

MATCHING TAMPA SANFORD STAGES SOCIETY CIRCUS

Two Hundred Red Cross Workers Boosting Circus

With all preliminary work about completed and all details provided with the local people who will have donated their services for the big event, namely, the Red Cross Society Circus. Various committees have bent every effort to make this, one big success, having spared neither time nor labor in this large undertaking. To give the public an idea of the magnitude of this circus the following is a brief description of just what treat is in store for the large prospective audiences who will be in attendance. The opening number, Miss Columbia, featured by Mrs. Robert Herndon and assisted by the Home Guards in command of Capt. C. H. Dingle is a military feature most beautiful in design and execution, increasing the already aroused patriotism of our country.

The Zimmerman Twins, champion juvenile boxers and wrestlers will give an exhibition of boxing and wrestling. These boys through their science and skill have won the applause from audiences all over the country, critics in their lines having pronounced them to be the equal of our champions in their performances.

Muring, the comic king of the road will give performances on the bicycle that is surely a remedy for the blues.

Buckskin Bill, crack pistol and rifle shot will give an exhibition that is wonderful and can well be named "Old Eagle Eye."

Captain Kidd, battle axe and knife thrower, takes one back to the days on the plains when such things were common occurrences with the early settlers.

And now comes what every circus is incomplete without—the clown. What boy would ever claim to have seen a real circus without that feature being in it? That this part of the program will be good is assured, as the party assisting goes on record as stating that in all his experience, the amateur clown far surpasses all others because of his own originality, and in viewing this number can anyone imagine that the staid and sedate man you met in the morning was now going through those side-splitting comedies in the arena for your amusement?

Mr. Welton and Company will also be on hand with his trained deer, and as he is constantly adding new features this number should be excellent.

Marvelous Melville; the unequalled aerial gymnast has a record all his own. Performing at a high altitude amid the glare of an electrical background of all colors completes a most beautiful picture.

Harry Rich, the man that flirts with death has been seen in Sanford before and it is needless to describe the many dangerous and hair raising feats he performs.

The smallest in stature, but not the least in merit will be the "Hay Makers" in a military drill. The grace of these participants combined with the cute little costumes and properties used make this a most picturesque and pleasing attraction.

St. Laurant, the wonderful trapeze performer and upside down juggler was one of the feature attractions at the Tampa Red Cross Circus and the applause won by him there was proof of his high quality.

The closing number will be the "Battle of Roses," a description of which will be published in Tuesday's issue of the Herald.

As a whole this will be one of the best attractions ever seen in this vicinity, and with the little cost, 25 cents and it being a Red Cross benefit, the crowds should be enormous. Ample seating capacity has been arranged for and precautions taken in every way to provide for the welfare of the public. Tickets have been placed at various stores. Not only to show appreciation of the hard work on the part of the various committees but, help in the sale of more, as every ticket sold in advance becomes an advertisement within itself. Tell your neighbor about the circus and she will tell her's; and in that way you will be the means of helping make this event a success beyond all expectations.

Remember the dates, April 11th, 12th and 13th, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. The grounds will be the bulkhead facing Lake Monroe.

Special Music at Methodist Church Next Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Healy of Knoxville, Tenn., who have spent the entire winter in Fort Myers will arrive in the city, Saturday afternoon and will spend some time as the guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Hilburn at the Methodist parsonage on Magnolia avenue.

Mrs. Healy has a very fine soprano voice and will sing at the Methodist church both morning and evening on Sunday.

Harry Phillips Enlists

Harry Phillips, for many years a commercial photographer in Sanford but recently of St. Augustine has joined Uncle Sam's forces and will report to Madison Barracks on Wednesday next for service.

He will be placed in the air division of the signal corps as a photographer and his duties will be to take photographs from airplanes showing information for our armies.

This is indeed an important work as well as dangerous and Mr. Phillips is to be congratulated upon his opportunity of serving his country in this capacity. Harry has had a vast amount of experience in photography and will make a good man in this capacity.

The hour for evening service is now seven-thirty by the new time. The Christian Endeavor meeting is held at six-thirty.

LONGWOOD HAS LIVE AUXILIARY

Headed By Henck and Entzinger Longwood Organizes Board of Trade Auxiliary

That Seminole county is coming to the front steadily and surely in the way of co-operation for the good of each other is no longer an uncertain factor and the medium of this unity is through their Board of Trade.

Effective Wednesday, April 3rd, the Longwood Auxiliary to the Sanford Board of Trade was organized and begins operation headed by E. W. Henck, chairman and C. W. Entzinger, secretary and with the following members: T. G. Roebuck, J. H. Allen, J. N. McGaughey, J. N. Searcy, T. P. Lewis, J. B. Searcy and L. J. Hartley, Jr. This membership is the result of the first meeting and Secretary Entzinger advises this is only a beginning.

With live, hustling auxiliaries at Oviedo, Geneva and Longwood and a powerful parent organization at Sanford, it is no wonder that so much headway has been made in accomplishing things heretofore lost to our county. The full scope of the work however has just begun and the Herald predicts other activities that will begin returning to members service and results far beyond the cost of membership. Above all the organization, through its members is for Seminole county and the combination of mutual interest that is inserted in the work is cementing what few broken lines there were.

Geneva, Oviedo and Sanford extend their best wishes to the new Longwood Auxiliary and herewith tender their full support and co-operation in everything that stands for a bigger, better Seminole.

NO CHANCE FOR LOAFERS THIS SUMMER

Plenty To Do And Beacham Wants Them To Work

There is work for all and the man who loafers around the various cities now in Florida or in any other state should be put to work. There will be work in this county this summer with the big cotton crop and the many other staple crops.

Job or jail is the slogan all over the country and this is the war time slogan. If there are men who persist in loafing at this particular time they should be put on the streets and made to work.

Hon. Braxton Beacham, Federal Food Administrator, Florida, is thoroughly co-operating with the National authorities in trying to solve the labor problem which is now confronting this country. Mr. Beacham is making an especial appeal to the officials of the state to enforce the vagrancy laws.

"I am especially concerned with the fact that Florida is now facing a shortage of labor and will continue to experience difficulty in getting laborers to work mills, cultivate fields, and assist in other production."

