

Maurice Costello, Silent Movie Star, Dies In Coma At 73

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Maurice Costello, matinee idol of two generations ago and father of two famous actresses, is dead. The 73-year-old white-haired actor who in the sunset of life said "It's better to be a has-been than a never-was," succumbed yesterday to heart disease and complications that had kept him in a virtual coma since Tuesday.

Frequent death-bed visitors were his once estranged but later reconciled daughters, Dolores and Helene Costello, former actresses. One of the earliest of the great screen lovers, Costello had won stage ritz before he entered the infant film business.

Born in Pittsburgh, Pa., he began his career there in vaudeville in 1914 with a song "Here Lies the Mick and the Lady" and others. He left the stage for the movies in 1915, taking a $30 a week job with the old Vitaphone Co., where he had to help build scenery as part of the job.

Costello's domestic life was unhappy much of the time. He blamed fame. He and May Altshok of "The Kentucky Fool" and "The Cowboy and the Lady" and others. Korean War

More than 10,000 Communists, reported to include some Chinese, in three days of fighting and forced it to flee in disorder. The Chinese regiment reported by the 10th Corps spokesman was pin-pointed in action in the north Korean, south of the big Chosin hydroelectric plant reservoir about 40 miles south of Manchurian border. The plant supplies vital electric power to Manchuria.

The ROK third division was stalled in its push toward the reservoir from Hamhung, on the east coast. In addition to these reinforcements, North Korean women were reported going to the front. The Reds evidently were trying to hold at all costs until wintry blizzards overtake the allied forces.

On the left flank of the retreating ROK Sixth Division, the Fifth Regimental Combat team of the U. S. 24th Division battled to within 34 miles of the Manchurian border.

Joint correspondent William Jordan reported the Americans suffered heavy casualties from mortar and small arms fire. By nightfall, the regiment was dragging in two miles east of Kumsong after a five-mile advance.

The Americans killed some 400 Reds and took 115 prisoners, including two Chinese. More gruesome evidence of Red atrocities was a uncovered—80 bodies of North Korean civilians at Pakehon, 46 miles north of Pyongyang, the former Red capital.

Indicative of the increasing fury of Red resistance was their use of their heaviest weapons, tanks and self-propelled guns. Allied fighters and bombers supporting the American column and the British Commonwealth 27th Brigade of the west coast destroyed 18 tanks and seven guns.

Despite the ferocity of the Communist opposition, General MacArthur Tokyo headquarters noted that "none of the enemy counterattacks was sustained." A spokesman said the Reds are "in a desperate situation."

He said the Red attacks in the Onjong sector were stopped except for "a few minor gains." The ROKS are regrouping in that area, he added. A U. S. Eighth Army spokesman reported the ROK Sixth Division's withdrawal was disorganized, and that a third of its strength was lost in three days of fighting.

A regiment of the ROK Sixth Division reached the Manchurian frontier Thursday above Choson. It was forced to withdraw to Songju, more than 30 miles south of the Yalu River boundary.

To the south, at Onjong, the Division's second regiment was surrounded Thursday, the bulk of it wiped out. Two other regiments, the 10th and 10th, were hard hit in trying to rescue the survivors of the second regiment.

South Korean commanders said Chinese Communist officers led the Red forces. United Nations (Continued from Page One) had voted for a candidate put up by what Russia terms an "illegal" member, Nationalist China.

The Council approved a letter to President Nasrallah Entezam of the Assembly saying it had met again on the Lie question and had voted on the Russian resolution. It referred to the previous Council report that it was unable to make any recommendation.

New York, a non-professional, were married in 1902 and Dolores and Helene were born to them. But a rift developed as early as 1910. Mrs. Costello brought the girls to Hollywood in 1925.

Dolores marriage to the late John Barrymore didn't meet with Costello's approval, widening the breach, and in 1927 Costello and his wife were divorced. Two years later she died. After Dolores divorced Barrymore in 1935 the girls and their father healed the family wounds.

Costello and Ruth Reeves, daughter of Federal Judge Alfred I. Reeves of Kansas City, were married in 1939, but were divorced in 1941.

Once when Costello was asked in recent years what became of all the money he earned in his hey-day he said: "We lived well and every down and out actor knew that 'Cos' had a check book."

Farmers Markets Hold First Pecan Sales Of Season

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 30.—(Special)—The season's first pecan auctions to be held at State Farmers Markets were held in Bonifay and Starke last week.

On Tuesday, the Bonifay Market held a light volume though prices were fairly satisfactory. Stewart's led with a price of 30 1/2¢ per pound, Schley 29 1/2¢, Moore 27 1/2¢, Success 27 1/2¢ and Seedlings 25¢.

The sale on Thursday at the Starke Market totaled 40,000 pounds with prices ranging from 35¢ for Schleys to as low as 11 1/2¢ on Tesch, Curtis and Stewart's brought 28¢, Mahans 32¢, Mixed and Kennedys brought 27¢ and 27 1/2¢, Moneybags 25¢, Seedlings and Success 25 1/2¢ to 25 3/4¢, Randall's 24¢, Van Demons 25¢, Presidents, Prochers and Brantleys 24 1/2¢.

Sales will be held each week during the season on Tuesday at Bonifay and on Thursday at the Starke Market," according to William L. Wilson, Director of State Markets.

Reports from other markets in the system show 13,929 field crates of cucumbers brought a distressingly low average price of $1.42 per bushel on the Wauchula State Farmers Market during the past week with light volume of people, eggplant, white and yellow squash, tomatoes, okra and pole beans bringing the total packages to 14,161 with a gross revenue of $20,404.

Forecasts for this week indicate a reduction in cucumber volume due to storm damage, though harvesting of new fields is expected to commence shortly and volume and quality will improve. Other commodities are expected to show an increase from now on.

The Pahokee State Market reports during the past week the salvaging of storm damaged corn there and from the Indian River section, and also of beans. Damaged corn, bean and celery fields have been cultivated and dusted and may yield fair crops. Planting in dried out irrigated fields is now fairly heavy. A hard movement of better quality corn and beans is anticipated this week.

