NURSES ARE NEEDED BADLY EVERYWHERE

SEMINOLE CHAPTER HAS APPEAL FOR WOMEN.

If you are a trained nurse, a practical nurse or a nurse of any description the Red Cross urgently asks that you get in touch with Mrs. Henry Wight, telephone 328, Sanford, and have her list you for such service as you feel that you can perform.

The Red Cross is sorely in need of nurses abroad and in army camps in this country. Besides the spread of Spanish influenza is being checked only through the assistance of careful common sense nursing and women are needed for this service all over Florida and very likely numbers will be required here at home.

The Seminole County Chapter Red Cross must have the names of all available nurses and if you are experienced, even that experience is limited, you will perform a highly patriotic duty by getting in communication with Mrs. Wight, at once.

The Red Cross does not expect nurses available to serve without compensation but will pay them adequate salaries for services in all cases where nurses are required.

If you have no phone or if for any reason you cannot communicate with Mrs. Wight, list yourself with any of the following branch chapters: Chuluota, Mrs. Brumley; Ovidio, Mrs. B. G. Smith; Geneva, Mrs. Carlett; Altamonte, Mrs. Ballard; Longwood, Mrs. Harloway. These ladies will in turn place your name and qualifications with the committee designated to handle the influenza malady now sweeping the country. This appeal is direct to you. It is the time that the Red Cross can and will serve at home and it is the time when you can serve as truly patriotic as though you were in France.

All persons now in attendance upon influenza cases and who require contagious ward masks can secure them without charge by phoning Mrs. David Swope, phone 30 or to Mrs. Wight, phone 328. The Red Cross will also supply these masks to physicians anywhere in Seminole county upon application by the physicians themselves.

Edison Electric Company is offered to plant and erect a mill to sugar cane and to furnish mill to sugar cane and to furnish mill the capital, approximately $5,000 necessary to build and equip a first-class cane syrup mill, provided the Havana Cane Products Company will put up the additional $5,000.

Precinct No. 4, Paola: T. E. Wilson, clerk, and F. A. Johnson, A. A. Hicks and B. F. James, as inspectors. Precinct No. 5, Ovidio: H. B. McCall, clerk, and J. B. Jones, N. F. Lezette, and Rev. Wm. Stone, as inspectors. Precinct No. 6, Geneva: A. A. Moran, clerk, and E. N. Sutton, J. W. Flynn and C. A. Palmer, as inspectors. Precinct No. 7, Chuluota: L. B. Collins, clerk, and D. S. Drawdy, Wm. Jacobs, and D. E. Hart, as inspectors. Precinct No. 8, Gabriella: P. E. Redditt, clerk, and S. E. Mathers, W. Moreman, and T. J. Brannon, as inspectors. Precinct No. 9, Longwood: J. N. Senrey, clerk, and D. H. Hooker, L. J. Hartley, Jr., and G. E. LaVigne, as inspectors. Precinct No. 10, Lake Mary: A. E. Sjoblom, clerk, and J. G. Martin, B. C. Ingersoll and W. V. Dunn, as inspectors. Precinct No. 11, Altamonte: Howard, C. Lyman, clerk, and J. W. Osteen, A. L. Henkel, and A. H. Fuller, as inspectors.

There being no further business the board stands adjourned to meet Wednesday, October 16th, 1918, at 10 o'clock p. m.

RED CROSS IS READY TO SERVE

VOLUNTEER SERVICES TO CITY FOR INFLUENZA.

Seminole Chapter Red Cross, is ever ready and willing to help where help is needed. Last year when the trachoma attacked the eyes of the school children and operations were necessary and so many of them were helpless almost it was the Red Cross ladies that nursed them and watched over them day and night and earned the everlasting gratitude of parents and children. And aside from their noble war work they are here for local work and now that influenza is prevalent in the land and apt to become epidemic here at any time the Red Cross stands ready and willing to take its share of the work and from making garments or antiseptic masks to actual nursing, the Red Cross is ready to serve.

Mayor Davison and the county commissioners are in receipt of the following letter volunteering the services of this noble band of workers: Sanford, Fla., Oct. 9, 1918:

Respectfully addressed to: The Honorable Mayor, City of Sanford, Fla.

