County Celery Crop In 'Fair Shape'

Jim Pigott Quits Seminole High Post

Principal A. J. Bracken said Pigott turned in his resignation this morning. He is leaving Sanford to accept an administrative position in the school system at West Palm Beach.

Pigott, 44, has been at Seminole High School since 1937 and his football teams have had some highly successful seasons in the eight years he has been coach.

Before coming to Seminole High, Pigott was a head coach and athletic director in Alachua County. He has been teaching and coaching for 15 years.

Last spring Pigott ran for Seminole County school superintendent and was defeated by incumbent R. T. Milwee in the primary.

He has served as county coordinator of the summer enrichment program and president of the Seminole County Teachers' Federal Credit Union. Pigott is a member of Sanford First Methodist Church and teaches the Fellowship Sunday School class there.

The Seminole coach served in the Armed Forces from 1910 to 1915. He is a graduate of the University of Florida with bachelor and master degrees.

He and his wife and four children live in Loch Arbor.

Bracken said an effort would be made to hire a new football coach before spring training begins Monday. He said Coach Pigott would finish out the school year in his other assignments.

"Coach Pigott has done an outstanding job here," Bracken said.

Pigott will serve as supervisor of physical education, driver education and handle the summer recreation program in Palm Beach County.

Sanford Nurse Dies Tuesday On Airliner

Services will be held Saturday in Orlando for Mrs. Sara Georgianna Kirk, 51, former Sanford registered nurse who died of a heart attack on an airliner just before it landed at Herndon Airport Tuesday.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Futch, of Sanford.

Mrs. Kirk who had recently moved back to Sanford after living in Winter Park for several years, was returning from Bridgeport, Conn., where she had been visiting her son, daughter-in-law and grandson.

Born in Baltimore, Md., Mrs. Kirk later moved to Sanford where she attended local schools and was graduated from Seminole High School. She received her B.S. degree from Jefferson Medical College in Pennsylvania and served on the nursing staff of the Pennsylvania State Mental Hospital. Later she returned to Florida and practiced nursing in Orlando until 1946.

Mrs. Kirk was a member of the Methodist Church, Licensed Nurse and State Board of Pennsylvania Examiners. She was active in PTA and civic work.

Shortly before going to Connecticut, she had moved back to Sanford, residing at 2601 Washington Avenue.

Survivors include two sons, William Lee Kirk, a student at the University of Miami, and Albert C. Kirk Jr., Bridgeport, Conn.; a grandson, Albert C. III, and her parents.

The body will be cremated and the family has requested that in lieu of flowers donations be sent to the Heart Fund or other charitable organizations.

Fairchild Funeral Home in Orlando is in charge of arrangements.

What's in a name? Our new sports editor also doubles as police and court reporter. His name? Law(e)s.

They're counting the days. Only four more weeks until school is out.

Acting Mayor Al Wilson has taken quite a ribbing about the recent photograph in The Herald showing him receiving a "smoochie" on top of the head from a beauty queen. "I enjoyed that more than anything I have ever done as Mayor," declared "lover-boy" Wilson to teasing fellow Kiwanians.

Mayor Jimmy Crapps sure got sick at the wrong time—he's missin' out on a lot of fun, isn't he, Mr. Wilson?

Since Public Works Superintendent "Sid" Richard retired, City Manager "Pete" Knowles has had to put on his overalls and his hard hat and get to work "straw bossing" the work on 13th Street and moving of the water lines on 25th Street. Lift that bale, Tote that barrel!

One of the funniest sketches we have ever seen is the act called "The Whistlers" which will be presented in a repeat performance at "The Merry-Go-Round" show Monday. This number is being returned to the show "by popular demand" and when you see it, you will see why. That's all we are going to tell you—you will have to see it for yourselves. But we guarantee it will upset your tickle box. Show time 8 p.m., Seminole High Auditorium.

Tryouts for American Legion baseball will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the Seminole High School field. Any boy 16-18 from Seminole and Oviedo High School is eligible.

Pinecrest PTA will install new officers at a meeting in the school auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Leesburg Firm Offers Low Bid

J. D. Manley Construction Company, of Leesburg, with a bid of $324,000, is the apparent low bidder to construct additional aircraft parking space at Sanford Naval Air Station.

The contract, one of the largest to be put up for bids for the station within the past year, calls for the parking apron to be constructed just east of the present apron.

The new parking space, covering approximately 46,600 square yards, normally will accommodate 16 RA-5C Vigilante jet aircraft.

This project is the third in a series of five authorized last year by Congress in a $2,001,000 package for the station. Two projects almost are completed with bids to be invited on the remaining couple in the near future.

Manley Construction currently is conducting a $114,500 aircraft parking apron repair project at the base.

Saigon Endorsed By Military Unit

SAIGON (UPI) — South Viet Nam's powerful Armed Forces Council formally dissolved itself in a resounding vote of confidence in the Saigon government.

On the military front, 50 U. S. Air Force jets scored a "spectacularly successful" raid against Communist North Viet Nam.

The Armed Forces Council voted to disband in an emphatic endorsement of the civilian government of Prime Minister Phan Huy Quat.

Need A License?

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — A woman who had failed her driver's test five times was charged with attempting to bribe a driver's license examiner.

Examiner George Morrison said Beatrice Calloway Williams, 42, offered him $14 in cash and an IOU for $11 if he would pass her.

He arrested her instead.

WORKMEN are pictured knee-deep in water Wednesday afternoon as they sought to repair the third rupture of the city water pipeline in 10 days during the improvement program of 25th Street. The break Wednesday, immediately east of Park Avenue, also disrupted telephone service.

Red-Led Rebels Use Terror Tactics

Marine's Body Left On Hotel Doorsteps

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — Communist-led rebels today dumped the body of a dead U. S. Marine on the doorsteps of the Ambassador Hotel in an apparent demonstration of the terror tactics they plan to use against American military forces here.

