Williams sentenced Blackburn to six months to 10 years in prison in the case but earlier this month allowed Blackburn to remain free on appeal bond while defense attorney Richard Rhodes tries to convince the U.S. Supreme Court to hear Blackburn's appeal.

The basis of Herring's efforts to get the appeal bond revoked is Blackburn's arrest last week in Orlando on charges of possession and delivery of more than 30 pounds of marijuana seized by deputies at a motel parking lot. Blackburn is free on $35,000 bond in the marijuana case.

Lawmaker Admits Loaning Secret Report To CIA

WASHINGTON (AP) - Rep. Les Aspin says he loaned his copy of the secret House intelligence committee report to the CIA and his staff gave several pages to Reuter News Agency, but the identity of the person who leaked the report to CBS reporter Daniel Schorr remains unknown. The Wisconsin Democrat said he cooperated with the CIA in an effort to win a compromise on material the agency wanted kept from the public. He said the intelligence committee staff refused to provide the CIA with a copy so he loaned his to the spy agency.

The House ethics committee, which is investigating the leak to Schorr, has heard testimony from five of the 13 members of the now-disbanded committee. Aspin told the ethics panel what he did with his copy of the report and Rep. William Lehman, D-Fla., said he lost his copy. Other intelligence committee members will be questioned today.

Meeting On Flu Shots Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Ford is being urged to summon insurance and pharmaceutical executives to a White House meeting to try to resolve the impasse over insurance coverage for the planned swine flu immunization program for Americans.

Rep. Paul Rogers, D-Fla., chairman of a House health subcommittee, called for the White House session following testimony that finding insurance coverage for the four companies who manufacture the vaccine is the chief obstacle to the inoculation program.

Dr. Theodore Cooper, assistant secretary for health in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, addressed the panel Tuesday. The subcommittee is scheduled to hear testimony Friday from insurance and drug officials.

U.S. May Buy Back Plutonium

WASHINGTON (AP) - U.S. officials say the United States will try to buy back plutonium left over from fuel used in India's Tarapur nuclear power plant because of fears over the spread of atomic weapons. The United States has supplied uranium fuel for the

Tarapur reactor for years, but was recently challenged by citizen groups who fear India will soon be able to extract from the spent fuel plutonium that can be used to make

Up to 70,000 cannery workers are employed at the peak of the harvest season, which is now getting under full steam. Agricultural leaders appealed to President Ford to intervene with a Taft-Hartley injunction for an 80-day cooling-off period.

Raid Fallout Is Beneficial

The international admiration that greeted Israel's daring raid into Uganda to free 103 Jewish hostages from a hyjacked French airliner was fully earned. The raid was a bold and courageous operation which may indeed become a legend, as Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin predicted. If the operation leads to an international agreement to prevent hijacking, the legend will be inscribed even deeper into history.

However, sooner or later the hurrahs will fade and statesmen of the world will ponder the broader inplications of the Israeli rescue. What effect might it have on the possibility of resuming Middle East negotiations? What will be the response of the Organization of African Unity, and what might this mean to peace on the African continent?

Will the militant Palestinians now be energized into more acts of terrorism throughout the world? And has a precedent been established for any nation to violate the sovereignty of another if the end justifies the hostile activity?

We cannot see much reason to be concerned. likely remain so as long as the wide rifts among Middle East negotiation are stalemated and will anything because of the civil war in Lebanon, the Syrian-Egyptian testing of wills for the Arab leadership and now the attempted coup in Sudan, apparently by Libya.

By the same token, the OAU appears to be little troubled by the Israeli raid. Some black leaders have issued perfunctory statements of condemnation, but the criticism has been extraordinarily muted as well as sparse. If the truth were to be known, most responsible African leaders undoubtedly are not comfortable with the unpredictable Idi Amin who heads their organization and most appear to admire Israel's action privately.

What Palestinian extremists might do that they are not now doing is hard to see! Indeed the language of power is one they understand and Israel's raid might inhibit some of their plans.

The sovereignty question is the most troublesome. If, for example, the United States conducted a similar operation in the Third World, the international denunciation would be swift and voluminous, as it was in the more modest American effort to recapture the ship Mayaguez in

The parallel is not far-fetched. Declarations of war are obsolete in modern times, but there is war nevertheless. When guerrillas seized the Mayaguez they committed an act of war against the United States and we responded.

Similarly, when Palestinian and German terrorists directed their vengeance solely on Jews in a hijacked airliner, aided and abetted by the state of Uganda, they committed an act of war against Israel. Israel took them at their word.

Not the least educational aspect of the Israeli raid was its impact generally on world psychology. President Ford and West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt expressed their admiration openly. Other nations, including socialist ones in Eastern Europe, were more restrained.

