Six of Central Florida's community college presidents, faced with the headache of the University of Central Florida's recently imposed enrollment cap, have banded together to file a complaint against UCF with the Department of Education's Articulation Coordinating Committee.

Seminole Community College president Dr. Earl S. Weldon met with representatives from five other Central Florida Community colleges at Valencia Community College West, Tuesday to charge that UCF is violating the terms of a longstanding agreement to admit graduates of junior college programs.

The collective complaint of SCC, Valencia, Brevard, Polk, Davtona Beach and Lake-Sumter community colleges was presented through a question and answer session with students and reporters. The articulation coordinating committee will receive the official complaint within the next few days. The committee itself cannot act on the complaint, but is authorized to offer suggestions to the state university system's Board of Regents. "We were as much surprised about the announcement of the enrollment cap as anybody," said SCC president Weldon UCF denied the admission of some 1,200 students for the fall 1980 term and another 500 for the spring term which began in April. The root of the problem is simple. Money.

UCF, like many of the state universities and community colleges, is currently educating more students than it's being paid to. UCF received $250,000 in emergency funding for 500 additional students in 1980.

operating with less funds from the state compared to student population. SCC currently receives state funding for 5,846 fulltime students while projections for the 1981 student body are placed at 6.366 with the potential for as many as 6.700 fulltime

Student Union Recognition Ends New Threat In Poland

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) - The government averted a new threat to its authority by recognizing an independent Students' Union in a move that ends strikes and sit-ins at 20 universities and schools across Poland. Formal signing of the student-government agreement was slated for today in the city of Lodz, focal point of the nearly month-old strikes. Smiling student leader Jacek Czputowicz walked out of the final bargaining session Tuesay night, announced the planned signing, and said: "The strike will be over then."

An end to the strike means removal of the biggest protest still facing the government since Defense Minister Wojciech Jaruzelski was promoted to prime minister last week.

But Lech Walesa, leader of the independent labor union Solidarity, still was in the southeastern town of Rwszow to take part in negotiations between the government and peasants occupying the headquarters of government-run unions.

A-Bomb Explosion Detected

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI)- U. S. intelligence sources believe South Africa exploded a nuclear bomb over a remote area of the South Atlantic Dec. 16, the Johannesburg Star newspaper said today. The Star report, under a Washington dateline, quoted high level Defense Department and intelligence sources as saying a U.S. spy satellite detected a brilliant flash of light that resembled a nuclear explosion.

The area was the same spot where on Sept. 22, 1979 a satellite detected a similar flash of light that led to an international controversy over U.S. allegations that South Africa had exploded a nuclear device. But South Africa denied it had any nuclear capabilities.

Reject Marxism, Pope Says

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) - Pope John Paul II today urged the poor of Manila's largest slum to reject "violence, class struggle and hatred," then beatified 16 martyrs before an estimated 250,000 people, the largest crowd of his Asian odyssey.

John Paul, on the second day of his violence-marred 20,500-mile journey through Asia, met Philippine poor in a sanitized area of Manila's Tondo slum and urged them to reject Marxism and other ideologies that "preach only material values."

The Pope also made an emotional appeal to the Roman Catholics of mainland China today, urging them to return to the Vatican's fold.

The 60-year-old pontiff did not appear disconcerted by an incident earlier in the day in which an "overly exuberant" 19-year-old Filipino student rushed toward him for a blessing before being subdued by security guards. No weapon was found.

Nor were there any signs the pontiff would scrap his trip Friday to the southern city of Davao, where guerrillas tossed a grenade at a bank building late Tuesday, killing one man and injuring 11 other people.

Disco Music Does What?

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI)- Disco music makes mice homosexual and could trigger the same reaction in humans, a study at the Aegean University says. Researchers at the Izir based university "discovered high-level noise - such as that frequently found in discos - causes homosexuality in mice and, deafness among pigs," the Milliyet newspaper said Thursday.

"The researchers think there is a caveat in these studies for human beings as well," Milliyet said. The paper did not offer any explanation as to how mice were judged resistant to deafness or why pigs kept their sexual identities.

During the trial, both men were identified as the robbers by the 18-year-old station clerk Wayne Kelso who said the men stuck a pistol in his ribs and made off with about $70. Also, a man who was waiting to use the station restroom when the robbery occurred identified Thomas and Martin as the pair who committed the hold-up.

