Sanford Farms News Notes

Mr. Burke of Michigan who purchased ten acres of celery land in Sanford Farms last spring has arrived. Monroe and is now busy working out plans for the immediate erection of a nice residence. Mr. Burke will clear his land and place it in cultivation.

H. P. Lingo, formerly general auditor of the Tennessee railroad and who purchased fifteen acres of vegetable land in Sanford Farms has arrived here with his father and mother, built a residence and is now living on his property. He will clear his place and put it in cultivation this winter. Mr. Lingo's brother from the Canal Zone is here on a short visit.

Mr. Downer of Michigan, whose son purchased one of our five acre tracts last spring has arrived at Monroe and is preparing to erect a residence and have it ready when his son arrives in the fall.

L. R. Vorce has a crew of men working on his residence and will now have it ready for occupancy in about ten days. The seven and one-half acres Mr. Vorce has cleared looks splendid and there is no doubt but what he will soon be shipping bumper crops.

Sanford Farms were not injured by the recent storm. The bridge washed out over the county canal, but with the good help of the neighbors we had it restored in half a day.

Sanford Farms is undoubtedly the best drained piece of land in the Celery Delta. After the copious rain of last week there is not a sign of it left on the farms and those who have arrived here are going ahead with their work just as though no wind or rain ever blew this way from the tropics.

R. S. Barnes and wife of Oneida, Tenn., were here this week looking over 15 acres of land they purchased from this company. They were delighted with the location and prospects and left orders to have a well driven at once and 5 acres of their land placed in shape for cultivation.

If you need anything in the line of real estate Title Bond & Guarantee Co. is prepared to serve you to the best possible advantage. We have the property, business connections and facilities you are in need of.

Captain R. B. Smith and Richard Tingle, both of Georgia and who have purchased land in our division of Sanford farms are marooned at osten with a fine team of mules and wagon. The ferry boat is out of commission at the foot of Celery Ave., and these two are suffering much inconvenience therefrom. When they do get settled at Monroe, they will be prepared to a teaming plowing, harrowing and hauling of all kinds.

Mr. Brown of Connecticut who has large interests in the vicinity of Monroe has returned from the east and is preparing to plant crops in all the fields he represents, these are several of them.

Mr. Bell has completed his store house and is now looking for a tenant. There are five rooms over the store building which he proposes to keep for the accommodation of purchasers of Sanford Farms.

Mrs. W. O. Dyer, wife of the chief engineer of the Tennessee railway was here this week looking over ten acres vegetable farm purchased by Mr. Dyer last May. Mrs. Dyer was delighted with the selection and will return to Sanford in a short time to look after the erection of a residence and getting the farm ready for cultivation.

Every available acre in the vicinity of Monroe will be placed in cultivation this fall and from the hustling surface indications things out Monroe way will soon bloom out as the rose.

Those who contemplate coming to Florida this fall or winter will do well to correspond with Title Bond & Company in advance so we can make proper arrangements to look after their wants.

The Garden of Eden in the window of Title Bond & Guarantee Company attracts much attention; The crops are replanted often enough to keep them in a fine state of growth and all that is lacking is an Eve for the Garden.

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

A general riot was narrowly averted Tampa on Monday when Alex Rawis, a railway car inspector, was shot accidentally in the leg during a street disturbance resulting from the cigar strike situation. An unknown man, supposed to be an American, furnished a pistol above his head and fired two shots, one in the air and the other taking effect on Rawis. The man escaped in the crowd.

With over two hundred delegates in attendance, the annual convention of the National Nut Growers' Association began in Monticello on Monday. Extensive preparations for the entertainment of the visitors had been made and Monticello is proving herself equal to the big undertaking.

Indications are that the new Clarendon Hotel at Daytona Beach will be completed by December 10th. Practically three train loads of furniture have arrived. All carpets will be laid, and all window shades, draperies and awnings will be put up by the makers. The Clarendon will be one of the finest hotels on the east when completed.

In case the prohibition amendment is lost, advocates of prohibition, it is said, will carry the fight to the Legislature with the intention of securing stringent prohibitory legislation in some form.

The experience of the Plant City militiamen, who have been for twelve days on duty at Fort Dade, under the instruction of officers of the regular army, calls attention again to the advisability of the coast artillery Reserve service for the militia companies of this state.

The Atlantic Coast Line railway will erect a new passenger station at Lakeland. Work will start on the new structure early in December.

The Florida Educational Association will meet in Pensacola during the Christmas holidays, December 27 to 30, inclusive.

Prayer Service on Tuesday

On next Tuesday November 8, the hearts of the praying people of Sanford will be uplifted in one accord, to Him in whose name they have given their efforts these weeks past. They earnestly believe that Dry Florida would mean a long step towards the coming of Christ's kingdom.

At 5:30 in the morning the bells will summon the people to a six o'clock prayer service, lasting an hour, in the Methodist church. After this the church bells will be rung every hour, as a signal to those at home and on the streets to lift their hearts in silent prayer.

At three o'clock in the afternoon the ladies of the city are urged to meet with the Woman's Auxiliary of the Anti-Saloon League, at the Methodist church for another devotional service.

"If the Lord is on our side, who will be against us?" Is it not a great thing to realize that we are in a cause upon which we can ask and expect God's help and guidance?

City Council Meets

Owing to weather conditions October 17th, the city councilmen met and adjourned. There being no business transacted.

The city council met in special session Nov. 1st. Members present—B. A. Howard, Pres pro tem; W. D. Holden, H. R. Stevens and H. P. Driver, those absent—D. L. Thrasher, A. T. Rossiter and G. R. Calhoun.

The following resolution was passed: Resolved, by the city council of Sanford, Fla., that the council shall advertise for sealed bids for the performance of the scavenger garbage and street cleaning and sweeping service of Sanford; and that bids may be received and contracts let for any part or all of this service.

Resolved, that the city clerk be instructed to advertise for these bids in the Sanford Herald in the three issues of that paper on the fourth, eleventh and eighteenth days of November, respectively.

Moved and second to adjourn, Council.

BUILDING &amp; LOAN ASSOCIATION

Financial Condition is a Source of Gratification to Stockholders

Attention is called to the annual statement of the Sanford Building and Loan Association, on another page of this issue. This statement shows a very gratifying financial condition, and the officers and stock holders are to be congratulated.

The association began business two years ago this month with no assets and nearly $500.00 in debt. This debt was the original cost of organization. The collections at that time were a little over $500.00 per month.

In November 1909 the stock holders of the association, finding that the collections for monthly payments on common stock, did not meet the demands for loans to build houses, arranged for an issue of $50,000. of 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock. Only a small portion of this stock has been sold, but it is confidently believed that negotiations now pending will result in the disposal of a large block of this preferred stock at an early date.

It required the Association nearly eighteen months to get on an earning basis. At the end of the last dividend period, six months ago, there were $35.01 available for dividends on the common stock. For the period ending with the month of September the Association had a fund available for dividends on common stock amounting to $578.00 representing an earning of a little over 9 per cent. This has been distributed in accordance with the by-laws of the institution.

It is confidently believed by the officers and large stock holders of the institution that from now on this stock will annually earn not less than 12 per cent and possibly 15 per cent. No better investment and no better method of saving money is possible.

An examination of the list of stock holders discloses the fact that only a small percentage of our business and professional men are stock holders. The institution is not receiving the support from the business men in our community which it should receive. In addition to the earnings on the investment itself, every business man is benefited by the activity in the building business.

There are applications now on file for loans to build houses amounting to more than $20,000.00. Think what it would mean to the town if this money was immediately available. The money is here in the hands of our own people. The business men who have this money should invest a little each month in the common stock of this association. It will assist in the building up of our fair little city. It will stimulate business in every line and result in giving us accommodations for the hundreds of people who annually leave us because they cannot secure house room.

Haunted House in Florida

The following "haunted house" story from the DeLand correspondent of the Times-Union is doubtless the work of some wag, or inventive bad boy, savoring of "Huckleberry Fin" or "Tom Sawyer."

"At least 200 people visited the 'haunted' house near DeLand Landing Sunday, property of the late Moses Marish, to witness some of the queer things that have taken place there, such as a heavy rock, weighing perhaps 20 or 30 pounds, that has been lying around the house for the past twenty or thirty years picked itself up, carried itself into an adjoining room and broke into two pieces. Four pairs of shoes, belonging to a few of the children, set on the floor, began to walk upstairs, while the family looked on and no feet (nor hands) touched them. A fishing rod, a heavy turned column, a sewing machine, and many other articles, came down stairs of their own accord. These stories excited no little interest in the 'haunted place,' and during the past week the road from DeLand to the house, about six miles away, has been worn to a frazzle. Some people who have visited the scene have experienced some of the strange and unaccountable phenomena."

Have Moved

The well known firm of D. A. Caldwell & Sons have just moved their large stock of dry goods, ladies' and gents' furnishings, shoes and furniture to the DeForest building corner First street and Magnolia Ave. The spacious show rooms have been remodeled for them and they will there have one of the largest and handsomest stores in this section of the country.

Superior Attractions of Sanford District Bring Many ExcurSIONISTS Here

Last week was not a good week in real estate circles and yet some $20,000 worth of property changed hands near Cameron City and several other minor sales were reported. On account of the pleasant weather prevailing throughout the north very few of the real buyers have started southward as yet, preferring to wait until all their fall work is finished ere casting their eyes Sanford way.

The special edition of The Herald has been completed and many copies delivered throughout the north, which is also a great impetus in the winter travel this way.

This week the first of November excursions will start and several hundred new people are expected to come to Sanford, as fully that many have signified their intention of buying.

On account of the recent storm the lettuce crop will be later than usual and ideal conditions will not greet the newcomers, but celery and other crops are looking fine and every one is looking forward to a prosperous season. Already the houses in Sanford have been rented and apartment houses are filled to overflowing.

Good Roads For Orange County

No proposed public improvement in the history of Orange county has so signally marked our onward progress as the proposed million dollar bond issue for good roads.

Our county commissioners have shown to the people the wastefulness of the present expensive system of constant required by the dirt roads now in vogue. These roads surfaced with shuck or clay are appreciated by all old residents, who a generation ago journeyed to our county seat through deep and sand requiring four or five hours for the trip, but why not have the best? Experience in other sections of our state has set the stamp of approval on vitrified brick as the best and most economical material for road paving. The building of brick roads in our county is not a movement for the pleasure and comfort of the automobile owners, but will be an untold blessing to our fruit growers and truckers. Of course one million dollars will not build little branch roads to each man's farm or grove, but once we have the main brick paved thoroughfares, short roads may be easily made passable through concerted effort of a neighborhood, or by the labor of our county convicts.

Once published to the world that Orange county has spent one million dollars for good roads the interest of the homeseeker will be aroused, and he is inclined to consider favorably the advantages claimed and inducements offered to permanent settlers. Is it not the part of wisdom to cast our ballots for the good roads bond proposition?

H. H. DEANE.

Julian in the Race

Dr. A. P. Julian, Lake City, will announce within a few days for the nomination for United States senator, and prepare to conduct an active campaign throughout the state.

Dr. Julian is a prominent citizen of Lake City, has been identified with the progress of west Florida for many years, and his friends are certain that he will receive a very handsome support. He is preparing his platform and will make announcement of his plan of campaign in due time. With Dr. Julian in the arena the last of the candidates for the vacancy created by the death of the late N. B. Howard numbers four—W. A. Blount of Pensacola, N. P. Bryan and J. N. C. Stockton of Jacksonville and Dr. Julian of Lake City.

Barclay in England

E. H. Barclay, whose "mysterious" absence caused his friends so much anxiety, has been heard from. Frank Newport, postmaster at Eastlake, received a letter mailed at Liverpool, from him Friday, stating that he was on his way to his home in Scotland. Mr. Barclay evidently just took it into his head to cross the ocean without saying anything to anybody. The next time he is missing his friends won't worry.

PROFIT IN CUCUMBERS

Sanford Growers Made Good Money On Cukes Last Year

Mr. A. B. Cameron last season induced number of our planters to put in a crop of cucumbers. After the markets of the east had ceased to pay adequate price the western markets were invaded and the shipping continued until June.

Mr. Cameron and Mr. Pace jointly handled some forty-five cars, paying a f. o. b. price to the grower. This year probably seventy-five or a hundred cars will be bought. Some of our growers last season from their cucumbers, recouped their losses on other crops, as some expressed it, "pulled ourselves out of a hole."

