Gov. Warren Sues Colliers Magazine For Million Dollars

Article Linking Governor With Chicago Gambling Interests Forms Basis Of Suit

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Florida's Governor Fuller Warren today filed a million-dollar libel suit against Collier's magazine for an article he said falsely accused him of conspiring with big campaign backers to protect gamblers or manipulate placing of state business.

The suit, filed in U. S. district court here, followed by five months the Governor's formal demand on the magazine to retract four specific statements he said were false in its article, "The Secret Mr. Big of Florida." The magazine has not retracted the statements.

Warren's suit said the article had defamed him as a law-abiding citizen and a constitutional officer, contributed to filling of impeachment articles which were rejected by the State House of Representatives and "greatly damaged" his reputation—both personally and professionally.

He asked for both actual and punitive damages. There was no indication when or where the suit might be brought, to trial before a jury. Collier's has 20 days to file an answer to Warren's complaint.

The Collier's article was built around connections of William H. Johnston, Florida and Chicago racing operator; Louis E. Wilson, Jacksonville and Washington financier; and C. V. Griffin, Hovew-in-the-Hill citrus grower, with Warren's 1947 campaign for Governor. The hill of complaint was filed by Weldon G. Barry, Tallahassee lawyer and close friend of the Governor.

Civic Building For Local Clubs Planned By Elks

Action Begun To Finance Project At Close 25 Thousand

Plans for the erection of a new building to be used as a meeting place for local civic and service clubs, and located on the lot north of the Elks Lodge building, were made last night at the weekly meeting of Sanford Lodge No. 1244 of the Elks.

The Elks will finance the project which it is estimated will cost approximately $25,000. The club directed its building committee to confer at once with Elton J. Moughton, architect, on plans for the building which will be of the one story, concrete block type.

The committee includes Earl Higdon, chairman, and Joe C. W. G. Kille, C. L. Redding and Jesse C. Lodge.

Exalted ruler R. P. Sharrack appointed the following to work with the building committee: Herman Jacobson, Charles Morrison, John Williams, Carl Williams, Merle Ginder, R. W. Casule, John Cameron and M. L. Rabun.

Twentive plans for the project include an assembly hall, a stage and dressing rooms, a completely equipped kitchen, and rest rooms.

Record Rainfall Deluges Sanford

The skies opened at 5:30 o'clock this morning and Sanford has the hardest single rain, amounting to nearly three inches since the hurricane last Oct. 18, said Weatherman E. J. Moughton, Jr., this morning.

The downpour lasted about an hour and the actual rainfall measured was 2.94 inches. It was attended by thunder and lightning and broke a week long dry spell.

Total rainfall for the month to date is 7.89 inches. This is nearly two inches more than the normal figure of 5.99 inches for September.

Temperatures continued at high level with a maximum of 93 and a minimum of 70 degrees yesterday.

Site Of First 'Atomic Mock War'

A "TEST CITY" suddenly looms on the once-barren desert at Las Vegas, Nev., as U. S. ground troops prepare to take part in maneuvers designed to teach American fighting men how to advance through an area following an A-bomb explosion. The first "atomic mock war" in history will be under the command of Major Gen. William B. Kees (right), Third Corps Commander, from Camp Roberts, Calif. The tests will determine psychological effect of an "A" blast on troops (International)

Senator Raps McCarthy On Deceit Count

Benton Testifies In Possible Ouster Of McCarthy From His Senatorial Seat

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Senator Benton (D-Cun.) today accused Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) of "gross and deliberate" deception of the American people in pressing his Communist-infiltration charges.

Benton made the accusation under oath at a public hearing on his resolution looking toward the possibility of ousting McCarthy from the Senate.

He said his testimony would help a Senate subcommittee decide whether McCarthy "has committed perjury and whether he has practiced calculated deceit on both the U. S. Senate and the American people."

The Connecticut Senator called the initiation of the subcommittee to "study" charges of persons attacked by McCarthy on "loyalty grounds."

"All these cases fit into my general charge against Senator McCarthy," Benton declared, "and though his role as a Senator, and his role as an American citizen, is a disgraceful one."

Curran Charges AFL Split Labor Votes

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union (N.M.U.) charged today the American Federation of Labor has "split right down the middle" a labor vote of 15,000,000 in next year's presidential election.

The recent action of the AFL Executive Council in walking out of the United Labor Policy Committee will result in the AFL going in one direction and the CIO in another," Curran told an annual convention of the Virginia CIO Council.

The CIO, he said, has concluded there are two factors that caused the AFL to suspend its cooperation with the CIO:

1. "The AFL powers-that-be are afraid of their own jobs because of signs of a united labor movement which would mean the end of the Republican Party as we know it today."

Revolt Is Launched In Argentina Against Government Of Peron

Reds Can Knock Us To Our Knees, Moriarity Says

Seminole Teachers Club Addressed By Defense Director

"The Soviet Union can at this time knock us to our knees, and I doubt if we could stagger to our feet," Brig. General James C. Moriarity, director of civil defense for the Central Florida area, told members of the Seminole Teachers Club at a meeting last night at the South Side Primary School.

Mr. Moriarity, principal of the school, served as program chairman.

General Moriarity pointed out that in event of Russian conquest all freedoms, savings, investments, and property would be confiscated, not by the Russian soldiers, but by members of the Communist Party here in this country. He termed them Stalin's henchmen.

3 Die In Strange Series Of Accidents

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., Sept. 28.—(AP)—A year-old child was killed in a fall from a bed, his grand-uncle hurrying to him, died of a heart attack, and an undertaker called to take the bodies suffered a heart attack and died here last night.

