RITCHIE ACTION TO WITHDRAW BOOSTS SMITH

Self Elimination Hailed By Backers Of New York Candidate With Rejoicing

Face Narrows To Reed And Al Smith

Friends Of Tammany's Candidate Believe He Will Be Nominated

HOUSTON, Tex., June 19. (INS)—Governor Albert C. Ritchie's self-elimination as a factor in the Democratic convention here today by those with managers already on the ground. It increased their confidence that the New York governor will be nominated in the balloting—perhaps on the first ballot and if not on the second.

More than that they appreciate a numerical value of the 16 votes which Ritchie's action assures for Smith in the first ballot. They are grateful for the moral effect which the Maryland executive's action may possibly have on the evening ones next week.

Yesterday there were three front rank candidates. Today there are but two—Governor Smith and Senator James A. Reed of Missouri. That the contest in Houston's beautiful new convention hall next week will be between these two heroes was no doubt whatever today morning. The Democrats already agree. If Smith can be stopped at all—and there are few who believe he can be—it will have to be by Reed. He is the only remaining candidate who has any support at all from outside his own state. Senator Reed will arrive here tonight. He is militant and unflinching by the seeming inevitability of Smith's nomination. His managers are somewhat wary. Ritchie's action jarred the party, at least, for publication purposes.

"We expected it," said Ed S. Wilmore, who is in charge of Reed headquarters here pending the arrival of the Missouri Senator. "It will make no appreciable difference in the situation. For we have always anticipated that Maryland's 10 votes would go to Smith after the first complimentary vote for Ritchie. Governor Ritchie's announcement therefore, merely means that Smith will have these votes on the first ballot. It increases his first ballot strength."

That much brings him no nearer the nomination than he was before. Nevertheless, the cold figures on the Smith strength are not calculated to impress anyone, even the Reed spokesmen. Figure as they will, the opponents of the New York Governor cannot get around the fact that he is fairly certain to have a minimum of 650 votes on the first ballot. His managers claim 688 definitely signed and sealed for delivery next week. If these figures stand up, and there is no apparent reason to doubt them, it means that he is within less than 100 votes of the nomination. The fact of the Smith managers will be to draw the remainder from such delegations as Ohio's 48, Kansas' 20, Indiana's 20, Nebraska's 16 and Tennessee's 24, leaving out of consideration entirely the delegations that represent the solid south, and also Reed's 38 from Missouri.

MONEY RATES GO UP AND STOCKS DOWN IN MARKET

Movement Shows That A Correction Of Overdone Speculation Has Not Been Completely Accomplished Yet

NEW YORK, June 19.—(INS)—Money rates went up and stocks went down today in a movement which showed quite clearly that the "correction" of an overdone speculation had not been completed. From the first period it was evident that the market would be greater than in the last day or two, while bullish forces appeared more or less demoralized by the reaction of the past 10 days. Selling orders for General Motors, Radio and other speculative leaders were poured in, and the level of prices was forced down to below that of last Tuesday, when the heaviest break of the year occurred.

Call money was firm at the opening of the market, and when the banks called in funds for their midweek reserve balances, the market promptly advanced to 7 percent. Between this date and July first, preparatory to the settlement of a huge volume of funds from the speculative markets, and it is in fear of the effect of such withdrawals that hundreds of small traders have been liquidating their holdings of industrial stocks, while others industrial stocks to purchase until the cloud has been removed.

PARTY CHIEFS SET IN MOTION CAUCUS PLANS

Governor Smith's Manager Is On Scene To Direct Efforts Of New Yorker To Win Nomination At Houston, Texas

Seven Days Remain Before Opening Day

Supporters Of Tammany Candidate Believe He Will Be Nominated On First Ballot

HOUSTON, Tex., June 19.—(INS)—Although seven long, hot days stretch out ahead before the Democratic National Convention formally gets under way, machinery was to be set in motion today by the friends of Governor Al Smith.

Smith is confident will bring him the presidential nomination on an early ballot. Much water will go over the dam between now and the day when the balloting begins, but just at present Governor Smith seems to be the sole topic of discussion in this flourishing Texas city.

With the arrival here today of George Van Name, pro-convention campaign manager for the New York Governor, the Smiths for president headquarters will be established and the missionary work will be started in earnest. There are some other things that have to be done at the national convention besides nominating a candidate for president and vice-president, and these will be taken care of as speedily as possible so as to clear the decks for the Smith drive.