In 17th Atlanta Murder ATLANTA UPI - Authorities examining "fibrous who perfomed an autopsy on 11-year-old Patrick Baltazar, said "a ton of evidence" was gathered at the wooded spot near an office complex where the boy's body was found last Friday

Burton said Tuesday some of the evidence, both physical and medical, suggested a link between Baltazar's slaying and the murders of some of the other victims in the 19month-old string of unsolved murders. At least 17 children have been slain and another, 10-year-old Derron Glass, was

Jet Crashes On Runway

IRVINE, Calif. UPI - An Air California 737 jet slammed onto a runway at John Wayne Airport and skidded on its belly into a field, breaking into pieces and briefly bursting into flames. Thirty-four passengers were injured, but miraculously there were no deaths.

An airline spokesperson could not immediately reconstruct the sequence of events leading to Tuesday's crash landing of Flight 336 from San Jose, but it appeared the pilot was told by the airport tower to abort his landing and could not pull out.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) - The first real countdown for the space shuttle Columbia lagged behind schedule today, causing a delay in the test firing of its powerful launch engines until Friday.

A 20-second launchpad firing had been scheduled for shortly after dawn Thursday - the time when the winged ship is to begin its maiden orbital test flight in April.

But, a spokesman said, engineers found some countdown work was taking longer than expected Tuesday so they added an eight-hour catch-up period to the final hours of the countdown. This automatically delayed the engines' ignition

Unvarnished Truth To Face

Popular myth has it that the Pentagon's generals and admirals are forever dashing up to Capitol Hill with frightening forecasts of what might befall the nation unless Congress increases the defense budget.

The truth, however, is that service chiefs traditionally offer relatively bland testimony intended partly to assure friend and foe alike that the United States is still the world's preeminent military power, even if the facts no longer justify such assertions.

In recent years, the Pentagon brass also found it distinctly impolite to contradict such civilian superiors as Jimmy Carter, who insisted that all was well.

How refreshing, therefore, to note the first signs that defense spokesmen for the new Reagan administration will not be required to salute the emperor's new clothes.

A case in point was the blunt testimony offered recently by Mr. Reagan's secretary of the Navy, John Lehman, and by Chief of Naval Operations Adm. Thomas B. Hayward.

"We have lost our naval superiority," Hayward told the Senate Armed Services Committee. To be sure that no one missed the point, he added, "In the naval area today our country is overexposed and underinsured. Our margin of comfort is totally gone. We are operating at the ragged edge of adequacy." This alarming judgment, delivered with none of the offsetting qualifications that would heretofore have been obligatory, was echoed emphatically by Lehman. For those Americans unfamiliar with the dynamics of seapower, a short course on the consequences of yielding superiority at sea is in order.

The United States is, in effect, an island power separated from its major allies and trading partners by thousands of miles of inhospitable ocean.

Any loss of control over these vital sea lanes would leave the United States unable to sustain its troops in Europe or the Pacific, support allies including Japan and the NATO nations, or maintain the supply of imported oil and strategic minerals upon which the U.S. economy depends. In short, the United States cannot afford anything less than a Navy fully capable of prevailing over any potential aggressor. Yet. there is no denying the validity of Hayward's ominous warning.

The decline in U.S. naval strength can be measured in many ways, but none is more telling than the simple fact that the U.S. fleet today includes fewer than half the ships available just 10 years ago.

The Soviet fleet, while less capable in some respects, nonethless outnumbers the U.S. Navy by a margin of 2-to-1 in major surface warships and submarines. Moreover, naval authorities agree that the Soviet fleet's presumed mission of severing sea lanes requires fewer ships and submarines than the number needed by the United States to protect its right of passage on five oceans.

The Lehman-Hayward recommendations for redressing the naval imbalance include an urgent expansion of the Navy's current 456-ship fleet to 600 vessels. Both also favor adding several new aircraft carriers to the 13 presently in commission

A rebuilding effort on this scale, requiring a 50 percent increase in the five-year shipbuilding program left in place by the departed Carter administration, is essential to overcoming the neglect suffered by the Navy in recent years.

Ample doses of this kind of unvarnished truth put before the Senate Armed Services Committee should help enlist the necessary support from Congress, and the public.

We can, without the slightest doubt look forward to movies, TV docu-dramas, campus teach-ins, sob stories in the press-all of the other stuff that gets mobilized when there is some hope of setting up a Soviet satellite in some distant land.

.IACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON - It was Sept. 23, 1976. Four men gathered secretly in a private home in the Ugandan capital of Kampala. Outside, the reign of terror launched by Uganda's bloodthirsty dictator, Idi Amin, was in full cry. Inside the house, the talk was of Amin's dread secret police and of international terrorist activities. The four men were among the world's most cold-blooded, dangerous architects of political murder and mayhem; A single grenade tossed into their conference room could have spared the world much pain and misery in the years to come. But there was no me there to turn the tables on the four professional assassins. Robert Astles, in whose home the dialogue of death was conducted, was Amin's Britishborn security adviser and general factotum. In his role as Idi Amin's Iago, Astles was allegedly the brains behind the security police, who butchered and tortured thousands of Ugandans during Amin's despotic rule. After Amin and Astles fled Uganda in 1979,

The Briton was brought back in chains to face charges of murder. But in Sept. 1976, he was still riding high.

