Hi-Guide Competes With Fine Sprinters In Featured Race

LONGWOOD, Jan. 4. (Special) — The first futurity distance feature race of the season goes to the post tonight at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club, sending Hi-Guide into action against a fine field of sprinters.

Lined up against the great greyhound are Stay Sweet, South Sun, Jack Frost, Red McGee, Mental Image, Merry Kay and Stay Leader. All of the other featured races run on for this evening have been over the 50-yard mark.

Odds to the shortness of the race, odds on Hi-Guide will probably be higher than in either of his two starts this year. The uncertainty of the scramble to the first turn with a field of extra fast-making dogs is too great to allow any dog to be made a prohibitive favorite.

Hi-Guide is unquestionably the class of the field, but whether he can outbreak Red McGee, Jack Frost and several of the others is most uncertain.

Greyhounds race at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club will be resumed last night as the second week of the eighth season of activities at the club gets underway. Featured in the eighth race, a futurity, will be some of the favorite dogs of the kennel.

Saturday night races marked the beginning of the fifth week of the season, with numbers of fans attending the events each night after the opening Monday, Dec. 28.

In the races this evening, Hi-Guide, owned by the late Dr. C. M. Hall, with a big following about the tracks will match his speed with that of such runners as Stay Sweet, Merry Kay, South Sun, Jack Frost, Stay Leader.

Red McGee and Mental Image. — The big Hi-Guide has an enviable reputation as a sprinter who last year won all but two of his starts. In at least one start here, this year, he was victim of a knockdown, and finished dead last.

Red McGee, in a late race came through to take first place, after several failures, dropping out of an established lead before the finish of the race.

Other racers on the program for tonight will furnish thrills for the enthusiasts in the futurities and 50-60 distances.

Florida Asked To Increase Supply Of Eggs For Army

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 4. (Special) — "Eggs are an important item in supplies provided for our armed services as arms and ammunition," Nathan Mayo, commissioner of agriculture, said today in an appeal to Florida poultrymen to increase egg production and sales to Army and Navy camps.

He asked egg producers to consider the unusual demand for eggs coming from the Army and the Navy, and to give their preference over civilian uses to the military program.

"The Army and Navy should come first," he said.

The need for adequate supplies of eggs to maintain the health and fighting ability of men in our armed services is especially acute in the smaller camps which buy in small lots; Mayo pointed out. Large camps which buy in carload lots are able to import eggs from other sections of the country, but this is not true of the many small camps in Florida.

"We realize that some poultrymen find the strict Army and Navy inspections annoying, but these tight inspections really help the producer who brings in good eggs of high quality and sets a standard which will bring higher prices and improved stocks. In any event, we are at war and we should not let petty annoyances keep us from performing our patriotic duty of seeing that the men who are doing the fighting are adequately fed," he said.

Landis Presents Streamlined Plan For Ball Clubs

CHICAGO, Jan. 4. (UPI) — A five point plan, streamlined to gear Chicago baseball with war time travel restrictions, was expected to be presented by Commissioner K. M. Landis at the annual meeting of the emergency session with officials of the National and American leagues.

Although Landis refrained from discussing his ideas until the parley, it was believed his plan received hearty approval of U.S.T. Director Joseph H. Ely when the latter last Wednesday.

After that meeting, the commissioners wired officials of the 16 major league clubs, announcing the special parley to "discuss Spring training and any item of business connected therewith."

The meeting was expected to end the "shadow boxing" most clubs have gone through since the travel question was brought up a month ago in a letter from Eastman urging curtailment and suggesting methods of reducing mileage.

Many minor leagues looked to Tuesday's conference for their cue in drawing up definite programs for the coming season. Frank Colley, publicist for the American Association, said Association officials would meet in Chicago Wednesday night to map out their season on decisions reached by the majors.