This crop is easily grown on land from which celery or lettuce has been cut, without any additional fertilizer. Planting may be begun February 1st, putting in seed every ten days so that if there should be a hard frost and one planting cut back, the other coming along would furnish a sure stand.

One of the main requisites to a profitable crop is the proper seed, that is the right variety. The White Spine, under many different designations, has not proven satisfactory of late years owing to a failure in retaining a green color. The trade wants a dark green cucumber, one that will hold its color until sold to the consumer. Early Fortune and Long Green have been grown with satisfaction as the "New Davis Perfect", of this variety it is said, the new variety beats all others in points of beauty, quality and productiveness. It loads its vines so heavily that it seemed impossible for them to mature the fruit, at least 25 per cent more fruit can be cut from it than any other we ever tried in the greenhouse, while for out door growing they seem to yield even better than under glass, and even experts cannot tell the out-door fruits from the hot house products. The New Davis Perfect is a beautiful variety of dark green color, handsome plants and enormously productive. Mr. Cameron urges all who contemplate growing cucumbers to plant this variety. One of our merchants has arranged to handle genuine seed.

Mrs Curtis in Sanford

Mrs. Nannie Curtis of Texas will address the people of Sanford, tonight at 8 o'clock from the Band stand in the Park.

Every one in Sanford should hear this wonderful woman.

The Bristol, Virginia, Herald says:

"Mrs. Nannie Curtis, a woman. Such an introduction was powerful enough to create a demonstration at the temperance meeting Monday night, the like of which has seldom, if ever been witnessed in Bristol. But it only partially describes this remarkable woman. Preeminently a woman, with the nobility and loftiness of character and the beauty of temperament which poetry has woven into the world, that alone would distinguish her. She is an orator with a true orator's power. She is of fine presence, with a pleasing voice. Her eloquence is of that spontaneous quality which carries conviction with masculine force. Her ability to play upon the emotions of an audience in a simple, undramatic way is marvelous. Leaving out of consideration entire the burst of enthusiasm which she found awaiting her, and all the dramatic setting into which she suddenly appeared, and judging the severest standard of intellectual and forensic capacity, she is an unusual woman. Her addresses were the climax of the temperance campaign. All honor to such a woman."

Apron Sale for Hospital

The growing popularity of the apron cannot be questioned. Nearly every paper or magazine devoted to women's doings are showing patterns of all sorts of aprons for all purposes, and surely nothing could make a more appropriate Christmas present than a dainty apron.

There will be an apron sale on the evening of November 22nd, at the home of Mrs. J. W. Dickins, corner Eighth street and Magnolia avenue, given by the Junior Auxiliary of the Holy Cross, for the benefit of the Church Home and Hospital in Orlando. Many varieties of aprons will be shown—sewing aprons, chafing dish aprons, every day aprons, children's aprons and kitchen aprons.

The Orlando hospital should be of interest to us all, for a number of our sick have been cared for and many have been nursed back to health and strength by the kind and tender care bestowed on patients of all denominations received within the hospital.

By winning the prize of $10,000 offered by Thomas Fortune Ryan for the fastest flight from Belmont around the Statue of Liberty and return, a distance of 34 miles in 34 minutes, 38 seconds and a fraction, John B. Moissant, the American aviator, has won more money at the international meet than any other flyer.

Sixty skilled cigarmakers, among them a number of women, left Pittsburg this week for Tampa, to work in factories where the manufacturers and workmen do not agree, and where a strike has been in progress for several months.

The new budget for New York City calls for $171,503,787, an increase of eight millions over last year. It takes a mint of money to run a city of four or five millions, but the amount seems to be enormous even for that.

Three spaniels acted as bridesmaids in a society wedding in New York Wednesday. They were doubtless the nicest of the guests and a big improvement on the contracting parties.

The first airship line in the United States is in progress of organization and will connect Detroit and Cleveland. The company is composed of officials of the Detroit-Cleveland Steamship Company.

Here is another David B. Hill incident. He died leaving the United States owing him $4,000. It is for salary due him as United States Senator, which he refused to accept. This $4,000 was placed to his credit as salary as Senator, dating from his election. He did not resign his position as Governor of New York, however, until some time afterward, and on the ground that he could not receive two salaries, refused the money. It seems that the disbursing clerk of the Senate cannot cancel the debt, nor can it be paid to Mr. Hill's heirs. What the final disposition will be is problematical.

With the submission of the prohibition question to the voters of Missouri now only a few days distant, the "wets" and "drys" are lining up in battle array prepared for a fight to the finish. A great parade under the auspices of the Good Government League was held to-day as a means of arousing enthusiasm for the "dry" campaign. Men, women and children marched in the long procession, while other women and youngsters rode in carriages and on floats. Hundreds of banners emblazoned with "dry" sentiments and appeals to down the "rum demon" were carried in the parade.

Following an important conference between Assistant Attorney General O. E. Harrison, of Washington and United States District Attorney O. D. Street, regarding the dissolution suit now pending against the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association. Mr. Harrison stated that appeals would immediately be taken to appoint a commission to take testimony in the important case. He said testimony would be taken in Birmingham, New York, Chicago, New Orleans and other cities.

"King" Cole, the phenomenal recruit of the pitching staff of the Chicago Nationals, announced that he had signed a three-year contract, and that his salary had been doubled. Cole bears the distinction of being the only club pitcher who could even temporarily stem the tide of victory against the Philadelphia Americans, in the championship games last week, winning the fourth game by a narrow margin of one run. He gives promise of becoming the premier pitcher of both leagues within a few years, his admirers say.

An ordinance to suppress giggling, gushing, garrulous girls and also young men who make themselves general obnoxious to others spectators at the theaters will be introduced in the Indianapolis City Council by Councilman George C. Rubens. His evening was spoiled at the theater last night and he says: "There ought to be a heavy fine for such frequent displays of bad breeding."

Mrs. Dr. King is visiting in Baltimore and expects to be away for several weeks.

R. J. H.

Some time ago I spoke about the chances for a wet and dry election in Orange county provided the amendment was defeated and stated that the people of Sanford were well satisfied with a no-saloon town. The wet forces are preparing for a fight in this county and if the amendment should be defeated we will have a wet and dry fight on our hands immediately. My old friend, Starbuck of Orlando, immediately wrote me after receiving the Herald and stated that he could prove to the satisfaction of any one that the "wet people" (I say "wet" as aside from local optionists) were certainly preparing a petition to call an election at an early date. So you see, my dear friends among the local optionists, that we have been assisting in bringing on another wet and dry election for our county—something that few people desire and something that Sanford certainly does not want and will not have. Our city was never in better shape and if the closing of the saloons has benefitted the town why return to the saloon regime with the attendant horrors of crime and debauchery?

It would seem that Sanford must endure the same rowdy acts and horse play at the opera house indulged in last year by a crowd of young Sanford men who ought to know better. The other night during the most interesting parts of Graustark these smart guys would completely break up the dramatic situation by their noise in the gallery. I have heard this matter discussed by hundreds of people and the general opinion seems to be that a policeman should be stationed in the house and promptly arrest the offenders, and Mayor Lake can be depended upon to give them all that is coming to them in the police court. These smart rubes ought to have a lesson and the sooner they get it the sooner decent people can enjoy a good play.

Orlando evidently needs an opera house, as the following from the Reporter-Star would indicate:

"Every man, woman and child in the large audience at the opera house last night felt keenly the remarks made by Mr. John H. Lewis, of the Graustark" Company, when he spoke of the lack of every convenience possessed by a decent theatre in the playhouse here in which we are all compelled to show, regardless of the fact that it is nothing but a great big barn, with a state so small that none of the fine scenery carried by a good company can be used. Between the first and second act, a wait of fully half an hour was caused by the company being unable to erect their special scenery, Mr. Lewis being compelled to apologize for holding the audience so long. Can't some of the mounted men of the city get together and erect an opera house that will be a credit to city the size of Orlando with the greatest number of theatre goers of any town in the state, willing and anxious to patronize any good show billed, but unwilling to attend with an opera house that would kill any performance no matter how capable the company. As poor as we will head the list with six bits to start the good work along. A decent playhouse could be erected in plenty of time to be used during the latter part of the season when the patronage is usually the heaviest and would be a drawing card for our beautiful little city, which only lacks a decent opera house, a public library and one or two other things to be the greatest little city in the world. Will somebody start the ball to rolling?"

The other day at Alachua a teacher chastised a boy and the mother of the boy struck the teacher several hard blows and was promptly arrested by the county superintendent and fined $500 by the county judge. I have always contended that there are times when even a teacher loses her temper and maybe whips a child where a good lecture would suffice, but even so the parents have no right to butt in and endeavor to whip the teacher. Common sense would teach us that whipping a child is never a pleasure and few teachers want to attempt it only as a last resort.

I believe that all the mothers should know just how the children behave in school, and usually the worst boys in school are the ones who have received no home training.

The life of teacher is hard enough and we should all try to make it as easy as possible. The school room is the seat of learning and if a child is incorrigible the parents owe the teacher a vote of thanks for correction. Of course there are extenuating circumstances and every teacher is human and liable to correct the wrong child but never, never should a parent strike a teacher unless the case is aggravated assault upon the pupil and proven by eye witness, even then the case is one for the law to take in charge.

In the midst of politics, prohibition and "sich like" I do not want my good friends to lose sight of the good roads movement and the Orange County Fair. Both mean much for our county and should be pushed. The campaign of education on the bonds for brick roads is having a good effect and many new converts have been made in the last two weeks. That old bugbear about taxes being raised has been dispelled and people are now in favor of the bond issue. If the bonds do not carry you can certainly look for a greater raise in taxes, because the present levy is insufficient to build the kind of roads the commissioners have pledged themselves to construct.

I was one who welcomed the cigar factories to our city and I do not think the factories which have located here intend to move back to Tampa, therefore the following Tampa item in Times-Union does not coincide with the views of the manufacturers who have decided to keep branch factories at Jacksonville, Palatka and Sanford.

The backbone of the cigarmakers' strike seems to be most effectually broken. The action of a number of conservative union men in getting up a form of agreement calling for the signatures of 750 men who will volunteer to go to work on the morning of November 1 if the strike is not settle tomorrow, has met with a very considerable response. The better element of the strikers recognize that the strike is hopelessly lost. The circular accompanying the agreement states that the union men, by going to work here and in other cities, broke the strike.

The manufacturers' association has issued a letter to its members who have started branch factories in other towns, calling them back to Tampa. The letter states that the strike is broken, that the fight is really one aimed against the cheap Havana industry and Tampa, and that it is time the manufacturers were concentrating all of their men here. The proposition is to close the branch factories and bring the workmen back to Tampa and place them in the main factories. This was done in part during the past week, quite a number of men being brought here from Jacksonville, Sanford and Palatka, where most of the branch factories were established after the strike.

I wish to warn the automobile owners to keep their lamps lit after dark, blow the horns at the corners and keep to the right giving the other vehicles some show on the streets.— There have been several complaints registered this week about careless driving and somebody will be pulled before long. The auto is all right and I am an enthusiast on the automobile, but I also recognize the rights of others in everything and the laws of the road should be respected in town and country. Reckless drivers do more toward making the country people sore on roads than any other agency and many people now believe the good roads are only being built for the auto. Be careful, ye drivers of the buzz wagons!

I wish to commend Marshal Smith and his assistants for their vigilance on Halloween. As far as I can learn there was very little mischief done and nothing very bad. We all know that young America is bound to do something, but last year the mischief amounted to real damage and a jail sentence would have had a most salutary effect. As long as the mischief was confined to the kids no real harm was done, but the older boys seem to possess a different spirit and wish to do something devilish that will cause the smaller ones to look upon them as heroes. Let the boys have a good time, but don't let them get gay.

SOUTHERN CITIES GROWING

Census Returns Show Some Very Remarkable Increases

Washington, Oct. 31—Remarkable growth is shown in the leading Southern cities by the recapitulated census returns just given out by the Census Bureau. Not even in the west has the population increases been more marked during the last 10 years than in that section south of Baltimore.

Ten years ago only New Orleans, Louisville and Memphis could show more than 100,000 people. In 1910 Atlanta, Birmingham, Nashville and Richmond moved up to the class of cities with 100,000 or more people. This is true, with Charleston, S. C., Augusta, Ga., and Knoxville, Tenn., to hear from.