"It strikes me that now is the time for a rigid enforcement of our laws as regard vagrancy."

"I think it is the duty, and the patriotic duty of every official of the state and of the city to demand that these laws be put into effect and full force at once."

"The men who refuse to work should be put where they have to work. The man who has not a job at the present time should explain why he is not working. Every man who refuses to work when he could be at productive employment is little less than a German soldier for he is really helping Germany to fight his own country."

"Farmers and the mill men and other operators are having a hard time to get sufficient labor while in the cities and towns we find able-bodied men warming the chairs of the pool rooms and loitering on the corners or on the docks."

"This time, of all times, is one when we should have no idling. An idler is a slacker, and if he cannot be made to realize this through patriotic appeal, the realization should be given him through the iron hand of the law."

"I especially urge the officers of the law and those in executive authority in the cities to at once co-operate in forcing idlers to go to work or failing that put them on the streets or in the employment of the city so that they may have proper nourishment for their failure to help their country."

Beautiful Easter Program

Easter services conducted by Rev. J. P. Hilburn of the Methodist church last Sunday carried a distinctive attraction because of the maintenance of something special at both the morning and evening services. In addition to the program of specially arranged music, the Easter tidings carried into effect by the children who were trained for the occasion brought appreciation and admiration from the large congregation in attendance morning and night. The morning sermon in particular was one of the masterful messages of the Hilburn brand and produced as a conclusion the trend of thought so much needed in our present day lives. Though a new pastor in Sanford, Rev. Hilburn has won the loyalty and co-operation of the large membership and through their united effort such programs as were rendered Sunday are made possible.

Doing Her Bit

Los Angeles, Cal., April 2.—Raphaella Johanna Angie, a Holstein at the Napa state hospital has broken the world's record for milk production in 30 days, it is announced here today by the state board of control. Her record was 3,794 pounds, or 1,897 quarts in a month. The previous high figure for 30 days is said to have been 3,767 pounds. The production of the cow at current prices would total $208 for the month.

400 MEMBERS BY APRIL 30 THE SLOGAN

F. P. Forster Heads Twenty Four Live Wires That Say They'll Win

When twenty four growers, business men, professional men and shippers think enough of an organization to say unanimously that "it must grow," then something is going to happen. This was the case in the parlor of the Carnes Hotel; Wednesday night, when twenty four live wire members headed by F. P. Forster of the First National Bank met and effected immediate action whereby they propose to bring the membership of the Sanford Board of Trade up to the 400 mark by April 30th. As chairman of the organization committee, F. P. Forster impressed those present with the fact that "The Board of Trade as it stands today is one of Seminole county's greatest assets." He asked for immediate action; beginning tonight, as he put it, and insisted that a wider scope of work must be opened for the Board of Trade and showed where a membership in this organization was a one hundred per cent investment. Ed. Putnam, always ready with a progressive punch followed Mr. Forster and outlined the great good already accomplished by the organization for the grower and stressed the point "that since what was good for the farmer was of equal good to the merchant and business man that these latter men should gladly join the farmers in their efforts because more money for the farmer meant more for the merchant." After other and many similar enthusiastic expressions, all present volunteered their time and energetic work toward building a bigger and stronger Board of Trade.

Immediate action was taken and the following captains and teams were assigned to begin work Thursday morning, April 4th:

Three East Side Teams
B. E. Squires, captain, assisted by C. E. Ward, B. J. Starling and W. A. Baynor.

G. C. Chamberlain, captain, with Norrie Lewis, Harry B. Lewis and one other named yesterday.

G. F. Smith, captain, with Harry Ward, L. A. Brumley and D. L. Thrasher.

Two West Side Teams
John Meisch, captain, with Roy Symes, C. F. Branau and L. P. Hagan.

Ed. Putnam, captain, with W. J. Thigpen, T. F. Adams and J. D. Hoop.

City Team

F. P. Forster, captain, with Mayor Davison, F. W. Mahoney, S. O. Spinholer and Jimmie Stewart.

The teams will make a complete canvass of Sanford and vicinity and will get together again next Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the court house and check up their work. They have been provided with list of members and every man will be seen. When the city campaign is finished, other county sections will be taken up. It is the purpose of this committee to eventually and within a short while bring the membership about the 500 mark and it goes without saying that these live wires will succeed.

Praises Our Board of Trade
The following editorial appearing in the Florida Farmer and Stockman published at Jacksonville carries an expression of what others think of the Sanford Board of Trade and its untiring efforts and achievements:

Moving Perishables

"According to the last report we had on the transportation situation some progress is being made in the matter of carrying out the schedule for the prompt shipment of vegetables from Florida north but from telegrams and correspondence we have seen on the subject, it appears that the regional director of railroads for southern territory still fails to appreciate the seriousness of the situation and the enormous loss that will result to the Florida growers if a fast and reliable schedule is not maintained continuously through out this spring and the early part of the summer.

GERMANS PLANNING NEW OFFENSIVE WESTERN FRONT FRENCH LINES ADVANCE

E. T. Hollingsworth of the Florida Metropolis, has been active through Richard H. Edmonds, editor of the Manufacturers' Record of Baltimore, in getting some definite and immediate relief. Secretary Kessler of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce, is also taking an active interest in the matter and very fortunately the Florida committee that recently waited on Regional Director Markham was headed by D. C. Marlowe, secretary of the Sanford Board of Trade. Aside from having a thorough understanding of the needs of perishable shippers in Florida, Mr. Marlowe is a railroad man of several years' experience in both traffic and operating departments. Equipped with this information he was able to convince Mr. Markham that the system of operating was badly at fault and the seriousness of the attention demanded immediate attention.

It is reported that a representative of Duval county who was a member of Mr. Marlowe's committee was unfortunately not posted as to the extent of perishable crops in that county which tended to refute the statement that Duval county farmers were about to plow up valuable crops because of inadequate transportation facilities. According to reliable reports there is quite an acreage of perishable crops this season in Duval county, to say nothing of many other counties in the state, and this fact warrants our taking aggressive action in awakening the U. S. Railroad Administration to the extent that Florida crops may be moved promptly when ready for market and positively without delays in transportation.

