

Rehabilitation Project Is Begun For Soldiers Who Commit Crimes

CAMP UPTON, I.L., Nov. 19 (Special)—A mass sociological project designed to rehabilitate Army prisoners—soldiers who have committed crimes ranging from desertion to bigamy—and restore them to active duty is being conducted successfully here by the Army Service Forces.

Since the center was opened last Dec. 1, a total of 1,141 men who violated the law have passed into the wind-swept, barbed-wire stockade at the southwest end of the camp and 353, or more than 30 per cent, have been permitted to return to regular Army duty.

The stockade, known officially as the 1253d Rehabilitation Center, 2d Service Command, is one of nine in the United States, one for each service command. Into the center here have come some soldiers once under sentence of

DOOMED: Allied Bombers Face With Time To Crush German War Plants Before Invasion Deadline

VICTORY THROUGH AIR POWER theories face an acid test. The greatest air-battle ever conceived is now on the Allied blueprint and these are the places marked for destruction. It has begun already. A definite deadline has been set for its accomplishment. The tensely dramatic question is raised: Can Germany be pushed to the point of surrender by air force alone? Britain's Air Marshal Harris and America's Gen. Arnold are ready for this race against time. It's these targets against innumerable Allied lives. When the deadline limit is reached, the plans agreed upon at the Moscow Conference call for the beginning of ground invasion when "the hour strikes." Much depends on the ability of American forces to carry out daylight precision bombing attacks. Centers of fighter plane production are highlighted in the raid plans and it is estimated that success would reduce German fighter strength to less than a thousand planes. (International)

H. B. Steagall House Member Dies Suddenly

Chairman Of Banking Committee Had Represented Alabama District 30 Years

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Henry B. Steagall (D-Ala.), chairman of the House Banking Committee, died unexpectedly today at George Washington Hospital. House Physician George Calver reported he suffered a heart attack after a speech Thursday in leading the battle against food subsidies.

Born at Colton, Ala., May 19, 1873, he represented the Third Alabama District for almost 30 years.

His death came shortly after the House arranged to suspend business for 2½ hours in respect to Rep. Dutert (R-La.), who yesterday in a Navy plane crash, delaying for at least a day the showdown vote on the Administration's consumer-subsidy program.

Governor Chauncey Sparks of Alabama joined Steagall's congressional associates in paying tribute to the veteran legislator.

Sanford Navy Officers Win Commendation

Six Fliers Stationed Here Have Participated in Action In Africa And Pacific

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Six navy officers, now stationed at the Sanford Naval Air Station, are among others winning unit commendation from naval fleet commanders for their action in smashing at the Axis enemy on both sides of the world.

In announcing the commendation yesterday, the Navy said the squadron, known as squadron 26, is the first to receive credit for fighting in both the Pacific and the African theaters of the war. Those stationed at Sanford include:

Lieut. (j.g.) Roy F. Reed, U.S.N.R.; Lieut. (j.g.) Marshall, Miss.

Lieut. (j.g.) Jerry M. Clark, U.S.N.R.; 1110 East 3rd South St., Salt Lake City, Utah.

Lieut. (j.g.) Horace W. (Sonny) Bacon, U.S.N.R., Box 88, Duncan, Ariz.

Lieut. (j.g.) William A. Ternigan, Jr., U.S.N.R., 1111 South Barrett St., Elkhorn, S.C.

Lieut. (j.g.) Maurice H. Lee, U.S.N.R., Angier, North Carolina, A direct descendant of Gen. Robert E. Lee.

Lieut. (j.g.) Alfred J. Brown, U.S.N.R., 1561 Metropolitan Avenue, Parkchester, Bronx, New York.

The officers in Sanford tell thrilling stories of their Pacific war experiences.

It was one of the many combat stories told by the young aviators at the base during their first Japanese victory. He relates:

"We were on a long run from our base over half of enemy territory. There was a dog fight over Rabaul and the Japs had jumped us with superior numbers. I shot down two Zeros, and my wing man, Lieut. (j.g.) Mickewait, got one again death lurks in the snows for Nazis along the front shown in the inset map. (International).

GERMAN MILITARY CIRCLES are gloomy over the lack of progress against heavy snows and below-zero weather the retreating Nazi forces in Russia face. As the German armies enter the cold winter front areas, accommodations planned out this summer already have been overwhelmed by the rapid Soviet advance. Initially, attached in the minds of the Nazi military chiefs is the disastrous winter campaign of 1941-42, when German troops, totally unprepared for sub-zero temperatures, froze to death by the thousands.

Celeryfeda Win Over New Smyrna By 35 To 18 In Fast Game

Jr. Literary Guild Lists Sackett Novel As Book Of Month

By WILLARD CONNOLLY

"Sponger's Jinx," an exciting tale of the boy's adventures in deep sea diving for sponges in the Gulf of Mexico, is the latest Seminole Florida written by Milburn Sackett of Sanford, a retired shipbuilder who has won a string of awards for his writing.

A Zero was making a pass at one of our P-102s," Lieut. Reed says, "and I took a burst at it at long range. Zeros and Grumman were all around me, fighting it out. When the P-102 and the Zero came by again, I fired on the Zero at much closer range and it began smoking right away."

It was such a busy day up there in the Pacific skies that Lieut. Reed bagged another Zero in next to no time at all.

Lieut. Bacon had his day in the Southwest Pacific on July 1. The pilots of Fighting 26 were scheduled for about four hours in the air that day, and their first hop was peaceful. On the second hop, however, they encountered Jap bombers and fighters.