Of the 18 cities throughout the country showing the highest percentage of increases, eight of them are Southern cities. The list includes Oklahoma City, which still leads the whole country; Muskogee, Okla., which comes second; Birmingham third, with Fort Worth, Texas; Tampa, Fla., Dallas, Texas; Jacksonville, Fla., and Portsmouth, Va., following.

Baltimore's position as the metropolis of the south is not yet approached by any of its southern neighbors. New Orleans is still the second city, with its 339,000 people; Louisville is third, with 223,000, while Memphis will probably maintain its position in fourth place. Its returns are not yet available.

Atlanta is still the fifth city in the South, but Richmond has lost its position at sixth place to Birmingham, whose enormous increase from 38,000 to 132,000 is one of the big surprises of the census. Richmond, however, yet leads Nashville, population being 127,000 as against 110,000 for the Tennessee capital. Dallas, Texas, with 92,000, just missed reaching the 100,000 mark.

Vocal Studio

Mrs. R. Homrighous is registering her class in vocal training for the season at her studio corner 5th and Park, where she will be glad to meet her old pupils and any new ones who desire to study with her.

A large number have entered for the years work and others who expect to study should enter soon as possible in order to get the privilege of a convenient time for lessons.

Mrs. Homrighous will be glad to meet anyone interested in the study of vocal music and talk with them and test their voice free of charge.

INSTRUCTS THE SHERIFF

Governor Gilchrist Issues Orders Concerning the Election

Tallahassee, Florida, October 29.—Governor Gilchrist has today mailed to the sheriff of each county in Florida a letter, of which the following is a copy:

State of Florida, Executive Chamber, Tallahassee, October 29, 1910.

Dear Sir—Your attention is invited to the fact that the general election to be held November 8, 1910, will be an election throughout Florida both for national officers and for state and county officers, and upon the adoption or rejection of certain amendments to Articles 5 and 19 of the State Constitution.

Sections 224 and 226 of the General Statutes prohibit any person from coming within fifteen feet of any door or any window of any polling room from the opening of the polls to the completion of the count of the ballots and certificates of returns, under any pretext whatever, except as specifically provided by law.

Sections 237 and 238 of the General Statutes give inspectors full authority to maintain good order at the polls and provide that a deputy sheriff shall be required to be present at each polling place throughout the time of the election, and see there is no interruption of good order. Such deputy sheriff is given power to summon a posse of bystanders to aid in maintaining peace and order at the polls. Any person failing or refusing to so aid is subject to a heavy penalty under Section 3834.

Section 3826 of the General Statutes provides a heavy penalty against any person attempting by bribery, menace, threat or other corrupt means or devise whatsoever, either directly or indirectly, to influence any voter in casting his ballot, or attempting to deter or disturb or injure him in the free exercise of the right of suffrage.

Section 3813, General Statutes, requires the closing of the saloons and prohibits all sale of intoxicating liquors, under heavy penalty, throughout the day of election.

Sections 3818 and 3825, General Statutes, impose severe penalties upon deputy sheriffs and upon election officers for failure or refusal to faithfully perform their duties prescribed by the laws relating to elections.

Upon the sheriffs as chief executive officers of the several counties, rests the chief responsibility for enforcing full compliance with these and other salutary provisions of law respecting the peaceful and orderly conduct of elections.

It is not assumed or anticipated that the provisions of law will be violated or disregarded in any election precinct of the state; yet, in view of the somewhat natural and perhaps unavoidable excitement felt among some of the people concerning issues involved, I deem it incumbent upon me to specially invite the attention of the sheriffs of the state to the above provisions of law, and such others as have been enacted to govern the conduct of elections; and to call upon the sheriffs to make careful and adequate provision, by the appointment of reliable deputies for each polling place, to the end that the election to be held on November 8, may be conducted in every precinct in Florida in an orderly manner, and in strict compliance with the provisions of law.

By reason of the election of members of congress, the federal laws providing for the protection of voters and against their intimidation will be applicable to the conduct of the approaching election. However, it is not incumbent upon me to invite your special attention to this.

Yours very truly,
ALBERT W. GILCHRIST,
Governor.

No Radical Change

Do not be deceived about the prohibition amendment by the specious argument of those who have an interest to serve in opposing it. The amendment simply prohibits the open saloon in this state. Nobody undertakes to say that any one who wishes to do so cannot keep and drink whiskey, and prohibitionist do not claim that prohibition will stop all whiskey drinking. They do claim that the banishment of the open saloon will lessen drunkenness and save a large percentage of the young men from contracting the drink habit. Those who just cannot get along without a "wee drop" need have no fear of being cut off by the adoption of the amendment. They can send away and have their jug shipped in. To be sure it will be a little inconvenient to send so far away for it, but considering the good that will be accomplished no one should mind making this little sacrifice. Starke Telegraph.

Methodist Church.

Sunday School at 9:45 a. m., preaching at 11 a. m. Sacrament of the Lords Supper will be administered.
Rev. J. W. Wildman of the Baptist church will preach at 7 p. m. Subject "A Century of Temperance Progress". All are invited.

Merchants' Opinion of Dry Sanford

We, who here undersign, Business Men of Sanford, bear testimony to the unprecedented prosperity that our town is now enjoying and under non-saloon conditions for the past three years has enjoyed, do present the fact as exposing conclusively the fallacy of the saloon element that stagnation of business and financial reverses follow the suppression of the sale of liquor as a business, and looking to a greater and better Sanford through continued prosperity in business, purified by moral growth, we earnestly urge that the good people of our city, county and state do work and vote for the amendment making prohibition a part of the state Constitution.

In the line of what we say above a showing from the mayor's court will be of value. Beginning October 1906, the last year of the open saloon in Sanford and ending with September of following year there were 418 arrests, of which 159 were for drunkenness with fines of $2676.11. Whereas the year following, the dry town of Sanford for same period exhibited 343 with 42 drunks and fines 21681.25:

Mrs. Chas. F. Haskins

Friends of Mrs. Charles F. Haskins were shocked to hear of her death last Monday night. She had been seriously ill for some months, but it was believed that she was on the way to recovery.

Clara Viola Cooley Haskins was born at Rubicon, Wisconsin, December 7, 1855. Had she lived until next December she would have been 55 years old. At 22 years of age she was married at Brookville, Kansas, to Mr. Charles Franklin Haskins, and they continued to live in that city after marriage for some years. A son was born to them on Feb. 23, 1879, but he lived only eighteen months.

The second son, Harold, who now resides with his father, was born Oct. 5, 1881. Twin daughters, Mildred and Mary, were born ten years later, Dec. 15, 1891. These three children remain to mourn the loss of their mother. There is also an older sister of Mrs. Haskins, Miss S. A. Cooley, who has lived in Sanford for the past three years. Also two brothers, Eli S. and Chas. H. Cooley, both living near Barkville, Saline county, Kansas.

The family moved to Florida 21 years ago last July. Mr. Haskins at that time was a railroad man, which profession he followed for thirty years. They lived successively at Palatka, Titusville, Tavares, finally removing to Sanford in November, 1910. They have lived on their present home place on Third street since July, 1903.

Mrs. Haskins at 20 joined the Congregational church at Bavaria, Kansas. After her marriage she took her letter to the Congregational church at Brookville. Since coming to Sanford she has been a most devoted and faithful member of the Congregational church of this city. She will be deeply missed in the activities of the church.

The funeral took place at 2 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 1st, at the home. The place was crowded with the friends and neighbors who would show this last sad tribute to Mrs. Haskins. Services at the home and the grave were conducted by Rev. B. Waldron, pastor of the Sanford Congregational church. The casket was beautifully banked with choice floral tributes.

from loving friends. There were present many members of the Eastern Star Lodge, of which Mrs. Haskins had been a valued member. The burial was at Lakeview cemetery, with Miller & Son of Sanford in charge.

Mr. Haskins has been the postmaster of Sanford for the past three years and for ten years an influential citizen of this place. The sympathies of the whole town are with him and his family in their bereavement. Of her who is gone it may well be said: "She hath done what she could." G. B. W.

Why Don't They Explain?

Charles L. Collins, the Florida Superintendent of the National Anti-Saloon League, aided and abetted by W. D. Upshaw of Georgia, Charley Scanlon of Pennsylvania, J. B. Lennon of Chicago, George B. Stewart of Illinois, Seaborn Wright of Georgia and a large number of other paid speakers are endeavoring to rob Florida of Local Self Government by dodging the real issue of this campaign.

Why don't they stand out manfully and explain a few things that the electors should know?

Why is it necessary to use such a great amount of money in employing these paid speakers from other states to dictate to Floridians?

Why do they "muddy the water" and resort to all kinds of misrepresentations?

Why do they attack men who have so long figured in the up-building of the state, and whose loyalty to Florida and whose integrity has never before been questioned?

Why do they resort to methods so unjust and unmanly, under the alleged banner of Temperance and Christianity?

Why is mud-slinging the ammunition they are using in their present fight to destroy home rule?

Why do they persist in crying poverty when such a large amount of money is being used by them to deceive the people?

How much money is going to these outside politicians, and which is taken from the churches and Sunday schools?

Who are the large contributors from the other states to their campaign fund?

Why don't they endeavor to answer the arguments placed before the voters by the Florida Local Option State Executive Committee?

Why have they answered reason with abuse and slander?

What is their real reason for their presence in Florida?

VOLE FOR LOCAL OPTION

Orlando, Fla., October 13th, 1910.

Be it resolved by The Orange County Local Option Executive Committee in open session assembled, as follows:

1. That whereas, the good people of Florida are called upon to determine by their votes, in the next ensuing general election, whether the principals of local self government as now written in our State Constitution, shall remain inviolate forever, or whether those sacred principals shall be repealed and annihilated by voting for the proposed state-wide prohibition amendment to Article XIX of our Constitution, and whereas, the National Prohibition Party, The Women's Christian Temperance Union, party, The Anti-Saloon League of Florida and The Anti-Saloon of America have united their forces, their fortunes and their influence; have purchased, established and subsidized news papers have organized and are now organizing whenever they can, State, County and district committees; have hired and are still hiring pleasing singers and orators; have hired and are still hiring revenue collectors and all for the avowed and sole purpose of leading, coaxing, persuading, enticing and otherwise influencing the voters of our fair State to vote for the said proposed Constitutional amendment.

And whereas, the proposed State-wide prohibition constitutional amendment proposes to forever prohibit, in the State of Florida, the manufacture, sale, barter or exchange, of all liquors except certain kinds therein mentioned, and the sale of which said certain liquors shall be regulated by the legislature of Florida and that the legislature of Florida shall enact suitable laws, (in the opinion of the people) for the enforcement of said proposed amendment if adopted.

Therefore be it resolved, that local self government, in the opinion of our committee, is the best form of government that was ever instituted upon earth for the government of a free, enlightened and liberty loving people.

That Article XIX as it is now written in the State Constitution, is the very embodiment of the principals of Democracy, in that it gives to the people of each County the exclusive privilege and right of determining by their votes what law shall, or shall not, govern the legal manufacture and sale of liquors, that a majority will of the people of the county, when once ascertained, is as of right it should be, the supreme law of that county for the government of that people and their affairs, that it is contrary to reason, revolting to the time set precedents of the courts and jurges of America, to enforce a law that is obnoxious to and not sustained by the sentiment of a majority of the people.

We endorse County rights upon the same grounds and upon the same principals that the South believed in State rights, that it would be unwise impracticable and unpatriotic to let those sacred principals of the people perish from the face of the earth.

That is the sense of this committee, that we are demanding nothing but clear, distinct, well acknowledged principles of right; rights older than the Prohibition Party, the Anti-Saloon League of America, and of all their subordinates and auxiliaries; rights which are grounded in the principles of natural and eternal justice; rights which have been affirmed by the good and wise since before and at the time of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence of the United States of America, as well as by all countries and or all countries of departed time; that we are not demanding any power to injure any of the counties of our great state, or any power or right to interfere with any of the local affairs of our sister counties and their properties either by word or deed; we are demanding no right or power to dictate to the people of other counties as to what they shall manufacture, grow, make, use, sell, barter or exchange or otherwise handle, or what they shall eat, drink, wear or use, we are demanding, simply, solely; nothing else but to let our State Constitution remain as it is, thereby securing to each citizen of Florida, irrespective of wealth, poverty, class or kind, the right and liberty to exercise his elective franchise in determining what law shall or shall not govern him, his property and his county affairs.