Another participant was Wadi Hadad. known to some of his enemies as the "doctor of death" for his organizing of the 1972 Munich massacre of Israeli Olympic athletes. Less than three months earlier, the Israelis had thwarted Hadad's terrorist hijacking of a jetliner by their daring raid on Entebbe, the airport outside Kampala. After many hairbreadth escapes - including an Israeli bazooka blast into his hotel suite - Hadad died in bed of natural causes in 1978.

The third man was the infamous Venezuelaborn assassin. Carlos the Jackal. He was also a planner of the Munich massacre, and was responsible for the kidnapping of the OPEC oil ministers in Dec. 1975, as well as many other acts of international brigandage.

The fourth man in this gathering of professional cutthroats was an American, Frank Terpil. A newcomer to the inner circle of international terrorism, Terpil had arrived in Uganda with the personal recommendation of Libyan dictator Muammar Qaddafi. As a CIA courier some years before, Terpil had ingratiated himself with Qaddafi when the future dictator was still a junior officer in Libyan army and revolution was burning in his head.

Of the four, Terpil probably best fit the description "merchant of death." Not one to risk his own neck, he supplied the explosives and other necessary items that enabled actual hit men to carry out their acts of terrorism around the world. He fled the United States last fall to avoid prosecution for illegal shipment of arms to Libya. At last report, he had registered in the Wienerhaus hotel in Beirut. Intelligence sources told my associate Dale Van Atta that the Sept. 23 meeting was Frank Terpil's introduction to Amin's inner circle. With his macabre references from Qaddafi, Terpil signed his first contract with Amin in 1977. It was for $3.2 million worth of weapons and communications gear.

Along with it went almost all instruction in any language other than English. It was a dead issue for almost half a century, until the influx of Cubans into Florida in the 1960s again created large-scale problems of cultural assimilation. During the next decade, Pifer observes, the concept of bilingual education underwent a change. These were the years of the civil-rights movement and heightened interest in ethnic identity. Instruction in languages other than English, along with courses in minorityoriented subject matter, came to be regarded, at least by advocates, as less a service available than a right due. Bilingual education also became a politically charged issue because of its obvious greatest benefit to one population group - Hispanics. The story is in the statistics. Federal funds support instruction in 74 languages, but Spanish programs absorb 65 percent of the money.

The reason is also obvious -- because they are the most numerous, possibly 3 million of the estimated 3.6 million students in the nation in need of language assistance. Hispanics represent 32 percent of the Miami school population, 30 percent in New York, 45 percent in Los Angeles, 52 percent in San Antonio, 31 percent in Denver, 35 percent in Hartford.

Curiosity Shoppe Revisited

WASHINGTON (UPI) - We live, friends in times that are fraught with novelty. If further evidence of fraughting is needed, here are a couple of fresh examples:

While browsing through the periodical rack at a supermarket checkout counter the other day, I saw not a single magazine article about a television actress who was leaving the cast of "Charlie's Angels."

At first, I could hardly believe what I wasn't seeing. Articles about actresses leaving the cast of "Charlie's Angels" have been a staple of supermarket literature for about as long as I have been buying groceries. Most weeks, it's the cover story.

I can't say how many times the cast has turned over but I get the impression that magazine writers hang around the set like "stage door Johnnies" waiting to interview departing actresses.

There are two possible explanations for the startling breach of publishing tradition: 1. "Charlie's Angels" now has an all-male

2. The program is no longer on the air. If neither condition prevails, the assumption must be that what we have here is one of those freakish situations like the one expected to arise soon in the U.S. Senate.

Ordinarily, a Senate confirmation vote on a sub-cabinet appointee is about as gripping as another "Charlie's Angles" cast change. Nevertheless, the impending consideration of President Reagan's appointment of William Clark to be deputy secretary of state has generated a measure of anticipation.

The rare element of interest stems from Clark's testimony before the foreign relations committee.

Senators, as you may know, get the great bulk of their information about foreign relations through the committee hearing process. They call in and question all sorts of expert witnesses, and from this brainpicking process keep abreast of international affairs. But Clark's confirmation hearing was singularly devoid of enlightment. Typical of his testimony were these answers to requests for intelligence from Sen. Joseph Biden, D-Del.:

"Can you tell me who is the prime minister of South Africa?"

