Males' Dog Expected To Set Pace In Feature Race

Valentine's Heart, back after a second surge of illness, will be entered in the feature event tonight at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club and out to hang up his eighth victory in nine starts this season.

The big son of My Valentine and Al's Baby has been slower breaking the box than usual in his last few outs and unless he gets away in a hurry tonight he is liable to have to overcome a long lead run up by Parmak or Gay Hop' who have drawn the Nos. 1 and 2 holes. Valentine's Heart is in the eight box.

The three box is empty, Big Ick has the four hole, Agricola Sam the five, Dark Grove the six and Lizzie Tactician the seven.

It was Parmak that set such a hot pace the other night in the feature event that it made My Valentine Jr. mad and he stopped to have it out with the flying Parmak.

Dark Grove won a feature last week in close to record time while Lizzie Tactician showed signs of returning to the form that made her one of the most dangerous greyhounds at Longwood over any distance last season.

The race tonight will be run over the futurity course and a good clear chance to run around the first turn will be a big advantage to any of the greyhounds who figure to get into the money. There are 10 races tonight with the daily double on the second and

French Cabinet Split Over Giving Recognition To Regime Of Franco In Spain

Germany Launches New Battleship

Body Of Pope Plus Laid To Rest In Basilica Grottoes

The Spanish government today braced the Madrid-Valencia zone against a new assault Generalissimo Franco was expected to launch in central Spain attempting to clinch the victory in the civil war which still disturbs Europe.

French political quarters said Premier Daladier's cabinet was split over the question of giving recognition to Franco. Action was delayed at a cabinet session called to consider the recognition question.

Germany launched her greatest warship, the new 35,000-ton battleship Bismarck, named for the "Iron Chancellor" who guided Germany to unification as a modern nation and to victory in the Franco-Prussian War.

Bischoffberger Hitler said Bismarck led in creating the "pre-conditions for the present-day greater Germany" and of the new battleship named for him, the present Chancellor said: "As the sharpest instrument of war, it is to take under the protection of the German people."

Peace between the Italian government and the Vatican, which Pope Pius was instrumental in bringing about, was signified anew by an announcement of the Premier Mussolini, the Fascist government and members of the royal family would attend a special mass Friday paying tribute to the late Pope.

The body of the Pope was laid to rest in the grottoes below the Basilica after additional thousands had passed the bier for a final look at the pontiff.

Anticipating a complete insurgent victory in the near future, Generalissimo Francisco Franco yesterday promulgated a decree imposing penalties on persons in conquered territory deemed hostile to the insurgent cause.

Exile and loss of citizenship are two of the penalties provided for in the decree, which covers activities of Spaniards for nearly two years before the outbreak of the civil war. Insurgent officials here said these two punishments were the most severe imposed.

The decree also provided for dissolution of all parties of the pro-government popular front and confiscation of their property, and set up special tribunals to determine the civil status of persons in conquered territory.

J., Feb. 14. —(AP)—The New Jersey Trust Guaranty and Trust Company failed to open today and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation announced it would pay claims of approximately $23,000,000, the largest payoff of insured deposits it has ever made. A statement issued by FDIC Chairman Leo T. Crowley, as the notice of the closing was posted on the bank's doors here, said that more than 20,000 depositors would be reimbursed. The bank's board of directors had voted to have the institution in the hands of the State Banking commission.

Chamber Officials Make Plans For Canal Hearing

Lack Of White House Harmony Hit By Demos

Cox Says Administration Will Do Well To Work With Congress

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. —(AP)—House Democrats heard complaints at a party conference today that there was not enough co-operation between the White House and Democratic legislators. Several members who attended the closed meeting in the House chamber asserted that Rep. Cox, (D. Ga.), had made a rousing speech, the tenor of which was that the Administration would do well to go along with Congress and not insist so much that Congress go along with it.

While the conference was described as harmonious, a number of those present said Cox had spoken of the lack of consultation between the White House and the Democratic legislators.

Administration leaders in the House were said to have urged harmony and better attendance at House sessions.

L. W. Jeffery, a vice president of the Townsend organization, told the House Ways and Means committee he recommended that the Nation's "elderly people be used as agents for pumping or forcing our currency into active circulation."

