Elk Slaughter Brings Protest

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Wyoming Gov. Stan Hathaway has renewed his fight against the shooting of elk by park rangers in Yellowstone National Park.

In a telegram to Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, the Governor said "It is one thing to pursue elk as sportsmen and see normal harvest of animals by sportsmen, and quite another to see them gunned down after they have been chased into deep snow by helicopter."

In early February, Hathaway's protest of the proposed elk shooting was instrumental in causing the Park Service to postpone action pending an investigation by a wildlife conservation committee.

The shooting started Monday and Hathaway told Udall there were many Wyoming areas where elk could be transplanted, where elk populations are now low or non-existent. He said if there is a hay shortage —either for trapping the elk, or for winter feeding, the state would be willing to provide hay.

The Park Service says at least 600 elk must be killed, in addition to those driven out or trapped—in order to preserve the elk grazing range in the park.

So far, about 40 elk have been killed.

Census statistics reveal that women and girls outnumber men and boys in the United States by 3.6 million.

AROUND THE CLOCK

By LARRY VERSHEL

City Commission never learns . . . They had another closed door session Friday . . . This time with newly appointed Police Chief Ben Butler.

* * *

I don't know why people were shocked by Arnold Williams' resignation. Remember?

AROUND THE CLOCK Feb. 20 — "The sparrow told me about a closed door City Commission meeting . . . But I'm still reeling from the shock and it will take at least a few days for me to recover . . . and then I'll publish it . . . WOW!"

AROUND THE CLOCK Feb. 27 — Shake up in one of the city departments . . ."

* * *

Civil Service Board will probably ask City Manager W. E. Knowles some pertinent questions on why Williams was asked . . . oops I mean resigned) at its meeting Wednesday night.

* * *

I'll say one thing, the City Commission DID NOT railroad Williams . . . You have my word for that.

* * *

Quite a lot of money stolen from the hospital . . . Police are investigating . . . May be an inside job.

* * *

The city will never make a case against two of those sellers of beer to minors. Ever hear of "entrapment."?

* * *

What are school officials gonna do when they get the word that parochial schools will eliminate the elementary grades . . . It's being talked about in high Catholic circles.

* * *

A host of legislative candidates spoke to the Seminole Education Assn. at Southside last night . . . O it was a merry old occasion . . . The teachers came to hear candidates tell them how great, important they were. . . the need to raise salaries . . . quality education and all that . . . They were not disappointed. The joker in the deck was that most of the candidates said they want teachers to get more money . . . "If we can provide the money." I wonder how many teachers caught that?

* * *

The only candidate who made any sense was Ken Plante running against Beth Johnson (she was by far the best dressed candidate with a checkered suit) who said teachers must educate the public . . . show them they are doing a good job . . . Ken's right . . . and the only way to show 'em is in the classroom.

* * *

In case anyone is interested, the city's liability structure is in jeopardy . . . thanks to all these cars being banged up . . . City may try to up the liability limit.

* * *

Ho-Hum . . . the County Commission next Tuesday will again deny an appeal by Sanford to establish a sanitary landfill out by Vihlen Rd. and we'll go to circuit Court next.

* * *

By the way, that was a school flat bed truck dumping all that trash by the road side the other day out at the county dump . . . You can't blame that on the city.

* * *

162 cases in County Court yesterday.

* * *

When are zoning board authorities gonna crack down on that mess at Fifth St. in Fake Mary? . . . Remember it's a residential area.

* * *

Hey, don't forget Seminole Sportsmen's Assn. steak dinner April 8 . . .

It cost Tommy Peterson about $400 in that first primary.

I think the Supervisor of Registration should set some of these voting officials straight . . . During the general election a disabled man had trouble at the polls and throwing out a photographer this past week was too much.

Nobody asked me but the Democratic Party here fell down on the job on their "get out the vote" campaign. Or, did they have one?

Alexander Meeting With SRD

Push For $3.5 Million Loan

Ways and means of borrowing $3.5 million against anticipated secondary road funds for the next 20 years will be discussed by John Alexander, chairman of the Seminole County Commission, with State Road Department officials Monday at Tallahassee.

Presently, the county receives $350,000 annually in secondary road funds from the state for maintenance and construction of county roads, and for the purchase of rights-of way for primary roads.

It has been this amount is not sufficient in view of the expansive road program being planned, especially leading to the site of Florida Technological University on SR 320 three miles south of Oviedo at the Seminole Orange County line. A four-lane causeway across Lake Jessup, connecting Sanford and Oviedo, would cost $3.5 million, estimated.

The SRD is using a new formula this year to compute estimated funding for secondary road projects in various counties.

The new formula—which must be approved by the Legislature and then by state referendum—arrives at anticipated county funding by giving two-thirds weight to population and one-third to land area.

The present formula gives one-third consideration to population, one-third to land area and one-third to the size of investment a county had in roads in 1931 when the highway system was organized.

Alexander said this morning that the proposed new formula would cut Seminole County's road fund distribution by $35,000 in the first year of operation but estimated after seven or eight years, with anticipated population growth, it would increase the allocation by $150,000 to $200,000.

The Seminole board has taken no position on the proposed formula.

Manhunt On For Diabetic

Police throughout Sanford and Seminole County today searched for Jerry L. Newton, a 20-year-old diabetic who fled from jail in Cocoa without his supply of insulin.

Roadblocks were set up in the area and all deputies were alerted for the escapee.

Seminole Memorial Hospital was told; watch for any unusal request for insulin.

Newton, as well as two others escaped yesterday. Only Newton is at large. The two others who escaped with him were captured while riding a bus.

The three escapees had been serving light sentences for minor convictions when they engineered their escape early Thursday.

Cocoa Police Chief Arthur Corlew said they overpowered eight persons while fleeing.

"It was a crazy thing to do," Corlew said.

He said Newton poked a shotgun into the radio room at 1 a.m. and ordered Dispatcher Luther Granger to take off his gunbelt, back away from the radio and hand over the cell-

Lormann Pleads For 'Patience'

A pitch for patience by the people of the City of Longwood and assurance a referendum provision would be included in the proposed new charter were given by Mayor A. R. Lormann at the meeting of council Thursday evening.

"We are hoping to complete the proposed charter to be introduced in the Legislature soon," Lormann said.

Report by Lormann that the charter contains provision that the city clerk be appointed brought immediate disapproval from the audience by J. R. Grant and others. "As long as I live in Longwood I want to be able to vote for the city clerk," Grant said.

E. E. Williamson, council chairman, assured the people would be permitted to vote on acceptance or rejection of the charter. "There is not a man on this council who is trying to put anything over on anybody," he said.

Longwood Audit Control Rapped

* * * * *

Council Hit On Clerk's Salary

The Longwood Council and Mayor were put on the griddle last night by citizens in the audience demanding the city clerk's wages be raised to match the increase given to two water department employees.

The reaction from the audience took place following adoption of a motion to raise the salaries of two laborers in the water department, Forest Barnes and Orville Smith, from $1.75 to $2.00 an hour.

Ralph Clendenin asked the council why the clerk is no lowly paid pointing out that she works 38 hours per week earning about $1.71 an hour while the clerks in Altamonte Springs and Casselberry are paid $100 per week.

Mayor A. R. Lormann remarked that this might be due to the fact, Mrs. Onnie Shomate, the clerk, is an elective official rather than an appointed clerk and that she had never requested a pay increase.

Council's ire was raised when Donald Brooks suggested to the clerk that she request a salary raise now. "I would not do that if I were Mrs. Shomate," Councilman Eugene Jaques declared. "This Council will not be placed under pressure by any individual."

John Fitzpatrick, city auditor, appeared at the request of the mayor to give recommendations on the city audit completed recently. Fitzpatrick stated internal control is lacking in the clerk's office.

"It is not a good accounting principal for the tax collector, tax assessor and treasurer to be one person," he said. "There should be a division of responsibilities from an accounting standpoint. Mrs. Shomate needs help."

"Books should be posted and balanced once a month, but with constant interruptions the clerk does not have time to do this," he said.

Recommendations made by Fitzpatrick as he referred to the state audit report done last year were all moneys should be deposited intact daily and a clearing account be opened at a close, possibly the South Seminole Bank. A petty cash fund of several hundred dollars should be placed at the disposal of the clerk.

He further recommended thought be given to purchasing a cash register, the cemetery fund be "tied down", and an inventory be taken of fixed assets. Fitzpatrick hit council's failure to adopt a budget last year before beginning of the fiscal year.

A meeting was set up for 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday with the Council finance committee, Paul Maloney and Donald Conway, the mayor and the auditor with a view to the auditor setting up and maintaining the city's accounts.

Ken Plante Calls On Teachers: 'You Must Sell Yourself To Public'

Seminole County's senatorial candidate Ken Plante stunned the Seminole Education Association last night in a fiery three-minute talk asking teachers to sell their profession to the public if they have any hopes of getting needed funds from the Legislature.

Plante said education is a must to create jobs and industry for an area and "you have to make the public want to do it." You have something to sell, now go out and sell it."

He explained that education was way down on a list of campaign issues lagging behind crime and roads. He put the blame on educators for falling down on the job of not selling themselves on the needs for "quality education."

Plante was one of a host of legislative candidates who spoke to the SEA. Most of the other candidates kept their three-minute talks to the need for quality education and a raise in pay for teachers if money can be provided by the Legislature.

His Democratic opponent, Beth Johnson, said that education is the primary interest of this state.

A rundown on other candidates and their talks:

John Ducker, Republican candidate for House seat in the 29th district; "Education has become a bind on taxation and some ways must be sought to give teachers a break."

Ben Shuman, his Democratic opponent; "I'm vitally interested in education."

Jan Fortune, Republican candidate for the House seat from the 23rd district; "The State is forgetting about the teachers."

Don Asher, his Democratic

KEN PLANTE

opponent; "Future of the state rests with the teachers."

Tom Mooney — Asher's opponent in the March 14 primary; "Minimum foundation program is a must."

E. Pope Barnett—Candidate for the 44th district of the House; "Must do something about salaries, textbook shortages."

William C. Gibson, Republican candidate for the 45th District of the House; "Make Florida the first in education."

John Baker, his Democratic opponent; "Have to get the best education possible for our children . . ."

Robert Elrod, Republican candidate for the 17th Senatorial district; "Tax increase may be the only solution to aid the teachers . . ."

Ben F. DuBois, his opponent; "I'm committed to quality education."

William Gunther, Democratic candidate for the 18th senatorial district; "Committed to quality education and we must find monies somewhere to boost teacher salaries."

Williams Tells Why He Stepped Down

Former Sanford Police Chief Arnold Williams today issued his long awaited statement on why he stepped down as chief to assume the rank of captain.

News of Williams' resignation leaked out earlier in the week and the City Commission yesterday, in special session, named Ben Butler Chief.

Following is Williams' statement:

"I have served as a police officer in the City of Sanford for a little more than 15 years and have served as Captain for 10 of those 15 years. It is now and has always been my desire and, I am sure, the desire of the City Commission that the Sanford Police Department be second to none.

"When I accepted the temporary appointment as Chief of Police it was with the understanding that if, within the probationary period, either the City Commission or I felt that other matters should be considered before the office was filled by permanent appointment then we would work together in those matters.

"Since I became chief, the Sanford Police Department has been modernized in many respects and I am sure the Sanford Police Department will continue to improve.

"Recently I have discussed with the City Commission, and the City Commission has discussed with me, many phases of the operation of the Sanford Police Department. In an effort to afford the Commission every opportunity to fully explore the matter I decided to revert to my prior position as captain, thus re-opening the position of chief of police for further exploration by the commission. My service as chief of police has been a real privilege and should the commission later desire me to resume that position on a permanent basis I will, as always, work diligently toward making the Sanford Police Department one of the Best in the State of Florida.

The County Humane Society has not requested any city funds for the past month and a half, City Manager W. E. Knowles said the city had had been turning over $208 per month but the requests stopped in January.

At the same time, County Commission Chairman John Alexander reported the board will meet "the first of next week" with Humane Society officials on alleged irregularities on record keeping.

The Herald today also turned over to County prosecutor Ken McIntosh a list of names of responsible people who resigned from the society over the past few years.

Reports are that Homer Carter, founding president of the local Humane Society, has again assumed the office of the president.

'Death Trap' Causes Furor In SE Seminole

By JANE CASSELBERRY

Many residents of the Lake Howell-Tanglewood area are expressing concern about the dangerous situation created by the steep, narrow, sharp curve section which has been constructed to join Lake Howell Road and the new divided section of SR 436.

