S. A. Rose Speaks At 4th Session

Another overflow crowd attended the fourth session of the Sanford Garden Club's Landscape and Gardening School heard Sylvester A. Rose last night as he spoke on Maintenance of Landscape Plantings.

The Asst. Ornamental Horticulturist of the University of Florida Agricultural Extension Service divided his evening lecture into three phases: (1) preparation of soil, (2) planting and transplanting and (3) pruning plants.

Following the lecture a question and answer period on the topics discussed was held.

Rose, a native of Rhode Island, received his education at the University of Rhode Island and Ohio State University.

He owned and operated a commercial florist business in Cincinnati, Ohio for seven years. Following this experience he taught floriculture and ornamental horticulture courses at Ohio University for 5 years.

Rose joined the Agricultural Extension Service in September of last year.

The instructor, in his discussion relating to the preparation of soil explained also the removal of debris and undesirable material as well as the preparation and inclusion, too, the addition of organic matter and fertilizer.

He emphasized, in his planning and transplanting discussions, the selection of plant material until set out, digging of holes for plant placement, after planting care, and reasons for the failure of newly planted shrubs and plants to grow properly.

Rose pointed out the reasons why pruning is necessary and then turned to the time for pruning and how to accomplish both the trimming of shrubs in pruning and trees, due to the interesting phases of his discussion the development of a good healthy hedge from the ground up and the care of large "wounds" to prevent decay.

Home Retirement Subdivision To Be Erected Here Soon

An agreement to move a ditch 300 feet east on the north side of the County Club Road brought out plans yesterday for a 300 home retirement subdivision.

George H. Garrison, an Orlando developer, requested the Board of Seminole County Commissioners at its meeting yesterday to move the ditch to make way for construction of the homes which is estimated to start in about 60 days. A 40-foot easement was granted, the county for moving the ditch.

Garrison told the Board of County Commissioners that the 99 acre tract will be called Country Club Estates and that homes will be in the $7,500 dollar bracket.

The developer described his property as being approximately 800 feet from the Sanford City limits.

Primary Road Budget Hearings Set Mar. 25

The possibilities of a causeway across Lake Monroe came up again yesterday at the meeting of the Board of Seminole County Commissioners when discussions arose concerning primary roads and the budget for the next year.

Hearings will be held to set up the county's primary road budget with the State Road Department in Deland on Mar. 25 at 9:30 a.m. It was also proposed that a survey be made for a causeway across Lake Jesup into Oviedo. The Board of Commissioners agreed that the survey should be requested.

Number one item in the next year's primary road plan would be the Otwell Bridge on State Road 415, the extension of State Road 46 west from Mellonville Ave., and the causeway across Lake Monroe from French Ave.

A secondary road program was set up. However, the Board of Commissioners were advised that there was no money in the secondary road funds for work in the county during the next fiscal year.

Brailley Odham, chairman of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Long Range Highway Planning Committee told the commissioners, "We definitely need to survey the secondary needs of the county and determine what we should have."

"We've got 17-92 into Sanford," said Commissioner John Krider, "and somehow we've got to get it out."

"If we don't do something about it we will lose the road entirely," he said.

Krider explained that it would be a million dollars cheaper to build a causeway across Lake Monroe than to four-lane the lakefront route.

Odham told the board of Commissioners, "I don't think the interstate highway will be of any benefit to our local economy."

"The causeway across the lake is the answer and we need something, somehow to insist that the State Road Department work out the traffic problem between Orange City and Sanford," he said.

There will be an early April letting on 17-92 commissioners were told and State Road 46 into Mellonville Ave. is scheduled in this year's budget.

Ray Jumps Into Cruiser; Breaks Woman's Arm

FORT MYERS — Mrs. Fred Carlsen suffered a broken arm when a leopard ray devil fish weighing more than 400 pounds jumped into her fishing cruiser.

Mrs. Carlsen, who is in a hospital, was sunning herself on the afterdeck off Punta Rassa last Sunday when the ray leaped into the cruiser. The unusual incident was not disclosed until Tuesday night.

Her husband finally killed the monster with eight rifle bullets after it had thrashed across her arm, broke the engine box and bent the steering column and gear shift of the boat, she said.

Natural Gas For State Reality Within Year

Top News In Brief

LONDON — A government tribunal today rejected wage demands by workers on the nationalized railways, and a transport walkout appeared inevitable. The nation, already hit by a shipyard strike and an engineering workers crisis, appeared headed for its worst work stoppage since the general strike of 1926.

TALLAHASSEE — State Prison Director Richard Culver said today that a "good start" can be made in giving a facelift to the state's prison institutions but said that Sanford should be torn down and a completely new facility built "from scratch."

Culver, calling the present Sanford structure "antiquated and poorly arranged," said a new facility to replace the present state prison would cost nearly 20 million dollars.

United Press Staff Correspondent
United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld was flying today to the Middle East in hopes of ending what he called the long, drawn-out situation of crisis. He arrives in Cairo Thursday for talks with President Gamal Abdel Nasser on the future of the Suez Canal and the possibility of establishing a war-proof buffer zone between Israel and Egypt.

WASHINGTON — The Senate Public Works Committee has approved legislation to authorize about 1.5 billion dollars for navigation, flood control, and other rivers and harbors projects.

County Refuses To Approve Plat For Druid Hills

The Board of County Commissioners yesterday refused to approve a plat for Druid Hills Park in the south section of Seminole County when streets planned did not tie in with streets of other plats.

"I am not in favor of approving a plat until streets are matched," said one commissioner.

Commissioner Krider commented, "It would take a guide to get out of this one."

A plat for the Prairie Lake area was tabled for approval pending the determination of proper drainage for septic tanks in the area.

Two other plats were approved by the Board of Commissioners. Longwood Park and South Sylvan Lake Shores were okayed.

Doctors Battle To Save Injured Workmen's Lives

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Doctors in five hospitals battled today to save the lives of workmen who were injured critically when a construction hoist fell five stories, killing five of the riders.

The big hoist, operating in an open frame outside the new Duval County Courthouse, hit the bottom with an explosive sound when a cable broke at the end of the work shift Tuesday.

Waring R. Barber, who ran up the scene from his motor company across the street, said the men "couldn't talk, they couldn't scream—most of them just lay there stunned or out."

Sounded Like Explosion
Barber said he heard a noise "that sounded like an acetylene tank exploding" and when he arrived, "all I could see were mangled men piled on top of each other like cordwood."

Four men were killed in the bust and another died at a hospital. All the 14 injured were in serious condition at hospitals, where 10 underwent surgery during the night. Doctors said two others were so deeply shocked that they could not safely be given needed surgery.

The men had boarded the platform at the fifth floor. Others

Hobby Warns Against Throwing Trash On Roads

Sheriff Luther Hobby issued a warning yesterday to those who are dumping trash and garbage along the roads of the county.

"We are going to watch these roads very closely," Hobby stated, "and those found violating the health and sanitation regulations of our county will be prosecuted."

The warning came following an announcement at the meeting yesterday of the Board of County Commissioners when a report was heard that citizens are dumping trash and garbage along county roads.

Garbage dumps are provided for the proper disposal of garbage and trash, Sheriff Hobby said.

State will be unaffected by the huge program announced Tuesday night here by F. E. Stanley.

Stanley, president of the Houston Texas Gas and Oil Corp. and the newly formed Houston Corporation, said establishment of the natural gas industry in the state will involve investments of more than 130 million dollars.

He said both corporations plan to have their headquarters in St. Petersburg.

Big Payroll Involved
Stanley said the investment will amount to $132,657,000. He said the two companies plan an annual payroll of nearly 4 million dollars and a roster of 797 employees when the system is complete. More than 3,100 persons will be employed in Florida alone during the construction period.

The Texas Industrialist said construction of the 2,600-mile pipeline system and new distribution facilities is scheduled to get underway this year and will be completed in about 12 months.

Stanley announced plans for acquisition of a major segment of the state's gas distribution systems, previously confined to the use of manufactured gas. They are to be operated by the Houston Corporation, organization papers for which were filed in Tallahassee Tuesday.

He said distribution properties to be acquired are Miami, Florida Power and Light Co., Lakeland and Daytona Beach, also from FPL; Jacksonville, from present stockholders of the Jacksonville Gas Co.; Orlando and Winter Haven, from the South Atlantic Gas Co.; and Eustis, Mt. Dora and Umatilla, from the Triangle Gas Co.

Includes 38 Others
Natural gas will also be supplied to 38 other Florida communities to be served either through an additional 39 million in new facilities or existing systems, construction and conversion is planned by these communities in providing the new fuel.

They are Avon Park, Bartow, Mount Dora, Bradenton, Chatterbox, Chipley, Clearwater, DeLand, Delray Beach, Fort Lauderdale, Fort Pierce, Gainesville, Graceville, Green Cove Springs, Haines City, Hollywood, Lake Alfred, Lake City, Lake Wales, Lake Worth, Leesburg, Live Oak, Madison, Marianna, Miami Beach, North Miami, Ocala, Palatka, Palm Beach, Panama City, Perry, Plant City, Pompano Beach, St. Petersburg, Sanford, Sarasota, Starke, Tampa and West Palm Beach.

The gas line, approved last Dec. 28 by the Federal Power Commission, will begin at East Raton, La., and will feed natural gas from fields in Texas and Louisiana.

Time Now Or Be Retarded

Announcement of an enabling act to be introduced as a local bill in the 1957 Legislature to "allow County Commission to employ additional personnel to assist Mrs. Mary Earle Walker to conduct a reappraisal and to employ outside appraisals for a reassessment" broke out into a heated discussion at a meeting of Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, Seminole County Board of Commissioners, Sanford City Commissioners, and representatives from Seminole County communities last night.

Discussions were opened when Commissioner John Krider said "It is almost compulsory that we conduct a reassessment now."

"We're in a position now where a raise in millage will hit only certain people—the business people," he said.

Krider pointed out that "we need schools, a reduction of taxes, and funds for new and improved roads. If we can afford to build $15,000 homes," he said, "We can pay something for our county."

"New industry is coming in and we have some new commercial buildings," but what do we have to operate our county? Krider commented.

"I think the time has come," said Krider, "we'll either do it now or our county will be retarded 20 years."

Brailley Odham, entering the discussion, stated "I don't see how we're going to grow in the county unless we have a reassessment and get our system on a reality basis."

"We're doing without an awful lot of things that we could have," he said.

Giving one example of taxes being paid, Odham stated "I purchased a piece of property for $40,000 and the taxes paid on it in the past year was $2."

Superintendent of Schools R. T. Milnes spoke emphatically on the need for additional money for the schools and said "We are just as much interested in holding taxes" (Continued on page 2)

Standard Retains Gasoline, Oil Bid

Standard Oil Company, represented by Earl Higginbotham, retained the award of a bid for gasoline and oil in the climax of discussions before the Board of County Commissioners yesterday.

J. C. Davis a representative of the Texas Company and Carl Williams of the Cities Service Company requested the Board of Commissioners to look into the award. Davis claimed that Higginbotham's bid was the high bid.

However, during the discussions Commissioner John Krider told Davis "I think you placed the burden on the commission to determine the price. We didn't call for bids to determine prices but for you to quote them."

The Board of Commissioners offered to reopen the bids. Davis declined and stated that "If the award is made the full bid should go to Higginbotham."

