James C. Taylor Is Accepted Into DX Century Club

James C. Taylor of Sanford has been awarded membership in the DX Century Club, exclusive society of amateur radio operators who have made two-way short-wave radio contacts with at least 100 of the more than 200 countries of the world.

Taylor's is the 734th amateur station to achieve the 100-country contacts since the war. The station set up in his home, uses the federally-assigned call letters W4 EEO, which have become well known to amateurs throughout the world. All contacts were made using radiotelephony.

All his communications have been approved, as required by the rules of the club, by written confirmation in the form of QSL (acknowledgment) cards, which back the walls of his radio-operating room.

Thousands of American "hams" have contacted the "easy" countries where there are a large number of amateurs, such as Canada, Mexico and Australia. But the best like Iceland and Netherlands New Guinea and Malta are another matter, requiring a high degree of proficiency in long-distance communication. A thorough knowledge of the behavior of radio waves of the ionosphere is but one requisite. Underlying all the fun and amateur has, then, is a basic self-training in radio operating under difficult conditions—an asset the military service found invaluable when 50,000 American hams were in uniform.

Taylor is now working to extend his list well above the 100 mark, to obtain endorsements on his certificate for additional ten-country groups.

Ost'n Man To Recover Little Cash

Federal Judge Bryan Simpson in Jacksonville has ruled that Harry Venio, 73-year-old Osteen sawmill operator and former gambler, is entitled to recover very little of $126,319 paid in government tax assessments.

Venio paid the assessments in 1932 and in 1933 was convicted of willfully failing to file income tax returns and sentenced to one year and a $10,000 fine. He sued to recover the assessments.

Judge Simpson said Venio is not entitled to any recovery except for an amount to be settled with government attorneys.

Venio's attorney, William R. Frazier of Jacksonville, said that amount is approximately $4,500 and he will appeal the case.

Simpson said Venio failed to report substantial gambling income on his 1943 return and filed no returns for 1944-50.

The judge said Venio got into gambling in a small way in 1937, selling numbers on a lottery to his sawmill workers "as a convenience to them," and that he started taking no-limit layoff bets in 1948 from "Clifford Proctor, a gambler from Winter Park." Raymond DeWitt of DeLand also placed layoff bets with him in 1949-51, the judge added.

Simpson said tax agents opened Venio's safe deposit box at a Sanford bank in 1951 and found $70,050—mostly in $100 bills. Venio was quoted as saying he brought an amount between $40,000 and $75,000 when he moved from Vermont to Taft, Fla., in the early 1920s.

Engineering Firm Reveals Opening Of Sanford Office

De Leuw, Cather & Brill, the nationally-known firm of consulting engineers, yesterday announced the opening of a permanent regional office in Sanford, in the Touchton Building at First Street and Magnolia Avenue.

The first project to go on the drawing boards in this firm's new office will be the 13-mile stretch of the northern extension of the Sunshine State Parkway, known as section 19. This extends northward from a point between Ocala and Silver Springs.

De Leuw, Cather & Brill is affiliated with De Leuw, Cather & Company of Chicago. These organizations have designed highways, bridges, railroad repair shops, water supply and sewage disposal systems, city waterways and industrial installations in almost every state in the Union and in many foreign countries. In the past fifteen years these firms have produced designs for some two billion dollars worth of work.

William A. Kratzert, of 2100 Park Avenue, Sanford, formerly assistant chief engineer of the State Road Department of Florida, will be in charge of the new office here which is expected to be in operation by August 15.

Kratzert was on the survey, design and construction of Seminole Boulevard at the St. Johns River Bridge at Lake Monroe. It was because of the firm's connection with Kratzert that Sanford was chosen as the location for the new office, and he completed the arrangements which made it possible. While he will devote much of his time to the business of this firm, Kratzert also will continue to serve his personal clients. The office will function under the general direction of Col. C. B. Brill, Managing Partner of the New York office, whose residence is at Tallahassee.

The new office is located on the second floor of the Touchton Building in the space once used as campaign headquarters by Bralley Odham. Some 12 to 15 persons will be employed in various capacities, and it is anticipated many will be hired locally. A. C. Doudney, of Sanford, is at present executing property surveys for this firm.