But we do charge and arraign before all mankind the National Prohibition Party and the Anti-Saloon League of America, with straining their every nerve and bending their every influence in an insincere endeavor to misguide and misdirect the intelligent and sovereign citizenship of this county and state to vote for their said Amendments, which if adopted would be detrimental to the Christian, moral, social and business interests of Florida, shirking and evading the issue of this campaign by proclaiming that, "If you vote against their proposed Amendment you vote for whiskey," and this they know to be false and untrue, because there is no wet and dry election on in this state. There is a governmental question at issue, and that question is: Shall local self government stand as it is now written in our Constitution, or shall the people be stripped of their vote directly at the polls on county affairs? If you vote for the proposed Amendment you centralize your right and power to the state government and thereby practically and forever place the right of local self government beyond your voices again.

We appeal to every man in Orange county to come out on November 8th next and vote against the proposed state-wide Prohibition Amendment, thereby reserving in the hands of the citizens the power and right to shape the present and future destinies of our county and state.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

By HERBERT QUICK

A Romance Of Flying
Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

she crossed the bows a cry went out from the great ship's engine room—a cry of mingled fear and astonishment. Why did this new craft so course about them? It was some new engine of aviation—that was sure. And with such incredible speed and such unheard-of mobility!

So as Carson came up on his second circumnavigation of the Condor there stood at the rail of the big airship two or three men with guns, who made threatening gestures and shouted to him to stand off or they would shoot.

"What ship is that?" cried Carson.

"None of your business! You stand off or we'll shoot!"

"Shoot if you dare!" cried Carson.

"Don't you see that I can go above

"YOU'RE GOING POOL OF HER LOOK DOWN!"

where you can shoot and rip your gas bag in perfect safety? Come, now, answer my question."

"This is the Daedalus of Spokane," was the reply. "What devilish thing is that?"

"The Virginia of—of Carson's Landing, in Alabama," replied Theodore.

"Whose aeroplane is that?" asked the man who seemed in command.

"It's mine," said Theodore. "I built her."

"Well," said the man on the other deck, "you've got the world by the tail, and if you need money apply to Calvin J. Fry of Spokane. Hold on, please!"

But the Virginia, gently increasing her speed, left the huddling Calvin J. Fry gesticulating far out of hearing.

"That, to originate a locution," said Craighend, "ought to hold them for a brief period. Looks as if they were back peddling."

"I will find them," said Carson, evidently meaning something else. "If they have hidden her in the farthest cave of that thundercloud."

CHAPTER XVI.

A RACE WITH THE ELEMENTS.

PHANT Richmond, they left the domed capitol at Washington far to port, passed between Baltimore and Dover and directly over Philadelphia, where Carson made a wide circle above the vast aerial harbor, scanning the horizon for a huge silver aeronef of the Condor type, but finding none. It was growing dusk, and the west and northwest were raptured with towering thunder heads, quivering with lightning, toward which Carson hurried the Virginia like a bullet. The town studied suburban region of New Jersey swept under them as if drawn by swift mechanism, and the harbor of New York lay beneath, alive with whipping. The lights were already burning, and the far spread Babylon of the modern world hung like a fairy dream from the foreground to the farther rim of the concave cup of the earth. Carson was amazed and stunned. He had never seen New York, and his ideas were all inadequate to the actualities before him. The streets flashed into sight as the Virginia passed into positions permitting a view of the bottom of one metropolitan canyon after another. The boy was afraid. The huge city roaring up at them like a ravening beast struck him with terror.

"Why dost circle about like a sand hill crane?" said Craighend. "Why don't you light?"

"Like the sand hill crane," replied Carson, "I'm afraid. Where can we alight?"

"God," said Craighend, "I never thought of that! New York has always reached out for me so lovingly that the idea of there being any difficulty in getting into her embrace never entered my brain. We are a little shy of knowledge of how to get in from above, aren't we?"

"What are the harbor rules?" asked Carson.

"Hanged if I know," replied Craighend.

It was quite dark now, save for the moon, which, nearly full, was climbing the eastern sky, still clear. To the northwest towered the pearly clouds pallid with lightning. Craighend expected Theodore to leave the Virginia to some far New Jersey village and was astonished when he entered upon a swift flight up the Hudson, which lay shining in the moonlight, faced with the wakes of boats. Far ahead, on both sides, quivered the lightning of the storm, and from afar came the rumbling of thunder. Carson seemed to be seeking night in the heart of a thunderstorm. Craighend seized his arm and tried to glean something of his mood from a scrutiny of his face.

"I'm going to the Catskills," said Theodore. "Before I sleep I'm going to find Shayne's Hold!"

Carson crossed the Hudson in a slow drizzle at Kingston and stood north-west toward heavy dense masses of towering clouds screening the high peaks of the Catskills—and Shayne's Hold.

"Why not hurdle the tempest, call it?" cried Craighend.

"Those highest towers," replied Carson, pointing to the thunder heads now again snowy in the moonlight, "are thirty, forty, fifty thousand feet high."

"Well, what do we care?" protested Craighend.

"There's an opening yonder in the rain," said Carson. "If it doesn't close up we may slip through to the back of the storm again."

As if the wings of the advancing army had extended its lines until they pulled apart in the center, the rain opened.

"We must go lower," said Carson, "and pass under. The rain is closing in, but I reckon we can slip through pretty dry."

The oncoming black arch, lighted to whiteness when the lightning blazed, swelled fearfully as they approached, its rainless gap narrowing momentarily. It was a race with the elements. The penalty if they lost was, to be sure, nothing more than a drenching, but it was none the less exciting for that. The curtains of water, drawn aside as if to let the travelers through, swung together as they approached.

"Whoop!" cried Craighend. "The Virginia wins!"

As he spoke they passed under the rain cloud.

Carson was thinking of Shayne's Hold and conjecturing as to its whereabouts. If he read his chart correctly the lights seen afar to the northwest indicated that they had left the Kaaterskill behind and were nearing Blank Head mountains, though he confessed to himself that the crags revealed the lightning might be the Hundwags or even the summits of Slide mountain. All he really knew was that he was above the Catskills and that unless he could outmaneuver the elements they faced an encounter with rain, wind and great possibilities in the way of lightning. The domes of thundercloud a few miles to their right seemed almost low enough to be over-passed, so he set the levers for an ascent, and the Virginia rose like an osprey chased by an eagle.

"I'm trying your suggestion," said Carson. "I'm scaling the front of that shower."

Even Craighend's voice was hushed in awe. Like the fairy domes of some city of oriental fable rose the cloud castles, their summits white in the moonlight, their folds dark like a dove's wing. Suddenly the lightning blazed out in the heart of the black base on which the city of enchantment was reared, and instantly the whole vast fabric grew white and palpitant and terrible, while the blue sky beyond and above it turned black velvet by contrast. The lightning ceased, and there hung the billowy cloud, silver white and drab on a base of darkness, as before. The air had grown chill as with frost, and still the clouds were far above them. The bite of the propellers on the air seemed to fall, for the cloud masses no longer appeared to fall as when the aeronef was rising.

"We can't make it," said Carson.

"Don't try!" exclaimed Craighend. "It's effrontery!"

Changing a lever or so, Carson drove straight toward the bosom of the cloud.

Carson sat with his hand on his levers, pale as if dead. Craighend clutched a hand rail, his eyes turned aloft as if in invocation. A more remote flash and darkness returned, but not so densely. The space before them grew softly light, and in a moment they swam into the moonlight. Through an immeasurable chamber of cloud darted the aeronef into a second another of rain and mist and out on a lower level into the calm space behind the storm. From this region of shadow they emerged into the moonlight again and began their search for signs of human habitation. Finally, just as Theodore was at the point of retreat, both at once saw what neither doubted was Shayne's Hold.

The hold was on the triple peak of one of the ruggedest and highest masses of the Catskills, rising steep as a wall, hundreds of feet in the air, to three summits, in the midst of which stood the mansion. The huge buildings had been built, the animals had been introduced, the last luxury had been supplied, and Shayne's Hold had been sealed up. Down from the mountain flowed three streams, up which had run the precipitous roads to the top, and when the time came for closing the hold to those who had no way of getting in or out, Shayne and his family built across them immense dams, using materials blasted from the mountain sides at such places as to render them quite unscalable. The steepened precipices thus carried across the ravines in masonry made a lofty wall entirely around the mountain.

Every effect that could be produced by lights, white and colored, the electrician-artists had worked out for the illumination of this enchanted palace hung on cliffs. Overlooking the region, as its owner overlorded his fellows, the hold was a place of mystery, holding no neighborhood with the people below. It was a real Laputa, an island in the air, and those only could reach it who could fly.

About the peak ran a labyrinth of bridle paths and carriage roads, all outlined from above by winding lines of lights, like the route of an army of bewildered glowworms. Hidden by a spur of cliff was the immense airship garage.

The lightning had disabled its lighting system for the most part, and the hold had gone dark. Carson had made two or three reconnoissances over the very spot, but had not suspected its presence, for the sky was clouded and the luster of the pools too feeble to reach his eyes, so that the sudden outflash of the myriad lights when the currents were restored came to both men with astonishing unexpectedness.

The hold had blossomed suddenly in fire. The lakes edged with lights glimmered like mirrors; the clustered arc lights delineated the high mesa like a map; the winding labyrinth of incandescents netted the peaks like glowing Lilliputian threads about the recumbent Gulliver, and in the midst stood a great roomy columned mansion, its wings in shade, its central court gleaming, the radiant heart of an elaborate splendor. Carson drew in his breath sharply.

"My God!" said he. "Who could ever think of such a thing?"

Craighend was silent.

But he must see Virginia. Utterly estranged as they were, this night voyage had a reason—the hope of seeing her, of asking her forgiveness, of bringing her to see that when she dropped from the sky to his feet he had loved her; that when she had come to live with that uncle of whom she had heard so little and had found the last Carson in him the temptation was so masked in duty that it was too strong for him. And had he ever once in that delicious, perilous time of acting Uncle Theodore inexcessably presumed on the relationship or failed in goodness? True, he had let her stay as his niece, but had not his father always thought himself of the same blood? Virginia must allow some weight to this tradition. She must see that, while too remotely related to be objectionable to a nearer, dearer way, he was too probably of kin to have turned her away. And he would stand in Shayne's Hold if it were the last act of his life.

With the ancient instinct of the surreptitious lover he made for the angle between two dark wings of the great house. Glimmers of light from two windows were their sole sign of occupancy, the center of human concourse being about that core of light in the court. The wings seemed like low adjuncts for conservatories or billiard rooms, and the angle between, with its light mottlings, looked like a flower sprinkled lawn on which Carson felt confident of placing the Virginia gently and with no disturbance. With a slow soaring motion the aeronef came into the angle like a steamer into her slip—and found, instead of a lawn, a graveled roof cluttered with tables and chairs as if for the serving of refreshments. Among these the Virginia nosed in, dumped some chairs into the court and settled down amid crackling furniture and crashing pottery.

OUR BUILDING ASSOCIATION

Little by little the Sanford Building & Loan Association is gaining popular favor among those who have heretofore stood aloof and refused to invest in what has promised from the start to be not only the safest and best investment but a great help to Sanford in every way.

Backed by a few good men who realized the good of such an institution this little home affair has never attracted the men of money. Many of them preferred to invest their savings in wildcat mining stock or wireless telephones or lightway roads and the Sanford Building & Loan Association was allowed to struggle along without the aid and assistance of large investors. Just how well this small institution waggled along and became a larger institution is best told by the annual statement published elsewhere in this issue.

The dividends are now eight per cent and will soon pay twelve per cent which is going just a trifle better than the mining schemes and lightway roads. Aside from the financial view the business men of Sanford ought to realize that the Building Association they have something that will do more to distribute money than any other one enterprise. The truth of this statement was made apparent during the summer months.

There are many people in Sanford today who are well able to take stock in this association. By doing so you are making a good investment and making a greater Sanford.

BONDING FOR BRICK ROADS

The question of bonding for brick roads is meeting with more favor every day, as the people are getting more familiar with all the details. Many were against bonds because the idea prevailed that taxes would become a burden, when in truth they will not be raised on account of a bond issue. Should bonds not carry, however, the present millage for roads will be raised, because the present millage for roads is entirely inadequate to build brick roads and the county commissioners have determined to build brick roads in any case.

Failure to vote the bond issue will avail the tax payer nothing. The roads will take years to build at the rate of some $50,000 per year and the tax payer will get the increased tax upon something that will not be in shape to derive the full benefit therefrom.