Board Okays Bill To Allow Hiring Of County Manager

An enabling bill to allow for the employment of a County Manager was approved by the Board of Seminole County Commissioners yesterday after a discussion that at one time indicated the proposed bill would not meet the approval of the Board of Commissioners.

Commissioner Lawrence Swoford told the board "It's time for planning."

"We're five years late now," Commissioner John Krider remarked.

However, Chairman of the Board of Commissioners, Fred Dyon asked "Are we big enough for a county manager?"

Clerk of Circuit Court O. P. Herndon entered the discussion and asked the board "Just what would a county manager do? Tell this board what to do? What are his duties going to be?"

Commissioner Krider commented "We need some efficient operation in this county and we shouldn't wait any longer for it."

"I'm thinking of a man that is an engineer with intelligence enough to set up a system," he said.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Stansell Will Be Tomorrow

Mrs. W. O. Stansell, 88, passed away at the local hospital at 7:18 p. m. Tuesday following a short illness.

Mrs. Stansell was born in Marshville, N. C., July 22, 1868. She had lived in Sanford for 31 years and was a member of the Central Baptist Church, being very active in church work.

Survivors include the husband, W. O. Stansell, Sanford; four children, Mrs. Ruth Milstead, Lake Mary; Mrs. W. P. Matheson, Sanford; Mrs. L. A. Barley, Lake Mary; and J. R. ## Local Bills For '57 Legislature Talked Over At Joint Meet

The announcement of 17 local bills proposed to be introduced in the 1957 Legislature led off discussions last night at a joint meeting of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, the Seminole County Board of Commissioners, Sanford City Commissioners and representatives from Casselberry, Lake Mary, Altamonte Springs, Geneva, and Oviedo.

Local bills affecting Sanford measure which would follow the City by petition or by referendum. "If the majority of the property owners in any one specified area agree to annexation that area may be annexed," said City Attorney William C. Hutcheson who presented the several bills for the city.

Also included in the city's proposal bill is a pay raise for City Commissioners. The new measure would raise the commissioners from $10 per month to $20 per month with Mayor drawing $75.

Frank Evans, representing Lake Mary, told the group of about 30 that "If Sanford would take Lake Mary in I would be tickled."

Evans then told the group "I'd like to see Seminole County incorporated into one town with one Mayor and one tax. We're going to have a growth here that is staggering—beyond expectations," he said.

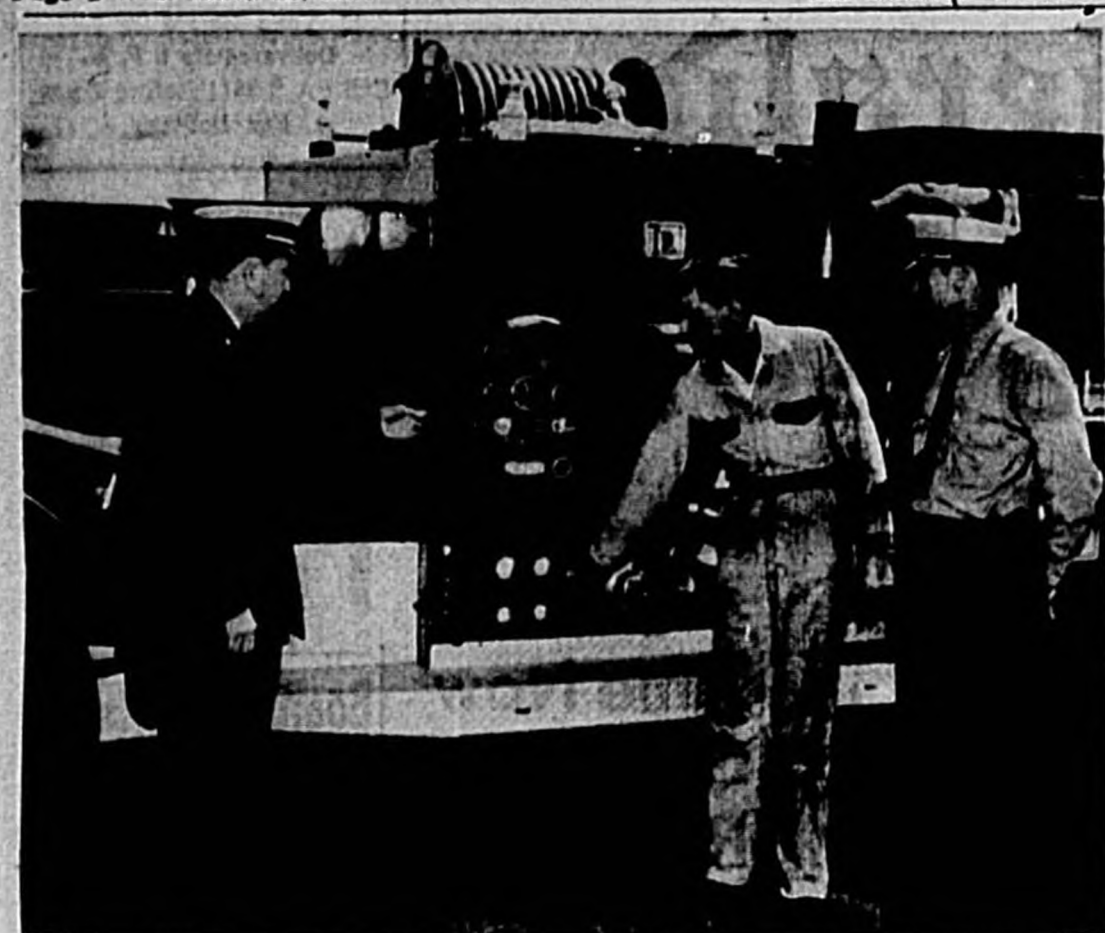

Bill Kilbee, a former County Commissioner, representing Geneva, said "I just want to see Frank Evans idea go through."

An enabling act, presented and proposed by George Tushy, would allow Seminole County to acquire property for a landing strip in order to provide a landing area for planes coming into the Sanford area.

down—we would like to have a low mileage."

Commissioner Lawrence Swoford told the group "I am willing to accept any responsibility of spending $100,000 to get the appraisal value up."

Former Commissioner Bill Kibbe did not oppose reevaluation but said "It should be done under the supervision of Mrs. Walker. I think the evaluation should be made by men of the State of Florida."

Others speaking were Mayor David Gatchel, Frank Wheeler of Oviedo and B. B. Crumley.

Mrs. Mary Earle Walker pointed out that the Homestead Exemption was overwhelmingly approved in 1935. And then said "Seminole county property values have not been raised because the railroad board has not seen fit to raise values."

She said "The new station has not been placed on record for tax purposes."

In answer to a question "Do you favor a reappraisal of properties?" Mrs. Walker answered "I'd like to know what the people think of reevaluation and so far they are against it."

Cattle land is valued at $25 an acre, Mrs. Walker stated and a five year grove is valued at about $150 an acre. Mrs. Walker told the group in answer to direct questions.

"Lack of information to the people make it impossible to ask the people whether or not they want a reappraisal," Odham said at last night's meeting.

It was also brought out that unimproved cattle land is valued at $15 an acre according to present assessments and cattle at $30 a head.

Odham contended that "If we don't keep current on the value of property then we are not fair to the people."

B. B. Crumley asked Mrs. Walker the direct question "If reassessment was agreed upon would you be willing to devote the time necessary to make the reassessment?"

The death toll rose, to five when David Altmore, a Negro, died at a hospital several hours after the accident. Those killed on the spot were Dewey Woods, 43; George Leach, 31; Glen Idol, 25; and Jack Thomason, 24.

Among the horrified witnesses on the fourth floor was Ernest E. Thompson, who said that when he saw the cable begin to give way and then snap, "I shut my eyes and shut my ears—I knew what was going to happen."

George D. Auchter Jr., president of the George Auchter Co., general contractor, said that although more men boarded the hoist than usual it was "not overloaded."

"He's not going to do your work," Krider answered. "I feel like since we have Mr. Hagan as a full time employee we can get along pretty well without a manager."

Answering the Chairman and speaking to Hagan, Krider stated "The thought isn't to replace anybody. How much time do you have to devote to planning of the county?"

The enabling bill, explained Krider, would only be a measure available if and when the county agreed to employ additional help to plan for the county and to change its methods of operation.

"Many of the items that have come before us today could have already been handled," Krider stated.

Jet Planes Call For Brainy Pilots

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Maj. Gen. William H. Powell Jr., deputy surgeon general of the Air Force, has spelled out the reasons why a young man in perfect health and eager to fly jet planes may be rejected for duty in his branch of the service.

It is a case of fitting the man to the weapon. General Powell explained the requirements of the Air Force challenge at a meeting of flight surgeons at Randolph Air Force Base, headquarters, school of aviation medicine.

Flight surgeons from every major command attended the two-day symposium to learn how to select the pilots for tomorrow's high-performance jet aircraft. They learned, first of all, that the emphasis will be on brain power.

"Present-day cockpits, jammed with fighting equipment as they are, are built to accommodate a pilot whose sitting height is no greater than 38 inches," Powell told the doctors.

"A man of this height has only 2 1/4 inches of clearance between his head and the canopy. This space is filled by his helmet. Also, men over 6 ft. 4 in. tall usually have big feet.

The brainy age
"As a result, their toes tend to get tangled in the wiring under the plane's instrument panel."

Aircraft designers figure the top weight of a fighter pilot at 205 pounds. In computing stresses on seats and other parts. For every extra pound the pilot carries, another 10 to 15 pounds would have to be built into the already-burdened plane.

The Air Force position is that the extra call or extra large flier would find his efficiency impaired by restricted vision and lack of elbow room.

"The day has come when muscle power is not the requisite in the man who wields a modern weapon, as the case used to be," Powell said. "What the Air Force needs nowadays is brains."

"Two significant scientific developments during the last decade have modified some of our considerations concerning physical standards. The first of these was nuclear fission. The second was the jet plane."

"The military application of these two scientific principles has made possible the highest combat force ever known. There can be no questions concerning the intellectual caliber of the pilots who man these machines."

Present Day Improvements Demand Modern Tax Equalization

It doesn't take extra reading, writing, or listening to realize that property values over all of Florida have gone up by leaps and bounds.

More waste land now is selling for handsome prices and choice lots for individual home building is in the "high" bracket. Grove lands or cultivated farm lands have been going up year after year until owners now are even turning down fabulous figures for a few acres here and there.

A report was circulated recently that one section of improved land, in a very choice section around Sanford, was in the $50,000 or more bracket and still isn't sold.

But equalization of taxes continues to be a controversy.

Valuations are being set on 1935 and 1941 prices and assessments are being judged all "normal."

Yet, people are continuing to ask for more and more services—they want modern improvements in the operation of their government and in the services to their homes and in their country. However, when the improvements or additional services are added—it takes "present day" salaries and prices to maintain them and not just "normal" salaries and prices.

Schools are being operated on the present day level of school attendance and not the normal level of more than 20 years ago. Teachers want present day salaries—and no one blames them.

But—funds with which to pay for these modern day educational facilities and teachers' staffs must come from an outmoded system of assessing the value of property in most of the areas of our county.

Citizens continue to stream into the meetings of the Board of County Commissioners to "demand" that roads be built, road improvements be made, that services be rendered.

In turn, the commissioners who hear the pleas for better roads, more roads, and improved roads, must decide where the money must come from to complete these projects. These 1935 roads, for 1957 automobiles must come from 1935 and 1941 assessments which are being touted as "normal" assessments.

