Students may face adult drug charges

Prosecutors say they will consider charging the majority of the Oviedo and Seminole High School students arrested last week in drug sweeps as adults.

Every case involving a juvenile age 16 or older who is charged with selling drugs on campus will be reviewed for adult prosecution, said Assistant State Attorney Lynda Crager on Tuesday.

This means that 19 students could be tried as adults.

Law-enforcement officers rounded up suspects in the two schools March 21, following a seven-month undercover operation.

So far, 31 people have been arrested, including 24 juveniles. Warrants are out for two more adults, authorities said.

Two undercover agents posed as students during the operation, one at each school. The agents made 37 purchases for drugs during the sting, including 28 that involved marijuana.

Crager said his office has a policy of referring most school-related drug and gun cases to adult court.

Thirteen juveniles were arraigned in juvenile court Tuesday. Twelve entered pleas of not guilty, while, one Oviedo student pleaded no contest to the two charges filed against him.

City may reclaim old Post Office

By Bill Kerna
 Staff Writer

SANFORD — Police may gain an increased presence in Sanford's downtown business district.

Sanford officials are inquiring about the possibility of regaining use of the old Post Office and Library Building on First Street, located next to the current North Branch of the Seminole County Public Library system.

The Sanford City Commission on Monday approved of Mayor Larry Dale holding discussions with the county

Discussions with county include using facility for police sub-station regarding the possibility of using the building as a community police sub-station.

"I think we should look into getting it back," Dale said. "It would be nice to use it as a police sub-station and have a police presence in the area."

The building is currently used by the county for meetings, children's programs, special programs, and book sales.

City and County officials have been discussing several options for the building to make it more accessible to the public, such as using it for a downtown community police station, Main Street offices, or as a law library.

The county has made several repairs to the building, which was constructed in 1917. The windows need to be repaired at an estimated cost of $16,000 to $20,000 for lead removal and repainting, or as much as $300,000 if replaced.

The city decided the building to the county in 1983, with a clause that if the building was used for purposes other than a public library prior to April 17, 2003 it would revert back to the city, unless both parties agree otherwise by majority vote.

Tampa company picked to build juvenile center

Board of County Commissioners also OKs Grace's organizational plan

By Russ White

SANFORD — The Board of Seminole County Commissioners on Tuesday unanimously authorized Ajax Building Corporation of Tampa to provide the design-build services for the county's Juvenile Justice Center.

The board's function was to rank a short list and to authorize staff to enter negotiations with the top firm.

Ajax was ranked ahead of Collage Companies

Construction of Lake Mary. Haskell Company of Jacksonville, Marobay Construction of Lakeland and Metric Constructors/DLR of Orlando.

"We will begin talks with the Ajax officials and come up with actual costs," Fiscal Services Director Cindy Hall said.

The work at the site at Five Points includes demolition, renovation, new construction and site work. The work consists of approximately 11,000 square feet of existing building and 22,000 square feet of new building.

The Board also approved County Manager Kevin Grace's organizational plan that includes adding a second

Airport Boulevard is changing to Martin Luther King Jr. Boulevard

By Bill Kerna
 Staff Writer

SANFORD — Sanford will soon have a street named for Martin Luther King, Jr.

The Sanford City Commission on Monday unanimously approved a proposal to ask Seminole County to rename Airport Boulevard in honor of King.

Velma Williams, the lone black city commissioner, has long been a proponent of renaming a major city street for the slain civil rights leader.

"It's a very gratifying moment," Williams said. "Especially since so many people out in the community wanted this to become a reality."

Williams said that Sanford's decision to ask the county to name the street after King one month after the opening of the Sanford-Seminole Aquatic Facility at Seminole High School is a positive sign of the times.

Thirty years ago, public pool facilities in Goldsboro and Ft. Mellon Park were closed in the face of federal desegregation rulings.

"It's a sign that good things are happening," Williams said. Airport Boulevard will become Martin Luther King, Jr. Boulevard, if the Board of Seminole County Commissioners approves the request. The street is belongs to the county. Williams said that Airport Boulevard represents a main thoroughfare through the city.

"It's a sign that good things are happening."

"It allows for people from all walks of life, all races, young and old, to travel along a road named for Martin Luther King," Williams said.

Sanford Mayor Larry Dale on Tuesday drafted a letter to the Board of Seminole County Commissioners requesting that the street be renamed. Final

Sanford officials consider privatizing fuel services

By Bill Kerna
 Staff Writer

SANFORD — Sanford is looking into closing its fuel station used by city vehicles, and contracting with a private company.

The city spends an average of $250,000 for fuel each year. The 10-year-old Public Works Complex fuel tank contains 10,000 gallons of gasoline, and 10,000 gallons of diesel fuel. The City Commission during Monday's workshop directed staff to get more information from private contractors for fuel delivery.

Mayor Larry Dale said he is concerned that the city would be held liable if the fuel tank ever develops a leak and causes environmental damage. City staff said the tank has monitoring devices and double-lining on the walls to ensure against leaks.