The Board of Health of the County of Seminole, Florida, is suffering from Spanish Influenza.

In compliance with Division instructions, I take pleasure in advising you that the Seminole County Chapter, Red Cross, is well supplied in various kinds of hospital garments, material, etc., and we have at our command nurses adequate to affiliate with the health authorities of Sanford and Seminole County, should our services be required in stamping out the recent epidemic of Spanish influenza.

Where families are totally disabled and caretakers, nurses or housekeepers are needed, kindly advise us and we will gladly render such assistance as is necessary. In other words we are prepared in every way to cooperate with you in every sense where our services are demanded.

Very truly yours, Mrs. David Swope, Chairman.

Sanford Public Library

As a "war-time measure" necessary, until further notice there will be but two days for the distribution of books and magazines as follows: On Tuesday, from 10 a. m. to 12 m. and on Saturday, from 10 a. m. to 12 m. It is regretted that the shelves will have to be made, but it is from the fact that some of the very faithful workers in the library have moved away. Other workers are urgently needed. It is certainly a matter of pride to every citizen that our city's public library be kept up to its greatest efficiency. Volunteers are asked for, who recognize the labor and responsibility involved, but a grand opportunity to render a public and patriotic duty.

Arthur S. Peck, Pres't. Mrs. May Dickins, Sec'y.

Stores Close Tomorrow Afternoon

By the proclamation of the President the Sanford stores will close tomorrow afternoon from 12 to 4 and this time will be devoted to selling Liberty Bonds and other patriotic work. Please remember this and make your purchases in the morning or wait until after 4 in the afternoon. The big parade and celebration was called off an account of the influenza and the quiet campaign will be carried on in the interest of the Liberty Loan. Let Saturday be another "Volunteer Day" and be ready for the bond salesmen when they approach you or go to the banks Monday and take a bond.

Funeral of Jesse Cochran

Trade City, Fla., Oct. 9. Amid feelings of mingled sorrow and pride a vast throng of sympathizing friends and loved ones met at the Presbyterian church at 11 o'clock Oct. 6, to attend the double funeral of two of Trade City's noble sons, Jesse Cochran and Richard Craig who, on hearing their country's call, offered their lives in its service and have both made the supreme sacrifice, dying the same day, which seemed a strange coincidence indeed, as they were devoted friends and chums, often speaking of what they would do when they came back home together. Alas, "man proposes and God disposes." The church was wonderful with its emblems of Old Glory streaming from every window, covering the entire end of the church back of the pulpit and hanging at half mast around the altar place, where rested our beloved dead, Revs. Abraham Poag, Tolow and Thomason assisted in the service, which was appropriate. The music was lovely. Particularly fitting was the song, "Sometime We'll Understand." The remains were escorted to church and cemetery by the Home Guards, in full uniform. The tolling of the old church bell, 21 strokes for the years of the lives of our brave lads was a solemn and fell with hammer blows on many hearts present.

The End of Toll Bridges

At a meeting of the board of county commissioners on Monday the following resolution, offered by the commissioner from DeLand was passed: Resolved, That the chairman and clerk of this board be authorized and instructed to correspond with the chairman and clerks of the boards of county commissioners of Lake and Seminole counties and ascertain their views with reference to the purchase of the several counties of the bridges over the St. Johns river at Crows Bluff and Barden Ferry.

It is not quite clear just now what procedure may be necessary to acquire these bridges. An act of the legislature, authorizing joint action by the three counties interested, may be necessary before the bridges may be bought or others built.

In this connection, the bridges across the Halifax and upper Indian Rivers should also be purchased. The owners of the toll bridge at Port Orange complain that the bridge is not paying, running expenses, and are applying for an increase in toll rates. The president of the company, Mr. S. H. Gove of Daytona has been requested to make a proposition to the commissioners for the sale of this bridge to the county, with the idea of making a free bridge. Whether or not this can be done while the war lasts, depends on the proposition made and the authority of the board to make the purchase for the county.—DeLand News.

ANSWER TO FAKE PEACE OFFER FROM KAISER.

Vigorously pressing the advantage by breaking the German line between Cambrai and St. Quentin, the British, French and American armies have widened the great wedge in this area to such an extent that the entire German front from Rheims north seems to be collapsing.