"As our division was divided up," Lieut. Bacon recalls, "I was Football history was written Friday evening at Seminole High School field by the Junior Literary Guild. Fleming and the students cheered themselves hoarse as the Celeryfeda in the last home game of the season celebrated Thanksgiving week by downing a gamely fighting team of Barracudas from New Smyrna, 35 to 18.

Lieut. (j.g.) Bill Fleming, Seminole's back field ace, ran 18 yards in the game, including one 30-yard run and one 50 and one 12-yard run for touchdowns. In this he was aided by fine interference and some old reliable team plays invented by Pop Warner.

Claymore Bates, red headed back to Sanford with the victory last quarter, when the Peds sparked by a touchdown by Bob Cullum and a final 90 yard run by Fleming, piled up another 11 points.

The Sanford fans, throughout the game, alternated between elation and despair, never knowing but that fate would take its trained protégés of Coach Al Legane, ex-star of the University of Florida might do. Their formation and Notre Dame backfield shift was a delight to behold and they slashed the strong and fearless to ribbons time after time in the fourth quarter, the Peds led by only three points, 21 to 18.

It looked like a pushover for the Peds at the start on the second play of the game. Bill Fleming crashed through for a 50-yard touchdown. Pete Brock and Fleming ran afterwards and D. L. Daniels ran the ball to the Barracudas end, and Fleming scampered over for another tally. His conversion was good both times.

If you have a tale to tell,
Boll it down!
Write it out and write it well,
Being careful how you spell;
Send the kernel, keep the shell;
Boll it down! Boll it down!

Then, when all the job is done,

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS it has pleased Our Heavenly Father that from the ranks of Camp Theodore Roosevelt No. 14, our beloved Comrade Chas. R. Lord, and promote him to a higher rank in the great Spiritual Army above, we his comrades recall with tender memory his faithful and unselfish service to his camp, his ready smile, his kind words, his concern for the happiness and comfort of the members during its entertainments, his faithful attendance when he was physically able and his true Christian spirit assure us that he will always live in our memories.

We are conscious that such noble qualities of character make us feel that "earth is not man's only abiding place." That our life is not a mere bubble cast up by eternity to float for a moment upon its waves and then sink into nothingness. Else why is it that all the glorious aspirations that leap like angels from the temples of our hearts are forever undercurrents, unachieved? Why is it that the glorious stars that hold their festival around the midnight throne are set above the grasp of our limited faculties forever mocking us with their unapproachable glory. And finally, why is it, that the beloved and beautiful things presented to our eyes are taken away leaving the thousand streams of our affections to flow back in Alpine torrents upon our hearts. No, there is a realm where the rainbow never fades and where the stars will be spread out before us like islands that slumber in the ocean, and the beautiful scenes the now pass before us like shadows will stay in our presence forever."

Being cognizant of his noble virtues and holding an abiding faith that he lived in eternity with The Great Commander of the Universe, we, his comrades in open session do unanimously adopt these resolutions of sorrow:

Resolved, That the passing of our beloved comrade, Chas. R. Lord, is deeply and profoundly lamented, and that he will be greatly missed from our too fast climbing ranks,

Be It Further Resolved that a copy of the Camp's Book of Resolutions be dedicated to his memory and a copy of these resolutions be spread thereupon.

Be It Further Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to his widow, Mrs. Chas. R. Lord, and a copy to The Sanford Herald, for publication.

One-Third Of Average Family's Income Used To Buy Groceries

By ROBERT M. FARRINGTON

When Bureau of Labor Statistics "doctors" want to know the nation's economic health, they shove a calculating thermometer into the collective mouths of our largest and most important cities.

The reading (cost of living index) is supposed to show the price of the average commodity bought by the average family. Bureau statisticians burned out many a computing machine estimating, weighing and adjusting the survey to come up a colossal number of factors.

Roughly one-third of a moderate-income family's money goes for food so a constant check is made on 78 important foods in 58 big cities.

Unfair To Express

Like any average, however, the index is unfair to the extremes in highs and lows. The "doctors" in Omaha say there is no consolation to know that the national average price of a commodity is only one-tenth of one cent higher when she may be paying much more than that locally.

Furthermore, one live man and one dead man count together average out at each being half a man which may be a enough average but it is scarcely enough representation of the case.

Despite the obvious drawbacks, the cost of living index still is the best measuring stick of what we buy that has been devised.

Recently a committee of experts investigating complaints that the index had lost much of its value as a guide to wage adjustments reported that it was essentially accurate but of limited use.

Higher wages to meet the rising cost of living in specific communities.

The study was begun during the last war to settle squabbles of shopkeepers who thought their customers had entered into their wages. It has been used frequently in wage negotiations ever since.

A fact-finding job in 1935 turned out wrinkles of age, substituting among the items price surveyed low shoes for high ones, pajamas for nightshirts, and rayon slips for cotton corsets and petticoats. It has been revised several times since then.

Strictly a city-dweller's indicator, it picks up changes in diet habits, clothing and house furnishings; reports shortages, high or rents, the passing of the ice refrigerator and various urban trends. Taxes are not considered, but labor leaders say they should be.

Intended for time-to-time comparisons of any one city's food-price fluctuations, the index is not so good on place-to-place com-

over the Japs when they showed up. The only thing to do was go down and get them on the pull up. I did and I got on top of a single-engined bomber and ran it into the water. It burned and exploded like a firecracker. I got big stick out there riding the Jap down, and it wasn't the thing to do. When I knew I had the pilot licked and he was a general I should have joined up again. While I was riding the bomber's tail, a Zero got on my tail and shot the hell out of my tail. I had to land in how much danger I really was, until I got back to our base. I found the left wing was almost blasted off, but the plane held together somehow."