"I think you're sitting on a ticking time bomb," Dale said. "Sooner or later, you're going to have a spill out there that's going to eat your behind off. To me, it's just not a risk that I'm willing to take."

Two on-site fueling companies have given quotes to the city regarding the service. Both U.S. Fleet Services and Taylor Petroleum Company provide on demand fueling service direct to vehicles and offer 500 gallon self-contained on-site dispensing tanks.

The tanks are used to augment delivery schedules by assuring immediate availability. The companies provide all liability for tank, system and delivery integrity.

"I think you're sitting on a ticking time bomb. Sooner or later, you're going to have a spill out there that's going to eat your behind off."

Larry Dale
 Sanford Mayor

The city would still be liable for damage caused by the operations. For purchase of quantities around 1,000 gallons per month direct to vehicles, USF offers fuel at spot bulk fuel prices, plus 22 cents per gallon and a $75 charge for deliveries below 250 gallons. A 500 gallon on-site tank can be provided at no charge.

In similar quantity, TPC's price is spot bulk fuel price plus 36 cents per gallon with no quantity restrictions. For service with 500 gallon on-site tanks, their price is spot bulk price plus 18 cents per gallon. There is a $25 one item delivery charge for on-site tanks.

At USF's quoted prices using about 1,000 gallons per month and assuming two below 250 gallons delivery charges, the

What justice is this with no spine? Obituaries

A president who couldn't say no to a White House intern has turned his back on a 6-year-old boy. Elian Gonzalez is about to be sent back to Cuba.

Attorney General Janet Reno — with cooing from the Oval Office — says Elian should be reunited with a father who did not visit him in five months.

The mother died bringing her son to freedom, a freedom he may lose at any moment. What justice is this with no spine? An administration without resolve or valor?

I don't think there would have been a moment of doubt if either JFK or Ronald Reagan were the president during the Elian Gonzalez episode. Both men would have embraced the child and assured him liberty not deportation, opportunity not deprivation.

Obviously, Bill Clinton is neither JFK nor Reagan. He's given Reno her marching orders and one of them is to march Elian Gonzalez on his way to Cuba. A hold-over president would have spit in Fidel Castro's face. But not William Jefferson Clinton.

Those who say a boy should be with his father would be right most of the time. This is not right now. The right time, however, if Juan Miguel Gonzalez truly loves his son, why demonstrate it by forgetting the contempt and coming to Miami to see him?

A father who called me Tuesday said that he has mixed feelings about what is best for Elian Gonzalez.

"That," he said, "is what we must consider. If Castro is playing politics with the child's life. But the boy's father obviously doesn't want to lose him."

As much as any of us detest

Castro, he made a valid point Sunday when he said that ABC-TV's (Good Morning America) taped interview with 6-year-old Elian was "monstrous." It was so bad, Castro said, he might have to send an assault team to Miami to rescue the boy.

Elian's Miami relatives had hoped that by telling his story of the voyage to America and his new life would turn public opinion to their side, prompting Janet Reno to back off. Sadly, all it did is create more doubt. Elian said he thinks his mother is alive, that she has lost her memory but will soon come to be with him.

The best thing anyone can do at this point is to pray for Elian. If he can survive both the ordeal at sea and the ordeal of the justice system of this great country and the rage of Castro's Cuba, Elian will be a better man than most. Despite its faults, America offers him more than his native Cuba and life with his father.

Girl who says no to bra gets no support from her friends

DEAR ABBY: When I was 12, I couldn't wait to wear a bra. By the time I turned 16 last summer, I decided I'd had enough of wearing a bra. My mom, who hasn't worn one since she was 18, had no problem with it as long as it wasn't obvious that I was braless. And for six months it wasn't. Not until I went to a slumber party, and some of the other girls there saw me change into my pj's, did anyone notice I was not wearing a bra. The girls began to make fun of me, telling me that only lesbians go braless. (It doesn't help that I currently have a boyfriend.) Now word has gotten all around school, and people are doing all sorts of things to make fun of me, from boys pretending to unsnap my nonexistent bra to a girl actually coming to me thinking I was really gay. My mom says she was lucky, going braless was accepted when she was a teen, and I should just ignore the comments and they'll eventually stop.

Having gone without a bra this long, I don't want to go back — they are just too uncomfortable and I am too flat to have any use for them. But I can't stand the constant ridicule. Do you have any suggestions as to what I can do?

BRALESS (NO CITY OR STATE, PLEASE)

DEAR BRALESS: I'm old enough to remember when feminists burned their bras in symbolic protest of restrictions on our freedom. It had nothing to do with a person's sexual orientation then — and your classmates are flaunting their ignorance if they think it has anything to do with it now. What nonsense!

A joke has taken on a life of its own and has gone too far. The behavior you are describing sounds like harassment, and the principal of your school should be informed. Part of his or her job is to guarantee that students can pursue an education free of harassment. Please don't wait.

DEAR ABBY: I recently received an invitation to a wedding shower requesting that all gifts should be made in cash. Included with the invitation was a small envelope in which to place the money.

