EXPERIENCES OF 1ST TRIP THROUGH EVERGLADES ARE GIVEN HERE

By L. Church
My advice is to let every discontented man take a trip through the Everglades; if it doesn't kill him, it will certainly cure him. All these who are suffering from ennui, who have no taste for the good things of the world, and can feed on nothing but the daintiest of the table, after a few days of such experiences as we went through, will be as delicate to his taste as turkey's breast and "sinkers" will set as lightly on his stomach as the lightest white bread. He may have been raised to think food champagne the only drink fit for a gentleman, but he will grow to think cold coffee without milk or sugar equal to nectar. If a man is a dandy, a trip through the Everglades is the thing to cure him. A day's journey in slimy, decaying vegetable matter which coats and permeates everything it touches, and no water with which to wash it off, will be good for him, but his chief medicine will be his morning toilet. He must rise with the sun when the grass and leaves are wet with dew and put on his shrimking body clothes that are heavy and wet with slime, and scrape out of each shoe a cupful of black odorous mud. It's enough to make a man swear to be contented forever afterwards with a board for a bed and a clean shirt once a week. But to resume my story—As I said before several of the men had reached the island before me and from them I learned that as soon as the saw grass had burned out before them they had advanced with the boats, but made such slow progress that they decided to back what they would need that night and go on without them. But they found it was a case of jumping from the "frying pan into the fire" for it was harder to carry the baggage on their backs than to drag it in the boats. One by one the men came staggering up, and it was late before we ate or slept. Memory still dwells with delight on the thought of that supper and ghosts with tender affection over the recollection of my pleasure in eating mush that night. Ordinarily I detest mush.

The next morning nine men went back for the boats. The cooks stayed on the island to prepare a supply of food and the surveyors went on with the line. Several of the men had reached the island before me and from them I learned that as soon as the saw grass had burned out before them they had advanced with the boats, but made such slow progress that they decided to back what they would need that night and go on without them. But they found it was a case of jumping from the "frying pan into the fire" for it was harder to carry the baggage on their backs than to drag it in the boats. One by one the men came staggering up, and it was late before we ate or slept. Memory still dwells with delight on the thought of that supper and ghosts with tender affection over the recollection of my pleasure in eating mush that night. Ordinarily I detest mush.

A. M. Mays of West Palm Beach was in the city Wednesday on a business mission.

G. W. McGary of Wauchoha was among those present at town at Monday business here Wednesday.

H. C. Brink of Ridgely, Park, N. J., was among the out of state business visitors in Sanford on Wednesday.

Engene Shepard of Clearwater was among the business visitors in the city Thursday.

H. B. Robert of Tampa arrived in Sanford Wednesday for a brief stay here on business.

R. H. Johnson, T. H. Johnson and F. D. Winters were among the business visitors in the city Wednesday from Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Cash and son Thomas leave Thursday for a month's visit to New York, Cuba and Canada.

HIGHLANDERS BOW TWICE TO CELERY YMA

FINE PITCHING, TIMELY HITTING BEAT VISITORS

Johnny Wilson Blanks Opponents In First, Yielding But 6 Hits And Striking Out 10

Roger Williams Is Also In Fine Form

Blond-Haired Twirler Turns Enemies Back With 4 Measly Hits

Leo Crowe and his Celerymen dumped on the Highlanders yesterday for a double victory, behind the excellent hurling of Johnny Wilson and Roger Williams. It was a great afternoon for the several hundred customers who sat through the 18 innings of fast baseball and the final result sent them to their suppers with wide grins of satisfaction in the knowledge that their diamond representatives had recovered their lathing ways and that the percentage column of the Florida State League was considerably tightened.

Johnny gave up six hits in his performance. He kept them well scattered and at no time was he seriously in danger. He also fanned ten. The scoring started in the third, when successive singles by Beasley and Frisbie and a long double by Otto Dumas counted the first two. Crowe and Allen each drew a walk and then Frank Bailey lashed one to keep center and cleared the bags. Bailey was credited with a single.