With the issue of bonds the work of construction will start at once and the road from Sanford to Osceola county begun. Other roads will be started and the people of Orange county will have good roads to travel upon and have them at once, instead of waiting an indefinite time for a few miles of construction per year.

We want good roads and we want them now!

EXAGGERATED

As is usually the case, the Florida loss resulting from last week's storm was much lighter than the early reports indicated. In fact, news was sent broadcast in the daily newspapers that the state's entire citrus fruit crop was ruined. The first accurate reports obtainable, which were printed in The Packer last week, placed the loss at 10 to 20 per cent generally, and this estimate is being confirmed by subsequent news of a reliable character. There were instances, it is true, where the loss was greater, while some districts escaped almost entirely. Any loss of matured crops, which represent much outlay in money, labor and care, is to be regretted, but there is much encouragement in the latest news from Florida—N. Y. Packer.

VOTE YES

There are three amendments to be voted upon in the election next Tuesday and you cannot go wrong by voting yes on every one of them. The XIX Amendment will come last and your vote should register an X just before the yes, as follows:

Constitutional Amendment, Article XIX, Relating to the Manufacture and Sale, Barter or Exchange, of Intoxicating Liquors and Beverages.
X YES.

Constitutional Amendment, Article XIX, Relating to the Manufacture and Sale, Barter or Exchange, of Intoxicating Liquors and Beverages.
NO.

There are several men in Sanford who are really in favor of bonds for brick roads but they are from Missouri and want to be "sown" just where these roads will go. It is impossible at this time to guarantee certain roads for any part of the county. The commissioners can be relied upon to build the roads where they will do the most good and Sanford can certainly rest assured that our section will get a generous share. There is more travel in the Sanford celery delta than in any other part of the county and our claims will not be ignored. But we will have to get the bond first.

Elections will soon be over and then we should settle down to our bond issue and our county fair.

The Orange County fair—The Biggest On Earth—promises to be one of the finest expositions of our resources that the grand old county of Orange has ever made. Very few of our own people fully realize what a wonderful display of vegetables, horses and cattle, hogs and poultry and domestic science our county can muster. Let every man, woman and child get busy right now and get a display ready for the great Orange County Fair—The Biggest On Earth.

The Sanford Herald has put its finger down on a nuisance when it points out the undesirability of people cutting pigeon wings with autos in the neighborhood of church during hours of divine worship. The auto is a noisy method of traveling at its quietest, and the people who own them ought to have due regard to the discomfort they inflict when they even for a few moments drown the music or overwhelm the sermon which good people prize so highly on Sunday.—Tampa Times.

ENDORSE THE HERALD

Business Men of Orlando Gratified at Action of Sanford Paper

Orlando, Fla., Nov. 3rd, 1910.

Mr. R. J. Holly, Editor Sanford Herald, Sanford, Fla.: Dear Sir—In view of the situation in which you are placed, and of the influences that are being brought to bear on the press of the country, it is most gratifying to know that you have "lined up" with the advocates of state wide prohibition; and it gives us infinite pleasure to commend the spirit of your recent avowal as published in your last issue and as reproduced in other papers of the state.

We most heartily congratulate you upon your fair, fearless and forceful statement of the case, and we admire your pluck and courage. Speak up! Such as you have said is calculated to do great good for the cause of decency and order and to encourage many a weak kneed brother who believes as you do but has not the courage to speak his sentiments.

We are most sincerely yours,

"A Hallowe'en Surprise"

On the night of Hallowe'en a large crowd of pleasure seekers, anticipating a nice time, gathered between B. W. Smiths and Trues lake near Paola at a suitable place with the intention of having a taste of that palatable and much spoke of dish "chicken and rice".

All of those invited and attending enjoyed a very delightful evening, as well as a crowd from Bradyville, who possibly on the account of the long distance that they had to go, departed at an early hour; before the most and interesting games were played, but after all they must have enjoyed themselves.

After a few hours of merry-making, the attention of the crowd was turned to the cooking, but to their surprise and astonishment, they found all of their expenses were lost, for, it seems that some hungry tenderfoot who was not at all invited, quietly stole from his hiding place in the woods, swiped the pots from the fire and as quietly disappearing. We congratulate him in having such a bountiful supply, but do not appreciate the way in which he treated the crowd.

After a few more hours of enjoyment the merry people returned to their various homes.

Congregational Church

Mabel Paige Next Week.

Amusement lovers will be delighted to learn that Mabel Paige, sometimes known as "The Idol of the South" and undoubtedly Florida's favorite actress, supported by a specially selected company of dramatic and musical artists, will appear at the New Imperial Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday nights, November 9 and 10, in two new productions, "A Bachelor's Honeymoon," a brilliant and laughable musical comedy, and "The Game," a modern drama of love and politics, with inter-act specialties.

Miss Paige and her popular company have only recently completed a continuous engagement of over nine months at the Duval theatre in Jacksonville, during which they produced forty or more different plays and the two selected for presentation here are the favorite of the entire list.

Miss Paige herself is so well and favorably known here and throughout the state that comment or assurance as to her ability to more than please all who go to see her seems almost superfluous. It is sufficient to say that she will positively appear in the leading roles at every performance.

Local Self Government—What It Is And What It Is Not

To the Editor of The Herald:

We hear much about the sacred right of self government from our local option friends during the present prohibition amendment campaign. They wish to apply the sacred principle to the liquor problem, and thus to keep the strong hand of the state from throttling the life out of this wicked traffic.

What is local option or local self government? It is that principle of government which recognizes the right and duty of the people of any political division of government to control what exclusively concerns themselves.

We find the origin of this principle in the clauses of the Declaration of Independence which reads: "We hold these truths to be self evident; that all men are created free and equal; that they are endowed by the Creator with certain inalienable rights; these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; that to secure these rights governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

Inasmuch as men differ in temperament, habits and thought no government has made an effort to get the consent of all the governed, but the majority only. But our government is firmly founded on this principle laid down in the Declaration of Independence and majority rule.

In applying this principle to the liquor problem we must see that the liquor traffic cannot be the exclusive concern of the people of any county in Florida. For what is the liquor traffic? Can it be confined to any county or can its results be so confined?

The liquor traffic may be so defined as the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes which causes more crime, insanity, pauperism and other public disorders than any other cause to which these miseries may be attributed.

Now, permit me to ask our local option friends if they really, sincerely believe that crime and insanity can be confined to any county of the state? Who maintains penitentiaries, insane asylums, courts, etc.? Would the people of the dry counties be relieved from paying their share for the maintenance of these institutions, whose expenses are largely increased by this traffic, and the people of the saloon or wet counties be assessed alone? It is impossible. Can crime be a local concern?

No, the liquor traffic cannot better exclude concerns of the people of any county. The state is in duty bound to prohibit it because it concerns the people of the whole state. And since the National Interstate Commerce law permits the distillers of Louisville, Pittsburg etc., to slip the vile stuff into the state in original packages the strong hand of the national government must recognize the state's right to prohibit that which is wrong and a detriment to the morals and health of her people and prohibit interstate commerce in liquors in states which are prohibitive.

But the liquor traffic cannot be logically or constitutionally relegated to the people of any county or municipality. To do so substitutes minority for majority rule, for it submits to the option of the people of the county or municipality what concerns the people of the entire state.

Whether we pass the present bonding issue for brick made in Orange County, or whether we shall wish to issue bonds for the erection of a new court house are questions concerning the people of this county and maybe and are left to their option, but not the liquor traffic.

Another objection which our friends (?) illogically repeat is that prohibition does not prohibit. Neither will an ax chop, without willing hands to use it; Whether prohibition shall become effective in opposition to a reprehensible national congress, criminals within the state and the brewer and distillers of other states will depend largely upon how stringent the laws of your legislature and how thorough your Governor governs in the execution of the law. If the people of this state expect results they must look to it that the laws are framed to make their will effective and their governor armed with power to remove any sheriff or mayor who will not enforce the law.

Sincerely yours

F. M. McCARTNEY.

Beck Hammock, R. D. Sanford, Fla.

Prohibition
Prohibition, which word, by the way is not to be found in the Bible, is now being espoused by a large percentage of church members, who profess to be bumbly following in the steps of their Master. They have helped to vote the dry counties dry and are trying to prohibit the legitimate sale of liquor in the state. To accomplish their end and stoop to ways and means to which the man they profess to follow would never have stooped. The anathemas published in certain of their journals, vilifying the lives and characters of various members of the local option executive committee, men who are themselves christians and whose lives are irreproachable. The slur they have cast on them by the reference to the negro; these are certainly not in accord with the Christ-like spirit by which they profess to be actuated, and places them on the level of mud-slingers in a political campaign.

All this they do in the name of the Master, forgetting or ignoring the fact that Christ preached temperance, not prohibition; that He, Himself made the guests might partake thereof.

Are the prohibitionists wiser than Christ, that they are trying to make it illegal for us to do what Christ did, that they are preaching intemperance (for intemperance means one extreme as well as the other) in lieu of the fact that Christ preached temperance?

The writer is fully aware of the evils of liquor. He has been in daily contact with habitual drunkards—with those who would spend their last cent for a drink of whiskey, and he knows what power drink can obtain over the mind if a person addicted to its use. He deprecates this fact and would do his utmost towards bettering this condition.

But shall we go out as the Mohammedan hosts of old and force men to do our will, by threatening to send them to the penitentiary if they do it not, or shall we take a little more time and instill by precept and example into the hearts of those on whom we may be able to exert our influence, that they must be temperate in all things and do right for right's sake?

Instructions On Election

Orlando, Florida, Nov. 2, 1910.

To Local Committeemen and Dry Workers, throughout the County:

Gentlemen—My opinion having been asked by local workers and local committeemen from various precincts, on several points, I will give a general answer to all. I hope that arrangements will be made to have a challenger on hand at every voting place, to see that no illegal votes are cast. No one who is not on the registration list, as furnished by the Supervisor of Registration, has a legal right to vote, no matter why his name was left off.

No one who did not register by appearing before either the Registration officer or his legal deputy, duly appointed by the supervisor of registration in the several precincts, is authorized to vote. If the local registration officer attempted to appoint a deputy, registration by that deputy is illegal, and the party so attempting to register has no legal right to vote. We are informed that in some precincts, the local deputy attempted to appoint a deputy, who went around and attempted to register people. If this occurred in your precinct, and you can learn who was so registered, have them arrested if they vote.

Everyone who was liable for a poll tax for 1908 or 1909 must have paid the poll tax on or before the 8th day of October, this year, in order to be entitled to vote. Those who came to the state after the first day of January, 1909, do not owe 1909 poll tax, and those who came to the state after the first day of January, 1908, do not owe 1908 poll taxes. In other words, a new-comer, or a young man may owe 1909 poll tax and not 1908, and an old man may owe 1908 poll tax, but not the 1909. If a man has lived in the state, but not in the county he must produce his poll tax receipt from such other county.

Under the law, every voter is required to pay his own poll tax, with his own money. If anyone furnished the money—and furnishing includes lending to pay poll taxes—he is liable to be prosecuted, and fined $500, and if anyone votes, where his poll tax was paid by money furnished by another party, he is liable to the same penalty. If any such vote, have them arrested.

Your challenger should challenge all persons who are suspected of belonging to any of the above classes, and compel them to swear in their votes. If they swear falsely, and you have proof of it, have them arrested, for that. There will be a deputy sheriff at every polling place whose duty it is make arrests for illegal voting.

No one has a right to use any mechanical contrivance to assist him in voting the ticket. If any such are used or attempted to be used, have the users arrested. No one is allowed to take from the polling place, on any pretext, any of the official ballots, and for no reason can any but official ballots be used.

It is against the law to sell, give away or carry, within one mile of a voting place, any intoxicating liquor of any kind. If you have any evidence that this is being done, have the offenders arrested, immediately. This begins at midnight the night before, and ends at midnight after, the election.

There is reason to believe that efforts will be made in some counties at least, to destroy the results of the election by stuffing ballots boxes, using fraudulent ballots, stealing and destroying ballot boxes or ballots, and otherwise interfering with the legal conduct of the election. Also perhaps by false returns. While, from the class of election officers appointed in Orange county, we feel that there is very little danger of this being successfully attempted in Orange county, to be on hand, before the polls are opened, and remain throughout the day.

