

Wm. Powell, Myrna Loy Reunited In "After The Thin Man"

Famed 'Mr. and Mrs.' Team Solve Another Mystery In Sequel to First Hit

William Powell and Myrna Loy, the merriest, maddest married couple ever to come out of Hollywood, step from the last thrilling page of "The Thin Man" into the first hilarious chapter of the sequel millions have demanded be written, "After the Thin Man," which opens today at the Ritz Theater.

Dashiell Hammett, dean of smart, sophisticated mystery writers, was dared to top "The Thin Man" "After the Thin Man" is his answer.

"After the Thin Man" is more than just another sequel. It picks up in high gear where "The Thin Man" left off. Nick and Nora, having conquered New York, are on their way home to bustling, cosmopolitan San Francisco with its colorful, eerie Chinatown, its energetic ferries and its magnificent bridges. Nick has put his sleuthing career in moth balls for good. He and Nora want nothing but lots of peace and quiet relaxation. It is New Year's Eve when they arrive at the door of their swank Nob Hill home.

And they walk right into a whoopee party. Half of San Francisco, society, policemen, bums, race track hounds, ex-pugs and underworld friends, have dropped in to welcome them home.

The telephone rings. Over the wire, Hammett introduces Nick's headache, Nora's aristocratic family, the greatest group to be found outside of a museum.

Nick and Nora are invited to dinner. Selma, Nora's cousin, is in trouble. Her disreputable husband, Robert, has been missing for three days. Nora's teeny aunt, an overbearing grand dame, wouldn't have anything to do with Nick, but the family income must be kept out of the hands of the law.

At midnight, with Nora poodling him, Nick is at the Lickie, a Chinatown dive. Robert is found there with Bolly, a singer, and Nick suspects "Dancer," owner of the dive, with being involved in the murder.

Robert, however, takes a detour when she meets a handsome young man who poses as a penniless co-worker. Her co-worker, though, is a millionaire in disguise. He has arranged for his valet, Eric Blore, to become an advertising executive and give Ann as a model in order to pay constant attention to her.

home and shortly after is found murdered, shot to death. Selma is discovered with a gun in her hand. David, who has always loved her, comes to the rescue.

The rest of the story is a deep, dark secret, the ending locked in a safe. To assure that the usual climax would not be prematurely revealed, the last three scenes were not filmed until the rest of the picture was completed.

"Smartest Girl In Town" is Modern Love Story

Gene Raymond and Ann Sothern reach new heights in the sparkling, comely-romance "Smartest Girl in Town," which is scheduled to be shown at the Ritz Theater Tuesday.

Delightful humor is combined with a fast-moving plot which gives the fullest play to the versatile talents of one of the screen's most popular romantic teams.

The comedy, which is definitely keyed to ultra-modern entertainment tastes, is built around the marital aims of a lovely photographer's model, Miss Sothern, who decides that the pathway to matrimonial bliss must be paved with gold.

Her heart, however, takes a detour when she meets a handsome young man who poses as a penniless co-worker. Her co-worker, though, is a millionaire in disguise. He has arranged for his valet, Eric Blore, to become an advertising executive and give Ann as a model in order to pay constant attention to her.

Both Raymond and Miss Sothern have roles made to order and their present efforts promise to be among the most successful in the picture.

Elissa Landi Is Star Of Mystery At Ritz Friday

While a Chinese dragon writhes its way across the stage, blood drips from a theater box in San Francisco's Chinatown, and thus murder finds its unique setting in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's mystery thriller, "Mad Holiday," which plays at the Ritz Theater Friday with Edmund Lowe and Elissa Landi in the leading roles.

For Miss Landi this is her first picture under her new long-term contract with M-G-M. With four successful novels to her credit, and a fifth, "Today the Rebels," ready for full publication, she plays a writer of detective fiction for the first time.

Lowe, who has played detective characters in many previous films, among them Philo Vance in "The Garden Murder Case," comes near impersonating himself in "Mad Holiday."

Others in featured roles include Zasu Pitts, Ted Healy, Edmund Gwenn, Edgar Kennedy, Soo Yong, Walter Kingsford, Herbert Rawlinson, Raymond Hatton, Rafaela Ottiano, Harlan Briggs and Gustav Von Seyffertitz.

Action takes place on a coast-wise steamship between Los Angeles and San Francisco, and in the San Francisco Chinatown theater.

Edward Arnold Tops "Come And Get It" Lineup

"Come And Get It!" Samuel Goldwyn's production of Edna Ferber's colorful novel of the lumber camps, brings Edward Arnold, Joel McCrea and Francis Farmer to the Ritz Theater for two days beginning next Wednesday.

Arnold has his greatest role as Barney Glasgow, the great lumber baron who, in his youth had given up love for power, and years later is mocked by his own decision when he falls madly in love with the daughter of the woman he once loved, and finds his own son his successful rival.