In the sixth Dunbar opened by bolting a three base hit to right. Bailey was purposely passed and Eddie Rawson smashed a hit past second that counted both his men. Opportunity to score were many, but Sides, who relieved Willey for Lakeland in the third, managed to slip through without any more damage.

It was Wilson's second win over Lakeland in six days and it was very impressive. He is evidently after Cantwell's long record. The nightcap affair was a pitching duel from start to finish, both Williams and Cusack, of the Highlanders, twirling in tight ball. The visitors only connected safely four times, while the local winning crew managed to secure seven blows some of the scratch variety, off of Cusack.

Lakeland started the fireworks in the second when a base on balls to Ellam, an attempted sacrifice by Cusack, which forced Ellam at second but left the batter safe at first, a passed ball and a single by Buckley gave them their first run of the game, which was incidentally the first and last of the entire series for the visiting club.

Sanford tied the score in its half of the third on a double by Crowe and a neat smash by Dunbar. The winning run was scored in the last half of the ninth when Williams lined a safe blow to center and third occupied and two men down. Three singles, and a base on balls were necessary to secure the final rally of the game and the Highlanders hurled a great game and he should have had a shout, but for the misfortune of a passed ball. The Highlanders could not solve his delivery for but one solid blow, the other three hits being off of the scratched nature.

The local club turned in another errorless ball game in the second tie. Dunbar and Frisbie continued their sensational work in the field.

His Homer With Bags Full
CHICAGO, Aug. 5. (AP)—Bill Barrell's home run with the bases loaded in the seventh inning, broke a 3 to 3 score and enabled Chicago to defeat Boston 7 to 4, in the first game of the series. After Ted's homer with a man on, having given the visitors a 3 run lead, Sam Harris weakened and Chicago tied the count in the sixth by bunting hits, Barrell driving in two runs with a double and scoring the other on Schalk's single.

Nevers Holds Athletics Selye
ST. LOUIS, Aug. 5. (AP)—Ernie Nevers, former Stanford University football star, held the Athletics to seven hits Wednesday in the first game of the series, which the Browns won 3 to 1. After Ted's homer with a man on, having given the visitors a 3 run lead, Sam Harris weakened and Chicago tied the count in the sixth by bunting hits, Barrell driving in two runs with a double and scoring the other on Schalk's single.

Graves of Small Olive Trees in the Swat region of northwestern India are said to be derived from trees originally propagated from the stones of olives, which were flung away on the line of march by the men of Alexander's army. They are poor in quality, but the natives hold their dead among them, considering them sacred graves.

Hand music at army camps during reveille is suggested by the United States Senator, who claims that this would put the soldiers into a more cheerful frame of mind than the ordinary bugle.

Joyce Wethered—Mastery of Swing

It is the commonest thing to see the greatest players playing shorts from the fairway up to the hole with numerous putts, and yet to find them at times strangely crooked from the tee. Probably two chief reasons exist for this rather perplexing fact. It is quite possible that the ball, when it is teed up, free from direct contact with the ground, is peculiarly sensitive to various spins which arise from any divergence from a perfectly true swing; and to perpetuate this theory, it is a noticeable fact that some players, when they find themselves hitting their drives

Indians Making Desperate Stand Against The Yanks; Uhle Hurls Excellent Game

Yankee scrubs have been taken in the Indians' desperate stand against their most powerful American League foes.

George Uhle, big right-handed chief of the Cleveland Indians' staff, wielded the tomahawk in today's game, 4 to 2, and to day his mates are only nine games away from the American League crown.

While this first of the crucial games was going on, Washington and Detroit locked in one of the heated baseball duels of the year, the Tigers capturing the first game 5 to 10 in the 11th, and the Senators the second, in eleven frames, 11 to 7. Joe Harris of Washington hit two homers during the day, his second setting the issue by scoring three runs in the final inning of the second game.

Bill Barrell inserted a very impressive home-driving effort in the seventh to give the White Sox a 2 to 3 margin over Boston. Bill of Boston also had a homer, but Lyons held the Red Sox to six runs.