De Leuw, Cather & Brill believes that the establishment of this substantial design force in Sanford will attract a continuing flow of the type of state and municipal work for which their extensive experience so well fits them. From their main offices in Chicago, New York, San Francisco and Toronto they can quickly assemble experts to solve any engineering problem. Altogether, this organization has a staff of around 600, the vast majority of (Continued on Page Two)

Fire Department Answers Alarm Early Last Night

Ten Sanford Fire Department, shortly after 7 o'clock last night answered an alarm at 1803 Mellonville Ave. where they found an overheated electric fan charred and burning.

At first thought to be smoke coming from the attic of the home, firemen discovered the fan to be the cause of the alarm.

Both the regular truck and the aerial ladder answered the call to the Mellonville address which caused an immediate bottleneck on the city-long street caused by automobile thrill seekers.

Traffic backed up in two directions in the vicinity of the reported blaze. Hundreds of nearby residents gathered on the lawns to watch the firemen.

BE READY!
A mock enemy air attack designed to train Civil Defense personnel and acquaint the public with planned protective procedures is set for July 20.

YOU SHOULD
1. Tune your radio to Channel (640 or 1240) at 3:05 p. m., July 20.
2. Listen for warning sirens in your neighborhood.
3. Thank God that this is only a simulated attack and that protection is planned, prepared and provided.

Richard Holtzclaw Hailed By Critics

Music critics in Central City, Colorado are hailing the appearance of Richard Wentworth in Puccini's "La Tosca" and "The Ballad of Baby Doe" during this year's 25th Central City Festival. Richard Wentworth is Sanford's Richard Holtzclaw, a New York Opera Company bass-baritone and a newcomer to the Central City Festival.

Robert Smith, a guest critic for one of Central City's newspapers in his review of La Tosca said "Richard Wentworth, playing the role of the Sacristan, brought out the only levity in the opera. His rich, booming basso, fine diction, and his facial expression made this minor role a major success."

Another article appearing in one of the papers of the Colorado city had this to say "Wentworth, a New York City Opera Company bass-baritone, is a newcomer to the festival town. With his gracious wife, he quickly has become acclimated and even now the couple is a familiar sight quietly watching the mining town activities from a vantage point in front of the Teller House."

Allen Young, writing for a Denver Colo. newspaper commented in his column "Richard Wentworth's Sacristan was a roguish figure, the opera's most generous concession to lightness, and the richness of his baritone, which projected the words so clearly, was outstanding. His ease and feeling were warmly communicated."

They call this year's celebration and the Central City Opera House festival "a triumphant 25th anniversary production."

Quoting from another Colorado newspaper "Willabelle Underwood and Richard Wentworth are listed on the traditional wooden attraction boards on the Opera House in Central City for the first time this season. With this gesture, their names are added to the illustrious group of singers who have appeared in mining town productions during the past 25 years.

"Both artists are appearing in La Tosca performances during the 1956 season. Miss Underwood sings many alternate star assignments in the role of Flora Tosca." (Continued on Page Two)

3 p.m. Time Is Set

Tomorrow a few minutes after 3 o'clock this city will be alerted in a Civil Defense exercise based on a presumed bombing of two Florida cities. CD headquarters emphasized this morning. The hope was expressed that everyone would take advantage of this "make-believe" attack as a means of learning what should be done in the event there ever was a real air sweep by enemy planes or guided missiles.

Forrest Breckenridge, who will have charge of the network of amateur radio stations, says that the "hams" will be active in transmitting messages and orders from CD centers as though all other means of communication had been knocked out.

Every radio station in the country will go off the air at 3:10 p. m. EST tomorrow. For the next 15 minutes the only broadcasting in the nation will be by 1250 standard AM radio stations that make up the "Conelrad" network for emergency transmission.

All radios are to be tuned then to 640 or 1240, for these are the wave lengths that will be used by the Conelrad stations. For 15 minutes listeners will hear material especially prepared for Opal 66—Operation Alert 1956. All FM and TV stations will remain silent.

Public Communications Director Myron Reck says that in all probability there will be a short period of silence as the Conelrad stations adjust their wave lengths to the 640 and 1240 frequencies, but people standing by radio sets will soon hear the signal and then the messages.

Reck also commented on the airen signals that will be used at the same time to alert people. This is in accordance with the plans for national defense.

The public in general will soon again go back to their usual duties and pleasures, according to County CD Director A. B. Peterson, Sr., but the CD Corps will stay "on duty" until 2200 hours—10 p. m. on Saturday.

