and development for Amtrak, said the company had considered starting the daily service in March but decided to keep the service profitable and wait until the beginning of its fiscal year in November. Because of a financial agreement with the federal government, which has assisted Amtrak, the company has to run the autotrain profitably to continue the service.

Moore said the company may be hiring a few people to accommodate the step-up in service. He said the largest impact locally will be a large increase in the number of people and their money brought to the area on a daily basis.

"It's good for us and our business people," Jack Horner, president of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, said today. "It will add employment, bring people into the area.

"When 500 people get off the train we get our share."

John Jacobson, of Amtrak's Corporate Communications Office in Washington D.C., said the postponement from March to November was made out of caution. He said the company did not want to jeopardize the future of Auto Train by expanding too rapidly.

Moore said Auto Train has carried 140,000 passengers since Nov. 1 and has run up to 90 percent capacity. It can carry 497 people and 284 cars, Moore said.

Trains depart in each direction a 4:30 p.m. and arrive at 9:30 a.m. Northbound departures are scheduled on Wednesday, Friday and Sunday, southbound on Tuesday Thursday and Saturday.

Virginia-based Auto Train planning and development manager Oble R. Moore III arrived in Sanford this morning to announce Amtrak's plans for daily runs of Auto-Train beginning Nov. 1. His train, he said, was early.

It's Reagan-Bush By Acclamation

By Laurence McQuillan
UPI Political Reporter

DALLAS (UPI) — Ronald Reagan and George Bush, renominated by acclamation by a Republican convention confident of victory, deliver acceptance speeches tonight that cast the GOP as "America's party" in a fight with Democratic "doom and despair."

The 2,235 delegates rattled the nomination of the president and vice president Wednesday night to set the stage for tonight's showcase conclusion of a four-day spectacle without suspense.

"By the time this convention ends, the Republican Party will be well on its way to becoming America's party," Reagan jubilantly declared to ardent supporters waiting for his virtual coronation.

Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, the champion of the right who suffered a crushing 1964 defeat at the hands of Lyndon Johnson, bestowed his blessings on the GOP incumbent.

"In your hearts, you know he's right," Goldwater said of Reagan to the roar of the convention hall — filled with many who trace their political ardor to his own White House bid. The approval echoes Goldwater's campaign slogan of 20 years ago.

The 75-year-old Arizona senator also made a ringing repetition of the declaration he made in his own acceptance speech: "Extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice."

The feisty Goldwater laced his address with attacks on the Democrats, charging: "It has been the foreign policy and defense weaknesses of Democratic administrations that have led us into war."

A dispute has arisen over whether or not the networks should air an 18-minute profile of the president that the Republicans are using to introduce him at tonight's session.

The Democrats contend it is a "lavishly produced political commercial" that is not news, while the GOP calls it a vital part of their program. NBC and CNN have decided to carry the film, while ABC and CBS make up their minds today.

Reagan, standing before a 10-story-tall American flag at a welcoming rally in Dallas Wednesday, lashed out at the "do-nothing Democratic leadership" for blocking his election-year agenda in Congress.

REPUBLICAN

"The American dream begins with opportunity," Reagan said, "and our goal is to build an opportunity society for every man, woman and child. We'll do it because GOP doesn't just stand for Grand Old Party. It also stands for Great Opportunity Party. But lately, it looks like that letter 'D' in their name has come to stand for defeatism, decline, dependency, doom and despair."

As he has at the last two GOP conventions, Sen. Paul Laxalt of Nevada nominated Reagan, lauding his close friend's "character, guts and compassion."

Laxalt asked a national audience: "Whom would you rather have sit down at the bargaining table and negotiate a responsible arms reduction agreement with the Soviet Union? A tough, confident Ronald Reagan, eyeball-to-eyeball with the steely-eyed Soviet masters, or Walter Mondale?"

The first major trouble erupted Wednesday in connection with the GOP gathering. Two-hundred police in riot gear and a backup of mounted officers arrested almost 100 Reagan protesters who plunged through downtown streets, spray-painting obscenities and burning flags in a "vandalistic rampage."

Police were criticized by witnesses for delaying the arrests for several hours while the marchers damaged downtown buildings and streets.

"I'm sorry about the damage, but we've got them and they'll be prosecuted," said Assistant Police Chief Bill Newman.

"They (the protesters) were not dummies," Newman said. "They were marching the wrong way down a one-way street, and we couldn't get a vehicle in (to make the arrests)."

Suspected S. Florida Wife-Killer Captured

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County sheriff's deputies assisted a Broward County sheriff's deputy today in the apprehension of a man accused of murdering his wife three years ago in Broward County.

The suspect was picked up at his Casselberry business this morning and was expected to be booked into the Seminole County jail this afternoon.

Lawmen allege that the man took his wife, Anita Lucia Lopez Keen, 22, of Ft.

Lauderdale, into the Atlantic Ocean about 10 miles east of Ft. Lauderdale, pushed her from their boat and watched her tread water for an hour before she sank and drowned, according to Broward County sheriff's spokesman George Crollus.

Mrs. Keen's body was never found and her husband allegedly tried to collect $200,000 in insurance from two companies that had issued him policies on his wife's life in June 1981, five months before her death on Nov. 15, 1981.

The suspect's brother, Patrick Keen of Orlando, reportedly contacted the two insurance companies on Aug. 9 and claimed that Mrs. Keen had been murdered by his brother, who reportedly had told him about the killing, Crollus said.

On Aug. 16, Keen gave a formal statement to Broward sheriff's investigators, providing details of Mrs. Keen's death, he said.

Broward officials also have a statement from another witness, whose identity has not been revealed, who claims he was told of the plot to kill Keen's wife.

Thirty-six-year old Michael Scott Keen of Orlando has been accused in the case, Crollus said.

Truck Crash Claims Life Of Lake Monroe Man

A Lake Monroe man was killed and a Sanford man and woman injured Wednesday when the truck they were in ran into a moving car from behind and overturned on state Road 46 at Wayside Drive west of Interstate 4.

Dead after being thrown from the vehicle before it overturned is Jack Rash, age and address unknown. Mary Smith, 33, address unknown, driver of the truck, was in stable condition early today in Central Florida Regional Hospital. A second passenger, Steven Cross, 24, address unknown, was treated and released after the accident, according to a hospital spokesman.

According to the Florida Highway Patrol, the trio were traveling westbound on 46 in a Ford pickup truck that ran into the back of a Toyota at 7:34 p.m. The truck swerved left, then right and overturned several times separating the cab from the chassis, according to a FHP spokesman.

Rash was sitting on the right in the cab before he was ejected, a trooper reported.

The driver of the Toyota, Daniel M. Olinger, of 872 Cherry St., Winter Park, was uninjured.

His car received $500 worth of damage.

Charges are pending against Ms. Smith, according to the FHP spokesman.

Rash's death brings to 24 the number of traffic fatalities in Seminole County so far this year.

The last fatality occurred Sunday during a 4-vehicle accident in Casselberry.

NOW Protests In 40 Cities

'Hey, Hey, Ho, Ho; Ronald Reagan's Got To Go'

By United Press International

The National Organization for Women, accusing President Reagan of having "the worst record on women's rights in history," staged demonstrations in 40 cities to protest the president's renomination.

Just hours before delegates at the Republican National Convention nominated Reagan by acclamation Wednesday night, NOW members picketed Republican National Committee offices and Reagan-Bush campaign headquarters from Anchorage, Alaska, to Miami.