The action came despite the conclusion Wednesday of a "firm truce" by the Organization of American States (OAS) and the OAS's unprecedented decision to send an inter-American peacekeeping force to police the Dominican Republic.

Heavy fighting broke out today in downtown Independence Square in Santo Domingo in what the United States has charged is a Castro-Communist effort to seize control of the blood-bathed country. The firing was directed against a U. S. patrol but its fate was not known.

It was not known whether the Marine brought through U. S. lines under a flag of truce—a white undershirt—was the Marine reported to have been captured by the rebels Wednesday night in an incident in which four Leathernecks were wounded.

The rebels have warned repeatedly that any Marine or U. S. paratrooper found in rebel area would be "slaughtered."

Only Wednesday night a rebel radio said the Dominican people must cooperate in the "patriotic task of killing in blood and burning foreign invaders and their lackeys."

The dead Marine was found lying face up at the hotel, and it appeared he had been captured and shot.

'Big Stick' Charged To Burns

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The ambitious $300 million road bond program was formally received in the Senate today amid renewed charges of "big stick threats."

Sen. Ed Price, of Bradenton, leader of the small opposition forces in the Senate, said he will fight to his last breath to keep the measure from coming to a vote of the people this year.

Price does not feel there is much chance of killing the program, which has behind it the full power of the Governor's office as well as that of the presiding officers of both houses. But he thinks there might be enough strength built up in the House to at least delay it for a year.

The bill was filed in the Senate with 30 co-sponsors, and four unequivocal promises of votes from senators not at liberty to sign the measure.

BEVERLY ALEWINE

Utility Body Assured Altamonte - Swofford

By Donna Estes
Mayor W. Lawrence Swofford at meeting of the Altamonte Springs Town Council Wednesday night reported that Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr. and Rep. S. J. Davis Jr. had assured him that bills establishing a utility commission and providing for a municipal judge for Altamonte would be introduced in this session of the Legislature. The only condition set in both cases, Swofford said, is that referendum must be held following passage of the bills. It was explained that action necessary for establishing a municipal judge is to repeal the section of the charter which calls for the mayor to be judge and adding an amendment whereby a qualified judge, preferably an attorney, could be hired.

Swofford further reported that a bill which gives municipal police forces the right of "hot pursuit" in their respective counties already had been passed by the House of Representatives and it is anticipated that it will be passed soon by the Senate.

A work session was scheduled for 7 p.m. Monday to work out details of the utility commission bill. To be decided is the authority the commission will have, the number of commissioners, the length of their term in office, and the method of naming them.

In other reports Swofford stated that the county commission had declined to participate with the town at this time in opening Ballard Street but will participate in grading and stabilizing Sandalwood Avenue from SR 427 at First Street only as far north as Mercury Street. Council authorized the attorney to prepare a resolution in conjunction with this agreement.

Senators Acting On War Chest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate stood ready to complete congressional action on President Johnson's request for additional funds to aid the anti-Communist effort in South Viet Nam.

Senate leaders set the $700 supplementary appropriations bill as the first order of business.

Passage of the request for funds for the fiscal year ending June 30 was expected to stand as a vote of confidence for Johnson's policies in the guerrilla war.

The House cleared the measure Wednesday.

Spending Bill

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Florida House worked today on a general spending bill that proposes a record $1,086 billion in appropriations to finance state operations and building in the coming two years.

Blonde Mother On Trial In Mate's Death

By Barry Lawes
Beverly Alewine, 22, an attractive blonde mother, went on trial this morning in the second degree slaying of her husband, Tony.

The defendant, dressed for her court appearance in a simple black suit, her blonde hair curling slightly at the neckline, sat quietly during the rapid selection of the jury, her face showing no trace of emotion, just a slight tiredness.

Assistant State Atty. A. J. (Tony) Hosenan exercised two pre-emptory challenges in seating the jury of six men. Defense Atty. Gordon Frederick quickly accepted the final selection of Clarence L. Collins, Lester L. Tillis, James H. Brewton, William W. Johns Jr., Alexander H. Joiner and Dwight Lawrence. William C. Hartline is sitting as alternate juror.

One of the first witnesses to be heard was Fred Garcia, 1009 1/2 South Park Avenue, next door neighbor of the defendant and the dead man. Garcia testified he was awakened about 4 o'clock the morning of April 15 by what he thought was a car door slamming. Immediately after that, he testified, he heard the defendant screaming, "Fred, come help me! Tony's been shot!"

Garcia said he rushed to the Alewine apartment at 1007 Park Avenue, where he found the dead man lying in a hallway leading to the bedroom. He said he returned to his apartment, called the police, and then returned to take Mrs. Alewine and her little daughter back to his apartment.

The rapidity with which the trial is progressing in Circuit Judge Tom Waddell's court indicates it may go to the jury by late afternoon today.

Mistrial Held In Wolfe Case

Circuit Judge Tom Waddell declared a mistrial Wednesday in the case of Karl R. Wolfe, of Orlando, charged with murder in the fatal beating of James Franklin Sullivan, 31.

Judge Waddell set a new trial for the 21-year-old Orlando for Aug. 23 and the accused was freed on bond previously set.

Defense Attorney Ed Kirkland of Orlando contended that statements made by the prosecuting attorney would be prejudicial to a panel of viewers who were being examined as prospective jurors.

2 Area Firms Join Suit On Labor Deficit

By Paul Brookshire
Despite a general shortage of labor, harvesting of Seminole County's celery crop appears to be in "fair shape."

Harvesting of the county's 800- to 900-acre celery crop is at its peak now with the end expected about June 1, growers said today.

The Seminole County crop's value was estimated at approximately $350,000 by County Agent Cecil Tucker.

However, two Seminole growers have joined a suit to force secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz to allow "off-shore" labor to harvest the state's largest crop in the Belle Glade area.

