BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

BUT WE NEED NOT LIKE
If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.—1 John 1:8

GOD BLESS AMERICA

Remember this, Memorize it and say it if you can. Teach others to say it. Make it a prayer.

God bless America, Land that I love,
Stand beside her and guide her
Through the night with a light from above;

From the mountains, to the Prairies,
To the oceans white with foam,
God bless America, My home sweet home.

God bless America, MY HOME, SWEET HOME.

Compulsory Training

Since the New York Times proposed last week that the United States should immediately adopt a system of universal and compulsory military training, endorsement for this suggestion have become general. President Roosevelt gave it his tacit approval at his press conference Friday morning and a number of leading senators and newspapers have followed suit.

Julius Ochs Adler, general manager of the Times and himself a reserve colonel, outlined to a Princeton gathering on Saturday provisions of the proposed bill. Every male citizen between 18 and 65 would be registered. Men between the ages of 21 and 45 could be called out by the President for military training in time of peace. And in time of war even those between 18 and 21 and 45 and 65 could be summoned for training for home defense.

The necessity for pre-war military training has greatly increased in recent years for two reasons. The first is the development of the blitzkrieg, the sudden and unexpected whirlwind attack precipitated without warning and without even the old-fashioned declaration of war. One never knows when the enemy is going to strike. It comes out of the skies like a bolt from the blue, when one least expects it most, eliminating any chance for preparation.

Second reason for pre-war military training is that, since the development of modern engines of destruction, war is a far more complicated business than it used to be. It takes time to learn to fly an airplane, to manipulate a tank, to handle a machine gun. Skill in these professions is not something which can be learned overnight. It also takes time for field commanders and staff officers to learn to supply and maneuver armies which run into millions of men as they do today.

To take a chance on having to send an army of untrained American boys into battle against the experienced veterans of Germany, Italy, or Japan would be a disaster.

Even though our soldiers were adequately supplied with modern implements of warfare, their physical condition because of their inexperience and inability to use these implements would be a blotch on the pages of American history for centuries to come.

The criminal lack of adequate preparation of the Allied armies for the ordeal through which they are now going should be an object lesson for every one of us. Not only are the French and British woefully lacking in implements of war, what is even worse in our opinion has been the complete failure of their governments to train and prepare their youth for the death struggle in which they are now engaged.

While German youths were being taught from earliest boyhood not only the technical art of warfare but also the glory of dying for one's fatherland, British boys were being told they would never have to fight again; and French youths, though subject to military training, were led to believe that all they would have to do in the next war would be to sit down behind the Maginot Line and shoot the Germans as they advanced. It never occurred to them that the Germans might break through and that there would be hand-to-hand combat.

As long as the slightest chance exists that the United States may become involved in this or any future war, it is folly of the worst conceivable type not to train our young men for the struggle which may lie ahead as well as to prepare our factories for the job which they will have to do.

Safety In Spring

A new "charm of Spring" has been added to those extolled by poets and lovers, from time immemorial, by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company which says that this new "charm" lies in the fact that the toll of fatal accidents is lower in the Spring months of March, April and May than at any other season, while the month of April is awarded the palm of being the safest month.

The safety award for the Spring months was made after a study of accident fatalities in the entire country for the years 1934 to 1937. During those four years, an average of 286 persons died each day as the result of accidental injuries. In the same years, the daily average for April was 251 deaths, with a slightly higher daily average for March and May. April's favorable performance stands out in sharp distinction when contrasted with the record for July, the worst accident month of the year, in which the daily toll for the four years rose to 367 deaths.

Spring is an in-between season, so far as accidents are concerned, not because the mortality from any one special type of accident drops to a minimum but because of the somewhat lower than average incidence for most of the principal types of accidents. Among these are the lowered hazard of burns, slipping on the ice, snow, sleet and, among infants, the danger of scalding.

All of these, greatly influenced by cold weather, become less prominent in the months of March, April and May, while the summer's hazards of swimming and boating, of electricity and of lightning, do not figure prominently in the Spring.

THE BEST POLITICAL CAMPAIGN THIS SUMMER

DISPELLING THE FOG

By CHARLES NICHOLSON
Director Of Publicity, Democratic National Committee

District Attorney Dewey, in his pursuit of delegates to further his bid for the G. O. P. presidential nomination, is blamed President Roosevelt for America's unpreparedness for war.