In Washington, about 40 NOW members marched in a circle in front of the White House carrying signs denouncing the president. They chanted: "Hey, hey, ho, ho, Ronald Reagan's got to go."

About 60 women — members of the NOW "Truth Squad Against Reagan" — marched in front of Reagan-Bush headquarters in New York chanting "Abortion rights won't go away — you'll find out on election day."

NOW President Judy Goldsmith, carrying a sign saying "In Dallas today, Reagan's gain is women's loss," said: "Reagan is, quite simply, the worst president that women of this country ever had. He's the president with the worst record on women's rights in history."

"We are picketing to protest the extreme right stranglehold on the Republican Party. Its abrupt Reagan-inspired departure from a strong historic commitment to women's rights, and Reagan's current opposition to legislation that would allow women and girls academic and athletic opportunity free of sex discrimination," she said.

Ms. Goldsmith called the Republican platform, which ignores women's issues and the proposed Equal Rights Amendment, "reactionary. It's a very non-representative agenda for the people of this country."

In Trenton, N.J., about half a dozen NOW members demonstrated outside GOP headquarters at noon. Christine Carmody-Arey, president of NOW's New Jersey chapter, said, "Reagan may be a popular man, but he's not been a nice man when dealing with women's issues. We're at war here."

About 20 NOW members in Concord, N.H., dressed in white to honor the traditional color worn by suffragettes, silently protested Reagan's renomination in front of the state's Republican headquarters.

NATION IN BRIEF

Energy Department's Top Nuclear Official Resigns

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Reagan administration's top nuclear power official, accused earlier this year of maintaining a secret multimillion-dollar fund to promote atomic energy, is resigning his government post.

The resignation of Shelby Brewer, assistant energy secretary for nuclear energy, is effective Sept. 1. He will join the nuclear power division of Combustion Engineering Inc., in Stamford, Conn., the Energy Department announced Wednesday.

Brewer came under attack this spring when a key House subcommittee chairman accused him of maintaining a fund of up to $2.5 million annually for "generic tasks and activities" to promote commercial nuclear power.

Rep. Richard Ottinger, D-N.Y., head of a House Energy and Commerce panel, charged that the transfers of funds from other programs under Brewer's supervision were improper and the money was spent in ways that "appear unnecessary, duplicative and poorly managed."

Ancient Ape-Like Bones Found

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Scientists say they have found an unprecedented number of bones of a small ape-like creature that lived 18 million years ago and is considered the common ancestor of humans and monkeys.

An expedition led by Alan Walker of Johns Hopkins School of Medicine and Richard Leakey, director of the National Museums of Kenya, found thousands of bones of the extinct proconsul ape in May and June on the 28-square-mile island of Rusinga in Lake Victoria, Kenya. The find included five 18-million-year-old partial skeletons of the Proconsul africanus, the smallest proconsul species, and the only fossil remains so far uncovered of some other extinct animals.

Specimens found so far were only 60 percent complete and were missing wrist and ankle bones. These bones were present in the latest find, Walker said, and will help scientists get a better picture of the creature's appearance and how it lived.

Terrorists Bomb GE Building

MELVILLE, N.Y. (UPI) — The United Freedom Front, a shadowy terrorist group opposed to U.S. involvement in Latin America, has claimed responsibility for detonating a bomb in a General Electric facility that caused extensive damage but no injuries.

Up to 400 people were forced to evacuate the Huntington Quadrangle building on Long Island Wednesday shortly before the bomb ripped through the four-story building, a spokesman for Suffolk County police said.

The bomb caused extensive damage to the top three floors of the building, but no one was hurt following the 11:21 p.m. blast.

GE is a defense contractor but the FBI and Suffolk County police said they did not know why it was targeted for the attack.

Man Indicted In Assault On Boy, 4

A Sanford man being held without bond in the Seminole County jail has been indicted by a grand jury on a charge of sexually assaulting a 4-year-old boy.

Leon Merton Palmer, 29, of 911 S. Park Ave., was named in an indictment filed Wednesday afternoon.

According to the indictment, requested by Assistant State Attorney Kurt Erlenbach, Palmer allegedly forced the child to participate in oral sex between April and June at Palmer's home.

Palmer was arrested by Sanford police on the charge August 3.

Sexual battery to a child under 11 in Florida is a felony punishable by life in prison.

The grand jury also indicted Palmer on a charge of child abuse involving the same boy. Child abuse is a first-degree misdemeanor punishable by one year in the county jail.

No trial date has been set.

GUNMAN IDENTIFIED

A 22-year-old Sanford man who gave police several aliases when charged with carrying a weapon without a license and battery to a police officer was initially booked into jail as "John Doe," but has since been positively identified.

The man was arrested at 10:15 a.m. Tuesday after being stopped as he walked along 11th Street at Orange Avenue, Sanford. The officer who stopped the suspect reported that he believed the man had a gun. A .22-caliber starter's pistol and a pair of handcuffs was found in his possession during a search, a police report said.

The man reportedly struggled with the officer as he was being charged and was also charged with battery. The man gave police several false names before his identity was confirmed, the report said.

Daniel Maurice Taylor, of 907 E. 8th St., was charged in the case and was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

THREE BURGLARY ARREST

An 18-year-old Sanford man has been charged by Sanford police in connection with three burglaries.

The man was arrested initially at 4 p.m. Monday at the police station after he was linked through a fingerprint comparison to a burglary at 2201 Washington Ave., Sanford. He was charged with burglary and criminal mischief in that case.

Within an hour, additional charges of two counts each of armed burglary and grand theft were added after lawmen determined that the suspect was connected with two burglaries in which two guns were stolen, one at 102 N. Elliott Ave. and the other 1616 4th St., both Sanford, police report.

Willie Roosevelt Brown Jr., who did not give police a street address, was being held in lieu of $25,000 bond.

DUI ARRESTS

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Jerry Joseph Doyle, 29, of 388 Panama Circle, Winter Springs, was arrested at 2:17 a.m. Wednesday after his car was involved in an accident on Melody Lane, Casselberry.

—Mark Gregory Pick, 26, of 310 Shadow Oak Drive, Casselberry, at 6:45 a.m. Tuesday after his car was seen traveling 75 mph on Interstate 4 just west of Lake Mary.

—Robert James Houk, 24, of Route 1, Box 1571, Oviedo, was jailed at 2 a.m. Wednesday after his car was clocked traveling at 80 mph on state Road 419, Oviedo.

—James Arthur Lyr, 50, of Orlando, at 10:42 p.m. Tuesday, after his car was seen speeding and weaving on Interstate 4 just west of Longwood.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS

Two construction sites have been hit by thieves.

Roger S. Rice, 35, of Lake Mary, reported to deputies that $1,480 worth of items including an air compressor, a table saw and a tile cutter were stolen Monday or Tuesday from a home he is building at 632 Longmeadow Circle, Longwood.

In the other incident, a light fixture and two sliding glass door panels were stolen from a home being built by Florida Residential Communities, Altamonte Springs, at 428 Newton Place, Longwood. Those items were stolen between July 27 and Aug. 6, deputies report.

Donald E. Weaver, 53, of 700 Old Mims Road, Oviedo, reported to deputies that a $900 diamond ring was stolen from a window sill in his home Aug. 15 or 16. There was no sign of forced entry to the house, deputies report.