The Smith people who already have arrived on the scene are hoping but not predicting that the New York executive will go over on the first ballot, but they are certain the second or third ballot will see him nominated. Withdrawal of Governor Albert T. Ritchie of Maryland as a contender for the presidential nomination has cheered the Smith forces although they were confident long ago that the Maryland executive would be in their corner at the proper time.

Although the nominations will not be made until after the platform has been adopted, the Smith people are planning to see that the New York executive is fairly well carried out in respect to this conference. At a very recent convention in New York and Van Name it is understood here that the platform was discussed at great length. According to information here the much discussed plank in the platform will only go so far as to declare in favor of a referendum in each state as to whether the Eighteenth Amendment should be liberalized.

HOOVER MAKES KNOWN VIEWS UPON FARM AID

Member Of Cabinet Is Giving Much Consideration To Program In Hope That He Will Be Able To Offer Solution

Has Already Gained McNary To His Side

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(INS)—Eight years study of the currents of production and distribution convince Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential nominee, that the first thing needed to aid the American farmer is a "positive long-view national policy for the better setting of agriculture" in the economic picture.

Hoover, it was learned today, is giving much consideration to his agricultural program and hopes to offer a concrete plan that will be acceptable to both the McNary-Haugenites of the Mid-West and those who oppose the equalization principle. He already has convinced Senator McNary, (R) of Oregon, and today is expected to confer with Senator Curtis, of Kansas, the vice-presidential candidate.

As secretary of commerce, Hoover pointed out that while he did "not recy any sound plan of immediate relief," he believed that consideration of the long-view is essential to any program. In the agricultural industry policies are that will, as far as possible, eliminate the cause of crisis and repetition of resort to emergency makeshifts in farm relief.

Four essentials in a "long-view" policy, according to Hoover's ideas are:

- (1)—Better organization in farm marketing.
- (2)—An agriculture better adapted to the demand.
- (3) Stability of business as a whole.
- (4)—Elimination of waste in production and distribution, not only of what the farmers sell but what he buys, thereby increasing the benefits both ways.

Mabel Boll Changes Mind Again On Flight

HARBOR GRACE, N. F., June 19.—(INS)—After changing their plans several times following Miss Amelia Earhart's successful flight to Europe, Miss Mabel Boll and her two companions, Captains Oliver La Touiller and Arthur Argien, have decided to take-off on a flight to Rome today, weather permitting. Although it rained here last night, weather reports indicated flying conditions over the Atlantic would be good today.

Yesterday morning, announcement was made by the fliers in which they stated they would abandon their plans to fly across the ocean and ship the plane to England for a westward attempt. Instead later, however, they decided that since everything was in readiness for the flight, they would adhere to their original plans.

Plane "Friendship" Reaches Final Goal On English Harbor

GERMAN WOMAN PLANS ATLANTIC HOP TOMORROW

Thea Rasche Expects To Fly To Old Orchard Today From Where She Will Start Solo Trip Across Sea To Berlin

NEW YORK, June 19.—(INS)—Her newly acquired Bellanca monoplane poised on the long runway at Curtiss Field, L. I., Thea Rasche intrepid German aviatix was expected to take off today for Old Orchard, Maine, on the first leg of her proposed solo trans-Atlantic flight to Berlin, Germany.

Providing weather conditions over the expansive conditions waters of the Atlantic are favorable, Thea will take-off from Old Orchard tomorrow. The plane was put through its final test yesterday and met with satisfaction of the fair pilot.

Thea's announcement of her intention to hop off for Old Orchard today came as suddenly and unexpectedly as did the announcement of her ocean flight last week when it was announced she was having difficulty in financing the flight.

Mrs. James Stillman, wife of the banker, sympathetic with Thea's disappointment over the cancellation of her flight came to the woman flier's aid and purchased from A. R. Martine, the aviatix's flight manager, his Bellanca monoplane, greatly sought by her. Mrs. Stillman who has long been keenly interested in aviation has undertaken to finance the venture.

Out of deference to the banker's wife's interest in astrology and astronomy the name "The North Star" has been emblazoned on the fuselage.

Mrs. Stillman, with Martine as a passenger, will take off from Curtiss field in a Fairchild cabin plane a few minutes after Thea on an ailing accompany the German flier to Old Orchard.

Necessary additional navigation instruments have been installed in the ship. The tanks have been packed with fuel to their capacity.

Thea's flying ability is a matter of record in aviation circles. She served her flying noviate under aviators and to date has never figured an aerial accident. She has been flying six years.