When I inquired about presenting a more traditional gift to the couple, I was told they didn't need anything. They have purchased an expensive new home, furniture, new automobiles, etc. The wedding and reception are being paid for by the bride's family, so the bride and groom have incurred little or no expense for these events.

Abby, I have attended bridal showers and weddings where a money tree was offered as an option in gift-giving. However, I find this to be in extremely poor taste and highly presumptuous. I have talked to others who are being invited, and we see this as nothing more than a ploy to gather a huge cash gift.

Your thoughts on this, please.

AN OFFENDED FRIEND

DEAR OFFENDED: I agree that to ask for money is in poor taste and presumptuous, and to include an envelope with the invitation was tacky. I'd advise you to skip the shower unless you want to be soaked.

Abby shares her favorite recipes in two booklets: "Abby's Favorite Recipes" and "Abby's More Favorite Recipes." To order, send a business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 per booklet ($4.50 each in Canada) to: Dear Abby Booklets, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, IL 61054-0447. (Postage is included in price.)

We know the problem More action, less talk needed on Central Florida's traffic woes

The Metroplan Orlando organization is the transportation planning partnership for Seminole, Orange and Osceola counties. On March 22, a meeting, sponsored by the Orlando Regional Chamber of Commerce and Metroplan Orlando was held. It is the first of three leadership forums to be held on transportation.

Representatives of many organizations were on hand with many voicing their opinions.

According to the press release following the meeting, some of the matters agreed upon by those in attendance were the need to involve all community voices in transportation planning, traffic congestion is at an intolerable level and that a combination of groups and organizations should lead the charge in solving transportation issues. Also expressed was concern about the effect of expanding transportation needs on the environment and (90 percent agreed) transportation issues threaten Central Florida's future economic development.

It is said public confidence in the current regional transportation leadership is low.

This was a highly touted meeting. Community leaders were called together to discuss the transportation issue. What happened? It appeared as though it was decided that there is a transportation problem. That wouldn't exactly make newspaper headlines. Who doesn't know that?

The press release did not indicate that any solution, not a single one was proposed to help alleviate the problem. All that was suggested was that the Metroplan Orlando board revisit its vision statement, and possibly the creation of a Regional Development Agency (with taxing authority).

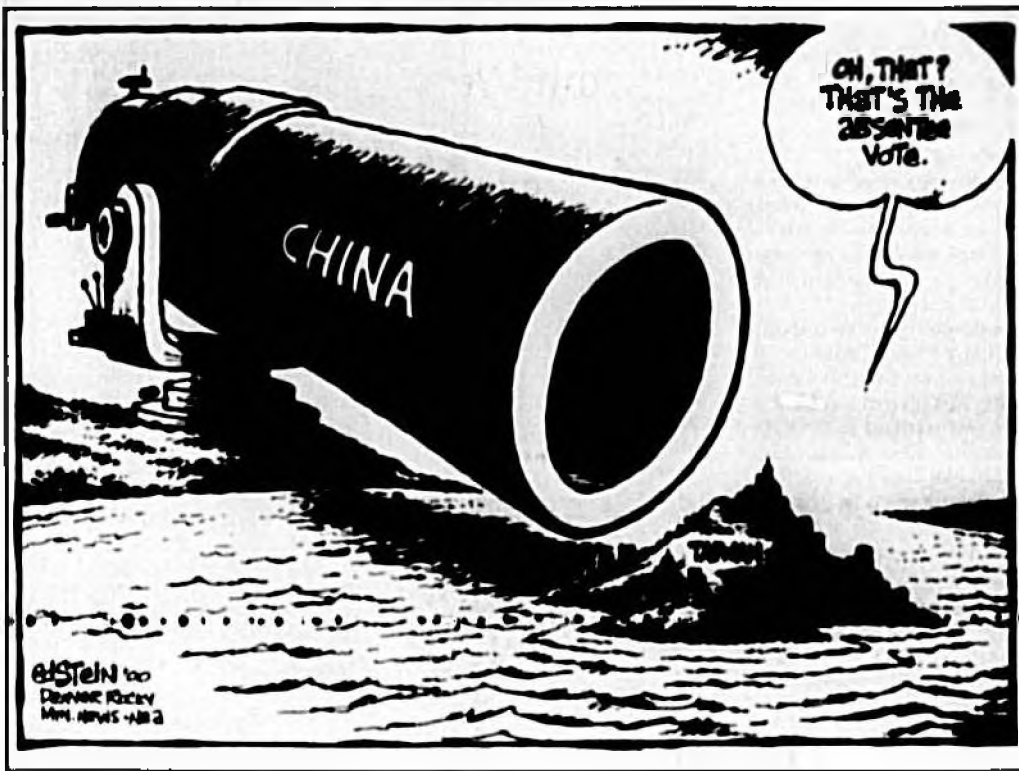

The transportation in this Seminole, Orange and Volusia County area isn't something that sprang up in the past few weeks or even months. It's been with us, and constantly growing, for years. During that time, commuter rail, rapid rail, high occupancy vehicle (HOV) lanes, additional I-4 traffic lanes, new bridges, expanded bus service, and several other plans have been discussed.