3rd LIBERTY LOAN BEGINS SATURDAY

Workers Will Visit Every Section Of Seminole County

The Third Liberty Loan will be officially launched Saturday, April 6th, and a campaign selling these bonds will cover a four week period. The first production will be known as a "baby bond" of the $50 denomination. The President has signed the bill and the government presses are now ceaseless in their effort to produce the bonds that in this campaign will be eagerly sought by the American people. The bill gives the secretary of the treasury authority to issue bonds to the sum of $4,500,000,000, in addition to the $3,666,000,000 already authorized by former legislation and the rate of interest is raised from 4 to 4 1/2 per cent.

The Liberty Loan Campaign for Sanford and Seminole county will be directed actively by Hon. Forest Lake and all indications point to enormous sales. Swift and repeated campaigns will be made over the city and country by a number of workers volunteering for this noble work. Washington reports that it will take five hundred thousand a day to supply the demand for those buying bonds of the Third Loan.

Elder Springs Enclosed

Elder Springs has been enclosed and all those wishing to get water or see the springs must get permission from Mr. Wheeler at the Wheeler house. Anyone wanting a drink or any picnic parties wishing to use the springs can get this permission upon request. War times have forced this measure upon Mr. Wheeler and the public should be governed accordingly.

Huns Placing Big Guns Into Line Americans Throw Huns Back

Latest news from the battle front brings the good tidings that the Americans have thrown back the Huns in their attack on heights of the Meuse and that the French line is making steady advances. The British since retaking Ayette, south of Arras have not resumed their offensive operations, so far as reported by London, but the German official statement says four attacks by the entente forces against the heights southwest of Moreuil were repulsed with heavy losses. There are no reports of fighting except outpost encounters.

On the French front before Verdun and Rheims successful raiding operations have been carried out by the French. The French report very heavy artillery engagements north of Montdidier, a sector which has witnessed savage fighting.

The Italian front is quiet and it is supposed that the Austrians who have gathered an enormous army there are preparing for a drive southward.

Continued bad weather is still hampering the Germans in their offensive movements. The churning shell holes are all but impassable and detours necessary in making their deprecations less effective. Field Marshal Haig under date of the 4th makes the following official statement to British headquarters:

After heavy artillery preparation, the enemy launched a strong attack this morning on the whole front between the Somme and Avre rivers. On the right and center of the British lines the attacking German infantry were repulsed but on the left the weight of the assault succeeded in pressing back our troops for a short distance in the neighborhood of Hamel on the south bank of the Somme. Early in the afternoon the enemy also attacked our line west of Albert and was completely repulsed. During the last few days there has been heavy fighting south of the river Luce. A Canadian cavalry brigade greatly distinguished itself in many successful actions, both mounted and dismounted.

The Americans now occupying the sector of the Meuse heights south of Verdun were successful in repulsing German infantry who had advanced to their listening posts and afterward made a successful advance on German lines at a point feasible for attack because of the torn terrain.

It is the opinion of critics, however, that the present general lull along the entire battle front is only preparatory to the Huns getting ready for another huge drive at certain objective points. It is apparent that the Germans are not content with the fruit of their big drive launched two weeks ago and they apparently concede that other tactics may be pursued in order to establish themselves in military strategy.

Funeral of American Woman

Call In Finished Mystery

The government secret service men are preparing to come down hard on all who have a copy of the "Finished Mystery" in their possession unless it is surrendered at once to the proper authorities. One of the members of the association that has been instrumental in putting this book out was in the Sentinel office last evening asking for the copy loaned for our inspection. He said he had received orders to hunt them all out and have them turned over to the government.

"What if I keep one for myself?" he asked the government representative.
"You will be arrested at once," was the reply. All copies are being called in by the attorney general.

CONSIDER THE GOAT

A SOURCE OF MEAT AND MILK SUPPLY

In these days when there is demand for meat, milk and material for clothing, why not consider the goat as a source of supply? The goat can be made to help in this respect, besides it consumes more roughage than any other animal, and in this way helps the farmer to clear his land, as well as to fertilize it.

There are numerous varieties of domesticated goats in foreign countries with many diversities of hair, beards and form of horns. Goats are highly prized in Oriental and tropical lands, for their meat, milk and hair, the latter being woven into the most delicate fabrics. The milk is richer than that of the cow, and equally agreeable to the taste. In Europe it is used extensively by invalids and weakly babies and for making cheese.

In Switzerland it has been known to give as high as five quarts a day, a quantity in the year aggregating many times its weight. When cared for it is very docile and affectionate, becomes a pet for the children and is easily trained. Boys use trained goats to haul their toy wagons about the streets. The writer of this recalls seeing a goat attached to a small plow used in a garden, in lieu of a hand pushed implement, and the animal worked faithfully and well in its task and relieved the garden of considerable labor. The improved varieties are no more comparable with the ill smelling and quarrelsome "Billy Goat" of America, when it is made so by neglect and abuse, than the improved hog is to be compared with the razor-back, or a collie dog with a wolf.

The meat of the goat or kid cannot be distinguished from mutton or lamb. The skin of the goat has many more uses than that of the sheep. In 1916 we imported over a hundred million pounds of goat skins, largely from Asia, and used them to make higher priced shoes and gloves. The fine Cashmere shawls, carpets and draperies of India and Persia are made from the hair of goats.

There are some ten species of wild goats with representatives on every continent, usually in the mountains, being sure-footed and noted for endurance and ability to jump long distances. Wild goats are often spoken of as ibexes, some kinds having horns 50 or more inches long. The wild goat of America is a white variety, wonderfully keen and active, having a home in the high places of the Rockies. Hunting it is an exciting sport.

Singular to say, the goat has never been properly utilized in English speaking countries. There is no reason why it cannot be made useful and profitable in Florida, except "because," a reason too often assigned for not taking advantage of other opportunities in our favored state. Many small farms and country homes, where there is not land enough to keep a cow, could be made to easily grow plenty for a "nanny." A vacant lot or a big backyard in any Florida town could be made to support a goat, and any extra feed to be bought will be appreciated by the grateful animal in giving additional milk. Many a Florida family now without milk, except the canned kind could supply itself with plenty of fresh milk by keeping one. A Saanen goat, kept by a Tallahassee family has given an average of four quarts a day for ten months in the year.