L. G. STARBUCK.

Both Sides Confident

In our Monday's news columns, we stated that Col. J. T. Watkins and others of the temperance workers are absolutely confident that the prohibition amendment will carry in the state. We find that the "local optionists" are equally as sanguine of success in this state and county. In conversation with a "local optionist" last evening he said that he thought the amendment was already "snowed under" and that his side, or rather the side he will vote with, will carry Orange county by 200 or, over. "What will be the next move if the amendment carries and Orange is put in the wet column?" we asked. "Why an election will be called as soon as possible and the country will go wet," he replied. The gentleman talked as if he knew whereof he spoke and he spoke and he is really in a position to be on the inside of what the local option people are doing. We shall see what we shall see and await patiently the result of the November election and any and all of the elections that are called or are to be called.—Reporter Star.

$500 PER ACRE NET FROM EARLY POTATOES

SANFORD For some years past has rested content as the proud possessor of the heavy weight championship of the world in the science of Celery Growing. Many claimants have been heralded, "Just as good," but even with high-class trainers, prominent in Real Estate and Agricultural Circles at home and abroad, all these have failed to make good, although some sections have so closely followed our methods that great profits have been reaped, and lean bank accounts made fat. Having started the whole of Florida and a portion of Georgia to growing celery, SANFORD will now proceed to open the eyes of Florida Truckers to unheard of profits in other agricultural specialities. Watch Our 1911 Early Potatoes.

Now do we hear some one say: "What! Sanford surely must have the big head, going to show HASTINGS, with an unbroken record of 18 years, an acreage now totaling 5,000 with a coming crop of 200,000 barrels, going to show those farmers how to grow potatoes?" Now don't get excited, just wait, we are going to show them some stunts, yes sir, some STUNTS.

MAINE POTATOES GOOD

New York, Oct. 7.—In a letter to The Packer, from Presque Isle, Me., F. C. Hatch, manager of the R. T. Prentiss Co., a large potato shipping firm says: "There is no truth to the report spread broadcast that Aroostook county potatoes are diseased. We do an extensive business all over the Union in seed and table stock, and I am daily in touch with growers here, buying thousands of barrels of potatoes for my customers, and have no hesitation in guaranteeing that they will go out free from disease and rot. The stock in Aroostook county was never better. The growing season was ideal and the weather for harvesting perfect. Aroostook has many hundreds of thousands of barrels of the finest potatoes of all varieties safely housed." This foolish report was started, no doubt, by some one stuck on contracts. It has had time to be proven untrue. "In south Maine, about 200 miles down on the Maine Central, the season was late and potatoes did not mature. The land is lower there and it vastly differs from Aroostook county. The crop is reported somewhat diseased, but quite different from last year. In some instances avaricious dealers have encouraged farmers to dig in Aroostook county too early, with the result that green stock was shipped in the southern district, with hot weather prevailing. On our own seed farms we have had an unprecedented yield and have not seen one barrel of diseased potatoes."

The firm of R. T. Prentiss Company of Presque Isle, Maine, is one of the most reliable of the many high-class Eastern potato firms. They have for some years sold Hastings Farmers, but have done very little business elsewhere in this state, although their territory extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The undersigned has been recently appointed selling agent for Florida.

Ask the Fellow who Says, "They Have Blight in Maine This Year," What Potatoes He is Selling

The largest and most experienced potato growers of this state consider Maine grown seed the best, and the product of Aroostook County the best in Maine. We can supply this season, Spaulding No. 4, Green Mountain, Irish Cobbler and Polaris, all at the same price. We especially recommend the Polaris, it is a white potato of fine quality and shape, early, running uniformly large, and is a very heavy cropper. The season of 1909 one tiled acre at Hastings yielded 132 barrels, the past season a 5 acre tiled patch yielded 590 barrels. All our Sanford customers that planted it last year were delighted with the yield. With this Polaris potato planted and harvested early, $500 per acre net profit may be realized here. We suggest shipping the seed from Maine about November 15th, landing here about December 1st, then put in barn until planting time, December 15th. Our warm climate will then have started the sprouts and growth will be immediate and rapid. I wish to book orders at once, this guarantees the price.

Information for Voters

EACH state has two United States Senators. The salary of the United States Senator is $7,500 per year.

The term of United States Senator is six years.

The term of James P. Taliaferro, Florida's senior Senator, expires March 4, 1911.

The term of Duncan U. Fletcher, Florida's junior Senator, expires March 4, 1915.

United States Senators are not elected by a direct vote of the people.

They are elected by the legislature of the several states.

Florida has the primary system, used by political parties, instead of the old convention system, to select party nominees.

The late N. B. Broward received the nomination of the Democratic party for United States Senator, in the primaries of 1910.

Had he lived he would have been elected to a six year term by the legislature of 1911, succeeding James P. Taliaferro.

His death has left the Democratic party without a nominee for this office.

Unless a primary had been called the next legislature would have elected a Senator, leaving the people of Florida without an opportunity to express their choice at the ballot box.

Some people wanted it this way.

John N. C. Stockton insisted on a primary

The State Democratic Executive Committee has called primaries January 10-31, 1911, to select a nominee for United States Senator.

John N. C. Stockton is a candidate before the people in these primaries for nomination.

In making a selection it may be well to remember that there are now in the United States Senate:

10 poor men, 11 millionaires, 18 mining stockholders, 22 railroad stockholders and 42 LAWYERS (including railroad attorneys and trust lawyers.)

Florida now has one lawyer of recognized ability in the Senate.

There are now three candidates before the people for Senator. TWO of these are LAWYERS.

There should be LAWYERS in the United States Senate, but other classes of citizenship should also be represented there.

John N. C. Stockton is NOT A LAWYER. He is a plain, ordinary, every-day citizen whose heart beats in sympathy with the people.

With Napoleon B. Broward he has led their fight for clean politics and honest government for 22 years.

He has been true to the people. He has been steadfast to principle.

He has never been rewarded. He has made a lifelong study of governmental questions from the standpoint of the masses and he is equipped to render the people great service in the United States Senate.

John Stockton says to the people of Florida: "If elected to the high office of United States Senator, I will close the books of private business and while holding the people's office I will attend to the people's business only."

John Stockton has declared that he appeals to all the people of Florida for this public trust, and that he offers himself of his own accord and his own merit.

Let us turn our faces to the future; let us forget factional strife; let us bury bitterness in the grave of the past, and let us unite on a man for Florida's highest office, who is a candidate of no combination, the creature of no clique.

ELECT JOHN N. C. STOCKTON TO THE UNITED STATES SENATE, and the wires will flash the news to the world that the cause of the people has again triumphed in Florida politics.

ENTERPRISE ETCHINGS

Special Correspondence to The Herald:
 Bishop Gray and Rev. Mr. Roache held services Sunday evening in All Saints' Episcopal church.

Sunday morning Prof. Hulley of Stetson University gave a temperance address at the school house and had a large congregation. Mr. Sullivan, Mr. Jackson, Prof. Hulley and Rev. Mr. Palmer, the regular Baptist preacher came over from DeLand in Mr. Sullivan's automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Brown of Hornell, N. Y., arrived here to make it their home and will improve the property Mr. Brown bought last spring.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. White and Mrs. Carrie Lynch will arrive today to spend the winter here. They have rented Mrs. Count's house.

Rev. Daniel Palmer is holding Baptist services every evening this week at the school house and at the post office chapel at 12:30 in the day time.

Dr. Wallace of Sanford was in town Monday, looking for a place to start a poultry farm.

Capt. R. B. Smith and Mr. Springle took their mule team to Sanford.

A. C. Osteen and Low of Osteen are driving wells for different people here.

PAOLA POINTS

Special Correspondence to The Herald:
 We thought we experienced a pretty stiff storm until the recent "blow out, but the old settler says we don't know nothin' about a real hurricane. Perhaps if we lived on a gulf key we might have a better idea of one.

We are lately having quite a taste of winter. The hunting season opens with ideal weather and several camping parties are out.

Mrs. E. R. Curtis is at present occupying her pretty home here.

Mrs. May Foster left last Friday for a visit in Georgia.

Miss Kate Fox was the "surprised party" last week when the young people of the neighborhood gathered at her home and spent a delightful evening.

Services at the Paola church begin next Sunday, with Rev. G. B. Waldron of Sanford as pastor.

Halloween was celebrated by the young people with a pillow at Robbins' Lake—minus the pillow, as it was spirited away during the process of cooking and while all were engaged in games, etc., doubtless by the wicked witches—"there's many a slip." We understand some of the neighbors had a bad scare from ghostly visitors who were finally scattered with a pistol shot, but as no casualties were reported we judge no serious damage was done.

It certainly pays to confide your wants to The Herald. Two young ladies are already added to our residents.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Jacobs and daughter, Miss Bertha, having spent the past month with relatives in North Carolina returned to their home Saturday.

C. M. Sutton came over from Orlando Sunday and spent the day with his wife and little daughter.

L. M. Stripling of Oviedo was calling on friends here Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Grace Jacobs, Miss Hellen E'De Pratte and Mr. Hudson, all of Orlando, spent Sunday with Mrs. M. E. Jacobs and family.

Billie and Cleveland Jacobs have purchased D. E. Hart's meat market at Oviedo and the latter has taken charge.

The taffy pulling at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jacobs Saturday evening was a very pleasant affair among our young folks.

W. F. Graves has accepted a position with the Roland Grocery Co. of Orlando and left Tuesday to assume his duties.

Dr. White of Jacksonville and Dr. Butt of Sanford were guests of the Palm first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Story left Thursday to visit relatives in the southern part of the county.

As the game season opened Tuesday several of our hunters are taking advantage of it.

A Square Deal?

If the proposed amendment to Article XIX of the Constitution is adopted next week no County in the State can lawfully recognize a Saloon, or legally regulate a Blind Tiger.

If the proposed Amendment to Article XIX is defeated next week No Saloon will be opened in any of the Thirty-five Counties that are now Dry.

Under the present law, which the state-widers seek to abolish, every advantage is now given to the cause of Prohibition. A majority of one vote out of a possible eighty thousand will make the twelve wet Counties of Florida "Dry," but a majority of seventy-five thousand against the Amendment will not make one single County wet that is now dry.

We prefer that you see what you are buying. We want you to consider yourself absolutely a free agent when you inspect Volusia Farms. You place yourself under no obligation to buy simply because we take you over the Farms at no expense to you. We know the value of these lands for diversified farming and believe that the majority shown over the tract will become purchasers on account of the unlimited resources of this land under intelligent cultivation.

A large number of people have already reserved tracts. Many have reserved sight unseen. Many have bought after personal inspection. Our headquarters in the Peoples Bank building, Sanford, is now a busy scene from early morning to night-fall and our automobiles are kept in action continually. Volusia Farms are selling fast. People in all sections of the country are realizing more than ever before, that one of the basic reasons for the high price of living is that there are not enough people left on farms to produce food at a price the people can afford to pay.

"Too few left on the farms," said the president of the National Conservation Congress speaking at Des Moines last September. "There is no danger from foreign wars, nor from the effects of popular agitation, nor is there any permanent danger from the 'disestablishment of credit'. So great has been the inducement to engage in manufacturing that there are no longer enough skilled farmers left on the land to produce the food at the prices that the people in the towns and cities can afford to pay.

Not Enough People Yet Know About the Resources of Volusia Farms

and Florida in general. Florida's diversified farming opportunities offer more inducements to the skilled laborer than any position in any factory can ever offer. A settler in Volusia Farms is not at the beck and call of any man—he is his own boss. He is a land owner instead of a rent payer. His domain is acres in extent instead of a few feet of paving in front of his city home. His summers are long and comfortable; his winters are a delight—there can be no possible kind of contrast with the all year 'round weather in Florida and the all year 'round weather in other States.

Neither can there be any possible contrast with his position as an income-earner on Volusia Farms and his income as a pieceworker or a journeyman in any manufacturing city.

If any man is laboring on a weekly salary and under the belief that there is no money in Florida farming and that there are too many people already in Florida, he should write for our booklets and for copies of previous editions of "The Sub-Irrigator."

No section of Florida, and around our territory in particular, has yet raised enough produce to make the people at large—the consumers—cry "Halt." The demand is for more, and more can be raised at a profit which means more income to the grower than he ever drew when on a weekly salary basis.

The requirements are simple—merely intelligent cultivation of the land, readiness to accept pointers from successful farmers, and a little money and perseverance.