The child, LeRoy Blackman, was jumping and playing on a bed when he fell. His head struck a record player, and his neck was broken.

The grandmother, Mrs. Fanny Lofton, 62, was called but collapsed and died before reaching the child.

The Sanford Business and Professional Woman's Club was today congratulated on its fine cooperation with other local clubs and its outstanding project by presidents of leading Sanford organizations at a luncheon held in the Yacht Club. Mrs. E. J. Booth presided and there were 62 persons present.

Mrs. George Charles, Daytona Beach, treasurer of the Florida Business and Professional Women's Club, told of the work of the organization in rehabilitating girls at Ocala, a project of the organization. She also told how girls, released from the school, are placed in homes to secure a good environment.

She stated that the B and P. W. has endorsed the project for boys Rainbow Ranch which Homey Rodeheaver, evangelist, is building near Palatka and is conducting a project of the Women of the Yacht Club in scheduling Mr. Rodeheaver to speak here soon.

Vets Hear Methods On How To Raise Sealand Cotton

Practical methods of growing Sealand long staple cotton were outlined last night to members of the Veterans-Of-The-Farm Training Club by Henry Thurston, president of the Sanford Ocala Truck Growers, Inc., and local cotton expert.

Mr. Thurston, who has 36 acres of Sealand cotton on his farm west of Sanford, told of methods of selecting cotton seed, of preparing the land and sowing, and of yield and cost of production. He invited the veterans to see the new cotton gin of the Central Florida Cotton Growers Cooperative at Leesburg, and to visit his farm to see the cotton grow.

Mr. Wilson told of the importance of spraying cotton plants to control the cotton boll worm and the boll weevil. He showed specimens of weevils preserved in alcohol and pointed out how they hatch and breed. He stated that no small bug, such as cotton strainers, or red spiders had been found here this year.

W. E. Vihlen showed a motion picture of cotton growing on the Thurston farm.

Civil War Breaks Out But State Radio Announces It Was Quickly Put Down

By FRED L. STROZIER, BUENOS AIRES, Argentina. Sept. 28.—(AP)—The official state radio announced today a revolt was staged by two former army generals against the government of Juan D. Peron and was swiftly put down.

The radio, a short time after announcing civil war had broken out in Argentina, declared the government quelled the rising headed by former general Acosqui Bawson and former General Benjamin Menendez. Bawson was a leader in a 1943 rebellion which placed him in the presidency just two days.

There was no information available from other sources. The capital has been closed down tightly, with business establishments shuttered.

There were many rumors of troop movements, but these, too, could not be confirmed.

Stores To Remain Open On Wednesdays

The Wednesday half holiday which has been observed during the summer months will officially end on Oct. 3 if a recommendation of the board of directors of the Sanford Merchants Association is carried out. Following a poll conducted among the merchants during the past week, a canvassing board composed of Ned Smith, Clarence Redding, Miss Dorothy Powell and Andrew Rine, president of the Association, met this morning at Touchton's Drug Store to canvass the returns.

A majority of those voting favored remaining open on Wednesday afternoon beginning Oct. 1. Mr. Rine reported today and the board of directors has recommended that this action be taken by all Sanford merchants. With regard to Saturday closing at 6:00 or 7:00 o'clock, the vote was so close that no action was taken by the board and this matter will be left entirely to the individual merchants themselves, Mr. Rine said.

Plantation Estates

The first meeting of the fall season of the Plantation Estates Property Owners' Association will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 2 at 8:00 P. M. at the Club Rooms in the Mansion. All of the many people who have moved in since our adjournment in May are invited to attend this meeting and get acquainted with their neighbors and the aims of our Association.
 The main object of the Association is to make Plantation a good place in which to live and to help us learn to use our bounty here in the State of Florida to best advantage, such as our recreational facilities on Plantation, swimming pool, club rooms, game courts and Monroe lake frontage. To do this we need the help and advice of each other.
 Among the new folks who have arrived during the last week are Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Miltenberger from Long Island, N. Y. to their new home on Plantation Rd. Mr. Miltenberger has been in the government service for the past 24 years, before his retirement he was a U. S. Appraiser in the Army and in the Immigration Service. Mrs. Miltenberger was manager of the University Faculty Club of the University of Wisconsin for 10 years and Manager and Buyer for the Restaurant Department for Bloomingdale Bros. in New York City for the past 11 years.
 Next door to the Miltenbergers on Plantation Rd. are the Williams. Mr. Williams had been a stationary engineer with the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey for many years before his retirement. Their arrival at Plantation was delayed for awhile because Mr. Williams was helping his son, William L. Jr., get established in his own Radio Station in Clark Township, New Jersey.
 We are very happy to welcome home a number of our folks who have been off on vacation. Among them Mr. and Mrs. W. Poyntelle back from South Carolina and Lou Bernard from Canada. He is already busy cleaning up the office and mansion grounds. He said he had a wonderful time with his family but was glad to get back to Juliette and Plantation.
 Mr. and Mrs. Charles Green both had birthday over the last weekend and Canast party with Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Daley of Winter Park and Mrs. Wm. Tomp of Spring Hill for their birthdays. Neighbors Nepp of Angelus Rd. as their guests.
 Mrs. Joseph Santile of Serena Rd. have with them their son John of Miami for a week-end recuperating from a recent operation.
 The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs is about finished and the Gibbs expect to move into it in a day or two. They have been living in the Gray House during its construction.
 The Witherells, Toms and Turners, who make a weekly event of dinner at the Herbol restaurant by Dolson Springs, with a card party afterward at the Herbol. Parties have been playing Chilian Samba instead of Canasta. They say it is such an exciting game that they do not recommend it for high blooded pressure.
 The George H. Wakefields are going to Ohio to attend the Golden wedding of their son-in-law's parents. It's a good excuse to visit these big and little grandsons of those.
 Mr. and Mrs. John Schlipf have gone to Pittsburg to attend the wedding of a grand-nephew and to visit their many friends and relatives there. Mr. Schlipf as Comptroller of the City of Pittsburg became a well known person there and I imagine they will have very gay time. They expect to return on Oct. 15 with their niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Schlipf of Waco, Tex. who will spend a month here with them.
 Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gould tell me they brought back greetings to all their friends from Dr. and Mrs. Mackay. The Goulds spent a week-end with them at their beautiful home on Hillside in Pennsylvania. They may not be able to get down this winter as their daughter expects a blessed event after the holidays.
 Mr. and Mrs. Barclay Anderson of East First Street have had their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. McKee and their 21 year old grandson, Ginn, visiting them for two weeks. Mr. Anderson had been in the U. S. Marine Division of the City of Detroit and months here to Pittsburg. They had joined our 8:00 o'clock Canasta group and it's about time we had persons to direct the traffic of those late hours and make them flow down. We hope they can take a job.