Until the new section is opened officially traffic is shunted off at this point at an extremely sharp angle to meet traffic coming up the S-curve from Lake Howell Road. At this point, from observation on the scene, it is apparent that the majority of the vehicles are on the wrong side of the road.

This road is heavily traveled by cars, trucks and buses, and is the route from Highway 17-92 to Orlando Air Force Base, McCoy, communities in Southeast Seminole, and the Winter Park Hospital.

Many school buses loaded with children have to negotiate this obstacle course each day as they commute back and forth to English Estates Elementary, South Seminole Elementary, South Seminole Junior High, and Lyman High Schools. Many of them are on double runs.

It is necessary at times for some one to get out and stop traffic so that the school buses can safely make the turn.

Residents are asking "Will it be necessary for someone to be killed at this death trap before something is done to alleviate this problem?"

Now after the new divided section is opened for travel, the cutoff still will be widely used by residents of the area and by the school buses.

Hymn Singing

By REV. THOMAS H. MAKIN
Presbyterian Church of the Covenant

Ephesians 5:18-19 "And be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess; but be filled with the Spirit; speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord."

In this passage the Apostle Paul contrasts the singing of those filled with wine with the singing of hymns in worship. Hymn singing in most congregations today seems to be a combination of success and failure. In a day when most denominations have re-examined all the facets of worship, the hymn stands approved as a valid form of congregational participation. But the dreary singing of most hymns today reaffirms Isaac Watts' observation of "the dull indifference, the negligent and thoughtless air that sits on the faces of the people while singing . . ." Why do we sing the hymns so negligently? Lately our Roman Catholic people have concurred with Protestants in acknowledging the worth of the hymn. A priest in South Carolina says, "We have had hymnbooks for a year now. Most of the hymns are photostatic reprints from Protestant hymnals, including 'A Mighty Fortress Is Our God,' 'The Church's One Foundation,' and 'In Christ There Is No East or West'."

Most of us would have to agree with Dr. James Stewart as he says, "Sometimes to hear us Christians sing, you would hardly guess that it is the most glorious theme in the world that we are celebrating! I cannot understand anyone who does not want to stand up and sing these hymns with all his heart and soul, to stand with soul on tiptoe, as it were, and with every fiber of his spiritual being in it—which is the only right way to sing when it is the risen Christ of whom you are singing!" Probably the minds of most worshippers are absent during the hymn. Many feel that the singing is only for those with real musical talent. This is not true. Let us start singing with our minds. James Womack Jr. suggests (1) That the church officers, not just the minister or music director, realize that the vitality of the singing is directly related to the spiritual welfare of the people. (2) That attention be given to the content of the hymn. Notice to whom it is addressed. Some hymns are prayers to God, others affirmations of faith, others expressions of contrition, repentance, confession, devotion, dedication. (3) Create opportunities in the life of the congregation when the contents of the hymns can be studied. Some groups have congregational rehearsal of the hymns. (4) Respect the hymn in the conduct of worship. Latecomers are not seated when a prayer is spoken. Why should they be ushered in during a prayer-hymn? (5) Avoid the blasphemy of thoughtless singing, which is another way of "taking the Lord's name in vain." We need not resign ourselves to failure in worshiping through hymns. With true dedication we can find the way to sing with the mind and heart, with "soul on tiptoe."

Smorgasbord Slated Saturday

Annual smorgasbord of the Congregational Christian Church, 24th Street and Park Avenue, will be held Saturday from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. This will be the 15th year for the fund raising project, sponsored by the Ethel Root Circle of the Women's Fellowship League.

The history of the Swedish style dinner dates back Feb., 1952, when the first one was prepared by Mrs. Walter Bethea and Mrs. Harold Berbal, free, in the church parish house for the members. The church was then located on Third and Park. Mrs. Bethea got the idea from a visit to New Jersey and suggested this unique supper as a possible fund raising event. Reaction to the dinner was so enthusiastic that the ladies arranged the first Smorgasbord for profit in 1953. Since the new church house was built in 1954, the tradition has been carried on and enlarged.

The early dinners consisted mainly of American style foods and a variety of about 25 different dishes was offered. Members of the circle looked for Swedish recipes and many ladies in the community of Swedish descent gave authentic family recipes to the church. These have been compiled into a "Smorgasbord book" which is kept by the chairman for use each year. The varieties of dishes offered now, both Swedish and American, has increased to 40 or 50.

Beautiful aprons, covered with elaborate hand - embroidery, were made by circle members to add to the charm and tradition of the occasion. The church hall is decorated to carry out the theme also.

This has become a total church project. The men and youth group of the church join the Ethel Root Circle in preparing for the event.

People from surrounding communities, DeBary, DeLand, Daytona, Orlando, look forward to coming as well as the many from Seminole county. Each year more have attended, which would attest to the fine quality of the food and preparations.

Monies raised are used for the many projects of the Women's Fellowship including missions, youth work in the community and for the church. Tickets are available by calling Mrs. Ralph Lossing or at the door Saturday.

WORSHIP KNOWS NO CALENDAR

Some select Sunday as a day of worship. Others prefer Friday or Saturday. But the solace of worship knows no boundaries—temporal or spatial.

Some find their God in church. Others see him in a spring sunrise, or in a fresh-mown meadow at dusk. Children oft find peace in an evening prayer.

Each seeks peace in his own way. All place their trust in a supreme being, and worship as conscience dictates.

Why not join them? You, too, can find solace and guidance in prayer.

President Repudiates Bobby's Bid For Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's icy repudiation of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's call for a peace-seeking halt to bombing of North Vietnam emphasizes their escalating differences.

Johnson twice defended the bombing almost as Kennedy spoke Thursday, but the White House said he would not comment on the Kennedy proposals.

Within hours, however, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, military commander in Vietnam, rejected the New York Democrat's proposal that the United States stop bombing the Communist North and announce: "We are ready to negotiate within the week."

Rusk said the Communists already have spurned such a formula. Westmoreland said in Saigon that any pause in bombing "will cost many additional lives and probably prolong the conflict."

Johnson forearmed a Senate ally with a letter declaring the air attacks imperative and saying they will persist until the Hanoi government makes a serious move toward peace.

It bore Wednesday's date and provided an instant rebuttal when Kennedy stood in the Senate to deliver his well-advertised speech on peace moves in Vietnam.

Shortly before, Johnson had discussed the bombing at a surprise news conference.

Kennedy sent an advance copy of his proposals to the White House — which said the manuscript had been passed on to the State Department.

George Christian, press secretary, said Johnson did not read the text.

While Kennedy began his speech by saying Johnson is "entitled to our hopeful sympathy, our understanding and our support in the search for peace," he left no doubt that followed were dotted with harsh words about American tactics in the Southeast Asian war.

He added up to a major expansion of the gap between the President and the senator, political heir to his brother, President John F. Kennedy.

"We should reach for the moment of promise which may have come," Kennedy told two dozen Senate colleagues and an audience that crowded the galleries. "The fact of the matter is that the bombing of the North can be stopped as a step toward peace without effectively weakening our position in the South."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., was Johnson's spokesman on the Senate floor. It was Jackson who made public, minutes after the Kennedy speech began, the President's letter praising, defending and standing firm on the air war in North Vietnam.

MRS. HAZEL WILLIAMSON was honored at reception at home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Scheutzow, North Orlando, following her confirmation at St. Charles Catholic Church, Orlando, Feb. 18. Among special guests was Father Miguel Garcia, pastor of Nativity Catholic Church, Lake Mary.

SJC Building Program Slated To Start In '69

A "Home of Seminole Junior College" banner was on display at the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce meeting Thursday night when guest speaker, Dr. Earl Weldon, president of the college, spoke on its accomplishments and future plans.

"There are more than 800 students attending in this second semester. Our basketball team won 15 games and lost four in all college competition and that is a record to be proud of in any year," Weldon said.

Colored picture slides were shown of the present buildings and grounds, and of the architects' plans for the future. The present campus is on the least attractive corner of the land chosen purposely for the temporary buildings so nothing would be in the way of permanent structures. This spot will be a parking lot later.

All the buildings are air-conditioned and are heated by electricity. Each class room building has 820 square feet. They are built without windows but do have a light strip around top. There are cement and pinenecdle walkways. Grass, shrubs and palm trees have been planted to make the grounds attractive.

"We have the most attractive trash cans in the state of Florida, thanks to our art class. Each one individualized . . . no two alike," Weldon commented as they were shown in the slides.

The permanent campus will have split level buildings — a two-story science building and learning research center and a two-story administration building will be among the first built. Architects estimate the first phase construction will cost $4 million.

"Our ultimate goal is for 6,000 students. We have found that two out of three students drive an automobile. With 6,000 there will be 4,000 cars, so we will need 40 acres for parking alone," Weldon said.

Asked if he had any idea when the first phase of construction would begin, Weldon replied, "We hope to have commitment from the Legislature by Oct. 22 so we can get an allocation for funds by December, 1968. We are talking about starting construction in January, 1969."

Governor Brushes Off Attack On Programs

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — "You can see the impact of Tuesday's election in Thursday's statements."

In so saying Republican Gov. Claude Kirk brushed off Thursday attacks to his programs by two Democratic Cabinet members, Secretary of State Tom Adams and Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth.

Replying to Faircloth's opinion that Kirk's personal War on Crime conducted by the Wackenhut Corp. agents and financed by private donors poses "serious legal questions," Kirk snapped:

"He's just saying the same things he's been saying. He doesn't say it's illegal. It's all a series of double negatives."

Kirk said his administration had submitted to Faircloth some time ago a series of questions about the issue.

"We're bending over backwards to comply with the law," Kirk stated in Miami Thursday night.

In Tallahassee, however, Faircloth said in an advisory opinion to Tampa Police Chief J. P. Mullins that Wackenhut agents "have no more legal right to examine or copy confidential police files than any other citizen."

Kirk also defended his designation of friends from Fort Lauderdale and Jacksonville as agents to handle insurance matters between companies and state agencies.

"The people are going to be shocked at the money they save," Kirk said. "They (agents) are not going to make a dime. They are part of my team. I asked them to do it and they are going to do it.

"No questions asked."

Adams had called Kirk's approach to the insurance matter a 'pork barrel' one and also claimed that the governor had asked two members of the Board of Regents to resign.

"I've tried to function without politics and let the regents function without politics," Kirk said Thursday night. "I want politics out of everything. When you do that, somebody yells—and brother, they're yelling."

According to Kirk, Faircloth's and Adam's statements "are just politics."

"I gather from what I hear and read that an election is coming. . ."

But From Where?

Educators Demand $$$

ORLANDO (AP)—The Governor's Conference on Education has ended with educators as firm as ever in their demand for dollars and just as much in the dark as to where the money will come from.

The educators outlined for Gov. Claude Kirk what they think it will take to make Florida "first in education," the theme under which Kirk organized the two-day meeting.

They also warned of the danger of militancy among teachers who are "expecting substantial salary increases and a say in policy making while holding the threat of sanctions over official heads."

In a 19-page document reviewing conference achievements, Dr. J. Stanley Marshall of Florida State University reported a feeling of futility on both sides of the table.

He said the teachers felt the subject of money—for raises and implementing programs—had not been given enough attention. And he said education officials thought the teachers were talking too much about raises.

"The so-called teacher militancy question was never discussed, said Marshall, "but one could sense it in the air."

For his part, the governor pledged to get the money to meet the "realistic needs" of education as these needs arose. He did not set a dollar figure, saying only that the money would be generated by Florida's expanding economy, not new taxes.

He added that while he was convinced the money would be produced, it was the Legislature's prerogative, and not his, to determine how much to allo cate to education.

"Some time soon, we must put a total price tag on education. If it turns out that the Legislature or the people are unwilling to support the full program then it would be without to identify priorities," Marshall said.

"I would rather build a city of skyscrapers, visible through out the nation, than a city of modest homes," he said.

The governor announced that he would convene three more conferences, f e a t u r i n g high school students, teachers and parents, before putting a task force to work drafting a critique for him.

He said he would then codify the needs and vote publicly his commitment to education. He already is committed against new taxes.

The announcement said high schoolers chosen from every county in the state would meet in central Florida March 29. The teachers are to meet in Tallahassee early in April and the parents in central Florida before mid-April.

No central Florida location was announced pending completion of arrangements.

Jet Identity Mystery In Town Bombing

SAIGON (AP — Two jet planes that bombed in from Laos reached and strafed the South Vietnamese village of Lang Vei near the Laotian border Thursday night, killing 43 civilians and wounding 200, the U.S. command announced today. The raiders' identity remained undetermined.