Miss Amelia Earhart And Two Companions Land At Southampton Amidst Ovation

Flyers Happy On Ending Journey

Trip From Welsh Inlet To Channel Port Is Made Through Fog

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., June 19.—(INS)—Miss Amelia Earhart, of Boston, the first woman to span the Atlantic by airplane, and her two companions—pilot Wilmer Stultz and mechanic Louis Gordon—reached the goal of their daring trans-ocean flight here this afternoon on the monoplane Friendship. The plane dropped upon the surface of the harbor shortly before 1:30 P. M. English Summer Time.

Stultz expressed the sentiments of the other fliers when he exclaimed: "I certainly am glad it is over. Now for a good rest." The Friendship, which left New York at 11:17 P. M., was not due to land immediately. It began circling over the harbor while Stultz picked out a suitable spot to land.

The Friendship monoplane left Bury Port at 11:17 P. M., according to word reaching here. The Friendship alighted upon the water at 1:23 o'clock and was immediately moored.

As soon as the friendship was sighted through the usual haze the ships in the harbor set up a din with whistles, auto horns, and the tumult grew as the plane circled inward and prepared to land. Bells upon shipboard and in the city were rung in welcome. Crowds along the water front cheered continuously.

The flight from Bury Inlet was made doubly difficult by the fact that the weather was rainy and foggy and pilot Stultz was navigating over strange country with no familiar landmarks to guide him. As soon the Friendship touched the surface a number of small craft put out from the shore.

The Friendship alighted about one mile from the shore on a launch that had been awaiting for the plane at once took it in tow and pulled it to the Imperial Airways dock where it was moored.

When the plane was moored Miss Earhart and her companions left the machine to receive a tumultuous welcome. There was a distinguished assembly upon the dock including American Consul in the name of the United States.

The Friendship was anchored to a buoy just in front of the pier. The machine looked bright and shiny and showed not the slightest scar nor trace of the rough weather through which it had passed on the 2,400 mile flight from Tropic Bay, N. F., to Wales.

A busy United States flag, donated by Mrs. Savage, wife of the American Consul, floated from a flag pole in the middle of the dock pier. It obstructed the view of some of the spectators who wrapped the flag around the pole. Several Americans, who looked upon this action as a slight, rushed for

CIRCUIT BLOW BY HEWELL DEFEATS HUSTLERS, 3 TO 2

Hymel Hurts Good Game For Sanford Yielding 10 Hits In 14 Frames; Pitcher Also Leads With Six

Miami, June 19.—Hewell's home run gave Sanford a 3 to 2 victory over Miami in the thirteenth inning Monday.

Hymel went the route for the Hustlers and Meyer for the Hustlers. Neither team scored until the ninth when Frisbie beat out a perfect bunt, stole second and threw the ball away. He scored on Hewell's sacrifice fly. Barnes singled and scored on Stapleton's one base blow.

The Hustlers came back in their half to tie the count. Parks opened with a single but Burling fouled him at second. Crowe doubled, scoring Parks and was safe at the third when Wallace muffed the throw in. Crowe continued on Hinkle's single. Score:

Jess Petty Yields Only Four Safeties To Phils; Cubs, Braves Break Even

NEW YORK, June 19.—(INS)—Baseball fandom turned its attention to the Robins pitching staff again today. Jess Petty, veteran hurler repelled the Phils with just four safeties yesterday.

This little achievement following as it does, right on the heels of Dazzy Vance's strike out exhibition Sunday served to inflate Uncle Robbie's proud "chest."

After a hectic first session in which the lowly but ambitious Quakers nipped him for three hits and two tallies Petty tightened up his delivery and quelled the bats of his hosts until the ninth frame when he yielded to a single. Jimmy Ring, the Phils twirler, kept things fairly well under control until the closing inning when he slipped two runs and allowed a brace of hits, one of which proved costly—Hendrick scoring the winning run on Herman's single. Timely batting by the Brooklynites aided materially in the victory.

Heavy hitting, punctuated with homers by Rajah Hornsby, and Kiki Cuyler, plus more than a score of runs, featured the double header split by Chicago and Boston.

"Big Bill" Thompson's "bat boys" proved no match for Rajah and his clan at bat and in the field and were humiliated to the tune of 10 to 8 in the first game. But the Cubs more than avenged their defeat by smearing the bean-eaters with 12 coats of whitewash, taking the second game 12 to 0. Boston required the services of four pitchers, including Kent Greenfield, to hold the loop city diamond artists to 20 hits, two of which were circuit clouts by Cuyler.

The Cincinnati Reds nosed out the St. Louis cards in an exciting 14 inning game, winning 4 to 3. Going into the ninth frame the Reds led by a one run margin. Bottomley reversed matters with a timely homer. But a single by Kolp, relief pitcher, with two out and Drexler on third, settled the contest for the Reds in his fourteenth inning.