The disintegration of this line is being hastened by the vigorous strokes delivered by the French along the Aisne, while further east the German left flank in the active battle area is being hammered hard by other French forces and the American army in the Champagne, Argonne and in the Verdun regions.

Most telling in its immediate effect is the thrust by Field Marshal Haig southeast of Cambrai where American troops also are operating. The British commander has swung the main direction of his drive northeast and already has pushed to within two miles of the important railway junction of Le Cateau.

The taking of Le Cateau, which seems imminent will cut the last of the lateral railway lines connecting the German northern front with the great salient of Laon and apparently will make inevitable the evacuation of the entire Laon area. Before Le Cateau the British are on a line fully 10 miles in advance of a longitudinal line running between Cambrai and St. Quentin, having swept through the greater part of this area in great strides driving before them a disorganized enemy. The resistance of the Germans was reported to be stiffening during the night, however, indicating that a stand might be made in an effort to save the railway junction as long as possible.

Meanwhile farther south the French are pushing toward the Oise in the general direction of Guise. They have made particularly notable progress east, and southeast of St. Quentin, where they are closely approaching the river. Their column here have passed Fontaine-Notre-Dame nearly six miles directly east of St. Quentin. This push is likewise having a marked effect in closing the Laon pocket.

In the north the wedge driven from Cambrai east is already affecting the front north to Lens. The British 1st army is moving forward here in the direction of Douai, which seems the next great town marked for capture by the allies along the British section of the line.

The American army under General Pershing is not being outdone by the other allied forces in the delivery of hard blows upon the trembling German defensive system. The thrust east of the Meuse in the Verdun area is being followed up by further attacks which have resulted in the advance of the line here well up toward that won by the offensive west of the river.

In the Argonne where a junction has been effected with the French at Langon, thus virtually clearing the forest of Germans, new attacks were launched this morning. All the recent gains of Gen. Pershing's men have been held, notwithstanding the throwing in of German reserves.

Not the least interesting development of the American campaign is the work of the air forces which evidently have been assembled in such numbers that an American bombing expedition which dropped more than thirty tons of bombs on German areas on Wednesday comprised no less than 350 machines.

London, Oct. 10.—The city of Cambrai has been captured and eight thousand prisoners taken by the British is officially announced by General Haig. The Anglo-American attack was resumed this morning and rapid progress is being made. Last night additional progress was being made east of Sequehart and towards Rohrin and Bareth.

In North Cambrai the British have captured Meranville, and have reached the western outskirts of Welincourt. The attack this morning was on the front occupied by the Third and Fourth armies and began at five thirty o'clock.

BUILDING MORALE OF JEWISH TROOPS

Work of Jewish Welfare Board Producing Splendid Results in Camps and Trenches

No more effective work toward maintaining the highest morale among the American troops has been done by any war organization than by the Jewish Welfare Board, which is engaged in its task of keeping up the line of communication between the Jewish men in the trenches and training camps and the folks back home.

Believing that in the struggle of morale against "kultur" the American army has every advantage that will insure success, the Jewish organization is making its chief issue the stiffening of mental and moral fibre among the soldiers of the Hebrew faith. The call for workers is urgent and rabbin, professional men, journalists, social workers and others are entering the service of the Jewish Welfare Board to make up the 400 workers needed to fill the ranks.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS ANXIOUS FOR BOOKS

American Library Association Providing Reading Matter for Boys on Battle Fronts

Despite the fact that the ocean transportation facilities are being taxed to the utmost, the task of providing reading matter for the boys in the trenches is being handled with an efficiency and dispatch that is surprising even to those who are closely in touch with the situation.

The American Library Association, which has shouldered the responsibility of collecting books, magazines and newspapers by the millions in every city and town throughout the country, is distributing this huge quantity of reading matter to the men in France through the Y. M. C. A., the Red Cross, the Knights of Columbus and the Salvation Army.

Food Value of Fish.

SANFORD FATHERS

This Message is Addressed to You Heads of Families
---Personally. It Explains Why You Should Make Your Fourth Liberty Loan Subscription a Family Affair.