Joel McCrea is seen as the son and Frances Farmer, the lovely blonde newcomer, plays both the mother and daughter Arnold loves.

Madly Christians, versatile Viennese actress, is seen in the important featured role of Aunt Karie, and Walter Brennan, the unforgettable "Old Atrocity" of "Barbary Coast," has his best role to date as "Swan," the colorful old Swedish lumberman.

Others prominently cast are Mary Nash, the distinguished stage star, Frank Shields, the tennis ace, and Andrea Leeds, the beautiful new Goldwyn discovery.

Commenting on this, Mr. S. Roy Luby, who directed the picture, replied as follows to an interested newspaper man, who saw some of the scenes taken during production, and enquired as to the probability of the many killing incidents recorded.

"His Brother's Wife" Theater Next Friday

Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Taylor form the screen's newest romantic team in "His Brother's Wife," which comes to the Princess Theater Friday.

Taylor, regarded as the most beautiful man in the world, and Stanwyck, the most beautiful woman, are joined to name comes into his newest leading role following such hits as "Private Number," "Small Town Girl" and "Magnificent Obsession."

The new picture, adapted to the screen by Leon Gordon and Joan Meehan, also features Jean Hersholt who has become tremendously popular as the result of starring roles in "The Country Doctor" and "Sins of Man."

Also in the cast are Joseph Calleia, the screen's leading "bad boy," and Phyllis Cole.

Deanna Durbin To Make Screen Debut At Ritz

Dainty Deanna Durbin, a brilliant and altogether charming personality will be introduced to local movie fans Wednesday and Thursday when Universal's gay comedy drama, "Three Smart Girls," starts its run at the Ritz theater. Deanna's voice has been heard previously on national radio broadcasts for many months.

Surrounded by a cast of established cinema favorites including Billie Barnes, Alice Brady, Ray Milland and Charles Winninger, this youthful newcomer to the screen lives up to advance notices of her musical genius.

She proves, too, that she is much more than just a singing child prodigy. Possessing exquisite beauty and rare charm, the talented youngster gives a smooth performance.

"Three Smart Girls" tells the amusing story of three daughters of a rich New Yorker who upset their father's May-December romance with a gold-digging blonde. The title roles are played by little Miss Durbin, Nan Grey and Barbara Reed.

Madrid Rushes Evacuation Of Non-Fighters

Insurgent General Orders Execution Of 15,000 Troops, Deserters Assert

England, France Continue Efforts

Hitler Expresses Desire For 'Reconcili- ation Of Peoples'

MADRID, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Madrid's defense command today ordered a 24-hour evacuation of 2,500 non-combatants to the south and announced 11 Fascist deserters related that one of the insurgent generals ordered 15,000 persons shot in the first six months of the civil war.

Twenty-five hundred women, children and old men were the first day's allotment in a new city in empty Madrid of all but fighters and make it the military school of a siege. Their destination was Ciudad, in Real Province.

From the Coruña high command in the south came the deserters' stories. It was General Gonzalo Queipo de Llana, Fascist southern commander, who ordered 15,000 executions, they were quoted as saying. They also said while battalions of German troops, completely equipped with supplies, ambulances, fast motor-cycles, trucks and automobiles, joined insurgents at Seville.

As the work of removing non-combatants from Madrid went on, both sides of the civil war rushed up supplies for a new battle.

Great Britain and France continued preparations on land and sea today for trouble in Morocco, according to the news directly to General Francisco Franco, the acknowledged leader of Spain's Fascist movement.

In Germany Adolf Hitler, who denied the regular German troops have invaded Spanish Morocco, had conciliatory words and expressed desire for "real reconciliation among peoples" as he talked with diplomats but he said nothing about Spain.

Britain again demanded that interested governments stop sending volunteers to the "little World War" and banned British enlistments in Spain.

Belgium believed that Italy might agree to stop volunteers from going to the aid of the (Continued On Page Three)

Fruit Growers Are Asked To Attend Grapefruit Meet

Seminole County grapefruit growers today were invited to meet with members of the Florida Grapefruit Growers' League in Winter Haven on Jan. 21 to discuss several phases of the industry.

Included on the program are such topics as price stabilization, orderly marketing procedure, national promotion of grapefruit during January and February by the National Association of Chain Food Stores, the State-wide "Buy a Box of Grapefruit" movement of the State Chamber of Commerce, and plans for a future meeting with other grapefruit growers in Texas, Arizona and California.

It was announced that more than $5,000,000 will be spent in a campaign beginning Jan. 14 for national promotion of the fruit through newspapers, radio, banners, posters and streamers.

Newspaperman Declares Masaryk Is Greatest Man

Former Associated Press Correspondent Lays Honor At Feet Of Czecho- slovakian President

Dr. John Palmer Gavit of New York City and Winter Park was the principal speaker at the Rotary Club held at the Mayfair Hotel today. Formerly chief of the Washington Bureau of the Associated Press, and later editor of the New York Evening Post, Dr. Gavit told Rotarians of many of his personal experiences with people of all types and nations during his quest for news.