One American spokesman said the planes were presumed to have been American or South Vietnamese. But there was speculation the Communists may have staged it as their first air strike into South Vietnam.

"I would say that the possibility of that (as a Communist blow) is so far out it can be discounted," said a U.S. Air Force officer in Da Nang, "but it is possible."

Capt. J. Duffy, 28, San Diego, Calif., who commands a Special Forces camp that overlooks Lang Vei from a hill 500 yards away, said he could not determine the make of the planes, but they were delta-winged.

The Soviet-designed MIG jets that make up the bulk of North Vietnam's air force have this type of swept back wings.

Teenagers Slain; Police Mystified

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Two teen age cousins were forced to kneel against the stone wall of an isolated park pavilion Thursday night and then were shot to death at point blank range, police said.

Police squads rushed to the area after an anonymous tipster, believed to be a woman, called the Winnebago County sheriff's office and told deputies where to find the bodies.

"To hell with them," the woman shouted over the phone. "Just let them lay there and die."

The bodies of the two boys were found lying on the pavilion's cement slab floor. Each boy had been shot in the stomach and the back of the head with a small-caliber weapon.

Wayne Mullendore, 14, was dead on arrival at Rockford Memorial Hospital. His first cousin, Ronald Johnson, 14, died in the operating room two hours later. He never regained consciousness.

"There were clean-cut, church-going boys," said Sheriff Herb Brown. "They had never been in any trouble. We have no idea why this happened."

The boys, both seventh graders at Wilson Junior High School, apparently carried no money or watches, they called a girl friend at 7:15 p.m., Sheriff Brown said, "and had to cash in five soft drink bottles to raise a dime."

Minutes later the boys went to one of their homes to pick up some phonograph records. Then they left, saying they were going to the home of a friend. They never arrived. An hour later their bodies were found.

Investigation A Must

It doesn't take a genius to realize that something is going on at the Humane Society.

We feel that there are just too many resignations — Too many questions left unanswered.

In the past few years some six persons have quit the organization. As they submitted their resignations they questioned the way records were kept and funds handled.

Are there no checks and balances?

We quote from a statement by a former official of the group:

. . . "When I was informed that the new president had decided to act as both President and treasurer — he even went so far as to have the check-signature card at the bank changed without the courtesy of notifying me . . . . (Mrs. Ruth Gallagher, secretary and treasurer) . . ."

Now you just don't have a responsible person like Mrs. Gallagher resign over a clash of personalities . . . Nor, Mrs. Harold J. Kastner . . . nor Dr. Raymond Bass.

The Humane Society, a non-profit organization, is supported by some $7,000 worth of funds from Sanford, the county and various other municipalities throughout the county.

If something is wrong . . . The taxpayers of this county are suffering . . . Suffering because we desperately need a humane society . . . Suffering because tax funds maybe are being utilized for other reasons than for their prime purpose.

We urge a full-scale investigation by the County prosecutor, the City Commission, County and other municipalities who kick-into the support of the humane society.

Unless we get the right answers . . . The Herald urges these funds STOP and we start from scratch again.

No More Deliveries

The shortage of doctors exists in other Florida areas outside Seminole, and more acutely so.

The only two physicians in the Panhandle's Washington County have served notice they are going out of the baby business. No more deliveries.

One says he had one week of vacation in 12½ years and his books show $27,000 in uncollected bills.

Other doctors have come, stayed briefly, and quickly found other areas where the hours were shorter and the payment more prompt.

Letters come frequently to the HERALD bemoaning the fact Seminole doctors won't make house calls.

Count your blessings. You could live in Chipley.

Political Notebook

ALBUQUERQUE N. M. (NEA)—Gov. George Romney of Michigan brought off remarkably well the real aims of his 6-day sweep through Alaska, Utah, Idaho, New Mexico and Arizona.

He was the westerner, even the country boy, coming home to places where he had grown up. He was the rugged physical specimen ready for the challenges of the outdoors. And he was the Republican presidential prospect who, while widely painted as a moderate and liberal, could not offer himself as having strong strains of the conservation the West seems to reflect so heavily.

In Alaska, he led a dog team in a race across thick snow, rode a horse, flew north from Anchorage in a vain try at seeing cloud-covered Mt. McKinley, laughingly rubbed noses —Eskimo style—at a miners' and trappers' ball.

Riding in a bus toward scenes of his Mormon boyhood at Rexburg, Idaho, Romney pointed toward the Big Sawtooth Mountains and said:

"Over there is that south fork of the Salmon River which Bobby Kennedy went down. I went down it about four years ago. . . who did it first? I did!"

His warmly nostalgic tales of his hardship days in southeastern Idaho clearly touched his listeners. He seemed to be living again not only a part of his life but some of the West's bold history as he moved about, finding old friends and familiar sights.

He recalled his first date with a girl, the time he drove a grain binder into a fence, the hours in the sugar beet and wheat fields. At an evening Republican dinner, he found no embarrassment in doning a gaudy Indian headdress.

But all this was largely a colorful backdrop for the more serious, purposeful going of George Romney, likely presidential candidate.

In more than a score of talks and press conferences sprinkled heavily through his western swing, the governor hammered doggedly on themes the conservatives cherish— the toobigness of the federal government, the need for more stress on state-local government, more individual self-reliance and volunteer co-operation, more regard for law and order.

The attention to these themes was deliberate. Romney was out to prove himself genuinely acceptable to, if not the first choice of, the conservatives who probably will bulk very large in western delegations to the 1968 GOP presidential convention.

The first choice of many, even in Mormon country which spreads beyond Utah into Idaho, New Mexico, Arizona and other mountain states, is generally Richard Nixon—though Gov. Ronald Reagan of California naturally has numerous zealous partisans.

Romney will never match either of these gentlemen in tossing to conservatives the raw meat so many love. Though he sometimes thunders in anger, most of his speeches he reads with the air of a corporation president—which he was—working his way through his company's annual report.

Nor will conservatives find it altogether easy to take the strong liberal elements in Romney's philosophy and performance. When he talked of urban needs to a warmly receptive audience of Republicans here, a chill fell over the room.

In Salt Lake City, a heavily Mormon gathering of Republicans applauded when he declared his firm support of fair housing laws. But a Utah Republican leader told this reporter later:

"Most of the people who applauded him don't agree with that."

Yet an Idaho Republican said many Mormons are "beginning to rationalize Romney," to search for comfort in his conservative utterances so they can back him if he runs in 1968.

Many westerns who watched the Michigan governor perform on his six-state exploration privately voiced admiration for his good character, his evident trustworthiness, the look and sound of authority which he conveys.

Romney not only seems to inspire trust but to suggest constructive and positive action as well. If western Republicans finally do give him broad acceptance, it may be because they realize that he, acting forcefully from deep religious conviction, means what they say.

Analysis Of The News

WASHINGTON (AP) — Liberal justices dominate this Supreme Court and even if some of them retire in the next few years, so long as Lyndon B. Johnson remains President the court probably will remain liberal.

With his far-reaching liberal programs, some involving welfare in many ways, Johnson seems unlikely to jeopardize them by appointing conservatives to the high bench.

Justice Tom C. Clark said this week he would step down by the end of June. At age 67 he is very close to the average retirement age of justices — 67½ years — down through American history.

But there are four other justices 67 or older: Chief Justice Earl Warren, 75; and Justices Hugo Black, 81; William O. Douglas, 68; and John Marshall Harlan, 67.

If Warren, Black and Douglas were guided by the average retirement age, they'd be gone now. Their average age is 74. But there have been some notable exceptions to the average.

The best example is Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes who didn't quit until he was 90.

As the history of the 96 men who have sat on the court shows, the age of a justice doesn't necessarily mean he is not a good justice simply because he is up in years.

Some justices, including some of the best, weren't appointed until they were in their 60s. Holmes was 61, Louis D. Brandeis, 60, and Benjamin N. Cardozo, 62.

And these three chief justices were in their 60s when they were appointed to take charge: Warren, 62, William Howard Taft, 64, and Charles Evans Hughes, 68.

All these bits of arithmetic prove is that there is no mathematical formula for predicting when any justice figures he has had enough. Justice William Brennan is 60. Only three justices are under that age: Abe Fortas, 56, Potter Stewart, 52, and Byron R. White, 49.

Thus, while the average age of the present members is 63½ years, this court has had a continuity of outlook, starting with the 1954 decision outlawing public school segregation, that has made it the strongest in history and the most liberal.

Yet, only four of the present justices — Warren, Black, Douglas and Clark — were on the court at the time of the 1954 ruling. All four of them approved it.

Youth — or comparative youth is no guarantee that a justice will be more liberal than his elders. The two youngest members of this court — White and Stewart — along with Harlan are the most conservative.

The three oldest members — Warren, Black and Douglas — along with Brennan and Fortas make up the dominant liberal majority.

Letters

To The Editor

Editor, The Herald:

I would like to thank you for your kind support in my recent candidacy for the House of Representatives, District 45. I am gratified with the support shown me by the people of Seminole County. It was a difficult race to run because of the shortness of time involved and lack of interest in all areas, which I believe was caused by the shock of having the Federal government dictate to the people of the State the manner in which they should elect their officials.

I hope in the general election this shock will have worn off, and every registered voter will exercise his prerogative. I believe that Seminole County has proved that we are still here to be reckoned with, and that the officials elected from our joint counties will strive to be conscious of Seminole County's needs.

A. B. Peterson Jr.

Editor, Herald:

On the subject of reuniting Seminole County with Orange County it would no doubt be impossible to get an unbiased full report of all the facts, pro and con.

The Chinese were adamant against change for two thousand years, but we are supposed to be open minded to all facts and act in the best interest of all.

If Seminole County was formed when most people lived on Lake Monroe and roads were sand and before automobiles, it was a day trip to Orlando court house. It's time now to reconsider the facts.

Before two million or more of taxpayer's money is spent on a new courthouse. And how much more money would be saved each year on duplicate government?

We know The Sanford Herald, the Chamber of Commerce, the merchants, and the people of Sanford would all be against any change. Even if the facts proved the reuniting was feasible and in the best interest of modern times.

It would be interesting to have all the facts, pro and con, brought out in the open. We would be surprised at the results of fact finding and the millions. Seminole Countians would save.

Latecomers and newcomers have an open mind. We have expressways today, the horse and buggies are gone.

Why not consider the whole truth?

How, when and why was Seminole County formed? Reasons then and new.

Editor, Herald:

I have been reading, in the Clock column, about the dead cat—Pepe and various things concerning the Humane Society. I have no idea why anyone would be against such a society. It is quite evident some people are. Therefore, I would like to set a few of the facts straight.

The Humane Society is NOT required to pick up dead animals in either the City or County. This comes under the Dept. of Public Works. Anyone seeing an animal that has been killed should report it to the police, for sanitary reason. Nothing is accomplished by checking every day to see if "the body" is still there.

The Humane Society can not "pick up" an animal if it is licensed. If reported to the Humane Society the lost animal will be watched for and owners will be notified. The purpose of the Humane Society is to prevent cruelty to animals, to help unwanted animals, to care for injured animals and to see that any complaint that is reported to them gets PROPER authorities. The public is free to call 322-4067 or 323-1756 for all facts about their problems in this matter.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Dr. Ron expresses the intelligent views of millions of people. My answers below will cause many fanatical religionists to protest violently, but please be logical. God gave us brains with which to think, so learn to look at both sides of every question. The Bible does not deny the stimulating thoughts outlined below!

Case B-577: Dr. Ron is puzzled by some theological questions.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "for years I have been hunting for answers to some of the conflicts between science and the Bible.

"For example, some theologians claim this earth is barely 6,000 years old, yet by the Carbon 14 test, Indians camped in Alabama over 8,000 years ago!

"Is the Garden of Eden story correct? If so, when did Adam live here?

"And is Christ just a great man like Confucius or is he Divine?

"What about the Bible? Is it the verbatim word of God or just one of the world's great books?"

AVOID CONFLICTS

Religious conflicts are largely unnecessary, yet they still produce neurotic and even insane patients!

The Egyptians were the first to develop a calendar ,a little over 5,000 years ago.

Until that time, people didn't even know when to plant! So the Egyptians zoomed ahead because they were not deceived by a prematurely warm spell.

The Bible says God made the world in 6 days, but it doesn't tell how long those days were, so they might have been eons of time.

Geologists have a lot of scientific evidence to show the Earth is perhaps billions of years old.

And human skeletons have been found in veins of coal that go back over 500,000 years, so human life may thus extend back for half a million years or more.