Orlando Colts Win Free Hitting Game From Daytona, 14-8

Harvin of the local was hit hard but pitched the whole game. Chauncey and Abrams of the visitors got three hits each, two of the latter's blows being for extra bases. Messner and Scholls of the Islanders connected for home runs.

As the big red and gold plane was being towed slowly through the water with the crew still inside the spectators shouted and waved hats, handkerchiefs and flags. The cheering increased as the Friendship appeared around the stern of a big docked liner. When Miss Earhart, wearing her flying clothes, appeared in the doorway of the cabin the welcoming din reached its climax.

It had been reported from Llanelly, Wales, that Capt. H. H. Bailey, European representative of the Friendship's flight was aboard an accompanying Imperial Airways plane, but when the Friendship reached here it was found on board. He was the first one to leave the plane. Then he turned to assist Miss Earhart into the launch standing alongside. Then pilot Stultz stepped into the boat.

Mechanic Gordon remained behind the others to cover the motors with heavy canvas to keep out the moisture. After he had finished this job to his satisfaction he also got into the launch.

Miss Earhart's wealthy patroness, the Hon. Mrs. Frederick Quest, was in the "official" launch which took off the crew of the trans-Atlantic plane. As soon as the young aviator stepped into the boat Mrs. Quest placed her arms around her young friend and exclaimed: "I am so happy to know that you did it. But we knew you would."

After Gordon had climbed into the boat it moved the short distance to the piers while the crowds surged against the police lines in an effort to get close enough to see the daring young American woman.

Scores of little children bobbed up as from nowhere. They waved little American flags but their piping cries of welcome were lost in the general tumult.

American Consul John M. Savage was delighted over the fresh honors accruing to America's enterprise in the international field of aviation. "Americans may well be proud of Miss Earhart and her flying companions," said the Consul.

Early morning crowds had been gathering along the harbor front to greet the Friendship. The plane was first sighted over Alahot—the seat of a great British aldirme—at 1:15 o'clock. A blanket of gray fog obscured the sky and the plane was barely visible through the haze.

Upon reaching the inner harbor the plane circled over the city at an altitude of more than 1,000 feet. Then it began to descend slowly and gracefully.

gradually approaching the surface of the harbor where it alighted as lightly as a feather. There was just a splash of water and then the Friendship was riding the choppy waves, its task completed.

Adjourning to the ball room, the guests enjoyed dancing. One of the most impressive features of the program was the observance of Kiwanis "Zero Hour" at 11:15 o'clock. A period of silence was followed by the singing of "America" while more than 1,700 other clubs throughout the United States and Canada were the same.

Following a luncheon there was a public reception when many persons met Miss Earhart, shook hands with her and congratulated her upon her feat. It was arranged that the three flyers should have a rest of a couple of hours before leaving for London.

American Consul John M. Savage was delighted over the fresh honors accruing to America's enterprise in the international field of aviation. "Americans may well be proud of Miss Earhart and her flying companions," said the Consul.

Early morning crowds had been gathering along the harbor front to greet the Friendship. The plane was first sighted over Alahot—the seat of a great British aldirme—at 1:15 o'clock. A blanket of gray fog obscured the sky and the plane was barely visible through the haze.

Upon reaching the inner harbor the plane circled over the city at an altitude of more than 1,000 feet. Then it began to descend slowly and gracefully.

Baseball Business Of Boston Enjoys Much Improvement

BOSTON, June 18.—(INS)—Baseball business is perking up in Boston, where gate receipts, for over 10 years, have matched col- lar and ties, in value. President Bob Quinn, of the Red Sox, is now planning double-decker stands for Fenway Park, home of the Sox.

President Quinn recently showed the International News Service a blue print submitted to him for a new layout of the ball park. In the new park there would be seating capacity for 52,700 persons, each one of the thousands having a separate chair.

The change in the seating plans would necessitate a change in the diamond arrangements. President Quinn pointed out.

The planning was done by the Osbourne Engineering Company of Cleveland, constructors of the Yankee Stadium, Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, Braves Field, and others.

The cost will approximate $25 per seat, the total cost coming to slightly more than $1,000,000. The arrangement would allow President Quinn to develop other sections of the park, thus increasing the return from rentals.

The plan that Mr. Quinn spoke about, was a parking arrangement under the stands. As the stands, by this proposed arrangement, will surround the playing field, President Quinn believes that there will be plenty of room for the cars of the Boston fans.