The Landis plan was believed to embody these points:

1. A reduction in the major league schedule from 164 games to 122.

2. Selection of April 27 as the season's opening day instead of April 13.

Longer series are to reduce inter-sectional trips from the very quickly down South. At Sarasota in 1938, Jack Cronin of the Red Sox, spoke very highly of a Coast League manager named Ted Williams. Well, before I could get a yarn out about the kid, he had been shipped to Minneapolis. And, at St. Petersburg the same year, Frank Frisch was raving about the baseball possibilities of pro football news star, Sammy Baugh. But, a few days later, just about the time the papers were using my little profile on Slingin' Sammy, Baugh was shipped off to the Rochester farm. So, baseball writers have learned to keep their fingers crossed when they write stories on rookies, even when managers are enthusiastic.

Some of the Spring trips were pretty expensive but several clubs, through economic and guarantees from mites Southern cities, managed to get back a good part of their expenditures. And the rest could be written off to advertising.

Cap Anson started it all. Back in 1880 he took his champion Chicago White Stockings to Hot Springs, Ark. And a decision was made to make the trip an annual affair.

Hopes For Escape Of 100 Japs, On New Guinea Lost

Allies Round Up Last
Of Enemy Held In
Pocket Near Area
Of Buna Mission

(By Associated Press)
In New Guinea, the Allies
cut off 100 Japanese troops
from escape by sea in a methodical roundup of the last of the small enemy in a
pocket of the Buna area.

United States jungle troops
have seized Buna mission, chief
objective of the Allied New Guinea
offensive, and with Australians
are now "mopping up" the entire area, a special headquarters announcement said earlier today.

The last small surviving Jap
force in the Buna area, field
dispatches said, is locked in fierce fighting with American and Australian troops among the coconut trees "and jungle under-
growth along a stretch of beach
front east of the mission for a
few hundred yards."

The Buna government station,
as Buna mission also is called,
fell to the Americans late Saturday only a few hours after Australian tanks and infantry in a
coordinated assault from the
southeast smashed the enemy
force at Galore point, 1,300 yards
away, and wiped out another and
smaller Japanese force at Siemre
creek.

"Allied troops occupied the Buna government station and are
now mopping up the entire area,
the special announcement said.
This was late Saturday after-

"The Galore point area has
been cleared of the enemy, except for snipers, who are being rapidly eliminated.

"In the Buna area, the only
enemy resistance left is a small
pocket west of Galore creek,
where the Japanese have been resisting desperately and where
fighting now is in progress.

The movement of supplies
to the pocket is checked in
the Soputa-Banana track sector
some two and a half miles
northwest of the Buna area.

Fire In Bing's House
Does Great Damage

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 4.—Bing
Crosby's 20-room colonial home
today burned with a loss of $250,- 000 in the house and furniture.
Mrs. Crosby, her husband, while her wife and children were taking

result of the fire, the radio and

Passage Of Anti-Poll
Tax Bill Looms Again

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4. (AP)—
In the face of warnings by southern senators that the bill would substantially raise the cost of air mail, the Senate voted yesterday to pass the anti-poll tax bill.
The bill, introduced by Representative Marcellino (A.L., N.Y.), announced today "a plan to pass the anti-poll tax bill
in 1943."

He has drafted for immediate introduction when Congress convenes Wednesday a bill that would raise the poll tax levied in some southern states, as a prerequisite of voting for federal officials.
A similar measure was passed by the house last session after a fierce fight, but was killed in the Senate by filibusters such as Sen. George W. Norris, who had been fighting legislation
in past years.

Hi-Guide Competes With Fine Sprinters In Featured Race

Lined up against the great greyhound are Stay Sweet, South Sun, Jack Frost, Red McGee, Mental Image, Merry Kay and Stay Leader. All of the other featured races run on for this evening have been over the 50-yard mark.

Odds to the shortness of the race, odds on Hi-Guide will probably be higher than in either of his two starts this year. The uncertainty of the scramble to the first turn with a field of extra fast-making dogs is too great to allow any dog to be made a prohibitive favorite.

Hi-Guide is unquestionably the class of the field, but whether he can outbreak Red McGee, Jack Frost and several of the others is most uncertain.