Chase Glades Farms, Inc., of Sanford, and A. Duda & Sons Co-operative Association, Oviedo, joined eight other South-Central Florida celery growers in the suit filed in federal court in Orlando.

These growers contend loss of a million-dollar crop in the Belle Glade area unless the off-shore labor is permitted.

Richard Deas, of Chase & Company, Sanford, said a general shortage of labor has plagued celery growers all season long.

"However, we are in fair shape in harvesting in Seminole County," Deas said.

Irvin Fleischer, of Nelson & Company, Oviedo, said his company was "not hurting too badly."

Fleischer said the harvesting was at its peak right now, with the finish in sight for the first of June.

Meanwhile, farm placement recruiting offices of the Florida State Employment Service distributed folders entitled "What Crew Leaders Should Know About Child Labor in Agriculture" when they recruited migrant workers through crew leaders in Sanford Wednesday.

Growers and farm labor crew leaders were reminded that there is a 16-year age minimum for work during school hours. Children of any age are permitted to work on farms after school and during vacation.

John Hall President Of Bear Lake PTA

By Maryann Miles
Bear Lake Elementary Parent-Teacher Association installed John Hall as president for the coming school term in ceremonies conducted by Mrs. George Hearn of Altamonte Springs, president of the Seminole County Council of PTAs, during the May meeting in the school auditorium.

Other officers are Mrs. Mary Gorso, first vice president; Principal George Dabba, second vice president; Grant Mueller, treasurer, and Mrs. Ernestine Forward, secretary.

Mrs. Kaye Vieta, outgoing president, was presented with her PTA president's pin. In making the presentation, Mrs. Hearn extended highest praise to Mrs. Vieta for "being so co-operative and available whenever called upon."

A social half hour and brief business meeting preceded the installation. In business it was reported that a balance of $470.28 is in the treasury and detailed reports on school legislation in Florida were presented by Mrs. Ruth Johnson and Mrs. Virginia Krause, members of the school faculty.

The program, "If I Were Going," was presented by third grade classes with Holly Hill as narrator. Lead roles were taken by Mark Crain and Mary Jane Cromwell. The countries Norway and Lapland were represented by children of Mrs. June Griffith's class; England by those of Mrs. Margaret Hardin's class; Brittany by Mrs. Betty Dudman's class; Spain by Mrs. Joan Bolander's class, and a group from Mrs. Harding's class represented Africa.

Colorful costumes and scenery for the presentation were particularly impressive to the standing room audience.

Charles Lewis To State Meet

Charles Lewis Jr., of 2906 Hiawatha Avenue, has been selected as the district winner of the teenage safe driving road-race. Lewis will compete with 19 other contestants for the state championship in Bertow Saturday.

At the state competition the contestants will be tested four ways: Written and oral examinations, obstacle course and in-town driving. Mercury automobiles will be used in the driving tests.

The state winner will compete for national honors in Washington, D. C., in June.

It's About Time!

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI)—Illinois school teachers may soon have the legal right to "whale the hell" out of assy children. A bill authorizing corporal punishment sailed through the Illinois House recently by a 134-8 vote.

"If the kid wises off and cusses the teacher, then the teacher should have the right to whale the hell out of him," Rep. Don Moore said in support of the measure.

Wised-Up Teller

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Tellers at the Homewood Savings and Loan Association know the right answer when they get a request for coin wrappers.

Twice in little more than a year, bandits entered, asked for coin wrappers, then staged holdups which netted about $8,000.

When two shabbily dressed men asked for coin wrappers this week, teller Mrs. Mae Wilmut said they didn't have any. The men fled.

Elks To Observe 'Mothers' Day'

The public is invited to attend special "Mothers' Day" ceremonies by Sanford Elks Lodge at 3 p.m. Sunday at the lodge hall, 1106 East Second Street.

Each year the Elks pay special tribute to all mothers and special honors are accorded the oldest and the youngest mother of lodge members.

GUEST SPEAKER for Friday's 11 a.m. May Fellowship Day services sponsored by the Sanford Council of United Church Women at Holy Cross Episcopal Church will be C. Vernon Mize whose address will be developed around the theme, "People, Poverty, Plenty." Invitation is extended to all women of the affiliated churches to attend by Mrs. Vernon Fuller, Council president.

DeWitt Mathews Southside PTO President

DeWitt Mathews has been installed as president of Southside School PTO. Other officers installed are: Mrs. Ralph Cowan, Mrs. C. Vernon Mize Jr., and Mrs. Velma Mitchell, first, second and third vice presidents, respectively; Mrs. Charles Tetbaum, secretary, and Ben Butler, treasurer.

Mrs. R. W. Williams was installing officer. President Gene Taffer presided over the session at which time the group accepted a recommendation that other fund raising projects be held next year instead of the Halloween carnival. This matter was presented by the project committee composed of H. W. Rawls, chairman; Mrs. Robert Graham, Mrs. Catherine Whelchel and Mrs. B. E. Aiken Jr.

In other action the group approved payment of an art table recently purchased by the school. Rev. Robert Jenkins gave the devotional, and used as his topic, National Family Week, which he stated is the most important facet of American life. The annual sixth grade musical program was presented under the direction of Miss Junetta Rastom. The group sang selections from "Hello Dolly," "Mary Poppins" and "Father Goose."

City Aide Cited For Health Study

S. M. Richard Jr., superintendent of utility plants for the City of Sanford, completed and was certified in a course on urban planning for environmental health at the University of Florida in Gainesville.

The local man was cited for his contribution to the course, which involved a survey of the city and adjacent areas and recommendations for improvement in each particular field. Course officials said they hope that each of the 50 students attending the course from all over Florida might use Richard's proficiencies for similar surveys in other parts of the state.

The course covered such environmental health areas as air pollution, housing, refuse collection, sewerage, sanitation, water resources and fly and mosquito control. Richard's report and others presented are to be compiled and published. The Sanford utility superintendent said the course was "the most interesting I ever attended."