Though he paid tribute to President Roosevelt, former President Wilson, and termed former President Taft a very dear friend, Dr. Gavit said that none of these was the greatest president he had ever known. That designation he reserved for Dr. Thomas G. Masaryk, president of the central European republic of Czechoslovakia.

Peopled largely by Bohemians, Czechoslovakia, Dr. Gavit declared, is probably the most literate nation in the world, ranking above England, Finland, and Sweden where the widest opportunities for the lowest classes are generally said to exist. President Masaryk himself was the son of a most unusual woman, who for many years served as a cook in a private home, Dr. Gavit said.

Dr. Gavit also cautioned his audience not to become headline readers. "Find out what is in the story underneath the headlines," he advised. "That is where the real truth lies."

Among the visitors at today's luncheon were David C. Howard of Buffalo, N. Y., J. C. Chase of Winter Park, Joe Duckworth of Tuscaloosa, Ala., L. H. Gibbs of Orlando, Braxton Huntley of Sanford, and L. R. Lasher, a recent arrival in this city.

Funeral services for Mrs. John Sauls, who was killed here Friday in an automobile accident, will be held at 3 P. M. Wednesday from the All Saints Episcopal Church in Benson Springs, her home.

The Rev. J. W. Austin, pastor of the Methodist Church, will officiate assisted by the Rev. R. T. Caldwell of Mulberry, formerly a Benson Springs minister.

The body is to lie in state in the Methodist Church, between 1 P. M. and 3 P. M. Wednesday. Interment is to be beside the grave of her husband who succumbed in 1913.

Active pallbearers are A. K. Rossetter, A. L. Betts, B. F. Whitner, Sr., B. L. Perkins, all of Sanford, and C. R. Shannon and John Padgett, both of Benson Springs. Honorary pallbearers are W. J. Burns, William Padgett, A. T. Rossetter, Frank Dickens, Henry Dickens, D. P. Smith of DeLand, and the Hon. Cary D. Landis, DeLand.

Surviving Mrs. Sauls are a son, Ralph J. Sauls of Atlanta, Ga.; a daughter, Mrs. Leon M. Wright of San Diego, Calif.; two brothers, A. J. Bodine and S. C. Bodine, of New York State; and three sisters, Miss Mary Bodine, Miss Esther Bodine and Mrs. Fred Grinch, all of New York.

Mrs. Sauls had been a resident of Benson Springs for 54 years, coming to the section at the age of 18. Mr. Sauls, who died in 1913, was in the mercantile business for 40 years in Volusia County. He was associated with William S. Thayer.

New Appeal Issued To Return Or Buy Health Unit Seals

Mrs. P. M. Scott, secretary of the Seminole County Tuberculosis and Health Association, today reiterated an appeal that Sanforites return unpurchased Christmas seals or remit the purchase price of the stickers.

"Many who did not plan to buy seals merely overlooked returning them to the Association," Mrs. Scott said. "It is necessary that we reclaim as many unpurchased seals as possible.

"Of course, the Association much prefers the money instead of unused seals, since it has an expansive and humanitarian program before it which can only be completed with the aid of cash. We hope Sanford citizens will co-operate with us."

More Relief Funds Asked By President

Seeks $750,000,000 To Make Work For 2,500,000 People Through Winter

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today asked Congress for a deficiency appropriation of $750,000,000 to provide work during winter months for at least 2,500,000 persons, a net reduction of more than 800,000 persons since last March.

In so doing he mentioned as a fact worth noting that a "tendency toward a longer work week has had an extremely important effect on re-employment."

In his request to the House, which was read to members by a clerk, the President reiterated a message expressed in his budget proposals that employers would take as many workers as possible off relief by giving them jobs in private industry.

The President said employers who are working employes unreasonably long hours are not co-operating with the Government in putting more people back to work.

Power Company Pleased By Year Of Good Business

Coleman Says Elec- tricity Consumption On Increase

A steady but growing trend toward electrification in Sanford was evidenced through 1936, it was reported today in an annual review of Florida Power and Light Company activities by H. H. Coleman, local manager of the firm.

Probably the most outstanding feature of the report were statistics which showed a 15 percent gain in use of electricity in residences. The rise was recorded in kilowatt hours, Mr. Coleman said.

This additional power was necessary to facilitate the use of 260 electric refrigerators, 72 electric ranges and 50 electric water heaters, the power company manager reported.

Another bright feature of the year's activity, according to Mr. Coleman, was the installation of 12 complete electrical kitchens in Sanford homes.

Power company records also revealed a decided jump in the sale of lighting equipment, a fact to which Mr. Coleman attributes an expansive advertising campaign on "better lighting" which was carried on by Florida Power and Light throughout the 12 months of 1936.

Local indications point very strongly to larger increase this year in use of electricity than was recorded last year, it was reported.