Some day this week a Liberty Loan worker will come for your subscription.

He will tell you that Sanford's quota is doubled—that the quota of every subscriber in Sanford is doubled. You can't get around that. It is plain arithmetic. You can't side-step it by thinking that perhaps a lot of people will subscribe to this loan who didn't subscribe to the other loans. For the records show that a large per cent of the families in Seminole county have already subscribed to previous loans.

Now then it is as plain as anything can be, that the subscription of every family in Sanford this time has got to be twice what it was last time.

We needn't spend much time discussing why this has got to be raised. There isn't a true American Father in this country who doesn't realize that we have got to lick the Hun to protect these families of ours, that we have got to lick him quickly. And that to lick him, billions in money is just as important as millions of men.

No need to tell you heads of families that it takes cash—lots of it—to buy food and clothes. With a million of our boys there now, and millions on the way well, just check over your last month's household expenses. You will see why we have got to dig, and dig deep even to pay for the food and clothing—to say nothing of guns, ammunition, trucks, and a thousand and one things required in modern war-making.

So we can put this down as a fact about which there can be no argument—we have got to double our subscriptions.

"But," you will say, "how am I going to do it?"

That's a fair question.

Of course you subscribed last time, and probably to the two previous loans besides.

It may have taken all the spare money—and then some to pay. But that doesn't relieve a single family of the duty of subscribing double to this Fourth Liberty Loan.

There isn't any choice about this matter. We MUST do it.

We Americans don't like that word "must."

But there are certain times when no other word can be used. This is one of them.

You MUST buy food and clothing for your family—you don't dodge that "must." You take it as a matter of course.

And here comes another "must" that you can't dodge if you make any pretense of being a true American.

Buying food, clothing and munitions for our boys over there is just as high—just as important, a duty as providing for your family.

And you not only MUST double your subscription, but you can.

Here's the way to do it:

Make this subscription a family affair. Perhaps you have subscribed to previous loans without consulting them about it.

Perhaps the other loans have simply absorbed the surplus money or the savings. This time it is going to be a hard pull—it is going to demand some sacrificing.

You can't do the sacrificing alone.

There is just so much money coming in. If the family spends it all for living expenses, there will be none left for Liberty Bonds. That's a simple matter of figures.

Take this question up with the family tonight—Perhaps at the dinner table. It is serious—it's the most serious question you have ever discussed. Put it up to them straight from the shoulder:

"Father can't do this thing alone. He has got to have the help of the whole family."

"Father is going to work harder this year than ever before in his life and see if he can't increase the family income."

"But that isn't enough."

"Mother, how much help can I depend on, from you—how much can you cut off from the living expenses to help make up our doubled Liberty Loan subscription?"

"And Son and Daughter, there's a lot of things you can do. A little less spent for clothes and amusements will help Father to put over this larger Liberty Loan subscription."

Fathers—that is a sensible thing to do. Don't put it off. Take this important question up with the family tonight, so you will be ready for the Liberty Loan worker when he comes this week.

Working together you and the family can do this big thing you are called upon to do. Working alone, you will find it hard—perhaps impossible.

What do you say?

Tear out this page now, before you forget, as a reminder. Perhaps you had better show it to them tonight when you talk it over.

tached, but are in reality all in one. Cotton voile is used to make this model. The back of the waist extends slightly over the shoulders to form a yoke and the open neck has a collar perforated for square or round outline. The one-piece sleeves are gathered to straight cuffs finished with narrow ruffles. Pockets trim the one-piece skirt with straight lower edge. The straight belt is closed in front and is trimmed at the top with a straight gathered ruffle. In medium size the model calls for 3 1/2 yards 36-inch material.

Perhaps it would be better for the home dressmaker to start cutting the dress directly as illustrated in the guide. Take two open widths of material, right sides facing, for the piece for the skirt. After placing the piece in position there will remain sufficient material for the pocket, sleeve and wrist cuffs, each of which has the large "O" perforations resting on a lengthwise thread of the voile.

Take the material that remains and fold it in half. Lay the skirt so that the triple "TTT" perforations rest on the lengthwise fold of material. To the right, place the front of the waist, with large "O" perforations on a lengthwise thread. The back comes next, with triple "TTT" perforations on the lengthwise fold, then the collar and stay, placed the same as on the back. Along the selvage edge opposite lay the belt and below the collar, for the stay.