In music, the Chinese use a pentatonic (five-tone) scale which sounds like the black keys of a piano.

Benefit Program Set Monday For Red Schoolhouse

A varied program of entertainment by local persons has arranged for "The Merry-Go-Round," fifth annual show for the benefit of the Little Red Schoolhouse, school for retarded children at Sixth Street and Palmetto Avenue. Show time is 8 p. m. Monday at the Seminole High School auditorium.

Vocalists who will be heard during the show include Gerald Covington, H. E. McSwain, Colleen Higgins and Robert and Opelia Bennett.

A group of midshipmen from the Sanford Naval Academy will present rock and roll music with their four-piece combo.

Members of the Epiton Sigma Sigma Alpha sorority will present a comedy skit entitled "Coloring Book."

A "womanless wedding" will be conducted by a group of officers from Sanford Naval Air Station.

Two local teachers, Mrs. Arletta Coberly and Mrs. Marie Stumpf, will play duets on the twin pianos.

A group of parents from Longwood Elementary School who call themselves "The Dixie Dancers" will perform for the Merry-Go-Round audience.

Among the oddities of the program will be a "Bridal Fashion Show" and Seminole High School will present its version of a Dixieland band.

One of the highlights of the show will be the return of "The Whistlers."

Mrs. A. O. Karnes, general director of the show, said tickets are available from any member of the Seminole Association for Retarded Children and also will be on sale at the door. Box office opens at 7:30 p. m. and curtain goes up on the fifth annual "Merry-Go-Round" at 8 p. m. Monday.

Association To Have Supper In Forest City

By Maryann Miles
 Forest City Community Association will have a covered dish supper meeting beginning at 6:30 p. m. Monday at the Bear Lake Elementary School. Serving will be continued until 8 p. m.

Hot dogs, hamburgers, coffee, punch, and table service will be provided by the association and covered dishes will be brought by those attending.

Association President Allen Forward has invited all residents of the area, whether or not, to attend in order to meet and become better acquainted with others of the community.

Famous Painting Posed By Pupils

A program of "living pictures" was presented by Mrs. Caroline Wiggins' sixth grade class at Southside Elementary School. As each famous painting was posed by some students, others sang appropriate songs or gave recitations.

Eight famous paintings portrayed by the class included "The Fifer" by Manet; "The Angelus" by Millet; "Whistling Boy" by Duvenco; "Pinkie" by Lawrence; "Noel with Violin" by G. R. Davis; "La Gourmet" by Picasso; and "The Vigil" by J. Pettie.

Front Row AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands (UPI)—Crown Princess Beatrix wore a black wig, an old coat and glasses on a tour of Amsterdam's red light district. A court spokesman said the visit "was made in connection with the princess' desire for first-hand knowledge of social welfare conditions."

The beautiful spacious home of Mrs. Lewis (Betty) Barley in Lake Mary was the scene of an elaborate graduation tea recently honoring three Seminole High School seniors, Peggy Miller, Melanie Williams and Ginger Norris.

The Lake Mary Garden Club was the official hostess for the affair.

Mrs. Barley's home was opened en suite for the occasion and was decorated with beautiful arrangements made by Mrs. Malcolm Bordeaux. An orchid spray grown by Mrs. Marion Schweickert graced one table in the enormous living room.

The dining table was overlaid with white nylon net over yellow. Each corner held a yellow rose bud and several of the buds were placed around the sides. One end of the table held the silver punch bowl. A ring of yellow rose buds floated in the punch. On the other end was placed a tiered candelabra with white candles and in the center an arrangement of white chrysanthemums. Silver trays held small dainty open faced sandwiches, nuts, mints and tea cakes.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Mildred Tillis, Peggy and her grandmother, Mrs. Fannie Leffler; Melanie and her mother, Mrs. Laurette Williams; Ginger and her mother, Mrs. Jean Norris, and the club president, Mrs. Alyce Lensing. Members of the Garden Club served as floating hostesses.

Peggy looked stunning in a dress of pink print pastel made on the shift style. With it she wore white accessories and a white corsage, a gift of the club. Melanie greeted the guests wearing an attractive blouson effect dress of green print. She also wore a white corsage and white accessories. Ginger chose a two-piece

The Story League Welcomes Official

By Mrs. Clarence Snyder
The Sanford Story League was host at a luncheon meeting Saturday, honoring Mrs. Nell Baker-Parker, writer and lecturer, of Vero Beach, and second vice president of the Eastern District of the Story League and national chairman of education and research.

The luncheon was held at the First Baptist Church Educational Building with Mrs. A. J. Peterson and Mrs. V. G. Hasty serving as hostesses.

The tables were centered with beautiful arrangements of day lilies in shades of yellow and brown.

Following the luncheon Mrs. Betty Snyder, president, introduced Mrs. Baker-Parker who thanked the group for honoring her and thus giving her the opportunity to get acquainted.

The group repeated the Story Tellers Creed, then Mrs. Snyder repeated the theme for the current year, "Beyond nine mountains and nine rivers, at the very end of the world, there is a huge story tree. On every branch is a nest. Every nest has several eggs, by breaking an eggshell crystal clear a beautiful story you will hear."

A miniature golden tree stood on the table with nine paper mountains and a river at its base. The tree held two nests and in each nest were several plastic eggs.

Mrs. Snyder chose an egg and opened it. A slip of paper had the name of the story teller and the title of the story.

Mrs. Earl Evans told the first story, "The Discontented Pendulum," taken from The Book of Knowledge.

The second egg held the name of Mrs. Fred Robb, Her story, "Tustala, Teller of Tales," told of the road of the loving heart, and was the true story of the last years of Robert Lewis Stevenson on the islands of Samoa.

Mrs. W. L. Roche told the Japanese fairy tale "The Fountain of Youth," written by Lolcadio Hearn.

