HACKENSACK, N. J. — A sheriff's spokesman, on today's scheduled auction of the $100,000 Fort Lee mansion of slain mobster Albert Anastasia: "They call it beautiful, but I wouldn't give five bucks for it."

LOS ANGELES — Samuel H. Morgan, Minnesota Bar Association official, on lawyers' fees: "A doctor may look down your throat, see an inflamed condition, prescribe a pill, all in five or 10 minutes, and send a bill for $5. A lawyer is apt to listen to his client's story for an hour, spend perhaps 10 times that in study and investigation, then spend several hours more forming an opinion. The client may, however, see only an hour or so of time, and feel that a charge of more than $25 or $30 is unwarranted."

Attending were 32 Kadets, W. E. Dixon, unit commander, and John O'Hara, unit commander. In addition to their training, the Kadets also participated in a variety of sports, including horseback riding, swimming and archery. The Kadet school is located one mile south of Savannah on a 100-acre farm. On the school grounds are dining tables, an athletic field, dormitories, parade fields and a recreation hall.

Forecasters said Daisy probably would pick up in forward speed to about 100 miles per hour during the day with "gradual increase in intensity."

Moore said Daisy may develop into a full fledged hurricane with winds of 75 miles an hour or higher. He said it had a well-defined center and circulation and was in an area of warm seas that would tend to aid the build-up of its rain and wind intensity.

A Navy "hurricane hunter" plane found Daisy northeast of the British Bahamas late Sunday. The plane tracked it late into the night with radar.

There is no immediate danger to the coastline today," said Moore, "but we will get a better line on this new storm when the reconnaissance planes take a look at it in daylight."

It was significant that the weather bureau had not yet ordered a "storm watch" on any part of the coastline.

Highest winds in the tempest were 55 miles per hour over a 100-mile area near the center. Squalls with gale force winds extended 125 miles outward in the eastern semicircle and about 60 miles to the west.

Economy Nearing Greatest Growth, Local Group Told

The American economy appears to be nearing the greatest decade of growth in its history, in the opinion of King Merritt, president of Merritt and Company Inc., an international investment organization with headquarters in Wall Street.

In an address before the Seminole Toastmasters Club at Sanford Naval Air Station last night, Merritt said that projections of the investment research organization with which he is associated indicate that the 1960's will considerably exceed any previous ten years in industrial expansion, construction, production of capital goods, research and development of new products.

He added that the recovery from the industrial "downturn" of last fall and early this year, while not complete, has been so rapid that he believes the country's next period of great economic growth may begin sooner than many economists believe, possibly by next year.

Merritt said that increasing awareness of investors of the advantages of owning stock in American companies has led to the tremendous growth of the mutual fund industry in recent years.

He pointed out that the record shows that this form of investment, in providing both income and opportunities for long-term growth of capital, affords an excellent means of combating inflation.

Mutual funds have become increasingly popular because: (1) they provide a stock ownership which is rapidly available to small as well as large investors; (2) they offer a stock ownership in as many as 100 American companies, and (3) risk is minimized because the investment is under the daily supervision of professional investment managers.

French Regime Seeks New Spirit Of Pride In Political Life

By KINGSBURY SMITH
United Press International
PARIS (UPI)—Creation of a new spirit of pride and achievement in French political life was described by Andre Malraux today as the major objective of Premier Charles de Gaulle's government.

The famous French author, who is "minister-delegate," is the intellectual leader of the Gaullist movement, outlined the inspirational aims of the regime in an informal talk with this correspondent.

He expressed confidence that the inspirational leadership which General De Gaulle is now giving to the French people will bring about political stability in France.

Unlike some other members of De Gaulle's government, such as Information Minister Jacques Soustelle, Malraux does not believe it will be necessary to create a new political party to implement the policies of General De Gaulle. He thinks the new spirit which the war-time leader of the Free French movement is instilling in the people will result in a reformation of the existing parties.

"One should not attribute an exaggerated importance to politics in French public life," he said. "Not more than 350,000 people are involved in party politics in France. Counting party workers and militant party members on all levels, that is less than one per cent of the population.

"The French people are disgusted with politics, with the 'game,' as it has been played in recent years. They are disillusioned with existing parties and they would be just as skeptical toward any new party that claimed it was going to replace the others.

"We have a different solution in mind. That is to channel the potential enthusiasm of the French people for public affairs—which is great in spite of their contempt for the post-war actions of existing political parties—toward the accomplishment of concrete tasks in the national welfare."

Malraux cited as the type of public interest project he has in mind the creation of charitable foundations similar to the American Ford and Rockefeller foundations, which would enable private individuals and business firms to set aside funds under a tax-deductible arrangement. These funds would be used to finance scientific, cultural and social developments.

"I have," he said, "always admired the accomplishments of the American foundations, and I regard their role in the France of tomorrow as essential.

"Under the very broad powers already voted General De Gaulle's government by the legislative bodies, we have the authority to introduce the necessary measures to facilitate the creation of similar foundations, and we are preparing to do so."

Malraux said that General De Gaulle hopes to use provisions of the proposed new constitution, on which the country will vote September 28, to modernize the existing archaic governmental machine.

"We must," he said, "introduce a new spirit of efficiency in the French governmental administration. Modernization of the governmental machine will, in itself, serve to instill in the people respect for their government, something that has been sadly lacking."

Malraux believes the French people must be inspired to feel a sense of national destiny.

"When the French are devoid of a strong passion for a great cause, they tend to become cynical, to lose interest in public affairs, and to appear at their worst."

Enthusiasm Needed
"You have heard that the French dislike America in a sense that is true, but it is also true that the French Communists dislike Russia, and just like other people, the French also dislike each other. As soon as they develop genuine enthusiasm for a worth while common goal, all this is forgotten and the people become united in a fraternal spirit of goodwill. That is the spirit we are trying now to inspire."

Hero of the non-Communist French intellectual youth through his literary works, Malraux hopes to rally the youth of the nation behind the Gaullist movement and to encourage them to take a greater interest in French public affairs. However, he wishes to

20 Million Mice Year Contribute To Science

(Last month, the Air Force launched a Thor-Able missile with a mouse in its nose cone. The cone, and its passenger, were lost. A mouse had once more become a martyr in the cause of science. Here is a report on why mice are used in scientific research and how they have advanced mankind in his search for knowledge.)

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Little Mia II, the white mouse that soared into space in a U. S. missile and plunged to its doom in the Atlantic, was just one of some 20 million mice that each year give their all for mankind.

The Public Health Service Institute of Laboratory Animal Resources, Washington, D. C., gives the figure of 20 million in estimating how many mice are used annually in medical research.

The reason for this is that men and mice have a surprising number of physiological similarities. They both are, for example, omnivorous. That is, they both need and eat all kinds of food. Mice and men need virtually the same vitamins, proteins, carbohydrates and other dietary essentials. They both also need oxygen.