Greyhounds race at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club will be resumed last night as the second week of the eighth season of activities at the club gets underway. Featured in the eighth race, a futurity, will be some of the favorite dogs of the kennel.

In the races this evening, Hi-Guide, owned by the late Dr. C. M. Hall, with a big following about the tracks will match his speed with that of such runners as Stay Sweet, Merry Kay, South Sun, Jack Frost, Stay Leader.

Red McGee and Mental Image. — The big Hi-Guide has an enviable reputation as a sprinter who last year won all but two of his starts. In at least one start here, this year, he was victim of a knockdown, and finished dead last.

Red McGee, in a late race came through to take first place, after several failures, dropping out of an established lead before the finish of the race.

Other racers on the program for tonight will furnish thrills for the enthusiasts in the futurities and 50-60 distances.

Hopes For Escape Of 100 Japs, On New Guinea Lost

Allies Round Up Last
Of Enemy Held In
Pocket Near Area
Of Buna Mission

(By Associated Press)
In New Guinea, the Allies
cut off 100 Japanese troops
from escape by sea in a
methodical roundup of the
last of the small enemy in a
pocket of the Buna area.

United States jungle troops
have seized Buna mission, chief
objective of the Allied New Guinea
offensive, and with Australians
are now "mopping up" the entire
area, a special headquarters announcement said earlier today.

The last small surviving Jap
force in the Buna area, field
dispatches said, is locked in
fierce fighting with American and Australian troops among the coconut trees "and jungle under-
growth along a stretch of beach
front east of the mission for a
few hundred yards."

The Buna government station,
as Buna mission also is called,
fell to the Americans late Saturday only a few hours after Australian tanks and infantry in a
coordinated assault from the
southeast smashed the enemy
force at Galore point, 1,300 yards
away, and wiped out another and
smaller Japanese force at Siemre
creek.

"Allied troops occupied the Buna government station and are
now mopping up the entire area,
the special announcement said.
This was late Saturday after-

"The Galore point area has
been cleared of the enemy, except for snipers, who are being
rapidly eliminated.

pocket west of Galore creek,
where the Japanese have been resisting desperately and where
fighting now is in progress.

The movement of supplies
to the pocket is checked in
the Soputa-Banana track sector
some two and a half miles
northwest of the Buna area.

Fire In Bing's House
Does Great Damage

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 4.—Bing
Crosby's 20-room colonial home
today burned with a loss of $250,- 000 in the house and furniture.
Mrs. Crosby, her husband, while
her wife and children were taking down their Christmas tree. As a result of the fire, the radio and screen actor lost many valuable racing trophies and one of world's largest collections of classical and popular music records.

Passage Of Anti-Poll
Tax Bill Looms Again

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4. (AP)—
In the face of warnings by southern senators that the bill would substantially raise the price of gasoline, the Senate voted to substantially increase the tax on gasoline and oil.

Meanwhile, fierce patrols activity continued on Guadalcanal
island, and on Sunday, our forces killed between 30 and 35 Japaneses. The Japs countered by shelling our positions, the first attack Saturday (Solomon time).
In the second attack three Japanese guns were hit and some United States planes suffered minor damage from anti-aircraft fire.

The first of the two raids at Munda, which has been attacked almost daily for a month, had lived up to its name. Saturday an Army marauder medium bomber and Navy-Marine corps Dourness dive bombers escort by Wildcat, Alacobra and Warhawk fighter planes. The Wildcat is a Navy fighter, the Alacobra and the Warhawk are Army types. It was not stated whether any resistance other than indicated anti-aircraft resistance was encountered
during this attack.

Then at 2:20 P.M. Saturday Army P-40 Warhawks with an escort of Lightning (Army twinengined) fighters located and attacked a formation of enemy destroyers 80 miles south of Shortland Island. However, the commander said that no hits were observed. Shortland is 200 miles northwest of Guadalcanal airfield in an area where the Japanese have long been active.