That's the key word, "discussed." We are constantly hearing about national, state and local plans to help finance construction. Maps and drawings have been made showing wonderful highway systems and rail systems.

But what has actually been done? Other than making those drawings to excite the public, the only accomplishment has been to form more committees.

Then, the committees meet and tell us, "Yes, there is a transportation problem."

Let's hear from someone with a plan that will actually work, that can be financed, that will truly help solve the transportation situation.

Bowlin thinks police arrested innocent student

To the editor:

I think it's a sad situation when police are arresting innocent students when there are drug deals going on all over Sanford. I understand some students are involved in using and selling drugs and they should be arrested, but when an undercover agent poses as a student, befriends a real student (an honor roll student) and then cajoles and pleads until the student gives in and makes a mistake, I think that constitutes entrapment and shouldn't be allowed.

This particular student has never been in trouble and as I said is an honor roll student due to graduate this May. I think it's a crime to put this kind of blemish on her future.

I also think it is a gross injustice that the girl's father should be put in a position of risking everything he owns to protect his daughter. He would cut off his right arm if it would make this nightmare go away.

This girl has the backing of her teachers, co-workers, friends and family. She should be treated as an individual and her case should be dropped.

Shame, shame on the undercover agent that took advantage of her kindness and friendship and then set her up. She should come forth in this girl's defense. I don't know how she sleeps with a clear conscience. She knows the girl is innocent.

Sheridan thanks police for recent student arrests

To the editor:

I applaud the Seminole County Sheriff's Office and the School Board over the recent arrests of the "Bad Seed" in our schools.

As my son, who is 15 and just a freshman in one of our local high schools and I watched the news of the arrests, he said, "Good!"

What are these parents so afraid of? If they're such good kids, why are they doing these bad things in our schools? Parents need to spend more time with their children and not try to spend the extra five minutes on the cell phone to make an extra $5 that Uncle Sam will get anyway.

I'm not saying parents (mothers) can't work. What they need to do is spend more time knowing what their kids are doing — at home and at school.

Keep up the good work and I know my son will be safer going to school because of this outstanding action.

Dean appreciates dedication of St. Johns volunteers

To the editor:

Many of your readers deserve our sincere appreciation for their dedication to the St. Johns River, its major tributaries and feeder waterways and the St. Marys River.

On March 18, more than 5,900 volunteers from 17 counties participated in the fifth annual St. Johns River Celebration and St. Marys River Celebration. They donated their Saturday morning to help clean these unique natural resources. Together, they removed more than 392,000 pounds of garbage from the waterways.

I commend those volunteers, the county organizers and the sponsors who made this exceptional accomplishment possible.

I want to extend special thanks to Marie Lackey, Seminole County Stormwater, for her leadership role in Seminole County. Also, I would like to thank Puggin' and Grinnin', Rivership Romance, Wekiva Springs State Park, Remax Realty, Central Florida Zoological Park, Division of Forestry, City of Altamonte Springs, Criswell, Cowboys and Indians, Ruby James, Crystal Springs Water, Coca-Cola, Gatorade and Seminole County. Without their support the event would not have been made possible.

Organizations and corporate sponsors like Keep Florida Beautiful, AT&T, Florida Inland Navigation District, Anheuser-Busch, Florida Water, JEA, Waste Management, BFI, Georgia-

Pacific, Winn-Dixie, Publix, Seminole Electric and Florida Rock provide the funding for supplies and T-shirts for our volunteers. We are truly grateful for their contributions.

Thank you all for your participation.

Lake Mary resident knows area must change

To the editor:

A slight smile crossed my face as I read the "Letter to the editor" by Joe DeSantis. Apparently, the shoe is now on the "other" foot, so to speak for Russ White. Well intentioned as he may have been with the soup kitchen saga, it wasn't "his" backyard. Now, literally, he has a "big" problem in his "backyard" and his is the voice of "injustice." Isn't this really human? I mean, after all, progress is something we all seem to want. We all benefit by it. It makes our lives easier, but, gee, let the other guy live with the repercussions.

Having lived in Sanford and raising a family for 30 years, I have seen the struggles of this city trying to conquer so many obstacles. It was like taking three steps forward and then back two. Now progress is in the wind — the city has new breath. Soup kitchens? Well, I for one don't think that's progress. It's just another anchor to keep her tied to where she has been. The GreeneWay, that's progress — benefiting everyone, not only now, but in the future. We moved from Sanford to Lake Mary a year ago. The topic of discussion here was low flying planes and noise levels. However, it is doubtful that anyone, anywhere, where boarding a plane ever gave a thought about whose home they were flying over. Once on the ground and in "their own yards" well, the planes become personal.

No one ever said that progress wouldn't come without a price. Someone once told me that you have to give to get. The City of Sanford has a new beginning with their downtown, Mainstreet and the beautiful homes that are being restored. Why put a blot on what seems to be so promising?