These dresses are also very pretty developed in chambray and gingham, which will be worn all season, under comfortable coats, by many girls. Rose, blue and the smart shades of brown are recommended, with the frills on the belt, pockets and cuffs of white batiste.

Every Six Minutes a Merchant Vessel Moves at an American Port.

TRAFFIC CHARTS ARE USED

Every Minute of Time and Pound of Cargo Noted and Thus Each Vessel is Used to Utmost to Speed War Plan.

Washington—Every six minutes a merchant vessel arrives and another departs from American ports. From New York to Alaska, reports there is a departure every eleven minutes—and for Europe every forty minutes. This rate of operation does not include vessels in the service of the army or navy.

The merchant fleet of 1,500 ships under the control of the United States shipping board is run as a railroad on a time schedule. The duty of measuring ships' performances, with their tasks, is lodged with the planning and statistics division of the shipping board, headed by E. H. Gay, formerly dean of the Harvard Graduate School of Business.

Obviously the division must know the tasks in detail, and so it co-ordinates with the war industries and war trade boards in determining and providing for the country's needs from abroad. It works on month to month schedules, or as far in advance as it is feasible or possible to forecast.

Works With All Departments.

In planning the use of ships the division works with the food administration in determining the shipping requirements for food; with the war department in correlating shipping with the requirements of the line of supplies for the western front; with the war industries board in seeking solution of the problem of bringing necessary raw imports into the country, and with the war trade board in preparing the lists of essential imports and exports.

As the country has gone more and more on a war basis, it has been regarded necessary to limit the list of essential imports to less than 100. Data on the ships and their trade provide the basis for operation of the vessels under the shipping board's control. Likewise records are kept of neutral vessels coming to this country or linking up with its foreign trade.

Thus the division checks daily about 7,000 vessels, 1,500 of them being those of the shipping board, 3,000 engaged directly in American commerce and 2,500 scattered over the world trading for the most part with the allies or their colonies. Roughly, one-fourth of the merchant ships of the world are watched by the shipping board.

Charts for Each Ship.

Ship performances against tasks are recorded by "progress charts," which show at a glance what the vessels have to do and how they are doing it. Each set of charts is divided into ten divisions—one each for movements of vessels, turn-around, ships' charts of commodities, individual commodity charts, summary of imports, individual charts, summary of trades, ship charts of experts, performances in ports and dock performances. Copies are distributed every ten days to governments which require constant information about the movement of supplies.

If these movement charts are information regarding locations and movements of vessels is accessible, and from past performances one may forecast the time of future voyages.

The summary on shipping and trade, prepared every ten days for the war industries and war trade boards and the food administration, helps shape the larger policies underlying the use of American ships in war time. The charts tell whether the ships allocated to a certain trade are enough, too many or too few; whether they bring in too little or too much; whether they are on time; ahead of time or behind time; and whether the trade movement is too slow, too fast or just right. The charts also serve to guide the ship control committee in the assignment of vessels to various trades. By comparing import requirements against deliveries the charts show when vessels may be transferred from one trade to another or released to the army.

HUT SERVICE PROVIDED FOR MEN IN BRITAIN

Knights of Columbus Establish Huts for Soldiers in England

London—The Knights of Columbus in Great Britain are making remarkable progress in their efforts to provide facilities that will enable men in the United States forces (overseas) to enjoy such social entertainment as will help to relieve the routine of military and naval life. Up to the present writing they have established clubs at the following posts: 266 Edgeware Road, London; Market Drayton, Littlehampton, and Liverpool. Temporary structures have been erected in many of the larger camps, which are to be replaced shortly by substantial huts.

To date 2,000 soldiers have been called for and the response is bringing splendid proof of their gratitude and ready sympathies. Each man over thirty-five years of age and placed himself unconditionally at the service of the organization, to whose ever post of danger or hardship he may be called.

Why Suffer?

CARDUI

"In a few days, she began to improve." Mrs. Cox continues, "and had no trouble at all... Cardui cured her, and we sing its praises everywhere." We receive many thousands of similar letters every year, telling of the good Cardui has done for women who suffer from complaints so common to their sex. It should do you good, too. Try Cardui.