 Mr. and Mrs. Howard T. White are staying at the Mansion while waiting for their furniture to arrive so they may move into their new home on Granda Road. We never saw such a beautiful big screened porch as the Whites have. You could hold a dance in it.
 We are pleased to tell the many friends of both Lee Hatfield and Mrs. Frank Lloyd that they are doing nicely after their operations. They are at the Orange Memorial Hospital in Orlando. Lee who is a trained nurse at the Deland Hospital says she would rather help other people than be a patient herself. We know how she feels.
 We are also glad to say that Ed Healy has returned from the Hospital in St. Petersburg and hope that he hastens on to a complete recovery.
 Jack McGowan, the TV Cameraman, was around taking pictures of most of our homes for the TV program. As soon as we know when they will be shown we will let you know so that you may tell your families and friends in the north to watch for them.
 Mr. and Mrs. Lou Hoffman are entertaining cousins from New Jersey, so her Wednesday night Canasta Club will be postponed to Thursday night this week.
 Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boneker have returned and we hope this time for good. I imagine the Thursday night Canasta Club will be glad of their return if they missed them as much as we did at the afternoon swimming pool meetings.

 The first fall meeting of the Golf Club will not take place until after Oct. 15 as it is waiting on the arrival of Dr. and Mrs. Whitaker who will return from their summer cottage in the Adirondacks at that time.
 The first meeting of the Saturday night Dance Club has not yet been decided upon but we imagine it will be this Saturday.
 Mr. and Mrs. Harrie L. Muchmore have moved into their new home on Madera Road.
 The Misses Kathryn and Emma Eckels have arrived from their summer cottage on Cape Cod. They tell me their summer was somewhat sadder by the illness of another sister, but are pleased that she is greatly improved. We hope their winter here will make up for it and I'm sure the marvelous good humored and pleasant personalities of their next door neighbor, the Banks sisters, will help.
 Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ireland and Joe Parialis have told me that they expect to open their Ice Cream Parlor and the Butcher Shop on Oct. 4. Let's all turn out to give them a big welcome. They will be a tremendous help to us all and I'm sure we will all cooperate with them as much as possible. It's good to see our business center grow so well.

Churchill Attack

The manifesto contended it was the Manifesto contended it was government which caused Britain's devaluation of the pound from $4.02 to $2.80 in September, 1949.

"Devaluation was the offspring of wild, profuse expenditure and the evils which we suffer today are the inevitable progeny of that wanton way of living," the manifesto said.

Churchill laid down three main points his party would seek to carry out if returned to power.

1. "The Conservative aim is to increase our national output. Here is the surest way to keep our people fully employed, to halt the rising cost of living and to preserve our social services."

2. Complete the £4,700,000,000 ($15,160,000,000) three-year rearmament program started by the Labor government, adding "we believe however that far better value could be got for the immense manpower and sums of money which are involved."

3. Impose an excess profits tax during the defense emergency.

4. Stop all further nationalization of industry.

5. Return the iron and steel industry nationalized early this year to its former owners.

6. Decentralize the nationalized rail and road transport and coal industries, and give private freight trucking firms a chance to return to business.

7. Strengthen the monopolies commission to reduce "to the minimum possible all restrictive practices on both sides of industry," including the nationalized industries.

The Conservatives also want to give home building a priority second only to defense, with a target of 500,000 houses a year; provide better education and health services for the poorer now being spent upon them.

"To obtain more food, practical knowledge and business experience must be created to comb the world for greater supplies," the manifesto declared.

The Conservatives pledged the party to bind Britain, the Empire and the Commonwealth closer together in defense and trade matters and seek closer unity of the millions of English-speaking peoples.

Churchill called upon the British to work for a United Europe "including in the course of time those unhappy countries still behind the Iron Curtain."

"We will seek and pray for peace," said Churchill. "A mighty union of nations tread that not together but we all know that peace can only come through their united strength and faithful brotherhood."

Churchill declared that "the attempt to impose a doctrinaire socialism upon an island which has grown great and famous by free enterprise has inflicted serious injury upon our strength and prosperity."