The GreeneWay is a blessing in disguise. Florida is way behind in all her roadways. Russ White should know that being from the Washington area. Those poor people live right on the expressways with their towering sound barriers.

Those planes that take off and land at our wonderful new airport bring so many opportunities to our area. Progress is something that young people reach out and embrace as there lies dreams, opportunities and the future. Those of us that sit and watch progress and are over 50 say, "gee don't we miss the good ole days" when everything was simple. Thanks Mr. DeSantis for your great article. It pointed out some flaws in all of us. Russ White, get ready for lots more changes in your backyard and please don't think a move to the country is going to be the answer. Just ask those families who live on Lake Jessup who must have marveled at the concrete giant being laid across their quiet waters.

Herald Teacher of the Week

Serena Fisher is a museum specialist at the Seminole County Student Museum in Sanford. She has been a teacher in the Seminole County school district for 20 years, including teaching at the museum since 1992. She has been an educator for a total of 26 years.

Fisher holds a master's degree in history from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

She says that she would be unable to envision the museum without the assistance of volunteer docents. Out of the five docents at the museum, four are former teachers. The docents conduct teaching activities at the museum, as well as assist in the preparation for future activities.

Fisher recently shared her views on a variety of topics with staff writer Bill Kerns.

Favorite part of teaching: "Working with the students. It doesn't get any better than that. It is just very exciting to see students get totally engrossed with a hands-on museum exhibit."

Most memorable experience as a teacher: "Being in the classroom when John F. Kennedy was shot. When the announcement came on about John F. Kennedy, it was like the Earth had stopped right then. The Challenger accident was a similar experience, but Kennedy's death was more so because I was young and I had that idealism."

Biggest challenge for teachers: "That's a hard one for me to answer because I am not in a traditional classroom setting. For the classroom teachers I have the pleasure to work with, there are two challenges: discipline and paperwork. For me, the biggest challenge is engrossing them in activities that are meaningful to them. You need to be flexible to relate with different students at different levels every day."

Advice for parents: "Give your child the gift of presence. Children can have gifts and materials, but I truly believe that what they really want is the presence of their parents."

Advice for students: "To realize that you are a very wealthy individual if you have faith, if you have your health, and you have someone who loves you. Certainly here at the museum, you see how important possessions and things are to students. I was important enough 15 years ago to have cancer, and I know that money and physical items aren't important."

Advice for new or prospective teachers: "This is something I heard in a sermon once: To seize the opportunity of a lifetime, and the lifetime of the opportunity. This means you need to be willing to accept risks and to challenge yourself for personal growth."

Best advice you ever received: "To believe in myself and to know that I was a person with unique abilities and strengths, and that I need to use the gifts I had been given. To have the confidence to use my strengths. Self-doubt is something we all deal with."

Person(s) who have inspired you: "My mother (Rena Cole Parks) was an educator. Professionally, she is the one who inspired me the most."

Favorite book or inspirational passage: "Simple Abundance. It's a day-by-day journal to help women and individuals re-focus, to find simplicity in her life and cherish the real values in life."

Hobbies: "Travel. This is something I feel very strongly about. Travel is an investment. It is a chance to learn, and gain memories that you will always have. And, I also enjoy gardening."

If you would like to nominate a teacher for the Herald's Teacher of the Week, contact Herald Editor Dan Ping or Staff Writer Bill Kerns by fax, 407-323-9408; or E-mail, sheditor@aol.com.

approval is expected to be given by the county in two weeks.

"I think Airport Boulevard is an appropriate road to name for him," Dale said. "It goes through a diverse ethnic mix of the community, and all points of the city, east to west."

King rose to national prominence in 1955 and 1956 while leading an economic boycott as President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference that compelled Montgomery, Ala. officials to desegregate the city buses.

In 1963, more than 200,000 blacks and whites participated in an orderly and peaceful "March on Washington" to demand new civil rights legislation. They heard King cry out "I have a dream" of equality, of brotherhood, and of freedom and justice.

In 1964, the same year that a comprehensive Civil Rights Act was passed, King won the Nobel Peace Prize. The 24th Amendment, prohibiting the use of a poll tax as a requirement for voting in a federal election, was also passed in 1964. The Voting Rights Act was approved a year later in 1965.

In 1968, when King went to lead a protest march for striking sanitation workers, most of whom were black, in Memphis, Tenn., he was assassinated by James Earl Ray. King left a legacy of non-violent insistence upon gaining civil rights.

The county was required under the agreement to maintain the building in a state of attractive appearance and good repair.

In 1984, the county requested to use the building for administration and support services if a new library was constructed.

The City Commission sent a letter to the county regarding "working out a mutual agreement and the City would not exercise the reverter as long as the library service remain in the present area." No agreement was executed formalizing this concept.

In addition to regaining control of the building, the city also has several other options regarding the building. One option is to determine that the programs meet the conditions for "use as a public library," require the county to repair the windows, and execute an agreement.