There must be hundreds of men in the country who are interested in bees and honey. For nearly half the year their hives are practically idle. In Volusia County last year there were over two thousand stands of bees. Volusia County produces more honey than any other county in Florida. The money value of Volusia County honey was over 60c a lb. Flowers bloom all the year in a lavish luxuriance, which makes bee keeping profitable as well as pleasant.

We want to hear from those interested in bees.

We want to hear from those interested in poultry. Some folks say that you can't raise chickens in Florida. The fact that some of the most profitable chicken farms in the country are located in Florida is the answer to this gossip. The value of common barnyard poultry raised in Volusia County last year was $20,000 and the value of eggs sold and used, $50,500.

To some, possibly, these figures do not look large when applied to an entire county, but they emphasize the point that there is room for you on Volusia Farms in Volusia county, to create more of this real wealth—greater opportunities for you out here in the open than 'way up yonder cooped up within four walls with a temperature which makes you huddle over the fire.

In general farming, too, Volusia Farms is your opportunity—sweet potatoes, white potatoes, corn, sugar cane, rice, velvet beans, onions, lettuce, cucumbers, beets, strawberries, peaches, pears, oranges, grapefruit, pecans, figs, and so forth, can be cultivated on these lands.

Florida's Volusia Farms at $30 Per Acre and Sold on the Liberal Contract we are Issuing, are the Best "Buy" in Cheap Farm Lands in the Country Today

$30.00 PER ACRE

$5 per acre cash with application, balance $1 per acre per month without taxes and without interest.

If you can pay all cash, 10 per cent discount from above price. Every Acre is sold on the guarantee that if, within one year from completion of payments, you decide you do not want your Volusia Farm, we will refund every cent you paid us for it, add 6 per cent to the amount by way of good measure, and take the land off your hands. We will write this in your contract.

Don't wait until next spring or summer to take a look at Volusia Farms. Come now. Now is the time if you have any thought of establishing a home in a new country, take a look at Volusia Farms.

LOCATION:—Volusia Farms is just across the river from Sanford. The Florida East Coast railroad, Sanford and Titusville branch, runs through the property. The lands are only a short distance from the Indian River, where the finest oranges and grape fruit in the world are grown. DeLand, the county seat and University center, is only 20 miles away. A public road runs from Sanford through Osteen and numerous side roads make all parts of Volusia Farms easily accessible.

TOWNSITE:—New Volusia is the name of the town site in the center of the Farms. We chose this central location because it is on high land and close the new county roads running from Osteen to the Atlantic Ocean. Deep Creek, a fine stream, runs through the town and a park site has been set aside along this creek.

Volusia Farms will furnish the business for New Volusia which is destined to become a prosperous town of several hundred within a short time.

We also want to hear from people who are looking for new business locations. Very favorable terms are being made for sites at New Volusia.

If in any way interested in Volusia Farms, New Volusia or Florida in general write for our booklets. Address your envelop or postal plainly:

Notice of Election

It is ordained by the Board that the following resolution be published four consecutive weeks in The Orange County Citizen, The Reporter Star, The South Florida Sentinel, The Sanford Herald and The Florida Recorder:

Whereas the Board of County Commissioners of Orange County, Florida, deem it expedient and in the best interest of the county to issue county bonds of said county of Orange for the purpose of constructing hard surfaced roads to be made of brick; and whereas the Board has ascertained that it is necessary to construct at least one hundred miles of such hard surfaced roads to be constructed out of brick, and that it will require one million dollars worth of bonds for such purpose to bear interest at the rate of four and one-half per cent per annum, principal of said bonds to become due fifty years from the date of issue, interest payable semi-annually on the first day of January and July of each year after issue;

Therefore, be it resolved by the Board of County Commissioners of Orange County that it is necessary to issue the bonds of Orange County for the purpose of constructing hard surface roads of brick to the amount of one million dollars, to bear interest at the rate of four and one-half per cent per annum, principal of said bonds to be due and payable semi-annually on the first days of January and July of each year after issue.

It is ordered that the foregoing preamble and resolution be published for four consecutive weeks in The Orange County Citizen, The Reporter Star, The South Florida Sentinel, and The Sanford Herald and The Florida Recorder prior to December 7th, 1910.

Done in open Board this September 13th, 1910. By order of the Board. J. H. LEE, Chairman. Attest: B. M. Robinson, Clerk.

Upon motion the following resolution and order was adopted:

Notice of Election Upon the Question of the Issue of County Bonds of Orange County, Florida, for Purpose of Constructing Brick Roads.

Whereas, at a meeting of the Board of County Commissioners in and for the County of Orange and State of Florida held at the court house in Orlando on July 5th, 1910, the following resolution was adopted, to-wit: Be it resolved by the Board of County Commissioners of Orange County, Florida, that it is necessary to issue the bonds of Orange County for the purpose of raising money for constructing hard surface roads of brick; and that the amount of the bonds necessary to be issued is one million dollars, said bonds to bear interest at the rate of four and one-half per cent per annum; the principal of said bonds to be due and payable fifty years from the date of issue, and the interest on said bonds to be due and payable semi-annually on the first days of January and July of each and every year after issue.

Now it is ordered that an election be held on Wednesday, the 7th day of December, A. D. 1910, which election shall be submitted to the legal voters of Orange County, Florida, the question whether county bonds of Orange County shall issue for the purpose of raising money for constructing hard surface roads of brick in said county; the amount of bonds necessary to be issued shall be one million dollars, said bonds to bear interest at the rate of four and one-half per cent per annum; the principal of said bonds to be due and payable fifty years from date of issue, and interest on said bonds to be due and payable semi-annually, on first days of January and July of each and every year after issue.

It is further ordered that the foregoing resolution be published in The Orange County Citizen, The Reporter Star, The South Florida Sentinel, The Sanford Herald, and The Florida Recorder once a week for four weeks before the election above ordered.

Done in open Board this September 13th, 1910. By order of the Board. J. H. LEE, Chairman. Attest: B. M. Robinson, Clerk. 5-3t

ANNOUNCEMENTS

For Mayor. At the earnest solicitation of my friends I have consented to announce my candidacy for the position of Mayor of Sanford at the primary to be held in November. Respectfully, W. H. UNDERWOOD.

For City Clerk, Treasurer, Assessor. I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of City Clerk, Treasurer and Assessor. Many years of experience with city affairs and clerical positions have made me familiar with the work of this office and having made Sanford my home, I ask the voters of Sanford to look up my record and fitness for this position of trust. Respectfully, M. W. LOVELL.

Clerk, Treasurer and Assessor. I am urged by my friends to announce myself as a candidate for the office of Clerk, Treasurer and Assessor at the coming city election, to which place I was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Mark L. Scott. I solicit an inspection of the work done by me to convince you of my qualifications to fulfill the duties of the office. Yours truly, R. C. MAXWELL.

For City Clerk, Treasurer and Assessor. I announce myself a candidate for the office of Clerk, Treasurer and Assessor. A citizen of Sanford continuously since 1880, I have been actively identified with her every interest. That I am competent and can serve acceptably as Clerk, Treasurer and Assessor I have no misgivings. Intimate acquaintance with the history, progress and high aims of the Sanford of today give me good form and fitness to be useful in substantial ways, along with and aside from the duties of office in pushing Sanford's car of progress. C. H. LEFFLER.

For Marshal. I announce my candidacy for re-election as Marshal. I propose to make the race solely on my record. I am not the candidate of any clique. I solicit the support of the voters on my merits. Respectfully, GREEN W. SMITH.

Marshal and Collector. I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Marshal and Collector for Sanford at the coming city election. Respectfully, W. A. JILLIS.

Notice is hereby given to all creditors, legatees, distributees and all persons having claims or demands against the Estate of Michael Kennedy Jones, Deceased, to present them within two years from the date hereof. Sanford Farms News Notes

Mr. Burke of Michigan who purchased ten acres of celery land in Sanford Farms last spring has arrived Monroe and is now busy working out plans for the immediate erection of a nice residence. Mr. Burke will clear his land and place it in cultivation.

H. P. Lingo, formerly general auditor of the Tennessee railway, has purchased fifteen acres of vegetable land in Sanford Farms has arrived here with his father and mother, built a residence and is now living on his property. He will clear his place and put it in cultivation this winter. Mr. Lingo's brother from the Canal Zone is here on a short visit.

Mr. Downer of Michigan, whose son purchased one of our five acre tracts last spring has arrived at Monroe and is preparing to erect a residence and have it ready when his son arrives in the fall.

L. R. Vorce has a crew of men working on his residence and will now have it ready for occupancy in about ten days. The seven and one-half acres Mr. Vorce has cleared looks splendid and there is no doubt but what he will soon be shipping bumper crops.

Sanford Farms were not injured by the recent storm. The bridge washed out over the county canal, but with the good help of the neighbors we had it restored in half a day.

Sanford Farms is undoubtedly the best drained piece of land in the Celery Delta. After the copious rain of last week there is not a sign of it left on the farms and those who have arrived here are going ahead with their work just as though no wind or rain ever blew this way from the tropics.

R. S. Barnes and wife of Oneida, Tenn., were here this week looking over 15 acres of land they purchased from this company. They were delighted with the location and prospects and left orders to have a well driven at once and 5 acres of their land placed in shape for cultivation.

If you need anything in the line of real estate Title Bond & Guarantee Co., is prepared to serve you to the best possible advantage. We have the property, business connections and facilities you are in need of.

Captain R. B. Smith and Richard Tingle, both of Georgia and who have purchased land in our division of Sanford farms are marooned at osteen with a fine team of mules and wagon. The ferry boat is out of commission at the foot of Celery Ave., and these two are suffering much inconvenience therefrom. When they do get settled at Monroe, they will be prepared to a teaming plowing, harrowing and hauling of all kinds.

Mr. Brown of Connecticut who has large interests in the vicinity of Monroe has returned from the east and is preparing to plant crops in all the fields he represents, these are several of them.

Mr. Bell has completed his store house and is now looking for a tenant. There are five rooms over the store building which he proposes to keep for the accommodation of purchasers of Sanford Farms.

Mrs. W. O. Dyer, wife of the chief engineer of the Tennessee railway was here this week looking over ten acres vegetable farm purchased by Mr. Dyer last May. Mrs. Dyer was delighted with the selection and will return to Sanford in a short time to look after the erection of a residence and getting the farm ready for cultivation.

Every available acre in the vicinity of Monroe will be placed in cultivation this fall and from the hustling surface indications things out Monroe way will soon bloom out as the rose.

Those who contemplate coming to Florida this fall or winter will do well to correspond with Title Bond & Company in advance so we can make proper arrangements to look after their wants.

The Garden of Eden in the window of Title Bond & Guarantee Company attracts much attention. The crops are replanted often enough to keep them in a fine state of growth and all that is lacking is an Eve for the Garden.

The Father Tells His Son a Few Things About the Damp in Florida

Probably You will Be Interested to Get Next

My Dear Son,

When the Heavens recently sprung a leak in Florida and spilt the tears of the Angels over the state in such quantities that great dark, tachromose puddles became the order of the day rather than the exception of the hour

Your Old Daddy Was Amused

At some folks who came here from Cleveland, Ohio in charge of a capper of a lofal land company to look at some Fasting Tracts north of the St. Johns river. These folks waited and waited and

Waited for the Waters to Recede

So they could take a rubber at their prospective homes, but there were not enough holes to chunk it into and the capper got fettled at his continued delay and treked for the nawth, as the company had neglected to lay in a supply of

Submarine Boats and Diving Bells

To handle its deep sea holdings the woulp be purchasers became uteasy at the continuous presence of damp in such quantities that prevented them from investigating the texture of the soil and finally drifted into the offices of

Title Bond & Guarantee Company

Went out to Monroe, the beautiful suburb of Sanford and purchased 3 five acre tracts. They paid $5 an acre down and will pay $2 an acre per month, which gives them

Six Years in Which to Pay Out

One of the parties remarked that if they had known of the T. B. & G. Co's. land sooner, they would have saved the first payment of $5 an acre. Those parties came here to buy

Land At $25 An Acre

Not knowing the difference between irrigable land and the kind that is either as

Dry As Powder Or a Perfect Mush From Too Much Moisture

After the difference had been explained to them they were delighted with the new prospect and hurried north to arrange their affairs so they can return and become permanent residents of the Celery Delta. You know my son, the T. B. & G. Co., have the finest tract of vegetable land in the Delta and it is being sold on terms that will enable the purchaser to make it pay for itself

Water Could Stand On An Egg in Puddles and Lakes and Lagoons Could Form On the Surface of An Onion

As easily as it could on the offerings of the T. B. & G. Co.