But just as man's first trip into outer space, when it is made, will not be due completely to what scientists learned from Mia I and Mia II, no great medical advance, as such, can be credited 100 per cent to mice.

The animals serve, rather, to help develop information which contributes to understanding needed to forge links in the chain of medical advances.

At this time, mice are used predominantly in cancer research and in the testing of new drugs for possibly harmful effects, an area in which they have served for many years.

But here are some specific examples of how the mice are being—and have been—used in medical research.

In St. Louis, Mo., Dr. Roy R. Peterson, of Washington University School of Medicine, has been studying for the past three years a Lilliputian mouse—one inch long—in connection with research concerning growth.

At birth, this mouse—in size and appearance—cannot be distinguished from other mice. Within two weeks, however, a striking difference occurs. The pygmy-sized mouse simply stops growing.

Studying the dwarf mouse's pituitary gland under an electron microscope, Dr. Peterson has observed differences in cells which he believes are linked to the shortage of growth hormones normally secreted by this gland. Aided by a grant from the National Science Foundation, the scientist today may have found the cause.

The observer predicted that once the program has had a chance to work its magic of communication, each of us will understand more about the other.

"The officer will understand that I do not grow, but because I have not seen her since she was five, I will understand that she does not grow at me because I am a convict, but because he has to pay doctor's bills, dress bills, the car payment—and here it is, well fed convict with no bills to pay, no worry about the rent."

Adams who donate and use his two ribs each through New York's "walking rib bank."

Dr. Charlotte Friend, of Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research, New York, has discovered a virus that causes leukemia in mice of all ages. And she has gone one step further, developing a vaccine that protected from 80 to 90 per cent of mice in her study from this mouse leukemia.

Mice at Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., have been exposed to an ingenious cigarette-smoking machine which forces them to inhale cigarette smoke. Dr. Fred Brock, directing this research, explains that the mice are being exposed to the smoke of 10 cigarettes smoked consecutively each day. He has observed no increase in tumor incidence in mice that have been on the experiment for more than a year.

An estimated one million mice a year are being used in the Public Health Service's $20 million-a-year cancer chemotherapy testing program. Scientists involved in this research shoot antibiotics or specially made chemicals into mice sick with cancer. And then they watch to see if the cancer regresses. When one of the compounds does something to the cancer, it's put through additional tests before being tried in humans.

The range of scientific experimentation with mice is wide. Almost every drug procedure routinely uses mice to test drugs for toxicity; one major firm, Lederle Laboratories, uses 500,000 mice a year for researching and testing new medicines. Another, Smith, Kline and French, uses mice in testing tranquilizer drugs.

California Prison Takes Air Time To Put Stop To Riots

By NORMAN KEMPSTER
FOLSOM, Calif.—(UPI)— Authorities and inmates alike at California's maximum security penitentiary here are counting on a new radio program to stop prison riots before they get a chance to start.

The program, which is carried over the prison's "Gray Network," is called "For Your Information" and features frank discussions between prison officials and a panel of inmates.

The idea, according to the inmate newspaper, the Folsom Observer, is to give the prisoners the "why" behind the rules or orders which govern the institution.

"An order—or a rule—where no understanding of its cause, reason or value is apparent to the men affected by orders and rules, is not communication," the Observer said editorially.

It is such a lack of communication that causes resentment which eventually may lead to prison riots or, less violent, but perhaps equally serious, disturbances.

The communications can work both ways. A knowledge of the needs and wants of the prisoners can aid the men who are charged with administering the institution in carrying out their jobs.

"Authority is aware that certain problems exist in all prisons," the Observer editorial continued. "But authority will never can never understand those problems until they have spent countless nights in the close cells, or lived the day by day waste of life."

William Lawson, an associate warden in charge of the radio program, said he thought it would help prison authorities understand better the feelings of inmates.

"The program is just good employee relations," Lawson said. "Already, Lawson said, it has begun to clear up misunderstandings between the jailed and the jailers."

"We find the men like to have the facts," Lawson emphasized.

The Observer predicted that once the program has had a chance to work its magic of communication, each of us will understand more about the other.

"The officer will understand that I do not grow, but because I have not seen her since she was five, I will understand that she does not grow at me because I am a convict, but because he has to pay doctor's bills, dress bills, the car payment—and here it is, well fed convict with no bills to pay, no worry about the rent."

RE-ELECT SPESARD L. HOLLAND
YOUR U. S. SENATOR
Promises are Deceptive... Records are Not!
The voters of Florida do not want a political chameleon for U. S. Senator. A political chameleon will promise anything. It changes color outwardly without any real change beneath its political skin.
Florida's future progress demands sound, sensible, stable, responsible, proved representation in the U. S. Senate.
Senator Spessard Holland provides the kind of representation that Florida needs. His impressive record is open for all to see.
Spessard Holland is the first Florida Senator in 40 years to serve on the vital Senate Appropriations Committee. He is a member of the important Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry. As a firm and courageous fighter for States' Rights, he was the principal sponsor of the Tidelands Act that brought Florida 4,000 square miles of off-shore area, including potential oil fields. Holland has been, is, and will continue to be a leader in Florida flood control and waterways projects, pest eradication, citrus development, veterans' affairs and hospitals, old-age assistance, anti-subversive legislation, and many other programs vital to Florida's welfare.
THE VOTING RECORD
His ultra-liberal opponent, the already once-rejected ex-Senator, neglected his job when he was in the Senate, compiling a very poor voting and attendance record. (Holland was on a record on 97.7% of issues vs. his opponent's 76% in three Congresses.) The former Senator supported much legislation unacceptable to Florida.
The former Senator failed Florida and the South.
In seeking re-election the former Senator is desperately trying to deny his record—a record that caused Florida voters to repudiate him in 1950.
The former Senator has become a political chameleon, trying to win votes with empty promises.
The record shows that Senator Spessard Holland is the man Florida needs. He is a leader, a doer, a man who thinks at all times of the needs of Florida and the South. He stays on the job, votes soundly, and reflects the will of those he represents.

Seminole Voters Will Get Chance To Meet Candidates Face-To-Face

Some old-fashioned politicking will take place in Longwood on Sept. 8.

The Longwood Citizens League is sponsoring a meeting in the city park. All candidates seeking county and state offices have been invited. So has the public. Each candidate will be allotted 10 minutes to tell the people of Seminole County what he believes in, how he stands on the issues of the day and what he proposes to do for the people if elected.

A more important part of the program perhaps, will be the five-minute question and answer session which will follow. At this time, the public will be able to query candidates on issues that might have been overlooked during candidates' talks.

This face-to-face meeting between office seeker and the public isn't nearly so popular as it once was. Many candidates shy away from meetings with their opponents, especially in front of hundreds of voters. Candidates in this category much prefer to make prepared statements and speeches to "clarify" stands on all major issues.