The Sanford State Farmers Market reports the citrus packing houses resumed operations at a high speed as hurricane damage to fruit in Central Florida appears negligible. Growers and dealers are reported as being discouraged owing to heavy loss to the bean crop. A 100% yield of bean acreage is estimated. Anticipated yields from the acreage left may run about 25 to 50 bushels per acre. A large volume of citrus and a fair volume of beans is expected this week.

Dowdy Injured

A Negro who left his 1935 Ford pickup truck parked on the Orlando Highway near the Glass Tower, resulting in an accident, was arrested on three charges, parking on the highway, leaving the scene of an accident, and driving after his license had been revoked. He is Johnny Lee Brown, Orlando, and was released on $225 bond after being arrested Sunday by Patrolman Harrison.

A 1937 Chevrolet Sedan, driven by Julius Bridges, Orlando Negro, ran into the back end of the parked Ford. J. Pierpont Mitchell of Sanford, driving south on the old Orlando Highway toward Five Points at 7:30 P.M. Sunday, narrowly escaped injury when the revolving wheel on his 1947 club coupe locked and it hit a telephone pole causing damage to the car, estimated at $150.

Mrs. Rita Craig, 515 West Fir & Street, suffered somewhat from shock and was attended by Dr. J. N. Tolar following an automobile collision at Elm Avenue and Fifteenth Street this morning at 8:54 o'clock. Damage to her 1940 La Salle Sedan was estimated by the police at $350. The other car in the accident was a 1948 Ford Coupe driven by Almer Freeson, Negro, and damage was put at $500.

Communists China

(Continued from Page One) of the Calcutta newspaper, The Statesman, reported the Chinese Communists were believed planning a three-pronged drive on Lhasa, from both the northeast and southeast, as well as other advances into Eastern Tibet and into the north of the remote Himalayan Lama-ruled country.

The Indian government spokesman added that Tibet has asked India for any diplomatic assistance it could give—specifically for the "continuance of the good offices which India has made available in the past."

The spokesman did not say what assistance India planned but denied that the Tibetan message included a request for military assistance or that the Chinese invasion be brought before the United Nations.

India already has sent a note to the Chinese Communist government in Peiping expressing regret and surprise at the Red order to invade Tibet. The spokesman said no answer had been received to this note.

He added that according to latest reports the Tibetan delegation which has been negotiating here with the Chinese Communist ambassador still planned to go to Peiping for further talks. The Tibetans, he said, had gone to Kalimpong, near the India-Tibet frontier, to pick up their baggage and planned to leave for Peiping, via Hong Kong, at the end of the first week in November.

The Indian spokesman said his government's representative in Lhasa also reported considerable Communist infiltration into this country. He said that pamphlets were being distributed in an effort to spread disaffection among the Tibetans.

Puerto Rico

Well informed sources said the nationalists, members of a small but well organized party which follows much the same line as the Communists, planned demonstrations to coincide with registration of voters Nov. 4, in connection with Puerto Rico's new constitution.

The nationalists, opposing the constitution, demanded complete independence of this territory from the United States. The outbreak began in two southern coastal towns. Later police and nationalists clashed at a northern coastal town, and then firing broke out in San Juan before the police occupied by Governor Luis Munoz Marin and in front of the San Juan post office.

The governor issued a statement urging the populace to keep calm. General Luis Esteves of the National Guard said he had not yet considered calling out the guard to cope with the nationalists, a small but well organized party which wants the United States to give Puerto Rico complete independence.

Eight nationalists were reported under arrest in the coastal areas. Although the nationalists follow much the same line in Puerto Rico as the Communists, there was no evidence that the Communists were involved in the outbreak. Both parties demand the complete independence of Puerto Rico from the United States. The island is a territory whose 2,000,000 people are U. S. citizens.

The clashes occurred at Ponce, 50 miles southwest of San Juan, and the nearby town of Penuelas, both in the southern coastal area, and at Arecibo on the northern coast. Nationalist opposition to the government intensified recently over the issue of a new constitution which congress approved.

Nationalists stormed the police station at Ponce and an armed clash ensued. Meanwhile a group of 30 men carrying out a search for the president of the Nationalist Party, Pedro Albizu Campos, went to the home of Albizu's mother near Penuelas and were met by gunfire.

The revolt flared in more than 10 centers on the island, including San Juan, where 1,500 troops stood by today for action wherever they might be needed.

Florida Exhibit Is Well Received At St. Louis Meeting

Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson was enthusiastic over the Florida exhibit which he viewed for about an hour during the recent convention of the National Association of Postmasters at the Jefferson Hotel, St. Louis.

Mr. Field, who had been appointed by the Florida postmasters group to make arrangements for the exhibit, personally conducted Mr. Donaldson around the exhibit and invited him to attend the state convention of postmasters in Panama City in November.

H. B. Lucy, manager of the hotel, was quoted by Mr. Field as stating the Florida exhibit, occupying a large portion of the main building floor, was the most outstanding ever shown at the hotel.

Photographers from Life and Time magazines were present to make pictures of the paintings and dioramas, and the huge 19 foot replica of the Seal of Florida, at the base which were displayed.

More than 4,000 postmasters from throughout the nation viewed the exhibit, and many expressed interest in Florida and read the many pamphlets, including 300 from Seminole County, he declared.

Among outstanding exhibits, said Mr. Field, was that of the paper industries of Florida. This portrayed all phases of manufacture and transportation, and specimens of pines from saplings to sections of 17 year old trees were shown.

At the end of the exhibit, Mr. and Mrs. Field arrived back in Sanford early Sunday morning.

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 31—Just when I feared that Hollywood was getting too serious, along comes Marie Windsor with an idea for a full-length sweater.

The film town has been all wrapped up in discussions of loyalty oaths, films about the nation's problems, public relations, etc. Today we have glamour girl Windsor suggesting that we wrap the female sex up in sweaters.

And while this may not solve Hollywood's issues, it may help to ease the pain.

"The whole nonsense began when Marie was starring with Jon Hall in a film called 'Hurricane Island' recently. Since Marie was a half-Hollywood, she was naturally expected to wear a sarong. She tried one on and balked.

"What's wrong with a sarong?" I asked, stifling a snicker.

"They're unattractive," she pouted.

"When you get all wrapped up in those things, you bulge in the wrong places. They reveal too much and do nothing for a girl's figure or a man's imagination.