Grapefruit Price-Fixing Program Heads For Test In Supreme Court

WINTER HAVEN, Feb. 14. —(AP)—Florida's price-fixing program for grapefruit apparently was headed for a court test last night after Commissioner of Agriculture Mayo sought to strengthen enforcement by suspending the license of a Bradenton cannery accused of violation.

Hubert Blakey, attorney for President Fred Elder of the Florida Grapefruit Canning Company, said he would study Mayo's suspension order before deciding in which court he will appeal.

At issue in a hearing conducted yesterday by Mayo was a plan announced by Elder for purchasing grapefruit while the minimum price of 23 cents a box was effective.

Elder told growers he would pay them 20 cents a box cash and hold 13 cents in escrow to be turned over to them if the courts upheld the State's 1938 cost guarantee law under which the Florida Citrus Commission fixed the minimum price.

Foreclosure proceedings will begin immediately against property owners in Sanford who made no effort to settle the delinquent tax adjustment program which expired on Jan. 31, members of the City Commission unanimously agreed at a regular meeting in the City Hall last night.

Pointing out that every inducement to settle the past due claims has been offered the owners, including settlement of all liens for 1933 and prior years for 10 percent of the total amount and extended payment over a period of seven years, Mayor Higgins stated that the City must now follow the course plotted before the adjustment program was instituted which was to foreclose on all who made no attempt to pay delinquent assessments.

God's houses where the great men preach
 Are built as high as gold can reach,
 Are built to stand within the crowd,
 And point their finger stiff and proud,
 But those that stand on country
 hills
 Need give no thought to strong men's will,
 They stand alone removed from noise,
 As patiently as children's toys,
 And quietly in grass or snow
 They look at Him from below.

Avoid Firearms

A sixteen year old high school girl died in a Miami hospital the other day from a bullet wound accidentally inflicted in her back. It was another one of those cases where the boy who fired the gun did not know it was loaded.

Two boys and a girl classmate had stopped at one of the boys' homes to play on their way home from school. One of the boys had found a pistol lying in a dresser drawer. He thought he had emptied all the chambers before he started pulling the trigger in a series of realistic holdups.

Evidently he had overlooked one of them, for after pulling the trigger several times, the hammer came down on a loaded chamber, and the barrel happened to be pointing straight toward the back of the girl. She died a few minutes later in the hospital after a blood transfusion freely given by the boy failed to revive her.

On the same day in New York City, another girl, eleven years old, was shot through the neck by her thirteen year old brother when a .22 caliber rifle with which he was playing accidentally went off and sent a bullet straight toward his sister. Though she was still alive at last reports, she was in a critical condition.

Such accidents as these are not unusual in the newspapers. Similar accidents happen almost every day. Children playing with guns, adults shooting each other with firearms they did not know were loaded, hunters shot to death by guns carelessly, even recklessly, handled, these are the stories which make headlines for the newspapers today, grief and sorrow for friends and relatives forever.

If such news serves any purpose whatever, it is in the absolute foolishness of ever pointing a gun at any person or thing which you do not intend to hit. It makes no difference whether the gun is loaded or not, you are foolish to aim it in any other person's direction. To say that you did not know it was loaded, is entirely beside the point after you have shot someone.

One of the first lessons which any boy or girl should learn is never to play with guns. Real pistols, rifles, revolvers are not meant to play with. They should be kept beyond the reach of children and children in turn should be instructed to leave them alone, as they would a rattlesnake, when found accidentally.

Judges Block Attempt To Broaden Tax Law

ORLANDO, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Three circuit judges yesterday blocked an attempt to broaden limitations of the Murphy "low dollar" tax redemption law to include property restored to the rolls under the now-repealed Fitch act.

They also declined to shorten the minimum two-year age limit for certificates redeemed under the Murphy act.

The circuit judges, Frank A. Smith of Orlando, Millard B. Smith of Titusville, and Alio Adams of Fort Pierce, said their decision probably would be state-wide in scope.