This is good reasoning, from the candidates' point of view. Voters have a habit of asking questions that put a candidate "on the spot." It's harder to answer in front of hundreds than it would be had the question been asked by an individual on a street

Racketeers Get 'Breather'

The 85th Congress, which saw the labor-management racketeers committee of the Senate amass impressive evidence of corruption in some unions, wound up by taking no action against such corruption. The task of enacting labor reform legislation cannot be tackled again until next year.

Congressional failure—more accurately, the House's failure—to act will give racketeers a welcome breathing spell. That surely was not the intention of some of the interests whose vigorous opposition impelled the House to defeat a reform bill which the Senate had passed 88 to 1 in June. But that is the net effect of inaction.

It is not a partisan conclusion that this was an unfortunate outcome. Nor is it a partisan conclusion that the matter will come up again at the next session of Congress. That is probably of more interest to the public than the fact that, in the meantime, both parties will seek to make political hay of the labor bill vote.

Church Music Universal Language

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

Take a close look at a church hymnal some day and you'll see why music is called "the universal language."

There is no denominational gulf so wide that it can't be bridged by a good hymn.

The fact that Christians are more united when they sing than any other time is demonstrated by a new hymnal recently adopted by eight major Lutheran bodies associated in the National Lutheran Council.

Martin Luther is represented by seven hymns, including "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God." But Luther is a minor contributor compared to Michael Charles Wesley, who has 17 hymns in the collection.

Luther also is outnumbered, eight hymns to seven, by Frederick William Faber. Faber, it may surprise some Lutherans to learn, was a devout Roman Catholic, who lived in England in the early 19th century. His hymns are found in many Protestant service books.

They include such favorites as "Faith of Our Fathers" and "There's a Wideness in God's Mercy."

Catholic Contributors Hymns
Another Catholic whose work appears in the new Lutheran hymnal, as well as in many other Protestant hymnals, is John Henry Newman, who fled the Church of England and became a Cardinal of the Roman Church. His best-known hymn is "Lead, Kindly Light."

corner. At a meeting such as the one planned in Longwood, the candidate is unable to put his answer on a "personal" basis. He must be able to think of an answer which would not inject a thought of favoritism, yet an answer which would satisfy the man who asked the question.

For those with a sincere desire to serve, this will afford an opportunity to find out what the people want.

Timber South's Top Crop

The South is the nation's number one paper-producing area. Timber for paper mills and other forest-using industries is the South's number one cash crop.

About 1,200 cords of wood are needed daily to provide pulp for an Arkansas mill which didn't exist a year ago. Most of this wood, as is the case in most Southern states, will be bought from a wide area.

In addition to the cash paid timber producers, the pulp and paper industry is creating thousands of new jobs for Southerners.

To keep this new type industry coming South, Florida and other states need only keep growing and conserving timberlands. Fire is the biggest enemy of woodlands and the majority of woods fires are started by people. Please be careful with matches, cigarettes and campfires when traveling through areas populated with beautiful pines.

Cost Of Living Increases

The cost of living spiral climbed to another all-time high in July, the government has reported. This was the 21st time in the last 23 months that the spiral has reached a new high.

Government officials hope that living costs will level out in coming months. However, this hope has been expressed before. President Eisenhower has urged, time and again, that the economy be stabilized. He has cautioned against wholesale wage increases, which bring about price increases on the part of industry and higher retail prices to consumers.

The merry-go-round continues despite repeated warnings of increased inflation. The latest cost of living index increases means wage increase of from one to four cents an hour for some 500,000 workers whose pay is tied to the cost of living.

Manufacturers will not bear this increased cost. It will be passed along to consumers, many of whom are living on fixed income. Any increase makes it a little harder on this group.

The biggest factor in last month's climb was a one per cent increase in transportation costs. This reflected gasoline prices as "gas wars" ended in several areas. Used car prices were up, so were the food bills of the American public. Food prices, generally, were 3.7 per cent higher than a year ago.

The cost of living is getting to be something like the weather: everybody talks about it, but nobody does anything.

Underhanded Thief

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. —(UPI)—Judith Barden, 19, reported to police that her wallet, containing $21, was stolen from her handbag while she was in the grandstand watching a night baseball game here. She said the bag was lying beside her when someone apparently swiped the wallet by reaching up from beneath the stands.

Life Can Be Such

HAVERHILL, Mass. —(UPI)—The police blotter in Haverhill, recently reported the following wild incidents, all in one day: One four-year-old boy bit another; a six-year-old boy stuck a garden hose in somebody's window; a woman complained that her neighbor was swearing at her. Haverhill is a quiet town.

They Did It Long Ago

SCITUATE, Mass. —(UPI)—"Instead of the intoxicating dance, with profanity and scenes of dissipation and ruin, all frequently combined, we should have the public library, the gymnasium, industry, enterprise and virtue."

That's not a report on the latest doings of teenage rock 'n' rollers. It's the Scituate school report for exactly 100 years ago.

Home Builders See Continued Boom

By EDWARD COWAN
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—"Starts up whopping 30 per cent." "General effect on city economy very favorable." "Production at all time high." "Outlook most favorable."

Such is the gist of reports from home builders in 15 cities throughout the nation. Queried by the National Association of Home Builders NAHB, they replied without exception that they were building and selling more new houses this year than last.

Other evidence that home building is giving the economy a lift comes in the latest government reports. Construction starts on private non-farm one-to-four-family houses in July covered 107,300 dwelling units, 14 per cent more than in July 1957.

Projected as an annual rate, July starts stood at 1,160,000 units—the highest for any month this year and the fifth consecutive monthly increase.

Housing experts attribute the pickup to several factors:

—Mortgage money has been cheaper and easier to come by this year. Interest rates on conventional home loans average about 5 1/2 per cent now, compared to about 6 per cent a year ago. Lenders are no longer strapped down by short supply, as was the case before the recession set in.

—No Down Payment Helps
—Elimination of the 2 per cent down payment on mortgages guaranteed by the Veterans Administration. The VA killed this requirement last April as an anti-recession move. GI mortgages boomed.

—The special government program begun last April—also an anti-recession step—to buy federally-backed mortgages at par. A good portion of the increase this year in VA and FHA financing is attributed to the mortgage buying program.

In short, there is confidence in government and industry circles that homebuilding in 1958 will show much improvement over its so-so performance in 1957. Economists here talk about 1,100,000 private starts this year, compared to 992,300 last year.

One of the notable developments is greater strength in the lower-priced end of the market. The median price this year, according to the NAHB, is $14,300, compared to $15,000 in 1957. The dip reflects more building of lower-priced models and perhaps some price trimming.

Replies on Bright Side
The replies to NAHB's survey were all on the bright side. Typical were:

MINNEAPOLIS: "Up 8 per cent. Expect better last half than first. Best sales $13-$15,000."

LOS ANGELES: "Production up about 15 per cent over 1957. Balance of '58 promises to show gains. Best price range $11-$18,000. Volume of lower priced homes up about 25 per cent."