Another option is to determine that the use does not meet the conditions for use as a public library, notify the county of breach for use and for failure to maintain the building in good condition. The county would then have 60 days to purchase the property at their option.

deputy manager to the staff. Also discussed Tuesday were the county's plans to buy land and develop community parks in the Oviedo and Lake Mary areas. There are four sites being considered in Oviedo and two in the Lake Mary/Sanford area. County Commissioner Randy Morris urged the purchase of lands for a community park in Lake Mary.

"Time is a wasting," Morris said. "These parcels are not going to be there very long. I suggest we purchase the land now and develop it later."

The cost to buy land and develop a community park was estimated at $6 million.

At the start of Tuesday's BCC meeting, the Board recognized the efforts of Maitland attorney Rick Nelson, who has given his time and labor and legal skills on behalf of upholding the validity and implementation of the county's public decency ordinance and regulations regarding adult entertainment.

Bus driver honored for keeping team safe

SANFORD — Members of the Oviedo High School boys lacrosse team know how precious life is.

One woman died and another was seriously injured on March 10 when their car collided head-on with a school bus carrying the lacrosse team to play at Flagler Palm Coast High School.

One student received minor injuries, and bus driver Beth Gonzalez still wears the cast from a broken arm she received during the crash.

The driver of the 1991 Buick was passing several cars around a blind curve in a no-passing zone on State Road 46 just east of Geneva when the 4:15 p.m. accident occurred, according to the Florida Highway Patrol.

The passenger in the car, 77-year-old Thelma Williams of Oviedo, died at the scene. The driver, 49-year-old Christine Jewerette of Oviedo, was airlifted to Orlando Regional Medical Center where she recovered from her injuries. Both Williams and Jewerette were not wearing seat belts, said a spokesman for the FHP.

On Tuesday, the Seminole County School Board and members of the lacrosse team paid tribute to Gonzalez for avoiding what could have been an even worse accident, and for keeping the students from being seriously injured.

A tearful Gonzalez was presented with a team jersey during the brief ceremony held during Tuesday's regular School Board meeting.

"The unbearable sounds of screeching breaks, squealing tires and cries for help are all that I remembered as I got off the bus," said lacrosse team member Scott Raymond. "Because of Mrs. Gonzalez, I am here to tell my story."

Gonzalez, a 7-year veteran school bus driver, said she tried to veer away when she saw the Buick coming straight for her bus, but traffic prevented her from avoiding the car. She knew that she could not take the bus off of the road, because the bus would flip.

"I just told them to pray and get ready because it's going to hit us," Gonzalez said. "I held the steering wheel tight, pulled the emergency brake and kept both feet on the brake pedals, closed my eyes, and heard the bang. Then I heard the car explode under the bus."

The bus continued to slide forward 55 feet until stopping. The Buick was underneath the bus while it was sliding.

Pinned beneath the steering wheel, Gonzalez smelled smoke after the bus stopped moving. She told the students about the smoke, and urged them to leave through the emergency exit before struggling out of the bus herself.

"I held the steering wheel tight, pulled the emergency brake and kept both feet on the brake pedals, closed my eyes, and heard the bang. Then I heard the car explode under the bus."

city's cost would be about $220 in fuel plus $150 delivery charges, for a total of $370 per month, or $4,400 per year to fuel slow-moving vehicles.

At TPC's quote, costs would be about $360 per month or $4,320 per year.

During budget workshops last year, the City Commission chose to remove the existing Public Works Complex fuel tank rather than approve a $125,000 request to replace dispensing components. Staff was directed to arrange a contract with Seminole County for fuel supply.

However, an agreement has not been reached with the county because of difficulties in fueling and transporting slow-moving vehicles.

The city's fuel tank facilities are located on the northern end of Sanford, near Lake Monroe. Meanwhile, the county's fuel farm is located on the southern end of the city. Staff is expressing concerns about delays that would be caused by switching away from the city's fuel farm.

Map Attack surprise winner in AAA playoffs

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

LAKE MARY - You never know. Map Attack, which only went 3-6-1 during the regular season, rose up from the ashes and knocked off the top two seeds to claim the Championship of the playoffs of the City of Lake Mary Department of Parks and Recreation Polar Bear AAA Co-Ed Slow Pitch Softball League at the Lake Mary Sports Complex last Wednesday evening.

What makes the championship even more amazing is the fact that Map Attack had to win a tie-breaker just to get into the four-team playoff.

And it had to win its final two regular season games, 11-10 over Cross Bones on March 8th and 18-10 over Cross Bones on March 15th, just to force a tie for fourth place.

Map Attack looked like it would not even get out of the semifinals as the Bombats, the regular season champions, scored seven runs in the bottom of the fifth inning to build a 12-5 lead.

But Map Attack exploded for nine runs on 10 hits in the top of the sixth inning to pull out a 14-13 triumph and earn the first spot in the Championship Game.

