IDENTITY OF GIRL IN CHICAGO MADE KNOWN BY RADIO

Amnesia Victim Whose Name Has Been Unknown Since Nov. 19 Identified as Girl Who Lived in St. Louis

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—Radio and newspaper publicity Sunday brought knowledge of her name and home to Charlotte "Norris," the mystery girl in the county hospital, who has been unable to remember anything about herself since she was found in a faint, two months ago, in the union station here.

She was identified as Charlotte Maguire, 20, 5545 Wells Avenue, St. Louis, by Mrs. George Griffiths, an aunt, and Miss Genevieve Sullivan, a cousin. She left with them for St. Louis at once.

When they entered the hospital Sunday morning, the girl, whose description has been widely printed and who appealed for aid in learning her name over the radio through station WDBU of the Edgewater Beach Hotel-Chicago, Evening Post Friday night, looked at them blankly for a moment.

"Auntie Cousin!" she cried and embraced them.

They told Warden Michael Zimmer of the hospital that the girl appeared from St. Louis Nov. 19, after she had left the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Maguire, to attend class at a teachers college. How she got here was not explained.

"I remember leaving home to go to the university," Miss Maguire said, "but my relatives told their story, and I was walking one of the shaded paths leading to the campus. The next thing I remember is that I was in the hospital here."

Through an item in a St. Louis newspaper about Chicago's "mystery girl" the relatives were led to come to Chicago, Miss Sullivan said. The description of the girl seemed to tally with that of her cousin.

Because Mrs. Francis Maguire has been very ill since her daughter's disappearance and for fear the clue might prove false, she was not informed of their trip here, Mrs. Griffiths said.

Charlotte always had been a "home girl," the aunt said and there was no reason that she knew of for her to run away from her home. Mrs. Griffiths could give no idea of what might have happened to bring her here.

Since the girl was found in the union station on the evening of Nov. 19 numerous attempts have been made to identify her. Persons from various parts of the country have come to visit her and more than 5,000 letters and telegrams have been received at the hospital giving "tips" on who she might be and asking for additional information.

Numerous descriptions have been published and motion pictures of the girl have been shown in various parts of the country.

In efforts to stimulate her memory, physicians administered the "truth" serum, and psychologists tried hypnosis, without results. The girl recalled her first name was Charlotte and she believed her last name was Norris, but she had no recollection of her home or parents.

TWO FORCES IN SHANGHAI JOIN IN LOOTING CITY

Both Victor And Vanquished Regain Possession of City And Immediately Begin An Orgy of Wholesale Thieving

Chi Shieh Yuan Was Deposed As Governor

Many Outlying Villages Are Looted In Fighting Which Took Place All Day Sunday

SIANGHAI, Jan. 12.—Both victor and vanquished in Sunday's coup by which Chi Shieh Yuan was deposed as military governor of Kiangsu province regained control of Shanghai and united this morning in an orgy of looting.

SIANGHAI, Jan. 12.—All the Chinese territory surrounding Shanghai was captured Sunday by Chi Shieh Yuan, and his ally, Sun Chuan-fang, and outlying villages were looted, as a gesture of defiance to the provisional government.

The soldiers of Chi and Sun made a surprise attack Sunday morning. By night they were in complete control of the region surrounding the foreign settlements.

Fighting in the Lungwa district had subsided, leaving Sun in undisputed possession of Lungwa and the arsenal there. Chang Yung-min, the defense commissioner appointed by Peking, has taken refuge with his subordinate commanders in the foreign settlements.

Chang's troops made an unsuccessful resistance. Foreign defense units were guarding the barricaded approaches to the settlements last night.

A battle was in progress Sunday near the Tung Wan, Japanese colony and the grounds of the Sacred Heart Catholic mission. Many bullets were falling in their vicinity.

The volunteer corps of foreigners from the foreign and French settlements have been ordered out and have erected barbed wire barriers in the approaches to the foreign quarters.

Fighting was continuing Sunday noon but the foreign settlements had little apprehension of danger. Chi Shieh Yuan was military governor of Kiangsu province, in which Shanghai is situated, and a Peking mandate was issued December 12 dissolving him from that position and appointing Lu Yung-hsiang, "pacification commissioner" for Kiangsu and Anhwei provinces. Sun Chuan-fang was an adherent of General Wu Pei-fu, the ousted commander of the Peking military forces.