OPEN ACCOUNT FORGERY

A Longwood couple who allegedly tried to open a bank account with a stolen, forged $5,000 check have been charged with forgery, uttering a forged and grand theft.

The pair presented the check at Freedom Bank, 499 E. state Road 436, Altamonte Springs, at about 10 a.m. Monday. Police report that they were called to the scene by suspicious bank personnel. The check, which was drawn on the Com Bank, Longwood, a account of Mohammad S. Behfar, 1135 U.S. Highway 17-92 #6, Longwood, had been reported stolen Tuesday.

The woman suspect denied that the check was stolen and claimed that it was her payment for having spent the night in a motel with Behfar, Altamonte Springs police report.

Arrested at 10:15 a.m. Wednesday at the bank were Patricia Holland Fulton, 30, and Charles Leon Donaldson, 53, both of 1135 Hillcrest Drive #3. Ms. Fulton was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond and Donaldson was released on $5,000 bond. He is scheduled to appear in court Sept. 7.

FIRE THREATENS WAREHOUSE

Firefighters cleared workers out of an abandoned furniture warehouse on First Street in downtown Sanford today after a wire which shorted out threatened to spark a fire.

Fireman Mark Morgan said firefighters cleared the abandoned warehouse, next to Garrett's clothing store, at about 10 a.m. after a wire leading from a pole to the building's power box began smoking.

Morgan said nothing caught fire and added that Florida Power and Light Co. was scheduled to fix the wire later today.

Workers were removing debris from the warehouse's upper level when the wire started smoking, Morgan said. Wood piled on the back of the roof could have caught fire.

When There's No Free Market

The severe food shortage facing most African countries is due in part to a drought considered to be one of the worst in the continent's history. Still, it should be remembered that declining agricultural production has been a serious problem in Africa since 1970. And much of the blame for this alarming trend is due to misguided state-marketing policies that have retarded food production throughout the region.

During the last decade, per capita agricultural production in Africa decreased by nearly 1.5 percent annually. At the same time, food production increased by approximately 0.33 percent in Third World nations as a whole. Then again, many African nations are burdened by a succession of government programs that make farming a losing proposition.

Most African farmers are caught in a double bind: Price controls force them to sell their food to domestic consumers at a huge discount, and the state takes a large portion of their potential earnings through exorbitant export taxes. The net result has been an exodus of farmers to the cities and a shrinking food supply.

Tanzania is a case in point. That country's economy is in shambles because farmers have been heavily taxed to subsidize an urban sector consisting primarily of bureaucrats. Consequently, Tanzania's once-plentiful agricultural production has dwindled, leaving millions of Tanzanians without enough to eat and the government without sufficient agricultural exports to pay for vital imports.

Nigeria is another case. During the early 1960s, it was the leading exporter of palm oil and the world's second largest exporter of cocoa. Today, Nigeria imports most of its food because government planners have driven thousands of farmers off their land with confiscatory tax and price-control policies.

In striking contrast, India, where famine was once a way of life, has an enlightened agricultural program that has produced dramatic food increases during the last decade. New Delhi makes large public investments in irrigation projects, for example, and its lenient tax policies have made farming so attractive that a record harvest is anticipated this year.

India's remarkable victory over famine demonstrates clearly enough that Third World countries can create food surpluses, but only if they allow farmers to make a living wage. Conversely, the African experience underscores the tragic consequences of socialistic interference with the free market.

Presidential Jokes

When President Kennedy would practice backstage for a press conference, he often would give outrageous answers to questions put to him by staff people taking the part of reporters. They all had a great time, laughing it up.

But, even though it was only make-believe, Kennedy said he realized how dangerous it was for a president to make flip remarks that he might, in an unguarded moment, repeat in public.

We're reminded of that by President Reagan's foolish utterance while testing a radio microphone: "My fellow Americans, I'm pleased to tell you we have signed legislation today that will outlaw Russia forever. We begin bombing in five minutes."

What a dumb thing to do! A couple of guys making jokes in a bar is harmless enough, but the president of the United States has got to surrender his right to make wisecracks about war.

"People all over the world are now debating whether Mr. Reagan's joke was more than that — perhaps "an expression of repressed desire," as the newspaper Le Monde of Paris put it.

In many people's minds, the most dangerous aspect of President Reagan's leadership is a predilection for saber rattling coupled with paranoia about communism. It's nothing to joke about.

BERRY'S WORLD

Law enforcement agencies in the greater Orlando area have helped start a new project to spot crime — Mobile Watch. The program uses vehicle drivers from local businesses to watch for suspicious activities.

Developed by the Greater Orlando Crime Prevention Association, Mobile Watch encourages shared responsibility for protecting the community, according to Cynthia Gross, director of Community Relations for the organization.

Service fleet drivers from four companies have been schooled by law enforcement officers to spot and report emergencies and suspicious or criminal activities. Drivers with Florida Power Corporation, Southern Bell, Storer Cable Communications and United Telephone will be watching for possible crimes in progress as they travel their regular service areas. All Mobile Watch reports are relayed immediately to the proper law enforcement agency either directly or through trained company dispatchers.

"Mobile Watch participants are not asked to vary their normal work routine," said Ron Seacrist, Director of Public Safety and Police for the University of Central Florida.

"We don't want them to try to chase or apprehend anyone. That's the law enforcement officer's job. Their role is simply to report what they see, allowing law enforcement to be more effective in preventing and detecting crime and in reacting more quickly," he said.

At training sessions, Mobile Watch Drivers are taught to look for particular signs of trouble, such as someone being forced into a car. They learn how to describe a suspect or vehicle so that the report is accurate and useful for law enforcement personnel. The participants are also trained to report ringing alarms, inoperative traffic lights and suspected drunk drivers.

In similar programs across the nation, police have been tipped off to buildings afire, assaults and burglaries in progress, fleeing hit-and-run drivers and thefts under way in parking lots. Mobile Watch organizers say that their program not only enables law enforcement to respond faster to more incidents, but makes burglars, muggers and other criminals aware that more people are watching and notifying the police for help.

Drivers in the three-month pilot program have been trained by officers from Altamonte Springs, Maitland, Orlando, Winter Park police departments and Seminole and Orange counties' sheriff's departments.

DON GRAFF About That 'Joke'

One Watergate revelation came as no surprise to me.

Wait! Don't go away. This isn't another essay on the decline and fall of a former president. Today's subject is an indiscretion of the current president.

But first, a few words about Watergate, although I have to begin in the early '60s, when I was with Radio Free Europe in Vienna.

Richard Nixon, having lost races for the presidency and the governorship of California, was then in the political wilderness. But his name still made news, and I had been assigned to contact him when he emerged from a tour of Eastern Europe and record for RFE's audiences in the satellite nations his impressions of their homelands.

Which I did, to the intense interest of my wife.

"Well, what was he like?" she asked as I walked in the door that evening.

"He has a dirty mouth," was the immediate response.

A decade later, all those expletives, deleted and otherwise, were no news to me although they were to the American public. I wondered a bit at the time why that should be, since I was certainly not the first in the newsgathering business to have been exposed to the natural Nixon.

Yet to my knowledge, the public had never been told that a public figure who had been under intense media scrutiny as a representative, senator, vice president and presidential candidate had an exceedingly pungent way of expressing himself.

But on to our real subject, which is what strikes me as possibly most disturbing in Ronald Reagan's little joke about bombing the Russians.