"No, sir, I cannot." "Can you tell me who the prime minister of Zimbabwe is?"

"It would be a guess." Senators don't operate in a vacuum, you know. Conceivably, the identities of the prime ministers of South Africa and Zimbabwe could be useful information. So Biden's thirst for knowledge was a legitimate inquiry. Clark did not argue the information was classified or claim executive privilege or take the Fifth Amendment or anything like that. His failure to supply the requested information simply defies rational explanation.

Band Takes 3rd Platinum

Toga trouble: One of America's most popular road bands, REO Speedwagon, may just have been awarded their third platinum album for the "Hi InFidelity" LP. but the Hyatt Hotel chain is less than impressed. The band is notorious for its on-the-road antics, such as taking hotel room sofas into the parking lot so they can party outside. But bandleader Kevin Cronin is probably best qualified to explain why the band has been denied accomodations at six hotels in the Hyatt chain. "It goes back to our last tour, when we threw a toga party in the coridors of a Hyatt house in the Midwest," Cronin surmises. "Apparently the lady who manages the place was not amused. She called all the other Hyatts and told them not to let us in. Frankly, we love Hyatt houses. So, we're going to send her roses and a note, saying: 'Please forgive us for the toga party. Soviet Party Congress Will Map Kremlin Policy

MOSCOW (UPI) — If the Soviet Union is coing to oust its leadership, decide to invade Poland or change the direction of its economy, it will do so at the Communist Party congress beginning Monday, Feb. 23. But no one expects any of those things to happen. Instead, the 26th party congress, already called "historic" in the Soviet press, figures to be a rubber-stamp ratification of President Leonid Brezhnev's uninspired stewardship. Western diplomatic analysts who have been watching the preparations for the onceevery-five-years event agree it will produce few, if any, surprises. "It's going to be 5,000 people getting together to say glory to Lenin and Leonid,' said one European diplomat . Communist Party congresses have not always been such cut-an-dried affairs. The first Russian communists to meet in conclave did so in secret in Minsk. It apparently was not secret enough - the czar's political police arrested five of the nine delegates afterward.

The next four Communist Party congresses met well away from Russia - in Brussels, London and Stockholm - and drew little attention

Even after Lenin and the Bolsheviks came to power in Russia, his ideas were not unanimously accepted. At the 1921 congress in Moscow, the goateed father of the Soviet Union actually was booed by a few delegates.

This year's congress is unlikely to produce Party congress to a Democratic convention." such high drama. At best, Kremlin watchers mused one veteran diplomat, "unless var are think, it may provide some additions to the a Republican."

O'Shaughnessy, Brightman Bury Lyman

Spruce Creek Whips 'Crabs To Move Into 5 Star Top Spot

Herald Sports Editor

Lake Howell's Tim O'Shaughnessy and Bruce Brightman don't show much resemblance to morticians. They don't wear grey suits or tiptoe quietly around funeral parlors. Tuesday night at Lake Howell, however, the sticky-fingered dynamic duo buried Lyman 81-69. The loss damaged the Greyhounds Five Star hopes as they dropped to 11-4. Overall, the 'Hounds are 19-8. Lake Howell is 8-7 and 13-12. Lyman fell one game behind Spruce Creek, who whipped Seabreeze 60-50 on 20 points from Mack Horne. The Greyhounds must win at Port Orange Friday to throw the Five Star into a tie.

O'Shaughnessy, a 6-foot-0 guard, entombed the Greyhounds In the first half with a tremendous 6-of-7 shooting performance as Howell built a 42-27 bulge.

After Lake Howell survived nine first-quarter points by Antoine "Pop" Lemon, they bolted early in the second session. Holding an 18-13 edge, Brightman stole the ball and scored. O'Shaughnessy, then did the same and tallied on a dazzling spin move down the middle.

Senior Fred McKnight followed with a basket and when forward Mark Layton dropped in three straight from close range the Hawks lead was up to 32-19. "I'd take my first dribble, they'd come up and then I'd go by them," said Layton about his close-range accuracy. Two of Layton's baskets came on pro-like assists from Brightman, who in turn had received the ball following an O'Shaughnessy theft. "We've played together so long, we know each other's moves," informed O'Shaughnessy. "Offensively, I started driving the middle more and it opened things up." Lake Howell boosted its margin to 40-21 with one minute to play when O'Shaughnessy blocked an Eric French shot and fed a speeding Brightman for the layup.

EXCUSE ME!