Mrs. Snyder told "The Tortoise and the Banana Tree," from a collection of Philippine Fairy Tales.

Then came the golden egg and the story, "It's Still Magic," by Barbara Corrigan, which was told by Mrs. Baker-Parker.

The May meeting will be at the First Federal Building and at that time a market basket sale will be held. Proceeds will be added to the fund to send a delegate to the eastern convention.

MRS. NELL BAKER-PARKER, center, was a recent honor guest of the Sanford Story League. At the left is Mrs. W. L. Roche and Mrs. Betty Snyder, president, is at the right.

By Evelyn Lundy

In an Hawaiian setting on the enclosed patio, by the pool at the home of the W. H. Martins in Oviedo, Arthur Evans, senior of Oviedo High School was honored at a delightful luau. As each guest arrived he was given a lei to wear.

Purple and white Cattleya orchids were hung from each wrought iron post. On the glass topped dining table was a large wooden bowl containing fresh colorful vegetables and fruit and on either side of the bowl were large hibiscus blossoms. The place cards were miniature palm trees. On each guest's plate was a quarter of a fresh pineapple filled with fruit.

On the upper level of the patio an arrangement of colorful paper hibiscus blossoms and fresh pineapple was banked against the wall under a black iron candelabra with white candles and leis were hanging on the wall above.

On the smaller dining table was a large arrangement of red roses. A delicious buffet supper of sweet and sour ribs, chicken, macaroni supreme, hot rolls, flaming volcano and fresh coconut cake with a spicy Polynesian punch was served.

Jimmy Courier, Al Ward, David Evans, Walter Beasley, Anne Martin and Mimi Wheeler, cousins of the guest of honor, and Mrs. B. F. Wheeler Sr., his grandmother. Hostesses for the party were Anne Martin and Mimi Wheeler.

DeBary Drama Department Reviews History Of Drama

By Mrs. John Leone

The Drama Department of the DeBary Woman's Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Ewald Michelsen on Orchard Drive. Mrs. Michelsen opened the meeting with a story on the beginning of drama and comedy.

In the early days it was part of religious feast days, in Germany, Spain, France and other European countries. The first specimens of dramatic writing in the United States, reflected the taste of Colonial and Revolutionary life and showed a definite English trend with a slight Germanic influence.

Refreshments were served with the president, Mrs. Charles Ulrich, presiding at the tea table.

FRENCH FRIED LIVER
Liver, fried in deep hot lard, heated to 375 degrees F. is one of the most delectable ways to serve this variety meat. Have the liver sliced thin, wash it with cold water and dry thoroughly. Before frying, cut it with kitchen shears into strips about 1/2-inch wide. Dip the pieces in seasoned flour for a light coating then fry in deep, hot lard. Serve with what? French-fried onions are a perfect teammate.

Medical News

At least one expert feels it's not surprising that astronauts find their space capsules cozy and comfortable. Dr. Edward C. Hughes of Syracuse, New York, observed that astronauts have lived in a similar structure—their mother's womb—for at least nine months. Said Dr. Hughes, a former president of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists: "We could all say that we lived in a capsule for at least nine months of our life. Amazingly enough, the capsule used in outer space is quite similar in shape to that used in inner space."

"The capsule of the uterus is, however, of better design. It is elastic, contracting at all times and capable of growing—it has an escape hatch at the lower end which opens up during labor and allows the passenger to exit into another world where the atmospheric pressures are different and all dangers are greater."

Teacher-Parent Council Has Installation

By Jane Casselberry
The Council of Teachers and Parents of South Seminole Elementary School at Casselberry rounded out a successful year Tuesday night with annual reports and installation of officers for the 1965-66 year.

James Birkenmeyer of the County School Board installed the following officers: Mrs. William Eggers, president; Mrs. Allen Ostrow, first vice president; Mrs. John Van Zepol, second vice president; Mrs. John Perry, recording secretary; Mrs. Richard Webber, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Robert T. Carrick, treasurer.

An estimated budget at $1,100 for the coming year was voted on and approved by the members.

Projects undertaken by the CTP this year to improve the school included the purchase of $300 worth of library books, eight classroom fans, $250; eight abaci, $128; two dozen luncheon trays for first graders, $45; four record players, $200; and a sprinkler system for the school grounds, $250.

Materials have arrived for the sprinkler system and it is expected that it will be installed before school is out.

During the CTP sponsored Book Fair $538 books were purchased by parents and students, and it is hoped that eventually many of these will be donated to the school library.

Total income for the year from fund raising projects amounted to approximately $975, with around $800 of this realized from the successful Spring Festival.

The membership chairman reported a total of 474 members for the year.

Some of the other accomplishments were revision of the constitution and by-laws, establishing a permanent safety committee, conducting a physical fitness program, and conducting a study group on testing and grouping. Mrs. T. J. Durrance, vice president, presented a gift of a silver bowl to retiring president, Mrs. Gerald McGinnis, in behalf of the CTP. Mrs. McGinnis expressed her appreciation to all those who donated so many hours to the school and helped make the year a successful one.

Mrs. May Ostrow, teacher, and Principal C. M. Harp spoke in support of legislation concerning education and teachers' salaries.

Harp presented a white orchid from the CTP to Mrs. Beatrice Forney, third grade teacher who is retiring after 28 years of teaching. She had been at South Seminole since it was first built.

Six rose bushes were presented to Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Dunn, first grade teacher, who has supervised a nursery for young children during CTP meetings, in appreciation for her service.

Incoming officers were given chrysanthemum corsages and outgoing officers received Vanda orchid corsages.

The room count was won by Troy Stuart's fifth grade for the upper grades, and Mrs. Carolyn Miller's first grade class and Miss Evelyn Schrader's third tied for attendance honors in the lower grades.

Following the meeting room mothers from the fourth, fifth and sixth grades served refreshments of cupcakes, sherbet punch and coffee.