Schools must be built to take care of the growing population of youngsters yearning for an education. And those schools must be constructed to meet with modern standards and be paid for out of an antiquated, unreasonable system of assessment.

Businessmen are growling—and you can't blame them—for the extremely heavy load that is being placed on their shoulders in carrying the tax burden of their county. But hundreds of property and homeowners are getting by with just a tiny share of the tax load—and even some of them not paying any of the tax burden at all.

Our public officials are elected to take care of the business end of county affairs—but the funds necessary to carry out the wishes of the public are not provided in the volume equal to the demands upon them.

Many complain about the roads they have to ride over, others complain about improvements that should be made, new areas developed by spanning new roads through them to attract more and more people.

There is no fairer way to equalize the burden of carrying on the operation of our local government than by sharing an equalized burden of the taxes based on the value of the property that is owned.

If the property owners of Seminole County—each one individually—would take a moment of their time to learn about their duties of sharing the tax burden of their county—take time to talk with their county commissioners and the problems with which he is faced—to talk with the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the problems of school buildings and construction—there would be literally thousands of citizens clamoring for the equalization of their tax.

There are probably many who do not share at all in the upkeep of schools and school facilities, the paying of teachers salaries; yet they proclaim loudly that our school system is "sadly lacking" in the number of rooms needed for teaching the children of our area.

And then there are others who do pay a big share of taxes but fear that their tax bills might go up. With a moment's study of tax equalization they would soon realize that with the equalization of taxes, millage is decreased and tax bills are lower.

To be sure, there are some whose tax bills would go up—it is natural to assume that because too many of us are not paying our "fair share" in the operation of county government, the building of roads, the buying of rights of way, the repaving and resurfacing of roads, and the providing of parks and recreational facilities for which many clamor day after day.

If we're going to live modern—then it's time to pay modern!

As it has often been said—if a traveler wants to speed along the highway at 60 miles per hour, he certainly cannot do it in a horse and buggy.

Such is the opinion of many—they want jet age improvements derived from 1935 styles—and it can't be done.

A move has been underway for quite some time to have a general countywide equalization of taxes. There has been no progress, however, even though the only reason that can be surmised from all of the talk against it is that "valuations are made on the basis of 1935 and 1941 assessments which are considered normal."

If Seminole County expects to progress and grow, values must be brought up to date in order to attract sensible businessmen and industrialists who know what our values actually are.

An equalization of taxes is a necessity and it must be accomplished soon.

God is helping thousands of church members today with substantial financial aid in their hour of need. Through established credit unions nearly a thousand churches now make available to their members small loans at low interest rates.

Today in all walks of life, housewives, clerks, waitresses, mechanics, laborers, are able to go to their church and secure small loans of from $50 to several hundred dollars to tide them over financial difficulties caused by illness or other problems.

It all started in a small Catholic parish in New Hampshire when members of the parish of St. Marie formed a credit union to help those who did not seek charity but were in dire need of financial aid to meet an emergency. The plan worked well. It afforded practical as well as a spiritual help for needy parishioners. It gave the Church new meaning and developed a spirit of love and brotherhood that brought the congregation closer to the church and to each other.

Other Catholic churches adopted the plan; then churches of varied faiths took it up and today there are 685 Roman Catholic parishes, 222 Protestant churches and 28 Jewish synagogues throughout the country operating credit unions for the benefit of their members.

A recent survey showed that more and more churches are adopting this helpful service to members, with several new church credit unions being reported each week. To establish such a credit union in your church all you need to do is secure a federal or state charter, elect officers, buy shares and with the pooled funds make loans to fellow members.

Thus, the Church, within its own congregation, is accepting and following the scripture admonition that says, "Thou shalt not harden thine heart nor shut thine hand from thy brother, but thou shalt open thine hand wide unto him and shalt surely lend him sufficient for his need."

In most instances, the rate of interest charged on such loans is one per cent per month. Loans are usually short-term and no collateral is required. Few losses are reported, and members who receive such help realize that the sooner they pay back the sooner the money will be available for the use of some other brother or sister in real need.

So successful have these Church credit organizations worked that even at the lowest interest rate they actually pay dividends off from three to six per cent. Such earnings, if agreeable to the stockholders, may be turned over to the Church itself for charity needs.

Over 300,000 church members have invested in credit union shares to aid fellow members and these church organizations have assets totalling over $70 million.

This helpful, practical, Christian service on the part of the Church goes beyond the more economic value; it is developing and advancing the virtues of social justice and charity. It brings members closer to their Church and, while only a few members may find it necessary, it is comforting to all members to know that such help is available. Those who invest funds in the work are strengthened through the knowledge that they have accepted the fact that they are their brother's keeper, and as they see the burdens lifted from others they give thanks for their abundance and their privilege of sharing it with friends and neighbors in need.

Information concerning Church Credit Unions can be secured from the National Council of Churches, or perhaps your own Minister, Priest or Rabbi. They are well informed and would be glad to see such a helpful service available in your community.

Foreign News Commentary

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
There seems good reason to hope that new negotiations may be started soon for a solution of the Cyprus problem.

The Greek Cypriot Islanders who are fighting British rule have offered to declare a truce.

British government reaction has been favorable. The No. 1 British condition for a resumption of negotiations is that the rebels stop their campaign of terrorism.

Whether it will be possible, under the best conditions, to find a permanent settlement of the complicated Cyprus situation is another thing.

Greek islanders started a campaign of assassination, ambushes, bombing and sabotage two years ago.

They demanded that Britain grant Cypriots the right of "self-determination," which meant that they wanted Britain to hand the island over to Greece.

Turkeys Backs Britons
Britain refused and was supported by Turkey, which ruled Cyprus for centuries, before the British took it over in 1878.

The campaign of violence intensified. Archbishop Makarios, head of the Greek Orthodox Church in Cyprus, became the political leader of the "self-determination" campaign.

Britain charged that Makarios also was implicated directly in the terrorism. On March 9, 1956, Makarios was arrested and deported to the Seychelles Islands in the Indian Ocean.

British forces under Field Marshal Sir John Harding, commander in chief and governor of Cyprus, have pressed a determined drive against the small but well-organized and bold group of extremists who are responsible for the terrorism.

In recent months, the extremists have suffered some punishing blows. A number of their leaders have been captured or killed. On March 3, Gregoris Afanition, second in command of the rebels, was killed in his mountain hide-out.

A Cease Fire Order
Last Thursday the rebel organization, called "EOKA," announced that it would cease fire immediately if Makarios were freed.

The British government showed great interest in the offer, as did Field Marshal Harding.

CHECK THAT GUN
PHOENIX, Ariz. — A highway patrolman, bringing in a prisoner for drunk driving, stopped at the desk to check his gun. It's a rule that officers can't take their pistols near the jail where prisoners might grab them.

As the patrolman slapped his pistol on the desk, the prisoner reached into his pocket and brought out his own gun. "Here," he said, "you better take mine, too."

Police were so embarrassed they refused to give out the name of either the patrolman or his prisoner.

The cease fire offer is now under consideration by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and his cabinet.

There are indications that Britain might take Makarios to London—not to Cyprus—to see if there is a possibility of fruitful negotiations.

Britain is willing to grant Cyprus home rule. But it is not prepared to give up the island, especially because it has become an important Middle Eastern defense base.

Turkey says firmly that if Britain ever gives up Cyprus, the island must revert to Turkish rule. It is only a little more than 40 miles from the Turkish mainland, and it is about 660 miles from Greece. Greece, incidentally, never has ruled Cyprus, though about 400,000 of the 800,000 islanders are of Greek racial stock. The remaining 100,000 are Turks.

THE MIGHTY CHRYSLER

Most glamorous car in a generation

No other car even challenges its performance!

Here are some figures for comparison. We believe they talk louder than words, and that you will find this message worth reading.

So much has been said about the good looks of the 1957 Chrysler that you may have the impression its reputation rests on styling alone. The truth is it's even more impressive in action. Three performance figures prove this. Here is the first: Chrysler's Firepower V-8 engine packs 325 hp (and up to 375 hp in the Chrysler 300-C), tops in the industry.

Is horsepower the only way you judge performance? Certainly not. There's engine displacement and torque. Chrysler's displacement is 392 cu. in. What about torque, the real pay-dirt power that turns the wheels? Chrysler's torque is 430 lb.-ft. at 2800 rpm, again tops in the industry.

More power than you need? Maybe. But it means unquestioned command of the highway when you want it. It means your Chrysler will stay like new much longer because it can loaf where other cars strain. So you see, when we call this car the Mighty Chrysler we mean just that... the mightiest on the highway! Come in and drive it soon.

LT. AND MRS. RICHARD KIRK McNAB

Miss Barbara Robbins Becomes Bride Of Lt. Richard McNab

Miss Barbara Ann Robbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Robbins of Cambridge, Md., became the bride of Lt. Richard Kirk McNab, son of Mr. and Mrs. David McNab of Sanford, March 2 at 2 p.m. in the Grace Methodist Church of Cambridge.

The Rev. Richard C. Hubbard officiated before an altar decorated with baskets of white stock, gladioli, snapdragons and candles.

Miss Robbins, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in candlelight satin covered with imported tulle and Chantilly lace. The tight-fitting bodice was designed with a sweetheart neckline and long pointed sleeves. The full floor length skirt featured narrow tiers of nylon net. A Juliet cap of lace, enhanced with braided puffs and seed pearls was attached to a fingertip veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnation and stephanotis tied with wide satin ribbons.

Miss Doris Keen was maid of honor and wore a Cel blue crystal-embellished ballerina length gown. A wide pleated panel extending to an empire waistline formed the v-neck and shoulders of the bodice. The skirt featured a godet of sunburst pleats.

Serving as bridesmaids were: Miss Ethel Mae Statton of Milford, Del.; Miss Anne B. Macs, Miss Jewell Bennett and Miss Shirley James. They wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor, except in color. Miss Statton's gown was orchid. Miss Macs', Miss Bennett's, and Miss James' were pink and white. They carried matching muffs topped with white carnations. Their headbands matched the dresses and seed pearls studied the illusion shoulder length veils.

Donna Jean Robbins, the bride's cousin was flower girl and was attired in a floor length dress of white crystal-embellished with a wide ruffle of the same material and a large bow in the back. She held a basket of white mums.

Luke Robbins Jr., brother of the bride, carried the rings on a white satin heart shaped pillow. Mrs. Robbins, mother of the bride, chose for her daughter's wedding a blue lace dress with navy and white accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

The bridegroom's mother wore a rosewood chiffon tulle with pale blue accessories, and a white orchid corsage.

Lt. Charles W. Berry of Geary, Oklahoma was best man. Ushers were, Sgt. James D. Averill of Jefferson, La.; Lt. Robert W. Pecher of Columbus, O.; and Lt. Samuel E. Murphy of Seymour, Tex.

Mrs. Kenneth Hughes played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Ernest Leap Jr. as she sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the Moose Lodge. Mrs. Frederick Johnson and Miss Gladys Statton presided at the punch bowls. Mrs. Leland Henry cut the wedding cake and Miss Kaye Mowbray was in charge of the guest book.

The new Mrs. McNab chose for travel a navy blue wool suit with blue and white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

After a short wedding trip Lt. and Mrs. McNab will be at home in Columbus, O., where he is stationed.