The exercise is designed specifically for training and is not a test of CD strength, it was pointed out.

ADAR TRAP

PASADENA, Calif. — He wanted to warn his fellow motorists, but John Tracey Stout ran afoul of the police with his sign, "Radar Trap Ahead," which he parked a short distance from Pasadena's new radar speed detection unit.

Officers took a dim view of the sign and confiscated it, but said that Stout will not be prosecuted.

"We object to the use of the word 'trap'" said Chief Clarence Morris. "However, 100 of those signs around the city might help us slow up the traffic."

BOY DROWNED

DENVER — Johnny Grimes, 6, fell into a water-filled pit yesterday and drowned. Dover is about 15 miles east of Tampa.

Things Cooling Off In Sheriff's Office

Things are not so hot in the Sheriff's office now!

Not since two Philco air conditioners have been installed.

The purchase of the 3/4 and 1-ton conditioners was approved by the Board of County Commissioners at their Tuesday morning session.

Wire TV and Radio had the two units installed in the Seminole County Sheriff's office by noon Wednesday.

"Usually when someone comes in here they're sort of hot about something and all steamed up," commented Chief Deputy Sheriff James Singletary. "Now," he said, "they cool off a little bit and most people are sort of congenial."

Sheriff Denver Cordell requested the air conditioning equipment at the July 8 meeting of the Board of Commissioners, requested bids, presented them to the commissioners Tuesday, July 17, at which time the purchase was approved.

Cost of the two air conditioners was $430.

PRESBYTERIAN PIONEERS are in a flurry of excitement getting ready for the Pioneer Conference on Weeki Wachee, July 23. Located near the mouth of the camp is a right setting for groups of pioneers to enjoy a week of greetings, friends and new acquaintances. Swimming, study, wonderful food and "a lot of fun" are the ingredients which spell "a successful time had by all." Cabins with bunk beds are the sleeping quarters and also served as the forming of teams which compete with one another during the camp activities. Going from Sanford are Diane Aiken, Al King, Eddie Hughes, Sally Robb, Margaret Gray, Ann Libby, Betty Williams, and Sally Williams.

A COOL CAT dance was held for the Junior High Students at the Celery Crate, July 2, under the recreational program direction. Seen at the dance were Delores Hargreave with Terry Christerson; Mike Davis with Sandra Anderson; and Billy Johnson with Tookie Berry. Mary Stemper who looked "very cute" brought a visitor, Joan De Vinney from St. Petersburg. Earl Sumnerall "looked awfully funny chewing all that gum." Tonight a Tropical Dance will be held. This is the very last one and all Junior High age students are invited and urged to come to "help make it the greatest" yet.

THE FRED KIRSHNERS of Raymond Studios will leave Saturday for North Carolina on a three weeks vacation after a busy season of picture taking of graduates and weddings. Mrs. Kirchner smilingly said that she and her husband were going to Balsam Springs Hotel just six miles from Waynesville high up on a mountain side, 3,500 feet to be exact! They discovered the resort some time ago clipping an advertisement from a Florida Magazine. It's a nice place to relax and drink in pure mountain air that's good for the lungs. This makes their third vacation there.

There were a lot of cute couples dancing and "a good time was had by all."

Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Martin and family spent a while at the seashore then journeyed on to Waynesville, N.C. to cool off before returning to work.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Shaffer left Monday for the mountains and other points of interest. They plan on visiting their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Shaffer in Maryland before heading for home. Their son, Bobby, accompanied them on the trip.

Jimmy Brookshire has gone to the mountains with friends for a nice long vacation.

Many other families have not as yet had their vacations, but these two favorite vacation spots predominate even then.

Mr. and Mrs. George Means plan on going to the beach following Major Means' return from camp at Annislon, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Harris and young daughter, Linda, are also planning a beach vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jones' family is divided on the mountains and seashore. Therefore, they will compromise and spend some at each.

Mr. and Mrs. John Courier and boys, Johnny and Jimmy, and Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Estes and daughter, Nancy are at New Smyrna Beach now.

Mr. and Mrs. Drady E. Mathers and family are spending most of the summer at their own place at Daytona Beach.

Deviating from the favorite spots are Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Jones and small daughter, Mary and Mrs. Jones' parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Parker. They left Sunday for Denver, Colo., and Yellowstone National Park. This is easily understood, though, as Mr. and Mrs. Parker own a place at Daytona Beach, and the two families have already had many restful days there prior to this trip.