"Nationalization has proved itself a failure which has resulted in heavy losses to the taxpayer or the consumer, or both," he added.

McCarthy Hit

Although McCarthy was not present for today's hearings—he was making a speech in Santa Fe, N. M.—his voice was heard over the loud speaker system in the hearing room. Benton had played a recording of a radio talk by McCarthy at Salt Lake City the day after his controversial West Virginia speech.

This was the same recording that Senator Tydings (D-Md) sought unsuccessfully to play last year on the senate floor. McCarthy said in that talk that he was inviting Secretary of State Acheson to "call me tonight" at the Utah Hotel and get the names of "97 card-carrying Communists" in the State Department.

Reading from a 25,000 word prepared statement, Benton said he would show that McCarthy "has created for himself not only a record of irresponsibility but one of lack of integrity and character."

Warren Sues

"B. The power and authority of the office of Governor would be used by Mr. Warren to aid the alleged unlawful enterprises which permit those unlawful gambling enterprises to operate which consent to pay their income or profit a part thereof to the William H. Johnston, or his nominees, as by the use of the office of Governor in aid of the alleged unlawful conspiracy to discourage and prohibit the operation of any unlawful gambling enterprises which refused to divide with Johnston a part of its income or profits."

"C. The power of the law administered by plaintiff as governor of Florida, would be used to cover certain unlawful gambling interests to enter into arrangement with Johnston for a division of their profits and income in return for which such unlawful gambling enterprises would be permitted to operate in violation of the law under the protection of the Governor of Florida."

He alleged that the article was published either "wickedly and maliciously" or "as a result of the negligence" of the magazine.

He said the effect was to injure him in "his good name, fame and credit and bring him to contempt and ridicule before the people of Florida and the people of the United States of America generally."

Warren is the second Florida governor to sue Collins for libel. His predecessor, Millard P. Fuller, now national Civil Defense administrator, claimed the magazine falsely portrayed him as a Communist.

 TODAY'S HIGHLIGHTS

He will gladly do many things for us, prayer (or faith) gives substance to many things too. I know that you must do everything.—Job 42:2

The news from Washington is that the White House, which is currently being renovated, is having no less than 23 bathrooms installed in it. White House officials should regard this as an indication that they are expected to keep clean in the future.

"Why don't you advertise?" asked the canvasser of a man who ran a small neighborhood store.

"Because I'm against advertising," the man answered.

"But why?"

"I don't leave a man no time," was the reply. "I advertised once last year and I was so busy I didn't have no time to go fishing the whole summer."—Paris Pups

The United States is getting ready to be smeared in the Iranian oil mess. The British warn the Iranian government that any attempt to expel her oil men "must have a grave effect on Anglo-Iranian relations," and appeal to the United States government to back them up. The British are good fighters, make good allies, but they are also pretty good at getting someone else to pull their chestnuts out of the fire.

Democratic National Chairman, William M. Boyle, Jr. doesn't see anything wrong in accepting $125,000 in fees from clients who were making checks from government agencies which were run by officials of Mr. Boyle's own political party. He says he is not chairman of the party then, he was only acting chairman, though he later became chairman. It's a fine point, and there probably isn't any law against doing what Mr. Boyle did. But there ought to be.

America is a wonderful country. In spite of the war in Korea and the preparations for new wars to come, there is no apparent shortage of anything. And, according to the New York Times, it will be at least six months before consumers encounter any real difficulty in finding new automobiles, washing machines or vacuum cleaners. With respect to food and clothing the Times does not believe that such scarcity as would be indicated by any shortage of such things is in store for this country, now or ever.

Three top presidential candidates, according to a recent survey in the Middle West, are Taft, Eisenhower, and Truman, not necessarily in that order. A tremendous prize goes for General Eisenhower; ready to break out, so it is said, as he gives the magic word. Who it will be in the Democratic party in case Truman should run is a mystery. It might be General Young, if General Eisenhower is the Republican candidate, or William Boyle if Senator Taft is the opponent. But wouldn't it be nice if the Democratic Party could name itself to nominate a really good man?

The nation's Managing Editors association calls upon newspaper everywhere to fight a joint front against tightening controls. Information not only of Communist countries but also of "hot" spots. "It is time to join together as allies and make a stand for the freedom of the press." The editors were told in a no-cash register. "The business as usual" is the latest slogan. The editors are the right to publish. The editors are the right to publish.

Striving For Security

There is a clear danger in the presidential order which establishes information security regulations for all government agencies and departments. The order places in the hands of the head of each department and agency the power to classify information as not publishable, according to his interpretation of the need to do so. The machinery by which effective censorship of government information could be established is thus created.

Despite assurances by the President that the order does not impose censorship, the utmost optimism would be required to overlook that possibility. The most effective way to curb the flow of news on government activities is to stop that news from being gathered at the place where it occurs. Newsmen have always found it difficult to get information which officials wished to withhold, but by exercising skill and persistence they frequently manage to get their stories. Under the new order all a department head will have to do is to classify the information as secret and a reporter will be a lawbreaker if he continues to try to get it.

In calmer times the press has been called the watchdog of liberty. It will be difficult for it to remain so if its vigilance is hamstrung by the power of government officials to hide facts. No thinking newsmen would challenge the necessity for keeping genuine military secrets. But it is a different matter to place in the hands of officials the power to decide what the people may properly know about their government.

It is a big job to protect the nation against the damage which may be done by disclosure of secrets which are vital to security. But equally great damage could be done by clogging the government from the scrutiny of the people. Censorship of news about government is a poor tool with which to guard our institutions.