Bulletins and other information about goats can be had from the United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C. The Angora Journal and Milk Goat Bulletin, now in its sixth year is published at Portland, Oregon. The Florida Marketing Bureau at Jacksonville will furnish to inquirers a list of milk goat breeders.

Board of Trade

The Board of Trade is in receipt of the following letter from J. R. Payne, secretary, Arcadia Commercial Club:

Arcadis, Fla., March 30, 1918.
Sanford Board of Trade:
Dear Sirs:
This Club extends a cordial invitation to your Club and citizens of your city and surrounding country to visit Carlstrom Field, Aviation Day, April 4th, this being the last day that this camp will be open to the public.

Passes may be had at this office by all who can be vouched for and we wish to ask that you give this invitation as much publicity as possible in order that as many of your people as possible may take advantage of the chance to visit the field in operation.

Yours very truly,
Arcadia Commercial Club,
J. R. Payne, Secretary.

The Sanford Herald was the first paper to take up the question of better transportation for Florida perishables and the Sanford Board of Trade has spent more money and gotten more direct results from committees sent to Washington and Atlanta than any other organization in the state. However, it is the policy of both The Herald and the Board of Trade to boost and help the state wherever and whenever they can and we are proud in actually having accomplished so much. More and more we need the idea put into force that has been launched by the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce, "A Greater Florida Association" and through such an organization, just such matters as this and many others that must be handled collectively could be disposed of to a benefit to the entire state.

Seminole county still has her quota of tourists and many sections in the county heretofore passed up by these winter visitors are still enjoying a liberal patronage. Sanford in particular, has doubled the entry this season, and all our people are pleased at results. Sanford must go ahead. This is the slogan of the real men of the town and they are seeing that their ideas are carried out.

W. L. Clifton, Milwaukee, Geo. Dwyer, Cincinnati, M. K. Stanford, Buffalo, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Dummer, Misses Irene and May Carpenter, Kansas City and Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Smith, Toledo, were Board of Trade visitors yesterday.

Remember! Satan got kicked out of Heaven for knocking his home town.

Ask Mr. F. P. Forster of the First National, what dreams are worth! Anyway a dream cost him five dollars but the Orange Academy of Oviedo is the beneficiary and Mr. Forster is just a little happier than he was before the dream.

The Geneva Auxiliary meets Thursday night, April 4th, at Geneva. President Rehbinder and Secretary Dooley invite members from Sanford and Oviedo to attend. So far several from Sanford expect to go out. Both the Geneva and Oviedo Auxiliaries are developing into live organizations and many things that have heretofore been dormant are now being brought to light and put into force. Surely Seminole county has never, in its history been closer drawn together for general betterment than through the Board of Trade.

Dr. S. S. Green and Mr. Geo. P. Wilkins of Buffalo, N. Y., are rightly called "Sanford's Pioneer Tourists." Everybody in town knows these gentlemen, even the little tots yell across the street "Hello Dr. Green and Mr. Wilkins. They were with us last winter and this season they are again stopping at the Carnes and everyone in Sanford appreciates their presence and loves them for what they are.

Out at Oviedo the other night it was indeed gratifying to see the cooperation the white people of that hustling little city are offering their colored citizens. The Orange Academy held their school commencement exercises and under the successful management of the colored teachers of that institution a fine theme of progressive hearty work was visible and to buoy up the work and show their help fully sixty white persons of Oviedo were there with their good will and applause. Messrs. F. P. Forster, E. A. Douglass, Ed. Putnam and D. C. Marlowe were guests from Sanford as were also several of the prominent teachers of the Sanford colored high school. Several talks and musical selections from out of town folks were contributed. Professor Monroe and his able assistant deserve the congratulation of all Seminole county citizens and the Board of Trade takes this occasion to commend them for their noble energetic work.

Safe at All Times.
Really substantial persons in the world are always calm and quiet.

NEW RECORD IN POTATOES FOR FLORIDA Over 32,000 Acres Planted in Spuds Washington, D. C., April 4.—Florida is putting out a new record in early Irish potato production, according to a survey made under direction of Leon M. Estabrook, chief of the bureau of agriculture, U. S. department of agriculture. They are an increase of 69 per cent in the planting of early English potatoes in Florida this year as compared with one year ago. The acreage planted is estimated at 32,730 acres, as compared with 19,344 in 1917—an increase of 70,000 acres. It is admitted that "some" potatoes can be grown. The detailed estimate by counties is as follows: County 1918 1917 Acres Acres Alachua 210 95 Bradford 537 325 Brevard 615 336 Broward 225 150 Clay 810 315 DeSoto 460 455 Duval 1,090 1,225 Escambia 250 280 Hillsborough 3,000 1,270 Lake 555 155 Lee 290 278 Manatee 678 333 Marion 845 995 Okeechobee 2,200 100 Orange 795 640 Osceola 1,800 200 Palm Beach 1,700 470 Pinellas 70 70 Polk 485 468 Putnam 2,503 1,909 St. Johns 9,774 6,388 St. Leon 635 670 Seminole 450 175 Sumter 150 70 Volusia 560 206 Walton 120 60 Total 32,730 19,344 This assistant truck crop specialist of the bureau for Florida comments as follows on the potato situation: "Planting began about Jan. 10, but late delivery of seed greatly postponed the planting season, which was not completed in the Hastings section until the close of February, while in other sections the seed potatoes were still being planted as late as March 15. Some potatoes will be shipped by April 1, but the heavier movement will begin about April 20 at Hastings, and even later in other parts of the state. "Up to the present time the weather has been unusually favorable. No frosts have occurred during the growing season and abundant rains have furnished the needed amount of moisture over the greater portion of the potato belt. "In former years Florida potatoes have been shipped mostly in barrels, but this year the supply of barrels will be inadequate and a large part of the crop will be shipped in 10 and 11-peck sacks, while a few sections will use bushel crates. "Washington, D. C., April 1.—Statistics showing the excellent condition of the Florida crops this season as compared with the last two years are given by the bureau of crop estimates of the United States department of agriculture, as follows: Item 1918 1917 1916 Orange trees, cond'n 85 63 84 Lime trees, cond'n 81 38 86 Grapefruit trees, cond'n 83 62 85 Pineapple plants, cond'n 20 25 36 Cabbage, cond'n 85 42 86 White potatoes, cond'n 92 85 79 Spring pasture, cond'n 85 75 70 Spring plowing, per cent done 77 72 74 Spring planting, per cent done 45 40 40 Meadows, cond'n 80 78 85 Will Kennedy in Tampa Times.