The Reverend and Mrs. Louis L. Day and children, Brenda and Douglas, have been visiting in Covington, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Moser are spending the summer in Charlotte and Lansing, Mich., with their children, taking many interesting trips, including one to Canada while there.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wahright and family spent their vacation on a trip to Miami, Key West, up the West Coast of Florida and on to Alabama to visit their mother.

Many families are in Georgia now on vacation, too, including Mr. and Mrs. James Clements.

Mrs. Elsie Fleming, JoAnn and Peggy Fleming and Bob Ward enjoyed a trip to Albany, Ga.

Miss Carolyn Hardy is only this week returning from Ft. Wayne, Ind., where she visited her sister and brother-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. George Morgan are vacationing in Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Lawton spent their vacation at Winona Lake, Ind., with daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Mikesell.

Johnny Jones spent the week-end in Orlando with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Mae Jones, where Johnny and his cousin, Miss Beverly Ann Jones, accompanied by Miss Jones' fiancé took off for New Smyrna Beach Sunday to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morgan, Bill's parents.

Mellonville Ave. Water Tank Provides Many Gallons Of Water

It is amazing how first impressions last and last and last—never with a person being mindful of all that happens and is accomplished after an original announcement is made.

For instance—all of us were aware, a number of months ago—that the huge water tank constructed on Mellonville Avenue at the ball park, because of an engineering defect, would not work temporarily.

But there are a few in our community who have not followed the events that followed such a finding.

For instance—there are a few that are not mindful of the many hours spent by the Board of City Commissioners looking into the reasons why the water tank would not operate. The same few seem backward about realizing the number of hours spent by the City Manager and city employees in determining just why the tank would not operate to the satisfaction of the city. Neither do these people realize that many hours—weeks at a time—were spent by engineers in delving into the "bad bit of engineering" and determining the methods of correction.

And finally, the announcement was made! The water tank works!

Yes, the water tank on Mellonville Avenue—a picturesque and nice looking addition to our city water system—helps provide millions of gallons of water to our Sanford Naval Air Station, to the new homes and subdivisions created in Sanford, to the numerous homes and businesses which have been built in Sanford in the last number of modern months.

The huge red and white checkered tank is an important addition to the Sanford water system—adding pressure in the water mains that served a section of our community—providing an ample supply of water for use during emergencies—bringing our water system up to the standards that most of us demand in the service of our homes and business.

There is no avenue to take that will assure everyone—even engineers in planning such things as Sanford's new water tank—that whatever they do will be correct and perfect on the first attempt. Such a philosophy—that of being letter perfect every day, every moment, and at everything—would destroy our way of living. It would be an Utopia in which there would never be a mistake.

Yes—we have a water tank that works—thanks to the efforts of our Board of Sanford City Commissioners and the employees of the city into whose hands we place the operation of our fast-growing, prosperous, and industrious city.

In the thinking of some—we would still be dipping our water from wells and depending on springs from which wooden buckets would be filled for use in our kitchens, washers, water heaters and bathrooms.

We've come a long way since those days!

Fruit Of Our Efforts

Every now and then some American community finds itself in deep economic trouble—a possibility that is greatest in areas which are heavily dependent on one industrial company or on one farm crop for their wherewithal.

Then, as the Wall Street Journal points out, varied courses of community action are open.

A common one is to turn to the government for assistance, and have the town named a "distressed area." But this, even if successful, usually turns out to be only a palliative. And, the paper says, "the palliative, by removing the sense of urgency, has too often deterred the people themselves from building their community better."

Another course of action is for the community to get down to work and solve its problems by its own efforts.

And it can be done—for in one city which originally depended on one industry for its sustenance there are now twenty four industries of various and many kinds to provide employment for the townspeople.

In tackling its problems—which occurred at the moment of "its toughest time in history"—a committee was appointed. This was an organization similar to one which The Sanford Herald mentioned in these columns as being a "Sanford Development Commission." Success wasn't realized immediately—in fact there were some setbacks, setbacks that did not cause the committee to quit or draw in its efforts. As a matter of fact the committee's efforts were redoubled.

As a result, the community which tackled its problems on its own can boast of savings deposits, rental sales, residential construction, and other standard barometers of economic conditions holding up and showing gains.

The city reports that its people are "convinced they're weathered their worst economic storms; the town is shored up, battered and determined to stay prosperous."