Mr. Coleman said his firm is expecting to increase its power distribution facilities at some during the year to adequately care for the added demand for power.

Parachutists Give Excellent Reason For Not Jumping

Two first-time parachute jumpers, slated to "bail out" over Municipal Airport yesterday afternoon didn't jump for what they describe as a very good reason—they didn't have any parachutes.

H. B. Kaywood, flying instructor, and Bill Keifer, aviation mechanic, were to be given their first taste of "bites" but had in their possession a fair crowd because Bob O'Dell, Municipal Airport parachute man, was confined to his bed and could pack no parachutes.

O'Dell is having serious trouble with his tonsils, and infection from them went to his ankles, the weakest joints in his body, a condition resulting from hard knocks sustained in his profession.

A physician said O'Dell will not be able to walk for at least ten days.

Delegates Of Union Head For Capital Auto Strike Confab

DETROIT, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers whose strikes have thrown nearly 100,000 out of work in General Motors automotive plants, today said he and John Brophy are leaving this afternoon for Washington to confer with John L. Lewis, head of a committee for industrial organization.

Brophy is director of the Lewis committee which is supporting the automobile union's dispute with General Motors.

Non-union employees of the Pontiac Motor Company, General Motors unit at Pontiac, Mich., said they elected bodily from the plant five union men who attempted to start a wildcat strike there this morning.

Negro Woman Crashes Through Display Window Of Store

Local police records today held reports of three motor accidents occurring in the City limits over the week-end.

Yesterday afternoon Mattie Burke, negro, mistook reverse gear position on her automobile for that of low gear, stepped on the gas and smashed through the plate glass window of the Smith Furniture Company at First Street and Palmetto Avenue.

The vehicle went backward over the entire width of the street and ended its wild flight in such a position that it might have been a part of the furniture exhibit in the store window. Police did not estimate the resulting damage but arrested the negroess who was later released on bond.

Early today Mrs. Ruth Pyle of the Dew Drop Inn crashed into a bridge near Field's Service Station on West First Street and sustained minor injuries which were treated by Dr. W. A. Scott.

Police said her automobile was badly damaged. The official report said Mrs. Pyle's vision was impaired by a heavy cloud of fog in which she ran off the center of the road and failed to see the bridge.

Congressman J. Mark Wilcox from Washington announced today that he has arranged a conference between representatives of Florida fruit and vegetable growers and the Committee for Reciprocity Agreement on the subject of the Cuban Trade Agreement.

The conference will take place at the office of the Committee on Friday, Jan. 22. A number of representatives of Florida agriculture are expected to be present at the meeting to present the Committee with facts relating to the effect of the Cuban trade agreement on Florida agriculture, Wilcox said.

Wilcox said he considered the meeting of vital importance to the future welfare of Florida agriculture inasmuch as this is the committee upon which the State department relies for accurate information in its guidance in the negotiations of trade treaties.

At the same time Congressman Wilcox revealed that he intends to introduce legislation which will have the effect of providing adequate protection for Florida fruit and vegetable growers in the negotiation of any future agreement.

135 Men, 78 Women Employed In Week On Local Projects

Six Seminole County WPA projects employed 135 men last week while sewing room projects of the same governmental organization gave work to 78 women. W. S. Earle, work director and engineer, reported today.

One of the principal pieces of work under way is the improvement of Municipal Athletic Field where workers are expected to complete by tomorrow the reconditioning of the baseball diamond's infield.

Mr. Earle said a slight change had been made in plans for the proposed baseball school of the Chattahoochee Lookouts, postponing the venture from its scheduled opening next month until about March 1.

Other WPA projects under way in the County include improvements to the State Market, repairs to the Paula Road, reurfacing Sanford Avenue, construction of a public park and swimming pool at Ovidale, and repairs to the Big Tree Road.

Pioneer Seminole Resident Is Dead In Valdosta, Ga.

Mrs. Sara LaZette, for five years a resident of Sanford and 25 years a citizen of Ovidale, succumbed yesterday in Valdosta, Ga., according to information received here today.

Funeral services are to be held in Valdosta tomorrow, it was announced.

Mrs. LaZette is survived by Miss Olive LaZette, a daughter, of 2115 Palmetto Avenue, Sanford; and another daughter, Mrs. R. H. Hasford of Valdosta. Other relatives survive in New York State.

Big Slot Robbery From Monk's Place Nets About $500

One of the most profitable slot machine robberies on local police records was being investigated today following the smashing of three coin devices in Monk's Place on Magnolia Avenue.

Police Chief Roy Williams said all the money contained in a 50-cent machine, 25-cent device, and a 10-cent mechanism was removed, netting the early Monday morning prowlers probably somewhere in the neighborhood of $500.

Entrance to Monk's Place was gained through the skylight, the chief reported. The unidentified party came down with the aid of a rope ladder which broke in the process of his descending.