Mrs. McNab is a graduate of the Cambridge High School and attended Golden Beacon School of Business in Wilmington, Del. Lt. McNab was graduated from Seminole High School and attended the University of Florida where he was member of the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity.

Collegiate Echoes

By GRACE M. STINECIPHER

As speaker at the meeting of the Downtown Lions Club of Jacksonville last Friday, Dr. R. R. Oglesby, dean of students at FSU, paid high tribute to the character-building qualities of the university's Flying High Circus. The club is sponsoring the performance of the aerial circus troupe Friday at 8 p.m. in the Gator Bowl for the benefit of the high school bands.

Speaking of the value of the circus program, Dr. Oglesby said, "The young people learn by doing and have an opportunity to gain a sense of achievement." He added that the FSU circus program give the students who participate the feeling "that once having perfected a difficult acrobatic stunt, for example, 'they can go on and do anything' in whatever field of endeavor they enter after college."

Thrilled to be a member of this outstanding group that will perform in the Gator Bowl Friday is ELIZABETH WOODRUFF, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Woodruff.

Plays take the spotlight at two colleges this weekend-on the campus of UoF and also at Stetson.

At the UoF the drama "The Crucible" by Arthur Miller will run at the P.K. Yonge Auditorium from March 20 to 23. The action of this play takes place during the witch hunts in Salem, Massachusetts in 1699. Sounds interesting!

William Shakespeare's "Oymbeline," the action of which takes place in the first century B.C., is scheduled to open Thursday night at Stover Theatre on Stetson's campus. There will be additional performances on Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday afternoon. Curtain time for the evening performance is 8:00 and for the matinee is 2:30.

The Dave Brubeck quartet, sponsored by the Lydeum Council gave a concert Monday night in the Florida Gymnasium at UoF. The quartet, composed of Brubeck on the piano, Paul Desmond on bass, Bob Bates on clarinet, and Joe Dodge on drums has a progressive style which has been applauded by jazz fans and critics as a group and also for the individual style of the artists. Sounds like a great opportunity!

A survey of grades at FSU indicates that girls are smarter than boys, or else they study more. The university said that the entire student body maintained an average grade last semester midway between "B" and "C". Women students turned in an average of 2.598 while the men were a little lower at 2.338. The average for all students was 2.462. An average of two is "C", three is "B", and four is "A".

PERSONAL MENTION

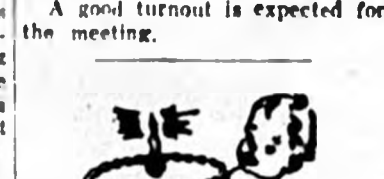

We are glad that JIMMY FOX is out of the infirmary at FSU after a siege of bronchial pneumonia. Hope you're better than ever now, Jimmy!

PHILLIP TONEY, junior at Georgia Tech, is home visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Watson.

Anniversary Dinner Fetes Couple Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Brown gave a surprise dinner Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Wolfe, who were celebrating their 32nd wedding anniversary.

The couple received many gifts after which a barbecue dinner was served. After the delicious meal, boating was enjoyed by the group on the St. Johns River.

Those helping the Wolfes celebrate the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McMillan and son Danny of Merritt Island; Mr. and Mrs. Harley Lee, Mrs. Edna Ford, Dearing, Ga.; Alice Burr, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McMillan, Miss Rachel Rush, Miss Mary Linda Rush, Miss Joyce Lee and Mrs. Cora Beck.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe bought a home on Adams Ave. and moved here last September from Double Springs, Ala. Mr. Wolfe is a retired Frisco Railroad engineer.

Missionary Circle Has Monthly Meet

Mrs. Virgil Gracy presided over the Wednesday afternoon monthly business and program meeting of the Missionary Circle of the Elder Springs Baptist Chapel.

After the watchwords were given, Mrs. O. P. Wade gave the devotionals using as a basis for her talk, "Be Still and know that I am God."

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Mrs. D. E. Carpenter gave the treasurer's report and an offering was taken. The ladies voted to send $5 to the Baptist Children's home in Lakeland for Easter to help a child the Baptist Children's home for the past year. Mrs. G. W. Miller gave her report on the Children's Home and read a letter from there.

Mrs. Vane Duke gave a splendid talk on Stewardship. Mrs. O. P. Wade gave a report on Mission Study. The book, Mission U. S. A., was taught at the chapel on March 1 by Mrs. W. A. Blacklock with ten members attending the class. Mrs. Wade urged the members to read more books. Mrs. C. W. Ergle had charge of the program.

The meeting adjourned with prayer. Attending were, Mrs. O. P. Wade, Mrs. Virgil Gracy, Mrs. D. E. Carpenter, Mrs. C. W. Ergle, Mrs. Vane Duke, and Mrs. G. W. Miller.

Wilson School 4-H Club Holds Meet

The Wilson School 4-H Club met yesterday afternoon with June Williams presiding over the business session.

Connie Griffiths, secretary and reporter called the roll.

Sharon Burille gave a demonstration on lettuce and tomato sandwiches. Barbara Tindall gave a demonstration on egg salad sandwiches. June Williams on banana salad sandwiches and Judy Griffiths on peanut butter and jelly sandwiches.

Game leader, Nancy Goads selected the game, "My Grandmother Don't Like Tea" which the group enjoyed playing.

Mrs. John S. Hargeton, club leader, and Mrs. John Griffiths were also present.

Conring The News

BY VIRGINIA CONN

There will be another Basic Leadership Course in Girl Scouting starting in April. This training course will start the second of the month, and will run through the twelfth. The schedule will be as follows—

- April 2nd—8:30-2:30
- April 3rd—8:30-12:30
- April 3rd—8:30-2:30
- April 10th—8:30-12:30
- April 12th—8:30-12:30

This last day will be Crafts training and is open to all leaders and assistant leaders. (And helpful mothers, too.) Instructors will be Mrs. John Sinkovetz of Orlando, who is not only the secretary of the Citrus Council, but also the editor of Citrus Seeds, the monthly bulletin, and Mrs. Roger Barker, the second vice-president.

The place has not yet been announced, but all those interested may contact Julia Chas at FA 2-2001. We need more leaders desperately, as Seminole County grows. We also need the opportunity for every little girl to be a Scout if she so desires, and as things stand now, there is a tremendous waiting list for old troops. Some children will never be able to take advantage of the Scouting program, if new troops are not formed. The Leadership classes are fun, and if you have small children there will be a nursery, so there is no expense involved.

Anita Hadden served coffee to a number of guests this morning honoring her mother Mrs. Hildebrand, of Garden City, Long Island. Gay spring flowers adorned the tables, and a large variety of goodies were served. Included were Rosemary Duncan Camille Metzger, Betty McClane, and her mother, Mrs. Flint, of Virginia Beach, Va.; Mrs. Sinclair, Dottie King, Sally Weigle, Treta Michel, Virginia Johnston, and her mother, Mrs. Stoddard, and myself. Mrs. Stoddard is unfortunately leaving soon, but Mrs. Flint plans to stay until the first of May.

We have three children in school, and two others who will soon be entering the halls of learning. It is hard enough for me to manage my own, let alone the thirty extra I might find in any classroom in our Florida schools. Management would take

Girl Scout Leaders Plan Meet March 21

There will be a meeting of the Seminole County Neighborhood Association of Girl Scouts Tuesday evening at 8 in the Educational Building of the First Presbyterian Church. This includes leaders, associate leaders, troop committee members, council representatives and any other interested persons.

Problems of each group are welcomed for discussion and a representative from each troop is urged to attend. Plans are now being made for the basic leadership training course to be taught April 2 from 9:30 to 2:30. April 3 from 9:30 to 12:30, April 10 from 9:30 to 2:30. The last meeting is opened to the public and will be an arts and crafts class.

It was also announced that troop 49 had a very successful weekend at the camp in Barberville. They were accompanied by Mrs. Fred Robb and Miss Francis Cobb.

Dr. Hamako Hirose To Speak March 22 At W. S. C. S. Meet

Dr. Hamako Hirose from Hiroshima, Japan will be guest speaker at the district meeting of the W.S.C.S. to be held in the First Methodist Church in Titusville, March 22 from 10 a.m. until 2:15 p.m.

Dr. Hirose is President of JogaKuin College, and an Ordained Minister of the United Church of Japan. Officers and members of the W.S.C.S. are urged to attend this meeting. Those desiring transportation are requested to contact Mrs. R. U. Hutchison, or Mrs. W. A. Hunter.

All planning to attend please take a bag lunch and a drink will be furnished.

from Mary-Ether's Commentator will be Polly Savage, and the models will be Betty Guy, Terry Martin, Mily Thomas, Hazel Rowell, Jean Stetson, Lee Canning, Doris Francisco, and Helen Griffin. Music will be provided by Harry Wester at the piano.

Seminoles Lose Season Opener Last Night 14-0 To Wildcats

Nearly 1000 fans were on hand last night for the Sanford Seminole baseball season opener in Memorial Stadium and watched, stunned, as the Winter Park Wildcats put on the rout sign and rolled to 14-0 victory over the hapless Seminoles.

Trailing by only one run going into the third inning, Seminole pitcher Eddie Barbour found himself in trouble after he had tucked away two outs. A triple, a single, a walk, and another single had him behind by another run and the bases still loaded. But Barbour looked as though he was able to pull himself out of the jam. Barbour fanned Parker Bill Cross, but on the last strike Seminole catcher Cecil Hardidge lost the ball. Cross went to first, Jim Taylor came home, a wild throw in the infield, and all had him broke loose. Barbour made the long walk to the showers and was replaced by Ken McMurray.

A total of six runs were scored by Winter Park in the third inning before McMurray could pull the strins from under the first man Barbour had struck out in the same inning, Bill Howell.

The next two innings went scoreless, but the Seminoles had fallen apart and crazily ran up eight costly errors. Winter Park went errorless for the massacre.

Johnny Yeakle and Brantley Schirard proved the battery strength for the Seminoles. Yeakle rapped two singles in two trips at the plate, and team captain Schirard tried to save face and the ego of the team as he leaned a heavy Stanley bat for the right field wall but had to settle for a tripple.

Winter Park had no errors, drew four base on balls, pitcher John Dickson went all the way, striking out six, allowing only one walk and three hits, and the Parkers stole six bases.

The Seminoles travel to Leesburg Friday afternoon for an afternoon game with the Yellow Jackets.

Dallas Gives Up Game To Omaha 6-5 In 10th

The Dallas Eagles, obsessed with the idea of winning over a triple-A club, went 10 innings yesterday afternoon before they gave up the ghost to Omaha in a 6-5 thriller that saw young Willie McCovey and another home run to his spring exhibition record and Roger McCardell break the home run lee.

McCovey, the 19 year old Eagle first baseman that tapped two over the fence against Minneapolis last Sunday, kept his perfect record alive with a home run and a single in two official times at bat and drove in three runs.

So far Willie is batting .1000 against triple-A competition, and three-fourths of his hits have been home runs.

McCardell, the spark plug Eagle catcher accounted for the other two Dallas runs. He found the way over the fence once and tapped a single in another trip to the plate and accounted for two runs batted in.

But it was a costly day for the Eagle second sacker, Alex Comidia, regular second baseman for the Eagles, was heeled in a close play at second and had to be pulled off the sack. He was replaced by Alton Miller, and in another close play, Miller was spiked and had to be treated by the medics.