But throughout the world each country assessed what it might have done in similar circumstances - each asked itself if it would have had the courage, discipline and the will to act. Most probably would not, which is one of the reasons that there are successful terrorists. consumers were being turned off. BERRY'S WORLD

Up Against The Wall, Huh?

Meet Lloyd Wall, former home run hitter. Actually, the 26-year-old hitting star of the Seaboard Coast Line softball team is still hitting home runs, but not in bunches like he did before he switched his batting stance in favor of solid base

"I'm happier this way, honest," said Wall this week as he and his SCL teammates were preparing for this weekend's district tournament at Titusville and an expected berth in the state tournament the following weekend in Leesburg.

Swatting at the roundball has been a way of life the last 10 years for Wall. He was still in high school League. He was recruited by Gino's Pizza, kingpin of the men's league then, something of a rarity for

"I'm not so sure I was that good at that time, but I played," said Wall the other day at his home on West Second. "I hit a lot of home runs. But the game has changed. And you have to consider what is best for the team. I changed my stance for two "First, there was formerly a 10-foot arch limit district - Sanford Post 53, There is no admission charge for pitchers. Now they throw those 30-footer drops at your midsection. With an unlimited ceiling, it is Edgewater Post 19, stage a University of Florida shortstop "Secondly, the solid base hit is more Sanford Memorial Stadium to 18-4 record. Melbourne is 16-6 motivating to a team. Oh, a home run can lift a crown a champion for while Sanford shows a 13-8 team, but the concept of coming up with a runner on and getting him in is more condusive to team When the situation calls for it, Wall doesn't hesitate to go into his home run stance. He drops deep in the batter's box and gets his feet extremely and Sunday. Friday at 5 it will Wiggins is hitting about .340 and close together, ready to uncoil his maximum body be Lake Highland against plays first when he's not pit-

Originally from Portsmouth, Va., Wall has lived in Sanford since 1960. He played basketball and baseball at Seminole High. After the Gino's Pizza glory years followed a spurt of strong seasons with the Sanford Merchants. "I guess 1971 was my best year, at least in terms of hitting and winning trophies from tournaments," added Wall. "In 1973 the Merchants finished fifth in the state tournament. And last year with Seaboard we finished fifth, too.' And how does this SCL team compare with some of the old Sanford teams of the past? "Like I said, it's a little different game. That Sanford Merchants team was definitely a jackin' team. Guys like Don Harvey, Larry Helman, Roy Lisk and Mike Maples. Home run was the word.

"But this Seaboard team is the most consistent team I have ever been associated with. Like this season. . . we placed in all but two tournaments (playing almost every weekend) and won the biggest one (Melbourne) we entered."

Wall has particular praise for shortstop Glen Robinson. "I've never seen a shortstop like him. He's a human vacuum cleaner. He and Steve Cooper are an unreal double play combination. "I'd rather play on a quick, fast team than with a bunch of slower jackers any day," he concluded. Wall had a brief fling as an amateur boxer after he turned 20. "It was something I wanted to do," he added. "My dad had boxed in the Navy." Wall was 5-0 as an amateur in unsanctioned bouts, but lost interest. "I give myself credit for having more brains than to ever consider turning pro. There was just too much about the sport I didn't

Wall was a shortstop until the day he fielded a Sunday hop and uncorked a wild throw that narrowly missed a mother and baby. "She had the baby on her hip, and I steamed the ball between them. I said, 'that's it for me at shortstop.' I asked to be moved to the outfield."

All this from the manager of a garden shop, who grows orchids in his spare time. This season Lloyd is hitting about .600 and has 20 home runs, well off his pace of 50 in 1971. Not many softball players would be more satisfied with fewer homers. But then, Lloyd Wall isn't your run-of-thediamond hitter.

Water District Eyeing Sanford

Sanford is being considered for the new home of the St. Johns' Water Management District administrative of-

Seminole County Port Authority Administrator Jim Ryan said Wednesday he is sending preliminary information to St. Johns District officials, who must soon decide whether to add on to their present headquarters in Sanford can offer one thing the other cities being considered don't have - a waterfront site overlooking the St. Johns River. Ryan hopes that psychological selling point will help Sanford land the St. Johns District headquarters. Sanford's chances inproved this week when Orlando's proposal to house the St. Johns' District offices at McCoy Jetport hit a snag. The district's southern boundary is the Martin Anderson Beeline Expressway, located just north of the proposed jetport site.

The St. Johns District staff, which now numbers about 80, is expected to expand to 200 within two years. The first step in the expansion is scheduled for Jan. 1, when the upper St. Johns River basin - now under coptrol of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District headquartered in Vero Beach - will be transferred to the St. Johns District.

Ryan says the port has plenty of room for the 7,000 to 12,000 square-foot building that will be needed by the St.