The remark, you'll recall, was made during a microphone test. The broadcasting people have an agreement with the White House that such warm-up comments will remain off the record.

The print media are not a party to the agreement, however, and it was through their reports, obtained from sources in the studio, that the incident came to public attention.

Should it have? The president, members of his staff have since reminded us, has a habit of using self-mocking humor.

So he does. There is plenty of public evidence of that. And had his mockery been directed only at himself, there would have been no point in suppressing it or very likely even reporting it.

But it wasn't. It touched an exceedingly sensitive nerve in a vast public.

JACK ANDERSON

Firm Coached On Bailout Strategy

WASHINGTON — My recent columns on the 1978 congressional bailout of General Dynamics, the nation's biggest defense contractor, brought a heated response from the chief government architect of the deal, former Secretary of the Navy Edward Hidalgo.

In a letter to the Washington Post, Hidalgo accused Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., and me of having "concocted an offensively inaccurate fantasy about a worthwhile accomplishment." That "accomplishment" is currently the subject of separate investigations by Proxmire and by a House investigations subcommittee headed by Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich.

Hidalgo's letter deserves a response.

After some soul-searching, I've decided that I may have erred on the side of charity toward Hidalgo. I was also too lenient toward the General Dynamics executives who followed Hidalgo's suggested method of milking the taxpayers for hundreds of millions of dollars in cost overruns on construction of nuclear submarines by the company's Electric Boat Division, in

ROBERT WAGMAN

Ideas May Be Futile

WASHINGTON — President Reagan says he won't consider a tax increase until everything possible has been done to reduce federal spending. And to show that there's still much to be cut, he cites more than 2,000 cost-cutting recommendations made by the Grace Commission.

But while Reagan praises the Grace suggestions, experts say many of them are unworkable, overrated — and, in one case, just plain "stilly."

The Grace Commission was a volunteer presidential task force of some 2,000 businessmen, chaired by 161 top corporate executives and headed by businessman Peter Grace. In two years, the commission examined all aspects of federal spending and produced a 10-foot stack of 47 reports.

The commission said that the 2,478 specific recommendations in the reports would save the federal government $424 billion in the first three years and a total of more than $1.9 trillion by the year 2000.

The reports have been reviewed by government and non-government experts, and most agree that many of the recommendations are sound. But most also say that the panel's cost-savings estimates are "enormously exaggerated," as Herbert Stein, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors for Richard Nixon, put it. Many say that most of the ideas that would save a lot of money would require major policy shifts that are almost impossible politically.

Rudolph Penner, a former Ford administration official, is now the head of the Congressional Budget Office — a post he received because he was the Republicans' choice. In congressional testimony, Penner said that his CBO staff examined many of the Grace recommendations and concluded that the potential savings are "only a small fraction of the amount stated."

Penner noted that the reports' calculations are based on a steady 10 percent annual inflation rate — more than double what's expected. He said that by CBO calculations, if all of the recommendations were adopted today, the actual savings would total just one-third of the task force's estimates.

There are numerous examples. One suggestion, for example, involves the Social Security Administration's employee manual. The SSA manual, which is nearly 25,000 pages long, tells employees how to handle almost any claim-processing contingency. About 45,000 SSA employees have the manual, and almost half of the books are replaced each year. The Grace Commission concluded that the manual is much too detailed for most SSA employees: For most, it said, a 1,000-page manual would be sufficient, and the full manual should go only to about 2,000 supervisors.

The Grace Commission said this would save $83 million in three years. SSA experts don't necessarily quarrel with the change itself, but they say the $83 million figure is "stilly." That total, they say, is greater than SSA's entire printing budget. And, they say, the savings estimates don't include the cost of developing and maintaining the new abridged manual.

The task force suggested that an "overhaul" of federal and military pension programs could save $58 billion — but the administration has already rejected such a suggestion.

Dole's Acid Tongue

By Steve Gerstel

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There's something about a political campaign that starts the acid forming on Sen. Robert Dole's tongue.

Not that the Kansas Republican becomes apolitical in non-election years. It's just that a campaign gives him so many more openings.

And, should there be any doubt, Dole is almost certainly the ablest among all practitioners at the art of taking a few words and verbally slashing to the bone the subject of his ire.

So it came as no surprise that some of the first words from Dallas, site of the Republican Convention, came from Dole and has nothing to do with the GOP conclave.

Instead, Dole, with a supporting cast of one, Rep. Bobbi Fiedler, called a news conference to take on Geraldine Ferraro.

The event occurred a day after Ms. Ferraro confessed she was unable to coerce her real estate husband to make public his income tax forms — an act she had promised soon after being chosen the Democratic vice presidential candidate.

This reversal, Dole proclaimed, "is the first of the Mondale-Ferraro promises being broken."

"The public's interest and the right to know have not changed," Dole said. "Have Mrs. Ferraro's views on disclosure changed?"

That, of course is not vintage Dole. He is much sharper and often crueler on an ad-lib basis when he has not had the time to temper his remarks.

But it certainly is an indication that Dole, by personal inclination or at the behest of the party, is willing, ready and able to do what he does so well — put down the opposition.

In fact, during the few weeks since the Democratic convention, Dole has taken off after Walter Mondale, Geraldine Ferraro and even New York Gov. Mario Cuomo, and the Democrats at large.

When Sen. Dale Bumpers, D-Ark., offered an amendment to the 1985 agricultural appropriations bill that would have called on President Reagan to outline his long-range farm policy before the elections, Dole, as well as some other GOP senators, stepped into the fight.

Sen. Thad Cochran of Mississippi, not as gifted as Dole with words, could only characterize the Bumpers amendment as political.

Dole did much better. He said the amendment "has everything but a Mondale button on it."

Groton, Conn.

Let's set the record straight:

Hidalgo's charge: "Mr. Anderson's reference to a $1 billion bailout of the company is a figure created out of thin air with no relation to reality." He claimed that the settlement involved only $125 million plus $359 million in contract adjustments.

Response: Hidalgo conveniently disregards an additional $332 million in inflation adjustments, future overrun agreements and tax credits, which brought the total to $816 million. Still not enough? He also fails to mention that General Dynamics was paid $300 million up front in cash for progress payments that accumulated during the bailout negotiations.

A staff analysis prepared for Dingell points out that the interest savings the company enjoyed — by not having to borrow the $300 million over the life of the contract — put the total bailout package comfortably over my "thin air" estimate of $1 billion.

Hidalgo's charge: "No one ever claimed that the settlement was necessary as a 'bailout' to save General Dynamics from bankruptcy. ... The Navy witnesses explicitly told Congress that bankruptcy was not an issue."

Response: Internal General Dynamics documents examined by my associate Tony Capaccio make clear that Hidalgo himself tried to push the bankruptcy tactic on company executives, citing the success Lockheed and Grumman had achieved seeking bailouts from Congress on grounds of impending bankruptcy.

According to minutes of a Dec. 21, 1977, meeting, General Dynamics Board Chairman David S. Lewis "expressed serious concern with Hidalgo's approach ... by saying that it was just not in the cards for General Dynamics to be asked to base its request for relief on 'financial disaster' grounds."

Hidalgo then said, according to the minutes, that he had used the Lockheed and Grumman cases "as a guide, and that he had not meant that (General Dynamics) would necessarily have to go as far as those two companies did in pleading virtual bankruptcy."