NORFOLK, Va.: "Production up about 30 per cent. Improvement expected to hold remainder of year. Best-selling range $10-$13,000."

OKLAHOMA CITY: "Home building up 26 per cent compared like period last year. General effect on whole economy good. Outlook for balance year excellent. Best-selling range $10-$17,000."

PHOENIX: "Starts up whopping 30 per cent. Low-cost housing increasing steadily."

SEATTLE: "Production up approximately 25 per cent. Much new activity in lower cost housing. $10,500-$13,000."

One Republican Against All Ike's Top Measures

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—If the White House threw congressional roll calls into a card-sorting machine, it would find that only one Republican in Congress opposed President Eisenhower on his three "absolutely vital" issues.

However, it also would find that 43 Republicans in the House and six in the Senate lined up against him on two of the three.

In a party speech last spring, Eisenhower indicated that support for his defense reorganization, foreign aid and foreign trade programs was necessary from Republicans who wanted his support in the 1958 campaign.

Asked at his Wednesday news conference if that was still the situation, he replied that he had never said that any one man would forever forfeit his support because of a single vote or a single statement. But he did say that he would not count himself in the "same local political camp" with candidates "at complete loggerheads" with him on the three issues.

Only One Holdout
By that definition, only one Republican would be at loggerheads with the President on all three of the issues because there was almost unanimous support for reorganizing the Pentagon. That bill, passed by House by a vote of 402 to 1 and the Senate 80 to 0.

Rep. Cliff Clevering (R-Ohio) cast the only dissenting vote on the defense reorganization bill. He also voted against the bills authorizing the foreign aid program for the current year and extending the reciprocal trade law. But Cleavering is not seeking reelection.

On the foreign aid and foreign trade measures, 43 Republicans and 22 Democrats in the House voted against the administration of both. In the Senate, six Republicans and three Democrats voted against both.

Two Solons Running
The GOP senators were Henry C. Dworshak (I-Ill.), Barry Goldwater (Ariz.), William E. Jenner (Ind.), William Langer (N.D.), George W. Malone (Nev.) and Milton R. Young (N.D.). Only Goldwater, Malone and Langer are candidates this year. Jenner is retiring and the other two do not come up for election.

Sen. Frank A. Barrett (R-Wyo.) who also is a candidate this year, voted against the administration on the trade bill and was "paired" against it on the foreign aid measure.

Of the remaining 11 GOP senators running this year, six were recorded in support of the President on all three issues. They were Sens. J. Glenn Beall (Md.), Charles E. Potter (Mich.), Frederick G. Payne (Maine), William A. Purtell (Conn.), Edward J. Thyne (Minn.) and Arthur V. Watkins (Utah).

He Wishes To Atone
PITTSFIELD, Mass. —(UPI)—One winter morning in 1911 young Robert G. Macbeth threw a snowball that broke an attic window of a house on the corner of East and Gordon Streets here. Recently, Macbeth set about finding the owner of the house. He wants to pay for the window—which has never been fixed.

Economic Advisors Say Strong Measure Needed

Editor's note: Economic advisors to President Eisenhower are convinced he must take a no-holds-barred stand against inflation. A United Press International reporter, in interviews with highly placed advisors, reports the current administration feeling about the danger of unchecked inflation.

Control of the money supply and interest rates.

Blame Wage Hikes
The President has appealed to business and labor several times in the last year, most strongly at his Aug. 8 press conference. Then he directed his remarks mainly at labor unions. He warned them wage boosts that exceeded improvements in productivity could only be inflationary and that in the long run the extra dollars in pay envelopes would not buy more goods.

There is a strong feeling among the President's advisors that excessive wage hikes have been the major inflationary force since the Korean war. The unions deny it, contending business has been profit-greedy. The latest government report shows consumer prices are nearly 24 per cent higher than in 1947-48.

With direct controls ruled out in the President's statement Wednesday, many observers feel the government will have to rely most on credit tightening in its fight to preserve the value of the dollar.

By EDWARD COWAN
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The men who most influence the administration's economic policies are convinced it must take a no-quarter stand against inflation.

They believe the only policy that can succeed in the long run is one which seeks to keep the consumer price level stable. They contend a policy of allowing even modest or creeping inflation—perhaps only 2 or 3 per cent a year—cannot succeed. Permitted to creep, inflation is likely to run or even gallop, they say.

Can a government in a free enterprise society in which wages and prices are not controlled keep the price level constant without stunting growth?

Rules Out Controls
The President's key economic aides, conservative by nature, are reluctant to go out on a limb and say "yes." They are equally reluctant to say "no," even in private conversations, for that would be conceding defeat.

As one White House adviser put it, they are "fervently hopeful."

Only Wednesday the President told his news conference he has ruled out wage or price controls for the foreseeable future.

That leaves the administration with three major weapons with which to fight possible future inflation.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Miss Robinson, James Woodrow

Miss Mary Virginia Robinson and James Woodrow Brown exchanged marriage vows Saturday, August 23, at the Prairie Lake Baptist Church located in Fern Park.

Dr. W. P. Brooks Jr., and the Rev. W. L. Jones officiated at the 7:30 p. m. double ring service which united in holy matrimony the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Robinson and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brown.

The church floral decoration consisting of a large sunburst arrangement of white chrysanthemums, pom poms and gladioli was accented by candle light supplied by burning white tapers. Other arrangements of chrysanthemums and gladioli, potted palms, and fern added to the bridal decorations.

Mrs. F. L. Isom, organist, accompanied Stanley Brunley as he sang the ever popular bridal selections, "I Love You Truly," and "O Perfect Love."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride entered the church in a princess style, ballarina length wedding gown of white emerald and tulle. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a v-neck and short sleeves was completed with elbow mitts which ended with points over the bride's hands. Her veil of illusion was held in place with a clip band featuring pearls and standing scallops of net. Wearing as her only jewelry a string of pearls, given to her by the groom, she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid bouquet from which fell a shower of white streamers.

Mrs. Harold Booth, of Rockwood, Tenn., served her cousin as matron of honor. She wore a yellow emossed nylon frock fastened with a v-neck, brief sleeves, and a full box-pleated skirt. Her yellow head piece, matching shoes, and yellow mitts completed her ensemble. She carried a chrysanthemum.

The bridesmaid, Mrs. Clifford Booth, wore a lavender frock identical in style to that of the matron of honor and carried a similar bouquet of yellow pom-poms.

Paul Russell, of Gainesville, served the groom as best man while Fred Knight, Lonnie Davis, and William J. Richard, from Maitland; and Wesley Gillis acted as ushers.

Little Barbara Bartlett, escorted by the ring bearer, Fain Booth, of Rockwood, Tenn., served the bride as flower girl.