I.S., the No. 2 seed, broke a 3-3 tie by scoring four runs in the bottom of the second inning and then put the game away, plating 12 runs in the bottom of the third inning and two runs in the bottom of the fourth inning to secure a 21-6 triumph.

In the Championship contest, I.S. led 1-0, 6-3 and 9-7 after three innings before the Map Attack offense again came alive, scoring eight runs in the bottom of the fourth inning to pull out a 15-9 triumph.

In results from March 8th, I.S. thumped Liberty Mutual I, 21-1; Bombats bested Liberty Mutual II, 17-9; and Map Attack edged Cross Bones, 11-10.

In games from March 15th, Bombats whipped Liberty Mutual II, 18-5; Map Attack tripped Cross Bones, 18-10; and I.S. crushed Liberty Mutual I, 25-5.

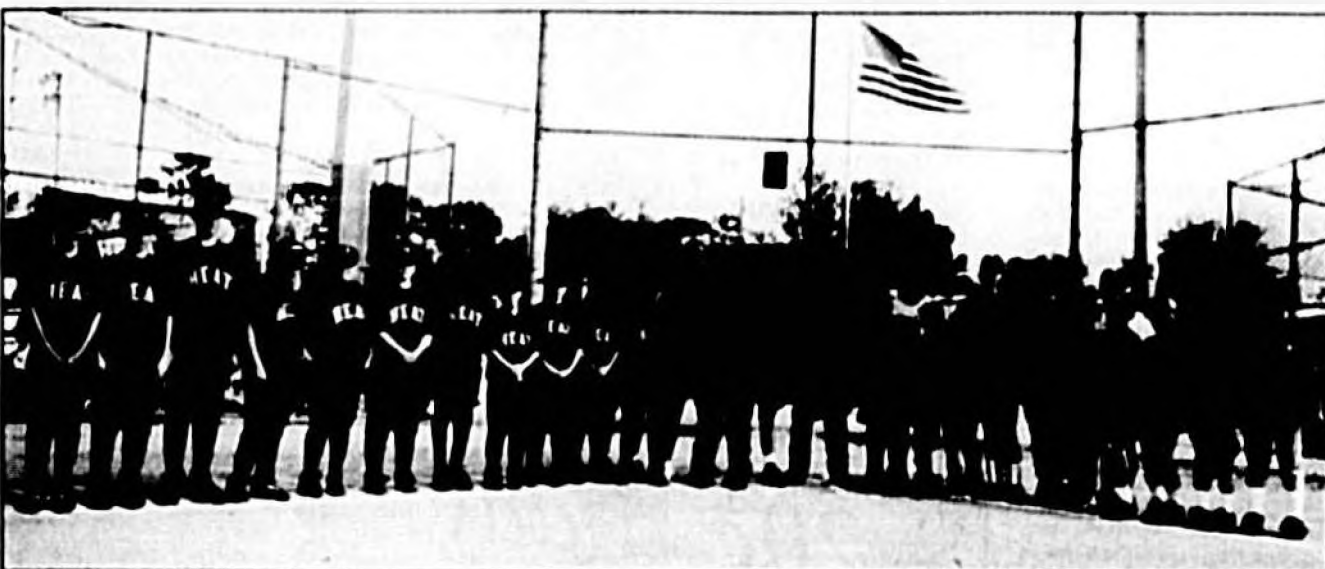

The final standings were: Bombats (8-3), I.S. (9-3), Map Attack (6-6), Liberty Mutual I (4-7), Cross Bones (3-7) and Liberty Mutual II (3-7).

Providing the offense were:

The Central Florida Heat, a 12-and-Under AAU team, and the Central Florida Sundevils, an 11-and-Under AAU team that has won three straight AAU National Championships, took time out of their schedules to show Spartak, a team of 10 and 11-year-olds from Moscow, Russia, how the game of baseball is played in the United States.

The Heat and Spartak (above) pose prior to a Saturday game at Longwood's Candyland Park that also featured a clinic (right), including a Heat coach throwing soft toss to Spartak's Kondratuk (No. 27).

LAKE MARY - Two Seminole County AAU baseball teams practiced their own form of international diplomacy over the weekend, playing games with a team from Moscow, Russia.

On Saturday at Candyland Park in Longwood, the Central Florida Heat, a 12-and-Under AAU Team, put on a clinic with the Russians then played a game prior to going out to dinner as a group.

On Sunday at the Lake Mary Sports Complex, the Central Florida Sundevils, an 11-and-Under AAU squad, also played the Russians and came out on top 14-1.

Spartak, a combination of two teams of 10 and 11-year-olds from Moscow, had played three games in Miami before coming to Seminole County.

The team was to play one more game in Orlando before ending its two-week stay in the United States and returning to Russia, which the kids are probably dreading since it was 5 degrees when the club left its hometown and there has been almost perfect baseball weather here lately.

The trip was hosted by the AAU (Amateur Athletic Union), Men's Senior Baseball and Home Run International.

Spartak is managed by Pavel "Pasha" Gladikov and coached by Valeriy Platonov, with Yuriy Kuzmin serving as the team doctor. The coaches and trainers all receive support from the Russian Government.