Chi and Sun were active in besieging Shanghai last fall. At that time they were allied with the Peking regime of President Yuan.

CINCINNATI PAYS TRIBUTE TO DEAD CHURCH OFFICIAL

One of Largest Crowds City's History Attend Ceremonies For Archbishop Moeller; Funeral Will Be On Tuesday

CINCINNATI, Jan. 12.—A mid-air swirling snow storm, the bronze casket bearing the body of late Archbishop Henry Moeller was taken from his residence Sunday to St. Peter's cathedral where it will lie in state until the funeral Tuesday.

Ancient pomp and dignity of the Roman Catholic Church marked the ceremony which brought out one of the largest crowds of mourners on record in Cincinnati.

The automobile carrying the casket was preceded by the Knights of St. John, cross bearers and Semaphores. During the entire line of march prayers for the repose of the soul of the dead were recited by the Semaphores and echoed from the sidewalks by those of Catholic faith.

The body was received at the cathedral by Monsignor Louis J. Nau, apostolic administrator of the archdiocese, pending the appointment of a new archbishop by the Holy See.

After the casket had been carried to the catafalque, Seminary choirs chanted the office of the dead. Then Monsignor Nau, vested in a gold and red cope, gave absolution for the dead.

The body of the archbishop was vested in the robes of his office. His head was covered by the white mitre, while around the neck rested the pallium, the insignia of metropolitan rank. His hands, folded and encased in embroidered red gloves rested on his chest. His eyes were encased in high red sandals and the zucchetto, a red skull cap, rested on the foot of the casket, an indication that his office had ended.

The cathedral which is nearly a century old, was draped in mourning black and purple.

STOCK SALES REACH $125,000 MARK MONDAY

Many New Names Are Added To List of Subscribers While Amount Jumps From $82,500 To $125,000 Today

Work Started On Razing Building

Edward Higgins Expresses Appreciation of Company For Response of Citizens

With more than one-third of the hotel amount of stock to be sold, already subscribed by Sanford citizens and increased interest in the hotel project being shown every day, officials of the Sanford Hotel-Ready Company are delighted with the response that has been given the new company in its acquisition and development of a large tract east of this city, included in which is a site for the proposed $500,000 tourist hotel.

According to an announcement made Monday by Harry T. Bodwell, general manager of the recently formed corporation, over $100,000 had been subscribed early this morning and at noon Monday the total had reached the $125,000 mark. The officials it was declared are very optimistic over the outlook and it is believed that within a short time the entire amount will have been subscribed.

The first step toward the development of the large tract acquired by the company and the entire eastern part of the city, was taken this morning when a crew of workmen began razing the old Leffler building to make way for the opening of First Street.

Edward Higgins, president of the Chamber of Commerce and a member of the board of directors of the company, in viewing the matter of the sale of stock in the Sanford Hotel-Ready Company, said:

"By their response in the purpose of stock in the Land company, citizens of this city have indicated their desire for a greater and bigger Sanford. The subscription made during the first 48 hours has shown that they mean business and officials of the company are indeed proud of this record."

"More subscriptions are needed, however, and regardless of the very handsome profit which will come to each subscriber, this civic movement should require support of every citizen. Everyone should invest as much money as he can possibly do in order that no time may be lost in this big development."

"More names as subscribers insure quicker action with reference to the developments proposed by the Sanford Hotel-Ready Company. Work has already started on razing buildings which will make way for the opening of First Street to the Lewis Avenue. This is but the initial step toward a development which has never been equaled before in the history of Sanford."

Additional names added to the subscription list since Saturday are: J. E. Searlight, Fred Ball, W. S. Egan, Mrs. Ellen Martin, I. D. Martin, Alvord, H. Dexter, Kate Dickinson Stewart, W. Florida Salesmen Of Photo Company Meet Here Today

Thirty Florida salesmen of the Keystone View Company met Monday morning for a two day convention at the Hotel Valdez. The men represent what is said to be the largest organization of its kind in the country, having purchased a short time ago the stereoscopic and lantern slide departments of Underwood and Underwood, nationally known photographic company.