We are convinced that our farms and farm products are important to Sanford and the Sanford and Seminole County area. Yet, we are also convinced that the small farmer must again become an integral part of the farm program; we are convinced that the Navy is the bulwark of our economic life; but we also convinced that there are many other industries that can be brought to Sanford, Seminole County and our immediate area, to bolster the sagging economy in event of distress in any one segment of our community's industrial life.

Actually, the moral is expressed in the last line of the Wall Street Journal editorial: "It remains true that whatever people build for themselves is the best built."

Herlong Report

"When do you think we will get out of here?" This is the standard greeting between members of Congress at this stage of the session. The time element is important. Let's wing advocates of the so-called civil rights program in both parties are insisting that the most far-reaching departure from states' rights one could imagine. Whatever possessed the Democratic leadership to schedule such a bill for action in the House is beyond me. All that it possibly accomplish is to drive a wedge between the northern and southern elements of the Democratic party. The only excuse I can see for its being brought up at this time is that the Democratic leadership in the House is trying to run a foot race with the Republicans to see who can out-bid each other for the Negro vote. I just don't get this philosophy of both sides saying: "Forget about your old loyal, proven friends and their rights to be pursued instead of being protected. Let's see what we can do in order to buy new friends."

President Eisenhower's personal endorsement of this legislation will cause most Republicans to vote for it. All northern Democrats will also vote for it. It then remains for us in the Southern group to use every parliamentary maneuver possible in order to prevent its coming to a final vote.

I am going to tell you some of the provisions that are in this bill. They are so fantastic that it will be hard for you to believe them, but I can assure you they are correct. The bill provides in effect that the government will pay a $12 per diem and expense money for volunteer informers on alleged "civil rights" violations. State courts could be bypassed at the whim of a politically appointed Attorney General of the United States. He would give free legal service including the prosecution of a suit for money to help any agitator, malcontent, or screwball haul into a federal court.

I don't think this is any time or there is any way we can tamper with a matter as important as this. It ought to make any loyal American's blood boil. The sad thing is, as I have previously stated, they have enough votes to pass iniquitous legislation like this.

U. S., Russia Affect Each Other

BY JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — Unless the United States and Russia reach agreement on disarmament—and there's no sign of it—both will be cutting their armed forces while increasing their ability to blow each other off the map.

Both sides are having an effect on each other by their insistence on their peaceful intentions although Secretary of State Dulles continues to follow in public a tough anti-Soviet line of "don't hand me that stuff."

Last spring Premier Bulganin announced Russia would cut its military spending and its armed forces by 1,300,000 men. He called on the United States to do the same.

Dulles, speaking for the administration, rejected such a course on the grounds that it would not be in the United States' interest. At the same time he tried to belittle the Russian manpower cut. But now, a month later, the New York Times reports Adm. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, has proposed that American armed forces be reduced by 800,000 men by 1950. Radford has not denied the story, though he said no decision has been reached. He did say in part:

"It's a pretty good bet he would be thinking of cutting American ground forces—a big cut would hit the Army hardest. If he feared the Russians were either going to increase their military manpower or start a war any time soon, Dulles, who in June sought to brush off a cut in Russian military manpower, told Congress in early July the chances of Russia's starting a war are less now than they were a year ago.

Meanwhile, both sides—developing nuclear weapons, long-range planes to deliver them, and in time perhaps intercontinental missiles—will recognize the ability of each to destroy the other in a holocaust if either starts a war.

Both will use their power as a discouragement against the other. But American reliance on nuclear discouragement against the start of a big war doesn't answer this question: If the United States doesn't have a good-sized ground force, how can it stop small wars? It could use airpower and atomic weapons. But would that stop a small war or start a big one? Use of atomic weapons by this country, even in a small war, might bring retaliation by Russia on a larger scale. Where would that end?

There is another question: If the United States reduces its armed forces so much that it has to withdraw troops from overseas, main reliance is put on the Air Force and nuclear weapons—seems certain. It won't be done without a lot of examination in Congress.

Radford recognized that problem, for he said: "The United States has military obligations with the security of the free world which it will not unilaterally change."

That American armed forces will be reduced in size—while the States to cut its forces by reducing its own further. It may do that.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERR

A GENT STROLLING down Broadway noticed two rather prim old ladies hovering nervously outside a bar, and thought that "those nice old gals are trying to work up enough courage to enter." Then he overheard their conversation.