College Enrollment

The drop in enrollment in colleges and universities has brought serious financial difficulties to many of them. While the larger institutions seem able to weather the storm, some smaller ones are in dire straits. Officials of some schools have said that unless a solution is found soon they may have to lower their academic standards or close their doors.

Although educators are troubled by the problem they are wary of federal subsidies as a solution. They do favor federal scholarships which would help the colleges with their enrollment problem and give worthy students new opportunities for an education. Such scholarships, educators say, would also help to answer charges of discrimination against young men who cannot afford to go to college.

The extension to veterans of the Korean conflict of such educational benefits as were provided for World War II veterans would also help the situation.

College officials say that prompt answers to the problem are needed. Faculty members who have been dismissed because of dwindling enrollment will find employment in other fields, and may prove hard to replace. If schools should be required to lower their academic standards the effect would be felt for many years. The colleges and universities are an important part of our way of life. Their problems are the problems of every citizen.

"Who, Me?"

"Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."
 —John Philip Curran

For six years I was District Attorney of a district of almost a million people. There is no office like it for the opportunity it gives to learn about people: what makes them tick, what some of them do under pressure.

A District Attorney can learn a lot, not only about individual human beings, but about groups of individuals, or communities. He learns why one town is a good town to live in, and another one close by, as like it as one pea to another, is rotten to the core. The lesson a District Attorney can learn is partly history, partly government, partly economics—but mostly human nature, the good and the bad. No other lesson can come so close as this does to revealing the strength and the dangers in the American formula for freedom.

The ordinary individual, who is over 90 per cent of all of us, has nothing to do with District Attorneys. His experience with the courts is limited to a parking tag or a speeding charge. If he is lucky he may have had the chance to serve on a jury; but most likely he has tried, perhaps successfully, even to get out of that. Consequently, the average man may ask: what does all this talk about District Attorneys have to do with me and citizenship?

He is shocked at the slimy world revealed on television by Senator Kefauver's committee. He finds it unbelievable, and yet as fascinating as his children find Hopalong Cassidy. But connect it with "citizenship" or the lack of it, and Mr. Average Citizen will look up in amazement from his video. "Who, me?"

If a District Attorney learns nothing else by his contact with the small per cent of the population who are criminals, he learns a whole lot about the big per cent who are not. He learns that the shady pattern of the "fix", the official who looks the other way at the right time, the deep-freeze and milk cans turning up in the right places, the stagnation in high office that accompanies corruption—this whole pattern can be blamed more on the so-called good citizens who don't care, than on the criminal who takes advantage of their apathy. The real villain is not the sleazy racketeer, or even the cheap politician who has ridden into office on his back. It is the John and Jane Citizens who have tolerated all this, and still tolerate it.

Without long-continued civic aloofness, there can be no successful alliance between crime and politics. Where there are such alliances, it simply means that the citizens are not on the job.—By Robert F. Bradford, former Governor of Massachusetts.

Heavy Enrollment Of Students Made At Rollins College

WINTER PARK, Sept. 28.—(Special)—Rollins College opened for the 67th academic year this morning with 663 full time students, only 21 less than last year. Among the students are 144 freshmen, 90 transfer students and 309 returning students.

In addition Rollins will teach 103 military and civilian personnel registered in the Rollins branch at Patrick Air Force Base and 39 military and civilian personnel registered at the Rollins branch at Sanford Naval Air Station.

There are more full time men students than women students this year. Of the 663 total, 312 are men students. The preliminary estimate was released by the college, McKean said, because of general interest in the welfare of Rollins. Final figures will be released as soon as late registrations are complete.

In announcing the figures, McKean paid tribute to the students, faculty, staff and alumni who have aided the admissions office this summer with "an enthusiasm unprecedented in the history of Rollins College."

"Rollins reached its capacity on boarding students several weeks ago," McKean said, "forcing the college to open Holt House to men students. This, however, is not taking care of our overflow and we are completing arrangements for additional space for boarding students."

"Rollins has another cause for encouragement," he added, "because of the fact that the annual audit made by Potter, Loucks and Lower, certified public accountants, shows a current surplus for the year ending June 30, 1951, of $73,073.27."

WINTER PARK, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Joe Justice, Rollins college basketball and baseball coach, has been appointed acting dean of men. President F. McKean said today.

The 34-year-old Justice assumes his duties immediately. He will continue as basketball and baseball coach, McKean said and also will teach a class in physical education.

Justice, who was graduated from Rollins in 1928, won letters in football, basketball and baseball. After graduation he coached at Winter Haven, high school, at Rollins and was appointed head football coach at the University of Tampa shortly before he entered the Navy in 1942.

The new Rollins dean was staff officer of an LCT group in the Pacific area during the war. Returning to Rollins in 1946 he has served continuously as baseball coach. He succeeded Jack McDowell as head football coach in 1949, the year before the college dropped the sport. Last August he was appointed head basketball coach.

Justice is the brother of Charlie (Choo Choo) Justice, former University of North Carolina all-American half back. Three other brothers were sports stars at Rollins.

The United States built synthetic rubber plants during World War II capable of producing about a million tons of rubber a year.

Soil Conservation News
 By BEN WIGGINS
 U. S. Soil Conservation Service

The basic objective of the Soil Conservation Service and other USDA agencies is to encourage farmers to use each acre of their land according to its capabilities and to treat each acre in accordance with its needs for protection and improvement. In addition to providing increased profits and a higher standard of living for the present owner, proper land use and treatment will keep the land productive for our future generations.