The salesmen will be guests of the company at a banquet tonight at the Valdez Hotel. A number of officials of the company, who are taking part in the convention, are on the list of speakers.

The organization is selling stereograph travel tours that cover points of interest over the world. They also carry lanterns and slides for special educational work. The line also includes complete stereograph libraries that include views of virtually every section of the world. The views as shown through the stereopticon, bring forth, it is said, the true perspective of a picture through rapid observation of the laws of physics.

Among the speakers before the convention are P. M. Walrath, former vice-president; H. C. Joslin, eastern sales manager; E. A. Garvin, manager in the southeastern states, and Mr. Sherman, assistant sales manager. The salesmen attending the convention are virtually all assigned to the state of Florida.

CONGRESS PLANS TO ACT ON CLAIM FOR ISLE PINES

Measure Will Come Up Following Disposition of Muscle Shoals Problem; Appropriations Are Shelved For Time

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Appropriation measure will be more or less in the congressional background this week while the senate and house are undertaking to dispose of a number of matters of general legislation.

After more than a month of debate, the senate probably will pass a Muscle Shoals measure Tuesday and thus finally see the much discussed subject into conference between the two houses.

After this action, the treaty with Cuba under which the United States formally would recognize Cuban sovereignty over the Isle of Pines will come up under an unanimous agreement calling for final action. This convention has been pending more than 20 years, but several days of discussion are in prospect.

Meanwhile the senate probably will renew its program of night sessions to dispose of pending legislation. This includes the annual supply bill and the first deficiency bill. The army bill passed last week by the house, will be taken up by the senate appropriations committee.

With Monday set aside for District of Columbia legislation, the McClellan banking bill Tuesday will devote Wednesday to miscellaneous bills coming from the public lands committee. If the McClellan bill is disposed of Tuesday the river and harbors authorization bill will come up Thursday with the land reclamation offices supply measure to follow.

House committees will continue their inquiries into the shipping board, Indian affairs and aircraft. The senate interstate commerce committee will carry forward its hearings on the Cummins railroad consolidation measure, while the Cuzens committee will discuss enforcement of the prohibition.

The world court, another of the senate's long pending problems, will be brought to the front Wednesday with consideration by the foreign relations committee, while the several proposals for American participation under reservations suggested by President Coolidge and Secretary Hughes. Many committee members believe some sort of an admission measure will be reported out, but whether action can be had at this session still is problematical.

HUGHES PRISED BY PAPERS UPON 4 YEARS' RECORD

Express Heartily Regrets Upon His Retirement Declaring He Has Made Envious Name For Himself in 4 Years

LONDON, Jan. 12.—General hearty regret at the retirement of Charles E. Hughes, as American secretary of state, is expressed by London morning papers, accompanied by cordial wishes for Ambassador Kellogg in his new office.

The Daily Telegraph says: "In the brief space of four years Mr. Hughes has made a place for himself in history—in the eyes of all the civilized world a place of honor."

The paper dwells lengthily and with admiration on his initiation of the Washington conference and his boldness in solving the reparations problem, and adds: "He has done work that leaves an immense increment of prestige to be enjoyed by his successor—work for which the world is deeply and gratefully in his debt."

The Morning Post says: "Great Britain deeply will deplore the resignation of Mr. Hughes. He was a good friend of this country, and a fine type of courteous, cultured, well-informed American."

"We offer our best wishes to Mr. Kellogg in the great and responsible task entrusted to him. He has had the advantage of coming into close touch with European statesmen and European problems, and thus has an advantage possessed by no secretary of state since Mr. Lansing."

The Daily Chronicle says: "With the resignation of Mr. Hughes the United States executive loses a remarkable personality. He was no ordinary politician; his knowledge, strong will and distinct personal peculiarly fitted him for his task. Broadminded and sympathetic in his outlook, he was the sort of American with whom wise Britons could always work without friction."

Employ Changes Given Attention WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Having accepted the resignation of Secretary of State Hughes and selected Ambassador Kellogg at London as his successor, President Coolidge will give attention now to the task of filling the vacancies in the diplomatic corps resulting from these changes in his cabinet on Mar. 4.

Meanwhile, the senate will consider two appointments by the executive of equal importance those of Harlan F. Stone of New York to be an associate justice of the supreme court and of Charles H. Warren of Michigan to succeed him as attorney general. Favorable action on both is expected.