Women's Clothes Will Be Simpler And Fewer In '43

By DOROTHY ROE

Ap Fashion Editor

Clothes will be fewer, simpler and better in 1943.

Whether or not clothes rationing comes in this second year of war, American women must learn to get along with less cloth and carefully make their clothes last. All non-essentials have been pruned from the 1943 silhouette, which is slim, streamlined, geared to the tempo of the times.

Feminism and quality are words of the year.

This is the considered opinion of Mrs. Dorothy Anderson, executive director of the New York Dress Institute, the association of more than 800 dress manufacturers of apparel retail stores.

Charting the course of fashion in 1943, Mrs. Anderson says: "Look for shorter jackets, slimmer skirts, quantities of buttons on your new Spring clothes. Be prepared for a narrower range of colors, more staple, monotone prints. New developments in fabrics."

"You will see more suits and dresses made of acetate and nylon jersey. New coats of nylon fleece. These last two fabrics are made from the nylon bronzing that cannot be used for any other purpose, and science has made them into beautiful and durable fabrics."

"We can expect shortages not only of cotton and silk, but also of rayon and rayon rayon. In faces of multiple problems, designers and manufacturers are meeting the challenge of the times, turning out beautiful and practical clothes for the best dressed women in the world—Americans."

Designers have gone beyond the WPA limitations imposed last Spring when the "frozen silhouette" was the talk of the nation. Far from causing regimentation of fashion, however, Lorraine has acted as a challenge to designers, who have produced in the last six months the best and most wearable collections since Paris handed the sceptre of style to America.

In the coming year we may find that our dresses are buttoned instead of zipped; we probably will get acquainted with new synthetics, we may even find our clothes rationed—but we can depend on American designers to keep us the best dressed nation on earth.

HOLLYWOOD

By ROBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 4. (WW) — Only housewives who have been shopping for the family meals in food-shortage communities will grant Linney Plews all the sympathy he deserves.

In the midst of Los Angeles' most acute days, when butchers stood behind white stands boasting only a sparsely filled two, the screen writer decided to add an extra scene to "Mission to Moscow." It was a wonderful scene—a Russian banquet.

Linney is the prop man, which makes him ex-officio marketing agent for such occasions. Linney had been reading the papers, which the scripters apparently hadn't. Linney groaned. "I can't go buy a Russian banquet," he said. "I can't get lamb chops. I'd need eight for each of the men—the about 30—at the feast, counting all the takes. Two hundred forty lamb chops—and women scrambling from market to market in search of two or three, or anything that looks like meat. And I need fish, and caviar. No, I can't do it. It wouldn't be right!"

The morning paper solved his dilemma. The meat shortage had made the lamb chops. But resourceful Linney had an idea:

Why not, he asked, show the end of the banquet—the feast over, the guests lingering over dessert, brandy, vodka, and cigars?

This is what you will see in the "banquet" scene. And it is all right with Director Michael Curtiz. Mike wants to get on with the picture, one of the year's biggies, and I can get another color scene. This is the Army."

Mike is afraid lest he be too long delayed on "Mission" and the "Army." She'll be given to another director. "If I don't do the Army picture," he moaned in his highly original language, "I cut my throat and jump off every bridge in town until I die!"

Speaking of food again, Jack Conroy, the author, was re-hearing his "kinesthetic vision" for "Thank Your Lucky Stars." They were comparing notes on salaries and prices between hoof-beats. "Would you believe it?" demanded Jack. "Last night I stopped in a restaurant for dinner for me, I paid the $2.50 and when I got the bill, I said, 'What? Five dollars?—would you like that sandwich on white or rye?'"

Laird Cregar is now official escort for his Goldwater Canyon brothers, Gene Turner and Curtis McGraw, while their husbands, George Dennis and Palmer Nichols are in the service. They have a motorcycling club to see them off.

Gene, 21, is in the canyon's and Curtis, 20, is in the Army, both Oklahoma. Their brothers, George, 22, and Curtis, 23, are in the service, too, and are continuing to do their duty.