The Seminole Soil Conservation District was organized in the latter part of 1948 by a group of local landowners who realized the need for land improvement. A board of five supervisors, elected by landowners of this county, govern the District and administer the program with assistance from the technicians of the Soil Conservation Service. These supervisors, who spend much of their time and effort in promoting and administering the program, receive no pay. The present supervisors of the Seminole District are: Ed Cameron, George Harden, C. A. Wales, R. T. Milwee and Homer Osborne, the chairman.

The first complete conservation farm plan in this District was written on May 17, 1949. There are now 132 complete farm plans which cover approximately 46,500 acres.

A complete survey of the soil, down to a depth of approximately 60 inches, is used as the basis for writing a farm plan. The plan is worked out with the farmer and designed according to the capability of the land and its need for protection and improvement.

During the past month complete Conservation Plans were worked out with Paul Stine,

Ancient City Okeys 80 Year Franchise

ST. AUGUSTINE, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Municipal voters Tuesday ratified a new 80-year electric franchise for the Florida Power and Light Company by nearly a 2 to 1 margin.

Complete returns from the city's seven wards showed 1,835 votes for the franchise and 958 votes against it.

Under the new franchise, the City of St. Augustine will receive more revenue from the light company. The franchise is similar to those voted in 46 other municipalities served by the light company in Florida.

The City Commission plans to use the additional revenue to be received under the new 80-year franchise for expansion and improvement of the city's water system. It was pointed out by Mayor D. L. Britt.

Elmer Jones, Curtis Green, E. J. Slomka, and Bonner L. Carter. Michael Domansky was the first cooperator to receive Coastal Bermuda sprigs from the Seminole Soil Conservation District Nursery. The land and fertilizer for the nursery was donated to the District by Chase and Company.

Celey Feds Going For First Victory In Eustis Tonight

Local Eleven Hopeful As They Meet Panthers Unhindered By Injuries

Seminole High fans will journey 60 miles to Eustis tonight to see the local prep football team try for their first win of the season against Coach Charley Broadway's Panther eleven.

Eustis will also be fighting for their first victory having dropped their opener to Apopka by a 13-7 score last week while the local team suffered a 39-0 defeat at the hands of Orlando. The local sound is unhindered by injuries and meets the Eustis team with a little more experience than they showed last week.

Unable to play high school ball would be cleared away by next week. But he won't be able to dress for tonight's game.

Banford coaches Bill Fleming and Fred Ganay will field almost the same team that started against Orlando. Frankie Stenson will get starting honors at the fullback spot in place of Junior Metz in the only backfield change.

Violent Dodger Door Pounders Remain Mystery

By JOE REICHLER (Special) - Did Jackie Robinson, fiery Brooklyn second baseman, pound and kick the locked door of the umpire's dressing room in a violent rage following the Dodgers' badly defeated 1-3 loss to the Boston Braves yesterday?

But it wasn't Jackie," added the preacher. "I'll take an oath on that."

The hectic scene came as a result of the ejection of Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella by Plate Umpire Danzell, Campanella and objecting violently when Danzell ejected him.

The increased Dodgers continued to heckle Danzell until the umpire finally cleared the bench of all players.

Danzell came to the National League during the 1948 season. He's a showman type of umpire who calls his decisions in a loud, blatant voice, accompanied by picturesque gestures.

Screeching Rebel Football Yells Will Spur On Dixie-ized Yankees

By STERRING HAPPEY (Special) - Custom calls for waving Confederate flags, wearing grey caps like Stonewall Jackson's and screeching the Rebel yell at every football game in Dixie - to spur the Rebels on, you know.

But, if custom is followed Saturday in Chapel Hill, N. C., waving flags and wailing yells most will go to waste.

They're Dixie-ized Yankees, playing football for those five of Southern institutions which go heavily for Yankee football uniforms.

Down from the North to Carolina have come Dick Koscovitch (West Orange, N. J.), Steve Marich (Johnstown, Pa.), Steve Orlowski (Perth Amboy, N. J.), Ed Barlick (New York City), Joe Dulek (Harrisburg, Pa.), and Ernie Liebert (Pittsburgh).

Birmingham Fans Want Elbow Room, Talk With Wilmer

By WILBUR MARTIN (Special) - A lot of Birmingham fans were disappointed for the opening of the Dixie series. The hundreds of fans who made the trip wanted just two things.

"I look at that boy, Wilmer," one exuberant fan yelled. "We love him, but we're gonna beat him to death."

The Buffs and Barons opened the first of seven series here last night, Birmingham won, 7 to 6. Wilmer's due to pitch tonight.

Tennessee Rated Best By Three Touchdowns But Not By Neyland

By ASSOCIATED PRESS Coaches scurried about today finding something nice to say about somebody else's football team - a sure sign the season's first big week end is here and that it's normal.

Coach Happy Campbell watched the S. U. square through 13-0 over Mississippi Southern last week and despite the narrowness of the warm up game score, Crisp and Campbell still think Gus Tinsley's team is one of the best in the SEC.

The game with the biggest difference between teams, so say the men who make it their business to know, is Kentucky-Mississippi.

Senate Rejects Proposed Tax On Pari Mutuel Bets

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—President Truman said today he would support a proposal for Canada to build the St. Lawrence Seaway if the project can not be started soon as a joint U. S.-Canadian development.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The Senate today rejected a proposed two per cent tax on pari-mutuel race track bets and a 20 per cent withholding tax on winnings.