Granting motions to quash pending litigation and to set aside judgments against Circuit Clerk W. R. Lott of St. Lucie county, the judges upheld the Murphy law in its literal language.

The act provides that any tax certificate which was two years old when it became effective in June, 1937, may be sold at public auction to the highest bidder.

The Fitch law afforded property owners an opportunity to pay their current taxes and to catch up back assessments over a period of years. The lands were thus restored to the rolls.

The three cases in which judgments had been granted sought to have the Murphy law apply to property redeemed under the Fitch act while two other suits in process sought to apply provisions of the Murphy measure to lands sold to the state in September, 1937, less than two years before the act became effective.

Attorneys contended that the sale, delayed by legislative act, should have been held in time to permit tax certificates to be two years old when the Murphy act went into force.

St. Valentine's Day

This is one day in the year when your wife takes no offense if you receive some anonymous note from Heaven knows where to the general effect that you are the "secret love of some pining heart. For today is St. Valentine's Day and you, or rather your repressed heart-throb, can get away with more today than all the rest of the year put together.

Something of the origin of St. Valentine's Day is told by the Tampa Tribune which says that it began with early Christian martyrs. "There were two St. Valentines, who suffered martyrdom in the year 270, during the persecutions under Emperor Claudius II. One of these saints is said to have been a Roman priest, the other the Bishop of Terni in Italy. The feast day of both is celebrated February 14.

"However, it is claimed that the modern custom of sending valentines has no connection with the lives of these martyrs, but is rather ascribed to pagan origin. Valentines were sent long before Christmas cards. The earliest known valentine verse was written in 1419, and about 1800, hand made valentines began to appear. These are now collectors pieces."

NEUROTIC WOMEN make the best wives. One of the greatest dangers to the continuance of a happy marriage is that husband and wife eventually take each other for granted. That can never happen if the woman is neurotic. The constant demands of a neurotic wife make a husband live up to her high expectations and make an extra effort to land and hold a better job instead of sitting phlegmatically at a desk wondering why opportunity seems to knock at everyone's door but his own.—Your Life magazine.

Judging of the community and home demonstration exhibits was in progress at noon today, with Mrs. Eunice Gay, Brevard county home demonstration agent, as chief appraiser. She was being assisted by two or three of her own home demonstration workers. Competing for the community prizes are the City of Sanford and towns of Lake Mary, Paola, Geneva, and Lake Monroe. The exhibits include fancy specimens of lace work, hooked rugs, citrus, home grown flowers and shrubs, preserves, home grown truck vegetables, and eggs. The Sanford display features lace work, quilts, clothes, fancy pillows, basketry, and art. Paola has a neat miniature turpentine industry exhibit.

Prizes go to the first, second and third highest exhibits in number of points scored. One thousand points are possible to be earned, apportioned as follows: quality, 200 points; uniformity, 75; marketability, 125; variety, 200; appearance and arrangement, 250; educational, labeling and other educational features, 150. Winners will be announced tomorrow, as the judges' decision had not been reached at press time.

 The Federal Surplus Commodities corporation announced here it would purchase 100 cars of early and mid-season oranges during the week beginning yesterday at 63 cents per standard filled box loaded in bulk in cars. The figure is an increase of 13 cents over the previous price.

Officials said the grade is to be U. S. No. 2 or higher and the normal run of sizes will range from 288 and larger.

Purchases will be made on the basis of allocations recommended by the Florida citrus industry responsible for certifying diversion of surplus fruit from normal trade channels by growers and shippers. Under the program, the corporation purchases one box for every box diverted by the industry.

 Commission authorized the city clerk to prepare a list of the delinquent property which will be studied by the Commission at its next meeting.

Payment of approximately $20,000 to the Central Hanover Bank of New York City was authorized by the Commission for interest coupons, due Mar. 1, attached to outstanding refunding bonds held by the bank.

In accordance with the legislative program of the Florida League of Municipalities, the City Commission passed a resolution asking Congressional relief from the power of the federal government to tax corporate bonds, income from municipal utilities and require all city employees to pay income tax on their salaries. Copies of the resolution will be sent to Senator Pepper, Senator Andrews and Joe Hendricks asking that the power of the government be limited or the City be allowed to impose taxes on federal property or share in the federal income tax returns to offset the losses cities would suffer.