Why We Fight Rudyard Kipling Gives Strong Features of War Saving "Nothing else under heaven matters today but that the war shall go to victory," declared Rudyard Kipling in a speech in advocacy of war saving. "The money we loan to the government helps to set our land and our world free," continued Mr. Kipling. "Our security for our loan is not only the whole vast British empire but also the whole of civilization which has pooled its resources in men, women and material to carry on this war to victory." "What is the personal aspect of the case for you and me? We are fighting for our lives, the lives of every man, woman and child here and everywhere else. "We are fighting that we may not be herded into actual slavery such as the Germans have established by force of their arms in large parts of Europe. "We are fighting against eighteen hours a day forced labor under lash or at the point of the bayonet, with a dog's death and a dog's burial at the end of it. "We are fighting that men, women and children may not be tortured, burned and mutilated in the public streets, as has happened in this town and in hundreds of others. And we will go on fighting until the race who have done these things are in no position to continue or repeat their offenses. "If for any reason whatever we fall short of victory—and there is no halfway house between victory and defeat—"what happens to us? This. "Every relation, every understanding, every decency upon which civilization has been so anxiously built up will go—will be washed out, because it will have been proved unable to endure. The whole idea of democracy—which at bottom is what the Hun fights against—will be dismissed from men's minds, because it will have been shown incapable of maintaining itself against the Hun. It will die, and it will die discarded, together with every belief and practice that is based on it. "The Hun ideal, the Hun's root-notion of life will take its place throughout the world. Under that dispensation man will become once more the natural prey, body and goods of his better armed neighbor. Women will be the mere instrument for continuing the breed; the vessel of man's lust and man's cruelty; and labor will become a thing to be Job or Jail Camden, N. J., April 1.—They are going after the leaders in New Jersey. All over the state the police and the peace officers are planning to round up the indolent ones under the Anti-Loafing law recently passed by the legislature. There will be no distinction. Hoops and millineries, if they do not work will be put in the same class. All are required to put in at least thirty six hours each week at work of some sort. If any one refuses to obey the law it means a fine of $100, three months in jail or both. Plans for carrying out the provisions of the new law were discussed at a recent meeting of police officials and sheriffs from all parts of New Jersey. Sheriff Corson of Camden county said after the conference that loafers, without regard to their station in life will be seized and will be allowed one week to go to work or else face prosecution. The state commissioner of labor submitted the following plan for the enforcement of the law: Whenever an officer of the law sees an idler he will take him to the station, where he will be allowed one week to go to work or else face prosecution. There the man must fill out a form card, which will indicate the kind of work he is best suited for. He will then be directed to hunt for work. The card will be turned over to one of the public employment offices. If the man cannot find work the employment bureau will offer him a choice of jobs. If he should reject this offer, a specific job will be

The time has come for filing income tax returns, so Collector Mack Cathcart probably will not object to the following formula for computing your income tax burden. It is from the Palestine (Tex.) It is one of the ironies of Fate that Florida, to whose senior senator the farm loan plan practically owes its existence seems to be destined to get less good from the system than any other state. Loans, it appears, are based entirely on the grain growing value of the land, no other crops being considered. Hence, Florida lands that might produce several hundred dollars worth of truck or a thousand dollars worth of citrus fruit per acre, would only be considered in the light of their grain yielding capacity, when estimating the amount of a loan to be made on them. The system doubtless will be of great benefit to farmers generally, but it doesn't seem to promise much to the Florida growers, as the amount the farm loan banks will advance is usually out of all proportion to the value of the land, and too small to be considered.—Lakeland Telegram.

A BASE INGRATITUDE

Uncle Sam is trying to impose a double tax on newspapers to go into effect July 1st. This will put many small weeklies and dailies out of business, and it is nothing more than a scheme of politicians who control the big publications to hold a hammer over the men who have done more to further the cause of democracy than any other medium. There isn't a paper but what gets from five to two dozen franked letters per day from Washington politicians which includes advertising matter of all kinds with reference to different kinds of war work. Papers have been publishing this matter freely and gladly from time to time and without the newspapers they would have been up against it on many of these orders issued. Still the government says that its postal department is losing money, yet the thousands of pounds they send out daily from Washington and other points is one of the very causes of it, and most of this mail goes to newspapers asking for free publication, and they now want to double tax the newspapers for it.

Yesterday, for instance, we received twenty four mail letters, and twelve out of the number were franked. If the members of congress could just realize that they are hampering their own interests when they start in on the newspapers, they might figure out something different. There isn't a paper but that has done more than its share to win this war. The Puget Gorda Herald editor puts the statement very plainly as follows:

"The State Press Association will meet next week in DeLand-Daytona-New Smyrna. This editor greatly regrets that he cannot attend, for He begs, though, to submit a suggestion for the consideration of the association, viz:

"Adopt a memorial to congress demanding the repeal of that outrageous law, which on July 1 of this year will impose a double tax on the newspapers and put many of the poor weeklies out of business. Send copies of this memorial to each and every member of the Florida delegation in congress and urge him to take immediate steps to secure the repeal of that section of the law which imposes such an unjust burden upon the press. Unless it is repealed the Herald, for one, will refuse to print any of the matter sent it by publicity agents of the government, unless it is paid for at full legal advertising rates.

"Every newspaper in the state has given hundreds of dollars' worth of free advertising to the government; and for congress now to strike the newspapers, as the law, if not repealed will do in July, is the basest ingratitude."—Lakeland Star.

FRANK HARRIS RETIRES

Frank Harris, the Nester of Florida journalism who has been the editor of the Ocala Banner for fifty years has been forced to retire on account of war's exigencies.