"Besides, they're impractical. Have you ever tried to swim in one? I confessed I hadn't.

Well, you're apt to find the sarong unravelled out behind you. That happened to me once and I had to emerge from the water in a towel."

So in the picture Marie wears an off-the-shoulder silk outfit. She plays a pirate queen around Florida in the movie 'De Leon' and she argued that a sarong would be slightly out of place.

"Besides," she added, "I think we should replace the sarong with something more American. Now that could be more American than a full-length sweater."

Besides being patriotic, the sweater would do wonders for girls' figures, Marie declared.

"I don't believe that girls should reveal as much as they do in sarongs and some bathing suits," she observed.

"If you have certain attractions, I believe you should intimate the outline, rather than reveal. It is much more subtle."

Marie is an accomplished hand (or leg?) at the art of cheesecake. A provo girl, she began back in her home state of Utah as Miss Streamliner, the honoree of a new train on the Denver and Grand Central Railroad. She soon became Miss Utah, Queen of the Covered Wagon Days, and Miss Miners' Day.

The latter selection landed her enough money to buy luggage for a trip to Hollywood. Her first attempt to storm the studio gates failed, but she came back again and landed a contract at MGM.

The studio publicity minds promptly named her Miss Dimensions of 1947. They are: bust 37, waist 24 1/2, hips 37 1/2. Her 125 pounds are distributed gracefully on her five-foot, eight-inch frame.

She of course wants to be an actress and has done several creditable performances. Meanwhile, she is content to pose in full-length sweaters, or whatever.

"Gals like Joan Crawford and Betty Grable still do cheesecake, and look how long they've lasted," she observed. "That's good enough for me."

Colony Crates Holds Halloween Party

An old-fashioned "jamboree" was enjoyed by the Seminole High students at the Colony Crates Saturday night social. Refreshments, party. Students donned dungarees and loud shirts and enjoyed an evening of fun, which consisted of dancing, group games, fortune telling, horse show and contest dancing.

Miss Ann Whitaker, president of the Colony Crates, was general chairman of the party and was assisted by Miss Donna Lou Harper, Miss Kay Holtzclaw, Ronnie Anderson, Miss Sandra Dunn, Miss Grace Marie Stinebaugh, Miss Jean Strawder and Billy Park.

Bob Crumley conducted the group games and square dances. A potato dance contest was held and Miss Norma Faye Harvey and Clarence Clause tied with Miss Barbara Ann Pearce and Ronnie Anderson for first place. Miss Grace Marie Stinebaugh and Billy Park placed second.

After refreshments which consisted of punch and cake in Halloween colors were served. Prof. Herman E. Morris told a ghost story. Mrs. Fred Cooper assisted by Mrs. M. N. Cleveland and Mrs. H. M. Pearce served the refreshments. Chaperones were Mrs. E. P. Holtzclaw, director of the Colony Crates, J. M. Stinebaugh, recreational chairman, Mrs. R. T. Thomas, Mrs. Homer Osborne, Mrs. John Miller, Miss Winnifred Level, Mrs. J. Bullinger, Mrs. Pearl Houser and Prof. and Mrs. Herman E. Morris.

Seminole Hi Is Beverly Gray

Something extra special happened in the colony today. Namely, the 1950 Variety Show given by the A Squad group of S. H. S. and directed by music instructor, Miss Ethel Heese Whittle. This is something to mark down in your little black book, or tie a string around your finger, any time you remember "Showcase Fallers". It's got a catchy name and one that will make you want to investigate further! Make a date for Tuesday, Nov. 7; be sure and find a seat by 8:00, for it's going to be crowded! There will probably be an afternoon performance for students, which will only cost 25 cents, as you know most student tickets are cheaper. Evening of afternoon and come in! If you like, it will be 25 cents for students and 50 cents for all your Mommas and Poppas and older boy friends!

There was quite a crowd at the game against St. August Friday night. Everyone, cheerleaders, students, faculty, and anybody that went, should be recommended for encouragement and cheerfulness.

We shouldn't have lost that game because our boys were in their fighting as hard as you could possibly want them to be. Our Celery Field eleven is big and strong compared to most teams, and our coaches have done excellent jobs, so there is no reason whatsoever that we should not win this next game. We played a good hard game but the score ended 20 to 0.

That small, but simply precious Patricia Tucker was spoiled to the game by a cute Fresh, Bobby Graham and Kathleen Kiehoff were there, too, both looking mighty cute. Last but not least, Buddy Carley with a sweet truck on his arm.

The dance, which was held at the Colony Crates, was barrels of fun with loads of kids there to enjoy it. If you didn't go last Friday night or to the next one, they had Saturday night, make it a date at 8:00 this week! Wear your old jeans and floppy shoes, no fancy minds and expensive, just everyone has so much fun! You can dance or shoot pool, play cards, read magazines or just sit and talk. The Crates is fully equipped and closes at 11:00. Don't forget now!

You know how sometimes there is a slip in the print or something like that and an advertisement or bulletin comes out funny, but rather tragic. Here is one.

Mrs. John Post is pretty sick at her ranch west of town and all persons are requested by her sons to stop coming to see the big hog until she improves!

Lots of kids are going to the carnival at Southside tonight night or to the next one. They had Saturday night, make it a date at 8:00 this week! It Is Cruel To Laugh At Stuttering People

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
AP Education Writer

Stuttering is a family, even though it may sound to some people.

Especially so, it is cruel to laugh at a young man or girl who does stutter, says the National Kendercatter Association.

The Association recorded a conversation between a mother and her son which all of us have read in Here's how it went:

"What's a new boy at school, Mom? You ought to hear him talk!"

"Oh! What's his name?"

"Sam. The boys call him 'Stutter Sam.' He talks like this: 'How do you do, Mrs. Jones? You have been laughing at the way Sam talks, but, instead, you ought help him!'"

Billy looked at his mother in wonder. The girl started out to be a joke for Mother about Sam. Billy was rather proud of the way he could imitate Sam's stuttering.

"How do you know we ought to wait for him to talk, Mom?" he asked. "He just started out to be a joke for Mother about Sam. Billy was rather proud of the way he could imitate Sam's stuttering."