Lucky Sanford the Dollar Factory

Is becoming more famous than ever for its great productivity and the land here is very much in demand

You Know My Lad

Sanford is no colony scheme to foist sandy Fasting Tracts upon an over confident public

Water is the Key That Unlocks the Treasure Chest Here

And we always make good crops regardless of too much or no rain at all and there is little doubt but what if the great number of

Strangers Who Are Headed Toward Florida

Only knew of our advantages here, the little land left would be sold in one single week. Keep in touch with the Title Bond & Guarantee Company

And When You Get Ready to Purchase a Vegetable Farm

Send them $25 and they will select a tract of five acres for you that they will place their guarantee upon and the guarantee of this company is as

Good As Gold. Get That in Your Coco and Store it There

P. S. Title Bond & Guaratee Company are now sending out a book relating to the system of growing vegetables as is in vogue here. Send for it. They pay the freight to any part of the world.

ALL AROUND FLORIDA

The General News of "The Land of Flowers."

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

The newspaper men of Jacksonville have organized a Press Club for the mutual benefit and betterment of their sad lot and poor circumstances.

Many of the new residents of Ocala county declare that they were induced to make the change by reading the Kissimmee Gazette, which is circulated by the County Commissioners.

Homeseekers' rates prevailing from North East and West into Florida are bringing thousands of people into the state each week. During the past week three solid cars of homeseekers came into South Florida.

Thanksgiving day is expected to be the red letter day at the Marion county fair. Governor Gilchrist will attend the fair that day.

Dr. F. W. Iman one of the best known citizens of South Florida died at his home at Florence Villa last Sunday. Dr. Iman was President of the Florida Citrus Exchange and took an active part in the citrus fruit industry.

Dr. B. F. Liak, the well known Grahamville physician, was drowned at the Grahamville ferry on Tuesday night. Dr. Liak was returning from Ocala where he spent the day and was driving to his home at Grahamville. On leaving the ferry the horse became unmanageable and went on over into the water, which at that place is very deep and both were drowned before assistance could reach them.

The old historic depot at Silver Springs was destroyed by fire at a late hour Tuesday. The origin of the fire is unknown. Only a small quantity of freight was in the building which was all destroyed. The old depot was much used by tourists, having a wide upstairs veranda overlooking the springs.

Pensacola will be very gay and lively during the present week, for the interstate fair opened Monday under the most flattering auspices and with every promise of surpassing in attendance and interest all previous events of the kind.

New Business Enterprises

Sanford is making kaleidoscope changes these days and when one leaves the city for a few months the changes are more noticeable. Two new firms have started in business recently and opened first class establishments in the new Garner-Woodruff building.

R. G. Stockton has opened a grocery store in the east side of the building and everything is fresh and clean. In connection he has a meat market under the supervision of Mr. Morrison, who knows his business and will keep an up to date establishment. Mr. Stockton will be assisted by Chas. Tate who knows the trade and the store will make a strong bid for trade of this section.

In the store adjoining Jas. Lawson has opened one of the finest confectionary and cold drink establishments in South Florida and Jim Hammond will be the chief mixer of delectations pleasing to the palate. Mr. Lawson is determined to keep his establishment right up to now and will keep only high grade confections, cigars and tobacco.

There are persistent rumors of other new business firms coming to the city in the near future and trade is picking up along every line. There will be a new apartment house started in a few weeks to take care of the new people who are coming in on every train and many new residences will be built this winter.

Ice Factory Starts Soon

John F. Harrison, the bustling manager of the Crystal Ice Works has returned from his summer outing and will soon start the wheels turning on this, the finest ice plant in south Florida. The vegetables will soon be moving kept cool by the Crystal ice.

Methodist Church

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Preaching by the pastor at 11 a. m. Preaching by Rev. E. F. Ley, P. E., at 7 p. m. Fourth quarterly conference will be held Monday, the 14th at 7:30 p. m. All are invited.

DEMOCRATIC SWEEP

Rooster Pulls The Tail Feathers Out of The Eagle

More complete returns from the elections throughout the United States emphasize, rather than diminish, the startling Democratic landslide.

There is hardly a section of the entire nation where the Republican vote did not slump notably, and in many cases disastrously.

The Sixty-second Congress will be Democratic by a fine working majority, while in the United States Senate the Republicans will have only a scant lead over the Democrats.

Five influential Eastern States—New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Ohio—take places at the head of the column, with Democratic Governors and strong Democratic representation in their Legislatures.

Two great leaders of the Republican party, Taft and Roosevelt, alike met defeat in their own states.

Roosevelt's home town, Oyster Bay, went against him. His Congressional district chose a Democratic representative to replace Congressman Cocks, Roosevelt's warm personal friend. His state repudiated Stimson, Republican candidate for Governor, by 50,000 plurality.

As an additional blow, the New York State Legislature is Democratic, and will elect a Democratic Senator to succeed Chauncey Depew.

President Taft to-day finds himself face to face with the one danger he most dreaded—a hostile House of Representatives to nullify what remains of his legislative program.

A Democratic House, President Taft pointed out, will paralyze the administration and make party legislation impossible.

Most of New Jersey's ten Congressmen will sit with the Democratic majority in the Sixty-second Congress.

Connecticut has elected a Democratic Governor for the first time since 1893 in Judge Simeon E. Baldwin. The chief feature of Baldwin's campaign was a long-drawn-out controversy with Theodore Roosevelt over their respective views of compulsory compensation for workmen injured in industrial accidents.

Baldwin's plurality over Charles A. Goodwin is about 5,000.

The Republicans lost heavily in Rhode Island, re-electing Governor Pothier by a scant 900 votes, as against his plurality 12,000 last election.

Senator Aldrich's successor will be a Republican.

New Hampshire's new Governor is Robert P. Bass, a Republican, who won the nomination on a progressive platform. Diminished Republican pluralities were general throughout the State.

Pennsylvania appear on late returns to have elected John K. Tener, straight Republican candidate, by a reduced plurality. Berry, Democrat, gave him a hard fight.

Tennessee elected the fusion candidate, Ben W. Hooper, by a generous margin.

Michigan was overwhelmingly in favor of Charles S. Osborn, Republican, for Governor and Wisconsin chose Francis E. McGovern, Republican, by a reduced majority.

Effectiveness of the Democratic majority in the lower House will be largely nullified by the hold Republicans retain in the Senate.

A striking feature of voting throughout the country was the repudiation of Republican leaders in their home towns.

Summed up, the results of the various State elections were as follows:

Democratic—Alabama, Connecticut, Florida, Indiana, Massachusetts, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Carolina and Texas.

Republicans—Colorado, Delaware, Idaho, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee and Wisconsin.

Doubtful—Iowa and Kansas.

One of the most astonishing overturns was in the rock-ribbed Republican state, of Massachusetts, where Eugene N. Foss, Democrat, has a majority of 30,000.

Foss' campaign was made on a straight tariff issue. The Massachusetts Legislature is Republican, and will re-elect Senator Lodge.

In New Jersey Woodrow Wilson was swept into the Governor's chair by 20,000 votes, carrying with him a Democratic majority in joint session of the Legislature, and insuring a Democratic successor to Senator Keen.

AMENDMENT, DEFEATED

Florida Decides to Remain in the Local Option Class

MANY SURPRISES WERE SPRUNG

Hillsborough County Gave Majority For Amendment—Other Election Notes

The election on last Tuesday was just about the most exciting fall election that has ever been held to ratify the primary nominees. This was caused by the prohibition amendment to be voted upon which meant the wiping out of saloons in the state or resuming the plan now in force of each county having saloons or no saloons.

Definite results cannot be given at this time, as many precincts are yet to hear from in the official canvass.

The greatest surprise of the state was the report of Hillsborough county, with Tampa, Plant City and St. Petersburg all wet towns and yet the county gave some 200 majority for the amendment. Marion county, also wet, gave a majority for the amendment. Orange county is pivotal on the wet and dry question and Orlando gave 115 majority against the amendment, while the county precincts rolled up a majority against the amendment of 281.

Putting in Paving

The street committee has the thanks of The Herald for putting in curbing and brick at the alley adjoining The Herald on the south. The Peoples Bank not to be outdone have consented to pave the alley on the north side and these two brick alleys will flank the fine new sidewalk recently constructed in front of The Herald. Our grass plot has been planted to Augustinus grass and we will now practice what we preach. "Make Sanford beautiful."

Congregational Church

The Sunday School will give a concert in this church next Sunday evening beginning at 7:00. The offering from mite boxes and the congregation will be for the Florida Navy. Rev. George B. Waldron will preach in the morning. A general and cordial invitation is extended.

Mable Paige Popular as Ever

Mable Paige the dainty and petite was here again this week and as usual had a record breaking house. The people of Sanford claim Mable Paige for their own for she married Mr. Ritchie in this city two years ago.

The play on Wednesday night was the "Bachelor's Honeymoon" and was a three act musical force that certainly made a hit. On Thursday night they gave "The Game" a story of love and politics that was well received.

The company included Ed Lawrence leading man who is as popular as ever and twice as good, and Messrs. Ritchie, Oelrich, Ponce, Miller, DeGrasse and Misses Dorothy Irvin, Jeanette Parsons, Aenna Forshner, Ethel Jackson and Mable Paige.

They are all well up in their parts and and the musical skills are fine and whenever they may appear they will draw a full house.

Champ Clark is from Missouri. He showed the postmaster general that pernicous political activity in the campaign against his reelection. Mr. Hitchcock immediately ordered an investigation.

The so-called dispensary graft cases which have been pending in South Carolina courts for two years, came to trial in Chester, S. C., this week. The defendants are John Black, Jodie M. Rowlinson, former members of the old state dispensary board, and H. L. Solomons, formerly agent for a liquor house. The trial is expected to last a week.

Minnesota estimates that the recent forest fires destroyed $100,000,000 worth of timber within her boundaries. As an exhibition of the value received for an appropriation of $20,000,000 to the forestry service these fires should be valuable.

Philadelphia has waked up since the Athletics won the pennant. A judge there has sentenced dealers for selling bad eggs.

Philadelphia is threatened with another street car strike, which will as completely paralyze traffic as did that settled several months ago. In the event arbitrators fail to agree upon one of the points now at issue, the motormen and conductors of the Pennsylvania Rapid Transit Company voted to strike this week.

The state bank of Beattie, Kansas, was robbed of three thousand dollars by five robbers Tuesday. Citizens exchanged fifty shots with the yeggmen in a running flight. A posse is pursuing the criminals.

The time honored lord mayor's show took place on Wednesday, and the new lord mayor of London, Sir Thomas Vezev Strong, was formally installed in office, succeeding Sir John C. Knill. The old established custom showed little sign of becoming obsolete, and owing to some unusual and attractive features in the procession the occasion was the most interesting of recent years.

The census frauds are very far reaching, not only in the number of cities and states where the frauds are said to have been perpetrated, but from the undermining of the structure of a representative government. Fraud in one city in a state may give that state an additional congressman and an additional vote in the electoral college. When frauds are prevalent in many states the number of fraudulent extra congressmen and electoral votes is magnified.

One of the worst riots in the New York express strike occurred Wednesday afternoon on Eighth avenue. Drivers of four machines sent out were attacked by the mob, which pulled the men off the machines and beat them badly. Police reserves finally beat off the mob. Several arrests were made.

After being pronounced dead by attaches of the Allegheny general hospital at Pittsburgh Mrs. John Finley came back to life at the call of her husband and children. She smiled at them, called each by name, kissed all farewell and in three hours was dead.

Dr. Frederick A. Cook was further discredited in a special cable dispatch to the Chicago Daily News from its correspondent in Copenhagen, Denmark. The story was the first publication of the report of Knud Rasmussen, the Danish explorer, as sent by him to his wife in Copenhagen and now given out by her.

Pleads Guilty

M. Miller, at Winter Garden, who was charge with selling liquor illegally some time ago, having had charge of the Winter Garden "Club" before going abroad, after which a Mr. Beerman took charge, pled guilty last week in criminal court before Judge Beaga and was given a fine of $500 and costs. It will be remembered that Beerman received a good fine some time since but appealdd his case and is out on bond. Our officers are always on the look out, so if you want a term on the road or a good fine, just break the law regarding the sale of liquor and the chances are you will get all that is coming to you—Reporter Star.