In his parting word he says: "We had hoped that we would part with it only upon the 'great divide.' But 'man proposes; God disposes.'"

Sale of the paper was due to the call to arms of Col. Harris' youngest son, Frank Harris, Jr., for a number of years business manager, and who was depended upon to keep the "bread and butter" line intact. In this respect Col Harris writes:

"Everyone knows that however beautiful or forceful the editorial page of a newspaper may be maintained; however attractively the local and society page may be written, whatever circumspection may be given to other departments, if the 'bread and butter' line is permitted to 'fall down,' to quote the classic language of Senator Chamberlain, it will soon cease functioning. "So with the accumulation and pressure of years, and the loss of the 'bread winner' we are admonished that the sacrifice we are called upon to make is a double one; it is to give up the 'bread winner' and with him the paper as well.

"These are our sacrifices." The Banner passes to S. M. Lumma, who has been connected with the office for many years, a native of Ocala, and who has become intimately acquainted with the business.

WE ARE USED TO IT

I notice that a 10c store is about to be launched by the big syndicate for all the stores of this sort in America. I understand, are conducted by one of two combinations, and the stockholders in the two have a sort of interlocking directorate—over in Plant City. But I'd suggest that it will be useless for the Courier of that city to try and play safe in the advertising line with the innovation. They sell goods cheap, all right; and they pay just as little for help as is consistent with conditions; but they'd no more advertise as the ordinary merchant does than a crawfish would issue a challenge to a man eating shark. Those stores just go along—and go along.—Thorn, in the Palm Beach Post.

You may be right, but they will be no pioneers in this respect. There are half a dozen big mercantile institutions here already that just go along—and go along. And we, knowing that "virtue is its own reward," will continue to go along as long as possible.—Plant City Courier.

They do not last forever and here and there the ancient leaves are falling. They have to advertise in some manner or get out.

that created, but lots that developed over the failures of those who took the initiative. These latter shine brighter among the lesser lights of productiveness, still a few have achieved in larger things; while others, overlapping their scope of moral possibilities have only succeeded in following their predecessors to certain ruin. Most of us "ape" to success—we follow beaten paths and only a few break new ground to things undreamed of. Columbus, according to our history made a path all his own as a discoverer and since his day, ambition has inspired others in untold numbers even to the North Pole. In religion, Billy Sunday's ambition is the Sam Jones inspiration, while many are dogging the steps of a Talmage in a universal religion. Even the conservatism of Wesley is the ambition of many more. The inspiration of Fulton, Edison and Bell has fired the ambition in thousands interested in invention and so on in every calling we see ambition born of inspiration: In this vast war, it must be conceded, from the history of man, that the kaiser is only following, through ambition, the inspiration given him by such leaders as Frederick the great, Caesar, Napoleon and Alexander. Following as it were, those who conquered—all save themselves, the kaiser embodies their various faculties and faults and stripping away all non-essentials, he bares to the world traits of the ghosts he idolizes and it is said of him that his library abounds in volumes telling of the deeds done and undone by these great leaders. He carries in him the desire for gain inherent in Frederick the Great, but lacks the latter's intelligence to the extent of knowing when he is well off. He has the bull headed qualities of Napoleon but lacks the sagacity and skill of that gentleman. He apes Caesar in so far as leadership of his people is concerned but lacks the latter's ability as a statesman or his wielding powers to convince other nations equal in power to his own. He carries in him the world-spirit of Alexander the Great but has never, nor never will develop the latter's spirit and success in a world conquest. He inherits directly the craftiness and cruelty of Theodoric and can attribute his ambition to extend his boundaries to the blood of that despotic ruler. Truly, the kaiser's ambition is over-sized, but lacking in inspiration because of national mixture he will, as his ghost beckoners have done before him, fail in Germanizing the world. Lay aside every reason advanced for bringing about this war; study the man and his lineage and deep down in his heart that ever burning ember of ambition fired by the inspiration of others gone before, is the sole cause for this bloody strife. Like his forefathers or idols he too must fail. Civilization, democracy and justice will yet command their place and rattle the world in brotherly love, the kaiser will go down—lost because of his lust for land and gold.

Queen's Contest

Elizabeth Stafford still leads in this interesting contest. However, with a large number of popular friendly rivals who are after her laurels and crown, uncertainty as to who will be queen still holds the boards among the gallants who are waging the fight for their favorites. The standing at 11:00 o'clock yesterday, the 4th was as follows: Elizabeth Stafford 1276, May Thrasher 697, Florence Henry 560, Fern Ward 460, Ethel Henry 352, Bertha Macey 213, Agnes Dumas 167, Frances Gonzales 150, Muriel Herrold 125, Helen Hand 124, Maud Leach 117, Irene Tillis 110, Frances Chappell 108, Dorothy Rumph 103, Macey Laing 102, Claire Cameron 101, Virginia Brady 101.

This property has been in litigation for several years and has passed into the hands of several owners but now that it has all been settled up it will be improved and will add greatly to the appearance of Park avenue and the city generally. The Many friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Moses are congratulating them upon their purchase.

Country Store Committee. In correction of errors for the country store committee of the Red Cross, Circus instead of Mrs. Mc-

Laughlin the name should be Mrs. Henry McLaulin. The names of Mrs. B. F. Whitner and Mrs. S. O. Chase were unintentionally left out. The committee is as follows: Mrs. Forrest Lake, chairman; Mesdames Rumph, J. S. Wilson, Ernest Krupp, W. J. Thigpen, McLaulin, E. P. Morse, Austin Williams, S. O. Chase and B. F. Whitner. Messrs. C. M. Mand and D. C. Marlowe, office boys.

Sunday at Congregational Church. The communion of the Lord's Supper will be observed in the morning. The theme for the evening will be the question asked Jesus, "Lord, art there few that be saved?"

Summary of the Floating Single Talks Succinctly Arranged for Herald Readers

The latest lie in the sweater story—now being circulated throughout the country—which has been given various colorings of alleged fact.