It was at St. Louis that the New York County prosecutor announced his discovery of what he called "a national calamity for which the President is directly responsible."

It was at Kansas City the same day that Wendell Willkie, who thinks that he also is a Presidential candidate, told an audience that the "basic factor in national defense is a sound economic system."

With the coming of Franklin D. Roosevelt to the White House there was a change. Quickly and easily the task of reorganizing the government was undertaken. Gradually the army was increased and modern equipment was supplied. Gradually the navy was built up until today our military establishment is in better shape, both as to numbers and material, than at any time in our peacetime history.

President Roosevelt took cognizance of the wild charges made by the political foe of his administration in his radio talk the other day.

"In the last two or three weeks," said the President, "all sorts of stories have been spread about our lack of preparedness. I have even seen some of these stories in the newspapers. But I have never seen one of them in the newspapers."

The President's statement was a direct answer to the charges made by the political foe of his administration. It was a statement of fact, and it was a statement of the President's confidence in his own administration.

Third Reunion Of '32 Class Held At Springs

After a lapse of six years, the Seminole High School Class of '32 held its third reunion Friday evening at Sand Lake Springs in the form of a chicken picnic dinner.

In the absence of the class president, Hendrix Lykes, and the vice-president, Rev. Melton Ware, Laurence Reel, class treasurer, presided at the reunion. The meeting was opened with an invocation of the guests and each member was called upon to relate his experience since graduation time, eight years ago.

Old memories were revived in the telling of the two "class songs," "Hail to the Seminoles" and "Dear Seminoles, Fair Seminoles," and much merriment was gained from the reading of the class prophecy.

Before adjournment to the dance floor, a plan was suggested and agreed upon by which the class could carry on its reunions each year and get in touch with as many of the out-of-town members as possible.

Enjoying the reunion were: Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Reel, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, Mr. and Mrs. William Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Miller, and Miss Katherine Tillis, Miss Catherine Kelly, Joe Routh, Roy Hamill and Elmer Echols.

A memento of the party the hostess presented Miss Hickson a glass table reflector in addition to the many lovely pieces of crystal in her chest, which the bride-elect received from her guests.

Whereas The Master Gardeners in his all wise providence has removed from our midst "in Summer's greening hours" one who understood the message of "flowers"—Laura Duval Chase—We, the members of the Sanford Garden Club, Sanford, Florida, do hereby resolve:

That in her passing we have lost a faithful member, a splendid co-worker, a neighbor to nature and an artist.

That the memory of her practical wisdom, kindly deeds and Christian grace will linger long in our minds and hearts. Her life was like the fragrance of the flowers she grew.

Be it further resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Club, a copy be sent to The Sanford Herald for publication and a copy sent to her immediate family with whom we deeply sympathize. We commend them to The Great Comforter, a God of Life and Love.

Mrs. J. H. Colclough, President.

Mrs. E. B. Stowe, Vice-President.

Mrs. F. R. Wilson, Past President.

Corley Drops First Game Of Season To Leesburg, 4 - 3

Victors Score In Seventh Frame To Break Up Fine Pitchers Duel

Roberts, Marion Succumb To Sunburns; Jeter Is Probable Starter Against Leesburg Here Tonight

A revised Sanford line-up was not sufficient to halt Leesburg last night and the Seminoles were down to a 4-3 defeat at the Venetian Gardens park. Piero Corley was the losing pitcher and it was his first loss in eight starts this season.

At the end of three innings, Sanford led 2-0 as a result of two runs in the first inning. Sanford was in the third, but Leesburg scored in the fourth and tied up the game in the sixth. The winning run came in the seventh as Jimmy Pizarro's single to left field, a hit by pitcher Ken Kenny that sent him to third, and Bobby Grota's single which scored the Leesburg second baseman.

Twelve Sanford players host to second place Leesburg at Municipal Ball Park at 8:00 o'clock. Corley is likely to be Manager. Whitey Campbell's mound battle, Jeter was beaten 5-1 by Leesburg last time out.

One reason, or perhaps two reasons, for Sanford's lack of success yesterday might have been the absence of Charley Roberts and Red Marion. These two were elected to go fishing and suffered severe sunburns.