Mrs. J. E. Robinson chose to wear a navy flared blue street length dress with white accessories to her daughter's wedding. The groom's mother wore a blue sheath with which she wore white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony there was held a reception at the Lake Mary home of the bride's parents. Baskets of white carnations and gladioli accented the party rooms.

The bride's table centered with an arrangement of summer flowers was appointed in crystal. From the table was served the traditional three-tiered wedding cake. Punch, minis and nuts were also served.

For her going-away outfit the bride chose to wear a blue dress with navy accessories. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet as a corsage.

Out-of-town guests included: Mrs. Harry Fain, of Rockwood, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. T. Harry Fain Jr., of Rossville, Ga.; and Mr. and Mrs. Elwood King, of Washington, D. C.

Former Sanford Gal Honored Thursday At Casual Coke, Get-Together Party

Miss Nancy Cash entertained informally at her home Thursday evening honoring Miss Penny Marian, formerly of Sanford, who is visiting from Washington, D. C.

Bermuda shorts were the only acceptable attire and with shoes laced off and cakes in everyone's hand the girls settled down to an evening of chatter encouraged by many of the honoree's questions.

Miss Mary Grace Hobby attended the same college as the honored guest last year so the two of them sparked the conversation with the "Did you know so-and-so did such and such?" questions.

Home town was provided most accurately by Miss Lois Barineau who has spent the year working in a local finance company. All in all everyone present caught up on the last year's happenings of everyone else at the party.

The hostess served refreshments of cakes with home made, varied-colored, delicious minis and homemade, recently baked chocolate chip cookies.

Those invited to the casual coke party were: Miss Penny Marian, honoree; Miss Nan Cushing, Miss Retz Ashby, Mrs. Jimmy Butler and her infant daughter, Debra Kaye; Miss Mary Grace Hobby; and Miss Lois Barineau.

Aaron's Homer Tops Giants

By HERMAN HICKMAN
United Press International
Frank Aaron, still swinging the bat that made Milwaukee famous, led the Giants crying in their own home and the Braves whooping their opponents again for some more of that tasty World Series champagne.

Aaron hit his homer off Al Worthington following Eddie Mathews' single. That broke a 4-4 tie and the Braves added another run in the 10th on Joe Adcock's double and Johnny Logan's single.

Robbins Beat Dodgers
Frank Robinson's two-run homer in the sixth powered the Red Sox to a 4-5 victory over the Dodgers. Pittsburgh won the opener of a doubleheader, 4-4, and St. Louis 1-0.

Louis gained a split by taking the nightcap, 19-8. The Phillies swept a doubleheader from the Cubs, 12-0 and 5-3, with the second game limited to eight innings because of darkness.

The Yankees stretched their lead to 18 games in the American League even though they split a doubleheader with the Tigers. Frank Lary beat the Yankees for the sixth time this season in the opener, 3-3, but the league-leaders won the nightcap, 2-1, on Norm Siebern's ninth-inning homer. Boston swept a twin-bill from Kansas City, winning the opener, 16-3, and the 11-inning finale, 9-3; Baltimore defeated Chicago, 5-2, and Cleveland walloped Washington, 8-1.

Robinson's game-winning homer against the Dodgers was his 20th of the year and came off ex-teammate Johnny Klippstein.

Musial Starts Rally
Bob Friend gained his 17th victory for the Pirates in their opener with the Cards although he needed help from Roy Face in the eighth. In the nightcap, Stan Musial's pinch single started a five-run rally in the eighth inning that brought reliever Jim Brosnan his ninth victory.

Ed Bouchee and Wally Post led the Phils to their sweep over the Cubs. Bouchee hit a grand-slam homer in the opener and a bases-empty homer in the second game while Post tripled in the opener and doubled in the nightcap to drive in a total of five runs.

Lary's victory over the Yankees in the opener made him the first pitcher to defeat them six times in a single season since Dizzy Trout and Hal Newhouser of Detroit both accomplished the feat.

Baseball News
The Orioles scored all their runs off Dick Donovan in the first three innings, with Billy Gardner driving in three of them and Gus Triandos two.

Rookie Jim (Mudcat) Grant of the Indians beat the Senators for the fifth time this year. He held them to eight hits to even his season record at 10-10.

Cardinals Think Conrad 'Sleeper'

By JOE BARGH
United Press International
Frank (Pop) Ivy, the Chicago Cardinals' new head coach, may have been out of touch, but he apparently didn't make any mistake when he nabbed untried rookie Bobby Joe Conrad from the New York Giants.

Ivy, an ex-Cardinal end, was lured from the Canadian wilderness to see what he could do about rebuilding a team that finished in the National Football League's eastern division cellar in 1947.

A business-like tactician, who earned his coaching spurs under Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma, Ivy spent all winter and spring studying films of the Cardinals' 1947 games. When he got through, Ivy decided he didn't need either Pat Summerall or Lindon Crow. A deal was cooked up with the Giants, and the Cardinals wound up with Dick Nolan, a veteran defensive back, and rookie Conrad from Texas A&M.

On the face of it, the deal appeared a little lopsided in favor of the Giants, but Ivy may have had information neither the New York club nor the Baltimore Colts, who drafted Conrad, had. In the All-Star Game 10 days ago, Conrad, who never before had even attempted a field goal, booted four three-pointers, one of them for 44 yards, to share collegiate honors in the upset over the defending champion Detroit Lions.

During the past week end the six-foot, 175-pound Conrad booted a 30-yard placement in the final four seconds of play to earn the Cardinals a 31-31 tie with the Colts.

The Chicago Bears, playing in mid-season form, stopped the Philadelphia Eagles on the six-inch line with 10 seconds left to play to squeeze out a 3-0 win, their second in as many tries. George Bianda kicked a 19-yard field goal in the second period to account for all the scoring.

In other weekend action, the San Francisco Forty Niners shaded the Washington Redskins, 20-19, the Los Angeles Rams buried the Giants, 38-10, and the Lions humbled the Cleveland Browns, 17-7.

Conference's Size Now Big Question
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The big question in college athletic circles today was just how big does the newly formed Athletic Association of Western Universities intend to get?
The new "Big Four" conference composed of Washington, California, UCLA and USC, was launched here Saturday at a meeting of representatives of the four universities. It will officially come into being July 1, 1950—a day after the old Pacific Coast Conference gives up the ghost.
Provision was made in articles governing the new loop for inclusion of more western colleges. However, with the exception of Stanford, none has been approached.
Dr. Glenn Seaborg, chancellor of the University of California, said Stanford had approved the wording of the AAUW pact but had not decided to become a member "at this time."
"We are very hopeful Stanford will join us in the very near future," he said.
Seaborg said any western college which meets the requirements and standards may apply for admission and will be accepted providing all members agree.

Niemann Captures Bat Crown; Saints Grab Most Honors

ORLANDO (UPI)—Rookie outfielder Jim Niemann of Palatka won the 1950 Florida State League batting crown by .309 of a percentage point over veteran slugger Art Pennington of champion St. Petersburg.