In fact, the Garden of Eden accounts of how men started on this planet may be rather accurate, except that possibly Adam and Eve may not have been the first human experiment on this Earth.

Maybe God had established earlier human beings down here and then, after possibly 100,000 years, they became extinct, so he launched a new experimental pair.

This could even have happened several times in the past half million years!

Moreover, God might have started several simultaneous Gardens of Eden, placing one in China with a yellow skinned couple; one in Africa; one in North America, plus the Biblical Adam and Eve in Mesopotamia.

Christ is much more than a twin for Confucius or Buddha, for by the yardstick, "By their fruits ye shall know them," we realize that most of the world's colleges, hospitals, YMCA and CYO Halls, Boy Scouts, Red Cross and Salvation Army are outgrowths of Christ's teachings.

But do you know of any comparable "fruits" of Buddha or Confucius?

As for the Bible, it contains the inspired writings of many ancient prophets, who compare somewhat to modern Bishop Sheen, Dr. Peale, Oral Roberts, Billy Graham and others. It is the greatest book ever written!

But those ancient writers injected their own personal views too, so we find that many statements don't stand the test of time.

When the prophets actually quoted God, those truths remain eternal.

But when they attributed to God certain of their own personal views, whether intentionally or subconsciously, then some of those views have proved to be false, so by that very fact we know they could not be God's commands, for he would not make mistakes.

Constitutional Rights Ruling

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has ruled that a police officer questioned in a crime does not have to be advised of his constitutional rights.

The ruling Wednesday was in the case of James Hymore, a former part-time constable in Lake Township in northwest Ohio. He was convicted of first-degree manslaughter in a 1965 tavern shooting.

Hymore was off duty at the time of the shooting.

An appeals court reversed Hymore's conviction. But the Supreme Court unanimously reversed the appeals court ruling, saying statements Hymore made to a deputy sheriff and a coroner were admissible evidence.

The high court said that because Hymore was a police officer there was no need that he "be advised of his constitutional rights before any investigation began."

Simplified Tax Return Tested

NEW YORK (AP) — Of the estimated 80 million taxpayers now scratching and erasing figures on their income tax returns some 60,000 are participating also in an experiment to simplify forms.

These 60,000, all residents of the South and West, are being asked to master a brand-new form as part of a "simplification" program.

The results, to be judged on the accuracy of the returns and on answers to an accompanying questionnaire, won't be available until late this year. However, based solely on a quick look at the "simplified" form, one hair-raising fact is immediately apparent: it is seven pages long.

The reason for the extreme length — the basic 1040 or 1040A form is one pidce of paper to be filled on both sides — is that it is based on questions and answers. That is, the instructions are woven throughout as questions.

The IRS claims this, the 1040Q form, is the latest of many attempts to simplify returns. It does not claim the new form is simpler, but it hopes so. "We are not prejudging it," said Sheldon Cohen, IRS commissioner.

In conducting its simplification program the IRS is admitting to the same frustration as the taxpayer, that the tax form, though perhaps simpler than 10 years ago, is sometimes an unfathomable puzle.

This, the IRS feels is not its fault although it is its problem. "The forms reflect the tax laws," is the standard IRS answer. As a servant, it says, but Congressmen, in turn, concede the tax laws are indeed complex but explain that so is our free and highly developed American society.

The result is that neither the American public nor the IRS are satisfied with the form — the public because it has to make it out and the IRS because it finds the form difficult to check.

And so the taxpayer has an ally in the tax collector. Because the IRS has computerized its analyses of returns and will continue to automate other aspects of its work, it needs clear, accurate, digestable bits of information.

It doesn't always get them. Thousands of returns fail to pass the first human test before they are passed on to the electronic monsters, which demand pelletized rather than mushy information. Illegible material cannot be passed on.

Fire Prevention Spelled Out For Sanford Jaycees

Fire prevention and fire protection in Sanford have been spelled out by the spoken word and motion pictures for the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees. Fire Chief G. M. Harrlett and Lt. C. P. Bennett, training and fire prevention officer provided a full explanation at the weekly meeting of the Jaycees in the Civic Center yesterday. At its conclusion it was obvious that Sanford had a well-equipped and trained force to meet the fire hazards which, Chief Harriett emphasized, are ever-present on a 24-hour everyday basis.

Program Chairman Wayne Albert introduced the Sanford fire fighters. "We have all the equipment needed to make the department efficient," said the chief pointing out that to put this equipment to its most efficient use, there are active fire prevention programs. "Fire protection in Sanford is on a 24-hour basis. The 25 officers and men who make up the personnel operate on a two-platoon system with shifts alternating duties every day at eight o'clock in the morning," he explained.

Lieutenant Bennett is in charge of the intra-departmental training. On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays he gives lectures to the men from 9:30 to 10:30 in the morning and from two to three o'clock in the afternoon. The afternoon talks are followed by field demonstrations. On Tuesdays and Thursdays the fire prevention officer is busy with inspection tours of all the public buildings and special edifices such as the hospital. These are the trips which provide the fire prevention so needed in today's world.

How combustible this world is — in terms of such daily items as household products that produce combustible vapors was graphically illustrated in a motion picture entitled: "Know your fire hazards." Few Jaycees would be able to look at accumulations of dirty or oil-soaked rags, discarded cleaning fluid or gasoline containers, or similar fire-producers without recalling the flames which this film depicted.

At this meeting two Jaycees projects, one in the past and one in the future were reported. One was the fertilizer sale of Feb. 24th when 12 hard-working Jaycees under the direction of Ralph Frame sold and delivered 15 tons of 6-6-6 fertilizer bringing in $262 for the good works this club does. The other was announcement of the start of a book drive to open tomorrow with Ramon Garcia, Jaycee, in charge.

J. RICHARDS ON DUFFERS AND DIVOTS

By J. RICHARDS

It certainly is funny how things come in bunches, isn't it? Take last week for instance. Two, count 'em, two, holes-in-one. Boy was I elated and proud of my duffers.

WHAT'S THAT YA SAY???? . . . TWO MORE.

MRS. LIB ROBERTSON, of Mayfair Country Club, aced the seventh hole with a six iron over the 135 yard water hole Sunday, Feb. 26. With her were the winning foursome of the low gross team in the Ladies Golf Association's four-ball, best-ball tournament; Wilk Bowman, Homer Daffron and Twila Carter. They came in at a 71.

LOUIS FRY, of Rolling Hills Country Club, scored his one-stroker Friday on the fifth hole at the "Hills." His shot covered 137 yards on the tough par three. "Most players are happy to get on the well trapped green. It's a real feather in Louis' cap," stated golf chairman Col. John Franklin.

Again, I thank you fine duffers for making this possible. Now, if our bowling friend will get in those 300 games we'll have some competition.

(Anyone who gets the big ace feel free to holler loud and clear to us and we'll be more than happy to feature it.) Let's see, now two more next week.)

• • • •

Let's take a look-see into the hoppenings out at Mayfair this past week and then a couple of peeks into the future at the Sanford links.

Saturday, Feb. 25, the men held a two man best-ball, full handicap, blind draw tourney with Bob Provencher and Paul Weber taking the top spot with a 64.

Harold Heckenbach and Pete Duncan tied with the teams of Captain Yost and "Pappy" Pearson and Wilk Bowman and Homer Daffron with 65s for the second slot.

Third place went to W. A. Patrick and Sam Porto who shot a 66. Forty-four golfers participated in the tournament despite cool weather.

This week, Mayfair will feature a Citrus Open Week. A tournament for all players will go 18 holes with the Callaway system used for handicaps. The winners will receive tickets to the Citrus Open the following week.

A little farther into the future is the Navy-Civilian match to be held Sunday, March 19 at Mayfair. A Bar-B-Que will round out the day's golfing festivities.

It will be styled after a recent successful Navy-Civilian go-round held a few months ago. Over 200 entrants are expected. (With food there, count me in. That's where I get my ace.)

• • • •

We will be surrounded by celebrities in the coming weeks with the Citrus Open coming into full swing.

Four DUFFERS and DIVOTS gals will be on hand to represent us in the gala golfing event for Central Florida. Minoka Midkiff of Deltona, Mayfair girls Doris Spencer, Muriel Scott and Zoye Cooke will be official score reporters starting Wednesday, March 8 and will rub shoulders with the top golfers throughout the tourney. It's the second year for our gals and it should be quite an experience for them.

This week we hope to introduce you to some fine golfers in the senior and junior high in Sanford. In our next column, it will be our pleasure to feature the Lyman and South Seminole link teams.

Most of you probably know of Seminole High's Buck Metts as the varsity head football coach. He is also the golf mentor. Metts said that the first requirement for making the golf team was that the candidate had to beat him in a round of golf. I won't go into the embarrassing details, but Coach didn't win these nine matches.

Junior Mike Utz, a sophomore letterman, is the team's current number one duffer. "This lefty takes the game real seriously and some times he's still 'round until dark practicing."

"Ira Abramson, a sophomore letterman also, is a control type golfer who punches his shots with consistency. He hit a 41 in practice Wednesday and could develop into one of our first men."

"Senior Steve Leach has 'power to spare' golf and when it's brought under control, he does a fine job for us."

"Mike Rudd as a sophomore is potentially one of our better golfers and has a real fine swing. He's good."

"Don Keeth (we have plenty of sophomores) probably has the best swing of our group and when he becomes eligible will be an asset to the squad."

"Junior Buddy Stokes has returned to the squad after a bout with the virus and should return to golfing around the mid 40s for us."

"Jeff Simpson, a junior, has the least actual playing experience, but he will come into his own and could start for us later on in the year."

"Sophomore Donnie Whitmire is a consistent golfer with a real good swing, a potential starter."

Transfer student, Mike Lowe, a junior, is potentially our best golfer. He shot a 40 Wednesday after a double bogey on number one."

Metts feels that the team as a whole will improve with age and at the end of the season will furnish competition for anyone who wants it.

The Sanford Junior High team has some real good potential shaping up with Bubba Park, Skip Dalton, and Rickey Smith leading the pack.

Coach Don Farrens reports an eight man team, with Gordon Bradley, Brent David, Al Greene, Michel Leary, and Harley Sikes rounding out the squad.

The team is currently practicing out at Mayfair Country Club thanks to Mike Whelchel.

Possible matches include Bishop Moore, Howey Academy, Florida Military and cross-county rival South Seminole.

Rolling Hills Country Club reports plenty of action this past week.

Saturday, the men held their Breakfast Mixer run on a points system. Points are awarded on the basis of the score per hole as compared with each player's handicap. Points over the handicap are pretty hard to come by and the competition is keen.

Winning the top honor with a plus seven was the team of Loyd Beuthal, Roy Sechinger, Jim Woodward, and Earl Shannon. Second place was determined by a mark of plus three scored by Ray Moseley, Paul Gartside, H. Robinson, and Art Bon.

High Individual award went to Loyd Beuthal and Ken Burkhart with plus 9s.

A Mixed Blind Partner and an All Irons tourney is scheduled for the coming weekend.

Musn't forget our ladies. Out Deltona way, a "Fun Day" was held with Minoka Midkiff and Joan Stafford winning the match. Carol Skells took the fewest putts honors. Jani Masters took the low score on odd holes award. Thursday, the Deltona Ladies will play in the DeLand Invitational Tournament for ladies' nine holers.

At Mayfair, Twila Carter won the A Class with a 29, Cecile Heard took the B Class honors with a 26, "Kinky" Park was tops in the C Class with a 31 and Evelyn Antar's 30 won the D Class.

See ya on the tee and don't forget, keep the aces rolling in.

Can 1352 Series Be Topped?

The big question in local bowling talk is whether or not the leading 1,352 series will be topped in the Jet Lanes Men's Doubles Handicap Tournament, which resumes action again tonight at the lanes.

This will be the third weekend of the month-long tourney where approximately $4,000 in prize money will be offered. The biggest portion of the winnings is invested in the top two positions, $500 for first place and another $250 for the number two position.

Hal Wiese and Walt Smith, a pair of Air Force men stationed at Orlando A.F.B. are the current leaders with their 1,352 series, 19 pins more than the two teams who are tied for the second spot with 1,333, Buel Carman-Doug Owens and George Horton-Charlie Ellsworth.

The top 15 positions carry a minimum of $100 each with varying amounts down to the 50th position, worth $10.

The first squad starts at 9 p.m. tonight, with more as needed every hour and a half thereafter.

ASSISTANT RACING SECRETARY . . . for Seminole Downs is Herman C. Summers of Clearwater. Summers will also be serving as Public Relations Director for the track which opens on April 21.