Florida Gas Cuts A Melon

Florida Gas Company stockholders were told at the annual meeting in Orlando that the board of directors had declared a dividend of $.05 per share on the company's common and class A shares payable on June 15 to stockholders of record May 25.

"It is with extreme pleasure that I announce the declaration of the company's first regular quarterly dividend which is at an annual rate of $20 per share," said President W. J. Bowen.

"The amount while conservative is well within the company's continuing ability to pay and takes into consideration the large capital requirements of the proposed pipeline expansion."

The stockholders also were advised that 1965 would be a year of planning and preparation for two major expansions of the company's 1500-mile Texas-to-Florida pipeline. The programs that will almost double the present capacity of the pipelines were outlined by Bowen.

"The capacity to deliver natural gas to Florida must increase in order to keep pace with the state's growth," Bowen said.

Police Seek Motive In Slaying, Suicide

BOCA RATON (UPI) — Police sought today a motive in the murder of two children by their mother, who then killed herself while her husband slept in another room.

James Reilly told police he found the bodies of his wife, Marie, and their two children, Mary Elizabeth, 9, and James Jr., 7, when he awoke early Wednesday.

According to Detectives Lt. Charles McCutcheon, Mrs. Reilly went into her children's bedroom late Tuesday night. There she apparently killed her children by holding pillows over their faces.

Palm Beach County coroner Dr. Gabino Cuevas said he believed that Mrs. Reilly then went to the bathroom where she shot herself with a .22 caliber pistol in the chest.

The wound was apparently not fatal, and Mrs. Reilly went to her bedroom and lay on her bed.

Reilly told police he had some words with his wife when he came home at 3:30 a.m. Wednesday from visiting friends but said his wife gave no indication that anything had happened. Reilly said that he went to bed in a different room of the house.

Police explained that shortly afterwards Mrs. Reilly again shot herself; this time in the head.

Reilly said he did not hear the last shot.

Redwoods - Indestructible

Few things stir the admiration and natural pride of Americans like the California redwoods—those majestic trees that may soar as high as 30-story buildings and live for thousands of years.

Ancestors of these noble trees were contemporaries of the dinosaurs and once covered vast areas of the continent. Because of climatic changes, the redwoods we know are confined to a narrow coastal belt in northern California. They grow nowhere else on earth.

Today we are warned by many voices that the redwoods are disappearing. The U.S. Department of the Interior urges the establishment of a Redwood National Park before—as one of its spokesmen predicts—the last redwood is cut down 10 years from now.

At the same time, three large redwood lumber companies are spending $75 million on two new pulp mills. This seems strange when there won't be any more trees by 1975. Or will there?

It is estimated that the redwood forest encountered by the first white men covered some two million acres. Today, after a century and a half of logging, settlement, road building and deliberate attempts to convert forestland into pasture, there remain according to a U.S. Forest Service survey: 1,971 million acres—or almost the original amount.

Of this, 107,000 acres are preserved in 28 state parks. Other public agencies own another 100,000 acres, leaving about 1.7 million acres of commercial forest.

(The redwood should not be confused with the giant sequoia, another species, which is entirely protected in parks.)

Timbermen view the redwood as the nearest thing to the school. Not only does it produce huge quantities of superior and versatile wood, but it is disease-resistant and extremely fast-growing. It reaches maturity not in 1,000 years but in less than 100.

The redwood is virtually unkillable as well. When one tree is felled, a dozen young ones sprout from its roots. Redwoods over six feet in diameter are growing in West Coast areas cut to the ground by the Russians in the early 1800s.

Later settlers found that cut-over, burnt-over, plowed-over and grazed-over land would persistently reforest itself.

The redwood is, in short, a renewable resource, no more in danger of extinction than Kansas wheat or Texas cattle. Because of modern forestry management, there may actually be more usable redwood trees than there ever were.

Nevertheless, there are only a limited number of virgin redwoods standing uncut in commercial forests. Some of them undoubtedly should be brought into the park system. Indeed, 8,000 acres of prime virgin timber are being voluntarily withheld from logging by private owners, pending park acquisition.

Opponents of the national park plan point out that 25 per cent of the finest of all the original redwood groves are now in state parks and that many of them remain undeveloped for tourists. Some communities, dependent on the lumber industry, would suffer financial hardship if extensive tracts were removed from commercial use.

Surely a reasonable balance can be struck between the material and spiritual needs of today and those of future generations.

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

Part-Time Poseurs

President Johnson will need to do better than merely to snap off the electric light in the girls' powder room adjacent to the White House press room. The President did just that the other day. Passing by, he noted a gleam of light, snaked his hand inside to the switch and, presto! Darkness fell!

This economy saved a penny or so a day and got for the President a bright little three or four paragraphs on page one of the newspaper. This, in turn, added its convincing mite to the image LBJ is establishing for himself as a close man with the taxpayer's buck.

This image is pretty well established by now despite the simple arithmetic of tax revenue, government expenditures and proposals for future spending. Under the penetrating light of simple arithmetic, the image of LBJ the economist is bogus. Madison Avenue never did a better job of phoneticism even when it shaved a gimmick piece of window glass with shave cream and claimed that it was shaving sandpaper. It is a fact that politicians begin about where Madison Avenue leaves off. And this goes for Democrats and equally for Republican politicians when they have the opportunity, which is not often. Politicians, in fact, must be poseurs part of the time.

LBJ poses as a close man with a buck. Maybe with his buck, but not with mine and yours. For example, there are those White House economies suggested by a general turning off of lights that are not needed. Your correspondent is examining at this moment the just published Treasury report on receipts and expenditures of the United States government in the first nine months of the current fiscal year.

There is a list of expenditures by the Executive Office of the President. This office is not merely the White House and the area in which the President works. It includes also such operations as the Bureau of Budget, National Aeronautics and Space Council and a dozen others. All of these including the White House itself and its grounds are government operations mostly directly under a President's control. If there is economy here it is not readily evident.