In substance, the story is based upon what is said to have been the experience of someone—usually a friend of mine—who knitted a sweater to send as a gift to her son or brother or husband or nephew or friend in the army or navy, and carefully sewed into the pocket of the collar (army and navy sweaters have no collars) a $5 or $10 gold piece or a $5 or $10 bank note.

This generous knitter later visits the camp or ship where is stationed the young man who was to have received the sweater, and is amazed to see an officer wearing the sweater she made. She asks the officer where he got it, and he tells her he bought it for $6 or $8. She then tells the officer she made it, and to prove her statement, asks him to look in the pocket or rip the collar (the non-existent collar) to find the money she there secreted.

The officer does this and is overcome with embarrassment when a shining gold piece or a crisp green-back is revealed.

The purpose of this lie is to discourage the making and sending of soldiers' and sailors' comforts, and at the same time to create suspicion and distrust in regard to such trustworthy agencies for war relief as the Red Cross and its auxiliaries.

In whatever form it appears it is a lie. Worse than that, it is a lie circulated for the sole purpose of weakening our country's cause.

Everyone who hears it should outspokenly nail it as a lie, and thus do all that can be done to nullify its evil results.—Philadelphia North American.

Mount Dora Baker Arrested

Eustis, Fla., April 3. (Special)—M. F. Gunther, a German, who has been conducting a bakery at Mount Dora, near here, for a short time was arrested today, and lodged in jail at Tavares, the county seat, on a charge of illegal adulteration of bread. It is alleged that gritty substance, either sand or glass was found in a loaf of bread sold at his bakery. The bread has been sent to State Food Administrator Braxton Beacham for analysis.

Gunther states that he is German-born, but that he has become a naturalized citizen. When asked for his naturalization papers he said he had destroyed them.

Low Sunday at Holy Cross

All the beautiful music for Easter which was rendered by a large choir, Mrs. Fannie S. Munson, organist, will be repeated this Sunday, which is known in the Christian church as Low Sunday.

It being the 45th anniversary of the first visit ever of a bishop to Sanford the reverend rector will speak commemoratively of the event. The bishop's coming was the occasion of the consecration of the first church edifice for Holy Cross, then at the corner of Magnolia avenue and Fourth street, where Holy Cross rectory now stands. All who are anywhere interested in Sanford ought to attend these church services on Sunday.

Many people who have never been to Holy Cross before or who have never seen nor known church services before are attending Holy Cross church regularly this winter. Everybody is welcomed. No seats are reserved for anyone, so whatever seat you take is yours. The rector as well as the congregation are glad to have you come and worship at Holy Cross with us.

The marriage of Miss Charlotte Eleanor Hand to Mr. Sherman Melville Lloyd Saturday evening, while very quiet was very beautiful and one in which every one was deeply interested. Charlotte Hand has always been a general favorite in Sanford. Mr. Lloyd has only been here a few years but his friends are legion. The marriage occurred at 9:00 o'clock at the Church of the Holy Cross, the Rev. A. S. Peck officiating. The church had been beautifully decorated for Easter. The bride wore a simple white organdie and a lace straw hat trimmed in japonicas. Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom left on a short wedding trip. A long and happy life is wished for them by their many friends.

England Acknowledges Sanford Gift All those who contributed to the Aspirin Fund for the relief of the Siders of our allies in the French and British hospitals will be gratified to hear how very glad these hospitals were to receive this help from Florida and how highly they appreciated this token of our sympathy and good will.

Upon the receipt of this consignment from Sanford Mr. H. E. T. Glover writes, "I am really at a loss for words to express our appreciation of your thoughtfulness and generosity. I have now received a letter of thanks from the Officer Commanding the Red Cross hospital in France, to whom I sent your kind gift, saying how glad they were to have it, and desiring me to express their gratitude to you and your friends."

The president of the King George Hospital writes, "I cannot tell you how grateful we would be for a gift of aspirin for our wounded soldiers in this hospital. We have not had any for nearly a year and the substitutes are nothing like it."

"We have 1850 men here and I think we get nearly all the worst cases, so you may imagine how very much we would appreciate this gift."

Already, one Sanford boy has been at this hospital.

Mrs. Hay says, "I cannot sufficiently thank you for your most generous gift of aspirin, and will you kindly convey our most grateful thanks to your friends in Florida. Tell them what a priceless boon treasure they have given us for our wounded soldiers in this hospital and how very Useful it will be."

Mrs. Bernard Potter, assistant honorary secretary of Acheson Hospital for officers says: "I am asked to write to you to say how very grateful we are for the splendid gift of aspirin you brought to our hospital yesterday. Will you please convey our warmest thanks to your friends in America for their kindness in giving us such a useful and acceptable present? As you know, it is an American, Dr. Acheson who has given this house for a hospital and already we have most beautiful dressings and bandages from the States. So the gift you brought yesterday is another kindness added to those already shown to us by our ally across the Atlantic."

The chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, now forming in Sanford will take up this work and carry it forward.

Combine Express Companies

Washington, D. C., April 2.—A proposal to combine all express companies in this country under one directing head for the duration of the war for better and more economical service was proposed by a committee of express company representatives, it was stated today. An announcement is expected soon.

Conclusion of an agreement has been held up, it was learned today, by difficulties in developing a plan for apportioning the work of the new organization, which would have virtually a monopoly of the express business in this country. Railroads would make a single contract with this organization for hauling this class of goods.

Capitalization of the new company also is the subject of considerable difference of opinion. The four leading companies—Adams, American, Wells Fargo and Southern—call a physical valuation of their transportation property of approximately $30,000,000. In addition, several million dollars cash for operating would be needed. The express companies and railroad administration advisers advocate higher capitalization, with allowance for goodwill and other intangible assets.