The Commission also passed a resolution opposing the proposal which has been introduced in Congress which would levy a federal tax of three cents per gallon on all fuel oil used for heating purposes. Although the City of Sanford would not be affected by the tax, they went on record as opposing the measure which would affect cities using fuel for heat in municipal utilities.

 the velocity of money, Jeffrey remarked:

"I am convinced that the easiest and most satisfactory way to solve this problem is the establishment of a system whereby the velocity of money can be increased so that we can use the money that we already have."

Rep. Duncan (D Mo.) interrupted Jeffrey to inquire into political activity of Townsend enthusiasts.

The witness said the national organization "never campaigned" but has been seeking only to interest the people in its "national education program."

Jeffrey said that as far as he knew neither the organization nor its weekly publication had ever filed returns under the Corrupt Practices Act.

Jeffrey said in response to a question by Duncan that Townsend Clubs were only interested in supporting candidates "friendly to our program." He said a statement in a recent issue of the Townsend publication that 151 House votes were pledged to the program was inaccurate.

The committee's hearings on various old age pension proposals are becoming so detailed, officials said today, that the inquiry may last another month.

Sunday first became legally a day of rest under the Roman emperor Constantine, the Jewish sabbath having been observed on Saturday.

Taxes To Be Problem For Legislature

 The Liberty County colon said only the seriousness of the situation—in situation without parallel in the history of our State—caused him to "be so presumptuous as to call this pre-session committee into action."

"The present State administration," he declared, "claims there is no need for new revenue, but reports from the State comptroller's office indicate a deficit in State funds of from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000. The press has reported two budgets may be presented to the Legislature, one from the regular budget commission and the other from the Governor."

"There has been much talk of tax revision. Many plans have been suggested. The taxpaying public does not want to pay any more taxes but on all sides there are demands for new and greater governmental benefits. I have no pet theories, no recommendations to make to you. But we as members of the Legislature must face this problem and find an answer," he said.

He recommended that the five sub-committees obtain public records from cities and counties, hold public hearings, meet with groups interested in the various phases of the fiscal problem, "even lend an ear to the street-corner statesman" and then draw up a report on the problem as they found it and the remedies they believed would prove most workable.

The Sanford Forum

Editor The Herald:
 I have been asked to describe the manner in which I would put into effect the plan I have advocated to control the volume of celery shipped to the markets when we have an injurious surplus.

Let it be understood first of all that this is no price-fixing or shortage-control measure to be administered by the Federal Government. It is simply an emergency measure to be put into effect whenever we realize that we have too much celery for the markets.

I would have a committee appointed representing all interests. This committee would have in make but two visits to each farm instead of repeated visits as was done in the cumbersome method we attempted last year. The first visit by the committee would be for the purpose of talking off, with the cooperation of the farm-owner, a certain number of rows of celery that are due to come off of the land during, approximately, the next month. These rows would then belong to the committee.

The next and last visit of the committee to the farm would be when the farmer notified the committee that his celery was at its best. The committee would then go to the farm and determine the number of crates of celery in the rows that had been staked off and give the farmer a receipt for the number of crates of celery thus determined, stating a price per crate from 25c up to 50c, according to quality. The judgment of the committee in this matter would be final.

To pay for this celery left at home a 10c tax per crate should be set on all celery that we ship and the farmer would be paid for the celery he left at home out of this tax money at the end of the season. There would be no injustice here as has been the case in every plan we have tried heretofore and any right now trying to put into effect.

House Hears Defense For Plane Sales

Americans Safe Only So Long As France And England Stand, Members Are Told

Move To Exclude Guam Is Rejected

U. S. Military Attachés Are Sent To American Republics

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The House heard the sale of warplanes to foreign nations defended today on the grounds that "Americans are safe only so long as England and France stand."

A crackling debate over the foreign policy involved in President Roosevelt's $552,000,000 defense program shattered the quiet which had marked the first day's discussion of legislation to authorize Army's share of the program.