In line with the promotion of Ambassador Kellogg, the president is understood to have in mind the advancement of Ambassador Haughton at Berlin to the post of St. James. With such a policy carried to a logical conclusion, there would be a general advancement of those in the diplomatic service.

Merriek Wants to Retire Although Ambassador Herrick at Paris might be considered next in line for the London post, the understanding here is that he prefers to remain at the French capital, where he has had many years of service. Moreover his desire for early retirement from the diplomatic corps has been reported.

Besides Ambassador Haughton others whose names are mentioned in connection with the ambassadorship to Great Britain are Ambassador Fletcher at Rome; Under-Secretary of State Gore; Solicitor General James M. Beck; and Senator Melvin McCormack of Illinois, who retired from the senate on Mar. 4.

Before that date, other changes in the cabinet are in prospect. Secretary of Agriculture Gore must retire on or before Mar. 4 to become governor of West Virginia, to which office he was elected last November, and Secretary of Labor Davis has asked to be retired at that time, although he may need to the executive's request that he remain.

Will H. Hays, retired as postmaster general and Albert B. Fall as secretary of the interior, before the death of President Harding, and when Mr. Coolidge succeeded to the presidency, Edwin Denby has resigned as secretary of the navy; Harry M. Daugherty was forced to resign as attorney general and Henry C. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, died in office.

Frank B. Forster Is Again Made Director

Frank P. Forster, president of the First National Bank of Sanford and a stockholder in the Florida National Bank in Jacksonville, was re-elected a member of the board of directors of that institution at the annual meeting of the stockholders held last week. Mr. Forster has been a director of the bank since its organization 10 years ago in 1909.

Two Quarters of Per Cent of Receipts To Go to Payment War Damages of America

Yearly Payments Will Be 13 Million

U. S. Becomes One of Parties To Dawes Reparations Plan

PARIS, Jan. 12.—Allocation of two quarters per cent of the receipts from Germany under the Dawes plan beginning with the first annuity as payment of American war damages is the first definitely settled point in discussions of the interallied financial conference.

The American occupation costs according to British sources, will be 20 installments of $30,000,000 annually beginning in 1926.

PARIS, Jan. 12.—General satisfaction that the United States through the agreement reached at the conference of allied ministers has become "one of the contracting parties to the Dawes plan and the general reparations question," was expressed by all the European delegations in informal conversations among the representatives of the powers today.

The European statesmen convened here held their talks from mere unofficial observers to the Americans have become "interested actors" in the solution of the reparations problem. The experts committee spent the entire day unraveling the mass of figures bearing on the Ruhr occupation, the Belgian priority payments and the total German deliveries in kind. The committee must announce its resolutions which will be presented for ratification by the plenary session at the conference Tuesday.

Army Cost Payments. Despite the screen of secrecy behind which the delegates are working, details of the terms of the agreement, gradually are leaking out. From British sources it has learned Sunday that by the Anglo-American agreement, the army cost payments will spread out over a period of 20 years, dating from the Wadsworth agreement of May, 1923.

This seems to be considered a success for the British. The payment of the American reparations claim will extend over the whole period of the Dawes annuities in the sum of a fixed percentage the figure not being presented for approval—beginning from the extinction of Belgian priority late in 1916.

The American figures of $350,000,000 for the total American war damage were not accepted by the British and the compromise agreement is said to provide for an annual percentage of the Dawes annuities the actual value of which is less than the original figure demanded by the Americans.

Again, information is volunteered that the United States will receive no interest on the capital amount of her claims except on arrears as between May 1923, the date of the Wadsworth agreement, and the beginning of the payments to the United States under the Dawes plan.

The American delegation when requested either to confirm or deny these details remarked that the entire matter was up to Washington. The delegates in Paris, they added, were bound to keep the character of the solution a secret until they had been approved.

A direct query as to whether the United States received anything in return for these concessions also failed to bring a reply, other than reference to Washington.

The British attach the greatest importance to the agreement which brings the United States officially into the reparations pool, with the right to a percentage, like the allies.

Rumanians Disappointed. The Rumanians make no secret of their disappointment over the direction of the conference that Rumania's claims for an increase of her share per cent fixed at Spa be held over for further discussion.