But otherwise, it was almost an all-St. Petersburg show in the hitting department with five batters in the top 17 wearing Saint uniforms.

Niemann wound up the season with 138 hits in 406 trips to the plate for an average of .339. Pennington got 142 hits in 419 at-bats for an even .339.

Pedro Gonzalez, the power hitter for the Saints, won three titles in the past season—more than any other batter. Although he had a batting average of only .288—12th best in the league—he wound up with the most hits, 182, the most runs, 117, and the most stolen bases, 31.

German Pizzaro of Gainesville led the league in home runs with 25, and his 118 runs batted in were only one behind the output of St. Petersburg's George Bank.

For the first time since 1950, the season failed to produce a 15-game winner among the pitchers of the Class D loop. But four hurlers wound up with 18 victories.

Veteran Jim Horsford was tops with 18 wins and three losses for an earned run average of 1.84. Teammate Art Henrickson was second in the earned run department with a 2.18 average and 11 victories against three losses.

Basilio To Get Aid

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Former welterweight and middleweight champion Carmen Basilio will have one of the best ringside eye swabbers in Angelo Dundee when he meets Art Aragon in a 18-rounder Sept. 5. Basilio has been handicapped by gashe over his eyes in previous bouts.

Player Of The Day

United Press International
—FRANK LARY
Just looking at Frank Lary is enough to put the Yankees in a slump.
The Detroit right-hander beat the Yanks for the sixth time this season, 5-3, in the opener of Sunday's doubleheader and even though the Tigers bowed, 3-2, in the nightcap, none of the glass was rubbed off Lary's accomplishment.
Lary held the league leaders to six hits in becoming the first pitcher to defeat them six times in one season since Dizzy Trout and Hal Newhouser of Detroit both turned the trick during the 1944 campaign.
Ask Lary how he beats the Yankees and he merely shrugs his shoulders.
"I just go out there and pitch the same way I do against the other clubs," he says.
It was a great day all around

Ellis Year Ahead On Golf Schedule

EDMONTON, Alta. (UPI)—Newly crowned Canadian Open champion Willie Ellis was a year ahead of schedule today as he headed for the $47,000 British Columbia Centennial golf championship in Vancouver.
The 26-year-old Texan, who scored a one-stroke victory over Jay Hebert Saturday with a 13-under 72 - hole score of 267, gave himself two years to break into the top 25 money winners when he quit his Ridgewood, N.J., club job last summer to join the touring pros. Up until this week he had won 17,500 and was listed 34th among the PGA money winners.
When Ellis overtook third-round leader Hebert to win the 86-gram Gold Cup with a four-under par final round 66, he also picked up $3,500. The big payday boosted his earnings to $11,400 and 22nd on the list.
"Now the trick is to stay up there," he said.
for the Lary family Sunday.
Frank's younger brother, Al, who is with Portland of the Pacific Coast League, pitched a three-hit 2-0 shutout over Spokane.

THE CARD OF THANKS

Very often a Card of Thanks in The Sanford Herald meets a need which is difficult to fill in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent floral tributes but also courteously acknowledges the services and kindnesses of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed.

Newspaper Cards of Thanks are accepted as socially correct. Emily Post, the noted authority on etiquette, feels they serve many good uses.

There is no prescribed form for a Card of Thanks. It can be as brief or as detailed as you desire. When the occasion comes you will find a sympathetically understanding member of our staff to assist you.

THE "IN MEMORIAM" NOTICE

It is the custom of many families in this country to commemorate a bereavement by an "In Memoriam" notice in newspaper classified columns. They find a real solace therein. Preparation of a suitable verse brings back to them tender, pleasant recollections. As Eliza Cook, the English poet has so beautifully expressed it:

"How cruelly sweet are the echoes
That start
What memory plays an old tune
Most frequently an In Memoriam is inserted on the anniversary of death. However, other dates, which it is felt are appropriate or meaningful are also selected. The birthday of the departed, the wedding anniversary, Memorial Day, even Christmas are among other significant occasions chosen.

If you are hesitant to express your tender thoughts in poetic form, you may avail yourself of the Herald's collection of original verses. These express in poetic beauty the emotions of the bereaved. Among them are verses appropriate to any circumstance.

THE RATE

Cards of Thanks and In Memoriam notices, due to the fact they may run to considerable length, are billed at $1.00 per column inch.

Sports Parade

Tiger's Sport Parade
(By U. S. Pat. Off.)
By JACK CUDDEY

United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Bill Norman inspired today: "Give us the long ball just give us the long ball!"

The strategy was inspired by the more than 18 weeks as manager of the Detroit Tigers and by Norm Sieber's heart-breaking home run in the eighth of Sunday's doubleheader with the Yankees.

"You indeed," Norman said, "my big discovery as a major league manager is that the long ball is more important up here than in the minors."

Sieber's ninth-inning blast gave the Yanks a 3-2 victory over the Tigers and nullified the tight pitching of Herb Motford, who had allowed but three previous hits—all in the first inning.

"We haven't been hitting the long ball," said Norman, who replaced Jack Tighe at the Bengal on June 10 and was signed last Saturday to manage the club next season—proving general manager John McKea and the Detroit club owners did not regard him as a stop-gap driver.

In Sunday's opener, the Tigers scored Casey Stengel's outfit, 3-2, with a 12-hit attack. "But," declared Norman, "only one of those 12 hits was for an extra base." (Charlie Maxwell's home run.)

On the current trip, the Tigers had eight games and won five. "I don't know how to explain it," Norman said. "I don't know how to explain it." Norman continued. "We've got men capable of the long ball, but Maxwell's been having an off year. He's usually good for 25 homers. Now he's got 12. And (Al) Kaline is coming out of a slump apparently."

Climb improving Norman, 46, admitted he was disappointed by the Tigers' loss of power on this trip. As they headed for Boston today, he bemoaned he wasn't the least disappointed because the players' morale is fine—everybody's heading.

Norman added somewhat proudly that during his brief debut as a major league manager the club has been playing better than 500 ball and had risen from last place in last game-out of the division.

"We've won 27 and had 24 since I took over," he said, "and our pitching has been off during that time, as well as our long-ball hitting."

U. S. Netters Top Australian Team; First Since 1954

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (UPI)—Uncle Sam's Davis Cup tennis stock rose to a new high today, reaching its loftiest peak since American net men last beat the Australians in 1954.

Aussie domination of the U. S. national doubles championships, which had included six titles in the last eight attempts, was broken by the team of Ham Richardson of New Orleans, La., and Peruvian Alejandro (Alex) Olmedo, a University of Southern California student.

Richardson and Olmedo won the crown Sunday in a surprising all-U. S. final round, beating Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, and Sam Giammalva of Houston, Tex., 6-4, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Richardson and Olmedo, united only four days before the doubles began, swept through their first three matches in straight sets. Then they topped defending champions Ashley Cooper and Neale Fraser in the semi-finals and beat MacKay and Giammalva in the finals.