"I don't think so, I come me. Those who have made a special study of the difficulty know a much more about stuttering. They used to think people may already be cured without anything but a special school or anything like that."

"So, am I, Sam? You wasn't a serious difficulty. Most little boys and girls boys especially have trouble in learning to talk properly. But almost all can learn if they have help."

"I don't know how I could help Sam."

"Being kind to him is one way. Be certain of that, and waiting for him to finish what he says is another. Take time to listen."

"Oh, try, Mom!"

To vary the way you serve the usual stew, arrange it on individual salad greens with a scoop of creamed cottage cheese in the center. Sprinkle both the stew and the chicken with a dash of colorful paprika.

Sullivan's Arm Is Florida's Only Hope Against Rampaging Wildcats

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 31.—(Special)—Riding the crest of their finest football start in upward of a dozen years, Florida's Fighting Gators meet a more than man-sized proposition when they bump into the undefeated, united and virtually unscathed Kentucky Wildcats at Lexington Saturday afternoon.

Stated to win a maximum of three and a super supreme of four games before the season opened, Coach Bob Woodruff's amazing sophomores have dashed off victories over Citadel, Duquesne, Auburn, Vanderbilt and Furman and dropped a 13-14 decision to Georgia Tech in the final moments of the game.

While the Florida ground attack of Billy Reddell, Floyd and Jack Nichols has fared far Huggins, Sammy Osterhout better than previous expectations allowed the bid against Kentucky will rest in the accurate right arm of sophomore quarterback Hayward Sullivan.

It is ironical, to the Gators at least, that Sullivan's bid must be made against one of the greatest passers in football, Kentucky's Vita (Habe) Parilli.

At the moment Sullivan has completed 55 of 103 passes for 618 yards and seven touchdowns. His danger as a trapped runner came out in the Furman game when he clipped off gains of 19 and 37 yards when free receivers could be located.

Billy Reddell and Floyd Huggins, right halfback and full back went over the 200-yard mark as ball carriers in the Furman game. Reddell, who is maintaining a 5.9 yard per run average, topped his total to 233 and Huggins reached the 200 yard mark exactly and has a 4.0 yard per try average.

The Gators will be forced to give weight, accuracy and reference to the Wildcats' 115 week-end. Coach Bob Woodruff is fielding an offensive team with seven sophomores in the lineup and defense unit with the same number of first-year varsity men. Both the offensive and defensive platoons also have two junior college transfer students—Reddell and Huggins on offense and guards Jimmy Hicks and James Reeves on defense.

The Florida record through six games shows wins over Citadel (7-1), Duquesne (27-14), Auburn (27-7), Vanderbilt (31-27) and Furman (19-14) and a loss to Georgia Tech (13-16).

Michigan State's Rose Bowl Hopes Quashed By Rule

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Any hopes Michigan State winner of five out of six games thus far might have of going to the Rose Bowl were quashed today. K. L. (Tom) Wilson, Big Ten athletic commissioner, said that a ruling May, 1949, was made by the conference permitting only a championship contender to play the final two games in the five-year series which ends next new year's day.

Michigan and Notre Dame among its victims, is a member-in-name-only of the conference. The Spartans begin football championship play in 1952.

With only a loss to Maryland (24-7) marring their record, the Spartans have lately been boosted from several quarters as the mid-west's delegate to the 1951 Pasadena classic.

A new Rose Bowl pact, if one is ever signed by the big ten and Pacific Coast conferences, may prove less stringent than the current contract and leave a possibility for a Michigan State bid in 1952 or '53.

Both conferences have exchanged ideas on a new pact, said Wilson, "but we haven't done anything definite yet, and I don't think the Pacific Coast has either." The Pacific Coast conference apparently has a preference for sending its championship every three years. If we get together, undoubtedly there will be a compromise.

The Big Ten race currently favors Illinois, Michigan or Wisconsin for the Rose Bowl bid, although the champion may not be any of them. Ohio State now is a heavy favorite for the crown, but the Buckeyes are ineligible for the Pasadena trip since they went last January, edging California 17-14.

Illinois took the 1947 Rose Bowl championship in the opener of the pact, beating UCLA 45-14. Michigan trounced Southern California 49-0 in 1948 and Northwestern whipped California 20-14 in 1949. Although ineligible to compete, Michigan State ironically has a vote in selecting the Big Ten's bowl representative when the conference title chase ends Nov. 25.

Gator Distance Men Run Against Georgia

AUBURN, Ala., Oct. 31.—(AP)—Florida's strong cross-country team trained for Georgia after winning over Auburn 20-36.

The Gators took the measure of the Tigers yesterday. Low score wins in this competition.

Bill Wood of Florida placed first in the four-mile race with a time of 20:14. Others figuring in the scoring in order of finish were Bob Lagasse (F); Bert McClammy (F); Homer Sparks (A); Cary Green (A); David Prange (F); John Parker (A); Douglas Beal (F); Duncann Bryant (A); Robert Johnson (F); and Bill Duke (A). Auburn meets Alabama in Tusculum and Florida faces Georgia in Athens, both Monday.

By ED HARPER

The Herald's football expert, Inebius Jones, wandered in this morning muttering something like "Parilli's passes plug prediction." We mentioned him with the news that Kentucky's win over Georgia Tech was his only wrong forecast giving 9 to 10. But Inebius, being a perfectionist, was unhappy.

Against their first tough opposition of the season the Wildcats proved to be more than adequate Parilli, a backfield magician at being and hiding a football, finished the Tech defeat with short, accurate passes followed by line plunges when the desperate Jack Stetson went into a four-man line to stop him. Big Bob Gain was equally effective on defense against a Tech team which just doesn't have it this season.

A bet to home Florida squared last Furman on an inspired football game which the Gators played as if they were afraid of getting their press clippings soiled.

As a result of the game which was held as a breather and except for sophomore Huggins and Sullivan's brilliant passing the South Carolinians would have breathed heavily on the necks of the lethargic Florida players.

The amazing Sullivan passed for two touchdowns and set up a third on a 33 yard quarterback sneak but the team as a whole did not play the calibre football likely to beat undefeated Kentucky, Georgia and Miami or once defeated Alabama.

The Gators apparently have that indefinable quality, so precious in football teams, of playing just well enough to win without over-exerting themselves. It may give partisan spectators a slight case of nervous prostration occasionally.