"Come on, you spoilsport," urged one. "Let's crash the joint!"

"No, ma'am," insisted the other. "I say we skip this time."

They are singing the praises of an obstetrician in Dayton, O., who has two fixed charges for his services: $100 or $200. "Do you look up your patients' financial rating before you decide?" he was asked. "Not at all," the obstetrician answered. "I base my charge on the first question the father asks me when I come out of the delivery room. If he says 'Is it a boy or a girl?' he gets a $200 charge. But if he says 'Is my wife all right, doctor?' I bill him for only a hundred."

Exercise Can Help Mom To Get Back Her Figure

By MERIAM N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

GETTING your figure back after giving birth to a baby every stretch your head around—not now and then is quite a problem, over—you can see your right hip.

A few simple exercises, however, should go a long way toward helping you regain that streamlined appearance. While it tells you how to perform these exercises, let me caution you not to attempt them without the approval of your personal physician.

You can help the uterus this way:

Face down in bed. Place a pillow under your lower abdomen and another under your ankles to raise them. Then, with palms up, relax. Just let the uterus fall back into position.

It's also essential, of course, to wear a properly supported bra—start immediately following birth of a baby. The delicate breast tissue needs special protection during this period.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
D. H.: I have excessive tearing of my eyes. What causes this?
Answer: This can be caused by infection or disease of the eye. However, the most common cause is usually some disturbance of the tear duct sac. This can be readily remedied by a physician.

Man-Made Struggles Are Worse

By SAM DAWSON

NEW ORLEANS—The ceasing of oil hammer struggles to keep going today against man-made hazards that some call worse than the natural ones.

But the price under the tidelands of the Gulf of Mexico and along the coast of California is too rich, the rate of discovery too much higher than on dry land, to let to quest for oil halt entirely, if that can be helped.

The man-made hazards are: a steel strike that pinched tight pipe supplies to a rickety; squabbles between federal and state governments over who owns how much of the submerged lands—and even over where the coast line actually is; discussion between the governments and the oil companies on how much more land shall be leased, for how much; how operations shall be regulated, and who gets how much tax money.

While Louisiana and the U.S. Interior Department, under U. S. Supreme Court direction, discuss terms on just where the state's territorial waters end and Uncle Sam's jurisdiction begins, and while California permits its leasing plans, oil companies hunt for pipe to keep on with such drilling as they are now permitted. That includes drilling already under way by 19 rigs in the disputed area off the Louisiana coast. New leasing and new drilling starts there were enjoined by the court. In all some some 30 rigs were operated in mid-July.

Oil wells already producing for miles out into the Gulf weren't hit by the strike—their casings are already in place. Some 676 wells now produce 115,000 barrels of crude oil a day.

The last time Louisiana leased submerged land, July 15, 1953, it granted 84 leases, covering 33,000 acres for $200,000 an acre—average of around $240 an acre.

This quickly runs into money. Two subsidiaries of California Standard Oil have spent $5 million dollars for rights to 300,000 acres off the Louisiana and Texas shores and now produce around 26,000 barrels a day. It also has a million-dollar lease on 74,000 acres off Florida, and awaits the go sign in

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Marine Studios Produces Film 'Secrets Of Reef'

MARINELAND — Marine Studios, widely known as a tourist attraction, has now ventured into the field of feature motion picture production. "Secrets of the Reef", a 72-minute film in color, will have its world premiere in New York City on July 23 at the Baronet Theatre where "Madame Butterfly" has been playing. Comprised entirely of shots made especially for it, "Secrets of the Reef" records the beginning of life of many creatures of the reef and follows them as they grow, seek their own food, fight for survival and eventually reproduce. The constant and flowing movement in the strange marine world makes a dramatic story with frequent touches of both romance and comedy. The only performers in the film are the inhabitants of the reef: octopus, sea horse, moray eel, spiny lobster, brachyuran, odd shrimps and crabs and many miscellaneous reef fish. "Cue," a magazine widely read by New York's visitors, has recommended the film highly saying it is a "fascinating drama of life under the sea; incredibly wonderful and beautiful; a memorable film for everyone." Marine Studios was planned originally to facilitate underwater photography of marine life, but its popularity with tourists altered that plan. "Secrets of the Reef," shot at the Studios and on location in the Bahamas, is the first theatrical feature made by the attraction.