Athletic Leaders Hold Conference

DENVER (UPI)—Fifty athletic leaders—some of them the biggest names in college sports—sat down today around conference tables to discuss their problems and differences.

The occasion was the National Collegiate Athletic Association "conference of conferences" at the Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, said the group had no legislative power, but would review trends in college athletic policies and practice and try to develop some common thinking.

Byers said special consideration would be given to college baseball's relationship to professional baseball, plans for improving the administration of playing rules, and a proposal that high schools and colleges join together in adopting continuing rules of eligibility.

Too Late To Classify

By Russell Kay
This is the season of the year that we may expect hurricane alerts and as this is written a third storm of the season is whipping its way over the waters of the Caribbean with winds of 145 miles an hour.

Florida has been relatively free from damaging storms for the last eight years but this is a indication we will remain as in all probability the present storm will blow itself out or turn north before reaching the Florida coast but we can never be sure as for that reason it is well to be prepared.

Old timers who have had hurricane experience know how to prepare for them but thousands of newcomers need to be alerted. Unlike a tornado, a hurricane moves forward slowly usually a from 10 to 15 miles per hour, so the certainties of how high the wind are that swirl around its center. This means that we have ample warning and can take every possible precaution to save lives, avoid property damage and personal discomfort.

If you live in a well built modern home you will probably be a safe there as anywhere, stay in doors during the storm. Remove awnings if of a type that can be destroyed by high winds. Take in all loose objects from yard such as tools, chairs, and lawn furniture. Check trees and remove limbs that may be torn off or broken across utility wires. Check emergency cooking facilities, power may be cut off for several hours. A stereo above or charcoal stove will serve. Stock up with canned goods that afford easily prepared meals but of cold such as instant meats, soups and the like. Keep a door or window open on the side away from the storm.

You may find yourself without refrigeration so if a storm is expected to strike your area turn the refrigerator to coldest setting. When power goes off, do not open door any other than necessary and close as quickly as possible. Dry ice can be employed if necessary and is available in larger cities.

Use your telephone for emergencies only. Do not jam the lines, and make calls short. Depend on a battery radio or car radio when power fails, otherwise listen to radio and TV reports and warnings from your local authorities.

Your water supply may become contaminated or fall. When informed that the storm will definitely strike your area fill the bathtub and containers with water. Fill your car with gas and check tires.

Report to police, sheriff or civil defense any hazardous condition such as broken or dangling live wires, broken water mains, debris or fallen trees that block highways. See that your flashlights are

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—The Cleveland Indians, whose attendance has dropped steadily since the golden days of the "Veeck era," will be moved to another city unless the trend is quickly reversed.

Dony Plea, Court Asked

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—The Little Rock School Board today urged the U. S. Supreme Court to deny a petition which would allow integration to proceed at huge Central High School. The school board told the high court the "emotional pitch" of the community was such that troops would again be required if Negroes are allowed to attend school once more this year, and they would be in "physical danger."

Integration Kept, Students Register In Nashville Today

NASHVILLE (UPI)—Negro and white first graders registered in city schools here today as the city's second year of school integration began.

The city schools are operating under a grade-by-grade desegregation system which has the approval of Federal Judge William Miller. Negro parents, however, have appealed Miller's favorable ruling on the plan.

Second grade students and other elementary classes will register Sept. 3 with school beginning Sept. 8.

School officials said they do not expect a recurrence of the trouble that erupted last fall when an elementary school was dynamited among other incidents of violence. Superintendent John Kasper was arrested on charges of inciting to riot during the period. Kasper's trial comes up Nov. 3 in criminal court here.

Police Chief Douglas Hoase said Monday that he expects no demonstrations and added he didn't believe there would be "any serious trouble." He said there would be "adequate police available."

Officials thought about 15 Negro children would be eligible for attendance in first grade as mixed schools this year, but they expected only about the same number a last year, when nine Negro children completed the first grade.

Work Set Sept. 15 On Highway Bridge

The Industrial Construction Co. is scheduled to start actual work on the Interstate highway bridge over Lake Monroe on Sept. 3. It was announced today by the State Road Department.

Walter L. Revell, division of information and research, said that heavy equipment would be moved to the job site Sept. 10 or 11.

Following execution of contracts, construction will start on the four-mile section of the Interstate highway leading north from the bridge. The first phase of the work will be the demolition by bulldozers of a number of houses in the path of the highway Revell said.

This will be the first Interstate highway activity in this district.

City Bowling League To Open Tomorrow

The Sanford City Bowling League will open its season tomorrow night at the alley on Magnolia Avenue.

Starting time for league games will be 7:45 p. m. Six teams have entered for the season, which will end April 8, 1959.

City Pools To Close

Sanford city swimming pools will close for the season after the traditional Labor Day holiday.

Both pools will be open all day Monday, the City Recreation Department said.

the Supreme Court last week. Marshall's petition asks that a 30-day stay of an order to proceed with integration handed down by the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals be overturned. The stay, in effect, leaves in force a decision by Federal Judge Harry J. Lemley that grants the school board and embattled Little Rock a 2 1/2-year "cooling off period."

The Supreme Court is scheduled to go into emergency special session at noon Thursday to hear oral arguments on the Little Rock problem. Richard C. Butler, attorney for the board, and School Supt. Virgil Blossom plan to go to Washington.

Gov. Orval Faubus and his followers believe the court will try to pave the way for continued integration. The Arkansas Legislature went into session today to pass anti-integration legislation aimed at blocking the expected decree.

Rebels To Be Shot By French Guards

PARIS (UPI)—Police and troops with "shoot on sight" orders engaged rebels and all installations in major French cities today to prevent new raids by Algerian Terrorists who bombed and burned all installations and shot up the streets Monday.

No fresh attacks during the early hours today. Seven persons died in Monday's violence. As dawn broke police and troops tightened security precautions. Guards had orders to shoot suspicious characters on sight.

Steel helmeted police armed with automatic guns patrolled the industrial suburbs of Paris. The rampage by "commandos" of the rebel National Liberation Front was the worst since the start of the Algerian revolt for independence began nearly four years ago.

It was believed the Algerian rebels were seeking to bring home to the French public their hostility toward Premier Charles de Gaulle's proposed new constitution, which makes no provision for Algerian independence. France votes on the constitution in a referendum Sept. 28 and the Gaullists are touring French possessions in Africa in build up support for his pet project.

U. S. Prepared To Send Reinforcements To East

Police Close Case Of Stetson Prof; He Just Left Home

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—Police today closed the books on their month-long search for a missing Stetson University philosophy professor after learning that the educator apparently had just "run away from home."

Dr. Benson W. Davis, 50, missing since Aug. 4, was found over the weekend when he claimed an auto and baggage at the dock here. The professor was shipped from Puerto Rico.