Tampa Bay's Issac Hagins (top) eases past a surprised Bobby Lundquist in the Bucs-Faculty basketball game last night at Seminole. It was the Tribe faculty that did the easing later as they whipped Tampa Bay 96-74 behind 33 points from Alex Holcomb. Lamar Ricardson tossed in 19 while Doug Williams had 22 for the Bucs and Jimmie Giles added 21.

with Mainland taking on Lake Howell at 6:15 and Seminole opposing Lyman at 8. The Sanford-Lyman matchup should be an interesting battle. Coach Cheryl Klein's girls walloped the 'Hounds early in the year, but Bobby Locke's squad returned the favor last Tuesday. The Tribe held a lead going into the last quarter, but Vikki McMurrer and Sudie Ferritto paced an 18-2 Lyman tear which did in Seminole In Thursday's action, 21-4 Apopka meets Spruce Creek at

Drivas Drives Hawks To Win

First sacker Jay Drivas drove in six runs Tuesday to lift Lake Howell past West Orange 12-0 in the opening round of the Early Bird Tournament at Evans. The left-handed hitting senior went 2-for-3 at the plate and right hander Steve Stripp blanked Orange on four hits.

'We felt we had four people who could really play. Fred (McKnight) is turning out to be the fifth.

-Howell Coach Greg Robinson "I was releasing early," said Brightman about the numerous breakways in quarter two. "We would rotate. One time

Tim would go for the steal and the next time I would. In the Hawks' torrid second quarter, they connected on 11-of-15 shots. Lyman, meanwhile, hit a decent 7-of-13, but coupled with a 6-of-16 first quarter, was only 13-of-29 for the half. Howell hit 7-of-11 in quarter one for an outstanding 18-of-26

Layton, a cousin to former Southern Cal All-American Dennis "Mo" Layton, followed O'Shaughnessy with 11 of his own. Lemon tossed in 13 for the 'Hounds. "They hit and we missed," was how a flu-stricken Tom Lawrence summed up the evening. "Once we got down, it was tough to come back.'

But come back they did, within 45-35, until Brightman drove the baseline for one basket, tallied again on a great pass from O'Shaughnessy and then manuevered his body to hold off Lemon on another successful layup.

Brightman's embalming act blew up the lead to 52-35 with four minutes to play in the third quarter. Lyman made another charge just into the fourth quarter. After Brightman landed on Lemon in a loose ball scramble and "Pop" went to the sidelines, forward Kevin Hillman caught fire.

The left-handed senior hit two jumpers to pull Lyman within 58-51 and the 'Hounds looked ready to rise from the grave. A high-arching bank shot by McKnight, though, ended any resurrection thoughts by Lyman. Brightman then hit two free throws, Layton scored on a goal tend by French and O'Shaughnessy added two more tosses to put the game out of reach 66-53 with over five minutes left. Lake Howell proceeded to notch 11 straight free throws until Chuck Scott missed his second chance with 2:07 to play and the Hawks up 77-62. With 1:22 to play, Coach Greg Robinson cleared his bench on this "Senior and Parent Appreciation Night" as the starters left to a standing ovation. "O'Shaughnessy was fantastic," crowed Robinson after the win. "He's the hardest working kid I've got. When it hits 2:30 p.m. (practice time), he's ready to go." The smooth senior finished with 17 points, seven assists and four steals. Brightman contributed 19 points, 10 assists and three steals. Layton tallied 19 also, while McKnight threw in 15. Scott added nine.

"We felt we had four people who could really play," observed Robinson. "Fred is turning out to be the fifth. He did a great jonb."

Lemon paced Lyman with 26 points. French with 13, senior Neal Gillis with 10 and Hillman with 10 completed the 'Hounds' double figure.

In the junior varsity game, Alexis Cleveland tossed in 24 points while Vince Presley and Willis Perry each collected 10 as Lyman bombed Howell 72-50. The JV 'Hounds are 17-4. Lyman (69): Gillis 10, Scott 6, French 13, Lemon 26, Hillman 10, Evans 0, Stribling 0, Rogers 0, Thomas 4, Gillman Patriots Drop 11 th The two worst teams in the Five Star Conference did battle Tuesday night with cellar-dwelling Apopka outlasting Lake "Brantley 67-57 at Apopka. The loss was the 11th in succession for Brantley boss Bab Peterson. The Big Blue are 5-21 for the year. They are a 3-12 ball club in conference. The Blue Darters improved to 2-13 in the Five Star and 8-15 Free throw inadequacy once again plagued the Patriots.

"We made just 15-of-28 of which four were missed front ends of one and one's," said Peterson. With just a minute to go in period three, Brantley had struggled to within 45-41 of Apopka, but could get no closer as some more free throw misfires helped the Blue Darters go up "We played well enough to win," Peterson lamented. "If we could just stick that free throw in the hole." Center Tommy Moths paced Brantley with 15 points and 16 rebounds. Senior Andy Luce added 12 and Jay Poag and Tim Heath 10 apiece.