The plans are in the embryonic stage, Quinn pointed out. It will be necessary for the Red Sox to show classy ball over a long stretch before the ball park will begin to change from the present homey field into a tier surrounded playing field.

Life Of Former Princess, Twice Placed In Exile, Is Narration Of Sadness

PARIS, June 18.—(INS)—Born in exile and later exiled from her adopted country over which she reigned, the former Queen of Portugal is now living a life of quiet seclusion in a small chateau near the Palace of Versailles where her celebrated ancestors once reigned.

Ex-Queen Amelia, Princess of Orleans, has had a sad and tragic history from the moment she first opened her eyes at York House, Twickenham, in the same room where Queen Anne was born.

Daughter of the Count of Paris, then heir to the French throne, she early breathed an air surcharged with noble expectations.

When but five years old, she saw her uncles, the Duke of Anjou, Joinville, and Chartres leave for the war of 1870 and suffered with her father because he was not allowed to go with them.

Throughout her long life—Queen Amelia is now 61 years old—she was to continue works of charity and benevolence, founding innumerable children's dispensaries and hospitals during her reign in Portugal.

At Alcantara, where 30,000 babies received medical care, her visit was looked for every morning and very often during the operations, it was the Queen herself who held the little child on her knee and comforted it.

Among other institutions, she founded the Rego Hospital for tubercular patients in the last stage, and brought to Lisbon the first tubes of Dr. Roux' serum, finally establishing a bacteriological institute after the model of the celebrated Pasteur. When she was six years old her father was permitted to return to France and then began her strict education at Eu in Normandy, with winters at Cannes and Nice and summer holidays at Chantilly or Saint Germain where her greatest pleasure was riding horseback.

Tall and slender like all of the Orleans family, Princess Amelia looked much like a bride when she made her first Communion and was early named "the Little Queen."

When still young in her teens there were many rumours of marriage, all to be denied until the handsome Duke of Braganca came from Portugal. A case of love at first sight, the marriage was quickly arranged, and the French princess left for Lisbon to be the object of extraordinary celebrations and scenes only described in fairy tales.

But this happiness did not last long. Two babies arrived. The Duke lost his father and became king in 1908, but plots were already well-made to do away with him. Anarchists' shot him while driving through the streets in an open carriage with the Queen and their two children. The eldest son was killed with his father.

Never for a moment forgetting her dignity, the Queen refused to abdicate. The child Manuel ascended the throne but his reign was short. In 1910 British warships were obliged to lay in the Tagus River and in spite of them the royal palaces were wrecked and the Queen was forced to leave Lisbon and went once more to live in the home of her childhood, England. A few of her faithful friends followed her and brought her cheer.

Now she has come back to her true country, her beloved France, where she lives in a modest fashion as any ex-queen could be expected to, continuing her work of charity and appearing little in society circles.

Mrs. Eaton's Choice Brings Distinction To Florida Voters

TALLAHASSEE, June 18.—By electing Mrs. Robert L. Eaton, of Monticello, to the Florida Railroad Commission, Florida has attained the distinction of naming the first woman railroad commissioner in the United States, declares a statement recently issued by the Railroad Commission itself.

Mrs. Eaton, whose nomination by the Democratic party recently was, in the past been equivalent to election, was a candidate to fill out the unexpired term of her deceased husband, after she, had been appointed to the post by Governor Martin when Mr. Eaton died.

Mrs. Eaton will now serve until 1930, when another Democratic primary will be held, and her office will be before the voters again.

Two incumbents of the railroad commission were returned to office. The other is A. S. Wells, of Tallahassee, the present chairman of that body. Both were outspoken in expressing appreciation of the manner in which the Democratic electorate stood by them.

"We knew we had a great many friends," Mr. Wells said, "but we didn't know, really, that we had so many. We certainly appreciate their loyalty to us."

Error Made In Price Of Drug Store Goods

The Herald calls attention to an error appearing in an advertisement of the Union Pharmacy in which Dollar Day specials were listed. A combination of Shermans shaving cream, Gillette blades and shaving lotion was listed at $1.00 when the price should have been $1.50.

The Herald regrets the mistake inadvertently made in the usual taking care of a heavy volume of advertising, and is glad to make this correction.

Some people still don't believe anything they see in the newspapers, but it's a reasonably sure fact that you can't believe anything you hear, so that makes it unanimous.

The press is depending on Bob Swager, the editor of the Quincy Times, and Howard Sharp, the publisher of the Everglades News, to look after the interests of the newspapers in the state legislature.