Police said the machines were almost completely demolished and probably were beyond repair.

Chamber Directors Will Meet Tuesday

Regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce is scheduled for 7:30 P. M. tomorrow, President T. E. Simpson said today.

The president made an urgent appeal that all members of the unit be present, pointing out that the season is the first of the new year and that good attendance is desired for the initial meeting.

High Voltage

There is probably no other thing in the world, as innocent looking, that is quite as dangerous as a live wire. Strung between poles alongside of every road, these wires look perfectly harmless, and we become so accustomed to them that we grow to think of them as nothing more likely to interrupt our life and happiness than a simple piece of string.

And yet surging through the copper core of these live wires are thousands and thousands of volts of electricity which, as long as they run into the right channels, can turn darkness into light, make our machinery run, and accomplish all sorts of miraculous deeds, but when on the loose they have the power to strike down human life with a suddenness and effectiveness that defies comparison.

The local negro who was cutting down a tree near the Paola road last week did not climb up the power company's pole and play with the electric wiring. He did not find a broken but live wire lying on the ground and thoughtlessly pick it up. He simply chopped down a tree, much as any other wood chopper might, but the tree happened to fall against some wires. He reached up and took hold of the branches of the tree to drag it off the wires.

The tree happened to be full of sap, forming an excellent conductor for the electricity, and the negro was killed instantly. A white man working nearby also tried to remove the tree from the wires, but fortunately seized the tree lower down, farther away from the wires, and was only slightly injured. Had he touched the negro while the negro was touching the tree, or had he touched the tree himself as high up as the negro had, he too would have been killed instantly.

So you cannot be too careful where electric wires are involved. If you are ever in any doubt as to whether the wire is live or not, you had better assume it is. For if you should make a mistake and conclude that a line is dead, when it is alive, you would probably never live to tell the tale. Keep away from electric wires, and keep away from anything that happens to be in contact with live wires.

Protecting Wild Life

In an effort to aid law enforcement officers in their fight to stamp out the crime of game "bootlegging," wildlife racketeering, and similar law violations, the American Wildlife Institute has started a "Law Enforcement Fund," according to a recent communication from that organization.

The founder of the fund is Major Max C. Fleischmann, chairman of the Finance Committee of Standard Brands, Inc., a member of the Board of Trustees of the Institute, and prominent sportsman and conservationist of California and Nevada. Declaring that every true sportsman should do his share in aiding law enforcement authorities to stop market hunting, the illegal sale of game and other infractions of the "sportsman's law," Major Fleischmann made a large contribution for this purpose at a recent dinner given by the Institute in New York.

"The American Wildlife Institute stands for the restoration of wildlife resources on the North American continent," said Major Fleischmann. "Market hunters and game bootleggers are nothing less than criminals who ply their trade at the sportsman's expense. The sportsman toll they take annually works a hardship upon all hunters who practice the true spirit of sportsmanship and live up to the traditions of the ancient art of venery. We should do our utmost to combat this evil and to salvage the wildlife resources of this country for the enjoyment and benefit of those justly entitled to them."

Major Fleischmann's appeal did not fall on disinterested ears. He was quickly joined, as co-sponsor of the fund, by Eltinge F. Warner, publisher of Field and Stream Magazine, who made a substantial contribution for a period of five years. Mr. Warner is vice-chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Institute. Another ardent supporter of the fund is Frank L. Cheek, who is also enthusiastic concerning the possibilities of such a fund.

Thus there came into being the "Law Enforcement Fund" of the American Wildlife Institute, and public support of it is earnestly solicited. Funds, in any amount, "ear-marked" for this purpose, will be administered by the Executive Committee of the Institute, Frederic Ewing, chairman, and through recognized law enforcement agencies, with the enforcement division of the United States Bureau of Biological Survey being the principal recipient of this support.

The fund marks the beginning of a new crusade against the illegal taking and sale of game. Prosecution of violators of both migratory and upland game laws comes within the scope of the fund.

Sanford Twenty Years Ago

A number of Sanford folks attended the Baptist convention in Orlando at various times during the week and all report a fine time and splendid meeting. Among those who went over were: Dr. George Hyman, Mrs. M. C. Savage, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Brisson, Miss Anne Hawkins, Mrs. George Hyman, Mrs. Schelle Malnes, Mrs. W. C. DeCoursey, Mrs. Tolar, Mrs. L. V. Bryan, Mrs. M. J. Hawkins, Mrs. W. E. Scrogan, Mrs. James Taylor, Miss Allie Trafford, Mrs. H. E. Connelly, and Mrs. M. P. Thomas of Jacksonville who is visiting Mrs. Savage.

Among last week's visitors at The Herald office was Harlan Kelly, son of John M. Kelly, attorney for the late John King. Now a "big shot" in the Wisconsin city of Sheboygan, a place somewhat larger than Orlando, Harlan was once society editor on The Sanford Herald. Though he wrote up pink teas, weddings, and bridge parties for us solely as a pinch hitter in an emergency, he insists that his friends still kid him about his newspaper career in Sanford. And the funny thing about it was that Harlan did a pretty good job, too.