Coiffures Of '43 Should Not Dim Ladies' Glamor

By BETTY CLARKE

No need to let last year's evening dress dim this year's glamor. Party coiffures of 1943 are really something. Enough to turn any man's head in your direction.

It doesn't matter much what you entwine in your hair, so long as it's a good one. A feather or two, a string of pearls will do, a bunch of fruit (artificial, remember), a sprig of mistletoe, ears, sequin butterflies or flowers—those are a few suggestions. Just a case of letting your imagination work.

Perhaps you have a false hair part that you haven't bothered with because of lack of time for ordinary wear. Formal parties are special occasions, and since every girl spends more than the usual amount of time up for one, it's a good opportunity for you to get a bit more money's worth out of your coiffure.

You can design a really original coiffure with a little extra time. Wear a braided comb, net, entwined with ribbon, or make a topknot coil with your false piece, sprinkle it with heads, and bring your own hair up on side pompadours.

Women's Clothes Will Be Simpler And Fewer In '43

By DOROTHY ROE
Ap Fashion Editor

Clothes will be fewer, simpler and better in 1943.

Whether or not clothes rationing comes in this second year of war, American women must learn to get along with less, buy more carefully, make their clothes last.

All non-essentials have been pruned from the 1943 silhouette.

Silk is slim, streamlined, geared to the tempo of the times.

Functionalism, and quality are watchwords of the year.

This is the considered opinion of Mrs. Dorothy Anderson, executive director of the New York Dress Institute, the association of more than 600 dress manufacturers who supply the bulk of America's ready-to-wear trade.

Charting the course of fashion in 1943, Mrs. Anderson says:

"Look for shorter jackets, slimmer skirts, quantities of buttons on your new Spring clothes. Be prepared for a narrower range of colors, more staple, monotone printed, new developments in fabrics."

"You will see more suits and dresses made of acetate and nylon jersey, more coats of nylon fleece. These last two fabrics are made from the nylon brushings that cannot be used for any other purpose, and science has made them into beautiful and durable materials."

"We can expect shortages not only of wool and silk, but also of cotton and rayon. Yet in the face of multiple problems, designers and manufacturers are meeting the challenge of the times, turning out beautiful and practical clothes for the best-dressed women in the world—American."

Designers have gone beyond the WPB limitations imposed last Spring, when the "frozen silhouette" was the talk of the nation.

From causing regimentation of fashion, the famous L-85 ruling has acted as a challenge to designers, who have produced in the last six months the best and most wearable collections since 1938.

"We have avoided the sceptre of style.

In the coming year we may find that our dresses are buttoned instead of zipped, we probably will get acquainted with new synthetics, we may even find our clothes rationed—but we can depend on American designers to keep us the best-dressed nation on earth."

Writer Describes Spoils System" In OPA And WPB

By JOHN GROVER

Congressman Robert Ramspeck (D-Ind.) has turned up a situation that may ultimately smell like a potent pup in charging "personal patronage" in the Office of Price Administration and the War Production Board.

For some time, those close to work in OPA and WPB have remarked on the number of "cousins" hired by executives in these key war agencies. These are "cousins" in the Hollywood sense, meaning fraternity brothers, close friends of former business associates, or merely blood kin.

Ramspeck has promised a Congressional investigation, and there's no reason to believe he'll ease off in his demands, for he is Congress' most ardent champion of civil service. The proposed probe is also certain to find wide support in Congress. Other personnel would rather have a Rooseveltian controls patrige than Rednecks in the war agencies. They'll be enthusiastic for any investigation that culls the wings of war agency executives.

That there have been abuses in hiring is undisputed; by analysts who know the facts in operations the size of the war effort, it is inevitable that some deadwood personnel climb aboard the bandwagon.

Congressionals critics, however, turn out this factor of unavoidable deadwood, and still claim a lot of government nests have been made down for pals of the big shots. Some executives, say the objectors, have adopted a practice which is known in WPB and OPA corridors as "layering" favored subordinates.

Here is how it works. Say six