In what may be the ultimate paradox, a recent medical report warns a popular remedy for blisters acquired during running may be quite fatal. The possible killer is rubber cement used by many runners and sportsmen to cover painful blisters. The real culprit is the volatile solvent, benzene or hexane, used in rubber cement. A young marathon runner who reportedly used dressings of rubber cement and adhesive tape repeatedly for several months developed per-manent aplastic anemia which threatens his life unless a suitable bone marrow transplant donor can be found. The benzene is readily absorbed through broken skin and poisons the blood-forming cells in bone marrow. The best advice in cases of painful blisters is to rest up until completely healed, see a physician, if persistant, but stay away rom rubber cement. MEDCO

PUBLIX RESERVES THE RIGHT TO LIMIT QUANTITIES SOLD

We're moving into another bridal season, and there are always the showers to contend with. Keeping the refreshments simple is important. The limelight is directed at the prospective bride. An almond coffee ring has the right panache for such a special party. Serve with tea, coffee and perhaps a dessert sherry

ALMOND COFFEE RING

¹4 cup vegetable oil ¹4 cup brown sugar (packed)

12 teaspoon salt

4 teaspoon mace

1 cup milk

1 package (14 ounces) active dry yeast 14 cup warm water (105 to 115 degrees)

2 eggs, beaten with fork 21/2 cups unsifted whole wheat flour

one-third cup sifted soy flour or whole wheat flour

¹₂ cup toasted sliced natural almonds

In saucepan, scald milk. Stir in oil, brown sugar, salt and mace. Cool slightly. Sprinkle yeast over warm water in large mixing bowl; stir until dissolved.

Blend in milk mixture and eggs. Stir in flours and mix until blended; stir in almonds. You will have ; very soft dough with no kneading required. Cover bowl and let rise in warm place (about 90 degrees) for 1 to 112 hours or until dough is doubled in bulk.

Stir dough down and spoon into a well-greased and floured 2quart Kugelhopf or other mold. Cover and let rise again in warm place until doubled in size (about 45 minutes). Bake at 375-degrees for 25 to 30 minutes or until top is a dark golden brown.

Invert from mold onto rack; cool. Sprinkle with powdered sugar if you like. To reheat, wrap in foil and place in moderate oven until warm. Serve cool or warm with butter and honey. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 16 slices.

WALNUT CAKE

5 egg yolks 6 talbespoons sugar

14 cup fine dry bread crumbs

1 teaspoon Angostura aromatic bitters 1 cup finely ground walnuts (use a blender)

5 egg whites, stiffly beaten

SYRUP 11/2 cups sugar

¹² cup water

Juice of 12 lemon 2 tablespoons Angostura aromatic bitters

In a bowl, beat egg yolks and sugar until thick and lemon colored. Stir in bread crumbs, bitters and walnuts. Fold in egg whites. Pour batter into a greased and floured 8-inch fluted pan or a 9-inch square baking pan. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for 1 hour for the fluted pan and 50 minutes for the square pan.

Unmold cake and cool on a rack. While cake is cooling. combine syrup ingredients in a saucepan and cook over high heat until syrup boils. Boil for 2 minutes.

Place cake on a serving platter. Spoon hot syrup over cake slowly, allowing cake to absorb the syrup. Serve garnished with rosettes of sweetened whipped cream for topping and walnut halves, if desired.

This kitchen-tested recipe makes one 8-inch fluted mold, 2inches deep, or one 9-inch square pan.

Beans and rice are a winning combination for some very important reasons. They taste terrific together since both adapt beautifully to many flavors and offer a subtle contrast in texture that's appealing. Perhaps best of all, they provide and complement each other nutritionally and at a very low cost. So it's small wonder that beans and rice are a mainstay in many American diets. The tremendous variety of Western grown dry beans (12 major varieties) makes it possible to vary recipes and to create new ones.

Rice grown in Southern and Southwestern states as well as California comes in different varieties, too. Whether long or medium grain, brown or white, or regular milled, parboiled or pre-cooked...there's rice for every occasion. Cook up your family's favorite.

For an adventure in eating, try these two American mainstays soon. Beans and rice provide great taste and plenty of good nutrition, all at an affordable price. MEXICAN BEAN AND RICE PIZZA

'Just A Trifle' Is Elegant, Luscious Show-Off Treat

Why a spectacular show-off dessert should be called a trifle still baffles food historians. There's certainly nothing trivial or trifling about this luscious concoction that converts 'plain' cake into a layered beauty with pudding, whipped cream and

This dessert has been an English tradition since the 17th century, maybe longer. Various types of trifles have evolved from the original dessert made up of some kind of sponge cake soaked in wine or liqueur with fruit or jam, custard, whipped cream, and sometimes, macaroons.