The United States has many more highways over other nations. The numbers also in the world are thirty-five thousand people are killed and hundreds of thousands of others injured on these highways every year. The cause of these accidents is the carelessness of such drivers who are practically blind. They have only one arm or eye, or they are unable to hear, or they are ignorant that it is their duty to learn traffic laws, or they are too stupid to read a sign, or they are too drunk to drive. High Voltage

There is probably no other thing in the world, as innocent looking, that is quite as dangerous as a live wire. Strung between poles alongside of every road, these wires look perfectly harmless, and we become so accustomed to them that we grow to think of them as nothing more likely to interrupt our life and happiness than a simple piece of string.

And yet surging through the copper core of these live wires are thousands and thousands of volts of electricity which, as long as they run into the right channels, can turn darkness into light, make our machinery run, and accomplish all sorts of miraculous deeds, but when on the loose they have the power to strike down human life with a suddenness and effectiveness that defies comparison.

The local negro who was cutting down a tree near the Paola road last week did not climb up the power company's pole and play with the electric wiring. He did not find a broken but live wire lying on the ground and thoughtlessly pick it up. He simply chopped down a tree, much as any other wood chopper might, but the tree happened to fall against some wires. He reached up and took hold of the branches of the tree to drag it off the wires.

The tree happened to be full of sap, forming an excellent conductor for the electricity, and the negro was killed instantly. THE ORANGE BLOSSOM is one of the most fragrant of all the flowers of the world and is also one (of many) that is pollinated by night-flying insects. Its chief use in Florida is in the manufacture of neroli or orange flower oil, used extensively in making perfumery, soaps and in syrups. In South America the orange blossoms are made into a stimulating and fragrant beverage. The popularity of this beautiful flower is evinced in many ways. It has been chosen as the official state flower and also as the official symbol of both the State Federation of Garden Clubs and the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

New Commissioners Discontinue County Highway Motor Unit

Commissioner Thrasher sponsored a motion authorizing the termination of the services of T. E. Pitchford, County engineer, at the end of 60 days.

The new Board authorized an expenditure by Sheriff C. E. Hend of $30 for books in the County Jail, and an additional amount of $25 for plumbing repairs in the prison.

It was directed that the motor equipment of the highway patrol be stored in the County vault at the Court House where it will be available by the Sheriff but at no expense to the County.

Rising temperatures and falling snow today brought the middle west a surcease from the coldest spell of winter, but deep snows still hampered the Rocky Mountain Region and some east-central states felt the threat of flood waters.

"Pending the introduction of this bill, however," he said, "I deem it to be of the utmost importance that the Committee for Reciprocity Information shall be given full, complete and accurate information concerning the present treaty with Cuba and the necessity for modification in any contemplated renewal or extension of that treaty."

A preliminary conference will be held at Wilcox on Jan. 21. The full Florida congressional delegation as well as the representatives of Florida agriculture are expected to attend the conference.

Trio Of Wrecks Recorded Here Over Week-End

(Continued from Page One) Weaver was blinded by the lights of an approaching automobile. Other police records of the week-end included the docketing of the following negroes: George Williams, charged with assault, turned over to the County; Willie Chastine and Henry King, charged with disorderly conduct; and Willie Harris, charged with drunkenness.

Others resulted with Mrs. Rowe being elected president; Mrs. Schelle Malnes, vice-president; Miss Esale Whittle, secretary and treasurer; and Miss Jeanette Laing, reporter. Those present were: Mrs. Ernest Betts, Mrs. Thomas Getzen, Mrs. James Taylor, and the Misses Daisy Betts, Ruth Whittle, Martha Fox, and the new officers.

Joe Cameron is having 60 acres more land cleared near his home farm.

Library Is Sought To Honor Memory Of City's Founder

John Sanford To Receive Appeal For Donation Of Building, Art Objects
Rollins Backs Local Venture
Dedication Would Be Part Of Ceremonies Scheduled Feb. 8

Efforts by the City Commission were formally under way today to secure a memorial library which would bear the name of Gen. H. S. Sanford, for whom this municipality was named.

An appeal for the institution will be forwarded to John Sanford as one of the principal heirs of the general, during his lifetime, collected what is regarded as one of the best libraries in the south.

The collection includes rare volumes of all types, important newspapers, valuable documents, and priceless works of art such as busts, paintings and other items.

It is the hope of the City Commission that Mr. Sanford will erect a modern, fire-proof building here and transfer the general's collection into the structure for perpetuation.

Communications from Rollins College have indicated that the educational institution, which recognizes the Sanford collection as one of importance, will back this city in its efforts.

Commissioners point out that the location of the Sanford library here would make its content available to students at both Rollins College and Stetson University.