Senator Holland (D-Fla.) declared the proposal would destroy pari-mutuel wagering and wipe out an important source of revenue for many states, including his own State of Florida where racing is a big business.

The proposal was sponsored by Senator Langer (R-Mo.). It was defeated on a standing vote with only eight or nine senators supporting it. Langer could not get a recorded vote.

The proposal was the first to be acted on as the Senate again met two hours early in an uncertain effort to finish up work tonight on the $5,500,000,000 tax increase bill.

The Senate yesterday approved a 10 per cent levy on bets placed with professional gamblers. This excluded pari-mutuels because they are taxed by the states.

Langer said his amendment would have added $100,000,000 in new tax revenue to the bill.

The proposal also would have required pari-mutuel tracks to keep full records of all bets and would have forced bettors to produce signed receipts before they could use a losing wager as a deduction on income taxes.

Langer contended that all the better has to do now is show a losing ticket and that these can be picked up by the thousands around any race track.

Holland said that in Florida the take of the state and track comes to about 10 per cent of the amount bet.

If a 2 per cent federal levy and a 20 per cent withholding on all winnings in the pool are added, it would mean that 35 per cent

Argentine Revolt

By noon thousands had poured into the Plaza Mayo. There was no sign of either Peron or his wife, Eva, who was the target of army criticism recently.

Office workers in the presidential palace learned from the windows and balconies, but there was no indication that Peron was in the Casa Rosada. Mrs. Peron has been ill for a week and has not been at her office.

The state radio repeated incessantly the announcement that a state of "internal war" existed and that army officers participating in the uprising would be shot. This announcement was in the form of an official decree.

All radio stations, newspapers and the official banks were heavily guarded by federal police. Almost complete censorship was imposed late in the morning.

A delegation from the Peronist workers confederation appeared at the office of the independent newspaper La Nacion and requested that it not publish today.

The newspaper dropped its police shutters over its entrance. Steel guards permitted Associated Press personnel to enter and view the building where the AP office is located.

(After the first announcements of the state radio broadcasts, cables from Buenos Aires stopped for an hour, and then the filing was resumed, but this dispatch came first by telephone from Buenos Aires.

The outbreak was preceded by would be deducted from the total bet on each race, he said.

This would soon "dry up" all the money at the track and "shoot" pari-mutuel racing, he contended.

Senator Johnson (D-Colo.), supporting the Langer amendment, pointed out there is a withholding now on payments to wage earners.

Holland replied that these people have income. But the race track bettors as a group would be sure to lose, he said, since the track and the state are taking a cut of the money bet in each race. Of the total bet in each race in Florida, he said, only about 85 per cent goes back to the bettors.

Senator Storer (D-Fla.) said the state collected more than $14,000,000 in taxes at pari-mutuel tracks last year and that $8,000,000 of this went for Old Age Assistance.

Senator Underwood (D-Ky.) also argued that the states should be allowed to keep this source of revenue.

Road Contracts

He said it was found that the contractor's estimates were some $13,000 above what he was adjusting were made and the road was completed under rigid supervision more than a year ago.

The total cost of the project was $180,949.32. Turnbull said that was $9,000 below the ceiling set on the job and the state didn't lose.

The contract with McCormick was one of many totaling some $6,000,000 that the Road Department awarded without competitive bidding in the early years of this administration.

The contractor furnished the equipment, and its operators while the Road Department furnished the materials and supervision for the work.

The practice, in effect to vary the degree for many years, was stopped when Leon county circuit court ruled such contracts must be put up for competitive bidding.

Lee, Daughters of American Revolution; Mrs. Charles Webster, American Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. L. E. Spencer, Sanford Garden Club. John Ivey spoke for Cecil Carlton, president of the Lions Club.

B. C. Steele, principal of the Sanford Grammar School, was introduced by Mrs. Routh, B. and P. W. president.

Mrs. Sally Mero Williams and Mrs. P. M. Higgins were introduced as the first presidents of the B. and P. W. Club in Sanford. Charles Morrison of Rotary led in group singing with Mrs. Escar Price accompanying.

A flight of planes over the capital, dropping handbills urging the people to revolt against Peron. Then the labor confederation made its broadcast that some military men had launched a revolt.

The government proclaimed a state of siege—a modified form of martial law—and a few moments later the state radio announced that civil war had started. At frequent intervals the radio repeated this announcement from the presidential press office.

A state of internal war exists. "Army officers taking part will be shot."

(Recent reports have indicated there had been popular discontent over inflation, shortages of meat and other food and the general economic pinch under the Peron dictatorship.)

(While Peron and Eva publicly championed the cause of the working man—the "descamisado" or shirtless ones—the sharp spiral upward of prices often equalled or surpassed wage hikes decreed by the Peron government. The price of a man's suit increased 10 times between 1939

Congressmen Get Legion Thanks On Veto Overriding

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The American Legion sent a thank-you letter to Congress today for overriding President Truman's veto of a bill increasing pensions of certain disabled veterans.

Signed by Legion National Commander Eric Cooke, Jr., it went to the 69 senators and 318 representatives who voted to override the veto.

A spokesman said a similar letter with "variations" went to those who voted otherwise.

The thank-you letter criticized Mr. Truman for what it called his ill-founded "comments on the bill, and also the American press which the Legion said is abounding a 'strangely belligerent and resentful reaction' to veterans' benefits.

The letter said that of all the legislative proposals presented to Congress, only those affecting veterans are "constantly presented to the reading public on the basis of cost in the year 2000."