Rep. Pace (D-Ga.) told the House he believed it was sound to aid England and France built up their forces as they were America's bulwarks against the totalitarian states.

The House Naval Committee by vote of 14 to 5 rejected a move to eliminate the Pacific island of Guam from the naval authorization bill and then approved a measure authorizing $58,400,000 for new and expanded aviation bases.

Within a few months the United States will have 29 officers of the army, including the war force, in Latin America, in addition to American naval air bases and missions.

Coming at a moment when the Brazilian foreign minister, Oswaldo Aranha, is in this country talking defense and other questions with American leaders, the program is described by officials as having profound political significance.

It means a determined attempt on the part of the Administration to effect the attempts by totalitarian states to penetrate Latin America through military representatives and missions.

In many cases the American army officers accredited to Latin American states will be directing or assisting in the military colleges of the republics.

Strong Winds, And Rain Drive Cold Wave Into South

Small craft were slowed down by wind storms along the Atlantic coast from Eastport, Me., southward to Jacksonville, Fla.

McCall Loses Attempt To Delay Execution

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Franklin Pierce McCall lost a last-minute attempt before the State Supreme Court yesterday to delay his execution in Florida's electric chair next Monday.

Chief Justice Terrell denied a stay order that would have given the condemned man's counsel time in which to take the case to the United States supreme court.

His decision left scant hope of a successful court fight to keep McCall from execution, along with two convicted murderers, Paul Fried Runge of Tampa and Clyde Hyler of Jacksonville.

However, McCall's attorney, C. A. Arvitt and E. C. Rutledge of Jasper, started mapping immediate plans to seek further aid either in Federal district court or in the United States supreme court.

Arvitt said habeas corpus action might be started before one of the Federal judges in Florida.

Efforts Made To Stabilize Celery Market

Voluntary Volume Control Instituted To Prevent Oversupply And Price Collapse

In an effort to prevent a general collapse of the celery market which has been hanging in a dangerous balance for the past week, the celery industry in Seminole County has instituted a voluntary volume control program in an effort to assure a steadier flow of this County's principle farm product to northern markets.

At a meeting of celery shippers last Friday it was decided to eliminate from shipment all 10 down and X sizes and to strip down No. 3's to 4 down sizes for a period of two weeks in a move to stabilize the market during the peak of the local season by shipping only the amount of celery that can be absorbed satisfactorily, according to M. L. Collum, sales manager for Chase and Company, and chairman of the shippers committee.

In order to assure full cooperation by all growers and shippers, a committee from the Seminole County Agriculture Association has been appointed to police packing operations throughout the county and a checkup yesterday disclosed that only 100, one small tipper and the other a small grower, had kicked over the traces in the voluntary program and that one of those had later agreed to cooperate.

About 15 percent of the celery is eliminated from shipment by discarding the small sizes. Gus Schuch, president of the growers association and a member of the committee policing operations, stated:

Pointing out that the bulk of Seminole County's celery, which is over half of the amount shipped out of the state, will be ready for marketing during the next 30 days, Mr. Collum declared that the objective of the program is to protect the market from collapse in so far as it is possible during this period. Failure to cooperate in the volume control program at this time would no doubt result in a break in the market and undesirable conditions from which the market would not recover before the bulk of Seminole County growers had shipped their crop.

The industry operated last year under an AAA marketing agreement administered by the Florida Celery Industry Control Committee and compulsory volume control was enforced throughout the peak of the season but this failed to bring about a satisfactory reaction in the market.

Early season prices were well above last year's with shipment bringing fair returns to the growers until entering the peak of the season last week. The market is generally stronger than last year despite considerably heavier shipments.

The Philadelphia market listed the lowest quotation on large sizes yesterday with a price of $1.75 per crate while most markets quoted prices ranging from $1.75 to $2.25 on the large sizes and the bulk of the sales were quoted from $2.25 to $2.75.

However, track holdings reached the highest figure of the season yesterday, 270 cars, which was looked upon as an ill omen by those close to the industry. Just a shipping holiday last week and reducing the volume this week through elimination of small sizes is expected to reduce this dangerous figure.