The proposal to seek the collection was indicated by the planning of a tentative program for the observance of the 100th anniversary of the founding of the City on Feb. 8. The event will be under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

It has been proposed also that the old Sanford home at Derby be taken down and removed here for reconstruction just as it is in its current location. Both the home and the library would be dedicated on Feb. 8.

The problem of upkeep for each of the units has not been discussed in detail, although there were indications that a method to care for current expenses is under consideration.

First Report On Celery Is Issued From Local Office

Seminole County's first celery report of 1937 was issued here yesterday afternoon by R. E. Winfree, of the Florida State Marketing Bureau, and reflected the market in ten principal cities of the United States.

In only one trading center, Boston, was there any indication of dullness, and supplies were liberal there.

The general average per car ranged in the neighborhood of $2.

Mr. Winfree's report covered Cleveland, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Detroit, New York, Chicago, Boston, Baltimore and St. Louis.

To date, the report concluded, a total of 377 carloads of the vegetable have been shipped from Florida during the current season.

Initial Building Permit Is Granted

The Somerset Corporation obtained the first building permit issued this year in Sanford, according to records of G. P. Paxton, city building inspector.

Permission to do $1,500 worth of repairs and additions on the telephone building at Park Avenue and Rand Alley was granted.

Workers have been employed on the job for several days.

Another union of families with opposing views regarding the New Deal appeared on the horizon with the announcement that Eleanor Roosevelt (above), daughter of Mrs. Henry Latrobe Roosevelt and a relative of the President, will be married to Reverend Wadsworth, son of Rep. James W. Wadsworth, Republican, of New York. (Associated Press Photo)

Plans Change In Executive Unit Of U.S.

President Proposes Sweeping Revision Of Machinery For Federal Operation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today recommended to Congress a sweeping reorganization of the government's administrative machinery that would create two new cabinet posts, social welfare and public works, and eventually would bunch 105 Federal agencies in 12 departments.

Transmitting a report of the special committee which had studied the question for months, he also proposed: extension of civil service to all non-policy-determining positions including all postmasters and departmental jobs except highest executives; increasing cabinet salaries from $18,000 to $20,000 per year; substituting civil service administration and unpaid citizens' board for the Civil Service Commission; giving the President six executive assistants to relieve him of tremendous detail work; substitution of regular police protection for the business district on Sanford Avenue was authorized last night by City Commissioners and Chief Roy Williams, instructed to employ a full-time officer for the beat.

In the past, merchants in the district have cooperated to contribute small amounts for a watchman while the City augmented the salary with a small sum. This arrangement proved entirely unsatisfactory, it was explained, and only a part of the sector patrolled regularly.

Chief Williams indicated that J. B. Quadebaum will be given the patrolman's job. Salary was set at $20 per week.

Commissioners voted an allocation of $10 for the placement of red "cat eyes" in the streets at several dangerous intersections, selected by Chief Williams. An additional $22.50 was authorized to replace large red reflectors to be set on perilous corners.

A report from attorneys of the Sanford Board of Health, Protective Committee, announced only 75 bonds were represented in complaints filed against the proposed bond refunding plan of the City.

Interest which gave indications that an agreement could be reached.

Wendell C. Heaton, Florida Industrial Commissioner, informed

Jack Hoxie, western star of the silver and sound screen, passed through Sanford yesterday afternoon and in Easton criticized Florida's justice law.

Hoxie's statement followed a narrow escape on the highway near Deland when his automobile struck a cow and the occupants of the vehicle barely missed being injured.

"Every State highway should be fenced," the Associated Press quoted the motion picture lumina. "It wouldn't cost much to do this in Florida, because posts could be made from the millions of feet of lumber going to waste in the State."

Thirteen committees totaling 38 persons are active today in preparing for the Seminole County Fair and Celery Display slated to open here Jan. 25 and close Jan. 29. Jack Purcell, manager, announced.

The groups are as follows: Executive, finance, publicity, grounds, parade, home demonstrations, agricultural displays and exhibits, dairy and beef cattle show, poultry show, pony show, automobile show and Future Farmers activity.

Permission already has been granted for the exposition to use a vacant City lot in the vicinity of the Arcade building, it was announced.

Eradication Of Pest Fly Is City's Aim

Paxton May Pay Visit To Other Communities For Study Of Control Methods

City officials today took steps toward the eradication of "pest flies" bred in rotting citrus fruits and peels, by the appointment of a survey man who will attempt to locate the origin of the plague of insects now thickening the local atmosphere.

The move by the municipal Government was the second made within the past week, since County Commissioners several days ago instructed their attorney, E. P. Houlihan, to investigate a purported nuisance caused by the flies in the Golden Lake section.

City Health Inspector G. P. Paxton probably will visit other cities in this immediate section for the purpose of learning methods of pest fly control used in various settlements.