Pitcher Joe Catrany, pitching the fourth through sixth innings, was the stand-out on the mound. He allowed no hits and no runs.

Tommy Bowers, who started for the Eagles allowed five hits and two runs in the first three innings, and Jay Wall, who pitched the last three and a third innings, allowed four hits and four runs.

The Eagle outfield, consisting of Willey Moore, Don Tausitz, and Bobby Prescott were outstanding and made the long hit a sure death for Omaha.

Omaha had nine hits, six runs, and one error. Dallas had seven hits, five runs and two errors, one of which cost them the ball game.

In today's action against Houston, manager Sally Parkey is using Frank Funk, Ken Andersen, and Gil Bessille on the mound. Tomorrow, when the Eagles return to Memorial Stadium to renew the pitcher rivalry between them and the triple-A Minneapolis Millers, James Lee, Dwight Cook, and Lazarus Lastris are scheduled for mound action.

Busy Weekend At U of F

GAINESVILLE—A busy sports weekend is in store for visiting alumni and the state's sports writers at the University of Florida this Friday and Saturday.

Both the alumni and the Florida State Sportswriters Association will hold spring meetings on the campus, and as an added attraction they will be able to see the annual Orange and Blue intrasquad football game Friday night at 8 o'clock, a baseball game with Georgia Tech on Friday and a double header Saturday, and tennis matches Friday with Tech and Saturday with Mercer.

The Orange and Blue game will be of particular interest because of the many players who will be seen on the field for the first time. Coach Bob Woodruff excused most seniors from spring drills this year in order to be able to see that the newcomers could receive more individual coaching.

Sixty-seven of the some 50 players who are taking part in spring football drills have never been in a college varsity football game.

Practices to date have been spirited, with competition for top positions keen, according to Coach Woodruff. Last Saturday, in preparation for the forthcoming game, Woodruff put the players through a game-conditioning scrimmage. "By working out the mistakes made in this scrimmage we expect to have a better and more interesting Orange and Blue game," Woodruff said.

Top racing drivers from a score of countries are beginning to converge on Sebring, Fla., where the Florida International 12-hour Grand Prix of Endurance for the Amoco trophy will be run March 23. A field of 65 powerful little sports cars will start. Shown here are some of the world famed drivers together with the three-foot tall Amoco trophy which will go to the winner, as well as the start of last year's race. Left, from top to bottom: Carroll Shelby of Dallas, John Fitch of Stamford, Conn., and Mike Hawthorn of England. On right, from top, Marquis Alfonso de Portago of Spain, Luigi Musso of Italy and Porfirio Rubirosa of Dominican Republic. World wide attention will be centered on this race in Florida because it is the only race on the North American continent for which points can be won toward the international sports car racing championship.

Geissinger U of F's Top Ball Player

GAINESVILLE—Bobby Geissinger of Miami is a fellow who a cher, first baseman, and outfielder was called on for a starting assignment in center field following the loss of All-Southeastern Conference Robby Barnes of Cocoa, who broke his ankle.

In the first two games of the season, the Gators scored victories over the Miami Hurricane and Geissinger contributed generously to the wins.

He has been at bat officially eight times and has safely five times. In the second game against Miami he made three terrific defensive plays, diving catches of almost sure hits. He also has one stolen base to his credit and three runs batted in.

Geissinger and his Gator teammates have four games slated this

New Comet To Be Visible In April

BRUSSELS—P—This April the world will be able to see with the naked eye a brilliant star-like comet moving majestically through the heavens. This is a rare sight, but the Arend-Roland comet is even rarer. It is the only comet ever to have been discovered by a table tennis tour colliding with a revolution.

M. Roland, its co-discoverer, is 33 and the table tennis champion of Belgium.

Last November Roland and his wife, Ghislaine, who is the Belgian woman's table tennis champion, took part in the Yugoslav international championships. They are invited to continue on to the Hungarian championships.

"But the revolt was raging in Budapest so we ended our tour there," Roland said.

"I thought that since I was back in Brussels I might as well go back to work and I showed up at the laboratory Nov. 15, only one of the eight discovered

That very day my chief, Simon Arend, asked me to examine a photograph of the sky taken the night of Nov. 8."

Confirmed

Roland, who started at the Royal Observatory as a calculator five years ago, began checking the photograph for anything out of the ordinary.

"Forty-five minutes later," he said, "I was pretty sure I had located an unknown comet on the picture. I rushed back to Arend and together we started working frantically, verifying and checking it thoroughly, and soon there was no doubt left."

The Arend-Roland comet had taken its place in astronomy, German astronomers carefully checked photographs they had taken even earlier. The path of the comet was thus traced back to summer of 1950, and through an international exchange of information it was possible to establish its route or trajectory.

The Arend-Roland comet is the in the past year which will be visible to the naked eye. This April it will attain its perihelion—closest approach to the sun.

"By that time in April," said Roland with a touch of paternal pride, "it will be as brilliant as the big stars. I figure it will be best visible in the southern hemisphere, but observatories all over the world will be able to study it."

"I will ask to be on duty at the observatory every day during that period. I wouldn't want to miss the rendezvous with 'our' comet."

COLLAPSIBLE LUNCH BOX CONVENIENT AND CLEAN

Now you can have a lunch box that practically disappears with your lunch. It's made of lithographed steel in colors to match or contrast with your costume.

After one o'clock, empty out the crumbs, fold it up, and slip it into your pocket. As soon as you get home, open it to air. Wash it in hot soap or detergent suds as you wash the dinner dishes and let it air until morning.

PHOTOGRAPHER John Bryson pointed his telephoto lens at the rising moon as evening fell over an Air Force base in California. Then, an F-102A jet fighter went into a planned bank 4,000 feet up, its delta wings catching the rays of the sun. A click of the camera's shutter accounts for this plane seemingly flying over the moon. (International)

Aerial Mapping May Play Part In Hi-Way Plan

SALT LAKE CITY—Aerial photographers and technicians who translate them into maps may be the key to successful completion of the 13-year, multi-billion-dollar interstate highway program.

This program is America's most ambitious construction undertaking, and one of the bottlenecks already facing its sponsors is the lack of engineers to prepare maps by conventional methods.

Proponents claim that the system of making maps from aerial photos is about five times as fast and can be done at one-third the cost of old-style map making from ground studies alone.

The aerial-based system, known as photogrammetry, is a generation old. It was used extensively in planning and construction of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, among other major projects, and is widely applied in preparing maps for mineral development and pipeline routings.

making, the films are changed to glass plate form that can be projected through a device called a stereoplotter—one being projected in red, the other in green.

Technicians using glass with red and green lenses then study the slaten of their instrument where the two beams converge. The effect is identical with that of a perspective camera, or the human eye, producing a three-dimensional image.

Elastic Scale

A key facet of the plotter is a white dot that can be moved around with the platen, tracing terrain features, and making a rough map on the paper mounted below by means of a tracing pencil directly under the dot.

Key features on the map—a prominent rock, a roadbed, or a stream-bank—have already been pinpointed in at their precise location and altitude. This is done from data made by ground crews which establish an average of four surveyed points for each photograph, far under the number that would be required if the entire map was being done by ground methods.

The dot's "altitude" is preset from the known features. Thus, as his pencil line is traced, it can establish contour lines that characterize the valuable engineer's

Science Teacher Program Suggested

URBANA, Ill.—A Teacher certification officials should be encouraged to waive temporary the teacher training requirements of persons qualified in the sciences, the American Society for Engineering Education says.

"This would permit the high schools to turn to valuable new sources of science teaching talent—retired scientists and college teachers, for example," an ASSE report explained.

The report said that, if the certification requirements were relaxed, many industries could share their staff members to help teach science in high schools.

The society's secretary said a committee said industry also could help by providing summer jobs for science teachers. And it applauded a summer program, such as those sponsored by the National Science Foundation, which bring high school science teachers back to university campuses.

The committee said the professional and social status of all high school teachers should be improved, their extra-curricular loads reduced, and their schedules video to relieve them of routine

How the process operates was explained by Norman Rubin, chief photogrammetrist for Aero Service Corp. (Western) in their offices here. For illustration, he used a survey recently made for Salt Lake City of a proposed highway along the eastern face of the Wasatch Mountains.

Engineers first took an old, conventional map and decided the flight lines the photo planes were to use on the actual survey.

when the actual flights were made, the pilot held his plane—flying at an altitude of 6,000 feet over the terrain—precisely on the flight line.

Photographs are taken only in the heart of the day, to minimize shadows, and at a time when tree foliage is absent to permit maximum visibility.

Overlapping Photos

The photographer-navigator in the nose of the plane aids the pilot in keeping a true course as he operates his aerial camera—taking nine-by-nine-inch exposures on long rolls of film—at precisely timed intervals.

The pictures are made so that each exposure overlaps the previous one by 60 per cent in a forward direction and 30 per cent on the sides.

Level flight is necessary to hold the camera in a true plane.

The films are carefully developed and contact prints made that, when put together shingle fashion, form a mosaic of the entire area being studied. This mosaic alone, Rubin explained, is of tremendous help for preliminary routing studies since such features as ditches and ridge structures are readily visible.

But for the major task of map

Bacon Hints and Shortcuts
By Marie Gifford

Have trouble separating → bacon slices?

Here's an easy way to do it without tearing or stretching the bacon.

Slip a rubber spatula under the right end of each slice and "cut" from right to left, gently lifting to remove top slice.

← No washing, no turning, no draining—when you bake bacon!

Arrange slices on rack in shallow baking pan with fat edge of one strip overlapping lean of the next strip. Bake in a 400° F. oven for 12 to 15 minutes. Slices will be evenly cooked without turning.

1. Perfect bacon is crisp but not brittle—evenly cooked from end to end.

2. Buy bacon by brand—your greatest assurance of quality.

3. Buy just enough bacon for your family's weekly needs.

4. Do not freeze bacon. Keep unused portion well wrapped and in the refrigerator.

5. For bacon in a hurry, cook whole packages of bacon in advance. Drain on absorbent paper and wrap in foil. Store in refrigerator, ready for quick reheating.

6. Do not limit bacon to breakfast meals. It's delightful served with vegetables, soups and salads for luncheon and dinner.

7. Save and use flavorful bacon drippings for soups, sauces and for seasoning and frying other foods.

Hungarians Fit Into Venezuela's Economic Plan

CARACAS — Venezuela has taken in 1,500 Hungarian refugees in its continuing policy of welcoming "men and women who have the skills to help build a rounded economy."

Many of the Hungarians will be settled on model farms, of which they will be given ownership. They are counted on to help develop a program which already is making Venezuela self-sufficient in agricultural production.

The model farms, at 21 communities such as Turen and Chiriquia, are fostered by the National Agrarian Institute. The government has built homes, barns and silos, and provided the most modern types of agricultural equipment.

In a related move to boost agricultural production, as well as to improve navigation and increase the supply of hydro-electric power, several large dam and irrigation projects are also nearing completion to provide vitally needed water.

The latest such water conservation project is that located at Guarico, being constructed at a cost of $5,000,000. A nine-mile earthen dam, longest in the world, stores up to 500 billion gallons of water in a 94 square mile lake.

A Rounded Program

Situated amid the vast loans (plains) once famous for their huge herds of cattle, the Guarico dam will yield water to be siphoned off during the dry summer months through 280 miles of irrigation canals to irrigate 300,000 acres of prime farm land.