As a result of their inability to appear in the starting line-up, the Seminoles were forced to shortstop, Jack Russell moved to third base, and that old reliable, Cleo Jeter, went out to left field. Just as rapidly developing into the heady man of the Seminoles, Fresh from Bowling, he started out at second base, the position he played for four years in college. He was soon switched to right field, then brought in to play third, and yesterday it was shortstop.

Corley allowed only seven hits, but some number his pitching rival Ken Kenny gave up, but victory by the Seminoles forced him into trouble. On May 28 Corley faced Leesburg and they batted him for 12 hits, but he won the game by a 5-4.

An interesting feature of the game was that no man in either team collected more than one hit, although Leesburg's Lou Vossell scored the home team by leading off and scoring runs in the fourth and fifth frames.

Sanford's line-up for the Florida State game, which is being held at the Venetian Gardens, is as follows: Jeter, catcher; Grota, first base; Pizarro, second base; Russell, third base; Kenny, shortstop; Corley, pitcher.

CAA Pilots To Use Wind Tunnel, Radio In Flight Training

GAINESVILLE, June 10 — Persons enrolling in the summer civilian flight training which the University of Florida will offer under the CAA program, beginning June 15, will have an opportunity to work with the wind tunnel built during the past year and airplane motors donated to the University by the U. S. Navy Department. Both the wind tunnel and the motors will be available through the College of Engineering.

The second civilian flight program offered by the University, which will include 72 hours of ground school instruction in airplane work, as well as 35 to 50 hours of actual flight instruction under the supervision of Carl Stengel, manager of the Gainesville Municipal Airport.

During the regular session the University offered the flight training to a quota of 30 students and just prior to the end of the regular term private pilot licenses were awarded to the 30 students who successfully passed the examinations of CAA inspectors.

Eligible to apply for this summer's course are college students or college graduates between the ages of 18 and 24, whether they have attended or graduated from the University of Florida or some other university or college.

The flight instruction must be given in the day-time, but Dean Well said that much of this can be given on Saturday and Sunday.

Dean Well also stated that engineering students taking the training, and showing the inclination and ability, will have access to laboratories and other equipment of the College of Engineering to study aero-dynamics, aerology, motor operation and other subjects. Emphasis will also be placed on radio communication for aircraft, and additional instruction will be provided in this field.

The program part of the expense of the flight instruction and the ground school instruction, and also provides a $2,000 rec-

WPA Can Be Used As Military Aid, Says Administrator

JACKSONVILLE, June 10 — The planing of WPA projects of military background on a pre-war basis is the first step to being the program into line for cooperation in the proposed national defense plan, in the opinion of State Administrator Rex Schröder.

"The present peace-time program can be easily and quickly expanded to handle national defense needs in the way of road work and military base construction as well as many other types of facilities," points out Schröder.

The Work Projects Administration has built and equipped hundreds of airports throughout the country, including such big jobs as LaGuardia Field in New York and the Chicago Municipal Airport, and here in Florida it is building the master airport at Miami as well as assisting in the development of several military air base facilities.

The organization is in a position to expand this work for full training and defense purposes.

The WPA has well-organized sewing rooms that can be utilized by the Red Cross or to furnish hundreds of workers to private production to meet any demand for that type of service that might develop in private business.

dent insurance policy and a $500 hospitalization and medical disbursement policy for each student taking the course.

Civic Clubs Meet To Map Out Plans For Baseball Team

In an attempt to make people more "baseball conscious," baseball fans and officials of the civic clubs in Sanford will meet at a Dutch dinner in the Valdes Hotel Tuesday at noon.

Tim Bradford Byrd, ardent Sanford center and baseball fan, has assumed the burden of gathering these clubs together to work out a plan to increase the attendance at the baseball games.

Sanford has the best class D club in the state and probably the country, but without the support of local citizens, baseball cannot be continued, Mr. Byrd pointed out. In order to keep a team in this city, the people must support the team as baseball, like business, cannot succeed unless it at least breaks even financially.

Mr. Byrd stated that Sanford had received nationwide publicity last season with its post-setting ball club, publicity that couldn't be bought with dollars and cents.

Mr. Byrd has invited the president of each civic club and three members of each club to the dinner in the Valdes Hotel.