Some of the early recipes call for soaking the cake with as much wine or liqueur as it will absorb. That probably explains the origins of another name for this dessert: Tipsy Cake. Maybe that also clarifies the trifle designation. The word trifle stems from the Old French "trufle" meaning trickery. Perhaps the trifle inventor tricked the eager tasters by telling them "just a trifling" of spirits had been added to the new creation, when actually, the cake had been soused! There's no such trickery in this updated trifle recipe. Sherry,

The only possible deception or trickery with this trifle is that your family or guests will think the elegant dessert required elaborate preparation, when, in fact, it's an easy do-ahead dessert made with "convenience foods".

"JUST A TRIFLE" 1 frozen pound cake (1034 oz.), thawed 1/2 cup sherry, brandy, rum or orange juice 2 cans (1712 oz.) vanilla pudding

1 can (21 oz.) cherry pie filling

1 carton (4 oz.) frozen whipped topping, thawed Cut cake into 12-inch cubes. In pretty glass bowl, place a layer of cake cubes. Sprinkle with sherry (or liquid of your choice). Spread about 1 cup pudding over cake, forming a thin layer. Top with a few spoonfuls of cherry pie filling (doesn't need to make a complete layer). Continue layering until ingredients are used (except whipped topping). Make final layer of whipped topping. Refrigerate at least two hours before serving. Makes 6-8 servings.

Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl. Wednesday, Feb. 18, 1981—9B Chicken Dish Really Plum Delightful

Cooking chicken whole is an old American custom that never loses its appeal. Whether the bird is roasted with little more seasoning than its own juices or turned into a gourmet delight, it's a favorite family meal from coast to coast.

For smaller households of one or two persons, a chicken can be cooked whole and turned into several different meals, conserving both time and energy.

Whole chickens are always a good buy. When featured as the weekly special at supermarkets, the savings are even greater. The National Broiler Council notes that whole chickens can be stored in the freezer up to six months. Thaw thoroughly before cooking, preferably in the refrigerator, allowing three to four defrosting hours per pound.

Two recipes in last year's National Chicken Cooking Contest (below) illustrate the diversity of cooking chicken whole.

"Plum Delightful Roasted Chicken," the state finalist from Colorado, falls into the special-occasion category. The chicken is flavored with a delicious plum sauce and has a herb stuffing which contains chopped apple and walnuts.

Winner of the Maryland state cook-off, "Lazy Day Chinese Chicken," is, as its name implies, a dish to rely on when time is short. Just put the chicken on to cook and then relax or go about other chores. It will be ready to serve in less than an hour and the flavor is so good no one will suspect the quick-and easy preparation.

Chicken is one of today's best food buys, especially when purchased whole. It costs less than most red meats but provides the same high quality, complete protein needed daily in the diet to keep the body functioning at peak efficiency. Time, nutrition and economy are three primary concerns for meal planners. Pleasing the family is another. Chicken cooked whole meets all these requirements.

Tonya Monfort, a former professional model, frequently uses a wok in food preparation. "I don't like eating so much, but I do like to fix it," our Cook Of The Week said.

Cook Of The Week Auto-Train Hostess Opts For Dining With Class

By TOM NETSEL Herald Staff Writer

"It's like eating out but without the cost." That is the way Tonya Monfort describes dinner at her house. She and her husband Tom and their 26-month-old son, Shaune, live in Sandalwood Villas in Sanford. Mrs. Monfort said she likes to have the family sit down at the dinner table that has been set with a table cloth, cloth napkins, water glasses, good silverware and flowers. The television is turned off and the family dines - in refinement and class. "We only get to sit down together at dinner time," she said, "and it should be pleasant." As a hostess on Auto-Train, Mrs. Monfort may have more time at home than many working mothers and wives, but on other days, she is somewhere between Sanford and Washington, D.C. and may be on the go for several days at a time.

She has been with the firm for over eight years and that is where she met her husband. In fact, he was her boss. Transferring to Sanford from Virginia, the Monforts have been here for four and one-half years.