Seminoles Top Leesburg, 6-3

Seminole High pounded-out one run in each of its last two innings at bat to pull away from a poor hitting Leesburg team 6-3 yesterday. It was the Sanford diamondmen's first victory and they will have a good chance to enlarge their 1-0 standings tonight at 7 as they travel to Leesburg for a return match.

Gary Maples pitched three-hit ball for the Seminoles and allowed only one earned run in seven innings. He recorded 11 strike-outs, one base on balls, and one hit batter in going the distance. His opponent, Claude O'Steen, gave up five hits and four earned runs. He hurled two strikeouts, three free passes, and hit four Seminole players.

Donnie Anderson, a senior who has never played high school ball starred in the batter's box for the Seminoles, collecting two hits in three trips and knocking in four runs. Bill Miller accounted for the other Seminole RBI.

Sanford put up two marks in both the second and fourth innings on steady hitting, but then Wesley, Nappi and Carrol of Leesburg opened-up a Yellowjacket drive, all scoring in the inning.

However, Maples got the game back under control and then with clutch hitting and good base running, the Seminoles managed to sneak in one run each in the last two innings to clinch the game.

Coach Owen McCarron was especially pleased with his third baseman's bat. "He brought two runs in during the second inning and again in the fourth and both times he was batting with two outs on the team. He's a real clutch hitter."

"Bill Miller's sacrifice bunt paved the way late in the game to insure our victory. With Maples' control over the ball, and the team's minimum of mistakes the boys played a good game and though improvement is necessary, they did a good job," stated McCarron.

Lyman Track Team---

Outlook 'Promising'

The Lyman Greyhound track team, under the direction of new head coach Jerry Smith, will begin season competition this afternoon traveling to Sanford to compete in a four-way meet with Seminole, Evans and Oak Ridge.

The Hounds, group and region champions last year have a promising outlook, but lack the services from several key performers last year, including state champion half-miler Dave Huggins, who is running at Tennessee Tech.

PAUL LAMBERT

DANNY OVERTON

Smith, an All-American end at Middle Tennessee State last year and a distance man in track will be particularly strong in the relays.

Lyman's mile relay team will include three of the boys who finished sixth in the state meet last year — Bobby Eldridge, Danny Overton and Reese Griffin. The fourth spot, vacated by Huggins will be filled by a promising sophomore Donnie Owens.

The Sprint Medley team will consist of Paul Lambert, Maurice Linton, Ed Davidson and Kent Planck, while the half-mile relay will include Overton, Eldridge, Lambert and David Straughan.

In the individual events, Straughan, a senior will compete in both the 100 and the 220 yard dashes. Smith also expects to enter sophomore Latanya Floyd in the 100 and junior Brandon Heath in the 220. Griffin, a letterman junior will be the entry in the 440 while Owens and Davidson, a junior, will run in the half-mile event.

The mile runners will be Jim Erikson and Chuck Engle. Erikson was eighth in the state meet last year as a sophomore.

Top returnee in the field events is high jumper Darrell Allgaier, sixth in the state meet last spring. A promising sophomore, Art Young also will compete in the high jump. Phil King, a junior transfer from Cocoa, will be the entry in both the shot put and the discus. Larry Rodd, a junior, will be in the pole vaulting competition, while Overton and Linton will enter the broad jump.

Blancas Holds Lead In Doral Golf Tourney

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Homero Blancas, a fun-loving Latin who has dramatic ups and downs on the golf trail, led the $100,000 Doral Open into today's second round with a record-tying six-under-par 65, but plenty of people were breathing down his neck.

Joe Goldstrand, who used to play on the University of Houston golf team, and Tommy Aaron, a seven-year pro still looking for his first tournament victory stood just one stroke back.

And, even more formidable in Blancas' immediate future, Arnold Palmer lurked just two strokes back and Jack Nicklaus, bunched with seven others at 68, was in quick striking position.

Blancas and Goldstrand grabbed the early spotlight in the opening days's play Thursday as they chopped up the 7,002-yard Doral Blue Monster course with apparent ease.

Collecting six birdies, the 28-year-old Blancas posted a score that has been equalled only by Doug Sanders in 1965 and Kermit Zarley last year.

Blancas, Rookie of the Year in 1965, looked like he was well in the clear until Goldstrand, who isn't even listed in the PGA player catalog, came winging home with a 66.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Elaine Tanner of Canada set an all-comers record with a 2:36.9 in the women's 220-yard butterfly at the South Africa National Swimming Championships Thursday.

On Sunday, March 12, there will be a hole-in-one contest between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m. This contest is open to all members of the club.

Partin Aims For 2nd Win Of SOKC Meet

H. R. Partin's Karl's Man, still struggling to regain the form that made him one of the top greyhounds at the track at the close of last season, goes for his second win in tonight's featured 11th race at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

The Partin speedster has grabbed off just one victory in three starts—but has been a victim of bad racing luck in his other two starts.

After breaking in late last season, the Partin sprinter has six wins and three seconds in only nine starts.

Tonight he goes against Silver All, Your Treasure, O.B.'s Pvt. John, Open Chute, Sally Sky, Bow Hunter and Lady Delsona.

Oviedo Cage Wrap-up

'It Was A Good Year...'

SIMON HARPER

What was to have been one of Oviedo's worst basketball seasons turned into a highly victorious schedule with much of the credit directed to the individual scoring efforts of Simon Harper and the strong coaching job by Head Coach Dick Prater.

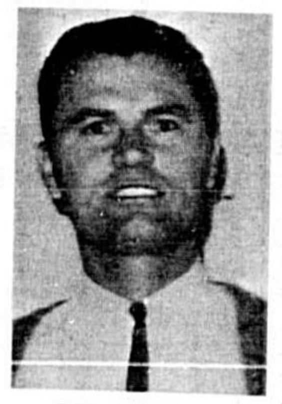
"While this year's ball club was not the most successful in wins and losses, they worked together more as a team than any other I've ever coached," said Prater.

One thing not shown by the record is the class of teams that the Lions played this year. In their own class, Oviedo won 14 of 18 games and while competing in Class A competition split four and four.

Oviedo has some tough Class A competition. The Lions knocked-off Lyman, Lakeview and Apopka of the Orange Belt Conference and came within one point of Bishop Moore, another OBC contestant.

Coming within 12 points of Dunedin is another mark in the Lions' favor as Dunedin was the returning Class A Champion and is expected to win the title the second straight year. Dunedin was one of two teams to beat top ranked St. Petersburg Gibbs and was ranked in the top 20 of the state themselves.

Father Lopez of Daytona Beach proved to be the Lions' Class B downfall. Splitting one-one in regular season, Lopez went on to defeat the Lions for the Class B Group 8 Championship. The only other Class B teams to beat the Lions were Ocoee and Sebring. Both of these losses came in a two-game slump near the end of regular season play.



DICK PRATER

This year proved to be a record year for the Lions' pivot-man Simon Harper who racked up a sensational total of 714 points for a game average of nearly 28 and breaking a 12-year standing record held by Johnny Jones. Harper also broke Jones' individual scoring record of 43 points, topping it by an additional eight against Florida Central and hit for 40 or better four other times during the season. A record of 401 rebounds proved to be his worth on the boards for Oviedo.

Senior Wally Jarnigan provided the Lions with an additional push, scoring 383 points for an average of nearly 15 points per game and pulled off 313 rebounds for Oviedo during regular season play.

The three remaining regulars did a fine job for the Lions. Ted Jansen picked up 117 points, Joe McClellan 158, and Phillip Walker another 142 for the Lions.

Other statistics for Oviedo include a scoring average of nearly 70 points per game, a rebounding average of nearly 45, a record of 56 per cent from the floor and 57 per cent from the foul line and held their opponents to a scoring average of 56.

Congratulations also are due to assistant coach and junior varsity coach Carson Coleman who succeeded in giving the Baby Lions a 9-17 record which is one of the best in recent years. Coach Coleman, who is a newcomer to Oviedo this year, very ably and faithfully assisted Coach Prater all season long.

Gators Set Torrid Swim Pace

GAINESVILLE (AP) — Looking for their 12th straight Southeastern Conference swimming title, Florida's Gators went for more records in the 25th annual SEC championships marks in the opener.

The Gators won three of five events Thursday and set SEC records in the 50-yard freestyle, 200-yard individual medley and the 400-yard medley relay.

In the standings after five of 16 events, Florida led with 164, followed by Georgia with 153, Alabama with 88½, Kentucky with 56½ and Vanderbilt with 33.

Another record fell Thursday, twice in fact. Florida's Barry Russo set a new mark of 5:06.7 in the 500-yard freestyle preliminary, then Ralph Wright of Alabama broke that in the final event with a 5:00.7 mark. The old record was set by Tom Allen of Alabama in 1965 at 5:07.8.

Tom Dioguardi, Florida's pool ace, broke the 50-yard freestyle record with a time of :21.6 in the preliminary and won the final in :21.7. The old mark was held by himself and Larry Caghan of Georgia Tech who set the original in 1964.

The Florida 400-yard medley relay team of Dioguardi, Blanchard Tual, Joe Scafuti and Steve Macri, turned in a record time of 3:39.4 in the final. Only Dioguardi and Tual returned this year from the 1966 Florida team which held the previous record of 3:46.7.

MAURY WILLS

Dodgers' Big Woe-- Who's Gonna Bat First?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The ninth spot in the Los Angeles Dodger batting order every fourth day when Sandy Koufax would have pitched is going to be difficult to fill, but not as tough as finding someone to hit first every day.

"That will be the toughest spot to fill," says Manager Walter Alston. "You tell me who is going to play this year, and I'll tell you who will lead off."

The problem, of course, arose when the Dodgers traded lead-off shortstop Maury Wills to Pittsburgh for Bob Bailey and Gene Michaels after Sandy Koufax retired.

To replace the base-stealing, switch-hitting singles-hitting Wills, Alston has such possibilities as Wes Parker, Willie Davis, Dick Schofield or maybe Bailey or newly-acquired second-baseman Ron Hunt.

If Parker wins the six-way battle for first base and Michaels replaces Wills at shortstop, Parker will be the leadoff hitter, Alston indicated. Center fielder Davis could fill the void against left-handed pitching and as could utility infielder Schofield if and when he plays.

"I'd like to hit Ron Hunt second if I can find a leadoff batter," Alston says.

But Bailey continues to impress Alston. "Day in and day out," Alston says, "Bailey has been the player who has impressed me this spring. I like the way he hits to right field and the way he's been hitting the barriers. He may be one of those players who has not reached his potential yet."

While Alston was worrying over his leadoff man, pitchers Steve Barber of the world champion Baltimore Orioles and Ken Johnson of the Atlanta Braves eased the minds of their bosses.

Barber, the ace of the Oriole staff the first half of last season when he won 10 games before tendonitis sidelined him, threw 15 minutes of painless batting practice Thursday.

"Right now the arm, like the rest of me, is very, very tired," said the 28-year-old left-hander who won 20 games in 1963. "But there is no pain, no strain — just stiffness. It feels no different than in any other spring.

Johnson delighted the Braves Thursday when he worked on the mound for the first time since he underwent knee surgery six months ago to remove torn cartilage.

Pitching Coach Whitlow Wyatt said he is hopeful Johnson would be able to start when the season opens in April.

Spring Baseball Camps Cover Mighty Vast Area

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Spring training camp is the place for excuses and alibis and here are a few that will be heard from the Florida, Arizona and California camps:

"I tried to throw too hard too soon."

This is the first thing a manager tells his pitchers not to do.

"We had a pitching coach but he spent the season on the bench. When I won he talked to me. I didn't need him then."

You can't blame the pitching coach. Maybe he was trying to learn something from his managers.

"I think I'll hit better this season with a lighter bat."

He hit only .171 last season because he could never find a bat with good wood.

You hear all the alibis in spring training. Pitchers tell about last July's blisters which threw them off form, and the hitters tell about the hand bruise that never healed. The managers read the stories and laugh.

But this spring, when the exhibition games begin, players on rival clubs will be laughing at Oriole Manager Hank Bauer, Met coach Yogi Berra and Yankee first baseman-outfielder Joe Pepitone. Bauer will laugh at anything because his Birds won all the bird seed last fall.

The three posed for a hair spray commercial and Yogi called ex-Marine Bauer a sissy. Bauer is willing to take all the ribbing because the commercial will help put one of his kids through college.

None of the Orioles will call their manager a sissy because he led them to an easy American League pennant and an easier World Series victory. But they might call him Mr. Hair Spray.