Keep the Hun On the Run!

4th LIBERTY LOAN

FINISH THE JOB NOW!

We MUST finish the job NOW, when our boys in France have the Hun on the run.

Not all of us can wear a uniform and carry a rifle, but we can back up the boys with our dollars and prove to them that we are with them to our last cent.

The best way to prove to Kaiser Wilhelm that all America is in this war to win is to provide the money to pay the war bills—sixty-seven million dollars a day it costs Uncle Sam. The best way to pay it is to invest in Liberty Bonds and do it now.

We will have to pay these bills in some way. If we do not lend the money and let it earn interest for us, we must pay it in the form of increased taxes, where we will get back neither money nor interest. What's the answer?

We don't have to put up $100 or $200 or $500 in cash for our bonds. The banks have arranged a six months payment schedule, and the first payment of ten per cent falls due October 21.

Make you have a boy "over there." Will you let him fight and risk his life when you refuse to deny yourself some luxury to back him up with food and blankets and guns and ammunition? We don't believe there's a man in this country! Let's go "over the top" this week.

PORTABLE HOUSE BEST FOR SWINE

Advantage of Movable Cot Is That It Is Easily Changed Around Pastures.

SELECT WELL-DRAINED SITE

Wooden Floors Are Good but Not Necessary—Should Be Higher Than Outside Level of Ground to Insure Dryness.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A well-drained site should be selected for the hog house and, if possible, there should be sufficient elevation to give the hogs a climb in reaching it. If practicable the house should occupy the south side of a hill.

Principles of construction: Four important things should be observed in hog house construction; namely, light, ventilation, warmth, and cleanliness. Light is provided by placing the house along a north and south line and by putting in suitable doors and windows. Doors, windows, and roof ventilation furnish a proper interchange of air. Hogs need good ventilation as well as people. A well-constructed house with good floor and bedding provides sufficient warmth.

Make Quarters Comfortable. Let it be remembered that the hog has little natural protection from cold; hence the necessity for comfortable quarters. Cement makes a satisfactory floor, but in colder climates must be covered with wooden false floors. A good floor makes it much easier to keep the house clean. The arrangement of the house should be such that the beds and feed floors are well separated.

There are two general classes of houses—large community or stationary, and small individual or movable. The large house has individual pens and is intended for quite a number of hogs. The advantages of the large house are: It is more economical for a large number of hogs; it is convenient for feeding and affords provision for saving manure. If the house is to be quite large it is usually advisable to arrange the pens in two rows with an alleyway between them. The alley should be 4 to 6 feet wide unless it is desirable to have space for the passing of a wagon. In that event the alley should be 8 to 10 feet wide.

Individual Hog House. The individual house, as the name suggests, is intended for one hog or for a sow and her brood. One decided advantage of the individual or portable house is that it can be moved from place to place and can thus be kept sanitary and made accessible to pastures. There are two general styles of individual houses, namely, the box-shaped with four upright walls and the A-shaped. The dimensions should be 6 feet by 10 feet, or 8 feet by 8 feet. Wooden floors are good, but not necessary. The floor should be higher than the outside level of the ground, to insure dryness. All houses should be sufficiently high to permit the attendant to move about them with comparative freedom. By placing fenders on the walls a few inches from the floor, individual houses may be used for farrowing pens.

When a number of sows are kept on a farm it may be desirable to have a regular farrowing pen. A small house provided with fenders serves as a farrowing pen. Fenders may be made of 2 by 6-inch scantling and firmly attached to the walls of the pen some 6 inches above the floor. The object of the fender is to prevent the sow overlying young pigs.

Keep Flies in Check. Every farm should have as a part of its equipment a sprayer of some sort as well as suitable fly traps so that the flies may be kept in check as far as their tormenting the stock is concerned.

Object in Applying Lime. The purpose of applying lime to the soil is to correct or neutralize acidity or sourness of the soil and improve the tilth or mechanical condition.

Good Type of Individual Hog House—This House Has a Number of Windows and Doors Which Can Be Opened to Provide Ventilation When Weather Conditions Permit.