Minutes of a meeting on Jan. 18, 1978, say that "Hidalgo, without stating explicitly that he was backing off his approach based on 'bankruptcy,' did so by clear implication."

Hidalgo's charge: "I refused to negotiate unless General Dynamics consented to lay bare all its internal corporate books. Then an independent audit by ... Coopers & Lybrand, retained by the Navy at my direction, confirmed the projected overrun ..."

Response: A Proxmire staff study states: "Navy officials and the accounting firm apparently allowed General Dynamics to delete important information from the audit report prior to its publication." In fact, a key stipulation of the outside audit contract was that General Dynamics could review it beforehand for factual correctness.

There must have been a bundle of errors. Marginal notes on the 51-page draft report show that Hidalgo and General Dynamics executives reviewed the "Independent" audit six days before it was issued. At least 17 pages were deleted from the final revision.

IN BRIEF

U.S. Frogmen Dive In Suez To Inspect Suspected Mines

CAIRO, Egypt (UPI) — The United States may reinforce its units already searching the Red Sea and the Gulf of Suez for mines that have damaged at least 18 commercial ships since July 9, the Al Ahran newspaper reported today.

Specially equipped U.S. frogmen dove deep into the Gulf of Suez Wednesday to investigate five suspected mines detected by the USS Harkness, an oceanographic ship that has been scouring the waters for three weeks.

The Gulf of Suez, which links the Suez Canal and the Red Sea, is being searched by four British naval mine-hunters, four U.S. Sea Stallion helicopters aboard the USS Shreveport, the USS Harkness and about 12 Egyptian minesweepers. Eighteen commercial ships have been damaged by the mines.

In the Red Sea, three French vessels and three U.S. Sea Stallion helicopters are searching near the Saudi ports of Jeddah and Yanbu.

Shaky Cease-Fire Holds

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — A shaky cease-fire held early today in Tripoli, the northern Lebanese port where rival Moslem gangs have killed 100 people and wounded 300 others in three days of shelling and shooting.

The cease-fire was said to be holding today after opposing Moslem militiamen reportedly killed 12 people and wounded 33 others Wednesday in a third day of fighting for control of the port, 42 miles north of Beirut.

Radio and newspaper reports said about 100 people have been killed and more than 300 wounded in the fighting, which overshadowed a Cabinet decision Wednesday to lodge a protest in the U.N. Security Council over Israel's 2-year-old occupation of southern Lebanon.

Anti-Apartheid Candidate Wins Mixed-Race Voting

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI) — Anti-apartheid campaigner Alan Hendrickse's Labor Party won a landslide victory in South Africa's first mixed-race elections for a segregated Parliament that excludes the nation's 22 million blacks.

The elections Wednesday were marked by low turnout, firebombings and clashes between police and students protesting the exclusion of the black majority from political power. At least one person was injured while police detained 150 others.

Labor took 52 of the first 55 seats declared. Of the remaining three, one will be decided in a runoff, another was won by an independent and the People's Congress Party won a third.

Labor appeared set to win at least 75 of the 80 seats for a House of Representatives comprised of mixed-race citizens, known as "coloreds."

At least one man was injured near Johannesburg as police used tear gas, buckshot, rubber bullets and plastic whips to disperse groups of up to 500 students demonstrating against the election and the new constitution.

The new constitution creates separate Asian and mixed-race chambers of Parliament to deal with non-political affairs of the respective races, while the whites, who will sit in another chamber, retain virtually absolute power.

It gives limited power to citizens classified as Asian and mixed-race citizens but still excludes the country's 22 million blacks.

Opponents of white-ruled South Africa's apartheid policies had called for a boycott of the Wednesday elections.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Storms responsible for flooding across the Southwest pushed an 8-foot wall of water down a dry gully in New Mexico, sweeping an 8-year-old boy downstream and then out of the grasp of a police officer who tried to rescue him. A search was scheduled to resume today for James Weir, who was playing in an Albuquerque arroyo Wednesday when water produced by up to 1 1/2 inches of rain in less than an hour engulfed him. His two companions escaped unhurt. The flash flood in Albuquerque was part of widespread flooding caused by summer thunderstorms that lingered today over Utah, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico and Southern California. A flash flood watch was posted for northeastern New Mexico and Gov. Tony Anaya ordered the National Guard to ship 5,000 sandbags to Bernalillo, 15 miles north of Albuquerque, to hold back rising waters. In Nevada, Route 376 remained closed through the night because of flooding. Mud and debris forced detours on roads southeast of Reno and high water temporarily closed U.S. 6, east of Tonopah. Three feet of water covered a road in Keeler, Calif.

AREA READINGS (9 a.m.): temperature: 74; overnight low: 69; Wednesday's high: 89; barometric pressure: 30.05; relative humidity: 84 percent; winds: east at 7 mph; rain: none; sunrise: 6:59 a.m., sunset 7:57 p.m.

World Series Columnist

Coaching's A Hard Job

(Editor's note): Curt Carlson is an outfielder for the Altamonte Nationals All-Stars team currently playing at the Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pa. Carlson is a seventh grader at the Altamonte Christian School in Altamonte Springs.

I coach third base. When it's a close game like it was Tuesday against California (2-1 victory), we need every run we can get and we have to get every run we need.

It was exciting being out there before 10,000 people, but it's different when you're coaching than when you're playing. As a coach I try to help the players when they get on base. They have to listen to me when to tag up and when to go.

I think it's harder coaching than playing. Especially Tuesday when every run was so important. When the defense is on the field, everybody in the dugout is nervous because we don't have a big lead. On Tuesday, the players on the bench were just crossing their fingers because we were so nervous and hoping Jimmy Musselwhite would get them out.

It's a nervous time for the manager (Jerrey Thurston) and the coach (Greg Ebbert) too. Coach Thurston is the calmer of the two. During the inning he mostly just watches. Sometimes he'll tell the players where to go defensively. But most of the time he's pretty quiet.

Coach Ebbert gets a lot more nervous. He says to the pitchers, "I'm just a 40-year-old man guys, and if you don't throw strikes I'm going to have a heart-attack."

Walks really bother him. Tuesday, when Jimmy walked a couple guys and got a couple pitches up by the batter's eyes, that really made him nervous.

Another thing I do when I'm coaching third is that I try to steal the catcher's signs. I don't know if I should tell you this, but sometimes when the catcher doesn't block his signals I can get them. When I know a curve ball is coming then a yell the batter's number.

For instance, if Greg James is batting and I see the catcher signal for a curve, I start yelling, two, two, two, two. That way, Greg knows a curve is coming and it gives him an advantage.

Like most players, I would like to be starting. But I know the reason I'm not starting is because we have so many good people on our team.

It's tough not to play, but I usually get to play every other game. It helps when I get up and hit one to the fence like I did against Alabama (in the Southern Regional at St. Petersburg).

Off the field, probably the greatest thing about the World Series is getting together with kids from other countries.

The Koreans are the friendliest and the Panamanians are the unfriendliest. I don't know why that is. The Koreans talk to us and fool around with us like we've been friends for years.

We'll talk American and they'll talk Korean, but, somehow, we understand each other.

I hope we win our game Thursday and then win the championship Saturday. But, if we don't, meeting the players from the other countries will be the most interesting thing we've done at the World Series.

SHS Booster Drive Friday

The annual Seminole High School Boosters membership drive will kick off Friday morning at 9 at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce on 1st Street. The membership drive is for all sports for the 1984-85 school year. Seminole High athletes and cheerleaders will be on hand Friday to get the drive started.