Gen. Marcos Perez Jimenez, Venezuela's president, in welcoming the first of the Hungarian refugees, took the opportunity to point out that immigrants from the Old World are a distinct asset to this New World nation because of the valuable productive skills that they bring with them. Officials have noted that Venezuela, which now has some six million inhabitants, needs 10 million to develop its economy fully. Exports of oil from Venezuela's rich petroleum fields has provided a major source of income for the nation. President Jimenez, however, has initiated a program for a "rounded economy" in which agriculture, industry and trade will provide higher standards of living for Venezuela's citizens at the same time making the country more self-sufficient.

In line with this program, many American firms have opened factories in Venezuela — employing native workers and technicians to produce products which might otherwise have to be imported. Machinery and equipment for these plants, however, are purchased from the United States.

Immigration Growing

Emphasis on boosting Venezuela's agricultural output has brought large-scale government expenditures for expansion. The sum will exceed $75,000,000 this year.

The next immediate project is a dam in the Bocono-Masparrto watershed, slightly east of the Andes Mountains, which will also provide a "controlled drink of water" to an area where farm and cattle production was hampered by periodic droughts.

In all, 35,818 European farm immigrants have come to Venezuela under a plan by which those selected after passing tests as to their physical fitness and technical ability, have all their transportation and resettling expenses paid. Many others have come, paying their own way.

Most of these people have emigrated from western Europe—Italy, Portugal, Spain and the Canary Islands. The rate at which they are arriving in Venezuela increases constantly. Jumping from under 10,000 in 1915 to more than an estimated 50,000 in 1957.

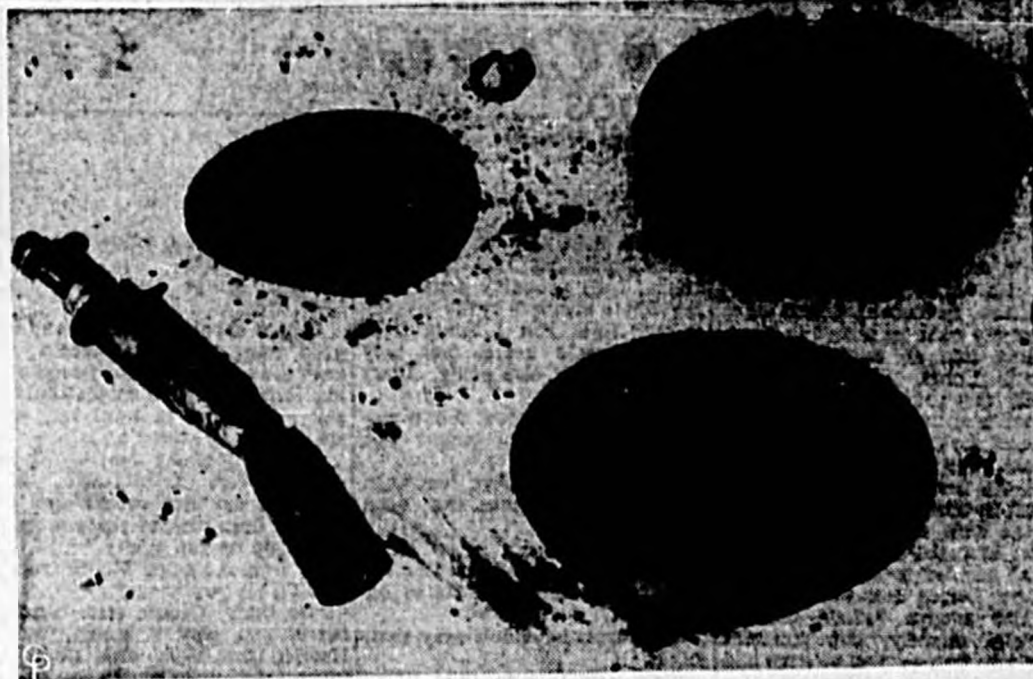

Passage of the Hungarian refugees was paid for in part by a fund raised by fellow-countrymen who had already migrated to Venezuela. An average contribution of $25 brought a total of $50,000 into the relief fund.

CHOOSE WASHABLE

One step toward becoming a shrewd shopper is to look for and buy washable fabrics labeled "vat colors" or "vat dyed." This identification indicates that the color has actually penetrated the fibers to become an integral part of the fabric. Instead of merely being applied to the surface. That's why vat dyes retain their rich depth of color and look almost like new after innumerable washings.

Machine Turns Out Report Cards

CHICAGO — Teachers are going to have more time to teach at suburban Proviso Township High School.

A mechanical record-breaking system has been set up to lighten teachers' bookkeeping and turn out report cards for the school's 4,500 students.

Under the former system, four different persons—the classroom teacher, homeroom teacher, permanent records clerk and counselor—had to copy grades.

Now the teacher will make a "sense" grade marking with a special electrographic pencil. Counsellors will "sense-mark" a special absence and tardiness card for each student.

These markings for grades and attendance will be sensed by automatic equipment. The machines will pick up additional data from a master information card for each student and a master class card.

And out will pop printed report cards.

Lilliputian Desserts

Did you ever serve a bite-size dessert? Try it sometimes if you want to get yourself a reputation for being a hip hostess. Tiny delicacies are particularly appreciated after a heavy meal when a full size dessert might be too much, but a sweet is needed for satisfaction. Don't make the mistake, however, of letting guests see them or sample them before dinner or none will be left. These tiny bites are made of pastry, fruit-filled and deep fried.

Canned applesauce, jams and frozen pineapple chunks all make perfect fillings. But Crisco Kitchens says the most unexpected, and the one which will cause the most comment, is made of fresh strawberries that have been left in curacao or orange juice for a few minutes before being folded into the pastry and cooked. Only one strawberry is used for each bite.

Here's the foolproof pastry recipe used by good cooks all over the country. It will make about 12 of these small desserts.

PASTRY

(Makes 12 4" pastry squares)

2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup Crisco
4 tablespoons water

With two knives or a pastry blender cut Crisco into flour and salt until the mixture is uniform and fine like corn meal. Add water, a tablespoon at a time, tossing with a fork all the while. With hands work pastry into a ball. Do not be afraid of overworking dough. Divide pastry in half and roll in an oblong shape about 8 x 12 inches. Pastry will be slightly less than 1/8 inch thick. Cut into 4-inch squares.

Strawberry Bites:

Dip strawberries in curacao or orange juice. Then place one berry in center of 4-inch pastry. Moisten edges of pastry and pinch together around berry with points of pastry forming a peak at top like a chocolate cream. Fry in deep Crisco heated to 365°F. for about 3-4 minutes or until flaky brown. Lift out of kettle with a slotted spoon and drain on absorbent paper. Coat with fine sugar.

CHAPTER 23

MR. APEL was an affable man. He didn't disapprove of my coffee. In fact, he looked mostly at me while he talked to Steve, telling him all he knew about Frank Stubbs.

He didn't know a great deal about him. Stubbs kept coming around for the next two or three weeks after his partner's death. But he certainly hadn't tended much to business. He spent most of his time across the street in that bar there. His partner's death seemed to have upset him badly. Before that he had been a nice enough fellow, not especially friendly, but pleasant. The two men seemed to have had a going concern up there until a few months before the accident. The boys had fallen behind in their rent then. When Mr. Apel came to think of it, the two partners stopped coming to be happy together. Business must have been really bad at the end there, Mr. Apel decided.

Steve wondered if Mr. Stubbs had left any forwarding address. He hadn't.

I thanked Mr. Apel and wished him luck. Steve suggested that we have a drink or two across the street at the Ferry Bar. The place was heavily masculine, catering apparently to the dockworkers in the neighborhood. There was a free lunch counter, but its doubtful delicacies hadn't been disturbed for quite a while, the crackers not even dated.

The long bar was gleaming, though, and the three sets of guy, shining beer taps made me wish I liked beer. Steve had a beer and I had bourbon and water. There were just a few men at the bar, silent, strong men.

It wasn't until our second drink that Steve got our bartender talking to us about Frank Stubbs. His beginning was a little discouraging, but then he warmed up to the subject at hand. He knew Frank Stubbs. . . Stubbs, all right, all right. Stubbs owed the bar some money.

"So anything," the bartender said, "I can tell you that'll help you locate that lug. I'll tell you." Steve said, "You didn't like the guy?"

"At first I did. He used to come in here at least once a day. Sometimes with his partner, sometimes not. He never asked for credit there, never got drunk, all in all a good customer."

"That," Steve said, "was when the toy business was good?"

"Well, the partners seemed to be doing good. I don't know about that toy business."

"You mean it was just a flake?"

From the Dodd, Mead & Co. Book Copyright © 1936 by William and Audrey Kelley Roos. © 1936 by Kelley Roos. Reprinted by King Features Syndicate.

"Well, now, I'm not one to go around pointing my finger at folks. They probably done some legitimate business in the toy and novelty line. But I think, from little things I heard, that they had something else going. Don't ask me what."

Steve thought about that a moment. He said, "The docks? The pier racket?"

The bartender didn't deny this. I said, "You mean the union racket, Steve?"

"I was thinking more along the line of their being fences for some of all that lost stolen of the docks."

The bartender didn't deny that, either. Steve said to him, "I'm right. Right?"

"Well, now . . . sometimes in this neighborhood it don't pay to be too tight."

"I know what you mean. Was it after his partner's death that Stubbs changed?" And you stopped liking him?"

"It happened slow. He spent more and more time here, less and less in his office. He had this heavy masculine, catering apparently to the dockworkers in the neighborhood. There was a free lunch counter, but its doubtful delicacies hadn't been disturbed for quite a while, the crackers not even dated."

"What was her name?"

"Harriet was all I knew her by."

"She wasn't his wife?"

"I never got that impression."

"Did they live together?"

"I couldn't say that, either. I never did know where either of them lived. But this Harriet was crazy about him, I could see that. She was kind of a sad thing. All the time it was . . . Yes, Stubbs, dear . . . yes, dear, yes . . . To her Stubbs was the brains of the world, a guy who couldn't go wrong."

"Was he nice to her?"

"Well, I never seen him do her any physical damage."

"When did they stop coming in here?"

"Six, seven weeks ago. It finally got so we had to close the door on them. It wasn't only his drinking. He'd try to borrow money from anybody, everybody, strangers even. Not just drinking money away."

People just laughed at him. Our customers don't have that kind of dough. Finally, he got to be such a nuisance we told him to stay away."

Another bartender, tying a clean apron on himself, had come into earshot. He said, "Who you talkin' about, Len?"

"That Stubbs guy. Remember him, George?"

"Remember him? Can I forget him? He owes me thirty dollars."

There's another conference.

Len said, "This fellow is looking for Stubbs."

"Yes," Steve said. "Do you know where he lives now?"

George shook his head. "And a good thing for him I don't. I been around to see that friend of his Harriet Kroll, a couple times. But she knows he owes me, so she won't say where he is."

"Where does she live?"

"Sixty West Twenty-fifth. At least she did three weeks ago. I give up on the money."

"If I get a line on Stubbs from her, I'll let you know."

"Do that," George said. "And, listen, you play it smart. Tell Harriet that you owe Stubbs money, that you want to pay."

"I'll try that," Steve said. "And thanks to both of you."

Sixty West Twenty-fifth Street was a shabby and beat-up, but there was a hint of somebody's pride about the place. The windows were clean; they had curtains. The tile floor of the vestibule bore signs of scrubbing.