In Pittsburgh the Miami Hurricanes raked up another win to extend what is becoming one of the most impressive unbeaten streaks in southern football—a streak that is getting the attention it deserves in national polls. Ironically the two stars of the game were from nearby McKeesport, Pa., but they were playing for the Miami team.

A large turnout of home folks came to cheer the oil-smooth passing combination of Jack Hackett to Ed Lutes. Pittsburgh hasn't won a game, but they play in a tough conference, and Miami got more than a smattering in spite of the 28-0 margin.

End Don Martin proved to be the difference in the Stetson tilt with Livingston, Ala. He kicked four extra points as the Hatters won 28-27 in a wild game which saw the lead change hands three times in the last quarter. Stetson's superior conditioning paid off in the final period, particularly in ramming over the win-plunging touchdowns on game line plunges against worn-out Livingston.

The heavier, harder charging Florida State line provided the margin of victory over a tricky Seawater. The Seminoles eked out the win on a long run and consistent ground game utilizing their superior line.

In the west an underdog Vanderbilt scratched out a victory over Arkansas on Bill Wade's passes and the phenomenal kicking of Dean Davidson who averaged 61 yards on three punts—one of which was a 75 yard kick which fell dead on the Arkansas 13 yard line.

On the local scene football prospects are as black as coal. The undermanned Celestevs were no match for a rugged St. Augustine squad which scored at will. Incubus tells us he is cooking up a startling upset for next Saturday.

Winless Auburn To Play Favored Mississippi State

Tiger Coach Is Optimistic In Spite Of 5 Straight Losses

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., Oct. 31.—(AP)—Football coaches are known as superb worriers and Mississippi State's Slick Morton isn't an exception.

His Maroons meet Auburn's winless Tigers here Saturday afternoon in a Southeastern Conference match and by all football calculations Mississippi State should win easily. But you see . . .

Early this season Auburn coach Earl Brown predicted:

"We're going to knock off somebody."

And after his Tigers, battered and beaten down by Tulane 28-0 last Saturday, came forth with this startling bit:

"Well, we still have hope, but we're going to have to go full speed all the way to do it."

And Morton figures that any coach who can be that optimistic after his team loses six straight is a man to be concerned about. Brown might be down, but he's certainly not counting himself or his Tigers out.

For a football coach these days, that's as unusual as finding $100 bills crammed in the kid's piggy bank.

Football coaches just aren't supposed to be optimists. Here's Brown with a team that hasn't won a game and he says "we still have hope." You can see why Morton is worried.

Mississippi State lost a tough 14-7 decision to Alabama last week and the Maroons will be trying desperately to get back in the win column to bring their season average up to the .500 mark with a 3-3 record.

And, of course, the Maroons still remember what happened at Auburn last year when the Tigers won a 25-6 victory. This will be the 25th game between the two schools, but it will mark the first time that Auburn has ever played at state college.

Commenting further on the game, Brown said: "Our offense will have to improve against State. In the Tulane game our offense didn't perform well enough to give the defensive men a rest. For the third straight week we wilted in the second half because we lacked reserves."

Brown added that Stot Stein, his end coach, should lead at least a week and "reports they're faster than Tulane and almost as big." Auburn suffered a big loss in the Tulane game when left halfback Dickie Flourmyer broke his hand. Otherwise, the squad's in fair physical shape.

The Maroons came out of the Alabama game limited, but all of the boys are expected to be ready for Saturday.

Mississippi State has won only one S. E. C. game, an upset 7-0 victory over Tennessee. They lost to Georgia 27-0 in their only other conference start.

Stetson Hatters Begin Basketball Practice Sessions

DELAND, Oct. 31.—(Special)—The basketball fortunes of the Stetson University Hatters are unknown quantities at present, but Coach Loren E. Ellis is beginning to prepare his squad for the season's opener with Florida Southern's Moccasins at Lakeland, Fla., December 1.

Ellis, a newcomer to college coaching circles in Florida, coached the "World's Tallest Basketball Team" at Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind., to a record of 55 wins and 16 losses over a period of nine years.

The Hatter mentor coached at Michigan City, Ind., High School before he assumed the position at Valparaiso. In two years he developed a team that played in the "big time" circuit until he left to coach and manage the Hammond Buccaneers of the National Professional League and the Waterloo, Iowa, Hawks of the National Basketball Association.

Ellis holds a bachelor of science degree from Indiana State and has done graduate work at the University of Indiana. He is 49, married and has two daughters.

A squad of 18 men began early this week their tasks of conditioning for the coming college season. The "High Hatters" sport some of the tallest youths in Florida college basketball this year. Jim Young, who towers 6 feet and 8 inches, and Ted Cassidy who stands 6 feet 8 inches in his stocking feet, are among the tallest players adorning the Hatter lineup.

JOHN JOE SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Joe Di Maggio, New York Yankee outfielder, and Lefty O'Doul, San Francisco Soul's manager, left by plane last night for Japan.

O'Doul will conduct baseball clinics and John Joe will display his world-famous ability at the plate.

Relief pitching ace Jim Konstanty of the Phillies finished 59 games this season to break the mark of 56 set by Clint Brown of the White Sox in 1929. Konstanty worked in 74 games.

From August 8 to Sept. 1 Jim O'Doul pitched in 11 straight games in which his mates either won or lost.

Santa Clara's first four football games played in bowl games last winter. They were California (Rover, Rice Cotton), San Jose State (Raisin) and Stanford (Pineapple).

North And South Golf Tournament Boasts Top Field

PINEHURST, N.C., Oct. 31.—(AP)—The big guns wheeled into action today, making par 72 the target, in the 48th North and South Open Golf Tournament, a $7,500 tee party, began.

Sam Snead still was the choice to win and add $1,500 to the bulging bankroll that has been the heaviest in pro golf this year and last. Snead won the event last year with a 14-under-par 275 job, and came here on the heels of winning the mid-Atlantic PGA event at Portsmouth, Va., Sunday.

Yesterday's qualifying round for non-invited players did not bring up any new threats to Snead's role as favorite. Only six of 133 players bettered par over the 6,952-yard, Pinehurst County Club No. 2 course. Jack Groat, a bespectacled pro playing out of Columbus, Ohio, led the pack with a three-under 60.