Nationals Battle Hard-Hitting Indiana

South Needs One Win For Series Final

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. — On five occasions, Florida Little League teams have advanced to the title game of the Little League World Series. None of the five, however, has brought a championship back to the Sunshine State.

Today at 2, the Altamonte Springs National League All-Stars will try to become the sixth Florida team to reach the final. Altamonte, representing the U.S.A. South takes on a hard-hitting U.S.A. Central (Southport, Ind.) squad at Lamade Field.

In the other semi-final game, at 5 p.m., Far East (Seoul, South Korea) battles Canada (Cocquittam, British Columbia).

In Wednesday's quarter-final action, the Koreans blanked Latin America (Panama City, Panama) 4-0, and U.S.A. Central outslugged U.S.A. North (Bristol, Conn.) 9-6. Righthander Mike Eder went the distance for Indiana and also powered a two-run homer.

Indiana played shabbily in the field, committing five errors, but a lunging catch by the right fielder saved two runs and ended the game on a positive defensive note.

"Our greatest strenght is our pitching," said Indiana manager Tim Cavanaugh. "Our hitting is our second most valuable strength."

Cavanaugh will go with his son, Kevin, on the mound against Altamonte today. The younger Cavanaugh is Indiana's second best pitcher behind Eder, who now has a 9-0 record. Cavanaugh posted a 4-0 mark as Indiana compiled a 13-0 record prior to Williamsport.

Offensively, Indiana boasts some big and powerful bats. Cavanaugh is a legitimate long ball threat. The rangy left-hander clobbered 24 homers during the regular season, then socked 11 more during the playoffs. Four of those came during the Central Region when Southport turned back a tough Chicago Jackie Robinson West team, 6-2.

Drawing the mound assignment for Altamonte will be Aaron Iatarola. The left-hander has been spectacular since he made his first tournament appearance in the division playoffs against Oviedo when he and

U.S.A. West catcher Jason Halladay gets ready to put the tag on Altamonte's (U.S.A. South) Chris Radcliff. Radcliff was out by a long shot on this play but Altamonte Springs upended the West (Los Gatos, Calif.) 2-1 on Tuesday. The victory moved Altamonte into today's 2 p.m. semi-final against the U.S.A. Central (Southport, Ind.). A win today would put the Nationals in the Little League World Series championship game on Saturday.

Chris Radcliff combined for a no-hitter.

Iatarola later pitched another no-hitter by himself and hurled five innings of no-hit baseball against Lake Charles, La., before yielding a single in the final inning. He finished with a one-hit, 10-1 victory.

The 12-year-old lefty had a decent regular season on the mound, but was better known for his powerful bat. Upon joining the All-Stars, pitching coach

Baseball

Greg Ebbert taught the 5-4, 122 pounder a devastating curve ball which has turned Iatarola into a superb hurler.

"When we first started practice with these guys, we figured Aaron would be our fourth or fifth pitcher," said Altamonte manager Jerrey

Thurston. "But he has shown tremendous progress and is now one of the best we have."

If the Nationals get past Indiana today, they will play the winner of today's 5 p.m. game between Korea and Canada. Korea is a heavy favorite in that game although it will be making its first appearance in the title game with a victory. Taiwan has been the Koreans' biggest obstacle, dominating the Far East for the past 15 years.

Altamonte, meanwhile, will be trying to snap a five-time jinx for Florida if it handles Indiana today. A victory will earn the Nationals a berth in Saturday's 4:45 p.m. championship game which will be televised live by ABC. Orlando's WFTV (channel 9) will carry the game. Veteran play-by-play man Curt Gowdy will be joined by Earl Weaver, Willie Stargell and Jim Palmer in the broadcast booth.

Lee Blanks Panama — Eder Lifts U.S.A. Central

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI) — Myong-Kwan Lee pitched a two-hitter and struck out 11 Wednesday to lead Seoul, South Korea, to a 4-0 victory over Panama City, Panama, in a first-round game of the 38th annual Little League World Series.

Southport, Ind., met Bristol,

Conn., in the second game of the double-header.

Lee struck out nine consecutive batters in the first three innings. He gave up a single to Abdiel Cumberbath and a walk in the first inning before getting the next three hitters on strikes. He struck out the side in the second and third.

Baseball

Lee's streak was broken when he walked Jose Murillo to open the fourth and losing pitcher Ricardo Medina followed with a single. After issuing another walk with one out, Lee retired the next two batters, one on a strikeout.

Central 9, East 6

In Wednesday's second game, Michael Eder pitched a three-hitter and belted a two-run homer to lead U.S.A. Central (Southport, Ind.) to a 9-6 win over U.S.A. East (Bristol, Conn.).

While Eder, a 5-foot-8-inch right-hander, struck out 13, Southport's batters got six hits off two of three Bristol pitchers. Starter Mark Monnerat took the loss for Bristol.

Southport quickly moved to a 2-0 lead as Monnerat walked in two runs in the first inning. Southport added three more runs in the second on two walks.

District 14 Makes Mark At Big League Series

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

The District 14 Big League All-Stars, representing the U.S.A. South, returned from the Big League World Series in Fort Lauderdale with a third place finish (first in the U.S.) and numerous individual awards.

District 14 won its first three games in the World Series, but dropped its last two. Taiwan beat Venezuela, 6-4, for the World Series Championship. District 14's wins included a 5-0 the top three earned run averages.

Dean Hazen, the South's big first baseman, was selected to the All-World First Team. Hazen's power at the plate helped District 14 win the Southern Region title and his two-run homer was the difference in the World Series victory over Puerto Rico. All-World Honorable Mention selections included Todd Auckland, Jave Butterfield, Paul Esposito and Dwayne McLeod. Auckland, a second baseman and pitcher, was the key hurler for District 14 in the Southern Region and his hitting helped District 14 get through the first three games of the World Series. Auckland was also selected All-World Honorable Mention for last year's World Series.

Butterfield, a big left-hander from Oviedo, got the South All-Stars off to a good start in the World Series as he tossed a one-hitter at the U.S.A. East in the team's first game.

Esposito was the defensive standout for District 14 and his outstanding infield play kept the South alive on numerous occasions. For his impressive defensive play at third, Esposito was awarded the Gold Glove.

McLeod again dazzled the World Series competition with his glove and he also made some noise with his bat. McLeod won the outfield Gold Glove for the second year in a row and his mammoth 480-foot home run in the 13th inning led the South to victory over the U.S.A. West.

A pair of Oviedo pitchers had two of the best E.R.A.'s in the series. Righthander Darrin Reichle had the second best E.R.A. at 0.78 and southpaw Jeff Greene had the third best at 1.00.

Baseball

blanking of the U.S.A. East, a 4-2 victory over Puerto Rico and, in one of the highlights of the tournament, outlasted the U.S.A. West, 3-1, in 13 innings.

The South then dropped a 5-0 decision to Taiwan in the winner's bracket final and was eliminated by Venezuela, 7-3.

The group of Central Florida stars assembled by manager Howard Mable and assistant coaches Max Westgate and Bob Ficquette was one of the most talented teams ever in Florida Big League play and one of the best in U.S. Big League history. One player made the All-World First Team while four players were All-World Honorable Mention. District 14 also won two out of three Gold Gloves awarded and had its pitchers had two of

Riders Hot At Pine Hills

Seminole County riders were cookin' this weekend as they doubled their points for the Sunshine Race in November.