There were no mail boxes or bells in the vestibule. Its inner door was unlocked. The hall beyond was dark and narrow. A feeble lamp on the wall table at the foot of the staircase was the only light.

"Yes?" a voice said.

"Are you the landlady?" Steve asked.

"Yes," she said.

She was a big, strong-looking landlady. There was intelligence hovering behind her flushed face. I had the feeling that she had called a lot of cops in her day.

There were no mail boxes or bells in the vestibule. Its inner door was unlocked. The hall beyond was dark and narrow. A feeble lamp on the wall table at the foot of the staircase was the only light.

The landlady snorted and said, "No."

"Have you any idea where she is?"

"Where she always is. In some bar someplace, her and that friend of hers, getting drunk."

"That friend of hers?" Steve said. "A Mr. Frank Stubbs?"

"A Mr. Clara Zeigler," the landlady said acidly. "They have a room here."

"When might they be back?"

"When there's nobody left to buy them a drink, no sooner."

"Do you think," Steve asked, "they might be drinking in the neighborhood?"

"If there's anybody in the neighborhood that'll still buy them a drink."

"I'm throwing you to the wolves," Steve said. "Come, Connie; we'll look around."

Now Hear This!

By JACKY FENWICK

Last Monday night March 18, was the night, and what a wonderful party it turned out to be! I'm talking about the Membership Drive Buffet Supper that the Listed Men's Wives Club had at the U.S.O. The turn-out was terrific, and all we hoped it would be Sixty-eight girls showed up. We were also honored with the attendance of Mrs. Robert S. Jackson, wife of the commanding officer of the Air Station, and Mrs. Lewis D. Tammy, wife of the station's Executive Officer. Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Tammy were presented with beautiful camellia corsages, as were the club's officers. There was entertainment furnished by the Duxbury School of Dancing, which featured a solo "Buck" dance by Joni Saunders, and a modern jazz number beautifully done by Carol Nutt and Mary Jane Flynn. The finale was done by the entire advanced tap class, which included Michael Pope, June Jennings, Carol Nutt, Deanna Nichols, Nancy Richards, Mary Flynn, and Dottie Williams. Then came the food, which, to say the least, was delicious and plentiful! Fried chicken, meat loaf, potato salad, pickles, lettuce and tomatoe salad, potato chips, and all kinds of fancy cupcakes, were served buffet-style, and accompanied by coffee and a delicious fruit punch. Since the night was so beautifully warm, this went "like hotcakes," and the girls in charge of the food were kept busy replenishing the large punch bowl! Following the repast, games were played to help get the girls acquainted. The one that evoked the most laughter was when two teams competed in blowing up, and bursting, three balloons to each girl. A "scavenger hunt" was held, with all the girls present divided up into teams of ten each. Each item counted a point for your team, and it when they asked for a picture of Lincoln, it took some of them a few seconds to realize he's on a penny as well as a five dollar bill! In both cases, the entire winning team was presented with prizes. The alarm clock, set to go off every twenty minutes or so, fell down on the job a couple of times, and had to be coaxed to peal out that another "door prize" was about to be awarded! And what beautiful things they were! The club is extremely grateful to all the generous merchants and businessmen who so generously donated all the prizes. The first one given out was a "lazy Susan," donated by Touchton's Drug Co. and won by Mrs. Alice Williams. Next was a pair of beautiful earrings from Wert Jewellers, won by Mrs. Juanita Eckenrode. The following were also awarded each time the clock went off: A leather hassock from Mather's Furniture Co. and won by Mrs. Dee Tapp; a set of glasses, which was one of the things purchased with a donation from Odham and Tudor, and won by Mrs. Joyce Groben; Berry's Warehouse Furniture Co. donated a twin reading lamp, happily won by Mrs. Betty Place; Mrs. Pat Wheeler won the "decorator plate" from Hill Hardware Co. Mrs. Lillian Donat struggled to under the weight of a large bag of oranges donated by the French Ave. Curb Market; and the final door-prize, and the one all the girls had their "eye" on, was a beautiful weekend case, also bought with the money donated by Odham and Tudor, and won by Mrs. Dottie Burdick. Certainly can't acknowledge all those things without making sure I give full credit to every one who helped us out. All the following things were won as prizes for the games, and it would be practically impossible to give the name of each recipient. (Not to mention the fact that no one kept a list!!!) There was a wall planter from Yowell's Dept. Store; six novel Turkish towels from McCorty's; a pair of hose from Penny's; there were two pairs of men's stretch socks, one donated by Ivey's Shoe Store, and one by Perkins' Men's Shop; a lovely summer straw handbag, from the Hollywood Shop; a pair of cute beach shoes from Hansen's; plastic glasses from Winn's Radio and TV; a pound box of chocolates from Roumillat and Anderson's; Robson's Men's Shop donated a handsome silver tie clasp; Roy-Jay's gave a woman's wallet; Kaly's a vanity lamp; Manuel Jacobson's gave a story-book doll; the Furniture Center, a T.V. lamp; Powell's, a tray; the Sanford Electric Co., a package of light bulbs; and last on the list, but certainly not the least, was a magnetic kitchen note-board, from Sweeney's.

Those of you who managed to read through that long list of acknowledgements to reach this point, I thank you! If you've ever belonged to a club or organization where the friendship of the local merchants is important, I know you'll understand.

Believe it or not, I do have some other news! Last Sunday, St. Patrick's Day no less, was Mrs. Pat McClure's birthday. A few close friends decided to surprise Pat with a little party, and surprised she was! Mrs. Shirley Jellison, with her two children, Billy and Terry, Mrs. Leta Peterson, and Karen and Chris Peterson, and Mrs. Rue King, with her daughter Lucille, were the well-wishers, and the reason the husbands are not mentioned is because they are all V.A.I.T. wives whose husbands are deployed right now! Rue baked the cake, and the girls picked up the ice cream on the way over. Pat's husband was able to be home for the weekend, but left Sunday afternoon. That was a very nice way to surprise a very nice person.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gold, with their son Eddie, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Williams, with their little Kathy, headed for New Smyrna Beach last Sunday, and had a picnic there too! They all had hopes of a good start on this year's sunbath, but Jimi reports that no one seems to have done too well! Since I seem to be developing "typical finger-tips," and also have a sick son to attend to, that seems to be it for today. But the new number is still FA 2-2371. And I'd just love to get a lot of "newy" phone calls!

There will be a meeting of the Seminole County Neighborhood Association of Girl Scouts in the Educational Building of the First Presbyterian Church at 8 p.m.

This meeting will include leaders, associate leaders, troop committee members, council representatives and any other interested adults.

The Lake Mary P.T.A. will meet at the school at 8 p.m. Mr. Gilles, safety engineer at the Naval Air Station will be the guest speaker. A film "Alas the Killer" will be shown.

EASTER HATS

For Easter and after, flowered brimmed hats are beautiful. Young off-face betrons and rollers filled with blossoms are tipped back in face-framing fashions. Picture hats, worn level just back of the hairline, have rippling brims and wreaths of blossoms. Large, oval picture hats, prettily tilted, have graceful brims veiled with maline and tender flowers. Bonnets of exotic straw (ballbunt, shantung and toyo) have deep-sided brims cut away over the brow or long profile brims, dipping forward at one side.

The materials of spring hats are refreshing. Felts are wonderfully smooth and soft. Printed silks, cottons and sheers, linens, leas alpaca and shantungs are also significant.

Actor Specializes In Creating Voices

NEW YORK — Allen Swift has made a career out of putting spots before our eyes—and ears. Swift does the voices for those short "spot" radio and TV commercials. Among the 400 "voices" he has created during the past four years are those of a coffee pot, spark plug, piston, kitchen sink, pencil, bottle and flashlight battery.

Swift is able to give competing brands of the same product different voices. At present, for example, he does three different cigarettes, five different gasolines and a couple of competing candy bars.

The 33-year-old actor got his start on the "Howdy Doudy" TV show, doing voices for most of the puppets. An agency executive used to call on him for "Mr. Bluster's voice," or "Howdy Doudy's voice," and Swift would answer each call. After a while they began calling directly for Swift.

He feels there is no danger of running out of voices. The supply is endless because each one is a mixture of age, geography, personality, background and texture.

Pencil Color

Swift said the hardest voice to imitate is the one closest to "normal" because it has no color, nothing to make it stand out.

Recently, Swift made "spot" commercial history by giving a rhinoceros a high, squeaky voice.

TV Studio Layout At Milan Called Europe's Best

MILAN — The greatest believe of activity in Milan these days is a compound of ancient modern buildings away from the center of the city.

The coming and going of uniformed messengers the automobile traffic, the jammed parking lots — all indicate that things of significance are going on behind those gray walls.

This is the local headquarters of RAI-Radio Audison Italia — which is the source of Italy's own television.

Italians are proud of it, probably prouder than any other nation on the European continent that has embraced the new medium.

Television sets are everywhere in Italy. Antenna masts rise grotesquely over the palazzinos flanking the canals of Venice, over the old buildings of Florence, over the balconies of Verona.

This is hardly a hotel lobby without a television set, and not an old-fashioned little thing at that, but a modern cabinet with a huge screen and perfect reception.

Of course, I had seen TV sets elsewhere in Europe, but I had not seen a television "city" anywhere on the Continent as impressive as RAI's headquarters here.

For that matter, even the BBC in London has nothing that compares with Milan. When BBC's model new Television House is ready in about five years, it may prove the finest in Europe, unless Rome has its own model Television House built by then.

As things stand now, even proud Rome is behind Milan, although Milan is merely a secondary source of Italy's over-all TV programming.

Four huge modern television stages, all hermetically sealed from outside, air-conditioned and well-lighted, are better than most sound stages at the Italian film studios. Cinecittà in Rome probably is the only such studio with facilities more elaborate than Milan's TV center.

The four studios, are constantly in use. On the day I inspected them, workers were busy erecting sets, a second was being dressed up, a rehearsal was going on inside the third and a play was being televised from the fourth. In the halls, actors in costume, carrying theatrical make-up, were standing or sitting in groups awaiting calls.

Much Enthusiasm
Italian TV is trying out new talent. It gives newcomers their great chance of popular recognition. Movie stars are staying aloof from the medium for fear it may hurt them in the movie houses.

I met one petite blonde with a most striking face, heard the name, Alessandra Panaro, for the first time, but felt immediately that here must be a star in the making.

Alessandra started out by acting in children's television shows. Now 17, she acts in adult plays and has appeared in several Italian pictures as a result of her being seen on T.V.

"I am not the only one," she said. "There are dozens of young stars who mention RAI in their daily prayer. We wouldn't have had a chance without television. Our movie industry is shot to pieces and competition on the stage from the established actors and actresses makes it impossible for a newcomer to get in."

Alessandra's feeling is typical of the general atmosphere at RAI. They're all enthusiastic about the new medium, from Dottore Mori, who heads the programming, down to the carpenter.

When I told the chief carpenter that I had seen TV studios everywhere, yet nowhere such beautiful sets, he shrugged and replied proudly.

"Well, signore, I suppose we don't know how to make things any other way."

Views On Proposed Zoning Bill Vary

Paddock Assumes Duties As Bank's Vice President

Bruce G. Paddock, formerly associated with the First National Bank of Chicago, arrived in Sanford Monday and took over duties as vice president of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank here yesterday.