Ernie Nevers allowed the Athletics seven scattered hits and St. Louis won, 3 to 1. Williams aided him with a home run.

Cincinnati, runner-up in the National, routed while Pittsburgh divided a double-bill with Boston, the Pirates crew holding a lead of one full game. Bob Smith held the Pirates to six blows in the opening tussle and shut them out, 11 to 0, with his mates hitting safely 19 times. Pittsburgh made five errors, two by Carey, two by Wright and one by Traynor. The Braves again hit hard in the second game but Meadows beat them, 3 to 2.

The score at Brooklyn was Sherdel, 8; Brooklyn, 4. L-34 handed Bill of the Cardinals an undesirable at Ebbets Field, permitting eight hits but drove out a home run, triple and a double. He scored two runs and batted in three, enough to win the game.

Four home runs featured the Chicago Cubs' 12 inning victory over Philadelphia, 7 to 5. Wright and Williams doing the honors for the Phils while Heathcote and Hartnett responded for Chicago.

Tampa Game After Scoreless Tied In 10th; Vines Hurls Steady Ball For Victors

TAMPA, Aug. 5. (AP)—Tampa made only five threats good Wednesday, losing the third straight and final game of the series to Orlando 2 to 1. Loose defensive work and a misplayed error by Orlando's first baseman, John Travers, one of the best amateurs that ever held a golf club, I was two up on him at the ninth and Jerry scored. I had my mellen going, I figured I had the mellen won, but Jerry came to life and beat me out.

"It is a bad idea to figure a match won until it is over. The last putt may be the deciding factor. I deserved defeat at the hands of Travers."

It has been these qualities of "making it easy" and "taking nothing for granted," plus keen determination, that have lifted Hagen to the position he holds among the world's professionals.

Added by these factors over a span of a dozen years Hagen has established himself as the greatest player in competition. He is the greatest "pinch hitter" in the game. He has won more "open titles," shattered more records and posted more flourishing finishes for victories in that period than any other competitor.

Neither the wildest rushes of the galleries or the most exciting situations ever rattle the even temper of Hagen's shot-making or detract his attention from the main purpose. He has a record of never having been beaten in a play off for an important title and many of his greatest triumphs have found him calm and concentrating, oblivious to the nerve-wracking elements in situations which have caused many other stars to "blow up."

On Hagen's who have followed Hagen's course, he has left an indelible impression of this serenity, evident not only in the delicate character of his game, but in the plainness of his appearance. Always calm, Hagen reflects the fashion on plate of the links.

At the same time the man who annually makes more than a president's salary for taking part in championships and exhibition matches regards golf more as a pleasure than a business, a fact which his friends believe is largely responsible for his success.

Hagen Establishes Himself As Greatest "Pinch Hitter"; Galleries Do Not Affect Him

Editor's Note:—The Associated Press herewith presents another series of articles illuminating national sports and their chief figures. It is an interview with Walter Hagen, leading professional golfer of the world, written by Allen J. Gould, sports editor. The interview is copy righted by the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5. (AP)—The duties in golf who are struggling to "break 100" can make a long stride toward their goal if they will follow the advice of no less an authority than Walter Hagen, and "relax."

"The American professional champion declares "relaxation" is the one thing that every golfer should learn, yet, "how many of them, knowing full well the advantage of loose supply muscles, tighten up and become as stiff as a poker when they are about to hit the ball."

"This runs more shots than in any other one thing I can mention," says Hagen. In this, Hagen strikes a keynote in the success of his own career. No champion of the game takes it any easier than Hagen, who learned this lesson some years ago.

"Another good lesson I learned early," Hagen said, "was at Garder's city in a War Relief tournament in which I was beaten by Jerry Travers, one of the best amateurs that ever held a golf club. I was two up on him at the ninth and Jerry scored. I had my mellen going, I figured I had the mellen won, but Jerry came to life and beat me out."

"It is a bad idea to figure a match won until it is over. The last putt may be the deciding factor. I deserved defeat at the hands of Travers."