Apply at Local Recruiting Station, Sanford, Fla. Penalize Disloyal Acts Washington, D. C., April 2.—In favorably reporting a bill to impose drastic penalties on disloyal acts the senate judiciary committee today adopted an amendment by Senator Poindexter of Washington, prescribing imprisonment for 20 years and $10,000 fine for "whoever shall by word or act support or favor the cause of the German government or its allies in the present war or by word or deed oppose the cause of the allies therein." The committee also adopted the same penalties for persons obstructing government war bond issues and for wilfully "attempting" as well as actual attempts to obstruct recruiting or enlistment in the army. Other amendments written into the bill by the committee, with the same drastic penalties provided, prohibit disloyal or abusive utterances or writings, display of enemy flags, or acts tending to curtail production of essential war products, or "to advocate, teach, favor or defend" such acts. Senator Jones of New Mexico, introduced a resolution calling for dismissal of any government employee who performs any disloyal act, utters any seditious language against the President or speaks disrespectfully of the flag. A Lie The American woman ought to be aware by this time that a great many so called "rumors" constantly circulated about the war activities in which they are engaged are nothing but lies circulated by enemy aliens.

FORCED TO WORK IN KRUPP PLANT

Deported Men and Prisoners Are Driven Into Slavery by German Authorities.

MAKE STARTLING DISCLOSURE

Hollander Tells How Deported Belgians and French Prisoners of War Are Compelled to Work in Munitions Factory in Essen.

By W. J. L. KIEHL. (Correspondent of the Chicago News.) The Hague, Holland.—A Netherlander who until four days ago was employed at Krupp's munition works in Essen, Germany, makes the startling disclosure that some 4,000 Hollanders are working at Essen in the munition and war material factories. Most of these men get there through the machinations of what this "escaped" Hollander calls "Seelenkäufer"—Cohen & Ossendegger of Rotterdam, who seem to act as agents for supplying Germany with greatly needed labor.

"When this firm of agents secured my services they did not mention war work," he said. "I was given to understand that field labor and trade work was required. Also I was promised that I could return any Saturday to Holland to stay through Sunday. The promised wages were high and food was said to be plentiful. I accepted, but I did not know that the signatures and views required for my return to Holland had been omitted, as they always are in the passes given by these agents, no doubt because they know perfectly well that after a week in Germany no single Hollander would ever think of returning there after his week-end in Holland."

"Soon after my entrance upon German soil at Eilen, where I found several compatriots like myself, we were met by an agent from an 'arbeits bureau,' who secured our services for shodmaking at Krupp's by telling us that food was good there and wages very high. He said that in other branches of labor food was but indifferent and the wages nothing like Krupp's, so we men went to Essen. How good the food was there you can judge of by the fact that my weight was reduced by 24 pounds while there. "For breakfast we received two slices of bread without any butter or fat whatever. For dinner potato soup that left us hungry an hour after eating. Then in the evening again two slices of bread like at breakfast. If the Hollander felt too ill or feeble to work the Germans simply took away his bed from under him to make him get up. Oh, yes, there is a doctor, but he always diagnoses the same. 'You can work—if you don't work you won't eat'—'nicht arbeiten—nicht essen,' as we used to put it."

THE GREAT WAR HAS MADE CIGARETTES A NECESSITY.

"Our boys must have their smokes. Send them cigarettes!" This is a familiar appeal now to all of us. Among those most in demand is the now famous "toasted" cigarette—LUCKY STRIKE. Thousands of this favorite brand have been shipped to France. There is something homelike and friendly to the boys in the sight of the familiar green packages with the red circle. This homelike, appetizing quality of the LUCKY STRIKE cigarette is largely due to the fact that the Burley tobacco used in making it has been toasted. "It's toasted" was the "slogan" that made a great success of LUCKY STRIKE in less than a year. Now the American Tobacco Co. is making 15 million LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes a day. A good part of this immense production is making its way across the water to cheer our boys.

"The laborers are housed by the 500 together in barracks, which are but insufficiently warmed and imperfectly cleaned." Typhus claims many victims. In the barracks where I was housed I found four men lying dead of typhus before my crib one morning. After a few days of this sort of thing it is not to be wondered at that many Hollanders try in every way to get back to their country, although the visas on their passes are lacking. "If they are captured they are thrown into prison for a fortnight on bread and water. If they survive they are then drafted back to Krupp's, and set to work again. Production is pushed to the utmost. Numbers of soldiers are employed as a change from the front, and these men are so afraid of being again sent to the front that they would rather work themselves to death at Krupp's."

"Every evening at Krupp's alarms is made—'Flieger Gemeldet' (airplanes reported). All lights are then extinguished. This is done so that we should not know when flyers really come to bombard the factories. No one is allowed to talk of the damage done by allied bombs, and the newspapers are enjoined to keep silence on these matters. Still, I can say that some damage has been done, although I cannot say how much nor exactly where. On the other hand, stories likely to stimulate the energy of the people are eagerly promulgated, such as those of enormous submarines of dreadnaught type, of guns that can shoot 60 kilometers that are soon to be used against the allied armies."

USE COLOGNE BELL FOR GUNS

Great 50,000-Pound Bell of 1870 Dismantled and Sawed Into Parts for War Purposes.

The Hague.—The great "kaiser's bell," whose sonorous voice many Americans may have heard above the roars of Cologne, has now been removed from its cage in the southern tower of the grand cathedral to be melted for war uses. It rang its funeral chant on New Year's night. The bell weighed 50,000 pounds and it was necessary to saw it in pieces to get it down. French guns captured in 1870 and 1871 were the material from which the bell was made, and it was first sounded on March 21, 1877, the birthday of William I. It took 27 bell ringers to operate it. Wartime Training. New York.—To train 500 social workers for wartime emergencies, the mayor's committee of women on national defense began a wartime training course. The course is in cooperation with Columbia university.

About Cork.

A good, sound cork is something worth taking care of and using properly. Never "juggle" a cork out of a bottle. That is the best way to break or at least spring a crack in the cork. Remove the cork with a turning of twisting movement; always in one direction only, i. e., not a twist one way and then in the opposite way. Replace the cork with the same twist as when removing it. Never lay a cork down on a dirty, splashed table. If it must be laid down, stand it on its crown or top. For bottles containing liquids in use, e. g., developers, etc., attach the cork to the bottle thus: Pass a crochet needle through the top of the cork, and with its aid draw the end of a piece of fine twine right through the cork, and tie this end of the string round the neck of the bottle, so adjusting matters that the cork just falls to reach the table (i. e., bottom of the bottle) when the cork and string are free. This saves the cork getting lost in the darkroom.