He will be in charge of the installment loan department of the bank.

Paddock, associated in banking since 1939, attended Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., where he majored in economics and banking.

He is a member of the Elks Club of Aurora, Ill.; the Moose Lodge of Brookfield, Ill.; the Lu-Grange Club in which he is a past director; a past director of the LaGrange Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce; a member of the Masonic Blue Lodge; and a member of the American Legion.

"This is my first trip to Sanford," said Paddock, "however, I have spent about four vacations in Florida."

"Sanford has a good future," he said, "because it is a well located city with a diversity of enterprises."

"I know I am going to like it," said the bank's new Vice President.

Paddock said that his wife, Catherine, and two daughters, Susan, seven, and Patricia, five, will arrive in Sanford in June just as soon as schools close.

Paddock is a member of the Episcopal Church in which he is a past treasurer of his church's organization in Illinois.

Announcement of Paddock's arrival in Sanford was made by Robert G. Bauman, president of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank.

Committee Approves Welfare, Labor Funds

WASHINGTON (U)—The House Appropriations Committee today approved with only minor reductions requested funds to finance the government's welfare and labor programs next year.

The committee cut only 3.8 percent in a presidential request for 2.9 billion dollars to run the Labor and Health, Education and Welfare departments, and related minor agencies, in the 12 months starting July 1.

Today's reductions were noticeably smaller than those made previously.

The committee voted routine cuts throughout the Labor Department budget and managed a few from Health, Education and Welfare. Most of the big medical, research, and hospital programs got all they asked, however.

The committee claimed total cuts of 111.9 million, recommending to the House appropriations of about 2.8 billion. But a big chunk of the reduction—794 million—was in grants to states for public assistance programs, and represented no more than the committee's belief that demand won't be as high as estimated by the Social Security Administration. If the money runs out, more will have to be provided.

No Magic Formula
The committee acted after hearing a subcommittee's report that "magic" formulas for cutting the budget won't work and that the way to cut government spending is to quit approving new functions.

Here are key allowances in the bill:

Labor Department, $384,364,300, a cut of $20,311,700.

Department of Health, Education & Welfare, $2,487,684,581, a cut of $94,430,000 but $621,800 more than the agency got for the current year.

The Food and Drug Administration, the National Institutes of Health, the Public Health Service hospital and medical program and the program of federal grants for hospital construction got all they requested.

There are no apparent injuries, a spokesman said this morning.

Pilot of the helicopter was named as Lt. Comdr. Will Webber.

Passengers with him were Aviation Machinist Mate Holland and Aviation Machinist Mate Second Class Winner.

The flight, according to a NAS spokesman, was routine and all personnel were stationed at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

The helicopter is an Airspeed Rescue Craft.

Helicopter Makes Forced Landing This Morning

A Navy helicopter called "The Retriever," stationed at the Sanford Naval Air Station, had a forced landing this morning at 9:07 in the vicinity of Orange City.

The area in which the helicopter went down was stated to be the Orange City Airport behind the library in the Volusia County Community.

Jay Hebert Third Among Leading Money Winners

The PGA Tournament Bureau revealed today that Jay Hebert, Mayfair Inn playing pro, is third among leading money winners so far this year.

Doug Ford, 34-year-old Mahopac, N. Y. pro who has collected in every tournament he entered this year, leads golf's money winners so far this year with $13,848.55 in winnings.

Other leaders are Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa. who is second with winnings at $10,218.22, Hebert third at $7,998.33, Ed Furell of St. Andrews, Ill. fourth with $6,580.27, and Art Wall of Pocomo Manor, Pa. fifth with $4,620.

The storm ranged through Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas and Louisiana, dumping one-quarter to one-half inch of rain Wednesday night and early today.

Wintery weather lingered in the northeast with heavy snow blanketing portions of Rhode Island, Connecticut and Massachusetts.

Six inches of snow piled up in Providence, R. I. and Boston, Mass. since Wednesday, and Nantucket, Mass. had a four-inch snow cover.

Light snow or rain continued to fall in the north Atlantic Coast states during the morning.

Melbourne Teachers Threaten To Drop Jobs; Seek Raise

Top News In Brief

TAIPEI (U)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek warned the United States and Britain today they "will be helping to defeat themselves" if they relax the strategic goods embargo against Communist China.

TAMPAHASEE (U)—Atty. Gen. Richard Erwin has recommended to the Legislature a law which would permit Florida courts to bring back for trial juveniles who violated the law in this state and fled to another to escape punishment. Erwin said Florida should enter an interstate compact on juveniles.

GAZA, Egypt (U)—United Nations "peace soldiers" spread a thin line between angry Arab and Israeli forces along the borders of the Gaza Strip today with orders to shoot if necessary to halt infiltrators from either side. A U.N. Emergency Force battalion of Danish and Norwegian troops took up positions along the top of the strip, leaving Gaza town control of recently-arrived Egyptian civil administrators.

WASHINGTON (U)—A House Appropriations subcommittee said today the only way to cut the budget is to stop setting up new federal projects. It rejected administration and Hoover Commission proposals to give Congress a tighter control over spending and "magic devices" that won't work.

Farm Bureau Views Slides On Harmful, Friendly Insects

The Seminole County Farm Bureau said its monthly meeting Tuesday night held at the Longwood Library, saw colored slides of friendly and harmful insects.

Dr. J. W. Wilson, Associate Entomologist at the Central Florida Experiment Station described the insects shown and the damage they could do to household plants and farm crops.

A question and answer period following the showing of the slides produced many unusually queries about the insect life found in Florida.

Ollie Williamson and Harold Fauver both gave short talks on Farm Bureau insurance.

Also attending the meeting was Ben Wiggins of the Soil Conservation Service.

Charles Lawson, president of the Seminole County Farm Bureau presided at the meeting which was preceded by a covered dish supper.

THE RAW MATERIAL
WASHINGTON, Me. (U)—This town lost its only industry, and this is how it was reported to the Maine Department for Development of Industry and Commerce.

"The papermill factory has moved to Waldoboro, but we still have the cabbage patch."

Elementary school teachers in Melbourne have threatened to drop their jobs unless the Legislature approves pay raises for teachers.

By late last night, 51 of the 58 teachers had signed a petition declaring they would not sign contracts to work next year unless the pay hike was granted.

A spokesman said the other seven teachers would sign today. Copies of the petition will be sent to State Senator Douglas Stenstrom of Sanford and Representative Richard B. Muldrew of Melbourne.

Senator Stenstrom, in a meeting said "I do not rest at this time that I could express any opinion as to any specific amount for a teacher pay raise until such time as we know that the appropriations committees of the House and Senate are going to do."

He said "Should the appropriations committees make provision in the appropriations bill for the finance and taxation committees as well as the Senate and House to approve additional revenue to make the raises provided by the appropriations committees possible."

Stenstrom explained "In other words, the appropriations committees first must provide for the raise and secondly the finance and taxation committees must provide the revenue. And the action of both committees must then be approved by the Legislature."

"No legislator," he said, "can predict exactly what the attitude of both committees and both Houses will be."

As to his personal opinion, Senator Stenstrom said "I favor a teacher pay raise for many reasons not the least of which is simply that we are going to have to provide the raise in order to attract our young people into the profession."

"I cannot say and I do not believe any other legislator in Florida can say exactly what amount that raise will be."

The petition, a copy of which is being sent to Senator Stenstrom reads in part:

"We consider the proposal of the Florida Education Assn. basically sound and economically feasible. It is our desire to go on record as unwilling to sign contracts for the next school year unless the salary recommendations put forth by the FEA are enacted by the Legislature."

The FEA continued to seek support for the pay raises without the blessings of Gov. LeRoy Collins.

FEA leader Ed Henderson said his organization planned to "stand firm" on its recommended 1,100 pay raise and is seeking legislative support.

He said the FEA recognizes that its recommended $4,200 starting salary cannot be achieved without taxing, but he said "the people of Florida are ready and willing to assume extra taxes if assured the taxes are for schools."

Collins came out strongly against the huge pay hike Monday and called it "unrealistic . . . unsound" and requiring an extra 10 million dollars a year.

However, commissioners refused to enter into a lease agreement extending beyond five years. Commissioner Krueger insisted that the contract or lease be reopened for negotiation at the end of the five year contract period.

Commissioner Lawrence Swafford, in whose county district Big Tree Park is located, held that "I haven't had time to study the proposal by Hughes. I didn't know that you would be here today."

Stenstrom contended that at a conference between himself and Swafford several days prior to Tuesday's meeting of the Board of Seminole County Commissioners, "I would be here Mar. 17 with an offer to place before the entire board."

Some observers contend that Big Tree Park "has become a political football since it has been revealed that money can be made from the only attraction in Seminole County."

Commissioner H. C. Dodd proposed that action taken by the board in notifying Howard Hughes to vacate Big Tree Park be rescinded.

In a voice vote, Commissioner Swafford voted "no" and called for a roll call vote.

The final tally of votes was four commissioners in favor of the proposal and Commissioner Swafford against.

Greatest Danger To Nation Now Is Inflation

MIAMI (U)—Former President Hoover said Wednesday night the greatest danger to the nation at this time is inflation.

The 82-year-old statesman said taxpayers are "groaning" over government spending. Pressure groups must be made to lay off Congress so the government can reduce its huge money outlay, he said.

Mr. Hoover, here for a three-week rest and some fishing in the Florida Keys, said "The purchasing power of the dollar is down every month."

If the public will take some of the "special interest groups" pressures off Congress, he said, then the nation's lawmakers might have a better chance to reduce the spending program.

The former President also called for congressional approval of recommendation of the non-partisan Hoover Commission for streamlining and modernizing government operations. Mr. Hoover said the recommendations would save billions of dollars.

He said the FEA recognizes that its recommended $4,200 starting salary cannot be achieved without taxing, but he said "the people of Florida are ready and willing to assume extra taxes if assured the taxes are for schools."

Collins came out strongly against the huge pay hike Monday and called it "unrealistic . . . unsound" and requiring an extra 10 million dollars a year.

Jaycees Will Seek Civic Club Help For Navy Event

"We are planning to ask the civic clubs of Sanford to appoint committees to help us with the serving of food," said Harry Canuel and Garfield Willett, co-chairmen of the Jaycee Seminole County Navy Appreciation Day to be held on March 30.

"Our next meeting," the two chairmen said yesterday, "will be held Tuesday at a place yet to be designated to coordinate the duties of all of the committees we have set up."

They explained that it is urged that all committee chairmen, attend the meeting. "This is a big job we have ahead of us and we want to do it well," the two young businessmen said.

The National Guard has consented to help in maintaining order, answering questions, and doing a big job at being courteous for which they are so famous, Canuel and Willett stated. "And they're doing this even though they must get up at 5 o'clock the next morning to take part in maneuvers," they said.

Another part of the plans which have become final is that the New York Glens will stage a baseball game the afternoon of Navy Appreciation Day in which the Minneapolis Millers will play Dallas. Admission will be free to the Navy Appreciation Day baseball game.

Final plans have been completed for a giant fireworks display, the two committee chairmen revealed yesterday for the first time. "We are going to have fireworks with more than a hundred multiple burst shells fired in the huge aerial display that will be seen over Lake Monroe," they said.

Other plans that have been completed include the appearance of the Seminole High School band for a concert during the serving of the meal. However, the committee is still working on a street dance, they said.