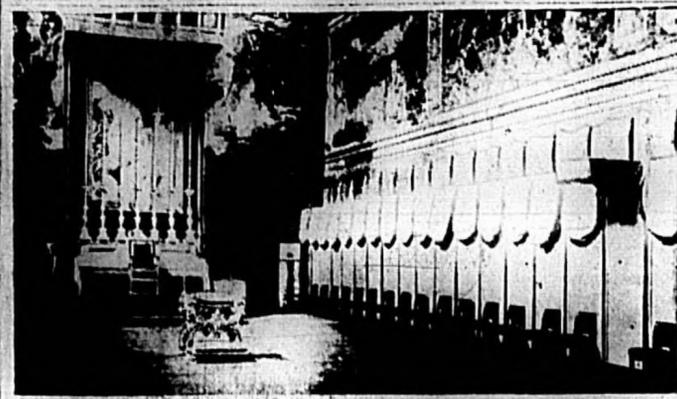

Florida shipped 65 cars yesterday, 48 from Seminole County, while 33 reached the market from California. Seminole County has shipped 1301 cars this year against 830 cars for last year and the state has shipped 2183 cars against 1648 last year. California shipments to date are several hundred cars lower than last year's shipments.

Fruit Is Canned For Growers At Eckerson Plant

Local Cannery Does Not Purchase Fruit For Its Operations

Opening last Thursday for the first time this season, because of the "short" condition in the citrus industry, operations at Eckerson's grapefruit cannery plant got under full swing the week in processing the grapefruit for growers.

Declaring that the market is displaying no interest in citrus, citrus at an advance price which would be necessitated because of the pegging of grapefruit prices, C. H. Eckerson, president, stated that he will use the growers' products to fill his sales contracts and that the growers will be required to pay the cost of processing and canning the fruit and will receive pay for the volume of fruit based on the market price.

He stated that this plan has met with approval among the growers and that operations under this setup are likely to continue for several months.

The local cannery plant usually opens about Nov. 1 but this year, due to the "unstable" condition of the market, as well as the "unsettled" prices for fruit, the opening was delayed. During peak operation the plant employs approximately 300 persons, weekly payroll at approximately $5,000.

Because of the delay in the opening of the plant and the pegged prices for grapefruit, Mr. Eckerson stated that his company has been forced to cancel copiable contracts which were already under contract.

"Recent cancellations on canned citrus that would have been packed at the local cannery would have meant an expenditure of some $20,000 for fruit purchases and approximately $85,000 for labor and other incidental costs," Mr. Eckerson said.

Mr. Eckerson declared that a considerable volume of the grapefruit juice sales previously made by Florida growers, had been transferred to the Texas growers during recent weeks because Florida growers were forced to withdraw all quotations and revise the selling price for fresh fruit. He added that the basic price for fresh fruit in Texas was considerably lower than Florida's before the price hike by the Citrus Commission.

The local cannery company president returned recently from the 10-day National Convention in Chicago and stated that buyers for chains and wholesale grocers displayed no interest in the Florida products with prices ranging from 16 to 20 percent higher.

They apparently prefer to liquidate their present inventories which were purchased at a much lower cost before replacing their stock and they also expressed beliefs that the advanced prices for fresh fruit would not hold for long because of the large crop.

Bradenton Canner Closes Plant For Price Violation

Bradenton, Feb. 15.—The Florida Grapefruit Canning Company, which operates in a fruit handling business, recently closed its plant because of a violation of the emergency price law for grapefruit, charged at Eckerson's grapefruit cannery, who originated an "open plan" of buying fruit while the minimum price law was undergoing testing, and his concern would not cost the raising of State Agriculture Council-dones Mayo that when it plan was a law violation.

Elder had offered to pay grapefruit growers 20 cents of the required minimum of 32 cents in cash and hold the remaining 12 cents per box pending a court test of the law. Elder said he had nothing to say to his growers, but might make a statement Friday when they were paid off.

Operations at the plant were conducted with Mayo's permission, so that Elder could meet already purchased and on hand.

At Winter Haven State Chemist J. J. Taylor, head of the citrus inspection bureau, explained that Elder had been given permission to use what fruit he had on the floor as of yesterday.