The Treasury reported that cost of EOP in March of this year was $2,217,372 compared with $1,881,244 in March, 1961. In the first nine months of this fiscal year, EOP cost $17.3 million compared to $15.7 million in the corresponding months of the last preceding fiscal year. So much for the chicken feed.

So far in this fiscal year, the Johnson administration has collected in taxes and other revenue a stupendous sum: $63.8 billion. But LBJ spent in those nine months a gargantuan $71 billion. The Treasury deficit for nine months was $7.2 billion.

As Al Tolson used to say: "Wait, you ain't heard nothing yet!"

In three fiscal years and the first nine months of a fourth, since fiscal 1961 the Kennedy-Johnson administrations combined have spent the U. S. treasury into the red by the colossal sum of $28 billion. Citizens who complain against this free handed spending are dismissed by the powers in Washington as prisoners of the puritan ethic. The puritan ethic has lost a lot of standing since pioneer days in Massachusetts colony. But the meaning remains clear. A puritan ethic requires a rigorous moral standard of conduct. A puritan is on who on religious or ethical grounds practices, pleasures or indulgences which he regards as lax, impure or corrupting. There is no more corrupting indulgence than always to spend beyond income.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Many brilliant people, with high intelligence, still make low school marks just because they don't know how to study. They are "passive" instead of "active" readers, so scribble the helpful booklet below. Send it to your college youth!

CASE V-482: Helen G., aged 19, is a college coed. "But, Dr. Crane," she moaned, "I'm afraid I shall flunk on my exams."

"And it isn't because I don't read the chapters assigned. In fact, I have sometimes read them three times, word for word."

"So I feel that I know the assignment. But the professor will then ask questions on that same chapter which I seem to have missed."

"What is wrong? For I will soon be taking final exams and may stay up all night to study, yet still make poor grades."

Helen is a "passive" instead of an "active" reader. You can re-read a chapter 10 times "passively" and still not know its contents as well as an "active" reader does on just one trip over the assignment!

So one of the primary secrets for gleaming the most out of your textbooks is to become an "active" reader.

This means you should imagine yourself as the teacher!

Take the attitude that tomorrow you are to quiz all the class on that same chapter.

Then start looking for sensible questions to ask. Immediately you will find that many paragraphs, if not entire pages, are wordy and without definite factual data. They are what I call "fat" vs. the "lean" streaks of the bacon, which are dates, tabulated material, etc.

As you read, look for the streaks of lean in the bacon! Then underline every such "meaty" word or phrase with red pencil.

Meanwhile, compile a running True-False or "4-answer" quiz over the chapter. Suppose you are studying a history textbook. When you come to some facts or "lean" streaks, put them down like this:

T. The Pilgrims landed in America in 1620. (P. 287)

F. They were the first English settlers in America. (P. 281)

By placing the "T" or "F" in front of a statement, you have the correct answer.

Then, as you walk to class next day, you can cover those letters and give yourself a quick review within five minutes.

As variation, construct four-answer questions, as: "The Pilgrims landed in America in 1620-1617-1607-1620." (P. 287)

If you take this "teacher attitude" as you read, you will glean most of the factual contents of the chapter on just one reading.

Indeed, the very act of looking for specific data keeps you more alert.

And the fact you must stop to write down your questions, wakens you from the passive, semi-sleepy role you otherwise fall into.

Always list the page where the right answer is to be found. Thus, at the end of the term when you want to do a quick review of the entire textbook, if you have forgotten the answer, you can find it pronto.

And if you have underlined such data with a red pencil, you can spot them on the page instantly.

Be sure to preserve your "objective" chapter exams, (True-False, Four-Answer, etc.).

Then, in a matter of less than one hour, you can review an entire 800-page textbook.

Instead of drinking black coffee and cramming all night, you can then relax and go to a movie.

So send for my booklet "How to Improve Memory and Study More Efficiently," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. You can employ it with this newspaper and test your family daily, which is fun and also very educational.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Editor, Herald:
You undoubtedly know that the Board of County Commissioners of Seminole County yesterday accepted my resignation as County Civil Defense Director. This will terminate my services of 21 years in this capacity. During this time I have had the support of many of the citizens of Seminole County. I am particularly appreciative of the support which I have received from your newspaper. I believe that our defense unit has been ready and able to handle any alert given us during this time. This was only possible because I had the support of men like yourself and the weight of the medium behind you.

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: We live on a farm, and every summer we are bombarded with the kids of our city relatives. Summers are important to a farmer because if he doesn't get his crops harvested then, it can cost him hundreds of dollars. Yet every summer, as soon as school is out, we have an endless stream of kids getting in the way, taking up our time and slowing up our work.

work," because some of those city kids are so lazy they won't even pick up their own clothes. They would rather walk around them. If the situation were reversed, and we sent our kids to our city relatives, would their husbands take the kids to the office and watch them all day so they wouldn't get into trouble, hurt themselves, or break something? And I wonder how many city wives would like to give up their bridge parties and make extra meals and do extra laundry for the kids. What do you suggest?

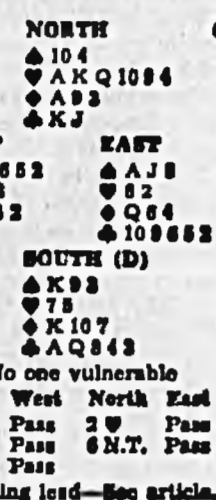

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My best friend from sorority (we are both graduated from college now) asked me to be her maid of honor. She's being married soon. I accepted. Then she called me long distance and said the best man was 6'4", and since I was only 5'11" we would look silly together. So how would I like to be one of the six bridesmaids? I said all right. Then she called again and said she hoped I wouldn't feel bad but all the other bridesmaids were tall girls, and I was too short to be a bridesmaid. She made me promise I'd come to her wedding anyway. My mother says if I go, I am a sap.