Groat had a stroke edge over Chuck Klein, pro of San Antonio, Tex., and veteran Bill Gidycz of Mt. Kisco, N. Y., each with a 63-37-70.

Attracted against Snead were some of the top professionals in the game, including Clayton Heafner, Jim Ferrier, Jimmy Tomney, Johnny Palmer, Chandler Harper, Bob Hamilton, Vic Giberti, Julius Boron, Dave Douglas, Chick Harbert and Claude Harmon.

The strong amateur contingent included Frank Stranahan, National Amateur Champion Sam Verzeq, Dick Champion, Bill Campbell, Jim McHale, Ted Bishop and Mal Galletta.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(AP)—The old-fashioned single wing had the T-formation boys opening their eyes on the college football fields last week-end.

Single-wing exponents fashioned some of the year's most significant successes, like this: Princeton 27 Cornell 0, Penn 30 Navy 7, UCLA 20 Purdue 0, Minnesota 7 Michigan 7, Ohio State 83 Iowa 21, Michigan State 36 Notre Dame 33.

Charlie Caldwell of Princeton and George Munger of Penn. use the single wing in its purest form. So does UCLA's Red Sanders, who moved to the coast from Vanderbilt and never changed to the T.

Coach Wes Foster at Ohio State poured more ideas into the T-formation last year than he did in 1949. He added the single wing to the T-formation.

Biggie Munn of Michigan State mixed the single wing and T formations in whipping Notre Dame in one of the big games of the day.

Who said the single wing was out-moded stuff, anyhow? Penn State's night football game against Syracuse was its fifth in the history of the school.

42 Million Votes Expected To Be Cast To Set Record For Off-Year

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—High registrations in many key northern states and several in the South led state officials and party chairmen today to predict a total vote on Nov. 7 of better than 42,000,000.
That would be a record for a non-presidential election.
These same sources, using official registrations in a few and estimates in most states, plus the number of persons eligible to vote this year at 89,584,478 a record.
Their state-by-state vote forecast, qualified in many instances and admittedly based on guesses in others, comes out 42,235,632.
The odd digits are due to inclusion of the official vote of 297,632 cast in Maine Sept. 11 for House candidates.
Incidentally, the Maine vote for governor and House members exceeded those totals in the presidential year of 1948, and came after what some party leaders said was a rather apathetic campaign.
The potential voter eligibles, persons 21 and over, is estimated by the Census Bureau at 96,232,000 as of July 1, 1950. The actual vote is always far below this figure.
While the 42,000,000 vote estimate seems high to many political experts, the Democratic National Committee says unofficially it looks for a vote far above the previous mid-term record of 37,304,380 cast in 1938, if the turnout this year is normal in proportion to population growth.
Also, the CIO Political Action Committee says a vote of more than 40,000,000 is indicated if measures by one formula and close to 40,000,000 if gauged by another.
The total vote in the last off-year, 1946, counting the highest vote in each state for governor, senator, or all House candidates, was 35,874,568. This was an in-

5-State Telephone Teamwork Clears $1,600,000 Damage In Florida in a Hurry

Florida has just seen another example of the importance of a sound telephone system with the facilities and the spirit of service among its employees to meet any emergency.
Before the hurricane winds had died away, local Southern Bell people were busy restoring service. Other men and materials sped to Florida by plane, train and truck.
A large number of experienced telephone men and scores of trucks with tools and materials came from Georgia, Alabama, North Carolina and Tennessee to join those in Florida. Switchboard operators handled an unusually heavy load of calls that helped the stricken areas get back on their feet.
That's the kind of teamwork Southern Bell applies when flood, fire or hurricane strikes—teamwork that cuts days or even weeks of the time it takes to restore service. Florida folks have seen this kind of telephone teamwork many times before.
Your telephone company and the telephone men and women who serve you, fully appreciate their responsibility to the public.

Price Stabilizer Says Controls May Last Indefinitely

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31—(AP)—Economic stabilizer Alan Valentine said today home front controls may last far longer this time than the four-year sacrifices of World War II.

In an address prepared for the Women's National Press Club, Valentine cautioned against "false optimism" as a result of victories in Korea and declared:

"We need to formulate a program for defense production, not for four years, but possibly for much longer."

He described the present situation as a twilight zone of half peace and said "we must formulate programs and controls which can be necessary endure more years and yet which will leave our economy at the end of that time stable, productive and free."

Controls already brought into play are only just beginning to affect output of goods for civilians. Word from the National Production Authority (NPA) is that cuts of 20 to 30 percent in civilian use of copper, nickel and aluminum will probably be ordered within the next 10 days, effective Dec. 1.

That will mean less of these metals available for making electrical appliances, radios, television sets and many other items.

Valentine said his economic stabilization agency loses its "first hope" on indirect controls to combat menacing inflation.

But he said these restraints—higher taxes, more savings, credit controls and allocations—cannot succeed unless the public is ready to give up some luxuries and comforts as was done after Pearl Harbor.

"Many good Americans are not yet ready to make real personal sacrifices to win in the war against inflation," Valentine said.

"Must Alaska or Greenland be in enemy hands before many Americans recognize our danger and act accordingly?"

In calling indirect controls the "first hope," Valentine likened price and wage ceilings to "tying the lid on the tea kettle."

and police detachment was besieged in the police station there.

The Rebel forces in Jayuya reportedly were led by Juan Antonio Corrales, principal aide of Harvard-educated Pedro Albizu Campos, the Nationalist party chief.

Fighting also broke out in the town of Mayaguez, where police headquarters was attacked. A policeman was reported killed in the initial attack which was followed by a battle between Nationalist and police forces in the public park.

The heaviest fighting, however, was at Jayuya between rebels and National Guardsmen ordered to clean out the insurrectionist forces before moving on to Utuado, 10 miles to the west. A nationalist threw a bomb at the Utuado post office today and was shot dead.

At Ponce, where violence yesterday gave the signal for the revolt, six nationalists were arrested and each was charged with murdering two policemen. District Attorney Antonio Garcia said a captured Nationalist confessed a full-scale revolt was scheduled for the eve of the Nov. 4 registration for a vote on the new constitution, which the nationalists oppose.