Players usually have names for everyone and if you get to the training camps in Florida, California or Arizona here are a few you might hear

TRANSMISSION SALESMAN—That would be Cub pilot Leo Durocher who preceded Zsa Zsa Gabor on a car repair commercial.

CIGAR—Yankee Manager Ralph Houk who will have to revert to chewing tobacco now that he's back in uniform. No smoking on the bench, even during the exhibition season.

MR. PLUG—Cincinnati Manager Dave Bristol whose left jaw carries a bulge of chewing tobacco the size of a baseball.

MR. PIPE—Atlanta Manager Billy Hitchcock because he smokes one.

WALKIE-TALKIE—Pittsburg Manager Harry Walker because he talked his Pirates into hitting way above their heads.

It should be an interesting spring training, with 16 teams bus riding around Florida and the one in California and the three in Arizona complaining about playing only three rival teams in four weeks.

Sanford Golf Team Sets Ormond Play

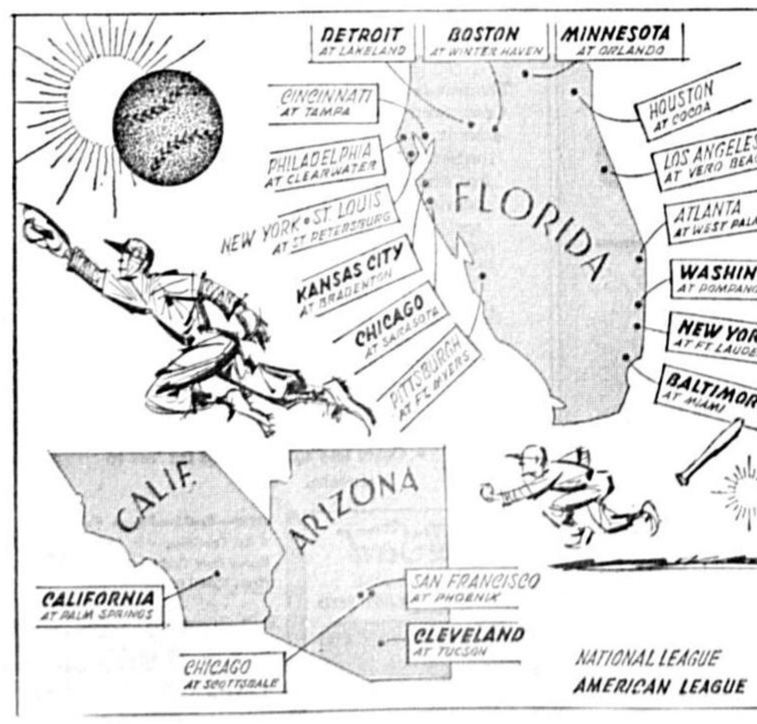
The Seminole High golf team, seeking its third win without a loss will travel to Ormond Beach today to meet Daytona Seabreeze in a match.

Mike Utz, Ira Abramson, Mike Rudd and Steve Leach, the winning foursome in both matches this year will have the honors again for the match.

In practice this past week the boys scored very well and Coach Metts hopes that it will carry over into the match as as the boys haven't brought their score down too much to be competitive.

Reset

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The Trans-Mississippi Men's Golf Tournament, one of the year's major amateur tournaments, was rescheduled Thursday for July 17 through July 23.



SPRING IS NEAR: Some 900 roster and non-roster baseball players will be training for five weeks this spring with 20 major league teams. Sixteen teams will train in Florida, three in Arizona and one in California. The season opens April 10 or about three days after most teams break camp to head north, east or west.

That Old Jinx Hits Tourneys 5's

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

There seems to be a jinx for most teams once they are named to compete in college basketball's two major postseason tournaments, the NCAA and the NIT.

Five of the first 11 teams to qualify for the NCAA have been beaten since then. And six of the first seven picked for the NIT have lost.

Louisville, Western Kentucky, Connecticut, Virginia Tech and New Mexico State were the beaten NCAA teams. Syracuse, St. Peter's of New Jersey, Rutgers, Marquette, Memphis State and Utah State were the NIT picks to fall.

Tulsa, one of the later teams to be tapped for the NIT, joined the beaten parade Thursday night. The Hurricane was upset by Drake 62-59 at Des Moines, Iowa, as Eldridge Webb, Tulsa's star, managed only 12 points.

Willie McCarter broke a 56-56 tie to put Drake ahead for good with less than three minutes left. Erwin Cox's basket and free throw with four seconds to go sewed it up for the underdog Bulldogs who had absorbed a 82-54 drubbing from Tulsa earlier in the season.

The Chicago White Sox pitchers turned in 22 shutouts in 1966.

Wooden College Coach Of Year

NE WYORK (AP) — Johnny Wooden of the unbeaten and top-ranked UCLA Bruins was named the college basketball Coach of the Year by The Associated Press today.

The 56-year-old Wooden, whose UCLA teams have won 99 and lost only 10 in their last 109 games, is favored to lead his boys to the national championship this year for the third time in four seasons.

The Man from Indiana or the Wizard of Westwood, as the native of Martinsville, Ind. is sometimes called, beat out Bill van Breda Kolff, of Princeton, to win the first Coach of the Year poll held by The Associated Press.

Wooden received 75 votes to 59 for van Breda Kolff in balloting by 27 sports writers and broadcasters.

Dean Smith of North Carolina was third in the voting with 26, Bernard (Peck) Hickman of Louisville was fourth with 17 and Ray Mears of Tennessee fifth with 12.

Roy Skinner of Vanderbilt, Johnny Oldham of Western Kentucky and Ralph Miller of Iowa each received nine votes. Rounding out the first 10 were Bob Nichols of Toledo and Jack Hartman of Southern Illinois who tied with eight.

Larry Glass of Northwestern with six votes, and Bob Cousy of Boston College, with five, headed an additional list of 20 coaches who received one or more votes.

John Benington of Michigan State and Moe Iba, of Memphis State, each got four votes. Guy Lewis of Houston, Don Haskins of Texas Western, Joe Swank of Tulsa and Lou Henson of New Mexico State tied at three each. Lou Watson of Indiana and Vic Bubas of Duke each got two.

The remaining 10 each received one vote. They were Sox Walseth of Colorado, Joe Vancisin of Yale, Don Kennedy of St. Peter's, N.J., Bob MacKinnon of Canisius, Tommy Bartlett of Florida, Lou Carnaseca of St. John's, N.Y., Don Donher of Dayton, Ted Owens of Kansas, Jack Kraft of Villanova and Hank Anderson of Gonzaga.

Reflecting his worst season ever at Kentucky, Adolph Rupp, the nation's winningest active coach with 759 career victories, did not receive a single vote.

Beef Cattle Course May 4-6 At U. of F.

GAINESVILLE (Spl.) — The 16th annual beef cattle short course here at the University of Florida May 4-6 will stress pastures, fertilization and irrigation.

Cattlemen, industry and governmental representatives, University scientists, fieldmen and national secretaries from the various beef cattle breed associations all will take part in the three-day program.

After their talks, they will be on hand to answer any questions, according to Dr. T. J. Cunha, chairman of the UF animal science department.

Cunha said that on May 3, the day before the regular short course gets underway, a special Latin American Beef Cattle Conference will be held.

"All of the conference talks will be in Spanish and devoted to major problems confronting ranchers in that part of the hemisphere," he said.

A simultaneous translation into Spanish will also be provided for the Latin cattlemen attending the regular short course.

The translations were first tried at last year's short course [illegible] sons were supplied at their seats with individual earphones that were connected to a direct line to an interpreter.

The Latin conference May 3 will be the first ever held, and may become an annual affair, Cunha said.

The Florida International Agricultural Trade Council (FIATC) will host a banquet May 4 in the new Florida Union Building on the campus.

Money collected from the banquet tickets will go to promote and develop the export market for Florida's livestock, poultry and other agricultural products, according to Cunha.

GAINESVILLE — If the dreaded cattle fever tick should return to Florida, dipping of livestock in pesticides may not be enough to control this pest.

Stronger measures would be required if it is found that these fever-causing ticks are using Florida's white-tailed [illegible] Dr. Richard Bradley, parasitologist with the University of Florida's Veterinary Science Department.

In other words, if these disease-carrying ticks should again become a menace to cattle health in the United States, will a deer slaughter program be necessary for tick eradication? In the 1930s thousands of deer were destroyed on the assumption that they were carriers of disease, but scientific evidence was lacking.

The question is being studied by the Southeastern Co-operative Wildlife Disease Study at the University of Georgia.

The CWCDS director, Dr. Frank Hayes, visited Gainesville recently to discuss the possible participation of the University of Florida in the final evalution of the 18-month study. Results should be of interest to both cattlemen and sportsmen.

A major object of the probe has been the degree to which these ticks rely on deer as carriers when they attack cattle. The research is based in the U. S. Virgin Islands where the tick is a native pest.

"While the cattle tick has [illegible] Florida, the pest could easily reinfest the state through modern transportation," Bradley asserted.

The peculiarity of the disease is that white-tailed deer, which may serve as hosts for the disease-carrying ticks, remain healthy while cattle become diseased, Bradley stated.

Tick fever, which caused million dollar losses in the early part of this century, is caused by tiny blood parasites which are conveyed to the animal by the cattle fever tick.

"With the aid of arsenical pesticides, the cattle tick has been brought under control, but the threat of reinfestation does exist. We must know how to cope with this—should it occur," Bradley concluded.

The Farm Front

By DOYLE CONNER
Commissioner of Agriculture

TALLAHASSEE — (Special to The Sanford Herald) — If all the programs recently announced by the various state agencies go into effect Florida soon will have the strongest consumer protection program of any state in the nation.

Following the establishment of a consumer services agency by the Florida Department of Agriculture several weeks ago, other State Cabinet officers have announced plans to initiate similar programs.

These actions are commendable, I think, but only if they do not lead to an overlapping of responsibilities which might result in a duplication of services and a waste of the taxpayers' money.

That situation can very easily be avoided, and we have just appointed Robert J. Bishop, a prominent Orlando attorney, to head the Florida Department of Agriculture's consumer services activities.

His primary duty will be to coordinate consumer protection activities, most of which are already under the jurisdiction of the Florida Department of Agriculture. We will, however, make his services available to coordinate other programs of consumer protection.

I believe the properly coordinated efforts of the various Cabinet agencies which have consumer protection responsibilities can result in Florida leading the nation in this field.

The Florida Department of Agriculture's primary concern in consumer protection is to insure consumers that they are getting their money's worth in food and other commodities.

Four other State Cabinet agencies have specific responsibilities in consumer protection. They are the offices of the Attorney General, the Secretary of State, the Comptroller, and the Insurance Commissioner.

Each agency no doubt will submit to the next session of the Florida Legislature proposed legislation for strengthening existing laws, creating new laws, or both.

I am now in the process of meeting with the heads of the Cabinet agencies and we are working toward a united front in the area of consumer protection.

Large Mart For Farmers Opens Monday

NEW YORK (Spl.) — The new Hunts Point market—more correctly, the New York City Terminal Market, at Hunts Point in the Bronx — opens Monday.

After more than 20 years of planning, hoping, meetings, discussing, disagreeing, wrangling, worrying and co-operating, the biggest city in the world and the largest market in the world have finally completed construction of modern facilities fore wholesaling fresh fruits and vegetables.

Practically all major growers in Seminole County, Fla., ship directly to the New York Market.

The huge, new market replaces the outmoded, inefficient, market on Washington tSreet that consisted largely of buildings of the Civil War era.

The new facility occupies 126 acres of land on which have been erected four large, modern market buildings connected by a bridge at the south end.

In all, 252 units are included. Each measures 25 feet wide and is 100 feet deep when measured from the front of the truck platform to the rear of the rail platform. Offices are located over the rear of the store units. As of February 10, of the 252 units, 247 had been rented, primarily to Washington Street market wholesalers.

Teacher Zooms 600 Miles Hour

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Dr. Karl M. Ruppenthal, a teacher of graduate students at Stanford University, believes in a change of pace—at slightly under 600 miles an hour.

On Tuesdays and Thursdays, the scholarly looking Ruppenthal, 49, sticks to his classes as head of the Stanford transportation management program in the School of Business.

But six times a month he goes to San Francisco International Airport, checks out a Trans World Airlines Boeing 707 jet and hurtles east as a senior TWA pilot. He is a charter member of the Airline Pilots Association.