DEAR ABBY: I suggest you tell your city relatives exactly what you have told me. People who permit others to impose on them because they lack the nerve to say "NO" have to put up with the consequences. FARMER'S WIFE: DEAR WIFE: I suggest you tell your city relatives exactly what you have told me. People who permit others to impose on them because they lack the nerve to say "NO" have to put up with the consequences.

Jacoby On Bridge

Sometimes a bridge expert can't see the forest for the trees. The American Contract Bridge League analysts in their discussion of hand 24 from the nationwide charity game imply that few pairs will reach the fine no-trump slam. It probably is hard to bid if you want to be super-scientific but the bidding in the box shows how the slam probably was bid by many ordinary players. North just bids it after his partner's two no-trump rebid convinces him that there is no reason to try for a grand slam.

clubs right away and find out that East holds five clubs to the ten. Then he will run dummy's hearts. East will have to discard two diamonds in order to hang on to the ace of spades and all his clubs. South will discard the nine and three of spades and ten of diamonds before finally dropping his last low club. Then he crosses to his king of diamonds and cashes his two good clubs. Finally he leads the seven of diamonds and finishes successfully against West's jack.

We The Women:

By Marjorie Lawrence Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Sometime ago a Negro mother brought one of her children to see me while I was housecleaning—a shy, endearing little boy with very dark skin. He was sitting on the sofa watching me shampoo a rug when he suddenly jumped up and ran into the kitchen. Returning with another sponge, he squatted down beside me saying, "If we scrub together, we'll get it clean faster." So we did. When we'd finished, I kissed him, and told his mother, "You certainly have a gentleman for a son."

skin I like. I don't think it can be improved on." I have waited to recount this experience lest I offend Negro parents by appearing to intrude my white woman's concern with their problem of color prejudice which I have not shared with them. I trust I will not now offend them by expressing my hope that very few among them make whiteness of skin the measure of their children's beauty and of their pride in them. It is an irrational measurement—no woman would make our appearance to men the measurement of our attractiveness. It would also be a very depressing one inasmuch as we can no more change our sex than we can change our skin color.

"Do tell me about the after-forty women. Can they wear the new short, short dress? I am forty-five, tall, slender, and like to be stylish—Nan." Yes, let's be "stylish," but not FOOLISH! Knees are not very attractive and certainly they are attractive only on the truly young. A short, short, above-the-knees dress would only serve to make a mature woman look absurd. I like new things in colors and fashion, but where the woman is NOT flattered, I draw a line, and I hope you will also.

Comedy Slated May 14 By LHS Little Theater

By Jane Casselberry
The audience is guaranteed to roar with laughter at "The Mouse That Roared" when it is presented Friday, May 14, at 8 p.m. in the Lyman High school auditorium by the Lyman Little Theater and Senior class members of the speech and drama class.

A humorous political satire in two acts, the play was adapted by Christopher Sergel from a book by Leonard Wibberley, and was later made into a successful movie.

The plot concerns the mythical postage stamp country in Middle Europe known as "Fenwick" which finds itself in the embarrassing position of having won a war with the United States after attacking New York City with bows and arrows.

The play is being directed by Mrs. Carolyn Durak, speech and drama teacher. Ruth Keim is student director and Ann Trawick technical director.

Leads in the production are played by Bobbi Foresio, William Wharton, Dan Casselberry, John Masciantoni, Frank Renew, and Alice Reusse.

Other members of the cast are Robert Yazel, Sandy Tennant, Nancy Porter, Frank Evans, Dorothy Muir, Pat Congrove, Candy Putter, Susan Edwards, Judi Kacar, Darlene Tatum, Bonnie Laymen, Joanne Chubb, Gary Gunter, Loren Perry, Sharon Tucker, Pam Eldridge, Butch Baird, Mike Sewell, Rick Leonard, Steve Taylor, Ruth Keim, Lizabeth Lunn, Ann Trawick and Linda Duncan.

ROMANTIC LEADS in "The Mouse that Roared," a two-act comedy to be presented by Lyman Little Theater at 8 p.m. May 14 in the school auditorium, are Bobbi Foresio as "Princess Gloriana" and William Wharton as "Tully."

Prince Feuds With Magnate

By Rosette Hargrove
MONTE CARLO, Monaco—A serpent lurks in this miniature Garden of Eden which was once the playground of Russian grand dukes jet-setters, international tycoons and King Farouk. The Monegasques realize that all was not well when they listened to Prince Rainier's 1965 annual "message to the people." The broadcast proved to be an explosive tirade against the uncrowned king of Monaco, Aristotle Onassis.

While Rainier did not mention the Greek shipping magnate by name, everyone knew who he was talking about when he spoke of "certain Monegasque interests" who were not pulling their weight in the ambitious modernization program which his government had already begun.

Onassis controls the "Societe des Bains de Mer"—the Sea-Bathing Company—which was founded in 1863. This, in effect, is a state within a state, almost as archaic as its name. Holding more than half of the million shares of SBM, as it is always referred to in the principality, Onassis controls what were once the main attractions of the 368-acre realm—the Casino, the old luxury hotels, the Cafe de Paris, the posh Monte Carlo beach, the Sporting Club and five night clubs.

But times have changed and the former vacation habitat of the wealthy is now badly in need of adjustment to changing world conditions. The old Monte Carlo haccaretable habits are disappearing. And the younger people who are left simply do not have the same kind of money to spend and would rather play the slot machines.

Rainier contends that the Onassis group is hidebound and stuffy, is allowing the luxury hotels to fall into disrepair, cares nothing about the standard of living of the Monegasques and is continuing a disastrous "rule-or-ruin" policy.

Though the Prince has the right of veto on all major appointments to the board of directors, he would prefer not to use it since the SBM employs more than half of the principality's 22,300 people, including the 3,039 native Monegasques.