Mrs. Monfort was a professional model for five years before taking the job with Auto-Train. Her husband has since left the company to go into business for himself. Even at his young age, Shaune helps with the household chores, Mrs. Monfort said. "He helps vacuum and set the table. I'm training him to be a good husband." The Monforts used to split the cooking chores. He would cook and she would clean up afterward. After a while she noticed that he was leaving bigger messes than she was. She would cook and clean as she went but her husband left the kitchen a

Here we see a lucky hand for Fisher and Jacoby in the 1966 Olympiad. Their luck was helped by a good play on the part of Dr. John Fisher who was careful to play his king of hearts on Jim's queen at trick one. Their score was improved when declarer played badly and went down two tricks, instead of just one at his slightly unsound game contract.

John's king of hearts held trick one and Jim's nine trick two. South won the third heart and decided to try to drop the queen of clubs. When it didn't rop, South decided to tackle spades. Now Jim took his ace f spades, last two hearts and queen of clubs for down two. Declarer needed four club and four diamonds to come to nine tricks. He should have tried diamonds first. Then when he saw the bad diamond break, he would have had no play for his contract at all and ould have knocked out the spade ace and settled for down one.

Not that down one would have been a good score for him. Most North-South pairs stopped at three clubs and made it, but when you are sure to be set, you should try to get out for the minimum.

Reagan Steering On Path To Economic Recovery?

Breaking With Past, He Calls For Individual Tax Breaks, Deep Cuts In Federal Spending

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Ronald Reagan's "new beginning" economic program calls for a hard right turn in the direction of the federal government, providing up to $41.4 billion in spending reductions and decisive tax cuts for individuals and business.

After unveiling the package in a televised address to Congress Wednesday night, Reagan scheduled a breakfast with newspaper editors. Treasury Secretary Donald Regan and Budget Director David Stockman headed to Capitol Hill to answer questions.

The program, titled "America's New Beginning: a Program for Economic Recovery," has been described as the most innovative since Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal in the depths of the Great Depression "If we do not act forcefully, and now, the economy will get worse," Reagan warned. "The people are watching and waiting," he told the Congress but they do expect us to act." And Reagan said to applause, "There is nothing wrong with America that we together can't fix." If enacted, the program would abruptly slow the growth of federal spending from its recent 16 percent rate to 6 percent. It would slow but not reverse the rise in taxes that since 1960 has doubled the percentage of income individuals pay the federal government It would make the first broad effort to check the growth in social programs since the New Deal, cutting among others public service jobs, food stamps, Medicaid, child nutrition, extended unemployment benefits, trade adjustment assistance and student aid.

It would — as previous presidents have tried — attempt to reduce and untangle the federal regulatory machinery. It would consolidate nearly 100 specific-purpose federal grant programs, giving the money instead in block grants to that must enact his proposals. "They don't demand miracles, states to use flexibly for education, health and social programs. It would reduce federal subsidies for synthetic fuel development, the Export-Import Bank, the Postal Service and dairy farmers and stretch out funds for highways, airports, sewage treatment plants and water projects.

Business groups such as the National Association of Manufacturers and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce quickly endorsed Reagan's program, even though it would cut some business subsidies. AFL-CIO President Lane Kirkland called an emergency meeting of his organization's economic policy committee for today to issue a formal reaction. Senate Democratic leader Robert Byrd, D-W.Va., said Democrats would support a tax cut, but not the 10 percent per year across-the-board version Reagan wants.

Graham Reveals Budget

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) - Gov. Bob Graham proposed today a $20 billion budget emphasizing better schools, colleges and universities, better roads and an accelerated fight on the state's crime crisis.

He recommended a nickel to six-cent boost in the gasoline tax and a tightening of corporate profits tax credits to help fund the massive 1981-83 spending plan. He also recommended tax cuts, including a "lifetime" license tag to replace the annual tag and additional money for public schools that will allow, although not require, a reduction in school district property taxes. State government would spend $9.6 billion during the fiscal year beginning July 1, compared to $8.5 billion for the current fiscal year, and $10.5 billion i

He asked lawmakers for a 120 percent increase in money to promote tourism and 100 percent boost in economic development funds.

Graham recommended removal of the sales tax exemption on gasoline to provide more money for road and mass transit work. The current eight-cent-agallon tax would rise a nickel on $1.25 a gallon gas and six cents on the $1.50 variety. He also recommended an increase in license tag fees for big trucks. He proposed a tax break for most motorists, a license tag that would be good as long as they owned the vehicle an not require annual renewals. His plan would raise an extra $325 million for transportation for 1981-82 and slightly less the following year, $280 million. The state would pump $100 million a year into completing the major "missing links" of the interstate highway system with the hope of getting reimbursed by the Reagan Iministraion later.

Significant additional sums would go for maintaining primary and secondary roads and bridges and mass transportation. He recommended elimination of the corporate profits tax credit on foreign income over $200,000 and elimination of the insurance premium credit on the tax. He also proposed, however, an accelerated depreciation allowance on the