Centipede Top Lawn Grass

Leading turf experts consider Centipede the best all-around lawn grass for most sections of the South . . . particularly the Southeast. For many years Centipede had to be sprigged, a laborious and costly job. Since 1952 thousands of fine Centipede lawns have been established easily and inexpensively by sowing Centi-Seed.

The best time to plant a new lawn usually is when construction has been completed and the lot prepared for planting. Regardless of when you plant, the seed will germinate only when soil temperatures are 70 degress or higher and there is constant moisture in the soil for a period of approximately 15 days. Very young seedlings can be killed by severe cold, and it therefore is risky to plant less than 45 days before the first frost in Florida and coastal areas, 60 days before the first expected frost in the mid-South, and 90 days before the first expected frost in the upper South. After winter has arrived, and the soil is too cold for germination, it is safe to plant Centi-Seed for spring germination provided that a light seeding of ryegrass is incorporated to stablize the soil and prevent loss by "washing" or erosion. (See other instructions for fall and winter plantings.)

March is the best month for planting in both new and old lawns because the seed then have an entire growing season ahead in which to produce a lawn. Since there is usually no urgency about planting an old lawn, consideration should be given to planting in March or April and not later than May. However, except for the restrictions indicated above, you may plant your lawn whenever it is ready for planting.

Fishing Club

Charles Harris, local outdoor editor, will be guest speaker for the DeBary Fishing Club's 7:30 p.m. meeting Wednesday in the Firemen's Recreation Hall. Elmer Thompson will show a film, "Maryland," with scenes of fishing in that state.

The meeting will be conducted by Theodore Leigh, president, and refreshments will be served. All members are urged to come and "bring a friend."

Milk Production Shows Increase

GAINESVILLE (Spl.)—Dairy Herd Improvement Association records for 1966 show a 308 pounds milk per cow per year increase, a University of Florida dairy specialist reports.

The summary of State DHIA records for the year ended September 30, 1966, showed a continued increase per cow, upping the DHIA average 1,539 pounds fat-corrected milk in five years (from 1960-61 to 1965-66), C. W. Reaves, Extension dairyman, said.

The number of cows on DHIA test in the 1965-66 year totaled 18,491—16 per cent more than were on test the previous year. All but two of the 10 dairy herd improvement associations in the state increased the number of cows enrolled.

The average price received was $6.32 per 100 pounds milk, or about the same as the previous year, but the total feed cost per cow was $275, up $18 over the previous year, Reaves said.

The DHIA herds averaged a feed index of 122 per cent for the year. This is the relation of the total net energy fed to that required for maintenance and milk production. 110 to 120 is the usual index for herds over the nation when the feed nutrients are calculated on a herd basis for a year's period and therefore a correct goal, Reaves said.

"Those dairymen feeding above the 122 'feed index' may be able to feed more efficiently by changing their feeding system to eliminate the waste of overfeeding the low-producing cows," Reaves points out.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I suppose I'm 50 different kinds of a fool for letting myself get into this predicament in the first place, but here's my story: I married a divorced man who had two pre-school children. We took the children because his wife traveled in her business and couldn't make a proper home for them. I should explain that my husband and his "ex" brag that they are sensible, civilized people who have a friendly divorce, and nobody is mad at anybody.

Three months ago my husband asked me if his "ex" could stay with us for about a week following some minor surgery. I foolishly agreed.

It's been going on four months, she is fully recovered, is still making her headquarters here and shows no sign of leaving. The children have taken to calling her "mamma" which was what they also call me. The neighbors remember her from before and they are talking a blue steak. I am sick of the whole mess. How can I tactfully get this woman out of my home?

SICK OF IT

DEAR SICK: Tell your "sensible" husband that he is too "civilized" for you, and if Wife Number One doesn't clear out pronto, YOU will. And give him a deadline. Like sundown.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: We are friendly with a man and his wife who are supposed to be way up there socially. Well, I noticed that all the thank-you notes from this couple are written by the HUSBAND! Is this proper? I always thought it was the wife's job to handle things like that.

PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: The wife usually does. But as long as it's handled promptly and properly, don't look a thank-you letter in the gender.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My husband seems to think that just to BE HERE is enough. He isn't cruel to me. He just ignores me completely.

We've been married for 47 years and if I complain about it, he says, "Well, I'm here, ain't I?" as tho I should be thankful that I have a husband. Do you think I should try to find another man who might appreciate me more?

BORED AND IGNORED

DEAR B AND I: I wouldn't do it. Better to "live with the ills you know than to fly to others you know not of." The next one might make this one look good.

CONFIDENTIAL TO THE HUNDERDS OF READERS WHO "MISSED" MY THANKSGIVING PRAYER AND ASKED ME TO REPRINT IT:

We thank thee for food and remember the hungry
We thank thee for health and remember the sick
We thank thee for friends and remember the friendless
We thank thee for freedom and remember the enslaved
May these rembrances stir us to service
That thy gifts to us may be used for others. Amen."

Beauty after Forty by Edyth Thornton McLeod

"Dear Edyth Thornton McLeod: Recently my father-in-law died. I'm just 40; my mother-in-law is 56. She went to the funeral in a navy blue suit, all navy blue accessories. She really loved her husband, of this I'm sure; she misses him terribly. My husband insulted her, however, because she did not wear black. All her friends are talking about this night and day and none have stood by her. I think she had the right to wear what she wished. I've never seen her in black. Was she out of line?"—Daughter-in-law.

Since your mother-in-law apparently never wears black, perhaps it was just too much for her to choose a black outfit for this sad occasion. Has she ever answered her critics? In my opinion, she had every right to wear whatever she wished. Perhaps she didn't even think about black or blue or any other color at the time. Stand by her and try to ease your husband's criticism. The lady needs comfort now and true friends. Customs change and nowadays people do not wear deep mourning as was the custom years ago. They wear dark glasses instead of black veils to hide tears. Of course, people of good taste don't go about flaunting bright colors but they don't wear mourning, either; this is simply no longer the custom. Today, at funerals, women still wear black usually; sometimes a neighbor lends a black dress if the need is there, or another friend may offer to buy a black outfit. Navy blue or any dark, conservative color is not improper, however.

SUNDAY, MARCH 5, 1967

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Use this Sunday to attempt to make an organized endeavor to build up new well being by long proven principles and down-to-earth expression of them. This can bring you a new satisfaction with your existence. A very practical-minded expert gives you the answers for which you have long searched.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You can gain respect now by deliberating a vital point, and then delving right into some charitable or fascinating outside duty. Show special capabilities to whoever can help you to commercialize on them. Make the most of this free day.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Listen carefully to advice given by those of wisdom and good character and you turn potential danger to active opportunity. Some long-distance telephone call can bring right data. Use it to increase circle of friends close by.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Listen to what experts have to suggest so that you make the future far more interesting and well-paying. Closest tie expects devotion and other practical expression of your love. Don't be thoughtless where money is concerned.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Associates will come to you with certain questions today, so be sure you answer honestly and right to the point. Be sure to attend services of your choice. Then out to the charming spots that appeal to you, with congenials you really like.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Any duties you have to perform today should be attended to with the idea of impressing higher-ups favorably. Then you get backing as well. Plan new week's work wisely. Then all will go off as to schedule.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Getting out with proper people can make this a most delightful day and evening. Much happiness can be yours. You have a particular talent. Use it for your own delight as well as that of others.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Being at home with family is best for you today, since there can be much melody and harmony there now which might not have been the case for some time. Be basic in planning new uptrend in all of your affairs. Make notes.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Listening to a person of wisdom who is able to help you spiritually, philosophically and physically is wise. Then follow suggestions given. Later, show higher-up that you are really an intellectual. Make a good impression.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Count your blessings today and consider how you can add to them intelligently and ethically. Think big and get big. Talk over in person with someone how you can advance in the future. Invite to dinner, if possible.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get into that group now that will help you to gain your most cherished personal aims. Much sociability is fine now, since you gain much in pleasure as well. Forget the pressure of the times and be happy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Find the right system to increase your religious or business knowledge which can make your life richer in the days ahead. Don't lose any opportunity to perform charitable deeds. Be sure they are really worthy, though.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Ideal day to spend time with intimate and fine pals and talking over mutual interests, aims. Find the answers to whatever is puzzling. However, do so in a very lofty sort of way. Don't snoop where it is forbidden.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he, or she, will be one of those fascinating young people who wants to have everything very orderly around him, or her, and wants to have life on a very constructive and practical basis. Early give enough spiritual training so that the life does not become so imbued with business and gain that the human qualities are relegated to the background. Send to business college.

MONDAY, MARCH 6, 1967

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The very early morning is the best time of this day, so organize as much as possible. Later, you find most people have poor judgment and a rather scrappy attitude, so it will be necessary to remain patient and understanding in order to avoid any upsetting conditions. Stay within conventional boundaries.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) A bigwig may give support you need early in the day, but later becomes so busy you are left pretty much in the cold. Be patient. Do something thoughtful for others and gain their approval, kind thoughts.

TAURUS: (Apr. 20 to May 20) You may want to make radical changes but you find this will only lead to many errors and an impossible set of circumstances. Make improvements in your present set-up instead. Then success can come easily.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) Although you may think you have too much work to do, get it done instead of running away on some tangent, or make changes; all is then fine. Have kindly manner for loved one. Avoid arguments that could prove disastrous right now.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) Listen to what associates have to say about making certain changes that are necessary, especially with regard to employes, etc. You now comprehend what the real problems are that face you. Solve them wisely.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21) Handle your duties wisely instead of running off on some joyride that could bring you much trouble. A co-worker is depressed and requires your assistance. Give it. Be happy, satisfied, with yourself.

VIRGO: (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) By scheduling your time properly you are able to perform duties efficiently as well as go out for a delightful time with congenials. You have special talents that bring happiness. Use them.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) By keeping those promises you have made to kin without further procrastination, you show your true devotion. Be sure you get rid of whatever is outmoded. Stop cluttering up your life unnecessarily.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Be sure you handle all reports accurately and you make the right impression on higher-ups. Don't be so lackadaisical. Keep vital appointments. Let recreation await the completion of such.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Show practical persons that you are equally so and make new deals, get bills paid, collect monies owed you. Make those improvements to real estate, though you feel like procrastinating. Do the most important first.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Show your best qualities in whatever is of a social nature and add to prestige you now enjoy, instead of taking chances with it. Get your health attitude changes for the better.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Showing others that you are most ethical is wise and then you rid yourself of whatever is limiting you. Show charity later to those who deserve it. Take in something that is cultural in P.M.

PISCES: (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) A pal with a chip on the shoulder would like to draw you into a serious argument, but do not permit it or there is real trouble. Forget that social affair and avoid an individual you do not particularly like. Be happy.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he, or she, will be one of those youngsters who will try to work every angle possible to gain his, or her, aims so be sure the energies and mind are channeled in the right directions; otherwise, your progeny can get into a great deal of trouble. Others will resent methods used. However, the main idea here is to get at the truth. Then wonderful things happen in this life.

Jacoby On Bridge Jacoby and Son

This hand cost a National Championship back in the 30's. It was a board-a-match team of four in which your score is compared only with the score of the pair playing the hand against your partners.

South was one of a group of experts who like to outguess themselves. He looked over dummy carefully and decided that North at the other table would be playing in six no-trump. He saw that six no-trump would not make unless declarer would pick up four heart tricks and the only way to do that would be to kind East with specifically the king and one heart. So this unlucky expert won the spade lead in dummy and led a heart to his queen. He was going to make seven hearts if he could find that king-small with East, and would still make six hearts against any 3-2 heart break.

South wasn't dismayed when West produced the king but he was rather upset when West showed out on the second heart lead. South had to go down one trick. He did explain to his partner, "It shouldn't make any difference. Our opponents will be in six no-trump and will go down two."

North wasn't at all impressed. He pointed out that the six heart contract was a very good one and that it was up to South to play safe to make it and that the safety play would have been to play the ace of hearts just to guard against a singleton king. South could not guard against four to the king by any line of play, so all the finesse did was to give some chance to make seven.

How bad was South's play? It was really bad. At the other table North and South did get to three no-trump and did make four, so six hearts bid and made would have been a winner.

Highlights

TV Time Previews

7:30-8:30 p.m. (CBS) The Wild Wild West. (Color). Semi-regular villain Dr. Miguelito Loveless (Michael Dunn) appears again tonight as the mind behind a jewel plot. West and Gordon are investigating the disappearance of jewels from within a locked museum, and Loveless is investigating the possibilities of wiping out our heroes by means of a hired gunman, McCoy (John Alonzo). Good photography.