The weekend started off Saturday at Gordon Bennett Park in Pine Hills. There were 55 motos and the racing went smoothly.

Here are the scores of the Seminole County riders:

It was Jay Staley's night for second place as he took second in the 7-expert and second in the 8-9 open. Jay raced against kids one and two years older than him and still managed a second, "alright."

In the 8-novice class, Jamie Garner of Sanford fought hard, and it paid off. Jamie placed first.

Eight-expert Dusty Cummins had to compete in a main event. Dusty competed and won the main. First place all the way.

Mark Brown, of Casselberry, placed fourth in 9-novice action at Barnett Park.

In the 10-novice class, Tim Fink and Jason Ganas were battling it out for first place. Tim placed first and Jason came in a close second.

Ten-year-old Colby Braun raced both expert and open class. He took home a pair of seconds for the night. Incidentally, in the newest edition of "BMX Action," Colby was the test rider for the titanium mini Staley Racing Products makes. Congratulations Colby.

Daryl Bawles was cleaning up on Saturday night. He placed fourth in the 11-novice class.

Andy Spence was cookin' again Saturday night. He scored three firsts to make it to the main event and again scored first. Right behind Andy was Stacy Johnson. Stacy placed second. Also racing was Craig Bawles. Craig made the main and was doing good until the camles. Craig fell as he was going over them and placed seventh.

In the 13-expert class, Danny Lombardi placed first.

The 13-novice class also had a main to make. Ronnie Brewer was "stoked" as he placed first all night long.

The 13-expert class was big, and a main event was necessary for this class. In Shawn Cummins' regular motos, he placed fourth and fifth. In his third moto his chain busted and he only placed eighth, not qualifying for the main.

Brian Lane and Jim Hammon competed in the 14-novice class at Barnett Park. Brian brought home first and Jim fifth place.

David Sanborn placed fourth in the 14-expert class.

In the 15-novice class, John Poole of Lake Mary raced his CW to another first place victory Saturday night.

In the 16-novice class, Tony Clancy of Lake Mary placed first.

In the 16-open class, Joe Peterson and Scott Scranton competed. Peterson pulled a second and Scranton came in a close third.

Mark Koch placed third in cruiser class as did his sister, Susan, in the powder-puff class.

The last part of the double points weekend was spent at the Lake Alfred BMX track. There were 44 motos and the day turned out to be pretty good, even though it rained for a while. Here are the scores:

The 7-expert class was tough, but Jay Staley proved he could handle the heat as he placed second in his expert class and another second in 8-9 open.

Mark Brown proved he was equally good in his 9-novice class as he placed second.

In the 10-novice class, the weekend was going great for Tim Fink. He claimed another first place trophy. Jason Ganas had a nice weekend as he finished it off with a pair of seconds.

In the 12-novice class, Todd Fink was "stoked" with a first place.

Thirteen-beginner Danny Lombardi placed second in the Lake Alfred action.

Ronnie Brewer had first back in Orlando, but his luck seemed to have run out when he got to his main in Lake Alfred. Ronnie took a fall and placed eighth.

In the 14-novice class, John Boatwright placed second. Brian Lane in close third and Jim Hammon placed fifth.

In the 15-novice class, John Poole made his main, but wrecked in it. John wrecked on the first jump an could only place eighth.

Mark Koch placed third in 12-cruiser.

Susan Kock came in fourth in 11-powder puff.

One could categorize Florida's appearances in the World Series as early and late. The series opened in 1947 and, one year later, St. Petersburg made Florida's first appearance, but lost to Williamsport, 6-5. In 1949, Pensacola made it to the title game but lost to Hammonton, N.J., 5-0.

It wasn't until 25 years later that Tampa Belmont Heights was nipped by Lakewood, N.J., 4-3 in 1975. Belmont Heights returned in 1980 after ousting a Mike Schmit-led Altamonte team in the State Tournament, but lost to Long Kuong-Hua Lian, Taiwan, 4-3. West Tampa came back the next year, but lost to Tai-Chung, Taiwan, 4-2.

Although foreign teams have dominated the series in the 1970's, the past two years U.S.A. teams have started a resurgence. Cory Webster and Kirkland, Wash., blanked Taiwan, 6-0. In 1982 and East Marietta National, Ga., topped Liquipo Hernandez, Barahona, Dominican Republic, 3-1, last year.

The Nationals would like to make it three straight. They averaged over 10 runs per game while running up a 14-0 record in the playoffs. But Tuesday afternoon, U.S.A. West righthander Ryan Lotz held them to five hits in Altamonte's 2-1 victory. Winning pitcher Jimmy Musselwhite clubbed a two-run homer to provide the winning margin.

Manager Thurston, contributed the lack of offense to first-game flitters and said the bats should come around against Indiana.

"We were pretty tight against California," said Thurston. "But I think we'll swing the bats better against Indiana."

Coach Ebbert agreed. "We'll be facing their second pitcher. We don't think their as good as California. They experienced a lot of problems defensively against Connecticut."

TOURNAMENT TIDBITS — Altamonte took a couple jolts to the mouth the past few days, but neither was a knock out blow. In his first at bat Tuesday, catcher Jerry Thurston bounced a ball off the plate and it hit him in the nose. Thurston, however, shook it off and stayed in the game. During practice Wednesday third baseman Jamey Wallace took a bad-hop grounder to the mouth, but Dr. Nate James administered some ice which stopped the swelling. Both will be in the starting lineup today.

Concert Benefits Lowell Leistner

"Friends of Lowell Leistner" will host a special concert Friday, Aug. 24, at 7:30 p.m., at the Prairie Lake Baptist Church, 415 Ridge Road, Fern Park.

The concert is a benefit to help defray medical and other expenses incurred by Leistner, a music evangelist who was stricken with cancer.

According to Mrs. Wayne Johnson of Oviedo, Leistner is known as one of America's great gospel soloists and concert artists. He has traveled across America and into many foreign countries ministering music to thousands.

B.J. Johnson, "Sons of Song," "The Messengers," "Assurance," Moores, "Four Fold Quartet," Judy and Trena, Shirley Denard and the Aloma

Lowell Leistner

Baptist Choir are on the program for this event. Mrs. Johnson says.

However, other groups are asked to participate. For information, contact Wayne Johnson, 365-3498.

The public is invited to attend. There is no admission charge but donations will be accepted to benefit Leistner.

Marriage-Minded Trucker Told To Get Off The Road

DEAR ABBY: A few words to "Lonely in Dallas," the 30-year-old truck driver who wants a wife.

Supposing you do get married. Your wife will go along with you for maybe two years, then a baby comes along, and guess who is sitting home alone for two or three months waiting for you to come off the road? Only now she has the responsibility of running a home and raising a child because you can't do it over the telephone.

Her social life is almost nonexistent because it's easier to stay home alone than to be lonely at a party.

You miss out on all the joys of fatherhood because you're not there when the baby takes his first step, says his first word, etc. Meanwhile your wife sleeps alone in a big double bed for two and three months at a time, and envies her friends whose husbands come home from work every night.

And what are you going to do for sex while you're away from home? And what is your wife supposed to do?

When your son is 4, he will feel abandoned because his daddy is never home to take him to the beach, ball games, etc.

My advice to you is to get off the road if you want a wife and family. I should know. I've been married to a long-distance trucker for 14 years. Sign me...