A picture in a New York newspaper shows a boy at the age of three smoking a cigar, and it is said that he and his three brothers, age two, three and seven, are all habitual smokers.

The moving picture business has been on the wane since the City turned off the lights. The other night a little boy shedding great tears, came out of the Millard and told Mr. Marette he wanted his money back.

It must make Senator Heflin feel uncomfortable to read Governor Smith's order to the state troops of New York that they must protect the Alabama man in his constitutional right of free speech, when he recalls that not long ago he told Senator Robinson if he made that speech in Alabama, he'd be tarred and feathered.

It appears, now that the campaign is over, a number of Miami eccleisies are going out of business. Says Miami Life, "Mr. Abe Aronwitz has given up the publishing business. He says he is more money in bankruptcy. Mr. Tom Swartz has given up the publishing business. He says there is no money in the publishing business. Mr. J. Brauden has given up the publishing business. He says it isn't fun to be jailed. Miss Harriet Works has given up the publishing business. She says society people don't appreciate a good paper."

If Marion county had a cannery cated within her borders a lot of money that is now spent for canned goods shipped in from other states could be spent here. There is such a plant at Geneva, Seminole county, that is not only a success, but has orders for its product exceed its supply. This plant, which is started in a kitchen, is now shipping its product in car lots.

Los Angeles, New York, Chicago and other large cities, besides shipping many stores in Florida, are producing and shipping their own goods and vegetables that are sold in the market. It is not only a success, but has orders for its product exceed its supply. This plant, which is started in a kitchen, is now shipping its product in car lots.

A Great Beast

While the eyes of the nation are focused upon the Republican Convention which has just selected Herbert Hoover and Charles Curtis as its standard bearers, we believe it appropriate to consider at this time something of the party which these two men are to represent.

Hamilton were alive today he would see his fondest dreams come true. He would see a country whose phenomenal growth has been largely due to manufacturing, aided as it has been by tariffs and by the co-operation of a far flung banking system; he would see a nation of large cities with a tendency ever to become larger and always helping the move towards stronger centralized power; and he would see the government already in the hands of men high in the world of finance and industry becoming more plutocratic every day.

No doubt the greatest secretary of the treasury the United States ever had would feel an infinite satisfaction in the knowledge that his theories of government have proved so satisfactory. He would take keen pride in the fact that he has been vindicated in his bitter fights with Thomas Jefferson, whose ideals were diametrically opposed to his own.

For it is recalled that Jefferson said that when our conditions as to crowded cities have approximated those of Europe, there would result a demolition of everything public and private. Jefferson believed in free trade, he dreaded the influence of wealth, the growth of manufactures and the creation of a strong central power. He also placed great confidence in the common people to use their franchise wisely and to manage the affairs of government honestly.

Yet Hamilton might well be proud of the success which his doctrines have achieved if it were not for the fact that they were based on an avowed lack of confidence in the masses to rule themselves. He once said, "The people, you people, Sir, is a Great Beast." And when he said that, he meant just that. Hence his desire for the centralized power, for his tendency to favor business and his efforts to place control in the hands of the moneyed class. The Republican party when basing its appeal to the voters on the "sop" of prosperity should be reminded that its fundamental principle is based upon a distrust of the common people.

Going To College?

With the graduation last month of hundreds of thousands of young men and women from the high schools of the country, it is reasonable to believe that they and their parents are giving considerable thought these days to the cost of college education. No doubt they have heard tuitions and sundry other expenses estimated at every sum from a few hundred dollars to thousands.

We can almost hear the young men and women asking themselves, "Is a college education a necessity nowadays, and is it worth the investment it will necessitate and the required four years of a young person's life?" We will not attempt to say whether a college education is a practical investment, as that depends entirely upon what use the student makes of his opportunities, but we have here a fact from the Miami Herald giving a fair idea of what it costs to go to college.

"The American Association of University Women," says the Miami paper, "has made a thorough investigation as to the real price of education in college for four years that will be of assistance to those facing the problem."

"An article, 'What Price Education,' by Florence A. Armstrong, published in the Journal of American Association of University Women, recently, discusses the cost of a college education in Florida at the State College for Women, where a girl may get a college education for $500 a year or may spend thousands. This information was compiled from replies to a questionnaire sent to the students of 1928.

"The expenditures recorded covered, for greater accuracy, one semester only. One girl spent only $162.50; another $2,038.50. The estimates of the amount required to spend an entire year in comfort at Florida College for Women covered an even wider range, $250 to $6,000. The average estimate was the mere reasonable figure of $853. Suggested budgets for the year ran from $310 for a college education with few luxuries to a luxury budget of $1,200 on the campus and $1,325 off the campus, allowing for a life of ease and plenty, complete comfort on campus.