7:30-8 p.m. (ABC) The Green Hornet. "Hornet Save Thyself." (Color). One hand washes the other in tonight's episode, when Britt Reid is framed into a murder charge and the Green Hornet tries to save him. Reid kills Eddie Rech (Marvin Brody) in full view of a room full of guests, and the Hornet and Kato subsequently break into a police station to take a look at the gun. Interesting and well paced, but much too violent for its intended audience, as usual.

8:30-9:30 p.m. (NBC) The Man From U.N.C.L.E. "The Matterhorn Affair." (Color). Bill Dana guests tonight as Marvin Klump, a used-car salesman who gets involved in U.N.C.L.E.'s search for a miniature atomic reactor. Marvin wouldn't mind getting out of the whole mess, particularly as he dangles from the end of a rope halfway up the Matterhorn, but he is spurred on by his iron-willed sister Heather (guest star Norma Crane) and pursued by Thrush agent's Backstreet and Beirut (Oscar Beregi and Vito Scotti). Good job by Dana and a far cry from Jose Jimenez.

9-11 p.m. The CBS Friday Night Movies. "The Pigeon That Took Rome." (1962) An almost slapstick comedy with some very funny lines. Charlton Heston stars as Capt. Paul MacDougall, an American officer who is sent into German-occupied Rome in 1944 with radio operator Sgt. Joseph Contini (Harry Guardino). When they find that the Nazis are cribbing their messages they employ a canny pigeon to deliver the information. The other pigeons are Antonella and Rosalba Massimo (Elsa Martinelli and Gabriella Pallotta), daughters of the local underground chief (Baccaloni). The pigeon is the best of them all.

9:30-10 p.m. (NBC) T.H.E. Cat. "The Ninety Per Cent Blues." (Color). A sensitive, fast-paced episode about a young comedian, Timmie Taylor (Gene Boland), whose contract has been bought by a ruthless hood, Milo Andrade (guest star Warren Stevens). Milo wants 90 per cent of the new contract, and Timmie's choice is to be owned, body and soul, or to risk his life fighting Milo. Carol Cole, daughter of the late Nat King Cole, plays Marcie.

10-11 p.m. (ABC) The Avengers. "The Living Dead." (Color). It's ghosts galore and all their friends and admirers tonight, when Steed and Mrs. Peel go after a spectre that was spotted in the chapel of the Duke of Benedict. Among those investigating are Fog and Smog (the friends of ghost, and the scientific measurement of ghosts, respectively). Howard Marion Crawford plays Geoffrey and Jack Woolgar plays Kermit the Hermit.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

For a wife who wants her husband to find her, easy to live with, the 10 most important "don'ts" are:

Don't pry. Give the man a little privacy or he is bound to feel fenced in.

Don't nag. If he doesn't do what you want him to the first time you ask him—give up. You'll never win any thing by nagging except having him regard you as a nagging wife.

Don't sulk. An angry wife who speaks her piece and gets it over with isn't nearly so irritating to a man as one who goes around with hurt feelings, refusing to speak up or cheer up.

Don't be bossy. A bossy wife never has a happy husband.

Don't hold grudges. Piling old grievances on top of new ones makes too big a pile for a husband to contend with.

Don't be discontented with what your husband can provide. A man needs to feel he is a good provider, even though he isn't the best.

Don't be a poor sport. A woman who gets upset at every little thing that goes wrong is never a good companion.

Don't be disloyal. Unless your husband feels that you are on his side, he is going to feel very much alone.

Don't be critical. A wife who is always trying to improve her husband by pointing out his faults and mistakes and shortcomings isn't likely to change anything but the way he feels about her.

Don't take life too seriously. A woman who can laugh at herself and see the funny side of human nature and make light of small mishaps and setbacks is the easist kind of woman for a man to live with.

Polly's Pointers By Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY—How right you are. I, for one, think Mrs. A. E. H. is very lucky to be taken out once a week. As parents of three small children, all under four, my husband and I seldom get a night out. However, when such an occasion does arise this is how we solve the "Who showers first?" problem. Before my husband gets home from work (and usually while the girls are still having their afternoon naps), I spend all the time I want bathing, fixing my hair and dressing. When he arrives, I am all ready except for my dress and shoes. While he is showering and getting dressed I complete the last-minute details and enjoy the evening more because of not having to rush.—MRS. D. B. N.

DEAR POLLY—I just had to answer the lady whose problem is "Who takes a shower first?" before her husband takes her out once a week. Your answer was the best ever. How silly to worry about who takes the first shower. She is luckier than she knows when her husband even wants to take her out, let alone once a week. Just sign me—ENVIOUS

DEAR POLLY—How would you like a man's viewpoint on who showers first? Isn't this problem due to selfishness? Neither one should always have the first crack at the bath. When the husband must pick up the baby sitter, he should shower first, dress and have the sitter there by the time his wife is ready. If the wife has things to do just before leaving, she should bathe first, dress and then take care of her chores while he is showering and dressing. Considerations and understanding will prevent many conflicts more serious than this.—W. A. A.

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY—Can one successfully paint white metal kitchen cabinets with a brush? Mine have yellowed but I am afraid to try repainting them unless I know someone else has done it.—LUCY

DEAR POLLY—With food prices going up and up I thought budget-minded housewives might be interested in my preshopping preparations. Each week when the food specials are advertised I spend the evening going through the newspaper, checking to see which stores have the bestbuys for the weekend. I write separate list for each store that I intend to visit and attach to the list of coupons that can be used. When I reach a store, I have the necessary list for that store with any other information I need to take advantage of the specials offered. This is a real time-and-money-saver. Also, by scanning the ads so closely I become better acquainted with the normal price range of various items and then really know if a thing is a bargain or not.—JANET

Money Cost Going Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury is saving money on the cost of printing it.

The cost per bill of more than two billion printed in last fiscal year was less than nine-tenths of a cent, fifteen years ago, it was almost exactly a penny per note.

The cost is the same, officials said, whether grinding out singles or 10,000 bills (you'll recognize this one, next time one comes your way, by Salmon P. Chase's picture).

Advances in printing technique, the Treasury said, have pushed the cost of producing 1,000 bills of any denomination down to $8.42. It is likely to fall to $8.30 during the present fiscal year and to $8.11 the year after, officials said.

'Greatest Story Ever Told' At Cinema Theatre

George Stevens began work on "The Greatest Story Ever Told" more than four years before the first camera turned. Because he wanted to express the Christ story in terms of its dramatic excitement he spent more than three years in researching the subject in order to recreate as accurately as possible the drama and human interest underlying Christ's mission on earth. The picture which was filmed in Ultra Panavision and Technicolor is playing on a limited engagement at the Seminole Cinema Theatre. It is a United Artists release.

In doing so he made a pilgrimage to the Holy Land, studying the area and its people, visiting the sites referred to in Holy Scripture, talking with the present inhabitants of the territory and examing every inch of the soil on which Christ trod. His conclusion was a significant one: the Christ story could not be filmed in the Holy Land of today—because it is not the Holy Land of Christ's time. That land is gone. It has been eroded by time, changed by the shifting atmospheric pressures of almost two thousand years.

Where then, to visually recreate the landscape as it was at that time? Where to find the high panoramas, lush, verdant, vast landscapes unmarred with modern TV antennas, telephone poles, houses, water towers and railroad tracks? Right here in the United States, decided Stevens. "The Greatest Story Ever Told" was filmed entirely in the American Southwest. . .in the still pristine grandeur of the mountains and deserts and forests that remain unspoiled. Three huge location sites in Utah's Monument Valley, at Pyramid Lake in Nevada and in California's Death Valley, were chosen on which to recreate the scared sites identified with Christ's mission on earth, including Nazareth, Bethlehem, the Sea of Galilee, the Jordan River where he was baptized, the holy mountain where he delivered the Beatitudes, the Via Dolorosa and Golgotha.

What will the assay prove? Will the nuggets that spill so enticingly from the old leather bag spell the end of a search, the culmination of life-long hopes for sudden wealth and fortune? Or will they be iron pyrite, the fooler of men — disappointer of dreams? Only chemical analysis of the metal will determine its ingredients.

Sometimes our lives are like that. We fill them to the brim with the things we think mean happiness. And then along comes a blow — perhaps it is a failure of our own, or the betrayal of our trust by a loved one, or an overwhelming grief. Suddenly a life full of glittering trappings seems empty and meaningless. We realize that material possessions are comfortless and cold, without substance.

Spiritual analysis of life points always to God. His Church is the open door to the real treasure of life — the realization of God as the source of all affluence.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

We Get Pledge On $3.5 Million

The County Commission was given the okay today to borrow $3.5 million against anticipated secondary road funds for the next 20 years, the Herald learned today.

An official of the SRD said County Commission Chairman John Alexander and Commissioner Robert Parker met with Project Revenue director Sam Draper for over an hour on the projected loan this morning.

Draper warned Commissioners about the tight money market and the ability to pay back anticipated revenue.

Presently the county receives $350,000 annually in secondary road funds from the state for maintenance and construction of county roads, and for the purchase of rights-of-way for primary roads.

John Fitzpatrick, County Commission vice chairman said this morning that once the county gets the pledge from the SRD, work will start on securing rights-of-way for SR 46 east and west; access roads to the proposed new Florida Technological University; SR 436 west of Interstate 4 and rights-of-way for 426.

Around The Clock

Nobody asked me, but it seems strange Gov. Kirk would come up with a "big" announcement regarding Aero-Space industries locating at Sanford Naval Air Station and not even have the courtesy to tell the city of Sanford, the Chamber's Liaison Committee with NAS nor the Industrial Board.

* * *

Of course, we're talking about that big headline in an area paper Saturday over the possibility of a training school located here . . . Not even the Fulton Street sparrow knew about it.

* * *

A PHONE CONVERSATION WITH A SPARROW:

REPORTER — Did you get Kirk to say anything about that area paper's report on the Naval Air Station?

SPARROW — Yeah, he says the story is "inadequate" and said he wouldn't mention NAS without contacting city officials first.

Nobody asked me, but I'd rather speak to the sparrow than some of those clowns who kid me about him (or her).

Sample ballots are now available for the March 14 Democratic primary . . . Only two names on the ballot, Tom Mooney and Don Asher . . . We'll take the underdog . . . and that's Mooney.

* * *

You know if Seminole can vote Mooney in . . . those Orange County politicians will have to sit up and take notice and maybe they'll pay some attention to us. Mooney has already told us he will do everything possible to push through that port legislation . . . That's good enough for us.

Don't let David Dekle down.

Some $9,471 in checks and $200 in cash was stolen from the hospital recently . . . Police have an ex-hospital employe in custody as a suspect . . .

It's not on the priority list but come tomorrow afternoon the County Commission will ask the SRD if they are supporting Lake County in its SR 46 project from Mt. Dora to the Wekiva.

A CONVERSATION WITH SUPT. OF SCHOOLS R. T. MILWEE:

REPORTER — When are you going to say something about that proposed bond issue?

MILWEE — I imagine you'll hear a lot of talk about it come the fall.

* * *

Oh, before I forget . . . Milwee will tell the school board Thursday that the assistant Lyman coach was in his rights in that basketball dispute the other day. Remember? The coach had to be escorted off the floor by law enforcement officers. Milwee will say the officials used "bad judgment."

Nobody asked me, but so did the coach.

I hate to be a bore but I just can't understand the Longwood Council giving itself a raise when they don't know how much money they have in the budget . . . I'm just going by what the auditor says.

Mooney Pledges Support To 'Beef Up' Port Funds

Tom Mooney, Democratic candidate for the 43rd district seat in the House of Representatives, today pledged full support for legislation to beef up the borrowing power of the Port Authority.

"I can see the need for the legislation to earmark $60,000 of racetrack funds for the port," Mooney said, "and am convinced the funds must be earmarked for the purpose of increasing the port's borrowing power."

"Construction of the new port facilities will not only help Seminole County, but will benefit the whole Central Florida area. Comparison of the costs of shipping raw materials by barge rather than by other means shows a fantastic saving and, in my opinion, will attract heavy industry to the entire area," Mooney declared.

TOM MOONEY

Mooney also expressed his support of proposed legislation to place appointments to the hospital board of trustees and the port authority in the hands of the County Commission instead of the governor.

"The County Commission is directly responsible to the people of Seminole County and is in a better position to handle a local situation than the governor, who is possibly not as cognizant of local problems," he stated.

Other business at the meeting to begin at 9 a. m. include adoption of a resolution on primary and secondary roads to be presented to the hearings of the State Road Department, fifth district to take place in DeLand.