It was not known if the professor planned to return to his wife, who conducted a frantic search for him from Florida to North Carolina. She refused to comment on his reappearance in Jacksonville.

Davis head of the philosophy department, was reported missing at the close of the summer session at the island institution. He was believed to have left for his summer home in Boone, N. C. Later, he wired his wife telling her not to go to Boone. But she went anyway and made a futile search for him.

For a time there was speculation that Davis had met with foul play, and authorities checked fingerprints of a body found floating in a river here to determine if it was that of Davis.

Officers could give no explanation why the professor disappeared.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Committee keeps an extensive spotlight on activities of James R. Hoffa's Communist Party today in opening an inquiry into the forces behind identity changes of Hoffa's associates.

The committee pressed its investigation of Hoffa despite the fact of a half-million-dollar settlement of the union by a panel he personally named.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said a St. Louis postmaster, a former prize fighter and two-time St. Louis mob boss would be among early witnesses.

The committee kept to its task despite the fact Congress adjourned Sunday. It scheduled a full week of hearings on the activities of Hoffa's associates, including his men Friday, and other testimony leaders in St. Louis.

Hoffa, now executive vice president of the Teamsters' union, was not testily until later in the week, Kennedy said.

Commission Votes Bus Service Halt

The Sanford City Commission last night voted to allow C. W. Elrod to discontinue operation of City Bus Lines, subject to approval of the State Railroad Commission.

At the same time, the Commission approved a request for an increase in tax rates for Elrod. Rates will be $1.50 per 10 cubic feet of storage space.

Commission action to end bus service came after Elrod said that his firm had been losing about $200 per month. He blamed "too many cars" for the failure of the bus company. Elrod said, however, that he would be happy to try it again at any time there is a change that might not be a long time coming.

Commissioners looked at two sketches of a proposed Negro recreation center, but deferred action until members have an opportunity to study the plans and the budget for the next fiscal year.

Also deferred were discussions of the budget, an annexation petition and the relocation of the post office.

A public hearing was set for Sept. 22 on a request for the rezoning of the Ella A. Pace subdivision. Two street lights were approved, as was a request for the transfer of a wine and beer license from Alberta Webber to Bertha Lee Walker.

The Commission adopted a resolution commending Fred E. Carter, chief petty officer for the shore patrol, who is being transferred. The resolution noted that Carter, stationed here for the past three years, had "been exceptionally cooperative with the city during his stay here."

A request for the installation of pipe on the remaining section of Pump Branch Creek was discussed. City Manager Pete Knowles estimated the cost of the pipe at $16,400. This figure did not include the costs of labor, equipment and filling, Knowles added.

Tom McDonald, Jaycee president, requested $1,500 annually from the city to help defray the cost of a tourist information building.

PONTIAC, Mich. (UPI)—The first strike authorized by the United Auto Workers International union since UAW contracts with the Big Three auto producers expired killed 5,000 workers at Pontiac division of General Motors today.

S. F. Knudsen, general manager of the Pontiac division, called the strike "just another example of the hit-run tactics of guerrilla warfare" the UAW has launched against the auto industry.

Air Force Alerted; Marines Steaming Nearer To Action

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. military men today were reported considering swift air reinforcement of Red-menaced Formosa Strait.

Authorities emphasized that so far no movement of reinforcements has been ordered—nor has any been requested by the U.S. Pacific Command.

But they said military men are considering the dispatch of a composite air strike force in the face of Red China's continuing menacing moves against the Nationalist Chinese islands of Matsu and Quemooy.

At the same time, these developments broke: A spokesman in Tokyo said the U.S. 5th Air Force in Japan has been put on an alert status. The spokesman said that "under existing world conditions, it is a normal routine precaution to increase the status of alert." He said that as far as he knew, the 5th Air Force had made no unusual air deployments to Formosa.

Senators clashed over whether President Eisenhower has the power to defend the islands under the 1955 Formosa resolution approved by Congress. Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) and Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) said he does. Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) disagreed.

Officials said the mounting Red threat may be a carefully-planned buildup for a U.N. debate aimed at splitting the United States from its allies—particularly Britain and Japan.

Eight units of the U.S. 7th Fleet sailed for Okinawa from Singapore with 1,800 Marines who had been granted shore leave in the British port. Reports from Singapore said the move was ordered in connection with Communist activity around Quemooy.

A composite strike force is made up of jet fighters, planes, light bombers, tankers for in-flight refueling and transports for fresh air crews. They are designed for movement on extremely short notice.

Daisy Undecided; Thrashes Atlantic

MIAMI (UPI)—Hurricane Daisy, with winds of 80 miles an hour, thrashed the Atlantic some 215 miles east of the Cape Canaveral missile center today. The weather bureau said the big storm is almost standing still, uncertain of a future course yet.

The weather bureau in an 11 a. m. advisory warned all coastal interests from Florida to the Carolinas to be on the alert until the expected curve away from the coastline is definitely established.

The hurricane drifted erratically during the past six hours toward the northwest.

Chief forecaster Gordon Dunn said there were indications that Daisy would veer to the north-northwest, but he emphasized "This is not yet certain."

Dunn warned that gales in the outer fringes of the storm may approach within 100 miles of the North Florida and Georgia coasts, sending high waves crashing against the beaches. He advised small craft not to venture far from protected places.

At 11 a. m. the storm was centered at latitude 28.4 north and longitude 77.1 west, or slightly north and west of the last sighting.

Radiation Hazard Of Space Travel

By ROBERT MURKEL
United Press International
AMSTERDAM (UPI)—A U.S. expert said today special "sky-sweeper" satellites might be able to clear away the band of deadly radiation that now threatens to bar man from outer space.

Prof. Fred Singer of Maryland University told the International Astronautical Congress he believes the radiation belt, which took thousands of years to build up, could be cleared away in a matter of months.

Singer emphasized the "sky-sweeper" idea is a corollary of a theory he has developed which requires further confirmation before it can be accepted as fact.

The Maryland space specialist's report was the scientific highlight of a day during which congress delegates speculated about the nature of a secret "top priority" program mentioned Monday by the Russians. Western scientists believe the project involves shooting a man into space.

Russia Injests Politics
The Soviet spokesman who mentioned the secret program would give no details, but an American scientist had reported earlier that Soviet Sputnik expert exp. Kapitsa is working on a plan to get a man into space — and bring him back alive.

Singer said Russia's hypothetical spaceman would be in trouble if he ventured more than 250 miles from earth — the lower limit of the radiation belt.

A man in the radiation belt, Singer said, would be the target in three hours of as much radiation as he could safely absorb in a lifetime. Even 1/2 inch of lead armor — which would add 5 tons to the weight of a space ship 18 feet in diameter — would protect him for only 30 hours.

He added, however, that unmanned satellites of proper design, orbiting within the radiation belt, probably could absorb enough protons in a few months to reduce the radiation to "tolerable limits."