"The significant result of the investigation shows a young woman that she can get a college education, if she wants it, for about what she can afford to spend on it, provided she selects a suitable college and follows wise methods of spending her fund."

SOUTHWARD TREND OF NATIONAL CONVENTIONS

MANUFACTURERS RECORD

It may surprise many of our readers to know that the annual conventions of business and religious organizations and 15,000 state or sectional organizations represent an outlay, according to reliable estimates, of $1,100,000,000 a year. The extent of this business is strikingly presented in a story in this week's issue entitled "The Convention Industry a Billion Dollar Business." At first blush the figures may seem startlingly large, but when it is considered that thousands of organizations representing almost every line of human activity—industrial, commercial, agricultural, educational, religious and political—hold their annual conventions, gathering together business and its influence in broadening the knowledge of those who attend on the great subjects discussed widening the acquaintance of people of all sections, and bringing about better social and friendly relations as well as better business relations.

People generally give some thought to the convention of great organizations, such as those of the American Bakers Association, the American Iron and Steel Institute, the National Association of Manufacturers, the great religious meetings representing all denominations and political conventions, but they forget at times that there are only a few of the outstanding conventions, while thousands of smaller gatherings are held in all parts of the land. What this means in transportation time and by consequence, that it means to the pro-ventions are held, and to the broadening of the spirit of nationalism can scarcely be overestimated. From time to time the Manufacturers Record has emphasized the fact that many leading national business organizations are more and more turning their attention to the South as the place for their annual conventions. The value of this to the South and to the country at large is almost inestimable. Tens of thousands of people who know anything about the South from a personal investigation, are in this way brought in touch with Southern life and Southern activities to their own profit and for the great advantage of the South.

The article on this subject which we are publishing should stimulate every energetic town and city in the South to make a special study as to how to bring about the holdings of these conventions in this section to a still greater extent than we have yet seen.

This Southward turn of conventions is strikingly shown in the selection of Houston for the National Democratic Convention and of Kansas City, a Southwestern city, for the Republican Convention.

The really shrewd presidential candidate hereafter will employ an expert in explosives to handle his campaign in Washington.

FLORIDA'S NEXT LEGISLATURE

LEESBURG COMMERCIAL

Seventy-five of the ninety-five Floridians nominated in last week's primary for membership in the 1929 house of representatives are without previous legislative experience, while of the nineteen nominees for the senate, fifteen have at one time or another been members of that body or of the house, the Florida state chamber of commerce shows in its list of nominees. Nineteen senators were hold-overs, and, consequently, were not concerned with the primary.

Senator J. J. Parrish of Titusville, was selected at the last session as president of the 1929 senate in the event of his election. He was elected in 1926 for a term of four years, but because of the redistricting of the state, it was necessary for him to enter the 1927 primary. It was successful in his race last week, and will preside over the upper body at the next session.

A contest for the speakership of the 1929 house already is under way. Nominees who have announced their candidacy include T. C. Merchant, Madison; J. Ed Stokes, Panama City; Sam Getzen, Bushnell; speaker pro-tem at the last session, and John Matthews, Jacksonville. The nominees for both senate and house, as announced by the chamber, follow:

66 Cardinals Now Constitute Roman College Of Today

BY GUGIELMO EMAUEL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, June 18.—Sixty-six Cardinals, of whom four are Americans, constitute the Holy Roman College at the moment.

This is one of the interesting facts revealed by the "Annuario Pontificio del 1928" (the Vatican Year Book), which throws considerable light on the little known workings of the inner circle of the Roman Catholic Church.

Three of the 66 members were red-hatted by Pope Leo XIII, and are therefore very aged. Eighteen were created by Pius X, eighteen by Benedict XV, and 27 by the present Pontiff.

During 1927 seven Cardinals died, one—Cardinal Billot—resigned, and seven new members were created.

The national origin of the present College is interesting. As has always been the case, Italians are in the majority with 33 representatives. Seven are French, four American, four German, four Spanish, three British, two Austrian, two Polish and one Dutch, Hungarian, Canadian, Czechoslovakian, Brazilian and Belgian.

The diplomatic side of the Vatican's numerous activities is seen to be ever growing. The Holy See has 22 nunciatures and six internunciatures that is, nuncios who are commissioned to represent the Vatican in more than one State. In addition 19 Apostolic Delegations are distributed in countries that do not maintain diplomatic intercourse with the Vatican, as in the case of the United States.