National Guard officers estimated that the strength of those operating under Nationalist leadership was from 1,500 to 2,500 armed men. They added that the Communists could be expected to grab any opportunity to keep things boiling on this island now.

Citrus Prices Are Down From Same Date Last Season

ORLANDO, Oct. 31—(AP)—Prices received by Florida citrus growers in mid-October were considerably less than on the same date a year ago.

In its semi-monthly report, the U.S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics said that on Oct. 15 the average equivalent on tree price of oranges a box was $1.84. This compared with $2.36 a year ago.

Grapefruit prices averaged $1.17 a box against $2.39 on Oct. 15, 1949.

Limes were an exception. They were up from a year ago, averaging $1.00 a box, 30 cents more.

The index of prices received by all Florida farmers at 297 percent of the 1909-1914 average on Oct. 15 was 23 points below the mid-September index and eight points less than the October, 1949, index.

The drop from a month ago was caused principally by declines in the prices for corn, meat animals and citrus.

The only increases for the month of any importance were in prices received for eggs and dairy products which continued to show their usual seasonal advance.

active and diligent to prevent said violations and to discover and prosecute the violators.

"They have not in good faith used the powers which the law gives them to prevent, suppress and punish said violations of the gambling laws; and that they have neglected their duty to enforce said laws."

Ervin included numerous affidavits citing open violations of the gambling laws in the county and offices in support of Littlefield and Slaughter in his report to the Governor.

Warren was not immediately available for comment on the report.

Warren asked Ervin to make an investigation and determine if there was sufficient evidence of gambling in Volusia county after the Tampa Tribune published articles on wide open sales of betting tickets and operation of a poker game.

Ervin's investigation was made by Assistant Attorney General James B. Toney and W. H. Gaque, special investigator.

The Attorney General said his staff did not make a thorough investigation of gambling conditions in Daytona Beach and New Smyrna.

He said one affidavit submitted, if believed by the Governor, is sufficient to show the constable in the Daytona Beach area has neglected his duty to enforce the gambling laws. There is not sufficient evidence to show neglect of duty by the New Smyrna Beach constable, he declared.

Sheriff Alex Littlefield of Volusia refused in Deland today to comment on Attorney General Ervin's statement that he had "failed to enforce the gambling laws."

Littlefield was informed of Ervin's statement here, where he is attending a murder trial in circuit court.

Deland constable W. M. Slaughter, also cited by Ervin as having "put his eyes" to west Volusia gambling, said:

"I've done the best I can to enforce law and order in my district."

helped by the Communists."

Guard officers described the situation in Jayuya and Utuado as tense. Two companies of Militia, armed with machineguns, bazookas and armor, have been pushed to Jayuya, a town of 1,500 which has virtually been burned to the ground by the attacking rebels. It was difficult to estimate the number of casualties there.

24th Division Pushes Toward Boundary City Near Important Red Airbase

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
SEOUL, Nov. 1.—(AP)—American armor tumbled toughened over rallying Reds in northwest Korea today and thrust within 19 air miles of the Communist Manchurian border.

Overhead, Russian-built jet fighters, flying at almost the speed of sound, were battled to a draw by slower U. S. Mustangs. Apparently neither side lost any planes in the dogfight, a spokesman said.

The swift ground thrust to Changwon by a tank column of the U. S. 24th Division came after fierce Communist counterattacks along the Chong River were repulsed Tuesday night.

U. S. Eighth Army headquarters said the column was pushing toward the Yalu River boundary City of Sinuiju against lessening resistance. Sinuiju is across the Yalu from Antung, big Chinese Red airbase in Manchuria.

Earlier Wednesday, three Russian-made Yak planes were shot down by U. S. F-51 Mustang fighters and a B-26 light bomber. The fighters got two, the bomber one.

One American F-80 jet fighter was downed by Red anti-aircraft fire.

Red Korean resistance elsewhere on the 250-mile peninsula front was stiff and getting stiffer.

A U. S. First Cavalry spokesman reported a tank-led Communist column launched a dusk assault on the Republic of Korea (ROK) first Division northwest of Unsan, on the northwest front.