Making up the team were Kondratuk, Gladikov, Dolgoplov, Frolov, Koshkin. See Russians, Page 3B

Barahov, Dolgobenzk, Nefedov, Govorubhin, Evtaliev, Ochi, Gorayeva and Mepina.

Members of the Central Florida Heat, managed by Adam Whitley and coached by Mike Ivey and Larry Clark, were John Whitley, Cameron Ivey, Danny Clark, Zac McCann, Josh Smith, J.R. Morgan, Josh Annett, D.J. Howell, Doug Vanderpool, Kyle Paolini, John Igen and Kory Duffy.

Not surprisingly, Spartak proved to be no match for the Central Florida Sundevils, who went 11-0 in winning the AAU 11-and-Under National Championship in Kansas this past summer.

The National Championship was the third straight for the team, coming on the heels of the 9-and-Under and 10-and-Under titles won by the squad in 1997 and 1998.

The Sundevils, managed by Dirk Main with Gary Newstead, Rick Kay and Brian Morgan serving as assistants, scored five runs in each of the first and third innings and completed the scoring by plating four runs in the fourth inning.

Dolgopolov walked and scored Spartak's only run in the top of the fourth inning.

The pitching quintet of Drew Morgan, Robby Flynn, Mike Main, Bradley Newstead and Travis Tillerson hurled one inning each, allowing no hits while striking out 13 and walking three.

Contributing to an 18-run Sundevil attack were Alex Lombardi (3-for-3, including a triple and a double, three runs scored), Ricky Kay (3-for-3, including a triple, three runs scored), Robby Flynn and Bradley Newstead (3-for-3, including a double, and one run scored each), Drew Morgan (2-for-3, one run scored), Alex Stone (1-for-3, two runs scored) and Mike Main, William White and Travis Tillerson (1-for-3 and one run scored each). Shane Brophy also played for the Sundevils.

This week, the Solar Bears host the Griffins in a pair of critical 7 p.m. matchups on Wednesday and Thursday at TD Waterhouse Centre.

Wednesday's contest can be seen live on Sunshine Network with Andrew Monaco handling the play-by-play duties and former Orlando netminder David Littleman providing color commentary. Both games can be heard live on WNNZ-AM 740 with "The Voice of the Solar Bears" John Dyer calling the play-by-play.

For season or group ticket information, please call the Solar Bears ticket sales office at (407) 872-PUCK. Individual game tickets can be purchased at the TD Waterhouse Centre box office, at any Florida Ticketmaster outlet, or by phone through Ticketmaster at (407) 839-3900.

The O Bears hit the road over the weekend for a 7:30 p.m. matchup with the Michigan K-Wings on Saturday and a 6 p.m. contest with the Detroit Vipers on Sunday.

BEAUFFAIT NAMED 1999-2000 IN THE CREESE MINOR PRO PLAYER OF THE YEAR

ORLANDO - In the Crease (ITC), the leading online minor professional hockey journal, Friday named Orlando Solar Bears center Mark Beaufait as 1999-2000 Minor Pro Player of the Year. Beaufait, Orlando's all-time leader in nearly every offensive category, will be presented with the award prior to the Solar Bears versus Grand Rapids Griffins contest tonight at TD Waterhouse Centre.

Beaufait currently ranks sixth in the International Hockey League (IHL) in scoring with 84 points on 24 goals and 40 assists, all Solar Bears team highs.

The native of Royal Oak, Michigan, is in his eighth professional season and his fifth with Orlando. One of only three remaining original Solar Bears from the club's inaugural season in 1995-96, Beaufait stands as the franchise's all-time leader in points (420), goals (132), assists (288), games played (381), power play goals (52), and game-winning goals (19).

The 5-foot-9, 170-pound forward is a three-time IHL All-Star selection (1993, 1997, and 1998) and ranks in the top five in career scoring among active players.

ITC, available on the World Wide Web at <http://www.inthecrease.com>, was established in 1995. The web site was selected by Sport magazine as the second-best sports site on the internet in 1999 and is one of only two hockey sites tabbed as a "Four Star" selection by the Microsoft Network (1998, 1997, 1998, and 1999).

This is the third season that ITC has presented a Minor Pro Player of the Year award. Beaufait joins defenceman Chris Valerovic, who captured the honor in 1998-99 with the East Coast Hockey League's (ECHL) Louisiana IceGators, and Detroit Red Wings forward Stacy Havel, who won the 1997-98 edition of the award with the American Hockey League's (AHL) Adirondack Red Wings, on the list of ITC honorees. PLAYER OF THE WEEK

ORLANDO - The Orlando Solar Bears Player of the Week for March 20-26 is right wing Herbert Vastjers.

In four games last week,

Vastjers tallied six points on two goals and four assists with an even rating and six penalty minutes.

For the season, the native Latvian ranks second on the Solar Bears squad in both points (50) and goals (24) and leads the club with a +16 rating. Vastjers has scored on 65 percent of his shootout attempts.