Inspector Paxton has covered the City thoroughly and reported that the breeding places of the local insects apparently are not within the limits of the community.

The survey man probably will be sent out of Sanford proper for an inspection of outlying regions.

Officials have expressed a belief that assistance to aged persons, which began on Oct. 1, now covers 7,000 needy residents over 70 years of age. Monthly payments range up to $30 per month with funds being supplied jointly by the State and Federal governments.

Commissioner Van Hynning praised the work of the State's 12 district boards. Mrs. Ridge said, asserting their staffs were "highly commendable."

"Their work has developed community interest and understanding which is perhaps the most valuable result of all," he remarked. "Welfare work cuts across many fields, and is so much the responsibility, and no one person or group can be held responsible for its direction is good."

With but three business days remaining before 1936 automobile license tags become void, Tax Collector Jno. D. Jenkins today again warned motorists of the inconvenience of waiting to the last minute before purchasing plates.

Past experiences, the collector asserted, show that some persons have been forced to wait in line for more than an hour because they delayed their tag buying until the last minute.

Mr. Jenkins reiterated his offer to assist those who find it inconvenient to "dig up" last year's registration cards and other data necessary for the issuance of a license.

If the 1936 tag was purchased from the local collector's office, the new plate may be obtained by presenting only the number of the '36 tag.

New Rattlesnake, Seven Feet Long, Presented To Zoo

A rattlesnake, more than six feet in length, was presented to Municipal Zoo last night by Fred Lewis and J. O. Mitchell, Superintendent James Moughton announced today.

The reptile was described as being in fine condition.

Mr. Moughton said the local menagerie now has four rattlers on display, the largest about seven feet long.

None of the captive reptiles, according to the superintendent, have exhibited any trace of the rattler characteristic—sometimes evidenced—of refusing food until it is freed or starves to death.

Woodard Takes Over Local Gas Station

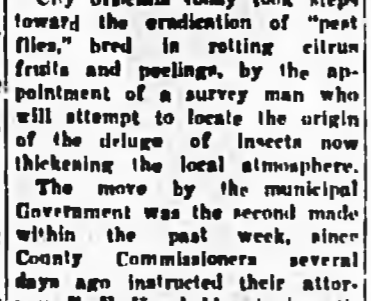

Hoyt Woodard today announced the assumption of management of the Atlantic Service Station located on the corner of Third Street and Park Avenue.

Mr. Woodard formerly was employed at the Sinclair Station, Second Street and Park Avenue.

The new manager purchased the location from C. C. Whittington, former operator.

Municipal Court Hears Various Minor Charges

Drunkenness, Disorderly Conduct Predominate Weekly Session; New Prison Feeding System In Effect

Charges of disorderly conduct against 12 persons before Municipal Court yesterday drew a fine of $25 or 60 days in prison.

Drunk and disorderly charges docked against J. H. Bowden, who, residing in the town of 225 Bond, when the defendant failed to appear before Judge Frank Miller.

A suspended sentence of 90 days was assessed against Robbie Olson, 28-year-old white woman who was booked on a charge of suspicion.

Maude Bourke, negro, who smashed her automobile through the plate glass window of Smith's Furniture Company Sunday, was dismissed when insufficient evidence was introduced to prove her guilty of reckless driving.

A $5 fine or 10-day prison sentence was handed to William Harris, negro, charged with drunkenness. The same sentence or fine was pronounced against Annie Mae Williams, black, charged with assault, and against Della Murray, negro, charged with disorderly conduct.

William Harris, black, alleged to have been drunk, also drew $5 of 10 days.

J. M. Robinson, negro, was turned over to the County following his arrest by City police on grounds of suspicion of robbery. George Williams, black, also was returned to the County on an assault charge.

J. M. Garrett, charged with suspicion, was dismissed for lack of evidence.

Chief of Police Roy Williams announced that City Jail is now operating under a new system of feeding its own prisoners, a departure from the method formerly used when City and County pooled funds for providing prison food in both penal institutions.

Sanfordites Asked To Affiliate With Shuffleboard Club

Local persons as well as winter visitors and tourists today were invited to join the Sanford Shuffleboard Club whose courts are located beside the City Ice station.

Only a small membership fee is charged, officers pointed out, and all collections are placed in a fund used to purchase new equipment as the club personnel grows.

All members will be given an opportunity to show their capability of participating in matches with clubs from other cities. Two contests have been tentatively scheduled, one with Deland and another with Orlando.

Officers of the organization are E. Z. Haines, president; P. D. Cobb, vice-president; and W. H. Francis, secretary-treasurer.

Biggers Wishes New Convict Captain Best Of Luck On New Job

Paul Biggers, former convict captain, holds no grudges against anyone for the loss of his job and had words only of the highest praise for the man who is taking his place when seen by a Herald reporter this morning.

"Mr. Steele is a mighty fine man," Mr. Biggers said, "and I wish him the best of luck on his new job. If there is any way I can help him, I am going to