Eleven states now have representatives at the Vatican while 18 others are represented by plenipotentiary Ministers.

The total number of Roman Catholic Bishops in the world is 1125. In countries where the Catholic Church operates through the medium of missions, there are 227 Apostolic vicariats and 97 Apostolic prefectures.

In the United States there are 15 Archbishops, including four Abbots, and one Apostolic Delegate.

Death Of Meredith Is Mourned By Country

DES MOINES, Iowa, June 18.—(INS)—Former cabinet colleagues and men high in his party's council joined with the "home folk" today in the mourning of the death of Edwin T. Meredith, secretary of agriculture under President Woodrow Wilson.

Mr. Meredith, until recently considered a Democratic presidential possibility, died last night at his home here. He was 51. He was the publisher of a group of nationally read farm papers. His death, followed a three-month illness, from high blood pressure and heart complications.

LANTANA—Bids opened for lighting bridge here.

Mrs. Elizabeth Alston Trotter, who has been the guest of her son E. J. Trotter, left Tuesday afternoon for Madison, Ga. where she will visit her daughter.

Mrs. Ben Caswell and small daughter, Jeanne Ann, left Monday for Coronado Beach where they will visit as the guests of Mrs. J. D. Woodruff.

Miss Frances Graves left Friday for Philadelphia, Pa., where she will spend some time with her sister who is recuperating from a serious illness.

Miss Emily Griffin and house guest Miss Dorothy Singleton of Jacksonville, Frank Woodruff Jr. and Robert Dodson were among those from Sanford spending the day Sunday at Daytona Beach.

Miss Boll To Give Up Proposed Ocean Hop

HARBOR GRACE, N. F., June 18.—(INS)—Disheartened because her flying rival, Miss Amelia Earhart, was first to make a non-stop flight over the Atlantic, Miss Mabel Boll, of the plane Columbia, intimated today that her own flight may be cancelled. It is reported that the Columbia will fly back to the United States.

Pilot Oliver C. Le Boutillier said he preferred to attempt a flight to Europe, but that the future plans were uncertain. "Our flight was a failure from the first due to misleading weather reports," said the pilot. "I believe the Friendship's crew depended largely upon meteorological reports from American ice patrol ships."

30 REPORTED KILLED

BERLIN, June 18.—(INS)—Thirty persons are reported to have been killed in street fighting in Salonika as the result of an attempted Communist uprising, said advices from Belgrade this afternoon. The fighting spread to Piraeus, the port of Athens, where the rioters erected barricades in the streets. The troubles are an outgrowth of the recent strike of tobacco workers.

American Plan Of World Betterment Will Be Presented

By William S. Neal
International News Service
Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 18.—An American plan for world betterment as conceived by elected representatives of the people, will be presented at the Interparliamentary Union conference at Berlip August 23 to 28.

Emphasizing the fact that the war is over, leaders of the American unit are planning to send the largest delegation to Berlin that has ever attended sessions of the Union.

A wide range of subjects will be placed before the conference, in which representatives of the highest legislative bodies of more than 60 nations will participate.

Particular emphasis will be laid by the American delegation of 25 Senators and Congressmen on control of the international traffic in drugs, and cure of addictions. Compulsory treatment of addicts is proposed by the American delegation.

Among those attending will be Sen. Tyson (D) of Tennessee, Rep. Porter (R) of Pennsylvania, chairman of the house foreign relations committee and Rep. Britten (R) of Illinois, chairman of naval affairs.

Sen. Borah (R) of Idaho, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, has been invited to join the American delegation.

Convention States America Becoming Vegetarian Nation

CHICAGO, June 18.—(INS)—America is turning vegetarian. The few he-men, who eat raw meat and others who have not succumbed to the lure of the juicy vegetable do not go to restaurants for their steaks and chops.

Food fashions are as changeable as clothes fashions: American husbands have won their war against Delicatessen meals.

These are a few facts which may be of interest to Epicureans and others, and which were revealed at the recent convention of the National Restaurant Association held at Hotel Sherman.

"Meet eaters constitute less than 25 percent of restaurant patrons," Myron Green, owner of a chain of Cafeterias said in an address before the convention. "We don't know how long it will last but fashions in food are as subject to change as waiflines."

Mr. Green admitted that the temporary state of the nation might influence public appetite.

The public craved sweets when prohibition went into effect and liquor was alleged to be difficult to obtain, he explained. Now, however, Mr. Green declared the desert counters at the cafeterias are practically deserted.

Salads with rich dressings came in during the oil standards and dare still popular.