Mr. Truman, in vetoing the pension measure, estimated it would cost $16,700,000 in the first year, and almost $400,000,000 a year inward the end of the century.

"Most Americans knew the projected cost of the pension bill by the end of the century before they knew the nature of the bill itself," Cooke wrote.

Cooke said the Legion sympathized with Congress in its recent approval of a salary increase for government workers.

"But so far as we can determine, no voice has been raised to point out that the consequent cost to the taxpayers will be some $25,000,000,000 by the end of the century," he said.

Bradley Arrives

The Communists let them penetrate nearly a mile into the Red lines. The Reds then surrounded the small patrol and fired on it from all sides with mortars, howitzers, machine guns, burg guns and rifles.

"The Communists were throwing everything they had at them," said Lt. Charles W. Hulbert, commander of the 23rd Infantry regiment.

One doughboy escaped the trap by sneaking down a creek bed and reported the plight of his buddies.

Six hundred to eight hundred Communist troops in the immediate vicinity of the trapped G.I.s. Communist fire pinned the small group of Americans down behind boulders and trees. Some of the Communist had come within 15 yards of the trapped men.

Maj. Gen. Robert N. Young, of the U. S. Second Division, ordered a team of American tanks and U. S. soldiers to rescue them.

and 1951. Garbanos (chick peas), a staple in Argentina, also rose to 10 times the prewar prices. The farmers and the cattle raisers were reported angry with the government, and finance and business were said to have lacked confidence in Peron.)

Garden Gate

Hibiscus is one of the most popular ornamental shrubs for landscape planting in Florida, in the areas where it is adapted. The ease with which it can be grown, the attractive evergreen foliage, the long, almost continuous blooming season, the quick recovery when killed back to the ground by cold and the wide range in form and color of the flowers are factors which contribute to this popularity.

Hibiscus is excellent landscape material because it may be used for a variety of purposes. It is used for foundation or base plantings, which includes the use of columnar varieties such as dainty La France, Mrs. Anderson No. 10 and Jane Withers as "accent point" plants, as individual specimens or in groups of two or more, as standards for terrace or formal use, as one of the elements in an informal shrubbery border and as an informal flowering hedge.

When planted in groups or for a hedge, care should be taken to obtain varieties that are similar in character of growth and in general appearance of leaves. Too much contrast in this respect will produce a very regrettable and unpleasing effect.

Variegated-leaved varieties, such as Matensia and Cooper, may be effectively used in group plantings, however, to produce a pleasing contrast. Varieties that have a dense branching habit such as single Scarlet, Florida Sunset, Kuterpe, Betty Chalk, Peachblow and American Beauty, are best for hedges. The hibiscus should not be sheared to formal shape but should be cut back just enough to keep the plants dense and well shaped.

While the plant itself is well adapted to full sun, some varieties tend to fade their blossom color slightly when exposed to direct sunlight and this should be taken into account when fitting the various varieties into the landscape.

As a rule the lighter colored varieties, such as pink and yellow, fade more than the reds and blues in bright sunshine. This change in color is not always attributable to sunlight alone. It has been observed that the shade of color of some varieties may change somewhat.

"Crows older, resulting sometimes in a darker flower as a result of a lighter flower by the time the plant reaches two or three years of age.

There is an ever increasing S. and French infantry to the rescue.

Three battalions of Allied artillery laid down covering fire, blocking off the area where the G.I.s were huddled.

"Those men, without knowing it, walked into just about the hottest spot in this area outside of Heartbreak Ridge itself," said Hulbert, tank commander in the 23rd Infantry regiment.

The rescue team of stranded Americans before noon. The wounded were taken inside tanks. Those who could walk were taken out between noon and 2 p. m.

Pepper Denies He Has Decided On Senate Race

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Former Senator Claude Pepper said today the DeFuniak Springs Herald misquoted him when it published a statement yesterday that he would seek to regain his seat in a campaign against Senator Speasard Holland next year.

He said he has "made no decision about the matter" and the statement he made to H. C. Storrs, editor of the weekly newspaper, "is exactly the same as I have been making to the press over the state."

Storrs quoted Pepper as saying in a telephone conversation from Washington that he would be let to run again. He said he authorized Storrs to make this statement for publication.

Today Pepper dictated this statement to his law partner, Earl Faltroth, in Tallahassee.

"I am shocked that I was misquoted by Mr. Storrs."

"Some friends called me from his office and discussed the matter of my being a candidate for the Senate with me. I told them just what I've been saying publicly for some time, that I have had numerous requests and urgings from friends over the state that I should make the race, that I was giving consideration to it, but had not come to any conclusions, that at the proper time I would make an announcement on the subject."

"The statement to Mr. Storrs was the same statement I've been making to the press generally over the state. I'm very sorry that Mr. Storrs has inadvertently, no doubt, misquoted me."

consciousness of the desirability of organized community beautification programs in Florida. One phase of such a program includes work, street and roadway plantings. The hibiscus is excellent for this purpose and can be used to advantage, especially when combined with palms or other ornamental trees.

In the Florida Gardener, our state theme says:

"The theme for the administration is 'A More Beautiful Florida' and if everyone will concentrate on the objectives and cooperate in the program we are sure to achieve our goal."

The past two months have been filled with excitement and interest for the officers and chairman who have worked to publish "The Florida Gardener," our own publication. Each member of The Florida Federation will receive a copy and it is hoped that it will mean better coordination of all Garden Club activities in the State.

Thank you, Mrs. Halle Cohen, I have enjoyed reading mine very much and know that all the other garden club members have too.