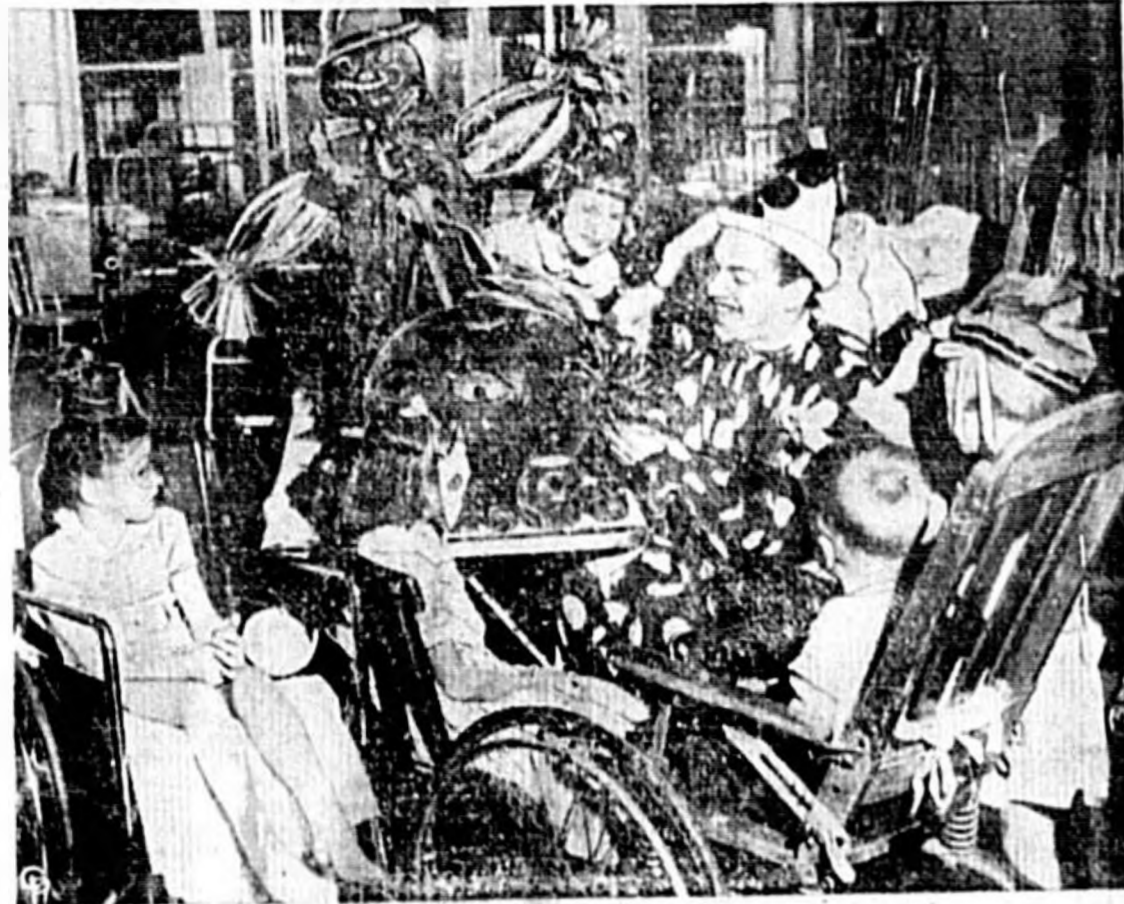

Strong Red attacks were hurled against the U. S. First Cavalry Division, which rolled into battle southeast of Unsan to relieve the hardpressed ROK Eighth Division horsemen.

The Reds reported punching southward were some 1,000 Cavalry had not been used to any extent earlier in the war. The Red Koreans who invaded South Korea June 25 were equipped with Russian-made tanks, field pieces and automatic weapons.

The use of cavalry in the Orient harks back to the Mongolian hordes that swept across the Asian plains centuries ago.

Pope Proclaims Mother Of Christ Went To Heaven In Body And Soul

By FRANK BRUTTO
VATICAN CITY, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Pope Pius XII formally proclaimed before one of the most spectacular assemblies of the Catholic Church today the dogma that Mary, mother of Jesus, went to heaven in body as well as in soul.

This, he said, had been divinely revealed. The new dogma thus became part of the church creed with 400,000,000 Roman Catholics throughout the world must accept or risk exposure to heresy.

The last dogma added to the church doctrine was in 1870. The pronouncement, contained in a long papal bull, was read from a temporary throne before the central altar of St. Peter's Basilica. In front of the Pontiff stretched a throng of Holy Year pilgrims and Germans said by Vatican historians to be the greatest they could recall in Christendom's history. The event, they added, was the crowning act of the 1950 Holy Year.

Loudspeakers and radio carried the Pope's Latin words to the outer fringes of the assembly and to the far corners of the world. They also picked up the thunderous choir of bells from Rome's nearly 500 churches which began a festive tolling at the conclusion of the proclamation, and the hurricane of cheers and "vivas" which greeted the Pope's declaration.

Church leaders were both in even estimate the size of the throng that extended to Castel St. Angelo on the banks of the Tiber, three-quarters of a mile away. But they said about 300,000. (Continued on Page Two)

Also suspended was Constable W. M. Slaughter of Deland. Warren made no immediate appointments to replace the two.

Littlefield's suspension followed by a few hours Attorney General Richard Evans' report he had a list of sworn statements that gambling had been allowed in the county.

Warren had asked Evans to investigate reports of gambling in Volusia. The Attorney General, backing his report with numerous affidavits. (Continued on Page Two)

Duff, Myers Fight Brass Knuckle Battle In Pennsylvania Election

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Pennsylvania's choice next Tuesday of a U. S. Senator and a new governor will be watched closely for a sign of the times in '52.

The central figure is James H. Duff, 67-year-old Republican governor who fought the old-guard leadership at the 1948 GOP convention, and this year scored a smashing primary victory that established him without question as Pennsylvania's No. 1 man in the party.

Red-headed Jim, nominee for the Senate, heads a ticket which he personally picked for six state offices. He has been mentioned by both Democrats and Republicans as a 1952 presidential possibility.

His opponent is Senator Francis Myers, top Democrat in the state, assistant majority leader of the Senate, a steady teacher of both New Deal and Fair Deal policies. He has served three terms in the House, one in the Senate.

Religious Group Hits Gambling In Florida Churches

Protestant Churchmen Deplore Fund
Raising Lotteries

ORLANDO, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Florida Council of Churches today adopted a resolution deploring Protestant churches use of games of chance, coffee and drawings to produce funds for church activities.

The resolution, adopted at the concluding session of a two-day annual meeting here, also hit at gambling throughout the state and recommended that the State Department of Education restrict its funds to public and private schools and include material showing the effect of gambling on our state political structure.

The resolution said the council "deplores the amount of church gambling and games of chance conducted in churches. It further deplores all church, patriotic and social organizations to limit that their organizations scrupulously obey the laws against gambling, and in no way encourage their members to become lawbreakers."

"I've had some queer ones with him," the gardener said. "But he hasn't been the same since Mrs. Joyce died. He seems to have lost the will to live."

Amendment Being Voted On Nov. 7 Will Ease Constitutional Change

(EDITORS' NOTE: This is one in a series explaining proposed amendments to the state constitution which are subject to ratification or rejection in the Nov. 7 general election.)

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 1.—(AP)—It will be a lot easier and less complicated to change Florida laws if voters approve a proposed amendment to the Constitution in the Nov. 7 election.

The proposal would enable the legislature to amend existing laws by merely printing and reenacting the specific affected paragraph.

At present the entire law, or affected section must be printed and reenacted.

In many instances, this requires typing and printing of numerous pages of the law.

Supporters of the proposed amendment contend it not only would eliminate considerable typing and printing costs but would also reduce the legislative printing costs by 60 percent.

Florida is now the lone state which revises its laws every two years that requires reenactment of entire laws or sections for amendments.

The proposed amendment makes no change in the requirement that a law shall contain only one subject, briefly expressed in its title, and that it cannot be amended by reference to its title only.

The legislative service, operated through the cooperation of the attorney general and the Institute of Government, provides legislators with a condensed report of every bill introduced during the session, thereby eliminating much of the danger of misconstruction of pending bills.