LONELY IN NEW YORK

DEAR LONELY: A writer from Michigan offers a surprising solution for "Lonely in Dallas." Read on:

DEAR ABBY: I'm writing concerning the truck driver who wants a girlfriend. I understand his problem.

I'm a lady truck driver, and it's true that most companies will not let their drivers take an unauthorized passenger, in the truck.

"Lonely in Dallas" simply needs to find a woman co-driver. There are a lot more women drivers now than people imagine. Single truckers like having a woman co-driver because it solves problems like the one "Lonely in Dallas" has.

LADY TRUCKER FROM MICHIGAN

DEAR ABBY: On several occasions I have read letters in your column from women complaining about an excessive amount of facial hair. How I wish I had their problem!

Dear Abby

I am a male with only a few hairs on my chin. In adolescence I kept hoping I would grow more facial hairs to appear more manly, but it never happened, and at 22, I am perceived to be a teen-aged boy instead of a man.

In accomplishments I am far ahead of most men my age, but my appearance is against me. I would give anything for a neatly trimmed mustache, but that's out of the question. And having hair on my chest would be too much to hope for.

Can you help me, Abby?

BABY FACE

DEAR BABY FACE: Your hairless condition may have its roots (no pun intended) in a hormone deficiency. See an endocrinologist.

Also ask your barber to recommend a hair-aids store. Slick-on mustaches are available, as well as false beards, sideburns and even hair for the chest.

DEAR ABBY: I like your definition of "bedroom eyes." When I was a young girl dating, men used to tell me I had bedroom eyes. Now that I am a grandmother, they say, "You look sleepy."

Aluminum-Alzheimer's Link Still Unproven

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have read that there may be a connection between Alzheimer's disease and aluminum. Is it safe to use aluminum cookware? My favorite pot is made of heavy aluminum and I use it almost daily. I also use aluminum pans for baking. Should I discontinue the practice?

DEAR READER — The question of aluminum causing Alzheimer's disease has received a lot of publicity. Alzheimer's disease commonly causes symptoms ascribed to "senility." The association was made when it was observed that patients with Alzheimer's disease had increased amounts of aluminum in their brain.

But the presence of the aluminum does not prove that it causes Alzheimer's disease. Rather, something may have gone wrong with the body's usual manner of handling aluminum because Alzheimer's disease was present in the first place.

Of course, people who use aluminum cookware and those who use antacids that contain aluminum have become alarmed because they don't want to develop Alzheimer's disease.

But our brain is protected from aluminum deposits by three mechanisms. The first line of defense is the intestinal wall. Aluminum is poorly absorbed from the intestine into the circulation. So most of the aluminum you swallow is eliminated through your bowels and does not affect your body at all. That is one of the advantages in using aluminum compounds as an antacid.

The second line of defense is your kidneys. Normal kidneys flush out any increase in aluminum that occurs in your circulation, eliminating it from your body.

The third line of defense is the "blood brain barrier." Many chemicals, and even medicines, cannot get through the membrane that encases the brain and spinal cord. As a result, the concentration of many substances in the brain is far lower than it is in the bloodstream. This sometimes causes problems for doctors trying to get certain medicines into the brain. In this instance, it keeps out unwanted metals, such as aluminum. Despite these facts, some small research studies have reported improvement in some Alzheimer's patients who were treated with medicines designed to eliminate metals, such as aluminum, from the body. This is still in the research stage.

At this point, it seems most unlikely that swallowing aluminum in food or in medicines plays any role at all in Alzheimer's disease. In turn, that means using aluminum cookware or using medicines that contain aluminum will not harm you.

We still don't know what causes Alzheimer's disease.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald and James Jacoby

In his book "Better Bridge for the Advancing Player" (Prentice-Hall), Frank Stewart uses today's deal to illustrate proper handling of suit combinations to gain the requisite number of tricks. Cover the defenders' hands and imagine that you are declarer in six no-trump with the lead of the spade 10.

You play dummy's jack, East covers with the queen, and you win your ace. Now you play a low diamond to the 10. When that wins, you return to your hand with a heart and play another low diamond. The king comes up and you win the ace. Note that you did the right thing in leading low diamonds. If the diamonds are not 3-3, then any time the king is played on your diamond queen, you will be able to take only three tricks in that suit.

Now you are close to making your contract with two spades, three hearts, four diamonds, and two clubs for 11 tricks. If you can make one more with the club jack, you will have your slam. But take a falling grade if you play ace of clubs and a club to the jack. Instead, since you need only three club tricks for your contract, you should play king of clubs, a club to the ace, and then lead up to the jack. This play guards against East's holding the queen doubleton. Unless East started with four clubs to the queen, you will make the slam.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY

AUGUST 24, 1984

Your year ahead will not be of the run-of-the-mill variety. There are many surprises ahead; fortunately, most of them will be pleasant and rewarding.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You can be very effective today if you don't disclose in advance your intentions or plans to others. Do what needs doing in an unobtrusive way. The Matchmaker wheel reveals your compatibility to all signs, as well as showing you to which signs you are best suited romantically. To get yours, mail $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) You can be very successful today in projects or ventures that offer something unique or different. Try your hand at the unusual, not the traditional.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Rely upon your own instincts and judgment today in important matters that relate to your career or finances. Your ingenuity exceeds that of your peers.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If you are promoting something special today, make your presentation as imaginative as possible. Dramatic touches enhance your possibilities for a sale.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Let your compassionate instincts dominate your behavior today, even in crass financial situations. Kindness can produce remarkable results.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You'll make a big hit with your contemporaries today if you let them think the good ideas you supply were inspired by their thoughts or suggestions.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Be extra alert today because some very unusual opportunities could develop where your career is concerned. It's important that you spot them before others do.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your personality is extremely magnetic today and you will be able to draw friends around you like moths attracted to a flame.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) In complex business situations, your methods will be effective today and produce desirable results, although they may appear unorthodox to others.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Partnership situations should work out extremely lucky for you today, especially if you are associated with persons who are both daring and imaginative.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you have a good commercial idea you've let gather dust, this is the day to polish it up and do something about it. Get moving now.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Do not leave the social arrangements for your group up to others today. You're the one who is best equipped to organize a fun activity for all.

ABC Leads Nielsen Race

NEW YORK (UPI) — ABC was the No. 1 prime time network last week, but its evening newscast lost some of the viewers it picked up during the Summer Olympics when it was airing at odd hours.

The A.C. Nielsen prime time ratings for the week ending Aug. 19 gave ABC a 13.3 rating with a 26 percent share of the viewing audience, CBS a 10.8 rating with a 21 share and NBC an 10.4 rating with a 20 share.

"Call to Glory," the two-hour premiere to an ABC limited series, was the top rated program of the week followed by the network's retrospective of the XXIII Olympiad, which was broadcast Monday night.

The average rating for ABC's 16 nights of coverage of the Los Angeles Games was 23.5 with a 45 percent share of the viewing audience.

The Top 10 prime time shows for the week ending Aug. 19, according to the A.C. Nielsen Co., were:

1. Call to Glory (ABC)
2. Olympic Highlights (ABC)
3. Riptide (NBC)
4. 60 Minutes (CBS)
5. Remington Steele (NBC)
6. The A-Team (NBC)
7. Webster (ABC)
8. Trapper John, M.D. (CBS)
9. Alice (CBS)
10. World's Funniest Commercial Goals (ABC)
